New Industry Coming Here

OVERALL, PANTS AND SHIRT FACTORY FOR FULTON

Tuesday night's meeting at the Chamber of Commerce was a busy and interesting session.

The overall factory was the first number on the program, and President John Earle called on Secretary Joe Davis to outline what was expected of the citizens of Fulton to move the factory here and to tell what the committee accomplished on their visit to Atlanta, present home of the overall factory. The committee was composed of C. P. Williams, John Earle, Joe Davis, Tom Franklin and Arch Huddleston. This committee was not out for a joy ride. It was strictly a business trip to get first-hand information and to exert their best efforts in securing an industry for our city worth while.

They found a live, working institution, busy as bees, working 78 people, with a weekly payroll of more than $800.00.

The factory, valued at $60,000.00, is owned by two young, high-class Jews, with an excellent record in financial circles and good citizenship. It is the only factory they own and when they move to Fulton in December they will bring all their possessions with them and become full-fledged citizens of our city. They will occupy the cigar factory building and start with 50 or 75 employees.

Trades Day
Plans were discussed and a committee appointed to perfect all arrangements for a series of Trade Days. Practically all of the leading business firms have signed up to co-operate in the movement and it will not be long before business will begin to pick up and the people given an opportunity to supply their needs at lowest possible prices.

SEVERAL INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

An automobile accident which came near snuffing out the lives of several well-known citizens of Fulton, Paducah and Crutchfield occurred Sunday night between Sikeston and New Madrid, Mo., when the car they were riding in left the highway and turned over several times.

It is said Mr. Paul Newhouse, driver of the car, going at the rate of 40 or 45 miles an hour, attempted to pass a car in front of him when he spied a car without lights, and to avoid a collision, slapped his foot on the brakes with all force, causing his car to leave the highway and turn over and over.

The injured occupying the car were Mr. Paul Newhouse, Paducah, broken collarbone and bruises, contusions of the shoulders and head; Mrs. Paul Newhouse, Paducah, deep scalp wound and injury to back; Mr. Paul Williams, Crutchfield, cuts and bruises; Mrs. Paul Williams, Crutchfield, broken arm and cuts on head and body; Mrs. Lee Roberts, Fulton, back wrenched, both hands sprained and cuts on body and face; Mr. Lee Roberts, Fulton, leg injured. The only occupant of the car to escape injury was the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Williams. The car was demolished. The injured were brought to the Fulton hospital after first aid treatment.

WANTED—Reliable man with car for local work. Proposition interesting, permanent and profitable. See or write D. D. Brown, Sedalia, Kentucky.

PROMINENT ARKANSAS STATE INSURANCE OFFICIAL RECOVERING

The following article taken from the Arkansas Democrat, published at Little Rock, gives a correct account of Mr. DuLaney's illness:

"A. D. DuLaney, state insurance commissioner and fire marshal, who left Wednesday afternoon to attend the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners at Portland, Oregon, is seriously ill in a Fulton, Ky., hospital, following an attack of acute appendicitis, and an emergency operation, performed at that place early Thursday while he was en route to Chicago.

"According to telephone messages to attaches of state insurance department Thursday, the sudden attack necessitated removal of Mr. DuLaney from a train at Fulton and an immediate operation shortly after midnight.

"Mrs. DuLaney, who was traveling with her husband when he was stricken, advised friends and relatives here Thursday that he is resting comfortably and that his condition is satisfactory, though he will probably be confined in the Fulton hospital 10 days."

It will be pleasing news for the Arkansas folk to learn that Mr. DuLaney is recovering nicely from the operation performed in the Fulton Hospital and will probably be dismissed the first of next week. Under the watchful care of Dr. Horace Luten and Dr. C. A. Wright he is receiving the best of treatment. The entire community has taken a keen interest, too, in keeping in touch with his condition and the hospital has been flooded with beautiful and fragrant flowers from inquiring and sympathetic citizens.

No man in the state of Arkansas stands higher in the esteem of the people than Mr. DuLaney. For 10 years he served the people in the State Senate and four years Commonwealth's Attorney. He was chairman of the State Central Committee during the Hoover-Smith campaign, and is now a candidate for Congress to succeed the late Cong. Otis Wingo.

DELIGHTFUL TEA

Mrs. Jake Huddleston delightfully entertained the members of the Sarah Dean Sunday School class of the First Christian church Saturday afternoon at her home on Eddings street with a tea, complimenting Mrs. J. M. Culver of Bartlesville, Okla., Mrs. Smoot Morris of Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. S. W. Brown of New Albany, Ind., former members of this class for many years.

Mrs. Huddleston's home was beautifully decorated with an abundance of cut flowers.

ANOTHER GOOD MEETING

J. J. Owen ras returned from the Paducah circuit where he held one week meeting in the old Massac church. This is an old church which his father built some forty years ago. God wonderfully blessed his efforts, gave them 39 souls to claim Jesus as their Saviour; nine additions to the church with one of them an old man who was very fond of Old Bro. Cap. Owen. He had assisted in the building of the old church and was gloriously saved Sunday night and was praying that Old Bro. Cap. might know of his conversion.

School Days Are Busy Days

Fulton City Schools Opened Monday With Large Enrollment

The 1931-32 session of Fulton city schools opened last Monday with a large enrollment.

Supt. J. O. Lewis held meetings with principals of the various schools last week to perfect plans for the opening. Everything was systemized so when the opening day arrived no time was lost in preliminaries.

It is now up to the parents to co-operate with the teachers in making this session the best in the history of the schools.

The high school faculty is as follows: W. L. Holland, principal and mathematic; Mrs. Trevor Wayne, science and mathematics; Miss Mary Royster, English; Miss Marian Wright, English and librarian; Miss Mary Martin, history; Miss Sara Catron Smith, Latin and French; Mrs. Ethel Butterworth, commercial; Miss Gladys McMinn, home science; Mr. Uel Killebrew, Manual arts.

Junior High: C. M. Whalen, principal and science; Miss Lucy Rennie, mathematics; Miss Pauline Thompson, social science; Mrs. Hugh Pigue, English; Miss Clarette Lewis, English and health.

Carr Institute: C. M. Whalen, principal; Miss Lee Ella Lowe, fifth grade; Miss Elizabeth Butt, fourth and fifth; Miss Avandelle Green, third and fourth; Miss Fern Snow, third; Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, second; Miss Louise Binford, first and second; Miss Fannie Lee Nix, first.

Terry-Norman: Mrs. Jessie Lee Flemming, principal and sixth grade; Miss Katherine Williamson, fourth and fifth; Miss Dulcie Buckingham, second and third; Miss Tulula Brann, first.

Mrs. Lois Hindman, supervisor of music.

Milton school (colored): D. G. Rose, principal and advanced grades; Juanita Tucker, intermediate grades; Margaret Wheeler, primary grades.

The modern girl would much rather have Opportunity come to her with a ring than with a knock.

FULTON SCHOOLS SHOW INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

High School Shows Larger Per Cent of Increase

The Fulton City School system shows a net increase of 15 over last year at the beginning, according to figures released Tuesday by Superintendent J. O. Lewis. The total enrollment the first day of this year was 838, compared with 823 last year.

NEW MANAGER NOW IN CHARGE

Mr. S. S. Thomas, of Waverly, Tenn., is now in charge of the local store of Crawford-Gatlin, Inc., succeeding J. C. Wiggins, who recently resigned after several years as manager of the store here. Mr. Thomas comes highly recommended as a merchant and will continue to render the same high-grade service that Mr. Wiggins did. Fulton people will welcome him to the city.

WON PRIZES

Miss Florence Martin Bradford of this city was awarded two first prizes and two second prizes on art work at the Gibson County fair in Trenton last week. The two firsts were on a landscape and figure in water colors. This Fulton girl is a very talented artist, and many friends will be interested in this news.

WELCOME VISITOR

W. W. Ennis, of Buffalo, N. Y., was in the city Monday shaking hands with old friends and acquaintances. Mr. Ennis formerly lived in Fulton and was employed by the late J. N. Hall as linotype operator, setting the type for the Baptist Flag and Daily Leader. He and his wife left Fulton about 29 years ago and have been successfully engaged in the newspaper business in New York.

He was accompanied by a fine-looking young man, whom he introduced as a thoroughbred Yankee. Said his wife and children were enjoying good health, but refused to accompany him on the long motor trip during the summer. He looked very little older than he did when he left Fulton.

CAUSE OF ACCIDENTS

From headquarters of the American Auto Association comes a report to the effect that the toll of death and total of accidents this year promises to be the largest since the auto was invented. That in itself is of interest to every motorist, but of far more importance is the added statement that a vast number of these accidents could have been averted had drivers resorted to hand signals at all times.

Here is something every driver around Fulton should think over. The first thing to learn in operating a car is the proper use of hand signals. Left hand extended straight out means a left turn; left hand extended upward means right-hand turn; left hand extended downward means slow down or full stop. Nothing could be simpler. A ten-year-old boy can master the signals in five minutes. Yet deaths are occurring somewhere every day, and accidents are happening every hour, simply because some motorists neglect to hand signal their intentions so that other drivers may know what they are about to do.

It would seem unnecessary to pass state laws to make a man protect himself, for that is exactly what hand signals do for an auto driver. But unless they are more generally observed the time is coming when such laws will be necessary. It's no trouble to stick out your hand and signal your intention. It costs nothing. Then why not safeguard your own life and property by doing it? If motorists will ask themselves that question and then answer it as they know it should be answered there will be fewer accidents around here—and everywhere else—instead of a constantly increasing number of them.

ARLINGTON BANK CASHIER RETURNS HOME

Posts $5,000 Bond For Appearance on Charge of Taking $10,000

Arlington, Ky.—A. B. Bogle, cashier of the Bank of Arlington, returned to his home at Milburn, Friday.

He had been missing since Aug. 29, when the bank was closed. An investigation of the bank's accounts revealed a shortage of $10,000, and Bogle was charged with embezzlement of that amount.

He called officials from his home, notified them of his presence, and immediately posted $5,000 bond.

Brieflets

One thing the depression has done for some Fulton families is to make the baby's bank a fine thing for holding used razor blades since the money was dumped out.

The man who buys yeast, raisins and sugar at the grocery store can divert suspicion if he'll order a little salt and pepper along with them.

Maybe the reason China prefers to keep on at war is because she sees what peace has done to all the other countries.

Many a June bride who proudly swept up the church aisles a few months ago is now sourly sweeping up the kitchen floor.

The Fulton man who can't afford a new auto this year can console himself with the thought that next year's models will have a lot of improvements on them.

Judgment day will be here when there is as much charity in this country as there is faith and hope.

It's strange that they say there are 6,000,000 unemployed Americans when everybody is busy telling how to increase employment.

Any man in Fulton has a right to borrow trouble. But we do insist that he hasn't any right in going around lending it to his friends.

Wrinkles are a sure sign of age in everything but prunes, nutmegs, trousers and auto-unable fenders.

Some men get their education at school and some get it by mail in the shape of fake oil stocks.

It's pretty hard to get a Fulton man who is out of a job to believe that Satan finds work for idle hands to do.

If you think you're good at solving problems try this one. How old is a middle-aged woman.

As a matter of fact the man who lives within his income never gets as much credit as the man who doesn't.

How many Fulton old-timers ever expected to live to see the day when they couldn't tell a dance from a wrestling match?

We regret to say that it has taken the United States longer to whip one man (Al Capone) than it took the Allies to whip Germany.

Whatever became of the old-fashioned Fulton man who made foot-scrappers out of beer bottle caps nailed upside down on a nice board?

Laffoon Opens Democratic Campaign Pledging Honesty And Economy for Kentucky

Program Is Outlined For Better Handling of State Business.

Plans for Highways, Institutions and Schools Are Given Approval.

For the citizens of Kentucky—lower taxes, rigid economy in state government, a business administration, better schools, more highways, modern charitable and penal institutions, promotion of general prosperity to benefit the farmer, the capitalist, the manual laborer and white-collar worker alike.

To this program Judge Ruby Laffoon pledged himself and his party in a notable speech with which he opened his campaign for governor at a huge Democratic rally at Winchester on September 12.

"In simple words made plain," the Democratic standard bearer pointed out the costly and tragic failures of Republican government, both national and state. He electrified his audience with an eloquent plea for a return to competence, honesty and simplicity in government according to Jeffersonian tenets.

A summary of Judge Laffoon's speech follows:

Never within the memory of one now living has such distress been witnessed on every hand in our country. Distressed and heart-broken men and women are crying "what shall we do?"

Those in power are answering over and over, parrotlike, "be ye not discouraged for prosperity is now at hand."

Will you let them deceive you further with this false answer?

Republican Promises.

President Hoover promised: "We will soon, with the help of God, be in sight of the day when poverty shall be banished from this nation." And he promised further: "I will establish a Federal Farm Board which will protect the farmers from the depression and demonization of seasonal crops and periodical surplus."

To keep his promises he called Congress in special session. At his behest Congress revised the tariff law and passed a law authorizing formation of a farm board.

The tariff law, most iniquitous piece of legislation ever enacted, has destroyed our foreign markets and thrown millions of our working people out of employment, forcing many of them to rely on charity for the bare necessities of life.

And the farm board has spent five hundred million dollars and forced down the price of the farmer's wheat to a point below cost of production. The same outrageous condition exists regarding every other product of the fields.

Mr. Hoover and his farm board have made a joke of the farm problem and will soon be crying for the abolishing of the board in order to save themselves from humiliation, since the only remedy they offer to over-production is to cut down cultivation and for each farmer to eat more of his own produce. If this fails, they would have us plow under the crops.

Dire Want Everywhere.

The Republican leaders admit that thousands of men, women and children are starving, but tell us that our country is suffering from only a slight depression.

It is true that there is as much if not more money in the country than there ever was, but it is securely locked up in the coffers of a favored class. Meanwhile thousands of citizens are receiving returns upon thousands of dollars invested insufficient to pay taxes and buy the necessities of life. Ten million are unemployed, five thousand banks fail in one year, two thousand businesses fail each month and charitable organizations are swamped with the effort to relieve the appalling distress.

I turn my face to Him who came to bind up the wounds of the broken hearted, who takes notice even of the falling of the sparrow, and with a trusting heart in His justice and goodness, I implore Him to forsake not His people in the hour of their distress and to preserve a government that was created by His favor.

The most gigantic task confronting the government is to restore the lost confidence of the voters and to regain their affections through honesty and conscientiousness on the part of the governing body.

Platform a Solemn Pledge.

I regard every promise made in the platform adopted at the Lexington convention as a binding contract.

Your state government in many instances is being conducted to the detriment of the people.

DEMOCRACY'S STANDARD BEARER

JUDGE RUBY LAFFOON of Madisonville triment of the many and the advantage of the few. I shall recommend passing a law combining the duties of departments performing like services under one executive head, with complete co-ordination of administrative departments, the rigid enforcement of a detailed budget, and the starting of a law appropriating no money for any purpose unless the bill carries with it a provision authorizing its payment otherwise.

Budget Enforcement.

We have too many boards and commissions with but few rendering due service. If elected I shall recommend passing of laws combining the duties of departments performing like services under one executive head, with complete co-ordination of the administrative departments.

Our platform calls for "the rigid enforcement of a balanced budget." The submission of a detailed budget to the General Assembly stating anticipated revenue and estimated needs of the state government would assist the Legislature in sorting out and reducing appropriations. I shall recommend that no law be enacted for any appropriation unless provision is made in the bill authorizing money to be set aside for that purpose or otherwise providing for its collection.

If I am governor I will veto any bill passed by the General Assembly that does not conform to this requirement.

Most of the property in this state is now assessed higher than its sale value, but by rigid economy the government can be conducted at much less cost with equal efficiency and this assessment reduced.

If I am elected governor, with the others on the Democratic ticket, the expenses shall not exceed the state income nor shall assessment of taxable property be increased or the rate of taxation increased.

I have a well grounded suspicion that some departments are wasteful, a fact which can be determined by a complete audit of every agency and department. This reform, which will be carried into effect if we are elected, will also disclose the exact amount of Kentucky's indebtedness.

Needed Tax Reform.

It is useless for me to talk about the horrible conditions prevailing in the charitable and penal institutions of our state. If I am your governor, I will do my very best to better these. I shall recommend a law authorizing trial courts to suspend sentences upon first offenders during good behavior, a measure which is not only humane but which will lighten the burden of the state.

New revenue and taxation laws should be enacted in place of the present unjust ones. Small home owners and agricultural lands used for farming should be subject to a very low rate, while all real estate should be exempt from any save local taxes, the assessment being regulated by local authorities. One effect of such a law would be to save the state more than one-half million dollars annually now spent to have this class of property assessed.

Thousands Hail Promise of Less Taxes, Rigid Cut in Expenses.

Tragic and Costly Failures of Republicans Are Pointed Out.

Northern markets than do properties north of the river. I pledge my efforts to bring to bear every influence possible to right this most serious wrong.

Better Banking Laws.

Laws governing banks and banking will be stringently enforced. Banking commissions and examiners should be competent officials appointed after competitive examination. Pyramiding investments, dummy corporations and holding companies should be prevented. Corporations should not be permitted to become stockholders in banks, loans to bank officials should be limited and every precaution taken to protect stockholders and depositors.

Our platform is pledged to extension and improvement of our common school system, with equal advantages for every child whether living in city or country, and to introduce free textbooks as fast as finances will permit. It favors a liberal policy toward state university, normal and industrial schools, and remuneration for teachers commensurate with their ability and training. I believe that vocational training for both white and colored children is one of the best services that we can render.

A well planned system of connecting highways of high-type construction is of primary importance. I promise in the name of the Democratic administration that these will be built as speedily as possible without discrimination and that funds will get upon the roads instead of into the pockets of grafters. The present Democratic Highway Commission has built more roads in seventeen months than the Sampson-controlled commission built in twenty-four, and at a saving of more than ten million dollars.

Harrison's Many Failures.

The leaders of the opposing party admit that Mr. Harrison and those running with him haven't a remote chance of victory unless they receive an unprecedented majority of votes in Louisville. I cannot believe that any considerable majority will endorse the outrageous practices of the last primary in that city, which included corruption, force and fraud.

In his platform written by himself Mr. Harrison calls attention to his "conduct of the affairs of a great municipality." I desire to call your attention to the many lucrative positions given to persons not citizens of Kentucky, among them the director of welfare, $5,000 per year; superintendent of recreation, $2,500 per year; milk inspector, $5,000 per year; treasurer, $7,000 per year; traffic survey, $14,707.44, and a zoning and planning survey which will soon be completed at a cost of $40,000, all of which has been paid to other than Kentuckians.

The fact is the taxes have been increased, tax values boosted and the bonded indebtedness enlarged to three times that of the state.

Present Questions.

In my acceptance speech at Madisonville, I used this language: "Harrison's platform does not specifically or by inference endorse the state administration of Governor Sampson."

"As your platform fails to endorse the Sampson administration I most respectfully ask you, Mayor Harrison, to tell the voters of Kentucky whether or not you endorse his administration?" This question, like some others that have been propounded to Mr. Harrison, has not been answered.

I now again respectfully ask you the identical question and request you to answer it in your opening speech at Hazard, Ky., as well as your views regarding purchase of land for the establishment of an epileptic colony and prison farm at Shakerston.

Appropriations for conservation of health will be as liberal as state finances will permit.

I shall do my utmost to see to it that both capital and labor are protected in the full enjoyment of every right which is theirs under the law.

"When I am elected governor, I want every Kentuckian to feel free to come to me to advise with me, with assurance of my sympathy, my interest, my willingness to hear advice—but if I am elected governor of Kentucky, I shall be a governor."

I pledge my allegiance to Kentucky. Her interests shall be my interests. Her law my law, and her motto shall be my motto: "United We Stand, Divided We Fall."

LOVE DERELICT KILLS BRIDE TO GET "REVENGE"

Takes Her for Woman Who Jilted Him Before Victim Was Born.

Ottawa, Can.—The verdict of an Al-size court jury wrote "this" to a tragic case when William Neilson, sixty-five, self-confessed slayer of Mrs.
Olga James, twenty-one, a bride of four months, was found insane, and committed to an asylum for life.

Demented by brooding over an unhappy love affair in his youth, Neilson strangled Mrs. James to death in her own home, in the belief, police say, that she was the woman who had proved faithless to him nearly forty years before.

Memories of Wrong.

Neilson was employed as a painter on the house which Reginald James and his bride were to occupy after their marriage. When the couple first visited the house to inspect it, Neilson evinced surprise and extraordinary emotion at the sight of the young woman, who apparently awakened in his warped mind memories of a wrong done to him two score years ago.

For four months thereafter, he apparently laid cunning plans for his fancied vengeance. Gaining posses-

Strangled Mrs. James.

sion of a key to the home from the builder, he entered the house soon after the husband had left one morning, and strangled Mrs. James with length of window cord as she still lay in bed.

Finds Bride Dead.

James, returning home at noon, found his wife dead, and an incoherent pencil note beside the bed.

"This is your dirty work, that you have done on me," the missive read.
"It may be a lesson not to treat any other man that way. This woman played the most rotten game she could play, on a man. Now see what you've done."

Acting on a description given by neighbors who had seen the man entering the house, police traced Neilson and arrested him. He confessed his crime, insisting that his twenty-one-year-old victim was the woman who had wrecked his life nearly twenty years before she was born.

Bandits Take Victim's

Clothes but Mole Stays

Chicago.—Joseph Demetriades and H. A. Cullen were the only customers in the haberdashery store of Sylla Trantafol when two men entered, drew revolvers, and marched them back to a rear room.

"Take off your coats," ordered the leader. "Now your vests, now your shirts—"

And so on down to socks. The victim's clothing was hung over the arm of the second bandit, who had previously rifled the cash till of $45. As the last of the habilliments was handed over the leader suddenly glared at Mr. Demetriades' neck below the Adam's apple and roared:

"Hey, you, give me that stickpin.
Trying to get away with something,
eh?"

"No, sir," said Mr. Demetriades. "I'm not. That's a mole."

So they let Mr. Demetriades keep his mole and left.

Long-Stretch Offender

Protests Court "Insult"

Chicago.—Maxie Elsen has been "in-sulted"—and by no less a personage than Judge John H. Lyle, leader in Chicago's drive against crime.

"It is a compliment to be asked for a change of venue by a man who has been arrested 37 times," said Judge Lyle after Elsen had made the request when arraigned on charges of vagrancy and disorderly conduct.

"The judge did me an injustice," said Elsen as he left the courtroom under $5,400 bond.

"It was an insult," Elsen continued.
"He said I'd been arrested 37 times.
It's not so. I've never been arrested but 24 times in all my life."

Cider Puts Out Fire

New Brighton, Pa.—When the supply of two wells was exhausted by a bucket brigade of farmers, six barrels of vinegar and cider were used to extinguish a fire which threatened the home of Calvin Frishkorn, near Zelenople.

FOR HEALTH INSURANCE

NINE days out of ten, the housewife of continental Europe serves her family with a fruit dessert. It may be only a simple compote served with crisp cookies, or it may be nothing more elaborate than thick jam accompanied by heavy cream, but fruit in some form is almost certain to appear on her table once or twice a day. Even pretentious hotels and restaurants abroad follow this custom, and regale their guests with delicious fruit desserts. Foreign menus always include fruits.

Indeed, there is no better way of rounding out a dinner or luncheon than by the inclusion of a juicy fruit dainty. Jaded appetites respond quickly to cool, tart flavors, and fruits are important as sources of mineral elements and vitamins.

Everyone, young and old, needs plenty of fruit in the summer time. It is health insurance of the best kind.

Try Something New

If your family is tired of the old standby, try something new.
There are loganberries, for instance, from the green wooded hills of the State of Washington.
These purple berries have a distinct flavor of their own. Their juice makes a refreshing drink on scorching summer days. And a loganberry shortcake makes a gala occasion of any dinner.

A Shortcake and Salad

Loganberry Shortcake: Sift together two cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons sugar, and rub in six tablespoons shortening with the finger tips. Add three-fourths cup milk, stirring as little as possible. Dough should be as soft as can be handled. Turn out on a slightly floured board and pat out gently. Cut out with a biscuit cutter sixteen rounds.
Brush half of them with melted butter and place the other halves on top of them. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees, for twelve to fifteen minutes. Split open the halves and again brush tops with butter. Cover lower halves with the slightly sweetened berries from a No. 2 can of loganberries, and place the top half on, crust side down. Again cover generously with berries, and top with whipped cream, if desired. This makes eight individual shortcakes.

Pear and Cranberry Salad: Remove peeling from three ripe pears, cut in halves, and scoop out the core. Place in lettuce leaves. Mash one cream cheese and three tablespoons of canned cranberry sauce, and then cream together until very smooth. Add a few grains of salt, and pipe this mixture around the edge of the pear halves. Fill the center with mayonnaise, and sprinkle with chopped preserved ginger. This recipe serves six.

Sherbet and Charlotte

Apricot and Lemon Sherbet:
Dissolve one package of lemon jelly in two cups of boiling water.
Add one and one-fourth cups of sugar and cool. Add one cup of cold water, and apricots from a No. 1 can, pressed through a sieve and one cup of heavy cream.
Freeze. This recipe serves eight liberally.

Blueberry Charlotte: Remove crusts from eight to ten slices bread, and butter the slices well.
Heat a No. 2 can of blueberries and one-fourth cup of sugar to boiling. Butter a deep dish, and then arrange alternate layers of bread and hot berries, pressing down well, until all are used up.
Let stand several hours in a cold place; then turn out in a mold.
Slice and serve with cream, seasoned with sugar and nutmeg, or with whipped cream. Serves six.*

Save the Liquid

WHEN you serve canned peas, do you save the liquid? We mean the peas packed in brine, of course—not the new vacuum packed peas which contain practically no liquid, and so do not present this problem. The reason we ask this question is because the Delineator Institute asked 386 of its consultant housekeepers whether they poured off the liquid in serving ordinary canned peas, and 152 of them said "yes," and only 126 said "no," and quite a number of them said "some of it," and a number of other things.

This was quite surprising because these are all wise and experienced housekeepers, and they should have known that none of the liquid should be thrown away, but all of it should be saved and used. The consultant housekeeper who answered, "Yes, but I feel guilty about it" was right. The one who answered "Yes, but I use it in soups, etc." also had the right idea.

Contains Food Values

The reason why this liquid should not be thrown away is because, although it is largely water, it contains considerable amounts of vitamins and mineral salts extracted from the food, and if it is thrown away, considerable food value will be lost. The way to avoid these losses is to simmer down the liquid separately until the desired amount has evaporated and then combine it with the heated peas.*

A $2 Dinner for 6

IT'S hard work to stretch budgets these days, and even the small housewife has to do some tall thinking sometimes to make hers cover the multiple needs of the modern household. But when a grown-up housewife can serve a family of six with an appetizing dinner for two dollars, she can stick at least one feather in her cap. This menu does it, with a penny to spare.

Dill Pickles 10¢
Potato and Bean Salad 34¢
Corn on the Cob 30¢
Rye Bread and Butter 15¢
Cherry Pie 34¢
Iced Tea 6¢

Potato and Bean Salad: Add one chopped onion and one shredded green pepper to two cups sliced, cold boiled potatoes, and marinate in part of one-third cup of French dressing, marinating one ten and one-half ounce can stringless beans in the remainder.
Toss lightly together, and add one-half cup cooked dressing. Serve very cold on lettuce leaves.

Cherry Pie: Drain one can sour red cherries and pour into a pie tin, lined with pastry. Mix three tablespoons flour, one-half cup sugar and one-half cup of the cherry syrup, and pour over. Dot with one tablespoon butter. Cover with narrow strips of pastry and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees)

WOMAN JAILED IN THEFT KEEPS SON IN LUXURY

Poses as Rich Widow, but Actually Is Pickpocket,
Police Say.

Newark, N. J.—A woman was arrested in a 5 and 10-cent store by a detective who says he once lost a finger in catching her and will seek to prove she is the notorious Helen Smith, clever woman pickpocket.

And out of the arrest, her eight month, detectives say, came a police story of rare devotion to an only son now said to be in an exclusive boarding school.

Detectives said she not only had kept the boy in select schools for years with money slipped from the handbags of women shoppers, but also had created a trust fund for him in case she should be arrested in New York as a fourth offender.

Often in Prison.

The boy has no idea how his generous mother gets the money, although police say she has passed many of her thirty-seven years in prison.

Also known as Helen Brown and May Brown, she gave a fictitious name, police said, when she was arrested by Detective John Reilly, head of the pickpocket squad.

It was in the same store in 1927, Reilly asserts, that he saw a hand enter a woman's pocketbook. He grasped for the hand, but the woman was too quick, the detective said. She got her hand out, snapped the bag shut and caught his finger, which had to be amputated.

Reilly said he recognized the woman immediately. He waited, he expects to prove, until she tried to slip $10 from the handbag of Mrs. Florence Barry.

First Jailed in 1913.

Reilly says her story is known to police throughout the country. His version was:

Arrested as a wayward child in 1913, she was taught to pick women's handbags by an older cellmate. She married a race-track follower when she was released, gave birth to the boy and "went straight" until her husband's death in 1922.

Then, with no other means of support, she relearned her prison lessons. Placing the boy in an exclusive school and posing as a wealthy widow before him and his teachers, she became so adept that she led a delegation of New York pickpockets to the Eucharistic congress in Chicago in 1924.

But jealous Chicago crooks informed police, she was arrested again, and since she always worked alone, she always places cash bail, having forfeited a total of more than $5,000.

"Feather Duster" Man Freed as He Tells Tale

Seattle.—Indignation because his wife made him "look like a feather duster," landed L. P. Ramm, fifty-five in jail, but his story gained his release.

"I was asleep, your honor, when my wife came and dumped a whole pillow full of feathers over me. She said she did it because I spent money for a shave and a hair cut. Honest judge, I wasn't drunk; I had just brought her home a sack of potatoes, some bacon and other things, and I was tired. When I awoke and found myself looking like a feather duster I got mad, that's all."

Airpocket Kills Man in Clay Vat in Factory

Red Wing, Minn.—William Smith, twenty-one, suffocated when he slipped into a clay vat at the Red Wing sewer pipe factory. Smith was an attendant at a hopper that holds ground clay.

His death was caused by an air-pocket underneath a mass of clay he was standing on suddenly bursting through.

Hairpin Causes Death

Mellen, Wis.—A hairpin, driven through her skull into her brain when she fell from a chair while banging curtains, caused the death of Mrs. John Kunz, forty-six years old.

Lesson for September 20

THE COUNCIL AT JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 15:1-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Christians Working Together.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The First Missionary Convention.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Christian Freedom.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christianity at the Crossroads.

I. The Controversy in the Church at Antioch (vv. 1-5).

This difficulty was a most serious one, for it threatened the disruption of the church into Jewish and Gentile divisions. It was not a question of the admission of the Gentiles into the Church, that had been settled some years before when Peter received Cornelius and his household. The question now was, On what ground could they be received? Should Gentiles convert to keep the Mosaic Law as a condition of salvation? This issue was brought on by the coming of certain men from Jerusalem who declared, "Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved" (vv. 1-5). The question was so difficult that Paul and Barnabas were unable to put them to silence. These Jewish legalists had the letter of the Scripture on their side. They could point to the command enjoining this rite upon the male children of the covenant people (Gen. 17:10-14). Paul could not point to any scripture where this obligation had been abrogated. If Paul should plead that Abraham was justified before he was circumcised, his antagonist could answer, "Yes, but after justification the rite was divinely imposed." The brethren at Antioch decided to refer the matter to the mother church at Jerusalem. Accordingly, Paul and Barnabas and others were sent as a delegation to Jerusalem.

II. The Deliberations of the Council (vv. 6-21).

1. Peter's speech (vv. 6-11). He argued that God had borne witness to the acceptance of the Gentiles by giving the Holy Spirit to them as unto the Jews (Acts 10:34-47). Since, therefore, God had not put a difference, it would be folly for them to do so.

2. Paul and Barnabas rehearsed their experience (vv. 12-14). They told how that God had set his seal of approval on their preaching of salvation by grace through faith apart from the works of the law by the working of signs and wonders through them.

3. The argument of James (vv. 14-21). He took the fact declared by Peter and showed how it harmonized with the prophecy of Amos (Amos 9:11-15). He showed that the reception of the Gentiles was not in conflict but in strict harmony with God's plan. As set forth in the speech of James, God's plan is as follows:

a. To take out from among the Gentiles a people for his name (v. 14). This is what is now going on—the preaching of the gospel to the ends of the earth, and the calling out of the Church.

b. After the Church is completed and removed, the Israelitish nation will be converted and restored to their land and privileges by the Lord himself at his return (vv. 16, 17).

c. Following this will be the conversion of the world through the agency of converted Israel (v. 17 of Rom. 11:15-17). He showed that there is no conflict when the Scriptures are rightly divided.

III. The Decision of the Council (vv. 22-29).

The mother church came to a unanimous agreement and accepted the resolution offered by James. They not only sent a letter stating the decision of the conference, but took the wise precaution to send influential men along with Paul and Barnabas to bear the same testimony by word of mouth. This letter denied the authority of the Judaizing teachers (v. 24) and declared the method by which this decision had been reached (vv. 25-27). They put the Holy Spirit first. They were positively instructed to abstain from meats offered to idols from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.

IV. The Decision Delivered to the Church (vv. 30-35).

Upon their return to Antioch, the church was called together to hear the report. Its reading brought great rejoicing. Judas and Silas, who had been sent as confirmatory witnesses, being prophets, now exhorted the brethren with many words, confirming the decision of the Jerusalem church.

Abiding in Christ

Abiding in Christ does not mean that you must always be thinking about Christ. You are in a house, abiding in its enclosure or beneath its shelter, though you are not always thinking about the house itself. But you always know when you leave it.—F. B. Meyer.

God Is in All

Be he nowhere else, God is in all that liberates and lifts, in all that humbles, sweetens, and consoles.—Lowell.

CRY FOR IT—

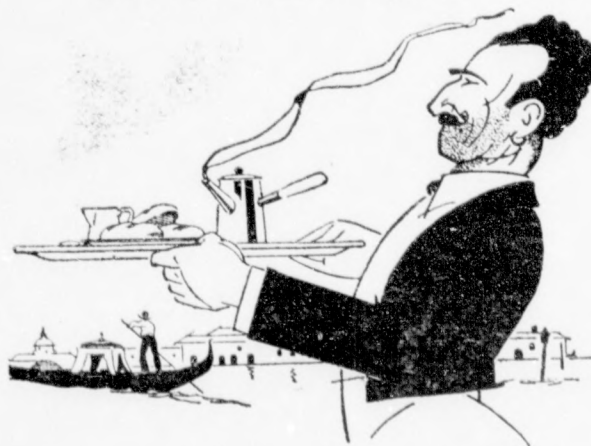

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

Better Breakfasts

WE are never so national as when we are eating. That's why the American demands the substantial breakfast to which he is accustomed whether he is in Hong Kong, Tierra del Fuego, Venice or Paris. Many of us always eat the same breakfast from force of habit, but better breakfasts mean variety. Here's one with fruit and honey, a hot bread and a juicy ham omelet which will start even the drowsiest of summer days off right:

Iced Watermelon
Ham Omelet
Toasted English Muffins
Honey in the Comb
Hot Beverage

Ham Omelet: Beat four eggs thoroughly, add four tablespoons cold water, one-half teaspoon salt, and a few grains of pepper. Melt two tablespoons butter in a large flat heavy skillet, covering every bit of the surface. When foaming, pour in the egg mixture, which should not be very deep. Cook gently, lifting edges with a spatula to let the liquid on top run underneath until all is cooked. Don't overcook. Mash a 2½-ounce can of deviled ham with two tablespoons cream, heat and spread over the omelet. Then, beginning at one side, roll it up, using a spatula, and off onto a hot platter. This serves three. For six, make two omelets separately.*

YOUNG ROBBER'S PITY LEADS TO ARREST OF GANG

Becomes Soft-Hearted in Course of Practice Hold-up of Junkman.

New York.—Six youths, the oldest eighteen years, who started out to earn a reputation as holdup men, found themselves in the Tombs under high bail recently because "soft-hearted" in the course of a practice hold-up on November 1 the band, which had dubbed itself "The Little Cherry Hill Mob" and had established headquarters in a storeroom, robbed Samuel Drapman in his junk shop. The "soft-hearted" member of the gang, who could not endure to see Drapman left with a wad of chloroform-soaked cotton fastened over his mouth and nostrils, went back and loosened the tape.

Drapman took particular notice of his liberator and was able to give police a description through which Detective James E. Lane recognized William Carling, fifteen.

By following Carling, Lane and other officers found the Henry street headquarters and arrested Carling, Arthur Stovrakas, seventeen; Charles Verneke, eighteen; Nunzio Lizzo, fourteen; Abraham Cohen, sixteen; and Philip Kirakos, seventeen. Antonio Lorenzo, eighteen, an amateur prize fighter, was arrested later in Brooklyn.

The youths confessed after the detectives had found three revolvers, a box of cartridges, a half-can of chloroform and a quantity of adhesive tape in the storeroom. Their loot in the Drapman robbery was only $1, the police said, but added that the seven were merely trying their nerve for a pay, roll robbery which they planned. In addition the youths admitted two other minor holdups, the police said.

Loosened the Tape.

Detective Lane trailed Carling on his last day of detective duty. He was reduced to a patrolman by an order recently issued. Although no reason for the demotion was made public, it was recalled at police headquarters that Lane's revolver dropped from its holster in a clubroom on Madison street several weeks ago and that a bystander was wounded.

Carling and Nunzio Lizzo were sent to the Children's society pending hearing as juvenile delinquents in Childreu's court. The others were held in $35,000 bail each in Tombs court on assault and robbery charges, with additional bail of $15,000 on a Sullivan law charge in the case of Verneke.

Ten British Judges

Are 700 Years Old

London.—The ages of ten judges sitting on the king's bench aggregate nearly seven hundred years. Lord Hewart, the Lord Chief Justice, is seventy.

Doctors attribute the high average age of the judges as a class to the fact that they are appointed so late in their careers, usually having already attained success as lawyers before becoming candidates for the bench.

Lord Hewart was appointed at fifty-two. Justice Eve, Senior Chancery judge, is seventy-four, appointed at fifty-one; Lord Merrivale, head of the Probate, Divorce and Admiralty division, is seventy-five.

Starts His Car in Gear; Store Window Stops It

Cordele, Ga.—The Royal cafe here was comfortably filled with hungry patrons. Crash—and T. P. Hoffer's automobile pushed its way through a plate glass window, came to a stop at the inner wall. Surveying the wreckage, Hoffer pulled out a clock book, inserted the owner's estimate of the damage, and departed. He had started his car in gear. No one was injured.

Salem Policeman Picks Criminal Out of Bush

Salem, Ore.—Police officials here have had the pleasure of picking their criminals off bushes like berries. When a thief failed to stop at an order and ran for cover instead, he became entangled in a high blackberry bush, suspended in air.

Pencils and Pens

Cause of Arrest

Seattle.—Undoubtedly a waiter has need of pens and pencils to reckon the bill, but even for the remarkable mathematician the gentlemen of the white coat compute, they have no need of five pens and three expensive pencils.

This was the reasoning of Patrolman R. A. Sands, so he arrested Jule Gorham, a waiter, at First avenue and Main street, when he found him in possession of that much writing equipment. Gorham was held on an open charge.

VICTIM TELLS OF HOURS IN ICY SEA

Has Desperate Battle With Tide for 31 Hours.

Seattle.—Lashed to his frail sail skiff, which overturned in a sudden squall, Sam G. Ward, Jr., drifted in the icy waters of Puget sound for 31 harrowing hours, to come ashore cold and exhausted, but ready for more of life's adventures.

Semi-conscious, the twenty-three-year-old bus driver was found still lashed to the craft by J. E. Harrison, bank teller, in front of his home facing the beach.

At the City hospital Ward demonstrated with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ward of Bellingham, who had come, distraught, when the young man was reported missing, and said that "It is nothing—I'm going to get up."

"I left my place at Three Tree Point about ten o'clock in the evening," he said. "It was a beautiful, moonlight night and I sailed toward Vashon Island shore."

"About mid-channel a stay gave way and I stood up to fix it when two unexpectedly large waves struck and I was thrown into the water."

"The tides were too strong for me and the shore too far away to swim because I was weak trying to right the boat. When I found myself getting exhausted I lashed myself to the boat."

"Boats passed me all through the day but too far away. One, I think it was the Northwestern, came close, but they didn't see me," young Ward said.

Scoffing Parrot Better Than a Squealing One

Akron, Ohio.—"Papa" John's love for pets, particularly parrots, is on the wane these days.

"Papa's" first parrot met an untimely death last winter while officers were searching for beer. The officers failed to find the beer they suspected John of making. Finally one of the officers turned to Polly, the pet.

"Where's the beer, Polly?" the vice squad member asked.

"Under the platform, under the platform," parroted Polly.

Six months later the officers returned in quest of intoxicants. This time they found them without the aid of Polly's successor. They put John under arrest.

"Ha ha, ha," laughed Polly the second.

At any rate, said "Papa" John, a scoffing parrot is better than a squealing one.

Magistrate Flogs and Burns Gypsy Girl, 17

Berlin.—A case of lynch justice is reported by the Berliner Tageblatt from Prossburg, in Czechoslovakia.

A village in the neighborhood had been greatly annoyed by repeated thefts by Gypsies, and when a Gypsy girl, seventeen years of age, was caught in the act, the village magistrate took the punishment into his own hands.

He flogged the girl in her mother's presence with a long, thick whip until she lost consciousness. He then tied the girl, from whose body blood was streaming, to the branch of a tree and set fire to a heap of brushwood underneath it.

Beats Up His Wife, Thinking Her Bandit

Detroit.—Mrs. Lucille Cott, twenty, and jealous, set out to follow her husband and protect him from the wiles of other women.

For the purpose she dressed in masculine clothes.

Her husband, Larney, twenty-six, discovered the stranger shadowing him, waylaid "him" at a dark corner and laid "him" low with a well-directed kick.

Police took Mrs. Cott to a hospital and started looking for her husband.

Sawdust Dummy Is Used in Holdups on Highway

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Officers investigating complaints of holdup attempts on the highway near Ringgold, Ga., found a dummy, man stuffed with sawdust attached to a rope so he would appear in front of the cars as they approached.

Boys were seen running into a woods as the officers approached, Sheriff E. F. Land said.

...Keep in touch with out of town Friends by Telephone

There's no uncertainty when you telephone! No "ifs" or "buts." You talk directly to the person you want to reach and get an immediate answer.

Your telephone takes you to anyone, anywhere, at any time. To friends or stores in other cities—to the folks "back home" to children away at school or college.

Telephoning out of town costs little. To most places 25 miles away, the station-to-station day rate is about 25 cents; 40 miles away, 35 cents; 75 miles, 50 cents; 125 miles, 75 cents; 150 miles, 80 cents. Where the station-to-station day rate is more than 35 cents, the rates are even lower during the evening and night periods.

Guiding Your Children

Bad habits lead children astray. Good habits guide them safely into the path of character, uprightness and independence.

You can start them right by teaching them to save money. Set them an example by saving yourself. Make them admire thrift.

Once started, the saving habit helps to form other good habits. It provides experience for them in handling their own funds.

This start in the right direction is but a simple step. Bring children to the bank when you start them to school.

Her Enraged Suitor Burns Girl's Dresses

Trinidad, Colo.—Tony Salazar became angry at his "girl friend" and burned several of her dresses during his rage, the court charged, and fined him $15 and costs.

Salazar offered no defense.

YOUTH RISKS LIFE TO RESCUE CHILD

Member of School Patrol to Get Medal for Act.

Washington.—The name of Colbert Yates, fourteen, was written on the honor roll of schoolboy patrol heroes who have saved the lives of classmates.

Colbert darted into the path of an automobile and dragged Emily May, six, to safety.

The act of bravery was called to the attention of teachers at the Barnard school, where Colbert and Emily are students, by Mrs. O. J. Klub.

Mrs. Klub, who was accompanying her children to school, said the boy patrolmen were holding a group of children on the curb until the intersection was clear. Emily, Mrs. Klub said, darted around the waiting children and into the path of the automobile.

Instantly, Mrs. Klub reported, Colbert sped from his post, snatched up the child and ran to safety.

A second later the automobile sped over the spot where Emily had been standing.

Colbert will receive a merit medal from the American Automobile association as a reward for his bravery.

New Motor Car Robbery Racket Is Discovered

Washington.—There is a new racket under the sun, devised for the special benefit of motor car thieves.

As attempted unsuccessfully recently, it works this way: The racketeer spots a parked automobile with suitable lure, notes the tag numbers and general description and telephones a garage of towing service, explaining that the keys to the door and the ignition switch are lost.

"Please tow the car to your garage and fit new keys to it, and I will call for it later," the garage is advised.

To work out properly for the thief the garage then must complete its work without further inquiry and turn the car over to its "owner" when he calls for it as per agreement.

But it didn't work out that way this last time, thanks to the alertness and curiosity of a bellboy at the Harrington hotel.

When the boy saw a garage truck towing away from in front of the hotel a sedan belonging to a guest he notified the hotel manager and the latter notified the guest, who got his car at a garage.

Robert Asks Police to Find Thelma and His $70

Washington.—Robert Scott, who had $70 in his pocket one afternoon recently, was able to tell police this much about Thelma:

She was pretty, about twenty-three, a brunette.

She was the girl who invited him to visit a place near Eleventh and "I" streets.

The same girl, in fact, who suggested a few drinks, which they had. But what Scott did not know and what he wanted to know of the police was:

Who is Thelma?

Where is Thelma?

With the answers to those two questions, Scott said, he could answer a third and more pressing one for himself:

What became of the $70?

Theft Fails to Get Man Back in Atlanta Prison

Jacksonville, Fla.—R. Allen stole 50 2-cent envelopes, took them to M. R. Morgan, postal inspector, and demanded he be sent to Atlanta penitentiary.

"I served one term in Atlanta penitentiary and I liked it there. I stole the envelopes in order to get my old job back. When do I start?" he demanded.

But United States Commissioner Carl Noble said the offense wasn't serious enough. Allen was acquitted.

Farmer Loses His Life Savings by Old Trick

Plattekill, N. Y.—Theodore Barbatuly, a farmer, was swindled out of his life's savings, $2,082, by three men he met on the street, he told police.

The men persuaded him to draw the money from a bank as security in a "deal" and in some manner switched wallets.

The victim was left with one containing nothing but a few one dollar bills and wads of newspaper.

Peachy Desserts

"PEACHES for supper!" How the youngsters do shout when they get a whiff of that delicious odor from the kitchen. Even father perks up his ears, and begins to think reminiscently of the days on the farm. And they are right, for there's nothing quite so good as a dessert of rich juicy peaches. You'll find it easy to make, too, for it's just a matter of minutes to open a can of luscious California peaches and whisk up an epicurean dessert.

Peach Topsy Turvy Cake. Beat two egg yolks, add one cup sugar, and cream well. Sift together one cup flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder. Add the sifted dry ingredients alternately with one-half cup pineapple syrup. Fold in well-beaten whites of two eggs. Arrange a No. 1 can of well-drained sliced peaches and one-fourth cup chopped dates in bottom of greased cake pan. Pour batter over, and bake for thirty minutes. Turn upside down, and serve with whipped cream. This cake may be served hot or cold. The recipe serves eight.

This Is Heavenly

Peach Celestial. Scald four cups of milk, reserving one-half cup to mix with eight tablespoons of cornstarch, one-half cup sugar, and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Add and stir until thick and creamy. Cover and cook twenty minutes. Add one teaspoon lemon flavoring, one teaspoon orange flavoring, and pour out onto a flat serving dish. Cover top with halves of peaches and chill. Sprinkle with coconut over entire top. In serving, take up a peach with each serving. This recipe serves eight.

In Case of Emergency

When you want a thing in a hurry you rush to a local store and get it. But do you realize that the existence of our stores depends upon continued business.

If every person in this community were to use the stores only for emergencies there would soon be no more places to satisfy those urgent needs.

You should do your part towards keeping local business alive and in a constant state of betterment by doing all your trading at home. It will be profitable to you as well as to the entire community.

Cherries Always Ripe

CHERRIES every day in the year!—that's what modern canning methods have done for us. Real old-fashioned sour cherries, pitted and ready to make a juicy pie or cobbler, are on hand now whenever we want them. There's no more regretting the shortness of the cherry season. Cherries are always ripe. And the wise housewife of today keeps several cans on her shelves so that she can concoct a delicious cherry dessert at a moment's notice. In this way she will always be ready for unexpected guests who relish unexpected desserts. Try one of these recipes for tonight's dinner.

Cold and Sweet

Cherry and Banana Sponge. Soak one tablespoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water. Heat to boiling the syrup from a No. 2 can red pitted cherries and enough water to make one cup liquid. Add four tablespoons sugar, and pour over gelatin. When dissolved, cool. When beginning to set, add the cherries and the diced bananas. Serve cold, topped with whipped cream. This recipe serves eight.

Cherry Ice. Press three-fourths of the cherries and the juice from a No. 2 can of red pitted cherries through a sieve. Boil three-fourths cup sugar, one and one-half cups water, three tablespoons of corn syrup until it threads, then pour slowly over one stiffly beaten egg white. Add three tablespoons lemon juice and two tablespoons maraschino cherry juice, and the mashed cherries. Freeze as any ice-cream. This recipe serves from eight to ten.

Pistol in Suicide's Hand Slays Doctor

Paris.—The strange case of a man shot by a corpse is reported in a telegram from Bentschen, Silesia.

A physician of Bentschen, Doctor Simonski, was requested by officials of the railroad to examine a man whose body was found near the permanent way.

A hasty examination disclosed that the man had committed suicide with a revolver which he still clutched in his right hand.

Doctor Simonski was in the act of lifting the suicide when a muscular relaxation in the body discharged the revolver and the doctor was shot dead.

ADOPTS MATE'S SON BY "OTHER WOMAN"

Husband Granted Probation on Girl's Charges.

Los Angeles, Calif.—"We're just as happy as we can be and I love Nicholas, Jr., just as much as though he were my own."

That's the way Mrs. Nicholas Kelch feels about her ten-month-old adopted son and heir, the offspring of her husband but not of herself.

Nicholas Kelch, Sr., San Dimas orchardist, is at liberty and on probation following his conviction on a statutory charge against the seven-year-old niece of his wife.

The niece is no longer living with the Kelch family and has given them full legal title to the son and heir. Kelch and his wife have legally adopted the chubby, healthy youngster.

Childless herself, Mrs. Kelch declares she is happy and contented and intends to give her "son" the best of care.

After being in court for several months, the charges against Kelch were finally disposed of by the probation order of Superior Judge George Sevel of Orange county.

The jurist, in handing down his decision, stated from the bench that the man must not allow the niece to live in the Kelch home or to communicate with her in any way.

"My wife is a grand woman and my love for her has increased a thousandfold because of the way she has received me back home with my child. She loves the baby and so do I, of course. He is ours legally now and we will always care for him."

And Kelch, Jr., signified his acquiescence to the family attitude with a laugh and a couple of gurgles.

Robber Is Captured Through "Black Magic"

Paris.—A soldier of a Senegalese regiment stationed at Libourne, near Bordeaux, complained that he had been robbed in barracks of nearly $35. A long investigation failed to yield any clue as to the thief. Then the noncommissioned officer in charge had an inspiration. He prepared a vessel of water, and having called the company on parade, told the men that he had put a magic powder into the bowl to discover the culprit. The solution, he said, would do no harm to innocent men, but the thief, if he drank it, would certainly die. He then invited the men in turn to drink.

All complied save one, who despite all entreaties, dared not touch the water. Pressed for a reason, he ended by confessing, and has now been sentenced by court-martial to eight months' imprisonment. The men who witnessed this subtle feat of detection are more than ever convinced of the virtues of native magic.

Prisoner Complains He Must Furnish Own Jail

Elyria, Ohio.—Accommodations in the county jail are terrible, according to Thomas McBridge. Instead of paying a liquor fine, Thomas chose to go to jail. He was informed that conditions there were so crowded that he might have to sleep on the floor. In order to get around that possibility, Thomas went out and bought himself a cot. "It's tough when a guy has to furnish his own bed in jail," he says.

Autoist Calls Wrong Man Rube and Is Fined

Fairfield, Conn.—One motorist will be careful who he calls "rube" the next time he drives through a small town.

Alexander Robertson of Indian Orchard, Mass., shouted the epithet at a man he thought was dallying in the main street here. The "rube" turned out to be Police Chief Arthur Bennett, who arrested Robertson after a chase on a charge of reckless driving.

Prefers Church to Jail

New Hope, Va.—A year of church attendance or a term in jail were the alternatives presented Frank Sipes, a youth convicted of petty larceny.

Sipes preferred the church attendance and posted bond to insure regularity.

Spoils Memorial

Milan, Tenn.—A memorial service at the high school in memory of Mrs. John Lovins and three others listed as the "honored dead of the class of 1897" was spoiled when Mrs. Lovins learned of the service and attended in person.

Fruit Insurance

YOU can refuse to see the man who calls unheralded and unsung, and offers you a peerless accident and health policy, but your doctor will tell you that there is one kind of insurance it is neither wise nor prudent to ignore at any season of the year. That is the insurance of contented good health that comes from a proper proportion of fruit in the diet. Fortunately, many fresh fruits are available at this season, and there is also one fruit that combines excellently not only with other fruits in cocktails and salads, but with meats and sauces in hot dishes, and that is available at any season. This fruit is the luscious pineapple which is picked and clipped into a can at the very moment of its prime ripeness in the many fields of Hawaii and reaches you in the same peerless (we knew we'd use that word again) condition.

An Infinite Variety

It offers you an infinite variety of ways to vary your menu at little expense during the hot summer months when appetites are lagging and finicky, and here are some of the very latest of them:

Carrot Salad. Prepare a package of lemon flavored gelatin according to directions but use pineapple syrup from the can for part of the liquid. When the gelatin begins to set, add one and one-half cups grated, raw carrots, one medium-sized can of crushed pineapple and one-fourth cup minced green pepper. In the bottom of each individual mold place a slice of sweet tomato pickle. Pour the gelatin in the molds and place in cold place. Unmold and serve with boiled dressing and minced green pepper and parsley.

Dainty Desserts

Pineapple Betty. Mix one and one-half cups drained crushed Hawaiian pineapple, one cup soft bread crumbs, three tablespoons brown sugar and one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon. Put in a greased baking dish and over it pour one-half cup of the syrup drained from the pineapple. Dot the top with pieces of butter, using one tablespoon in all. Bake in a moderate oven until brown, and serve hot or cold with a pudding sauce or whipped cream.

Pineapple Ice Cream. Dissolve five cups sugar in one quart of milk, add one quart of cream, juice of two lemons and three oranges, and one can of crushed pineapple. Freeze slowly, and when of creamy consistency, add five egg whites beaten until stiff. Freeze until firm.

Pineapple Sundae Sauce. Mix one cup each of crushed pineapple, sugar and water. Boil fifteen minutes, chill and serve on ice cream. This sauce is also good on cake or puddings.

A Salad and Souffle

Frozen Fruit Salad. Peel and dice four oranges and pour over four sliced bananas and the juice of one lemon. Add contents of a can of white cherries and a can of pineapple. Sweeten to taste and fold in one cup mayonnaise and one cup whipped cream. Freeze in molds for four hours. Unpack, slice and serve on lettuce.

Pineapple Souffle. Soak one and one-half tablespoons gelatin in cold water. Add the grated rind and juice of one lemon, one-half cup sugar and one-eighth teaspoon salt to three beaten egg yolks. Cook in double boiler until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Remove from the heat, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add two-thirds cup of crushed pineapple and set in a cold place until mixture begins to stiffen. Fold in one-half cup cream, whipped, and three stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a mold and set in a cold place until firm.

Grandfather and the Boys

One way to keep the spirit youthful and the outlook on life cheery is to have a daily romp with your grandchildren. At least this recipe seems to work happily for Judge Ruby Laffoon of Madisonville, Democratic candidate for Governor of Kentucky. This picture shows the judge and his two grandsons, the children of Mr. and Mrs. William Robinson of Madisonville. The lad who sits abait the pony is "R. W.", aged 10 years. The little fellow seated in the front row is Tommy, the tempestuous, aged 2 years. Judge Laffoon usually starts his day with a 6 o'clock call upon these youngsters at their farm home which is about a mile and a half out of Madisonville.

Fulton County 4-H Dairy Judging Team Attend State Fair

By County Agent H. C. Brown
The 4-H dairy and Cattle judging team of Fulton County left for Louisville Monday night to enter the judging contest. The team is composed of the following club members: Charles Henderson, of Fulton Club; Walton Stallins, of Lodgeston Club; Howard Campbell, of Cayce Club; and Harold Fields, of Fulton Club, as alternate. These boys compete with approximately 30 teams from other counties of the state. Individual cash prizes for highest scoring judges, cash prizes for highest scoring team, and the team winning the contest have the honor of representing the state in a similar contest between the states at the National Dairy Show to be held at St. Louis in October.

The purpose of contests of this nature is to create and maintain greater interest in the breeding and selection of better dairy cattle, and to teach the proper methods of selecting cattle for the herds on the farm.

The Illinois Central System provided transportation for the team to and from Louisville. The fair association provide each county team with a tent and cots for quarters while at the fair.

KITCHEN TOUR

By Alda Henning, Home Demonstration Agent
The Kitchen Tour, a follow-up of the "Wife Saving Kitchen" project studied in Homemakers Clubs last spring, was held Friday, Sept. 11, with about 50 homemakers going on the tour.

The first stop was at Mrs. Clyde Howard's, Boaz Chapel, to see the simple water system which has been installed at various times, the last step being a storage tank from an old car-bide tank which supplies the kitchen sink and the bath room.

Mrs. Wales Austin of Boaz Chapel has done particularly well in arranging her kitchen equipment to save steps in her unusually large kitchen. She, too, has a simple hook-up for water in her kitchen.

Mrs. Cleatus Binford of Crutchfield has started a long time plan of improvements in her kitchen. So far her color scheme of ivory and green, including the interesting treatment of her old linoleum which she stippled and her built-in fixtures to save steps are the outstanding features. Her future plans include changing the long undesirable perpendicular windows to one cross-wise window under which will be her kitchen sink. She is also working on a breakfast room to be in the same color scheme as her kitchen.

Features in Mrs. E. A. Mayfield's kitchen in Cayce which were of interest were her wood box on legs with casters, her built-in ironing board, pass cabinet to the dining room, simple system for having soft water in the kitchen, plans for a dumb waiter on her back porch and adaptation of color scheme of furniture to rest of room until all can be changed.

In Rives kitchen at Jordan the painting and stippling of the old linoleum which gave such a different effect from Mrs. Binford's, hanging of small equipment over place where it is first used rather than in a drawer and the very appropriate color and finish of the porch floors were the outstanding things.

At Mrs. Dee McNeill's in Hickman the women were particularly interested in the built-in features, the central lighting fixture, the satisfying, soft colors and celotex as a wall finish.

Plans for other kitchens are being made which will be included in the tour next June, when backgrounds of other rooms and refinished old furniture will be emphasized as a result of the work in Homemakers Clubs this winter on "Backgrounds in the Livable Home" and "Refinishing Old Furniture."

850 MILLION DOLLARS

Last year, in spite of the general business depression, thousands of persons invested more than $850,000,000 of new capital in the electrical industry. . . . New construction, extensions and improvements absorbed this money. . . . The light and power companies, instead of aggravating the unemployment situation by adopting a policy of retrenchment, did much to improve the situation by continuing their policy of expansion. . . . This steady flow of new capital in spite of general business conditions clearly demonstrates the faith of the American public in the electric utilities and their managements. . . . Without this confidence, the industry would be unable to keep pace with the constantly increasing demands being . . . made upon it for Electrical Service. . . .
