FULTON AND UNION CITY GROUPS MEET

A committee from the Fulton Chamber of Commerce went to Union City Tuesday night and met with members of that city group to discuss a proposed plan to improve and widen a 1,000 mile stretch of highway from Chicago to New Orleans. Plans of the "Great Lakes to the Gulf Highway 51 Association are to follow Highway 96 from Chicago to Bloomington, Ill., and Highway 51 from that point to New Orleans. Highway 51 passes through both Fulton and Union City.

A bill is now before the United States Senate to provide $20,000,000 for the start of this work. It is possible that federal engineers would seek to straighten the road and thus reduce mileage. In such a case, paving of the highway from Clinton to Union City might be omitted, reducing the distance by eight miles, and thus would miss Fulton.

Representatives from Fulton strongly disfavored the proposed paving of this road.

Airlane Gas Co. To Make Change

Extensive repairs and remodeling are being made on the building on upper Main street owned by Messrs. Ira Little and Smith Atkins, in preparation for occupancy by the office of the Airlane Gas Company. It is estimated that approximately $1500 will be expended in improvements.

The Airlane company was opened here in August, 1937, by B. J. Burkett, Johnny Lord and Blanch Humphrey. It was taken over March 1, 1939 by the present owners, and the company is now serving 13 counties in Tennessee and 14 counties in Kentucky. R. A. Stevens, of Dyersburg is president of the concern. Paul G. Boyd, who has charge of installations, is vice-president. R. B. Jones, secretary-treasurer, is in charge of sales.

This company has made rapid strides since coming under its present management, according to facts revealed here this week by R. B. Jones. Its business was double in 1939 over any previous year, then 1940 and 1941 have doubled in volume of business over the previous year.

INTEREST GROWS IN COMING ELECTION

Although the Primary Election is four months off, and scarcely no candidate has made announcement that he will make the race, interest in the forthcoming county and city elections is steadily mounting. A number of persons have declared themselves as intending to run for various county offices, but public interest will take a sudden trend upward once candidates officially enter the field by announcing for office.

This year nominees will be elected for sheriff, jailer, county judge, tax commissioner, county attorney, county clerk, in the city ticket in Fulton, a mayor and council will be elected.

NOTICE TO POLITICAL CANDIDATES

This week marks the opening of the 1941 political campaign with the first candidate making an announcement in this issue of the News.

From now until April 15 we are making a special price reduction on each political announcement with 5,000 candidate cards. Those who are planning to make the race for any county or city office should see us now.

TWO MEN DIE FROM INJURIES BY SAW

They had been operating the saw only about 30 minutes when it burst.

PRESIDENTIAL LORE

George Washington was first inaugurated on April 30, 1789, at Federal Hall, on Wall street, New York, his second inauguration was in Philadelphia.

Before 1804 each elector voted for two candidates for president, and the candidate receiving the highest number of votes became president, while the one receiving the second highest became vice-president.

John Adams was vice-president during Washington's two terms, and was elected president in 1796, defeated Thomas Jefferson by three electoral votes. Adams was defeated for re-election in 1800, when Jefferson, then vice-president, was chosen.

In this 1800 election, Jefferson and Aaron Burr were tied in the electoral college with 73 votes each, Adams receiving 65. As neither candidate had a majority, the election went to the House of Representatives, in accordance with the Constitution, when Jefferson was elected, Burr becoming vice-president.

The House of Representatives was called on to choose the president again in 1824, when John Quincy Adams was elected over Andrew Jackson, although Jackson had received the highest number of electoral votes, but not a majority. Jackson defeated Adams for re-election in 1828, however, and served two terms.

William Henry Harrison was the oldest president, 68, at the time of his inauguration in 1841, and was first to die in office, after serving only one month. Theodore Roosevelt was the youngest president, taking office at the age of 42.

Franklin D. Roosevelt completed eight years as president on March 4. He is now serving his third term, which makes him serve longer than any other man. His first term was shortened by a constitutional amendment changing the inauguration date to January 20.

AMERICANS HAVE MEAT

At a time when meat is rigidly rationed or virtually unobtainable throughout a large part of the world, Americans may be thankful that this prime article of human food is still plentiful and reasonable in price in this most favored of countries.

It is estimated that the American housewife spends about 5 cents of every dollar of family income for meat, as she has done for years. While she may prefer one kind or another, she tends to buy the product giving her the most meat of quality for her nickel.

Properly fed, the hog is a most efficient meat producer, and the hog raiser's ability to produce quality pork at low cost will largely determine what part of the housewife's 5 cents he will get.

State experiment stations have shown repeatedly that when properly supplemented with minerals, soybean oil meal is one of the best and most economical protein concentrates available for all types of hog feeding. Therefore, this meal in combination with animal proteins is being used by rapidly increasing number of alert hog raisers.

Whole or ground soybeans are not satisfactory, as they contain too much oil, thereby producing soft pork and lard of inferior quality. Soybean oil meal is very efficient, because it has been cooked in processing and the excess oil removed, so that its feeding results in pork of excellent quality.

This accounts for the phenomenal increase in the use of soybean oil meal from 21,000 tons to over a million tons annually in the last 10 years, as it is equally desirable in the feeding of all kinds of livestock.

TWO IMMIGRANT BOYS

Next to the President himself, the two most powerful figures in the nation today are William S. Knudsen and Sidney Hillman, both foreign-born. Both came to America at the age of 20 and rapidly rose to prominence in their chosen fields, one becoming an outstanding industrial manager and the other a potent labor leader.

Knudsen is a native of Denmark, who found his first employment in this country in New York shipyards, later working in railroad shops, as stockroom keeper, mill superintendent, and finally becoming identified with the automobile industry. In 1937 he became president of General Motors and from this position he was called to lead the great armament production effort.

Hillman was born in Lithuania, of Russian Jewish parents, and upon coming to America became active in labor circles, particularly in organization work in the garment making and textile trades. He has been president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America since 1915, and served as vice-president of the C. I. O.

Knudsen and Hillman now act as a sort of double head to the new Office for Production Management, recently created, with Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of the Navy Knox as the other two members. President Roosevelt has delegated wide powers to the OPM in connection with the national defense effort.

Thus there falls upon the shoulders of two former immigrant boys the chief responsibility for the success of the country's armament program.

Money Talks

By Frederick Stamm, Economist, Director of Adult Education, UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The cost of maintaining a home is on the rise. The U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that it cost the average family two per cent more to live in February than in January. Last week I stated that a price rise was coping, and these figures bear out that fact.

What items in your household budget are taking more money? Food costs have shown the greatest increase. Prices of pork, fresh vegetables, coffee, lard, and sugar have gone up considerably. Pork chops sold for 26.6 per cent more this February than in February, 1940. And we expect a further rise in the cost of food, according to most authorities.

Rent is the next item which has shown tremendous increases. In some of our larger cities and especially those in which we have large defense industries, rents have gone up as much as 25 to 35 per cent.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics also reports that house furnishing costs, clothing costs, and fuel and electricity have gone down. This is surprising. It seems to me that clothing prices cannot stay down in the face of the substantial wage increase recently granted the union workers in this industry. The cost of transportation, recreation, and medical care has gone up slightly. Taxes are also taking more of our income. So, all in all, it costs us considerably more to live than it did a year ago.

A cafe in Loveland, Colo., displays this sign: "Free coffee any time during any day the sun is not shining."

But there is another side to the picture. Consumer income, for the U. S. as a whole, has increased approximately 9 per cent over February a year ago. Thus even though living costs have gone up (for the nation), income has gone up faster (for the nation) and so we are not so hard up after all.

Inequalities in the rise in income create the greatest problem. Farmers have not shared equally in the increase with the industrial worker. Neither have the school teachers, ministers, and the white-collar workers who are on yearly salaries. All of us do not share equally in income increases, but practically all of us do share equally in price increases. And it is this that works hardships on certain classes and not on others.

Most of the conditions that cause accidents on our highways are created by us. We, the drivers, are responsible for most of the trouble and the steadily mounting national traffic toll.

Many times, in some of our rural sections, you will find "visiting" going on and two cars parked directly opposite each other headed in opposite directions. One may be on the shoulder and the other one in the traffic lane. Just about this time two other cars going in opposite directions are about to meet at this point, and because these "gab fests" are frequently over the brow of a hill, it is too late to stop. The result is a smash-up involving four cars.

Why do people do this. The answer is that they just do not use their thinking powers. Let's use our heads.

Delivered Through A Middleman

By IRVIN S. COBB

IN the year after the Great War started—which was more than a year before we got into the mess—there was a German who ran a saloon in Bridgeport, Connecticut. Close by was a munition factory where explosives were being manufactured for the Allies. As one who had a sympathy for the cause of his Fatherland, the German nursed a deep grudge against the neighboring industry. He included the operatives in the plant among his enemies.

One day, as he sat behind his bar, a husky Irishman in overalls entered.

"Say," he began, "I'd like to open a small account with you. I'd like to come in here for me drinks and on Saturday night when I get paid off I'll come over and settle. I'm a square guy and I always pay me debts. I'm thirsty right now and I ain't got a cent on me. How about it?"

"Well," said the German, "for my regular customers sometimes I put it on de slate; only, you are a stranger to me. Where you work?"

"Right across the street here," said the Irishman. "In the munition factory? Nuttin' doin'!"

"Well, they told me," said the Irishman, "that you was kinda sore on us fellers over there but I was thinkin' that if you knew we was makin' shells for the Germans now maybe you'd act different."

The Teuton's face broke into a broad smile.

"For the Germans now you make 'em, eh? Say, dot's fine—dot's pully. Have some drinks on me. We drink together, huh?"

They drank together. Three times more, as rapidly as the Irishman emptied his beer-glass the German replenished it. Each time stating that for this festive occasion, at least, there would be no charge for the refreshment. The hospital rites having been concluded the new patron was moving toward the door when the German was moved to put a question. Until now, in his exuberance, he had forgotten to ask for details:

"Say," he said, "how you get dose shells over to der Chermans?"

"Well," said the Irishman, edging a little nearer toward the door, "we don't exactly send 'em to the Germans direct, you understand."

"No? Then how you do it?"

"Oh, we sell 'em to the English and they shoot 'em over."

THE CLANCY KIDS

All He Needed Was a Lion's Roar.

HOME AGENT NOTES

Mrs. Pearl J. Haak, Food Specialist from the Extension Department of the University of Kentucky, will conduct the fifth lesson on "Meal Planning" for the Food Leaders of the Fulton County

Homemakers Club on Wednesday, April 2, at the Hickman Homemakers' club room. The subject of the days' lesson will be "Salads," which will be the topic at the April meetings of the individual clubs.

During the month of March food leaders have given interesting lessons to club members on "Meals for the Convalescent" and directions were given for making an invalid tray out of apple boxes. A discussion was held concerning the following problems, which are found during illness: loss of appetite, tissues of the body need repair, blood needs building up, digestive organs are slowed down and need stimulation, and constipation. In order to overcome these problems and aid in a speedy recovery, well-balanced meals must be served, furnishing protein for rebuilding tissues, food rich in minerals and vitamins to build up the blood and appetite, start the glands to functioning properly and prevent constipation.

Foods must be served that are easily digested. Never serve fried foods. Cook milk and eggs at a low temperature, start cooking vegetables in boiling water and add the seasoning at the end of the cooking period, and butter is preferred to other seasonings. Cook fruits at a low temperature and without sugar. Serve foods that are attractive and appetizing, in small quantities and on time. Never ask the patient what he would like for his meals, he usually does not want anything but he must eat.

Some foods suggested, unless the doctor orders otherwise, are milk, milk desserts and soups, eggs, vegetables such as potatoes, carrots, greens, peas and asparagus, fruits, fruit juices and cooked dried fruits, cooked cereals, oatmeal and cream of wheat.

GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL DAY MAY 4

At a recent meeting of the Central Committee of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, Sunday, May 4th, 1941, was designated Go-To-Sunday-School Day in Kentucky. Rev. George A. Joplin, D. D., former General Secretary of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, inaugurated Go-To-Sunday-School Day on May 3rd, 1914, and its observance has been part of the annual program of the Association ever since.

The purpose of the day is to help make Kentucky Sunday School conscious and to increase enrollment in and attendance upon the Sunday Schools, thus encouraging the study of the Bible and helping in the development of Christian character.

The goal for 1941 is a 20 per cent increase in attendance over Go-To-Sunday-School Day last year. Workers throughout the state are asked to unite in this great effort to see that every person in Kentucky receives at least one invitation to attend Sunday School of his choice on May 4th.

PALESTINE HOME-MAKERS MET FRIDAY

The Palestine Homemakers' club held its March meeting last Friday at the home of Mrs. Gussie Browder, west of town. Mrs. C. E. Callwell and Mrs. Meletus Brown were co-hostesses. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Roy Bard, the meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. Leighman Drysdale. The roll was called by the secretary, Mrs. Morgan Davidson, and each member answered, giving her opinion on "Pursuit of Happiness—What Is It?" Reports were given by the advisory council, Mrs. Homer Weatherspoon and Mrs. H. M. Browder.

A panel discussion was held on subjects helpful in National Defense. Mrs. Catherine Thompson, home agent, made announcements about the district meeting and summer camp for Homemakers.

At noon the hostesses served lunch to thirteen members and Mrs. Thompson. In the afternoon session Mrs. Richard Mobley gave the lesson on "Meals for the Convalescent." Mrs. Thompson demonstrated the way to make an attractive tray for the sick. Mrs. Gussie Browder gave the topic on "Landscaping" and Mrs. Thompson discussed "Social Graces."

During the social hour, Mrs. Homer Weatherspoon was in charge of games and songs were led by Mrs. E. A. Thompson.

1003 APPLICATIONS TAKEN IN MATTRESS PROJECT

The date for the closing of taking mattress applications which is set for April 1, is near and it is urged that those who are interested in getting mattresses will get their applications in before that date, since no applications can be accepted after April 1.

1003 applications have been received to date.

A letter was received this week stating that the percale to be used in making comforts is being used in the National Defense Program and no order will further be received to make comforts. Therefore, this means that a limited amount of percale will be shipped, and if your application was not sent in in the first order, you probably will not be given a comfort with your mattress.

A REPORT to America

The Ford Motor Company's business has always been to serve the needs of the American people. In providing them with low-cost transportation for the past 38 years, we have developed one of the country's largest and most useful industrial units. During a national emergency, we feel that these facilities should be devoted without reserve to our country's needs. Toward that end we started rolling months ago, with these results:

- 1 A $21,000,000 Ford airplane engine factory, started only 6 months ago, is nearly completed. Production will start with an initial order for 4,236 eighteen cylinder, air-cooled, double-row, radial engines.
- 2 We are building a new $800,000 Ford magnesium alloy foundry, one of the few in the country. It is already producing lightweight airplane engine castings.
- 3 Army reconnaissance cars—military vehicles of an entirely new type—are rolling off special Ford assembly lines at the rate of more than 600 a month. We have produced Army staff cars and bomber service trucks.
- 4 The government has given the "go-ahead" and work is now under way for the fast construction of an $11,000,000 Ford plant to produce bomber airframe assemblies by mass production methods.

That is a report of progress to date. The experience and facilities of this company can be used to do much of the job which America now needs to get done in a hurry.

Our way of working, which avoids all possible red tape, enables us to get results and get them fast. This benefits users of our products and workers who produce them.

We are ready to make anything we know how to make, to make it to the limit of our capacity if need be, to make it as fast as we can go, and to start the next job whenever our country asks us to. And to this end, we know we have the full confidence and loyal support of the workmen throughout our plants.

FULTON COUNTY HAS MANY MILES ROADS

Fulton County with an area of approximately 180 square miles has a total of 150 miles of surfaced rural roads, with about 17 more miles now under construction. It is believed that few counties in Kentucky can claim a better record.

Most of these roadways have been built since 1934 with the cooperation of the W. P. A. The county was required to furnish right-of-ways and 25 per cent of the cost of construction. Practically all these improved roads include grade, drain and gravel surface.

A little more than 34 miles of roads were built by state highway department, including the Middle Road, Walnut Log Road, Union City Road, Ferry Road, Brownsville Road, Jordan, Cayce and Moscow Road.

Louis Bante, merchant of Maplewood, Mo., crocheted his daughter's wedding gown, which required 10,000 yards of thread.

WHOLESALE SACRIFICE Entire Used Car Stock

HERE'S WHY WE DO IT

Yes, we could sell our stock of fine used cars to a wholesaler for just about what we'll realize out of 'em through this sale to the general public. Fulton Receives High Music Rating

The annual music festival for high schools of West Kentucky was held Friday and Saturday at Murray State College, with contestants present from 24 schools. Degrees used in judging students were superior, excellent, good and fair.

Among contestants from Fulton Miss Jane Dallas was rated superior in the contralto vocal contest and Miss Grace Cavendar, mezzo soprano, was rated as good.

The Fulton High trio was rated as good. This trio is composed of Misses Mary Cary Johnson, Virginia Ann Hill and Hilda Byars.

LaNelle Bugg, entering the flute contest, was rated as superior.

Martha Ellen Duley was given a superior rating and Miss Donna Jean DeMyer received a rating of excellent in the piano contests.

The Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Hugh Pigue, received a rating of superior in a contest Saturday morning.

The high school band, directed by Yewell Harrison, was rated as excellent. Last year the band was rated superior among C class bands, and this year it was advanced to B class bands. Price Doyle, head of the music department at Murray College, stated that the local school now has a splendid band, the best it has ever sent to Murray.

Schools represented at the festival were Fulton, Mayfield, Murray High, Murray Training School, Reidland, Benton, Lowes, Wingo, Bardwell, Pilot Oak, Kirksy, Tilghman of Paducah, Trigg County, Farmington, Hazel, Sharpe, Eddyville, New Concord, Clay, Alamo, Calvert City, Heath, Lone Oak and St. Mary's of Paducah.

Fulton County Tax Assessments $7,691,915

Figures released this week revealed that the total tax assessments in Fulton county were $7,691,915 for 1941, as compared with $7,615,221 for the year 1940. This includes state, county, road and school tax assessments.

Fulton county assessments rank par or slightly higher than a few counties, which have conducted vigorous efforts to prevent increases, and this fact is attracting wide interest among taxpayers in this locality. Figures studied this week revealed that this county is about 180 square miles in area, and with assessments totaling $7,691,915 is heavier taxed proportionately than another county studied that has total assessments of $15,470,500 with about 540 square miles of land, and slightly more than double the population of this county. This other county also has more towns, with more business places and industrial improvements.

These facts are worthy of consideration when and if the state compels the counties to raise their tax assessments. The Fulton Chamber of Commerce, various other groups and individuals have gone on record opposing an increase in tax assessments. It is significant that many of our political leaders and business men are encouraging city, county and state governments to reduce operating expenses in order to meet the increase in federal taxation necessary to carry out the defense program.

Since Fulton county adopted a pay-as-you-go plan several years ago, considerable progress has been made toward reduction of the county's indebtedness. Prior to this set-up, established under the present administration of Judge C. L. Walker, this county owed $599-

470.50. This indebtedness has now been reduced to approximately $480,000. Interest on this indebtedness formerly aggregated about $8,000 a year; today it runs between $500 and $750 a year. Competitive bidding for all work and materials for the county has brought about steady savings, it is pointed out.

But what is of importance to taxpayers right now is that definite action be taken to hold tax assessments at their present level. Now is the time to kick, not after assessments have been hiked by the state. Fulton county's financial condition is an example to many other counties in the state, and no step should be taken now to destroy a record that has received much commendation throughout the state.

"TVA," a two reel motion picture showing the work of the Tennessee Valley Authority and particularly the part the Authority is playing in the National Defense program, will be shown at the Fulton Theatre in Fulton on Wednesday, April 2nd and Thursday, April 3rd, sponsored by the Young Men's Business Club.

The film was produced by the National Defense Advisory Commission in cooperation with the TVA. Two camera crews worked on the film, photographing scenes in all states in the TVA area—factories, farms, laboratories, schools, dams, powerhouses, construction work, etc. Aerial photography played a big part in making the film, and the scenes taken from the air show many beautiful views of the valley and the work in progress.

Here Is Your Opportunity To Win
2 Beautiful Bicycles
To Be Given Away By Votes

The Sooner You Enter This Contest, The Better Chance You Have To Win!

It's simple. All you have to do is gather trade coupons and save them. Ask your mother, dad, relatives and friends to save them for you, too. The contest opens Tuesday, April 1st, when we start giving away Trade Tickets with each cash sale for laundry and dry cleaning. These coupons will be good for votes—one vote for each penny sale. This Contest will run for a period of thirteen weeks, closing June 30. The bicycles—one girls' and one boys'—will be given away July 4th, 1941, at 10 a.m.

Rules of Contest

1. Any boy or girl under 15 years of age, living in the Fulton trade territory, will be eligible to enter. The only exceptions being children of employes of this organization.
2. Each boy or girl entering must present 100 votes with entrance, which must not be later than April 15.
3. Each Contestant must report votes to our office once each week, depositing them in a sealed box, which will not be opened until Monday, June 30, at 5 p.m. in the presence of three impartial judges who will count the votes and announce the winners. (All votes collected each week do not have to be reported by the contestants if so desired. But votes deposited in the early periods count more.)
4. Votes turned in before April 15 will have a DOUBLE value. So get busy now and pile up a good lead.
5. Standings of each contestant will be announced Friday of each week.
6. Each contestant is required to keep a record of his own votes. Receipt must be obtained from our office as contestant deposits votes.
7. Votes will not be given on Commercial Work.

Just think of it! Two handsome bicycles to be given away, and all you have to do is collect trade coupons. These bikes are fully equipped, with headlights, chain guards and package carriers, and are now on display in our window.

THE EXHIBITION

Many old terms are losing their former associations, none more than "exhibition," which used to mean the grand finale of the school term. It has been years since I even heard the word with this connotation. But a half century or less ago this was the sense always intended.

Friday afternoons were the time for extra-curricular activities, especially the speaking of pieces.

Most of the middle-aged lawyers and preachers of our time got their start in public speaking by learning and saying poems or orations at the country school. Almost anything would do for a Friday afternoon "speech," but there must be something special for the exhibition. The teacher took a hand and taught the children declamations and poems and dialogues. For several days before the school ended, we spent a good part of our time practicing, for we knew the general public, represented by some parents and grown-up young people would come in to see us perform and to participate in the treat that would be given by the teacher. Some of the children assumed that the best way to make a speech is to hurry through it as fast as words can be pronounced; these were the ones the teacher practiced most, but usually with poor results. My special delight was to talk very loudly and very fast; few could drown me out or keep up with me. I am sorry that the teacher had little effect on me in my eagerness to be heard and also to get through.

mencement speaker at a certain Kentucky high school, did not get started on my speech until ten o'clock, for the nine graduates had to make speeches, not to mention the various musical numbers. The night was very warm, and so was I; I made a full-hour address in revenge. Some of this animus was due to the memory of the long hours that I had suffered in "term final" days.

Schools have grown so large in our time that the speaking of pieces by all the graduates would make the program last all night. The custom now, a very good one, is to limit the speeches, in most high schools but not all any longer, to the two students who had the highest scores on their four years of academic work. Sometimes I have been pleasantly surprised by the freshness and originality of some of these, but I also recall that I have heard the same salutatory speech three times in a single season. Just how the budding orators of today will get their training once offered by the exhibition I do not know. Evidently there have been plenty of chances somewhere, for I notice that the political candidates of today have much of the old-time frenzy we had when we said our pieces just before the candy and apples and oranges were passed around.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

If a vestige of doubt remained in any mind as to this country's position in the current world struggle for power, the President's speech at the White House Correspondents Association dinner should have dispelled it. There was no humor in the President's voice. There were no light touches. He had grave words to say, and he said them gravely.
 That speech, coming hard on the heels of Congress' approval of the lend-lease bill, made our policy clear as crystal—we are out to destroy dictatorship, and the entire resources of this nation will be spent freely to that end. He denounced the Nazis by name. He accused them of seeking the destruction of elective systems of government on every continent, including our own. He accused them of seeking to stir up controversies and to create disunion within all democracies, including our own. And he said that they would fail—that the world-be conquerors will find that the forces of democracy, though they may move slowly, will in the end be supreme.
 That speech was obviously designed for more than American ears. Immediately after it was made, it was broadcast to the far corners of the world, in 14 different languages. It went, by short wave, to Germany, to the occupied nations, to Africa, to South America. For this government feels, as do the British, that the moral effect of 100 per cent support of the democracies' war is almost as important in some ways as will be its material effect. It is no secret that Britain expects that revolts in the conquered nations will eventually be a major factor contributing to Hitler's collapse. The fact that the United States has actually intervened in the war, even though only as a non-belligerent, is expected to give new hope to the millions of people who now live as virtual prisoners of the nazi-fascist system.

It is significant that the President had little to say concerning the world after the war. The whole emphasis, here and in England, is now being placed upon victory. That dominates all official thinking and planning. There is little time for discussion about the world order of the future. That must wait.
 Highly important were the President's words to industry and labor. He definitely took the stand that many have wanted him to take for months—he said that all must work harder and longer, that all must expect smaller profits. He said, in effect, that all must sacrifice, and that nothing will be permitted to stand in the way of the swiftest possible consummation of the aid-to-the-democracies program.
 So the policy has been finally established. The debate is over, and even the opponents of the lend-lease plan admit that public sentiment is overwhelmingly behind it. Now the real job begins—to make and supply the weapons Britain and Greece and China must have. That calls for greater industrial productivity than we have so far obtained. It calls for a ship-building drive of unprecedented proportions. Further, it may very likely call for use of the American navy to convoy merchant ships to England—it is obvious that our weapons will be of no use if the ships bearing them are sunk by the dozen in the Atlantic.

The President's request for a $7,000,000,000 appropriation to put the lend-lease plan into effect, was unquestionably designed as a dramatic gesture. It is known that at least two years must pass before it will be possible for our factories to produce that value of goods for England—some think the war will be over before the appropriation is exhausted. The President apparently preferred to ask for a tremendous appropriation at once, rather than to request smaller sums at intervals over a period of time, in order to show the dictators that we really mean business.

The tide is moving swiftly now. Watch for crackdowns on labor if it gets out of hand. Pressure of the strongest kind will probably be applied to organizations or industries which are still thinking in terms of business as usual, and are not troubling themselves to give all-out effort. Even the Administration's strongest critics believe that it really means that sacrifices, financial and otherwise, must be shared by all.

The President made a significant statement when he said, at a press conference, that the lend-lease bill does not restrict aid to any particular group of countries, but can be extended to cover other nations if the need arises. Obvious tactics in this was to assure the small Balkan powers that America would help them too if they resisted Nazi invasion. England is moving Heaven and earth in an effort to improve her position in Europe, and to create a strong front against Hitler.

It is highly questionable, however, if the frightened Balkan governments can be swayed now. Hitler's immense legions are ominously close, and the U. S. is far away. Britain has little to spare in the way of aircraft, mechanized equipment and fighting ships. Best military opinions hold that most of the small countries will accept Axis "protection."

Two of the fastest-working bandits of recent record did their stuff in Miami one day last week.

They held up five hotel clerks, a liquor dealer and three pedestrians in 72 minutes, obtaining a total of $1,300 from the victims, and then escaped.

No one admires a quitter, but acquitters are sometimes applauded in the court room.

SERMONETT

But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven—Matt. 6:20. May our foremost efforts be toward those things immortal. That we at last may awake to see Heaven's everlasting portal.

MRS. WIMBERLY WAS ALMOST IN DESPAIR

"I Spent Much Time In Bed Wondering What Would Become Of Me," States Well-Known Church Worker. Gratefully Praises Retonga

"Retonga brought me such glorious relief I can never praise this grand medicine enough," declares Mrs. I. Lee Wimberly, of Puryear, Tenn., and a highly respected resident of Henry County for thirty-five years, in a strong endorsement of this widely praised medicine.

"I felt so weak, nervous and let-down I spent much time in bed, just wondering what was going to become of me," states Mrs. Wimberly. "Food seemed to lodge in my stomach, form gas, and float me until I could hardly get my breath. No one could have suffered much more from nervousness, and my head often felt like it would burst. Constipation and toxic poisons frequently made me ache all over. I felt so weak I couldn't do my housework or cook a meal for months."

"No one is more thankful for the relief brought them by Retonga than I am. All that distress from indigestion, constipation, dizzy headaches and weakness are relieved and I sleep and feel good. It is hard to realize I am the same woman. My husband says the small price we paid for Retonga is the best money we ever spent."

Retonga is a purely herbal stomachic medicine, mildly laxative, combined with Vitamin B-1 for nerves, strength and digestion. Thousands praise it. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Co.—Adv.
