THE LISTENING POST

● I have always been interested in biography, particularly the stories of present day men and women. A few days ago I read an article concerning Marshall Field III, the grandson of the great Chicago merchant. Field appears to be quite an interesting character, and at the present moment is planning to launch one of his most ambitious efforts. He is the financial power behind a new morning newspaper in Chicago, and this new newspaper, if it is to succeed, must cut heavily into the Chicago Tribune. The latter newspaper, one of the really great newspapers of the world, is entrenched behind its breastworks of power and influence and money, and in past years has laid waste all efforts to fight it. Never was it more powerful, but never before did as much money start a frontal attack on the Tribune. The results will be interesting and newspaper workers of the nation will watch the fight with interest. The Tribune will not wait for attack, for it has always waded into its fights with every weapon at hand, and has the reputation of being a tough fighter in every respect.

● Marshall Field III was reared and educated in England. His father died when he was a lad, the report being that he either shot himself purposely or accidentally, and the grandfather, the original Marshall, left his fortune in a trust fund for his two grandchildren. They were provided for in lavish manner, but the principal of the great Field fortune was not to come to them until they reached the age of fifty. Marshall's brother died and he came into sole possession of the vast trust fund. He is now 48 years of age, and in 1943 the trust will come to an end and the entire principal will be handed over to Marshall. He conservatively estimates the amount to be eighty million dollars; others, who know a lot about such matters, say it may total three hundred million. In any event, it will be a huge amount.

● Early in the Roosevelt administration Field gave up the Republican party and allied himself to the New Deal. For several years he has posed as a liberal, and as such, has financed many things of a liberal character. The daring experiment in New York of operating a tabloid daily newspaper, called PM, has been done with Field money, and the report is that the publication is costing a year for two or three years he has met this deficit without grumbling and gives no indication that he will ever quit pouring money into this hole. Many competent newspaper men say that PM will never make the grade, and it may be that Field believes the New Chicago Sun may make enough to cover the loss on the New York publication. Again it may not. Field might wake up some day and find that he had two losing newspapers on his hands. Of more or less local interest is the fact that the publisher of the new Chicago newspaper is Silliman Evans, who is now publisher of the Nashville Tennessean. Evans has a reputation of being a real newspaper man and has done remarkable work in Nashville, as well as in Texas before he came to Nashville. Many other high powered newspaper workers have been snared by the Field money, one Washington correspondent being reputed to have accepted an offer of $25,000 per year to come to Chicago. The Tribune has already announced that it is ready for the combat, and before many days the new Sun will be on the streets and on the newstands. The Tribune is perhaps the only newspaper in the nation with a circulation of more than one million on week days and is in fair shape for a tough fight.

● One curious feature of the Field fortune is that while Field will come into this vast amount in 1943 he will not be compelled to

Anti-Strike Bill Sent By Wallace To Labor Group

Measure Steered Away From Stern-Minded Judiciary Committee

Washington, — Vice President Wallace took a hand today in Senatorial controversy over legislation to curb defense strikes by routing the House-approved Smith bill to the moderateminded labor committee instead of the sterner judiciary committee.

Senator Hill (D.-Ala.), the Democratic whip, said the drastic Smith measure would be given speedy study by the labor group and probably would be reported out in some form for consideration of the Senate next Monday.

The labor committee already has approved a much milder bill by Senator Ball (R.-Hinn.), setting up mediation machinery for defense labor disputes and outlawing strikes for the closed shop.

The heads of the C. I. O. and the AFL both issued statements during the day assailing the Smith bill as a threat to the basic constitutional rights of the workers.

The Smith measure would provide for a "cooling off" period of from 30 to 90 days before defense strikes could be called, would prohibit walkouts not sanctioned by a majority of employees in a secret ballot and would make it unlawful for a defense contractor to encourage or discourage membership in labor unions.

CHRISTMAS RETAIL SALES EXPECTED TO SET NEW RECORD

Washington, — The commerce department today estimated that Christmas retail sales this year would set a record of approximately $5,500,000,000.

This total, technically an estimate of December business, was $750,000,000 larger than last year.

The department added, however, that about half the increase represented merely higher prices and guessed that the increase in actual units sold would be about five per cent.

donate about three-fourths of it to the federal government. The trust was set up in 1906, and at that time the inheritance tax had not been passed, or really seriously thought of. Therefore, save for a small state inheritance tax in Illinois, Field will get his money almost intact, while others, under modern dispensation, would have to give up about 77 per cent to the federal government. It may be an unworthy thought, but if Field is so enthusiastic for the New Deal and all its works, it seems that he might voluntarily pay this huge tax.

1 SHIP DAILY GOAL IS MET

Rate Seen As Doubled By Middle Of Next Year

Washington, — With the immediate goal of one merchant ship a day at hand, the Maritime Commission predicted today its ultimate objective of two ships a day would be reached by the middle of 1942.

Production of two ships a day, the commission said, would be continued "until the emergency need is met."

Launchings will reach a one-a-day rate for the first time this month, with thirty vessels scheduled to slide down shipways. The commission expects thirty-nine launchings in January, with forty scheduled tentatively for February.

The commission's over-all construction program calls for the completion by the end of 1943 of more than 1,200 ships of approximately 13,500,000 deadweight tons.

T. V. A. DECIDES TO SAVE TOWN FROM EXTINCTION

Caney Creek, Tenn., —This little mountain power village has been granted a reprieve from death.

Condemned to destruction by its new owner, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the town—with a street car but no automobiles—won its pardon because of another T. V. A. dam.

Nestled on the banks of Ocoee River near Parksville Lake in the Cherokee Mountains, Caney Creek came into existence in 1912 when the Tennessee Electric Power Company, later taken over by T. V. A., built home here for its workmen.

SCANTILY CLAD BLONDE PROVES DISAPPOINTING

New York, — Reports of a scantily clad blonde lying among the debris of an automobile accident sent police scurrying to the scene in a mad rush. On arrival they found a large crowd around the unconscious form with a quantity of delicate feminine underthings scattered about.

Sister Held In "Mercy Slaying" Of Mental Hospital Patient

Kings Park, N. Y., —George Horn, 26, described as a "hopeless" mental patient in the Kings Park State Hospital, was shot dead today before the eyes of his mother and District Attorney Fred J. Munder said a sister had admitted the killing with the statement:

"I am very glad. That was the least I could do for him."

Munder quoted Mrs. Edith Reichert, 35, as saying she had talked it over with the mother, Mrs. Edith Horn, 55, and they had decided "it was the best way to put him out of his misery."

Rifle Stuffed Up Sleeve

Horn crumpled to the floor of the hospital reception room with two bullets in his neck. A third shot struck the wall.

The Suffolk County district attorney said the two women came to the institution on a regular visit and officials did not notice a sawed-off rifle he said Mrs. Reichert had "stuffed up her right sleeve."

Shortly after the three entered the room an attendant outside the door heard the first shot and rushed inside to find the rifle pressed against Horn's throat. Before he could act, another bullet pierced the patient's neck and he fell at the feet of his mother and sister.

The attendant then grabbed for the rifle and a third shot went wild. The women offered no resistance and were taken to a state police barracks for questioning. An autopsy was ordered.

Horn was admitted to the hospital, on Long Island about fifty-five miles from New York, September 18, 1940, suffering with dementia praecox.

Dr. Reginald Steen, assistant physician at the hospital, said records listed the case as "Hopeless—Recovery doubtful if at all."

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

The December calendar means but one thing to most of us and that is Christmas. The preceding days are filled with anticipation, plans and preparation. The merchant plans to sell and the public prepares to buy. Better hurry, only 17 more shopping days to spend all of your surplus money and make notes for more!

Land Deals

Four neighbors buy farms in this community.

The P. B. Via farm of 65 acres just east of Mt. Pleasant church, was sold at the court house Monday to Bobby Jones for $3983.00. Bobby is a carpenter and has had employment in Gilbertville for the past year, but wants a place "back home" in a good community.

The other Via farm, known as the Allen place on the Mt. Pleasant-Salem road, was sold to F. B. Lee, merchant here, for $600.00. Number of acres—40.

Ross Jackson purchased the 40-acre Jim Campbell place, east of Tarver's store for $1,250.00 and was offered $200.00 profit right after the deal.

Willie Elliott, who has been residing on the Buell Crooks farm in front of Mt. Pleasant church, purchased it last week for $1,000.00, approximately thirty-five acres there.

New Dwelling

A new dwelling is going up in Fulgham between Freeman Bone's and the Harry Sullivan place, with J. R. Elliott, contractor and carpenter. The owner is Miss Hazel Jones of Detroit, who is building on the strip of land between the highway and the old road, which is part of the farm owned by her dad, Pete Jones.

Train Kills Five Horses

Lube Beadles, owner of the Ross Jackson farm, where Raymond Ashlock now lives, had four horses and one mule killed and a filly seriously injured by a train on the I. C. cut-off near Watts Station about two o'clock Monday morning. The accident occurred in the cut in front of Lois Gravitt's house and according to reports, the animals were running down the track. Mr. Beadles resides in Se-dalia.

House Withholds Funds To Collect New Automobile Tax

Washington, —The House Appropriations Committee threw a monkey wrench today into the elaborate machinery proposed by the Treasury Department for collection of the new $5 annual automobile use tax.

If the House permits the monkey wrench to stay there, it will make the auto tax inoperative.

The committee withheld the $4,502,554 the Treasury said the Bureau of Internal Revenue required to collect an estimated $100,000,000 in taxes with the comment it was "not satisfied with the

Launch Probe Of Newsman's Story On War Plans

Paper Says Secret Documents Indicate Armed Intervention

Washington, —The War and Navy Departments launched investigation today to determine how a Chicago Tribune reporter secured copies of highly confidential correspondence between the White House and the departments.

The Tribune published these documents this morning and interpreted them as meaning an American expeditionary force of 5,000,000 men was contemplated for an offensive against Germany by July 1, 1943.

This interpretation promptly was brought into House debate on a supplemental $2,243,339,031 supplemental defense bill, and was disputed by Rep. Cannon (D.-Mo.), in charge of the bill.

The White House, the War and Navy Departments all carefully refrained from saying what may or may not have been said in confidential exchanges between the President and his defense advisors. But all emphasized, somewhat grimly, that inquiries were underway to determine the source or sources of the story written by Chesly Manly of the Tribune's Washington bureau.

The copyrighted Tribune story said the President wrote Secretary of War Stimson in July asking that he, with Secretary of the Navy Knox, explore the "aver-all production requirements required to defeat our potential enemies."

In September, the Tribune said, the Army-Navy joint board made a report in response to this request. It quoted this report as saying "the first major objective of the United States and its associates should be the complete defeat of Nazi Germany" and that "only land armies can likely win wars."

When Stephen Early, Presidential secretary, held a press conference, the story immediately was called to his attention. He replied: "All that can be said is I've not talked to the President about the story. I am in no position to confirm or deny it."

ROWING PREACHER RESIGNS POST AT COLUMBIA U.

New York, —The Rev. Dr. Raymond C. Knox, Columbia University's 65-year-old "rowing preacher," is retiring from his post as chaplain after thirty-three years.

The board of trustees accepted his resignation yesterday, effective next summer, and named the Rev. Stephen Fielding Bayne, Jr., rector of the St. John's Church Northampton, Mass., to succeed him.

Although Dr. Knox explained he felt his academic course would have been run by April 21 when he turns 66, he still plans to spend at least an hour on the river daily, a practice which has piled up a total of more than 30,000 miles at the oars.

Now is a good time to renew your subscription.

House Withholds Funds To Collect New Automobile Tax

Under the method of collection proposed the estimated cost per $100 of collection of the automobile use tax is $6.40 as contrasted with an actual cost in a previous fiscal year of 89 cents per $100 of collection for all types of revenue, the committee pointed out.

The law taxing the nation's 22,000,000 motor vehicles provided that $2.00 taxes be collected February 1, 1943, for the five months of the 1943 fiscal year and that the entire $5 tax be collected July 1, 1943, for the fiscal year of 1944.

HITLER'S U. S. AIDES

Perhaps most of the people affiliated with the isolation organization calling itself the America
First Committee are sincerely patriotic in their stand, which is a modern replica of the old World War "peace at any price" philosophy.

Nevertheless, this organization, whether misguided or calculatingly, is doing Hitler's work for him in America.

The committee announced on Monday that it will back any candidates for Congress in 1942 who pledge to fight President Roosevelt's foreign policy. The single goal of that policy is to defeat Hitler and to abolish military aggression as an instrument of international policy.

In opposing the President, America First claims it is striving "faithfully to execute the people's mandate."

We know of only one mandate the people have given in connection with U. S. foreign policy. That is, that Hitler shall be defeated, even though America be drawn into the war on the side of those resisting him before his defeat be accomplished.

The President stood militantly on his foreign policy in the unprecedented third-term campaign of 1940, and was re-elected. Though his majority was not overwhelming, his policy was endorsed both before and after that fateful election by his Republican opponent, Wendell Willkie, and Mr. Willkie, it should be pointed out, is still far and away the leading choice among his 1940 supporters for their candidate in 1944, according to the Gallup poll. This proves that a majority of people who voted against Roosevelt in 1940 support his foreign policy, it seems to us.

Time and again the American people have demonstrated their approval of the energetic course the President is following to secure, in the manner he sees proper, the present and future safety of this nation and its institutions. They actually demanded such important steps as selective service, high defense taxes, the lend-lease program, and revision of the misbe-hotten Neutrality Act so that it would not work harm to our friends.

Most of the America Firsters seem merely to be kidding themselves. But we cannot accept that all of their leaders are so blind.
Perhaps there are no Quislings among them; but there are some who resemble the sinister Pierre Laval, whose selfishness in the end proved him no less a traitor to France than Quisling's perfidy made him to Norway. —Sun-Democrat.

25 Years Ago

Recently we ran across an old discarded Kentucky school report of 1916-1917 and noted some of the high lights of County Superintendent
W. L. Beat's annual report.

The beautiful high school building located in East Clinton and valued at $15,000.00 had been destroyed by a cyclone in the spring of 1917 and the old Clinton College building with a ten-acre campus had been purchased for $11,500.00.

A brick building was under construction for Clinton colored students. A new building had been erected at Mt. Pleasant, replacing one that was completely demolished by the cyclone (at the same time our church was destroyed) and all buildings in the county were in good condition, save two. At that time had 225 students enrolled in all the different high schools, plus a number attending Marvin University, as compared with 18 enrolled in Hickman county's first high school established ten years previous (1907). He then advocated a number of improvements that we now have. Consolidation with better roads, better farming methods and better rural life.

Miss Virginia Luten, Superintendent of Fulton County, reported three consolidated schools all satisfactory.

Mrs. Lucile Grogan Jones headed the Calloway County schools and reported that her teachers had
