Weather gossip.

KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE.

The weather is a subject of conversation among the citizens of Fulton and surrounding communities. The recent cold snaps have brought back memories of a harsh winter, but the current trend seems to indicate a warmer future. The communities are prepared for any weather changes, with adequate heating and insulation in place. The upcoming season promises to be an interesting one, with the possibility of sudden temperature shifts affecting daily activities. Residents are encouraged to stay informed and prepare accordingly. The Fulton Daily Leader continues to provide updates and forecasts to ensure the well-being of its readers.

NATIONALS TAX ALMOST $3 BILLION

New York City Cuts Tax Rate

The national income tax was almost $3 billion in New York City alone. The tax rate was lowered, leading to a decrease in the overall amount collected. This change was attributed to the efforts of the government and the cooperation of businesses and individuals. The reduced tax burden is expected to stimulate economic growth and encourage investments.
