> The first call came around 6:40 p.m. to a trailer belonging to Steve Lyons on highway 1346 about 1 mile off highway 94 East. The cause of the blaze that destroyed the dwelling is unknown. A booster was used to cool the area around the structure, which was on the ground when the squad arrived on the scene.

> No one was injured in the fire that brought three units and the following members: Bernard Steen, Bud Miller, Loyd Key, Robert Trenholm, Max Dowdy, Jim Green, Jerry Edwards, Kenny Collins, Ron Stout, Hal Winchester and Floyd Garland.

The second alarm came around 10:50 p.m. to Croppie Hollow where firemen found the Jess Amos trailer on the ground. Again the booster lines were used to cool the area. No one was injured in the fire. Responding to the second alarm with three units were: Bernard Steen, Kenny Collins, Robert Trenholm, Max Dowdy, Hal Winchester, Danny Parrish, Roger

Law Professors Say Cutting Enrollment Wouldn't Harm

Ford Nearing End Of

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) - A group of law professors from two universities has said cutting law school enrollment in Kentucky would do no harm.

Seventeen professors from the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville have written a letter challenging several recommendations in a recent study of legal education.

The letter was sent recently to Dr. A.D. Albright, executive director of the state Council on Public Higher Education, who appointed the committee of practicing attorneys and legal educators that conducted the study.

The committee concluded that future legal needs were too uncertain to recommend any reduction in the 1,800-student enrollment in Kentucky's three law

It predicted that innovations in legal services, such as prepaid coverage, group practices and public defender systems could mean a need for more rather than fewer attorneys.

The 17 law professors told Albright in their letter, however, that an earlier study projecting Kentucky's future need for attorneys concluded the state might have 50 per cent more lawyers than it needs by the year 2000.

That study was conducted in 1974 by Leslie W. Abramson, a University, of Louisville law professor.

The professors said the need for lawyers may be reduced if legal technicians are trained to handle routine tasks, and that better office technology and increased specialization may make attorneys more

Bolen said. The brush pickup is designed to take care of normal shrub and tree trimmings, Bolen explained, not the wholesale removal of cut trees or similarly large amounts of brush.

Bolen stressed that the brush pickup for city residents is a service provided by the department and urged residents not to abuse the service. He suggested that residents who contract to have trees cut down on the property should also contract. for the removal of the limbs and stumps at the same time.

In a related matter, Bolen said that the street department plans to cite offenders of the city's trash pickup ordinance into court, if necessary, in an effort to keep the business community clean.

Mentioning mainly the downtown area, Bolen reported that some businesses are in violation of the ordinance by not placing their refuse in proper containers and that an unsightly mess has resulted in some alleyways in the downtown area.

He also said that any "scavengers" caught littering the downtown area while searching through trash receptacles would be cited into court.

Americans Jolted By Welch Assassination

ATHENS (AP) - The assassination of Richard Welch, said to be the top Central Intelligence Agency operative in Greece, has jolted Americans who have been working to improve the sour U.S.-Greek relations of the past 18 months.

Officials of both countries, however, for the time being regard Welch's murder as an isolated incident not likely to upset the process of rebuilding relations. As a precaution, topranking diplomats in the U.S. Embassy are receiving special police protection

"returning," or "expanding" - was cited repeatedly by retailers explaining the buying spree.

At several Oklahoma City stores, coffee makers and hair dryers and stylers were sold out long before Christmas. It was the same elsewhere. Christmas sales weren't just up, they were up enough to exceed the expectations of many retailers.

Men's leisure suits, tennis equipment and microwave ovens sold well at J.L. Hudson Co., in Detroit. Hand held electronic calculators, women's sportswear and peanut butter makers did well all over, particularly in what many sellers said was a booming three days just before Christmas.

Well, it all became clear when two young girls came to my house yesterday. One of girls said she was my husband's "fiance" and started telling me all the heartbreaking details about how Freddy had promised to marry her as soon as our 'divorce'' was final. She said her home was 150 miles away,

"divorce" was final. She said her home was 150 miles away, but that she'd quit her job, sold everything and moved here waiting for Freddy's divorce to come through so they could be married. She was also six months pregnant. I asked her to stay until Freddy came home. When he got here and saw her, he nearly died. He admitted having "known" her, but denied that he promised to marry her. I knew he was lying and told him so. He exploded and then took off and left me with an hysterical, pregnant girl on my hands. hands

DEAR WIFE: Freddy sounds like a pathological liar to me. He needs to see a lawyer and a doctor. And if he refuses to do so, I'd see a lawyer and tell Freddy to get lost.

DEAR ABBY: After 33 years of what I thought was a happy, solid marriage, my husband asked for a divorce to marry a 22-year-old girl.

Abby, I know that old men think they are lucky to get young girls, but what could a young girl see in a man who is old enough to be her father?

After the settlement, he will have very little money - so it can't be money.

HEART BROKEN

DEAR HEART BROKEN: Don't rule out the possibility that she could "love" him. "Love" means different things to different people. We never really know what is in the hearts and minds of others.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 26-year-old waitress who has been working in restaurants since the age of 13. I am now employed at one of the finest cocktail-dinner spots in town and hope you'll print this. It would help waitresses immensely if the public would follow these simple rules.

1. Please don't holler across the dining room at your waitress, especially, "Hey, girlie!" Also, don't snap your fingers or whistle at us. (We aren't dogs.)

2. If you're not satisfied with your food, please don't snarl at us. Calmly state your complaint, and we will be glad to get you something else and report it to the management. 3. When the waitress hands you a menu, please study it and decide what you want so that when she comes back she can take your order. (About 95 per cent of the customers never look at their menus until the waitress comes back to take their orders. The customers are then annoyed because it takes so long to be served.) 4. If it says, "No substitutes" on the menu, please don't ask if you can substitute. 5. Tell the waitress when you order if you want everything on one check or separate checks. 6. If you're going to fight over the check, please don't tear

the check in half! 2 Thanks, Abby! WANTS TO PLEASE

Economic Outlook—1976

By O. Pendleton Thomas, Chairman

The B. F. Goodrich Company The year 1975 is almost over and most people are glad that it is. It was a year in which demand plummeted and the seemingly universal shorages of 1974 were replaced by unending surpluses. The many complexities and the poor direction of economic events during the year made life especially hard for most businessmen. By contrast, it now appears 1976 will be an improved year. The rubber and plastics industries, severely impacted by the events of 1975, should generally be moving upward during 1976. Not all problems for the industries will be over, but most factors will be moving in the right direction. The demand for passenger tires should be considerably stronger, as an improving economy, a backlog of demand and low dealer inventories work in favor of increased tire production. Truck tire sales will recover also as industrial production increases and capital spending begins to expand. Large farm and off-the-road tire markets, which showed some resistance to decline even during the worst of the recession, should have good prospects in the year ahead. It is expected that radial tires will continue to become more popular all tire markets as their advantages in safety, handling, longer mileage and fuel economy became obvious to the vehicle operators using

Improvements in corporate profits and in financial conditions in general should encourage capital spending. This will be a considerable help to the belting and hose portion of the rubber and plastics industry. Conveyor, belts and hose used in the energy production industries generally weathered the 1975 recession well - setting sales records in some instances - and should continue to show growth in 1976. The plastics industry went through its most severe recession in 1975. Demand for most plastics has been improving from a low base since mid-1975, however, and the longer-term outlook is good. Over the nearterm, better performance in the housing and auto industries and increased use of plastics in these industries should return plastic sales to a healthy level in 1976. Efforts to reduce weight and increase efficiency of autos to save energy should be beneficial for the plastics industry. It is not expected, however, that the industry will immediately return to the conditions of lack of capacity, unavailability of feedstocks, and depleted inventories that characterized 1973 and 1974.

Although good growth is expected for most economic indicators over the next few months, this growth will merely return the economy to production levels ap-proaching the average experienced in 1973. Output of some products won't return to 1973 levels for several years. In effect, the economy will havedemonstrated no growth over the three-year period.

There are important problems for businesses to deal with in 1976. One involves attempting to determine the shape of the markets after the economy returns to past levels. Will the economy enter a slow growth year, will growing industries take radically different shapes or will the economy return to the "pre-crisis" state? The challenge for businessmen will be to determine the important factors in change and precisely how economic growth will evolve from those factors.

Spending WASHINGTON (AP) - Government spending does not present a problem to the economy, but recovery from recession may be in serious trouble without major changes in federal policy, says the staff of a congressional budget committee. The staff of the Joint Economic Committee, in a report to House and Senate budget panels, said its study of the fiscal outlook for the next five years shows that "the federal budget is not out of control."

But it said its investigation into the effects of federal budget restrictions through 1977 the unemployment rate could proposed by President Ford showed that be expected to rise by three-tenths of 1 per the economy could suffer a setback and that major policy changes are needed if

be included in next year's budget.

"From a reading of this report, I con-clude the President's budget policy is a disaster," said Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, chairman of the joint committee. "It is incredible that the President of the United States is willing to advocate policies which could lead to rising unemployment at a time when the unemployment rate is already above 8 per cent."

The staff report to the budget panel said that if the 1975 tax cuts are not extended "Without new policies, tax receipts will exceed outlays by 1981 in spite of extremely high unemployment rates," the report said. And, it said, budget estimates based on a 4 per cent unemployment rate 'indicate that by 1981 a full-employment surplus of $66 billion will be available for division among new programs, tax reductions and contributions to the actual budget surplus."

Telephone Sales

Attorney General Be wary of telephone magazine salespeople.

One elderly Kentucky resident was called and asked to buy magazines. The salesperson stated that the contract could be cancelled within three days. When the man received the contract, he discovered that the cancellation period was past and the magazines were not as represented. The total cost was much higher than he realized. He called the company to register his complaint and was told that he could not cancel the agreement. At that time, he brought his complaint to the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection.

Entering a nursing home to live is nearly always upsetting to a patient and to his or her family

Many families shop for a nursing home for a long while before deciding on one, because they have mixed feelings about the step they are taking. They may believe it is a wise and right decision yet feel guilty about not keeping their relative at home. Even before someone in our family needs to be placed in a home, you may able to do certain things to lay the groundwork for economic recovery is to continue. Without policy changes, the report said, "the recovery is likely to sputter out by 1977, leaving unemployment on a very high plateau."

The report, released on Sunday, was particularly critical of Ford's proposal to clamp a ceiling of $395 billion on federal spending for fiscal 1977, which begins next October

It said that if reduced 1975 income tax rates are not extended into 1977 and if Congress approves Ford's spending ceiling, unemployment will rise to an average of 8.7 per cent, the rate of the nation's real economic growth will fall below 2 per cent and inflation will be higher than with a more liberal spending policy.

Ford says he will sign a compromise bill extending tax cuts for 1975 into the first six months of 1976. He did not get Congress to approve his plan for the spending ceiling for fiscal 1977 but says he will insist that it

They also told us, when we explained the other foodstuffs in the freezer, such as packages of bluegill, had been brought with us to cut down on food costs, that they were going to charge us with possession of fish without a fishing license. And when we said that we had brought some barbecued venison along, they told us that if they found any venison at all, they would charge us with posession of big game out of season and without a big game hunting license. We told them that the food had been brought along with us to eat and we didn't see how they could charge us. The man in plain clothes then said, "You're in South Dakota now; I can charge you with anything I want." We then drove to the cour-

We told them we didn't have any more money than that, so they put us in jail for the night, including my 17 year old son. He never asked his age. They fed us each a hamburger and milkshake and allowed me to make one phone call. I called my wife at home and told her we would be at least a day late, without explaining the circumstances. Robert Hornsby called Mr. Keller in White Lake and asked him to go by the post office in the morning and pick up a letter containing a check which my wife had previously mailed for us to use as traveling expense money. We returned to the sheriff's office, got our personal effects and Mr. Keller handed me the check from my wife, which I used to pay part of three fines with. Mr. Dave Fisher then again identified himself, told us we were under arrest and in his custody, and told us we were being charged with transporting over the aggregate possession limit of waterfowl. He then quoted us our rights and said we would have to accompany him to the nearest U.S. Magistrate, which was in Sioux Falls, S.D., a distance of about 100 miles. Before leaving Plankinton, the sheriff told us Mr. Fisher would pay for the meal, so we should eat well. Texas, Colorado To Meet In Annual Astro-Bluebonnet

By B.F. KELLUM Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP) - Texas and Colorado meet today in the 17th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl and Longhorns Coach Darrell Royal says Marty Akins, a question mark the past week because of a troublesome right knee, definitely will start at quarterback.

"Marty will start," Royal said. "He's not the same effective, sharp-cutting quarterback he was, though."

The announcement did not surprise Colorado Coach Bill Mallory. "We were expecting him to start," he said. Akins, called the best Wishbone quarterback Texas has ever had, injured the knee in the next-tolast game of the regular season and reinjured it in brief appearances Nov. 28 against Texas A&M.

Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer, whose team played both Texas and Colorado during the regular season, said Akins' condition will be the key to Texas' chances.

However, Mallory said that with either Akins or freshman backup Ted Constanze in the game, "they'll present same problems.' Both Texas, co-champion of the Southwest Conference and ranked ninth nationally, and Colorado, 10th-ranked and the third-place finisher in the Big Eight, compiled 9-2 records. Both lost to Oklahoma. Texas' other loss was to Texas A&M.

The Buffs lost to Nebraska. Royal doesn't see any significant advance in the standings by the winner. "The only thing sure is that the loser's going out, whether it's by one point or 100," he said.

Braves Suffer 96-95 Defeat To Philadelphia 76ers

By The Associated Press The Buffalo Braves' best player was suspended and their best chances were wasted. The net loss was the 96-95 defeat they suffered to the Philadelphia 76ers in the National Basketball Association Friday night.

Bob McAdoo, Buffalo's superstar center, had been suspended earlier in the week for refusing to take a second physical examination for his hack.

"Management felt he could have played last Tuesday," said Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay. "He was asked to see a doctor but he failed to do so and was suspended and I don't know as when he is going to play again." McAdoo's presence was sorely missed in the game's final minute. Buffalo's Bob Weiss hit a layup to bring the Braves within one, at 96-95, but in the last 30 seconds, they missed three easy rebound tap-ins.

The Braves had the ball with four seconds left, and Weiss tossed the inbound pass to Jim McMillian, whose shot missed as the game ended.

Bonus Payments Approved For Bull Run Project

The TVA Board of Directors Thursday authorized ment to a contract with Rentenbach Engineering Company of Knoxville to provide for bonus payments if the contractor can complete installation of new pollution control equipment at Bull Run Steam Plant ahead of schedule. Under the terms of the amendment, TVA will pay Rentenbach up to $1,069,440 in bonus payments over the contract price of $20,680,000 in construction of new electrostatic fly ash collectors is completed ahead of the schedule completion date of February 1, 1978. TVA and Rentenbach entered into a contract in October for installation of the new precipitators, and preliminary foundation construction is now under way at Bull Run. In addition to the work to be performed by Rentenbach, the will involve project modifications to existing plant facilities, to be performed by TVA forces.

Specifications for the new precipitators require a 99.67 percent efficiency in removing fly ash particles formed when coal is burned in the plant's big boiler.

The Bull Run plant is already equipped with precipitators that satisfactorily controlled the fly ash emissions with the plant's original coal supply. However, the plant has more recently been supplied with low-sulfur coal that results in lower sulfur dioxide emissions from the plant stacks. Although this coal enabled the plant to meet state sulfur dioxide emission standards, it also caused the efficiency of the present fly ash equipment to drop.

TVA recently completed a 10week shutdown of the plant to perform scheduled maintenance and repairs, including work aimed at improving the efficiency of the existing precipitators. TVA is also conducting tests to see if operation of the precipitators can be improved by burning coal with different characteristics from the plant's regular coal supply.

Other TVA contract awards and amendments are: M.H. Detrick Company, Chicago, Ill., basalt-lined pipe and fittings for Paradise Steam Plant, $509,922. Manufactured in Kalenborn, Germany.

Vulcan Materials Company, Midsouth Division, Knoxville, Tenn., riprap and mineral aggregate for Tellico Reservoir Project, total for estimated 1year requirements, $301,800, with options for up to two ad-ditional years. Produced at Maryville, Tenn. (73-522192)

Amendment to Contract 74C61-85499 with Brown Boveri Corp., North Brunswick, N.J., for turbogenerators for proposed nuclear plants. Allows for changes in the contract penalty provisions for equipment for the proposed Hartsville Nuclear Plant in exchange for a reduction of $15,200,000 in the contract price, making a revised contract price of $392,554,808.

Amendment to Contract 76K61-86965 with Lakeside Bridge & Steel Co., Milwaukee, Wis., to cover design changes of reactor pressure vessel pedestals, for the proposed Hartsville and Phipps Bend Nuclear Plants. Increases contract price by $524,400, making a revised contract price of $4,505,700. By winning the Team Medal at the 1974 World Three-Day Championships in Burghley, England, the U.S. Equestrian Three-Day Team is the current world leader in this area of equestrian competition. Traditionally, the home country of the winning team serves as the host and site for the next World Three-Day Championships four years later.

Twelve nations competed in the 1974 World Championships, including teams from France, West Germany, Italy, Poland, Russia and Great Britain. It is anticipated that more teams will compete in the 1968 World Championships because of the proximity of the United States to the South and Central American countries, as well as the fact that the Lexington airport is equipped to handle air shipment of horses.

Earlier this year, the nation's only international three-day event, the Ledyard Farm International Horse Trials, was held in Wenham, Mass., attracting riders from Germany, Holland, Canada and Great Britain, as well as the United. States. Noteworthy among the

With Kentucky as the host state, the delegates will be able to tour Bluegrass horse farms, tobacco warehouses, beef cattle farms and dairy and hog operations, they said. Kentucky's successful bid will bring approximately 1,000 people to Louisville in 1977. The Young Farmers Association (YFA) is composed of those in agricultural occupations "who are between high and being established farmers," said James Maddox, of the Agribusiness Education Unit for the State Bureau of Vocational Education. The young farmers, usually between the ages of 21 and 35, are all students in the bureau's vocational agriculture classes, Maddox said. And there are about 700 YFA members in Kentucky, he added.

Maddox and Eric Hinton of Hodginville, Kentucky YFA president, also attended the institute in Atlanta.

Bowie knife was frontier tamer

While it has been said the Winchester rifle and the Colt revolver tamed the frontier, the Bowie knife played a significant role, too.

Jim Bowie, the frontier scout who made the "Bowie knife" famous, actually was a Louisianan until he decided to help discover the West.
