THE LISTENING POST

● Self praise is half scandal, so I have always understood, and if true, this is going to be a sort of scandalous affair, for I am going to do a bit of praising for my own business. It is not personal praise, understand, for many hands and many minds contribute to making a newspaper and the publisher cannot be given all praise that might be uttered. This column also will be a sort of informal discussion of what really constitutes a newspaper.

● Many printers—I would not call them editors or publishers—have an idea that a newspaper is a certain number of pages, printed in the regular form of a newspaper, with as little news matter as possible and as much advertising as possible. In other words, they seem to believe that a newspaper is made and published for the advertiser. While I am quite ready to admit that advertising has really created the modern American newspaper, I will not admit that newspapers are published solely for advertising. When this is done it always results in a publication that has no influence whatsoever, and as long as all emphasis is placed on advertising that publication will never have any influence. Further, if a newspaper, or a so-called newspaper is given away it will never have any influence and cannot by any strength of the imagination be called a newspaper. I submit those two ideas with due consideration of a life time spent in the profession.

● If readers do not care enough for a newspaper to pay the subscription price that publication will never be very valuable for any advertiser. For the give-away type of newspaper, no matter how carefully it is published, will never be anything more than a circular, and those who use it will, in effect, be helping pay the cost of sending out circulars for competing firms. It has always seemed to me that any business man would prefer printing his own circulars and sending them out in preference to using one of these give-away newspapers or what some people call newspapers and thus helping pay the cost of competing advertising.

● A newspaper which insists on its subscribers paying the subscription price, and which makes a newspaper which is worth the price and which readers are willing to pay for, will always be better than any advertiser. Practically every professional advertiser knows this, and all newspaper publishers know this to be true. Which brings up to the place where I am going to do a bit of self-praise.

● For the past three years I have witnessed an amazing growth of reader-interest in this newspaper. This is reflected by a growing list, which has been growing right along for three years, and a paid up list, which has often amazed other newspaper publishers with whom I have talked. There are many newspapers which have larger lists than this newspaper; there are none which are better paid up, and there are few which are as well paid as this newspaper's list. Literally we have no delinquent subscribers, I might say. We have a few, who for one reason or another, do not pay in advance, but these are few and far between. We have perhaps a dozen who are usually from one to three weeks in arrears, but outside of these the entire list is always paid in advance. Last year, for example, the

Hitler Asserts Germany Is Free To Make War On U. S., Blames Russian Defeats On Bad Weather

Tells His People Of Huge Submarine Losses Off United States

Fails To Set Date For Ultimate Victory In His Speech

Berlin. (From German Broadcasts)—Adolf Hitler in the first speech since his declaration of war against the United States told his people today that "America's war with Japan made us free to act" and "now we shall see what our U-boats may achieve."

He declared that "I do not know whether the war will end this year," but said "we are armed against everything, from the north to the south."

Hitler declared that on the eastern front the armies of the Reich were on the defensive against the weather—not the Russians, and claimed that the front there had finally been stabilized.

He said of the Russian war thus far that "In the east we fought a struggle which one day will be the glory of our nation."

Cheers greeted his statement that in North Africa Field Marshal Gen. Erwin Rommel "turned around the moment that our enemies thought he was beaten and drove the British before him."

"The most difficult part is behind us," he asserted.

He declared that winter had been the great hope of Germany's enemies in the east, but that this hope never would be fulfilled.

"The winter will break in the south and the ice will melt," he said, "and the hour will come when the ground will be hard and firm again—and when our armies will storm ahead again."

Then, he said, would come the revenge of "those who have become the victims of frost."

Although he said he did not know whether the war would end in 1942, Hitler declared he was confident, however, that "where we meet the enemy we will beat him."

At one juncture he shouted: "We shall see who wins this war—those who have nothing to lose and everything to gain or those who have everything to lose and nothing to gain?"

He told his audience of Axis representatives, party leaders and soldiers—many of them wounded—that Germany's number of submarines had been increased greatly and that their activities would make themselves felt as a factor in the war.

He concluded his one-hour, 55-minute speech with an appeal to the German nation to produce arms and munitions for the battlefield to ensure that "this will be another year of great victories."

HOUSE MEMBERS OF STATE DENY LOBBY CHARGES

Call May Accusations At Attack On Bill's Sponsors

Frankfort, Ky.—Members of the Kentucky House of Representatives denied today charges of a TVA lobby in Frankfort made in Congress by Rep. A. J. May (D-Ky.), and declared the charge was a reflection on the state's House itself.

As the lower chamber convened today, Rep. Harry L. Waterfield, Hickman county Democrat, called members' attention to copies of a newspaper containing Rep. May's charge and to leaflets distributed by the Kentucky Utilities Company labeled "Ward Bill 146—why you should oppose it."

Waterfield termed May's attack a "vicious one on members of the House sponsoring the bill."

The measure would enable Kentucky municipalities to contract for TVA current.

Rep. Joseph J. Grace, Ballard county Democrat, declared he had not seen a single TVA lobbyist in Frankfort and that May must have been implying that the Representatives sponsoring the bill were being "paid" by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Rep. A. L. Lowe, Marshall county Democrat, told the House he had seen no TVA lobbyists but that Kentucky Utilities Company lobbyists had called on him at his home before he came to Frankfort for the current legislative session.

500 STATION WAGONS LOANED AS AMBULANCES

Baltimore.—Five hundred privately owned station wagons will serve Baltimore as pinch-hit ambulances during the war emergency according to plans of the Maryland Council of Civilian Defense, the American Municipal Association reported today.

The vehicles, now being enlisted by the medical branch of the council, will be attached to 20 air-raid casualty stations in the city proper and others in nearby counties. Both men and women drivers will join the station wagon ambulance corps, which will be used only in actual emergencies.

House Committee Votes Down Separate Pearl Harbor Probe

Washington.—The House naval committee refused today by a vote of 14 to 6 to undertake a supplementary Congressional inquiry into the Pearl Harbor disaster.

The vote came on a motion to request the documentary evidence collected by the President's special commission headed by Justice Owen Roberts in studying the tragedy.

"This means no investigation at this time, by this committee," declared Representative Maas (R-Minn.), ranking Republican member of the committee. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.), declined to elaborate on the announcement beyond saying that the motion had been tabled by a 14 to 6 vote.

Rep. Maas (R-Minn.), said many members of the House naval committee wanted to inquire into the "system which apparently broke down and led to Pearl Harbor."

fine document as far as fixing responsibility is concerned but there are implications that our system of operating the military and navy needs to be looked into."

At the same time, Chairman May (D-Ky.), said the House military committee might study conditions at the Hawaiian outpost but would wait until President Roosevelt or the War Department had time to act.

Talking to reporters concerning reinforcements for the Philippines, Senator Clark (D-Mo.), said he was nettled that American equipment seemed to be going in large part to Europe instead of toward the Southwest Pacific.

"It must have been a great source of comfort to General MacArthur to hear Churchill announce to the House of Commons that we have plenty of bombers to send over Germany," he said with irony. "We ought to get some of those bombers out to the Philippines."

Gasoline Supplies In East Are Running Low, Sec. Ickes Says

Washington.—Interior Secretary Ickes said today the petroleum situation in the East, where rationing was imposed last summer, was "tight and getting tighter," as a result of tanker sinkings and diversion of such vessels to war service.

The Secretary, who also is petroleum co-ordinator declined to predict that gasoline rationing was forthcoming, but indicated he might reopen a proposal to build an $80,000,000 pipeline from Texas to New Jersey.

Coal Supply Critical
Asked at his press conference about the New England coal situation, Ickes said the supply situation was getting "critical."

The situation has resulted, he said, apparently from "unnecessary and arbitrary" regulations imposed at New York and New England coal receiving ports. The Secretary said the regulations "developed locally" and that he did not believe the Navy knew about them.

BILL WOULD EXEMPT RAID, FIRE WARDEN FROM HATCH ACT

Draft Board Members, Dollar-A-Year Men Subject To Law

Washington.—Air raid spotters, fire wardens and some other part-time war workers would be exempted from the Hatch anti-politics law under a bill sent to the House today after Senate approval.

Administration forces had urged the exemption of all part-time workers and those serving the government without compensation or for normal pay, but a final passage the Senate still subjected draft board members and most dollar-a-year men to the law, which prohibits federal employees from engaging in politics.

The anti-politics question was included in an omnibus measure giving the federal government new emergency powers to further prosecution of the war.

The bill would permit all military personnel to send first class mail postage free. It would also authorize the War Production Board to examine books of defense contractors and to start injunctive suits to prevent violations of priorities orders.

The government would be permitted to seize any defense machinery it needs.

380 Gallons A Year To Be Canada's Limit

Ottawa.—Automobile users in Canada will be allowed between 300 and 380 gallons of gasoline a year for non-essential driving when gasoline rationing becomes effective April 1, Munitions Minister C. D. Howe announced today.

He said this would be enough to drive "approximately 5,400 miles," and added that "there is no guarantee that the rate of consumption by owners of private cars may not be still further reduced."

$1 Fee To Be Charged
Drivers of some 1,125,000 vehicles will be affected.

It was emphasized that the announcement today covered only the ration for non-essential or pleasure car use, and that an allotment for drivers in other categories would be made public within a few days.

Owners of vehicles will be issued ration coupon books and will be required to obtain a $1 gasoline privilege registration license, good for one year.

WOMEN WORKERS NEEDED IN U. S. WAR INDUSTRIES

Call Is For Skilled Labor To Keep Up Production

Washington.—More than 1,000,000 women will be needed as skilled workers in America's arms and munitions plants this year, Sidney Hillman, labor director of the War Production Board estimated today.

"Airplanes can sink battleships," Hillman said in a statement. "Women can build airplanes. War is calling on the women of America for production skills. The President has stated it is the policy of this government to speed up existing production by operating all war industries on a 7-day-a-week basis."

"Women will be called to work on the production of war materials in greater numbers than ever before. x x x Women can do almost anything in wartime production. Here, as in England, they are already employed in airplane plants, ammunition plants, ordnance, fuse and powder plants."

INDICTED JAPS SENT THANKS 'HOME IN LEGAL FASHION'

Seattle.—Joseph L. Green, supervising customs agent, reported today that two American-born Japanese exporters, indicted yesterday on charges of conspiring unlawfully to ship military equipment to Japan, had lawfully supplied with thirty-two tanks capable of storing 128,000,000 gallons of gasoline.

The Federal grand jury returned true bills against Charles T. Takahashi and Edward Y. Osawa, Seattle exporters, on charges of applying last fall for permits to send three 4,000,000-gallon tanks to China although they were intended for Japan. The licenses were refused under the presidential order banning shipments of such munitions to Japan, but Green said the men had shipped thirty-two similar tanks to Japan before the Executive order made it unlawful.

MacArthur Ignores Jap Demand That He Surrender His Forces, As Filipinos Laugh At Leaflets

Schoolboy English Of Invaders Gives Grim Amusement

All-Out Attack On Lines Is Expected At An Early Date

Washington.—General Douglas MacArthur reported to the War Department today that he had simply ignored a Japanese demand for his surrender and said his Filipino troops had only laughed at Jap appeals that they lay down their arms.

His message was transmitted while his battered but determined defending forces braced themselves to repel another in the long series of full scale enemy onslaughts. While the invaders prepared to resume the offensive there was a lull in the fighting.

The demand for capitulation, said the general, was printed on leaflets, dropped by Japanese aviators as early as Jan. 10. More recently, he added, the Japs had resumed dropping the pamphlets, this time with a message for the Filipino soldiers printed on the reverse side.

Mutilated English
The appeal, expressing a desire to "avoid further annihilation of your dear lives," was filled with typically amusing Japanese-schoolboy examples of mutilated English.

"This message," MacArthur said, "has occasioned much mirth among the Filipino soldiers who are continuing their resistance with loyalty, courage and resolution."

The original leaflet of Jan. 10 was addressed to General MacArthur, and read:

"You are well aware that you are doomed. The end is near. The question is how long you will be able to resist. You have already cut rations by half. I appreciate the fighting spirit of yourself and your troops who have been fighting with courage. Your prestige and honor have been upheld."

Advised To Surrender
"However, in order to avoid needless bloodshed and to have your first, thirty-first divisions, and the remnants of other divisions, together with your auxiliary troops, you are advised to surrender. In the meantime, we shall continue our offensive as I do not wish to give you time for defense."

"If you decide to comply with our advice send a mission as soon as possible to our front-line. We shall then cease firing and negotiate an armistice. Failing that our offense will be continued with inexorable force which will bring upon you only disaster."

"Hoping your wise counsel will so prevail that you will save the lives of your troops, I remain, 'Yours very sincerely,' 'Commander in chief, the Japanese expeditionary forces.'"

Message To Filipinos
The message printed on the back to the Filipino troops, read as follows:

Doctor Says War May Bring End To 'Keeping Up With The Jones'

Atlanta.—Among other things, says Dr. Newdigate M. Owensby, the war is going to cure a great many Americans of their chronic neurosis since they won't have to "keep up with the Joneses."

"Those men and women with perpetual jitters," he says, "usually are suffering from nothing but idle minds that go to work on themselves. There is no better cure for a neurosis than a nerve-shocking disaster that jolts all the mental and physical powers into instant and total action."

Says All On Level
One factor contributing to peacetime neurosis, says Dr. Owensby, is

"The outcome of the present combat has been already decided and you are cornered to the doom. At this time, ever generous commander-in-chief of Japanese expeditionary forces in order to avoid further annihilation of your dear lives has presented to your commander-in-chief, General MacArthur, a letter as shown on the back page of this leaflet. But, however, being unable to realize the present situation, blinded General MacArthur has stupidly refused our proposal and continues futile struggle at the cost of your precious lives."

15 PER CENT TAX ON SALARY ABOVE $1,000 CONSIDERED

Washington.—A 15 per cent payroll tax on all salaries above $1,000 a year was reported under discussion in administration circles today as evidence developed that Congressional and Treasury officials thus far had failed to agree on fundamental principles of the new revenue bill.

Treasury experts, faced with the necessity of raising $7,000,000,000 in general taxes if they are to meet President Roosevelt's request, were said to have renewed their suggestion of last year for a 15 per cent levy on payrolls, withheld at the source.

They were understood to have won some influential converts to this proposal, despite what other legislators described as mounting sentiment in Congress for imposition of a retail sales tax. The House ways and means committee informally rejected the withholding tax proposal last year and a substantial number of members indicated recently they favored, instead, a sales levy.

As evidence that this trend was spreading to the Senate, Senator Brown (D-Mich.), said he was convinced a majority of the members of the finance committee would choose the sales tax, if they became convinced that one of the two must be voted in order to obtain sufficient funds.

DOCTOR UNPAID 41 YEARS BARS BIRTH CERTIFICATE

Toledo, Ohio.—"Mr. X" needs a birth certificate to hold his job. The physician who aided the stork forty-one years ago said he would provide an affidavit only after the applicant pays a $15 balance on his own birth bill. Chief Deputy Victor Rosenberger of probate court averred the problem is entirely the anonymous "Mr. X's."

Now is a good time to renew your subscription.

member of the public education committee of the American Psychiatric Association, is "keeping up with the Joneses."

"The surplus money," he went on in an interview, "is taken from the rich and spent for the safety of the nation in which we are all stockholders. Everyone is down to the same level—there is no need for the sense of frustration which produces the neurotic, that futile feeling that we are not as good as others because we don't have the comforts and luxuries they have."

"It's almost worth the price of a war to get that Jones family off the American mind."

VITAL TRANSPORTATION AND U-BOAT WARFARE

On January 12, when German submarines first made their appearance in Atlantic coast waters there were various explanations for the daring undertaking across 3,000 miles of wintry ocean. The object, according to speculation at the time, was to torpedo the ship on which Prime Minister Churchill, it was believed, would return to England; it was to demonstrate in spectacular fashion the striking power of the Nazis and it was to influence the Pan-American Conference at Rio de Janeiro by a mere show of force by a few submarines.

All of these objects may have been envisioned, but they were merely incidental and the demonstration was not on a small but a large scale. According to dispatches from Washington, Germany has shifted a major portion of its under-sea fleet to this side of the Atlantic. It is aiming its torpedo tubes at American coastal vessels, chiefly tankers. In less than three weeks it has sunk at least 14 American or Allied ships including the passenger liner Lady Hawkins. The submarine menace has moved from mid-Atlantic to our very shores from the St. Lawrence to the Gulf of Mexico.

It is now obvious that this bold campaign carried on far from base and risking the greater part of Germany's U-boat fleet is a part of Hitler's grand strategy. It seeks to divert destroyers from the Atlantic patrol thus making the life line to Britain more vulnerable. It seeks to relieve the pressure on Japan by an attempt to draw more American naval vessels from the Pacific to the Atlantic. And primarily and most important of all it seeks to cripple American shipping and thus cripple American production.

In this recent report on the war, Winston Churchill emphasized that transportation was the big problem in getting men and supplies to the far-flung battle lines, to Russia, to Egypt, to Australia, to the Dutch East Indies and to Singapore. It is the big problem too in getting essential war materials to our factories. It is the vital link between materials and machines and between machines and the fighting forces, and it must span the globe to accomplish its purpose.

Hitler has embarked on a colossal gamble in sending the major portion of his U-boats across the Atlantic. Without bases on this side of the ocean or without mother ships they face the alternatives of almost certain destruction or of returning to home waters. But while they operate they will do considerable damage to our vital transportation system.—Courier-Journal

HEAR COMPROMISE REACHED BY HITLER WITH HIGH OFFICERS

Says Unable To Carry On In Russia Without Experienced Officers

London.—The anti-Axis German language newspaper Die Zeitung, published in London, will say tomorrow that a compromise reached by Adolf Hitler and certain elements of the German high command is "equivalent to an admission on the part of Hitler that he is unable to carry on the Eastern (Russian) campaign without the aid of experienced strategists."

An extract from the newspaper, circulated today by the British Ministry of Information, declares that commands of the conservative Generals Von Bock, Von Rundstedt, Von Leeb and others "have been confirmed and they are now in charge of new armies."

The price Hitler paid for the compromise was mainly a promise to reduce the recently strong voice of Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo chief, in military affairs and send him back to the Reich from headquarters on the eastern front.

However, Die Zeitung declared, Himmler is still the strongest man in Germany after Hitler and has about his own preparations for increasing the power of the Nazi party and regime. One of these is a big recruiting program for the SS, Hitler's Elite Guard.

Himmler is expected to take over the Interior Ministry when the present minister, Wilhelm Frick, reaches retirement age and form an unofficial "Reich civil war ministry" to instill the "SS caste spirit" in the whole nation. Frick will be 65 on March 12.

Fedor Von Bock, Karl Rudolph Gerd Von Rundstedt and Wilhelm Ritter Von Leeb, each a field marshal general, have figured in reports of a shakeup in the German command.

On Jan. 20 a Swiss press dispatch from Berlin said that Von Bock had succeeded the late Field Marshal General Walter Von Reichenau as commander in the Ukraine. Von Reichenau had died—so Berlin announced—of apoplexy.

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WHERE will the defense worker of today be in five years? That is a question which cannot be answered with any great degree of certainty, but there are well defined steps leading toward the ultimate goal sought by all. Any man who is not today working along for the next five years on a routine job, no matter how important it is to the production line, will find himself in no better position than he is today.

It is as true today as it was 100 years ago, that the man who works to get ahead in the man who is improving himself. He is looking far beyond the present job, and in most instances he is studying some type of instruction that will lift him out of a routine job into a position of greater responsibility.

Routine jobs in factories and manufacturing plants, of course, will pay more during the next five years, and they are vital to the nation's defense plans. However, there is danger for the individual in that he may be content to get along with progress in the key jobs will keep pushing away in fair weather and foul.

Self-improvement in the face of adversity is typically American. We now have to show that the same progress can be made in times of economic upheaval and abnormal employment demands. Jobs may not be so plentiful five years from now.

BEGIN NATION-WIDE STOCK INSPECTION OF TIRE DEALERS

Washington.—A nation-wide inspection of the stocks and records of tire and tube dealers was started today by Price Administrator Leon Henderson to detect violations of the tire rationing regulations.

"First attention is being given to establishments or dealers against whom complaints have been filed either with the Office of Price Administration in Washington or with state and local rationing officials," the OPA announcement said.

A routine inspection of all dealers, large and small, will be made also by a large investigative staff. Members of the OPA's field operations division will be assisted by 500 inspectors of the Labor Department's wage and hour division, OPA said.

GENERAL'S SETTER WAITS AS MONGREL GETS TREATMENT

Camp Edwards, Mass.—There's democracy among dogs in the army as well as among men.

A mongrel owned by a C. C. C. boy was struck by a car and received a broken leg. The dog was sent to the 26th Division hospital here, and received preference over the Irish setter of Brig. Gen. William I. Rose, commanding officer of the Fifty-first Infantry Brigade.

The general's setter, taken to the hospital with an ailment, had to wait until the mongrel's leg was set.

JAPAN AGREES TO GIVE INFORMATION ON WAR PRISONERS

Washington, —Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross, announced today that he has been officially notified that Japan has agreed to an exchange of information regarding prisoners of war.

This information on the welfare of American prisoners, held by the Japanese, from Wake Island, Guam, the Philippine Islands and other points in the Pacific, soon may be available to their relatives, Davis said.

The Japanese government also has signified its readiness to exchange information concerning interned non-combatants "as far as possible."

As soon as the American prisoner of war lists are received in Washington, the next of kin in the United States will be notified by the prisoners of war bureau of the U. S. Army, Davis explained.

He said the Red Cross is not the agency to which to apply, unless the next of kin is notified that the military man is reported "missing." The Red Cross will then send out a query trying to trace him through the international Red Cross.

In anticipation of consent for shipment of food, some types of clothing and other comforts on a reciprocal basis, the American Red Cross is working on plans to send aid to American nationals imprisoned in the Pacific area.

The first move will be to charter one or more ships to carry clothing and prisoner-of-war boxes to American prisoners. It is likely that the boats will be sent from Australia, because of its closeness to the war area, when guarantees of safe conduct are obtained.

Under a Geneva treaty of 1929, the detaining power agrees to provide food and clothing for prisoners, but the American Red Cross plans to meet certain supplementary needs.

The American Red Cross has standard prisoner-of-war food boxes for which the world-be donor pays $2.40 each.

RATIONING COMES TO CANADA AFTER 27 MONTHS OF WAR

Ottawa — Rationing came to Canada officially this week after 27 months of war but to the average consumer it was not a knock-out blow.

Canadians since the war began have felt increasingly the pinch of restricted supply in many lines besides sugar which now, by law, must not be used at a rate exceeding three-quarters of a pound a person each week.

Canada already has established price control, forbidden the general sale of automobile tires and arranged to ration gasoline.

Dominion officials said the government is prepared to go further as the need arises.

Authority for price control and rationing is combined in two government boards — the wartime prices and trade board under Donald Gordon, deputy governor of the Bank of Canada, and the wartime industries control board under R. C. Berkinshaw, who came to the government service from the automotive industry.

Together these men and their associates wield powers almost identical with those of Leon Hucherson, acting price administrator in the United States.

Bulldogs Whip Hickman In Tight Game Last Night In Overtime

In one of the oddest and most spectacular games ever played on the floor of Science Hall, the Bulldogs came from far behind last night to whip the Hickman Wildcats in a game which meant the league leadership, the final score, after an overtime period being 22 to 20. The odd feature was that Referee Assin had already ruled the Bulldogs winners in regulation time 19 to 18, but when the Hickman coach and spectators became dissatisfied with the ruling Coach Giles agreed to call the score tied at 18-all and to play an overtime period of five minutes. The Bulldogs had already gone to the showers and some were dressed, but he called them back and started the overtime period. During this overtime period a Hickman player fouled out, but because no one was available to replace him Coach Giles allowed him to remain in the game. Later Layne Spence had his fourth foul, and Coach Giles at once removed him from the game. All told, it was a great example of sportsmanship and without doubt gave the Hickman people more satisfaction than would have been the case had the game been allowed to close under a cloud.

The argument came in the final half-minute of play with Hickman leading 18 to 17. The Bulldogs drove in for the basket, McClellan shooting and missing. Tall Billy Reed tipped the ball in and just at this juncture the buzzer ended the game. It was the decision of the timer and the referee that the ball was in the air when the buzzer sounded, but after prolonged discussion Coach Giles agreed to call the game a tie at that point and play a five minute overtime period.

The game was a thriller all the way through, with Hickman grabbing an early lead and then fighting hard to hold it. In the regular game the Wildcats won the first half 12 to 7, while the Bulldogs won the second half 12 to 6. That pretty well tells the story. In the first half the Bulldogs could not hit the basket, although they had plenty of good chances. A tall lad by the name of Jones always got the rebound for Hickman and the Bulldogs seldom had two shots if the first one missed. In the second half the Bulldogs began applying more speed to the Wildcats and this soon paid dividends, for the Wildcats could not keep up the pace.

McClellan was high point man with eleven points for the Bulldogs, while Jones was high for the Wildcats with 10 points. McClellan also played a magnificent floor game. Moore also played a great game on the floor, his sharp and accurate passes threading the Hickman defense many times. In fact, all the boys played well, and it was the best exhibition of really fighting for a game that the team has given.

Bardwell comes here Tuesday night.

LISTENING POST

subscription receipts registered a steady gain in every month of the year and this past month is showing a decided gain over January of last year.

● I find, too, that want ads in the columns of this newspaper are so closely read that it is almost unbelievable. That is another certain sign of a live newspaper. Frankly, the newspaper does not have enough advertising to earn much profit, but as stated at the very beginning the real duty of a newspaper is not primarily to the advertiser. The first and foremost duty is to the subscribers, and in this respect I say that the Leader lives up to its duty.

FDR MAY TELL WAR PROGRESS IN FEBRUARY

Washington.—President Roosevelt expects to tell the nation by radio about the progress of the war effort around February 22 and the White House said today that by that time "it is quite possible he will have things of importance to say."

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early disclosed Mr. Roosevelt's intention to speak about the time of George Washington's birthday. He said that the White House had been receiving, by mail, telegram and orally, many requests that the chief executive make another fire-side chat to the country "to disseminate poisonous and troublesome rumors and insofar as possible to give the country a clearer and better understanding of the war and all that it involves."

He said the President did not feel that the present was a very good time to talk to the people but thought late next month would be more propitious.

GREATEST ROLE EVER FOR CHURCH IS NOW PREDICTED

Atlanta.—An unparalleled religious opportunity, the "greatest in 2,000 years," when the "church triumphant" will be welcomed in every country, was foreseen today by two Baptist leaders.

Dr. Charles E. Maddy, Richmond, Va., executive secretary of the Baptist Foreign Mission Board, declared "we feel that every door in the world will be opened to us after the war and we must meet that challenge."

Dr. George W. Saddler, also of Richmond, said the world will be "waiting for the word of the missionaries when this is over, including even Russia."

They are here to plan for continuance of mission work in imperiled areas abroad.

MANY STUDENTS FOUND UNCERTAIN ABOUT VOCATIONS

Madison, Wis.—More than one-fourth of the men and women on American college campuses are heading for disappointment because they haven't decided what they want to do with their lives.

Dr. A. H. Edgerton, director of vocational guidance of the bureau of guidance and records at the University of Wisconsin, said that, and he should know. Dr. Edgerton has spent a life-time in vocational counseling and guidance work.

"Students today are not giving enough thought to their educational preparation and occupational plans," Dr. Edgerton explained. "Too many, he said, allow chance and circumstances to determine their plans and actions."
