Gifted-Talented Program In City Schools

The fruits of the efforts of a central committee of parents, teachers and supervisory personnel is being seen this year in Mayfield's school system. The efforts centered around improving the opportunities for the gifted-talented children in the local school system, and the implementation of these plans is proving exciting for the children involved.

The committee worked out the criteria to be used for identification of students for the program, with those selected meeting three of the four requirements. They are: 1. Q. teacher nomination; must be in at least the 93rd percentile of the class, based on achievement test results; and they must be reading at least two grade levels above their present school grade. Students have been selected from the second through the sixth grades, and plans have been formulated for a three-year program.

Sessions are held outside regular school hours as well as during the school day. Special areas are being set up in the school libraries to serve as resource centers for the gifted students, and they will also have access to parents and others who have volunteered to serve as resource persons for various interest groups.

Each of the city's three elementary schools is responsible for the type program in that school. At the end of the year, evaluation of the program will be made and decisions made as to the direction the programs will go in the future.

One special interest group which began this week was an art class, involving approximately 40 students, with Mrs. Jeanne McGinnis and Mrs. Lynn Rogers, art teachers in the Mayfield City Schools, in charge. This group meets on Tuesday afternoons at 3 o'clock.

Through the program's special interest centers, programs, and field trips, it is anticipated that those young students who work at an accelerated rate will find an answer to their question, "What can I do now?" when they finish their classroom work ahead of schedule. That would bring about the accomplishment of the program's major goal, which is to aid these gifted-talented children to become active participants in their own learning through individual instruction and enrichment activities.

Honor Roll

The Honor Roll at Mayfield Middle School for the second nine weeks of the fall semester, which was published recently in the Messenger, should have included the name of Dan Smith, eighth grade student, the school announced today.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Weeks and family have returned to their home here after being in San Antonio, Texas, for the funeral of Mrs. Weeks' mother, Mrs. Julia S. Garza, which was held there Friday.

by Virginia Bingham Garrott

The mail brings us interesting notes from our friends from various parts of the country, with news that is of interest to Mayfieldians.

Mary Belle (Mrs. C. M.) Rhodes sent us a clipping from a Memphis newspaper concerning the great grandson of a former Mayfield resident. The child is Ryan Riggs, son of Dr. and Mrs. Webster Riggs, Jr., of Memphis, and great grandson of the late Clarence Turner, who was associated with loose leaf tobacco floors in Mayfield for many years.

The child, who is now seven and a half years old, has been reading and spelling since he was three years old. At four he was able to read the television scheduled for programs he wanted, and even a three years of age, would go with his parents to the library and pick out books and read to the librarian. He started bringing home library books at four.

His parents say it's just something he picked up, and now at seven and a half he had rather read than watch television, and reads magazines and daily newspapers regularly. The school he attends has "resource classes", where he reads whatever material is available, not just primary grade reading. He also writes poetry in connection with his resource class, and goes with the group to the library.

It's always good to note when a child sharpens his reading skills, for many of them are too busy or too taken with television to realizing the magic they're missing in reading.

A native Graves County, Robert Covington, and his family are missionaries in the Bahama Islands, and have written relatives here that while they have been reading about the bad weather we're having here, it has been in the seventies in the Islands, and that their garden is producing beautiful vegetables and their fruit trees yielding grapefruit and oranges.

They also noted that earlier this month they held a baptismal service in the Caribbean Sea.

Robert is the son of Lawrence and Mary Covington, and his wife is the former Laurie Burnett, of Fulton County.

The January issue of The Plumb Line, published by Plumb Lodge 862, F. & A. M., came to us this week by way of Claude Edwards, and it is an article by a former Mayfield resident, Roy T. Allen.

With Mr. Allen's permission, we share his article with you:

IN THE BEGINNING
The story is told that all the scientists of great renown held a convention where they could exchange ideas about different subjects such as geology, astrology, geometry and etymology, as it applies to the creation of the world explained in the Bible. Each was assigned to write a thesis from his or her personal knowledge in each category, and to reduce the findings to explicit language in understandable English as used in the King James translation of the Scriptures.

Each scientist spent several weeks gathering data, searching for clues in rocks and soil formations that might reveal the age as well as the components to determine how and what way they contributed to how the world was formed, so they could put it all together and feed it into a computer. After several weeks, the meeting was reconvened and the world was soon to learn what really happened when and how the world was created.

The great moment arrived; all reports were complete; everyone gathered around. Information that might even change the thinking and teaching of the world as we know it today was about to be brought to a climax. A button was to be pressed when the great computer would spin into action, relays would be opened and closed, lights would flash and bells would ring, and finally, the great secret of the world's beginning would be unfolded before their eyes.

Excitement filled the room, each scientist expecting his or her thesis to be used as the dominant factor in the new theory of creation and beginning and a possibility of proving the evolution theory that animal and plant life developed by gradual, continuous change from earlier forms.

Finally, a typed message emerged from the computer reading in the King James version, "In the beginning God created the Heaven and the Earth."

Have you noticed that much of the mail mailed locally comes to you with a Paducah postmark? It was puzzling to us and we inquired, to be told that this is the result of a new system involving area processing centers, and that mail dropped in the mail here after about 5 p.m. is sent to Paducah to be cancelled, worked and then sent to various destinations.

Hints from Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I have never written to your column before, but just read the letter from the reader about instant dry milk and the unpleasant aroma it gives off.

If she will store this milk in a glass quart bottle instead of plastic, this odor won't be.

It's the plastic container that causes the odor. - Mrs. Kennedy Olson

I agree storing the milk in a glass container seems to help. One thing for sure, it stays colder, which may account for a seemingly less offensive odor.

And, if you are going to store the milk after mixing in a glass quart bottle, try this:

Use an empty quart mayonnaise jar to mix it in. Add a little to the jar first (so the powdered milk won't lump), then put the required amount of the dry, powdered milk, usually one and one-third cups, into the jar.

Mix right in the jar, then finish filling with water - slowly. If too many bubbles form at the top to prevent filling the jar all the way to the top, let it sit for a few minutes.

The bubbles will dissolve and you can then finish filling the jar with water. Stir gently, put the lid on, and store the milk in the fridge.

You won't have any extra container to wash and very little measuring to do. Practically hassle-free, and oh-h-h-h, so good! - Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Here's a time-saver... When you can't read the fine print on the tabs of the bed sheets, use red nail polish and make a large

"T" for twin-sized sheets and a large "D" for double-sized ones at each corner of the hems.

One glance and you have it when you are folding them and stacking them away in the linen closet. - Hilde Chapman

READY, SET, GO for Rock 'N Roll are these residents of Mills Manor, as they prepare for the rock 'n roll jamboree Saturday to raise funds for the Heart Fund. Residents of the center, beginning at 2 p.m., will raise money by rocking in rocking chairs or rolling in wheel chairs, with sponsors paying a designated amount for each minute or hour of participation. The jamboree is part of a nationwide fund-raising effort by nursing facilities sponsored by the American Health Care Association. Goal of the local nursing home is $250. (MESSENGER PHOTO)

Sweetheart Banquet Set For Saturday Night At Sharon Church, February 25

The Graves County Baptist Woman's Missionary Union will have its sweetheart banquet on Saturday, February 25, at 6:30 p.m. at the Sharon Baptist Church. This annual affair is held in observance of W.M.U. Focus Week.

There will be an announcement of upcoming events in the Kentucky W.M.U., as the group celebrates its one-hundredth anniversary this year.

Featured speaker at the banquet will be the Rev. Daniel Zoeller, who is with the Home Missions Board, working in Paducah in Christian social ministries. Southern Baptists will be observing the Week of Prayer for Home Missions March 5-12, and the Rev. Zoeller will be speaking of the Bold Mission Thrust and other special emphases this year.

Music will be presented by Evans Gremlilian, Jr., music minister at Immanuel Baptist Church in Paducah, along with Kevin Brown, also of Paducah.

Further information regarding the banquet may be obtained, and reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. Joe Bagwell, at 247-6126, by February 22.

Parents Night Agenda At MHS

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles prepared by Mayfield High School, and including information which would normally have been explained at Parent Night at the school. This year's Parent Night had to be cancelled due to inclement weather, and the school has chosen the newspaper and radio to convey this important information to parents of MHS students.)

If you are the parent of a student entering, or presently enrolled in Mayfield High School, a printed pamphlet on courses offered during the 1978-79 school year has been given to your child.

In order to graduate from Mayfield High School, a student must have at least 18 credits. Of those 18 credits, 11 must be required subjects. The other seven are chosen from a list of electives.

Those students wishing to continue their education at college or at a university should consult college catalogues for specific requirements, and make an appointment with Mrs. Bonita Lykins, the school's guidance counselor. This should be done early to allow a student to complete requirements before applying to the college of his choice.

Entering as a freshman, a student will enroll in six subjects. Each student is first required to take one year of health and physical education, English, math, and science, which is Introduction to the Physical Sciences. Along with these four required subjects, a student also chooses two electives. Freshman electives are art I, home economics I, French I or II, Spanish I or II, consumer education, band, general shop and choir.

Entering as a sophomore, four required subjects must be taken. These are English, biology, a math class, and geography. As a sophomore, students have two electives and the choices are much greater. A sophomore may choose home economics I or II, general shop, wood shop, metal shop, general business, typing I, Spanish I, II, or III, French I, II, or III, choir, band, art I or II, distributive education I, speech I and III.

In order to qualify as a junior, a student must take English and United States history. A junior should be aware of how many credits he has earned and how many he needs before making out his schedule. Four electives will be selected by each junior. Many electives are semester courses so students may take up to eight different classes. Junior electives include journalism, typing I and II, art I, II, or III, music theory, speech I through IV, psychology, sociology, humanities, driver's education, geology, astronomy, family living, single survival, foods III, clothing III, and personal typing. Electives in higher math and business math are also offered as well as advanced science courses.

A 1979 graduating senior should know how many credits he has earned by the end of his junior year. In order to qualify as a senior, a minimum of 13 credits must have been earned prior to fall enrollment. Seniors will have the opportunity, as well as underclassmen, to check their final schedules during the summer. Seniors need to make an appointment with Mrs. Lykins to be sure they have met the Kentucky state requirements: two credits in math, two credits in science; two credits in social studies, one credit in health and physical education, and four credits in English. The only required subject for seniors is English. Four or five electives should be added to the schedule. Any of the electives mentioned will be available to seniors.

The next article will deal exclusively with a description of electives offered at Mayfield High School.

Juniors and seniors who wish to enter a vocation or trade will find the Mayfield-Graves County Vocational-Technical center gives them an opportunity to be trained to enter fields of their own choosing. A student may apply six elective credits toward graduation that have been earned in vocational school. Thus, working in cooperation with the high school, the students are offered an even wider selection of course offerings.

These include: 1. auto body, 2. auto mechanics, 3. business and office - (a) secretarial, (b) clerical, (c) accounting-junior management, 4. carpentry, 5. health careers, 6. industrial electricity, 7. machine shop, 8. tailoring, 9. welding.

Auto body - in the first year, each student becomes acquainted with the basic operating procedures needed in auto body work, which involves such operations as welding, sanding, filing and painting. During the second year, each student receives more detailed instruction and practical experience in the areas mentioned above, along with specific instruction in cost estimation.

Auto mechanics - in auto mechanics, each student concentrates on learning how to repair almost all parts of the automobile. Time is spent in studying the engine, electrical system, cooling system, braking system, exhaust system, wheel balancing and alignment, and other related areas.

Business and office - in business and office, each student is enrolled in one of the following programs: clerical, secretarial, or accounting-junior management. When the student enrolls in one of these programs, he learns the skills to become proficient in the various phases of office procedures. Seniors who have completed one year of typing are eligible to enroll in "model office", a two-hour block of realistic office training.

Carpentry - in carpentry, each student learns to construct a building from the foundation through its completion. He learns such specific tasks as those which relate to subflooring, sheathing, studding, molding, wood paneling, partitions, floor joists, rafters, door frames, and others.

Health careers - in health careers, each student becomes acquainted with the basic theory and practical activity as it relates to various careers in the health field. Each student also receives a basic preparatory introduction to a specific career in the health field in which he is interested. The course outline includes anatomy and physiology, nutrition, community health, health careers, medical terminology, ethics, personal and vocational development, psychology, and the nursing arts. The amount of time which each student spends in the lab and in classroom activities is varied. In the second semester, each student will spend three days per week working in the special health field he or she has selected, and two days in the school classroom and lab. Health careers is usually taken in the senior year of high school.

Industrial electricity - in industrial electricity, each student learns to install and maintain residential and industrial wiring. He learns to maintain electric motors, devices and appliances; and also learns about electrical theory, tools, blueprints, technical devices, intricate motor controls and construction principles.

Machine shop - in machine shop, each student learns to repair, fabricate, and make new parts for machinery. His studies include bench work, lathe work, drill press work, milling, shaping, planing, grinding, general maintenance and repair, and heat treating.

Tailoring - in this course, training is designed to prepare students for employment as sewing machine operators in garment factories, tailor shops, alteration shops, custom curtain and bedspread shops, and home sewing shops. The project approach is used as a method of training, giving the student an opportunity to receive experience in a wide variety of sewing skills.

Welding - in welding, each student learns to join metals by applying great amounts of heat from a gas or electrical source to melt the edges or metal pieces to form a permanent bond with or without the use of filler metal. Each student also learns the order in which the operations are to be performed, along with learning about the selection of equipment to be used according to the kinds of metals involved and the type of weld to be made.

Classes meet three hours per day with thirty minutes to one hour spent in classroom and the remaining time in shops or labs. The vocational school is an extension of high school, and will be treated as such. The student's actions, as well as his fellow-students' actions, will be coordinated as one unit. A student should consider going to vocational school just the same as going to another room in high school. The time allotted for the Mayfield City System is 8 a.m. until 11 a.m.

Your Horoscope By Jeanne Dixon

Saturday, Feb. 18

Your birthday today: You may find your present job not open-ended enough. Think about making a change, but do not jump impulsively. You are a person who must stay very busy, or you become depressed. A hobby could lead to cash, but protect your ideas. Stay away from tension situations or you could come unglued. Don't let anyone stand in the way of your spiritual growth.

Aries (March 21-April 19): Long hours, heavy responsibilities may cause dilemma. Take time for loved ones. Besides, you deserve a break. Self-sacrifice may be necessary to preserve marriage.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Look into avocational interests for new source of income. Examine day-to-day spendings. Family members may come up with unusual but practical suggestions.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Money worries may be bothering you. Keep money in savings to earn interest, investigate second job to earn more money. Doing own household chores is a good moneysaver.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Day may be disturbing. Family arguments can flare. Compromise and diplomacy are necessary. Try harder to see other person's point of view.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Stick to home base. Take care of routine matters that have been piling up. Spend more time working out communication problems with your mate.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Don't go overboard in spending. Bargains tempt you but taxes are just around corner. Good advice forthcoming from family. Short trips for business or pleasure are favored.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Avoid confrontations with partner or mate. Stick to routine tasks. Complete working budget for office and home. Take some time off for meditation.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): It's a good time to pile into the car for skiing weekend or out-of-way inn. Put away cares and worries. If you stay home, concentrate on satisfying hobbies or avocations.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Keep cool when confronted with emotional problem. Shun gossip bandied about by unsavory characters. Keep your consul. Concentrate on work, family.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A change of scene could rejuvenate spirits. Work scene can be complex. Don't become enroiled in office feud. Enjoy family or close friends this evening.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Extreme caution is key, particularly if you work around tools, home electrical appliances. Isolate yourself if others are too distracting. Check outlets, wiring. Caution small children.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): New business can show improved profits. Keep money in bank where it belongs. New project may demand cash reserves. Don't neglect exercise - jogging, calisthenics, sports.

Record-High Power Bills In TVA System In March

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Residential consumers of Tennessee Valley Authority electricity will see their power rates reach a record high next month because of cold weather in January, TVA officials say. Under the most widely used residential rate schedules, consumers will pay an all-time high of $26.70 cents for the first 1,000 kilowatt-hour of power they use in March, TVA spokesman Lee Sheppard said.

Consumers are charged $26.36 for the first 1,000 kwh this month, compared with the previous high of $26.65 in January. The national average electric bill for 1,000 kwh is about $41, Sheppard said.

The fluctuations in what TVA consumers pay for the same amount of electricity are caused by the fuel adjustment charge added to the basic rate on each customer's bill each month.

The fuel adjustment, reflecting what TVA has to pay for power purchased from other utilities, coal and fuel oil, was instituted in 1974 as prices of fuels began rising rapidly.

TVA's newest director, David Freeman, says he would like to see the monthly adjustments abolished now that fuel prices have stabilized. Freeman says the adjustments confuse consumers.

Sheppard said there is only 34 cents difference for the first 1,000 kwh used in March because TVA excludes the first 500 kwh used each month from the fuel adjustment charge. Most electrically heated homes use several thousand kilowatt-hours each month during cold weather.

The March adjustment reflects what TVA paid for electricity from other utilities, coal and fuel oil used in January, when cold weather created two separate power crises for the seven-state utility.

TVA provides electricity for about eight million residents in Tennessee and parts of Kentucky, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina and Virginia.

To Your Good Health By DR. GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can a girl with one leg shorter than the other develop scoliosis, a condition you have discussed in the past? If so what can be done? - Mrs. J.R.

Scoliosis (SCO-lee-OH-sis) is any deviation of the spine to one side or the other as viewed from the back. There can be many causes. Having one leg shorter than another might result in "postural scoliosis." The back curves in the direction of the shortened leg. Often the use of an appropriate lift in the shoe on the shortened side may give sufficient correction.

Scoliosis is mostly a problem of adolescent girls, many of whom do adopt poor posture. Often, though, poor muscle tone or nerve or other disturbances are the real cause of the poor posture. Parents should watch their children's posture, and be sure some defect is not causing it. In any event, it should be corrected.

Some scoliosis is congenital (occurring at birth). If diagnosed early, conservative treatment (i.e., the Milwaukee brace and therapy) will help. If not, surgery may be required. Undiagnosed polio as a child may cause this.

I have discussed this before, but it bears repetition because from past experience I know that mention of the factors involved still usually prompt some parents to seek medical help for what they had considered merely "lazy posture."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: We are three painters who are constantly getting small bugs (in the forearms only) from shrubs around houses we paint. The mites are so small you can't see them, but they burrow into the skin and itch. On looking through a magnifying glass and picking with a needle, a small black spot will come out, but it is impossible to get them all. We have tried ointments and everything else, but nothing seems to get rid of them. Can you think of something we have not tried? Alcohol, ice, boiling water - nothing helps. - B.E.M.

Apparently the bugs are not on the legs, which are covered. It is strange your faces are not affected. Wear long sleeves; apply insect repellent to your arms and clothing before going to work; also, have one of those "black spots" examined to see just what type of insect it is. Obviously, not all bushes would harbor the pests, so you might be able to identify the ones that do. Those bushes should be covered with a cloth or sheet of plastic while you are working.

Scratching or fooling around with a needle can produce a secondary infection, which is stubborn to treat. One of you should see a dermatologist, who can identify the specific mite and suggest further treatment. Be sure the insects have not set up permanent housekeeping on your work clothing. A garden supply store can suggest a spray to use on bushes to keep the mite problem down.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could you please explain what the medicine hydrochlorothiazide is for? It seems when I take it, it makes me sick at the stomach and I urinate every hour. I have to get up eight or ten times every night. - M.H.

The medicine (a diuretic) is doing what it's supposed to do - causing you to lose liquid. It is a high-blood-pressure medicine. From your description it might be doing its job a bit too well, or your dosage may be a bit excessive for you. Report your symptoms to the doctor. Too frequent urination may mean you are losing too much potassium along with the liquid loss. He may want to reduce your dose.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: The middle finger of my left hand locks up into a closed position when I take a tight grasp onto something or make a fist. It takes effort to restore it to normal. Sen. Kennedy Wins Fight To Get Health Care Plan Before Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, a long-time champion of national health insurance, appears to have won a behind-the-scenes battle with the Carter administration to get the president's health care plan before Congress this summer.

In the process, Joseph A. Califano Jr., secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, was undercut by the White House. Califano "got sandbagged in the service of the president," as one of his aides put it.

The Massachusetts Democrat drew the skirmish lines more than a year ago at Califano's confirmation hearings in the Senate. At the time, Kennedy extracted from the incoming secretary a schedule that put national health insurance on the administration's agenda early in 1978.

Less than four months later, in May 1977, the senator thought he detected some slippage in the schedule and told a United Auto Workers convention in Los Angeles that health insurance was "in danger of becoming the missing promise in the administration's plans."

The forum had been carefully chosen. The UAW had founded the Committee for National Health Insurance and had been a key supporter of Kennedy's far-reaching national health plan, under which the federal government would pay for health care for all Americans.

The day after Kennedy's appearance, Carter flew to Los Angeles to address the UAW convention and restated his plan "to submit legislative proposals early" in 1978.

Kennedy said he was pleased with Carter's statement, and the issue faded into the background while the administration struggled with other issues, such as an energy policy, welfare reform, tax revision and the Panama Canal.

At an Oct. 27 news conference, Carter said, "I was thinking the other day about what new major innovative proposals might be forthcoming next year and the year after. I can't think of any. I think we have addressed all of the major problems already."

Then, in December, Califano began sending out subtle signals that the health plan might have to await more guidance from the states.

Instead of complaining again publicly, Kennedy sought out UAW President Douglas A. Fraser, and together they called on Carter to tell him privately that they wouldn't stand for further delay.

The president, apparently realizing that national health insurance legislation had little chance of passage without labor support, reaffirmed his commitment.

Kennedy apparently promised that the principles of the administration proposal would be completed in March and specific legislation would be submitted to Congress in time for Kennedy to hold hearings on it before adjournment in the summer or autumn.

P.S. To The News: Carter's Political Mistakes By Phyllis Schlafly

The "worst political failure" of 1977, according to a leading West German newspaper (the Hamburg Morgenpost), was President Carter.

Newspapers around the world have been caustic in commenting on President Carter's recent trip to Europe and Asia. Its real mission, if any, was obscured by the gaffes that stimulated Polish jokes and cartoonists' ridicule.

The German editor's conclusion was probably more incisive than he realized. Although he referred to Mr. Carter's ineptness in dealing with other heads of state, that has been exceeded by the way his foreign policies have added up to a series of domestic political mistakes.

A prime case in point is the way President Carter reversed the firm policy of six presidents and gave the Crown of St. Stephen to the Communist dictator of Hungary.

This useless and unnecessary surrender to a second-rate Soviet puppet pleased no one except the Communists, but morally offended millions of Hungarian and other ethnic Americans, as well as freedom lovers everywhere.

After Russian tanks and troops crushed the Hungarian Freedom Fighters in November 1956, the Soviets installed Janos Kadar as their puppet. He proclaimed the "dictatorship of the proletariat" under the Soviet Communist Party and decreed the death penalty for all opposition.

Twenty-one years have passed and nothing has changed to exonerate the Kadar Communists. They did an efficient job of stamping out all resistance to total Soviet control, and are still kept in power by the threatening presence of 200,000 Soviet troops.

Haldeman Charges Nixon in New Book

WASHINGTON (AP) - H.R. Haldeman, Richard Nixon's closest aide during the White House years, says in his new book that his theory of the Watergate break-in is that the former president "himself caused those burglars to break into the Democratic party's offices, the Washington Post reports.

The Post said in its Thursday editions that the one-time White House chief of staff wrote that he also is convinced that Nixon personally tried to erase incriminating portions of his secret tape recordings.

One of the White House tapes which was subpoenaed during the Watergate investigation contained an 18 1/2-minute gap, which became a major issue during the trials and congressional hearings surrounding the break-in.

Haldeman's book, scheduled for publication Feb. 27, represents the first substantial inside account from a member of Nixon's closest White House circle of the events which led to the first presidential resignation in American history.

The Post said it based its report on the latter two-thirds of Haldeman's forthcoming book, "The Ends of Power," which the newspaper said was made available to it. The newspaper did not elaborate on how it obtained the book.

Haldeman, 51, was convicted in 1975 of Watergate-related offenses and is currently in prison.

The giving of the Crown of St. Stephen to the Soviet Communists in Hungary was worse than wrong; it was stupid.

Your Problems By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My dad and mom were divorced two years ago. It says in the divorce decree that my dad is supposed to pay all medical and dental bills for my brother and me.

I am a 13-year-old girl and would be quite decent looking if my teeth didn't stick out in front like a chipmunk.

I went to a dentist who straightens teeth and he said I have a very bad protrusion and should have braces for three years at least. But my dad refuses to pay for the work so the dentist won't do it. I think it is gross that he has enough money to buy his second wife a nice fur coat but can't afford to have his own daughter's teeth straightened. My mom works but she can't afford the dentist bill and has no money to hire a lawyer to make my dad live up to his agreement.

Please give me some advice. - - - Wishing For Those Railroad Tracks

Dear Ann: Here's better advice for "San Berdo", whose guest neglected to pay for long-distance phone calls. The hostess should suggest in the future that the delinquent boor instruct the operator to charge her calls to her home phone. It's very easy to do and eliminate the problem completely. - Mr. Know How Dear Mr.: It's easier to eliminate the guest. A persons who would try to stiff a hostess with long-distance calls is not about to follow any instructions.

Dear Ann Landers: I am not speaking for myself only, but for about half the teenagers in the world. I am sick of your advice, "See your school guidance counselor."

In our school anyone who wants to see the guidance counselor has to go through a third degree just to get an appointment. The person who arranges appointments asks questions like, "Why do you want to see the guidance counselor? What do they expect you to say - 'I'm usually a losing battle, especially if there's no money for lawyers. Ask your mom to take you to a university dental school. They often do very good work and the prices are much lower than those of practicing dentists. Good luck, dear, I hope you get those "railroad tracks."

Armstrong New Leader For NFL Bears

CHICAGO (AP) — Neill Armstrong, defensive coordinator for the Minnesota Vikings the last eight seasons, is the new head coach of the Chicago Bears.

"The ultimate goal is to win," said Armstrong, who was reached at his home in Minneapolis after he was named Thursday night. "It takes people to win."

"I've coached in all phases of the game and I've coached on offense," said Armstrong, in an attempt to prove that he is more than merely a defensive coach.

Armstrong's selection was announced by Jim Finks, vice president and general manager of the Bears.

Armstrong, 51, has been in the National Football League for 13 years and becomes the ninth head coach of the Bears. He succeeds Jack Pardee, who left the team after three years last month to take over the Washington Redskins.

The Bears called a news conference for today to introduce Armstrong, who played for Oklahoma State from 1947-1951 when the team won 21 straight games and was a member of the Philadelphia Eagles as a receiver and a defensive back.

Armstrong completed his playing career with Winnipeg of the Canadian League in 1954 and spent seven years as an assistant with Oklahoma A&M.

He served as an assistant coach with Houston from 1962-1963 and head coach of the Edmonton Eskimos from 1964-1969. Edmonton three times advanced to the finals of the Canadian League before Armstrong joined the Vikings in 1970.

Armstrong's selection was considered a surprise although his name had come up in previous speculation along with numerous other coaches.

T-Shirt Sales By MHS FCA

Members of the Mayfield High School Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes will be on hand at MHS home basketball games this (Friday) evening, and again tomorrow (Saturday) night at the MHS sports arena to sell special commemorative t-shirts.

The shirts, which come in various sizes, sell for $3.00, each, and include a Cardinal insignia, and denote the 1977 Class-AA State Championship football title won by the MHS Cardinal gridders.

Proceeds from the sales will go toward projects planned by the local FCA chapter.

HAULING IT DOWN — Mayfield's David Youngblood, No. 32, hauls down a rebound at the MHS sports arena Thursday night. Despite suffering from an apparent bout with the flu, the 6-7½ pivotman snagged eight rebounds, and scored 16 points in a snow-related makeup game with the St. Mary Vikings. It wasn't enough, however, as the visitors took a 67-65 win over the hosting Red Birds. No. 42 in white is Don Hubbard. (MESSENGER PHOTO)

Frosh Gain Lead In Conference Title Bid

BARDWELL, Ky. — Playing without two regulars in their lineup, and getting down, 13-0, at the outset of the game, the Mayfield High School Cardinal frosh rallied last (Thursday) night to knock off previously-unbeaten Carlisle County, 47-46.

Mayfield, now at 6-0, is the only unbeaten team in the First Region Freshman Conference, and barring a loss in their regular-season finale at Murray next Thursday, the conference title should be in the hands of the young Red Birds.

There will be no post-season Frosh Conference Tournament this season.

In action last night, MHS frosh coach Joe Fulks remained at home as the varsity Red Birds were meeting the St. Mary Vikings, and MMS 8th grade mentor Lanny Lancaster took the reigns of the freshman.

Starting frosh speedster Marcus Moss also remained at Mayfield to dress for the varsity game, and another frosh regular, Jesse Moss, was out with the flu.

A third Moss in that frosh lineup, Troy by name, did managed to make his presence felt as he pumped in a team-leading 21 points in Mayfield's win.

Charles Parrott supported that move with 14 points of his own for the victors.

Nelson had 21 to lead the Comets and match Moss for game honors, and he was followed by another 11 coming from Crice.

For the game, Mayfield hit on 17 of 49 field goal attempts for a 35 per cent shooting tally, and the young Red Birds notched a 13-for-19 performance (68 per cent) at the gratis stripe.

Carlisle County canned 19 of 37 field goal tries for a 51 per cent shooting performance, hit on eight of 10 free shots for an 80 per cent mark at the line.

Carlisle County also took the edge on the boards, 22-21, while Parrott hauled down nine individual snares to pace Mayfield in that department.

St. Mary Stuns 'Defenseless' Cards

By MIKE TURLEY
Messenger
Sports Editor

Mayfield's Cardinal cagers found it out the hard way last (Thursday) night.

To win, a team usually needs to play on both ends of the floor, having to put forth a little defensive effort to go along with its offensive attack.

The lesson was delivered via the visiting St. Mary Vikings at the MHS sports arena in a snow-related makeup contest, and the final grade stood at 67-65 in the Vikes' favor.

Mayfield, displaying a smooth long-range shooting touch all night, seemed lackadaisical, at best, in its defensive work.

The deadness lasted through the night, and it cost the Red Birds their fourth loss in 17 outings staged thus far on the season.

St. Mary improved its worksheet standing to a 14-5 overall showing with the win.

Following the game, MHS head coach Roger Fields couldn't find many good things to say about his charges.

Senior guard Mark Buck was still ailing, and didn't appear in the game, and junior center David Youngblood was apparently suffering from a bout with the flu, although he did get 16 points, and haul off eight rebounds, during the night.

"I don't know if it's the flu, or if we're tired (having been scheduled to play six games in eight nights in a torrid makeup game), or what the problem is," Fields said, reflecting on his crew's lack of fire.

"We didn't play any defense all night. We looked like we were just going through the motions, and we were doing it against a good team tonight. You just can't do that and expect to get by with it. We weren't aggressive. We didn't get after anybody, and we just got beat," he concluded.

Mayfield had opened up with a 6-0 lead in the first stanza, but the Vikes came back to force ties at eight-all, 10-all, 12-all, and finally, at 14-all, before the visitors took a 16-14 edge at the first period's end.

Both crews were hitting the strings with regularity, most of the shots coming up from the 20-foot range, and beyond.

The two quints were deadlocked again, at 16-all, and at 18-all, in the second stanza, before Mayfield managed to ease away to a 30-23 separation, with just 2:51 left in the first half.

St. Mary refused to fold, however, and the Vikes were back to within three, at 34-31, by that first half's end.

More Viking bombs at the outset of the third stanza found the St. Mary club scoring the first six points of that third period, and Mayfield was soon down by three, at 37-34, just two minutes into that third canto.

Mayfield managed one more single-point edge, at 40-39, but that turned out to be the last Cardinal lead of the night.

With 2:49 left in that third stanza, Mayfield stepped up its defensive efforts (or their previous lack of such) with a trapping attempt at the Viking backcourt directors.

St. Mary managed to retain the lead, though, and remained up, 53-52, at the three-quarter stop.

Viking starting guard James Watson turned an ankle with 5:15 left in the game, and had to be helped from the floor, but that didn't seem to slow the Vikes' progress.

St. Mary began to control both boards in that late going, despite having only one regular in the lineup over six feet tall, and the Viking lead finally stretched its way out to six points, at 66-60, with 49 seconds left on the clock.

Mayfield seemingly came to life a bit in that last minute, out-pointing the Vikes, 5-1, in the final 40 seconds, but by then, it was too late.

A Don Hubbard two-point with 18 seconds showing on the clock cut the lead to just one, at 66-65, but nine seconds later, after junior guard David Wyatt had fouled St. Mary's David Hammet, the Viking guard bagged the bottom end of a two-shot foul to put the standing at 67-65.

Mayfield took a timeout with five seconds left on the clock, and when the Cards put the ball in from just inside the mid-court stripe, Hubbard fired up a long one from the corner that went wide.

Wyatt picked up the ball in the following scramble, and flipped up a shot that eventually went in, but too late to beat the game-ending horn.

Donald Vinson, who at 6-3 was St. Mary's tallest regular in the lineup, hit on a 10-of-17 pace from the floor to record a night-high 23 point outing for the winners.

He also shared game-high rebounding honors with Viking forward Ronnie Scheer as each of the leapers pulled off nine individual takedowns.

Hammet hit for 17 points to aid the winners' tally, and Scheer tossed in another 10.

Joey Shelton, hitting on 11 of 18 shots, paced

Mayfield's attack with 22 points, most of those coming from the long-range zones in the corners.

The senior wing was followed by sophomore guard Wes Mills in a nine-for-twelve shooting performance, also from the long-range distances, as the young backcourt regular put in 18 markers for the night.

Youngblood's 16 rounded out the Mayfield charts for twin-digit performers.

For the game, St. Mary hit on 31 of 56 field goal attempts for a 55 per cent mark from the floor.

The Vikes also made good on five of nine free flips for a 56 per cent reading at the line.

Mayfield's cagers bucketed 32 of 61 field goal tries for a 52 per cent shooting performance, but the Cards got washed out at the line, hitting on just one of only two trips to the charity line, all night long.

St. Mary was called for only one foul in the first half, and Mayfield's first appearance at the line came with just 20 seconds left to be played in the game.

Team rebounding charts found both crews with about two dozen team snares for the night.

Some 19 Red Bird turnovers also did little to enhance Mayfield's changes for what would have been the Cards' 14th win of the season.

Mayfield gets a chance to get back on the winning track this (Friday) evening, playing at home to entertain the visiting Hickman County Falcons.

The Red Birds will also be at home tomorrow (Saturday) night, playing host to Ballard Memorial's Bombers in another snow-related makeup affair.

Heath Lady Pirates Top 'Cats, 49-26

FARMINGTON, Ky. — Heath's Lady Pirates pulled away in the second and third stanzas of their game at Farmington last (Thursday) night to eventually record a 49-26 win over the hosting Lady Wildcats.

The Lady Bucs had been up by only at 10-8, at the first period's end, but came on to take a 28-13 lead at the half, and stretched that to a 38-19 split at the three-quarter pole.

Stevens and Warcord each hit for 10 points to pace the winners in their scoring attack.

Connie Perkins took game scoring honors for Farmington with 13 points to her credit, and Lisa Ballentine followed her lead with 11 more for the Third District representatives.

For the game, the Lady Pirates hit on 18 of 46 field goal attempts for a 39 per cent shooting tally from the hardwood, and also bucketed 13 of 23 charity tosses for a 56 per cent reading at the line.

Farmington's girls hit on nine of 37 field goal attempts for a 24 per cent mark from the floor, and the Lady Wildcats canned eight of 18 free tosses for a 44 per cent recording from the stripe.

Heath also took command of the boards, out-rebounding the Farmington girls, 44-34.

Perkins and Lisa Ballentine also led their team in that column, each of the girls hauling off 13 individual snares for the night.

The Lady 'Cats will be back in action on Saturday (tomorrow) night, playing along with the Wildcat boys' team in a boys and girls double-header at the Lowes Blue Devil arena.

Rough Riderettes In OT Win Over Gophers

SYMSONIA, Ky. — The Symsonia High Rough Riderettes needed some extra time to get the job done last (Thursday) night, but when it was all over, they'd taken a 54-49 win over the visiting Fancy Farm Lady Gophers.

The Symsonia girls had led for most of the game, only to be caught near the final fourth-quarter buzzer as Fancy Farm bagged a two-pointer with just 13 seconds remaining in regulation playing time.

That basket tied things up at 43-all, and when Symsonia committed a turnover during a last-second go-ahead attempt, the affair went into overtime.

The Rough Riderettes' Vickie Crockett scored the first two-pointer of the extended-time zone to put the host crew up to stay, and as Fancy Farm was forced to foul in efforts to regain possession of the ball, the Symsonia girls put it away via their performance at the free stripe.

Junior guard Kelly Courtney hit for six Symsonia points in the overtime, all six of those at the gratis line, as Fancy Farm fell back to 9-5 on the year with its second straight loss.

(The Lady Gophers are still playing without the services of starter Jeannie Harris, away from action this week due to a death in the family.)

Crockett, who bagged that first two-pointer in the overtime period, hit for a game-leading 14 points on the night, and Courtney's six late charity tosses helped to give her 13 for the game.

Center Laura Carman also had 13 for the victors. Brenda Kilcoyne hit for 13 to lead the Lady Gophers.

For the game, Symsonia hit on 16 of 53 field goal attempts for a 30 per cent shooting tally, and the winners also canned 22 of 36 gratis tosses for a 61 per cent mark at the line.

Fancy Farm's girls hit on 15 of 51 field goal attempts for a 29 per cent showing from the floor, and the Lady Gophers cashed in on 19 of 32 free tries for a 59 per cent reading at the stripe.

Symsonia also took the board lead, out-rebounding the Fancy Farm girls, 45-38.

Carman led all comers in that department by hauling down 17 individual snares for the winners.

Symsonia will be back in action at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 22, playing on the road in a makeup game at Reidland.

Fancy Farm's girls will play again on Saturday (tomorrow) night, on the road at Wingo for a boys and girls double-header makeup affair, staged as a part of the annual Wingo 'homecoming' festivities.

ONE-HANDER — Mayfield's Joey Shelton, a senior wing, gets a hand up as he guides the ball toward the hoop at the MHS sports arena on Thursday night. Shelton went 11-for-18 from the floor last night in carding 22 points during a 67-65 loss to the visiting St. Mary Vikings. Most of his points came via long-range bombs from the deep corner, a favorite spot for the veteran Red Bird forward.

Notre Dame 'Family' Tops Tripucka Clan

NEW YORK (AP) — The Tripucka clan was out in full force at Madison Square Garden.

There was Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tripucka and two of their children sitting in the stands. There was Kelly playing for Notre Dame. There was Tracy coaching Fordham and there was T.K. playing for his older brother.

"The Walton Family," Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps called the reunion, chuckling.

But when the game ended Thursday night it wasn't the most together family in the world. Loyalties were divided after Fordham lost to Notre Dame 96-76 — and it was a larger "family" of Notre Dame players that did it.

"I've never had more depth," Phelps said in between signing autographs and shaking hands in the celebrative Notre Dame locker room. "I've had players with better individual talents. (John Shumate and Adrian Dantley came quickly to mind).

The Irish, playing in the second game of a doubleheader at the Garden after Georgetown edged Mahattan 81-80, had little trouble flicking off Fordham, one of the few easy touches on their brutal schedule.

What little competition the second game offered, the first game more than made up for.

Georgetown at first didn't live up to its ranking as the nation's No. 18 team and fell behind by 16 points in the first half. The Hoyas were guilty of 18 turnovers and some poor shooting.

"I told my players that I was embarrassed for them," said Coach John Thompson.

Derrick Jackson and John Duren led a spectacular late rally after Manhattan had forged a 22-point lead, at 64-42. A 22-5 scoring burst in which Jackson and Duren scored nine points apiece keyed the Georgetown comeback and the Hoyas finally won in breathtaking style.

In other games involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 1 Arkansas whipped Southern Methodist 86-75; No. 8 DePaul defeated Wisconsin-Green Bay 55-49; Purdue upset No. 10 Michigan State 99-80 and 13th-ranked Providence edged Jacksonville 52-50 in overtime.

Elsewhere, Indiana beat Ohio State 83-70 behind Wayne Radford's 23 points; Ron Joshua's 18-foot jump shot at the buzzer gave Arizona State a 76-75 decision over Brigham Young; Creighton beat Indiana State 89-57 as John Johnson scored 19 points; Penn State edged West Virginia 76-75 behind Jeff Miller's 31 points and Charlie Brent's 17 led Wichita State to a 64-56 decision over Tulsa.

Mayfield Advances To Final In 7th Grade Tournament

Teams from Carlisle County and hosting Mayfield won last (Thursday) night in opening-round play at the Mayfield Middle School 7th Grade Invitational Tournament, being staged at the MMS courts this week.

In the opener, Carlisle County topped Ballard Memorial, 46-32, and then in the nightcap, the MMS 7th graders blasted the 7th grade Cuba Cubs, 60-13.

Tourney action resumes at the MMS hardwood at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, with Cuba and Ballard Memorial meeting in the consolation matchup.

Following that, the Mayfield and Carlisle quint's will tangle in the championship bout.

Mayfield's 7th graders, now at 7-3 for the season, have lost twice to the young Comets this year. Carlisle clipped Mayfield by two, 46-44, at Carlisle County, back on Dec. 19, and then the Comets took the regular-season rematch at the MMS floor, 38-30, on Feb. 9.

In Thursday's nightcap, Mayfield held only a 7-6 edge over the young Cubs at the first period's end, but increased that to a 20-8 split at the half, and after having taken a 42-13 lead at the three-quarter pole, held the visitors scoreless in the final canto to increase the night's final separation.

James Parrott and Jerome Owens each had 11 to pace the winners, while Terry Davis put in five to lead Cuba's attack.

For the night, Mayfield hit on 27 of 78 field goal attempts for a 35 per cent shooting tally from the floor, and the victors also canned six of 15 free shots for a 40 per cent mark at the line.

Cuba's troops bucketed four field goals, and hit on

Wingo Girls Lose In Lowes Battle, 58-34

LOWES, Ky. — Bouncing back from a Tuesday-night upset at Fulton County, the Regionally top-ranked Lowes Lady Blue Devils picked up their 18th win 20 outings staged thus far on the season by popping the visiting Wingo Lady Indians, 58-34, at the Blue Devil arena last (Thursday) night.

Lowes roared out to a 16-6 lead at the first-quarter stop, and remained in control from that point on.

Sophomore center Cindy Smith paced the winners with 13 points on the night, getting twin-figure support from senior wing Jill Hart's 10 markers.

Senior wing Lindy Shelby tossed in a night-high 20 points to pace the efforts of the Lady Tribe.

For the game, Lowes hit on 21 of 58 field goal attempts for a 36 per cent shooting tally from the floor.

The winners also canned 16 of 24 free shots for a 67 per cent reading at the line.

Wingo's girls hit on 10 of 46 two-point tries for a 22 per cent showing from the hardwood, and the Lady Indians also collected 14 of 26 charity tosses for a 54 per cent reading at the line.

Lowes commanded the boards, out-rebounding the Wingo club, 51-35.

Jill Hart had 17 to pace the winners there, followed by 13 more from Cindy Smith.

Sophomore guard Deana Hart stepped up the Lowes backcourt work by passing out five assists for the night.

The Lowes girls will be back in action on Saturday (tomorrow) night, hosting Farmington's Lady Wildcats in a part of a boys and girls double-header at the Blue Devil floor.

Wingo's girls will also be playing in a double-header tomorrow (Saturday) night, hosting Fancy Farm's Lady Gophers at the Wingo 'homecoming' festivities.

Debbie Austin Seeking Repeat LPGA Victory

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The goal of Barbara Reidl is a simple one as the first round of the Ladies Professional Golf Association $60,000 Orange Blossom Classic begins today.

"It's to make the cut," says the 21-year-old blonde amateur.

Miss Reidl, a native of Sydney, Ohio, will be playing her first professional event at the Pasadena Golf and County Club. She is among only a half-dozen amateurs to make the 54-player field.

For Debbie Austin, who suddenly has done well after eight years of obscurity, her goal is a repeat of last week's victory in the opening 1978 tour event at Kendale Lakes in Miami.

Judy Rankin won the tourney last year.

Hot-Shooting Comets Burn MHS Lady 'Birds

BARDWELL, Ky. -- Carlisle County High's hot-shooting Lady Comets avenged an earlier season loss to Mayfield's Lady Red Birds last (Thursday) night, turning back the invading MHS girls, 58-49.

Dr. Morgan Is Leader At LA Open

LOS ANGELES (AP) -- A bunched field in the $200,000 Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open Golf tournament set sights today on an optometrist who leads his closest competitors by two strokes.

Dr. Gil Morgan, who has postponed a career of looking into eyes to look down the fairways, fired a 5-under-par 66 in the opening round of the tournament and says it might be nine years or so before he stops playing competitive golf.

The 31-year-old eye doctor from Wevoka, Okla., shot seven birdies with putts of up to 30 feet to head 146 rivals in the quest for a $40,000 winner's purse in this 72-hole event at the 7,029-yard Riviera Country Club course.

Dr. Morgan, winner of the B.C. Open at Endicott, N.Y., last year, banked $104,817 in tournament earnings in 1977 and admits that's more than he would make any of his first few years as an eye doctor.

Carlisle County edging away to a five-point lead at the first period's end, and then getting up by nine at the half.

Mayfield matched the hosts, point-for-point, in the second half of play, but couldn't overcome that first-half disadvantage.

Cindy Rambo led a balanced Lady Comet attack with 18 points, followed by 16 from Lisa Bean, 14 more from Linda Burton, and another 10 from Jeanne Hogancamp.

Sophomore wing Jan Shelton tossed in 18 for the Lady Red Birds to share game scoring honors with Rambo, and junior front-line regular Terri Humes was right behind her with another 17.

Senior guard Kim Ray is still out of action for the Lady 'Birds, suffering from a knee injury.

For the night, Carlisle County hit 27 of their 50 field goal attempts for a wicked 54 per cent shooting tally from the floor.

The winners also hit on four of six charity tosses for a 66 per cent count at the line.

Mayfield canned 20 of 55 field goal tries for a 36 per cent reading from the floor, and the Lady 'Birds bucketed nine of 23 free shots for a 38 per cent mark at the stripe.

Mayfield charts had the visitors out-rebounding the Comets, 34-29, with Shelton hauling off 11 for the Lady 'Birds, and center Pat Williams taking off another 10.

Burton hauled away 11 for Carlisle County to share game honors in that column with Shelton.

HOT SHOT - Sophomore guard Wes Mills, No. 22, shoots up a long one at the MHS sports arena Thursday night, en route to scoring 18 points against the visiting St. Mary Vikings. Mills went nine-for-twelve from the floor, most of his buckets coming from the 20-foot zone. Mayfield lost, however, falling to 13-4 on the season with a 67-65 setback.

Don't Count Celtics Out Of It, Just Yet

By The Associated Press
Don't count the Boston Celtics out of the National Basketball Association playoffs yet.

The Celtics, seemingly out of contention not long ago, suddenly have regrouped, winning six of their last seven games, and are beginning to again put fear into their opposition.

Their latest victory was exceptionally eye-catching, a 98-95 decision Thursday night at Phoenix, where the Suns had won 16 in a row.

"You have to give Boston credit ...," said Phoenix Coach John MacLeod, whose Suns have the league's third best record, 36-18. "They controlled the game for the most part and made the big plays at the right time."

Boston now is 20-31 and has a long way to go to overcome some of the teams ahead of them in the playoff race. But since captain John Havlicek announced his retirement, effective at the end of the season, and Kermit Washington was reinstated following a two-month suspension, the Celtics have played "more inspired basketball."

In other NBA games, the Cleveland Cavaliers routed the Denver Nuggets 119-87, the Washington Bullets whipped the Buffalo Braves 123-109, and the New Jersey Nets beat the Seattle SuperSonics 101-92.

Cavs 119, Nuggets 87 Cleveland took command by outscoring the Nuggets 13-2 during the final 3:45 of the first period for a 27-16 lead. By halftime, the Cavaliers were ahead 58-38 and Denver, the Midwest Division leader, never got closer than 16 points after that.

Kentucky May Be Viewing A 'Second Season'

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) -- The Kentucky Wildcats begin what could be billed as a second season Saturday night when they face Mississippi State, their closest rival in the Southeastern Conference race.

"I just can't wait for Saturday and then come Monday," said senior forward Rick Robey. "This is a big weekend for us."

The Bulldogs, 14-7 overall and 9-3 in the SEC, could throw the SEC race up for grabs with a victory Saturday, which would drop the Wildcats to 11-3.

Hot on the Bulldogs' heels will be Alabama, the first team to defeat Kentucky this season. The Crimson Tide enters Rupp Arena for a regionally televised contest Monday night.

All agreed a grinding practice session Tuesday had a tonic effect on the team and contributed to Wednesday's 90-77 victory over Tennessee.

"We had one of the best practices I think we've had all year," Robey said. "We had 14 guys out there playing good, hard-nosed defense. We had people that were scrapping on each other. This is what we need. It was a good, tough practice and I was glad to see it."

Hall, who dearly loves good defense, agreed, saying, "we had great intensity in our defense. We didn't play that way (against the Vols), but the practice was so encouraging that I have to believe we're coming out of it."

"Tennessee had been playing good basketball," he said. "They had lost by three and four points on the road to Mississippi State and Alabama, so that's an indication that we're playing better and, hopefully, we'll start up the ladder."

"We're all going through a stage where we're trying to get our confidence back," said senior forward Jack Givens.

Evansville Crash Ended Company's Passenger Service, Official Says

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The new president of National Jet Services Inc. revealed Wednesday that the firm dropped out of the airline passenger business after a Dec. 13 crash here that killed 29 persons.

Clifton Martin testified at a National Transportation Safety Board hearing here that the company is only operating as a cargo transport service. On the advice of his attorney, Martin later declined to comment on why the Indianapolis-based firm discontinued chartered-passenger service after the crash.

He was among seven witnesses during the second day of hearings into the DC-3 crash that killed the entire University of Evansville basketball team moments after takeoff from Dress Regional Airport. The hearings are scheduled to end Thursday.

Martin was operations director when the accident occurred, but in responding to questions he indicated he knew very little about the daily operations. He frequently answered "I sure don't know why they did things like that" during questioning by NTSB investigators.

Asked if he told anyone that National Jet did not want to make the ill-fated flight Martin said, "I don't remember if I told them that or not."

Asked if he knew anything about the airline wanting to cancel the Dec. 13 flight, he said "only rumors that I heard."

Asked who he heard them from, he said "I don't remember."

When asked why qualified pilots were not aboard the jet as stipulated in the university's contract with National Jet, he said "I don't know why. I didn't have anything to do with that. I was in the hospital."

Charles Daily, airport fire and security chief, finished testimony on Tuesday concerning the training of fire and rescue personnel. Other testimony came from Charles A. Quick, the Federal Aviation Administration employee who inspected the airport Dec. 12.

Other witnesses Wednesday included Lawrence Rudolph, one of the first state troopers at the crash site and coordinator of the state police investigation; James Stapleton, airport manager; Edwin McDaniel, an FAA employee responsible for National Jet maintenance inspections and Sid Kimball, an FAA employee who handled National Jet's overall operations inspections.

Federal investigators introduced evidence Wednesday concerning an incident involving Gaston P. Ruiz, the DC-3's copilot, on June 11, 1973, at New York's LaGuardia Airport.

Ruiz landed the plane safely, but control tower personnel said Ruiz was excited and unintelligible in their conversations with him during the flight, the NTSB said. He was hospitalized for heat exhaustion after being pried from behind the control wheel by rescue workers who found him semirigid and incoherent.

Martin said he didn't know about the incident when Ruiz was hired. "If I had known about him we wouldn't have hired him," Martin said.

Francis McAdams, NSTB member and chairman of the hearings, said the hearings leave a lot of questions unanswered.

"It's hard to eliminate anything at a hearing like this," he said. "It looks like we're going to have to do a lot of examining even after the hearings. We may have to take another look at the engines."

"I would suspect that the aircraft was properly loaded, but we're going to have to get our sliders out on that. I just wish there was a flight recorder on board. It would make things a lot simpler if we had some idea as to what went on in that cockpit from the time the plane began its lift-off until it crashed."

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE is a service for senior citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems — fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write HEARTLINE, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45831. You will receive a prompt reply, but you must include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

HEARTLINE: I am 62 and I just retired from my job. I am going to draw my Social Security benefits along with my company's pension. When I retired from my company, they took me off their group hospitalization so now I have to purchase private insurance until I am eligible for Medicare. I talked to one agent and he kept talking about preexisting health conditions. Can you tell me what this has to do with buying health insurance? M.K.

A. This provision is one of the least understood yet one of the most important provisions of a health insurance policy. A preexisting health condition is a condition which you were treated for prior to your policy being issued. Many policies will not provide for health conditions which before the policy went into effect. In some policies, such conditions are covered after a specific waiting period, such as a year after the policy has been issued.

When applying for a policy, most companies will ask questions about your medical history. It is of the utmost importance that you disclose full information on the application about your medical history — for example, injuries, hospitalizations, or illnesses. If you fail to include in the application any preexisting health condition, the company can deny your claim on the basis of misrepresentation or failure to disclose full information.

It is very common for a policy to contain a provision under which the company may deny a claim or rescind coverage during a specified period after policy issuance for reasons of misrepresentation at the time of application. This provision is generally two years. After that period, such a provision does not apply. The policy, in effect, becomes incontestable and the company must pay for your claim.

For people who have problems understanding their health insurance, Heartline has developed a book to help them. "Heartline's Guide to Health Insurance" covers the major questions you will have concerning the purchase of health insurance. This book covers Medicare supplements, disability income policies, and regular health insurance policies. There is also a policy checklist in this book which will help you in asking questions to an insurance agent that calls on you. To order, send $1.50 to Heartline's Guide to Health Insurance, P.O. HEARTLINE: I was at my doctor's office last week and they had a newsletter from the National Association of Older Americans. They had some interesting features in it. I would like to get in touch with this organization, but I did not write their address down. Do you know anything about this group? B.J.

A. The National Association of Older Americans (NAOA) is a new organization just ending its first year of existence. The purpose of NAOA is to aid older Americans in as many ways as possible.

The NAOA organization offers one of the most informative and entertaining newsletters available to senior citizens. Subjects range from consumer protection ideas to coverage of all governmental retirement programs. They have a prescription drug program that offers substantial savings and they offer a very competitive Medicare supplement health insurance policy.

For free information explaining NAOA, write to Heartline-NAOA, 114 E. Dayton St., West Alexandria, Ohio 45831. Please enclose one 13 cents stamp with your request.

HEARTLINE: I am 66 years old and a widow. I am drawing my Social Security benefits. I also work part time and I make $1800 in wages during 1977. Will I have to file an income tax return with the IRS? J.C.

A. In your case, no, if your gross income from wages, interest, or dividends was less than $3700 during 1977, then you would not have to file an IRS tax return. However, if you are due a refund on the taxes you paid then you must file a return to receive these. This $3700 figure is just for single people who were 65 or older during 1977.

80 Tons Of Coal Dumped On Woodford County Roadside

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — About 80 tons of coal was dumped on U.S. 421 in Woodford County near the Franklin County line Thursday morning, state police said.

The coal dumping was reported to state police around 7 a.m. Troopers found two truckloads of coal along both sides of the highway at its intersection with Kentucky 1685, which was blocked by the coal.

A state police official discounted the possibility that the dumping was related to similar incidents involving striking United Mine Workers Union members and trucks hauling coal from non-union mines.

The coal was cleared from the intersection by mid morning.

Col. Leslie Pyles, filed operations commander for the state police, said it "may be rather difficult" to determine the circumstances surrounding the dumping, but he said he does not believe it was related to the UMW strike.

Pyles speculated the coal may have been dumped at the intersection by overweight coal trucks after drivers heard on Citizens Band radios that state weight scales were open near Shelbyville on Interstate 64.

December 1977, inclusive.

Step B: When the stockpile of recoverable coal at such 10 plants is reduced to 750,000 tons, all other customers will be asked to curtail their electric energy use by a total of at least 30 percent.

Step C: When the stockpile of recoverable coal at such 10 plants is reduced to 500,000 tons, TVA and the distributors will only make available on a weekly basis to its industrial customers of 500 kW and above electric energy equal to a level of 50 percent of the energy used on a weekly basis during the four highest months of the period July through December 1977, inclusive.

Step D: When the stockpile of recoverable coal at such 10 plants is reduced to 250,000 tons, TVA and the distributors will only make available to industrial customers of 500 kW and above electric energy equal to minimum housekeeping requirements.

Step E: Rotating blackouts will be initiated as dictated by power system and supply conditions.

It is required that industry make curtailments as designated by Steps A, C, or D on a weekly basis. Any industry using more than the energy available in any week will be disconnected effective at any time that use for that week and the following week exceeds twice the weekly energy available. Such disconnection of service will continue for the remaining duration of the emergency.

circumstances that a customer believes should be taken into account in determining the power to be made available, the customer may request a variance. Such request will be considered by TVA in determining the power to be made available for that customer. TVA will also consider pooling arrangements among industries which would result in at least the same energy savings while providing a lesser adverse impact on employment.

State Auditor Vows To Continue With Or Without Agency Budget

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State Auditor George Atkins asked a legislative committee Thursday to restore his normal funding but he vowed to continue his duties no matter what the outcome.

"I'm going to audit, if we have to enlist volunteers," he told the joint Appropriations and Revenue Committee.

Atkins said he feels that Gov. Julian Carroll's proposed budget would "subvert" his office rather than saving money and making it more independent as Carroll claimed.

The proposed budget slashes the customary appropriations by more than 90 percent and makes Atkins dependent on fees from agencies he audits.

That, he said, would be equivalent to strip mine inspectors being dependent on coal operators for funding or bank examiners on the banks they check for their budget.

"Why not appropriate funds directly to the auditor, unless the motive is control of the money?" he asked.

"Why would a single agency whose budget represents on 5-10,000ths of the entire executive budget, be singled out for such a radical change?"

"It's this simple," he said. "For independence, a governmental audit agency cannot be dependent on those it audits for its revenue."

Several committee members asked if Atkins would be satisfied with various hypothetical arrangements, and Atkins indicated not.

Rep. Joe Clarke, D-

Danville, wondered if the state Finance Department could assume responsibility for paying the auditor's office is paid for all audits it conducts — there is no state law requiring payments.

"I'm only going to be in office another year and a half," Atkins said. "The principle goes beyond that."

The auditor also commented that the amount of money he saved the taxpayers from one audit — dealing with the Pepper warehouse lease controversy — would have been enough to pay for one year of his agency's operations.

Dayan Tells Consequences Of Plane Sales To Egypt

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter's decision to sell top-line jets to Saudi Arabia may stiffen Israel's determination to hold on to military airfields in Sinai in negotiations with Egypt.

This became clear as Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan told reporters after a meeting with Carter that he is "very upset" about the prospect of the Saudis being able "to cover the entire Israeli sky without refueling."

Dayan signalled a drive to either get Carter to change his mind, which seems unlikely, or to persuade Congress to block the $2.5 billion deal. There is a much better chance of that.

Already, 10 of the 15 members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee have recorded their opposition. Rep. Clarence Long, D-Md., has launched a drive to block arms sales to Egypt and Israel as well as Saudi Arabia, and Republican Party Chairman Bill Brock criticized the package as ill-timed during critical negotiations.

The Israeli campaign, which also seeks to scuttle sale of 50 F-15s short-range fighters to Egypt, will grow in intensity next month as Defense Minister Ezer Weizman and then Prime Minister Menachem Begin visit here.

"The Saudis, when they get the F-15s, would be able to get to Eilat, (Israel's vital Red Sea) within 10 minutes," Dayan said.

"The Israeli people would be also demanding that all 19 civilian settlements be dismantled. Israel is trying to retain them, but in a concession, Dayan told a news conference Thursday, it is prepared to have policemen rather than troops protect the settlers.

Dayan, during his tightly scheduled day, met with Vance over lunch, with Carter for a half-hour, saw reporters and met with House members on Capitol Hill before flying home.

Overdose Is Ruled Cause Of Death Of Mary T. Moore Sister

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An autopsy showed that the 21-year-old sister of actress Mary Tyler Moore died of an apparent drug overdose, coroner's investigators said Thursday.

Investigator James Kono said the autopsy on Elizabeth Moore found "pulmonary edema, a lung congestion that is consistent with someone who has taken an overdose." Kono said investigators would be able to tell by Friday exactly which drug or drugs she had taken.

Miss Moore died Wednesday at the home of her aunt, Alberta Hackett.

The victim's sister, Mary Tyler Moore, was in New York completing filming on the movie, "First You Cry" when she heard the news.

Her publicist, Bob Crutchfield, adding that she was returning to Los Angeles.
