THE LISTENING POST

Well, well, I just did get in under the wire the other day. Had I waited, or had my tube of shaving cream lasted a few more days I would have been terribly embarrassed. As it turned out, I got the new shaving cream without any trouble and without being embarrassed.

I do not think I am tight in many ways. In fact, I know that I am loose in most ways. Money never seems to stick to me with any success, and I cannot save, as many people do, without vast trouble. But there are some things in which I am tight, not to say parsimonious. Shaving cream is one of the things which bring out all the tightness which I have. I simply cannot bear to toss away an old tube until I have used every last bit of soap in the dented thing. For days I work and squeeze on these tubes, and when I get through with one I defy any man to get enough cream out of it to get a decent shave.

For the past week or ten days I have tortured one of these tubes. Ten days ago it did not have enough soap in it to worry about, but right there I became very thrifty. Day after day I squeezed that tube until it almost protested at the torture I was giving it. After all this squeezing I hit on a new idea. I decided that I would open it up and see what might be found, and here I really found treasure trove. I ripped that tube open with a sharp blade, and clinging to the sides of the tube I found enough shaving material to keep me going for three more days. I tried to stretch it to four days, but this time I failed. There was so little soap remaining that I almost ruined my countenance trying to shave, and knew then that I must buy another tube.

So I just walked into Bennett's Drug Store and bought a new tube of shaving cream without a bit of trouble. They did not seem to know that a war was going on and handed me out that new tube without a quibble. I took it home, never dreaming that I was doing something for the last time, and that night over the radio I heard that no more could I get shaving cream unless I traded in a used tube at the time of making a purchase.

I broke into warm blushes all over as I thought of how embarrassing it would have been to trade in that mistreated tube I had just thrown away the day before. It had been hammered and beaten and squeezed; then it had been opened up for a major operation, and on the inside the metal was so clean that no one would suspect it had ever contained any shaving cream. Had I taken in that old tube for the trade in I have an idea the store would have asked me what it was, for it contained no outward, no inward suggestion of what it had contained in its new state. I have made no effort to look the thing up, for I never intend to trade in such a disreputable object now or ever. If I had to do that I would simply do without shaving cream.

But I know that this new tube which I now own must be treated with more and deeper respect. No more can I twist and beat and squeeze these things until they bear no resemblance to a tube of shaving cream. For this one must go back, and I greatly fear that I will have to send back a small amount of the shaving cream. Only in the manner I have described can a person recover and use all the cream which is in a tube, and yet I will never take back such a battered tube for a trade in.

No. Sooner than this I will buy a cake of regular old shaving soap, hunt up a mug—preferably one with my name on it in gold letters—and begin again to beat up lather as does a barber, and as I did in the dear dead days beyond recall. I have done this and can do it again if it becomes necessary.

BAPTISTS PLAN FOR 600 IN SUNDAY SCHOOL ON EASTER

We are expecting to have 600 present in our Sunday school this Sunday. Easter is the time when everybody will be coming to church so we are asking you to plan to come for Sunday school at 9:45 and stay with us for the 10:45 preaching hour. This will be the greatest Sunday in the long history of Fulton Baptist. Dr. House will be at his best and will conclude the Sunday school hour with a brief but very special message one that you will not want to miss, and will always regret if you do. If you want to be one of the many who will make up the largest crowd ever to assemble in Fulton for Sunday school and preaching then be with us at the Baptist church this Sunday.

You will enjoy special decorations. Special programs. Special Easter music. Special numbers. Special messages and the greatest Spirit you have enjoyed ever. I assure you that before the service is underway very far the house will be filled. We are placing more chairs in the church to care for you and every class room is being given more seats to care for the large crowd that has already given indication of being present. You just plan to come and let us care for your comfort. We will see to it that you enjoy the same.

Dr. House has proven to be the great Preacher that every one expected, and already we have had great results, and we feel sure that God has even greater blessings in store for us and you can share these great times that we are having. Fulton is blessed in a special way in having this great Evangelist to come and preach these two weeks in our midst. Sunday and Sunday night will bring to a close these special days of evangelistic efforts. Let all of us do our best these final days and turn our City toward God.

You are invited to be in our Sunday school and preaching services if you have no other connections with a local church or Sunday school or if you haven't already planned to attend another, remember you will find a welcome at the First Baptist church at all times.

"Occupational Census" Is Part Of New Draft Questionnaires

Washington, —Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt said today that a questionnaire going to selective service registrants this week constituted an "occupational census" making possible the first "accurate and practicable budgeting of the nation's manpower."

The questionnaire, a four-page document, is to be sent to all men who registered on Feb. 16—those between the ages of 35 and 44, and who had recently become 20 or 21—and is intended to place on record any special skills, aptitudes or experience that might be helpful in the war effort.

"When the information called for has been received," McNutt said, "the United States government will have for the first time a complete list of the occupational skills of the entire male population of working age."

"The United States Employment

Frankfort, Ky. —Powerful administration forces drove their Kentucky House of Representatives redistricting bill to a 54 to 41 victory in the House today despite four hours of bitter attacks by opponents.

Charges that Gov. Keen Johnson was "lobbying" on the floor as the measure was taken up, that "Hitlerite tactics" had been used and that members of a bloc pledged to vote against all redistricting had "sold out" were hurled in a futile attempt to kill the measure. Others denounced the bill as favoring urban areas at the expense of rural counties.

Showing no disposition to stem the assaults which came chiefly from late Democratic colleagues, the administration leaders took little part in the debate.

"Climber Motion"

When the final vote was announced, however, they passed by a voice vote a "climber motion" designed to prevent reconsideration except by consent of 51 members, a majority of the House membership, and sent the bill along to the Senate.

The Senate already had approved, 29 to 8, an administration bill to change Senatorial district boundaries. That bill is due to come up for House action with another right promptly by redistricting opponents.

It was indicated later that decision whether to bring the Senate bill up for a vote in the House tomorrow depended on the Senate's attitude toward the House bill.

Ward said many House members had expressed opposition to voting on the Senate bill until there were reasons to believe the Senate would take a favorable attitude toward the House measure.

Governor Present

Governor Johnson and other officials listened to the debate and many other state officials and employees were in the crowd that filled the galleries.

On the final vote, 47 Democrats and seven Republicans voted for the bill, with 25 Democrats and 16 Republicans against it.

Going Down In Submarine Is Like Going Down Into Your Own Cellar

Aboard an American Submarine in the Atlantic. —The admiral told me that going down in a submarine was just like going down into your cellar at home.

I found it just as easy. The main difference is that the sub is a darn sight cleaner.

Sailing along 140 feet below the white-capped surface is almost like nothing at all. The fearful things I had heard about submarines evaporated rapidly as I watched the teamwork of an American crew send the depth gauge spinning slowly around.

There was no particular feeling of pressure or movement.

There is a tense feeling of excitement and a thrill in the scores of gadgets being manipulated by the 13 men in the control room.

I got a scare when I leaned against the oiled periscope and suddenly felt water trickling down my sleeve. Lieut. Commander J. F. Davidson, 33, laughed and explained that it was normal for a little water to come in when the oil coagulated.

A group of war correspondents and I, realizing that we will soon be exposed to the exterior end of a torpedo tube, decided that it would be informative to go down in a friendly ship and see what it was like. There's nothing like knowing just how the enemy operates when he is trying to plug you with 2,500 pounds of metal and TNT.

Operating with its usual efficiency, the Navy whisked us from our flagship at an eastern port to a submarine base and a few hours later we were steaming for blue water at 10 knots.

The presence of some dive bombers practicing nearby didn't make us feel too well but Commander Davidson, a resident of Warren, Pa., assured us we were safe.

This lanky officer and his 49 associates put on an excellent demonstration of clockwork as they prepared to dive.

Orders, crisp and fast, crackled out as we huddled on a freezing, spray-swept deck.

Less than a minute after the order to submerge was given our craft was below the surface and ready for action.

It was a thrill to look through the periscope and realize that some day one of the Axis henchmen might look through a similar device at the ship I would be on.

Most of the crews in American submarines are volunteers who love the work. They are unhappy when given surface or shore duty and they like the chance for rapid promotion and the authority given a commanding officer.

"It's a thrill to gamble your experience and skill against the sea and the enemy," one officer said.

LIBEL CHARGED IN CRITICISM OF MACARTHUR

California Official Says General Is Defamed

Sacramento, Calif. —Attorney General Earl Warren ordered his Los Angeles office today to swear to a complaint charging Robert Noble, Ellis Jones and others with conspiracy to commit criminal libel in a published statement which cast reflection upon Gen. Douglas MacArthur's departure from the Philippines.

Warren declared that "by no stretch of the imagination" could the Noble-Jones statement, issued in a publication of the "Friends of Progress" society, be considered an exercise of the right of free speech.

Termed Malicious Lie "It is malicious falsehood and, when coupled with the other material in this and other publications by the same persons, shows a clear and definite purpose not only to defame General MacArthur, but also to spread disaffection among our people and cripple our nation in its war effort," the Attorney General said.

"It is libel of the basest sort and when taken in connection with their other acts may constitute treason."

SENATE BRUSHES ASIDE EFFORT TO REGULATE LABOR

Delays Action On Small Business Bill Until Issue Settled

Washington, —The Senate brushed aside today an effort to attach wartime labor regulations to pending small business legislation but leaders were reported reliably to be considering a program which would provide early debate on the subject.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.), announced that as soon as the small business bill is out of the war, he will move for consideration of his proposal to empower the government to take over war production plants and freeze labor relationships when such action is necessary to prevent or end strikes.

Senators anxious to join the House in taking an Easter recess were understood to be negotiating for an agreement by which Connally's bill could be made the unfinished business of the chamber and taken up after the vacation.

Majority Leader Barkley (D-Ky.), told reporters that he would not agree to taking up the Connally bill but that a brief recess might be worked out during which a motion to consider the measure could be the pending business.

The effort to write labor legislation into the small business bill was made by Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.). He offered amendments to suspend the 40-hour week, abolish overtime pay, outlaw closed shop agreements and make it unlawful to use threats or violence to keep workers from their jobs.

Take Your Empty Tube Along When Buying More Toothpaste

Washington, —The War Production Board today prohibited retail merchants from selling toothpaste or shaving cream in tubes to any customer who fails to turn in some type of used collapsible tube for each new one purchased.

The provision, first of its kind and effective immediately, makes retailers responsible for the trade-in transaction and directs that the used tubes thus collected be held subject to WPB orders.

At the same time, the board placed drastic restrictions on future use and production of collapsible tin tubes and prohibited their use entirely for foods, cosmetics and most toilet preparations.

Under the terms of the trade-in provision, a WPB spokesman declared, retailers are liable to penalties prescribed under the second war powers act—a maximum of $10,000 fine and a year's imprisonment—if sales of tube toothpaste or shaving cream are made in violation of the order.

Washington, —Filipino raiders, striking savagely on the island of Mindanao, have demolished Japanese military installations in the center of the occupied city of Zamboanga and leveled 22 war-stocked warehouses near another enemy stronghold, the War Department reported tonight.

On the Bataan peninsula, a slashing Japanese attack last night forced the American-Filipino veterans out of some of some advanced positions but the invaders were thrown back in fierce hand-to-hand combat short of the main lines. Enemy losses were heavy, while Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright's forces suffered only slight casualties, a communique said.

Japs Lose Heavily

One of the Mindanao raiding forays, launched from the hills near Digos on the western shore of Davao Gulf, coast the Japanese heavily in gasoline, ammunition and military supplies, it was announced. Vehicles and other heavy equipment were destroyed also when the intrepid raiders, catching the Japanese completely off guard, burned the warehouses. The supply base is located only 20 miles below the vital Japanese stronghold of Davao.

In the other spectacular raid a unit of native Sulu troops penetrated to the heart of Zamboanga, destroying enemy machine gun nests and inflicting heavy casualties on the Japanese. The raiders in both cases escaped without the loss of a man.

Harassing air raids against Corregidor and the dive-bombing of Bataan front lines continued, but caused only slight damage. Artillery fire from naval units and shore batteries accompanied the air attacks.

Land Fighting Dies

Early today, land fighting on Bataan died away to occasional sharp patrol clashes after waves of Japanese assault troops, supported by heavy mortar fire, had been hurled at the right center of the defense lines in the jungles north and west of Abucay. The line there forms the eastern anchor of the defense positions on the shore of Manila Bay.

to exchange a used tube of the same type as the tube being purchased.

It was understood that the used tubes eventually would be reprocessed and allocated back to the tube manufacturers—possibly representing the entire supply of tin they can expect for the duration of the war.

The order provides that tubes containing 100 per cent tin may be used only for certain medical ointments and pharmaceutical preparations, while tin-coated tubes must be used for toothpaste and shaving cream.

In orders earlier in the day, the government pared a long, new list of non-essentials from the nation's economy to save metal for guns and convert machines to war production.

Toymakers were ordered not to use a long list of scarce metals, plastics and colors, and to stop making any electric trains, metal toys or model airplanes that fly. The order takes effect July 1.

FIRST THINGS FIRST IS GRAND STRATEGY

The meeting with President
Roosevelt today of the newly created Pacific War Council may give the impression that the United States is principally concerned with the conflict in the Western Pacific.
Australia and New Zealand have clamored for a voice at the council
table at Washington. General Mac-Arthur's appointment as generalissimo of that area has magnified in American eyes the importance of the land down under in its relation to the global struggle. The 8,000-mile supply line over which men and materials have gone from San Francisco to Melbourne has dramatized the Antipodes and an all-out offensive from there might be expected if feelings and emotions guided the grand strategy of the United Nations.

Such a herculean effort, however,
is not possible at any early date
even if it were advisable. There are not the men, there is not the equipment, there are not the ships for such a vast undertaking and the men and equipment and ships
may be used to better advantage elsewhere. This does not mean that Australia is to be left to its fate or that there is to be a diminution of supplies to that island continent.
It is now in an excellent position to hold its own. That is all to the good because there are more vital areas in this world struggle that must be bolstered if the Allied Nations are to be victorious. China must be kept fighting. Russia must be supplied with weapons of war.
The Middle East must be defended at all costs and an invasion of Europe may be imperative. Grand strategy must determine when and where our heaviest blows are to be struck.

"The United States will play a decisive role in the great military campaigns now in preparation," writes Miles W. Vaughn, staff correspondent for the United Press,
"and the chances are that the major American effort will be expended in the Middle East rather than Australia." Mr. Vaughn bases his statement, which may or may not be correct, on the opinion of observers close to outstanding leaders of the United Nations.
What is undoubtedly correct is that other battlefields just now are more important in this life and death struggle than Australia.

Hanson W. Baldwin, military expert of The New York Times, states
the situation clearly and succinctly.
"The importance of Australia," he writes, "must be viewed against a world background. Australia is strategically an outpost; the Middle East and India-Burma are vital strategic crossroads; Russia still offers the major barrier to Hitler's hopes, and the British Isles are the only base from which we can hope some day to attack successfully the coast of Western Europe.
If these things go we have lost the war; that is not true if Australia
is overrun."

The Pacific War Council will consider the needs of the nations in the Southern Pacific and those needs will be met as far as possible. It will not, however, divert from its course the grand strategy
for winning the war.—Courier-Journal.

SPORT TALK

Sports writers, notably Harry Bolser, who have viewed the spring
workouts of the Paducah football squad, are already beginning to claim that Tilghman will be back with a bang for next year's football wars. With an unusually big squad, and some mighty promising material from the three junior high schools in Paducah, it is said that the Tornado now has the best long-range prospects since Tun-
still departed from the Tilghman scene. Last year's team, while not downright poor, was much weaker than the usual Tilghman outfit,
and this fall the experts say the Tornado is going to really roll over its opposition as it did when Tunstill was carrying the mail. The defeat last year at the hands of the Jackson Golden Bears was about the bitterest dose Tilghman had to swallow, for it marked the first time the two teams had ever met. Tilghman wanted that game mighty bad, but had to bow 10 to 0 on a rain-swept field. That game attracted one of the biggest crowds which ever witnessed a high school

game in this area, despite a heavy rain which fell all day and all during the game. Paducah sent over one thousand persons to the game,
and it is hoped that when the game
is played in Paducah this fall it will draw as well as it did last fall.
If Coach McRight goes into the armed service, as seems a bit probable, the team will be directed by Assistant Coach Cy Williams. The Tornado is now going through careful training, and the coaches are getting a line on what they may expect in the way of material for next fall. The coaches are also looking over the freshman material for next fall, for Tilghman always builds teams a year or two ahead.

Coach Garrett is doing his best to whip the Bulldogs into some semblance of a team, for it is planned now to play a practice game on April 10 with Tiptonville. I am not informed whether the game is to be played here or in the Tennessee
city, but it is likely that the two teams may play one game there and one here. Both teams have had trouble in scheduling practice games, for many of the teams are not having spring practice this year. Tiptonville started almost a week after the Bulldogs started, but the local team has not put in any hard work and is not ready for a game, by any means. In the week which is left Coach Garrett hopes to build up some sort of offense
and teach the boys some running plays. He has many who have not yet learned the fundamentals of football, and the game is not likely to show any brilliant football. As a matter of fact, spring seems to have more or less infected many of the boys and some of them are not especially anxious to put in real practice. Coach Giles, who leaves Fulton about the middle of the month, took over the line

coaching for a day or so this week,
and if he can get the boys to really cooperate with him for a week he will build a line which will stand up in a practice game.

The track meet which the Bulldogs face in Cairo on April 24 is likely to be a torrid affair, for many of the larger Illinois towns will have entries. For instance, Centralia will send their crack basketball player down there for the high jumps. Eddlemann is said to be one of the best high jumpers in the State, holding a mark of six feet, four inches. He was also the outstanding star in basketball for the Centralia team, which outfit won the state championship a couple weeks ago. It is also believed that many towns from Southeast Missouri, perhaps Cape Girardeau, will have teams in the Cairo
meet, and Coach Hughes says flatly that his boys will have to show
a lot more than they have thus far to get anywhere in this Cairo competition.

Paducah and Mayfield are making hard efforts to get their business adjusted so that they may enter the Kitty League, and many baseball observers say the two towns will be in there before the season opens.

Miss Jane Edwards Becomes Bride Of Sam Harper, Jr., In Quiet Ceremony

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the marriage of Miss Florence Jane Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam W. Edwards, College street, to Samuel Milage Harper, Jr., son of Mrs. Sam Harper and the late Mr. Harper, Moore street, Clinton, Kentucky, was quietly solemnized in the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. B. J. Russell, retired Methodist minister, Fulton, who officiated in the wedding of the groom's parents thirty years ago, performed an impressive double ring ceremony before only members of the immediate families.

Attending the bride was Miss Cavita Brown and with the groom was William Henry Edwards, brother of the bride.

The vows were exchanged before a lovely altar consisting of several huge potted ferns with tall standards holding white tapers in between. The ceremony was performed by candlelight.

The bride, an attractive brunette, was very becomingly dressed in a Junior Guild ensemble of Sundown gold crepe dress and full length wool coat of same color. Her hat was of Sundown straw and accessories were of turf tan. She wore a shoulder corsage of orchids. Miss Brown wore a jacket dress of green with pleated skirt, turf tan hat and accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of Tullismania roses.

Following the ceremony the bride's mother was hostess to a very informally planned supper for the newlyweds, their attendants and members of the two families. The menu was served at a beautifully decorated table, holding as its centerpiece a two-tiered wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom atop.

The bride and groom then left for an unannounced wedding trip to return here Sunday. They will make their home with the groom's mother in Clinton.

Mrs. Harper attended Fulton High school, being graduated in the class of 1939. She has a great number of friends in Fulton and surrounding towns, her kindness and always cheery disposition making her a lovable person among both young and older persons.

The groom is a graduate of Central High school in Clinton, class of 1939, and has been associated with his father as dealer in livestock since that time. Recently he was located in Tupelo, Mississippi where he owns a packing plant.

OBION COUNTY COUNCIL OF P. T. A. IN MEETING

The Obion County Council of the Parent-Teacher's Association held its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon at the court house in Union City and at this meeting the annual installation of officers was held. This service was conducted by the District President, Mrs. King Webb of Dresden, Tennessee, assisted by the retiring Council president, Mrs. Milton Hamilton, Union City.

Mrs. Leon Hutchins of the South Fulton P. T. A. was installed as president of the County Council and Mrs. I. M. Jones of South Fulton was installed as corresponding secretary. Other new officers are: Mrs. Norman Link of Union City, vice-president; Mrs. Lawrence Fox, Obion, recording secretary; and Mrs. Jimmy Young of Union City, treasurer.

No program was planned for this meeting as the installation of officers was a lengthy ceremony. The regular monthly reports were made, however, and the president made an announcement regarding the state convention which will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 27, 28 and 29, in Nashville, Tenn.

Attending the meeting from Fulton, besides Mrs. Hutchins and Mrs. Jones, were Mrs. R. E. Sanford, Mrs. Carl Kimberlin, Mrs. Howard Strange and Mrs. Clyde Fields.

HORNBEAK-DUKE MARRIAGE LAST EVENING IN BLYTHEVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hornbeak, Third street, are today announcing the marriage of their daughter, Evelyn, to Hafford Duke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Duke of Beelerton. The wedding took place last night, April 1, in Blytheville, Arkansas, at the home of the officiating minister, the Rev. O. F. Chastain, pastor of the Blytheville Methodist church. Rev. Chastain read the single ring ceremony in the presence of two attendants, Miss Louise Chastain and the coach of Blytheville High school.

For her wedding the bride wore a handsome tailored suit of blue with top coat to match. Her hat was of turf tan and other accessories were turf tan and navy blue.

Both the bride and groom attended Fulton High school, the bride later attending Montverde School of Montverde, Florida. Mr. Duke was graduated at Fulton High in the class of 1940, and was later employed at Evans Drug Store, in Fulton. He is now in school at M. I. T. I. Aircraft school in Memphis.

The couple will remain here until next week when they will go to Memphis to make their home.

JUNIOR MUSIC CLUB MEETING YESTERDAY

The Junior Music Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Hugh Pigue Wednesday afternoon, April 1, with Misses Lois Jean Hindman, Jessie Nell Carter and Frances Kerr, Union City, hostesses.

The president, Miss Martha Ellen Duley, conducted the business session and in the absence of Miss Virginia Howard, the secretary, Miss Lois Jean Hindman called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. Committees were appointed and plans completed for an exchange program with the Union City club the first week in May which is Good Music Week.

The following officers were elected for next year: president, Miss LaNelle Bugg; vice-president, Miss Carolyn Duley; secretary, Miss Mary Blanche Wiggins; treasurer, Miss Virginia Ann Hardy; and historian, Miss Jessie Nell Carter.

At the conclusion of the business meeting Miss Mildred Mount, leader for the afternoon, presented the following program on "Indian Music."

Piano selection—"Indian Lament," Gruen, by Miss Mary Lee Haws.

Flute solo—"By The Waters of Minnetonka," by Miss LaNelle Bugg, accompanied by Mrs. Wiley.

Trio—"Indian Dawn," Zamechuk, by Miss Mary Blanche Wiggins, Miss Virginia Ann Hardy and Miss Hilda Byars, accompanied by Miss Martha Ellen Duley.

That concluded the program and during the social hour the hostesses served a plate to fifteen members and three visitors—Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. Voelpe and Miss Mary Lee Haws.

MAN URGING "LEGAL REVOLT" HELD FOR JURY

Christians Admit Plan, But Denies Guilt

Chattanooga.—George W. Christians, engineer-turned-economist who admitted today at a federal hearing that he advocated a "legal" economic revolution, was held for the April term of the federal grand jury under $10,000 bond on charges of distributing subversive propaganda.

Mild mannered and slow spoken, Christians pleaded innocent to the charge and denied that any of the evidence submitted before U. S. Commissioner Arnold Morgan indicated the Federal Government, the constitution or the President. He did not post bond immediately and was held in the Hamilton County Jail.

The government submitted several letters, which a federal agent said admittedly were written by Christians and addressed to army officers and other public officials. In them were found references of intent to "create a reign of terror." Acting as his own counsel Christians testified he believed that the more violent he made his writings, the "less violence there would be on the streets" on the advent of his "economic revolution." This revolution, he asserted, would be based on a theory under which labor would supplant gold as a monetary basis.

GREAT CROWD
HEARS SERMON

Rev. House used Galatians 6:14 and 1 John 1:7, as text for this greatest of all his messages yet delivered, "But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom I unto the world." Gal. 6:14. "But if we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another and the blood of Jesus Christ his son cleanses us from all sin." 1 John 1:7.

Rev. House reminds us that we must study the whole Bible in order to understand God's great plan. We are not to take just little pieces and try to make whole foundations of them. There is a place for each and everyone of the great points of doctrine such as Baptism, Prayer, Goodworks, The Lord's Supper and so on. But there is only one great essential. That is the cross of Christ with its meaning for sin stricken humanity. You may be unsound or your doctrine of Goodworks, Lord's supper, Baptism or any others and yet be a saved person. But you cannot be unsound on your belief, in the cross and still be saved. You may know science and geology. You may know all species of rocks but if you have missed the "Rock of Ages" you are lost. You may know botany and be able to tell all about roses and such but if you do not know the "Rose of Sharon" you are lost.

Rev. House said, "There is a tradition abroad in the land that a suicide is always lost, but it is utterly without foundation. There is not one scripture anywhere to prove it. We cannot say or judge, but God says "The blood of Jesus Christ his son cleanses us from all sin." In the past, now and forever.

"Our body is the most complex machine ever made and who can say that the physical breakdown that usually precedes suicides, does not contribute largely to suicides. But if that person has once been born into God's kingdom he is eternally God's child for neither the laws of physical nor spiritual can reverse the law of birth and as Paul reminds us in Rom. 8 'Who shall separate us from the love of Christ.' Neither death. Nor life nor angels nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love Christ Jesus, our Lord.

"Now we may be God's children and be disobedient but he will chasten us and visit us with the rod and stripes of his correction. But we are no less his children. We cannot undo birth. The world has sinned and cannot enter into the presence of God. But He was wounded for our transgression. He was bruised for our iniquities. The chastisement of our peace was laid on Him and with His stripes we are healed for He gave himself for us that He might redeem us from all iniquity and purify unto himself a peculiar people zealous of Good Works." Titus—2:14.

OFFICIAL SAYS
U. S. TO DEFER
ARGENTINA AID

Nations Helping In War To Get Supplies First

Washington, — Until Argentina pulls her share of the hemisphere defense load, the United States must of necessity give preferential treatment to those Latin American nations that have either declared war against or broken relations with the Axis, a high official declared today in delineating this government's hemispheric policy.

This, the informant said, is a matter of logic and is designed to assure the safety of the nine Caribbean and Central American nations that have declared war and of the nine other countries that have severed all connections with Germany, Japan and Italy.

Policy Is Not Reprisal
Even Argentina herself, the source declared, must recognize that defense supplies must go first to those nations that, through their declarations, have exposed themselves to Axis attacks.

This policy, he explained, is in no sense a reprisal against Argentina. He declared that Argentina had every right to determine for herself what her foreign policy should be.

At present, the informant declared, Argentina is not contributing anything effective to the defense or security of the Western Hemisphere, and until she pulls her share of the load it will be impossible for the United States to provide her with the same kind of practical assistance that this country is providing for the other American republics.

Chile's Situation Modified
The situation in relation to Chile, the only other Latin American nation that has not broken with the Axis, is modified because of that country's greater vulnerability to attack, the official said.
