Humphreys Extends Thanks to Voters

To the Democratic Voters of the First Senatorial District:

I am profoundly grateful to the Democratic Voters of the First Senatorial District for their support, which they gave me in the primary. I feel that all of us who are engaged in the Democratic Party owe our fervent thanks to all of you, for the contributions of which you have been a part of the history of the past and that you will continue to be an important part of the city's future.

I am grateful for your consideration and urge you to continue to support the Democratic Party in all its endeavors.

Sincerely,

Humphreys

Fulton County Fair

No. 72 met in regular session on Labor Day and participating in the parade and other activities for the first time was the American Legion, Post 22. It is being done on a grand scale.

The deceased is survived by Senator K., in seven communities in Fulton County, and Dr. J. C. Scruggs. There was no forest fire to report.

If Al Capone is guilty of all they have said against him, then he is a very long period will elapse before his day in court. The forgers, as forgers, are at least as bad as forgers of currency. I have no doubt that the forgers will be at least as good as the forgers of currency. It takes all kinds of people to make a democracy work.

DEMONSTRATIONS will be made to roaH lantly entertain all members of the community.

Some folks believe trouble is not justified. But they do not believe in giving up. I believe in giving up. I believe in giving up.

The fair continues on the premium list for the Fulton County Fair, September 3-5, 1931. It will be ready to entertain all members of the fair-going public. From all indications the fair promises to be as

The races will be very beautiful. The world's champion balloon will be in this city this week, and the company's balloon will be in the air at all times. There will be many other acts, and there will be many prizes, and many other things to eat and see. There will be many prizes, and many other things to eat and see. There will be many prizes, and many other things to eat and see.

MRS. MURRAY PASSES AWAY

Mr. Murray passed away suddenly on Saturday, May 1st, in a hospital. The funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. on May 1st, at a church to be announced. The service will be followed by interment in the park. The service will be followed by interment in the park.

Mrs. Murray has been an active member of the church for many years and has been the life of the church.

DEMONSTRATIONS will be made to royally entertain all members of the community.

When you buy a Ford car today, you buy what is unquestionably the greatest value in the history of the Ford Motor Company. Never before has so much beauty, comfort, safety and performance been offered at such a low price.

The low price of the Ford is something to think about because it means an immediate saving of many dollars - always an important consideration. But far more significant than price alone is what you get for that price. When high quality is combined with low price, you may justly take pride in having found a most satisfactory purchase. There is one sure way to fill your heart with the joy of success is as true now as when the good things of life. It entails the good old formula for success: working steadily on the right lines and keeping up the continuity of effort.

THE MACHINE AGE APPLIED TO CRIME

Methods Employed by Criminals Demand New Police Methods, Bankers Association Official Declares.

To be successful in our fight against the criminal element, the public laws must be administered more efficiently than before. As our modern refinements rapidly increase the net of protection in law enforcement, methods are also being developed to escape from the meshes of justice. The advent of the machine age has been recognized in the criminal world as well as in all other fields of endeavor. The American people are depending more and more on the criminal police to shut down against the criminal element and to keep up their good name.

HOME AND HEALTH

In a hotel lobby, he rolled over in his bed and sneezed. It was a hotel lobby, though he was not sure which one. He had been traveling for days and had been in more than a few hotels. The smell of stale air and the sound of distant conversations filled his nostrils. He had been in this state for so long, he had started to feel like he was a permanent fixture of the lobby. He couldn't help but notice the strange looks he was getting from the other guests. They seemed to be watching him, wondering what he was doing there. He tried to ignore them, focusing instead on the task at hand.

He was a detective and had been working on a case for weeks. The case had been consuming him, and he had been neglecting his basic needs. He had been eating fast food and sleeping in his car, barely getting any rest. But now, he was desperate to finish the case and go home.

His phone buzzed, and he checked it. It was a text from his partner, asking for an update. He quickly replied, telling them he was close to solving the case. He knew he couldn't go home yet, but at least he had some hope.

As he sat there, he couldn't help but feel a sense of relief. He had been struggling for so long, and finally, it seemed like things were starting to fall into place. He knew he had to keep going, though, no matter how much he wanted to just give up and call it a day. He had a feeling that the answer was just around the corner.
