Trade Days Are

Happy Days

The inauguration Saturday of a series of Trade Days in Fulton was a complete success. The lowest prices in history were offered on a great many articles needed at the approach of winter, and a large crowd attended the opening day of the series.

Fulton is to be congratulated. There are many reasons for the large attendance at the Trade Days. Fulton is a progressive town and the people of the town are being encouraged to do their part by making Fulton a better town.

Every citizen is encouraged to buy his goods from Fulton businessmen. This is not only good for business, but it is good for the community as a whole.

The spirit of saving money means a dollar spent now is a dollar saved later. Fulton citizens are encouraged to spend their money now while prices are low.

HELP OUR MERCHANTS TO HELP YOU

EVERYONE will agree that a man succeeds and prospers only when he spends $1.50 money than he receives in a given period of time.

Let's apply this great economic test to the situation in this town. Our business men have invested—and continue to invest—their money in stocks of goods brought here to your very door to meet your daily needs.

Through the pages of this paper they advise you of their ability to serve this community. All of us know that they deserve our patronage. And remember, the more you trade with them the more funds they can invest in larger stocks and new lines.

Read the Ads in this Paper and save yourself money by trading at home.
This page contains various sections of text, including an advertisement for a beauty shoppe, an announcement about a beauty shoppe closing, and several stories about incidents involving children, including a policeman's bullet ending a life, and a notice about the closure of the only registered shoppe in Fulton, Kentucky. The text also includes a special offer for Christmas cards with a 75¢ price tag. The Fulton Advertiser newspaper layout is visible with its standard format, including headlines, paragraphs, and advertisements.
What the Railroads Are Doing

The railroad situation has been receiving much public attention through the hearings of the ap-10p. tication for an advanced freight rate. The urgent necessity of the rate increase has been fully presented.

At the same time the public has received the impression that this is the only thing that railroads are doing to improve their situation. That is not the fact.

Whereas it has been reported that rates have gone up in nominal amounts, much coal and freight delays have been eliminated. Dramatic economies have been made in the operating expenses for service that has been speeded up, and other improvements in service have been made. Financial attention has been devoted to selling stock and making the railroads more merchantable and dependable.

The public desires to know that while the railroad case has been pending the companies have not been idle in their other directions. What they have been doing strengthens their plans for increased rates.

Guiding Your Children

Bad habits lead children astray. Good habits guide them safely into the path of character, uprightness and independence.

You can start them right by teaching them to save money. Set them an example by saving yourself. Make them admire it.

Once started, the saving habit helps to form other good habits. It provides experience for them in handling their own funds.

This starts in the right direction but is a simple step.

Bring children to the bank when you start them to school.

For a Victim Nick Wise - A Small Fortune for Alabama Man He Married.

Just as the sun was breaking out of the clouds Thursday morning after a night of rain, a chicken was found on the farm of the late Mr. W. T. Wise, in the town of Seneca, Georgia, with the weight of a dead human being on it. The chicken was discovered by a boy who was playing in the garden. He immediately informed the police, and the body was taken to the coroner's office where an autopsy was performed.

DRASTIC ECONOMIES HAVE BEEN INSTITUTED

The people have received the impression that the railroad companies are preparing for an emergency advance in freight rates in the early part of this month if the situation, L. A. Dawes, manager of the Illinois Central at Clinton, points out that they have been making the following moves along similar lines:

-Dropping rates daily by reducing rates, both rates and other rates have been reduced. Frequent rate reductions have been made.
-Demand has been reduced. Railroads have been moving the majority of their shipments by reducing rates and making it more advantageous to ship by rail.

"The public desires to know that while the rate has been lowered and there has been sending of the railroads, we are not going to stop there, but are making increases in railroad service and to make it even more competitive in all things, we are making the following:

-Dropping rates to the Valley, a prize of Mr. and Mrs. Pitney were entered in the contest for."
