Emerson, Charged With Abortion, Is Bound Over To Grand Jury

Odie Emerson, 45-year-old Ruth-erford business man, dairyman and farmer, was still in Obion County jail at the last report from Union City, unable to provide $5,000 bail.

Officials said an attempt was being made by his son, however, to raise bond money.

Emerson waived a preliminary hearing and was bound over to the action of the grand jury, after being charged with two counts of performing a criminal abortion. One of the charges stemmed from the death early last week of Mrs. Joyce McDade, 32, Cape Girardeau, Mo. The other charge, officials revealed, came from question of a 30-year-old Obion County woman.

Officials, who declined to identify the woman, said she admitted that Emerson had performed an illegal abortion on her.

Police also said a nurse and a doctor who were with Mrs. McDade just before she died have quoted the former Fulton telephone operator as saying the abortion was performed on her on the Saturday night before she died on Monday afternoon of last week.

She was taken to the hospital on Monday morning, three hours before she died by Donald Kimbro, 25, a telephone company employee at Fulton.

Officials said Kimbro first told that he and Mrs. McDade spent the night at a Reelfoot Lake motel on the Saturday night, but later changed his story and provided information upon which Emerson was arrested. Officials would not

An 18-year-old McCracken County youth, driving a stolen car, was killed Friday night just south of Wingo on Highway 45 in a head-on crash.

Bobby Joe Robinson, who lived on the Husbands Road, Paducah, Rt. 3, died instantly of head injuries and a throat gash, according to Graves County Coroner Jack Anderson.

Both occupants of the other car involved were admitted to Fuller-Morgan Hospital at Mayfield, where they were reported in "fair" condition.

Clinton M. Doran, 39, Lynnville Rt. 1, driver of the car, suffered a broken right ankle, severe laceration of the lip and multiple abrasions and contusions.

Mary McKinney, 27, of Graves County, passenger in the Doran car, had a fracture of the left leg, lacerations of both legs and contusions of the chest and face.

The collision occurred just before midnight during a drizzling rain on a straight stretch of highway less than half mile south of Wingo. State police said the crash appeared to have occurred in Doran's north-bound lane of traffic.

The automobile driven by Robinson had been reported stolen about an hour earlier by Cloyce L. Cox of Paducah Rt. 8.

The car belonging to Cox was reported to be a total loss. The other automobile was heavily damaged.

The fatality was the first traffic death in Graves County for 1960.

Robinson was an Army veteran, receiving his discharge last October. He was employed by E. M. Fuller Lumber Company.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Aline Thompson, step-father, Ezra Thompson, a half-brother, William Thompson, a sister, Miss Ella Mae Robinson, and two half-sisters, Miss Janice Thompson and Miss Jacquelyn Thompson, all of McCracken County.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Monday at Lindsey Funeral Home. Burial was in Palestine Cemetery in McCracken County.

$457.45 Raised In Easter Seal Drive In Fulton

Fulton County has raised $457.45 to date in its 1960 Easter Seal drive which opened Monday, March 21.

L. M. McBride and Guy Upton, co-chairmen of the local drive, urged residents to mail their contributions this week to: Warren Anderson, Kentucky Utilities Co., Fulton, Kentucky.

Money contributed to Easter Seals is the principal means of support for the varied program of care and treatment carried out by the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children at its six facilities in the state.

"Ninety per cent of the money you contribute to Easter Seals remains in Kentucky to care for Kentucky's physically handicapped boys and girls," Mr. Upton and Mr. McBride said, "so you are really giving to help your friends and neighbors."

The 1960 Easter Seal appeal will continue through April 17, Easter Sunday.

State to Fill Vacancy on County School Board; Turner's Actions Likely Legal

Judge Elvis Stahr ruled Tuesday that the office of C. A. Turner, chairman of the Fulton County School Board has been vacant since October 3, at which time Turner is said to have moved into Tennessee.

Paramount in the minds of Fulton County school patrons is the legality of action taken by the board since the date the office was declared vacant by Judge Stahr. A News reporter contacted the office of the State Superintendent of Education on Wednesday and learned that on the basis of previous decisions rendered in the court in similar cases that the actions taken by the board since October 3 will remain in force.

A. M. Wilder, executive assistant to State Superintendent of Education Wendell P. Butler told the News that previous decisions rendered by the Fulton County School Board probably will be sustained in view of the potential damage that the revocations would have on the persons involved. During that time the board has approved the teacher list for the coming year and other fiscal matters have been dispensed with. It was the consensus, on the basis of previous decisions rendered, that the chairman acted in good faith in the position he held during the period in question and his actions would not be termed illegal.

The matter of appointing a new member to the board to take the place of Mr. Turner remains with the State Board of Education, Mr. Wilder said, in view of the fact that the 90 days, in which the local board could have appointed its member has passed. Mr. Wilder said that the State Board of Education meets on Monday of next week and undoubtedly will take up the matter of the Fulton County School Board vacancy. It has been the custom of the board to accept recommendations for appointments to fill vacancies presented by the State Superintendent of Education, although there have been instances where the State Board has rejected the recommendations of the State Superintendent of Education.

Judge Stahr's decision was handed down in connection with a suit filed last year by the state's attorney general. The suit sought

A special meeting of the entire membership of the First District Education Association has been called for Tuesday, April 12, at 7:30 p. m., in the Murray State College Auditorium, according to M. O. Wrather, FDEA secretary.

The purpose of the meeting will be for the members of FDEA to hear Dr. Harry Sparks, president of the Kentucky Education Association, discuss school legislation recently passed by the Kentucky Legislature.

Barkley Jones, president of the FDEA Board of Directors which decided to hold the meeting at an executive session here yesterday, said that he hoped as many members as possible would attend, as Dr. Sparks has been one of the most active presidents ever of the KEA and probably knows as much about the recent legislation and its affects as any other man.

Committee Suggests Improvements To South Fulton Council Monday

Four members of the Bigger, Better and More Beautiful South Fulton Committee, Mrs. W. F. Stewart, Mrs. Finis Vancil, Mrs. G. P. Speight and Mrs. Paul Blaylock, appeared before the regular meeting of the South Fulton city council Monday night to give their report.

Mrs. Stewart was spokesman for the group and told the council of a number of things that needed improving or corrected in the city.

The first suggestion by the group was to have Clean-Up Week in South Fulton on April 18-23. This the council OKed. Plans are to have the city truck pick up all junk put out by South Fulton residents during that week.

Another suggestion voted on by the council was to put up a sign on Richard Street for the protection of the children. This was to be done Tuesday by the city police.

A complaint by the committee concerned the parking in the middle of the street in front of the South Fulton Baptist Church on Sunday mornings.

The committee members reported on the planting of the crepe myrtle bushes in South Fulton Thursday.

It was suggested by the committee that something be done about the eight old houses on the Martin Highway, located north of the South Fulton Fire Station and the Cannon Insurance Agency. The women pointed out that they are eyesores of the city.

Joe Davis, owner of the cotton gin in South Fulton, appeared before the council with a problem, and the drainage of a pond on Central Avenue in back of the Southern State Coop was discussed.

The Gin Company office has been designated as the voting place for residents on the east side of the Martin Highway.

The council voted to send notices to all citizens owing delinquent taxes in the city.

A discussion of the new City Hall annex was held but no action will be taken on how to raise the money for the construction until the completed plans are returned.

Mayor Milton Counce announced that the Weakley County Municipal Electric System is about ready to start work on installing street lights, posts and fixtures in the city and wants to meet with the council members to discuss what kind to use.

The replacement of Roland Wray as relief policeman and fireman was delayed until a meeting next Monday night.

The following managers will work in the leagues this year:

White Sox, Stanley Beadles; Giants, Stanley Stennet; Yankees, James Hazlewood and Tom Parks; Cardinals, J. B. Lee and Charles Noles; Orioles, Carnell Rowland; 122 boys registered for the Little Boys League.

All boys having money to turn in from the sale of Booster buttons should turn the money in to M. R. Jeffers at the Fulton Bank.

There will be a financial drive in the business district of Fulton and South Fulton and the surrounding areas on Thursday morning, April 14.

It is hoped that every merchant, businessman and professional man will contribute to this worthwhile program.

Fulton: An Island of High Power Rates

In Monday's Nashville Tennessean a report of the KU vs TVA situation existing in the twin cities of Fulton and South Fulton, written by Staff correspondent, Dan Coleman, was given prominence on page one.

Because you should read it, if you haven't, we reprint a major portion of it herewith. It isn't something we're proud of, but it's something we are going to have to live with awhile yet.

FULTON, Ky.—The next few years don't look too bright for this little town, an island of high private power rates surrounded by towns using Tennessee Valley Authority power.

Fulton, Ky., is separated from South Fulton, Tenn., only by the state line. Both had been served with power by Kentucky Utilities Co., until last year, when South Fulton started overbuilding the company's lines, legal under Tennessee law.

South Fulton had negotiated with KU for sale of its facilities, but considered KU's asking price unreasonable. So, the Weakley County Municipal Electric system, a distributor of TVA power, started putting up its own lines and facilities. It expects to have South Fulton completely converted to TVA power by mid-summer.

Now officials of Fulton are afraid their side of town is going to lose heavily because of the difference in power rates.

"I'm afraid we're going to start losing both business and industry to Tennessee and places in Kentucky with cheaper rates," said Mayor Nelson A. Tripp. "As it is now, all the new home building is on the Tennessee side."

Fulton already has lost out in trying to get one new industry which would have employed some 1000 people. "They found out their electric bill would run about $9,000 a month higher here than in Tennessee," Tripp said.

But it's not that the city just wants to get away from KU. "We should have the right to own our own system," Tripp said. "We might decide to buy power at wholesale rates from KU rather than from TVA, but we should have the right to do it if the people want to."

The stumbling block is Kentucky's Everett act, passed in 1958. The course of procedure it sets out for purchasing an electrical system is so expensive and involved few cities have either the money or patience to see it through.

The act forbids overbuilding as South Fulton is doing. The only way a city can acquire its system is through appraisal and condemnation. Both city and company appoint appraisers, and when these do not agree, as frequently happens, on the value of the system, the governor appoints a third.

The proposal then is submitted to a referendum of the voters. If it is approved, the city condemns company property and pays the appraised price.

But you have to go through two jury trials, county court and circuit court, before you can condemn," Tripp said. "And as has been proved by such cities as Princeton and Paducah, you can spend years in the courts over technicalities. A small town just can't afford such a procedure."

A bill was introduced in the just-ending session of the Kentucky legislature to modify the Everett act and make the process easier for cities. However, it and a milder measure, later introduced, both failed to pass.

As the law now stands, Fulton could not have a referendum on the question before November, 1961, and couldn't get into the condemnation suits before 1962.

However, the Fulton Power board has decided to go ahead anyhow.

"It will take us two years to get into the courts. By that time we will have another session of the legislature, and maybe we can get a new law," said Paul Westpheling, editor of the county newspaper and a member of the power board.

Between them the two towns have a population of about 8500. Fulton, Ky., generally is conceded to be the larger, having most of the business district.

"We're going to be very interested in the results of this year's census, to see just how many South Fulton has gained," Tripp said.

Before this year, businesses on the Kentucky side had the advantage of not having a sales tax such as Tennessee has. However, starting this summer, that advantage will be wiped out when the Kentucky sales tax goes into effect.

Rudolph Byassee, 20, of near Clinton, was arrested Tuesday, at the Cairo-Wickliffe bridge, half a hour after he is alleged to have robbed the Wickliffe post office. He was identified by Billy Herrington, Wickliffe postal clerk, as the man who walked up to the general delivery window about 10:30 Tuesday morning, drew a gun and ordered Herrington to give him the money in the stamp drawer.

The body of Charles F. Cloy, resident of Oaks, was found Sunday morning on the railroad tracks south of Oaks, where he was apparently struck by a train. The body was found by John Freeman, colored, of South Fulton. Physicians said there were two holes in the man's left temple and his left arm was broken. He had been dead for several hours.

Directors of the Fulton Baseball Association and several local fans met at the city hall Wednesday night to lay plans for the 1940 season, with President K. P. Dalton presiding.

While at Fulton Hospital the other day I dropped in to say hello to Mrs. Georgia Hill, who recently fell in her yard and broke her left foot. Mrs. Hill, who is owner and operator of Hill's Beauty Shop, said to be sure and let her customers know where she was.

Our friend, N. L. Meadows, I.C. Trainmaster at Freeport, Ill., has been transferred to Paducah, effective April 1. His wife, Nell, and the children will move there after school is out. The Meadows family are former neighbors of ours.

Everyone seemed to have a wonderful time planting crepe myrtle last Thursday afternoon. Went over to pick up my six and did I get a surprise. I was expecting small green plants. I got dried-out bushes.

It seems that I wasn't by myself, in my ignorance. Everyone I talked to said they were surprised, too. Took the bushes home. Then didn't know how to plant them. Dear me! Says I, "I should have attended those meetings I was supposed to have gone to."

Did the boss get a surprise when he got home from Puerto Rico? We had the office all newly decorated. It looks nice! You should come by and look at the improvement. I'm real proud of the walls I painted, now that all the work and mess are over.

We were sorry to hear of the death of the mother of Mrs. Goldie Curd of Murray. Mrs. Curd, state manager of the Supreme Forest Woodmen-Circle, has visited here many times and has many friends in town.

We are glad to hear that former County Judge Homer Roberts is reported in satisfactory condition at Kennedy VA Hospital in Memphis.

Judge Roberts, who underwent major surgery recently, was for a while in a "very low" condition.

The Magistrates and members of the Fiscal Court of Hickman County were guests of Dewey Johnson at a coon supper in the Terrace Room of the Park Terrace Thursday night. Ten attended.

The local B&PW Club held its regular meeting at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, April 5, at the Park Terrace, with a birthday dinner, celebrating its first anniversary.

Miss Dorothy Lattimer of Union City, past president of the Tennessee Federation of B&PW clubs, was the principal speaker. Miss Susan Stokes sang two numbers.

The white wrought-iron fence around the band stand really looks nice. It was put up and painted last week. In the center are the large letters "YMBC."

A final report on the February Heart Fund drive in Obion County has been issued, showing that $356.00 was donated by residents of South Fulton.

There was excitement in Fulton Friday afternoon shortly before 3 when a 66,000-volt power line broke and came toppling down on East State Line in front of the Country Club Courts. For a while the city was without electricity—lights were out and Radio Station WFUL was off the air.

When the power pole broke and the lines fell a field caught fire and the South Fulton Fire Department and K. U. workmen were called out. Fulton and South Fulton policemen kept the highway blocked off until the lines could be repaired.

A Silverdrol motor will be given away on Friday night, April 15, at the dinner-meeting of the Fulton County Sportsmen's Club at Cayce. Time of the meeting is 7:30 p. m.

The Fulton Jaycees Saturday painted the rear of the old Huddleston Building on Main Street. This was part of the beautification of the Twin Cities program and it is hoped that others will take the hint and do likewise.

A few days ago I noticed that the I. C. Railroad workmen were busy taking up the tracks along Lake Street, which have not been in use for some time. Plans have been underway for a year or two for this to be done, so that the city will have more parking area downtown. This will improve the parking situation considerably.

At the council meeting Monday night Mayor Milton Counce told of the Obion County School Board's visit this week to Rosewald School in South Fulton. Work has just been completed on the enlargement of the school, to handle four years of high school students. Mayor Counce said that the school now is most modern in every way. I plan to make a call on the school, myself, just as soon as I have the time.

I have visited the school in past years and received a most cordial welcome.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Easter Happened

By Rt. Rev. Francis J. Lally,
Editor of the Boston Pilot

FOR MANY, Easter is that time of year which comes in March or April and makes us realize that winter is over. It means a change of clothing and a new freshness as the green world comes to life about us.

It is an exciting and exhilarating time when we walk a little more lightly and feel a bit more sprightly.

THE PITY of all this is that the mood is good but the reason is wrong. Every one is happy but no one knows why.

Easter is not just a season. It's an event. It is not just a mood. It's a violent upheaval. Easter is bound to lack meaning in our lives if the reason for it is out of focus.

WE MAY ENJOY the Easter bunny and Easter eggs, the Easter parade and Easter clothes. But where do these celebrations get their meaning? Why couldn't we be doing the same thing on April first rather than Easter Sunday?

Easter is based on the Resurrection of Christ. It can be understood only in view of a death on Good Friday and a tomb on Holy Saturday. On the Third Day, Easter, that tomb was empty! Christ had risen! The empty tomb was a triumph over death. His resurrection was a triumph over evil.

THESE ARE facts - - mysterious facts, to be sure - - but recorded and undeniable history. Christ's raising of His dead body to life is not just a symbol. It really happened!

God frees us from the limits of our minds by telling us facts we would never find out otherwise. The true Christian wants to know the whole truth, so he faces the facts. The risen Christ is just as real as the Christ-child at Bethlehem.

SOME MAY not wish to believe what they cannot explain. But in science as in religion it's necessary to accept what cannot be understood. Scientists are becoming humble in the face of mystery. And man before God faces the greatest mystery of all.

God's message at Easter is the Resurrection: Death and darkness have been smashed. Suffering and sin have been conquered. Now man can share in the joyful life of the Risen Christ.

First Easter Parades Weren't Fashion Shows Irving Berlin Wrote About

The first Easter Parades weren't the fashion shows Irving Berlin wrote about, but the celebration of a "new life."

The custom of wearing new clothes on Easter Sunday dates from the early days of Christianity, when newly baptized Christians were clothed in garments of white linen.

Researchers with World Book Encyclopedia report that baptism has always been closely associated with Easter. Just as the Resurrection represents the new life of Christ, so baptism represents the initiation of the believer into a new life.

In the early Church, Lent was the annual season of preparation for baptism, and the sacrament was celebrated on Holy Saturday during the Easter Vigil.

Eventually all Christians began to dress up for a joyful parade through town . . . much to the joy of today's clothing manufacturers.

In fact, it might have been an early advertising executive who coined the English rhyme. "At Easter let your clothes be new, or else be sure you will it rue!"

GOV. BERT COMBS and new State Parks Commission discuss plans for large-scale expansion and improvement of Kentucky's parks under proceeds from proposed $10,000,000 bond issue, to be submitted to voters for approval in November general election. Left to right are John Ed Pearce, an editorial writer for the Louisville Courier-Journal; Governor Combs; Chairman Henry Ward, general manager of the Louisville Chamber of Commerce; Herndon J. Evans, editor of the Lexington Herald, and Edward V. Fox, commissioner of state parks.

Down on the Farm

Men have always been keen prognosticators, whether the subject was the World Series or farm prices. It is exciting to peer into the future to see what may lie ahead. The next few years will be critical ones, and rewarding to those who can stay in agricultural production. Here are some of the forecasts of things likely to come in grain production.

Progress is being made in the improvement of quality and composition of grain. Commercial hybrid corn, now 25 years old, has replaced practically all open pollinated varieties once grown in this country. Many of the hybrids of the pioneering era already have been replaced by superior combinations.

Some believe the largest advances during the next few years will be in disease resistance, insect resistance and the development of special types of corn for specific uses. Several lines resistant to leaf blight and corn borer have been released and others no doubt will be available very soon.

The increased use of additional plant food along with higher plant population per acre is increasing yields substantially. Special varieties that will tolerate crowding are being developed. Some dwarf types show promise and may prove useful, this however, will need much more work and experimentation, before given to the farmer.

In the next ten years sorghum will most likely become our second most important feed grain. Increases will replace some of our southern corn, oats and barley especially south of the corn belt. We will soon have hybrid varieties almost exclusively. This change will increase average yields, thereby further increasing our total sorghum production. The hybrid sorghum will have better adaptation to growing conditions tailored to fit the moisture supply and growing seasons of different areas. The increasing of grain size and changes in grain color will do much to improve the appearance of sorghum. Higher oil content will also enhance the value of both feed and by-products.

The tremendous yields now recorded demonstrate the capacity of today varieties. More attention will have to be given land preparation, irrigation, mechanization, fertility and insect control in seasons to come and this will increase capital investment as well as introduce new cost factors and problems. The alert manager will offset these new costs with increased production and greater efficiency.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Sitting at the trusty typewriter we find our thoughts turning to things light and airy such as green grass, yellow daffodils, flowery hats, twinkling stars... and we know that a whole new world is opening up!

And what better way to welcome Spring in the Fulton area than to be hosts to several former Fultonians who came back home for a visit.

Yes, it was "back home" for Barbara Askew Pendergraft and husband, Roy of Whittier, California who spent several days here with Barbara's three aunts, Irene White, Florence Beadles and Elizabeth Caldwell. And along with the Pendergrafts came their two youngsters, Mike, who is nine and little Phyllis, three years old. Barbara is the daughter of Ruth (Wade) and Len Askew of Whittier. The Pendergrafts were enroute to their California home after having spent several days in Lakeland, Florida with Mary Lee (Beadles) and George Truitt and their new little son, Frank. Another aunt, Lillian Wade Blagg and son, Byron, came up from Nashville to be with her niece and family during their visit here. The family circle would have been complete if Barbara's mother, Ruth, could have been here... and may we add that all of us around here are hoping that Ruth will be coming home in the not too distant future!

Mrs. Bertie Howard left Fulton Wednesday morning for Jacksonville, Florida where she will visit her son, Searcy and wife, Peggy Callahan. In fact, the Callahans will have a real family reunion as Dr. Tom and his wonderful family from Rockville, Maryland will also be here. This will be the first time Mrs. Howard has seen one of her great grandchildren who lives in Jacksonville. From Jacksonville the Callahans will go to Bradenton, Florida to the Dr. Hugh Callahan's winter place. The two doctors will spend much of their vacation deep-sea fishing. It will be a happy time for the family and we send our warmest greetings to all of them!

Susan Bushart of the University of Kentucky will arrive in Fulton

Thursday night for a brief visit with her parents, Dr. Ward and Sara Bushart. But Susan won't "tarry" long in the hometown as she is actually on her way to Columbus, Mississippi to visit Mary Ann Bennett at MSCW.

News came to Your Diarist from Morehead, Kentucky today from former Fultonian, Vera (Mrs. Glenn) Lane, who also belongs to the S. O. G. with P. I. P. Club. Yep, Glen and Vera have three beautiful little granddaughters. Vera is being called "Globe Trotter" and "Eleanor Roosevelt" among circles in Morehead because she has been to Los Angeles with daughter, Cara Glenn and new daughter, Lisa... then returned to Morehead to get a "change of clothes" in order to go to Covington, Ohio to see their youngest daughter, Patsy and her new daughter, Sherri Lynn. We are sure that Glenn and Vera will be regular commuters from Morehead to Los Angeles to Covington, Ohio.

Mrs. L. P. Carney has been elected president of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church. The other new officers are Mrs. Ernest Fall, Jr., vice-president; Mrs. Frank Brady, secretary; and Mrs. Alex Leneave, treasurer.

Mrs. Carney and Mrs. Brady were chosen as delegates to the Memphis Conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service to be held in Milan April 19-21.

The Chestnut Glade Ladies Club met with Mrs. Jim Brundige for the March meeting.

The meeting was called to order with Mrs. Lola Morrison directing the recreation. The president, Mrs. Nona Burke read the thought for the day, "Duty Makes Us do Things Well, But Loves Makes Us Do Them Beautifully."

A song, "The Easter Parade", was led by Mrs. Edna Strong. The devotional, "The Privilege of Prayer," taken from II Chronicles, was given by Mrs. Elnora Vaughan.

Mrs. Flossie Burke read the club creed. Roll call answered with each one bringing seed, shrub, cutting or plant to exchange.

The reading of the minutes, by Mrs. Maurine Vaughan, the secretary. Mrs. Myrtle Temple gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Lola Morrison gave a report on cheer cards that had been sent. The club voted to make a donation to the Red Cross. Mrs. Elnora Vaughan, the vice-president, presented the following project leaders:

"Home Beautification" by Mrs. Valda Simpson, showing how planters may be used around the house, also showing a chart on "Know Your Fertilizer," whether you are cultivating the plant for its leaves, flowers and fruit, or roots.

"Health," given by Mrs. Ada Rhodes presenting an article on "Protecting Your Family With Tetanus Shots."

"Craft," given by Mrs. Nona Burk, demonstrating different ways of recovering old hot-pads. Also renewing them with spray aluminum paint. Mrs. Pat Harkey, Home Economist, showed a miniature model kitchen, arranged in a U-shape with the three major centers - preparation and mixing, cooking and serving, and dishwashing, so arranged as to save time, steps, and energy. Club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Lola Morrison in April.

A party plate with cold drinks was served to twelve members and four visitors. Mrs. Patti Mae Brundige, Mrs. Ruby Ross, Mrs. Manie Lee and Mrs. Pat Harkey.

Mrs. Gerald Harrison of Plymouth, Mich. is spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Callison. Her husband, Gerald, will join her for the Easter holiday weekend and will visit with friends in Fulton and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Harrison in Duketown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Driskell of Detroit are in Fulton on a three weeks vacation visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Gerald Harrison and Mrs. T. J. Callison spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Coy Harrison at Duketown. They were dinner guests.

Mrs. Anna Belle Edwards is working for the I. C. this week in Jackson.

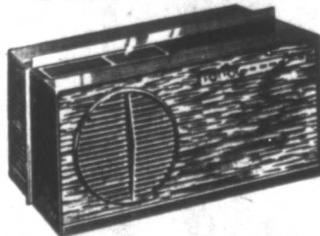

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Harrison of Duketown were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Gerald Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Callison in Fulton.

Afternoon guests included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ray Harrison and Elaine of Dresden, Mrs. Gene Poe and daughter and Mrs. Betty Poe of Clinton.

Ladies Day was held at the Fulton Country Club Tuesday, with a pot-luck luncheon at noon and games of bridge and golf in the afternoon.

The Jolly Twelve Birthday Club honored Mrs. Gilbert Brown Thursday night with a dinner at

Barkers Attend District Meeting

Dr. and Mrs. Virgil Barker of Fulton attended the First District Jackson Purchase Chiropractic Association and auxiliary meeting at Clymer's Restaurant in Paducah Saturday evening. Hosts were Dr. and Mrs. B. E. McGarvey.

The Southern Bell Telephone Company presented a program on "Direct Distance Dialing." The lecture demonstration was given by Mrs. Dow Orr of the Mayfield office. The doctors talked with the Kentuckians Crippled Children's Clinic in Louisville, sponsored by chiropractors in that area.

South Fulton Receives Praise

The South Fulton community and the Union City Jaycettes came in for an extra measure of praise as Coy Green, Obion county chairman for the March drive against polio, issued a final report.

Mr. Green said the citizens of the county contributed $4,058.56 during the month-long campaign, far surpassing the county's goal, set at $3,500.

"The South Fulton community always makes a fine showing," Mr. Green said, "but the folks there really outdid themselves for the March of Dimes. They contributed right at $1,200. The Jaycettes conducted the Mothers' March on Polio in Union City and it was one of the standout successes of the whole campaign."

FISHERMEN—

men from Missouri, Arkansas, Indiana and Illinois catching limits of big bass and crappie.

This season seems to be starting pretty good, with the big crappie biting again. Everybody seems to be having good luck. While crappie were biting the big bass were also. There were many limits of bass caught, some weighing in at 6 1/4 pounds... all this going to make the fishermen's trip to Reelfoot a pleasant one.

It seems that at Bryant's camp on Reelfoot that no matter how many kids you might have, you can have a good time and really enjoy fishing.

From talking to some of the guides on Reelfoot Lake this is going to be a good fishing year. With good news like that maybe we all can fill our fishing dream of getting the big one that got away.

Fish that were caught this past week were taken with both lures and minnows. Bass were hitting on the river runt floater while crappie were taken on minnows.

That's about all the news I have at this session of Fishermen's Corner. Next week I have some names of different sportmen visiting Reelfoot Lake. Until then, good fishing and go easy on the big one's.

(Mr. Smith, of 805 N. Ury Street, Union City, Tenn., is an employee of the Henry I. Siegel Co. in Fulton. He is now part-time guide at Reelfoot Lake, having served in the past as a full-time guide there. Mr. Smith plans to write a weekly column for The News on fishing at Reelfoot.)

to have Turner declared ineligible to serve on the Fulton County school board.

Behind the fight to oust Turner as member of the school board is a four-year-old dispute involving renewal of the contract of Fulton School Superintendent Bearl Darnell.

Turner was opposed to renewal of the contract and voted twice with two other members of the board to fire Darnell. The superintendent appealed to Circuit Court, however, and won his job back on a ruling that it took four affirmative votes to discharge him without cause.

Two members of the board are in favor of keeping Darnell when his contract expires June 30. A board majority could let him go, however, by refusing to renew his contract.

Turner and two other members of the board had notified Darnell that his contract would not be renewed. The three members had voted to employ Robert L. Summers, former principal of Fulton County High School, as superintendent on a two-year basis.

NEW HOPE NEWS

By Mrs. Elmer Walston

Mrs. Daisy Thorpe of Milburn, Ky., visited Mrs. Elmer Walston Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Gwyn visited Mrs. Vera Jobe and son, Leroy, Sunday afternoon.

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clois Latta were Miss Patsy Latta and Miss Julia Clements of Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Walston visited Mrs. Ella Veatch and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Snow Monday night.

The sympathy of the entire community goes to the family of Mrs. Alice Walker who passed away at her home Wednesday afternoon. She was 93 years old. She had lived in this community all of her life. The funeral was held at the Hopkins, Brown and Buck Funeral Chapel Friday afternoon with burial in the Rock Springs Cemetery.

Mrs. Mozelle Brown left for Houston, Texas Tuesday to be with her daughter, Mrs. Jean Fetzer, who will undergo surgery Friday. Jean is reported to be doing fine which her many friends will be glad to hear.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frame of St. Louis, Mo., were weekend guests of Mrs. Willie Hill and brother, Jack Everett.

Law Applies To All Highways

The state law that requires motorists to stop when approaching a loading or unloading school bus from front or rear applies to four-lane highways as well as other roads, the Kentucky Department of Public Safety declares.

Numerous drivers on four-lane highways tend to forget that the law applies on these roads, said the department.

In other words, adds the agency, if you are meeting or following a school bus on either a two-lane or a four-lane road and the bus stops to let off or admit children, you must stop your vehicle and remain stopped until the bus again starts in motion.

"It is always wise to be especially alert for the unpredictable actions of children alighting from school buses," cautions the department. "They frequently are killed or injured when they dart from behind a school bus and across the highway."

"Drivers should adhere to school zone speed limits, and watch out for children at all times. During the basketball season, youngsters may be at school in the evening as well as during regular school hours."

RABBIT IS SYMBOL

The rabbit may have become a symbol of Easter because of the moon. World Book Encyclopedia explains that some ancient peoples considered the rabbit a symbol of the moon . . . and the moon determines the date of Easter.

Homes On The Half Shell

NEW HOMES SHIPPED IN TWO PIECES is prefabricating twist that a Leesburg, Fla., construction firm has recently developed. Idea allows buyers to occupy their new two-bedroom dwellings a mere 12 manhours after its halves arrive by international truck at building site. Even cabinets and wiring already are in place. All that remains to be done is bolt halves to each other and to foundation.

JACKED-UP HALF is lowered onto foundation footings laid earlier. Homes have 680 square feet of living space, sell for $6,990 each within a 500-mile radius of Leesburg plant. Price includes hauling of six-ton halves and cost of foundation.

CARPORT AND COVERED PATIO extend exterior lines, placing 1,502 square feet under roof. To paraphrase an old saying, "Home is where trucks park it."

AUSTIN SPRINGS

Mrs. Carey Fields

A series of meetings are in progress at New Salem Baptist Church beginning today, April 3, conducted by Rev. James Holt, the pastor. Cottage prayer services have been held all this week in homes of members in preparation of this Spring Revival. Only night services will be held at 7:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Earl Mitchell returned to her home in Paducah Wednesday after spending a few days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McCoy, Jr., and children, Patti and Freddie Ray of Memphis spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clyde Johnson.

Mrs. Cecil Davis, Robert Rickman, and Tommie Rickman went shopping to Greenfield the past Thursday.

This area welcomes a new comer, Mr. Robinson, who is building a new store in our village. He will carry a full line of groceries. He urges your patronage when he sets up business pretty soon. The building is already under construction, the concrete was poured last week. We have been without a country store since the Johnson Bros. and Westbrook, formerly known as Johnson and Sons sold out a few years ago.

Get well wishes go to Karen Fields, who is a patient in the Fulton Hospital where she has had treatments for staphylococcus. Karen is the granddaughter of your writer and I hope she will be recovered very soon. She is a Jr. Hi student in South Fulton.

Mr. Robert Rickman received an injury to his hand several days ago while dehorning cattle. It is torn and all bruised up. We hope he will soon gain use of it.

We are still digging out of the wind, rain, and electrical storm of the past Thursday night. Almost every home has damage to report. Mr. Pete Chambers was hit hard with all out-buildings de-roofed and down. Mr. Grover True lost his tobacco barn and corn crib roof. The Charlie Burrow crib was blown bottom side up. A barn on the Cliff Cherry farm gave way under the pressure. Ruble Thomas lost a chicken house. Too, a number of trees blew up by the roots.

We lost some limbs from our historic cedars, so did Mr. Stanley Ford. Mr. Leonard McClain's house was so badly damaged, he has had to move, before repairs could be made.

Favorite Easter Foods Among April Plentifuls

Easter favorites - pork, broiler-fryers, eggs and cranberries - lead the list of plentiful foods for April, according to Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK Extension specialist in marketing and consumer education.

Pork items, such as ham, pork roast, picnics, shoulder butts, sausage, bacon, etc., continue in good supply this month. Plenty of high-quality beef is still on the market, too; but supplies will stay about the same as they have been for the past few months, with no great supply at any one time.

Enough frozen fish products are on hand to meet demands until Lenten season ends, Mrs. Jasper says. Fresh fish varieties will be more abundant during April.

Processed cranberry products are wholesome, economical buys this month; some storage cranberries and frozen products, as well as canned whole cranberry sauce and jellied sauce, are available. Other canned fruits in adequate supply are freestone peaches, water-packed blackberries and orange concentrate.

Apple prices are climbing but bananas are cheap and plentiful. Orange supplies will decrease slightly during April, she predicts. Rhubarb and strawberries are arriving at markets from southern and southwestern areas.

Cabbage, carrots, celery, onions, radishes, mushrooms, sweet potatoes, salad and cooking greens are among the good vegetable buys this month. Shipped supplies of green beans, asparagus, and summer squash varieties are beginning to appear, she notes. Greater supplies of several fresh vegetables will begin to appear in April, but the season of almost all Florida produce is late because of the cold weather.

Production of milk and dairy products is increasing, Mrs. Jasper reports. Milk production probably will increase more the next few months than during the same period in recent years.

CUMBERLAND MTS.

In the Cumberland Mountains near Harlan are great natural rock formations, memorialized in legend and fiction. "Rebel Rock," high above U. S. 119, is said to have been a hiding place for Confederate soldiers in the War Between the States. This rock is in the country made famous by the novel, "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," by Kentucky writer John Fox, Jr.

An A & P employee for more than 35 years, Ford formerly served as auditor of this division. He also was an office department head in Detroit and Grand Rapids and office manager in Cincinnati and Indianapolis.

As divisional treasurer, he will supervise financial matters involving Central Western Division warehouses and stores in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Junior Bowling League May 14-15

On Saturday, May 14, and Sunday, May 15, a steady stream of buses will be entering the city of Lexington, Kentucky, from all directions, bringing approximately 500 junior and bantam bowlers and their chaperones from all corners of the state to Blue Grass Lane where they will compete for the crowns and titles of State Junior Bowling "champs."

This will be the inauguration of an annual tournament designed by the Kentucky Bowling Proprietors Association to further the growing interest of junior bowling as well as bowling, generally, throughout the state of Kentucky. The tournament site will probably change each year.

The tournament is a five-man team event and will be governed by the rules and requirements of the American Junior Bowling Congress. Handicaps will be based on individual averages of February 13. Only junior bowlers in sanctioned A. J. B. C. leagues who confine their sanctioned league bowling in B. P. A. establishments will be eligible. Each team member must have participated in 50 percent of all their league sessions, as of February 13.

Next Friday is senior day at Murray College, and all the seniors will be making the trip there to view a possible future.

And next Thursday is the senior play. Tickets are now on sale for "Quit Your Kidding" and will be available through Tuesday. They may be purchased from any senior and the charge is .50 for adults and .25 for students or small children. Tickets may also be bought at the door. The play begins at 8:00 P. M. in Carr Auditorium.

The KENNEL is due to hit the halls next Monday and two people who are working very hard are Kay Morris and Karen Dublin. They are to replace Wayne Anderson as co-editors of the paper next year; so while he's still here to supervise, they're getting some experience. Karen, who is a junior, and Kay, a sophomore, are both a couple of hard-working girls who have previously held various positions on the staff.

Today, tomorrow, and Saturday, the regional band contests are to take place at Murray College. Those attending are:

The majorettes - Ophelia Speight, Sandra Latham, Elaine Beggs, Martha DeMyer, and Sandra Williams. These girls deserve a lot of credit. They not only get out and perform in front of the band and give it a special touch, but they make up all their routines, costumes, and whatever else must be done for a finished skit.

Band soloists - Barry Roper, clarinet; Edward Butler, tuba; their accompanists, Ophelia Speight and Judy Moore; bass quartet consisting of David Cunningham, Warren Nanny, Barry Adams, and Danny Carver; and piano, James Reed and Bob Anderson.

On Saturday the entire band will participate.

Mr. Auther Roman, band instructor, had quite a bit to say about two of his pupils - James Reed and Edward Butler.

James, as everyone knows, plays the piano, marveously, and he also plays the trumpet in the band. He went to Memphis for the Mid-South talent contest for two years, plays the organ at the Derby Restaurant, is going to Murray this week as a piano soloist, and still participates in the band.

Edward, who has been in state regionals with his tuba, also plays the trumpet, baritone, and French horn, and has received seconds in each. With his tuba he has received two seconds and a first. He has been in the band since the seventh grade. He is also attending Murray as a soloist.

Report from Mr. W. L. Holland,

superintendent:

The State Department of Education made a visit to Fulton City Schools last Thursday on invitation of the local school advisors. Plans for rebuilding of the high school science lab and the elementary library were analyzed and discussed. The department is in agreement with the local school officials as to the changes needed as set forth in the local tax election in January.

It is estimated that approximately $8000 dollars will be needed to rebuild and refurbish the science lab in order to meet the requirements of the National Defense Act. Considerably less will be needed to place modern language and mathematics where they should be according to the National Defense Act.

However, the plan is to place all three of these fields in that act in the next three years as well as to rebuild the library. These goals will be reached as money becomes available through the new tax levied.

The West Fulton P-TA bought and set up several jungle jims on the school grounds. Playground supervisors claim that this equipment is the most used and safest on the playground. Mr. Holland says, "We are extremely proud of the effort of the West Fulton P-TA for placing this equipment on the grounds."

I might add that they're fun. I've already been on them!

Report Cards Next Wednesday!!

I've finally found out where a few of recited lines came from. "Water, water, everywhere, And all the boards did shrink; Water, water, everywhere, Nor any drop to drink."

It's from "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner" by Samuel Coleridge.

The girl was reportedly playing at home with some other children when struck.

She leaves her parents; two brothers and five sisters, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Murray of Fulton County and Mr. and Mrs. Noel Guthrie of Graves County.

Services were held Tues. afternoon at 2 at the Midway Baptist Church. Burial, under direction of Barrett Funeral Home of Hickman, will be in the Hickman city cemetery.

Miss Judson Gayle Driver And Dr. Edward F. Crocker Are Wed

Of social prominence was the wedding Saturday, April 2, of Miss Judson Gayle Driver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Driver of Humboldt, and Dr. Edward Frank Crocker of Fulton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Crocker of Fulton.

The Rev. William A. James officiated at the sacred double ring ceremony in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church at Humboldt at four o'clock in the afternoon, following a program of nuptial music by Mrs. Ewing Jackson, organist.

Entering the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage the bride was radiant in her wedding gown of chantilly lace and tulle poised over bridal satin. The fitted lace bodice, encrusted with iridescent sequins had a Sabrina neckline edged in hand-clipped pointed sleeves fastened at the wrist with tiny covered buttons. A panel of lace extended the full length of the skirt in front. Small buttons closed the back of the bodice with a short peplum of lace falling over the back of the skirt of tiered ruffles which swept into a chapel train.

Her double finger-tip veil fell from a Juliet cap of lace reem-broidered with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white orchid bouquet encircled with valley lilies with maline puffs and showers of white satin ribbons tied in love knots.

Mrs. Lloyd S. Adams, Jr., served her sister as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Clarence Driver, Jr. of Jackson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Betty Cotham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cotham of Humboldt.

Serving his brother as best man was Daniel Crocker of Memphis. Usher - groomsmen were Gerald Crocker of Memphis, another brother of the groom, Dr. Clarence Driver, Jr., brother of the bride, and Morris Crocker of Jackson, cousin of the groom.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception in the social room of the church. The setting featured myriads of candles in silver and crystal candelabra casting a soft glow over the scene.

When the bride and groom left for their honeymoon trip to Nassau she was wearing a light blue wool suit with Blouson back, a grey tinkle collar and covered buttons. Her white silk blouse closed with tiny pearl buttons. She wore navy accessories with a straw hat of navy, light blue and white with a long navy veil down the back. At her shoulder was pinned the white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The Owensboro room at the New Southern Hotel in Jackson was the setting for the elaborate rehearsal dinner Friday night with Dr. Crocker host. Places were laid for twenty-two including the wedding party, the bride's parents and out-of-town guests.

Writes About Kentucky Home

"This is My Old Kentucky Home" is the title of an article by Jesse Stuart in the April issue of Better Homes and Gardens magazine.

"Gaul was divided into three parts, but Kentucky is divided into seven," says the noted Greenup County author. "It is similar to sections of England, Scotland, France, Norway, Switzerland, Greece, and Egypt's Nile Valley, all rolled into one."

Stuart says each area of the Commonwealth has its own loyalties, political and religious, and its own cultural ties. "Even the English language is spoken differently here," he adds, "since each area has its own dialect and idiomatic expressions. There are three distinct accents - Eastern, Middle, and Western - and a number of lesser ones."

Countians To Hear Mrs. Cooper

Fulton County homemakers are making plans to hear Mrs. John Sherman Cooper speak at the district meeting in Murray May 6. "Life in Washington" will be the topic of the wife of the U. S. Senator from Kentucky.

The Fulton County chorus, under the leadership of Mrs. J. R. Powell, will sing at the luncheon meeting. At present they are busy rehearsing for the annual affair.

Kentucky Windage

By P. W.

Notice where Fulton made the headlines on page one in Monday's Nashville Tennessean. The TVA-boasting Nashville paper discussed Fulton's isolation as a private-power-served community surrounded by a sea of TVA-served communities, pointing out the rate differential that exists between KU-served Fulton and TVA-served South Fulton.

It wasn't a very good plug for Fulton, Ky. but I don't think one could manage a bright comparison of these factors in favor of Fulton. The situation here will probably come under additional scrutiny as time passes.

One of the most pleasant, unlooked-for happenings during my recent trip to Puerto Rico came before I ever got out of the States. As I began signing various papers at Ft. Bragg, (N. C.), a lady in the office asked if I were any relation to Col. Charles Westpheling. I told her I was his cousin and that we were the only two Westpheling families in the United States . . . and that I had been looking for him for some 25 years as he, a West Pointer and career Army officer, moved around the world.

I almost fell out of my chair when she announced that he was there on the Post, and soon as I could I went to his office at XVIII Corps Hq. and had a most pleasant visit. Continuing the visit that evening in his home, I was introduced to his children, who were quite startled to see the name on a stranger. There will be a lot to finish via correspondence: he had spent several years in Europe since WW II and has dug up family history all the way back to the year 1200.

Another sight I shall never forget from the Puerto Rico trip: as I sat at my desk at the airport in San Juan one afternoon in came "Dutch" Lackey, Hopkinsville Mayor, Radio station owner (WH-OP) and a visiting Press observer on the exercise. Dutch was lugging two heavy bags and was about worn out, although still good-natured about it all. Turns out he had taken a taxi from his hotel and when the cab reached the main gate of our office (about 10 blocks from our office), the driver informed him that was as far as he could go, and he'd have to walk the rest. He found from the Marine guard on the gate that this particular company was not allowed on the base, so there was nothing to do but pile out the bags and start walking. I called the gate, found that there were seven companies not allowed on the post (most of the good ones were, however), posted a list of names as a warning to others and had no more trouble.

Back in Fulton, I understand that work on the old Siegel building is expected to start right soon, and should be completed about six weeks after starting. Most of the work consists in replacing old wooden floor beams with sturdier steel . . . Water and gas work in Highlands has now been completed and work on the new sewer system will begin right away.

With the Orpheum theatre now permanently closed, we'd guess it is the first time in 40 years that Fulton has had only one theatre operating. For some time, back in the '30's, we had three. Does anyone know just how long it's been???

reveal details of Kimbro's statement.

At a coroner's inquest on Tuesday afternoon of last week Kimbro said he had been dating Mrs. McDade about two years and admitted illicit relations with her. He denied, however, that he knew she was pregnant or that he knew anything about the abortion.

Two physicians testifying at the inquest said, in their opinion, Mrs. McDade died as a result of an abortion, and the coroner's jury found that she met death as the result of such an operation.
