Mayfield Beats Fulton Bulldogs 35 to 6

The Fulton High Bulldogs were defeated 35 to 6 in their last game of the season, played against the Mayfield Cardinals Wednesday afternoon in Mayfield. Fulton's only score of the game came shortly before the first half ended when Bethel plunged over from the one yard stripe after a 60-yard sustained drive that saw Bethel, Williamson and Treas make substantial yardage. A pass for the point incomplete. The Bulldogs failed to penetrate the Mayfield territory in the second half.

The Cardinals scored early in the second quarter when Allen, reserve back, went over right guard for 19 yards and a touch-down. McClain kicked the extra point. Five minutes after the second half opened the Cards carried the ball to the Fulton 30 and Pharris went around left end for a touch-down. Stroup hit the line for the extra point. A few minutes later Cryar went through the middle for 40 yards to Fulton's 15-yard line, where the Bulldogs held but kicked out, and the Cards scored again on a series of line plays with Allen scoring from the 1-yard stripe.

Willingham was tackled behind his goal line by Boaz, Cardinal center, and Mayfield, counted a safety. Boaz intercepted a Bulldog pass a few moments later and scored from the Fulton 30. Smith's kick was good for the point. Logsdon returned Willingham's punt 70-yards for the final touch-down.

Score by quarters
Fulton 0 6 0 0—6

Supt. Lewis urged that anyone having boys' suits, boys' and girls' coats or shoes of any value to donate to the needy children, contact someone at the school or Mrs. Martin Nail as soon as possible. These articles are badly needed for some of the students will be unable to remain in school during the winter without assistance.

SCOUT NEWS

Troop 43

The Scout meeting of Troop 43 was held Wednesday evening at the Scout Cabin on Vine-st, with twenty members present. Mr. Edwards spoke to the boys as to what had happened to the Boy Scouts in England.

He stated that many of the troops had been broken up by the evacuation of their parents. The seniors officers. But the individual Scouts have been acting as messengers in the offices. The patrols have organized First Aid Stations.

It was suggested by the Scout Master that it would be nice if the Troop would correspond with Scouts in England.

The patrols that were responsible for cleaning the Cabin and yard and building a fire were reprimanded by Mr. Edwards.

There was a wood-chopping contest sponsored by the Junior Assistant Scoutmaster and was won by Eugene Byasse.

The winners of last week's signaling contest were awarded cookies for their efforts. They were the Wolf patrol.

The Cabin was then cleaned by some volunteers and by the time this work was finished everyone had left the Cabin.

ALASKA'S RESOURCES

When Secretary of State Seward negotiated the purchase of Alaska from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000, the transaction was severely criticized by many, and by some it was termed "Seward's Folly." But subsequent events have proved it to have been a very good buy after all.

Since the discovery of gold in 1880, more than 400 million dollars worth of the precious metal has been produced, and the output still exceeds ten million dollars a year. When the price of copper was high, from five to seven million dollars worth of that metal was mined each year, while the salmon pack value has ranged from 21 to 45 million dollars in recent years. The normal lumber cut from Alaskan forests is from 40 to 50 million board feet.

Alaska's present population is about 60,000, almost equally divided between whites and Indians. There are 88 elementary schools and 15 high schools, besides 98 day schools and three industrial schools provided by the government for native children. Seven hospitals are maintained also.

The vast territory of 586,400 square miles is rich in natural resources yet untouched, and could support several times its present population. While the winters are severe in the interior, the temperature sometimes going to 60 degrees below zero, the climate on the coast is moderate, the thermometer rarely falling below zero or going above 80 degrees.

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART, Editor

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

Foad Homra is making a splendid record as Exalted Ruler of the local Elks Club. He has done a lot to put Fulton well up in Elklod in the state of Kentucky. Another goodwill representative who has been holding up the banner of the Fulton lodge is Ed Hannephin. These men have been unusually active in the state organization, both holding responsible state offices. A large delegation of representative Elks attended the national convention of Elks at Houston this past summer. Fewer cities in the state can claim a finer or stronger Elks Club than Fulton.

There were some around Fulton who thought that Fulton would not have a team in the Kitty League next year. But now that the 1940 season has faded into the past, these self-same people are looking forward to next year. Baseball is a mighty popular sport. Fulton has a lot of good fellows with lots of interest in the game—fellows like Bert Newhouse, K. P. Dalton, Walter Evans, H. H. Bugg, Bailey Huddleston, R. E. Sanford, Foad Homra, Abe Jolley and many others. They are the boys who keep baseball alive in Fulton. It has always been a difficult problem to maintain a minor league ball club in cities like Fulton and other small population areas. But it is from these smaller teams that the future baseball stars of tomorrow will come. Baseball fans here have been generous in contributions toward keeping a team in the Kitty loop. There has been some complaint about continuing these donations when money was tight. But real sports have fallen in line. However, efforts are now being made to build up a "kitty" for the coming season now. This is good judgment, and other moves contemplated will be a big help in getting off to a better start next year.

There's one thing that I'd like to see developed in this territory—known far and wide as the Jackson Purchase. I'd like to see the historical background and cradles of civilization in this section developed. There are many spots that deserves more attention than they are getting. Development of these places not only improve our community, but provide interesting locale for tourists. In recent years, with Europe aflame, tourists have been compelled to travel in their own country. This is well and good. It will enable us to understand one another better. American tourist dollars are well worth going after. So let's join in a movement to develop the real assets of Reelfoot Lake, Old Fort Jefferson, the Columbus-Belmont Battleground, the home of Casey Jones, and scenic beauty along the Mississippi. Many prominent figures of history have tread the Jackson Purchase, or traveled by boat along the Mississippi which is met by the Ohio at Cairo.

Fulton and Fulton county was named after Robert Fulton, famed steamboat inventor. Just imagine what a display could be created around the "steamboat age" when streams were the principal route of travel. Couple this with an exhibition about railroads and their advancement down through the years. Along with this link in the lives and histories of Robert Fulton, Casey Jones, and such early pioneer personages as Thomas Jefferson, George Rogers Clark and Andrew Jackson, who had a part in shaping this part of the country. And don't forget that the Capitol of the United States barely missed being located near Columbus at one time. A survey was made, and the grounds plotted, very similar in design to Washington, D. C.

For years I have been gathering historical data about this section, and there's an abundance of interesting material around which could be created a gripping portrayal of our early America—as our forefathers knew it.

Many new homes have been built in and adjoining the twin cities in the past year. This is a sign of a good community. First a community must have good, comfortable homes, progressive schools and religious institutions where all may gather to worship as they desire. We in Fulton and America enjoy these privileges. All the reason we should be thankful at this season. Thankful that we are not so unfortunate as those peoples of war-torn Europe. May we never be visited by such catastrophe—the aftermath of which will be felt for generations to come. The sadness of it all, is that a few power-mad egotists like Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin and the militarists of Japan force these circumstances upon the great masses.

These acts of horror and destruction must stop. They will be stopped. The countries of Europe and Asia have been invaded and conquered. But, in the end, the people will win. Totalitarian power cannot last. Mass revolution in one form or another is certain to follow. But in the meanwhile, millions must die either by war or starvation. Civilization is turning backward. Progress is unknown. Just think how much good could be accomplished for the human race if as much effort and money were spent toward improving the lot of our fellow man. To be prosperous and happy, those around us must not be allowed to suffer and die unaided.

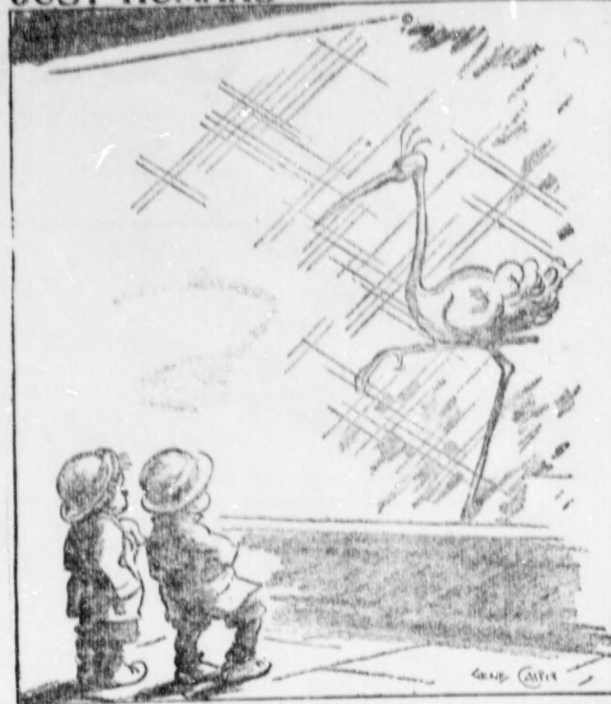

I haven't much patience with these fellows who are living in this country and paying allegiance to some foreign government. "No man can serve two masters." If they don't like America, let them get out. And if they are caught working against the U. S., or doing damage to public property, they deserve no mercy. A traitor is lower than a thief or murderer. For he lives a life that has nothing but falsehood and crime to support it. Let us keep awake to preserve the foundation of our government. It's our sacred trust to protect, for by so doing we preserve those things we love so well. Things we enjoy that those in suppressed countries can never know.

Frequently in this column I have asked motorists questions on driving. This practice seems to have struck a popular chord, since questions on driving habits assist us in making a personal inventory of our own driving. Here are a few more

Where He Could Go for Thirty Cents

By IRVIN S. COBB

AFTER the latest election, the members of the Speakers' Bureau of Tammany Hall had a banquet to celebrate the Democratic victory in New York. The newly elected Lieutenant-Governor, George W. Lunn, came down from upstate to sit at the guest table and join his political brethren in the love feast.

After several dependable local orators had been heard, the toastmaster, an old Tammany war-horse, called upon Mr. Lunn for a speech. In introducing Mr. Lunn, the toastmaster rather goaded him for some of his personal beliefs. He said that Lunn formerly had shown Socialist leanings and that he still was a Prohibitionist. In fact, as the saying goes, he rather got under Lunn's skin.

Slowly the latter rose to his feet. "Gentlemen," he said, "the usages of polite society and the nature of this occasion conspire to prevent me from telling your chairman exactly what I think of him for his remarks in presenting me to this distinguished assemblage. But his words and my reaction to those words bring to mind an incident which happened not long ago. I am going to tell you the story of that incident and if, in the point of it, the gentleman sees a personal application, I shall not be sorry."

"Some three months ago, fourteen of us were waiting in a line at the Grand Central Station to purchase fares on outgoing trains. Some among us had but a few minutes to spare. All of us, naturally, were in a hurry to transact the business and get ourselves and our luggage aboard the cars."

"All of a sudden, an inebriated person burst like an alcoholic bombshell among us. Ignoring the rules of procedure, he shoved his way to the front, elbowing and jostling those already in line, until he reached the ticket window. Upon the shelf he slammed down a quarter and a nickel and in a loud voice stated his wishes."

"Gimme a ticket for San Francisco," he said.

"You can't go to San Francisco for thirty cents," stated the ticket-seller.

"Well, where can I go, then?" he asked.

"And with one voice, gentlemen, all fourteen of us told him."

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN FOR PREPARING TURKEY

Turkeys are going to market 30 million strong this year. This is the biggest turkey crop on record, with unusually large numbers ready for market early in the season.

Along with the increased production, the demand for turkey on the table is growing. Miss Maude Guthrie, U-T Agricultural Extension nutritionist, points out.

Restaurants have turkey on the menu often, because it is economical to cook and serve. And it appeals to the diner-out who wants something special. Many homemakers also use turkey for more than Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners. They find it an ideal choice any time there are guests, or just for the family dinner on Sunday. If the turkey is large, it serves as the main dish for other delicious meals to follow.

Cold slices of turkey are excellent "as is," or in sandwiches. You can also dice the cold turkey into a salad or make it into a jellied aspic.

If you want a hot dish, it takes only a few minutes to scollop the delicious tidbits of left-over turkey. Miss Guthrie also suggests turkey croquettes with a crisp brown crust or pieces of turkey and gravy heated in the oven under a lid of biscuit rounds or mashed potatoes.

When it comes to roasting the turkey, you'll find helpful suggestions in the Bureau of Home Economics leaflet, "Poultry Cooking." You can get free copy by sending a postal card to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Declared the first world's champion cotton picker, Harold Mason, a 15-year-old white boy of Senath, Mo., won his title against 155 other competitors, all older than himself, at Blytheville, Ark. He picked 129 pounds of clean cotton in two hours to win $1,000 which he will spend for an agricultural course at the University of Missouri.

President Roosevelt recently nominated Colonel Benjamin O. Davis to be a brigadier general, the first Negro ever to be appointed to that high rank in the Regular Army. General Davis is one of the very few members of his race to graduate from West Point.

Quality Merchandise and Prompt Service Is Our Slogan

●We will have dressed Turkeys for Thanksgiving. Place your order now.

MY POP is just an ordinary hard-working fellow and he and mom don't live fancy. But they're happy.

The other night mom was showing pop my new electric bottle warmer, and he said we're lucky to have such handy electric things. That got him started talking about his job and he said American workmen are much better off than workmen in other countries. He said a big reason is because American factories use so much more electric power and that means men like my pop can turn out more work and therefore make more money for his boss, Mr. Hardy, and more for himself, too. And Mr. Hardy can sell his products cheaper, so more people can buy them and that helps everybody. That's why people like my pop and mom are really rich—rich in the things that make life more enjoyable.

Pop said, just think mom, a business man like Mr. Hardy has to invest about fifteen or twenty thousand dollars for every man he has working for him. Golly. But it's men who are willing to take risks like that who keep our wheels turning around, pop said.

Dodge Dealer Feeling Fine Praises Retonga

Indigestion and Sluggish Elimination Promptly Relieved. Gains 10 lbs.

Relieved of their sufferings, often for the first time in years, scores of happy men and women continue to express their gratitude to Retonga. Among thousands of Retonga endorser are many prominent business men, one of who is Mr. Ben A. Parrish, Dodge and Plymouth dealer, and leading business figure of Shepherdsville, who gratefully declares:

MR. BEN A. PARRISH

"Retonga is the best medicine I know of. Indigestion tortured me off and on for eighteen years, and it got so bad I dreaded to eat, for food turned so sour and gassy in my stomach I could seldom retain anything more than two or three hours after meals. I had to take purgatives regularly for constipation, had dizzy headaches, and often I was so sleepless I heard the clock strike every hour in the night.

"It was surprising how soon I felt better after I started taking Retonga. Now I eat three square meals a day without indigestion, my constipation and dizzy headaches are relieved, and I sleep fine. I feel wonderful. Retonga can't be beat."

Retonga is a purely vegetable stomachic medicine. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at DeMYER DRUG CO.—Adv.

YOUR WALL OF PROTECTION

Crusoe Knew What He Wanted . . . and he got it!

One of the most persistent advertisers in the history of success was Robinson Crusoe. He knew what he wanted—a ship—so he put up an ad for one. He flung up a shirt on a pole, at the top of his island. That, in the language of the sea, was plain to every seafaring man.

The circulation was small, there was no other medium but Crusoe kept at it, despite the fact that he got no inquiries for a long time. He changed his copy, as one garment after another was frayed, and in the end he got what he wanted.

Crusoe used the best medium at his disposal. The best in the KEN-TENN territory is THE FULTON COUNTY NEWS. It goes direct to the people people to whom you wish to tell your story. Use these columns persistently and you are bound to obtain results.

The successful business man knows that he must consistently link Advertising with good merchandising. The firm that fails to advertise is adopting false economy, for the business goes where it is invited. Failure to advertise regularly is the biggest expense on your books.

Fire-Cured Tobacco Notes For Committeemen and Educational Leaders

Important export outlets for fire-cured tobacco have been closed as a result of war. Even with a 1940 crop estimated at 96 million pounds, the present prospects are that production this year will exceed domestic consumption and exports for the coming year by 35 million pounds. Growers must act if disastrously low prices are to be avoided. The 1941 acreage allotments will be substantially smaller than those for 1940.

On November 23, growers will have an opportunity to decide whether or not they desire to use marketing quotas to aid in correcting this situation. Quotas can be used to prevent further increase in supplies and thus protect the growers' income. Growers may adopt quotas for a one-year or a three-year period.

If quotas are approved for three years no 1941 farm allotment would be reduced more than 25 percent from the 1940 farm allotment. If quotas are disapproved or approved for one year only, this adjustment from the 1940 farm allotment would be 33 1-3 percent.

Government loans have been used to support prices for fire-cured tobacco for a number of years. These loans have tended to keep prices from going to extremely low levels. Under present conditions there would be no provision for making loans on the 1940 crop unless growers approve quotas. With the approval of quotas, loans for 1940 will be provided at the 1939 rate.

Places for voters on the referendum will be announced in this paper next week.
