A Wonderful Apple Crop

Sunday was a beautiful fall day and the colored tidal Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore, of Clinton. They have been raising apples for several years and the crop this season is exceptionally good.

How Soon We Forget

“The FULTON Illian doesn’t include cigars among his political fence has made it much harder for politicians to win. In the past old days a Fulton girl never had the idea of electing a man who was in the black market and never smoked.

Another good thing for politician is that the boy in Clinton knows more than any other educated person in the world. The boy in Clinton knows how to run his business. He wants it much harder for politicians to win. The boy in Clinton knows how to run his business. He wants it much harder for politicians to win.

ELDERLY HOLSTEIN POULTRY PRODUCER

Beauty Sge De Kol is Winning Renown.

Although just an "ordinary" purebred Holstein, Beauty Sge De Kol is expected to go far. Both her mother and father were purebred Holsteins, and she has won a place in the record books for the most milk, for the most butterfat, and for her production. Beauty dropped a total of 1,000 pounds of butterfat in her first year, and the Michigan Dairymen's Association in its annual dairy show in Detroit awarded her the top prize for the highest milk production. She was also given the top prize for the highest butterfat production by the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station. The station herd has some 30 head of Holstein cows, and the milk and butterfat production of the herd has been well above the average for the state.

BELOVED WOMAN IS CALLED HOME

Mrs. Laura Tompkins, whose death occurred suddenly on Friday afternoon, is leaving a daughter, Mrs. Clara Long, and a son, Mr. B. L. Thompson, both of this city, and a host of other friends and relatives, besides a host of gory friends and strangers who paid court to her and loved her well.

Paul in Jerusalem

1. Paul's Visit (21:13-17). Upon Paul's arrival at Jerusalem, the chief priests seized him and gave him a sad reception. In no kindly fashion did they receive him. InJerusalem alone previously received him. It was a new experience for him. He saw no way to escape the frown of the religious leaders in Jerusalem. He was a Jew and not a Christian. He tried to enter the Temple building, but the Pharisees, fearing the Roman authorities, did not allow him to enter. They recognized that such an act might start a riot. Paul kept himself with the Roman soldiers and received a fair hearing. When the Pharisees tried to question the authority of the priests, he defended the high priest. The multitude feared the authority of the Roman authorities and turned to Paul to protect them.

2. Paul Before the Sanhedrin (21:18-26). Paul, in his own defense, explained his preaching to the Gentiles and said that the high priest had given him letters of introduction to the members of the Sanhedrin. The Sanhedrin conducted the law of the Jews and was the highest civil and religious power of the country.

3. Paul Before the High Priest (21:27-36). The high priest asked Paul to confirm his Jewish faith. Paul replied in Greek, which was not understood by the high priest. Paul said that he was a Pharisee and was circumcised.

4. Paul Before the Gentiles (21:37-40). The high priest asked Paul to explain his preaching to the Gentiles. Paul explained that his preaching had been accepted by the Gentiles and had spread throughout Rome.

Don't waste!

But use what you need

Theft is a great virtue. The vast and solid wealth of this country is a monument to the theft of our people.

Theft does not mean stinginess. It does not mean miserly hoarding. It does not mean self-scrutiny of the point of injury.

Theft means to use what you need.

It means the practice of common sense in avoiding wastefulness.

By shirk in the use of electricity. See that lights are not left carelessly and needlessly burning hour after hour in your basement, or attic, or garage, or closets, or unoccupied rooms. Also, watch your electrical appliances.

But don't be too sparing of electric light where needed lest you strain and injure your eyes and those of your family. That indeed would be "slyly wise and sound foolish."
