THE LISTENING POST

Last week certain members of Congress stated the so-called "grassroots uprising" which demanded that the 40-hour week be abrogated for the duration and that strikes be outlawed by act of Congress was in reality a sinister plot which had been planned by certain newspapers in Oklahoma. These spokesmen admitted that much mail was coming in, but asserted that it was inspired at one source and represented a dangerous plot to undermine the confidence of the public in our national leadership.

Yesterday I received complete reprints of the editorials which started all this furore. I read them quite carefully in an effort to find the sinister touch of which the Congressmen spoke. I studied the phrasing of each editorial carefully, trying to see the things which proved Gaylord to be working for national disunity. I did not find these things.

I merely found a series of editorials which had been written by a man who is alarmed by our present condition. He is alarmed by the fact that we do not seem to be able to do away with strikes when such strikes threaten our national existence. He is alarmed by the fact that we seem to believe we can work half as much as German and Japanese workers work and still achieve victory. He is alarmed that labor leaders seem to have the last word in our national policies, and by the added fact that native-born American workmen who do not belong to a labor union do not have as much rights in the American scheme as do alien workers who carry a union card. He is alarmed by the fact that workmen must pay large sums of money to organizers before they can get and keep jobs in defense work. He is alarmed by the fact that strikes increased 76 per cent in February over January, and by the resultant fact that man hours lost in February increased 206 per cent over January. He is alarmed by the fact that he knows the straitjacket of the forty-hour week is holding production down at a time when it is vitally and terribly needed.

There are many other things which have alarmed Mr. Gaylord and in this series of editorials he has listed many of his alarms. Reading as carefully as I could I failed to find a single statement in any of the editorials which indicated that Mr. Gaylord might be interested in losing the war. On the contrary, every sentence he has written burns with a passionate love of the Nation, and I can only say that he has indeed done a great service in starting this uprising on the part of the so-called "little people."

As to whether the plan will do anything no one can say. The same questions have been brought up and disposed of on other occasions Congress had proved before this that nothing is going to be done about outlawing strikes or calling for more time to be put in. The lower house may pass this present bill, which has been submitted by Representative Smith, but it is a known fact that the Senate will kill it as soon as it reaches those sacred portals. However, I certainly hope that the plan to investigate Mr. Gaylord is carried out. I would like to see this investigation made, for I do not believe that any investigator can get anything sinister out of what the Oklahoma publisher has done. In so far as I can see and understand, he has merely been a pretty good American and has started something which might result in our winning this war much earlier. In

Nelson Declares Labor And Business Must Reach Plan To Speed Vital War Production

Says That Two Groups Should Be Able To Sweep Aside All Obstacles And Gain Maximum Production Of Material

Issues Warning That Unless This Is Done An Aroused Public Will Take Drastic Steps Against Both Organizations

INTEREST IS MOUNTING IN BAPTIST REVIVAL

Last night the Evangelist Wade House brought a soul stirring message to a large audience attending the revival at the First Baptist Church, selecting his text from the ninth chapter of Mark's gospel and telling the story of the boy possessed with a devil, whom Jesus cast out immediately after he came down from the mount of transfiguration.

"The idea of a personal devil does not belong back in the sixteenth century but is as real and vital as life itself today. We use people possessed by devils on every hand, those who have gone so far along the road of sin, that they are unable to help themselves and who need to be brought to Jesus. And Jesus turned away from the crowd and gave his personal attention to the need of the father and son who implored his help. Jesus will always lend his attention and help to all who call upon him in sincerity and truth. So pray on for your loved ones and do not be discouraged. Your prayers will be answered in God's own time.

"The Apostles had tried to cast out the devil and had failed. He was so often fall because we do not stay close enough to Jesus. We who are so indifferent need to wake up and realize that half the people of Fulton are lost. That many of our boys are going away without Christ into an army and navy, one half of whose officers are rank infidels. Surely these sons of ours will not be prepared to die under such officers unless you see to it that he carries Christ in his heart before he leaves your fireside. The chances are very slim that he will get much of a dose of religion in the army. "Some preachers would have us believe that the world is getting better because we have replaced the log cabin with our steam heated houses, the oxcart with automobiles, etc. But are we making real progress when history records, in letters of fire and destruction, nation after nation who made material progress and forgot God to their utter ruin and undoing? "God sent his Judgment at the height of their affluence and crushed all the puny things that man calls progress."

Tonight the subject of the message will be "What Can Christians Do To Help In The Present Crisis?" There will also be a religious defense program at the High School auditorium Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Every one is invited to hear this man of God at 7:30 each evening.

Smith Would Modify His Work Week Proposal To 48 Hours

Washington, -- Representative Howard W. Smith, Jr. (D. Va.), whose bill to suspend the 40-hour work week law has caused a furore in and out of Congress, Sunday night revealed he is willing to modify the measure so as to provide for time and a half pay for work in excess of 48 hours a week. "The 40-hour week law does not make sense in war time," Representative Smith said, continuing: "To us 40 hours as a base period for figuring wages does not make for orderly production planning, not to mention the big additional financial burden it places upon taxpayers and Government bond buyers who are financing these contracts."

Washington, -- Amid an increasing clamor at the capital for new labor legislation, Donald M. Nelson delivered a warning to labor today that both it and management must sweep aside obstacles to maximum arms production or expect rigid controls imposed by an indignant public.

For one thing, Nelson told a meeting of CIO leaders, labor must give up for the duration extra pay for Sunday and holiday work falling within a regular work week.

For another, the war production chief said, it must eliminate any possible basis for charges that union restrictions retard production.

The CIO meeting was assembled by President Philip Murray primarily for the purpose of mapping opposition to the various pending proposals for labor legislation.

To Murray, President Roosevelt sent a telegram recalling that in recent years workers had "gained new privileges and reaffirmed old rights."

"If we lose this war," Mr. Roosevelt said, "they and all the rest of our American liberties will be lost."

The CIO meeting went on record in favor of wage increases and guarantees of union security.

The conference also denounced what it called the "current campaign against labor."

While it proceeded, House leaders touched off a series of demands for action on labor legislation by announcing they had made tentative plans for a two week recess beginning next Monday.

Chairman Norton (D-N. J.), of the House labor committee defended labor's war production record in a brief speech in the House and accused "certain groups" of seeking to "breed disunity x x x and to play the game that Hitler wants to play."

In the Senate, there was talk from Senator Herring (D-Iowa) and others of attempting to force from the labor committee to floor consideration a bill passed by the House last year outlawing strikes in arms industries. Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.), introduced a bill to require registration of all persons 18 years of age or older for war work. He would let the President order them to work and fix their rate of pay.

While opposing extra pay for Sunday or holiday work which was not overtime, Nelson indicated that he thought the 40-hour week should be retained with provision for pay at extra rates for work in excess of 40 hours. The wage-hour law requires time and one-half pay for such overtime.

Recognizing that this is a people's war, the government comes to America's 40,000,000 wage earners to help it foot the stupendous bill. It is asking them to invest in a share of the country's freedom by signing up for Defense Savings Bonds NOW, to do so REGULARLY OUT of current earnings, and to do so more and more.

200 Dog Sentries Are Trained For Guarding Supply Depots

New York, --Two hundred dogs are being trained for army sentry duty here to guard supply depots against spies and saboteurs--and there isn't a rookie dachshund among them.

But it isn't prejudice or lack of patriotism that bans the sausage-shaped dachshund--a fighting dog from stem to stern--from active army service. His size just hasn't caught up with his courage.

Paying tribute to the breed's audacity, Harry I. Caesar, president of Dogs for Defense, Inc., said that the dachshund, which is trained in its native Germany to drag the fox and sharp-clawed badger from their holes, was too small for army sentry work.

The job requires a dog with a bite to match his bark. Asked which breed was best, Caesar said: "That is a very ticklish subject among dog owners and I don't want to get in the middle. Almost any medium-sized dog can be trained."

200 Dogs Being Drilled The 200--members canine corps being drilled by Dogs for Defense to work with human sentries is the forerunner of many more to help the army police its supply storage centers.

"In all the depots there are places where saboteurs, once inside, could hide and escape the eyes of the most alert sentry," Caesar explained. "They could not, however, elude the scenting and hearing of a properly trained dog."

Caesar called upon owners of suitable dogs to volunteer their pets for selective service. He added the tactful suggestion that persons owning poodles, lapdogs and other small fry could contribute funds toward the purchase and donation to the army of watch-dogs.

LEON BROWDER W. A. JOHNSTON ARE COUNTY CHAIRMEN

Two Well Known Citizens Head Up County Defense Committee

The Defense Savings Staff of the U. S. Treasury, Mr. Ben Williamson, Jr., State Chairman, Mr. S. A. Phillips, State Administrator, Louisville, Kentucky, announce the appointment of Leon E. Browder and W. A. Johnston as Chairmen of Fulton County Defense Savings Committee.

Mr. J. S. Bates, Jr., Deputy Administrator, was in Fulton conferring with the Chairman and his executive committee relative to the organization for the county. The duties of the Fulton County Defense Savings Committee will be to promote and stimulate the sale of bonds and stamps to every man, woman and child in Fulton County and to let each and every man, woman and child in the county have a sense of direct participation in the defense of their country and at the same time make an investment in the safest investment in the world today, namely, the United States of America.

The United States must have an army large enough to carry the battle to the Axis anywhere and everywhere; a Navy to span two oceans and all the waters between; merchant ships, planes, tanks, motorcycles, scout cars, and a score of other transportation carriers.

More and still more munitions will be needed, more guns, more textiles for uniforms; more buildings for greater plant capacity; adequate housing for millions of troops and civilian workers; public utility services, stores, laundries, hospitals--an unending succession of accoutrements of relentless war.

War is never cheap but every conquered nation in Europe bears mute and tragic proof that it is a thousand times cheaper to win than to lose.

Recognizing that this is a people's war, the government comes to America's 40,000,000 wage earners to help it foot the stupendous bill. It is asking them to invest in a share of the country's freedom by signing up for Defense Savings Bonds NOW, to do so REGULARLY OUT of current earnings, and to do so more and more.

The goal: 100 per cent participation for the duration--on a regular and constantly greater scale. The slogan: Make every payday Bond day.

Mr. Browder states that he will as rapidly as possible announce the various subcommittees, and just as soon as his organization is completed, same will be announced through your paper. Mr. Browder states that he is quite confident the people of Fulton County will, in this all-out war effort, as they have in the past, do their share and has assured the state organization that there will be no doubt as to the all-out effort of the people of Fulton County in this program.

Economic Exhaustion May Bring End To Conflict At Early Date

New York, --Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, said Sunday economic exhaustion may end the war sooner than many expect and "there is every sign that the mistakes and blunders of 1919 and the following years will be avoided."

"The war may last for an indefinite time or it may, through economic exhaustion come to an end earlier than many anticipate," he said in his annual report on the Division of Intercourse and Education of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. "In either case, the division is prepared to carry on."

Dr. Butler, president of the foundation, said: "It is entirely clear that public opinion in the United States and in the Latin American countries has moved rapidly forward during the last year toward acceptance of those principles of international co-operation to establish and protect world peace which the Carnegie Endowment has been persistently urging for more than a quarter century."

"If and when the collapse of hostilities comes through the victory of the defenders of liberty there is every sign that the mistakes and blunders of 1919 and the following years will be avoided and that a long step forward toward world organization for peace will be taken by something approaching unanimous consent, at least on the part of the free nations."

Table with 2 columns: Ship Status and Count. Includes rows for Combatant Ships (35), Damaged (10), Non-Combatant Ships (48), Believed sunk (14), Damaged (11), and Combatant Ship.

The Navy communique tonight said that the combatant ship probably sunk was a destroyer or anti-submarine vessel, indicating that one American submarine skipper turned the tables on the Japanese. The merchant ships sunk were described as a 7,000-ton tanker, a 6,000-ton ship and a 5,000-ton freighter.

The succinct phrase, "United States' submarines operating on Japanese waters," has appeared with increasing frequency in recent weeks in the terse Navy announcements. It suggests American undersea boats are lurking hard by the sealanes from big Japanese ports, stalking and picking off Nipponese ships outward bound with war supplies and troops or inbound for fresh loads.

In addition to this campaign of attrition against the troop and cargo carriers, the American skipper get an occasional shot at a warship convoying the freighters.

China Sea Targets Besides operations in waters around Japan proper, the American submarines have found targets in the China Sea, route for Japan's supplies to the south seas front, and at other points referred to by the Navy only as "in far eastern waters."

In this latter theater during recent weeks, the submarines have sunk a Japanese destroyer leader and a large naval tanker and put out of action by torpedo hits an aircraft carrier and three cruisers. This is in addition to action against merchant ships.

NEWGROUNDS—OLD STYLE

Here lately we have been hearing and reading a good deal about how people these days clear up new-grounds. A man tells us he has a special sort of a disk that is pulled by a tractor, and after this disk has been back and forth a few times, he says nearly all the roots and small stubs are chopped to little bits.

For one who can look back a number of years, the contrast is interesting. After the trees had been felled, the logs and firewood got out, the brush piled and burned, and the smaller stumps grubbed out—all by man or mule power—then cultivation could begin, after a somewhat tough and painful fashion.

Maybe the best implement we recall was a jumping colter, even if it didn't by any means always jump when it was supposed to. It was a glorified sort of bulltongue plow with unusually stout, heavy beam and handles.

Sometimes these optimistic anticipations came true. At other times the colter jumped the plow right behind a root, (the mules didn't stop soon enough), the handles of the plow jerked up and lashed back, and if the plowman was slow, he sat down hard a little way back in the furrow.

Or perhaps even more infuriating occasions the root stretched at the impact of the colter and the mules kept pulling. Then, just before the mules quit, the root gave way with a snap, the mules lunged ahead and the root flew back to crack the plowman slap on the shins.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

The river is still rising rapidly at Hickman and merchants are now building scaffolds on which to store their merchandise above the water level.

Dr. S. Cohn is in the I. C. Hospital for an examination.

Mrs. R. L. Gray is reported improving, after having an arm broken and other injuries in an automobile accident.

Miss Dorothy Drysdale is able to return to school, after undergoing an operation some time ago in a Memphis hospital.

Aunt Josie Jordan, well known colored nurse, died a few days ago in Chicago. The body will be brought back here for burial.

Mrs. Walter Bynum died last night at her home on Bates street.

R. L. Drysdale is reported seriously ill at his home near Crutchfield, after suffering a stroke of paralysis.

Esq. S. A. Hagler, Judge Chas. D. Nugent and Esq. Pat Henry left today for Frankfort, to confer with the state highway department regarding road work in the county.

Hunter Whitesell reports the production of 2400 eggs during the 28 days of February by his flock of 129 hens and seven pullets.

Black and Veatch, Kansas City engineers, will do the engineering work for the paving of streets in Fulton, the city council announced today.

This, by the way, was the situation that moved an old man of many years and ripe wisdom to allow that the Lord undoubtedly gave men and boys plowing in new-grounds a special license to cuss.

All in all, working old-style new-grounds was something that kept a fellow from complaining too much about anything else that happened to him. It was a great life if you didn't weaken, and, as an old negro said of it, "you shore had to have grease in your greens to stand it."

Family Tradition Says Watch is Good Luck Piece

Seattle.—So long as Skinny Wainwright has his big silver pocket watch, the Japanese on Bataan peninsula might just as well save their shells.

So thinks Mrs. Jennie Mears, sister of Skinny, otherwise Lieut. Gen. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, commander of the American and Filipino Army on Luzon.

"I'm not nearly as worried about him as I would be if I didn't know that he had with him the big silver watch with a waterproof case that our father, Maj. Robert Powell Page Wainwright, carried with him all through his campaigns," Mrs. Mears said.

"It's a family tradition that no harm ever came to him while he had the watch in his pocket."

ARMY ORDERS JAPS OUT San Francisco—Forcible evacuation of all Japanese from Bainbridge Island in Puget Sound, opposite the Bremerton, Wash., Navy Yard, was ordered Sunday by the Army, effective March 30.

The order, signed by Lieut. Gen. J. L. Dewitt, commanding general of the Western Defense Command and Fourth Army, was the first compulsory exclusion action taken by the Army against West Coast Japanese.

Evacuations already under way in Southern California and elsewhere are still on a voluntary basis.

CRIPPS REACHES INDIA ON FATEFUL MISSION

London.—Sir Stafford Cripps arrived in India Sunday on his fateful assignment to win India's full co-operation in the war against the Axis by offering a formula for Indian freedom.

The Socialist special emissary reaches India at a critical moment in the British Empire's history, with the war already at Indian's doorstep and with the country's internal political cross-currents complicating the problem; but as he arrived there came reports of brightened prospects for the success of his mission.

Sir Stafford and his party arrived by seaplane at Karachi. A special plane will take them Monday to New Delhi, the Indian capital.

PLANE SAVES 56 AT SEA London—A great four-motored Sunderland flying boat of the R. A. F. has rescued 56 British seamen who were drifting off the African coast after their ship was torpedoed, the Air Ministry disclosed Sunday.

The pilot upon locating the seamen, who had been adrift for 16 hours, decided to try to take them all in. He already had aboard his own crew of 12. The big plane roared across the water for a full five miles before it gathered enough speed to take the air.

Lieutenant Z. W. Pigue Weds Miss Maxine Poynter In Lovely Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Maxine Poynter, daughter of Mrs. James T. Poynter of Maysville, Ky., to First Lieutenant Zelmer W. Pigue, son of Mrs. G. H. Pigue of Water Valley, Ky., was solemnized at seven-thirty o'clock Saturday evening, March 21, at Fort Thomas Chapel. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Bergstrom amid floral decorations of yellow and white.

Preceding the ceremony music was furnished by Mrs. Graff, soloist, who, accompanied by the organ, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, who was given in marriage by Colonel A. McMahon, wore a gown of heavy white faille with a long torso from which fell a very full skirt extending to form a long train. Tiny faille buttons fastened the back of the bodice and trimmed sleeves at the wrist. Her fingertip veil of tulle fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of lilies of the valley, white carnations and gardenias.

Mrs. Melvin Manley of Maysville served as matron of honor and wore a light blue faille gown, her flowers being pink, blue and white sweet peas in a colonial bouquet.

The bridesmaids, Misses Elizabeth Loyd and Elizabeth Berry both of Maysville, carried blue and white sweet peas with corresponding color flowers in their hair. Miss Loyd wore a gown of pale yellow faille and Miss Berry wore pink faille.

The groom was attended by Captain William C. Bertsche, Captain J. C. Hoffman, Captain J. F. Frieberg, Lieut. B. C. Key and Lieut. N. S. Grove. The bride and groom passed under the traditional arch of swords as they left the Chapel. The bride's mother wore a gown of navy blue crepe with white trim and a corsage of yellow sweet peas and sweetheart rosebuds. The groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Bertie Pigue of Fulton, wore a white moire dress with red jacket and a corsage of red and white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception and dance was given at the Cincinnati Country Club by the officers of the Cincinnati Ordinance District and attended by the sixty-two officers with their wives and the wedding party. The wedding cake was cut by the groom with his saber.

At 11:40 the bride and groom left for New York, Philadelphia and Washington, the bride wearing a suit of maize color with black accessories. Upon their return they will reside at 600 Torrence Lane, Cincinnati.

The bride finished high school in Maysville and will continue her employment in the Ordnance District Office. The groom was graduated from Water Valley High school, received B. S. and E. E. degrees at the University of Kentucky, B. A. from Transylvania. He was associated with the Kentucky Utilities Company, Graybar Electric Company and General Electric Company before becoming a member of the Officers Reserve Corps, being called to duty on St. Valentine Day, 1941 as 2nd Lieutenant and receiving a promotion to First Lieutenant February, 1942. He will continue his duties as Chief of the Administrative Division of the Cincinnati Ordnance District.

SPORT TALK

It appears the turnover in coaches for the next year is going to be pretty high. Many coaches started making changes last year and the trend is continuing as defense jobs and the army draft make inroads among the coaches. Casey Organ, who has been at Marion, Kentucky, for the past five years as athletic director has resigned his post there and will become a highway patrolman. Marion has done pretty well in football and extremely well in basketball in recent years and a change there will probably interfere to a certain extent with prospects for next year. Union City lost Billie Barnes a few weeks ago when the army called him up, and as far as this corner knows no new coach has been named there. Coach Giles at Fulton is leaving shortly for a Navy assignment, and there may be some other changes in the coaching lineup at several schools before next fall rolls around. It seems more than likely that there may be a shortage of topflight coaches, for the draft is going to take a lot of these before the year is out. Too many jobs which pay better pay are opening up, and all told, we are likely to see many new faces among the coaches next fall when football begins again.

There is considerable agitation over the matter of spring football in Kentucky, and already in Tennessee one big conference has done away with spring football work. The Big Ten Conference over there, of which Union City is a member, has turned from spring practice to track, and several of the schools are not having spring football work this year. I am not informed whether this is being observed universally, but noticed that Somerville and Ripley had given up spring practice. It does not appear likely that Jackson will give up this extra football work, for the Bears loom pretty large in football and play a heavy schedule, some of the teams being out-of-state ones and Jackson really takes football rather seriously. Dyersburg, too, started a heavy football program last year under a new coaching system, and probably is not interested greatly in deemphasizing football.

Many schools, it is said, favor giving up spring football, but most of the larger ones, Paducah notably, do not look with favor on the idea. Paducah's program is built solidly in football, and Coach McRight says that at least 20 days must be used in the spring to make adequate plans for the fall campaign. Paducah also plays a heavy schedule, including some strong teams in other states, and Tilghman officials do not want anything which would lower the brand of football they have built up there in past years.

Basketball players will be honored here Friday night when the Lions Club gives its annual dinner for the Bulldogs. The Rotary Club always entertains the football squad at the end of the season, while the Lions Club for several years has given a similar dinner for the basketball squad. At this dinner the boys usually elect their captain and the coach awards the letters to the boys who have won them. An interesting program is being prepared for the dinner and it is likely that some out-of-town speakers will be on hand to talk to the boys. The dinner will be served in the school cafeteria, and about 25 or 30 boys, coaches and school officials will be guests of the local club.

Spring practice will be speeded up here this week, as it is planned to get this completed in time to start track work. It is understood that the track squad may go to an invitational meet to be held in Cairo this year, as well as the two meets which are held annually in Murray. It seems likely that the Bulldogs will have a fair track squad again this year and perhaps one good enough to win the Purchase Conference.

JAPS IN ISLANDS GET GOOD WORK FROM STAFF OFFICERS

Americans Reported To Be Getting Fair Treatment

Melbourne, —High-ranking members of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's staff said Sunday that Americans interned in the Philippines are receiving reasonably good treatment at the hands of the Japanese, with the exception of one bad internment camp at Davao.

Although complete details of a prewar agreement between the Japanese consul in Manila and General MacArthur regarding details of any internment cannot be revealed, it can be said that the Japanese—so far as is known—are treating the American internees as well as possible under existing conditions.

Most of the Americans, numbering approximately 4000, are housed in Manila College. Many women have been released and allowed to return home, while the oldest and youngest are also being cared for. The United States staff officers emphasized that the Philippine area overrun is not true—many areas still do not feel the Japanese yoke. Capt. James MacMicking, former president of the Insular Life Assurance Co., a leading Philippine firm, said that most Americans are being treated in the "best possible" manner, and there is only one bad internment camp, Davao on the island of Mindanao.

CHURCH, BEING BUILT 30 YEARS AGO WILL BE OPENED SOON

St. Barnard, N. S. —Thirty years ago a few fishermen, lumbermen and farmers of this Acadian district started to build their own church.

Today the spires of St. Barnard church tower 142 feet into the air and when the finishing touches are completed there will be room for 1,000 people to worship in a monument to the simple faith of a simple people.

The people of this community both paid for and built the church through their own efforts. They raised money by means of annual four-day picnics. When they had sufficient money, work on the building progressed, each member of the community contributing his share.

Stone for the huge Gothic edifice was quarried at Shelbourne, N. S., and shipped in fishermen's schooners whenever the boats were available.

A dedication service will officially open the church this summer.

SOUTHERN BELL ANNOUNCES NEW DEFENSE POLICY

Adopted To Save Vital War Materials

F. H. Riddle, Manager of the Telephone Company, explained today that the WPB order effective March 3 restricting telephone expansion effects local service as follows:

The order requires telephone companies to—

1. Employ party-line service in those instances where party-line installation will conserve scarce and critical materials.
2. Discontinue the installation of extension telephones in residences except when such extensions are necessary for the use of those who are charged with responsibilities for public health, welfare and security.
3. Discontinue the conversion of manual offices to dial offices or the conversion of one type of manual office to another type (unless physical work is already actually under way).
4. Discontinue the replacement of manual private branch exchange (PBX) offices by dial exchanges (unless physical work is already actually under way).
5. Discontinue the replacement of existing wall and desk types of subscribers' instruments with handsets, except in any instances where any such subscribers' instrument is beyond repair.
6. Conserve or re-use existing telephone equipment and facilities whenever such conservation or re-use will reduce the use of scarce and critical materials.
7. Discontinue replacements or additions to existing plant for the betterment or relocations of such plant, except to replacements essential to the maintenance or protection of service.

The order was effective upon issue March 3 and continues in force until revoked. The purpose is to save substantial amounts of critical war materials. Annual nationwide savings are expected to be as follows, 35,500 tons of lead, 29,000 tons of iron and steel, 29,500 tons of copper, 650 tons of zinc, 540 tons of crude rubber and large amounts of other scarce materials.

U. S. BOMBERS CERTAIN TO COME JAPANESE ARE TOLD

Weather Condition Soon To Favor Attack On Island

Tokyo, —The Japanese were told Sunday of the prospects that United States planes will raid Japan from either the Aleutian Islands or Chinese bases, or both.

Lieut. Gen. Asaburo Kobayashi, commander of the home defense, urged the people in a radio address to "maintain the greatest watchfulness."

He warned that weather conditions in Alaska and the bowlike chain of Aleutian Islands soon would permit raids on Japan and that "the enemy is working out plans for an attack from the North Pacific."

He pointed out that United States "efforts to reinforce Chiang Kai-shek's air forces might result in attempts to attack Japan from bases in unoccupied China."

Extensive air defense drills will be conducted for five days starting Monday in the Moji and Shimono-seki area.

Moji on the island of Kyushu lies across a narrow strait from Shimono-seki on Honshu, both across the mouth of the Sea of Japan from the Korean shore.

Your VOICE is YOU . . . Over the Telephone

Every time you use the telephone you create a good or bad impression on the party called, because what you say and how you say it is what reveals YOU to others over the telephone. A courteous telephone personality can be easily developed by remembering to—

- Avoid the Use of "Hello"
Such indefinite words as "Hello" and "Yes" only tells the caller he has reached someone, somewhere. The right way to answer the telephone is to identify yourself by stating your name or telephone number.
- Talk Directly into the Telephone
Your voice is clearer when you talk directly into the mouthpiece with your lips about half an inch away.
- Answer Promptly
Answering the telephone promptly makes a good impression on the caller. Slow answering may cause you to miss important calls.
- Hang Up Gently
Hanging up the receiver quietly is a definite part of good telephone manners. Never hang-up the receiver when you finish talking.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE, MR. TAXPAYER

... between an unregulated traffic contributing nothing in state, county or local taxes, and Kentucky's $20,000,000 legalized beer industry which has paid more than $7,000,000 in taxes to the state alone during the past seven years!

But occasionally some people, losing sight of this difference, would unwittingly deprive state and county treasuries of this revenue, thereby increasing their own tax burdens as well as inviting a return of the anti-social conditions resulting from unlicensed, unregulated outlets.

Through our Committee's self-regulation program, the Kentucky beer industry is cooperating with law-enforcement officials to preserve these benefits by helping maintain wholesome conditions in licensed retail beer outlets in counties where the sale of beer is legal.

YOU can help by (1) patronizing only law-abiding beer outlets; and (2) reporting any abuses to the proper authorities.
