Weather Guess --

KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE: -- Fair, not quite so cold central and west portions Tuesday.

For Fulton First and Always.

ESTABLISHED-1898.

THE LISTENING POST

● I really believe that there should be a law against allowing the zero mark to appear in thermometers and a double-distilled law against allowing the mercury to ever sit in Zero's lap. Scandal and troubles come from such a situation and we have flirted around with Zero a little too much in recent days. Gosh, how I hate Zero; He can change the habits of a lifetime and cause untold trouble and inconvenience. Snow is quite bad enough, and when old Zero sticks his head up through the snow life becomes a drab and dreary affair and brings biting thoughts about how long the coal pile will last and how in the heck can a car be kept running when Zero is hanging around.

● Sunday night I thought the worst was over. A heavy snow had come, and most of the following day had passed without very low temperature. During Sunday afternoon the snow really thawed out quite a bit, and I decided that a couple of days would see most of the snow gone. Late in the day I started out and a knife-edged wind told me that the weather was brewing something disagreeable. A friend downtown kindly told me that the radio had warned that a ten degree drop was expected during the night.

● Monday morning I saw that the forecaster had been right. My recording instrument, which fortunately is not as cold-natured as one I had a year or so ago, and is really more optimistic than it should be, showed a mark of ten above. That was pretty cold all right, and I dreaded getting out, but I consoled myself by thinking that the worst was now over and conditions would improve.

● Then, without any fuss and feathers, and with no advance warning from any source whatever, I saw the mercury begin a nose dive late in the afternoon. I hurried home and filled the furnace and wondered how far the mercury would drop this time. Having occasion to drive across town about six o'clock I began to experience the coming of Zero. The windshield frosted over so badly on the outside that I could hardly see through it until the defroster began working, and inside the mist covered the glass about as swiftly as I could wipe it off. I had seen that happen before, and knew that it meant zero. In January, two years ago these things occurred, and I knew positively that Zero was on his way, and perhaps had already arrived.

● Son came Tuesday morning. For the first time this winter, for the first time in two years, I was really cold when I got up. While there was some heat still coming from the furnace, and while there was considerable fire there, the house was really cold. Without looking at the thermometer I knew that Zero or worse had arrived, and so I took a peep through the door. The red line was sitting squarely on Zero, and the windows in the house were well frosted. Outside the sun was shining brightly and it was difficult to believe that with this sun shining Zero could really be in town.

● Later on others told me that they had marks of two and three and even four below Zero. Mine was even-steeper, and so I know that I have a more hopeful thermometer than I had a couple of years ago. That old thermometer was almost as hopeless as the Listening Post.

Johnson Says That Taxes In State May Have To Be Increased Due To Conditions Brought About By War

All Revenue Plans Upset By Entrance Of United States Into War

No Hope For Any Reductions In Present Tax Burdens

Frankfort, Ky. -- Rising prices and decreasing revenue may force the state to levy added taxes before March 15, Gov. Keen Johnson warned today in his message to the General Assembly meeting in the 150th year of Kentucky statehood.

"Prior to Pearl Harbor," Johnson said, "I repeatedly expressed the conviction there would be no necessity for additional taxes. Today I am not so certain. The economic condition is changing rapidly. Events which have their genesis in the emergencies of war may create circumstances before you adjourn that make increased taxes inescapable."

Reductions Ruled Out
Hope has been abandoned, the governor said, that any tax can be repealed or reduced. He said repeal of the state income tax, yielding $5,400,000 last year, would require increase of the state tax on real estate. (This tax now is a token levy of 5 cents per $100).

"I believe that those of our citizens who have sense enough to earn an income sufficient to be subject to income tax payment have enough sense to see the folly of repeal of this or any other tax at a time when the future is so utterly unpredictable," he said.

Other highlights of the governor's biennial message included:

1. Revelation that the 8 per cent increase in the 1943-44 budget is not enough to absorb the rise in prices to date. The dollar appropriated by the 1940 Legislature, he said, now buys only 83 cents worth of commodities.

2. A proposed state defense council with an appropriation of $500,000; passage of an anti-sabotage bill with drastic penalties for subversive crimes, and expansion of the highway patrol appropriation from $300,000 to $1,000,000 a year to meet added war duties.
3. Recommendation for enactment of a state defense council.

SPAD Taps Autos For Huge Supply Of Vital Materials

New York. -- When the Supply Priorities and Allocations Board this week took complete control of the sales of new passenger automobiles and trucks, our war time government laid its hands on the greatest single supply of vital raw materials the country possessed.

It also by announcing plans were under way to ration civilian purchasing of motor vehicles, and by its earlier rationing of tires, foreshadowed the most drastic cutting into the normal American pattern of life that the war has yet produced.

For the American pattern of living has been built, to an extent that is not even remotely approached elsewhere, around the passenger car.

But the price was high, and our government officials were unquestionably smart in going after this major expenditure of vital war materials, industrial men here agreed.

Vital Defense
For the automobile industry, devoted primarily to the passenger car and secondarily to the privately owned truck or bus, has consumed things like this--all vital now to defense--

Steel--5,993,500 tons or 18.1 per cent of the country's output.
Rubber--473,000 tons of the nation's supply, about 80 per cent.
Lead--228,000 tons or 34.2 per cent of the output.

ment of T. V. A. enabling legislation.

4. A proposal to create a $400,000 fund to equalize education opportunities in poor districts and retain the present public school per capita allotment of $12.70 a year.
5. Recommendation for an increase of $250,000 in the present annual appropriation of $4,000,000 or nearly aged.

U. S. Courts Close Doors To Enemy Plaintiffs During War

Washington. -- The doors of all the courts of the land were closed to enemy plaintiffs today for the duration of the war.

The Supreme Court took this action in a case where the Italian ambassador Prime Don Ascanio Colonna, sought to contest the government's seizure of the tanker Brennero at Hoboken, N. J., last March following alleged sabotage of the machinery by the crew.

The ambassador, in a suit filed before the declaration of war, contended that the ship and cargo were the property of the Italian government and therefore entitled to the benefit of Italy's sovereign immunity from suit.

The Supreme Court refused to entertain the appeal at all with the terse explanation that "war suspends the right of enemy plaintiffs to prosecute actions in our courts."

The order cited the trading with the enemy act which says that no suit is authorized to be prosecuted "in any court within the United States by an enemy or ally of enemy prior to the end of the war" except in the case of patent and copyright suits.

The act provides, however, that "an enemy or ally of an enemy may defend by counsel any suit in equity or action at law which may be brought against him."

In three other cases the Supreme Court reaffirmed the discretionary powers of federal administrative agencies. It upheld:

The federal power commission's jurisdiction over a utility (the Illinois Natural Gas Company) which operates natural gas transmission lines entirely within one state but obtains its gas through a parent company in interstate commerce.

An interstate commerce commission order fixing railroad rates on grain which were attacked as discriminatory by millers, boards of trade, grain exchanges and other business interests in Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth and Minneapolis. The court's opinion said "we certainly have neither technical competence nor legal authority to pronounce upon the wisdom of the course taken by the commission."

A labor board order directing the P. Lorillard Company to bargain at its Middletown, O., plant with a CIO union. Because of a lapse of some two years, a Circuit Court of Appeals, before enforcing the board's order, had directed it to hold another election to see if the union still represented a majority of employees but the Supreme Court ruled that this action was in error.

ANOTHER BLIZZARD SWEEPS INTO TOWN

After a day of bitter temperature Tuesday, with sub-zero marks early in the day, there was a rise in temperature Tuesday night, with a mark of about twenty above. However, snow began falling again early this morning and by noon it was evident that almost as much snow would come as fell Saturday.

This fresh snow, falling on solid ice which had not melted since Sunday, created bad driving and walking conditions and travel was difficult here today. All local garages are busy on repairing damaged cars and starting cars which refused to start, and it is likely that the present weather conditions will bring on more of this. Highways had been pretty well cleared yesterday, but road crews had to start out again today with their scrapers. Streets in town will likely remain icy for a considerable time unless a sudden thaw comes along.

10 PCT. RATE BOAST ASKED BY PULLMANS

Washington. -- The Pullman Company asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today for authority to increase by 10 per cent all sleeping and parlor car charges.

The company estimated that under higher pay rates recently established, its total annual increase in wages and payroll taxes would be $6,352,200, of which $6,000,000 would go to increased wages.

President Roosevelt Pledges Nation To Greatest War Effort Ever Made By Any Nation

Estimate Cost For Coming Year At 56 Billion Dollars

Says American Production Will Beat Down All Enemies

Washington. -- President Roosevelt, pledging the nation to the mightiest war effort the world has ever seen, promised grimly today that the war will be carried to the enemy by land, sea and air "wherever and whenever we can reach him" until victory is won.

American forces, he said, will be on duty along the entire world front, including stations in the British Isles "which constitute an essential fortress in this world struggle."

Cost To Be 56 Billion
He said the American war effort in the next fiscal year will cost $56,000,000,000.

The President predicted "total victory," saying: "The militarists of Berlin and Tokyo started this war," but "the massed, angered forces of common humanity will finish it."

There were gasps and whistles of amazement from some members of Congress as he outlined the army production program:

This year 60,000 planes; next year 125,000.
This year 45,000 tanks; next year 75,000.
This year 20,000 anti-aircraft guns; next year 35,000.
This year 8,000,000 tons of shipping; next year 10,000,000.

Hopes to Outdistance Axis
"These figures," said the President, "and similar figures for a multitude of other implements of war will give the Japanese and Nazis a little idea of just what they accomplished in the attack at Pearl Harbor."

And as a thunderous outburst of applause subsided, he departed from his prepared text to add: "And I rather hope all these figures I have given will become common knowledge in Germany and Japan."

Behind such a great productive effort, he said, was the purpose not of providing a "slightly superior supply of munitions" but a superiority "so overwhelming that the Axis nations can never hope to catch up with it."

Commander At Pearl Harbor Praises Skill, Spirit Of Men

Honolulu. -- Commanding officers of United States warships which underwent the surprise Japanese raid on Hawaii Dec. 7 attested proudly today to the spirit and skill exhibited by the American sailor under fire.

Always the words, "best traditions of the service," stood forth in statements released by the Navy. From the captain of a battleship that withstood the Japanese stab came this comment:

"There was no flinching. Nor was there any necessity to urge the men to action. Instead, perhaps there were some cases of over-zealousness in expenditure of ammunition. I should be happy to recommend everyone who participated in this action for distinguished conduct."

A heavy cruiser's captain told how his men "fought with the coolness and steadiness of a veteran crew, although many had little or no actual gunnery experience and many had never fired machine guns or big guns before because of the large turnover in personnel since our last target practice."

Traditions Upheld
A battleship captain had this praise for his crew: "Anti-aircraft and machine gun batteries lived up to the best traditions of the service. I heard guns firing on the ship long after the

to catch up with it."

Wants Fight On For's Ground
This great store of weapons is to supply not only the forces of the United States but of all the nations with which it is allied, and, at the proper time, persons in occupied countries in revolt against their oppressors.

Mr. Roosevelt repeatedly emphasized that the United States is fighting on the "same side" with the British, the Russians, the Dutch, the Chinese and the exiled governments of the invaded countries.

To "hit" the enemy and "hit him again wherever and whenever we can reach him," to "keep him far from our shores, for we intend to bring this battle to him on his own ground," it is necessary not only that these arms be produced, but that American expeditionary forces join in the battle wherever they can help.

BATTLE OF PHILIPPINES

Japanese military spokesmen are quoted today as saying that the fall of Manila means complete collapse "sooner or later" of the entire system of defense of the Philippines. Furthermore, this talkative Tokyo official asserted that because of the strategic position of Manila it is regarded as "a focal point in Japan's fight against the Anglo-American powers."

Assuredly, the United States did not want the open city of Manila to fall, but the bad news of Japanese occupation is counteracted by good news that General MacArthur has succeeded in achieving a brilliant and daring feat in consolidating his forces and improving his battle lines.

The American army fighting in the Philippines appears to be far from collapsing with the fall of the city.

We must not permit ourselves to be deluded by Jap propaganda in thinking that Manila is anything like as important to the final success of the Anglo-American cause in the Orient, as Singapore.

Our national pride demanded that everything which seemed practicable be done toward saving Manila, and we were obligated to the Filipinos as well as to American interests in the islands.

Nevertheless, the first duty of the United States is to render all possible assistance to General MacArthur and his valiant armies; and in addition cooperate fully with Britain, the East Indies, and Australia in preventing Singapore from being taken by Nippon.

With Singapore still functioning and able to hold out, it will be just a question of time until Manila can be restored to the Filipinos.

It is now becoming more and more clear that President Roosevelt's recent solemn pledge that the freedom of the Philippines is fully guaranteed by this nation, was not altogether altruistic. The fact is that the only kind of a Pacific world in which the Philippines can safely be independent is the only kind of a Pacific world which can be free of a constant threat of war for the United States, anyway.

In this new attitude toward the Philippines, as in so many other matters, Japan has wiped off the slate such differences of opinion as had previously existed. The ugly fact of war has left no choice. We intend to see the Filipinos through to the bitter end, and for that reason we now have a very vital stake in Singapore. —Exchange

THE JAPANESE DON'T MIND

A dispatch from Honolulu quoting the commander of one of our Navy's cruisers as saying that Japanese submarines are exposing themselves on the surface during the daytime and that this is a sign of desperation reminds us uneasily of some reports from Luzon ten days or so ago. These had it that the Japanese advancing toward Manila from the Lingayen Gulf area were an ill-uniformed, untrained mass of young boys between 15 and 18, equipped with small caliber guns. This estimate of Japanese soldiers Secretary Stimson termed "well-intentioned but erroneous," and added: "The cold truth is that they are well-equipped and well-trained. They are short, stocky and well-disciplined fighters." And meanwhile, of course, we have seen Manila abandoned by our forces.

Doubtless the American naval officer saw Japanese submarines on the surface in daylight and he may have drawn the correct deduction in a particular instance, but he has not seen the whole of the Japanese navy. The authors of the reports about the 15-to-18-year-old soldiers may have been more or less accurate within the bounds of limited observation. But all such stories are dangerous if we make them the basis of optimistic generalization.

The Japanese don't care how weak we think they are. The truth is that before the treachery of December 7 they deliberately circulated tales meant for Americans to hear which exaggerated Japan's difficulties to a point that indicated she would never fight. We care, as Mr. Churchill said, going to teach the Japanese a lesson of which they and the world will

DICKSON AND DAWSON WILL LEAD SOLONS

Legislators Choose Leaders At Opening Session

Frankfort, Ky.—The heavy Democratic majorities in the Kentucky legislature convening tomorrow nominated Stanley Dickson of Bourbon county for House speaker and E. C. Dawson of New Haven for Senate president pro tem tonight.

Election of both is assured. Dawson was Senate president pro tem, who serves in the absence of the lieutenant governor, at the 1940 session.

The Democratic caucuses also named E. C. Moore of Liberty as Senate majority floor leader and Joe E. Robinson of Lancaster as Democratic floor leader in the House.

Ward To Serve
Robinson has been ill at his home however, and is not expected to be able to attend early sessions of the general Ward of Paducah, named assistant floor leader at the Democratic House caucus, will serve as acting leader.

The Republicans likewise held caucuses for both houses, nominating Ray B. Moss of Pineville for Senate president pro tem and Cass R. Walden of Edmonston for House speaker.

It was agreed that the two men nominated for these offices would become the minority party floor leaders in their respective branches of the general assembly.

The Democrats hold a 75-25 edge in the House and a margin of 29-9 in the Senate.

No Opposition
There was no opposition to the administration-backed slate for nominations to the Democratic offices in either House or Senate.

FIREWORKS WOULD GIVE SIGNAL OF ENEMY AIRCRAFT

Aerial Bombs Seen As Superior To Sirens In New York

New York.—Booming fireworks would signal the approach of air raiders to American cities under a plan proposed by a group of sound engineers.

Aerial bombs of the type used in Independence Day celebrations would give warning in cities with high buildings, better than sirens of the kind employed in low-ceilinged London, these engineers believe.

The bombs would produce red flashes as well as loud explosions audible over wide areas, and at night would send up clouds of red smoke. Shorter explosions, accompanied by green flashes or green smoke would mean "all clear."

Dr. Miller Reese Hutchinson, former chief engineer for the Thomas A. Edison laboratories and one of the advocates of the plan, said to-

RED DEVILS WIN EASILY OVER RIVES HERE LAST NIGHT

The South Fulton Red Angels and Red Devils played a double-header against the two teams from Rives, Tenn., last night on the South Fulton court, the boys winning in easy fashion 39-9 and the girls losing 23-33.

With their key man absent from the line-up, Davidson, center, the Rives' boys' team played their raggedest of the season. Davidson, who is an excellent shot besides, was holding the team together, was badly missed. Only two of the Rives boys scored, these being Forrester with six points and Shore with three.

For the South Fulton boys Wall, starting center, led his team in scoring with eight points. Vowell, Long and Finch came next, each with six. So weak was the Rives team that Coach Jess Haynes used his second team most of the game.

day he believed the proposal should be given a thorough test in New York City.

He said sirens had so far proved ineffectual in penetrating the high canyons of a city of skyscrapers, and suggested that rows of the bombs be placed on roofs of tall buildings at scattered points and touched off at intervals by electric circuits connected to switches at police or fire headquarters.

"Being made of paper, these bombs couldn't do any harm," Dr. Hutchinson said. "They would explode about 600 feet in the air, and create a rain of sound that would bounce all through the streets."

IDLE BENEFITS IN NATION DIP

Washington.—Paul V. McNutt, Federal security administrator, reported today job-insurance payments increased in thirty States during November, reflecting unemployment due to priorities and curtailment orders and temporary layoffs in plants retooling for war production, plus the normal seasonal declines in many fields.

However, decreases in such payments in the other eighteen States more than offset the increases, and job-insurance disbursements for the whole country dropped in November to a new low of $21,066,400.

Payments by the 1,500 U. S. employment service offices declined in November, especially in the agricultural States, which normally experience sharp reductions after the harvest season. In all, 406,000 jobs were filled during the month, 24 per cent fewer than October but 12 per cent more than November, 1940.

The November job-insurance payments were 3 per cent below October, the previous low month. November payments by States, with the percentage of change from October, included: Kentucky, $178,300, up 18; Illinois, $1,688,500, up less than 5 per cent; Indiana, $583,500, up 13.

It took a dark view of the weather situation at all times. Any time that other instruments showed ten above that one would show zero, and in 1940, when zero really came and worse that thermometer almost fell out of the bottom. It was made to register ten below and several times during that January of two years ago the red line completely disappeared.

So I am glad that I have a more hopeful instrument for telling me of weather conditions this year. Whether it is zero or not, if the thermometer tells me that it is fifteen above I have a feeling that it is telling the truth.

Present world conditions are disturbing to every person. At such times and in such conditions every thrifty person should resolve to be more careful about expenditures. Every person who does not own a home should take steps towards owning one. In both of these resolutions we can help you a lot. We can offer you a plan of systematic saving which has been tested here in Fulton for 28 years and found solid. We can show you a plan for owning a home which has met the same test of years.

Talk to us today about these plans. Start the New Year with a firm resolution to be more thrifty than ever before. Our organization can and will show you the way.

of equipping the armed services and converting the industry to production of war gear.

A joint announcement yesterday by Undersecretaries Robert P. Patterson of the War Department and James V. Forrestal of the Navy said the orders would be so vast and of such nature that not only the large motor car makers but also smaller parts and accessory companies could be put to work on them.

Tools Big Item
The outlay will be in addition to contracts totaling more than $4,000,000,000 which the industry already has received.

Detailed lists of the major items wanted were prepared for presentation today at a conference of management and labor representatives.

"One of the principal unfilled requirements at present is machine tools, which the motor industry should be able to produce," the statement said.

KENTUCKY UTILITIES
WORKERS GRANTED
$110,000 MORE PAY

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 6.—Many Kentucky Utilities Company regular employees who have been with the organization more than a year will share a $110,000 total pay increase effective January 1, R. M. Watt, president, announced today following a meeting of company directors.

Praising the loyalty and co-operation of employees, Mr. Watt said the pay raises were granted to help compensate for higher living costs and as a reward for long and efficient service.

"Many of our fine young men have volunteered for service in the army, naval or air forces and they cannot readily be replaced," Mr. Watt said. "The rest of us are glad to take on extra duties until they return."

"We will keep our plants and facilities operating at capacity as every kilowatt of electric power available is needed in the war program. To date we are meeting all demands."

"In co-operation with other utility companies with which our transmission system is connected—including the Louisville Gas & Electric Company—we are now sending almost 1,250,000 kilowatt-hours per day for defense needs in the T. V. A. area."

Mr. Watt said Kentucky Utilities Company is trying to secure an improved priority rating from O. P. M. to complete as soon as possible its electric generating plant on the Kentucky river near Tyronne. This plant will make available 25,000 kilowatts additional capacity.

In a farewell interview yesterday before leaving Delhi to assume his new post, General Wavell likened the situation in the Far East to some respects to that which confronted Britain after the fall of France in the summer of 1940.

"We must hold on with what we have until we can collect our forces for the return blow," he said. General Wavell declared the Japanese had won the initial advantage "which the murderer, thief or cheat can always gain against an unsuspecting, decent citizen," and said the situation could not be reversed with a single stroke.

But, ultimately he declared, "we can throw these Japanese freebooters from the places they have temporarily seized."

In Fulton the press expressed deep satisfaction with Wavell's appointment but it warned that he should not be expected to do the impossible. Typical was the comment of the Daily Express, which said: "Wavell must have arms and planes from British and American factories. No brilliant strategy out of his head can be a substitute for them."

One Fulton Man Deeply Interested In War News From Philippines

One Fulton man, at least, is deeply and vitally interested in the news which comes from the Philippines these days, for he is familiar with most of the territory over which fighting has raged, and many of the names bring back familiar memories to him. Perhaps there are other Spanish American Veterans who served in the Island, but R. E. Pierce, well-known retired Illinois Central shopman, talks in a most interesting manner about the islands as he tells of some of his experiences back at the turn of the century and a little earlier, when he served with Uncle Sam's lads as they took over the Philippines and then took up the two year war with insurrectionists.

Mr. Pierce was with the land troops which captured Manila after Dewey's victory over the Spanish fleet. He later served with the troops which chased the insurrectionists from one place to another in Luzon, and during the time served in that part of the world. Mr. Pierce became well acquainted with conditions in the islands. The general who commanded the forces he served in was the father of the present General Douglas MacArthur, and Mr. Pierce saw him many times. His captain was a great grandson of General Zachary Taylor.

For the Japanese, Mr. Pierce has little use. "They are naturally mean" he said yesterday while talking of his services so long ago. "They are not to be trusted, and they abused and mistreated the natives and the Chinese. Filipinos and Chinese were more or less afraid of them, and even then Americans had little use for Japs."

Returning from the Philippines Mr. Pierce had opportunity to visit Yokahama and Tokyo, and tells some interesting stories of sights in the Nipponese kingdom.

"I'm getting pretty old" he observed yesterday, "but I wish I could serve with Uncle Sam's forces again. I'd like to do my part against these Japs, for I'll confess I have no use for them. I may write to Secretary Stimson some of these days and see if my services cannot be utilized. I served in an arsenal and know quite a bit about the care and upkeep of guns, and believe I could be of some service to the United States again. I'd go in a minute if they would take me."

NAVY REQUESTS $845,000,000 MORE FOR SHIPS, REPAIRS

Washington — The Navy Department asked Congress today to authorize $845,000,000 for additional shipbuilding and ship repair facilities, including manufacture and repair facilities for ordnance material. Undersecretary James V.
Forrestal told Speaker Rayburn in a letter that facilities now authorized were sufficient before the United States went to war, but said:

"The situation today renders them inadequate. The enlargement and acceleration of the national defense program is resulting in unexpected bottleneck affecting the shipbuilding program which can be eliminated only through provision of additional facilities. Recently authorized additions to naval tonnage accentuate the need."

WE-ALL

The Japanese attack on the United States instantly changed our trend of thought in this country.

Before that attack some of us thought in terms of "I"; others in terms of "we". Neither of those terms expresses our feelings today.

"I" represents only one person.

"We" may mean only two or a few persons.

Our slogan now is WE-ALL, which means every loyal individual in the United States.

We are facing a long, hard job, but when the United States decides to fight for a cause, it is in terms of WE-ALL, and nothing can or will stop us.

President Roosevelt, our Commander-in-Chief, can be certain that WE-ALL are back of him, determined to protect our country, our form of government, and the freedoms which we cherish.
