SPORT TALK

It is likely that football practice will have to cease this week on Friday afternoon. On that day the Bulldogs go to Tusculum for a most creative game, and it is generally considered that after the game the team may be dissolved. The other parts of the boys will put away football bags until the first of September. Many good in the spring practice, and they really mean business in the fall and they are determined that this fall will be a lot lighter than last fall and it will be a fine with a lot of fat and clout. Colds and injuries are not usually a problem with a team in this condition. The spring practice has been started by Coach Giles, who has been working on the team's conditioning and improving their skills. The Bulldogs are expected to have a strong team this fall, and they are looking forward to a successful season.

PROFESSORS Aren't The Only Ones!

About midmorning on Confederate Day last year, about 10 a.m., nearly two dozen men got together at the back of the courthouse in Fulton to discuss the law and order situation in the county. They were members of the county's Board of Education, and they wanted to know what could be done to prevent any further outbreaks of violence.

The men were concerned about the rising tension in the county and the need to maintain peace and order. They were also worried about the possibility of a recurrence of violence, as it had been a problem in the county for many years.

The Board of Education was formed in 1854, and it is the body responsible for overseeing the education system in the county. It is composed of seven members, who are elected to four-year terms. The board is responsible for setting policies, providing funds, and overseeing the administration of the county's schools.

The county's schools are funded by state and federal dollars, and they are administered by the county's School Superintendent, who is appointed by the Board of Education. The superintendent is responsible for hiring teachers, setting curricula, and ensuring that the schools are running smoothly.

The Board of Education meets on the first Monday of every month, and it is open to the public. The meetings are held in the courthouse, and they are usually attended by the county's school administrators, parents, and community members.

If you have any questions about the work of the Board of Education, or if you would like to learn more about the schools in Fulton County, you can contact the Board of Education at 223-5555, or visit their website at boardofeducation.fultoncountykentucky.gov.
