THE LISTENING POST

I believe that Youth Week or Boy's Week is celebrated at some time during the year. Of this I am not certain, for there are so many weeks that I cannot keep up with all of them.

This is the week when the scores of basketball teams all over the Commonwealth start their district matches to pick the district champions. Later regional matches will be held, and after that the state matches, but during this first week every basketball team and every player on those teams face the opportunity of winning glory on the floors of many gymnasiums.

I have watched these matches for a long time, and there is nothing which gives me quite the thrill I get from some of the matches I see. At tournament time a coach is presumed to have his boys at the peak, and many times really reach their peak and play far better than they have ever played before.

Don't think the boys who take part in these matches fail to feel the drama of the occasion. Naturally they do not call it that. Drama is a word which boys seldom think of. They call it being "on" or "up," or "hot," or "cold" or "down."

Not many boys make any great claims to chivalry, but just the same a close observer can see many golden acts of chivalry on the basketball floor.

British Food Stocks Are Higher By Quarter Than One Year Ago

London --Maj. Givilym Lloyd George, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry of Food, speaking in the House of Commons, reported today that Britain's loss of food through ship sinkings had not been "really substantial."

Food imports will be reduced, he said, but thanks to the policy of building reserves the nation will be adequately fed.

He indicated, however, that rationing would be extended to

The Japanese have thrown back the Allied line in some sectors in their first advances of consequence since the beginning of the invasion of Java, the Dutch command acknowledged yesterday.

So imminent was the island's peril that the defenders already had completed most of the job of demolishing all upon it that would be of value to the enemy.

But, stripped though they were of much of the Dutch fleet strength and outnumbered aloft and aground, the Allied forces yet fought savagely on.

'Crippling Blow' Authoritative Dutch quarters said that the Allied powers had taken "a crippling blow" with the loss of two Dutch cruisers in the Java Sea naval battle last weekend, that a counteroffensive at present was out of the question and that "it is therefore a bitter struggle, but the Netherlands army will fight to the bitter end."

An authorized Netherlands statement issued in London said the Japanese had sent an immense number of cruisers, destroyers and submarines to Java; that the two Dutch cruisers lost ran across a submarine line after carrying out a successful attack and that the Japanese fleet had successfully "leaving Japan itself uncovered."

Admit Crisis

The Wednesday afternoon communique from Dutch military headquarters at Bandoeng, Java, made no effort to conceal the rising nature of the crisis.

JANE DALLAS SINGS WITH "MET" STARS IN "FAUST"

Columbia, Mo. --Lucy Jane Dallas may not have sung opposite Douglas Beattie, star of the Metropolitan Opera, but as a member of the chorus for the production of "Faust" given this week on the Stephens College campus, she certainly did sing with him.

Miss Dallas, a junior student at Stephens, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Dallas of Fulton.

U. S. Imports Cited

The improved food condition, he said, is due to "very substantial" United States aid and increased home production.

Between May 1, 1941, and January 1, 1942, Britain received lease-lend food, approximately equal to one month's imports from all sources. American canned meat comprised one-fifth of the nation's meat ration.

"We extend our sincere thanks and admiration for the way in which the Government and people of the United States have helped us with food," he said.

Lucky Rehearsal Of Great Aid After Raid On Pearl Harbor

New York. --A lucky break for Pearl Harbor's wounded, a dress rehearsal of the medical forces only thirty-six hours before the Japanese attack, is reported in the current journal of the American Medical Association.

The death rate of the wounded was only 3.8 per cent. The reasons and new treatments are described by Dr. John J. Moorhead, New York City, a World War I colonel, who was in Honolulu delivering a course of lectures on wounds, civil and military. A large part of the Army and Navy medical personnel attended and in discussion brought themselves up to the minute. They could not have done better if they had picked the hour for the Jap attack.

When the assault came Dr. Moorhead was made a temporary colonel again and directed some of the surgical teams. One new instrument, an electro-magnetic detector developed by a New York City trans-

Metals Located

It locates, without X-rays, imbedded metal, revealing iron, steel, brass, copper and to a lesser extent lead. It enabled the doctors to save two lives by picking machine gun bullets out of spinal cords. It proved helpful in twenty-two other operations.

Dr. Moorhead on returning to the United States was able to check on the final outcome of the wounded. He attributes the low loss of life to nine causes. These are, early receipt of the wounded, preliminary shock treatment (plasma and blood transfusions), adequate wound cleaning without closing the wound (leaving the wound open is one of the new developments), use of sulfonamids in wounds and by mouth, adequate after-care, absence of putrefaction which reduced driven-in dirty apparel, climatic conditions, early hour of attack, when the men were clean and not war-worn and few flies.

J. T. TRAVIS DIES AT HAWS CLINIC YESTERDAY

Retired Railroad Man Dies Following Stroke Two Weeks Ago

J. T. Travis, 74, retired railroad man, and well known Fultonian, passed away about 6 o'clock yesterday at the Haws clinic. Mr. Travis suffered a stroke of paralysis two weeks ago and his condition has been serious since that time. Little hope has been held for his recovery. Although not unexpected, his death comes as a shock to his family and many friends.

Mr. Travis, who was born July 10, 1867 in Weakley County, Tenn., had lived in Fulton for a number of years and was well liked by hundreds of friends. He worked for the Illinois Central Railroad up until his retirement several years ago and is a former General Yard Master for the I. C.

Besides his widow, Ella Travis, he leaves one son, Russell Travis of Washington, D. C., and two grandsons, Russell, Jr. of Washington and John Mac of Fulton. Two sisters, Mrs. A. W. Davis of Baxter and Mrs. W. M. Anderson of St. Louis.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at 10:30 at the family residence, 417 Eddings street, with the Rev. L. O. Hartman in charge. He will be assisted by the Rev. William Woodburn. Burial will be at Fairview cemetery in charge of the Hornbeak Funeral Home.

BULLDOGS FACE SECOND HURDLE IN DISTRICT MEET

Meet Powerful Clinton Reds Tonight At 8:30

Fulton Bulldogs face their major test tonight at 8:30 in the First District tournament now in progress at Science Hall, when they meet the powerful Clinton Reds in the second round. The Bulldogs have dropped two games to Clinton in regular season play and have hopes of breaking the "jinx" tonight. Both teams are in fine shape for the game and it should be one of the best games of the entire season. Fulton and Clinton, always keen rivals, have each enjoyed a successful season and both teams would like to add the district championship to their records. Clinton has been awarded the Purchase trophy, and Fulton won the Fulton County Championship. In the opening game of tonight's play, Western will play Cunningham at 7:30. This, too, should be a close game, with Western holding a slight edge due to their season's record. However, Cunningham will be no breather for Western, for the Cunningham side seem to be on a hot streak, having defeated Fulham Tuesday night in the opening game of the tournament, after losing two games to them in regular season play.

Young Men's Business Club Is Planning To Increase Bond Sales

Since that fateful morning of December 7th every true loving American has wanted to do something to help our War Program. Some, by necessity, have done a lot of wishful thinking but little in the way of actual constructive work.

The Y. M. C. of Fulton made an actual contribution by buying a $1000.00 Victory Bond in the name of the club. And to further the sale of Stamps and Victory Bonds the club is sponsoring an entertaining program each Thursday night at the H. S. O. This program will be highly entertaining and of interest to young and old alike.

Washington. --Sweeping over the mountains of Bataan in a sudden attack that caught the Japanese completely off guard, the small air force of General Douglas MacArthur destroyed over 30,000 tons of enemy shipping and set supply concentrations afire at Subic Bay, the War Department announced today.

A morning communique declared that one ship of 10,000 tons, another of 8,000 tons and two motor launches of 100 tons each were destroyed, and many small vessels damaged.

Later in the day among communique, based on further information, added a 12,000-ton vessel to the toll, thus emphasizing the smashing nature of the raid.

15 Miles Away

Subic Bay lies just north of Bataan peninsula not more than 15 miles from the front line of MacArthur's ground forces. Grande Island is at the entrance of the bay and Olongapo, formerly a United States naval station, on the southern shore.

Since MacArthur completed the withdrawal of his forces into the natural fortress of Bataan, where for more than a month he has stopped all efforts of the Japanese to advance, the enemy has used Subic Bay as a terminal for landing troops and supplies.

On February 18 the Army reported the arrival of a fairly large convoy of transports at Olongapo, bringing reinforcements to the already huge Japanese forces on the island of Luzon. Subic Bay was also the scene of two daring raids against Japanese shipping by motor torpedo boats.

The exact size and composition of the remnants of an air force still operating with MacArthur has never been disclosed. It was believed, however, to consist largely of pursuit planes of the Curtiss P-40 type, known to the British as Tomahawks, MacArthur has used them largely for observation purposes, avoiding combat with the overwhelming superiority of the Japanese.

ed hundreds of boys at this sport during past years and I have seen mighty few I would class as being deliberately unfair to opponents. The boys make it a rough and tumble game many times, but they take as much as they hand out and few quarrels break out during a game.

• The week in which all these boys play is the week in which a coach begins to wonder what makes boys as they are. He sees a boy who has been a dazzling star in other games become a bust in the important games, and he sees boys who never seemed to know what it was all about play like seven hundred dollars. That's what tournaments does to a boy, and no one can solve the mystery of why some boys rise to the test and other boys do not.

NATIONAL RATIONING OF GASOLINE HELD POSSIBLE

New York. —Fuel oil supplies on the eastern seaboard have been reduced so sharply by tanker shortages and torpedoings, oil men said today, that gasoline rationing even on a national scale may be necessary within a few days.

Members of the industry said gasoline rationing might be needed to allow tankers and tank cars to concentrate on building up supplies of fuel oil in the east coast area from Georgia to Maine.

While gasoline stocks on the eastern seaboard were below those of this period last year their decrease was far less than that in stocks of fuel oil.

Eastern home owners already have been rationed by companies supplying them with fuel oil.

These Things, Dear God...

I am an American citizen. The United States of America is my country.

I came here before Washington was elected president; while Lincoln was practicing law in Illinois; after Woodrow Wilson died.

I came from Ireland and China, Germany and Scotland, Greece and Italy, Sweden and Palestine. I came from every country in the world.

Here I found liberty, and the will to do. I found happiness, and the right to love. I found courage, and the strength to die.

I worshiped in Your Holy Temples, Dear God. Worshiped as my father before me had worshiped—and my father's father. Worshiped as they had worshiped in London and in Jerusalem and in Rome. . . . I was not molested.

Today my country, this United States of America, is beset by those who would destroy her soul.

I lost a foot from freezing in the snow at Valley Forge. I was with Jackson at New Orleans, and the cotton bales afforded good protection. I died in the Argonne from German shells shortly before the First World War ended. I have registered twice for the draft—once in 1940 and once in 1942.

I am an American citizen. In these troubled times I shall not repeat idle rumors. I shall say nothing, do nothing, that might aid or comfort the enemy.

The United States of America is my country. So long as there is one hand raised against her—outside her borders or within—I shall not rest.

These things, Dear God, I pledge with all my heart.

Arlington And Bardwell Roll Over Columbus And Cayce Here

Two Favorites, Clinton And Fulton, Clash Tonight

Region One Results

Arlington 38, Columbus 14.
Bardwell 31, Cayce 18.

Tonight's Games
7:30—Western vs. Cunningham.
8:30—Clinton vs. Fulton.

Arlington, regarded as the most likely winner of the First District crown, rolled over helpless Columbus, and Bardwell, flashing a fast and driving attack in the last half, eliminated Cayce in the second night's play here last night. All teams have now played except Western and this team takes on Cunningham in the first game tonight. Arlington swamped Columbus, after being held to an 8 to 4 lead in the first quarter, 38 to 14, and Bardwell won 31 to 18 after being held to a close score in the first half.

The Cayce-Bardwell game started fast and the two teams traded baskets at will for the first half. Cayce held a lead at the quarter, but as the half neared the Indians began to find the range and opened up a small lead. Cayce appeared to tire in the final half and Bardwell continued to go at top speed. Harrison, smallest lad on the Cayce team, was the shining floor man for the Tigers, and also tossed in four points. Lowe was high for the losers with seven points, and went out on fouls in the final quarter. Ford was high for the Indians, with a dozen points, and Caldwell played a magnificent floor game. The entire Bardwell team played well and showed the Payne system pretty well. The boys started fast and never slowed up, and their passing was intricate and puzzling. The Cayce boys, after keeping up with this attack in the first half faded quite a bit in the last half and the Indians pulled away. While not a team of stars the Indians may be heard from tomorrow night when they tangle with either Clinton or Fulton. They appear to be "up" for this tournament.

Arlington Wins Easily
There was never any doubt in the Arlington fracas with Columbus. The Pilots were outgunned all the way through, although in the opening quarter they more or less held their own. The Gaddies Twins for Arlington were missing their shots in the beginning, but the moment they started hitting the margin began to widen. Roy Gaddie had 16 points, while Ray had only six, but both were out of the game quite a bit. Arlington led at the quarter 8 to 4 at the half 15 to 6, at the third quarter 33 to 11 and 38 to 14 at the close. Arlington used practically all the squad in the final moments of the game.
