Great Plans Made For Town At Mayor's Committee Meet

Two members of the Kentucky Economic Development Department, Jerry Mahoney and Jim Nutter, of Frankfort, met with the Mayor's Greater Fulton Committee at the Court House Tuesday night, and spoke to the group of the new Community Development Department which will work with 12 selected communities in Kentucky of which Fulton is one, in improving their communities.

Mr. Mahoney and Mr. Nutter spoke to the Committee on plans of the state committee in working with the 12 towns this year.

Fulton was selected for the project as it is one of the western most towns in the state and people coming from the south get their first glimpse of Kentucky at Fulton.

Some local organization will be asked to take over this project.

Upon invitation, the Planning and Zoning Commission, the Housing Commission, representatives from the different clubs in town, the I. C. Railroad and others attended the meeting Tuesday night.

Mayor Tripp outlined to the group plans and hopes for a bigger and better Fulton. Some plans of his are in the working process, while others are hopes for the future, some that may come true within the next five years or so.

One vision of the Mayor is that the I. C. will build a new passenger depot out north of town and take up the railroad tracks running through the downtown section of Fulton, parallel to Lake Street.

Another hope is that a big civic center be built, possibly on the present location of the Fulton Hotel (formerly known as the Earle). This would house the court house, the fire station, an auditorium and a youth center.

Mayor Tripp announced that a workable program under the Federal Home and Housing Agency has been approved for Fulton to get rid of the slum area in Missionary Bottom.

Bill Colledge of Memphis, Tenn. has been hired by the City of Fulton and is drawing up plans now to be presented to the council for approval, before being sent in for a Federal loan for planning purposes.

Drawing up plans for this housing project will take approximately a year, Mayor Tripp said. Then the plans will have to be approved by the city before the actual work on the housing project begins.

Come this weekend I will have completed my special assignment for Governor Bert Combs to do a study of Kentucky's park facilities. The assignment was an interesting and revealing project and afforded me an opportunity to visit areas of Kentucky, and park facilities, that I only knew by name. I have visited parks from Carter Caves (in Carter County near Ashland, Ky.) to Kentucky Dam Village in far western Kentucky and after turning in detailed reports of the conditions in the parks and making recommendations for their improvements for tourists' attractions my sincere recommendation for the families planning their summer vacations is to "See Kentucky First," and of course stay in a state park.

Except for the miserable weather in March I was fortunate to have good traveling and flying weather most of the time and completed the assignment a month ahead of the four-month period designated by the Governor. But even the bad weather worked in my favor, because while being marooned in Fulton for more than two weeks I caught up on my typing of the reports on the parks I had visited prior to that time. And speaking of flying I'll tell you soon about the time I was traveling in a one-motor plane that knoked out in the air . . . and the time we had to circle an airport for nearly an hour in a rain-storm and landed finally with only 15 minutes fuel left. So you can see why I was glad to hurry up and finish . . . didn't know how long my luck or my insurance policies would be in effect.

Take it from me, you need look no further than the boundaries of Kentucky for all the color and incomparable beauty of America and when the parks of this State are put into the tip-top shape planned by the Governor, his Park Commissioner Ed Fox, and his Park Board, your vacation in any of these facilities will be a thing to remember.

Everybody in the Westpheling household is mighty glad to see me unpack my bag and put it away in a closet for an indefinite period. And so am I. My well-travelled luggage hasn't been completely unpacked in a year and a half and it has enough plane, train and other travel stickers on it for me to spend my declining years just looking at them and remembering where I've been and what I did. (I'll tell you about a "special" plane trip next week).

But somehow it seems that travelling just won't ever be over for the Westphelings and I wonder if it's the same in your household. Take right now for instance. In the morning mail Paul and I had an invitation from Smith Broadbent, Jr. to attend a luncheon in Louisville on Saturday to an organizational meeting and luncheon for the campaign of Keen Johnson for the United States Senate. ## One Killed, Two Others Are Injured In Automobile Accident

Alton Neeley of Fulton, about 50, was killed instantly about 1 p. m. Wednesday, when the Ford convertible in which he was riding attempted to pass another car on Highway 51, sideswiped the car and turned over in a ditch on the opposite side of the highway.

Riding in the car with Neeley, but not seriously injured were Aaron Lomax, Route 1, Fulton, driver, and Junior Ferrill Orrick, about 35, also of Fulton.

Both were taken to Hillview Hospital, where their conditions were not termed serious.

Neeley, an employee of Kennett-Murray and Latta Stock Yards in South Fulton, was dead upon arrival at the hospital.

An account of the accident is this:

F. L. Picotte of Lake Linden, Mich., was traveling north toward Fulton in a late model Oldsmobile. He said he was traveling at a normal rate of speed when a Ford convertible with three occupants attempted to pass his car.

The driver of the car attempted to swerve back into his lane, when he hit the Oldsmobile broadside, knocking the Oldsmobile into a ditch. The convertible overturned. The convertible was owned by J. R. Parrish of Fulton. It was believed that the driving gear of the convertible went bad when it attempted to pass.

The convertible was not totally damaged.

Neeley's body is a Jackson Brothers Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements have not been made. He was a bachelor and leaves only cousins.

Work Of Remodeling Siegel Building To Begin Soon; To Take 3 Months

The work of remodeling the Kentucky Henry I. Siegel factory on East Fourth Street is scheduled to begin immediately, a reliable source told The News Wednesday morning.

The contract has been let, and it is expected that work, consisting of mostly steel and floor work, is expected to take approximately three months to complete.

All of the employees of the Fulton Siegel plant were laid off about two months ago, except for around 30, who are working at the Kentucky plant shipping out pants made at the new South Fulton Siegel plant.

Back before the new South Fulton Siegel plant was built, the Kentucky building was condemned by Siegel officials, because of sagging floors in the building. These will be replaced, supported by steel beams.

According to Mayor Nelson

After the approximate one hundred and twenty people were registered, they went to Noble Park for recreation. Thursday evening a banquet was held at the Irving Cobb Hotel. Then after a dance at the parish house, a preparation service was given in Grade Episcopal Church.

Visitors spent the night with people of the parish. Friday morning there was a service of the Holy Communion, and in the afternoon a business meeting was held for the purpose of electing next year's commission. This group represents the youth of the church, puts out a paper, etc.

City Of Fulton Gets Boost From State Agencies To Get More Industry

A photographer from the Kentucky Industrial Development Board was in Fulton on Wednesday photographing Fulton's growing industrial centers for future publication in national newspapers and periodicals. The photographer was sent here by Mack Sisk, director of public relations of the KIDB at the request of Radio Station Manager Mrs. Paul Westpheling. Meanwhile, Mrs. Westpheling was notified in early March that the Department of Aeronautics was actively working on an airport for Fulton and the county.

Photographs of the giant Ferry-Morse plant, the two Henry I. Siegel plants and other important industrial projects were taken for future publication in national media similar to the advertisement which appeared last month in such publications as Fortune, Business Week, The Wall Street Journal, Factory and Industrial Development. The publications reach America's most influential industrialists who can get first hand the story of Fulton's outstanding industrial possibilities. The photographer was accompanied on his industrial tour by Representative Joe Treas.

The establishment of an airport for the Fulton area has long had the interest of both the News and Radio Station WFUL. Following the appointment of Commissioner Phil Swift, a former editor of the Frankfort State Journal, the suggestion for an airport for the Fulton area was made by the radio station manager and the following letter was received on March 16, 1960.

The letter follows:
Department of Aeronautics
Frankfort, Ky.

March 16, 1960
Mrs. Jo Westpheling
Fulton, Ky.

Dear Jo:

At your suggestion we are now actively working on an airport for Fulton and the city and county and are now in the process of creating an air board. Your representative, Joe Treas, has been working with us and has been the contact man with your local authorities.

I am glad that you are interested in this project since it will mean so much to Fulton and to the two counties involved. I understand that the air board will include both Hickman and Fulton Counties.

I hope that you will take an active part in creating this airport because I know that your energy and ability can mean a great deal to the project.

Signed,
Philip L. Swift
Commissioner

Former Union City Woman Named To Top Mercantile Post

A native Union City last week was named to one of the top positions in advertising and merchandising held by a woman in the United States.

The world famed Lord & Taylor fashion store of New York today announced that Mrs. Sarah Tomerlin Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Tomerlin of Union City, has accepted an offer to become vice-president in charge of advertising, publicity and display for the store.

Mrs. Lee, who is currently vice-president of the Hockaday advertising agency of New York, is to take over her new duties with Lord & Taylor on August 1st.

Mrs. Lee will succeed Mrs. Alleda van Wesep, who is retiring on Jan. 1, 1961 after 33 years with Lord & Taylor.

Mrs. Lee will conclude her association with the advertising firm on July 1st and will spend a month in Europe with her husband, Tom B. Lee, prominent industrial designer.

The Lord & Taylor store occupies a 12-story building covering an entire block between 38th and 39th streets on Fifth avenue, New York. The store occupies a unique position in the fashion world as it has for years sought women executives to operate the business.

Mrs. Dorothy Shaver, formerly of Little Rock, Ark., was the store president until her death in the fall of 1959. She was known as the first lady of merchandising.

Lord & Taylor has seven branches on the eastern seaboard located from Hartford, Conn., to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Lee, last December, became the president of the Fashion Group, a non-profit organization of women executives in the fashion and home furnishing business.

On Wednesday night of last week, Mrs. Lee presided at a style show demonstrating the British influence throughout the world. The show was held at the Astor hotel, models were flown in from England and among the 600 attending were foreign ambassadors to the U.S. and a sprinkling of lords and ladies.

Body Assumed To Be Hickman Negro

A body assumed to be that of Clarence Moore, missing Negro from Paducah and Hickman who was feared to have fallen from the Irvin Cobb Bridge, was found near Metropolis Tuesday.

Massac County Coroner Mill-edge Dixon said the body was found hung in some brush near the Illinois shore near where Seven-Mile Creek empties into the river two and a half miles upstream.

Papers in the pocket identified the body as that of Moore. Two Paducah addresses were listed, 1229 Clay St. and 3033 Trimble St.

Moore is presumed to be the man whom a Marion, Ky., truck driver saw topple off the bridge about 3:30 a. m. on April 7.

Sixty Years Ago: Casey Jones' Ride To Fame

Sixty years ago, this month, a passenger train rolled south out of Memphis on a trip "to the Promised Land." On April 30, 1900, John Luther Jones, an Illinois Central passenger locomotive engineer whose nickname was "Casey," was killed at the throttle of the southbound "Cannonball" Express. At Vaughan, Miss., his engine collided with the rear end of a freight train that stuck out from a passing track and fouled the main line. Casey was the only person killed. No passenger or other member of the crew sustained more than slight injuries. Casey's fireman, Slim Webb, jumped from the cab just before the collision and suffered only a hurt shoulder.

A report on the accident was filed and an investigation was made as a matter of routine. One question—never settled to this day—was why an alert and able engineer like Casey Jones did not heed torpedoes on the track, and a flagman's warning, and slow down in time to avert a wreck. At any rate, the accident was considered an unfortunate incident by the railroad's officers. The papers in the case were filed at Chicago headquarters and for some 40 years gathered dust in a warehouse before they again saw the light of day.

To the men who had made the investigation, it was a closed affair. But destiny was to rule otherwise. Casey Jones became the hero of a ballad sung by a Negro engine-wiper, Wallace Saunders, who had known Casey. The ballad came to occupy a unique place in American folklore, and fired the public imagination. To many Americans,

Here's Where That Money Goes

On the average, each of us will work two hours and 16 minutes of every eight-hour working day to meet our tax bills in 1960, the Governmental Research Department of Associated Industries of Kentucky stated today.

This means that each person will be working four minutes longer per day in 1960 to pay his tax bills than he did in 1958, based on national averages without allowance for the new tax program instituted in Kentucky.

According to a 1960 Time Card for an eight-hour day recently prepared by the Tax Foundation, the division is as follows:

Taxes: 2 hours and 16 minutes.

Food and Tobacco: 1 hour and 24 minutes.

Housing and Household Operations: 1 hour and 24 minutes.

Transportation: 36 minutes.

Clothing, Accessories, etc.: 34 minutes.

Medical Care and Medicine: 19 minutes.

Recreation: 18 minutes.

All Other: 1 hour and 5 minutes.

The New Highway Idea Sounds Fine

We were much pleased to see the announcement—made last week—that the State administration plans to construct a super-highway linking the Purchase with the rest of the State.

We've been hoping for such a thing for a long time; ever since we began driving the crowded existing highway from the Purchase to Louisville, Frankfort and Lexington with some regularity.

The proposed highway will be a boon to Western Kentucky drivers for many reasons, but these three stand out in our estimation as among the most important:

(1) It will provide reader access—and consequently more traveling—from West Kentucky to Louisville,

Frankfort and Lexington for all of the many important things that happen up that way. We can think readily of such things as basketball tournaments, UK football games and other sports, Fairgrounds activities at Louisville as well as conventions and numerous other activities there;

(2) A modern super highway, while faster because of its limited access features, is also a whole lot safer. Today's modern turnpikes have remarkably low accident records;

(3) Such a highway would provide a lot of new traffic and business for the Kentucky Lake area as well as for us communities in the Purchase.

Fulton would stand to benefit from it in good measure.

On Nursery Rhymes With A Double Meaning

Of all the mothers who will be taking bows May 8th, none has shown more stamina than the little old lady who has been putting children to sleep for more than 200 years.

But Mother Goose may have had more on her mind than nonsense rhymes. In fact, she may have been taking pot shots at some of the key figures of her day.

"Rock-a-bye baby on the tree top" sounds harmless enough. But the lullaby—popular during the time of James I of England—might have been a joking reference to James' shaky hold on his throne.

World Book Encyclopedia suggests that the little boy who sat in a corner eating his Christmas pie was really an English steward sent to London with a pie for the king. In the days of Henry VIII, important papers often were baked in pies, and this particular one supposedly contained title deeds for several English estates. The greedy Jack Horner, however, stole the king's "plum"—the deed to an estate that had once belonged to the Church of England.

Humpty Dumpty may have been Richard III. The deformed villain seized the throne of England in 1483 after imprisoning his 12-year-old nephew, the rightful king, in the Tower of London. Two years later he was killed in the battle of Bosworth Field, and "all the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't put Humpty together again."

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

The President's Message

By John Maguire C. S. C.

Magazine Editor

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S 19-60 State of the Union message was basically optimistic. But there seemed to be a note of urgency in the President's words as he returned several times to the need for "vigilance, determination... dedication... hard work... sacrifice... intellectual honesty... restraint... responsibility" if we are to meet the challenges that face our country today.

One particular passage—even though Mr. Eisenhower seemed to be directing it to "America's partners and friends"—seemed to sum up what the President was telling us:

"A RICH NATION can for a time without noticeable damage to itself, pursue a course of self-indulgence, making its single goal the material ease and comfort of its own citizens—thus repudiating its own spiritual and material stake in a peaceful and prosperous society of nations. But the enmities it will incur, the isolation into which it will descend, and the internal moral and physical softness that will be engendered, will, in the long term, bring it to disaster."

Ever since end of World War II the United States has dedicated itself to the maintenance of freedom and democracy throughout the world. Unselfishly, we have poured billions of dollars in economic aid to the war-ravaged and undeveloped nations of the world. Never before has any country given so much of its wealth into the world-wide fight against the appalling poverty, disease and human misery which is still so prevalent in many areas of the world.

But even granted that other countries shoulder a larger share of the struggle against poverty and human misery, we can't demand or expect any slackening of our own efforts in this direction.

IN SPITE OF our best attempts for the past decade and more, much remains to be done before poverty and human misery are—in the President's words—"obsolete." The job isn't done; it is hardly begun. And until much more progress in this struggle is accomplished, there can be little hope for security, freedom and peace in the world.

Throughout the State of the Union message there rang the refrain—it will only be through hard work and sacrifice that we will be able to meet the challenges that face us at home and throughout the world today. But when the only alternative is disaster—and such was the President's warning—sacrifice, restraint and hard work should be a welcome prospect.

FROM THE FILES:—

Turning Back The Clock--

April 26, 1940

The Young Men's Business Club met in regular session Tuesday night at the Rainbow Room, with Hendon Wright, president, presiding.

Effective Monday, April 22, the Illinois Central Railroad inaugurated a mixed train service between Fulton and Jackson.

A car belonging to Frank Merryman of Fulton, a truck belonging to M. Livingston and a car from North Carolina were completely demolished in a three-way collision near Water Valley Tuesday night.

Twenty-eight Seniors will be graduated from the South Fulton

High School this year. Miss Margaret Stephens with .95 points will be valedictorian of the class, and Miss Rosetta Burrow with an average of 94.6 will be salutatorian.

The commencement address for the Fulton High School Seniors will be given by W. P. King, executive secretary and past president of the Kentucky Education Association, Louisville, on Thursday night, May 23, at the Science Hall.

E. L. McLaurine, formerly trainmaster for the Illinois Central Railroad at Fulton, now of McComb, Miss., was instantly killed about 6:40 p. m. Monday when he was struck by a switch engine.

Everyone will certainly miss Mr. DeRhethe Greene and his wife when they move to Pasadena, Texas on May 6. Mr. Greene has received a fine promotion with Ferry Morse, as Southwestern Regional Sales Manager. The Greens have been in Fulton since Ferry Morse moved its Packet Division here and during the past several months Mr. Greene has been a member of the Planning and Zoning Commission and has headed the City Beautiful Committee.

Thanks to his suggestion to the Greater Fulton Committee, our Twin Cities in the near future will be much more beautiful. It was his idea to plant Crepe Myrtles on the highway approaches to Fulton, and to plant flowers in the downtown area.

Sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Fulton County during March amounted to $3,862. The County's 1960 goal is $333,850 and the cumulative sales for the first three months total $43,393 or 12.9%.

Throughout Kentucky during March, sales of these bonds amounted to $5,019,667. Cumulative sales for the State during the first three months total $16,206,150, or 26.6% of the annual goal of $60,760,000.

C. D. Jones, Richard Thompson, Bill Warren and James Butts attended the State Jaycee Executive Committee meeting Saturday and Sunday in Louisville. At the meeting the clubs were judged for awards, also. The winners will be announced at the annual convention.

We understand that Miss Olive Stewart is seriously ill in the Baptist Memorial Hospital in Paducah. She was the director that installed the officers of the Fulton-South Fulton B & P W Club last spring.

Was talking to Constable John Adams of South Fulton the other day and he was telling us of the great number of people, some tourists and some local people, who are failing to stop for a school bus, which is stopped for letting children on or off the bus.

Constable Adams said that he had caught several motorists lately and fined them $13.50. He pointed out that passing a stopped school bus—going in either direction—is no longer a traffic violation, but a misdemeanor, subject to a fine and jail sentence.

Adams said that he is also cracking down on motorists speeding on the Martin Highway, especially between 3 and 4 p. m.

The Senior Girl Scouts were treated by their sponsor, Mrs. Frank LeMaster, to a two-day trip, Thursday and Friday to Mammoth Cave.

Those making the trip with Mrs. LeMaster were Sandra Williams, Ophelia Speight, Lynn Bushart, Chan Covington, Suzanne Johnson, Linda Wright, Carol McNeilly, Judy Burton, Katie Brown, Linda Sandling and Judy Wolbertson.

Dropped by the Jet Lanes bowling alley for a few minutes Friday afternoon and was surprised to find that a bowling alley could be so beautiful.

Some evening I'll have to go by and see if I've forgotten how to bowl or not.

Back during World War II, while working at the defense plant at Viola, I learned to bowl at Mayfield. Best I can recall, I was secretary of the plant's league for a while before going to Washington.

In D. C. we railroad gals had a bowling league, which an alley upstairs at the station. I was captain of our team, which I named the Thoroughbreds, as most of us were Kentucky girls.

There for a while, our team was leading the league.

Now, I probably wouldn't know how to throw the ball.

Let's not forget to honor our Mothers on May 8, Mother's Day. Did you know that Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia is credited with founding Mother's Day and introducing the custom of wearing a carnation.

A colored carnation indicates one's mother is living, while a white carnation indicates she is dead.

Mother's Day won national recognition on May 8, 1914. On that day, President Woodrow Wilson signed a joint resolution of Congress recommending that Congress and the executive branch of government observe the special day.

Vada and Sonny Puckett have really been working hard lately. They have been planting flowers at their home and at the service station. There's been a lot of flower planting out at the Park Terrace, too, but couldn't say, who has been helping Sonny's mother, Mrs. Carl Puckett, the most on this project.

Speaking of Mrs. Carl Puckett. That woman has more energy. She's always doing something.

From the highway it looks as if the new addition to the Bo-Peep Motel is about finished. It looks real nice.

According to Jim Elkins in his sports column in Friday's Sun-Democrat, Fulton High School has dropped arch-rival South Fulton from its basketball schedule.

A few days ago the boss got a letter from the Center Ridge Lake Properties, offering lots on Kentucky Lake for sale. The surprise prize was to see the boss' young daughter pictured on the letterhead.

The picture of Mary Jo was taken by a Kentucky publicity photographer, several years ago while she was visiting at the lake.

Dan M. Weatherford of Fulton was among the 65 students at Colorado State University cited for achieving honor list recognition in the College of Forestry and Range Management.

I hear that Dr. Eddie Crocker's brother plans to open up a dentist office in South Fulton in a new office building, being built on Peach Street.

I also, hear that a local hospital plans to have two new doctors, comes fall.

Passing by, I've noticed that Charles Browder has had the service station next to the bus station painted recently. Wonder if he plans to open it up again for business.

The new Airline Gas Co. office in Highlands sure looks nice.

Ferry-Morse News From the Plant

We are sorry to hear of Pansy Wheeler's husband hurting his eye last week at work. Had to have it operated on last Thursday.

Alice Hankins' 4-year-old son, Joe Brent, was badly mauled and bitten by a dog last week. Had to be treated at the hospital, but was allowed to return to his home. So, little boys and girls beware of strange dogs and dogs that are tied.

I guess that the most of you have seen Johnny Davis's lip all taped up. Johnny has had it kind of rough this past week. First, he backed up in the coffee line trying to avoid an accident and backed right into a cup of hot coffee in someone else's hand. He sure got a scalded back. Then, he was doing some work and the crowbar slipped and hit him on the lip. Took 4 stitches to sew it up. Johnny, we hope every week isn't as hard on you as this last week has been.

We are losing one of our girls, we sure hate to see her go. We are speaking of Estelle Binkley. Husband James, has been transferred to Birmingham, Ala. So, as soon as school is out here, Estelle and her daughter will be going to Birmingham. Estelle, may you and the family find and make a wonderful and useful life for yourselves in your new home. Come back and see us some time.

On the sick-list this past week has been Helen Clinard, Ruby Nell Lawrence, and Lucille Harrison. Ouida Travis is back to work from sick-leave.

I would like to tell you of the nicest party I've been to in a long time, really it was two parties in one, surprises too. Esther Wollenburg and Mary Samuill who recently purchased a home here in Fulton invited the following to see their new home—Wanda Zickfoose, Helen Clinard, Martha Moore, Hilda Gregory, Laura Byars, Marie Glover, Jere Wolfe, Eleanor Schatch, Mary Nell Milstead, Lillian Yates, Geraldine Merryman, Mary Nell Polsgrove, Ann Guthrie, Linda Haman and Margaret Peoples.

Esther and Mary told the rest of us it would be a surprise Pink and Blue shower for Wanda. Wanda and the rest of us said we would surprise Esther and Mary with a gift for their home, which we did in the form of a brass planter with a vine and two miniature china dogs which they collect.

Their home was decorated with lovely shower motifs and the mantle with the prettiest Easter look. Esther took baby clothes and made the cutest baby, as a gift from all of us that attended the party. The 2707, also, gave Wanda a gift for the baby and a gift for herself. We was served the most delicious meal. Our hats off to Mary and Es would like to have been along. This Mary Nell Polsgrove's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Whitehead of Martin spent a few days in Detroit this past week.

Frances Stephens' baby is in the hospital.

Nell Childers and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glasco, drove to East St. Louis to spend the week-end and help their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Provan celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with open house on Sunday April 24th.

Kathryn Burkett's Sunday evening guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Auvenshine of Gleason, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Pollard and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Freeman of Martin, also 15 children to play ball. Bet they sure had a swell time.

Mr. and Mrs. Hershall Kimbell of Scottsville visited Montez Kimble and Garrett. Hershall and Garrett are brothers.

Stanley Beadles took his three children fishing last Friday at Ky. Lake, or rather to Little Sulphur of Ky. Lake. They caught 34 crappies. Good fishing kids. Sure would like to be along. This is the family of Mossie Beadles, and she had to work. That's the trouble with having to work. All those fish just a jumping to get caught.

Juanita Jones is proud of her new Diamond engagement ring given to her by Robert Emerson.

Jimmie Lawrence got back Thursday night from Louisville where he was in the graduating class of the United Electronic School. Jimmie is the son of Ruby Nell Lawrence.

Happy Birthday, to Esther Wollenburg on the 24th, to Margaret Peoples's husband, Clayburn, on the 22th. Anniversary wishes to Nell Childer on the 16th and Tommy Rickman on the 21st.

DUKEDOM RT. 2 By Mrs. O. F. Taylor

We have been enjoying the nice spring weather we had last week. Mrs. Roy Emerson is a patient in Hillview hospital where she had surgery last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morris visited in the W. L. Rowland home late Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Taylor called on Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Brann and Miss Emma Carr awhile one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McGuire visited Mrs. Mary Hendricks near Farmington Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tremon Rickman visited Mr. T. E. Stewart in the home of Thomas Turbeville recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Wray left for their home some where in Michigan Monday, after visiting her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Moore, several days.

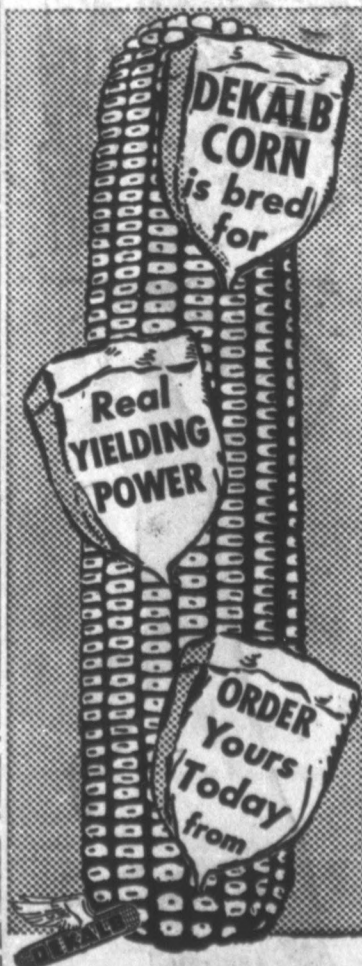

Mrs. Vera Turbeville and children visited her parents in Missouri a short time ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cathey and Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Taylor visited Mrs. Roy Emerson in the Hillview hospital Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Matthews were also visitors of Mrs. Emerson.

Mrs. Bill Herndon and Belinda of Bowling Green are visiting here this week.

Mrs. Norman Puckett of Lone Oak was the guest of her dad and sister, W. L. Rowland and Allie, Thursday and Thursday night of last week.

Love And Care Brighten Life Of Youth Aged 10

Ironically enough it took a cruel father, frost-bitten feet, and a month and a half stay in the Obion County General hospital at Union City to give 10-year-old Jesse Decker his first big break in life.

Jesse left the hospital Thursday telling everyone he met that he was going on a long trip.

Actually Jesse has been taken away from his parents and is now a ward of the state of Kentucky. He has been placed in a foster home somewhere in Kentucky where he will live.

Aside from a slight limp, it was impossible to tell that this smiling young lad was the same boy who had been locked out of his Hickman home all night because he failed to chop enough wood for his father.

When Jesse was taken to the city hospital he was suffering severe frostbite and it looked for a while as if some of his toes might have to be removed. However, he was lucky and soon he was making the rounds in a wheelchair. Meanwhile, his father was sentenced to the Hickman county jail for six months.

A week after the shaggy little boy arrived, the nurses arranged to have his hair cut, and lo and behold, there was a smiling face under all that mop.

From then until he was discharged Jesse was the man of the hour.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Your Diarist finds it hard to "keep up" with all of the new members of an organization called the "S. O. G. Club". You may well know that it is a club composed of new grandmothers and grandfathers. A week or so ago, we added the Lewis Weaks to the list . . . and here we go again . . . with more new members, Gilson and Mary Latta! Yep, the arrival of Gilson Davis Peterson at the John Gaston Hospital in Memphis Monday was a real event in the Peterson-Latta homes. Little Gilson Davis is the brand-new son of Ann Davis Latta and Dr. Bob Peterson of Memphis. And our congratulations go to this fine young couple! Get the pictures ready for the billfold, Mary, because we'll be waiting to see Gilson Davis!

Other grandparents who are living in a "complete state of happiness" this week are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis . . . and the reason is that Dr. Joe Davis, his lovely wife, Marilyn and their three darling daughters arrived in Fulton Monday night from their home in Sacramento, California. This is the first time the doctor and family have been "home" since the arrival of Leslie and Elsie, the twins, who are two years old. Susan, we remember is the "elder" of the Davis girls . . . she's four!

The Davis home on Eddings Street has taken on a completely new look with sand boxes, sand buckets, swings et al. We just hope they have the happiest time ever! Patsy Fall Bowers, a granddaughter of the Davises, who lives in Murray while hubby, Charles is in school, stayed over in Fulton this week with her two little girls, Lynn and Debbie in order to be with her Uncle Joe and family. Indeed the sand box at the Davises will be filled . . . filled with darling little girls!

The W. M. U. Quarterly Associational meeting was held Tuesday, April 19, at the Bardwell Baptist Church with eighty present.

The theme for this meeting was "His Spirit in the Home." The aim was "That we may build our homes as more than shelters from rain and protection from storm, but as centers of religious life, of heavenly, sunshine of human and divine love."

Mrs. Harry Allison of Fulton, Associational Superintendent, gave a timely report of her trip to the State W. M. U. meeting. Bro. John H. Adams, pastor of the Columbus Baptist Church, delivered the morning message. Mrs. W. O. Lassiter, Southwestern Regional Youth Leader, gave an inspiring message in the afternoon.

Mrs. White, Regional W. M. U. President, attended the meeting.

Gertrude Murphy was hostess to a delightful coffee Saturday morning, April 16, at her lovely home on Eddings Street complimenting Ruth Caldwell, bride-elect of Midshipman Don Wright. The popular young couple will be married on June 19th at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Union City.

Receiving the guests with the hostess and guests of honor were Mrs. Howard Caldwell, of Union City, mother of the bride-elect, and Miss Barbara Caldwell, sister of the honor guests.

Miss Caldwell wore an attractively black and white spring outfit and her gift corsage was of pink carnations. She was presented a gift of Italian pottery.

An arrangement of pear blossoms in a silver bowl centered the dining table, overlaid with a pink cloth. All of the table appointments were silver. Mrs. Hendon Wright and Mrs. Harvey Caldwell poured tea.

Mrs. W. L. Durbin and Mrs. E. C. Grissom assisted in serving and Mrs. W. F. Clark presided at the register.

Tea, hors d'oeuvres, mints and nuts were served.

The guest list included — Miss Caldwell, her mother, Mrs. Howard Caldwell of Union City, her sister, Miss Barbara Caldwell, Mrs. Hendon Wright, mother of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. Horton Baird, Mrs. W. L. Durbin, Mrs. Harvey Caldwell, Mrs. R. H. White, Mrs. Lillian Blagg of Nashville, Mrs. Matt DeBoer of Lexington, Mrs. Frank Beadles, Miss Mollie Wiley of Nashville, Mrs. J. A. Poe, Mrs. E. R. Hefley, Mrs. Charles W. Andrews of Memphis, Miss Anne Adams, Mrs. Clyde Williams, Jr., Miss Barbara Ann Boyd of Memphis, Mrs. Charles Binford of Memphis, Mrs. Herbie Hunt, Mrs. Felix Gossum, Mrs. Robert Rudolph, Mrs. Otis Crutchfield, Miss Marion Blackstone, Mrs. W. MOUNTAIN LAUREL FESTIVAL QUEENS reminisce at meeting at Lexington Country Club. Mrs. James Darnaby, Lexington (left), talks with Mrs. James E. Croley, Jr., Pineville, general chairman of the 1960 festival, and Miss Alice Chumley, Jamestown, the 1959 reigning queen. Miss Chumley represented Western State College at last year's festival and won the title over 17 other beauties. This year's festival at Pine Mountain State Park will be held May 26-28.

Frances Ward, Mrs. Loyd Watkins, Mrs. Amylyn Puckett, Mrs. Rubie Vincent, Minnie and Mary Jane, Mrs. W. B. Isbell, Alifeel McClain, Mrs. Myrtle Farmer and Mrs. Neva Jackson, Mrs. D. Williams, Mrs. Bell Matthews, Mrs. Nell Ruth Fry and Mrs. Coy Harrison.

Paul Hornbeak was honored with a surprise birthday dinner, given by his wife at their home on Third Street Tuesday evening, April 19.

Mr. Hornbeak received several nice gifts and had a decorated birthday cake.

Guests were his two sisters, Mrs. Stella Yates and Mrs. Elizabeth Milner, Mrs. Lois Hornbeak, Mr. and Mrs. Frank LeMaster and Mr. and Mrs. James Needham and little daughter, Lisa.

Mrs. Anna Belle Edwards is visiting her daughter, Mrs. N. L. Meadows and family in Freeport, Ill. She will return home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harrison have returned to their home in Plymouth, Mich., after vacationing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Callison of East State Line and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coy Harrison of Dukedom.

'Twas Hello . . . and Goodbye . . . to one of our favorite people, Virginia Fleming Isbell who was "back home" for a visit (we think was far too short) with her mother, Mrs. Jessie Lee Fleming. Jenny hails from Anchorage, Alaska where the head of the household, Colonel Jim, is stationed with the Air Force as Chief-of-Staff of the Alaskan Air Command. We could "talk" for days . . . about the fabulous gal who has more projects in that far-off land than we could count. Briefly, she has three youngsters in the family . . . plus the Colonel. Reed, the oldest is away during the school year at Mills College in Oakland, California, but Jim and Tom the two

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Underwood of Harvey, Ill., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Pauline Kindred and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Covert of Bloomington, Ind., arrived Monday to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. Bill Rice and Mr. Rice Henderson Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gibbs of Memphis were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fowlkes, Central Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Byars and children have returned from a weekend visit to Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Stallons in Murray.

Jack W. Redditt of Nashville and Frank L. Redditt of Brewton, Ala., are guests of their sister, Mrs. Ruth Scott, West State Line, last week.

Easter holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kellie Lowe were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Miller and son, Joe Kellie, of Springfield, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. John Floyd and children, Randy, Rebecca, Kevin and Rilla of Kuttawa, Ky.

Kellie Lowe, Jr., a student at Purdue University at Lafayette and an employee of Radio WAZY, spent the weekend in Fulton with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kellie Lowe, Sr.

Mrs. Kellie Lowe and Mrs. Auzie Phelps attended the KEA meeting in Louisville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Ragsdale of Centralia have been visiting relatives at Pierce.

100 Years Ago This Week

An Historical review of THE CIVIL WAR DAY-BY-DAY (Material is from publication of exactly one hundred years ago; original wording from references in the Library of Congress, Washington. Reporting in the papers was usually very un-biased; we seek to be fair in coverage and preserve a national balance. . . . ED).

BY WILLIAM H. McHENRY

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO . . . Judge Stephen A. Douglas is still ahead at the Charleston Convention.

Foot named Walt Whitman has just published a book of poems, "Leaves of Grass," price $1.25.

California Senator Milton S. Latham gave a long winded speech on slavery. (California was supposed to be a free state, but some people expected the state to divide, one part free, the other part slave) Somewhere in his speech, Latham said: "Keep the negro in proper subjection and guide him by superior intelligence." (Sort of like King's "White man's burden")

April 16, Charleston: The city had prepared for the big presidential convention by hiring 50 extra policemen. A rogue's gallery of pictures of known criminals had been placed where the policemen could study them. Charleston had just sentenced a robber to hang . . . "We are lucky," said the Editor of the Charleston paper. "Let's hang the fellow at once so other thieves will take warning."

A fire had been raging in the Dismal Swamp for several days. Henry Ward Beecher and the Trustees of his Church had been in a fight over allowing Wendell Phillips to deliver his "Plea for the Dissolution of the Union" speech in the Church. "Beecher and the trustees settled the affair without any shooting," said the reporter. (Beecher had sent many rifles, good Sharps and Maynards, to the anti-slavery men in Kansas. Beecher was one of the backers of John Brown.

In Washington the Hon. Mr. Vallandigham, of Ohio, lectured at the Smithsonian on "The Bible and its literature." (Vallandigham later became a "copperhead" and was so rabid against the Union forces that during the second year of the war, the man was arrested in Ohio and banished to the South.)

A Mr. Vassar, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., is endowing a female college which will afford young ladies educational advantages equal to those enjoyed by the "sterner" sex at Yale, Harvard, and Williams. He proposes, said the N. Y. Times, to endow the school with four hundred thousand dollars! (italics were those of the editor.)

HOMESTEAD ACT. The Dubuque (Iowa) Herald said: " . . . the old reprobate who sits in the Presidential chair . . . (Buchanan) . . . at Washington, voted the Homestead Bill . . . Buchanan had reasons for voting the Bill . . . his powerful industrial friends in the East and the planters in the South opposed the Bill. The President said that giving free land to the citizens would cause a loss of skilled labor in the factories, and would be unfair to the slave-holders in that the lands would fill up with Free men who would compete with the slave-states. One Editor put it this way: "The Southerners want to prevent giving part of the public land, belonging to the people, to the people."

(The Homestead Bill would come up again . . . in 1862, under Lincoln, and it would pass and the nation would never be the same again. Some people say that the era of the Common man dates from the signing of the Homestead Bill.)

In Boston, E. A. Oliver failed in business for $40,000. He was charged with fraud, but got away with part of the swag. He was arrested while leaving church in Davenport, Iowa.

Nelson Driggs, counterfeiter, was arrested in Rising Sun, Ind. When arrested he had several thousand dollars in counterfeit notes on the Canal Bank of New Orleans.

Alabama had a book-burning. Most Southern states passed laws against the reading of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," but in Georgia the book was read to public groups. In Mississippi, on the plantation belonging to Jefferson Davis's brother, the family could not buy the book, but Mrs. Davis was able to borrow a copy . . . from one of the negro slaves! The entire family read the book, then returned it. (There's always something nice about people who return books!)

The L & N R. R. was running a special train from Louisville to Charleston for the convention. Roundtrip fair, $24.50.

Approximately $1,000 Raised For South Fulton Athletic Field

With the big athletic field drive not yet begun, South Fulton High school already has approximately $1,000 in the project's fund.

More than $600 was donated Thursday night during a mass meeting held in the South Fulton High school gymnasium.

It is hoped that the drive will net $16,000 to build a football stadium and to install lighting for both football and baseball. The field will be used for several different sports and thus the drive known as the Athletic Field drive.

According to Booster Club members, who are sponsoring the project, the very best in lighting equipment for the field would cost about $8,200 and that the bleachers would cost from $4,000 to $8,000. Although the project can be done for less than the $16,000 goal, supporters feel that this amount is needed to give the school a field in keeping with the school's athletic program.

Some 80 persons turned out for the mass meeting Thursday night with the chief spokesmen being School Principal Lester Betty, Ray Terrell, president of the Boosters Club and Bob McKnight, a member of the city council.

During the meeting, the project was outlined and this Thursday was the date set for the big drive to begin. Volunteers will make a home to home canvass of the area and explain the program to residents. They will seek any contributions and will sell one foot square complimentary deeds to the field for $5 each. On Thursday, April 14, the Blackwood Brothers and the Statesmen quartet were presented at the school gymnasium and the $170 profit from the program went into the athletic field fund.

Saturday interested citizens met at the school in their rough clothes and helped cut out willows in a ditch near the football field. This work was done so that a West Texas Gas Co. dragline can widen the ditch at a later date. The gas company has donated the services of the dragline for the project.

The South Fulton school has participated in football since 1951 and has had to play all home games on the Fulton field because no seating facilities are available on the South Fulton practice field.

APRIL is cancer drive month, and I'd like to urge you to fight this serious disease with a Check-up and a Check. The check is important, but just as important are regular physical check-ups for your entire family. If detected in time, cancer can be cured. Over 800,000 Americans have been saved because they saw the doctor before cancer got a head start. The American Cancer Society has listed these 7 danger signals which could mean cancer. If any of the danger signals persist for over two weeks, you should contact your doctor at once.

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. A sore that does not heal.
4. Change in bowel or bladder habits.
5. Hoarseness or cough.
6. Change in a wart or mole.
7. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.

OK, Just Wait Til Next Year

By Mike Walker

Seniors, seniors, seniors - that's all half the population of this school thinks about, especially the juniors who look forward to the high respectability of that status. After canvassing the school, I've learned a great deal about how a senior lives, thinks, studies, eats, sleeps, and loves. Why, just yesterday, I was talking to a fellow who has been a senior for three years now, and he thinks it's a great life. He's even planning to turn professional!

It takes a lot of time to become a good senior - after taking a nation-wide poll, I've found that the average time involved is about 12 years. Well then, you say if it takes such a long time, there must be plenty of rewards - and there are. Just think, a senior can come to school the same days and at the same time as we do. He can study under the same teachers and even eat his meals in the same places that most of the rest of us can. Thrilling, isn't it!

Being a senior does have some special rewards, though. They get the best seats in the auditorium, they are looked up to and admired - at least when they outnumber us - and they have the privilege of taking several sets of tests which we underclassmen are not allowed to take. The last semester of school holds the greatest rewards: senior pictures, senior play, senior research themes, and last but not least, GRADUATION, the dream of all but professional seniors.

Nancy Dame Crowned Miss Jaycee At Annual Revue Friday Evening

Lovely Nancy Dame, burnette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Dame of South Fulton, was crowned "Miss Jaycee of 1960" at the annual beauty revue at Carr Auditorium here Friday night.

Miss Dame, 17, is a junior at South Fulton High School. She has been a majorette for two years and a substitute on the girls basketball team for two years.

Named first attendant was Miss Elaine Beggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Beggs of Fulton. She is 16 and a junior at Fulton High.

Miss Beggs is majorette of the Fulton High band and is also drummer.

Second attendant was Miss Frances "Sugar" Parr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Parr of the Union City Highway. She is a senior at South Fulton High.

The crowd at the Fulton Junior Chamber of Commerce's second annual Miss Jaycee contest was estimated at approximately 400.

The stage setting was beautifully done and featured a wishing well, as well as wrought-iron furniture, compliments of B. J. Pritchard Ornamental Iron Co., and a gorgeous array of flowers donated by local florists.

At the back drop, huge sparkle letters depicted "Miss Jaycee of 1960", which would be the title won by the girl winning the coveted honor of placing first in the review.

If anyone disbelieved in Southern charm, certainly they would have been convinced when they saw the 39 contestants parade across the stage with so much poise in their exquisite formals. Almost every hue of the rainbow was represented in their formals.

The welcome was given by past president of the Fulton Jaycees, Richard Thompson, and Ken Slaught, a representative of the Mayfield Junior Chamber of Commerce, acted as Emcee for the evening.

C. D. Jones, co-chairman of this event, expressed his gratitude to his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Poston, as co-chairmen of the event, for their contribution to the success of the contest, to Mrs. Dan Taylor for her able direction and to Mrs. L. C. Logan, who did a splendid job with music at the Hammond organ.

Then, came time for the actual review before an anxious audience. The 39 girls who participated and their sponsors are listed according to their appearance on the stage: Freida Simpson, Whitel Funeral Home; Sue Oldham, Dewey Johnson; Shelia St. John, Harvey Caldwell Co.; Shirley Ann Viniard, P. H. Weeks and Sons; Joyce Tucker, Irby's Fashion Shop; Patricia Flowers, Mac and Fay's; Lena Lou Moss, South Fulton Cleaners; Frances Parr, Park Terrace; Brenda Roberts, Jones and House Service Co.; Peggy Counce, Frindley Finance; Wanda Outland, National Store; Judy Kay Stinnett, Southside Drug; Rosemary Clark, Duke's Auto Parts.

Janice Sue Fields, Wade Furniture; Elizabeth Flowers, W & L Dollar Store; Brenda Joyce Brockwell, South Fulton Booster Club; Scarlet Turner, Fulton Bank; Brenda Joyce Brockwell, OK-Parisian; Jerilyn Colley, Clarice Shop; Linda Sue Witt, Taylor-Chevrolet; Janice Walker, City Drug; Phyllis Bynum, Jet Lanes; Jane Gungl, Coca-Cola; Nancy Dame, Kasnow's; Sandra Daird, P. T. Jones and Sons; Bonny Usrey, Dotty Shop; Scarlet Vetter, Henry I. Siegel; Donnie Moody, Dixie Mill and Joe Powell Lime Co.; Elaine Beggs, Burrow Real Estate; Judy Wolbertson, A. C. Butts and Sons; Joyce Owens, Hornbeak Funeral Home; Sandra Stevenson, Scates Store; Judy Copeland, Evans Drug; Wanda Cash, Bennett Electric and Furniture; Jill Edwards, Kentucky Motor; Beverly Haman, Jones Auto; Julia Wood, Bennett Drug; Beverly Parchman, City National Bank, and Libby Rogers, Leader Store.

Out of these, judges, consisting of Bill Hale, Mayfield national director of the Jaycees, Mrs. Bill Nottingham, president of the Union City Jaycees, Harold Beamon, Murray, national director of the Kentucky Jaycees, Ira Scott of Paris, and Dan Moore, president of the Union City Jaycees, selected 25 girls to return.

The judges further tried to minimize their elimination to 10.

During this intermission, Miss Ann Samples, winner of the 1959 Talent Contest, favored the audience with two musical numbers, rendered in her own special way, accompanied by her ukelele.

The six finalists were Frances Parr, Park Terrace; Peggy Counce, Frindley Finance, Nancy Dame, Kasnow's, Elaine Beggs, Burrow Real Estate, Joyce Owens, Hornbeak Funeral Home, and Libby Rogers, Leader Store.

From the six finalists, Miss Jaycee and two attendants were selected.

Miss Betty Powell, Miss Jaycee of 1959, crowned Miss Jaycee and her attendants and presented them with beautiful gold and ivory trophies, donated by Pepsi-Cola Co.

Even though each girl truly looked the part of a southern belle everyone will have to agree that the Jaycees will be more than well represented by this lovely dark-haired beauty, Miss Dame.

The Jaycees would like to thank everyone who contributed to the success of the show and extend their best wishes to Miss Jaycee during her reign.

Weakley County Clubs Make "Mystery Tour" On Tuesday, April The 19th

On Tuesday, April 19, about 90 energetic ladies of the Home Demonstration Clubs of Weakley County arose early that morning, and hurried to Dresden to meet three Western State buses from Murray to carry them on their annual "Mystery Trip."

Leaving Dresden at approximately 6:15 a. m., going east on the Paris highway no one knew where they were going except the committee, which had been appointed to plan the trip this year. The committee was composed of Mrs. Joe Winstead, Mrs. Billie Stoker, Mrs. B. W. Bellew and the Home Agent, Mrs. Jo Larsen.

The group arrived at St. Charles Restaurant in Clarksville about 8 a. m. and were given a 30-minute rest stop.

Arriving at the city limits of Nashville, they were met by the Nashville City Hostess, Mrs. Grace Luten, who escorted them to the Governor's Mansion, where they were given a tour of the mansion and grounds.

From the Governor's residence the club members went to the State Capitol Building and immediately went to the Governor's office, where they were greeted by Gov. Buford Ellington, himself. They went from there to the Room of the House of Representatives, where the guide explained how the House of Representatives works when in session.

After touring the rest of the State Capitol Building, the women went to the B. & W. Cafeteria, where they had lunch. After lunch they returned to their buses and were carried to Sears Roebuck Shopping Center, where the women were permitted to shop for an hour.

From Sears they went to Joy's Florist, where they were met by the manager and given a conducted tour of the shop and cooling or storage room. Each lady was presented a yellow or pink rose.

The group left Joy's Florist and went to the Parthenon Building and from there to the Upper Room and were given a lecture and shown the great carving of the Lord's Supper, which took more than 50 men and 14 months to carve.

Also, they were shown the magnificent Pentecost window, which is 20 feet high and eight feet wide. It was dedicated on Pentecost Day May 17, 1959.

After leaving the Upper Room the ladies loaded on their buses and were soon headed west for Weakley County. They had a rest stop at the Buddy Shop for about 30 minutes and then a stop at Frank's Cafe for supper. There most of the group had a delicious fish supper.

The Weakley County club women arrived in Dresden about 10 p. m., a tired, but happy bunch, with most of them expressing a desire to make the trip again next year.

The group would like to thank the committee and Mrs. Larsen and the bus drivers, who made this trip such a memorable day.

Many Gather Saturday To Honor Sister Mary Inez' Years Of Service

Almost 200 members of her order, along with several priests and Monsignors, gathered Saturday morning at the Immaculate Conception Catholic school and church in Union City to pay honor to Sister Mary Inez who observed the 50th anniversary of the taking of her vows in the order.

Sister Mary Inez, after her novice training, took her vows on March 19, 1910, becoming a Sister of Charity of Nazareth, Ky.

In addition to honoring the nun, the Catholics watched the end of an era, the final school term for the parochial school which began in Union City about 15 years ago. A new school is being established in Bartlett, near Memphis, and the small Union City school, along with others in various sites in the district, is being shut down so that enough teachers will be available to staff the newer and larger school.

Sister Mary Inez teaches her class daily at St. Edward's school in Fulton. She is one of three teachers stationed at Union City. The others are Sister Mary Victorine, who teaches the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades in Union City, and Sister Mary Benedicta, teacher of the first, second, third and fourth grades at Union City. The Union City school currently has only 27 students in the first eight grades.

Approximately 200 attended the Golden Anniversary event Saturday morning, including 86 nuns from this area, 10 priests and two Monsignors. Many members of the faith from this entire area attended.

The three nuns will leave Union City this summer but, as of now, their destinations have not been told to them. The order is responsible for the staffing of schools, hospitals, old folks' homes and orphanages, in addition to operating a mission in India. It is probable, however, that all three will continue their teaching in other schools in one of the eight states which the order serves.

The celebration was the first of its kind ever held in Union City and Father James Murphy, rector of the Immaculate Conception church, presided.

About 30 Sisters sang the Solemn High Mass at 10:30 a. m., and the members of the Altar societies had Fulton, Union City and Paris charge of the buffet dinner.

A Fulton High Senior, Wayne Anderson, son of Mrs. Mildred Anderson, has been declared a National Winner in Quill and Scroll's Current Events Quiz for 1960. It was announced today.

In a letter to Miss Mary F. Martin, history teacher at Fulton High, Lester G. Benz, Executive Secretary of Quill and Scroll, School of Journalism, State University of Iowa, had the following to say:

"We sincerely congratulate both your school and this student who has earned this high honor."

"As a National Winner this student is awarded Quill and Scroll's National Award Gold key which is enclosed herewith. We hope that you will present the award to the student with such ceremony as you may consider appropriate."

In addition, the winner of this award, if a senior, is eligible to apply for one of the Edward J. Nell Memorial Scholarships in Journalism. These scholarships have a value of $500 each, to be paid in two equal installments, at the beginning of the freshman and sophomore years of study at any college or university offering a major in journalism. Applicants are required to sign a statement signifying their intention of majoring in journalism."

Anderson, a gifted writer, is editor of the high school newspaper.

FISHERMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Smith

Fishermen's Corner was booming this past week with both Bryant's and Gray's Camps filled with out-of-state sportsmen.

With the bass, crappie and bream all biting good, made up for a pleasant week of fishing for the sports.

Bass are now being caught on both under water and top water baits. With some limits being reported to have been caught while using the Rex Spoon around the moss, others used the Bush Wacker, an under water bait.

Crappie are still biting around the trees and hollow stumps. While bream are being taken fishing close in around grass line.

Most all the bass that were caught this past week weighed in around one and one-half pounds to four and one-half pounds. One of the guides told me that bass hit so good Friday, that he could almost call his shots—that's a fish story for you.

This week I would like to give you a few of the guides' names. Most of these guides have been on Reelfoot Lake all of their lives. They have seen Reelfoot Lake grow from an almost swamp to one of the greatest fishing and hunting resorts in the world.

Here are some of the guides' names, who work at Fishermen's Corner: Hal McQueen, Garvin Powell, Hubert Woods, John D. Glidewell, Odell Russell, Louis Mikeal, Paul Stroder, Foster Strader, Carl Nance, Jackie Nance, Coy Thomas and I work part-time.

As weeks pass I will have some of the history of these guides to tell you about. Until we meet again at Fishermen's Corner, best of luck with your fishing.

Plans Being Completed For Scoutorama

J. S. Piers, General Chairman of the 1960, Scoutorama, featuring units of the Four Rivers Boy Scout Council and the Bear Creek Girl Scout Council, said today that plans for the big show to be held on April 30th and May 1st are fast nearing completion.

Twenty-four Scoutorama Committee heads, representing the two Councils have met and reports made of the progress made and outlined further planning. These reports indicate that more than one hundred booths have now been entered in the show.

The parade, consisting of Boy and Girl Scout marching units, bands representing the schools of the area served by the two scout councils, floats, and specialty acts will begin at 10 a. m. on Saturday, April 30th.

Arena shows will be staged at the big Burley Mart on highway 60, scene of the Scoutorama, during Saturday afternoon and evening April 30th and May 1st in Paducah.

An interesting and enthusiastic feature for Cub Scouts will be the Pinewood Derby event, where more than two hundred Cub racing cars have been entered.

All local parents of Scouts are asked to cooperate and attend this event to promote better scouting. Fulton Scout Troops and Cub Packs will participate.

Preparation For Tiny Tot Revue Are Underway

The Fulton Jayettes are busy making preparations for the Tiny Tot Revue, which will be the first event of the Crepe Myrtle Festival. This is the first revue of this type to be presented in Fulton in several years and it will be held on the evening of June 2nd at Carr Auditorium.

A coupon is printed elsewhere in this issue for the use of the parents desiring to enter their children (2 through 8) in this contest. The Jayettes have set a goal of at least 100 participants and it is hoped the response will be even greater.

Mrs. Billy Johnson, Mrs. C. D. Jones and Mrs. Dan Taylor are in charge of the contestants. (If any parent should have further questions regarding the entry of their children, they are asked to contact the persons mentioned above or any member of the Fulton Jayettes.

No formal clothes will be necessary for the contestants, and it is suggested they be attired in street clothes.

The contestants will be judged in three divisions:

1st Division (Ages 2 through 4);
2nd Division (Ages 5 through 6);
3rd Division (Ages 7 through 8).

The judges, composed of out-of-town ministers, will select a King and Queen from each Division. They will be crowned and presented an appropriate gift. The winners will also reign supreme as Kings and Queens on the Float being prepared by the Jayettes to be entered in the parade at 10:30 on June 3rd.

There is a possibility many parents will be contacted in the next three weeks and asked to enter their children as participants. Your willingness to cooperate will greatly add to the success of the Revue as well as enliven the interest surrounding the Crepe Myrtle Festival.

Won't you please clip the coupon in this issue, fill it out, and mail it TODAY.

PIGGY-BACK

Housewives like the results

To most housewives "piggy-back" is a game father plays with the children. Few know that our kind of piggy-back—hauling truck trailers on flatcars—is helping to make more and more merchandise quickly available at reasonable prices.

This new kind of transportation—combining the best features of rail and highway hauling—is growing fast. Our volume of piggy-back business jumped 50 per cent last year, and it now extends over most of our railroad.

Piggy-back is part of our program to offer more varied and economical ways of moving the raw materials and finished products that families need. We expect these improved services will bring us more business. This, in turn, will enable us to do a better and more economical transportation job for all our friends and neighbors in Mid-America.

Countians Told Of Cyst Nematode

The soybean cyst nematode which can cause serious decline, and even total loss, has developed detectable occurrences in fields on more than a dozen farms in the area between Route 311 and Western School.

Agent John Watts said with 18,000 acres of soy beans in Fulton County, 20% of the farm economy, the disease must be stamped out immediately. The past two years the soy bean crop amounted to over $1,000,000.

Prior to the fall of 1959 the pest was known to occur only to a few farms on the mainland of Fulton County, Island Number 8 and the Kentucky Bend Area.

The office of the Kentucky State Entomologist and the Plant Pest Control Division, U. S. D. A. have tentatively extended the soybean cyst regulated area to include all of Fulton County west of the township line.

All implements used on farms west of this line will require cleaning before moving out of the area. To obtain cleaning equipment farmers should contact Robert B. Owens, Phone 2708, Hickman or call at the Soybean Cyst laboratory, Western School.

Farmers with land known to be infested with the soybean cyst are strongly urged to develop a crop rotation where beans are grown not more than one year out of three or four, Agent John Watts said.

Fire went on a rampage here last week and burned the chicken house on the tenant site of Mrs. Joe Westbrook.

Much farming has gone a long way since our last write-up. The farmers have broken many acres in preparation for corn and other crops.

Tobacco beds were well watered and then we had a nice good rain Wednesday night which relieved that situation. Doyle Fields fenced a pasture and Buton Lassiter repaired a back porch, putting in some windows. Mr. John Mitchell is really turning out work.

Fulton High School News

By Janice Davis

Elections, elections, elections. Last week the eight grades elected their freshmen class officers. This week, grades nine through eleven also chose their new officers.

Tomorrow is the big election through. We are going to have a Democratic primary convention and election.

Results of those already had are: (class distinctions are as they will be next year) Presidents —

NOTEBOOK—
plans are right now we may have to defer that trip in favor of the Scout-orama in Paducah on Saturday.

And because of other travel commitments looks like we'll have to decline the invitation of Governor and Mrs. Bert Combs to attend the Derby breakfast at the Executive Mansion on Saturday, May 7. Paul, as president of the Kentucky Press Association is due at a meeting of the National Editorial Association on that day in Atlanta, Ga. and is scheduled to make a quick trip to Kentucky Dam Village to be in attendance at a First District Press Association meeting on the Derby breakfast day. So it looks like I'll have to wait another year to enjoy all the color and gaiety of a breakfast at the Executive Mansion prior to the world's most famous horse race — the Kentucky Derby.

And if our plans materialize it looks like all four of us will be in the four corners of these here United States at almost the same time, come this summer. During July R. Paul will be in Colorado Springs for the Scout jamboree; I, too, barring any unforeseen circumstances will be headed towards Los Angeles for the Democratic National Convention; Paul will be at his usual Army Reserve summer encampment where Mary Jo will be at Girl Scouts Camp somewhere in this neck of the woods. But before July comes June of course, and we'll all be winding our way towards Cumberland Falls for the one time in our daily lives when all four of us can enjoy a vacation together. Its the summer meeting of the Kentucky Press Association.

I had always counted on going to Annapolis when Don Wright graduated from the Naval Academy. Don will be that this year in early June and shortly thereafter will middle-aisle it with lovely Ruth Caldwell on June 19. As much as I hate to think about it, looks like I'm going to have to forego the pleasure of that trip to keep the home fires burning at the station, since we won't get much out of Mary Nelle during that auspicious, but hectic period.

So, I'm home again and ready to start where I left off about 18 months ago . . . working with all of you to build a bigger and better West Kentucky. Call on me when you need me. I'm living in a house now instead of out of a suit case.

Business Managers — Mike Walker, Bill Leneave, Stanley Jeffreys, and Teddy Barclay.

Public Relations — Judy Moore and Charles Rice, Kay Morris and Jim Burton, Mary Bondurant and Lynn Williamson, and Judy Hood-enpyle and James Jones.

Tomorrow at our primary convention, there will be campaign speeches given by five students. They are: Hal Warren for Kennedy, Tommy Carney for Johnson, Susan Stokes for Humphreys, Judy Burton for Symington, and Janice Davis for Stevenson.

The Siegel Company, over a 10-year period, will repay the City. When this obligation is paid off, the company will then start paying rent on the building, as they have to the Fulton Improvement Company in the past.

The reason, according to Mayor Tripp, for Siegel Company asking the City of Fulton to take over the building and sell the bonds, was that industrial bonds sold by a city, tax free, are more easily sold, than by an individual company.

Sam Siegel, owner of the Henry I. Siegel Company, has stated that he would maintain the building in good repair over the period, pay interest, taxes and insurance and other expenses incident to the operation of the building for the 10-year period.

was moved here a year ago, Mr. Greene was working with the company in Detroit. While here Mr. Greene has been active on the City Planning and Zoning Commission, and is chairman of the City Beautiful Committee.

It was upon Mr. Greene suggestion to the Mayor's Better Fulton Committee that the Crepe Myrtle and City Beautification program was started.

Mr. Greene will be replaced here by Warren Nelson of Chicago.

While in Fulton Mr. and Mrs. Greene have had an apartment in the home of Mrs. Vodie Hardin on Third Street.

In a conversation with the News Friday, Mr. Greene said that he had enjoyed working with members of the Planning and Zoning Commission and the City Beautiful Committee and will miss all his friends here. He said that he and his wife had enjoyed living here very much.

Mr. Green has recommended to Mayor Nelson Tripp that he appoint Frank Welch, Packet Foreman of Ferry Morse, to replace himself as chairman of the City Beautification Committee.

SWIFT NEWS—

cord is something to think about. Mr. Butler has been breeding artificially for a number of years, and all of his milking stock has been artificially sired. In order to know what his cows are doing, he weighs each cow's milk, not once a month, but once a week. In that manner, he has a yearly record of each cow, and can check to see if he is improving as time goes by. Two of his five-year-old Holstein cows, fresh in mid-February, have been milking from 60 to 70 pounds daily, each. Their production held up evenly during the snowy period in March when the weather was most adverse. One of his Jerseys, fresh the first week of March, is at present milking just under 50 pounds daily.

Although Mr. Butler does not feed silage, he does feed first quality Red Clover hay as well as a balanced grain ration. All of his feed is grown on his farm, except his protein supplement.

Mr. Butler has not been running fat tests on his cows, individually, however his herd test since he has been selling milk to Swift and Co. has averaged just over 4.8%. This is very good for a herd made up of Holsteins, Jerseys, Brown Swiss and Guernseys.

Milking cows is only a part of Mr. Butler's work, for he operates a diversified farm. However, his income from milk, as he will tell you, plays an important part in paying his monthly bills. Today, the dairyman looks forward to that milk check each two weeks, like the salaried employee does each payday. It is a necessary part of living.

So, our congratulations to Mr. Butler, who through hard work and foresight, has brought his production up to this level. Naturally, he is still striving for an even better one.

SIXTY YEARS—

Casey Jones typifies the spirit of the rails—a romantic, adventurous, appealing figure, as glamorous as the mythical Paul Bunyan of the lumber camps or the fabulous Mike Fink of the flatboats. He symbolized the courage and devotion to duty of the men who work night and day, braving all the discomforts of the road to put the trains through on time, regardless of obstacles.

The legend Jones, more than any single man, became the symbol for all the diverse callings that can qualify a man for the term "a railroad man." Retired Illinois Central Magazine Editor Harry Robertson, who was a newspaperman in Brazil before coming to the railroad, during a discussion of the Casey

Jones legend, observed, "Deep in the jungles of Brazil I heard railroad workers singing Casey Jones in Portuguese."

The legend of Casey Jones lived on and grew. Many thought he was a fictional character. But down through the years, there were two persons who linked the legend with reality—his widow, the former Janie Brady, and his fireman, Sim Webb. Casey left his widow, two sons and a daughter. Janie lived quietly in Jackson, Tenn., for many years. Eventually the legend caught up with her and she became, in later years, something of a celebrity, participating in many events, as did Sim Webb. She took part in Casey Jones Day in Tennessee in 1950 when three-cent stamps honoring her famous husband went on sale. One of Mrs. Jones last public appearances was the opening of the Casey Jones Railroad Museum in Jackson, Tenn., in 1956. She died in 1959 at the age of 92. Sim Webb, Casey's Negro fireman, died in Memphis in 1957 at the age 83.

The Casey Jones family, however, continues its association with the Illinois Central. Charles B. Jones, Casey's son, is a pipefitter at Jackson, Tenn., and Charles B. Jones, Jr., Casey's grandson, is a machinist at Fulton, Ky. — I. C. Magazine.
