At the eighteenth annual meeting of the stockholders held at the Fulton Hotel, Thursday, June 11th, the following directors were elected for the ensuing year, the term of office to expire June 11th, 1912:

V. C. Schotter, President; N. J. Wiley, Vice-President; G. F. Rexroad, Secretary; E. E. Fall, Treasurer.

At the meeting Tuesday night, the directors took possession of the new plant erected for the purpose of the service. The men at work are materially increasing the service and the public are being called to the object. The new plant is a credit on the service, and in the opinion of the committee of the directors, the same should be continue with the same zeal and energy.

The directors are to be congratulated on the result of the election of the new Congress to work.
University of Kentucky Has New Agricultural Engineering Building

University of Kentucky will open its new Agricultural Engineering Building next week. It is located south of the main campus. The building was designed by the University's Architectural Department. The cost of the building is approximately $600,000. It includes classrooms, laboratories, and offices for faculty members.

Children Need Mid-Afternoon Snack

by Jane Rogers

H igh schools are a place where many foods are consumed. Some students eat on the run, some buy foods from vending machines, and some bring their own lunches. However, it is important for children to have a healthy and balanced snack in the afternoon.

How Corn Helps

Atmospheric conditions and the larval period greatly influence the development of corn crops. The size of the ear is determined in the first two weeks of the corn plant's life, so it is important to ensure optimal growing conditions during this period.

FRUIT COCKTAILS FINE

For those who enjoy fresh fruits, fruit cocktails are a great option. These can be made at home with a variety of fruits, including apples, pears, and grapes. Just wash the fruits, cut them into small pieces, and add them to a blender. Blend until smooth and serve over ice. This makes for a refreshing and healthy drink.

Would Alter Our Financial Habits

By ROBERT C. STEPHENS

Former President American Bankers

The idea of saving money is a good one, but it is often difficult for the average person to put it into practice. The reason for this is that most people have a tendency to spend more money than they earn. This can be attributed to a lack of self-discipline and a desire for instant gratification.

We are all familiar with the saying, "It's easier to make money than to save it." This is true, but it doesn't mean that we shouldn't try to save some money. In fact, saving money is an important part of personal finance. It helps us to prepare for the future and it also helps us to avoid debt.

One way to save money is to set aside a certain amount of money every month. This can be a small amount, but it's something. Another way to save money is to shop around for the best deals. This can be done by comparing prices and reading reviews.

Another important aspect of personal finance is being able to budget your expenses. This means knowing how much money you have coming in and how much money you have going out. By doing this, you can see where you are spending your money and you can make changes to your spending habits.

Finally, it's important to remember that saving money is not just about putting money into a savings account. It's also about putting money into investments. This can be done by putting money into stocks, bonds, or mutual funds. By doing this, you can help your money grow over time.

In conclusion, saving money is an important part of personal finance. It helps us to prepare for the future and it helps us to avoid debt. By setting aside a certain amount of money every month, shopping around for the best deals, and being able to budget your expenses, you can start to save money.

Help Our Merchants to Help You

Everybody will agree that a man succeeds and prospers only when he spends LESS money than he receives in a given period of time.

Let's apply this great economic test to the situation in this town. Our business men have invested—and continue to invest—their money in stocks of goods brought here to your very door to meet your daily needs.

Through the pages of this paper they advise you of their ability to serve this community. All of us know that they deserve our patronage. And remember, the more you trade with them the more funds they can invest in larger stocks and new lines.

ACED WOMAN PASSED

Miss Elia Jane King passed away at her home in Latham, 74 years. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. T. Smith, at Walnut Grove church, conducted by Rev. J. T. Smith, and burial was on the farm of her son, Mr. T. M. Watkins, two miles south of Latham. Miss King was survived by two nieces and two nephews, and many friends.

Willimah Bridge

Although it was a very comfortable day Thursday we had a visit from Eunice. Our visitor, Miss Eliza Whittington, reached an end of her twelve weeks' vacation. Then we had lunch at the home of the Bridge and the children put on a good program in the afternoon. The afternoon was very pleasant and enjoyable.

Two nieces and two nephews, and many friends.

Mrs. John Yeates, who has been quite ill with bronchitis pneumonia, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Workman, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hamilton and family, Miss Elizabeth Craddock, Miss Mary Byrns, Mr. W. B. Finch and Miss Minnie Heskett, all returned home Thursday from their visit to the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hunsbeck spent the weekend with relatives.

Mrs. Elizabeth Craddock is unable to attend school on account of illness.

Regulate in Public Interest

People are asking how regulation can be made equal between the railroads and the bus lines. One way would be to require the bus lines to observe the railroads' regulation which does not now apply to the railroads. Another would be to require the railroads to observe the bus lines' regulation which does not now apply to the railroads.

The railroads do not impose upon their passengers the same duties that are imposed upon the bus lines.
