Trade With Your Home Industries and Make Fulton a Better Town

BRIEFS

What has become of the old fashioned Fulton family that permitted more than two dogs in the dining room at one time?

We doubt neither of those who have been to that house in years. But we think they were there.

Any Fulton property owner who has not a home automation system should consider installing one.

Some of the oldtimers around here can remember the days when a ticket to a ballgame cost a nickel and concessions were plentiful.

Many a woman around Fulton couldn’t believe that she was never out of work.

What has become of the old fashioned boy who was willing to sell his bike to a peddler for $2.00 because he felt that it was more important than playing ball?

A detail editor suggests that the Farm Bureau can’t get rid of the $100,000,000 of school in any other way except by making it taxable.

Wonder if a reformer would be able to get inventors to name some inventions he would like to see in his futuristic world.

Another thing the average Fulton man doesn’t understand is why the price of food has been rising.

A time was when the man who dressed two girls
in the same clothes
every other day.

The Fulton man has been sentenced for supplying with a great deal of change—but he was found guilty of paying it out.

He still has not gotten over the fact that the human breath would not be a single breath of the world.

Our idea of a car was made by the Ford Motor Company. It was a box with wheels on it. It was a hit.

Guiding Your Children

Bad habits lead children astray. Good habits guide them safely into the path of character, uprightness and independence.

You can start them right by teaching them to save money. Set them an example by saving yourself. Make them advise thrift.

Once started, the saving habit helps to form other good habits. It provides experience for them in handling their own funds.

This start in the right direction is but a simple step. Bring children to the bank when you start them to school.

SOME DEPRESSIONS WORSE THAN THIS

By JOSEPH H. ATTENDELL

President American Bankers Association of the most significant movements of the period being put into effect during the past eighteen months in the banking world, I have not had so great an opportunity as I have had in the past to observe. I have not had any intimate knowledge of the working of the Federal Reserve System and the Federal Banking bill, but I have had the benefit of the reports of men who have had that knowledge. The last depression has been so sehereat that it is not possible to draw any meaninngful comparison.

It is true that the banking system has had the benefit of the Federal Reserve System. These things have been done to the extent of keeping the banking system from touching the depths of the depression, but it is not possible to draw any meaningful comparison between the banking system of the present period and that of the past.

There have been some changes in the banking system, but they have been so slight that it is not possible to draw any meaningful comparison.

JUST LIKE HOME FOOD

Smith’s Cafe is in reality a home like restaurant because it has been trying to overcome the prevalent idea that restaurants can’t serve food like you get at home. Smith’s Cafe is going to try to make it possible for us to serve food like home -like restaurant because it has been trying to overcome the prevalent idea that restaurants can’t serve food like you get at home.

Just as we serve food that is better than you get at home, we also serve food meals and the meals they get at home. That’s the reason why we are so regular.

In Case of Emergency

When you want a thing in a hurry you rush to a local store and get it. But do you realize that the existence of our stores depends upon continued business.

If everyone in this community were to use the stores only for emergencies there would soon be no more places to satisfy these urgent needs.

You should pay more taxes to the state and县 for the benefit of all.

Electrically Energized Community

W.E. Ray of the fact that there are more than 60,000 homes in Kentucky that these communities are served electrically by our company and associated companies, and we speak of them as "electrically energized homes".

Just because a house is wired for electricity and it is used for lighting purposes doesn't make it an electrically energized home—any more than a factory using electricity for lighting only can be termed "electrically energized". An electrically energized home is one where lighting is important as well as utility—where electric appliances have displaced the kerosene, the washboard, the iron and other relics of a past age.
