C. N. Holland Asks Re-Election As Clerk

The News is authorized to announce in this issue that C. N. Holland is a candidate for re-election as County Court Clerk of Fulton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary Saturday, August 2, 1941. Mr. Holland, better known to his many friends as Clardie, was in Fulton early this week, and after having been urged by friends throughout the county, decided that he would make his announcement for re-election.

Mr. Holland, who is finishing his second term as clerk, has established an enviable record in office, having been ever faithful to his duties, always courteous and pleasant in his dealings with the people. He has, indeed, been quick to realize his responsibilities to the public, and enjoys the privilege of having more friends now than when he first entered office. In the keeping of the county records, he has received the commendation of state authorities, and these records have been kept in such order that it makes it easier for those who have business at the clerk's office, to get the facts they desire without complications. He has done his job well, and for that reason friends have prevailed upon him to run again.

His personal announcement follows: To the Voters of Fulton County: I am today making my formal announcement for re-election as County Court Clerk of Fulton County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in August. In making this announcement I am not unmindful of the many favors extended me by the voters of the county. All these favors are deeply and sincerely appreciated, and will never be forgotten. During my terms as clerk I have been made to feel the friendship of the people of the county, and have tried to render the best service that was in me in return for this friendship. If I am re-elected I hereby pledge my best efforts to continue this same high grade service at all times.

I believe that I am now better trained for the office than ever before and sincerely believe that I can give even better service in the future than ever before. The duties of a County Court Clerk are quite exacting and I feel that I have the qualification for fulfilling these duties in a satisfactory way. Rest assured that I will give my very best if returned to the office.

While the duties of my office will interfere with an active campaign to some extent, I will endeavor to see the voters personally between now and the primary date. I really enjoy visiting the voters, for it is like visiting my friends. However, if I should fail to see some of the voters, I want them to know that I wish to see them, and I take this means of acquainting the public with my decision to ask re-election to the office of County Court Clerk.

I hope that you may see fit to support me, but in advance I wish to say that I will have no ill feeling against any person who does not support me.

Sincerely,
C. N. HOLLAND

50 DAYS WORK IS PLEASANT AND PROFITABLE

Fulton Could Profit From Experience Of Other Communities

On all sides of our fair city efforts are being made on the part of city officials and civic groups to obtain projects that are being set-up under the new federal defense and general welfare program.

Over in Tennessee this past week a concerted move was made by various cities, in conjunction with Governor Prentice Cooper, to send special representatives from Tennessee to Washington to work continuously there for war material contracts for Tennessee manufacturers. This special representative will be paid by the state.

It was pointed out by Governor Cooper that defense expenditures in Tennessee so far had totaled $21.99 per capita in comparison to approximately $360 per capita in New Jersey. We don't know exactly what Kentucky's percentage is, but we venture to say that it is less than Tennessee's.

Both Tennessee and Kentucky have available funds for the purchase of airport sites throughout the states. For years Fulton has been seeking funds for the acquisition of land and construction of an airport near here. Let's awaken to the importance of securing an airport now for Fulton. Daily planes fly across this route, and we have an opportunity already to obtain mail and (Continued on Page Four)

Wayne "Magic" Show Coming To Town

Magic and fun for everyone... Magic that would make the Thief of Bagdad "wall-eyed" with envy... A bewildering whirlpool of sensational "mystic" surprises that will widen your eyes with astonishment is promised those who attend the WAYNE "MAGIC" SHOW to be held at the Chestnut Glade School, Fulton, Ky., Thursday, May 8, 1941 at 8:00 P.M.

This show comes to Fulton through the courtesy of Allied Sales, Inc., manufacturers of Wayne Cattle feed. A. C. Butts & Sons, Fulton, considered something of a Wayne Feed but 12 years of feeding the agricultural college of the University of Illinois have proved that it can be made a "sure thing," according to F. J. Keilholz, extension editor of the university.

Not since 1930 have cattle fed the university's standard ration failed to return more than the market price of the feed they ate, and the most profitable lots of cattle returned 37 cents a bushel above the market price of the corn consumed, after deducting the cost of other feeds and all other expenses.

The most profitable ration included a protein supplement, usually soybean oil meal, which has been found so highly desirable as a protein ingredient of stock feeds through years of tests at leading experiment stations throughout the country.

These tests have been conducted in the feeding of beef cattle, dairy cows, hogs, sheep, poultry and all domestic animals, with the most gratifying success. As a conse-for more than 34 years. He comes from a family which for many years has been noted for their ability to wield the "Magic Wand" and pull unusual objects out of hats.

Another very popular feature of the Magic Show is to be the showing of an educational sound movie—"Vitamins On Parade." This movie actually shows vitamins and illustrates in natural color the part they play in chick health and growth. Those who see the picture will have a clearer understanding of how vitamins work to make poultry and livestock feeders more money.

A great show and a lot of fun is anticipated. It's FREE—open to the public and everyone is invited.

There are two possible solutions to this problem. One is for this country to build enough ships to offset British losses. But even if that could be done, which experts doubt, it would not stop the loss of tremendous amounts of material. A cannon or a fighting plane or a load of food which sinks beneath the Atlantic inside a gaping hull, is of no service to anyone. The solution is to eliminate the cause of destruction.

This was the theme of a recent and remarkable radio address by Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission. This was a speech of such importance that, according to an Associated Press writer, "it could hardly have been delivered on his own responsibility alone." Admiral Land said time may prove that combined American and British shipbuilding is unable to keep up with losses. The wiser course, he said, is not to pin hopes on pro-eventually passenger service. The city of tomorrow without an airport will be as bad off as a community without a garage today. Let us not forget that ACTION today means progress tomorrow.

Another way that small industries are going after defense contracts is by pooling their facilities to bid on these contracts. This should be done in West Kentucky.

It won't be hard for industries to obtain ammunition contracts if they are fitted to turn them out." Lieut. Col. Fred A. MacMahon, executive of the Cincinnati ordinance department recently said. "If industries are equipped to do the job, we will be glad to give them an opportunity to bid on them."

We are proud that the Fulton Board of Education has seen the need of a new school building, and has taken steps to obtain one while federal aid is available. For more than two years this paper has advocated such a move.

It seems now that the old Fulton Fair Grounds will be retained under a new set up. This means that this playground, which was established back in 1911, will remain as an outdoor gathering place for all community events. A worthy project, indeed.

The city hall and court house in Fulton needs a face lifting, however, and it seems that the city jads have overlooked this fact. Doubtless this could be worked out by dent of consistent thought and effort, and it would provide a much more dignified municipal building. It should have been done long before now, because if it goes on unrepaired and without a good paint job, it will be a disgrace to the community.

Another vital community need, and one that has brought about more criticism and unfavorable discussion is the ungodly condition of the creek which penetrates the heart of our city. Its bottom is half-filled with weeds, grass, rubbish and filth, and one of these days, floods will become so terrible and prehistoric, that something will have to be done, or a lot of moving will take place. Aside from a sanitation point of view, improvement of the creek in general appearance is seriously needed.

This year is election year, and the people will go to the polls to elect a new mayor and city council. We have heard all kinds of rumors about who is going to run, and who does not choose to run again—but whoever runs and is elected, we are hoping that some definite action be taken on some of these civic needs... and we believe we are expressing the opinion of many hundreds of voters with whom we have talked.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, May 4, 1941.

The Golden Test is: "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whose confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Proverbs 28:13.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh" (Galatians 5:16.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If men understood their real spiritual source to be all blessedness, they would struggle for recourse to the spiritual and be at peace; but the deeper the error into which mortal mind is plunged, the more intense the opposition to spirituality, till error yields to Truth." (p. 329.)

MAYFIELD AND UNION CITY ASSURED OF CLUBS

Most cities have clubs in the Kitty League have to put on a campaign each year to raise funds to support baseball.

Up at Mayfield, half a dozen of the city's baseball bulwarks are making a final drive to determine whether they will have a team this year, or lose the franchise in the league. These men are soliciting funds.

Over in Union City a citizens' drive raised $1,500 and as the result of a successful sale of advertising by the Union City Legion baseball committee, baseball has been assured for another season there. So far this year, Fulton has not made a campaign for funds.

MITCHELL LOST 40 LBS. BEFORE HE GOT RETONGA

Eats Anything Now and Feels Like Different
Man, He States In Strong
Endorsement

"The very first bottle of Retonga was worth fifty times its cost to me," declared Mr. Eli T. Mitchell, a highly respected resident of 2636 Nolensville Pike, Woodbine, Nashville, adding his strong endorsement to the hundreds of Retonga who have received all over Tennessee.

"My suffering had pulled me down forty pounds in weight, and for some time before I got Retonga I was almost past going," continued Mr. Mitchell. "My bowels seemed clogged with toxic wastes and I was forced to take strong purgatives every day. I had swimming headaches that often lasted all day and every muscle in my body seemed sore. My stomach was so upset I could not eat a bite of breakfast, and what I forced down at other meals seemed to lay in the pit of my stomach as heavy as lead. I bloated at times until it seemed my breath would be cut off entirely. I couldn't sleep to do much good and I felt so weak I could hardly drive a nail.

"Retonga soon brought me so much relief I now eat three hearty meals a day. My constipation and the soreness in my muscles are relieved, and I sleep and feel like a different man. I wish I could publish this statement in every newspaper in the country."

Retonga is a purely herbal stomachic medicine, mildly laxative, combined with Vitamin B-1, for digestion, nerves and strength. Thousands praise it. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Store. —Adv.

"Superior Coverage In The Fulton Trade Territory"

SCIENCE AND SUPERSTITION

The line of demarcation between science and superstition is not as obvious as most educated people might believe. In reality, many people otherwise sensible break down where science and superstition cross. It is easy to see why this is true, for the two are hopelessly mixed in the mind of the primitive people.

Weather signs are a compound of folk knowledge and folk ignorance.

To look for rain when you can hear a faraway train better than usual is not foolish. Before wet and dry thermometers were known except to the highly educated, the "coming in order" of tobacco was a sign of moist seasons, not a bad deduction for an illiterate person to make. The old rhymes about evening and morning red and gray are not mere nonsense; they are founded on facts of meteorology. Dozens of other signs are basically sound.

Weather signs that have no scientific basis are learned at the same time as are these that have some sense. We used to hasten rains by killing a snake and hanging it up with its belly exposed to the sky. Whether we checked on this secret rite and recorded the rain or the absence of it I do not recall. We probably did not; if it rained within several days, our act had caused it, anyway. Always I have heard that the thickness of the breastbone of a wild goose indicates the hardness or mildness of the coming winter. Again I fail to remember any tests on this. Probably the most commonly believed superstition is that fur-bearing animals always have a heavy coat before exceptionally hard winters. Personally I would hate to try to convince a hunter or trapper or fur-buyer that this is senseless. I am sure that I would be laughed at as an educated upstart who refuses to accept well-known facts. The thickness of corn shucks has long been a sure test of the following winter; thick for hard winter, thin for mild winter. Just why corn shucks would know anything about it is still a mystery. Mark Twain had the last word on this as on many other subjects: "If the husk is thicker than usual, the winter will be colder than the summer; if it is thinner than usual, summer will be warmer than winter; if it is perfectly normal in thickness, summer will be warm and winter cold."

The old theory of the hibernation of birds in winter belongs in this discussion of science and superstition. Apparently there had never been a skeptic in the world who doubted the hibernation of birds until some century and a half ago. That swallows and similar birds spent the winter in the mud at the bottom of ponds was regarded as proved "beyond the shadow of a doubt," as we used to say in clinching a point at the country school debating society. Scientists of local and national repute taught their innocent students this so-called fact. Then came a canny Scotsman, Alexander Wilson by name, who ridiculed this foolish, time-hallowed idea and challenged the scientific world. Old-timers were horrified at the radicalism of such a young chap, who could not boast a college education and who had no prominent social or political connections. Rather oddly, if a person of any repute today were to advocate this old exploded hibernation theory, his would be sufficient warrant to lock him up until his mind cleared again. Thus what appeared to be unchallengeable fact has been relegated to the sphere of superstition.

PROGRAM SEEKS INCREASE IN VEGETABLES FOR CANNING

A program to expand the production of tomatoes for canning by 50 percent to meet probable demands for canned tomatoes under the Lend-Lease Act, and for distribution by the American Red Cross as well as for school lunch, relief and other purposes, was announced today by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard. The need for immediate action to secure the necessary acreage to produce an extra 15,000,000 cases of canned tomatoes was emphasized, as planting must be made during the next few weeks in order to insure the required supply. Much smaller quantities of peas, corn, and snap beans may also be purchased from time to time, but no advance purchases at this time are contemplated.

Present prospects indicate that the increase sought in canned vegetables will be sufficient to meet anticipated needs up to June 30, 1942. To meet current requirements, the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation will request bids from canners for offers for comparatively small amounts.

To make it possible for canners to take immediate steps to secure the increase in tomato acreage, the FSCC proposes to ask canners to submit offers at once to deliver canned tomatoes after the new pack has been completed. Through the early acceptance of such offers, it is expected that canners will be able to arrange, finance, and carry out their increased operations with a minimum of difficulty. Under the plan, delivery can be made within 60 days of packing, but bids will also provide for storage after that date where facilities are available.

Brother Ryan, a former pastor, challenged the audience to present this community with a churchy structure free of debt that whosever will may worship the most high God. Others sacrificed that a beautiful building might be erected, and it was his hope that future generations could look back to us as the one who freed it from debt.

Rev. J. H. Stidham of the Board of Church extension voiced their appreciation for the heroic achievement of the congregation for responding with sufficient pledges in less than three days to cover the entire indebtedness of $4,090.00.

The pastor, Rev. William Woodburn declared that the next goal would be realization of our dream by observing next Easter in a debt free Church. He stated that our devotion to the Church could best be shown by the faithfulness of our attendance, the loyalty of our service, and the generosity of our gifts.
