Thompson Dinner Is Planned For Feb. 14

Ed Thompson

A Master Farmer Banquet honoring Ed Thompson and his family will be held next Wednesday evening, February 14th at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Fulton.

The Thompson family was selected last summer jointly by the Progressive Farmer and the University of Kentucky College of Agricultural as one of the outstanding farm families in Kentucky. The program includes a Turkey supper with all the trimmings served by the Fulton County Homemakers.

Roy Bard, President of Fulton County Farm Bureau will preside and short talks will be made by W. P. Burnette of Fulton, C. A. Mahan State Agent from the College of Agricultural and Miss Sadie Hill, Woman's Editor of the Progressive Farmer.

Friends of the Thompson family are invited to attend and tickets may be purchased from County Agent, John Watts of Hickman or Roy Bard of Fulton.

Bill Curlin Gets Top Job In Hi-way Dept.

As reported in the Fulton News last week as a certain prediction Gov. Lawrence Wetherby late Monday appointed William P. Curlin commissioner of the Kentucky department of highways.

The new commissioner is well known here being a native of Hickman, Fulton County.

He joined the highway department as a rodman in 1925 and is a registered professional engineer. He has been serving as deputy highway commissioner under Commissioner John A. Keck who resigned last Thursday, effective Feb. 15, the day Curlin will take over.

Wetherby's statement made no direct reference to four law suits on file where Keck and certain highway contractors are accused of bribery, conspiracy and bid-rigging in the award of contracts. The Franklin county grand jury cleared Keck and the department of the charges, saying it was unable to turn up any evidence of malpractices warranting indictments.

But Keck resigned, saying it was because he feared his continuing in office "might embarrass" the governor and the Democratic administration here.

Curlin's first experience in the department as a rodman in 1925 was in his native First Highway District. In 1936 he was made assistant district engineer at Paducah in charge of rural highways. He resigned in 1942 to join the U. S. Corps of Engineers. He went to the South Atlantic Division with headquarters in Savannah, Ga., where he was second in charge of airfield grading, paving and other military installations in four states — Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina.

Leaving the Engineers in 1945, Curlin was associated with a structural steel firm in Savannah until August, 1947, when he returned to the highway department as assistant engineer at Ashland. In 1948 then Highway Commissioner Garrett L. Withers brought him here and on April 1 of that year appointed him deputy.

Permit Issued For Radio Station Here

The Federal Communication Commission in Washington granted a permit to the Ken-Tenn Broadcasting Corporation of Fulton, Ky. on Wednesday. One one-kilowatt station, which will operate on 1270 kilocycles, daytime only, will be a standard station.

Last year a group of Fulton businessmen organized the broadcasting company as a community service to this area. The corporation instructed John Garrett, of Union City, a major stockholder in the organization, to draw up engineering plans and specifications for applying for the permit to the FCC. Mr. Garrett possesses a wealth of radio knowledge and experience and the speed with which the permit was granted is due largely to his efforts.

After a waiting period of 20 days the corporation may start construction on the station, which is to be located on the outskirts of the city.

Officers of the organization are: Dr. Ward Bushart, President; John Earle, vice-president; Bill Holman, secretary; Ira W. Little, treasurer.

Directors besides the four officers, are: F. A. Homra, J. Ray Graham and John Garrett, Jr., of Union City.

Stockholders are: Ward Bushart, Glyn Bushart, F. A. Homra, John Garrett, I. W. Little, John Earle, Charles Burrow, Robert Graham, Warren C. Graham, J. Ray Graham, Lloyd Bone, L. L. Moss, F. W. Smith, H. W. Connaughton, E. J. McCollum, Frank Beadles, H. A. Morris of Obion, Tenn.

Also, Johanna Westpheling, Paul Westpheling, W. B. Holman, Roper Fields, Smith Atkins and Russell Gaskins.

GIRL SCOUTS WILL COLLECT OLD PAPER

A waste-paper drive will be conducted by the Girl Scouts of Fulton this Sunday afternoon beginning at 2 p. m., with collections scheduled throughout Fulton, Highlands, Riceville and South Fulton.

Proceeds from the sale of paper collected will be used by the Girl Scouts to defray operating expenses during the year; this is their only method of deriving revenue.

Residents are requested to leave old papers and magazines tied in bundles on their porches or front steps. In case of rain, the drive will be postponed, since wet paper has no resale value. Any special contribution or off-route donations of papers are requested to call Mrs. Wm. Blackstone prior to collection time.

There are 27 Girl Scouts in the local troop; Mrs. Joe Hall is the Scout Leader.

BASEBALL OUTLOOK DIM FOR U. CITY

The future of organized baseball in Union City rested in the hands of citizens of the town and the adjacent area today.

Unless interested fans indicate by Friday that they will purchase season tickets in sufficient amount to insure that the Kitty League club there can operate at least at the "break-even" level, organized baseball here apparently is doomed.

That was the situation today following a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday

LIONS MINSTREL IS FEB. 12-13

Next Monday and Tuesday nights, February 12-13, the Fulton Lions Club will present its annual Minstrel show here in Carr Gym.

The two-hour show will be headed by Jack Carter, interactor, and will contain 20-odd specialty singing and dancing numbers, plus a generous sprinkling of jokes and chorus numbers calculated to give the audience an enjoyable evening of entertainment.

The Minstrel has played to full houses for the past three years, and is one of the featured mid-winter attractions in Fulton. Proceeds this year will go to the Stadium Fund of the Lions Club.

Ruth Byars, pianist, is in charge of music, Winna Frances Carpenter in charge of the Girls Chorus, and Russell Johnson in charge of the Men's chorus, stated business manager Lawson Roper.

Before the show and during intermission a local 14-piece orchestra will provide music.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB FASHION SHOW TO BE HELD ON THURSDAY, MARCH 8

Mrs. Wallace Ashby, president of the Junior Woman's Club announced today that the annual fashion show sponsored by the organization would be held on Thursday night, March 8 at the Woman's Club building.

The show this year is being held in the Spring rather than in the Fall as in past years. Local ready-to-wear merchants are selecting the latest fashions and fabrics to show at the event.

Mrs. Paul Westpheling will act as mistress of ceremonies and script writer and John Austin, talented interior decorator will design the stage settings.

Models and the stores they will represent will be announced later.

Response Poor To Fund To Help Unfortunate

Is there no real charity in Fulton? Do people believe it is better to receive than to give?

At least, it seems that way from the response to the fund being collected for Mrs. Albert Dabbs, whose husband passed away last week and who is in difficult financial straits.

Last week, before the News appeared, $4.25 was brought into the office to help the poor family. In the mail we gladly acknowledge receipt of the following:

Interested $10.00
Mrs. G. H. Dallas 5.00
Baptist Sunday School 1.00
Moose Lodge 10.00

What about the hundreds of you who have warm homes, good food, warm clothing? Surely you want to help and surely you must. Do so today!

The Fulton and Obion County draft boards recently called six Fultonians for duty in the armed services.

They are: Leon Mann, Hubert Stone, James L. Harper, Everett Lee McClanahan, George Noonan, and Herman Harrison, Jr.

Mann, Stone and Harper left for Owensboro, for induction and will be sent on to Fort Knox. They were called by the Fulton County Draft Board at Hickman. The other three were called by the Obion County Draft Board at Union City.

Drive For Members Feb. 13-17

Enough members to assure music lovers of four concerts next season is the goal of Mrs. Fred Gibson, second vice-president and general chairman of the Fulton Community Concert Association, whose annual drive for members starts with a kick-off breakfast at Smith's Cafe Tuesday morning at 8:30 a. m. Mrs. Gibson will be assisted in the drive by Mrs. Vernon Owens as co-chairman.

When the curtain was drawn on the final concert of the 1950 series Monday, Fulton's second Community Concert series came to a close with the last of three brilliant presentations. The first concert series was enormously successful. Officers and members of the association predict that not only will there be a full scale campaign of renewals, but hundreds more are expected to join the association.

An important meeting of the concert association will be held tonight (Friday) at the Fulton Bank to draw up a constitution and by-laws for the organization, as well as to make final plans for the all-out membership drive, which starts on Feb. 13th.

Although the actual drive does not get underway until next Tuesday, tickets were on sale following the concert Monday night for anyone desiring to join. The headquarters for the membership drive is Fall & Fall Insurance office and tickets may be secured there from Tuesday through Saturday at 5 p. m.

STRIKE CUTS OFF PASSENGER TRAINS

The Illinois Central railroad officials reported here today that passenger train service in Fulton is still affected by the order curtailing service of 12 passenger trains in Chicago. The order was issued because of the switchmen's strike affecting the Illinois Central and about 20 other railroads in the nation.

Effective Wednesday four trains running through Fulton from Chicago to Memphis and Jackson were discontinued for the time being. The trains were: Southbound No. 3 to Memphis, which leaves here at 5:30 a. m.; Northbound No. 4 to Chicago, which leaves here at 11 p. m.; the two sections of the Seminole — one to Jackson leaving here at 12:55 a. m. and the one to Chicago, leaving here at 3 a. m.

Dranoffs End Concert Season With Fine Performances

By Agatha Voelpel
Loretta and Murray Dranoff, duo-pianists, two most personable young artists, brought the 1951 concert series to an outstanding climax and close with their concert in Fulton on Monday night.

If this, their first extended concert tour, is to be judged by their performance locally, it can be branded as highly successful. The Dranoffs are quite young, but their talent and their mastery of their musical medium bespeaks of a musicianship of the finest. Seldom is such complete unity of conception, warmth of playing and even phenomenal ensemble met.

It has seemed that many duo-piano teams rely upon tremendous force and volume with which to overpower their hearers. The Dranoffs, while capable of meeting any requirement of these two qualities, relied upon beauty of tone, delicacy of technique and sheer musical artistry and thereby charmed their audience in an extraordinary fashion. An outstanding example of this was found in their rendition of the Mozart D Major Sonata.

The Arensky "Waltz" was probably the favorite of the audience with its alluring melody and the underlying rhythmic accompaniment. The sparkling "Dance of the Tumblers" — Rimsky-Korsakov was also most capably rendered.

Of the composition from the modern school, the writer was most pleased by the Darius Milhaud "Scaramouche." This suite exhibits an amazing contrast in mood and in tempo ending with the flashy rhythm of South America.

Seldom has a local audience fully enjoyed a concert so much as that of the promising young Dranoffs.

This, the second series of Community Concerts to be given in Fulton, has gained popular acclaim to the extent that the board of directors feels that the effort to increase the musical and cultural advantages of our community has been successful and that the public will readily support the concert program in ensuing years.

Accident Victim Taken To Clinic In Memphis

Mrs. Jess Wilkins of near Fulton was seriously injured in an auto accident Tuesday, when the car in which she was riding with her husband crashed head-on with a truck driven by T. R. Ferguson of Fulton. Mrs. Wilkins was taken to Campbell's Clinic in Memphis after treatment at Jones Clinic here. Mr. Ferguson remains in Jones Clinic, while Mr. Wilkins was released after treatment there.

According to Chief of Police G. J. McDade, the accident occurred on the Middle Road, when Ferguson attempted to pass another automobile and crashed head-on into the Wilkins car. Both vehicles were badly damaged, and towed to Fulton.

After A Rich And Useful Life, Mr. Joe Bennett Goes To His Reward

By Jo Westpheling

My very good friend, the late Mr. Joe Bennett, whose death last week brought sadness to people in all walks of life in this community, often compared himself to the late John D. Rockefeller. As was his delightful characteristic the comparison to Rockefeller was facetious, but to those of us who knew him so well, the metaphor was truly literal.

Where Rockefeller possessed a tremendous wealth of material things, Mr. Bennett had in his personality and in his soul a fortune of kindness, sympathy and understanding for his fellowman.

Mr. Joe, as everybody called him, told the story often about the late John D. and himself. On a trip to Florida one time, he passed the estate of the fabulous multi-millionaire and as was his custom to know as much as he could about as many things as he could, he stopped and chatted with the gate-keeper at the palatial mansion.

It was there that he learned that Mr. Rockefeller's generosity was sung to the tune of a silver dime, and from that day forward Mr. Joe joined in the chorus of the millionaire's music. He frequently gave quarters to all and sundry who performed even the slightest deed of kindness to him, but he no doubt took his cue for spreading happiness from the financial wizard in calculating that to make the gift smaller, he could thereby give more, and thus increase, and expand his sphere of happiness.

That was his philosophy; to make people happy and by so doing could fill to overflowing his cup of cheer.

He was a man of tremendous honesty and humility. He never assumed anything approximating ego, but rather it was his sincere conviction that any small importance he ever attained was acquired through the generosity of his friends; in so doing he gave more and more of his time to his friends and his family, whom he loved far beyond the capacity of the average human being.

A good example of his humility I remember quite well. As a matter of fact I remember many of them. For instance when Earle Clements, then Governor of Kentucky came to Fulton to be a guest at the Fair, he stopped at Mr. Joe's box seat and shook his hand and the Governor told him how glad he was to meet such a fine and useful citizen. But Mr. Joe didn't think the honor was the Governor's at all. He felt that he had been signalled out from all the world to meet a man of honor... when I know that Mr. Clements felt the shoe was on the other foot.

If ever his name was put in the paper, the editor invariably received a little gift. He never once realized that he was always "good copy".

In the past few years Mr. Joe had been quite ill on several occasions. He was confined to the hospital and to his room at his home, but through all his suffering he prevailed upon his family to have a box full of silver dimes at his bedside so that whenever servants, or his faithful colored delivery boy, Jim Hayes, came in the room he could reward the visit to him with a dime.

His family often said that when youngsters came in the store to buy a nickel bar of candy, Mr. Joe would engage them in a long conversation and upon their departure he would give them a dime. Obviously there was no pecuniary profit in the transaction, but to Mr. Joe it was indeed. He credited the loss as a profit to his happiness and that's the way he wanted it.

I was always amazed at his ability to keep abreast of modern things and yet retain a niche in his heart for the beloved past.

He loved to think of the old opera house here and his part in promoting legitimate stage attractions in the by-gone days. Yet, he held close to his heart his airplane rides, his attendance at modern stage plays; he was a constant and loyal patron of the Community Concert Association here.

Had he lived until May of this year he would have been 85 years old. He joked often "about an old dog like me," but he never fooled us for a minute. I know that, if God had willed it, Mr. Joe would have gladly pushed back the years, and started all over again. And yet, not one thing would he have changed of his way of life. He would have acquired again the old school devotion to the modern concept.

It is for that reason that those of us who knew him, loved him, and admired him, today have a richer and fuller sense of the importance of living. I cannot help but use, perhaps a trite expression, but truly the world was a better place to live because he lived here and what is more;

He was my friend, Mr. Joe Bennett.

History and Destiny

Eleven years ago on February 6, 1940, Henry Puryear an editorial writer for the Paducah (Ky.) Sun wrote an editorial commenting on the state of the world in that not too distant past. A reader of that exceptionally fine newspaper asked the publisher, the beloved Mr. Ed Paxton to reprint the editorial on February 6, 1951, to prove, no doubt, that history repeats itself.

Entitled "Our Rendezvous With Destiny" we thought you might like to read that forceful editorial and we are reprinting it below, with the permission, we feel sure, of the Paducah-Sun publisher.

OUR RENDEZVOUS WITH DESTINY

The first Sunday of the first year of the new decade finds the race of man aghast and agog, face to face with it knows not what. The present was never more perplexing; the future was never more bewildering.

The 1940s may prove to be the most fearful decade in modern history. Present conditions cannot for long continue as they are. The world will either get much worse or much better. Society will either overcome its present difficulties and attain new heights of human betterment, or society will itself be overcome by its difficulties and descend into depths of barbarism hardly imaginable. Ten years hence we will speak either of the Flourishing Forties or the Frightful Forties.

Eighty per cent of the earth's population so at war. The peace for the twenty per cent is but a nominal peace. Individual hatreds, social resentments, sectional jealousies, and political bitterness are rife among us. There is moral, religious, political and economic disintegration in every land.

During the past century we have made progress in every art save the art of living together harmoniously. We have progressed in every science save the science of human contentment.

And what, O Lord, have we done to deserve this misery? A better question would be, what have we done to deserve anything different? We have sought salvation in the wake of every will o' the wisp that presented itself. We have disregarded every guide post which God provided for our safety.

During the Twenties society sinned by being too cocksure, too indifferent, and too self-satisfied. It was an age when disillusionment was glorified. Nothing was respected, nothing reversed. Only cynicism and skepticism were worth taking seriously. There was no God but money, and jazz, painted lips, knee-length skirts, and 'speak-easies were its prophets.

In the Thirties society sinned by falling on its face before graven images. When God was not forgotten His promises were. Nations sought Heaven not in the next world, but in an all-powerful state that could do no wrong. Individuals sought to escape Hell themselves by giving it to others. National, class, and personal selfishness were made virtues. The Sermon on the Mount was silenced in the roar of beasts proclaiming the law of the jungle.

During the Forties the race of man can continue in the wave of the preceding decades and the dawn of the Fifties will see the race wallowing in the mire of barbarism. Or the race of man can change its ways and then there is no peak to which it may not ascend.

Our rendezvous with destiny in the new decade, if it is to be kept aright, must be to get down to fundamentals, to bring ourselves face to face with the eternal truths of human existence. Man is a spiritual animal. He has needs which materialism cannot satisfy. Unless he has religion to soothe the restlessness of his soul, he becomes a predatory animal on the earth's surface. Until there is peace in the individual heart, there can never be peace in the world. And only religion can supply that balm.

Society must be re-indoctrinated with the knowledge that right is right and wrong is wrong; that right will always be rewarded and that wrong will always be punished; that God in His Heaven will suffer evil to triumph for a while, but not forever; that all men are brothers in a common bond; that we may all laugh and be happy, but that we must not laugh at God's laws if we want to be happy in the next world.

If the Forties bring with them a revived faith in the efficacy of Christian principles to solve public as well as private difficulties, our rendezvous with destiny will be a glorious fulfillment. The achievement of that revival should be the first endeavor of men of good will everywhere.

Service To Others

That's Scouting

By Bertie Pigue

This is National Boy Scout Week. Two Million, seven hundred fifty thousand members of The Boy Scouts of America are celebrating their Forty First Anniversary. Since 1910 more than seventeen million members have been enrolled.

STRENGTHEN LIBERTY is the theme—service to American Youth the aim—Be Prepared our Motto—Do a good deed each day our Slogan. Our movement is dedicated to the character building and citizenship training of our youth.

Scouting is available to every boy because men and women in each community voluntarily give of their time and money to support its program that has only one purpose "Service to Others".

Scouting does not function haphazardly, it is a well organized business operating under a national charter with a head office in New York. It is composed of many regions and subdivided into councils and districts. Fulton is in the Cincinnati Region, Four Rivers Council, which comprises the territory from Gilbertsville Dam to the Tennessee line. The Dry Lake District is composed of Fulton and Hickman Counties. A new troop has just been organized at Chestnut Glade.

Each Council elects its officers annually. An executive Board, made up from men selected from each district, prepares a budget, the treasurer's records are audited yearly by a Certified Public Accountant. Men of strong character are selected as scout executives. We are fortunate to have one of the Field Executives, Elbert Johns to reside in our community—he serves the Dry Lake, Reelfoot and Two Rivers Districts. Another Field Executive resides in Mayfield and serves the Graves County and Happy Valley Districts. Roy Manchester, Scout Executive, serves the Paducah District where the council office is maintained. Salaries must be provided for these executives and a full time secretary. Transportation, office rent, supplies maintenance of Camp Pakentek necessitate the raising of sizeable funds with which to operate. Careful consideration is given to every dollar spent and the only way we have to provide the funds is by asking the people of this good community to contribute liberally to so worthy a cause.

Tuesday, February 6th a committee solicited funds in the business district and it is hardly possible to solicit funds from each citizen personally, so please don't wait for someone to see you—mail or hand contribution to any scouter this week.

We also ask your support in the encouragement of Scoutmasters, Den Mothers, Troop Committee Men and all the seven hundred volunteers who give freely of their time and efforts to help your boy become better men. Make your plans to attend one of their meetings this week and tell them how much you do appreciate the scout work that is being done in and around Fulton.

Sermonette Of The Week

Your Most Important Business

There is one very important fact about the value of time: It cannot be purchased and it must not be thrown away.

Those whose duty it is to attend the dying know the utter uselessness of wealth, social position or political influence when the sands of time are running out. One sees people who could buy almost anything in life unable to add a second to their allotted span of hours, despite all their possessions.

But, you say, all this is morbid, and it makes me nervous to reflect upon it. May I reply that it is far from morbid. Rather it is simply good business. It is common sense and laudable ambition to try to succeed in everything we do. We make sacrifices to succeed in business. We give up many things to attain wealth and to preserve our health here on earth. Well, religion reminds us that our most important business is where we will spend eternity, and that the health we must be most careful to preserve is health of soul.

In brief, religion tells us that we must put first things first, and that the first thing of all—the only all-important thing is: What happens to me when I die?

No, this is not a morbid topic. It is simply business. If your store were verging upon bankruptcy you would try to save it. If your professional standing were threatened, you would strive to defend it. Otherwise you would deserve your failure.

It is the same thing with the welfare of your eternal business—your soul and its endless future. No one in his right mind would trade a fortune of millions for one-dollar bill. No sane person would compare the beam of light cast by a flickering candle with the light of the sun. Yet, in the moral order, men are constantly selling "forever" for a few short years of earthly pleasure.

Indeed, this consideration is morbid only to the person who is doing wrong continually. As a matter of fact, to the man of good will, every day should be a day of real enjoyment and happiness, as he reflects that he is doing his best to follow the formula left by Christ for real happiness, both here on earth and hereafter.

That formula was summarized by Our Savior in the words: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His justice, and all these things shall be added unto you."

Oberlin's Observations

This, no doubt, should simply be labelled some random thoughts about the weather. By the time it gets set in type, it is devotedly to be hoped that this beautiful winter wonderland will no longer be with us.

Those of you who believe in the infallibility of the groundhog, though, are for certain to take off the long handles and whip them through the automatic washer at least once more this winter. For, if the winter sleeper failed to see his shadow last Friday, it was only because he was bat blind.

Did you ever know it to be so cold? Did you ever see so much snow? And wasn't it pleasant!

I recall about 20 years ago when I was a grocery store delivery boy way up in Northern Indiana, walking out in front of the store one biting cold winter morning, and taking a frosty peek at the thermometer.

My eye happened to hit the glass tube at about Zero. Nothing there. It went lower and lower. All the way down to 27 degrees below zero. And that's where the thermometer was hanging at about 8:30 on a bright, sunny, winter morning.

The old timers can say what they like—and so can the scientists who tell us that winters are getting less severe all the time—the fact still remains that this winter has been just about as bad as anyone could ask for.

Wayne Wry; Confusion Smith, widow, Grace Brown; Queen Victoria Smith, her daughter, Lucille Hicks; Nicodemus Snowball, a customer, Paul Brown.

Miss Ruby Rhodes and Mr. Lindsay Breedon surprised their many friends last Sunday by driving to New Hope Church a little early and being married by Bro. Walker.

Randolph Kramer, FHS Freshman, won the inter-class oratorical contest this week with his delivery of "The Republic Never Retreats"; second went to Sophomore Jane Dobbins for "The Shooting of Dan McGrew".

February 6, 1931:

Owners of radio sets around Fulton who blame static on the wind, the rain, the heat or the cold, now have a new explanation from an Ohio University professor, who states that when the moon is directly over a broadcasting station its programs are clearest and static is reduced to a minimum.

L. P. Hite has been named western manager of Ky. Utilities with offices in Paducah.

County Agent H. C. Brown announces that C. K. Davis of Hickman, C. L. Drysdale and Clyde Williams have been named to the county committee to handle government drought relief feed and seed loans.

"Rook" is a popular game out on Route 5, with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nix, Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Yates and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Frost having spent many long winter nights together playing the game.

First, we had that very miserable, raw, cold, wet four weeks in November and December. Then January roared out like the toughest old lion that ever lived, and February roared in even rougher. With lots of snow and near all-time record cold.

This, of course, also makes fools of the woolly bears. These are a kind of caterpillar, you know, whose migrations and the thickness of whose coats each autumn are supposed to accurately predict what the ensuing winter will be like. Or something to that effect. At least, they're supposed to be reliable weather prophets.

Only this past fall, the woolly bears' peculiarities, whatever they are, indicated a nice mild winter.

Louisville's Mayor Charles Farnley must be feeling like an awful fool. He hiked off to sunny Bimini in the lush Bahamas and got himself a mid-summer suntan while Louisville was enjoying balmy weather. The day he got home, the heavens let loose with all that sleet, which was immediately followed by eight inches of snow. And 19 degrees below zero cold.

Hizzoner had his picture made sitting on the City Hall steps, wearing his Bimini attire: a straw hat, light coat and suntan. Well, trousers, shoes and the other customary things, too. I suppose.

There's a fellow up in Indiana, whose name doesn't occur off-hand, who seems to have done a much better job of predicting this winter than most. He does it from the winds on the change of seasons. If they blow certain ways the first day of autumn, it means winter will be awful. If they blow another way, it'll be mild.

He predicted some pretty horrible weather for the end of January and the first week of February.

Did he have to be so Ivory accurate?

THOUSANDS MORE TELEPHONES IN 1950

1950 was another big telephone year in Kentucky. Southern Bell installed 54,701 telephones . . . enough to serve another city four times the size of Paducah.

The big job, however, was making new telephones possible by constructing and enlarging buildings, installing central office equipment, building lines and stringing wire and cable. In all we spent more than $9,400,000 last year to expand and improve Kentucky's telephone service.

Today Kentucky has almost twice as many telephones as were in service at the end of World War II . . . twice as many long distance circuits . . . three times as many rural telephones. That's mighty important right now as the nation mobilizes for defense.

In the days ahead, Southern Bell can be counted on to do its full part in defense—in Kentucky and throughout the South.

Where Money to Expand and Improve Service Comes From

It doesn't come from the money you pay us for telephone service . . . that money goes to pay wages, taxes and other operating costs. The money to build new facilities must come from people with money to invest. That's why the future of telephone service depends on the Company's ability to pay for the use of money invested in telephone facilities.

MISS JOYCE FIELDS BECOMES BRIDE OF BILLY HILL SATURDAY

The First Methodist Church in Fulton was the scene of the beautiful wedding of Joyce Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roper Fields, to Billy Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hill Saturday, February 3 at three o'clock in the afternoon.

The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. C. E. Hawkins before a large assembly of relatives and friends.

The altar was banked with large arrangements of waxy magnolia leaves placed among tall branched candelabra. Single candles were placed the entire length of the choir rail. The pulpit formed a focus of interest—draped in white and gold with the open Bible facing the audience. A single Easter lily was placed at the side of the Bible. The family pews were marked by large satin bows.

Preceding the exchange of the nuptial vows a program of nuptial music was given by Mrs. C. L. Maddox, organist, and J. C. Sugg, Jr., tenor, maternal uncle of the bride.

The dainty young bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful originally designed wedding gown of lustrous magnolia white satin. The tightly fitted bodice featured a close row of tiny covered buttons extending from the neckline to the waist. A tiny Peter Pan collar was finished with a dainty hand embroidery of seed pearls. The same design of pearls was repeated on the points of the long fitted sleeves. The very full circular skirt extended into a fan shaped train. Her full length tiered veil of imported illusion fell from a halo bonnet of shirred and plaited illusion which had a small wreath of orange blossoms at the hair line. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings—the gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible topped with a large white orchid showered with stephanotis and satin ribbons.

Miss Vara Ruth Workman of Memphis, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor and Miss Beverly Hill, the groom's sister was bridesmaid.

Tommy Fields, the bride's brother, and Brenda Owen of Hickman, her cousin carried the rings on shirred satin pillows. Mary Elizabeth Fields, another cousin, and flower girl carried an imported basket of ivory straw tied with blue satin ribbons.

The groom's father attended him as best man; the ushers were: John Joe Campbell, Jack Browder, Bobby Lowe, and Tommy Weeks of Water Valley.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fields wore an early spring frock of black sheer. One side of the bodice featured a tailored double cape effect; this same effect was carried out with triple folds at the opposite side of the slim skirt; rhinestone and crystal buttons trimmed the folds. Her small hat of black Milan straw had a white straw facing and a lacy black feather. Her other accessories were black and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Hill, the groom's mother, wore a soft afternoon frock of coral pink sheer. Bias bands of the material ran diagonally on the bodice, shoulders and skirt; small pink buttons ornamented each fold. Her early spring hat of black straw was banded in front with soft folds of pink illusion and veiling caught with cluster of rhinestone centered pink flowers. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of Wedgewood blue Dutch Iris.

Immediately following the ceremony an informal reception was given in the church parlors for the wedding party, relatives and out-of-town guests.

Assisting in serving the guests were: Misses Ann McDade, Ann Fuzzell, Janice Wheeler, Mary Ann Brady, Amelia Parrish and Nell Speight and Mesdames J. C. Hancock, Walter Voelpel, W. E. Owens of Hickman and Mrs. J. T. Workman of Columbus.

Mrs. Bob Brown presided at the bride's register.

Late in the afternoon the young couple left for a short bridal trip after which they will be at home in Lexington, Ky., where both are students at the University of Kentucky.

For traveling Mrs. Hill wore an early spring tailored suit of pink gabardine. The jacket was finished with small pink buttons with gold centers. Her blouse was of accessories. Her blouse was of white crepe. Her hat and bag were of navy faille and her other accessories were navy. She wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

He resided in Humboldt until his graduation from high school there in 1925.

He had devoted all of his adult years to the newspaper profession. He attended the University of Tennessee where he majored in subjects allied to journalism, graduating in 1929, and then joined the Commercial Appeal as a reporter.

Mr. Harris joined the Associated Press bureau in Nashville in 1936. Shortly thereafter, he became a member of the Associated Press staff in New York City, and was sent to the Albany, N. Y. bureau in 1938. He remained there until he was transferred to the Louisville, Ky. bureau in 1940.

Mr. Harris was a descendant of Isham G. Harris, governor of Tennessee during the War Between the States, who later became a U. S. senator. His father, a well-known Humboldt business man, died when the son was a child.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Services were held Tuesday morning at 10, at Whitel Funnell Home in Fulton. The Rev. R. Y. Horton, pastor of Humboldt, Tenn., Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Fairview cemetery here.

Mr. Harris was a member of the Humboldt Methodist Church.

Other than his mother and daughter there are no immediate relatives who survive.

Pallbearers were Bert Cox, Union City, Charles Miles III, Union City, Elmer Hunt, Silliman Evans, and Buddy Thompson, all of Humboldt, Lewis Weeks, and Leon Browder.

A lifelong Democrat, Curlin is a former chairman of the Young Democrats Clubs of the First District, but has never held an elective office. His wife was Margaret Flatt, daughter of the late Circuit Judge R. B. Flatt of the First Judicial District. They have two children, Mrs. Benjamin Gardner Moore, Lynchburg, Va., and William P. Curlin, Jr.

"I'm giving him full and complete authority to administer the affairs of the department," Wetherby said in a statement released after he had left for Hopkinsville to speak there Monday.

"I have asked him to make a complete and thorough investigation of all the operations of the department, and if any practices or operations are not as they should be, I have instructed him to remedy such practices or operations. He has a free hand.

"If any contractor or vendor who has dealings with the highway department in the past has any information of wrong doing, I call upon him to give any such information to Mr. Curlin or me.

"If any such contractor or vendor gives such information, I assure him that he will not be penalized in his future dealings with the highway department.

"The highway department must be administered in such a manner as to give the people complete confidence in its operations. I am confident that under Mr. Curlin it will be so conducted."

Mississippi Plantation Life: The Writings Of Mattie Dear

The Lord is my Shepherd I shall not want. I am in that attitude now. My health is fine only I had a bad cold but that's given to winter time but I am up, Thank God.

Jesus is just so good to us we can't breathe unless He lets us. We can't make a step without His help. Now you know he is worthy to be praised so I'll say thank God for Jesus.

Jesus died so we could live. His holy name, Mrs. Mattie Bernhard is a good Christian woman. I received a letter from her the other day. She was well. I have never seen her but by her holding to God's unchange hand

MORE DIVIDENDS FOR GI POLICIES

Payment of a second special dividend totalling $685,000,000 to the holders of some eight million National Service (GI) Life Insurance policies has been announced by Carl R. Gray, Jr., of Veterans Affairs.

Dividends will be calculated through the anniversary date of the policy in 1951 and payment will be distributed over a period of one year. First checks will be ready in April.

VA urged veterans not to write regarding this second dividends, since correspondence would cause removal of the veteran's file from the production lines and delay payment.

The payments will cover a three-year period, from 1948 to 1951 and policies held in force for three months or more during this period will be eligible for dividends. This includes both term and permanent plan policies, including those which have lapsed or were terminated by death of the insured veteran.

The amount of the dividend earned by each policy will vary according to the number of months it was in force, the plan of insurance, face value of the policy and the age of the insured at the time it became effective.

VA said studies on rates to be paid are still being made.

VA explained that the first special dividend of $2.3 billion, payment of which has almost been completed, covered the period each policy was in force up to its anniversary date in 1948. The second dividend will be for the number of months from that date to the corresponding date in 1951.

Policies issued in 1948, 1949 and 1950 will earn dividends up to their anniversaries in 1951.

Unlike the first dividend, no application will be required for the second dividend.

she became a sister of mine in Christ. So I am telling others about her. So we are save through Christ bless His holy name. She sent me a piece to read and it is fine.

Christ raised the widow's son and He healed the man with the leprosy. We are having some winter now. Plenty snow, sleet and ice. I am afraid to walk but the Lord knows best. Hope Mrs. Johanna's family is doing fine.

I will tell you this: it is cold and I am sleeping by myself and kneads a good husband but they are so hard to find so I will go along as I am. The Lord will keep me warm, feed me when I get hungry so he is doing that bless His holy name.

The Lord puts in the mind of the men to come and cut my wood and make my fires. I am 66 years of age and never seen a winter like this but that is the way of the Lord and His way is past finding out.

But let me tell you this: we are living in a changing world. So many deaths in different ways for that cause we must prepare to meet our God now.

It is raining and the ground is frozen but is God's will so let us pray for the soldier boys on the battle field. So let me tell you one thing; pray for peace.

KING OF HEARTS

Jack Benny

Jack Benny's longstanding support of the fight against heart disease has earned him the title of "King of Hearts". In appealing for contributions to the 1951 Heart Fund, Benny says:

"The goal of the Heart Fund is not just dollars, it's lives, and the lessening of suffering. That's the purpose of your contributions. Your gifts will support scientific research, your dollars will spread knowledge about heart disease throughout the country. Your dollars will maintain existing community heart programs and establish new ones.

"So, how about opening your heart and giving all you possibly can to fight heart disease? Send your dollars to this simple address: HEART, care of your post office."

The man who starts out with the idea of merely getting rich won't succeed; you must have a larger ambition. — John D. Rockefeller.

CATTLE LEAVE HAY FOR CLOVER, FESCUE

Hickman county farmers found that although fescue and Green Acres clover pastures had browned considerably after sub-zero weather, cattle preferred them over the best green hay. County Agent Warren Thompson cited the case of James T. Roberts of the Mt. Pleasant community, who reported that his cattle picked up in milk production after he turned them on fescue and clover from good green-cured hay.

And the work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever.—Isaiah.

tired from the practice of law to enter manufacturing as the president and general manager of the Canvas Decol Co.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Comer Hastings, the pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. J. E. Woodward and interment was in East View cemetery.

If you are paid $50 or more in CASH wages by one employer during a calendar quarter and work for this employer at least 24 days during such quarter, your employment is covered by the Social Security Act, and you should have a social security account number card.
