Valuable Lesson Demonstrated

It often takes a severe jolt to awaken some people to the fact that they are going in the wrong path. But the depression that now grips the nation is greater than any in the past. No matter how hard a man has tried to make a living, he finds that at last one good lesson in the dump. They realize now that the greatest asset one can have is a dollar in the bank. If one is without any assets, if one is in debt, then he is in a bad way.

Now then one family around Fulton has learned the value of credit. In the days of the depression, the man who extended credit to another was able to do it in the name of the union. If the union was the bank, how can these people be able to pay their debts? They can only pay their debts if they have a dollar in the bank. If they do not have a dollar in the bank, they cannot pay their debts. If they do not have a dollar in the bank, they cannot buy anything.

In this way, the man who extended credit to another was able to do it in the name of the union. If the union was the bank, how can these people be able to pay their debts? They can only pay their debts if they have a dollar in the bank. If they do not have a dollar in the bank, they cannot pay their debts. HOMEMAKERS STUDY FINISHING OLD FLOORS

As a part of their job as homemakers, the homemaker is often called upon to attend to the parts of her job that are not as visible as the others. One of the best ways to do this is to spend some time studying the parts of her job that are not as visible as the others. One of the best ways to do this is to spend some time studying the parts of her job that are not as visible as the others.

The homemaker will often find it more convenient to do her job in the dark or with the help of a flashlight, because it is easier to see the parts of her job that are not as visible as the others. The world mourns the death of Thomas A. Edison.

End came to 63-year-old inventor Monday morning.

While the clicking instrument; the electric repeller was being tested, a failure in the apparatus led to the death of the inventor.

The inventor had worked on the invention for several months and had been in poor health during that time.

His work in the laboratory was carried on by his assistants.

Mr. Edison was buried in the laboratory where he had worked for many years.

P. E. Williams.

Mr. Edison himself scanned "almost as a poet," with his own hands, and the invention was completed.

His widow and children were close by.

Dr. Hubert S. How, disciple of Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," made a filament better than the best of the day, and often applied himself.

The stated cause of death was heart failure.

The funeral was held at the Grand Trunk railroad station.

T. H. How, vice president, and W. J. S. How, president, spoke at the service.

The funeral was attended by many.

The world mourns the death of Thomas A. Edison.
