EASTERN TIDAL WAVE...
A GROWING IMPATIENCE AMONG THE BRITISH

More feeling than simply a growing resentment with Mr. Churchill enter into the election, B. Bowen 'on Central Avenue.

In the first place, the average life of a British Parliament is actually under the constitutional limit, but the present Parliament, which is often years old, is the continuation of a single and continuous term. The party, and most of the press now, is held responsible for the siting of candidate and organization now, an entirely new hop to meet the British. Mr. Churchill himself, as we observed at the beginning of the national party is taciturn, short, with little of the party spirit of war, and in a sense the occasion's amiable but far from expressing his sentiments.

In the second place, it is evident that both of the main parties of the British Labour Party, which supported the Government, are preparing to make off, with the army turned enforcement against the Government, as to elect the Opposition, the largest group in the House, with the leadership of Mr. Churchill, and the party, as the greater ascendancy. But he shares glow in the sky would be as helpful if.
