THE LISTENING POST

● I am quite certain that the United States has a tough war in prospect. I feel sickeningly certain also that the cost in blood and treasure is going to be staggering. We are going to lose untold thousands of the best manhood we have; we are going to build and lose costly ships and planes in untold number before the peril is ended. Of all these things I feel reasonably certain—but I am quite certain also that we can accomplish the job. When I do not know, nor do I know just how at the moment. That pattern will develop, however, as the months pass along.

● With all these things in mind, however, I still believe that we are overestimating the power of Japan at the present time. Until Pearl Harbor we went too far to the other extreme. Our naval men told us that Japan could be bottled up in a matter of weeks and be left to stew in her own juice until they made peace. That idea, as we see now, was all wrong, but it seems to me that we are now swinging to the other extreme and attributing to Japan the superhuman powers that Hitler has always claimed. Neither nation is superhuman. Both have achieved their smashing success by the same method. That method was to plan for war long before war started and subordinate every national effort to the one end. Germany began arming years before the war started; Japan has been making ready for this war with the United States for more years than you realize. When the Japs struck at Pearl Harbor they were merely carrying out a plan which had been planned for at least a decade. We should not be surprised that their efforts have succeeded so well. Any nation, willing to pay the price, willing to practice dishonor at all times in all international dealings, willing to doublecross even its best friends, can wage war successfully at the beginning.

● The long range view of the war in the Far East, while sobering, cannot favor Japan. While her soldiers and sailors and air-men have ranged over vast distances, while they have occupied and held many rich territories, there is nothing to prove that these places can be held once a determined and well equipped Allied force starts in to retake those places. It will require the most powerful air and sea fleets, along with plenty of ground troops, but once the parade starts Japan will fade swiftly. Japan can eventually be blockaded with some degree of success, and while her drives have brought her into possession of vast supplies, the line of supplies must still be held open to Japan. Submarines and bombers are going to cut those lines before many months, in my opinion.

● Nor do I fully believe that the Japanese universally are glad and willing to die. I have noticed that many fighter pilots who were shot down have bailed out to be captured. That does not indicate that they wanted to die. Had they preferred death they could have gone down with their ships and saved a lot of fuss and bother. Likewise, the matter of Pearl Harbor does not prove this universal desire to die for king and country. Had all the pilots of those Jap bombers been willing and anxious to die they could have destroyed every ship and every dock in Pearl Harbor. They did make quite a shambles—worse than many of us now know—but they appeared quite anxious to dump their bomb loads and then get back to the base, wherever it was.

● I have an idea that the Japanese do have a considerable number of such fanatics, but I have a further idea that this national characteristic is one which has been deliberately built up in order to create fear among enemies and possible enemies. I have an idea that Japanese troops will break

Army Tests Hemp Grown In State For Making Of Rope Supplies

Washington. —The War Department announced today that the army was turning successfully to domestic and imported products as substitutes for Manila rope, which no longer may be obtained from the Japanese-occupied Philippines. Starting a large-scale research program, the quartermaster corps already was said to have found substitutes in Mexico, Central American and Caribbean areas, and is testing hemp grown in Kentucky and Florida.

With existing reserves and available substitutes, no serious shortage of cordage for the army is anticipated. The army, like the navy, had relied for Manila rope on imports from the Japanese-occupied prov-

Washington. —War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson in two swift moves tonight ordered production of passenger automobiles and light trucks stopped entirely on February 1, and obtained executive approval of his "streamlined" reorganization plan for the industrial front.

Nelson put a final end to speculation over the automotive industry's immediate future by clamping down the lid shortly after taking his plans before the production board's first meeting. Later he spent an hour and 10 minutes with President Roosevelt outlining his organization program.

FDR Gives Approval
On leaving the White House, he told reporters that Mr. Roosevelt had approved a blueprint of the new setup and in response to a question whether it called for reorganization of the entire program, he said:

"Not everything, but we are going to streamline for action. I think you will agree when you see it." It was also reported that Nelson was considering appointment of a single head, to direct the entire industrial conversion effort, including the changeover in the automotive industry.

All Are Affected
The automotive order, stopping production for the military as well as for civilians and exports, applied to the manufacture of all cars and light trucks, with or without tires, and regardless of any contracts entered into by the manufacturers. Nelson made it clear that "all foreseeable military demands" for light trucks and automobiles would be satisfied from the stockpile created by recent orders freezing sales of such vehicles.

Manufacturers who are unable to complete their January production quotas by February 1 will be given an addition 10 days in which to shut down assembly lines, Nelson directed, "provided that such continuance does not interfere with conversion of the factory to military production."

Industry's Quota

The industry's over all passenger car quota for January was 204,848 units, and the light truck quota, 24,169 units.

Nelson's action emphasized the urgent need for expending 100 per cent conversion of the automotive industry to mass armament production. Two weeks ago, OPM asked the manufacturers to increase their 1942 war output from the $2,500,000,000 volume planned "before Pearl Harbor" to between $5,000,000,000 and $6,000,000,000.

ince of Davao. The rope, produced from fiber from the abaca plant, represented about 12 per cent of all Philippine exports.

The quartermaster corps has found a satisfactory rope may be made of 50 per cent Manila fiber and 50 per cent sisal from Mexico, which is about 80 per cent as strong as the Philippine product. Also available is another Mexican and Central American product, henequen, which is about 87 per cent as strong as Manila.

Cotton rope may be used for some purposes. Other substitutes include American hemp grown in Kentucky, bowstring hemp grown from Florida to South America, and little from Mexico to Central America.

Argentina Has Until Thursday To Join Anti-Axis Agreement

Rio De Janeiro. —Reluctant Argentina, persistent holdout against breaking relations with Germany, Italy and Japan, has been given until Thursday to decide whether she will join the other Americas in a solid front against the Axis, it was learned tonight.

In response to this virtual ultimatum, the Argentina delegation to the Pan-American conference of foreign ministers was reported to have asked 24 hours' additional time.

Rio De Janeiro. —German and Italian diplomats have orally threatened Brazilian Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha with the statement that rupture in relations between Brazil and the Axis would be regarded as a most unfriendly act, it was learned tonight from an excellent source.

Apparently part of a widespread scheme in Latin America to "torpedo" the conference of foreign ministers in session here, the Axis warning was couched in the most diplomatic platitudes—but it backed immediately.

This source said the threat promptly moved President Getulio Vargas to make the grim declaration at a luncheon the same day that since war had come to the Western Hemisphere, Brazil could no longer be neutral.

Other evidence of Axis intrigue at the conference came from Ezequiel Padilla, Mexican foreign minister.

"We know that Axis agents are working in their well known fashion, which is very skillful, to keep some American countries from breaking off relations," he said in an interview. He added that he had "no concrete information about their actions."

At committee sessions today Mexico offered a suggestion to extend to all nations fighting the Axis the status of non-belligerents.

300 MILLION IS TO BE ASKED TO AID JOBLESS

$24 Weekly Payments Approved By President

Washington. —President Roosevelt late today approved a budget estimate of $300,000,000 for weekly unemployment benefit payments to workers displaced in private industries during their conversion to war production.

Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, made the announcement on leaving the White House after a conference with the President and Budget Director Harold D. Smith.

Estimate to House Today
McNutt said the President would send the estimate to the House tomorrow with a letter of transmittal to Speaker Rayburn. The benefit plan, still to be put in the form of a bill, would provide a maximum of $24 a week for twenty-six weeks to an estimated four million men.

The federal government would contribute the whole $24 where workers are not now receiving state unemployment compensation. In the case of workers who do receive such state aid, the government will make up the difference. Workers receiving the benefits would be required to enter a twenty-six-week training course for war industry under the plan.

Congressional leaders and McNutt estimated after a White House conference last Saturday that the total cost of the government might run between $450,000,000 and $600,000,000. They explained, however, that this figure might be much less if retooling of plants is accomplished in a shorter time.

"We are going to try to keep within the $300,000,000," McNutt told reporters.

ARNOLD CITES PRICE PLOTTING BY BIG FIRMS

Tells House Body Competition Is Choked

Washington. —Thurman Arnold, head of the Justice Department's anti-trust division, told the House small business committee today the defense program had disclosed "a great tendency of established business" to keep competition out of the defense field.

Price ceiling regulations, he added, have developed "many types of conspiracy" to keep up prices of necessary goods, including those of which there is an ample supply.

Elaborating on his charge that big business has shown a tendency to try to keep out competition, Arnold cited as examples a large shipbuilding company's offer to assist a newcomer in the field prepare bid forms upon promise of payment of "5 per cent of its earnings for ten years," and of the offer of another large company controlling vital material to allow new companies to use its patent during the war if they agreed to go out of business when the war ended.

The larger companies, he commented, operate on the theory "we must dominate after the war."

FORMER FULTON BOY IS COMMANDER

Cecil Wheelen, Nashville contractor, formerly of this city, recently volunteered in the Civil Air Patrol, which is made up of volunteers with private planes. Saturday he was notified that he had been made Squadron Commander at Berry Field Airport, Nashville. There will be about 100 men in his squadron and three bombers, which will have to be transported to the various parts of the United States.

WAR AT A GLANCE

FAR EAST—U. S. Army bombers sink Jap cruiser midway between Mindanao and Borneo, leave Jap tanker in flames. Navy motor torpedo boat roars past blazing shore batteries and machine-gun fire inside the entrance to Subic Bay in the Philippines and torpedoes a 5,000-ton Japanese vessel. Filipinos still fight Japs on Mindanao. Planes from Jap aircraft carrier attack Australian air base on island of New Britain, 500 miles from Australian mainland. Thai troops invade Burma, meet resistance from United Nations forces.

AT HOME—Strong counter-measures are taken against enemy submarines operating off eastern seaboard. Submarine activity continues from Cape Hatteras to Newfoundland with attacks on "other vessels" than those already reported, Navy says. President Roosevelt says U. S. war supplies are flowing to all parts of the world.

"UNCONSCIONABLE PROFITS"—House Naval Committee reports "tremendous financial gains" by labor unions and "unconscionable profits" for many defense firms—profits in "many" cases as high as 50 per cent; asks legislation to correct excessive gains by both capital and labor.

REDS ROLL ON—Russians recapture Minsk, routing German army of 100,000 and throwing open a vast area of the Moscow front for their continuing advance.

COMPROMISE PLAN ON FARM PRICE FIXING TALKED

Washington. —A compromise proposal giving President Roosevelt the final word on fixing prices for farm products was reported under consideration tonight by a Senate-House conference committee attempting to iron out differences over the administration's price control bill.

This proposal, reported to have originated in administration ranks, was said to involve giving the secretary of agriculture the right to review farm price ceilings fixed by the price administrator. If the secretary disapproved, the matter then would go to the President for a final decision.

The proposal was said to have been suggested as a substitute for a Senate-approved amendment by Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), providing that no farm price ceiling could go into effect until it was approved by the secretary of agriculture. President Roosevelt previously had objected to this form of dual control over farm prices.

STATE INSURANCE COMPANIES MEET ALL OBLIGATIONS

Frankfort, Ky. —The approximately 500 insurance organizations authorized to operate in Kentucky have met all their obligations during the past three years.

This statement was contained in the insurance division's annual report made public today by Governor Johnson.

The report, submitted by Director Sherman Goodpaster, said that although it was necessary to ask liquidation of one hospitalization association and the reinsurance of another, both were accomplished without loss to policyholders.

Goodpaster attributed the "excellent condition" of insurance companies operating in the state to detailed investigation of each concern seeking to do business in Kentucky and to periodic examination of authorized companies.

Washington. —A fast, tiny motor-torpedo boat of the United States Navy dashed into a Philippines bay, the Navy announced tonight, ran a gauntlet of machine gun and shore battery fire and torpedoed a 5,000 ton Japanese ship.

At the same time, the Navy said strong counter measures had been undertaken against enemy submarines off the Atlantic seaboard. These, it added, attacked several vessels in addition to those reported in the last few days.

The foray of the torpedo boat was apparently intended to support the operations of General Douglas MacArthur against the Japanese on Batan peninsula, between Manila Bay and the South China Sea.

Japs Renew Attacks

Meanwhile, MacArthur reported that the Japs had renewed their attack, concentrating on the center of his line. He also informed the department that six Army bombers had sunk a Japanese cruiser near Kolo, between the Philippines and Borneo, and had left a big Japanese tanker in flames.

This cruiser and the 5,000-ton ship, no description of which was given, brought to a total of 41 the number of Japanese vessels which have been destroyed by the American Army, Navy and Marine Corps in a little more than six weeks of fighting.

U-Boat Activity

U-boat activity from Cape Hatteras to Newfoundland was reported by the Navy. It noted the sinking of three tankers in the last few days, made no mention of a fourth which was attacked but made port, and said there had been attacks on other vessels in American territorial waters.

The question of just what the Axis hopes to accomplish by the submarine attacks led to a division of opinion in the capital. President Roosevelt said, in response to questions, that he did not see any connection between the submarine raids and the current conference of American nations at Rio De Janeiro.

Rubber Seed "Bomb" Is Made As Sowing By Airplane Is Studied

Pittsburg. —Inventor Lytle S. Adams said today the U. S. Department of Agriculture is considering a plan to "bomb" into fruitfulness the vast arid lands of the Southwest to make them produce much-needed rubber, fiber for rope and twine and pasture.

Dr. Adams, who developed the method of picking up and delivering air mail sacks without landing a plane, submitted the idea of planting from low-flying airplanes seeds of the guayule shrub, which yields rubber, and the yucca plant, from which fiber is made.

In this way, he said, enough guayule and yucca could be sown on the 750,000,000 acres of public land available in the Southwest to supply all the Nation's rubber and fiber needs. Dr. Adams says he has invented a machine for sowing the seeds by plane. The seeds, with fertilizers and an insect repellent, would be molded into pellets and dropped from a plane after the region's infrequent rains have softened the earth. Thus, he said, fifty to sixty acres could be planted in five minutes, and the plants would serve to protect grazing lands.

The Senate last week passed legislation authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture to plant 100,000 acres of guayule plants as a means of developing a domestic source of rubber.

SOME ANTIDOTES FOR GOEBBELS' OPIUM

A dispatch telephoned from Stockholm to The New York Times by George Axelsson, on his arrival the other day in Sweden from Berlin, gives very little support to the stories of internal unrest in Germany that have been circulated lately—quite possibly by the German propaganda office itself. Mr. Axelsson found many rumors afloat in Berlin but the people taking the bad news with the good, displaying no emotion and apparently confident that their Army will win the war.

He saw evidences that new strength is being mustered for a spring offensive or whatever Hitler wants. This is true, he said, both in the production of armaments and in the recruitment of fighting men. He saw production managers evidently called to the Capital for conferences and groups of new recruits being marched off to barracks. He reported these recruits "were all sturdy young men who were warmly dressed in their civilian clothes. They were well shod and the majority appeared to be young farmers, whose work on the land is now being taken over by war prisoners."

To Mr. Axelsson's testimony about German manpower and morale may be added a note from our own Bureau of Mines, on the probable resources of the production effort of which he speaks. Our minerals specialists report the Reich "surprisingly well supplied with minerals for essential military needs" and in control of "enormous resources of iron ore, manganese and coal capable of supporting an iron and steel industry that can compete with that of Great Britain and the United States. Great Britain and Canada are only beginning to equal the German output of aluminum and magnesium, according to the bureau. Moreover, the German petroleum problem appears to be largely one of rationing and administration

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(Jan. 21, 1927.)

Miss Doris Huddleston entertained the Lotus Club yesterday at her home on Pearl street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Williams have returned from a vacation of two weeks spent on the Gulf Coast.

Mrs. T. W. Lowe underwent an operation in a Mayfield hospital yesterday and is reported as resting well today.

Sam B. McAllister, well known citizen, died late yesterday at the family home on College street. He was 69 years of age.

The annual Rotary-Ann dinner of the Rotary Club was held last evening at the Usona Hotel. Theodore Kramer gave the address of welcome as president of the club. Herschel T. Smith acted as toastmaster.

The Lions Club, at the regular meeting today, had as guests the Mayor and members of the City Council of Fulton. Principal object of the meeting was to arouse interest in the building of a street system in Fulton.

Jess Robinson, who underwent an operation in a Paducah hospital several days ago, is reported improving rapidly.

Miss Margaret King is reported improving after an illness of several days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon King.

Mrs. Fred Cure has accepted a teaching position in South Fulton High School.

Earl, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Taylor has recovered from a recent illness and has gone back to his school duties.

Wilburn Holloway is reported ill today at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holloway.

and "Germany appears to be in no immediate danger of the failure of her military machine for lack of gasoline and lubricants."

None of these things indicates likelihood of collapse or revolt inside Germany any time soon, but it is obvious enough why Hitler might want us to think otherwise. Our difficulty seems to be in convincing ourselves that we really are going to have to fight what the President has said will be "a hard war, a long war, a bloody war, a costly war." Every time that we take hope that the thoroughly disciplined German people will spare us that by dissension among themselves we take a little dose of opium as insidious as the real opium with which the Japs weaken and corrupt free men in the Far East.

Dr. Goebbels' interest in administering such doses of wishfulness to us is plain enough. They contribute to that amazing complacency which enables Congress, for example, still to dawdle over price control, that complacency which has been at bottom responsible for the bungling and delay which the Truman committee discovered in the war production effort, that complacency which must be shaken off if the war is not to be harder, longer, bloodier and costlier than anyone has dreamed.—Courier-Journal.

A STATEMENT BY THE COCA-COLA COMPANY

We have had numerous inquiries requesting information concerning our rationing of syrup. The facts may be stated simply:

The Federal Government, through OPM, recently issued an order which restricts any manufacturer using sugar (also any jobber or wholesaler) from accepting larger deliveries from an importer or refiner in any one month than were received in the corresponding month of 1940; or from accepting delivery of more than a thirty days' supply (based on 1940 volume); or from using from stocks on hand in excess of a sixty days' supply. These limitations do not apply to supplies needed for orders from the War and Navy Departments, or from an agency of the United States for "Lend-Lease" disposition, or from states of the British Empire or from eight Anti-Axis powers.

Cooperating with this program and conforming to the governmental order, we are supplying bottlers and jobbers throughout the country the same volume of syrup each received in the corresponding month of 1940, with provision of additional allowances for goods now being supplied to the War and Navy Departments.

It should be emphasized that the government itself has forcefully—and, we believe correctly,—assured the country that limitations on the use of sugar have been imposed not because of any existing or impending shortage but to prevent one. The effect of interruptions of sugar shipments from the Philippines and the reduction of supplies from Hawaii may be made less serious by (1) purchase by the United States Government of the bulk of the enlarged Cuban crop of 1942; (2) expanding domestic beet and cane production; (3) the use of surplus corn instead of sugar to produce alcohol for explosives; (4) enlarged receipts from South America and other sources; (5) quota limitations are relaxed; (6) increased use of alternate products, such as corn sugar, maple sugar, honey, etc.

The Coca-Cola Company has substantial stocks of sugar on hand—not recently acquired but gradually accumulated through an extended term of years. This strong inventory position is highly fortunate from a broad economic viewpoint since it represents material that would not otherwise be now in this country as an addition to the nation's supply of food stuffs, available for the eventual use of ourselves or the public.

We are deeply interested in the avoidance of any sugar shortage, and profoundly convinced that the Government is correct in stating that this can be accomplished with the loyal aid of industrial and civilian users. We shall continue to give unqualified support to every appropriate governmental effort in that direction. We are confident that any sacrifice this may entail on the part of anyone concerned will be cheerfully made in the national interests.

Our 1940 volume represented the largest business in our history up to that time, but even after special provision has been made for the requirements of the War and Navy Departments we shall currently produce, while existing limitations are in force, somewhat less Coca-Cola than the public has previously consumed or would now desire.

But this we pledge: the integrity of our product will be unimpaired. The American people can continue to trust its quality.

Now is the time to subscribe for the Leader.

under punishing fire as often as any other race, and I firmly believe that a sufficient number of big bombers over Tokyo often enough will cause the Japs the same worry that they would cause any other nation. When our power really begins to roll we are going to find that the Japs are not unlike other people in many ways. Perhaps they are more fatalistic; certainly they can bear hardships rather well, for they are born to them and have them all their lives, but I am willing to gamble on the fact that not all of them want to die at any given moment.

DAIRYING BOOSTS ALFALFA ACREAGE

Farmers in Logan county, Kentucky, are milking more cows; therefore, they need more alfalfa. Seedlings of this hay crop have been on the increase for several years, and approximately 1,000 acres were added this fall.

"Probably a large proportion of this increase has been due to the increased number of cows milked," explains County Agent John R. Watlington. "Dairymen do not stay in the business long without learning the value of alfalfa hay and the production therefrom during years of drought."

OF W. M. U. ASSOCIATION HELD HERE YESTERDAY

The Quarterly meeting of the West Kentucky Association of Women's Missionary Union was held at the First Baptist church of Fulton yesterday, January 20, with the local W. M. U. host, Mrs. Edmond Wroe, the associate superintendent of Clinton, presided over the meeting in the absence of the superintendent, Mrs. Louis Bratcher of Fulton.

The meeting opened at ten o'clock in the morning with a song and the W. M. U. watchword being repeated in unison. The topic for the day was "Light" and that theme was carried throughout the program. Mrs. Knox Cooper of the Liberty community gave the devotional, which was taken from Psalms 43-3, followed with prayer, led by Mrs. D. C. Markham of Hickman.

Mrs. Earl Taylor, retiring president of the Fulton Union, gave words of welcome and then gave the history of the hymn which is "Jesus, the Light of the World." Her discussion was followed by the singing of that song. Five minute talks were then given by all presidents of the Association W. M. U. on the topic, "Making the Light Shine in Our Association During 1942." Mrs. E. A. Autrey then gave a vocal solo, "He Loveth Even Me," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. S. M. DeMyer. "How Stewardship Church Night in Each Church Can Bring Light to the World" was the topic of a very good article given by Mrs. W. C. Tipton, Jr., of Hickman.

The meeting was then dismissed for lunch and during this hour a well-planned meal was served in the basement of the church, prepared by the Fulton ladies. Approximately seventy-five persons were present for lunch.

The afternoon session opened with a hymn and prayer and Mrs. Wroe conducted the business session, assisted by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Fred Bondurant of Liberty. The usual announcements were then heard. Mrs. Kelly Love was the first to appear on the afternoon program, her topic being "How Our Young People Radiate Light." An inspiration address was given by Mrs. C. A. Gordon, regional vice-president, of Kevil, Ky. Following the benediction the meeting adjourned.

Attending this meeting were ladies from Unions of the nine churches composing the Association—Fulton, Clinton, Bardwell, Arlington, Hickman, Liberty, Poplar Grove, Cunningham and Columbus.

MRS. GUS BARD
ENTERTAINS CLUB

Entertaining her Tuesday afternoon contract club, Mrs. Gus Bard was hostess to two tables of guests yesterday afternoon at her home on Carr street. Included in the guests were seven club members and one visitor—Mrs. J. C. Scruggs. At the conclusion of the games Mrs. Abe Jolley was presented the high score prize and Mrs. Bard served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. J. D. Davis will entertain the club at its next meeting in two weeks.

WEST FULTON P. T. A.
MONTHLY MEETING

The Parent-Teacher's Association of West Fulton schools held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the high school building when an unusually large attendance was enjoyed.

The meeting opened with all singing "America The Beautiful." Mrs. Robert Graham, who was chairman of the program, then presented Miss Ruth Fields' chorus of little girls in a pleasing number.

Mrs. Bertie Pigue, president, assisted by Mrs. Bernard Houston, the secretary, conducted the business session. During this period it was decided that the annual Dad's Night and Founders' Day observance will be held this year on Thursday, February 19.

The program chairman again took charge of the meeting following the business, and presented Mrs. Robert Thompson, Home Demonstration Agent for Fulton County. Mrs. Thompson gave a most interesting and instructive lecture on "Nutrition" with slide illustrations. Each person attending the meeting was presented a booklet on "Nutrition."

That concluded the meeting and a social hour was enjoyed. The hostesses—Mrs. Maxwell McDade and Mrs. Arch Huddleston, Jr., served tea.

of the Federal Reserve System, today advocated a further lowering of individual tax exemption limits, establishment of a withholding tax at the source on individual income and condemned plans for a general sale tax.

Speaking before the New York State Bankers Association, Eccles said he believed corporation excess profits taxes should be increased. His proposal for a lowering of exemptions would apply to married and single wage earners.

He warned his hearers that sacrifices would be inevitable for all and that the war could not be won solely on the basis of the profit motive.

He said a national income of $110,000,000,000 next year would permit collection of $25,000,000,000 to $30,000,000,000 in taxes under existing schedules.

WICKARD ADVISES
PREPARATION FOR BELT TIGHTENING

Washington.—War-caused shortages of sugar, fats and oils by the end of the year are foreseen by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, who says "We'd better prepare for some belt-tightening."

Appearing as Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's guest on her weekly sponsored radio program, Wickard said last night the sugar situation was "perhaps the most critical" and urged that other kinds of sweetening such as honey or syrups be used.

He gave this reassuring picture, however, of America's total food supply.

BULLDOGS WALLOP CAYCE TIGERS THERE LAST NIGHT 37 TO 20

Holding the advantage at all stages and showing considerable improvement over recent games, Coach Giles' Fulton High Bulldogs walloped the Cayce Tigers on the Cayce floor last night 37 to 20. In the final quarter every starting regular was taken out and the reserves carried on with a burst of scoring that was cheering to Fulton fans. Every player on the squad saw service during the game and all played well. It was the second victory of the season over Cayce, the Bulldogs having whipped the Tigers in the first game of the season 28 to 22.

Layne Spence, who has been having tough going in recent games, regained his mastery of the spin shot last night and poured eleven points through the hoops. He also played a splendid floor game and was a tower of strength under the basket at all times.

The game was a bit slow during the first half, the Bulldogs leading only 14 to 6 at the rest period. The second half opened with a burst of scoring for both teams, as Lowe found the basket for the Tigers and almost put the Tigers back into the ball game. However, the Bulldogs also threw their play into high gear and matched the Tigers shot for shot and finally drew away. The team scored 23 points in the last half, marking the highest scoring period of the entire season.

In the final quarter, with the game already on ice, Coach Giles sent in his squad of reserves and Meacham and Holloway scored four points each during the brief period they played.

Lowe was high for the losers, with eight points and played a strong game under the baskets.

Lineup—
Fulton (37) Pos. Cayce (20)
Hart (4) F Shehan (5)
Spence (11) F Nethery
Reed (8) C Lowe (8)
Moore (2) G Liliker (4)
McClellan (4) G Harrison (2)
Substitutions: Dalton, Davis, Sensing, Meacham (4), Holloway (4), Hassel, Cayce, Smith, Singleton, Davis, Bazzell (1), Adams.
Referee—Phillips.

Pups Beaten 29-13

After holding the B team to a margin of only one or two points for three quarters, the Pups fell apart at the beginning of the final quarter and Cayce poured in the points until they held a 29 to 13 lead. At the beginning of the last quarter Cayce was leading only 14 to 11 and the score had been tied several times. The Pups seemed to forget the necessity of guarding in the last period and the Tigers were quick to take advantage of the situation. However, the Pups did show decided improvement over recent games, turning in some good floor work for the greater part of the game. Dick Meacham was high with seven points. Barron and Sensing played well and Charles Tyner showed up well.

SLOT MACHINE GAME TAX NETS FIVE MILLION

Proposed Federal Lottery Is Apparently Doomed

Washington — The Treasury acknowledged Sunday a near $5,000,000 "take" from pin-ball and slot-machines taxes—but, with the machines illegal in some states, was discreetly ignorant of who paid them and where.

A 10-a-year tax on pin-ball games and $50 tax on slot-machines went into effect on October 1. Collections through December 31 totaled $4,708,696.

As for collections by states, they said Wisconsin led with $477,000. No other figures were available, but New York and Minnesota were said to be a close second and third.

When Congress approved the slot machine tax there were arguments from some legislators that it amounted to legalizing gambling and that they might as well go all the way and approve a national Government-controlled lottery.

The lottery idea, a hardy perennial, has come in for increasing agitation since the war with advocates contending $1,000,000,000 a year could be raised that way.

Congress has shown little disposition, however, to entertain the proposal.

One Southern legislator, who preferred to be nameless, summed it up this way:

"I could never support that kind of legislation. A lot of people in my district would buy tickets, and so would I, but I'd never get elected if I voted for it."
