

8-21-1931

Fulton Advertiser, August 21, 1931

Fulton Advertiser

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/fa>

Recommended Citation

Fulton Advertiser, "Fulton Advertiser, August 21, 1931" (1931). Fulton Advertiser. 341.
<https://digitalcommons.murraystate.edu/fa/341>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Murray State's Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Fulton Advertiser by an authorized administrator of Murray State's Digital Commons. For more information, please contact msu.digitalcommons@murraystate.edu.

Trade With Your Home Industries and Make Fulton a Better Town

FULTON ADVERTISER

Vol. 7 No. 40

FULTON, KY, AUG. 21, 1931

R. S. Williams, Publisher

Fulton Schools Open Sept. 14th

Fulton city schools will open their fall semester Monday, September 14th. The faculty list is complete, with the exception of an English and geography teacher to take the place of Mrs. Joe Bennett, Jr., in Carr Institute, which place will be filled at the meeting of the Board of Education to be held on August 24. Mr. J. O. Lewis, Superintendent of city schools here, stated that he has had quite a few applicants for this position.

The city schools, consisting of Fulton High, Carr Institute, Terry-Norman and the Milton colored school, have been repaired during the summer months and the wood-work freshly painted; twelve new cabinets have been built for use in several of the class rooms. Some new shelving has been added to the library which is located in the Assembly Hall. Miss Marion Wright will be the librarian, and will also teach English. This is the first librarian the school has ever had. Something like four hundred books for the high school, one hundred for the junior high school and about fifty or seventy-five for the elementary schools have been added this year.

The present Board of Education is composed of Messrs. P. H. Weeks, Chairman, R. H. Wade, Poyner DeMyer, Joe Bennett, R. B. Beadles and Mrs. Walter Hill.

Mr. W. L. Holland, high school principal, has just completed a schedule where the students enrolling can report to their various classes the first day, which is a saving in time of from three to four days over previous schedules.

Last year, for the first time in the history of Fulton schools, students were given Achievement Tests, in an effort to establish the status of the student, and scholars were found above standard in first and second grade work, and language usage, arithmetic operations, health, civics and geography, but below standard in reading, arithmetic reasoning, grammar, spelling, general science and history. Mr. Lewis stated that this was about as good an average as any of the schools made last year. These tests will be given from time to time this year, and will greatly enable the teachers and pupils to note the progress and improvement made by them.

Fulton High School has been an "A" grade school for many years, and has also been accredited by the State Association and the Southern Association of Colleges for more than ten years. A grading of "A", together with being an accredited school with both of these associations is quite a distinction for a school.

A preliminary meeting of all teachers will be called September 12th, by Prof. Lewis at the High School, to outline plans and policies for the coming year.

Mr. Chester Genung, of this city, will be football and basketball coach this year, replacing Mr. Holland at his own request, and Mr. Genung states that he will start practicing on September 1st. The old show lot at the end of Third street has been obtained for practice games.

Following is a list of the entire faculty of all city schools for this year.

Fulton High School: W. L. Holland, principal; Miss Mary Royster, English; Miss Mary Martin, History; Miss Sarah Catron Smith, Latin and French; Mrs. Treavor Wayne, Science; Miss Gladys McMin, Home Economics; Miss Marion Wright, Librarian and English; Mrs. Ethel Butterworth, Commercial; Mrs. Lois Hindman, Supervisor of Music in all schools; Ual Killebrew, Manual Arts.

Junior High School: C. N. Whalen, principal; Miss Pauline Thompson, Social Science; Mrs. Hugh Pigue, English; Miss Lucy Rennie, Mathematics.

Carr Institute: Miss Luella Lowe, 5th grade; Miss Elizabeth Butt, 4th grade; Miss Avanel Green, 3rd &

4th grades; Miss Claret Lewis 3rd grade; Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, 2nd and 3rd grades; Miss Louise Blinford, 2nd grade; Miss Fannie Lee Nix, 1st grade, transferred from Terry-Norman to Carr Institute this year.

Terry-Norman School: Mrs. Jesse Lee Flemming, principal; Miss Catherine Williamson, 4th and 5th grades; Miss Dulcie Buckingham, 2nd and 3rd grades; Miss Tulula Brann, 1st grade.

Milton Colored School: D. C. Rose, principal; Mrs. Juanetta Tucker, in charge of intermediate grades, and Margaret Wheeler in charge of elementary grades.

PASSING OF FIRST NATIONAL BANK

The First National Bank of Fulton closed its doors November 26, 1930.

In the passing of this bank, one of our city's oldest financial institutions is history.

The closing of any financial institution or industrial plant where large numbers are employed in a city is to be lamented, because it is cause for much sorrow and grief to officials and depositors, as well as the entire community life.

The First National Bank was organized on May 16, 1891, with a capital stock of $100,000.00. The officers were J. L. Stunson, president; W. W. Morris, vice-president; R. M. Chowning, cashier; Harry Ekdahl, assistant cashier.

During its more than thirty-nine years' existence many changes took place in its personnel and the capital stock was reduced to $50,000.00. In fact, none of the officials named above were connected with the institution during the past ten or more years.

For many years the First National enjoyed phenomenal success; during the first ten years paying in cash dividends $89,000.00. It was a beacon light by which many of the best business enterprises of Fulton were safely anchored in the harbor of success. It passed through numerous calamities and the panic of 1907, and continued to contribute liberally to the upbuilding of our city.

But after the stock market crash, followed by the 1930 drought with gigantic financial institutions falling by the wayside in every direction, the doors were closed, simply because people who had been favored with loans could not, or did not, meet their obligations. Even the interest due on many notes was uncollectable, notwithstanding diligent care had been taken when the loans were made.

The officers in charge of the First National Bank at the time of its closing felt the sting of financial disaster with the depositors. They are well-known business men in this community, having spent the best part of their lives here, and it is our belief they are held in the same high esteem today as they have always enjoyed.

It is just too bad that people they had favored with loans did not meet their obligations in time to avoid the crash.

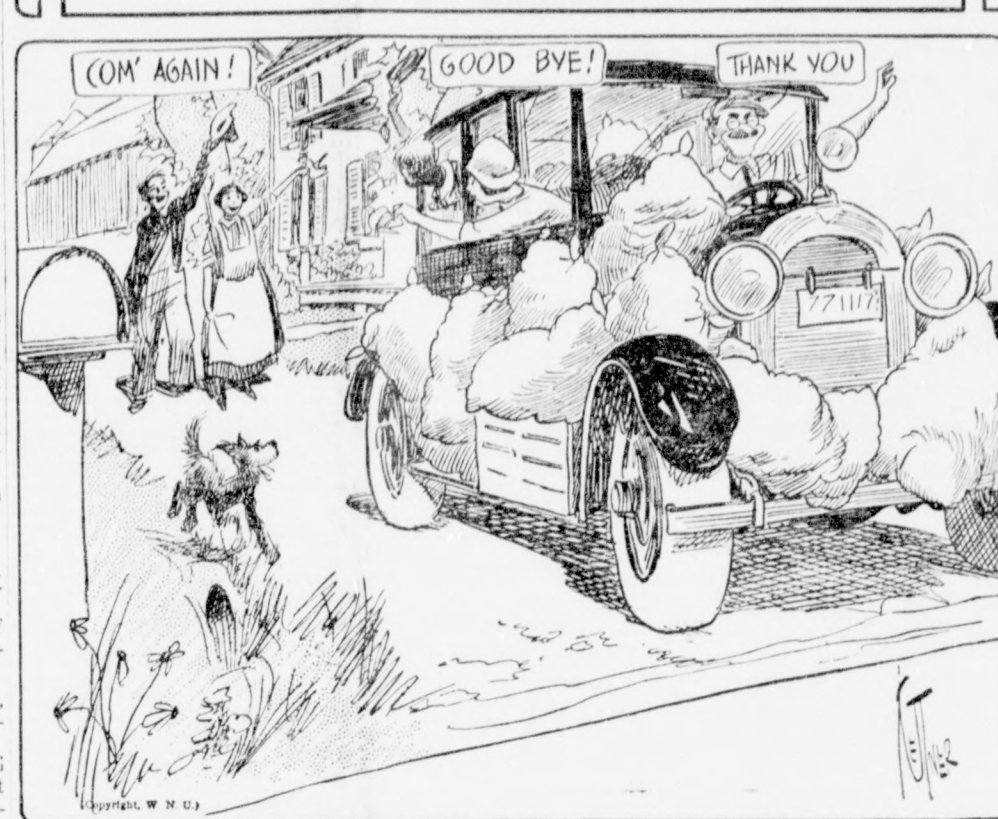

FINE PEACHES FOR SALE
Beginning Wednesday, July 22, I will sell fine peaches for $1.00 per bushel delivered, or 75c per bushel at my orchard.

D. R. COLLINS.
Take gravel road off of Fulton-Union City Highway going to Pierce Station, or address me, Route 6, Fulton, Ky.

NICE PEACHES
For Sale—Kling and Free-stone Peaches, Elberta, Plumb, etc. Prices, 50c and 75c. Phone 259.

HUNTER WHITESELL.

The Harvest

Those Little Things Count

There is an old saying to the effect that "it's the little things that count." Right now that holds good in the operation of automobiles. Driving with but one headlight burning may, in the opinion of some motorists around Fulton appear as only a little thing and of no consequence. But when it really adds a hazard to driving since one light cannot possibly illuminate the road ahead as well as two; when it becomes a menace in that an approaching driver may not be able to determine which lamp is the dark one and he may run into a ditch in trying to avoid a collision—then this little thing looms pretty big. Many drivers wisely carry a spare bulb. If you do not, then drive with extreme care if a lamp goes out on the highway, and replace it before you venture out with your car again. You may be excused for driving on after a light has given out while you are out on the road. But there is no excuse for driving again at night until you have replaced it. If there are to be accidents around here then let them come from unavoidable causes, not from some little thing that could have been avoided.

JONES-PEWITT

Mr. John Jones and Miss Doris Pewitt, both of Cayce, Ky., were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock at the home of Rev. N. W. Lee, who officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Bertie Pewitt of Cayce, and is a social favorite, with a large circle of friends who will wish her a happy life with the man she has chosen.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones of Cayce, and nephew of Lon Jones of this city, and is quite an estimable young man and will have the good wishes of many friends for a happy married life. A splendid wedding dinner was served in their honor Sunday, at the home of the bride's mother, with a few guests present.

Now that we come to think of it, what has become of the old-fashioned Fulton boy who used to be satisfied to start out by smoking corn-silk cigarettes?

Homra-Noffel

The marriage of Shawie Noffel son of Mr. and Mrs. Deeb Noffel of Fulton, to Miss Lorene Homra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aziz Homra, of Caruthersville, Mo., took place Sunday, August 16th at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. C. Wade, pastor of the Methodist church. Miss Sallie Homra, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Ernest Khourie, of Fulton, was best man.

A wedding dinner was served following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents for the two families, relatives and friends, after which the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to New Orleans and the Gulf Coast.

Upon their return home in Fulton, a reception will be given in their honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Deeb Noffel, 507 Walnut street, Sunday, Aug. 23.

ICE CREAM SUPPER

The Ladies' Aid of the Johnson Grove Baptist church will give an ice cream and sandwich supper Friday, from 4 to 11 p. m., at the home of J. M. Patterson, on the Union City highway.

LEADERS TRAINING SCHOOLS

Regular Training Schools for leaders in Homemakers Clubs begin next week.

The first training school will be for leaders of girls' 4-H Club groups, which will be held with Miss Edith Lacy, Field Agent in Club Work from the University of Kentucky, on Monday, August 24, at 1:30 p. m., at the office of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Zelma Monroe, Assistant State Leader of Home Agents from Lexington, will conduct the fall Programs Conductors school at Cayce on Thursday, August 27, at 10:00 o'clock.

Autos may come and autos may go, but the installment payments run on forever.

HILL BILLY BOY

Jack Foy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Foy, the one and only "Hill Billy Boy" whose mountain songs have become such a popular feature through Westinghouse Radio Station KDKA, in Pittsburgh, is a native son of the rugged ridges about which he delights to sing.

Born in Dukedom, Tenn., which nestles in the foothills of the Cumberland range, young Foy grew up in an atmosphere which encouraged his love of an ability to sing mountain ballads.

"When I was a kid going to school down in Dukedom, I organized a band which played Hill Billy songs," Foy explained in telling of how even in his early youth he was attracted to the ditties which he is now making famous.

In 1923, when radio was still somewhat of a pioneer in the entertainment field, Foy made his first broadcast in Memphis. The broadcast reached a group of people who knew Hill Billy songs when they heard them, and Foy's success was assured.

"I used to lead a country square dance and in between numbers I would sing the Hill Billy songs," the Hill Billy declared. Incidentally, young Foy's interest in Hill Billy songs has lead him to undertake an extensive tour of the mountains of Kentucky and Tennessee in search of typical folk hill songs. The trip has been successfully completed, with the result that the Hill Billy Boy now has a selection of original songs that are being completed.

CANNERS' SCHEDULE

Schedule for Miss Henning, Home Demonstration Agent, and for county canners under her supervision for week of August 24-29.

Monday: County Canners—Crutchfield, Junior Leader Training School, Chamber of Commerce, Fulton, 2 p. m.

Tuesday: County Canners—McFadden, Phillips, Homemakers, Blue Pond, 2 p. m.

Wednesday: County Canners—Boaz Chapel; Sassafras Ridge.

Thursday: County Canners—Palestine, Tyler, Program Conductors School, Cayce, 10 a. m.

Friday: County Canners—Bondurant, Cayce, Homemakers Meeting, Palestine, 2:00 p. m.

Saturday: County Canner—Blue Pond, Office, Fulton.

Read the advertisements in this paper.

Brieflets

What has become of the old-fashioned Fulton family that never permitted more than two dogs in the dining room at one time?

No doubt some of those who embarked on the sea of matrimony in June wished they had missed the boat.

Any Fulton property owner will tell you he is financially crippled riding on concrete streets.

Some of the old-timers around here can remember when a girl would send a fellow's presents back when she jilted him, but it's different now.

Many a woman around Fulton is single today simply because she couldn't stay awake while some fellow was talking about himself.

The man who tells the farmer to plow up every third row of growing cotton to increase prices is as big a numbskull as the man who says one-third of the industrial plants should be destroyed to reduce production.

What has become of the old-fashioned boy who was willing to freeze the ice cream just to get to lick the dasher?

It begins to look as though a war isn't over any more until you finish saving the country you licked.

The Fulton man who wants to get rich quick might try finding some way to bottle profitable gas so it could be made useful to the world.

A Detroit editor suggests that if the Farm Board can't get rid of its 200,000,000 bushels of wheat in any other way, it might try giving it away as a bridge prize.

Wonder if a reformer would want to go to heaven if he knew there wouldn't be anything up there for him to find fault with?

Another thing the average Fulton mother can't understand is why her little boy cannot run as fast to the grocery as he can to first base.

A time waster is the man who reads the bill of fare for ten minutes when he knows all the time he is going to order ham and eggs.

After a Fulton man has been married for sometime he sees a great deal of change—but he is forced to pay most of it out.

If hope did not spring eternal in the human breast there would not be a single share of stock sold on Wall Street.

Our idea of a vain man is one who would rather have a head-ache half of the time than a bald head all of the time.

EX-SHERIFF FALLS FROM PEACH TREE

Friends of John Thompson will regret to learn that he suffered two fractured ribs when he fell from a peach tree Tuesday morning while gathering fruit. The attending physician and a wide circle of his friends are hopeful of his early recovery.

BEST PRICES PAID FOR USED CARS

Used cars wanted. All makes and models. Highest cash prices paid. We sell parts for all makes of cars.

JONES GARAGE & SERVICE CO.
Phone 341. 108 Central Ave. Fulton, Ky

Girl Escapes Four Deaths in Stream

Denver. — Miss Helen Stone toppled from a cliff at Eldorado Springs and fell 70 feet into Boulder creek.

Then she was carried over a 20-foot dam.

Unconscious, the young woman was sucked into a whirlpool below the dam.

The current then seized Miss Stone and whirled her 75 feet down stream. Her body lodged on some rocks in midstream, where it was found by searchers.

At a Denver hospital physicians said Miss Stone had suffered from concussion of the brain, but would recover.

MONSTER ATTACKS BOAT; SMASHES IT

Seal Hunter Is Saved When Wreckage Drifts Ashore.

Halifax, N. S.—That a monstrous fish, dimly seen and of terrible proportions, rose suddenly out of the sea several miles off the Nova Scotia coast, charged his boat, upsetting it and either devoured or killed his companion by its onslaught, is the tale told in halting English by Mapi Juika, who set out early in the morning from Sarnia with Mapi Rappo to shoot seals.

The two came to Nova Scotia from Finland a year ago to work at the Mersey paper plant. When work grew slack they were laid off and determined to hunt the harp seal on which there is a heavy bounty. They had followed the same business in Finland, and built for themselves a specially constructed boat in which they made a number of successful trips.

They set out for the sealing fields and had gone some two miles off the shore when, Juika says, there was a terrible disturbance a few feet away so suddenly as to render detailed account of it impossible, and a great monster arose out of the deep, charged the light boat, shattering and overturning it.

Thrown into the sea, Juika, who is a strong swimmer, had great difficulty in keeping afloat so violent was the commotion. Several times a great dark shape brushed past him. Once he heard his friend cry out, but when the sea subsided there was nothing to be seen save part of the shattered boat. Rappo had disappeared. Juika, clinging to the shattered boat, managed to paddle through the smooth sea to Cooks Island. Residents on Marie Joseph saw him put ashore and took him off. Juika was in a state of collapse and at first could give little coherent account of the affair.

Woodcock "Flags" Train and Saves Her Chicks

Chicago.—That old wives' tale about "fireman save my child" has just been repeated in Pennsylvania, says the Izak Walton league in commenting on the role that a mother woodcock played in saving her chicks from a freight train. The incident, which is vouched for by the Pennsylvania game commission, involves John Stapleton, an engineer on the Philadelphia & Reading railroad.

He was at the throttle when he saw a fluttering on the ties between the rails ahead of his engine. He stopped the freight train and found that a mother woodcock was trying to get her chicks out of the way. The crew helped catch the youngsters which were released on the outer side of the rails, and the distressed mother then took her brood into the brush.

Pheasant Flies Through Windshield and On Out

Fayette, Iowa.—P. E. Davis, Hollis Finch and Clifford Burger were riding in an automobile when a large pheasant rose just ahead of them, struck the radiator and rebounded through the windshield. It continued its mad flight through the car, breaking the rear window. Burger's face was covered with blood from broken glass, but he succeeded in stopping the car before it overturned. None of his companions was injured. The bird flew away.

Boy Sleeps With Mouth Open and Swallows Snake

Fopost, Hungary.—A shepherd boy who fell asleep with his mouth open on a field near here was awakened by a shocking sensation in his throat. A two-foot snake had put half of its body into the boy's mouth. He attempted to pull the snake back, but it slipped into his stomach.

Nearby shepherds, attracted by the boy's agonizing sounds, rushed to the scene and carried him to Budapest, five miles from here, where surgeons extracted the snake.

Teacher Gives Life in Saving That of Child

Lenoir, N. C.—Lillian Archelgar, twenty-one, Charlotte school teacher, died of injuries suffered in a fall over a 60-foot cliff in attempting to save a small girl from the same fall.

The teacher landed on jagged rocks and never regained consciousness.

She saved the child's life with a push as both went over the cliff. The shove sent the child clear of the rocks into a soft sand pit.

South Fulton School Opens September 7th

H. J. PRIESTLEY, COWAN, TENN., SUPERINTENDENT

South Fulton Schools will open September 7th, with the faculty list somewhat changed from last year. The first day will be devoted to organization, obtaining books lists, etc., and no classes will be held. Prior to the opening, and on Saturday, September 5th, the teachers will hold a meeting at the High School.

H. J. Priestley, of Cowan, Tenn., will be the superintendent this year taking the place of Mr. Wade Moss, superintendent at the South Fulton Schools for the past three years. He comes highly recommended for this position, having been superintendent of City Schools at Cowan, Tenn., also superintendent of the Mens Dormitory at David Lipscomb College at Nashville for three years. He is a graduate of Peabody College. He will be accompanied by his wife, also a graduate of Peabody, who taught at Dresden, Cowan and Decherd, Tenn., prior to coming to South Fulton, and who will teach languages this year. Ned Jonakin, of South Fulton, is to be coach for the basketball and football teams. There will be a girls' and boys' basketball team, and plans for a football team are under way now. Mr. Priestley stated that they look bright for a good team.

Last year about five hundred students enrolled at the South Fulton School, and a larger number than ever before is expected this year. Two busses will be run to rural districts, one in the direction of Union City, the other toward McConnell; they will pick up children within a five or six mile radius of South Fulton. The contract for the busses has been let to L. T. Caldwell and Adam Owen, who will both make two trips daily during the school week.

South Fulton High School is a grade "A" school, fully accredited in the State Association of Colleges and in the Tennessee Secondary School Athletic Association. This school is the only one in Obion County, with the exception of Union City, with this classification.

The present school board is composed of: Messrs. G. W. Robey, Chairman, S. A. McDade, Secretary, C. A. Stephens, Treasurer, E. E. Cannon, and J. L. Piekler, and the High School teachers are as follows: H. J. Priestley, English and Economics; Mrs. H. J. Priestley, Latin, Spanish and French; Ned Jonakin, Coach and Science; Miss Alma Whitaker, Home Economics; Miss Mary Ellen Adams, Mathematics; The elementary teachers are: Orvin Moore, principal; Mrs. W. L. Morris, 1st grade; Miss Myrtle Brann, 2nd grade; Miss Virginia Colley, 3rd grade; Miss Pauline Thacker, 4th grade; Miss Mina Lee Corley, 5th grade; Miss Lena Stokes, 6th grade; Orvin Moore 7th and 8th grades.

The Roswell Colored School in South Fulton will have J. J. Bills as their principal, and around three hundred students are expected to enroll this year. The teachers are: J. L. N. Calvert, Roger N. Porter, Beulah Uterback, and J. J. Bills.

Hand us a dollar bill and get your name on the Advertiser list as a regular subscriber.

Gold Horseshoes

Expense is not efficiency. Don't pay for gold horseshoes when you buy your printing. Sensible printing on sensible paper—Hammermill Bond—will save you money and get results for you.

That is the kind of work we do and the kind of paper we use.

Use More Printed Salesmanship. Ask us.

Send The Advertiser to a friend one year—only $1.00

The Advertised Article

is one in which the merchant himself has implicit faith—else he will not advertise it. You are safe in patronizing the merchants whose ads appear in this paper because their goods are up to date and not shop worn. : : :

Help our Merchants to help YOU

EVERYBODY will agree that a man succeeds and prospers only when he spends LESS money than he receives in a given period of time.

Let's apply this great economic test to the situation in this town: Our business men have invested—and continue to invest—their money in stocks of goods brought here to your very door to meet your daily needs.

Through the pages of this paper they advise you of their ability to serve this community. All of us know that they deserve our patronage. And remember, the more you trade with them the more funds they can invest in larger stocks and new lines.

Read the Ads in this Paper and save yourself money by trading at home

For Job Printing, Telephone 794.

Get Your MAGAZINES at Cost!

WHY PAY MORE? HERE is an actual opportunity to make your dollar do double duty. Twice as much for your money is no small matter when you consider the well balanced assortment of standard publications which are entertaining, instructive, and enjoyable in the widest variety. We have made it easy for you—simply select the club you want and send or bring this coupon to our office TODAY.

SPECIAL CLUB No. A-1

Progressive Farmer, 1 year
Home Friend, 1 year
Gentlewoman Magazine, 1 year
American Poultry Journal, 1 year
The Farm Journal, 1 year
AND THIS NEWSPAPER
For One Year

ALL SIX FOR ONLY $1.30

SPECIAL CLUB No. A-2

Dixie Poultry Journal, 1 year
Home Circle, 1 year
Gentlewoman Magazine, 1 year
Illustrated Mechanics, 1 year
Country Home, 1 year
(Formerly Farm & Fireside)
AND THIS NEWSPAPER
For One Year

ALL SIX FOR ONLY $1.30

CLIP THIS Coupon Today!

Yes—MR. EDITOR, Send Bargain No. _____ to

Name _____

Town _____

State _____ R. F. D. _____

Bring or mail this Coupon to our office today—NOW

A Modern Problem

It was Jonathan Swift who commended so highly the man who "could make two blades of corn grow where only one grew before," saying that he "would serve better of mankind, and do more essential service, to his country, than the whole race of politicians put together."

If that writer were commenting on corn in modern times, he would have to change his saying. There is plenty of corn for everyone now, and the problem has become one of selection—how to supply everyone with the best corn, the kind of corn they like.

A Modern Solution

This problem has been solved in the modern manner by means of science and machinery. First, manufacturers made all the corn anyone wants available at any time by means of canning it in the familiar cream style, and now they are making equally widely available the new whole-kernel canned corn, which you can't distinguish in taste or appearance from fresh corn on the cob. Here is a recipe for the use of these big meaty kernels that is delicious:

Corn and Walnut Loaf: Drain one No. 2 can of whole grain corn and run through food chopper. Add one-half cup chopped walnuts (vacuum packed walnuts are always available in cans), two beaten eggs, one-half cup milk and one-half cup crumbs. Season with salt and pepper. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake for forty-five minutes in a moderate—375°—oven. Serve with tomato sauce. Serves four or five.*

Better Breakfasts

PERHAPS you are particularly so—early in the morning. And possibly you are a bit proud of being difficult to please. You would like to breakfast at an interesting table, cheerful with sunshine and flowers, and have placed before you berries from your own, or neighboring bushes, or the blue Pacific, preserves of quince such as delighted ancient Greek and Roman emperors.

Not so difficult. Nor do you demand too much, in this age of convenience. There are new and inexpensive table linens of rough weave for breakfast settings, quince one of sunny quality which gives a mellow charm to the table, and place your bowl of flowers or compute of fruit at one side of the table, instead of in the center, for a change. Foods from far and near have come in your market-basket, and they are at their best in this dietetic and delightful menu. Ready-to-Eat Cereal With Fresh Red Raspberries Grilled Sardines Toast Quince Preserves Hot Beverage

Grilled Sardines: Sauté the contents of two 3½-ounce cans of sardines gently in their own oil. Spread six slices of toast very thinly with prepared mustard. Lay on the sardines and garnish with slices of lemon. This serves six persons.*

Read the ads in this paper & save money

Guiding Your Children

Bad habits lead children astray. Good habits guide them safely into the path of character, uprightness and independence.

You can start them right by teaching them to save money. Set them an example by saving yourself. Make them admire thrift.

Once started, the saving habit helps to form other good habits. It provides experience for them in handling their own funds.

This start in the right direction is but a simple step. Bring children to the bank when you start them to school.

Make This Bank Your Best Servant
Open an Account with Us Today—NOW!

The Farmers Bank

FULTON, KY.

AWNINGS

of fine quality and attractive colors that add to the charm of your home, its coolness and comfort are the kind we sell.

We also sell Lawn Umbrellas and Chairs. Remember, too, that we can upholster your furniture and also recover your automobile at small cost.

S. P. MOORE & CO.

Main Street, next door to Owl Drug Store.

Dixie's Leading Hotel CLARIDGE

16 STORIES

400 ROOMS

MEMPHIS' TALLEST HOTEL
MOST MODERN

STOP AT THE CLARIDGE IN ST. LOUIS SAME MANAGEMENT

RATES
$2.50
SINGLE

RATES
$3.50
DOUBLE

ONLY HOTEL IN MEMPHIS WITH COMBINATION TUB AND SHOWER
CIRCULATING ICE WATER
ELECTRIC FAN & SERVITOR IN EVERY ROOM

FREE
NIGHT and DAY
PARKING
GARAGE IN CONNECTION

FAMOUS OWL COFFEE SHOP SOUTH'S FINEST
LUNCHEON 50c DINNER 75c
ALSO HIGH-CLASS DINING ROOM POPULAR PRICES

ON MAIN AT ADAMS
MEMPHIS

Patronize the advertisers in this paper. They are your friends and will give you the best values and service.

SOME DEPRESSIONS WORSE THAN THIS

By ROME C. STEPHENSON
President American Bankers Association

R. C. STEPHENSON

ONE of the most significant aspects of the present business period is that, while we had a speculative panic and while we have had a general economic breakdown yet we have not had any semblance of a financial panic, such as occurred in 1907, and in other years when the credit and monetary machinery broke down and we had money panics, suspension of specie payments and kindred disasters. None of these elements of a true financial panic has been present in this depression of the 1930's. At no time was the banking structure as a whole shaken, despite the unprecedented rate of small bank failures that it had to absorb. At no time was the banking and credit machinery unable to extend support to the panic-stricken and broken stock markets and manufacturing to all kinds of business and manufacturing. Anyone would have been a wise prophet who could have foretold that our banking and credit structure would stand up so well under conditions so bad.

Finance Taking Cuts

And banking and corporate finance in this period of depression are unflinchingly taking their portions of short rations and enforced self-denial that the nation's need for readjustment demands. Interest rates on money, yields on securities and dividends on corporate investment have all dropped to levels that constitute drastic reductions in the compensation of capital. These are but part of the necessary economic realignments that all phases of the country's working life must go through before a general revival of business activity can start.

It is my belief—indeed it is my hope—that the tempo of the next cycle of prosperity will be somewhat more moderate than the mad whirl of jazz that brought the last one to a close. I think it will be agreed that the worst aspect of the collapse of that period of false prosperity is the condition of insecurity for employment which it caused. Unemployment is our greatest public problem today.

Unemployment is the worst wage cut that the worker can suffer. It is the worst cause of stagnation that business has to strive against. The sooner we can get our masses of workers back into jobs on almost any terms the better it will be both for capital and labor.

TRUST BANKING SPREADING FAST

Government Official Shows That This Type of Financial Service Is Enlarging Its Field

SPECTACULAR growth of trust service in the banking field is reflected in the national banking system. Aubrey B. Carter, in charge of Trust department supervision in the office of Comptroller of the Currency, Washington, D. C., brings out in an article in the American Bankers Association Journal.

"At the close of the 1930 fiscal year there were 2,472 national banks with trust powers," he says. "Their banking resources aggregated $23,529,100,000, which represented 34 per cent of the number of banks and 80 per cent of the total banking resources of the 7,252 national banks. Trust departments had been established by 1,829 of these banks which were administering 79,904 individual trusts with trust assets aggregating $4,473,000,000, and in addition were administering 11,500 corporate trusts and acting as trustees for outstanding note and bond issues aggregating $11,803,700,000.

"These figures represent an increase during a four-year period of 446, or 22 per cent, in the number of national banks authorized to exercise trust powers; an increase of 725, or 66 per cent, in the number of banks actively administering trusts; an increase of 65,370, or 250 per cent, in the number of trusts being administered; an increase of $3,500,000,000, or 385 per cent, in the volume of individual trust assets under administration, and an increase of $9,340,000,000, or 279 per cent, in the volume of bond issues outstanding for which these institutions were acting as trustees."

These facts, he concludes, are "a striking testimonial of the growing public recognition of the desirability of the corporate fiduciary in the settlement of estates and the administration of trusts."

"No corn—no credit" was a slogan adopted by bankers of Saluda, South Carolina, last year. "The proposition was kept before our people by a display advertisement in the county paper several weeks prior to corn planting time. As a result we have more corn raised in the county this year than ever previously, regardless of the need of rain in many sections," said one of the bankers in reviewing the results. Home gardens was another project advocated with like results.

SMITH'S CAFE

FULTON, KY.

Plate Lunch 25c

From 11 A. M. to 2 P. M.

Regular Meals 40c

Chicken Dinner Every Day

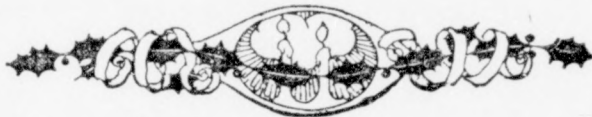

Short Orders at all hours

Open Day and Night

Dining Room for Ladies and Gentlemen

Waffles a Specialty for Breakfast

Tourists' Headquarters

WILLIAMS

Can Print anything from a

Visiting Card to a Newspaper.

It is that little artistic touch that characterizes our Printing as Superior Quality.

Try us with your Next Order.

Phone 794

CHAIN, GROUP AND BRANCH BANKING

Bankers' Commission Describes Differences Among Various Kinds of Multi-Office
Banks.

THE Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association has made the following statement on various types of banking systems operating through more than one office:

"We find that there are recognized in the banking world three types of multiple banking organizations, namely, chain bank systems, group bank systems and branch bank systems. They are alike solely in respect to the fact that each embraces under some form of common control or influence two or more banking places, but here the similarity stops since there are essential differences in organization and administration, especially as between branch banking and the chain and group forms.

"Chain banking is recognized as probably the least definite form of multiple banking organization. Generally speaking, this term refers to merely a string of individual separately chartered banks owned or controlled through stock holdings by one or more common individuals, sometimes without public knowledge of the common ownership. Frequently the controlled banks are not administered as a coherent whole under the guidance of a central, publicly known head office, but rather each bank is run as a separate unit bank in accord with the wishes of the dominant interest. In some cases, however, there is a central, publicly known control with a head office that formally supervises the operations of all the banks controlled, and this is perhaps the more desirable arrangement. It lacks, however, the definite legal responsibility that a corporate head organization would have. Each bank in a chain system operates under its own capital and there is ordinarily no binding relation among members of the string.

Group Responsibility

"Group banking, on the other hand, is a system in which, while the member banks are separately chartered and operate as individual units with their own capital, control is exercised through a publicly known corporate organization under the direction of a responsible head office. It openly holds stock control of the member banks and is morally and legally responsible as the chief stockholder for their administration and the statutory share of their liabilities. An essential feature is the fact that an organization of this kind is publicly known, which creates a large degree of responsibility to public opinion. This is true because anything of an undesirable nature developing in one member of the group would create public distrust of the whole group. Therefore its sense of self-preservation as a group, if nothing else, tends to make it enforce standards of conduct throughout the members of the group and to assume responsibilities for them beyond what mere legal responsibilities would bring about.

"Branch banking is completely distinct from the two foregoing forms of multiple organization in that it does not consist of a string, chain or group of independent banks, for there is only one chartered bank in a branch organization and the extensions from it are all in the form of sub-offices without separate capital or corporate existence. For everything that is done through these offices the bank itself is just as responsible legally and in every other sense of the word as though it were done over its own counters in its head office."

Bankers Help

In a report on bankers-farmer work, H. Lane Young, Chairman Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association, shows that during the past year there were 409 meetings reported in 38 states, with a total attendance of 38,578. County key bankers numbering 2,541 were appointed in 29 states. Thirty-four states reported an expenditure by banks of $105,926 for developing better agricultural practices.

Special banker-farmer activities engaged in by banks in 27 states numbered 8,493, while 7,140 projects or farm programs were carried on by rural people through the influence of bankers.

For three years the Agricultural Commission has given special recognition to the state reporting the highest record of accomplishments and this year Georgia achieved first place with its banker-farmer agricultural program. Representatives of the Georgia State College and officials of the Georgia Bankers Association developed the methods and policies which made it possible for Georgia to carry out an effective program which emphasized "directed credit from banks for producing crops on the live-at-home basis."

Appreciation for the cooperation received from local bankers was recently expressed by County Agent R. E. Bodley of Gallatin County, Montana, who said: "My personal experience has been that the average banker will go more than half way with the county agent, providing the latter has demonstrated that his work is constructive and conservative, that he is a man capable of handling confidential information and treating it as such, and one who can 'keep his feet on the ground.'"

Bandit Orders Girl

to Pray, Takes $40

Los Angeles.—Twice ordered by a lone bandit to say the Lord's Prayer, Ellen Sitko, clerk in a hosiery shop, was "too scared" to do anything but stutter and the bandit backed out of the shop with $40 in cash he had obtained in the holdup, according to Miss Sitko's story to police.

VIOLIN AIDS PAIR

IN $22,000 THEFT

Girl's "Fiance" and His Pal
Are Landed in Jail.

Detroit.—The harp that hung in Tara's halls may be mute, but no muter than a violin in the home of Mrs. Sarah Silverberg. A violin to her is a mute evidence of $22,000 that vanished under its soothing strains.

A large portion of the money is going to be returned to her, police say, but her love for music may never come back. Detectives have returned Frank Eisenmann, forty-two, and George Landsman, twenty-five, whose cleverness is said to have matched their abilities as violinists, to Cleveland, where Mrs. Silverberg lives, to face charges of fraud.

Through keys found on Landsman police said, they discovered a safety deposit box here which contained $20,450 and a valuable diamond ring.

Mrs. Silverberg met the men when she went to New York to visit her daughter, Ruth, an art student. The men were introduced to her as wealthy members of the art colony and she learned that Landsman was her daughter's fiance. The four went to Cleveland to make plans for the wedding, police say.

The men called at the home frequently and while one played soft music on the violin to the accompaniment of another daughter, Bertha, they discussed the profits to be made in real estate. Mrs. Silverberg told police that after a week of serenading she gave the men $22,000 to invest. Then a banquet was planned to celebrate the wedding and the business deal, but when neither of the men put in appearances, Mrs. Silverberg became suspicious.

Jealous Man Brands

Wife With Hot Poker

Letbridge, Alta.—A strange tale was told here in the Supreme court, Chief Justice Simmons presiding; a tale of a wife branded with a hot poker.

The accused was Robert Stewart, pit boss at Suburban Coal camp, who is said to be insanely jealous of his wife, a war bride originally from Holland.

Stewart repeatedly voiced his affection, although faced with her recital of the branding incident. At the noon recess he rushed up to his spouse and so stout was his embrace that officers had to use force to separate them. Any question as to the man's sanity was removed when Dr. L. Cooke, head of the provincial mental hospital, took the stand, announcing him mentally normal.

Mrs. Stewart told the court of the branding that sent her to the hospital and her husband to the courts. While washing the floor in the kitchen of their home, her husband came in "looking queer." In reply to a question he said he was not hungry, and went to the fire to warm his hands. He asked for a magazine and when she went upstairs to get it he followed her and threw her on the bed, saying he was going to kill her. He then proceeded to gag his wife, tied her legs to the bed posts and going down to the kitchen, returned with a red hot poker. With the poker he proceeded to brand her. Stewart was placed upon probation for one year.

Iowa Man's Dog Proves

His Fish Stories True

Independence, Iowa.—Oscar Brantz has been telling fish stories here for his dog, Jumbo. It seems that Jumbo was a better fisherman than most of the experienced anglers of the county. All Jumbo had to do, said his master, was leap into the river, and swim out with a fish between his jaws.

Skeptical Waltonians, lured by promise of a demonstration, followed Brantz to the habitat of the dog fisherman. Approaching the scene, they heard a furious barking.

"Hear that?" said Brantz. "Jumbo's got another fish."

Jumbo had. It was a mud turtle almost as large as Jumbo, and the dog was laboring with his prey up the bank. He deposited it at his master's feet and disappeared. The men followed. The dog stood at the river side, wagging his tail over five fish he had pulled from the river.

Reproduce Bronze Age Houses

Constance.—A group of five houses, reproductions of pile dwellings dating back to the Bronze age (about 1100 B. C.), has been completed here. The dwellings were reconstructed with the remains of the originals, which were found here serving as models.

Famous Irish Inn Sold

Ballymoran, Ireland.—An inn, The Three Jolly Pigeons, referred to in Goldsmith's "Deserted Village," was sold at auction here for $3,500.

HICKMAN-FULTON BUS

SCHEDULE

LEAVE
FULTON

AT SMITH'S CAFE

7:00 A. M.

8:45 A. M.

2:15 P. M.

5:00 P. M.

LEAVE
HICKMAN

AT CALLS CAFE

7:50 A. M.

10:30 A. M.

4:00 P. M.

6:00 P. M.

Make close connections with all busses and fast trains at Fulton.

HICKMAN Phone 209

FULTON Phone 172

Hickman - Fulton Bus Co.

JUST LIKE HOME FOOD

Smith's Cafe is in reality a home-like restaurant because it has been trying to overcome the prevalent idea that restaurants can't serve food like you get at home.

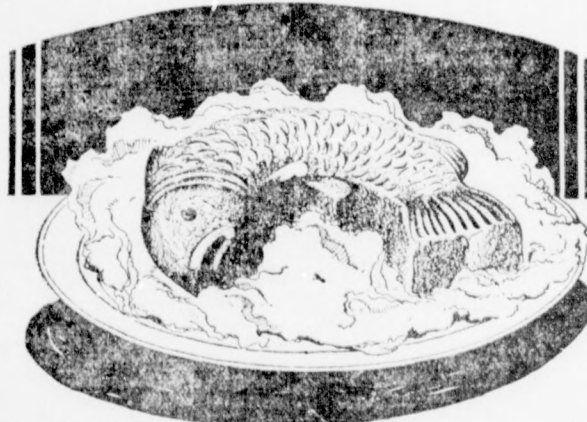

Scores of patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they eat here so regularly.

Years spent in catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve wholesome, tasty meals.

The next time you feel like eating away from home, bring your family here.

SMITH'S CAFE
Albert Smith, Prop.

A $2 Dinner for 6

FROZEN fish from the far North, new potatoes delicately creamed with parsley, a green vegetable with the tang of lemon, salad "cool as a cucumber" and served with the tinkling of feed tea. Does this appeal to your summer palate?

No, it isn't a fanciful menu from a "ritzy" hotel cuisine. It is a practical home dinner which you can serve at the very low cost of 33 1/2 cents per person.

Let the menu and tested recipes explain:
Frozen Salmon and Celery... 31¢
Parsley Creamed Potatoes... 22¢
Spinach with Lemon Wedges... 15¢
French Bread and Butter... 18¢
Romaine with Cucumber... 25¢
Chocolate Sundae... 82¢
Iced Tea... 6¢

Frozen Salmon and Celery: Soften one tablespoon gelatin in four tablespoons cold water, dissolve over boiling water and add two tablespoons vinegar, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one cup diced celery and one cup diced green pepper. Carefully fork in the contents of one tall can of salmon, pack in the refrigerator tray or in a fish mold, and let chill for two hours. Do not freeze too long, or the celery will freeze solid.

Chocolate Sundae: Combine three-fourths can of chocolate syrup, two tablespoons corn syrup and one-third cup of evaporated milk. Boil for three minutes. Cool and pour over one and one-half pints of vanilla ice cream.*

OUR ADVERTISING COLUMNS

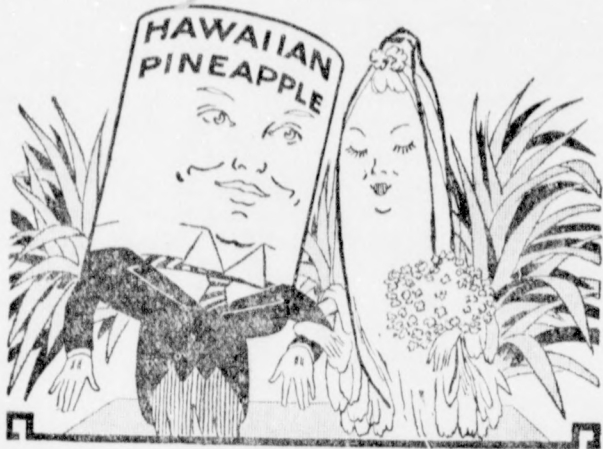

are read by the people because it gives them news of absorbing interest. People no longer go looking about for things they want—they go to their newspaper for information as to where such things may be found. This method saves time and trouble. If you want to bring your wares to the attention of this community, our advertising columns

Should Contain Your Ad

□ □ □ □ □ □

A Tropical Wedding

PEOPLE know what to eat in the tropics in order to keep cool and preserve their health. So why not take a leaf out of their book, these dog days, and serve a dish which unites two tropical fruits, banana and Hawaiian pineapples, both of which are plentiful and cheap? The first of these fruits is fresh, and the other is canned. There's a good reason for this.

Bananas are picked green and ripen successfully on their way to our markets. But a pineapple picked green fails to develop the same sugar content as a pineapple permitted to come to full maturity on the plant. And this natural fruit sugar forms the major part of its flavor and sweetness. So pineapples are allowed to ripen beneath Hawaii's sunshine, picked at their prime, and clapped into cans with their full flavor intact.

Here's the Recipe

The ceremony for the wedding of these two tropical fruits in a fritter that will fairly melt in your mouth is as follows:

Pineapple Banana Fritters: Beat one egg well, and add one-fourth cup milk, one cup flour, and one one-half teaspoons baking powder, one tablespoon confectioner's sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one mashed banana. Drain the contents of one 8-ounce can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple, and add. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat, 375°, and fry until brown. Serve sprinkled with powdered sugar. This makes from twelve to fourteen fritters.*

GIRL AWAKENS TO FIND HERSELF IN MORGUE, "DEAD"

Gropes Way Around Room in Darkness and Her Screams Bring Help.

New York.—Pronounced dead after she had fainted in the Grand Central terminal, Ivy Rogers, eighteen years old, of Greenwich, Conn., awoke four hours later in the temporary morgue of the terminal, where she was being held until her parents arrived to claim the "body."

The watchman who answered her knocks and pounding after she discovered that the morgue door was locked, almost fainted from fright when he opened it to find the "dead" girl very much alive.

Fainted, Called Dead.

Entering the terminal, to take a train to her home town, Miss Rogers realized that lack of food that day and oppressive heat had made her faint. She then went to the ladies' room, but had hardly reached it when she fell. The next thing she remembers is waking to find herself in pitch darkness and stretched out without clothing on what she took to be a table.

"I got up and began groping my way around," said Miss Rogers. "I didn't know where I was. I was terrified. After kicking and knocking for more than half an hour a watchman heard me. I didn't know until then I was in a morgue and supposed to be dead."

"When I heard that I almost fainted again. But my only impulse was to get away from that awful place and find out who said I was dead. The people who came at the watchman's call told me a doctor had said my heart had stopped beating. Maybe my heart did stop beating, but here I am to show that I'm not dead."

Parents Sought Body.

While Miss Rogers was lying in the morgue, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Rogers, were hurrying to claim the "body."

They were still on their way to the city when their daughter "awoke." No one notified her that her parents had been informed of what had happened and she left on a train for Greenwich.

While her distraught parents spent the night in fruitless investigation, Miss Rogers, at home, puzzled over why they didn't show up.

Colorado Man in Battle With a Madder Bear

Lyons, Colo.—Carl Brke, a rancher, narrowly escaped death in a battle with an enraged bear. He discovered the bear battling a cow who sought to protect her calf. The mother insisted in the cow was strong, and the ordinarily passive bovine was stubbornly fighting with her horns in an endeavor to keep the bear from the tiny calf. The battle, however, was unequal, and Brke ran home for a gun.

He returned with a shotgun and fired both barrels at the bear, shattering one of its forelegs. The bear promptly charged its attacker, and Brke fled for his life into a barn. The bear followed, and Brke jumped from stall to stall, to escape the maddened animal.

The bear finally escaped and got into the house again, securing additional shells. As he emerged the bear, limping away, turned again to the battle.

Rising on its hind feet, the animal waddled toward the man, Brke fired, but the bear continued its awesome walk toward him. The rancher fired again and again. At the sixth shot, when it was a yard from him, the bear toppled over dead.

Girls Saves Payroll in Attempted Shop Holdup

San Francisco.—Two courageous girls "gummed up" an attempted stick-up at a clothing factory, saving $800.

Miss Idele McDaniel and Miss Vera Noshkin were returning from a bank with a pay roll to the American Child company at Sixteenth and Church streets, when two bandits sprang from an alleyway and covered them with guns.

Miss McDaniel, who held the envelope, knocked down one pistol and screamed. The men fled. Miss Noshkin caught the license number of their car.

Miss McDaniel, who held the envelope, knocked down one pistol and screamed. The men fled. Miss Noshkin caught the license number of their car.

Rattler and King Snake Spurned Plan for Fight

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Every year some one tries to get up a "snake fight" somewhere in the land, and this year it was at the home of Bob Turner here.

A Tennessee rattler and a Texas king snake were the combatants, but the rattler merely tried to scale the ropes of the little squared ring, while the king snake tried desperately to dig a hole.

It all ended in a draw, as so many snake fights do, with the gallery yelling "haloney!"

Father Finds Children He Lost 17 Years Ago

Monroe, La.—For 17 years S. F. Ogden, of this place, thought his two children dead.

He lost track of them in 1914, but recently discovered his daughter living in Jackson, Miss., and through her was able to reach his son. The family will hold a reunion here.

Scientific Cleaning!

Clothing to be properly cleaned and cared for should be subjected to the most advanced scientific treatment.

In our plant we have the most modern equipment and facilities for Cleaning any garment or fabric.

We are building our reputation on our work, and pride ourselves on our service. Our customers are increasing in number as a consequence.

We are better prepared than ever to render the best of service

We invite your personal inspection of our plant at any time.

aquino Tailors - Cleaners

Phone 980

Commercial Avenue
Fulton, Ky.

In Case of Emergency

When you want a thing in a hurry you rush to a local store and get it. But do you realize that the existence of our stores depends upon continued business.

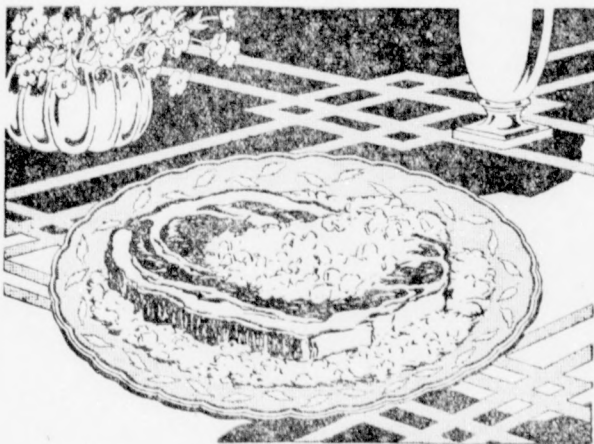

If every person in this community were to use the stores only for emergencies there would soon be no more places to satisfy those urgent needs.

You should do your part towards keeping local business alive and in a constant state of betterment by doing all your trading at home. It will be profitable to you as well as to the entire community.

The Best Buying Policy

An Aid To Digestion

BECAUSE pineapple contains an enzyme called bromelain which helps one to take care of foods rich in proteins, it is a good fruit to serve with both meats and fish. Practically all good pineapple comes from Hawaii where a number of great companies operate plantations and canneries, and now send us such a flood of this golden fruit that the price is much lower than heretofore. So here's a recipe for Ham Baked with Pineapple: Soak a slice of ham one inch thick in warm water for at least one hour. Drain and sprinkle with flour. Melt a little fat in the baking pan, preferably a piece that is cut from the ham, and brown the meat in it.

Pour one cup crushed pineapple and one-half cup water over the ham and bake slowly until tender or about one hour. Remove to hot platter and pour pineapple around it.

But this is not the only way to serve pineapple with fish or meat. Slices of it can be browned with various dishes, and it can also be combined into a most delicious

Pineapple Stuffing: Mix two cups soft bread crumbs, two tablespoons melted butter, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one-half cup finely chopped celery and one-half cup well drained, crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Moisten with the syrup drained from the pineapple and use as a stuffing for baked fish or meat.*

Fruit Insurance

YOU can refuse to see the man who calls unheralded and unsummons and offers you a policy, but your doctor will tell you that there is one kind of insurance it is neither wise nor prudent to ignore at any season of the year. That is the insurance of contented good health that comes from a proper proportion of fruit in the diet. Fortunately, many fresh fruits are available at this season, and there is also one fruit that combines excellently not only with other fruits in cocktails and salads, but with meats and sauces in hot dishes, and that is available at any season. This fruit is the luscious pineapple which is picked and clapped into a can at the very moment of its prime ripeness in the many fields of Hawaii (we knew we'd use that word again) (we knew we'd use that word again).

An Infinite Variety

It offers you an infinite variety of ways to vary your menu at little expense during the hot summer months when appetites are lagging and finicky, and here are some of the very latest of them.

Carrot Salad: Prepare a package of lemon flavored gelatin according to directions but use pineapple syrup from the can for part of the liquid. When the gelatin begins to set, add one and one-half cups grated, raw carrots, one medium-sized can of crushed pineapple and one-fourth cup minced green pepper. In the bottom of each individual mold place a slice of sweet tomato pickle. Pour the gelatin in the molds and place in cold place. Unmold and serve with boiled dressing and minced green pepper and parsley.

Sardine Canapés: Slice bread one-fourth inch thick and cut in rounds the size of a slice of pineapple. Toast the bread and butter it lightly. Dip slices of pineapple in flour and fry to a golden brown. Place on the toast. Spread with a mixture made by adding four chopped sour pickles and mayonnaise to two cans of boned and mashed sardines. Top with mayonnaise.

Dainty Desserts

Pineapple Betty: Mix one and one-half cups drained crushed Hawaiian pineapple, one cup soft bread crumbs, three tablespoons brown sugar and one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon. Put in a greased baking dish and over it pour one-half cup of the syrup drained from the pineapple. Dot the top with pieces of butter, using one tablespoon in all. Bake in a moderate oven until brown, and serve hot or cold with a pudding sauce or whipped cream.

Pineapple Ice Cream: Dissolve five cups sugar in one quart of milk, add one quart of cream, juice of two lemons and three oranges, and one can of crushed pineapple. Freeze slowly, and, when of mushy consistency, add five egg whites beaten until stiff. Freeze until firm.

Pineapple Sundae Sauce: Mix one cup each of crushed pineapple, sugar and water. Boil fifteen minutes, chill and serve on ice cream. This sauce is also good on cake or puddings.

A Salad and Soufflé

Frozen Fruit Salad: Peel and dice four oranges and pour over four sliced bananas and the juice of one lemon. Add contents of a can of white cherries and a can of pineapple. Sweeten to taste and fold in one cup mayonnaise and one cup whipped cream. Freeze in molds for four hours. Unpack, slice and serve on lettuce.

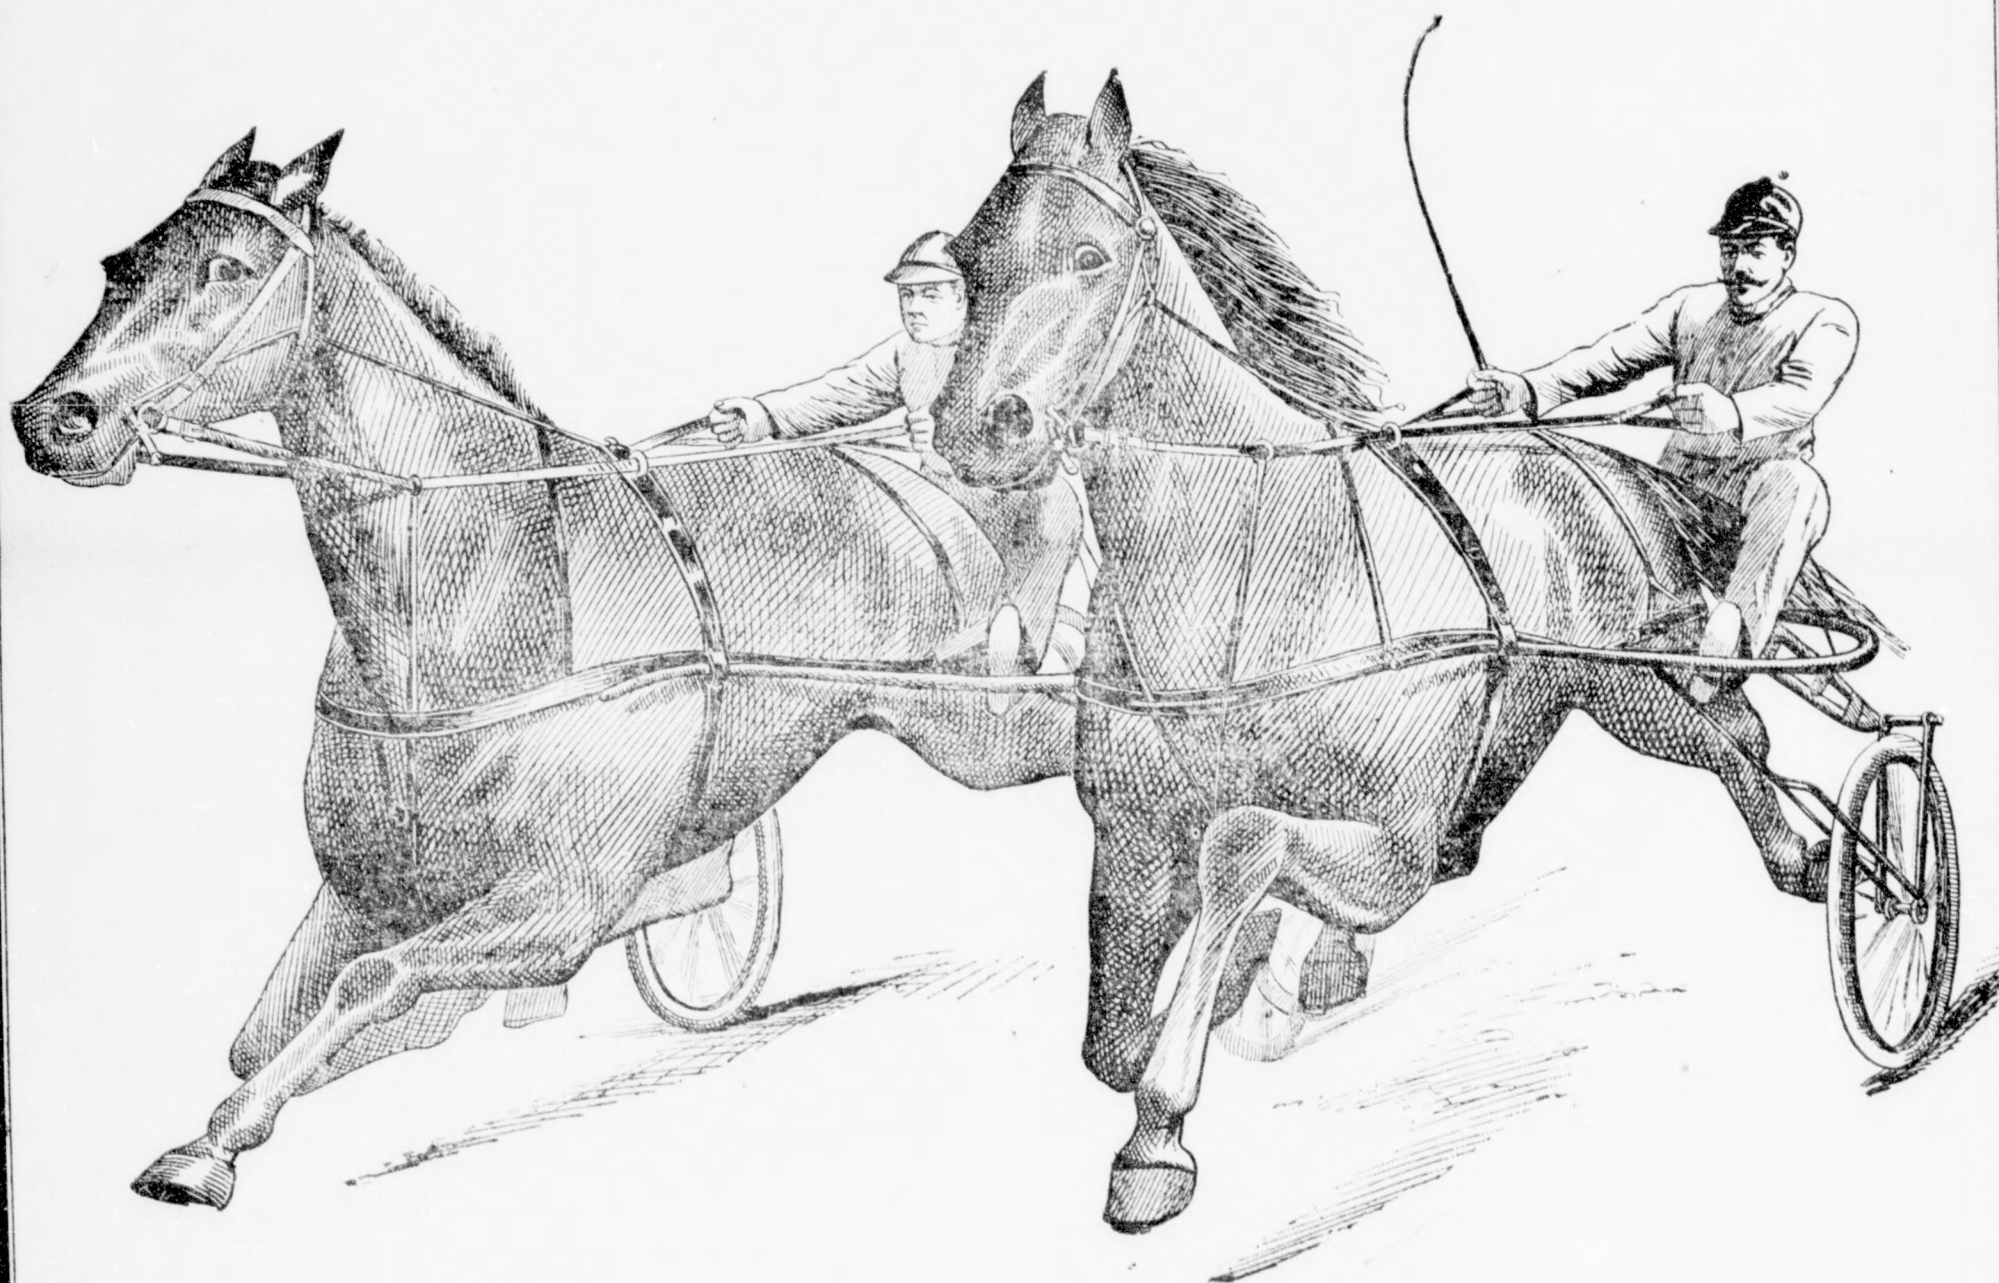

Pineapple Soufflé: Soak one and one-half tablespoons gelatin in cold water. Add the grated rind and juice of one lemon, one-half cup sugar and one-eighth teaspoon salt to three beaten egg yolks. Cook in double boiler until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from the heat, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add two-thirds cup of crushed pineapple and set in a cold place until mixture begins to stiffen. Fold in one-half cup cream, whipped, and three stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a mold and set in a cold place until firm.*

Read the ads in this paper & save money

MEET ME AT THE Fulton COUNTY FAIR

FULTON, KENTUCKY

September 2, 3, 4, 5, 1931

FOUR BIG DAYS AND NIGHTS

Pace and trotting races daily.

Good music all the time.

Good Agricultural and Live Stock Exhibits and Poultry Show.

Floral Hall Filled with Exhibits.

Lots of Free Attractions.
Big Carnival Company on Grounds.

J. W. GORDON, President.

R. H. WADE, Secretary.

WHETHER YOUR BUILDING REQUIREMENTS

are large or small, regardless of your plans and ideas in this line, our experience is freely at your service.

If you tell us what you want to accomplish often times we can suggest plans for saving you money and serving your purpose better.

Whether you buy of us or not, we want everyone in this community who has a need in our line to come to us freely for building advice.

PIERCE, CEQUIN & CO.

Phone 33

Fulton, Ky.

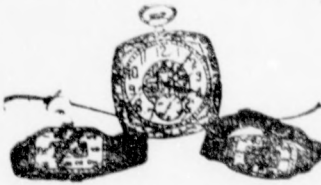

Just Received the New Styles in Engraven Visiting Cards and Wedding Announcements.

We invite You to call and see them.

R. S. Williams

Sam C. DeMyer & Son Jewelers

I. C. R. R. INSPECTORS.
Repair Work a Specialty.

Beautiful line of High-grade Watches at low prices.
224 Lake Street, Fulton, Ky.

Phone 794

When you want High-grade

PRINTING

Current Wit and Humor

JUST THE MAN

The man was in the hospital after his first serious attempt to knock a train off the tracks.

"I fear I can be of very little assistance to you," he was comfortably assured by the doctor. "I'm a veterinary surgeon."

"Ah!" exclaimed the victim, "you're just the man for my case. I was a jackass for ever attempting to cross the track ahead of that train."

Partially Equipped

"That haughty young man said he one of our millionaires," said the inquisitive stranger.

"No," answered Miss Cayenne. "He has all the airs, but none of the millions."—Washington Star.

An Indorsement

"Do you regard the political future of this country as secure?"

"Yes," answered Senator Sorghum. "I have thought the matter over once and I still consider politics an entirely safe investment."—Washington Star.

False Alarm

"Would you still love me if I told you I'd sold my car?"

"You haven't, have you?"

"No."

"Of course I'd still love you, darling."

HOW SHE WOULD DRESS

Wife—I ought to dress according to the fashion book, I think.
Hubby (sternly)—You'll dress according to my check book, my dear.

On Exhibition

A horse shows what they call it. Observant people know that in reality it is a human being show.

The Test

"What's the difference between dancing and marching?" asked the girl of her clumsy partner.
"I don't know," he replied.
"I thought so," she said. "Shall we sit down?"

Tough Luck

Slinks—Lamb's what so scarce this year those Wall Street wolves must be going round with a lean and hungry look.
Jinks—They now can sympathize with the mothers who have had to feed on the modern bathing suits.

Accommodating

Mistress—My husband writes his engagements on his shirt cuff. I hope you don't mind.
Laundry Maid—O, no, ma'am. I loves a bit of scandal.

POACHED EGGS DEFINED

Mrs. Newlywed—What are poached eggs?
Mr. Newlywed—Ones that are stolen, I guess.

Of Course Not

"I'm going to make a parachute jump from 10,000 feet tomorrow."
"What if the parachute doesn't open?"
"Oh, that won't stop me."

Lost Is Right

Mistress (interviewing cook)—Supposing I wanted you to cook an elaborate dinner for about 15 people—would you be lost?
Cook—That's just 'ow the last folks lost me.—Humorist.

As to Size, Yes

"Junior, you really must not eat so much candy! Don't you want to grow up to be a big man like your daddy?"
"I wanna grow up to be a big man, all right."

Improved Uniform International

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. J. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago)
(© 1931, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for August 23

A GOSPEL FOR ALL MEN

LESSON TEXT—Acts 10:1-11:18.
GOLDEN TEXT—For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek; for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Gospel for Everybody.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Gospel for Everybody.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—First Steps in World Brotherhood.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Gospel for All Men.

In the lesson for August 2 we saw the missionary program of the church broadened to include the Samaritans. We see in this lesson the program still widening and embracing the Gentiles. The conversion of Cornelius illustrates the breaking down of "the middle wall of partition" (Eph. 2:14).

1. Cornelius (10:1, 2).

1. His official position (v. 1). He was a Roman officer over a company of one hundred soldiers.

2. His character (v. 2). a. A devout, pious man. b. A praying man. c. A charitable man.

11. The Supernatural Preparation for the Gentiles (10:3-33).

1. Two visions were given (vv. 3-16). (a). The vision of Cornelius (vv. 3-8). While engaged in prayer an angel of God announced that his prayer and alms had come before God as a memorial and instructed him to send to Joppa for Peter who would tell him what to do. (b). The vision of Peter (vv. 9-16). This took place while Peter was praying (v. 9). He saw a certain vessel containing clean and unclean animals let down from heaven, and heard the command, "Rise Peter, kill and eat." This vision indicated that both Jews and Gentiles were accepted on high.

2. A messenger sent from Cornelius (vv. 17-22). Peter was greatly perplexed over what he had seen, but not for long, for messengers from Cornelius made inquiry at the gate for him. The Spirit informed Peter of the matter and bade him go, nothing doubting.

3. The meeting of Cornelius and Peter (vv. 23-33). (a). Peter took six witnesses along (v. 23). He had the good judgment to know that on a matter of so great importance he must have witnesses. (b). Cornelius waiting for Peter (v. 24). He had such confidence in God's instruction that he called to gather his kinsmen and friends to be ready on Peter's arrival. (c). Cornelius about to worship Peter (vv. 25, 26). Peter repudiated his act and protested that he himself was but a man. (d). The reciprocal explanation (vv. 27-33). Peter explained to him how God had taken from him his Jewish prejudice and asked why Cornelius had sent for him. Cornelius explained that God had instructed him to send for Peter.

III. Peter's Sermon (vv. 34-43).

1. The Introduction (vv. 34, 35). He showed that God is no respecter of persons but that in every nation those that fear God and work righteousness are accepted of him. This does not mean that Cornelius was already in a state of grace, and therefore saved, but that he was eligible to hear the gospel and accept the terms of salvation.

2. His discourse (vv. 36-43). In the discourse he touches briefly upon the mission of Jesus, showing that by means of his baptism and the anointing of the Holy Spirit he was qualified for his work as mediator. He then exhibited the work of Christ: (a). In his life (vv. 36-38). He went about doing good, even casting out demons as a proof that God was with him. (b). In his death (v. 39). The just suffered for the unjust that he might bring us to God (1 Pet. 3:18). (c). In his resurrection (vv. 40, 41). God raised him up the third day showing openly that Christ was his Son (Rom. 1:4) and that his sacrificial work was satisfactory (Rom. 4:25). In this discourse is set forth (1) The basis of salvation—the crucifixion of Christ. (2) The scope of salvation—whosoever believeth in him. (3) The method of appropriating salvation—believing on him.

IV. The Holy Spirit Poured Out (vv. 44-48).

This was a new Pentecost. As the gospel was entering upon its widest mission, the Spirit came in new power.

V. Peter Vindicates His Ministry to the Gentiles (11:1-18).

Being called to account for having visited and eaten with Gentiles, Peter rehearsed the whole story showing how God had set his seal upon the work by the miraculous gift of the Spirit.

Ingratitude

The saddest example of ingratitude is the poverty of the thankfulness of those who are. In some measure, thankful for God's greatest gift. It is strange and melancholy that Christians should love, and love so little; should be thankful, and love so little; should be thankful, and love so little. —Alexander MacLaren.

The Heavenly Father's Love
Our heavenly Father is no Elfin. He will not suffer his children to sin without rebuke. His love is too intense for that. —Sourceon.

NOW Is the time

To start your Pullets on

Biddie's Choice Laying Mash

for November and December egg production.

Manufactured and distributed by BROWDER MILLING CO.

Fulton, Ky.

FREE ACTS at FULTON COUNTY FAIR

Prof. Walter W. Raub

Americas most famous balloon stunt worker, will be brought to Fulton this year to perform at the

FULTON COUNTY FAIR

September 2-3-4-5

Don't miss this thrilling event.

IT IS FREE to Fair visitors.

Phone 794

When in need High-Grade

PRINTING

Fulton Advertiser

R. S. WILLIAMS
Editor and Publisher
Published Weekly at 446 Lake St.
Subscription $1.00 per year

Entered as second class matter
Nov. 28, 1924, at the Post Office at Fulton, Kentucky, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

THIS MIGHT WORK

Now that the hunting season is drawing near, a plan recently offered in Nebraska should be of more than passing interest to hunters and land-owners in every part of the country. It might, too, be put into effect around Fulton with considerable success.

It is called the "script plan," and in brief it answers these questions: When to shoot, how to get birds, and how to pay for them. It provides that the state game commission shall issue books of hunter's "script" or coupons. Each book will have a specified money value. When a hunter enters a farmer's land he leaves his book of coupons with that farmer, until he has satisfied his hunting desires on that property. Then he returns and counts his game to the landowner, who takes out a coupon for each bird that is killed. The value would be fixed by the state, and not the landowner. The book, with its remaining coupons would then be returned to the hunter, and he could use it in a similar way on other farm lands where the owner permitted hunting. The owner of the land, who removed the coupons, would redeem them at the court house in his county at their face value.

It is said that sportsmen, conservationists and farmers are enthusiastic over this working arrangement which vests the title to game birds in the people of the state and prevents slaughter for the purpose of sale. It still provides sport for the hunter, and repays the farmer on whose lands the birds feed and propagate.

Mr. W. J. Brown, one of the oldest and highest esteemed citizens of this community, says the hunting season for squirrels should begin in October. This would give ample time for the young to grow old enough to take care of themselves. This is a thoughtful and wise suggestion.

DELICIOUS PEACHES

The editor was the recipient of a nice basket of peaches this week from our friend, Hunter Whitesell. They were delicious for eating and unusually good for canning. He has an ad in today's paper quoting prices 50c and 75c per bushel.

666

LIQUID or TABLETS

Relieves a Headache or Neuralgia in 30 minutes, checks a Cold the first day, and checks Malaria in three days.
666 Salve for Baby's Cold.

Dr. Nolen W. Hughes

Osteopathic Physician

Nervous Diseases and General Practice.

224 Church St. Fulton, Ky.

Hand us a dollar bill and get your name on the Advertiser list as a regular subscriber.

BALDRIDGE'S

5-10 and 25c Store, Fulton, Ky.

Is the authorized State dealer for School Books

and Supplies for Fulton County.

When in need of School Books and Supplies get them at Baldridge's, Fulton.

SOMETHING WRONG

The following clipping is from an Amarillo, Texas newspaper. It was written by a reader of the paper to the editor. Reading it, one gathers the general impression that somewhere, somehow, something is wrong:

There seems to be so much talk about our so-called Republican prosperity, I believe 'tis my duty to write my views on same and help to analyze the situation as far as possible, so's we can make up our minds that we had auto change our ways of living and so forth. I have taken my own case for instance. I see my mistakes and many others have acted likewise. I bought a Ford instead of a farm, and it is worn out, but the farm I figured on is still O. K. I invested in a radio instead of a cow, and the radio gives static instead of milk. I am feeding five nice hounds which answer to the name of Red, Red Wing, Slobber, Jake and Barnum, instead of five pigs. I had our piano tuned instead of the well cleaned out. I spent all my cash in 1928 and used my credit in 1929, and traded up my future wages on installments in 1930, so bad times caught me in bad shape last fall. If I had spent my last $10 for flour and meat instead of gas and oil, I would have been O. K. I built a nice garage last year instead of covering my barn, and I loafed in a mountain two weeks instead of being in my pasture fixing it so's my cow won't get out, but she is dry and mortgaged to boot for two blankets my wife bought from an agent, instead of paying the preacher. I am on cash basis now, but ain't got no cash. I am tied to the end my rope, and the man I am working for is busted on account of nobody wouldn't pay him and his cotton won't sell 'cause nobody won't buy no cotton clothes; all the gals wear slick silky stockings and silk underclothes right here in our cotton patches. I had $4 saved up for a rainy day, but it turned dry and I spent the $4 for two inner tubes. I tried hard to make both ends meet with a turnip patch, but when I got turnips ready to sell, everybody else was selling turnips for nothing, and the market was glutted. I am worried plum to the bone and my wife's kinfolks are coming over next Tuesday to spend two weeks. Write or phone if you hear of any relief from the government coming down my way. I am willing to be either Democrat or Republican for a few weeks, if that will help out any.

Route 1, Fulton, Ky.

(Ebernezer Community)
Miss Edna Oliver spent the week-end with her grandmother, Mrs. A. T. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Evans and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wade and son, Chester B., returned home Tuesday, after a week's visit with relatives in Arkansas and Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Koonce and daughters visited Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Asbel Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Cruce and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Taylor of Cayce.

A crowd of young people enjoyed a picnic at the Bondurant Spring Friday.

Miss Doris Pewitt and Mr. John Jones of Cayce drove over to Fulton Saturday night and were quietly married in the presence of a few friends. They will make their home with the groom's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Wade and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Corum Sunday.

THE FULTON ADVERTISER

Electrified Communities

WE ARE proud of the fact that more than 60,000 homes in Kentucky communities are served electrically by our own company and associated companies, and we speak of them as "electrified homes."

Just because a house is wired for electricity and it is used for lighting purposes does not make it an electrified home — any more than a factory using electricity for lighting only can be termed "electrified."

An electrified home is one where lighting is attractive as well as utilitarian; where electric appliances have displaced the broom, the washtub, the flat iron and other relics of a past age; where electricity is performing the many tasks it can perform and doing them more efficiently.

It is the home where there is a home maker—not a housekeeper.

If your working day is from early morning until late at night, if you have little or no time for yourself, you are doing work that electricity can and will do for you for a few cents a day.

Kentucky Utilities Company

APPLICANTS FOR DEGREES MURRAY STATE COLLEGE

Miss Mary Donoho, Fulton, Ky., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Donoho, entered Murray State College in September, 1926, after graduating from Fulton High School. She is an applicant for a bachelor of arts degree in August.

Miss Donoho's major subject is home economics, while her minor is primary education. She will teach home economics in the high school of Livermore, Ky., this year.

Miss Donoho is a member of the Household Aras club, Les Camarades Francais, Les Savants, and Wilsonian society.

"This college is a background of my life," stated Miss Donoho.

Miss Mozelle Williams was among the first students in Murray State College to choose the fine arts course as a major subject. She completed her art work in May and is an applicant for a B. S. degree in August.

Miss Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Williams, Fulton. She is a graduate of Water Valley High School. She taught in the rural schools of Graves county for three years. She is a member of the Wilsonian society, English club, and the Christian Association.

Miss Williams is planning to take a commercial course in Bowling Green next year.

PEACHES FOR SALE

Drive over to Clinton Nursery, one mile east of Clinton, and buy your fancy peaches, any day in the week. Only 15 minutes' drive. Drive over after supper and bring your neighbors and baskets. Fifty cents to 75 cents per bushel. O. PIPER.

Smith's Cafe

Neat and Attractive Service and Food the Best

It is a pleasure to go to this cafe for a lunch or full meal.

Route 4 Fulton Ky.

(New Hope Community)

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jackson, in Fulton. Mr. and Mrs. R. Reid of St. Louis spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Kendall.

The P. T. A. meeting at New Hope school Friday night was well attended and very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Fannie Woodard of Grand Rivers is visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Irvine for a few days.

Messrs. W. B. Finch, A. E. Gwynn, C. E. Benedict attended a centennial celebration Sunday at Thompson's Creek church, near Dresden, Tenn.

The good old days were those when young people did not live at home after they'd been married.

Send the Advertiser a friend one year—only $1.00.

"THAT CERTAIN PARTY"

The Latest Summer Fashions for Musicians as Conceived by Armando, Internationally Famous Caricaturist.

ARMANDO explains the whimsical attire which he has used in his pen portraits of some of the many stars now shining so brightly in the new Lucky Strike Summer Party Orchestra, as the only appropriate "dress" for musicians during the hot months, and insists that any way you look at "it" summer parties would be dull affairs without little girls (the continental viewpoint). Reading, or looking, from left to right, we behold, B. A.

Rolfe, dainty leader of the orchestra; Andy Sanalla, guitarist extraordinary, and orchestra leader in his own right; Rosa Gorman, who plays twenty-seven instruments (one at a time); Phil Napoleon (the little girl with the big mustache), who yields to no one when it comes to breaking your heart with a trumpet, and last, but by no means least, Nana Bryant, famous stage actress, who is one of the program's distinguished announcers.

Hand us a dollar bill and get your name on the Advertiser list as a regular subscriber.