Two Fulton Girls Reveal Reasons Why They Attend Texas College

NACOODOCHES, Tex. — Two pretty physical education majors at Stephen F. Austin State College this week revealed unusual reasons why they came all the way from Fulton, Kentucky, to enroll at SFA.

Peggy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayburn Peoples, and Betty Faye, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Peoples are cousins. Both attended the same high school, that of South Fulton, Tennessee. And both got pleasure out of explaining that their home is in Kentucky, but that they crossed the street dividing the two towns and attended high school in Tennessee.

Why did they enroll at SFA? Betty is related to Dr. C. E. Peoples, president of Lon Morris junior college. By coincidence, Dr. Peoples was in Fulton to make a speech when he heard that Betty had received a scholarship.

Wondering if Betty and he were related, Dr. Peoples made an inquiry. Talking with Betty, he influenced her to attend Lon Morris, where she spent the past two years in school. With many of her Lon Morris friends transferring to SFA after graduation, Betty also decided to transfer.

Arriving at SFA, Betty decided that she liked the College so much that she had to persuade her cousin, Peggy, to come to Nacoodoches.

Peggy admits that Betty's insistence was one reason she came to SFA. But the main reason, Peggy vows, is that she wants to

Note Book

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham have been laughing about our dogs, but here's a good one on them:

Last Monday afternoon Mrs. Graham was given a rooster, which she thought she would take home and make some chicken salad out of. Monday night she put the rooster in a box in the basement, and Tuesday morning bright and early out jumped the rooster and began crowing loudly — right under the bedroom. From 5: am to time to get up, they didn't get any more sleep.

Don't know whether they have killed the rooster or not, but if not, you aren't the only one losing sleep on account of animals on the premises.

In case you see a lot of little and big boys this week all dressed up in their scout uniforms don't think that the washing machine is out of order and they don't have any blue jeans to wear. That's not the situation at all. This is the fiftieth anniversary of Scouting in America and all those fine youngsters are observing the event by wearing their uniforms and thereby calling your attention to their worthwhile organization.

Monday night it was our pleasure to attend a Scout Court of Honor in the basement of the First Methodist Church and its first time in my life I have attended such an occasion, and to say that I was deeply impressed is the understatement of this week. I believe I would have been just as impressed if our own little boy had not been receiving his second class badge, because there were 19 young fellows there whom we have known since they gave their first lusty cry in this here now world.

As I sat there in the candlelight and listened to the program of fine speeches by adults and saw those fine little fellows all taking in every word of advice being given them, I could not help but look back on the scout activities since we have been in Fulton and realize that a hand full of dedicated men have worked hours on end to promote scouting in Fulton and I know that when they contemplate the absence of teen-age delinquency in Fulton and look upon the fine young boys who have turned worthwhile and useful citizens, their efforts must be justifiably rewarded.

I would hate more than anything to leave out a single man or woman who has contributed in any way to the Scout movement in Fulton, but there are several people who just remind me of scouting everytime I look at them. Take Nelson Tripp, for instance. Even though he's Mayor, and doing a fine job, I just visualize him as a fellow who has a mind full of plans and ideas for young boys in the Fulton area. Then I think of Louis Weeks, Billy Blackstone, Warren Anderson, Foad Homra, with nary a boy in their household to carry on their name, and yet if there's a boy anywhere around here who has not felt their influence in Scout work I don't know where he is. All of these men, have received high awards

Clothing Found In Paducah Identified As Being Stolen From Weeks Store

Clothing found in the home of Martin Allbritton at Paducah was identified in McCracken Circuit Court Tuesday by Leslie Weeks of Fulton as having been stolen from his store in Fulton.

Allbritton is on trial on a charge of knowingly receiving stolen property.

One man's suit and two students' suits were positively identified by Weeks as having come from the P. H. Weeks' Sons clothing and dry goods store in Fulton, because price tags with his handwriting were on them.

Labels and tags had been removed from other suits and articles of clothing so that Weeks wasn't able to identify them positively. He said, however, that they look like merchandise that was stolen from the store last August 27.

Weeks, who operates the store as a partnership with his brother and son, said entrance was gained through a window on the second floor. He said there were 27 men's suits stolen, eight or 10 students' suits, and coats, slacks, shirts, shoes, dresses and ladies' coats.

Of the loot, he has recovered nine suits, six given him by State Police Detective Hugh Page and three by the Fulton police chief, said Weeks.

Page testified he and two Paducah policemen found the clothing in Allbritton's home at 1011 N. 9th St. in Paducah.

The morning testimony was uncut by a dispute over the validity of his search warrant used by the officers.

It was challenged by defense attorney Holland G. Bryan on grounds that the officers also went into the other side of the duplex house, which is occupied by Allbritton's father, Tommy Allbritton, without a warrant.

Circuit Judge C. Warren Eaton overruled the challenge.

Sixty-five or Over? Stay Forever Young on WFUL's New Club

Something new has been added to the programming at Radio Station WFUL and from the first, early response of mail the program bids well to become one of the most popular programs on the air.

The program, to be broadcast every afternoon, Monday through Friday is called the "Forever Young" program and will be beamed to the elder citizens of the Ken-Tenn territory. And in connection with the program the station has formed a "Forever Young Club," with membership limited to persons over 65 years of age. Time of the program is 2:05 to 2:20 p. m.

After the first announcement of the club on WFUL last Saturday more than fifty persons wrote in to the station to be listed among the club's membership. They will be sent a membership card with their birthday, birthplace and other information listed on the card. Their birthdays will be broadcast on the air as they occur and proper recognition will be made of other important dates in the lives of these worthwhile citizens who have contributed much to their communities, their families and their churches.

Here is the plan of the "Forever Young Club," as outlined by the management of Radio Station WFUL:

All persons, male or female, living within the listening audience of the radio station are urged to send their name, birthday, birthplace, number of children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, wedding date if married, (or widowed) and any information that might be interesting to the listening audience of the station. A short biography of the person is requested and all information will be catalogued at the station.

Each week a member of the club will be selected as the "Forever Young" member of the week. A representative of the station will call on that person and a taped interview will be made for broadcast on the regular program. "There are no dues, no special requirements needed for membership," Station Manager Jo Westpheling said. "All we want to do is to acquaint the many elderly people in the area with each other, play special music for them and relate interesting bits of information to them that might make their growing years a little happier and a little brighter," she added.

The station manager said that a tremendous amount of mail is received each day from persons wishing birthday greetings and anniversary greetings to persons who are long past the half-century mark. The requests have been so numerous that a special program became necessary and from that program idea came the added interest of having all elder citizens in the area become members of a club whose members are not old, but rather forever young.

Several Fulton business people have hailed the new club as a wonderful way to bring some happiness into the lives of the elderly citizens in the Twin-State area. And some have offered to send gifts to the "Forever Young" member of the week as a memento of their love, admiration and respect. Any person wishing to send a gift to the "Forever Young" member of the week is asked to call Mrs. Hendon Wright at WFUL and arrangements will be made to have the gift delivered.

Readers of this newspaper are also urged to become members of WFUL's "Forever Young" Club if they are 65 or over. Just address your letter to the "Forever Young" club, % Radio Station WFUL, Box 482, Fulton, Ky.

A "Forever Young" salute goes out this week to: (Birthdays) — J. B. Gatewood, (87), 105 Poplar Street, Martin, Tenn.; February 9; Mrs. R. B. Watts, Fulton, Ky., February 9; O. M. Bethel, (75), Dukedom, Route one, February 10; Mrs. A. H. Moore, (70), Wingo, Route one, February 11; Mrs. Mae Ross, (86), Martin, Tenn., Route three, February 13. Anniversary: Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Watts, Fulton, Ky. (fiftieth on February 9); Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ward, Clinton, Route three, (fiftieth on February 9.)

Every boy should be a Scout

This is Boy Scout week, and perhaps a good time to pause for a minute and reflect on what this world-wide program for young fellows means.

Now beginning its fifty-first year, the Scout program brings worthwhile living to growing-up boys as few other programs are able to do. As Scouts, boys learn to enjoy the companionship and the comradeship of other boys; they learn self-reliance; they learn the fun of outdoor living; they learn simple skills that often give them a direction for later life.

Many young fellows, reaching their 12th birthday and joining the Scouts, find that their troop activities provide them their first opportunity to get out and away from home, however so little, and however carefully they are supervised. And however little their opportunity is with the close supervision of their leaders, they find that this experience of being "on their own" is exhilarating, instructive and character-building.

All of us, in looking back on our young years as Boy Scouts, will always remember thousands of little experiences and pleasures that we gained through this association, not only at meetings, but also the camps, jamborees, camporees, summer camps and hiking weekends.

Because it has a worthwhile purpose, and because it contributes a wholesome experience to the young boy during his early teens, the Boy Scout movement grows and grows, year after year. Any boy who shuns becoming a Boy Scout just doesn't know what he is missing; any parent who forbids his son this association with other boys and their adult leaders has deprived a boy of a wonderful experience that he cannot quite replace in his life.

In and around Fulton we are fortunate to have an active Boy Scout organization and a strong participation. We are fortunate to have good Troop sponsors and good adult leaders who enjoy devoting some of their time to Scouting. As a result, our boys grow up to be good men.

We should consider ourselves fortunate in having such an organization as the Boy Scouts for our sons to belong to.

Something for nothing; Can't Be Done

The Veterans of Kentucky who so strongly endorsed and even fought to get the State to pay them a bonus are finding out the truth of an old adage: "You can't get something for nothing." If anyone was fooled into thinking that the State of Kentucky could afford a multi-million dollar handout without seeking tax money of some sort to do it, they should have had their head examined.

Be that as it may, and Fulton County notwithstanding, the bonus was voted, the sales tax was voted, and now we're going to have to live with it for 30 years or more, and all those who receive the bonus will find that in the end it will have cost them many times in taxes what they thought they were going to get for free.

On top of it all, we foresee many ruffled tempers, many hurt feelings, many expressions of disgust as the question of "Who gets paid" is settled. In Fulton, as in all border communities, some ex-Kentuckians now living outside the State Border may not, through unfortunate circumstance, qualify for this "gift" from their native State from which they went forth to military service.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Lent Is A Time For Trading

By Bishop Fulton J. Sheen

MODERN MAN IS AFRAID OF LENT. Keeping Lent means doing penance and making sacrifices, and the average person today shudders at the very mention of sacrifice. But if happiness lies in giving, then part of that happiness lies in giving up—ourselves and our pleasures, in return for God's calm. Lent comes around each year to remind us to make this exchange.

Self-discipline is the way to peace of soul which modern man knows nothing about. He runs away from self-discipline because he thinks it means giving up something. But it does not only mean giving up something, for giving up is a loss. Jesus never asks us to give up anything, but to exchange. In self-discipline we exchange the sorrow and agony of soul that comes from selfishness and sensuality for peace of soul.

THE MAN OF GOD turns away from soul-harming things as he turns away from a light that blinds his eyes. He forbids backbiting, slander and gossip to his tongue because only God knows what happens in his neighbor's soul. He denies his body that extra cigarette, the second cocktail (maybe even the first) lest by giving his body too much comfort he forgets his soul. His desire to do things for God's sake will make him avoid publicity for his

WE ARE LIKE A LITTLE BOY standing in front of a candy store with one last nickel in his pocket. He can't have the candy until he gives up the nickel. So too we cannot have both our self-will and peace of soul, our sinful pleasure and joy of union with God. We must exchange the one for the other.

It costs something to come to God, as it cost God something to come and save us. When a trial comes, we can't rebel; when temptation attacks, we can't surrender. Of course, this means that the service of Jesus Christ is a yoke and a burden. But as He said, a yoke that is sweet and a burden that is light.

Solitude is the nurse of enthusiasm, and enthusiasm is the true parent of genius.

Turning Back The Clock--

For years Fulton has been noted as a livestock market, but since the installation of livestock pens here several years ago by the Illinois Central System, and the establishment of several livestock dealers here, this city has steadily grown as a marketing center.

The Strand Theatre on Lake street has had a face-lifting, with the outside front undergoing redecorations. Other improvements have been made to the interior. The sound and projector equipment has been reconditioned.

The monthly meeting of the Fulton Ministerial Association was held in the study of the Methodist church Wednesday morning. Rev. E. R. Ladd, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Rev. Woodrow Fuller.

Johnny Jones, Jerry Carter and Don Campbell arrived at the town of Thibodaux, La. only three hours after the tornado struck there last week. The local college boys were enroute to Corpus Christi, Texas at the time to accept jobs with an oil company there. In a telephone call back home, the boys reported seeing houses torn down, etc., as a result of the storm in Louisiana.

A Boy Scout anniversary program was presented at the regular luncheon-meeting of the Lions Club Friday at the Park Terrace.

Mr. Oliver Cunningham, minister of the Church of Christ, was the principal speaker. Bobby Scates had charge of the program.

Wayne Anderson, a bright young senior at Fulton High, will never cease to amaze me. That lad is really a smart one, indeed! You know what? Wayne has a story concerning a ship in the latest issue of the official U. S. Naval magazine. Most of the other articles are written by Navy Commanders, and such. We predict a very brilliant career for Wayne in the writing field. He is the son of Mrs. Mildred Anderson, a South Fulton teacher. Wayne is editor of the Fulton High school newspaper.

I sure hope Miss Kelly Lee Buckingham, beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Buckingham of Fourth Street, will not grow up to hate me. You see, Kelly's picture appeared in the News last week and I called her a boy. The name must have confused me.

Congratulations to Miss Laraine Fields, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fields of South Fulton, for having been selected "Miss UTM-B." That was quite an honor. Laraine is a very sweet and lovely young lady.

Received a nice letter this week from Margaret Satterfield of Pasadena, Calif., a former popular Fultonian.

Margaret enclosed an announcement of her son's wedding, and also informed us that the new guitar player, Neil Lavang, on the Lawrence Welk TV show, is the husband of her niece, Margaret said that they live at Van Nuys, and that she goes over to see them quite often. They have two cute youngsters, she said.

Stanley Jones has come to the conclusion that the safest - and of course, the fastest way - to travel is by air. So, a few weeks ago he started taking flying lessons over at the Union City airport. As we hear it, comes Spring, Stanley plans to buy himself a plane, so that he can fly from one job to another.

You see, he not only is co-owner of several business establishments here, he is also a contractor. Within a short time, he and his contracting partner, who lives in Dyersburg, will start a big job - an eighty apartment building, I believe - down in Mississippi.

Flying his own plane, Stanley can take care of his local businesses, as well as his out-of-town jobs, with no trouble at all. Nice. I would say!

A district singing convention will be held Sunday, Feb. 14, at Big Sandy, Tenn. Bennett McDaniel has sent out an emergency call for help on this day. Singing will start promptly at 10 a. m. The P-TA will serve lunch at noon. This is an opportunity for singers of Weakley County to show their appreciation to the McDaniels, Norrises, Pattersons and all other Benton County singers, who have contributed so much to the success of singings in Weakley County.

Plan now to attend the first big singing of 1960. Join the caravans Sunday morning. Have all cars filled to fill the Weakley County quota. Then, return an equal number for the singing at Beech Springs Sunday night.

Mrs. June Williamson joined the News staff as office manager Monday morning. She replaces Bill Hays, who will be reentering the University of Tennessee at Knoxville soon, to complete his final year as a Journalism major.

June has been employed at Baldridge's Variety Store here. She and her husband, who is employed by Swift and Co., come from Greenfield, Tenn.

Ministerial Assn. Is Organized

The Union City Ministerial Assn. last Wednesday afternoon became the Obion County Ministerial Assn.

With that move the ministers of the county moved in concert toward the establishment of a permanent chapel for Obion County General Hospital, and toward providing an all-day chaplain for the institution.

"For some time this move has been under consideration," the Rev. J. R. Covington, president of the association and pastor of the First Baptist church in Union City, said today. "We believe this expansion, to include all ministers of all denominations in Obion county, will increase our activities. Many of our projects can become countywide in scope and therefore benefit more and more of our friends and neighbors. In addition, there is fellowship to be enjoyed among all ministers and pastors of the county, and this will serve to bring us closer together."

The first major project of the expanded association, Mr. Covington emphasized, will be the hospital chapel.

Wrecked Truck Blocks Highway

The Union City Highway in Highlands was blocked for several hours Friday morning, when a 54 International trailer truck, driven by William D. Pannell of West Terre Haute, Ind., failed to come to a stop at a stop sign, crossed the highway and ran into a ditch.

According to Tennessee State Trooper, T. E. Kilpatrick of Union City, who investigated the accident, it occurred at 2:40 a. m. Friday. He said that when the driver of the truck applied his brakes to come to a stop at the stop sign going south on the By-Pass onto the highway, his load of steel shifted and he was unable to stop the truck.

Two wreckers from Union City arrived at the scene at 5 a. m. and worked for hours trying to pull the truck out of the ditch. The driver of the truck was uninjured, although the truck was damaged to the extent of approximately $1000.

Cumberland Presbyterian Church Here Observes 150th Anniversary

(By Mrs. W. H. Roper)

February 5 was a day of celebration, when members and friends met in the evening to observe the 150th anniversary of the founding of the denomination. The occasion was observed with a program followed by a reception in the fellowship hall.

The sanctuary where the program was given was decorated with tall baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums centered by the altar cross and large white candles. The pastor, Rev. Oakley Woodside and organist, Mrs. G. G. Bard with the choir presented the following program—singing of old favorites interspersed with scriptures, carrying out the same thought as the song. Mrs. Bard, choir director and choir gave the anthem, "God Is Our Refuge." The history of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church was given by Rev. W. L. Cottrell, Jr.

For the reception the fellowship hall was beautifully decorated with pink carnations and pink candles in crystal holders. Here the guests were met by Mrs. John Bowers and asked to register. Mrs. Harvey Caldwell presided at the beautifully appointed register. Long-time members of the church were the honor guests.

Of these only Mrs. H. A. Coulter and Mrs. I. B. Cook were able to attend. Others are: Mrs. R. E. Sully, Mrs. Enoch Browder, Mrs. J. M. Fry and G. G. Bard.

Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. Robert Rudolph and Mrs. Carl Harrison. Young girls of the church assisted in serving. So many contributed to the success of the celebration it would be impossible to name them all.

A part of the decor, which was of particular historic interest was the "Old Log House", replica of the home of Samuel McAdow in Dickson County, Tennessee, where Fins Ewing and Samuel King with Mr. McAdow all ministers of the Presbyterian church, met to discuss the great need of a church in "Cumberland County" and decided to organize a church. This church came to be known as the Cumberland Presbyterian church. In the history of the church, Rev. Cottrell told how this organization of the "Who-so-ever will" doctrine came about, of the rapid growth of the church in its early years and also of its dark days. Viewing the progress of the church of today, one is reminded of the statement of one of its church fathers—"Somewhere in the sunlight of God's love, the Cumberland Presbyterian Church is destined to live on."

VEAL ROULADES

Old World cookery gives us many fine dishes—and one that's both hearty and simple is Veal Roulades. Veal cutlets are rolled up with Swiss cheese and smoked ham, dipped in beaten eggs, flour and bread crumbs—and sautéed until brown on all sides. A wonderful idea for a main-meal dish that satisfies hearty appetites.

An adventure in good eating, too... a glass of refreshing beer served with a famous Old World dish like Hasenpfeffer or Veal Roulades. Refreshing beer, too, is a wonderful complement to those summer barbecues. It's a delightful part of American living!

CHESTNUT GLADE

Mrs. Harvey Vaughan

Several from this community attended the annual Farm Bureau members meeting in Dresden last Saturday. A program that is of interest to most every property owner had been planned. This program was on the information and answers to questions concerning the different types of insurance. Of special interest was handing out of checks to the fire policy-holders that amounted to 25 percent of the last payment. Needless to say each policy holder appreciated this saving. People from this community appreciate the very capable President, Mr. A. B. Reed.

Mrs. Vascoe Simpson, Mrs. Jim Burke and Mrs. Harvey Vaughan attended the County Home Demonstration Council meeting in Dresden Saturday afternoon. Needless to say we missed our former agent, Mrs. Louise Morris who assisted in organizing the County Council. However, we feel very fortunate to have one who appears so capable as Mrs. Jo Larson to succeed her. Plans were begun for the "Mystery Trip," which we plan to take the last of April. A capable committee was appointed with this with the capable Mrs. Joe Winstead being asked to serve as Chairman. Mrs. Winstead would welcome any suggestions concerning this project.

The food sale in Latham Saturday for the Polio fund was successful according to Mrs. Mignone Morrison who was asked to serve as chairman for the 4th and 17th district. Anyone who wishes to make a contribution please contact Mrs. Morrison soon.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Mr. J. T. Simpson, who suffered a heart attack Saturday.

Friends were grieved to learn that Mrs. Annie Moore of Fulton suffered a broken leg from a fall last week. Also so sorry that Mrs. Ruth Finch who was recovering from a broken hip suffered a heart attack last Saturday. Mrs. Finch and Mrs. Simpson are patients at the Hillview Hospital. Mrs. Dale Cummings is also a patient at the Hillview Hospital with a case of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Wright and Mike spent last weekend with home folks. Mike reports that he is doing nicely at the Treddwell school where there are three thousand enrolled.

Mrs. Elnora Vaughan is spending a few days in Paris with her niece, Mrs. Robert Weatherford and family.

Mrs. Evelyn Elliott from Detroit is visiting relatives for a few weeks.

Obion County Due Federal Aid

Federal aid is expected to play a major role next year, and in years to come, by sharing with Obion county schools the expense of equipment and furnishing science laboratories and in the math and foreign languages departments.

County School Superintendent, C. D. Parr said today the federal government, under a special federal aid program for education, will pay half of $15,000 worth of furniture and another half of $15,000 worth of equipment to be purchased by the county schools.

The bulk of this money will be spent on the new Obion county consolidated high school, the new South Fulton school, and the Negro Rosenwald school at South Fulton. Aside from these schools, Mr. Parr said, about $400 will be spent for science equipment at each of the elementary schools.

Mr. Parr said several Tennessee counties are not expected to use their shares of this available money and it is his hope that Obion county will be able to get some of this additional money, turned down by other counties, for use in math and languages departments at the various high schools.

He said the county hopes to get some $4000 which, when matched with county funds, would be an $8,000 program.

The government is also footing the bill for tests being given to all eighth graders today. They include intelligence and various other types of tests devised to help teachers in the guidance and counseling of students. Mr. Parr said, when the new high school

Mrs. Homra Is Business Gifts Heart Chairman

Mrs. Fred Homra, 117 Norman Street, Fulton, who has headed that division of the annual Heart Fund Drive for the past several years, again is serving as business gifts chairman for Fulton. Her appointment has been announced by William H. Kendall, Louisville president of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, State campaign chairman. The drive began February 1 and will run through the month. The Fulton Post 72, American Legion, is assisting Mrs. Homra.

Pointing out that the Kentucky Heart Association's 1959 money grants for heart research and equipment within Kentucky, and for its clinics for indigent heart patients in the State were the largest in the organization's history, Mr. Kendall said no minimum goal is being set for 1960. He said, however, "it is essential that we at least exceed the approximately $328,000 raised last year."

Most Kentucky communities, he announced, will climax their campaigns with the special "Heart Sunday" door-to-door collection on February 28.

TWO FULTON GIRLS—

teach in Texas and figured that she ought to attend school in Texas. She explains that teachers in Texas make approximately a thousand dollars per year more than teachers in Tennessee.

Both Betty and Peggy are junior students. Betty spent her two years at Lon Morris, and Peggy spent her two years at the University of Tennessee.

Betty wants to be a basketball coach, a position for which she has a good background. Peggy wants to be a physical education teacher or a teacher of English. She is minoring in English.

Both young ladies were outstanding students in high school in athletics and in scholarship. Both made A averages in academic pursuits. And both were regulars on the 1957 South Fulton high school team that won the West Tennessee state championship in basketball. Betty was team captain and Peggy was picked on the regional all-star team. Both let-

And I know every other mother wanted to do the same . . . but lo and behold, we knew the wrath that would have descended on us had we done such a "sissy" thing.

We want to take our hats off to the scout leaders in Fulton and to the Kentucky Utilities Company which sponsored the troop honored on Monday. Louis Weeks reported that when he went to Warren Anderson of KU about sponsoring the troop, and promising him that he would have 19 first class Scouts in a year, Warren received the enthusiastic support of his company. Monday's event was the half-way mark in the promise and it looks like the promise will be fulfilled. The Scouts in Troop 42 are mostly fellows who started out cubbing together and it will be a happy day for all of us when we see that Eagle Scout badge pinned on them.

And in addition to their starring on the basketball team, both were majorettes for five years of the S. Fulton high band. Betty was drum major for two years. Both were selected to Who's Who as seniors.

Dr. Lucille Norton, head of the department of health and physical education for women, says that Betty and Peggy are outstanding students here and that she expects them to fulfill their wishes to become teachers in Texas.

Peggy, a 20-year old, 5' 6" brunette with blue eyes, likes to water ski, paint, and listen to good music. Betty, a 20-year old, 5' 6" blonde with blue eyes, says her hobby is dancing and music.
