Every member of the Young Men's Business Club is conscious of this civic-mindedness among people of this vicinity, and they are grateful to every citizen who takes a part in a civic betterment program.

NEW FRONT ADDS BEAUTY TO DOTTY

The Dotty Shop in Fulton has just undergone expensive remodeling, which includes a beautiful new front to the store building, and handsome, modernistic show windows. J. F. Merryman, local contractor, was in charge of the work, with Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company installing the glass, Day Brite Lighting Company the fluorescent lights, and Chip Roberts doing the electrical work.

The attractive, new store front of structural glass, with the store name Dotty across the front in carriage glass, is unusually appealing. In the windows a panel or niche bears the name Dotty, indirectly lighted from behind. The Dotty Shop, which opened here in September, 1936, has made steady progress, and this new improvement is another step forward under the progressive management of Leonard Sanofsky.

Miss and matron of this vicinity have looked forward to reopening this store after remodeling. Mr. Sanofsky has combed the markets for merchandise that denotes styles and quality at popular prices, and in this issue of THE NEWS invites you in a double page advertisement to visit the new Dotty Shop.

Telegrams of congratulations on the new store here have been received by Mr. Sanofsky:

"Congratulations, Leonard, upon the reopening of the new store. It is tops. A. Hendrix, Dotty Shop, Union City, Tenn."

"It's a definite step forward, and a real improvement in your community. C. Sanofsky, Harrisburg, Ill."

"Great going, son. Keep up the good work. Dad, Dotty Shop, Cairo, Ill."

"You've got something there, Leonard. The new front is beautiful. J. L. Filler, Dotty Shop, Marion, Ill."

"Still keeping step with progress. The new front is very modern and up-to-the-minute in style as is the merchandise you carry. Dotty, Anna, Ill."

KENTUCKY UTILITIES PLACES NATIONAL DEFENSE GUARD ON ELECTRIC POWER STATIONS

Robert M. Watt, president of Kentucky Utilities System, announced Monday at Lexington that Dix Dam hydro-electric plant and the company's six steam-electric generating stations, as well as all large substations, will be immediately barred to visitors and put under guard. The power houses are at Pineville, Lexington, Earlinton, Graham, Paducah, Ky., and Pocket, Va.

This action, Mr. Watt said, has been taken after a conference with J. J. Greenleaf, chairman of the Kentucky defense commission, acting for the federal government.

Kentucky Utilities System comprises Kentucky Utilities Company, Kentucky Power & Light Company and Old Dominion Power Company. The system supplies electricity to more than 400 communities, some 250 coal mines, and a large proportion of other industrial operations in Kentucky and southwestern Virginia.

Many of the mines, including those owned by leading steel companies and automobile manufacturers, are important to national defense.

Closing Dix Dam to visitors, Mr. Watt said, will not in any way affect recreational activities on Herington lake, which is a part of the hydro-electric plant. Fishing and other sports will be forbidden only in the immediate vicinity of the dam.

Richard Crossman of St. Louis was fined for striking a physician who had diagnosed his ailments as due to over-indulgence in liquor.

AN OPEN LETTER to All Kentucky Beer Retailers

Your license is a valuable and protected permit to engage in a legitimate business . . . but in that business, among your group, are a few persons who fail to realize that their license is also a privilege which may be revoked if it is not respected.

The vast majority of retail beer licensees are aware of this fact and conduct their establishments in accordance with law, order and public sentiment. But Kentucky's $20,000,000 beer industry insists that all retail outlets be operated strictly upon the principles of good citizenship.

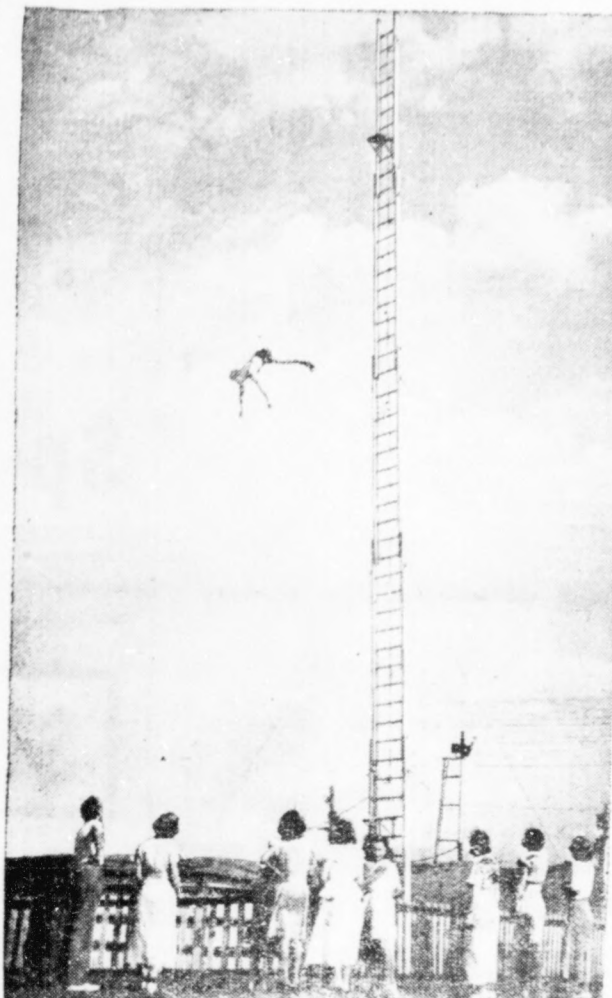

Toward this end there has been formed the Kentucky Brewers and Beer Distributors Committee, which is assisting law-enforcement officials in every way possible to clean up or close up outlets guilty of law violations or anti-social practices. Our work will be pressed vigorously as the campaign progresses.

This program is designed to protect the public interest and to safeguard your business from the selfish and unlawful acts of a small minority. We feel certain, therefore, of your support.

A SPEEDY MAYOR

Last November the voters of Salt Lake City elected as their mayor one of Utah's most popular citizens, David Abbott Jenkins. The world at large has never heard much about the policies or performances of this 50-year-old Mormon official in his capacity as mayor, but of his racing records it has heard many a thrilling story. In fact, the mayor known to speed fans as plain Ab Jenkins, probably holds more automobile records than any other mortal who ever lived—153 of them.

After winning numerous speed events in his youth, Jenkins in 1926 made a bet that he could drive an automobile from New York to San Francisco in less than 100 hours. He did it in 85 hours and 20 minutes. In 1931 he made the same trip in 51 hours and 10 minutes.

A few days ago, on the smooth hard salt flats at Bonneville, Utah, Jenkins set the most remarkable record of his racing career. With a relief driver to take the wheel occasionally, he covered the amazing distance of 3,858 miles in 24 hours, making an average of a trifle more than 161 miles an hour. The highest average ever made in the 500-mile classic at the Indianapolis Speedway is a fraction over 117 miles an hour.

Mayor Jenkins, despite his 50 years, has no idea of retiring from racing, and hopes yet to make 4,000 miles in 24 hours.

Let's keep it
American

National defense is not only a matter of men, airplanes, battleships and guns. It also requires us to strengthen our American institutions, which are the very things we wish to protect and preserve. They must be preserved. It would be a bitter and ironic victory if, in order to defeat an enemy, we sidetracked the system of free enterprise and the personal liberties which distinguish the American way of life from the tyrannies of Europe and Asia.

Let's keep this country American. Government experts and civilian authorities are studying how to provide for our actual defense and each citizen's part in it. Meanwhile, the rest of us can help by doing our work, whatever it is, as well as we can.

That is what all the people of this company intend to do. Together with other electric companies, we have built a system capable of supplying the nation with electric service in any emergency. This system will be maintained and strengthened and we will continue our day-to-day effort to provide the dependable electric service that makes the United States a better place to live.

hungry soul with goodness." (Ps. 105:4, Ps. 107:9)

There were only a few firms in the city which were unable to respond financially in this program, although they are 100 percent for the KenTenn territory. The true spirit of co-operation usually prevails among all.

But I was disappointed at the attitude of one particular firm. It was not the fact that they refused to join the civic movement, but the general attitude and seeming lack of appreciation of the hard work and efforts being exerted in interest of a program that would benefit the entire vicinity.

Naturally, we feel that any business should conduct its business according to its own policies and judgment. But, frankly, we fail to understand any inclination or a passive attitude that leaves an impression that there is a lack of appreciation of unified co-operation toward general civic progress.

From a business standpoint alone, if for no other reason, every individual and firm in any community should deem it a pleasure and a privilege to cooperate and encourage the progress of a community. To us, it seems that it is no small matter from a civic standpoint, when a firm of this type falls clean out of step and harmony. A solid front of good will and co-operation is needed at all times in interest of general community improvement.

Any community to go forward must have the co-operation in spirit if not otherwise, of everybody. When there is a lack of this vital and sincere civic spirit, the community and every individual and business in it, suffers in the long run.

A TELEPHONE on Your Farm

IS THE ANSWER TO 4 OF THE SIXTEEN SUGGESTIONS for farm improvement by the University of Tennessee Extension Farm Management Dept.

Crop rotation, three or more dependable sources of income, and other constructive suggestions form twelve of the points, and here are the others:

13. Use labor saving equipment when economically feasible.
14. Keep farm equipment in good condition, repairing prior to the time it is needed.
15. Study market information; buy low and sell high within reason.
16. Keep informed on price trends and production cycles.

Many successful farmers tell us that a telephone is a necessary part of their farm equipment. Why not look into the matter of having a telephone of your own? For information about a telephone on your farm, see the manager of the nearest telephone office; he will be glad to furnish you with any information you desire.

Announcement

M. & O. - G. M. & N. Merger . . .

The Mobile & Ohio railroad has served the territory between St. Louis and Mobile for more than fifty years. Soon it will be consolidated with the Gulf, Mobile and Northern, and it is believed that the larger system (GULF, MOBILE & OHIO) will be of greater value to the public, to labor and to the investors.

New Streamlined Trains . . .

Already the new company has placed orders for two new streamlined, diesel-powered, air-conditioned trains to operate between St. Louis and Mobile on a schedule faster than now in effect.

With these betterments in view we have also arranged for another important operating change of interest to the public.

Three Depots

On and after August 20th we will stop our passenger trains at a new station at Trendley Avenue in East St. Louis instead of Union Station. Modern motor coach service will be operated without additional charge between this new station and downtown St. Louis and East St. Louis using the GREYHOUND TERMINALS THERE.

Downtown Bus Service . . .

These buses will also deliver M. & O. passengers leaving on other railroads at St. Louis Union Station. Passengers arriving at Union Station on other trains, and destined to points on the M. & O. will be taken by Yellow Cabs, without extra charge, directly to the Trendley Avenue Station at East St. Louis.

All baggage will be transferred at no extra expense and no inconvenience to passengers.

REMEMBER: On and after August 20th use only these schedules and stations in St. Louis and East St. Louis;
