Ketcham Kills Wife and Self

Fulton was given another unexpected shock Tuesday evening when the news was flashed around that Jeff Ketcham, foreman clerk at the Illinois Central roundhouse, had killed wife and self.

Evidently victims of a suicide pact, the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Ketcham, each about 40 years of age, were found Tuesday night in a wooded tract known as Squirrel Woods, a mile north of the city. Mrs. Ketcham had seemingly been dead for several hours, while the husband's body still retained some warmth. Position of the bodies indicated that the wife had knelt before her husband to receive a charge from a shotgun, and had fallen over backward. The husband, presumably after some time, fired a load into his own chest by placing the butt of the gun against a tree stump and pulling the trigger with a forked stick. This was the story as reconstructed by officers and helpers who began a search at 5:30 after being told of a note left in the little home where the Ketchams lived. The bodies were about one half mile from the Middle Road in a section which is thickly wooded, and had to be carried to the road where an ambulance from the Winstead and Jones Company awaited them to bring them back to the city.

Funeral services for the couple were held Thursday morning at the First Baptist Church conducted by the Rev. C. H. Warren, pastor. Burial followed in Fairview cemetery.

The Ketchams, who lived in Highlands, possibly a mile from where they met their deaths, left the home at about 12:30, according to neighbors who witnessed their departure. It was presumed that Mr. Ketcham was going squirrel hunting, and nothing was thought of it. About three o'clock in the afternoon one shot was heard, but no attention was paid to it as shots are frequently heard from those woods. Later the two daughters, Maurine and Elaine, aged nine and eleven respectively, came home from school, and found their parents gone. They went to a neighbor's home. Mrs. Buckingham's and reported that their parents were not at home. Little was thought of it at the time, but when they did not return the neighbors went back to the Ketcham home and after entering found a note which had been left for the children. It was evidently written by the mother, as it was said to have been in a woman's handwriting. It read:

"CHILDREN: We are going to the woods where papa does his squirrel hunting. You will find us there. We want you to be good children. Do not take up bad habits. Keep yourselves under control at all times, and you will have a much happier life than your mother and father. Be good and forgive us for leaving you. MAMA AND PAPA."

After the discovery of the note, and learning that the couple had started toward the woods, the neighbors called Mrs. Geo. Hansell who is a niece of Mr. Ketcham. She at once called Chief of Police Bailey Huddleston, and he started a search at 5:30. Going to the scene he called Jack and "Spud" Edwards and Claud Shelby, who live in that section, to aid him, and they started toward the woods. After a search that lasted until 7:30 the bodies were discovered lying close together. Mrs. Ketcham's body was drenched from the heavy downpour of rain that had fallen during the afternoon, but Ketcham who wore a heavy hunting coat, was dry underneath this outer coat. His back was still warm, and it is believed by investigators that he first killed his wife and waited for some time before killing himself.

Mr. Ketcham was foreman's clerk at the Illinois Central roundhouse here, but had been laid off a day or two ago. Mrs. Ketcham had recently been released from the state sanitarium at Hopkinsville after treatment for several months. She was said to have been in a very nervous condition for the past few days.

Two other notes were found in the Ketcham home. One was addressed to Ketcham's aunt and the other to Mrs. Ketcham's mother in Lebanon, Tenn. The contents of these notes were not made public.

BENEFIT SHOW FRIDAY NIGHT

Proceeds To Go To Needy Cases In City

Mr. Burgess Waltmon, manager of the Grand Theatre, has been made chairman of the city committee in charge of arrangements for the unemployed benefit show to be presented at Warner's Grand Theatre on Friday night, November 20, beginning at 8 p. m. The picture to be presented will be Richard Barthelmess in "The Lash," one of the strongest and most gripping pictures Barthelmess has ever appeared in. The price of admission will be 50c and tickets are now on sale. Others on the committee for the show are Mrs. Hilary Alexander, Gus Bard, Joe D. Davis and Mayor Paul DeMyer.

This local show is one of a nation-wide series, and it is expected that 20,000 theatres over the country will join in the movement. A total attendance of 15,000,000 persons is expected. The entire motion picture industry is taking part in the movement, which is part of the President's plan for the relief of suffering in the entire nation. The full amount of money collected from each theatre will be turned over intact to the city committee and by them to the proper agencies for distribution among the unemployed of this city.

There will be no collection taken at the various theatres over the nation. All money will be derived from the sale of tickets, and there will be little or no speaking from the stages of the theatres.

In a nutshell, you are offered the chance of seeing a first-rate show for 50 cents, and will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are helping deserving people in Fulton. It is hoped that hundreds can be prevailed on to take tickets for this benefit show, for it will open a considerable sum to be used in relief work. The motion picture industry is to be commended for this worthy plan of helping in this emergency.

The Silver Lining

Hazel Manley of Union City, Tenn., Awarded 133rd Auto In Nationwide Slogan Contest

MISS Hazel Manley, of 417 Home St., Union City, Tenn., is the 133rd to win an automobile in a nationwide slogan contest. She is the seventh winner in Tennessee.

Miss Manley acquired her new car by writing twenty words descriptive of the quality and merits of the Certified Cremo Cigar, each word on the back of a Cremo cigar band. Every day, except Sundays, until further notice, the American Cigar Company awards a closed car to the author of the best statement.

The prowess in slogan-making of those who have submitted their writings in the competition, is pointed to by advertising men as a proof that modern advertising by means of newspapers, magazines and radio has made the nation "advertising conscious", so that even amateurs can write a good, brief, snappy slogan for a product.

The efforts of the contestants in this competition are rewarded with the choice of a Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth automobile, worth at current prices, about $40 for each of the twenty words.

Doctors, dentists, housewives, business men, clerks, airplane mechanics, ministers, teachers, newspaper people and farmers have been among the winners of the contest.

WE'RE GETTING MAD

There's a kind of general rebellion just now against crime in this country and against the disgraceful records produced in the past few years. Decent people are getting mad. They have succeeded in putting away the notorious Capone brothers, and members of their gang where they won't defy the law for some years to come. Everywhere law-abiding citizens are making it hot for the criminal element. A sort of house-cleaning seems to be under way everywhere, and Fulton citizens are happy over the results being achieved as those of any other part of the country. Crime has run rampant long enough. The time is here to show the criminal element that it can't run the country to suit itself, and good citizens are taking advantage of the opportunity to show them. Let other judges follow the example of Judge Wilkerson in Chicago, the man who jumped on the Capone gang with both feet and sent them to the pen. Let other judges and other courts follow his lead and the end of the long crime wave will soon be at hand.

SPECIAL FOR THIS MONTH—20 beautiful engraved Christmas cards, with name printed in gold or black on them, 75 cents. R. S. WILLIAMS, Fulton, Ky.

test. Salesmen were represented by the largest group of winners. Artisans in various trades came next. Laborers and janitors and telegraph operators, too, have acquired automobiles by the Twenty Word route.

CONGRATULATIONS

The editor of this paper was happy to learn of Miss Manley winning the auto in the nationwide slogan contest conducted by the American Cigar Co. Miss Manley is a talented young lady. She has been the successful winner in a number of contests. She was awarded a beautiful piano some years ago in a newspaper contest conducted by the editor in which a large number took part.

Miss Manley is one of the South's brilliant composers. Her book of poems and writings have won for her a nationwide reputation.

KENTUCKY'S TOTAL PRODUCTION OF TOBACCO FOR 1931

Is 35 Per Cent Over That of Last Year.

Kentucky's total production of tobacco, of all types, in 1931, is estimated at 502,565,000 pounds in the November crop report for Kentucky issued by the Louisville office of the U. S. Division of Corn and Livestock Estimates. This is about 1 1/2 per cent decrease from the October 1 forecast; is 35 per cent more than the 372,151,000 pounds produced in Kentucky in 1930; and is 53 per cent more than the state's average annual production of 327,761,000 pounds 1925-29 inclusive.

DR. A. S. PETTIE, 80, DIES AT MAYFIELD

Prominent Baptist Pastor Succumbs After a Long Illness.

Mayfield, Ky.—Dr. A. S. Pettie, 80, one of the most prominent ministers among southern Baptists, who had held pastorates in 16 churches of Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas and Florida, died early Saturday morning at his home here.

He had been ill for several years and was forced to retire from active ministerial work three years ago.

Doctor Pettie was born in Woodford County, near Versailles, Ky., March 24, 1851, and was ordained to the ministry in 1872. He was graduated from Georgetown College and his first pastorate was Clear Creek, Woodford County. For 15 years he was minister of the First Christian Church, Mayfield. He also held pastorates at Owensboro, Hartford, Hickman, Clinton, Adairville, Lawrenceburg and elsewhere in Kentucky; Columbia, Tenn.; Ozark and Jonesboro, Ark., and Tampa, Fla.

For years he was a member of the board of trustees of Baptist Bible Institute, New Orleans, and was associated with missions and educational boards of Kentucky Baptists. He had contributed articles to religious periodicals and published a number of tracts.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Louella Tinsley Pettie and seven children.

LEGISLATURE OF TENNESSEE IS CONVENED

Horton Suggests Three Measures to Meet Financial Problem

Three measures to relieve Tennessee state's financial embarrassment were recommended to Tennessee general assembly Monday by Governor Henry H. Horton. In a message at the convening of an extraordinary session, the governor said some schools have closed for want of funds and that "many others" will be forced to suspend unless revenue for them is provided quickly. A maturing bond issue had failed renewal, he pointed out, and not only were salaries going unpaid but confederate pensions were imperiled.

In order to remedy the conditions "speedily" he recommended:

1—Borrowing up to $10,000,000 at not in excess of six per cent interest to operate the state until the next regular session, which convenes in January, 1933.

2—Increasing from five to six per cent the interest rate on $14,000,000 of bonds to be renewed.

3—Giving the various counties the optional right of levying a 40 per cent tax on each $100 of property valuation for general county purposes.

Brieflets

The "Red plan" the Russians talk so much about may save that country, but it will take the "long green" one to save us.

Our idea of a good citizen is the Fulton man who is willing to wait for the hereafter to do his harping.

One thing that's wrong with the country is that there are too many people just talking about what's wrong with it.

Nothing upsets a woman's poise as much as worrying about her averdupois.

The Fulton girl who used to marry a man to reform him now has a daughter who figures that two can go to the devil as cheaply as one.

Possibly never before in the history of the world have there been as many places for rent on Easy Street.

Someone has invented an auto horn that sounds like a harp, and now if somebody will invent a gasoline that will work like embalming fluid, Sunday motoring will be just about perfect.

What has become of the old-fashioned Fulton girl who used to wear a bracelet made of monogrammed dimes?

One of the worst mistakes a man can make is believing that pumpkins are better suited for jack-o-lanterns than they are for pies.

When we look back now and recall that the World War cost Uncle Sam $27,000,000 a day, we are more convinced than ever that it wasn't worth it.

A style note says that fringes are going to be popular this winter, so that is going to make the pants worn by a lot of us around Fulton right in style.

Uncle Sam is considering a tax on matches. Why not tax the fellows who are always borrowing them?

The modern politician is the man who shakes your hand before election and your acquaintance afterward.

The Fulton man who was always asking back in the summer if it was hot enough for you, is now putting in his time telling you how to cure a cold.

A manufacturer claims celophane is the first sanitary wrapper the world has seen. How about the shell a hen puts on an egg?

A dutiful wife is one who leaves a note telling her husband just where he can find the can-opener.

What became of the old-fashioned Fulton groceryman who always gave Father a sack of candy for the kids when he paid his bill?

A $2 Dinner for 6

ON a crisp October day dinner is a very important function. The family attitude towards food is one of distinct interest. If the domestic exchequer has felt the strain of the times (and what one has not?), catering for a hungry household becomes a matter of careful calculation. In the following menu the calculation of cost and calories has been done expertly.

Roast Loin of Pork 50¢
Potatoes Roasted in Pan 5¢
Cabbage and Apple Salad 20¢
Whole Wheat Muffins 15¢
Deep Dish Blackberry Pie 32¢
Demi-Tasse 5¢

Tomatoes and Corn with Chili
Sauté one ounce can whole kernel corn in one tablespoon butter for five minutes; add one No. 2 can tomatoes, one-fourth teaspoon chili powder, salt and pepper; simmer for five minutes longer.

Deep Dish Blackberry Pie: Mix three tablespoons flour, six tablespoons sugar; add one No. 2 or three 8-ounce cans blackberries. Pour into buttered baking dish. Cover with thin sheet of pastry made of one cup flour, one-third cup shortening, one-half teaspoon salt and ice water. Trim edges, press onto edge of baking dish with prongs of fork. Cut several slits in middle to let steam escape. Bake for about ten minutes in hot oven at 450°—oven, then lower to 350°, and continue twenty-five minutes. Serve cold.

Community Building

City Betterment Seen

as Matter of Morale

A nation-wide study to promote "better planning of all communities for permanent human use as essential to modern civilization" has been started by the committee on city and regional planning of the American Institute of Architects.

Finding that millions are wasted annually on ugly buildings, and that bad environment blights behavior, health and enjoyment of life the committee, as its initial task, is seeking an answer to the question: "Can character and individuality of cities and regions be consciously attained?"

Replies received indicate a conflict of opinion, according to Charles H. Cheney, of Los Angeles, chairman of the committee. Farsighted, intelligent planning and careful building up of the morale of the district is cited as the best method by J. C. Nichols, Kansas City, member of the National Capital Park and Planning commission.

Herbert U. Nelson, of Chicago, executive secretary of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, questions the value of conscious striving for municipal beauty. Cities are composed of men and women working for better standards of living, and will continue to improve the quality of their development, Gardner S. Rogers, of the civic development department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, declares. Others doubt whether American cities can have any well-defined character.

General Recognition of #### Value of Civic Beauty

American cities, having passed through the period of struggle for size, are now so rich and strong that they are launched on a career in pursuit of glory. They want to be beautiful—all of them. After they have become shipshape in regard to sewerage, paving, water supply and the essential needs of a metropolis, they mobilize their forces for grandeur.

Cities, like people, are ambitious. They are not content with the stodgy smugness of mere well-being. After securing comfort, they demand statues, fountains, fine gardens and architecture.

Culture lightens and softens the treadmill of work. It brings the glow of a higher life. There is no doubt a city that has provided visual magnificence in its buildings, public and private, and made noble vistas of its streets, makes its inhabitants happier. That is part of their recompense for the sacrifices all must submit to in making their dwelling places in communities where many of the privileges of less populous regions are surrendered for the convenience of all.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Planting Always in Order

There is an erroneous idea quite prevalent that when the home grounds are once planted, the planting is over with. This is all a mistake. Few places ever have all the different classes of plants they need—that is, they may have all the shrubs necessary for year-round beauty, yet be lacking in fruits or flowers. Then there are few places which do not need some "patching up" and renewal of plants after they have been planted for several years.

Need to Spruce Up

Practically every city and town needs sprucing up. Money contributed for such service is not waste. It constitutes a genuine investment in beauty and order for the common benefit of all.

To banish slovenliness from American communities would be to improve the standards of citizenship and to give to everyday life in those communities a new zest.

Knowledge Aids Community

Knowledge, to be of use in trade, must be applied, and its application usually requires the aid of capital. The greater and more productive the stock of capital in any community, the more goods it can put into the currents of trade.

A mill will make a town a center of trade. Docks, elevators, warehouses, and railway terminals help transform a harbor into a port of commerce.

Plant a Tree

Figures show that Springfield, Mass., has more trees in proportion to population than any other American city. With an appraisal value of $100 on each tree, its 25,000 trees add $2,500,000 to be counted as an added asset to the community. This would seem an excellent example for other cities to follow in adding to their valuation. Plant a tree!—Exchange.

Waterproofing Walls

All masonry walls, including stucco, should be made waterproof by a finish of waterproof solution or waterproof paint. It is possible to have the waterproofing element put into the stucco while it is being mixed.

Architects as Allies

Kansas City architects have gone on record as willing to help in the campaign to abolish billboards. Hand some examples of architects' work are not helped in appearance by adjacent "uglies."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Spice of Variety

PERHAPS you have stocked up with Hawaiian pineapple now that production is so large and its price so low.

And perhaps you are at a loss how to serve this healthful tropical fruit in so many different ways that your family will wonder. Perhaps—just one more perhaps—we can help you to solve this problem by giving you some entirely new recipes, recently evolved by a graduate dietitian, for serving Hawaiian pineapple in different delectable dishes. So here goes:

Pineapple Tapioca Delight: Press the syrup from the crushed pineapple in a No. 2 can, add one-half cup orange juice to it, and bring to boiling. Add one-fourth cup minute tapioca, one-third cup sugar and a few grains of salt, and cook in a double boiler until transparent and thick. Soften two teaspoons gelatin in two tablespoons water, and dissolve in the hot tapioca. Cool, add the crushed pineapple, and then chill. Fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites and pile in glasses, garnishing with sections of orange and whipped cream. Serves six to eight.

Try These Shortcakes

Hawaiian Caramel Shortcake: Stir one and one-half cups sugar over a low fire in a heavy skillet until melted and slightly browned. Add three tablespoons of the syrup from a No. 2 can of crushed pineapple, then one-half cup cream or evaporated milk, and stir until smooth and creamy. Add two tablespoons confectioner's sugar, and more cream if it is desired thinner. Split eight slices sponge cake and cover lower layers with the caramel, lay on 1/2 slices and cover with the pineapple. Garnish with whipped cream. Serves eight liberally.

Pineapple Strawberry Shortcake: Wash one pint of strawberries, add one-half cup sugar, and let stand for at least an hour; then crush slightly. Make one large shortcake or individual ones in two layers. Split open and butter lower crust liberally, then put on alternate spoonfuls of strawberries and crushed pineapple from a No. 2 can. Put on upper crust upside down, butter well, and again put on alternate spoonfuls of the two fruits. Top with whipped cream. When strawberries are out of season use the canned berries with less sugar. This recipe serves eight.

A Nice Rice Dessert

Pineapple Rice Patties: Soak one tablespoon gelatin in two tablespoons cold water, then bring to boiling half the syrup (about half a cup) from a No. 2½ can sliced Hawaiian pineapple, and dissolve the gelatin in it. Add one cup cooked rice, one-fourth cup agar, a few grains of salt and one teaspoon vanilla, and cool. Fold in one cup beaten cream, and chill. Mold in flat shallow pans about the size of the pineapple slices (small pie or tart tins), or shape, when cold, into flat patties with the hands, and let set.

Meanwhile, to the rest of the pineapple syrup add one-half cup water and one-half cup sugar, boil a few minutes, add the pineapple slices and cook gently until they are soft and the syrup thick. Cool. In eight slices sponge cake and cover each rice patty, pour over any syrup left from cooking them, and top with whipped cream and a cherry. Serves eight.

Some Simple Salads

Holiday Salad: Arrange slices of pineapple from a No. 2½ can in nests of lettuce, and pile one cup diced celery in center. Have ready one-half cup cranberry jelly cubes and one-half cup stiff mint gelatin cubes, colored green, and cover the celery with these red and green jelly cubes. Serve with French dressing. Serves eight.

Pineapple and Melon Salad: Drain two 8-ounce cans of Hawaiian pineapple tidbits (or cut one and one-half cups sliced pineapple in small wedges) and chill these and one cup watermelon and one cup cantaloupe, cut in small wedges. (If cantaloupe is not available, use two cups watermelon.) Toss together and pile in nests of crisp shredded lettuce, and over all pour French dressing to which a little finely chopped mint has been added. Serves eight.

Midsummer Dream Salad: Drain one No. 2½ can of sliced pineapple, and place in beds of lettuce. Have one basket of red raspberries well chilled, and pile in center. Stone one cup black cherries, stuff with salted almonds, and arrange in a border around the outside of the pineapple. Pass mayonnaise to which an equal amount of whipped sour cream and a very little sugar has been added. You may substitute, if desired, strawberries for the raspberries and canned black cherries for the fresh. Serves eight.

SAVE OR SPEND?

Things change a lot and values vary as we go along breaking into new periods of time, and we frequently find out that what used to be thought good was really bad after all, and vice versa. Our teachers and counsellors of today advise us to do things they used to advise us not to do. Maybe some of us have slower minds than others, but some of us hesitate to accept new theories that black is white; that the murder you commit is always somebody else's fault, and that we should spend our money freely instead of saving it. Admittedly spending a dollar serves to help keep the wheels of prosperity turning, and good for the spender when he gets value received for his money. But spending for things we do not need was always unwise, and it is just as much so today. There is a saving in spending, if you spend now for the things you need, or know you will need a little later on. In fact, at present prices of most everything in the way of necessities, spending your money for them is just as wise as putting it in bank—and a thousand times wiser than hoarding it against the time when everything is sure to cost more. Sensible spending is, after all, one way of saving.

HE KNEW

He had proposed. She tossed her head haughtily. "You!" came her scornful reply. "You want to marry me?" "Yes," murmured the lover. "But, my dear boy," she went on, "you've only known me three days." "O, much longer than that really," he said. "I've been two years in the bank where your father has his account."

Busy Beans

CERTAIN foods are just chockful of energy—beans are one of them. It is pretty hard to get as much nourishment and downright "vim" from an equal quantity of any other food. A man can do a lot of work on beans, a boy can hike a long way on them, and a woman can withstand an avalanche of household wear and tear without jangled nerves if she has lunched well on this wholesome article of diet. Beans are economical, also, one of the most economical of foods.

All Varieties Canned
You can buy them for so little, and the canned product is so good, that it is but rarely worth while to spend time upon the preparation of the raw beans. There are canned baked beans, pork and beans, red kidney beans, refuted beans, beans with tomato sauce and wax beans. Usually they may be just warmed, perhaps seasoned, and served, but there are many delicious recipes of which beans are an important ingredient, such as:

Better Breakfasts

"BREAKFAST is the bulwark of the American nation," remarked the emissary of a foreign nation who was sent here to observe the customs of our country for the benefit of his own. It is true that we prefer to face the fortunes of the day better fortified than the average continental on his cup of coffee or chocolate and bit of bread.

We are right—for us, at least. Life dashes along briskly over here, and we need energy every moment. Then, too, once immersed in the big business of living, we are loath to stop at mid-day precisely as they do across the sea. A good breakfast goes a long way towards a good day, so if you would improve the family fortunes give them a "better breakfast" tomorrow—here's one—

SAFE SWEETS

NATURAL fruit sugars are easier to digest than the other kinds, and this is especially true of pineapple whose fruit sugar is of a type all ready for human assimilation. So, when you begin serving filling desserts again this fall, keep in mind that you and your children can safely eat your fill if you make them fruit desserts. There is a way to combine Hawaiian pineapple with fruit that will make you glad of this "inside information."

Pineapple and Grapefruit Sherbet: Boil three-fourths cup canned pineapple syrup and three-fourths cup canned grapefruit syrup with two tablespoons sugar. Five minutes. Cool, add fruit and serve on hot, rich baking powder biscuits, split and buttered. This makes enough to serve eight.

Fruit Rice Parfait: Press out all the syrup from crushed pineapple in a No. 2 can, drain a can of apricots, and combine the syrups. Bring to boiling, add one-fourth cup rice, boil five minutes, then cook over boiling water until the rice is very tender and the liquid all absorbed. Add one-fourth cup sugar, the drained pineapple and the apricots pressed through a sieve. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, fold in one cup beaten cream. Pile lightly in glasses and garnish with a bit of preserved ginger. Serves eight to ten.

A Simple Dessert

Rescuing Bread Pudding

HOW often you have heard the peevish words: "Oh, I hate that old bread pudding!" Here are two ways to rescue bread puddings from such condemnation and make it not a penalty but a delight.

Hawaiian Bread Pudding: Scald two cups milk, add one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg, and pour over two cups stale bread (pieces not crumbs), letting it stand until soft and milk taken up by the bread. Add two beaten eggs, and pour into a large shallow baking dish. Lay the drained slices from a No. 2½ can of Hawaiian pineapple over the top, and bake in a slow oven, 350°, for from forty-five minutes to an hour. This serves eight very liberally. Serve with the following

Sauce: Smooth together one-half tablespoon cornstarch, one-third cup sugar and one-fourth cup cold water. Heat the syrup from the pineapple, add and cook until creamy, stirring constantly. Add two tablespoons lemon juice and a few grains of nutmeg.

Try Whole Wheat
Pineapple Pudding: Toast four slices of whole wheat bread, butter and cut into small squares. Place in bottom of a baking dish and pour over the drained fruit from half of a No. 2 can of crushed Hawaiian pineapple. Beat one egg, add four tablespoons sugar, one cup milk and a few grains of nutmeg and pour over. Bake in a slow oven, 350°, for about forty minutes. Serve warm with sauce made by stirring together the pineapple syrup and some heavy cream. This serves six.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

(By REV. P. H. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(© 1931, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for November 22

PAUL IN ROME

GOLDEN TEXT—I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 25:1-12; 28:16-31.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul in the Greatest City of the World.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's Life-long Ambition Fulfilled.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Prisoner Proclaims the Gospel in Rome.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul's Ministry in the World's Capital.

I. Paul Appeals to Caesar (25:1-12).

In order to appreciate this action on the part of Paul it is well to get a synthetic grasp of the experiences which forced him to make this appeal.

1. His trial before Felix (Acts 24). The officials of the Sanhedrin were represented by Tertullus, a Roman barrister. He brought a fourfold charge against Paul:

a. A pestilent fellow (v. 5).
b. An inciter of rebellion (v. 5).
c. The ringleader of a sect (v. 5).
d. A profaner of the temple (v. 6).

To this charge Paul replied in a clear and dignified manner, setting forth the facts of his life, and demanded that his adversaries bring proof of their accusation. Felix was greatly moved by Paul's testimony concerning Christ, but postponed decision, expecting to receive a bribe from Paul.

2. Trial before Festus (25:1-12). Festus was the successor of Felix. Two years had elapsed, but the Jewish hatred had not abated. Paul's foes in Jerusalem sought to have him brought there for trial, intending to lie in wait and kill him on the way. Festus, willing to please the Jews, purposed to send him to Jerusalem for trial. For this Paul rebuked him, declaring that he very well knew that he was innocent. Seeing that it was impossible to get justice at the hands of Festus, he made use of his right as a Roman citizen and appealed to Caesar. Festus was taken by surprise and found himself in an embarrassing position, as he was unable to explain to Caesar as to why an innocent man should go to Rome for trial.

3. Trial before Agrippa (26:1-32). This was occasioned by the visit to Festus of Agrippa and Bernice. Upon their arrival, Festus told them of his perplexity. Therefore, they expressed a desire to hear Paul. Paul gladly made his defense before them and appealed to them to accept Christ.

II. Paul's Journey to Rome (27:1-44).

1. The ship (v. 6). It was in a vessel of Alexandria sailing from Myra to Italy.

2. The company (vv. 2, 37). Two of Paul's friends, Aristarchus and Luke, were permitted to go with him. Besides these three there were 273 in the ship.

3. The storm (vv. 14-20). The ship made little headway on account of unfavorable winds. Paul advised that they winter in Fair Haven (vv. 9-12), but his advice was unheeded. In verses 14 to 20 we have a most graphic description of the storm. Tempestuous winds as well as soft breezes await God's faithful ones.

4. Paul's serene faith (vv. 21-26). God is as near to his faithful ones on a stormy sea as in the quietude of the home. Paul was not only calm, but bade the people be of good cheer (v. 22). He promised them safety though the ship would go to pieces.

5. The ship's crew safe (vv. 27-44). All turned out as God had promised.

III. Paul's Ministry in Rome (Acts 28:15-31).

1. Welcomed by the brethren (v. 15). They met him at the Appian forum, a distance of about forty miles from Rome. This was the first time he was thus welcomed.

2. Paul's lenient treatment (v. 16). He was allowed to hire a house and live apart, being guarded by a soldier.

3. Conference with the leading Jews (vv. 17-22). He allowed himself only three days to rest. His object was to have a fair understanding with the Jews. He explained the reason for his being there. The result was that the Jews took neutral ground, but expressed a desire to hear what Paul could say in defense of a sect which was evil spoken against.

4. Paul expounding the kingdom of God and persuading concerning Jesus (vv. 23-31). He pointed out a real kingdom, the Messianic Kingdom, with the historic Jesus as the King. The kingdom to Paul meant a definite reign of a definite person, not merely an improved state of society. This he showed from the Scriptures. He went through the Old Testament, carefully showing the kingdom teaching to be in harmony with the law and the prophets.

Personal Consecration

There is also need of a clear understanding of what consecration means. It is not an indulgence in pious yearnings and smug phrases. It is the willingness to face facts squarely, to deny one's self in behalf of others, to give, to work with one's heart and soul that God's kingdom may come upon earth.

Pleasures Not Lasting

The pleasures of sin are but for a season, but the punishment of unpardoned sin is everlasting.

THE TAX QUESTION

Prospects are that federal taxes will soon be raised. Government experts are looking around for ways and means of getting more money out of the pockets of the people into the federal treasury. Right now the average pockets are well-nigh empty, and every additional subtraction hurts. Good citizens have always been willing to support their government, just as a father is willing to support his son. But now the question has become complicated. With a bunch of wild mavericks in congress, straining themselves to throw public money around like a party of drunks, the taxpayer is likely to become reluctant and feel grouchy. A good father will sometimes refuse to give more to an irresponsible, extravagant and dissipated son. We have too many legislators right now who are trying to raid the staggering treasury for enormous and wasteful hand-outs to serve political ends. They even stoop to the idiotic argument that "circulating the money" is sufficient reasons for spending. Now, if ever, is the time to be guided by expert economists and financiers, rather than by bellowing politicians. Taxpayers will not be eager to dig deeper so that little politicians may "circulate the money."

HIGHWAY IS ASSURED

Construction of Hickman-Union City Road Is Brought About.

Hickman, Ky.—The building of the Hickman-Union City Highway was assured following action of the Fulton County fiscal court in providing the right-of-way. Action on this highway had been held up for months because all of the right-of-way could not be secured.

A committee from Union City and a committee from the Hickman Lions Club, which has been working on this road for three years, appeared before the court at a special meeting, and the court agreed to set a price for the three pieces of land needed, and if the owners refused to sell at that price, to give County Judge W. J. McMurry authority to condemn the land.

A contract for the grade and drain on this highway was let by the Kentucky highway commission last week, but was held up because all the deeds for the right-of-way were not completed. The action of the court will allow the highway department to give the contractor permission to start work, and it is expected preliminary work will start in a few days.

HASTING-MACK

Saturday afternoon, November 7th, Mr. James Franklin and Miss Allie V. Hasting of Crutchfield, Ky., motored to Clinton and surprised their many friends by getting married.

Allie V. is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hasting, and numbers her friends by the score. While Frank is the son of J. M. Mack, of Rives, Tenn. Mr. Mack is employed in the Hamper factory of Martin, Tenn.

The writer wishes to congratulate Mr. Mack for choosing Allie V. for his life's companion.

At the present time they reside with the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hasting.

I wish them a long and prosperous life.

HOMEMAKERS HAVE MEETING

Palestine Homemakers met with Mrs. Allie Browder Friday, with eleven members and three visitors present. Roll call was answered by "Hints for Keeping Peace and Unity in the Home." Minutes of last session were read and approved. The club was glad to welcome Mrs. Ethel Browder as a new member. Mesdames Allie Browder and C. L. Drysdale, home improvement leaders, gave out the major subject lesson, "Wise Choice of Wall, Finish and Wood Work," explaining what colors should be used in different rooms and designs of paper for walls. Miss Collum, assistant agent, gave a demonstration of many inexpensive Christmas gifts, which was very interesting.

The meeting was then turned over to the program conductor. A song, "Now Thank We Our God," by the club. "The Gleaners" was read by Mrs. H. B. Murphy, from the second and third chapters of Ruth.

During the social hour the hostess served refreshments. The club will meet on December 18 with Mrs. Gus Browder.

HOMEMAKERS MEET WITH MRS. DAWES

The McFadden Homemakers Club met with Mrs. Jim Dawes, Thursday, November 12. The subjects discussed were: "Walls, as Backgrounds in the Livable Home" and "Christmas Handicraft." There were nicely brought out by Miss Alda Henning and Miss Culton. The meeting adjourned to meet again December 10.

BANKERS DEVELOP NEW FINANCE AID

President of American Bankers Association Describes Plan and Services of National Credit Corporation

NEW YORK—The National Credit Corporation, a billion dollar cooperative institution, is the method worked out by bankers to put into practical effect the central point in President Hoover's plan for renewing the commercial and industrial activity of the nation as proposed in his statement to the nation of October 7. Harry J. Haas, president of the American Bankers Association stated in a recent interview.

The corporation is strictly cooperative in character, he said, to unite the entire banking system and increase the effectiveness of the financial services of banks to their communities in rural districts as well as the cities. The plan will marshal the banking resources of the country, he explained, by creating a national institution whose funds will be loaned when necessary to banks which have assets in their portfolios that are thoroughly sound but are not eligible for loans at federal reserve banks.

To Benefit Everybody

"There is no citizen in the United States but will benefit in very practical ways from the results of the operation of this forward-looking plan of cooperation, which may be regarded as one of the most constructive steps that have been taken toward revival of sound business activity," Mr. Haas declared, adding:

"The National Credit Corporation represents an instrumentality that should have far-reaching effect in restoring the confidence of the public. The plan not only has been formulated by the country's leading banking authorities, but also will be carried out locally as well as nationally by banking representatives who have given their time and thought to this undertaking as a real public service."

"The American Bankers Association convention was in session at the time the plan was proposed and unanimously endorsed it in principle. I have examined the detailed formulation of the working plans as developed by the incessant labors of some of the Nation's leading bankers who have undertaken to put it into practical operation in single-minded devotion to the national welfare, and I am able to say without reservation that the National Credit Corporation as set up by them constitutes a practical, sound and efficient means for carrying out President Hoover's proposal."

Will the folks be with you for Thanksgiving Dinner?

Thanksgiving—the day of family reunion. Our nation's own day when Dad and Mother, and Brother and Sister, and the In-laws and the Children gather 'round the festive board.

If the folks are all coming to your home this year, you'll have so much — a thousand-and-one big and little duties—to keep you hurrying until dinner is ready and on the table.

That is — unless you have an electric range. It's a wonderful time-saver and labor-saver. With an automatic electric range there's no need for pot-watching and guesswork.

Just put the food in the oven, fix the time and temperature controls—and let nature take its course! Meat and vegetables will be cooked perfectly.

Our local manager will gladly give you further information about electric cookery and explain how conveniently you can have an automatic electric range in your home.
