Lodge Homemakers Met At Roberts Home

Mrs. Herman Roberts and Mrs. T. E. Williamson entertained the Lodge Homemakers Club Thursday, December 12, in the home of Mrs. Roberts on Highway 94. The president, Mrs. T. R. Williamson presided. The meeting was opened with the song "O, Come All Ye Faithful," led by Mrs. J. R. Powell, program conductor. Ten members answered the roll call giving reasons "Why we want personal liberty and what it is."

Mrs. T. E. Williamson, vice-president, Mrs. Myatt Johnson, foods leader, Miss Jeanette Inman, clothing leader, Mrs. H. P. Roberts, home improvement and kitchen leader, Mrs. Henry Walker, landscape leader, and Mrs. Marvin Inman, leisure time leader, gave the reports respectively and made some helpful suggestions.

Fulton County has a circulating library which enables all club members to keep up with worthwhile books; and avails them of the privilege of reading them. Ten members have read "Gone With The Wind," four have read the "Citadel," six, "So Red The Rose," five "Return To Religion," three, "A Shadow On The Land," six, "Escape," and three, "State Fair." The major lesson on "Meals for special occasions" was given by Mrs. Myatt Johnson, foods leader. Mrs. T. E. Williamson gave a detailed report of the meeting of the Advisory Council. She reported that the Council had met with the APC committee and that arrangements had been made to make mattresses again in the spring, and that a family whose income does not exceed $600 may obtain two mattresses if there are as many as four in family, and that a family of six whose income does not exceed $700 will be able to secure three mattresses. The application must be accompanied with $1 for each mattress which will be the extent of expense to the individual making application. The president appointed Mrs. Henry Walker and Mrs. Myatt Johnson as a committee to receive the applications at the Lodge Homemakers building, the date to be fixed later.

Mrs. Williamson informed the club that there would be required a small fee of five cents a member for state dues this year; that Mrs. Paul Williams, Crutcheff, was elected County delegate to Farm and Home Week; the Advisory Council paid $5 on a sink to be installed in the old school building at Hickman where Mrs. Haak gives the lessons on foods.

She also told of plans for the January meeting. On the evening of January 9 beginning at seven o'clock there will be a community meeting at Lodge Homemakers building to which the public is urged to attend to hear a panel discussion by members of the Lodge Homemakers club, summarized by Mr. S. V. Foy County Agent, and Mrs. Robert Thompson, home demonstration agent, give the Farm Family Outlook for 1941.

The social hour was taken up with a story rendered by Mrs. J. R. Powell and exchanging gifts.

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Owen.

Tom Underwood, who is attending Phillips University in Enid, Okla., came home yesterday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Underwood.

Sewing Center Moved To Hickman, Ky.

A recent meeting of the Community Council Planning Committee was held in Hickman and plans were made to consolidate the Fulton and Hickman Sewing Centers on December 20, with the office located in Hickman. Since 12 centers in the district are to be closed it is probable that sewing for other counties, which will of course furnish their own material, will be done in Hickman.

It is thought that the principal reason for continuing the work in Fulton county is that the sponsors have always kept their agreements regarding the money, etc., to be furnished. The number of women engaged in this project will be held at 21.

The Young Men's Business Club has completed arrangements for their Annual "Snow Ball" Christmas-New Year Dance, which will be held on the night of December 30th starting at 10 o'clock in the new Woman's Club building.

The club is proud to present to the dancing public the music of Joe Cappel, his Accordion and Orchestra for their second Annual "Snow Ball." Cappel played thru this territory several years ago, when he was just starting on his way up the ladder of success. Since that time he has played in such spots as the Chase Hotel, Kenmore Hotel, Elites Gardens, Million Dollar Pier of Atlantic City and now is finishing an engagement at the Hotel Commonwealth of Kansas City. The night following the dance here in Fulton, Joe Cappel will open in the Hotel Peabody, Memphis, for an engagement of four weeks or longer, according to a letter received from Mr. F. R. Schutt, Vice President and General Manager of Hotel Peabody.

One of America's most versatile organizations is the Cappel unit, a pleasing personality combined with superb showmanship and a unique presentation of the Music You Like—featuring vocal trio, novelties and the Golden Voice of Bill O'Brien.

The Woman's Club is being decorated with the latest decorating material from Chicago and will be more beautiful than ever. Favors for everyone, plenty of balloons, confetti, serpentine and surprises.

In a doubleheader played in Murray last Thursday night the Fulton Bulldogs were defeated 31 to 18, while the Pups defeated the Murray second team 15 to 14. The Murray team took the lead at the beginning of the game and were never in danger. Ward scored 13 of Murray's 31 points. Spence was high scorer for Fulton with 8 points. Three Fulton players, Treas, Spence and Reed, fowled out.

The game between the second teams was the main thrill of the evening, with the lead never being more than 3 points for the Pups.

The Arlington teams came to the Science Hall Friday night and split a doubleheader, the Arlington first team winning over the Bulldogs 21 to 17, and the Pups defeating the Arlington second team 31 to 17. The score was tied 7-7 at the end of the first quarter, but early in the second quarter the Arlington team gained a margin that they held the rest of the game.

In the preliminary game the Pups found the going easy in winning over the Arlington reserves. Coach Giles used many substitutes in the final quarter.

THE "SECRET WEAPON" OF THE U. S. A.

It isn't poison gas or a new and deadlier kind of explosive. It isn't even that coveted bomb sight we hear so much about these days which is known to us alone. Nevertheless, we do have a "secret weapon" which gives us great prestige among the informed leaders of other nations and would make us a formidable enemy to any foe. And unlike the so-called "secret weapons" of which other peoples boast it is of use to us in peace time as well as in periods when we build for national defense.

What is this unseen weapon of ours, not found in arsenals or military camps, that gives us an advantage over any possible enemy? What is it that makes us certain of our ability to face any emergency, unafraid? It is our native genius for invention now put to work on problems of defense in the efficient laboratories of all our great industries.

All but a few of the great inventions used in modern warfare have come from the United States. The submarine, the airplane, the tubes that made radio possible, were developed in American laboratories. And when a national emergency arises the inventive genius of our people, as well as the productivity of our industry and the power of our Army and Navy rise to meet it. In 1919, at the close of the world war, which had caused such concentrated effort, there was an increase over 1918 of 34 per cent in the number of applications for patents and a flood of new products and techniques appeared that gave us a new standard of living.

There is every reason to believe that, as industry buckles down to work of producing defense adequate for 1940, a similar thing will happen and products and methods undreamed of now will be everyday matters in a year or two. Already since the first signs of danger appeared on our horizon, the certain rating of the gasoline of the United States has been stepped up from 80 to 100 and a still more powerful fuel is in sight. Airplanes have been made faster, surer, safer. Substitutes for rubber have been perfected so that the time is near when we shall probably be independent of the rubber plantations of foreign lands. We've found how to conserve tin by putting up various foods in transparent plastic bags and other plastics are being put to use in a variety of ways important to defense.

It is too soon to say what the greatest need of this country will be in the critical moments ahead. But no matter what it may be—whether for basic materials or for improvement in the equipment of our defense forces—we know that with our "secret weapon" we shall meet it triumphantly.

H. M. Smith of Vermillion, Kan., owns a razor hone made by his great-great-great grandfather in Heidelberg, Germany, in 1620. A city ordinance of Wharton, Tex., provides that tany chickens caught running loose must be turned over to the ministers of the town.

T. E. Hoptin of Buffalo was fined $10 for cruelty to animals when he pleaded guilty to throwing a bird cage, bird and all, at his wife.

When a naturalization officer in Lockport, N. Y., asked John Gulasey why he wanted to become a citizen, Gulasey replied: "So I can get a fishing license."

Christmas Decorations Have Deep Meaning

Not many, probably, know of the deeper meaning associated with the three plants we ordinarily use for Christmas decorations, an authority writes. The holly has prickles and red berries. By the prickles we confess the bitter life of Jesus on earth. His watchings, His fastings, His weariness, His crown of thorns. By the berries we confess that He shed His blood for sinners.

The yew has little outside bark, but only a small rind, to teach us not to make a great outside show of religion; it is a lasting timber, suggesting the soundness of a Christian; it has many branches, meaning plentifulness in good works; and it is always green and prospering, even as the Christian should always grow and thrive in grace.

The laurel has the significance of victory. Jesus came into the world to loose the bands of sin and to ascend up into Heaven, leading captivity captive.

When Pere Noel Comes to France A French Christmas is a children's Christmas. The French Santa, "Pere Noel," comes on Christmas eve with gifts to pack into empty shoes. In southern France the burning of the Yule log is a ceremony when wine is poured over it as it blazes in the hearth.

Many Christmases Christmas is located in Florida, Kentucky, Maine and Arizona. All are small towns. But on December 25 it is Christmas everywhere.

The boss had advertised for a stenographer, and among the applicants was a young lady of undeniable beauty and graceful figure.

"And where were you employed previously?" asked the employer.

"In a doll factory," was the reply.

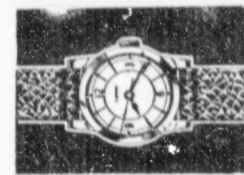

"And what were your duties?"

"Making eyes."

"Well," said the boss, "you're engaged, but forget your old job when my wife is around."

FULTON COUNTY CORN GROWERS OFFERED LOANS AT 61 CENTS A BUSHEL

Loans on the 1940 corn crop will be offered to Kentucky farmers in 12 commercial corn counties at the rate of 61 cents a bushel, beginning Dec. 1, the State AAA Office at Lexington announces.

The loans will be made by Commodity Credit Corporation and will be available on the 1940 crop until September 30, 1941. The rate at which the loans are offered this year is 4 cents a bushel higher than the top rate of 57 cents a bushel in 1939.

The 12 commercial corn counties of the State in which the top rates of 61 cents a bushel applies are Ballard, Carlisle, Crittenden, Daviess, Fulton, Hancock, Henderson, Hickman, Livingston, McLean, Union and Webster.

In this commercial area of Kentucky, and in 12 other commercial corn States, loans will be made on white and yellow corn at the rate of 61 cents a bushel to farmers who did not exceed their 1940 corn acreage allotments. The rate in the commercial area for corn grading as "mixed" will be 59 cents a bushel.

As provided in the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, which makes the loan rate mandatory for the commercial area, loans will be available to farmers outside the area at 75 percent of the commercial area rate. This rate will be 46 cents a bushel for white or yellow corn and 44 cents a bushel for "mixed" corn. Any producer outside the area who planted with in his 1940 total soil-depleting crop allotment will be eligible for a loan.

The loan rate was increased this year because the crop is below normal consumption and exports and the price since November 15 has been below 75 percent of parity. The Agricultural Adjustment Act provides that loans shall be made at 75 percent of parity in any year when the corn crop is less than a normal year's domestic consumption and exports and the price on November 15 or at any time thereafter during the marketing year is less than 75 percent of parity.

The 1939 corn rate was established at 70 percent of parity, or 57 cents a bushel, on the basis of the 1939 corn crop, which was slightly above normal consumption and exports.

Other principal changes in the 1940 loan program are extension of the period during which loans are available from four to ten months and extension of the term of the loans from one year to three years.

Loans on 1940 will not only be available from December 1, 1940, to September 30, 1941, but they will not mature until October 15, 1943. Like all other commodity loans, however, they will be callable on demand.

Every borrower under the program will be asked to give assurance of storage of the corn until maturity of the loan on October 15, 1943, and for tenants this assurance will involve the landowner's consent. However, any farmer may deliver his corn in full settlement of this loan at the end of the second year—during August, September and October, 1942—upon 20 days' written notice to his county committee.

A farmer may redeem his corn at any time during the loan period upon payment of the loan plus 3 percent interest.

Loans may be made by approved local lending agencies which may hold corn loan notes until the corn is redeemed by the borrower or until the loan matures. The interest rate on loans will remain at 3 percent, with half of this amount being paid to the local lending agency.

The procedure under which county committees will handle loan details has been further simplified. As in 1939, a farmer will usually be able to complete arrangements for a loan in one visit to the county office.

The corn loans are made to stabilize prices by enabling farmers who cooperate in the AAA farm programs to market their corn in an orderly manner, rather than releasing the corn on an over-supplied market at harvest time. They also make possible the establishment of an Ever-Normal Granary supply of corn that protects both farmers and consumers against shortages.

The causes of traffic accidents often reveal faulty driving methods and show conclusively that inexperienced or inexperienced motorists who have not been properly trained are responsible for many accidents. From the information secured through a proper system of accidents recording, it is possible to learn the shortcomings of drivers, to improve the testing and training of drivers, and to enforce traffic regulations more strictly.

By a proper study of the records developed from accident investigations, the police department can develop a more selective enforcement program. If accident investigations disclose that speeding and reckless driving are prevalent in certain areas, these areas can be patrolled and the unsafe practices checked.

If the accidents are being caused by a condition of the road, then the road commissioners or others in authority should be consulted so that the physical defects can be eliminated.

Good accident records are essential for practical and sensible accident prevention work in any community.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

our community or county on an observation tour before the poem took form. I certainly know of enough things that he could have seen to justify his well-known poem and its philosophy.

Across the creek on one of the highest and poorest hills lived old Uncle Bill Cabell, in a little unpainted shack that looked strangely like several dozen others of our neighborhood. There was nothing very distinctive about Uncle Bill except his habit of keeping the coffee pot on some coals all through the winter and inviting everybody who passed by on the little country road to come in and have a cup. Now, isn't that a fine thing for anybody to do, especially one so poor as Uncle Bill and so far away from the center of life?

Some twelve miles west of Fidelity lived my great-grandfather, who belonged, wittingly or unwittingly, in Foss's poem. When he built his house, he dug a well right by the side of the road. This well was a typical old-fashioned one, with a well-house, an old oaken bucket, and all. By the very side of the road he had a long horse-trough dug out of a log with an adze. Here the wayfarers stopped to refresh themselves and their horses, sure of a welcome, for the well never ran dry and was free to everybody. When I used to visit at this old place, long after my great-grandfather had passed away, there was a constant stream of people coming by and stopping at the well by the side of the road.

Fidelity had and has another institution that is as remarkable as the union church, now long gone but its bell preserved and mounted on the new high school building. This other institution was a public cistern. The water from a large stone building was collected in it. I grew up to think the cistern a large one, and it must have been, for I never knew it to run dry, though many families used from it, and we usually had to depend on it to water the thirsty children in the schoolhouse, some half mile away. It was to this cistern that we went when Miss Eunice let us go for a bucket of water. The cistern is now gone, but a public well has taken its place, right out in the rockiest part of the village. And that reminds me that only this year I drove through a small county-seat town where the old town pump is still running at the same old stand. There used to be many of these, picturesque things that have had to go in the limestone regions because of the danger of pollution.

More and more I hate to see passing community enterprises that held people together long before we even knew the word "civic." It is a pity that we could not fence in some typical community and keep it untouched as an object lesson in some of the virtues that standardization may cripple or kill. If I were asked to plan a museum of this sort, I would fence in old Fidelity, except I fear I have waited too long, for modernization long ago reached out and puts its stamp upon even my real-dream village.

Roy Broiles of Corning, Ark., is said to have stolen a sawmill from the property of Mrs. Reba Haughman and moved it into the next county.

Although twice wounded, Dewey, a 6-year-old dog, routed two gunmen who tried to rob his master, Martin L. Endward of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Two New York youths stole two coffins from an undertaking establishment, but were caught when they tried to pawn them.

Charged with attempted robbery, a Newark, N. J., man told the judge he had felt an uncontrollable desire to steal ever since a horse kicked him in the head 38 years ago.

All who have reached extreme old age, it seems, have either used lots of tobacco and whisky, or none.

Frank Berman of New York City has been in the hardware business over 23 years and has been robbed once each year, he testified recently.

If your boy appears to be unusually dumb, don't despair. He may become a great economist some day.

Georgia Tillinghast of Burlington, N. J., has invented a tubular device with a flared end like a trombone, to slip over eels so that they can be handled easily.

Christmas Season Celebrated Before Christ Was Born

Strange as it seems, the Christmas season was celebrated long before Christ was born. Of course, it wasn't called Christmas then, but many religious and pagan ceremonies were held during the Christmas period.

This period is celebrated by the Jews as the Festival of Lights or Dedication. According to Jewish history, a large force of Maccabees defeated an army of Syrians in 165 B. C. The victors began the work of purifying the desolate Jerusalem, completing their task on December 25. The Jews have celebrated the eight days previous to December 25 ever since that time.

The proximity of Christmas to the winter solstice caused many pagan ceremonies to be held during that period. In Scandinavian countries, great fires were kindled in the middle of December to defy the Frost King.

Centuries before this, the ancient Druids of England observed this season in their roofless temples. Torches blazed as strange ceremonies were performed, dealing with the cutting of the mistletoe.

Several accepted Christmas customs of today originated with the old Roman celebration of Saturnalia. The higher class of free Romans exchanged presents with their friends. Inside houses, candles were lit and the rooms and hall adorned with laurel and green trees.

These festivals in honor of the god Saturnus were started before the earliest recorded history of that great empire. The pagans celebrated from December 17 to 24 in honor of their sun god. Among the slaves and lower classes, the celebration was transformed into unrestrained orgies.

Even the ancient Egyptians celebrated the Midwinter festival. Near the end of December they rejoiced over the birth of Horus, son of the god Isis.

The last religious celebration to be held on Christmas day appeared in the middle of the Fourth century, A. D. At this time various dates assigned to the birth of Christ were examined; and the Catholic church in Rome proclaimed December 25 to be Christmas.

Rev. J. E. Hopper filled his regular appointment at Rush Creek Church Sunday morning. He and Mrs. Hopper and son were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Murchinson of Hickman visited his mother, Mrs. John Culbertson and Mr. Culbertson Sunday afternoon.

The First Quarterly Conference for Cayce Circuit will be held Friday, Dec. 20, at Ebenezer Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Murrell Williams and baby, Jimmie, of Fulton spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henry.

Mrs. D. D. Davis and daughters, Mrs. Clint Workman and Mrs. Rob Adams, were in Mayfield Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Moseley and children, Dorothy Sue and Edwin Powell, of Union City spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Moseley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Link of Fulton visited his mother, Mrs. Birdie Moore Sunday.

H. H. Wallis and W. H. Harrison and sons attended a ball game at Hickman Friday night.

There are quite a few persons in this community ill with severe colds at this writing.

In 1938, the United States Bureau of Public Roads included in its comprehensive report to Congress a detailed study of 892 accidents and assigned 2524 causes.

The investigation of that bureau disclosed the following as the four major causes of accidents: (Note that in none of them was the automobile to blame.)

1. Speed excessive for conditions—636.
2. Pedestrian condition—417.
3. Driver's negligence—361.
4. Poor visibility—302.

People frequently ask, when coming upon an automobile accident, "How did this happen?" It did not happen. It was caused by one or two drivers who did not consider all the conditions necessary for safe driving.

It is the human equation that is responsible for all the grief on our highways, and it is therefore our individual responsibility to drive safely and sanely at all times. It's Smart to Drive Carefully!

Money Talks

By
Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Higher prices are a reality; inflation (or more money buying less goods) is a possibility. Practically every business man and economist sees in the vast armament program and the rapidly mounting national debt the germ of inflation. I am particularly interested in how the farmers will fare if inflation or vastly higher prices become a reality.

Up to the present time the price of farm products has not increased to speak of. The reason lies in the fact we have a surplus of most of our important farm commodities. We have a surplus of wheat, corn, cotton, and tobacco. There is a scarcity of no important agricultural crop in the U. S., and we cannot expect higher farm prices with huge surpluses hanging over our heads.

There are also surpluses of wheat, corn, and meat products in Canada, Argentina, and Australia. All of these countries are anxious to sell more of their crops throughout the world. And they will compete with U. S. farm products when the world market is again opened up.

But what has happened to the prices of goods the farmer buys? They have gone up and likely will continue to increase. Why? The government is asking farm implement and automobile manufacturers to produce tanks, shells, and war materials, woolen and clothing manufacturers to produce uniforms and so on. The government is competing with you and me for the products of industry, and this always increases prices.

Also wages are up. In Charlestown, Indiana, carpenters working on a government munition plant receive a base pay of $1.31 per hour. Other workers are paid accordingly. This forces all manufacturers to pay high wages and increase their cost and their prices.

How many farmers make $1.31 per hour. There is a scarcity of skilled workers and manufactured products. This is the reason prices of manufactured goods are going up.

But there is no scarcity of farm products. In the light of this condition, I predict farmers will be compelled to pay much more for their purchases while they will get little more for the products they have to sell.

Next week, I shall write about what farmers can do about this situation.

WILLIE HOMRA

HOMESICKNESS, perhaps, had brought him back. Old Peter Johansen buttoned his threadbare overcoat, blew warm breath on his rough hands and jumped to the ground. There was no railroad detective to grab him for riding that freight train, because this was the day before Christmas. All but the homeless, like himself, seemed busy preparing for the Day of Days.

Forty years, Peter reflected, since he last set foot in Clark City. It had been a year after the big earthquake; a year after all hell broke loose, killing his parents and sister as they sat at dinner in the little house on Vine street.

Peter remembered: How he had come home late that evening; how the earth began quivering like a beast possessed; how he had searched like a madman through the ruins of that shock-racked, fire-swept bungalow. Then, as Clark City began rebuilding, he had drifted off in a daze to roam up and down the earth—a ne'er-do-well, a hobo!

But always he remembered Linda, dear little sister Linda. In 40 years her memory always came back stronger than ever on Christmas Eve, for it was then that they used to climb Lookout Hill hand-in-hand at dusk, watching the evening star rise in the heavens.

That, perhaps, was why he was back this Christmas Eve. "Almost dusk now," he reflected, trudging along Clark City's busy thoroughfare. Christmas crowds jostled him, for he was a hapless wanderer with no place to go.

No place to go? Not Peter! Soon he found his way to the old residential district where Lookout Hill rose like a sentinel.

"The same old hill," he told himself. "Little Linda! If you were only here now to see your big brother! No—thank God you're not here, for your big brother is ashamed of himself!"

At the crest Peter stood alone for a long time, watching the star appear as it had since that first night over Bethlehem. He didn't notice the old lady until she spoke.

"Beautiful, that star, isn't it?" Peter fumbled with his greasy-stained cap.

"Yes'm, it is. Especially from Lookout Hill."

"Many years ago," she continued, almost in a trance, "my little brother and I used to watch that star rise in the heavens each Christmas Eve, until—" (she wiped a tear away)—"we were separated somehow during the big earthquake. He was killed; they found out later."

"Each Christmas Eve ever since I've come back here, just to remember him. I hope he's happy up there in Heaven."

Peter was staring at her, fairly ready to shriek, for it was Linda! No doubt about it, now!

He recognized the tilt of her nose, unchanged by the years; the familiar ring of a voice that somehow had failed to grow old. But he held himself back, for Peter was ashamed of himself.

She didn't notice him shuffle off after awhile, for Linda was still watching the star.

In the freight yards he found an empty boxcar and bedded down under some straw in a corner. After a while he felt the car move, and somehow he was glad.

"Yes, it was Linda," he sobbed to himself, "but I just couldn't tell her. Thank God she's alive and happy. And Thank God she remembers me on Christmas eve as I was, not as I am."

After awhile he fell asleep.

Cakes Printed in Germany
A famous Christmas cake in Germany is Aachen Printen, from which the English word "print" is derived. In the days before book-printing the idea of imprint belonged to the baking business to express the making of patterns in cakes. Many of these cakes have figures representing the old gods Wotan and Thor.

Santa May Not Smoke Cigars
Santa Claus, perhaps, doesn't smoke—or he would be better informed on the quality of cigars.

HERE'S THE FOOD NEEDED EVERY DAY

Appetite cannot always be followed as a guide in selecting food, and one may eat enough to satisfy hunger and still have a deficient diet, it is pointed out in the Kentucky College of Agriculture publication, "Make the Farm Feed the Family."

In order that housewives may feel assured that members of their families are well fed, it is suggested that the following foods be served daily:

A quart of milk for each child and a pint for each adult. Liberal servings of butter at each meal.

Two or more generous servings of vegetables other than potatoes. Two or more generous servings of fruit.

At least one egg per person, including those used in cooking.

One liberal serving per person of lean meat. Do not count bacon, which is mostly fat.
