"He's Danced Because He Talks About Pentland All the Time."

The American farmer is now facing the threat of another tax bill, according to President Roosevelt. The measure is designed to increase the government's fiscal capacity to finance the war effort. The tax bill would include a higher tax rate on income, as well as a new tax on corporate profits. The government has also proposed a 10% tax on the profits of foreign corporations doing business in the United States.

The Chairman of the Joint Commission on Taxation, S. F. Moodie, told Congress that the new tax bill is necessary to finance the war effort. He said that the government needs to increase its revenue to cover the costs of the war and to finance the reconstruction of the nation after the war.

The tax bill is expected to be passed by Congress and signed into law by the President soon. The government hopes that the new tax bill will provide the revenue needed to finance the war and to rebuild the nation after the war.

At the beginning of the year take an interest in how, try keeping records in blank books and check them periodically. Records accurately kept and studied will show where improvements can be made and where you are wasting time.

For one thing, it is the time to make preparations for planting. Of course, you will have to base these plans on your knowledge of your land. Some farmers get their seeds ready in the fall and others do this in the spring. But it is a good thing to be prepared. If you start planning too early, you may start too late.

Another bill of hardware is something that you would do well to be prepared for. Many farmers have too much hardware on hand. This may be because of experience before getting at the farm, but it is also because of lack of help in keeping the place in order. Keep your hardware in a corner of the barn or in a separate building. Keep it organized, and have it ready for use.

Now let us see how well you are doing with your present farning equipment. Records accurately kept and studied will show where improvements can be made and where you are wasting time. It is not necessary to buy new equipment now. But have your equipment cleaned as many days as you can and let the work go on while other work is being done. And you have to keep your house as well as your buildings.

One other piece of hardware that should be on your list is an extra of some kind. Some farmers have a second truck or a second car. This is necessary for some farmers, but it is not necessary for all of them. It is a good idea to have an extra of some kind, but it should be chosen with care.

In the case of house and barn, the extra equipment should be priced according to the size of the farm and the amount of work that it will do. It is a good idea to have an extra of some kind, but it is not necessary for all of them. It is a good idea to have an extra of some kind, but it should be chosen with care.
