'LAND OF LIBERTY' SHOW AT FULTON

Harold Thomas, Manager of Fulton Theatre, Does Good Exploitation Job

"Land of Liberty," a patriotic picture showing at the Fulton Theatre, Friday and Saturday of this week, is attracting large crowds everywhere it is being shown. Never in recent years has patriotism been higher in the United States, and this picture really gives a graphic chronology of American history from Jamestown to present day.

The picture, "Land of Liberty," is comprised of excerpts from 160 films woven together by a splendid narrator under direction of Cecil B. DeMille. It depicts America's struggle and achievements in war and peace, social and economical adjustments, and scientific and industrial developments. A document all Americans should see to realize the priceless privileges we enjoy and at which they were earned. Harold Thomas, manager of the Fulton Theatre points out. Two hundred vivid scenes portrayed by 139 of Hollywood's versatile stars, provide thousands of thrills.

Superintendents and principals of local schools and officers of all civic clubs have been asked to cooperate in showing this picture to all school pupils. Friday afternoon has been declared as School Day. Much publicity has been given to this attraction, and Mr. Thomas has done a grand job of exploitation. At the theatre a large window display has been artistically arranged, showing pictures of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, a copy of the United States constitution, a star and stripes shield, and the American flag.

All proceeds above actual expenses from the distribution of "Land of Liberty," are to be devoted to war emergency welfare work among soldiers and sailors and other charitable objects occasioned by war.

Fulton Gets Ready For Baseball Again

Everything is shaping up for a good season for the Fulton Tigers, member club of the Kitty League, according to K. P. Dalton, president of the Fulton Baseball Association. All teams in the league have complete arrangements for the 1941 season, and are preparing for the official opening May 12. Fulton will play Mayfield here on that date. The season will close September 12.

Fulton has already signed about 18 players, including "Lum" Phillips, semi-pro pitcher, who towers to the unusual height of 6 feet 7 inches. Harry Sprute, another hurler, with the Tigers last year, will be back in harness. Welby Madsen of Shelley, Idaho, pitcher, is scheduled to be with Fulton. Ralph Jesh will be back at third base. Sam Spinelli, a left-handed sacker, is slated for action for the local aggregation. Carroll Peterson will be back in the outer garden. Moon Mullens will pilot the Fulton club this year.

Fulton is hooked up with Detroit again this year, and there is every indication that the home club will receive material aid this season. The Muskegon, Mich., ball club will come to Fulton April 6 for early spring training before entering their regular schedule of games, and will probably remain until May 1. Jack Tighe is manager of this team and he will bring 26 men.

PLANS FOR NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

The regular meeting of the Fulton Board of Education was held Monday night at the high school building and plans were made for the new building. W. P. A. representatives were present and stated that the federal agency was ready to assist the board in financing the building.

Under the new plans the actual building will begin about June 15 and will probably be completed in one year. The Science Hall will not be torn down, as was first planned, but will be used for basketball next year. After the completion of the new building the board plans to open a physical education department and the Science Hall would be used for these classes.

Mr. Cates of Madisonville and Mr. Coleman, W. P. A. representatives, stated that they would be able to get a bonus of $10 per man month. They recommended Supervisor Perry to be in charge of the project.

John Waller of Hopkinsville, architect for the new school, was present and stated that it would probably cost $100,000. He promised that he would have plans to submit to the W. P. A. by May 1.

Bill Browning reported that he had circulated a petition and that over 90 per cent of the people were in favor of the new building.

The board accepted the bid of the Banker's Bond Company, which guarantees that all bonds will be purchased at par value and that the interest rate on the first $21,000 will be 2-3/4 per cent, and 3 per cent on the balance of the issue. They will make a service charge of 1.81 per cent of face value of the issue sold for rendering this service.

The exact site of the building has not been decided but probably will be within a short time. The Science Hall will be remodeled next year to hold some classes and these rooms will be used afterwards for the band.

The new building will include a gymnasium which will seat 1,200 capacity and will contain all the latest type of equipment.

The board adopted the budget for 1941-42 and the tax rate was increased from $1.25 to $1.45 to take care of the new building.

The superintendent and principals were unanimously re-elected. Teachers will be elected at the next meeting. Frank Carr was named attorney for the board.

YMBC MET TUESDAY NIGHT

A new Senior Scout Troop has been organized under the direction of M. L. Parker, assisted by Robert Burrow, Billie Brady, William Scott and Clyde Williams, Jr. The president appointed the following committee to assist this troop: Guy Fry, chairman, Milton Exum, Donald Hall, N. W. Burnett, Uel Killebrew, Roy Greer and Leroy Latta. Alternates are Morgan Wallace and Carl Puckett.

A. committee, told the club about attending a meeting of the Kentucky Public Power League in Murray Monday afternoon, in company with a committee from the City Council and the Y. M. B. C. Industry seems to be giving the state the "run around" and this may enable the quicker enactment of the T. V. A. law.

A committee reported that Trainmaster Buck stated that there is a possibility of a train being put on to run between Fulton and Milan.

Bill Browning, chairman of the committee on the school petition, reported that he had received good cooperation from the people of Fulton in signing the petition, and that over 90 per cent favored the building program. He stated that it now looks like Fulton will get a new grade building, gymnasium and athletic field.

One new member, Roy D. Taylor, was elected.

A committee reported to the club that it had contacted the City Council in regard to the Fire Department and that the Council said the Fire Department is now O. K. The club gave a vote of thanks to the City Council and others responsible for the washing of the streets lately.

The president told the members that at the next meeting of the club on March 25 the regular semi-annual election of officers will be held.

Members went on record to ask the school board to be sure to build a complete athletic field at the school, including stands and all necessary equipment.

Members of the committee appointed by President George Hart of Murray are: Representative Henry Ward, Paducah, chairman; H. H. Lovett, Benton, attorney; Farland Robbins, Mayfield.

The League members present agreed to contact each First District candidate for the Kentucky General Assembly to secure from each, if possible, a written statement setting forth his position in regard to TVA legislation.

The group also endorsed the proposal of the Jackson Purchase Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation urging the construction of an electric power generating plant in West Kentucky to be used by the REA and by the ammonia plant at Henderson, Ky., with the provision that it be operated in conjunction with the TVA power project at Kentucky Dam.

The Kentucky Public Power League was organized here two weeks ago with these two purposes:

MIGHTY SINGAPORE

Since the situation in the Far East has become more acute, interest in that region has been largely centered about Singapore, Britain's great naval base and key to southeastern Asia and the East Indies.

The development of Singapore as a naval stronghold was begun in 1925 and involved an expenditure of more than 150 million dollars. It was formally opened on February 14, 1938, when three United States cruisers took part in the ceremonies.

The protected base is capable of accommodating practically half of the British Navy, and has the second largest graving dock in the world, besides a floating dry dock that will take vessels of 50,000 tons. The tidal basin has nearly a mile of wharf walls, with water depths of from 30 to 40 feet all around. There are immense ammunition and supply depots, railroad sidings, and reservoirs for a million tons of fuel oil.

There is a large air base and a normal army garrison of 10,000 men, some of whom are detailed to man the elaborate system of coastal defenses, which include batteries of 16 and 18 inch guns, besides many smaller cannon, anti-aircraft and machine guns.

While Britain does not have a large force of warships at Singapore at present, it is likely that this mighty base would be used by a portion of the American fleet in the event that it becomes necessary for Britain and the United States to resist Japanese aggression by force of arms.

Laughing Around the World
With IRVIN S. COBB

Oop!

By IRVIN S. COBB

AN AMERICAN journalist in poor health spent the summer of 1910 at a resort in Southern France. The proprietor was an English woman, and all of the other guests were English, too. They were friendly and kind to the invalid—all excepting one very austere and haughty lady.

On his first day as a guest at the house he heard this lady say to the landlady:

"I distinctly understood that you did not admit Americans as lodgers here, and I wish to know why you have broken the rule."

The other woman explained that the stranger had come with good references and that he seemed a quiet, well-mannered person who hadn't offered to scalp anybody and who knew how to eat with knife and fork. Nevertheless the complaining matron was not at all pleased.

She took frequent opportunity of saying unkind things about the States and those who lived in the States. The sick American maintained a polite silence. Finally one day at the dinner table she addressed him with direct reference to a certain ghastly murder case which even after the lapse of many years will be remembered by most readers today.

What do you Yankees think of your fellow-Yankee, Doctor Crumpen?" she inquired.

"We think he's crazy," said the American.

"How singular!" said the lady, arching her eyebrows.

"Not at all," said the American. "He must have been crazy to kill an American woman in order to marry an English one."

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART, Editor

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

The rapidly increasing cost of city, county, state and federal governments is destroying assessable values in many cases and is entailing a severe hardship on everybody. Very few governing or taxing bodies ever try to reduce expenditures, but are always on the alert to find new sources of revenue to meet the increase in cost of government.

As the rate increases, property values decline or are destroyed. As values disappear, the rates of taxation must be increased to make up for the loss and we have a returning cycle of destroyed values and increased tax rates which, if allowed to run uncontrolled, will destroy all the wealth of the country and reduce the United States to a land of poverty.

Wealth is measured by its present sales value and not by its usefulness alone. Business property provides a great majority of real estate taxes, and as two-thirds of the vast wealth of the nation is in real estate, it is easy to compute the burden placed upon business property to support the various types of government. The power to tax is the power to destroy!

The increasing number of strikes in defense industries shows that the organizations fostering the strikes are conspiring to obstruct and defeat the essential defense of the nation at a time when a national crisis faces the nation. At the time of the draft for soldiers was set up, provision was made for exempting individuals whose employment was necessary for production of goods required by the various departments of government. Now that these same individuals are refusing to work unless given large increases in pay, the government might with propriety schedule them for induction into the defense force and let some of the soldiers and sailors now drawing thirty or forty dollars per month go back into the production of goods.

Fifth columnists intent on sabotaging industry at this critical time must rejoice at the success along those lines resulting from strikes. The whole cost of defense and other governmental expenditures must be borne by the taxpayers of this nation, and all increases in wage rates at this time adds just that much more to the cost the taxpayers eventually will have to meet.

ACCIDENTS IN 1940

According to a preliminary report of the National Safety Council, recently published, accidental deaths in the United States during 1940 reached a total of approximately 96,500, while about 9,100,000 persons were injured, in addition to those killed.

Motor vehicles traffic took 34,400 lives and caused about 1,200,000 non-fatal injuries, 100,000 of which resulted in permanent disability. Traffic deaths showed an increase of 6 per cent over 1939, but motor travel was 6 per cent greater, so that on a mileage basis the death rate remained the same.

The 1940 traffic death toll was about 1,500 above that of 1930, while the annual mileage traveled was about 50 per cent greater. The largest number of motor fatalities in any year was 39,643 in 1937.

Accidents in and about the home accounted for 32,500 deaths last year, of which almost one-half were due to falls. Non-fatal home injuries totaled about 4,750,000.

Fatal accidents to persons at work numbered about 17,000, and deaths from accidents in public places, aside from traffic accidents, totaled 15,500. The outstanding disaster of the year was a dance hall fire in Natchez, Miss., which killed 210 Negroes.

It is distressing to reflect that this gruesome record was made for the most part through human negligence or recklessness, and that a similar record is made year after year.

GUARDING OUR HEALTH

How much one should worry about his health has been the subject of many arguments. Some hold that a periodical physical examination should be taken with a view to discovering any incipient diseases. Others believe that such examinations tend to make a person think too much about his health and that the consequent worry is worse than letting nature take its course.

A recent radio lecturer on heart disease, which is at present the most deadly of all ailments, suggested a middle course. While he advocated periodical physical examinations, he warned his listeners not to take them too seriously. Because, as he pointed out, many persons live for dozens of years with heart trouble, and finally die of something else.

But, as he further stated, the fact that one is concerned about his heart may cause him to adopt a mode of living which will not only tend to ease his heart strain, but will be beneficial to his general health as well. The same principle applies to other chronic disease.

Concluding, he repeated the sage advice of Sir William Osler, who said in substance: "If you would live long, get a nice chronic disease and nurse it."

Money Talks

By Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Census figures always provide valuable data well worth considering. The 1940 Census reports a new trend in our population, which if continued, cannot bring joy to our business men!

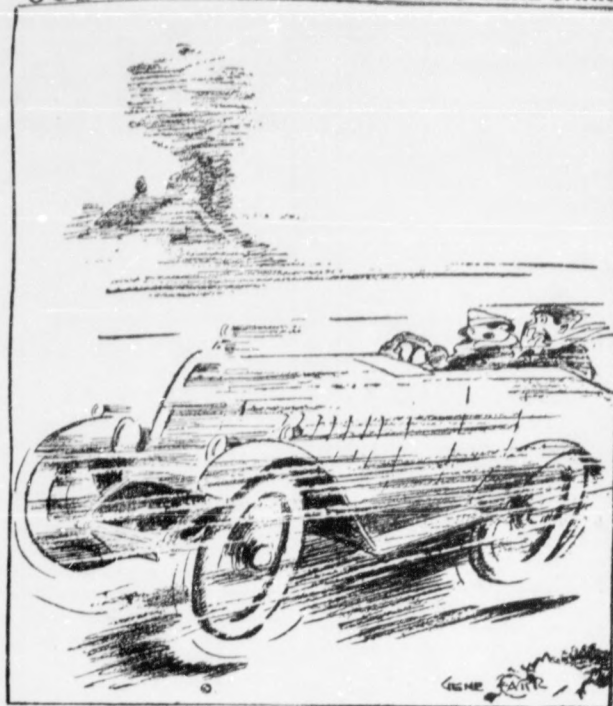

From the very beginning, our business men have depended upon a steadily increasing population to provide them with new customers. In the past our birth rate has far exceeded our death rate, so that we had a rapidly expanding population and market. But some time during the past decade a shift occurred in our birth and death rate which, if continued, will soon result in a declining instead of an increasing population.

The 1940 Census indicates that under the current birth and death rates our population will fail to maintain its numbers by 4 per cent per generation. This means that for every 100 persons in any generation there would be only 96 in the next generation.

This trend indicates a definite change from the 1930 figures. If the 1930 birth and death rate had continued, each generation would have reproduced itself by more than 11 per cent. Thus, for each 100 persons in this generation there would be 111 in the next.

But somewhere in the 1930 decade the trend changed. If the birth rate does not climb to the old figure, American business men must learn to get along without an ever-expanding group of customers. American prosperity, in the past, has been built upon expanding frontiers and an expanding population. The present trend may be bad news for business. It may be that our economic life will now settle down to the present level and stay there. At least, it is something to think about.

Extra profits from pullets will more than offset the initial cost of chicks, he says.

Chicks can be fed as soon as they are placed in the brooder house. It is a common practice to feed the chicks on a starting mash with water to drink. Where liquid skim milk or buttermilk is available, it is a good plan to give the chicks free access to a starting mash, fine chick grain and milk.

Chicks should have access to plenty of clean fresh water, chick-size oyster shells or ground limestone and some sharp grit such as granite grit, coarse sand or gravel. Succulent green feed will increase the rate of growth, lower feed cost, and help to keep the chicks in good condition.

It is a good plan to get the chicks out in the sun as soon as the weather will permit. Chicks should not be allowed to run on the same ground with the laying flock. Avoid bare ground for chick range; land covered with a thick blanket of green sod is much to be preferred.

Normal healthy chicks do not require drugs of any kind, Chadwell says. Remedies and curative treatments are useless in most of the devastating contagious diseases. The proper handling of contagious diseases consist in sanitation, preventive treatment and eradication, rather than cure.

RATS SHOULD BE EXTERMINATED NOW

The following is taken from Farmers' Bulletin 896 United States Department of Agriculture:

The Rat is the worst animal pest in the world.

From its home among filth it visits dwellings and storerooms to pollute and destroy human food.

It carries bubonic plague and many other diseases fatal to man and has been responsible for more untimely deaths among human beings than all the wars of history.

In the United States rats and mice each year destroy crops and other property valued at over $200,000,000.

This destruction is equivalent to the gross earnings of an army of over 200,000 men.

Or, many a farm, if the grain eaten and wasted by rats and mice could be sold, the proceeds would more than pay all the farmer's taxes.

The common brown rat breeds 6 to 10 times a year and produces an average of 10 young at a litter. Young females breed when only three or four months old.

At this rate a pair of rats, breeding uninterruptedly and without deaths, would at the end of three years (18 generations) be increased to 359,709,482 individuals.

For centuries the world has been fighting rats without organization and at the same time has been feeding them and building for them fortresses for concealment. If we are to fight them on equal terms we must deny them food and hiding places. We must organize and unite to rid communities of these pests. The time to begin is now.

MINIMUM LEGUME AND GRASS SEEDING RATES ANNOUNCED

Minimum seeding rates for legumes and grasses which Fulton County Farmers plan to sow this spring to earn soil-building credits in the 1941 Agricultural Conservation Program were announced today by H. M. Pewitt, Chairman of the Fulton County Agricultural Association.

Rates for principal grasses and legumes seeded in Fulton County are: Bluegrass, 12 pounds per acre; Lespedeza, 12 pounds; redtop, 5 pounds; timothy, 8 pounds per acre. Mr. Pewitt pointed out that in each case the amount given in the minimum amount of seed approved by the state committee to be sown for soil-building credit in the program. Larger amounts will be necessary or desirable in many cases to assure a good stand of legumes and grasses.

These rates apply when legumes or grasses of the type indicated are seeded alone, he said. Pastures are better and the land is better protected from erosion and leaching when legumes and grasses are grown in combination. Growth is more vigorous and the soil is improved more when these legumes and grasses are treated with lime and phosphate, Mr. Pewitt pointed out, and such treatment is often needed to get a good stand.

Seeding rates for other legumes and grasses and for legume and grass mixtures may be obtained at the county office.

When Crimson Clover or Vetch are sown the full minimum seeding is required whether sown alone or in a mixture.

Mr. Pewitt advises farmers to consult Mr. Foy, county agent, about seeding rates, time of seeding, quality of seeds, preparation of land and about seeding practices, especially when using new types of legumes and grasses.

COUNTY AGENT

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON SOIL-BUILDING

By S. V. Foy, County Agent

To get the most from cover crops.

1. Sow them early. Use lime and phosphate when needed.

2. Use for pasturing sheep, hogs, cattle, workstock and poultry.

3. For green manure, plow under small grains when they are 12 to 13 inches high. Turn under legumes later.

4. Harvest enough seed for farm requirements and where possible save surplus seed for sale.

5. Plan to seed all land used for corn, tobacco, sorghum and summer legumes to cover crops early next fall.

Of What Value Are Cover Crops?

Cover crops that make a satisfactory growth, reduce losses from erosion and leaching, furnish valuable supplementary pasture, and provide either a green manure crop or a crop to be harvested for grain, hay or seed.

What Is Meant By A Satisfactory Growth?

A satisfactory growth is one which provides a good covering of the soil from early winter until spring. It varies according to the kind planted and the purpose for which the crop is to be used. For instance, cover crops, to be used primarily for pasture and green manure, should be thick and hence seeded at a much heavier rate than those which are to be used as companion, or nurse crop, or to be harvested for grain or seed especially where such cover crop can not be grazed.

What Factors Are Important In Obtaining A Satisfactory Growth of Cover Crops?

A productive soil containing lime and phosphate, early seeding, proper seeding practices, high quality seed of adapted varieties, and sufficient seed per acre. Cover crops reduce erosion and leaching.

SILO SIMPKINS SAYS

A good garden slogan for 1941: "Pull a weed and plant a seed."

A cow must eat 100 pounds or more of grass daily to produce 20 to 25 pounds of milk.

For bigger yields from your fields, make liberal use of lime, phosphate, animal and green manure.

You are not doing well with hogs unless your sows raise an average of two litters of six or more pigs year.

The farmer is a versatile business man. He is a manufacturer when he plants and cultivates; a merchant when he sells.

There were 1,108,869 cattle on Tennessee farms April 1, 1940, according to the census; this compares with 903,406 in 1930.

Public opinion is a strong factor in shaping a safety program for any community. Any honest and sincere police department wants to do the right thing in protecting the public but is frequently prevented from doing so by influential citizens or politicians. This practice on the part of a few will ruin any safety program.

Public education is necessary to correct such conditions. Fearless leadership on the part of honest officials, judges especially, must predominate to help people who want to live in a safe community.

We urge every citizen to investigate conditions in his own community. If the courts and police department are not operating as they should but are giving protection to a few to the disadvantage of the majority, then that fact should be publicly aired and corrected.

WHY DO WE DOUBT?

By Rev. William Woodburn, Pastor, First Christian Church

"How long dost thou make us to doubt. If thou art the Christ tell us plainly." (John 10:24.)

This was the response Jesus received from the Jews at the close of His message. Similar in meaning were the words John the Baptist sent to Jesus while waiting for his execution. John, the fiery prophet of God, had become discouraged and impatient. Since Jesus was not doing exactly as John expected, he began to doubt that Jesus was the Christ.

Every age has been an age of doubt. John was not the only one who doubted Jesus while the peerless Master of Men went about Palestine healing, teaching, and preaching. The multitudes not only doubted Jesus as He sought to bring to them the message of God, but likewise disbelieved the inspired apostles as they brought to the world the Good News of an Eternal Gospel. Why did they doubt? Well, why do we doubt?

Many doubt because they are seeking the wrong answer. Like John, the Baptist, they want the Gospel to mean what they THINK it ought to mean. Jesus did not come to satisfy the curiosity of men, not even the curiosity of religious men. He declared His mission to be that of bringing life to men, and of bringing it more abundantly.

Many doubt because they do not listen when the Gospel is being preached. Jesus patiently explained to the bewildered disciples who spoke the words of our text, "I told you and you believe not." One can not spend his time daydreaming and expect to understand the Gospel. Jesus had previously told these same disciples, "I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved." "I am the Good Shepherd; the Good Shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep." And still they asked Him to tell them PLAINLY if He were the Christ. As Jesus has truly said, "You have ears but hear not." The Church has been doing its part by continually explaining and patiently teaching about God; but have we been doing our part by carefully listening and eagerly learning about God?

Many doubt because they are not willing to live righteously. "The works that I do in my Father's name," said Jesus, "these bear witness of me." They were not willing to put God first in their lives. They were seeking an easier Gospel. They wanted political independence from the hated tyranny of Rome. They were too impatient to put aside for the time being their own wishes and desires in order to understand the message being preached by Jesus. In many respects we, like John and His disciples, are eagerly searching for an easier Gospel; one that will fit into our present way of living, one that does not require repentance and reformation of our own ways of doing things.

The Bible has existed for a good many years. The Gospel has been eloquently preached to the apostles. The Gospel has been preached in this community for several decades. And still we doubt. Why? Mainly because we are unwilling to put the Gospel to the test of personal experience. Jesus not only challenged the people of His day, but those of our own day as well, by declaring "If any man will do his will, he shall know of the teaching, whether it is of God, or whether I speak from myself." Have you conscientiously tried the real Gospel to see if the teaching is from God? Until you do, you have no valid grounds for doubt.

Stone Led Cotton Discussion Monday

Roscoe Stone, of Hickman, president of the Fulton County Farm Bureau and a member of the State Agriculture Conservation Program Committee, and O. M. Farrington, Lexington, Ky., executive officer of the Agriculture Adjustment Administration, led discussion on the new acreage reduction plan for cotton growers, in a meeting held at Mayfield Monday.

Uncle Sam, after watching his export trade dwindle to practically nothing as a result of the war, has called on the nation's cotton growers to cut their acreage under the 1941 allotments. And he's going to pay the cotton farmers for cooperating with him.

But the payments will not be made in cash. Stamps will be distributed among the co-operating farmers that will be good for the purchase of cotton goods exclusively in any store in the United States. In addition to the acreage reduction payments, each grower will receive $3 in cash toward establishing a garden large enough to produce sufficient food for his family.

Talking before seventy-five farm agents, home demonstration agents and cotton growers from the eight counties of the Jackson Purchase, Kentucky's cotton producing section, Mr. Farrington said the new cotton program was "designed solely to better the standard of living of the nation's cotton growers."

The 1941 Kentucky cotton allotment made by the AAA is 18,579 acres, only 234 acres under the 1940 figure. Nearly 75 per cent of Kentucky's cotton acreage is in Fulton county. It was pointed out that Kentucky now has 4,479 cotton growers. If all cooperate in the new reduction program between $125,000 and $150,000 will be added to their incomes, including approximately $13,437 for establishing gardens.

Cotton growers who cut their acreage below their 1941 allotment will receive 10 cents a pound for the normal yield on the acreage reduced, up to $25, and landlords having two or more tenants, as much as $50. This means that a tenant will be paid for removing from production one acre of cotton, if his yield has been 250 pounds an acre. If he has been growing as much as 500 pounds an acre, he will be paid for reducing half an acre only.

The government has set aside $25,000,000 in cotton acreage reduction stamps. June 15 has been set as the deadline for cotton growers to file their intention of reducing further their cotton acreage.

PLANNING MEETING HELD SATURDAY

The District Planning meeting of the Kentucky Homemakers Federation met at Mayfield Saturday, March 8, in the club rooms of the Graves County Homemakers. Mrs. Harrison Randolph, district chairman of the Kentucky Homemakers Federation, presided at the morning meeting when plans were made for the district meeting to be held in Fulton, May 3.

Miss Ella Gardner, recreation specialist from the U. S. Department of Washington, will be guest speaker at the morning session of the district meeting and will also direct games for the afternoon. The theme for the day's program will be "Guide Post to the Future." Mrs. P. W. Atkins, state president, will speak after lunch.

The county program conductor, home demonstration agents, Miss Myrtle Weiden, state leader of home agents, met after lunch and planned Homemakers' Camp which will be held at Columbus-Belmont Park, July 7-11. An interesting program of reading, music, handicraft and entertainment was also planned.

The county presidents met and discussed ways and means of reaching more people in Homemakers' work, the county speakers' bureau met with Mrs. Doran Hansford, district chairman, and the group recommended that more Homemakers take an active part at club meetings. The reading chairman met with Mrs. Jones, district reading chairman, and they recommended that every home have a book shelf and each Homemaker read one book a month. At a meeting of the county citizenship chairman with Mrs. Harding, district chairman, this group planned that each club meeting be opened with prayer, clubs should cooperate with schools and try to have a water system installed to do away with drinking cups, that Homemakers cooperate with the Health Department in sponsoring a clinic, and that women take more interest in voting. Every Homemaker should have a good demonstration garden and live at home program. The county publicity chairman met with Mrs. W. H. Harrison, district publicity chairman, and recommended that plans be made for more and better publicity.

Lunch was served by the Graves County Homemakers.

ORDERS FOR 107,000 TONS OF AAA LIME SETS NEW STATE RECORD

Distribution of lime as a conservation material supplied by the AAA for use in the 1941 Agricultural Conservation Program has passed the mark set in 1940, the State AAA office announces.

With four months to go on the 1941 program, orders for 107,000 tons of agricultural lime for 64 Kentucky counties had been booked by the AAA through March 1. In the 1940 program 87,939 tons of lime was supplied as a conservation material to farmers in 26 counties of the State.

Orders for more than 90,000 tons of phosphates for use on legumes and grasses in the 1941 Program are also reported. This material is being distributed in the Agricultural Conservation Program in all counties in Kentucky.

Both of these materials are needed on farms in Fulton County, according to S. V. Foy, County Agent, and H. M. Pewitt, chairman of the Fulton County Agricultural Conservation Association, advises farmers who have not done so to make plans now for using both lime and phosphate in earning soil-building allowances before the 1941 program closes on June 30.

USE OF MOBILE DEPOTS

Mobile depots, which perform so many useful functions behind the lines in military use, are just another example of adapting commercial transportation practices to defense purposes. For several years there has been a growing tendency among concerns having difficult transportation problems to use the so-called "shuttle" system.

According to Harvey C. Fruehauf, president of the trailer company which bears his name, by this method a tractor serves several trailers, one of which may be loading, another unloading, while a third is in transit. Some concerns use various types of trailer bodies, all served by tractor-trucks, needed only when the trailer has to be moved.

In military use the same tractor may pull into position a portable barber shop, automotive repair shop or other specialized unit, and leave it while performing some other task. Mr. Fruehauf adds:

"It is very likely that an even further development of the utility of the mobile depot, as made possible by a tractor-trailer combination, may come about. Our company already has been called upon to supply specially-designed trailers for defense purposes and we have only just begun to swing into action. In times of stress our inventive capacity seems to take on added activity and our engineers are already beginning to develop other interesting units in our efforts to help fill defense requirements."

BILL OF RIGHTS WEEK

Under authority of an act passed last year by the New York legislature, that state has just celebrated Bill of Rights Week, the object of which is to emphasize the "purpose, meaning and importance of the Bill of Rights," particularly in the education of children.

The week was marked by patriotic rallies by many school, church and civic organizations, with suitable exercises in which the liberties guaranteed by the first ten amendments to the Constitution were contrasted with the almost complete absence of freedom in totalitarian countries.

It is well that the youth of America should be taught to understand and appreciate these liberties, especially at such a time as the present, when subversive elements of our population are seeking to undermine and destroy our most cherished institutions.

The United States is honeycombed with organizations sponsored by Nazis, Fascists and Communists and their sympathizers, who spread their poisonous doctrines by every possible means, as has been shown by the revelations of the Dies committee.

Most of these organizations adopt patriotic-sounding names to hide their true character, and often obtain financial and other support from otherwise good citizens who are unaware of the sinister purposes which underlie their activities. Educational efforts such as those of Bill of Rights Week should be helpful in keeping American youth from being influenced by subversive groups.

In Lodi, Calif., additional public funds are raised by taxing cats. The charge is one dollar for a female and 50 cents for a tom.

W. L. Sumpter of Memphis, Tenn., is still wearing the pair of shoes in which he was married 22 years ago.

Samuel Mahoney of Boston was told by doctors 40 years ago that he had only a few months to live, but he recently celebrated his 80th birthday by taking a dip in the ocean with the temperature below freezing.

In the recorder's court at Kansas City, Mo., a man was convicted of driving a tractor while in an intoxicated condition.

A thief who took J. H. LeBeck's corn planter in Chico, Cal., overlooked certain attachments, and LeBeck advertised in a newspaper, inviting the thief to return for the remainder of the equipment.

When he reported to police that thieves had robbed him of two cases of beer, Theodore Wyffels of Blenheim, Can., was arrested for selling liquor and sent to jail for 60 days.

Accused of stealing six batteries which were found under his bed, William Golden of Detroit explained that it took a shock from six storage batteries to wake him each morning.

Feeling a heavy jar on his automobile while driving at night, Arthur Shroeder of Waterloo, N. Y., investigated and found a colt on the hood.

Police officers of Mexico, Mo., drained a railway water tank to recover a stolen diamond thrown into it.

AROUND TOWN

Theodore Kramer, Bob White and Charles Gregory have taken to their "boots and spurs" again. They were seen out riding their favorite saddlers Sunday.

Lieut. Richard Davania, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Davania of Fulton, attending flying instructors' school at Middletown, Ohio, saw his instructor fall out of an army training plane at 4,000 feet in the ozone, while doing a practice roll. He landed safely by using his parachute, and Davania brought the plane down.

For comfort in summer and winter, a thorough job of insulation has been installed at the Fulton Elks Club. A drive is now underway to obtain new members for this lodge.

Scout Troop 44 has a new den. It is located on Lake street upstairs over Kentucky Utilities. The meeting place being contributed by John Melton, local benefactor, who is always ready to aid a good cause. The rooms have been fixed up, provided with plenty of chairs, lights, also a heater supplied by Bud Edwards. Scoutmaster Edgar Jones and Assistant Scoutmaster James Meacham are proud of the new Scout room. A full troop of 32 boys are expected to meet regularly. The Senior Patrol will also use this spot as their assembly room. A large American flag, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson, has been arranged in the main hall, and Old Glory is saluted by each Scout as he enters.

If you are wondering what the steps on the west side of the city hall are for, they are a fire escape for the WPA work room. Officials just recently required that they be built.

The old Methodist church building on the corner of State Line and Plain streets is being partially torn down. The main building will be rearranged for a store room by J. Ray Graham.

The lot on the corner of Fourth and Depot streets has been cleared of the old burned building, and the ground has been leveled and filled in. This lot is now owned by Smith Atkins.

The Physical Education program out at Fulton High is making steady progress under the guidance of Coach Giles. Each day about eleven o'clock a period of exercises is held, girls one day and boys the next. There is the likelihood that a course of physical culture will be a requirement in all school system, under the new federal defense program.

The state highway department this week started work on improving the street under the viaduct leading out of Fulton toward Mayfield. This has long been needed. Recent installation of a stop light at the corner of Lake street extension and Fourth street has helped solve the traffic problem at this corner. ## KNOW YOUR MONEY And Avoid Loss Due to Counterfeits

TO THE AMERICAN PUBLIC:

The United States Secret Service and your police wish you to KNOW YOUR MONEY, and through this nation-wide educational program aim to suppress the major crime of counterfeiting.

CHIEF WILSON

prevent crime through this modern method of education, instead of the age-old method of prosecutions and imprisonment.

Chief, U. S. Secret Service.

HOW TO DETECT COUNTERFEIT BILLS

1. KNOW YOUR MONEY!
2. COMPARE the suspected bill with a genuine of the same type and denomination. Observe carefully the following features:
  - (a) PORTRAIT: Genuine is lifelike; stands out from oval background which is a fine screen of regular lines; notice particularly the eyes. The counterfeit is dull, smudgy, or unattractively white; scratchy; background is dark with irregular and broken lines.
  - (b) SEAL: On genuine, sawtooth points around rim are identical and sharp. On counterfeit, sawtooth points are usually different; uneven; broken off.
  - (c) SERIAL NUMBERS: Genuine have distinctive style; firmly and evenly printed; same color as seal. Counterfeit, style different; poorly printed; badly spaced; uneven in appearance.
  - (d) PAPER: Genuine bills are printed on distinctive paper containing very small red and blue ink threads.
3. RUBBING a bill will NOT prove whether it is genuine or counterfeit; ink will rub off of either.
4. REMEMBER—NOT ALL STRANGERS ARE COUNTERFEITERS, BUT ALL COUNTERFEITERS ARE LIKELY TO BE STRANGERS.

TYPES OF CURRENCY

The only three types of currency printed by the United States Government for circulation are:

1. FEDERAL RESERVE NOTES, which bear GREEN serial numbers and seal.
2. UNITED STATES NOTES, which bear RED numbers and seal.
3. SILVER CERTIFICATES, which bear BLUE numbers and seal.

PORTRAITS

Denominations of bills may be identified by portraits, as follows:

WASHINGTON	on all	$1.00 bills
JEFFERSON	on all	$2.00 bills
LINCOLN	on all	$5.00 bills
HAMILTON	on all	$10.00 bills
JACKSON	on all	$20.00 bills
GRANT	on all	$50.00 bills
FRANKLIN	on all	$100.00 bills

UNABLE TO WORK FOR 2 YEARS SAYS FARMER

Retonga Soon Relieved His Distress From Indigestion, Nervousness, And Loss of Weight, States Mr. Wright. Would Like To Tell Everyone About This Medicine

Grateful to Retonga for the remarkable relief it brought when he had almost given up hope, Mr. W. J. Wright, a life-long resident of Henry County and well known farm owner residing on Route 1, Mansfield, Tenn., declares:

"For two years I did not feel able to turn a hand to do any work. I suffered with acid indigestion until I was afraid to eat a bite of solid food, and I was so nervous I didn't know what a good night's sleep was. I needed harsh purgatives regularly, and my skin was almost as yellow as a pumpkin. I often felt sore all over, and my back ached until I could hardly get up and down. I lost weight and strength and for several months I could hardly get out of the house. "Retonga gave me a grand appetite, relieved my distress with indigestion, and I regained eight pounds. The laxative effect was splendid and the toxic pains were also relieved. I sleep good and I feel better than in a long time. I wish I could tell every one about Retonga."

Retonga is a purely herbal stomachic medicine combined with Vitamin B-1 for nerves, strength and digestion. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Co. —Adv.

Modern children have so many playthings that they must get pretty tired of them. Almost every year brings some fad that surrounds most children with dozens of new contraptions, many of them miniatures of real man-sized bits

But somehow I cannot help remembering the days when it took a lively imagination on the part of children to play with the toys they had. And nothing brings finer memories than bits of broken pottery, such as those we played with in the last century.

merely to look at; they formed the basis for playing house. Viands that one tastes may be good enough, but the real viands are those that one imagines that he tastes. Keats says that "heard melodies are sweet, but those unheard are sweeter." When we played house, we "played-like" we were eating out of these little scraps of pottery, and the taste was of nectar and ambrosia or whatever gods eat. There were things that we tasted but seldom in our remote section; how easy it was to imagine foods such as angels have on their tables! This old fragment might hold ice cream, this other one oranges, and still another candy of many a fancy kind. It must have been hard on the family larder after a day of play such as this, for our childish appetites, good enough at any time, had had a workout while we "play-like" eating the things we most wanted. After such a feast, of course, bread and meat seemed coarse and tasteless, but served to fill an aching void.

We did not know it, but our probing around in old ashes was a species of archaeology, related to Howard Carter's unearthing of King Tutankhamen. We reconstructed the remote past from the few things that escaped destruction when the pioneer cabin burned down or was removed to convert into a smokehouse or a stable. Every time I see whole blue plates in some antique collection, I fill out another chapter in the imagined life of the people who lived before my time and left me only a few broken bits of pottery to remind me that they had their three square meals a day and lived and died just like other folks.

TENTATIVE PLANS FOR WHEAT QUOTA VOTE ANNOUNCED

Tentative plans for holding a national marketing quota referendum among wheat growers on May 31 have been approved by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard and arrangements for conducting the vote among Kentucky wheat growers are now being made, the State AAA Office announces.

Although the marketing quota determination will not be made until a later date, H. M. Hewitt, chairman of the Fulton County Agricultural Conservation Association, states, present estimates indicate a 1941-42 supply of wheat in excess of the marketing quota level established by the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

The quota will become effective when announced and will continue during the 1941-42 marketing year unless opposed by more than one-third of the farmers voting in the referendum. Under the quota, a cooperating wheat farmer, one who plants within his wheat acreage allotment, is free to market all he produces plus his carry over wheat. Wheat in excess of the quota on an over-planted farm is subject to a penalty unless it is stored under seal. If a quota is proclaimed and disapproved, the law specifies that no government loans can be made on the crop.

"The referendum," said R. M. Evans, AAA administrator, "will give wheat producers the opportunity to decide for themselves in the democratic way how they want to handle the surplus built up by military and economic blockades of our world markets."

"Since 1939 when the new wheat program authorized by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 went into operation, wheat growers have used the program to stave off the worst effects of the most depressing world wheat situation in our history. The marketing quota is a part of that program, ready for use when needed in emergency situations."

"Wheat farmers can and will work together in producing plenty without waste. They proved that in 1939 when they handled the 1938 surplus problem by making the biggest acreage reduction ever effected in a single year. The national defense emergency, however, has made it advisable to maintain the acreage allotment at a level higher than would have been justified under normal conditions. Although war, military blockades and conquest of many of our wheat customers have combined to wipe out virtually all exports, the 1941 allotment was maintained at the same level as in the preceding year in order to build up our reserve for any eventuality."

"The AAA Farm Program makes such a safety measure possible because it provides wheat growers with machinery like the wheat loan and the marketing quota to handle reserves of surplus proportions and to protect their incomes while insuring America plenty of food."

"We know from our experience in the early 30's that an uncontrolled surplus of the size we will have during the coming marketing year would mean very low prices for the farmer, increased feeding and competition for the cattleman, the dairy farmer, the poultry producer and other farmers who make their living by feeding livestock."

Under the marketing quota provisions of the Act, a marketing quota proclamation is mandatory whenever it appears, by May 15, that the total supply of wheat for the next marketing year will exceed a normal year's domestic consumption and exports by more than 35 percent.

The 1941 winter wheat crop was estimated in the December crop report at 633,000,000 bushels. The current estimate for the July 1 carryover is 385,000,000 bushels. If these estimates materialize and if the spring wheat crop is of average size, the 1941-42 supply of wheat would total about 1,200,000,000 bushels. The 1940 marketing quota level was 1,023,000,000 bushels.

No marketing quota has previously been proclaimed for wheat. Cotton, rice, and tobacco farmers, however, have voted in a total of 17 marketing quota referendums under the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938. Cotton farmers have approved quotas for all crops since 1938. One quota was proclaimed for rice in 1938 but was voted down. Twelve quota referendums have been held for various types of tobacco since 1938, and all but three have been approved. In the 1940 tobacco referendums three-year quotas were approved.

Our Sons, Too, Answer the Call

There are some who will say: "Of course, the Illinois Central is glad to do what it can for national defense. Just look at the trainloads of soldiers and of materials! If this keeps on, the road'll be in clover."

That's ONE WAY of looking at the subject. It's a cold-blooded way. It ignores the fact that the traffic was a long time coming and may quickly go. It ignores, too, that the traffic will be profitless in the long run if it causes us to over-expand facilities for its purely temporary handling. It ignores also the possible over-expansion of competitive carriers that would remain to plague us after the bugles stop sounding.

But MOST OF ALL it ignores the fact that the Illinois Central is a flesh-and-blood organization, made up of men who are FATHERS AS WELL AS RAILROADERS, many of whom were under arms themselves nearly a quarter of a century ago. Our younger workers, too, as well as our sons, are leaving us daily to enter national service.

On every train of troops we handle there may be one or more of our own boys. In every car of lumber there may be shelter for them, and in every box of arms or ammunition there may be something they will use in learning to preserve our nation.

SMALL WONDER, then, that we handle with utmost care the men and the materials temporarily entrusted to us by Uncle Sam. To fathers and mothers everywhere we say: You may rest assured we will take as good care of your sons and equipment as we are doing of our own.

TO AVOID ISOLATION

It pays to have a telephone

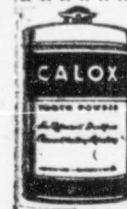

Bad weather means added loneliness and isolation to many folks living in the country without the convenience of a telephone in the home.

Why remain cut off from friends and relatives and the rest of the world when it is so very easy and inexpensive to have a telephone? Think what a joy it would be to every one in the family, especially the children, to be able to talk to folks down the road a piece, or miles away.

A telephone in your home, you will find, not only furnishes the means to banish loneliness, but will help in numerous other ways which make for a fuller, more comfortable and happier life on the farm.
