THE LISTENING POST

It is beginning to appear that some big things are brewing for Australia, and there appears little doubt now that American airmen and American soldiers will play a big part in whatever comes to pass in that Down Under land. From guarded dispatches which appear from Australia it seems that United States forces are pouring into that area and a determined effort will be made to stop the conquering Japanese hordes there. Already the Japanese are stabbing at the outlying defenses of Australia and have occupied a ring of bases from which to launch their drive against the mainland.

It will be remembered that Primer John Curtin of Australia urged the Allied high command many weeks ago to abandon all hope of defending Java and concentrate their strength on Australia. At the time he expressed that forthright belief that Java could not be held and really gave a pretty good prediction of what would happen. He said the Allies would be faced by overwhelming odds in trying to defend the Dutch island and would suffer heavy losses. He also said they had no chance of stopping Japan there. Unfortunately he told the literal truth.

It was a costly venture and the Allied forces were practically destroyed. All the naval strength was lost, many of the bombers were destroyed, and so far as is known all but a small contingent of American troops surrendered to the enemy. The Java campaign ended in complete victory for the Japanese, although let us hope they suffered damaging losses in the fighting. However, the Allied naval forces were practically obliterated, giving Japan full control of the seas adjacent to Java and rendering the United Nations helpless to combat their advance. Naturally the Allied command did not believe all that Premier Curtin said. Perhaps few people did believe all this, and perhaps Curtin did not fully believe it himself. He was speaking for his own nation, of course, but it is tragic that his worst fears were fully realized.

Now the battle shifts to the shores of the great Australia continent. Naturally it is more or less guesswork as to whether the Japanese will move in force against Australia, or against India, or perhaps try to take both at the same time. That is one of the difficult features the Allied Nations must face. The Japanese can make their own decisions and the United Nations must be ready to meet thrusts in any directions. One puzzling feature right now is the seeming inaction against General MacArthur in his Bataan fight against overwhelming odds. It seems reasonable that Japan would move to liquidate this situation as soon as possible, for MacArthur must be a thorn in Japan's side as long as he holds out. There appears little doubt that Japan has the power to blast him out and then reduce the harbor forts whenever the commanders are willing to pay the price. Perhaps the Japanese believe that MacArthur will soon run out of necessary supplies and believe they can wait until this comes and thus save lives and materials. However, I believe it will be a matter of pride for the Japanese to really beat MacArthur in fighting, and probably one of these days they will launch an attack that will continue around the clock day after day until the small force can no longer stand.

But without much doubt, some history is going to be written around the shores of Australia before many days. That appears to be the logical place for a knock-out fight between Japan and the best troops that can be thrown against the Nipponese by Australia and the United States. Let us hope that this Nation is really getting a big force of planes into Australia. Every campaign has been lost thus far because of inferior Admission is 25c and 25c is given for each question answered correctly. Also you are urged to send in questions (leaving them in the boxes provided at the local drug stores), as 25c is paid for each question used and an extra quarter is the question is not answered on the program.

This week's program will be divided into two classes—those under 14 being in one group and those over in another group. A $25.00 defense bond will also be given away at the program.

State Soon To Be Free Of Debt For First Time Since Early History

Frankfort, Ky., —Kentucky, for the first time since its early history, soon will be free of its war-rant debt.

Governor Keen Johnson announced today the last of the state's outstanding interest-bearing warrants, amounting to $495,000, had been called for payment March 25.

When newsmen to whom he made known the call asked for a statement, the governor remarked tersely:

"It speaks for itself. There's nothing romantic or spectacular about paying off a debt. You run into debt and crawl out. We've been a long time crawling out."

The warrant debt was reduced to its present size from approximately $26,000,000 in slightly more than six years.

When the last payment call lowered the outstanding warrant total to $495,000—which bears one per cent interest—it was the first Frankfort, Ky., —The Kentucky state Senate may have tossed into its lap tomorrow a proposed adjustment of the state's Senatorial districts which a legislative committee has been working on for the past week.

The announcement that a Senatorial redistricting bill was expected to be reported to the Senate tomorrow by its redistricting committee was made late today by Senator E. C. Dawson, Nelson county Democrat, head of both the Senate committee and the joint group of Senators and representatives which drafted the bill.

Task Not Complete The joint committee of both Houses, Dawson said, had not completed the task of realigning House districts according to 1940 census figures.

The proposed new Senate districts were presented to the full Senate redistricting committee this afternoon, and, although it had not yet been approved, Dawson and several others expressed confidence that the committee tomorrow morning would vote to recommend its passage.

Redistricting the state, the task for which Gov. Keen Johnson called the current special session of the general assembly, so far has been an exclusively committee assignment.

Again today, both chambers met, found they had no business to transact and were adjourned within a few minutes. Both are to meet at 11 a. m. tomorrow, with the Senate redistricting committee scheduled to meet at 10 a. m. for further consideration of the bill handed it today.

Bill's Provisions Although committee members were reluctant to reveal any provisions of the bill, it was understood that it would give Jefferson county five instead of four Senatorial seats. It also would provide additional representation in the Senate for heavily populated areas of Southeastern Kentucky.

Moving Assembly Line Speeds Output Of American Bombers

San Diego, —Today at the Consolidated aircraft plant an engineer pushed a button just as the men on the 7 a. m. shift took their work stations, and thereby started something new in the aircraft industry.

It's a continuously moving assembly line for big bombers, which, it's hoped, will speed up the delivery of the ships to the battlefronts.

The line moves on an extremely wide-gauge railroad track. Perched on top of it are the huge bodies of the four-engined B-24's.

That line will be in constant motion, varying the huge hulks from the minute the shell is buttoned together until it rolls off the line, a completed steel bird.

Starts As Metal Shell The B-24 is the biggest land bomber now in mass production for our air forces.

There are now so many B-24's on the line that the men who carry messages from one work crew to another get around in little electric trucks.

The ship starts at one end of the line nothing more than a huge metal shell. It moves down the line, growing as it goes, getting wings, pipes, nuts, bolts, instruments—and finally getting its engines and other essentials. It rolls out into the sun, ready for the air.

The crews which work on the ship are assigned to "stations," and at each station there is a certain number of jobs which must be done.

Until today, when those jobs were done, the ships on the assembly line were hitched forward to the next station and to the next work crew.

Now the ship moves constantly toward a yellow line on the floor. When the ship hits the line, the job must be done. The crew hops out. The next crew hops in. The first crew runs back to the beginning of its station and tackles the new body that has moved up into place.

The moving assembly line probably won't mean a saving of time, commensurate with the cost, mechanically speaking. But Consolidated's management feels that it will be valuable psychologically for the work crews. There will always be the incentive to finish the job before the moving ship hits the yellow line.

The moving line has made it necessary to eliminate the climbing the work crew has to do. The ships are surrounded by flights of stairs and work platforms. Now they, too, are on wheels. They roll with the moving ship.

FARM BOYS AT BAGDAD BUY BONDS Collect Scrap To Help Pay For Them

Lexington, Ky., —The forty-eight members of the Bagdad Chapter Farmers of America chapter aren't just gabbing about Pearl Harbor—they're pitching in and helping Uncle Sam do something about it.

The organization has purchased three $25 defense bonds since the Japs struck in the Pacific and has pledged to buy one each month until the end of the school term.

In addition, individuals in the group are buying bonds, and boast of owning $75 worth of defense stamps.

In accomplishing this patriotic project, the Bagdad boys are killing two birds with one stone.

To help pay for the chapter's bonds, the lads are collecting and selling scrap metal and waste material for the war effort.

The F. F. A. youths pay Shelby County farmers for the iron and steel and receive other waste material free. The boys furnish trucks for the collecting, and the chapter pays for gasoline.

Part of the earnings derived from the co-operative raising of hogs went for bonds.

The individuals who purchased bonds paid for them out of money earned from their Future Farmer projects. The chapter is sponsoring the sale of defense stamps in the school and each member is buying the stamps systematically.

The boys also are engaged in other defense activities, including the farm machinery repair program and the food for freedom plan.

During the first two weeks the repair program was in effect, the lads brought machinery in from forty farms to be repaired in the farm shop. Plans already are under way to raise more gardens next year and more feed for livestock.

KITE FLYING NEAR ELECTRIC POWER LINES DANGEROUS

The kite-flying season among boys and girls is now in full swing and Kentucky Utilities Company managers and other employees through the State are requesting parents and teachers to warn children not to fly kites near electric power lines, substations and other equipment.

Kite string containing fine wire may come in contact with heavily charged power lines and seriously shock the kite flyer. And youngsters may be injured by burns, shocks or falls if they climb on electric line poles or into substations enclosures to rescue kites caught in the equipment.

FORDHAM HEAD WOULD OFFER DEGREES AT 18

Educator Offers Scheme For Hurrying Education

New York, —The Rev. Robert I. Gannon, president of Fordham University, today urged adoption of an accelerated education system to allow students to earn college degrees by the time they reach 18.

He said in his annual report that such a program would mean "six years of grammar school, three of high school and three of college."

Pointing out that the bachelor's degree can now be secured in three years, the educator declared:

"It took a world-wide war to convince America that her educational schedule of time was unreasonable. We have been forcing our youths to give half their lives to formal schooling on the assumption that they will never learn anything after they graduate, instead of concentrating on the maximum with which they can make their whole lives an education."

"Now, at last, we have been faced with a 'ceiling age,' 20. It seems low by comparison, but it is still too high. If a professional man is to marry before he is 25, and it is to his spiritual advantage and the advantage of society that he should, the bachelor's degree must be a possibility at 18."

To meet the speedup, Father Gannon said students should be eliminated ruthlessly from training for which they have no capacity.

About 70 "Jeeps" Held In Fulton Until Permit Granted

About seventy jeeps of the United States army, being transported from Toledo, Ohio, to a camp somewhere in Louisiana, are being held up on the State Line in Fulton awaiting a permit to cross Tennessee. Several days delay has been caused in getting the permit due to a holiday in the Tennessee capital. These transports which are carrying the jeeps belong to private concerns and therefore a state permit is necessary in order to cross the various state lines.

There are nine carriers tied up here, each carrying about eight of the jeeps. They have been in Fulton since Sunday.

IT'S FUN BUYING TIRES BUT TRY KEEPING 'EM

Clarksburg, W. Va. — It was great fun while it lasted, but when it was all over redfaced tire dealer had to scurry around buying back more than 100 brand new tires from reluctant customers.

No one knows just how it started, but word went around that the government had released certain type tires from the rationing restrictions and the tires sold like hot cakes for a few hours—until the county rationing board stepped in.

Washington, — Secretary of War Stimson announced tonight that United States Army units including air and ground troops in considerable numbers now are in Australia.

The Allied and Japanese air forces fought inconclusively yesterday in the Northern Australia skies and while the grand test of invasion was yet awaited, the Australian press published unconfirmed reports saying the enemy was moving large forces out of China, presumably for use in Australian waters.

All that was immediately vital seemed to center in that theater. The Philippine theater was quiet and the only development of consequence in Burma was a disclosure that small British Indian forces had seized the initiative to recapture and subsequently withdraw from three towns east of the Sittoung river in East Burma.

Thrust For Morale This thrust appeared of value principally for purposes of morale. Whatever forces the enemy might have been marshalling on Australia's distant approaches—and the reports of troop movements from Central China could be fitted also into a pattern of heavier assault in Burma—the only visible struggle remained the struggle for the air.

Port Darwin in Northern Australia, the incomplete Allied naval base, was heavily raided by 14 enemy bombers and the damage was apparently considerable.

Australian and American airmen were in virtually continuous counter-action.

The strongest new thrust reported by them during the day was an assault on the Japanese airdrome at Dill on the invaded island of Timor, northwest of Darwin, where every bomb fell into the target area. The United States War Department supplemented with the announcement that on last Friday the eastern end of the enemy's invasion are above Australia had been attacked. A single U. S. bomber, raiding a Japanese-held air field at Fabaul on the island of New Britain, smashed at least two enemy planes around and went away unhurt.

Public Writes Congress Of Labor, Strikes, Wages — Action Unlikely

Washington, — Congress members today reported a heavy volume of mail demanding that they do something about strikes in war industries, time and a half and double time wage demands any payments, freezing wages and other labor questions.

But at the same time usually well-informed Congressional sources discounted the change for action along these lines.

Senator Ellender (D., La.), a member of the Senate Labor Committee, said he believed there had been a misinterpretation of President Roosevelt's recent press conference statement that the question of wage control as a war measure was under study. Others suggested that the President's comment might have been intended to head off any runaway treatment of labor legislation in Congress.

"After all, everybody knows we can't stop strikes by passing bills," Ellender said. "Of course, we could put management and labor under the thumb of Government in the same manner as soldiers and sailors, but that would be totalitarianism and the thing we are warring against."

A similar view came from Senator Danaher (R., Conn.), who said, "One of the commonest misapprehension on the part of the public arises from the belief that strikes can be prevented by legislation."

Both asserted that President Roosevelt now has broad authority to take over any plant or industry impeded by a strike or other labor difficulty and noted that he had exercised this power.

"If the President lacks this authority, the Congress can and will give it to him," Danaher added. "But the Congress cannot force men to work unless this country is going to go completely totalitarian."

Ellender said effective operation of the wartime price control act would remove any excuse for wage increases.

SUPREME COURT DECISION

Of what use is the Federal Anti-Racketeering Act? The question is suddenly made one of the considerable moment. To suppress tactics employed by local members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters against "over-the-road" truckers in New York City, Assistant Attorney General Arnold obtained numerous indictments in 1938, charging violation of the act. Twenty-six persons were convicted. The convictions were upset last year by the Circuit Court of Appeals and now the Supreme Court of the United States affirms the reversal by six-to-one vote.

According to the Anti-Racketeering Act any person who in connection with the moving of goods in interstate commerce obtains or attempts to obtain payment of money or other consideration by the use of, or threat to use, force, violence or coercion is subject to punishment. There is a qualifying clause that on its face is innocent enough. It provides that "payment of wages by a bona-fide employer to a bona-fide employee" is excluded. This clause now proves all-controlling as to whether the defendants were guilty.

What the defendants did, according to the testimony, was to form into roving groups and stop trucks of non-union employers as they reached New York from out of town, refusing to permit them to proceed or unload without the "help" of a member of a local union. The "help" sometimes consisted solely of watching the regular driver work for which "help" the fee on large trucks was $9.42 and on smaller trucks $8.41. This is what Mr. Arnold termed an "economic toll bridge" which he estimated added $1,000,000 to the cost of trucking food and other commodities into the city.

Nevertheless, six members of the high court rule, in an opinion by Justice Byrnes, that the objective of the defendants was to become bona-fide employees and that, therefore, they were immune to prosecution as racketeers under the act, even if they committed violence. Chief Justice Stone's characterization of this judicial construction will meet with wide appeal. As he observed in his vigorous dissent it is rendering "common law robbery an innocent pastime" to say that a truck owner who paid money "only in order to avoid a beating" was a bona-fide employer.

GETTING READY

When Admiral King announced that the United States Navy is engaged in building up vital air and sea communications with a view of developing an offensive that will gain in scope and power as time passes just about outlines the participation of the United States in the war at this time. The nation is still engaged in the preparatory phase at home as well as in the battle zones.

American defenses at home and abroad are at present in the early or the middle stages. Factories are not yet grinding at that capacity which will make Uncle Sam's battle lines bristling and menacing. Thin lines are drawn all over the world. At points these lines are being expanded into fortifications of growing strength. As factories step up production and ships become available to carry this production to strategic points, America's military might will develop to its peak.

In the meantime the enemy in the Pacific is advancing. Java is the last link in the forward wall which the United States and its Allies had prepared as a first line of resistance. The job now is to prevent the Japanese from fanning out in an effort to conquer a broader zone of the South Pacific and of the Indian Ocean, pushing the United Nations farther from the Japanese sphere. It is there that the preliminary

TEA AND TOBACCO

It is one of the anomalies of a global war that despite the disruptions that have come to the regular channels of commerce commodities regarded as necessities by certain nations do manage to get across the perilous oceans. That is true of tea. Tea in some manner contrives to get out of the Orient into the consuming markets of the Occident.

The people of England and Ireland put away vast quantities of tea and they still have a supply.
America is a considerable consumer of tea and is still able to get it, although there is some speculation that the consumers in the United States will have to turn eventually to the yerbe mate. This variety is sometimes known as Paraguayan tea. It has never been popular in the United States, but as the war lengthens Americans may learn to like it.

Another instance of a popular demand contacting a supply of a commodity is shown in the increase in the allowance of tobacco in England. Tobacco has been put under the lease-lend program and tons of the weed from the United States are crossing the Atlantic to grateful British smokers.

cally. One of the enemy craft de-

BEELETON HOMEMAKERS MEETING MARCH 11

The Beelerton Homemakers club held its regular meeting March 10 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. George Gardiner at her home near Water Valley with 11 members and 15 visitors present. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Dennis McDaniel, the president. Each member answered the roll call with the title of some Irish poem or song.

Mrs. McDaniel and Miss Wilson gave a report on the advisory council meeting. Miss Wilson gave suggestions on food scarcity and ways of management, transportation, shortage of equipment, recreation, the care of clothing and changes, and the scarcity of medicine and labor on the farm.

One new member, Mrs. Leonard Wilson was added. The club was very glad to have Mrs. Wilson become a member.

At 12:00 the meeting adjourned and everyone enjoyed the dinner which was potluck. In the afternoon Mrs. Duke and Mrs. Fite gave the lesson on altering and fitting patterns and one blouse was remade. In the absence of Mrs. Hamp Clapp, program conductor, Mrs. Robert Gardiner conducted the recreational program. The club sang the following songs—"The Boy and The Rose," "America," "Remember Pearl Harbor," "Star Spangled Banner," "America, The Beautiful," "My Wild Irish Rose," and "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair." A solo was beautifully given by Miss Wilson.

The club then surprised Mrs. Gardiner with a miscellaneous shower, complimenting her new home. Games were played and prizes were won by Mrs. Jessie Gardner and Mrs. George Gardner.

Visitors present were Mesdames Ed Brown, Herbert Kirby, Forest Burner, Ben Gardiner, Frank Willy, Clarence Oliver, Leonard Wilson, Guy Brown, F. M. Jones and Billy Jones of Fulton, James Boaz, Willard Duke, Arthur Stewart and Ned Saxson and daughter, Charlotte, of Pryorsburg.

MERINGUE SHELL

2 egg whites 1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon corn starch 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup KARO (red label)

Place egg whites in mixing bowl; add salt, vanilla and corn starch. Beat with rotary beater until they begin to hold shape. Add KARO, 1 tablespoon at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Meringues should be glossy and stiff enough to stand in peaks. Place heavy ungreased paper on a baking sheet; shape meringues in shells on the paper with a spoon or pastry bag. Bake in a slow oven (250 degrees F.) 1 hour, or until dry and faintly browned. Remove from oven; let cool 5 minutes, and remove from paper with a sharp knife. Cool thoroughly. Fill with jellied berries or other fruit and place in refrigerator to set. Makes 4 large meringues 5 inches in diameter, or 6 small meringues.

A GOOD TIME TO REBUILD OR REMODEL

Building material in many lines is difficult to secure right now. Next spring it will probably be more difficult and higher in price. Paint will be hard to secure next year and the price may be higher. If your home needs repairing and repainting this spring it is a good time to do the work.

If you lack money our service opens the way for you. We make prompt appraisals and action on loans is taken speedily. There is little red tape involved and if you will bring your problems to us we think we can solve them.

Remember that painting and repairing this year will prolong the life of your home.

SPORT TALK

With basketball out of the way and quite a long time between the middle of March and Kitty League baseball time, thoughts of many are turning to golf these days. Sunday afternoon several foursomes were playing the local course, and before long work will start on getting the course cleared and ready for play. The greens, while quite rough at present, appears to have wintered quite well and it is not likely that a great deal of work will be necessary on them. The past winter has been a wetter one than for the past few years and the greens now appear to be well watered far down. Some top dressing and rolling will probably bring them around in pretty good shape, and the water that has soaked in from snows and rains during the winter will make for better grass in coming weeks. Also it is good to know that there will be sufficient water for watering this year when the weather gets dry. The new well is in good shape, and the old one has been repaired, and this should insure an ample supply of water for all purposes this season. Many people believe that lack of water has done more to damage the greens here than any other one thing, and this theory should be given a good tryout this summer.

One big improvement has recently been made in the appearance of the grounds here. The red water tower, which has been a landmark of the Country Club for many years, has been torn away and this makes the grounds adjacent to the club house much more attractive. The old water tower was never a success, and for the past few years has been merely a blot on the landscape. Removing it is a forward step.

What the prospects are for members this year remain to be seen. Many of the younger players will be lost, due to being called to military service, and restrictions on tires may have a tendency to cut down on out of town members. However, more people are now making good money this year than for the past several years and this may result in many new members for this season. Within a short time plans will be made for a membership campaign, for before many weeks the course must be put into shape for the summer's play. It is not likely that as many tournaments will be played this year, for travel is going to be restricted and not many people like to use their automobiles any more than is necessary. Perhaps some plan might be worked out of doubling up, or using buses, that would permit tournaments to be played with neighboring towns, but all this remains to be arranged for in the future.

It will be good news to baseball lovers that Moon Mullen has signed a contract to come back this summer to handle the Tigers in the Kitty League race. Moon has always been popular with local fans, and added to this popularity last season by driving his team into third place for the finish. Last year he had a hustling ball club that with a bit more luck might seriously challenged the league leaders, Jackson. No doubt Mullen will be able to build a pretty good club again this year, for he has some bright prospects. It is understood that Dave Derrick, stellar shortstop, may return from Detroit, where he is now working, and he will furnish the main pivot of a good infield. Naturally we are going to miss Popeye Walker, who will be tossing grenades for Uncle Sam this season, but there are some fine prospects and Mullen knows how to get the best out of ball players.

New Concord upset all predictions in the regional tournament by going to the finals and then whipping Murray Saturday night. However, New Concord lacks a lot of being the best team in the region. Luck blew to the top, just as luck blew Fulton out when they faced Tilghman. Against Fulton Tilghman could not miss a shot; against Murray the Tornado could not hit a shot. New Concord played well to win the finals, but the Red Birds do not represent the class of the First Region.

MISTRESS OF SEAS HAS SUFFERED HEAVY SHIP LOSSES IN WAR

203 British Warships Sunk In Two And Half Years

New York. — Great Britain, heaviest loser in the naval battle of Nava, has also lost more warships than any other nation in the two and one-half years of the world conflict, a survey of Associated Press records showed Sunday.

The Axis has sunk 39 British submarines, 70 destroyers and 94 other craft.

Britain's Allies have lost 76 warships of all kinds, while her Axis foes have paid with 195. Sixty-four Nazi vessels have been destroyed, 62 Italian and 69 Japanese.

The Japanese have had to use their fleet to guard their landing operations and hence their casualties have increased rapidly. If transports are considered naval vessels the Jap toll is considerably higher.

The totals include five cruisers, 14 destroyers, a battleship and a pocket battleship for the Germans, 10 cruisers, 17 destroyers and a battleship for the Italians, 18 destroyers, a battleship, 11 cruisers and an aircraft carrier for the Japanese. British figures also include three battleships, two battle cruisers, 14 cruisers, four aircraft carriers and seven corvettes. The 13 American losses include five destroyers and a battleship.

U. S. TO TRAIN FUTURE FLIERS IN CHILDHOOD

Air Courses Mapped For Primary Schools

New York. — In an announcement which for the first time delineated a national aviation program designed to make the United States supreme in the air for the war effort, Robert H. Hinkley, assistant secretary of commerce for air, says aviation courses will be made available to students in elementary and secondary schools.

Roughly, the educational program is intended to counteract the German primary and secondary school program, instituted in 1936, which has poured 25,000 young men a year into the German Air Force.

The government's aim is to provide pre-flight training of pre-college American youth. "More than a million members of the Hitler youth organizations," Hinkley said, "were building model airplanes in the primary schools" in the middle of the last decade. More than 100,000 older boys were in gliding and soaring camps. The Nazis were annually training 65,000 pilots and mechanics. Every year they graduated 25,000 of these into the armed services—with results that we all know.

BRITISH TOLD TO LEARN TO COOK VEGETABLES

Manchester, England. — Lord Woolton Minister of Food, said today that "the war in the Pacific has affected meat supplies" and advised Britons to "learn how to cook vegetables and serve them in a manner which people like." He spoke at the opening of a government restaurant.

40 MPH SPEED LIMIT ASKED BY ROOSEVELT

Washington. — President Roosevelt has written state governors asking their co-operation to conserve rubber by limiting the maximum speed of all motor vehicles to 40 miles an hour and requiring frequent checking of tires for possible repair or retreading.

The White House announced today that identical letters had been sent to the governors of all 48 states.

"Reduction of speed limits and regular inspection of tires," the president said "constitute another important means of federal-state cooperation in the war effort."

MALAYAN LEADER SAYS AUSTRALIA NEEDS EVERY MAN

Sydney, Australia. — Maj. Gen. Henry Gordon Bennett, who commanded Australian forces during the Malayan campaign, said today that every man of the Australian Imperial forces overseas was needed at home to meet the danger of invasion in this country.

In a speech here Bennett urged that Australia eliminate "bar-racks, square principles," which he said trained the initiative out of the troops.

He criticized Allied intelligence methods as being "the weakest possible kind," declaring that before the beginning of hostilities the Japanese knew everything that was going on in Malaya.

ARMY BEGINS INDUCTIONS PRIOR TO EXAMINATIONS

Washington. — A new system for inducting selective service registrants into the Army became effective today.

Heretofore men subject to call have received notice from their local boards to report for the physical examination ten days before induction.

Under the new plan, registrants will receive orders for immediate induction, and the physical examination will come afterward.

The change was adopted at the request of the War Department, which has agreed to grant immediate ten-day furloughs to men to wind up civilian affairs.

I. C. SHOPS AT PADUCAH EXPECT RECORD PAYROLL

Paducah. — The Paducah shops of the Illinois Central Railroad will expend the largest payroll in its history during this war year, it appeared certain today on the basis of present production schedules.

Illinois Central officials estimated the 1942 payroll at $3,225,000 if existing schedules are maintained as expected, or possibly increased.

Approximately 1,400 persons are employed at the shops, excluding transportation and other operating departments and are working two overtime shifts of nine hours and twenty minutes each, six days a week.

U. S. CHARTERS VESSEL TO EXCHANGE ENVOYS

Washington. — Acting Secretary of States Welles disclosed today that the Swedish liner Drottningholm had been chartered to take German and Italian diplomats to Lisbon and to bring home the American diplomats and consular officials waiting there for passage to the United States.

The Drottningholm, Welles added, also will carry to Portuguese East Africa the Japanese diplomatic and consular officials who will be exchanged there for American officials brought from Japan and Japanese-occupied territories.

FIRE TRAIN SLOW, USES WOOD AS FUEL

Dublin. — A train took two hours and twenty minutes to travel the seven miles between Dublin and Dunlaoghaire recently. The delay was a result of Eire's neutrality, which has produced a fuel shortage so acute that the engine boiler has to be fed with planks, old boxes and blocks of wood that the fireman can pick up along the line.
