President Through Cuban Minister at Washington Orders Permanent Suspension of Hostilities.

Oyster Bay, Sept. 15.—President Roosevelt has sent a despatch by first-class mail addressed to Minister Charles A. Stowell at Washington ordering the immediate suspension of hostilities between the United States and Cuba, and to proceed to Havana at once.

The despatch was dated yesterday afternoon and is as follows:

The President through the Cuban Minister at Washington orders the immediate suspension of hostilities, and that the necessary steps be taken for the landing of the American troops on the Island of Cuba.

The sending of this despatch was occasioned by the dispatch of Mr. Gen. White to Washington, as the result of the request made for him by the American Minister in Cuba, Mr. H. C. Corwin, to come to the Island.

The President has also ordered that the American Minister at Havana, Mr. H. C. Corwin, be instructed to confer with the American troops in Cuba on the details of the landing, and to notify him of the time and place of landing.

The despatch was also ordered to the effect that President Roosevelt proposes to send a minister plenipotentiary to Havana to act as the head of the American government in Cuba.

The third article of that treaty is that the President of the United States shall have the right to intervene for the maintenance of the protection of property, life and liberty.

The treaty confering this right is the supreme law of the land and remains with the right and means to fulfill this obligation, which I undertake to protect Americans in the United States.

The information at hand shows that there is no discussion of the future of Cuba that shall not be accompanied by some modification, which will secure all the protection of the nation.

I am sending to Havana the Secretary of War, Mr. N. E. Hay, as an additional means of establishing correspondence with the government of Cuba, and with the Cuban people, and for the purpose of presenting the letter of this article, to be presented to Presidentmachine.

A dispatch from Washington states that because of the rivalry between the Longworth Loggers and Con-necticuters for the position of President in the Senate, both parties have decided to nominate a candidate for the office of City Judge of Paducah; subject to the approval of the general council. Thus the general council could not ignore, in making a judgment of the demand of these depreders, that the council of the city of Louisville was powerless to grant the demands of these depreders, that they had a claim on the streets of the city which was at least the government's instrumentalities.

The courts decided that the general council had the right to grant the Kentucky Traction company, "which is a corporation of the state of Kentucky," as well as any other corporation of the state of Kentucky, and the granting of such rights, which, in turn, give the courts the right to intervene in the case. The argument made by the general council was that they had a claim on the streets of the city which was at least the government's instrumentalities.

The moon is the only natural satellite of the Earth. It is the fifth largest moon in the solar system and is the largest natural satellite relative to its parent planet. The moon influences the tides on Earth and provides a valuable laboratory for studying the formation of the universe. The moon has a diameter of approximately 3,474 kilometers (2,159 miles), which is about 27% of the Earth's diameter. It orbits the Earth in about 27.3 days, a period known as a synodic month, which is slightly longer than the Earth's sidereal month of just over 27.24 days. The moon's gravitational influence on the Earth causes the tides to rise and fall twice a day, with the high tides occurring approximately six hours after sunrise and sunset. The moon's phases, visible as changes in the moon's illumination due to its position relative to the Sun, are a result of the rotation of the Earth on its axis. The moon's surface is covered with impact craters, mountains, plains, and valleys, and its composition is similar to that of the Earth's mantle, containing rocks that were formed from the Earth's mantle at the time of the moon's formation. The moon's surface is barren and lacks any significant atmosphere, making it a perfect place to study the effects of space weathering and the processes that shape celestial bodies. The moon's ancient surface is dotted with billions of craters, some of which are hundreds of kilometers wide and thousands of kilometers deep. The moon's surface is also home to a number of geological features, including mountains, valleys, and maria, which are large, flat-lying areas formed by the impact of meteorites.

Strong Fresh SPICES

- A revelation of richness and delicious to the housewife who has already used "ordinary" spices. Our spices are pure and fresh, having the strength and flavor which nature alone can give. This is evident in your cooking and preserving.

JUDGE FOR HORSE SHOW

MRS. SCOTT ESSELL, OF BOWLING GREEN, HAS SECURED
BIG PREPARATIONS FOR SHOW IN OCTOBER

Miss MARY BAYER, AGES 21, PASSENGER AT BOND.

Yesterday morning a fall at the family residence, 112 Jefferson street, Mrs. Mary Bayer, wife of Mr. Henry Bayer, died. A short illness from the effects of alcohol led to a fall from the sleigh and she had expired very few hours after the accident. Mrs. Bayer was a native of Germany and was married twice before she came to America. She had enjoyed very fair health up until a little over a year ago. Mrs. Bayer was a lady of good character and judge of breeding of better stock. These annual meets should be given encouragement by the public. They add to the riches of Paducah and help to sustain our position as the horse breeding center of the State.
