TURKEY WILL REMAIN NEUTRAL IN NEW CONFLICT

Decision Interpreted As Victory For Allied Nations

Washington, —Turkey Sunday notified the United States it would remain neutral in the "new conflict which has just broken out."

Turkey's notification was given to the State Department by the Turkish ambassador, M. M. Ertegun. He delivered a note, addressed to Secretary of State Hull, which said:

"I have the honor to inform your excellency that in a telegram dated Ankara, Dec. 10, 1941, but received in Washington only this morning, I am directed by my government to notify the Government of the United States of America that the Government of the Republic has decided to extend the neutrality of Turkey to the new conflict which has just broken out."

Turkey has remained neutral in the European War despite diplomatic efforts by Germany and Britain to secure her as an active ally.

The United States only recently revealed that it had been extended to Turkey, through the British, since last May.

Los Angeles' Little Toyko Is Paralyzed By American Measures

Los Angeles, —Without a shot being fired, Uncle Sam has blitzed Little Toyko, largest Japanese settlement in the nation.

This little city within a city, only a block from Los Angeles' civic center, was paralyzed by the Treasury Department order that closed its banks, padlocked its stores and shut down its big produce terminal markets.

The freezing of Japanese national funds and the trading with-the-enemy act deprived the entire population of 40,000 of a means of livelihood. Although the government's war measures were aimed at the foreign-born, the American born Nisei are equally affected.

There is a money shortage, credit cannot be extended to aliens

Washington, — President Roosevelt told his countrymen tonight, on the 150th anniversary of the Bill of Rights, that they were faced now with an attempt to cancel out a "great upsurge of human liberty" embodied in that document and to impose again "absolute authority and despotic rule."

But he declared that "we will not, under any threat, or in the face of any danger, surrender the guarantees of liberty our forefathers framed for us in our Bill of Rights."

The chief executive spoke by radio during a program commemorating the appending to the Constitution 150 years ago of the first ten amendments which guaranteed, among other things, freedom of press, worship and speech.

Americans are solemnly determined, the President said, that "no power or combination of powers of this earth" shall shake their hold upon their fundamental guarantees of liberty.

"The issue of our time," he said "the issue of the war in which we are engaged, is the issue forced upon the decent, self-respecting peoples of the earth by the aggressive dogmas of this attempted revival of barbarism: this proposed return to tyranny; this effort to impose again upon the peoples of the world doctrines of absolute obedience, and of dictatorial rule and of the suppression of truth, and of the oppression of conscience, which the free nations of the earth have long ago rejected."

"What we face is nothing more nor less than an attempt to overthrow and to cancel out the great upsurge of human liberty of which the American Bill of Rights is the fundamental document; to force the peoples of the earth, and among them the peoples of this continent, to accept again the absolute authority and despotic rule from which the courage and the resolutions and the sacrifices of their ancestors liberated them many, many years ago."

This attempt could succeed, the President declared firmly, only if those who inherited the gift of liberty "had lost the manhood to preserve it."

ROBERT HART'S NAME IS OMITTED

In yesterday's issue, the name of Robert Hart was unintentionally omitted from the list of names of the boys who were to receive football sweaters. Robert was one of the 17 boys who received letters in football this season.

The total number of dormitory units to be occupied by single defense workers has reached 6,585, the division said.

Federal funds have been allotted for 126,259 defense homes.

U. S. FAYS $74,000,000 A YEAR TO SHAVE CHINS

Quincy, Mass. — Chopping the stubble off America's masculine chins costs nearly $70,000,000 a year, the Census Bureau estimates. The average safety-razor yields 50 blades a year. The 1939 production of nearly two billion razors blades used up 10,825 tons of high grade steel.

To keep the razor from scraping too hard manufacturers produced $12,216,344 worth of shaving cream and soap. For men who prefer noise to soap, 747,490 dry shavers were built in 1939, with a factory value of $2,851,387. Only $95,230 worth of old-fashioned straight razors were produced, mostly for barber shops.

Dr. John Haynes Holmes Quits Pulpit As Protest Against War

New York, —The Rev. John Haynes Holmes, noted cleric and for almost thirty-five years pastor of Community Church, tendered his undated resignation today after telling his congregation he could not use his ministry "to bless, sanction, or support war."

The Rev. Mr. Holmes said his resignation had been given to the church's board of trustees to be accepted "at such time in the uncertain future as my retirement may preserve this beloved church from embarrassment, odium or peril."

Says U. S. Not Guiltless
The 62-year-old minister, a director of the American Civil Liberties Union and active in civic and philanthropic affairs, asserted that the American people were not guiltless in a war which he described as "the final outrage" to the will of God, and added:

"I thought through my pacifism more than a quarter of a century ago, and have lived by it ever since."

SMALL FIRMS' USE IS URGED IN WAR EFFORT

Senate Is Now Making A Study Of Proposed Program

Washington, —Senator Murray, (D., Mont.), urged a "bits and pieces" program today to make greater wartime use of production facilities of small business and industry.

The chairman of the Senate committee studying problems small business said "what the British did after Dunkerque can do after Pearl Harbor." British organized the bits and pieces program, called in small business and enormously increased British war production.

Essentially, the British "bits and pieces" program was an effort to get small industrial establishments busy turning out parts and pieces for warplanes and other weapons.

Says Resources Idle
Murray said he was convinced there were "enormous idle resources available among the 200,000 small business concerns of this country that should be utilized immediately."

He said these facts would be developed at public hearings opening tomorrow by the Senate group.

DEFENSE HOMES EXCEED 105,000, RISING STILL

Washington—The OEM Defense Housing division reports that 105,802 homes have been built or are under construction to provide living quarters for families of defense workers and enlisted personnel.

During the week ending Nov. 29, 2,785 new homes were finished. Coordinator Charles F. Palmer reported, bringing the total number completed or occupied to 56,581.

FHA-inspected privately financed homes started during the same week totaled 3,831, and since January, 200,504 such homes have gone into construction.

The total number of dormitory units to be occupied by single defense workers has reached 6,585, the division said.

Federal funds have been allotted for 126,259 defense homes.

It was tried as by fire in the last war. Now that the flames of this war have spread to our own shores, it must be tried even more terribly again."

The pacifist ideal, he said, was rooted not in "accidents of circumstance" but in "conformity to conscience and obedience to the high counsel of God."

"We have our share of guilt in this disaster," he declared in another part of his sermon. "Ours is a war world, to which we have consented and in which we have participated, and this is what happens in such a world. War is the quintessence of evil. It is the greatest of all evils, because it contains violence, hatred, lust, pride, enmity, falsehood, deceit and the rest of the complete catalogue of crime. From such evil can come no good thing, but only disaster and doom immeasurable."

He predicted the war would last fifteen to twenty years and exhaust the nation's wealth.

CALIFORNIA IS IN STATE OF WAR EMERGENCY

Gov. Olson Says State May Become War Theatre At Any Time

Sacramento, —Gov. Culbert Olson Sunday night proclaimed a state of emergency exists in California and designated law enforcement officials to place in effect to have covered a part of the interior areas. Our great natural resources, our huge oil supplies, our enormous agricultural and industrial production, our numerous aircraft factories, shipbuilding yards, and other facilities needed to sustain our Nation in the winning of the war, are the natural objectives of attempted aggressions of our enemies."

HUMPHREYS AGAIN NAMED SENATE CLERK

Frankfort, Ky. —Joe E. Robinson of Lancaster, as Democratic House floor leader and E. C. (Lige) Moore of Liberty for the Senate floor leadership were the administration choices announced by Gov. Keen Johnson today.

The chief executive said that Henry Ward of Paducah was the choice for assistant House floor leader, and he confirmed previous reports that Stanley S. Dickson, Paris, had been selected for speaker of the House, and Edwin C. Dawson, New Haven, to be Senate president pro-tem.

"I haven't talked to Lige Moore yet," Johnson continued, "but I'm sure he will take the floor leadership of the Senate again."

Robert Humphreys of Mayfield again will be Senate clerk, the Governor said, adding that the administration choice for House clerk and other positions had not been made.

AXIS DESERT FORCES FIGHT BACK SAVAGELY

British Command Claims They Are Almost Encircled

Cairo, Egypt, —German and Italy forces stubbornly withdrawing from Eastern Libya turned about and fought savage near guard actions southwest of Gazala, the British reported Sunday, but their positions were said to be threatened by an encircling movement.

Military quarters said tanks and infantry were about three quarters of the way around the Axis string of defenses stretching 40 miles from Gazala on the coast into the desert. Hard fighting was said to be taking place at two main centers of resistance, at Gazala itself, which is about 100 miles west of the Egyptian border, and southwest of Gazala.

The communique still said the British were closing in on Gazala. In fighting farther east, about 500 troops were captured, 18 guns taken and a number of Italian tanks destroyed at Bir Hacheim, 40 miles southeast of Tobruk.

War Causes Striking Decrease Of Enrollment In Colleges

Cincinnati, —War and opportunities for work in defense industries have combined to cause a serious drop in America college and university attendance for the first time in a decade, a nation-wide survey showed today.

In 669 approved institutions are 338,715 full-time students, 9.16 per cent below last year; and a grand total, including part-time and summer students of 1,269,354, or 8.88 per cent less than for 1940-41.

The figures, released by the University of Cincinnati, are from an annual survey of student attendance by President Raymond Walters for School and Society, weekly educational journal.

The decrease, first since depression years, are ascribed by Dr. Walters "largely to the effect of the Selective Service Act and somewhat also to the attraction of defense jobs."

"And," he predicted, "it appears probable that . . . collegiate attendance for 1942-43 will show another dip."

3 States Show Increase
The drop in freshman classes, where men are below draft age, was only 4.53 per cent.

All geographical divisions reported smaller totals, ranging from a decrease of 2.97 per cent in the South Atlantic area to a drop of 8.97 per cent in west north central states.

Washington, —The United States, officially listing its losses at Pearl Harbor as a battleship and five other vessels, hurled a challenge to the Japanese today by declaring its main fleet was ploughing the high seas and wanting only to come to blows with the enemy.

The treacherous Japanese attack on the Hawaiian naval base failed, Secretary of the Navy Knox said, to achieve its prime purpose to "knock out the United States before the war began."

GRIEVOUS WOUNDS

The fleet's wounds were grievous, he acknowledged, giving them as: Lost: The battleship Arizona, the destroyer Cassin, Downes and Shaw, the target ship Utah, and the mine layer Oglala.

Damaged: The battleship Oklahoma and a number of other vessels.

After telling of these losses, along with 91 officers and 2,638 men, Knox said in a statement given to newsmen:

"The entire balance of the Pacific fleet with its aircraft carriers, its heavy cruisers, its light cruisers, its destroyers and submarines are uninjured and all are at sea seeking contact with the enemy."

"Battleships?" a reporter asked. Quickly, Knox replied that the great ships of the line were there too.

When the war began, the United States had 17 battleships compared with 12 reported to be in the Japanese fleet. Japan has kept secret her naval acquisitions in recent years.

Knox unfolded an amazing story of Japanese use of fifth column and submarines some of them tiny two-man craft as well as airplanes in the surprise attack. He also told how the American forces rallying after the first bitter blow, fought heroically.

He conceded that "the United States services were not on the alert against the surprise air attack," and announced that President Roosevelt would make a formal investigation.

Once the attack began, however, the defense was conducted "skillfully and bravely," he said. Proudly he cited many instances of heroism including that of a dying captain of a battleship whose stomach was laid completely open by shrapnel fire but who refused to be carried to safety and continued to direct his men from a bridge which had become a blazing inferno.

He mentioned too, an officer who leaped from a hospital bed to take his post of action and a bluejacket who single-handedly kept a five-inch anti-aircraft gun firing after his ten battery mates were shot down in a strafing attack.

FOOD FOR HAWAII

(From the Washington Post)
Back in 1937, when Lieutenant General Drum was commander of the Hawaiian Department, he made this doleful observation: "If Hawaii makes no change in her system of production, and her shipping is cut off for any cause, her food stocks will be depleted in a few days—in a few weeks she will know deprivation—and in a few months she may face starvation." The islanders at the time the general's remark seemed dreadfully overdrawn, and he was roundly denounced for his "scare talk." That he knew what he was talking about is now fearfully apparent. Hawaii's Governor Poindexter is reported to have telephoned Washington that one of his chief worries is the islands' food supply. Moreover, the Governor has apparently asked Hawaii's delegate to Congress to seek immediate Federal aid to build up food reserves.

The plain truth, of course, is that the island of Oahu, on which live most of the territory's population and which suffered such appalling devastation Sunday, produces less than a fifth of the food required.
Comparatively little food is shipped to Oahu from the other islands of the Hawaiian group, the overwhelming amount being sent from the West Coast. The Army in Hawaii has been perfectly aware of Oahu's economic vulnerability. For years it has sponsored crop diversification. But until recently, anyway, there were strenuous civilian objections on the score that to growing more food locally would disturb the nice—and profitable—export-import balance of Hawaii's economy.

Now that war has come to the Paradise of the Pacific, as Hawaii used to be called, sugar and pineapple land will be cleared and quick-growing crops planted, in accordance with M-Day plans. The Navy and Army in the islands maintain their own food reserves. And while the Japanese are already preying on shipping between the West Coast and Hawaii, naval escorts should assure sufficient food ships reaching Hawaii to avert the dire ultimate predicted for civilians by General Drum. Deprivation there will certainly be "in a land that will grow anything." For deprivation is the inevitable by-product of a civilian state of mind in Hawaii which failed to admit the grim realities of the Pacific.

The Ladies Aid of the Cumberland Presbyterian church met yesterday at the home of Mrs. D. Fred Worth on West street. The meeting was opened with a group singing by Mrs. E. A. Coulter. The prayer was given by Mrs. R. E. Bushart. This was taken from Matthew.

Mrs. J. H. Lawrence gave a story, "A Little Boy's Dream," taken from the Missionary Messenger. The following officers were named by the nominating committee: Mrs. J. H. Lawrence, president; Mrs. E. M. Vaden, vice president and Mrs. A. E. Roberts, secretary-treasurer. They were unanimously elected.

Following the business session Mrs. Worth served a lovely salad plate to eight members and one visitor, Mrs. J. T. Little.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT HALL HOME

At the home of Mrs. Clifford Hall members of the Annie Armstrong Circle of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union gathered last evening for their annual Christmas party. Assistant hostesses with Mrs.

Hall were Mrs. Leon Hutchins, Mrs. Orla Hinkle and Miss Myra Hinkle.

The group arrived at 7:30 o'clock and an entertainment was in charge of a committee composed of Mrs. Hugh Rushton, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Malcolm Bell and Mrs. Angelina Childers. Various games and contests were enjoyed during the evening and those winning prizes were Mrs. Leon Hutchins and Mrs. Paul Butts. Each one present carried a gift and these were placed around a beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Numbers were then drawn and the gifts were exchanged.

A delightful party plate, decorated in Christmas colors, was served to the following: Mrs. Hutchins, Mrs. Hinkle, Miss Hinkle, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Childers, Mrs. Butts, Mrs. Rushton, Mrs. Jack Speight, Mrs. Jack Rawls, Mrs. Cecile Arnold, Mrs. John Reetz, Mrs. Clyde Omar, Mrs. Lloyd Bone, Mrs. Lucille Waters, Mrs. Thula Rogers, Mrs. Charles Wright, Mrs. Clifton Hamlett, Miss Mary Kate Hewitt, Mrs. Bill Abell, Mrs. John Allred, Miss Sara Linton and Mrs. Atilia Hemphill.

W. M. U. IN GENERAL MEETING YESTERDAY

The monthly general meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union was held yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist church with a good attendance. The program was presented at the opening of the meeting with Mrs. S. M. Delmyer, the program chairman, in charge. The topic of discussion was "Song of the Angels—The World's Hope."

The program was opened with a song, "Joy To The World," followed with the Bible study given by Mrs. J. C. Sugg, Jr., on "A New Testament Psalm." Mrs. Sugg's devotionals was followed with a hymn, "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing," and a vocal duet, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by Miss Maurine Keighan and Miss Ann DeMyer.

"First in Bethlehem" was the topic of an article given by Mrs. B. Taylor. Mrs. Annie Mullenix and Mrs. Charles Walker gave the topic "Palestine—Then and Now," which was followed with a vocal solo, "Hope of the World," by Mrs. E. A. Gentry. Mrs. Sterling Bennett was presented in a very enjoyable Christmas reading.

That concluded the program and Mrs. R. B. Allen led the closing prayer. The usual routine of business was then conducted by the president, Mrs. Earl Taylor, assisted by the secretary, Mrs. E. H. Knight. At this time Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Knight were presented lovely gifts from the Union as a whole in appreciation of their splendid leadership throughout this year. This presentation was made by Mrs. Luke Mooneyham.

The meeting was closed with prayer and adjourned.

For the program Mrs. Braden gave the Book of Ruth, and after the business sessions refreshments were served. The meeting was closed by all repeating the benediction.

SPORT TALK

The South Fulton Red Devils, as well as the Red Angles, will entertain the girls and boys from Tiptonville at the South Fulton gym tonight. The Red Devils, fresh from their easy victory over Troy last week, are determined to give the visitors a trimming, and Coach Cravens says he believes the girls will show a far better game than in the preceding ones. The boys are rapidly reaching their peak and expect to do a lot of execution in their coming games. The public is cordially invited to attend these games. There will be no conflict tonight in games, as the Bulldogs have moved their game up until the following night.

Instead of trading baskets with the Murray Tigers, as originally planned, the Bulldogs will be partaking of baked turkey or country ham, or something of that sort, and reliving the glories of the past football season. For tonight is the date for the annual football banquet which is sponsored by the Rotary Club. This is an old institution and is always looked for with great eagerness by the boys who make up the team. About eighteen lettermen, along with coaches, managers and faculty members will attend the dinner, and a fine program has been arranged. At this meeting the boys will also elect their captain. In Fulton High, for some time, it has been customary to have a captain for each game, and then elect a captain for the entire season after the games are all played. While not based on anything in particular, except that the boys name their favorite, it is usually true that the boy is selected because of being the most valuable to his team, and as a general rule, a senior is named.

After their night of fun, the boys put on their shorts the following night. Wednesday night the always tough Murray Tigers come to town. Last year the Tigers trimmed the Bulldogs quite thoroughly, and most of these boys are still on the team this year. They want to do a lot to avenge that trimming of last year, and they may do that little job. They have the power to do it if they will apply it at the right place and at the right time.
In other words, they have a scoring team, but their defense is yet to be tested by a top flight team.
Murray may show a far better attack than the Bulldogs have faced, and is likely also to flash the stoutest defense yet faced by the Bulldogs. The Tigers have won a couple of games after a late start and have won by impressive scores.
However, they have not proved that they are any better than the local squad, and the Bulldogs are waiting for them with considerable eagerness. They believe they can whip the Tigers this year and they may do this little job. If they fail it will not be for lack of training.

Without a doubt the Bulldogs are far better than they were a year ago when Murray cooled them off under a 35 to 18 score. Whether the Tigers are any better remains to be seen.

The Murray game will be the first real test for the Bulldogs and this will be followed on Friday night with another stern test. Tilghman, the team which gave the Bulldogs an unmerciful beating last year, comes to Science Hall, and there are many observers who say that the Bulldogs will hand them a licking. Tilghman is not as strong as last year, and is only of average height for the most part.
They have won and lost a game since the start of the season, whipping Owensboro by two points in an overtime contest, and bowing to Lone Oak under a 24 to 12 score. The Tornado will be good before tournament time, but it may well be that the Bulldogs are in better shape right now than the Tornado. Anyhow, the two games this week will show definitely whether the Bulldogs have understand strength or not. One more game remains on the card after Paducach. Milburn coming here next week. Then the team quits until the first week of January—that is, quits games, although practice will not be discontinued all that time.
