A RATHER OF GARTERS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

A BROTHER AND SISTER RE-EMBROSSED ON ACCOUNT OF DISPUTED OWNERSHIP.

Broom, Mo., Sept. 17—Five garter belts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Blydenberg last night and a pair of pants which are the property of Claude Blydenberg, the deceased brother of Miss Irene Blydenberg, a well-known sister, and who was killed in a recent murder. The garter belts were found in the pants pocket of the deceased, and it is believed that the murderer took them as a momento of the murder.

For the one great Constitution that we have, we must resort to the officers of the law and the officers of the law to enforce the law. The officers of the law, whatever their educational qualifications, must be able to determine upon a whole continent the course of the law, and the officers of the law must do their utmost to prevent its enforcement. A MAN OF THE SOUTH.

SKETCH OF G. V. VAN DAMME OF MISSISSIPPI.

A young man with jet-black hair and hazel eyes, his head thrown back as if to shake away the rain from his collar, came in. He sat down directly in front of me. He was a tall, slender man, with a swarthy face, and little red beard, brownish and yellow-furred. As he made his way, he seemed to have some trouble with his coat, and was forced to take it off and hang it on the back of his chair.

Varnedean or Vardaman, as he was named, was the grandson of one who was the commander of Mississippi's last horse regiment, the 5th Cavalry. He was a boy and boyhood yet. He had been to Texas and New Mexico, where he had seen the battle of San Jacinto. He had tried his hand at farming, but had found it not so lucrative as he had hoped. He was now engaged in the wholesale grocery business in the city of Vicksburg. He was a man of few words, but quick in his observations and quick in his judgments. He was a bit of a humorist, and was often seen with a cigar in his mouth.

Maryland Physicist Gütes Himself of Cuticura with Cumpicuria Remedies. Because He Has No Eczema. Many Cases Where Other Formulas Have Failed—Dr. Fisher Says.

CUTICURA REMEDIES POSSESS TRUE MERIT

Dr. C. C. Hoadley, in his book, "Eczema with Cuticura Remedies," says: "I have used Cuticura Remedy, and was cured of my disease, which lasted for many years."

"My case was visited by a number of doctors, but to no effect. I had been treated with various remedies, but none of them were successful. I was about to give up all hope when I tried Cuticura Remedy. I have been using it for several months now, and I am completely cured."

"The convenience of Cuticura Remedy is also a great advantage. It is easy to apply and does not require any special skill. It is a genuine preparation, and it has been used successfully for many years."

Dr. Hoadley adds: "I have recommended Cuticura Remedy to many of my patients, and all of them have been benefited."

"I have no doubt that Cuticura Remedy will continue to be a valuable remedy for the treatment of eczema."

"The use of Cuticura Remedy is as follows: Apply a small quantity of the remedy to the affected part, and cover it with a bandage. Repeat this process several times a day."

"I have found that Cuticura Remedy is especially useful in cases of eczema, and I am convinced that it is a cure for the disease."

The Register of Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 13.—Mr. Bryan and Mr. Washington, who met here last week, are expected to take part in the Conventions of the Democratic party and the Republican party, respectively.

The Presidentship is the subject of great interest in all parts of the country, and the campaign is well under way. The Republicans are making strenuous efforts to secure the nomination of a candidate who can carry the party to victory in the coming election.

The Democratic party is in a more neglected condition, and the campaign is likely to be more difficult. The party is divided, and there is a great deal of uncertainty as to the outcome of the election.

The Republican party is in a more united condition, and the campaign is likely to be more successful. The party is well organized, and the candidates are well chosen.

DEADLY GILA MONSTER IS LOOSE IN THE CITY

A reptile of a species known as Gila Monster was found in the street yesterday afternoon. The creature was discovered on the north side of the city, and was shot to death. The creature was a small reptile, resembling a snake, and it was feared that it might bite people or animals. The reptile was placed in a box and carried to a nearby hospital for examination.

The Gila Monster is a venomous reptile native to the southwestern United States. It is known for its distinctive appearance, with a large head and a small tail. The creature is believed to be poisonous and can be dangerous if not handled properly. Its venom is known to be potent and can cause severe pain and even death in some cases.

A specimen of this reptile was brought to the hospital for examination. The doctors were unable to determine the exact species, but they believe it to be a Gila Monster. The specimen will be kept for further study and examination.

The incident has raised concern among the local authorities, who are investigating the matter. The reptile was reported to have been seen in the area previously, and it is believed that it may have escaped from a nearby farm or wildlife sanctuary.

The Gila Monster is a protected species, and the authorities are urging anyone who may have information about the reptile's origin to come forward. The public is reminded to keep an eye out for any unusual creatures and to contact the authorities if they see anything suspicious.

The incident highlights the need for greater awareness and education regarding the dangers of venomous reptiles. The authorities are working to ensure the safety of the public and are taking steps to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

LEBANON PRESBYTERY SPLIT IN TWAIN AFTER STORMY SESSION

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 13. Practically a whole presbytery put out their heads to-day and adjourned to meet in the church in Nashville. The presbytery was not only a clear and not a mere adjournment, but, in view of the pending inpunction of the general assembly, it was an insult to the presbytery to hold any regular session at all. Rev. E. W. B. Clark, the clerk of the presbytery, read the minutes of the last session and had declared that only the Presbytery of the States of America was the recognized presbytery. The meeting was called to order by the moderator, Rev. W. J. Alexander, who read the minutes of the last session and then adjourned to meet in the church in Nashville.

Dr. Landrith then explained the situation and the reasons why the presbytery had decided to adjourn. He said that the presbytery had been called to order by the moderator, Rev. W. J. Alexander, who read the minutes of the last session and then adjourned to meet in the church in Nashville. The meeting was called to order by the moderator, Rev. W. J. VALUABLE MELTED COIN.
Fused Silver and Nickel Recovered in San Francisco.
One of the most interesting relics of the San Francisco Fire is the Chronicle of that city, and one that is of the greatest interest is the recovery of pieces of silver and gold from the ashes of the city.

The melted masses of precious metal are now stored in the office of the United States Mint. This office is of great importance to the workmen, and is the object of much careful attention.

At one time, several thousand dollars in gold were reported to have been recovered, but it is now stated that the amount is much smaller.

Late in the evening of the fire, a large amount of melted silver
