PLAN REUNION OF GRADUATES. TEACHERS OF STONE SCHOOL

Plans are being formulated for the reunion of graduates and former teachers of Stone school which will be held next June or July, depending on the most favorable time for the principal speakers and visitors. The school has been recognized as one of the centers of the county and has some of the most prominent men and women the county has produced among its former students and teachers.

Among those instigating the meeting are Dr. Ernest Canon, of the Western State Teachers College faculty and L. C. Winchester, principal of Brockridge county high school. Letters have been sent to many of the graduates concerning the event.

A meeting has been scheduled for the F. D. E. A. meet here November 30-December 1. At this meeting, the former teachers will form committees and an organization for drawing up the plans.

Efforts will be made to have J. B. Hutson, U. S. department of agriculture, for a speaker at the event and Dr. R. T. Wells, Omaha, Neb., both former students.

Among the teachers and graduates are: Mrs. Lucile Grogan Jones, Tampa, Fla.; Elin Allbritton, Detroit; Ernest Canon, Bowling Green; L. C. Winchester, Hardinburg; Mrs. Elin Miller Morrison, Omaha, Neb.; Dr. R. T. Wells, Omaha; Rev. Wells Lassiter, former presiding elder; Lowry Rains, Livermore, Ky.; Fulton Young, New Orleans; Robert Perry, Morganfield; Charlie Canon, superintendent of schools, Russellville; P. D. Underwood, Tampa, Fla.; Eulalia Boatwright, Notifier, W. B. Milstead, Hazel; Judge C. A. Hale, Taylor Oliver, Eldorado, Ark.; Thol Phillips, N. P. Hutson, and Wesley Waldrop.

CAMP MURRAY CHATTERS

By Wm. H. Martin, Jr.

Bro. J. C. Barr of the Presbyterian Church was with us again Sunday with another of his interesting talks. Attendance is improving considerably.

Camp Supt. E. H. Ashbrook after a month's illness is again a familiar figure around camp. Although he is not quite as active as usual we are wishing him a complete and speedy recovery so that his dynamic personality can again take its place in the affairs of our community.

Foreman Culley Baughn is on the road to a speedy recovery. He left the hospital and is now at Franklin at the home of Mrs. Baughn.

For the first time in several weeks Camp Murray's representation at Mason Memorial Hospital is reduced to one as Enrollee Lyon Forey continues to improve at that institution. His release is expected almost any day and his friends are congratulating him for his uneventful recovery.

Camp Murray has lost a very valuable member of its technical staff. Engineer Forest Smith, who joined the company in 1933 was recently promoted to the grade of Camp Superintendent and assumes this post at Camp Ashby which is located at Clinton.

Captain Lester Ostrander, representing the corps area commander, made an inspection of Camp Murray Thursday. Captain Ostrander was the junior member of the committee which selected this camp as the outstanding one last summer and we gather from his remarks that we are holding true to our old standards. He was accompanied by Captain Fletcher, district commander and Major Sonne, district medical supervisor.

Enrollees Leadford Carter and Waverly Sullivan drove to Fort Knox Monday on official business.

Lieut. Allen G. Shipley, camp adjutant, is attending a four day mess school at Fort Knox.

After a truck ride of nearly 150 miles, the team of Company 1517 defeated Company 1540 in her own territory Saturday night, opening the CCC basketball season. In an unusually fast game which was characterized by excellent teamwork and good sportsmanship our team was victorious by one point. The first practice was held Monday evening. Downey starred for Murray with 11 points. Kush made six points for Henderson. The final score was 17-16. The team returned to its home Sunday stopping at CCC Camps at Madisonville and Cadiz.

Company 1540 is the newest addition to the second district and is engaged in state park work. It recently moved into Kentucky from West Virginia where its entire personnel was recruited.

More than fifty genuine Conestoga freighters, wagons once used in the conquest of the West by the hardy pioneers, appear in the scenes of Zane Grey's "Wagon Wheels," coming SATURDAY to the CAPITOL THEATRE, from which the above was taken. With Randolph Scott, Gail Patrick, Monte Blue, Raymond Hatton and four-year-old Billy Lee in the principal featured roles, the film shows the hardships, adventures and romance the settlers encountered on their way to Oregon with the first great wagon train in 1844. Mrs. Belle Jones and Miss Opal Jones are each making a bird quilt. Mrs. Lola Jones is making a double-nine patch quilt reported as the prettiest quilt of all. Mrs. Mollie Starks is piecing two quilting ring quilts, one for herself and one for her granddaughter, Mrs. Albert Penny of Benton, Route 7.

Mrs. Sena Jones has quilted two quilts recently.

Mrs. Bell Jones has pieced three wedding ring quilts and has a fourth nearly completed.

Some fine porkers are being slaughtered here this cool weather.

Corn gathering is nearly completed here and I have never heard so much complaint about yield shortage. Cecil Jones only gathered two loads off the same ground he gathered four loads last year. Toy Jones said he never tried as hard in his life to make a good corn crop. The ground he expected to gather three loads off of only produced one load. He gave his corn good cultivation to my knowledge.

Johnnie Ramsey, Robert Burken and Edward Chadwick carried a load of cotton to Benton last Friday.

Mrs. Ollie Burken went to Murray on business Saturday.

Seems there has been more hay put up here this year than usual. Robert Burken cleaned out J. W. Jones' cister Saturday.

Mrs. Rena Daugherty's ankle is still in a serious condition. Dr. Coffield of Hardin is still attending her.

The hard wind of Saturday blew some windows out of Toy Jones' house. It also blew down T. A. Jones' garage but the car was out at the time and blew down Hardin Byars' buggy shed but some one of the family had just removed the buggy.

Some fine porkers are in authority the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn." Prov. 29:2.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Ramsey are the proud parents of a fine baby boy, born November 9.

"There is nothing better for a man than that he should eat and drink that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labor. This also I saw that it was from the hand of God." Ec. 2:24.

Mrs. Alice Burken and sister, Miss Christianer McClain and Mrs. Monica Schroeder went to Benton last week in interest of their cotton.

Earn work is beginning to get out of the rush and some have begun to get up winter wood.

"He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; and who so confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy." Prov. 28:13.

Miss Lucile Walston and her school gave a play recently and it sure was enjoyed by a large audience.

"When the wicked rise, men hide themselves; but when they perish the righteous increase."

Faxon High School

Faxon High School has been buzzing with activity the past week, what with book-week observance, try-outs for the grade inter-scholastic tournament and for the high school debate teams, preparations for the Thanksgiving program, the end of the third month and monthly exams for the elementary grades and six-week tests for the high school, in addition to the regular program of work and the three ball games Friday night.

The book-week program was a decided success. Not so many patrons came out as we had wished for, but there were several. Much interest was manifested in the poster contest. Some sixty were displayed and many were quite attractive. Mrs. Robbie Henslee, Mrs. Tamson Parker, and Miss Luna Elkins acted as judges of the reading and book posters.

The fourth and third grades, under Miss Winchester's direction, gave a delightful short program growing out of their daily work and their observance of book-week. The first part consisted of a cozy fireside reading of "A Child's Garden of Verses" and the second part of a non-reader's interest being aroused in the classics by a display of Mrs. Reader's display of wax figures of the people of book-land.

Miss Nellie May Wyman gave a most instructive and challenging talk on the importance of good books to children.

Of the ten who tried out for debate the following have been chosen: Affirmative team and substitute, Wilson Gantt, Jerlene Bogard, W. H. Farris, Orpha Bratton, negative, Rhy Cunningham, Alvis Colson, Juanita Roberts, Wayne Dyer. The substitutes will not be chosen just yet, but the four will be as the first team.

First and Second Grade
As last week was book week, we spent our extra periods working on our book posters.

Adolphus Phelps, a first grade boy, won third prize with his poster. All grades competed, including high school. We think Adolphus will be a real artist when he has had time and training to develop his talent.—Anarine Lovett.

Third and Fourth Grades
We are starting the fourth month of school. We hope to have better grades next month.

Our room is decorated for Thanksgiving.

We had a good program Friday. The posters for book-week were judged also. The third and fourth grades received the blue ribbon for having the best group of posters.

The librarians for this week are Ruth Wells in the third grade and Ruth Gordon in the fourth grade.—James Euall Owen

Fifth and Sixth Grades
Our room is progressing nicely with the Thanksgiving program.

Not many students are absent this week. We are making book posters and are arranging our sand table for "The Old Woman in a Shoe," but she did know what to do, put her children to reading.

Our next sand-table is to be one of "Little America" from our geography study.

We have a frieze on our board. On our bulletin board we have our conduct for each week and when the end of the month comes, Miss Swann averages our grades for the grade cards.

Our window decorations are twigs of autumn maple leaves.

Our librarians are: Harding Wells, fifth; Joe Lee Gordon, sixth.

We have a new picture over the board.

Our room won second place in the poster contest.

The Class of 1940
We have been very busy with posters and exams. The seventh grade made 17 of the 60 displayed.

Anne Henslee, the second most popular girl of the school, also won second on her poster.

We have increased one student, Lewis Ross, making 27 in our class. Another student, Eural Elkins, has returned after several weeks absence. We are glad to have her back and we welcome our new member. We are sorry to learn that Thomas J. Henslee, who had been chosen for declamation, is ill of malarial fever.

Pogue preach over WPAD at 1:10 P. M. Next Friday at same time, Bro. Pate of Murray Church of Christ will preach.

Miss Stella Spiceland of Tharpe, Tenn., was the guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pogue of Penny. Yes, her name is Stella with "Gossip" part omitted.

Fiddlers contest at Coldwater was fine! Awards were: Wednesday Night, Everett Wray, solo on guitar, Fred Harrison, Addie Carter, reading, Harry Cutham, Lois Darnell; vocal quartet, C. W. Adams; banjo solo, Early Youngblood; woman musician, Mrs. Haru Adams; French Harp player, Eugene Carter; string band, Harrison band; dancer, Della Hargrove; musician of evening, Everett Wray; vocal duet, Annie Faye and Effie Hargrove; last, but not least, "Old Eagle" won the prize as best old time fiddler with old man Bill Adams trailing. Bully for Bill, oh, no, I mean the brilliant "Old Eagle". Long blue coat, I bought last June. Got to have it changed case it fits too soon.

At Coldwater Church of Christ Sunday School of November 18, Joel Cochran's Bible class numbered 27; Will Darnell's 24; Mrs. Era Slaughter's, 9; Mrs. Mollie Cochran's (Mrs. Ophelia Bazzell) 9; total, 59. Bro. Pogue preached on "Rich Young Ruler" (Money). One fellow twisted and squirmed and I dozed off to sleep.

At the radio station, in front of a big hotel, I saw whiskey in bottle for sale—mountain dew, etc.; on Broadway, a policeman in modern uniform, loaded "billy" in right hand, another one with automatic pistol in scabbard. I saw Tennessee River emptying into the beautiful Ohio river and a colored man with "specks" on. "O! carry me back to old Virginia once more"—"Eagle".

County Agent J. T. Cochran and J. G. Denham, chairman of corn and hog control association, talked to a large group of farmers at Kirksey High School. Monday night on the A. H. H. program and also on the possible organization of the Farm Bureau.

Some thirty women met and discussed benefits and possibilities of securing a home demonstration agent. The discussion was directed by Mrs. Monroe and Mrs. J. T. Cochran, wife of the county agent. Considerable interest was shown in this meeting and we hope it may be possible to organize a Farm Bureau.

The entire school went about a mile South of Key's Store on a chestnut hunt. We tramped over the hills until about 12 o'clock then we all came in and gathered around a bonfire and had a marshmallow and wicker roast. Everyone had a great time.

One Wednesday afternoon of the past month we called a meeting of the parents to help embellish the school ground. We were assisted by Mr. Fred Phillips. We had an enjoyable evening but did not complete our work. We will call another meeting of the parents to help finish our project.

A Big Heart for Kentucky

A big, generous heart beats in the bosom of Tom Rhea, of Russellville, Western Kentucky's nomination for the next governor of the Commonwealth. In supporting Mr. Rhea for the office of chief magistrate, The Ledger & Times holds no ill will whatever against any other candidate. All of those who have been mentioned are splendid gentlemen but scarcely as well equipped, we believe, for the job as Mr. Rhea. But even were all qualifications equal we would cast our lot with Mr. Rhea because he is a Western Kentuckian. Were he not so well qualified, as others we do not believe we would permit our sectional pride to warp our judgment in our desire to see Kentucky have the best executive possible as its governor.

It takes more than a big heart to be governor, we'll admit. It takes a big brain—and Mr. Rhea has them both. He has proved his ability, his integrity, his energy and his honor through a lifetime of public service.

Tom Rhea has never been a factional man though he has aligned himself with one side or another in the political fights which have been waged within our borders. By this record two things are proved. The first, that he has never been afraid to take a stand for what he believes to be right. The second, that he is controlled by no group or faction. He may have been wrong on some occasions but, to use a trite expression, it was an error of the head and not of the heart. Tom Rhea is not led by groups, he leads groups. And when he goes into a fight, he enters it to win with all the fair means at his command. The tougher the going, the harder he fights.

Under Tom Rhea all factions of Kentucky Democrats may work in peace and in harmony. He has achieved that happy consummation in his own district and he can attain it in the state.

Tom Rhea is equipped for the job in all its fundamental requirements. He's big enough in heart and mind. Whether the Democrats of the state choose their standard-bearer by primary or convention the overwhelming sentiment points to Tom Rhea, the favorite son of Logan county in 1934, as the favorite son of Kentucky in 1935.

Join The Red Cross

In taking a membership in the Red Cross a citizen is contributing to the care of the needy at home and throughout the world. American Red Cross membership dollars are still keeping the promise made to American men who went to war. The members are ministering to the needs of those for whom the war has not ended. They are helping his family, his children and through these memberships are also serving all American sailors at sea and all soldiers, marines and coast guardsmen wherever their parts or posts may be.

Precisely the Red Cross believes in people. It sees them at their finest and best, in the times of tragedy when human nature rises to its highest level of usefulness and endurance. Because of this contact the Red Cross waits and works for the time when people will be as generous all of the time as they are some of the time.

Why Gullies

It is not an uncommon occurrence when traveling through our rolling and hilly country to see scattered over the landscape hundreds upon hundreds of acres being destroyed or rendered unfit for further use by the ravens carrying away of the soil by gullies. Without a doubt the land where these gullies are now taking their toll, was once very fertile and productive. In most instances little consideration has ever been given to the excessive cropping, cropping methods, the removal of timber, and the ravages of erosion with the result that the land is now classified as waste land. The plant food that is removed from the soil by erosion has been figured after careful study, by the United States Department of Agriculture, to be 21 times greater than that removed by cropping.

Gullies usually start where the fertility of the top soil has been removed by continuous cropping and cropping methods. After the soil has lost a great portion of its fertility the natural tendency is for smaller and weaker vegetative growth. Coupled with this the soil is often allowed to lie exposed to the elements without any endeavor being made to supply a vegetative cover. The same holds true not only on our farming lands but on land that would naturally be classified as forest land where the trees have been removed and the soil left bare, thus affording excellent opportunities for erosion to gain a speedy start. These conditions allow the elements causing erosion to have full sway and another nature is left practically helpless to afford her own protection, namely, vegetative and tree growth. When nature's own protection is present the action is similar to that of a blotter thus absorbing and retaining the rainfall, and the innumerable roots bind the soil particles together preventing easy movement and shifting when subjected to the action of water.

There are also other factors that affect the extent of erosion, such as degree of slope, type of soil, and amount of rainfall. On the steeper slopes the runoff water attains a greater velocity, has greater silt carrying capacity, and produces more washing than on land of less slope. The extent of runoff varies on different types of soils due to their water absorbing qualities. Heavy rainfall in a short period of time causes a concentration of water that is unusually destructive and quickly forms gullies.

Gullies form very rapidly and this is amply illustrated in the expression that is often heard "I farmed over this field just a few years ago." The soil from these gullies moves into our streams and rivers creating quite a menace to flood control. In many places it has been known for a gully to eat back through valuable farm land as much as forty feet during one heavy rain. Millions of tons of soil are being removed from our farm and forest lands annually. Computing the amount of soil that is removed out of a single gully just shows the seriousness of soil erosion.

The soil erosion camps of the Emergency Conservation Work in Western Kentucky, under the supervision of Mr. K. G. McConnell, State Forester, are carrying on a program in the control and prevention of soil erosion to preserve our farm and forest lands for the benefit of our future sons and daughters.

LOGAN ANSWERS CRITICISM OF AURORA INACTIVITY

November 14, 1934
Mr. Joe T. Lovett
Editor, Murray Ledger & Times
Murray, Ky.

Dear Mr. Lovett:
I am quite sure that you have no desire to do me an injustice, but a little editorial appearing in your paper on November 8 apparently does me an injustice whether it was intended or not.

In the first place, I am quite sure that I never asked "What do we want a dam for anyhow?" That would be a very needless question to ask when you are called upon to vote for an appropriation of public funds, but I never had any idea of asking a question in any way to indicate that I was opposed to Aurora Dam. The fact is, with very few exceptions, I know more about that project than any man in Kentucky, and few, if any, have given more careful thought to it or have endeavored to bring about its erection more than I.

It is sometimes, so it seems, a bad idea to tell people the plain truth about things. My judgment at this time is that the dam ought to be built at the earliest possible time. I have received very courteous treatment at the hands of the Tennessee Valley Authority, but I know that it must have the money appropriated before it can build the dam, and I know that it has always said to me that it would be very glad to build the dam, if it had the money, as soon as the matter could be reached on the program.

If the dam is necessary, and I think it is at present day advised, I shall support the project as intelligently as I know how. If the fact, when further developed, should convince me that such a public expenditure was not justified, I would just as readily oppose it. Regardless of what I do about it, I can assure you that my actions will not be influenced one way or the other by what the citizens of the First District may or may not do in 1936. Naturally, I should be glad to have their support, but they are the judges as to whether I am entitled to it. I must follow my best judgment as a representative of the whole people as long as I am here.

Since your editorial in my judgment is unfair, as you attempt to create the impression that I have been opposed to the project, I am simply writing this letter to put you right. The records speak for themselves. I imagine that I could tell you several things about this project and thereby convince you that in truth and in fact I have been giving the matter attention.

With very sincere regards, I remain
Your friend
M. M. Logan

The annual Memphis conference here last week was conducted with marvelous ease and success in handling such a large crowd of clerics and laymen. I am giving the credit to the tact, diplomacy, efficiency and energy of my pastor the Rev. O. A. Marrs, pastor of the Methodist church and host to the conference. Rev. Marrs was a tireless and skillful worker in guiding all the affairs of the conference. He may not be proud of me as a member, shouldn't be, but I am proud of him as my pastor and am delighted to see him returned to Murray. I am quite sure that the conference would not have been a success to the local church if it hadn't been. Rev. Marrs is not only one of the ablest preachers it has ever been my pleasure to hear but also he performs his pastoral duties with a full heart—quietly and understandingly.

The Ledger & Times has had more new subscribers without solicitation, special offers, cut-rates or any kind of a drive within the past thirty days than any other time in its history except the closing days of the Merchandise Offers in 1933 and 1932.

I don't know whether it is ordered by law or not but common sense certainly dictates that drivers of wagons and buggies on the highways at night should carry some kind of a light—a lantern is best. An automobile driver has great difficulty in picking up any kind of unlighted object and it is impossible to see anything beyond while passing another car. A lantern on your buggy or wagon may save your life.

Following is a most fitting Thanksgiving prayer by Edgar A. Guest:

Father look down on us today.
Forgive us as we blindly blunder.

For harvest yield our thanks we pay
And for the crops that we plow and under.

Though hungry here, Thy children
Still in Thy loving mercy keep, them.

Thou made the plenteous field to grow.
We thought it better, not reap them.

Though poverty now stalks the land
And want besets each town and county

Look down and try to understand
Why unborn pigs should draw a bounty

Father if we at times appear
To let Thy wisdom go unheeded,
Remember, we have wise men here.

Who know much better what is needed.

Purina Fed Pups on Exhibition Here

On exhibition this week by J. W. Clopton & Co. at Wear Drug Co. are two pups that are attracting special attention and comment among local dog owners because of their interesting family history and the feeding method by which they have been raised.

These pups were brought here from Purina Experimental Kennels at Gray Summit, Missouri, the largest dog feeding experimental unit in the country. During the past ten years over 1,000 dogs have been used at these kennels in developing a ration which will supply everything dogs need. These pups have been raised entirely on this dry feed that comes in checker-board form as were their mother and father.

The ration on which the dogs on display were raised is a complete feed developed in Purina's own experimental kennels and made of ingredients carefully proportioned and blended together and pressed into two convenient sizes, a small size for puppies and small dogs and a large size for larger animals. The ingredients are meat, milk, cod liver oil, and cereals. By a special cooking and malt process the raw starches of the ration are broken down and made ready for the dog's digestive system.

The food has proven so perfect a ration, says Mr. Clopton, that as many as seven generations of animals have been raised on it at the Purina Kennels, the dogs getting no other feed during that time. One Llewellyn setter brood matron on this diet has whelped 71 pups in five years and three months. Of this number she raised all but two to weaning age.

Anyone desiring information about the feed is invited to come to the store where the dogs and the feed are on display.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Warren have moved to the Toy Mathis residence.

We sure are having some fine weather. Cotton picking is about over and just think for a minute how we, the farmers, are treated. We pay taxes on our land, buy fertilizer to put under our cotton, buy the cotton seed, feed our teams, do our work, carry our cotton to the gin, get one-half of price and a due bill for the rest. Now due bills are no good after October 30. Means we have got all we will ever get on the crop. Farmers, I don't believe it's law to take half of what is justly ours. But we, the sun-baked, half-starved, and two-thirds naked farmers just humbly walk up looking as if mother or father one was at the point of death, take what they hand out to us, walk off with the promise of the other half in a few days. Now farmers we have lived on promises till we're almost too weak to trot. Are we just going to work our heads off, stand and see the "big man" take it. Here comes the worst of all—when cold weather gets here and you are driven in with a bunch of bare-footed, naked, half starved little fellows asking papa and mama about shoes, clothes and something to eat tomorrow, will these promises (due bills) feed and clothe them? No! Not one penny can we get on them. But still what these due bills call for is justly ours. Now here comes school laws forcing all children under 16 years to attend school.

Will the state feed and clothe them? No! They are taking it away from them when they are taking half what we make. What are we going to do? Sit here and starve to death? Now we have about gone our limit, it is time for us to stand for our rights. Farmers get your eyes open, roll up your sleeves and stand for your rights. Right is right, and does not care what the law says. I know all children should attend school. I would work my finger ends off to keep my children in school, but what good is work if you just let the "big man" gobble up our money and if farmers are all I know, we are all up against a proposition.

T. A. Sanford, Former Principal, Leads Activities at Danville High

Recent reports from Danville High School tell us that our beloved former principal, T. A. Sanford, is well established in his new school. In the short time that he has been there he has instituted a splendid financial program for the school and has made quite an advancement in their plan of publications. At Danville they heretofore had published a paper only about five times a year, giving more time to the annual. They will have, according to Mr. Sanford's plan, all their papers bound at the end of the year, thus having an annual made up of all the year's memories.

For seven years Mr. Sanford devoted himself loyally to our school. Evidence of the many things that he has done for Murray High School will not be soon forgotten. We wish him much success and happiness in his new home, and we know that he will soon be treasured in the hearts of the Danville High students as he is in the hearts of the Murray High students.

Mr. Sanford graduated from Centre College in the class of 1922. While he was attending Centre he excelled in scholarship. He was editor in his junior year of the annual and editor of the Cento in his senior year. He was also very active in other extracurricular activities. He is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, and was the first president of Omicron Delta Kappa when that honorary fraternity was installed on the Centre campus.

In 1924 he was assistant coach at Murray State College and during the four succeeding years he was varsity coach at Murray High School. When he left Murray he was vice-president of the Little Sixteen Athletic Conference, one of the model conferences of the south. He has been principal of the Murray high school since 1928.

Mr. Sanford has membership on one of the committees of the state curriculum study, and is vice-president of the Kentucky Association of Secondary School Principals. He has done graduate work in Columbia University and the University of Kentucky, having received his M. A. degree from the latter institution.

The season's standing is one of the best with 20 wins in 23 games losing six and tying two, one of which was a 17 inning affair ending 1 and 1. They have rung up 183 runs against 120 for opposing teams. Staying with the team throughout the season were L. Brown, T. Clark and E. Webb, manager, has ex-

The South Howard baseball team won the closing game of its season this year with a 4-3 win over the Camp Murray nine at South Howard last Saturday. Sims on the mound for South Howard did not allow a hit until the eighth when three hits and a walk allowed the three runs. Howard's work totaled three hits, three walks and eight strikeouts. M. Cunningham, of the camp, allowed eight hits, four walks and 11 strikeouts. F. Clark led the hitting for the Howard nine with three singles out of four efforts. THANKSGIVING SERVICES TO BE HELD AT COLDWATER

On Thursday, November 29, we are planning to have an all day service at Coldwater Church of Christ.

We will have two services, 11:00 A. M. and 2:00 P. M. We cannot announce at this time just who will preach at 11:00 o'clock. Bro. Thomas Pate of Birmingham, Ala. will preach at 2:00 P. M. Bro. Pate is a very fluent speaker, and we feel sure that he will deliver a splendid message at this time.

The good ladies of Coldwater are planning to spread dinner on the church grounds. Come bring lunch and your friends; let us spend Thanksgiving day together.

A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Officers Take 7 To Eddyville Sat.

Seven were taken to Eddyville Saturday by Calloway officers to begin sentences totaling 17 years given in last week's trial of Calloway county circuit court. Sheriff Carl Kingins, Calvin Stubblefield, C. W. Drinkard, and Linville Vets transported the seven.

The seven going were: Jewell Williams, Tom Skinner, Negroes, 2 years each, housebreaking; Paul Hill, 2 years, stealing a mule; Woodrow Long, housebreaking, 2 years; Fred Brown, 5 years, assault with intent to rob; Coy Cross, 2 years, housebreaking; Wayland Barzell, 2 years, housebreaking.

Reserve Officers Plan Group School

Reserve officers of Calloway county, including those stationed at the C. C. C. camp, plan to have a group school during this winter. Plans were made at a meeting at the camp Tuesday morning, at which Major W. C. Simmons, Cavalry, executive officer of the Louisville Military district, presided.

An officer from the Louisville headquarters will attend the first meeting to be held at the camp during the week of December 10. Officers present Tuesday and who will participate in the group school were Capt. C. H. Skaggs, Dexter, Capt. W. H. Martin, Jr., 18th Ky.; 1st Lt. R. E. Smith, commander of the C. C. C. camp; 1st Lt. Allen D. Shipley; 1st Lt. P. W. Ordway and 1st Lt. Joe T. Lovett. Several others have made application for commissions in the reserve.

Major Simmons, Capt. Skaggs and Lt. Ordway formed a board which conducted a practical test for Lt. Lovett for a certificate of capacity for the grade of captain.

An officer from Louisville headquarters will visit Murray monthly to supervise the school and the local officers will meet monthly in between these visits.

Legion Membership Is Falling Behind

Despite the fact that 7 members were added the past week, and that the post got off to a flying start, last week's work was not sufficient to keep Murray Post No. 72 up with its stride in the membership campaign.

The 7 new members for 1933 brings the membership to 87, which is still 3 short of the quota of 90 set for the week ending November. Last week the post got 22 members and this week only 7.

The seven new ones are Tom McElrath, R. M. Bagetose, O. B. Turnbow, Herman L. Broach, Carmer Graham, W. R. Groom and E. S. Duquig, Jr.

The Drum & Bugle Corps will meet tonight at 7 o'clock at the court house for regular practice. Last week end the corps went on a camp on Tennessee River and missed its usual practice.

The next regular meeting night of the post will be Thursday evening, December 6.

Don't Get Up Nights

IF YOU ARE OVER 40. If so, nature is warning you of danger ahead. Get rid of your trouble early. Make this 25c test. Get Juniper oil, Buchu leaves, etc. in green tablets. Ask for BUKETS, the bladder laxative. Take 12 of them in four days; if not pleased go back and get your money. BUKETS work on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Flushes out excess acids and other impurities which cause getting up nights, frequent desire, scanty flow, burning, backache or leg pains. You are bound to feel better after this flushing and you get your regular sleep. Guaranteed by Dale, Stubblefield & Co.
