THE LISTENING POST

● Governor Johnson certainly got a break with his financial problems when the Japs raided Pearl Harbor. For there was a real and sincere wish on the part of many citizens for some reductions in state taxes, and there were several good arguments for making some reductions. In fact, there was a movement which was far stronger than many people realized for the abolition of the state income tax. Many different plans had been discussed for reducing taxes, and it appeared probable a couple of months ago that Governor Johnson might be embarrassed by some of these demands.

● It was known that the Commonwealth was in a strong financial condition. The income was some where in the neighborhood of thirty million dollars, and the state debt had been trimmed down to the vanishing point. Many people felt that some reductions might be in order.

● Governor Johnson had already announced that he was opposed to any reduction. He stated that many state institutions needed money badly, and it was his plan to see that this money was made available for such institutions. Perhaps it was a good idea, for it is likely that some have been neglected. However, with federal taxes mushrooming like an entire forest of green bay trees, there was a deep and abiding hope that some relief might be had in Kentucky, and some deep laid plans had been made.

● Then the Japs sneaked into Pearl Harbor and the fat was in the fire. The General Assembly met in regular session, and the first thing the Governor said was that more taxes might be necessary. This was a bold stroke which cut the ground from beneath those who wanted lower taxes. Overnight the plans which had been made for getting lower taxes had to be revised in an effort to hold taxes as they were. The Assembly in its early actions showed that it was willing to spend money, and no trouble was met in boosting certain items. The state highway patrol, which must be expanded to meet its war duties, was given a big increase and in general the public realized that there was no hope for making any reductions.

● It does not seem necessary that taxes be increased. While revenues will fall some, it must be remembered that the state fiscal year is already about half over, and a large cash balance is on hand, and with the best revenue in sight for the entire history of the Commonwealth. Reductions of revenue may come in the next fiscal year, but there will be no big reduction in this fiscal year. That is certain. It appears likely that Governor Johnson was talking about increased taxes with a view of heading off any demand for lower taxes more than with any real thought of increased taxes this year.

WILLKIE RAPS "EASY WAY"

Says Expediency Policy Put U. S. In Spot

New York. —"In this war the United States is paying the bitter price of our worship of expediency, our endless seeking of the easy way out," says Wendell L. Willkie. "We will be doing our job the hard way because we have so long sought the easy way," the 1940 Republican presidential candidate said last night.

"It would have been hard to guard democracy in 1931, when Japan broke the peace of the League of Nations by marching into Manchuria. It would have been hard to guard it when Mussolini moved on Ethiopia, or in 1938 when Czechoslovakia was betrayed.

War Alternative
"In all those cases the guardianship of democracy might have meant war. And yet today when we can no longer put it off, today when the easy way is at last closed to us, the task is even harder."

Willkie called on the people to "pour out our wealth, our energies and if necessary our lives into this overwhelming effort," declaring, "We cannot hope to meet the President's war program unless we lead Spartan lives."

He said United States standards have been too low and "the economists have become the high priests of our civilization."

Values Ignored
"They have told us what to do and what not to do," he declared, "and we have followed them. Even in matters of state we have not sought to do what was good, or noble, or courageous, or generous or worthy. We have rather sought to do what was expedient. Expediency is a poor standard for mankind."

Urge Freeing Of Bridges By Paying Bonds With State Funds

Frankfort, Ky. —Removing tolls from bridges within Kentucky by paying their bonded indebtedness from state and federal road funds was proposed in a bill offered today by Sen. Lee Gibson, Davies county Democrat.

The measure would direct the State Highway Department to use "any and all state and federal road funds" and authorize the department to receive any federal allotment for that purpose.

There are ten intrastate toll highways Department reports show that payments made Jan. 1 on their bonds left a total balance of $2,593,000.

Under Gibson's bill, the highway department would be directed to make whatever payments were possible on any one bridge or any group of them. There was no comment from the highway department in the absence of Commissioner J. Lyter Donaldson, who is at his

New York. —The third naval district announced tonight that the Panamanian tanker Nornew was torpedoed by a submarine early today 60 miles south of Montauk Point, Long Island—the closest approach yet made to America's east coast by enemy warcraft since the United States entered the war.

The terse Navy announcement said that naval craft had been sent to the rescue from New London, Conn., and Newport, R. I., and that a number of survivors was known to have been picked up.

The announcement did not identify the nationality of the submerged attacker, nor did it say whether the damaged tanker, en route from Panama City, Panama, had gone to the bottom.

The position of the oil carrier, 60 miles south of Montauk Point, which is at the eastern tip of Long Island about 120 miles from New York City, would place it approximately 110 miles due east of New York Harbor.

"The third naval district announced tonight that the tanker Nornew from Panama City was torpedoed early this morning about 60 miles south of Montauk Point."

"Naval craft from New London, Conn., and Newport, R. I., were dispatched to the rescue of the survivors. It is known that a number of survivors have been rescued."

Washington. —A tanker foundering off the eastern tip of Long Island late today gave evidence that a "rattlesnake" of Germany's U-boat fleet may have made its deepest foray of the war to date into American coastal waters.

A Navy patrol plane spotted the stricken ship, its bow about 20 feet above water and its lifeboats, filled with men of its crew, bobbing on the wintry waves around it. The scene was some 60 miles south of Block Island, R. I.

Speed To Rescue
The patrol plane's alarm sent other aircraft and surface vessels from New London, Conn., speeding to the rescue—and speeding as well, no doubt, to hunt down and depthbomb the skulking submarine. If indeed a torpedoing took place.

The panorama on which the patrol plane's men looked down—the tanker awash and the tossing lifeboats—was that which would follow a U-boat's assault but whether a torpedo or merely the elements was responsible for the vessel's plight could not be ascertained from the air.

Carrollton home. Republican Senator J. Morton Williams of Ohio county introduced a bill calling for establishment of an air patrol made up of volunteers from the Kentucky active militia, manning such aircraft as might be proffered voluntarily by private owners.

Democratic Senator H. Stanley Blake, Nicholas county, who proposed a state liquor sales monopoly in a bill introduced last week, offered one today to limit the number of wholesalers' licenses granted in any one city to one for each 10,000 inhabitants.

His new bill also would restrict liquor sales for consumption on the premises to the three larger groups of cities in the state, those of the first, second and third classes, package sales of liquor and wine would be limited to incorporated cities and no beer could be sold at any amusement place.

Rubber Plants In United States Beat Production In Axis Nations

Washington. —Oil rubber and chemical companies joined with the Government today in a synthetic rubber production program calling for five times the combined ersatz output of Germany and Italy—enough to make the armed forces independent of the Malaysian plantations.

As approved by President Roosevelt and outlined by Jesse Jones, Federal Loan Administrator, the $400,000,000 program provides for factories which would reach a production rate of 400,000 tons of artificial rubber annually in eighteen months.

The Outlook Bright
With rubber stocks on hand Jones said the program would be sufficient to supply all military and some civilian needs, assuring such items as treads for the 120,000 tanks, and tires and self-sealing fuel tanks for the 185,000 planes in the 1942 and 1943 ordnance schedules.

The tin outlook is "pretty bright," Jones said. The first American tin smelter, now being built at Texas City, Tex., will start processing Bolivian ore in April. Its 30,000 tons a year output will take up much of the slack resulting from cutting off of supplies from Malay.

In the rubber program, the defense plants corporation already had under construction factories which would increase the synthetic rubber output of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. B. F. Goodrich Company, to 150,000 tons annually as compared with a total synthetic rubber production of 12,000 tons in 1941.

Officials of the rubber industry said they believed the new program announced by Jones called for production of 400,000 tons a year in addition to the output planned previously, making a total of 550,000 tons a year. The present output of the German ersatz rubber industry is 75,000 tons a year and that of Italy is 25,000 tons, according to best available figures. Before the war 97 per cent of the world's natural rubber came from Malaya.

The new program is to be in full operation by the middle of 1943. The rubber is to be made by the butadiene process with crude oil as the main base. It is expected to cost about 30 cents a pound, 10 cents higher than the present natural rubber price.

Jones explained that nearly all the leading rubber and chemical companies would work together.

Japanese Adopt Harsh Measures In Captured City Of Manila With Death Penalty For Many Offenses

Methods Adopted By Nazis In Europe Copied By Japs

Allied Air Arm Becomes More Active In Far Eastern Sector

Washington. —The same harsh, ruthless practices made familiar by Nazis forces in France, have been applied, the War Department reported tonight, by the Japanese in Manila and other invaded sections of the Philippines.

Residents of the island have been warned that anyone who injures or attempts to injure a Japanese soldier or civilian will be instantly shot. If he cannot be found, ten hostages will be taken into custody. The death penalty has also been established for a long list of actions including disturbing the "peace."

Second Communique

The department announced this development in its second communique of the day, after telling, in the first, of two Japanese attempts to crack the MacArthur line on Batan peninsula. American and Filipino troops repulsed both with heavy losses to the enemy and relatively small casualties to themselves.

The two stab-like thrusts, supported by aircraft and artillery fire, were apparently intended to seek out weak spots in the defense line, following a previous Japanese defeat in a full-scale assault by artillery.

Word of the enemy tactics in Manila had been communicated in part to the department by MacArthur. They were contained, he said, in a proclamation signed by the commanding general of the Japanese army of occupation and published in Manila newspapers. It said:

The Warning

"Warning.
"1. Anyone who inflicts or attempts to inflict an injury upon Japanese soldiers or individuals shall be shot to death.

"2. If the assailant or attempted assailant cannot be found we will hold ten influential persons as hostages who live in or about the street or municipality where the event has happened.

"3. Officials and influential persons shall pass this warning on to your citizens and villages as soon as possible and should prevent these crimes before they happen on your own responsibilities.

"4. The Filipino should understand our real intention and should work together with us to maintain public peace and order in the Philippines."

Tokyo Broadcast

The department also called attention to a radio broadcast from

Tokyo which said Japanese authorities in Manila had fixed the death penalty, to be inflicted regardless of the race or nationality of those involved, for a long list of "acts detrimental to the security of the Japanese armed forces."

These included: Disturbing the peace, violation of military orders, espionage, concealment of requisitioned goods and circulation of rumors concerning the Japanese forces.

The department went on to observe that these pronouncements were "in marked contrast to the terms of cajolery used in leaflets dropped by Japanese aviators" before the evacuation of Manila.

Interlocking Forces

A third War Department statement combined with an announcement from Batavia, Java, to emphasize the interlocking of military forces in defense of the Southwest Pacific.

Three American bombing planes, the department said, attacked Japanese landing forces at Tarakan, in the Borneo area, destroyed two enemy lighters, and possibly inflicted additional damage, and returned safely to their base. The aircraft, said the Batavia announcement, bombed a Japanese base in the Southern Philippines.

CHINA FIGHTS FOR TWO BASES

"All Resources" Support Singapore And Indies

Chungking. —Declaring there was no question about the importance of Singapore and The Netherlands East Indies to all the Allies, a Chinese spokesman today said China is ready to throw all her resources of manpower into the South Seas.

"Russia, remote as she might seem, also is vitally affected as her supply route through the Persian Gulf is involved," he told a press conference.

"We have reason for confidence in the great battle of the South Seas. Reinforcements are on the ways," he declared.

Calls On All Chinese

"China expects all Chinese living in the South Seas to do their duty," he added.

Christenberry Insists He Heard Plotters Planning Long's Death

Washington. —A Senate judiciary subcommittee investigating the fitness of Herbert W. Christenberry to be United States attorney at New Orleans received from the nominee Monday an account of overhearing political opponents plotting to assassinate the late Senator Huey P. Long.

Christenberry's report to Long on this alleged plot was one of the grounds on which Sam Ballard, president, and James J. Morrison, counsel for the Louisiana Association for Clean Government, urged the Senate not to confirm him. They said that those present at the meeting in question, including former Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley of New Orleans, had denied that any suggestion of assassination was made.

Mr. Christenberry insisted, however, that his report "was absolutely correct." He took a room adjoining the meeting at the De Soto hotel in New Orleans in July, 1935, at the behest of B. W. Cason, state moratorium commissioner, Christenberry related, to see what the opposition was up to.

There, he continued, he heard "voices" saying that Long should be assassinated and one voice suggested that "one man, one gun and one bullet" would be enough.

The committee heard from O. John Rogge, former assistant attorney general who prosecuted what he called the Louisiana "political scandal" cases in 1936 and 1940, that Christenberry, an assistant district attorney, placed loyalty to a political faction ahead of loyalty to the Justice Department.

The committee concluded the hearings and promised a report by Thursday.

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

The Cry of the Cripple
As we daily discuss the war situation with our united strength and the possibility of a long, hard fight for victory, let us not forget that there is a civilian soldier, the little crippled fellow who, once a year, calls for our sympathy and assistance in his grim battle for victory. His only equipment is a brace on his leg, a crutch under his arm and perhaps a tear on his cheek as he strives to attain his all important goal. Not that of marching and flying with Uncle Sam's colors, but just the normal, ordinary walk with which you and I are blessed. For that one thing, he'd give his all including his most treasured possession.

Through out President's call each January in the National Campaign for the Infants Paralysis Fund, we have an opportunity to help make his dreams come true, with our dimes and dollars. Don't fail that pathetic plea. Whatever plans the county adopts for raising its quota, make it your plan and cooperate with a free contribution.

An Appreciation
For information, inspiration and just plain entertainment, we read the Listening Post daily and always get one of the three. Much as we need the first two, we still hanker for the latter which is crowded out to some extent now, due to our war conscious public. Reading the condensed information by those who keep posted is the easiest way to follow the trend of the war. Too big of a job to keep up with the daily happenings. In the Paducah Daily, DeWitt MacKenzie is our favorite. But back to the Listening Post. Who has read a better editorial than Moore's double column Christmas issue?

The and That

Thermometers here last week reported from ten to twenty below zero. Our coldest spell since 1918.

Had a winter seige in 1919 when Ferdie Tarver's mother, Mrs. Lucy Tarver, died January 11, and another big snow with bitter weather the following year of 1920.

Willie R. Jackson, father of C. F. Jackson died then at the P. J. Vaughan place January 18. The 18th was also the date of his birth and marriage but in a different month.

An evergreen stands near the entrance of Mt. Pleasant church in memory of Morman B. Daniel, who departed this life January 11, 1928.

Congratulations to our home editor, Harry Lee Waterfield, who was elevated to the presidency of the Kentucky Press Association at the closing session of the mid-winter meeting at Louisville, January 10.

Fulgham failed to outscore Western in a game here last night (Tuesday) and lost by a one-point margin, 25-24. In the preliminary tilt we won 16-14. Two of the teachers from Western are ex-graduates of Fulgham High.

The principal Roland Goodgine and Elbert Clark, which makes the victory all the sweeter to them.

Ballston, Spa, N. Y.—World War Veteran Victory Davey responded

LISTENING POST

As a matter of fact, if more revenue becomes necessary in this state it seems to many observers that it will be best to increase the state debt again. Kentucky has one of the smallest state debts in the nation, while the tax load is comparatively high. There is no need for the state to make this present generation try to pay all the bills for the war, if more revenue is demanded. The federal load is going to be found almost unbearable within the next twelve months, and adding to this load with more state taxes may prove to be a serious matter.

It seems a pity that the condition had to arise. Kentucky was making remarkable financial progress, and within a year or so it might have been possible to abolish the state income tax. That is gone by the board now. The guns of Pearl Harbor changed that picture completely.

"NO SWEETS" is the keynote of this buffet supper

Dorothy Greig

A magnificent Vegetable Casserole with Mashed Potato and Frankfurter. Top is the main dish in a supper party without sweets.

IN war days the tendency is perhaps to banish parties "for the duration." Yet with all the extra work we are carrying and the anxiety we must bear it is more than ever essential to seek the relaxation and good cheer to be found in the comforting presence of friends.

If there are men in the group, for refreshments try eliminating sweets and concentrating on foods that are crisp, meaty, crunchy, high seasoned and zesty. Men love hearty, relishing foods—great turkeys of smoking hot soup, casseroles of pork and beans, chesnuts, crusty rolls, crunchy celery and pickles, cold meats and relishes—and coffee, hot and lots of it.

For instance, as a main hot dish for a supper here is a magnificently savory.

Vegetable Casserole with Mashed Potato and Frankfurter Top

1 cup butter
1 cup onion, chopped
2 cups celery
2 cups carrots
1 1/2 cups string beans
1/2 medium green pepper, chopped
1 can condensed tomato soup
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 cups mashed potatoes
4-5 frankfurters, split

Cut celery, carrots into strips about 1 inch long and 1/2 inch wide. Split string beans and cut into one inch lengths. Melt butter in heavy saucepan and add onions, celery, carrots and string beans; cover pan tightly and allow to simmer slowly for 30 minutes. The vegetables should cook in their own steam, but not brown. Add pepper, tomato soup, water and seasonings. Cover pan tightly and allow to simmer for 35 minutes in a very slow oven or a pot of the stove where it will not burn. Put vegetables into a large ing dish, cover with well seasoned mashed potatoes and then arrange split frankfurters on top. Brush with melted butter and cook in hot oven 450°F. for 15 minutes or until frankfurters are cooked and brown. Serves 6.

Salads, chilled, fresh and pungent are another favorite. This is just such a salad:

Chef's Salad

1 head lettuce
2 tablespoons onions, sliced
2 hard-cooked eggs
2 cup Swiss cheese
4-5 tablespoons Tomato French dressing

Shred or cut the lettuce in pieces. Then add finely sliced onion, hard cooked egg (coarsely chopped) and Swiss cheese, cut in shreds. Add dressing and toss in salad bowl until thoroughly mixed.

The special dressing helps lend dash and temper to this salad. It's a dressing sharp and high in flavor. Make it this way:

Tomato-French Dressing

1 tablespoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 cup oil (olive or salad)
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 can condensed tomato soup
Combine the dry ingredients and mix in the grated onion. Blend in the oil and let stand for 10-15 minutes. Add vinegar and tomato soup. Beat well until the dressing mixture is thick and well blended. Makes 2 cups of dressing.

MOTHERS' CLUB MEETING YESTERDAY

The Mothers' Club of Fulton held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bud Edwards at her home on Norman street. Mrs. Harold Newton was co-hostess.

Seven regular members, two visitors and one new member attended the meeting, which was presided over by the new president, Mrs. Howard Strange. In conducting the business period, Mrs. Strange was assisted by the newly elected secretary, Mrs. Clyde Fields, who read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll.

Mrs. Milton Exum, the program leader, then took charge of the meeting and presented a very good article entitled "The Importance of Make Believe," taken from the January issue of the Parents Magazine.

During the social hour Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Newton served a sandwich plate and drinks to the members, the new member, Mrs. William Woodburn and the visitors, Mrs. Jack Lowe and Mrs. Frank Brady.

CLUB LAST NIGHT
WITH LUTHERS

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Luther were host and hostess to their bridge club last night at their home on Cedar street, entertaining the regular three tables of club members.

Following the games high score prizes were presented to Mrs. James Warren and Frank Wiggins and the hostess served a salad plate with drinks.

Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Milner will entertain this club at its next meeting in two weeks.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT
MEETING WEDNESDAY

Yesterday afternoon the monthly meeting of the Woman's Club's Music Department was held at the club home when Mrs. M. L. Parker, Mrs. Milton Callham, Miss Ruth Fields and Mrs. Herman Drewery were hostesses. A good attendance was enjoyed.

The chairman of the Department, Mrs. W. L. Durbin, presided over the meeting and conducted the usual routine of business. The secretary, Mrs. Norman Frey, gave in her resignation as she will leave Fulton in the near future to make her home in Spartanburg, South Carolina. All members of the group deeply regret losing Mrs. Frey as a member and as a very capable secretary. Mrs. Durbin announced that her successor as secretary will be named shortly.

Mrs. Eldridge Grymes was leader of the program for the afternoon and presented an article on the origin and development of the symphony orchestra. After her very interesting discussion, recordings were heard of the second, third and fourth movements of "The Symphony Pathétique" by Tchaikovsky.

A very pleasant social hour followed the program, during which time the hostesses served delicious sandwiches, cookies and hot tea.

Visitors attending the meeting were Mrs. Winifred Whitnell of Asheville, North Carolina and little Miss Molly Wiley.

Extra Flavor for Meals

Tomato ketchup is a condiment that is used a great deal at the table because it is a complete blend of tomato and spice. But don't forget to use it for cooking meats—for example, when a barbecue roast is on the menu. It adds an exquisite harmony of flavor to meats when poured over them as they cook. This recipe shows you how to work such magic with pork shoulder:

Barbecued Baked Pork Shoulder

Combine—

3 tablespoons butter, melted

3 tablespoons pure cider vinegar

1/2 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

1 tablespoon brown sugar

1 teaspoon prepared brown mustard

1/2 cup tomato ketchup

1 cup water

Place in baking pan—

4 pounds boned pork shoulder.

Bake uncovered in moderate oven (350° F.) for 2 hours, basting occasionally. Slice and serve hot with sauce.

Spaghetti Party Ideas

Exhibit is a spaghetti dinner for which you've invited your friends. The spaghetti part of your meal can be different. Instead of making it up with ground meat or with meat balls, for example, you can serve it as Spaghetti with Pigs in Blankets and save yourself some preparation.

Patriotism Urged

Picking out the $3,000,000 aimed at a building program, Harry L.

Waterfield (D. Hickman) declared that "no Governor or any group of men could sensibly conduct a

$3,000,000 building program in war time." Harry Lowman (D., Boyd) singled out and criticized the appropriation for "an unnecessary fieldhouse" at the University of Kentucky.

W. W. Crouch (D., Crittenden)

urged that the bill be rephrased with "patriotism" so that it would be better geared with a State doing "its part toward achieving victory." He also suggested that any cash balance at the end of the fiscal year be invested in defense bonds, rather than be used for the improvement of State hospitals and prisons.

Only light and partially negative criticism was directed against the huge outlay before the House voted 68 to 24 against amending the bill, which had been drawn up by the Legislative Council to cover

State expenditures for the next two years.

that the General Assembly was

SPORT TALK

It is quite an honor which has come to the Fulton Bulldogs in being invited to play in the annual charity game in Mayfield. This game always attracts much interest and gets a lot of publicity which teams do not get when they are picked for this game. Last year the crack teams of Hardin and Clinton drew a lot of publicity and both teams went on from there to win their tournaments and reach the pinnacle of greatness. Whether the local team can do this remains to be seen, but this corner, provided the Bulldogs play the brand of ball that they can play, is certain that no team in this end of the state will disgrace them. The team is quite capable of coping with many of the best teams, provided always that it gives in large amounts.

Thus far a team has not fused together into a tough, fighting outfit. The reasons for this failure are more or less baffling, but this quality is not something which cannot be secured. Nor is a long time necessary for the team to become so. One tough game, in which the boys come from far behind, might be the spark to touch them off. As a matter of fact, the team has hardly been extended as yet. A majority of their games have been won easily, without much exertion, and this does not light the torch for athletic teams. It is those games where everything goes wrong for the first half, when the other team holds a commanding lead, and then to have the trailing team begin to click and come through with glowing victory. That is precisely what the Bulldogs need. They need also to learn that the team is made up of five men, all playing an important part in each game, and when they learn this, when they learn that every member of the team is needed on practically every play—then the Bulldogs are going to find themselves. When they find themselves, they will see them playing with utter abandon, with careless ease, and there will be no more tightness and nervousness. They will have confidence in each other, they will have confidence in the united skill of all five members, and these things will bring victory many times when the going is tough. It is not often that a tight team wins a close match. Tightness brings nervousness and nervousness creates uncertainty and missed shots and lost opportunities.

While it is not known just what team the Bulldogs will face in the Mayfield charity game, it appears likely that Calvert City may be the opposing five. Calvert City has had a good season this year and nearly always has a crack team. As a matter of fact, basketball in that section is nearly always a shade better than down here in the Purchase Conference. In past years Calvert City has had many championship teams, and this year appears to be heading for another great season.

Because of this game to be played in Mayfield a change will be made in the local schedule. Originally Mayfield was billed to play here on the night of January 27, but Coach Giles does not want to have to play games on successive nights, so the Mayfield game will probably be played here some night next week. Originally South Fulton had a game for the night of January 23, but there are some rumors that this game will not be played—at least, at this time. It might be that Mayfield will be substituted for the Red Devils on next Friday night. Or the game may be played on another night. This is being discussed by the two schools now.

In the meantime Coach Giles is working his squad hard for the tilt tomorrow night in Clinton. The boys know that while Clinton is not the super team it was a year ago it is still plenty good and will be running for the Bulldogs in an effort to knock them from their unbeaten perch.
