Carroll Hubbard Announces His Candidacy For U.S. Representative

State Senator Carroll Hubbard today announced his candidacy for the First Congressional District election this year.

The announcement came at a news conference at the Ramada Inn in Madisonville today at 11 a.m., and follows an announcement last month by incumbent Frank A. Stubblefield, of Murray, of his candidacy for the post he has held for 16 years.

"There is a silent resentment against non-productive, inactive elected officials who never raise a peep of protest and who are never able to foresee problems but are loud at election time in reacting to the problems," Hubbard said this morning.

"Beginning this year, on May 28, the people will be voting for changes in their government as they look ahead and not behind."

Hubbard concluded by saying "Your encouragement and the support of thousands of western Kentuckians not present here today gives me confidence that our joint efforts for a change in Congress will be successful both on May 28 and again on November 5."

The 36-year old Mayfield attorney was the youngest member of the Kentucky Senate at 30, and is a graduate of Georgetown College and The University of Louisville Law School. He was chosen "One of the Three Outstanding Young Men of Kentucky" in 1968 by the Kentucky Jaycees.

Other honors include being named in 1972 as the "Outstanding Young Democrat Legislator" by the Kentucky Jaycees.

Hubbard was named by former Governor Bert Combs as state organization chairman for the Combs-Carroll candidacies in the May, 1971 Democratic primary election.

The son of a Baptist minister, Hubbard is a native of Murray. He has resided in five of Kentucky's seven congressional districts and graduated from college in another.

The West Kentucky legislator lived in Ashland from 1945-1953 while his father was pastor of the Ashland First Baptist Church, and in Louisville from 1954-1962.

Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Hubbard is a partner in the law firm of Hubbard, Weisenberger and Chaney in Mayfield.

Hubbard has worked in various statewide campaigns, including being state youth co-chairman in 1960 for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket and state college chairman in 1969 for the gubernatorial candidacy of Harry Lee Waterfield. He is a former vice-president of the Kentucky Young Democrats.

standing Young Democrat Legislator" by the Kentucky Jaycees.

Hubbard was elected in 1967 as First District State Senator, and reelected in 1971 to the same position. He represents Young Democrats; "Outstanding Young Men of America," in 1970; and "Outstanding Young Man of Mayfield-Graves County," by the Mayfield Jaycees in 1966, 1967, and 1968.

Carlisle, Hickman, Fulton, Graves and Calloway Counties, and part of Marshall County.

The candidate is a Rotarian, District Aide, Rotary District 671, and is a former president of

55 MPH Signs May Be Up Before New Limit Is Instituted

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky motorists may have some time to get used to looking at 55 mile per hour speed limit signs before they have to begin obeying them, state highway officials say.

The bill being considered by the General Assembly would put the new limit in effect March 3.

But B.R. Fleener, director of traffic in the Bureau of Highways, says signs will start going up before that to allow 30 days for changing them over before the law becomes enforceable.

However, Fleener said Thursday, "I don't believe anybody will get a ticket for doing more than 55 on a 70-mile highway just because the sign is there."

WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy and cold today, with a high in the upper 20s. Clear and cold tonight, lows near 5 above. Warmer Sunday with a sunny morning and increasing cloudiness in the afternoon. Highs in the upper 30s. Winds northerly at 8 to 14 miles an hour today, light and variable tonight. The outlook for Monday is warmer with rain.

Saxbe Says Taxpayers Should Not Pay For Impeachment Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe says the taxpayers should not be forced to finance President Nixon's defense if he is impeached and brought to trial in the Senate.

He said Friday it would be improper for lawyers on the government payroll, including those in the Justice Department, to represent the President in any impeachment trial. If the accusations against Nixon "proceed to impeachment, I think at that time, there will have to be set up an independent defense," he said. "I think there would have to be established a defense fund."

Saxbe left open the possibility that Justice Department lawyers might play some role in representing Nixon during early stages of impeachment proceedings. But he said he considers it unlikely that they will do so.

"Suppose the only grounds they come up with for impeachment are that they don't like him. I think then obviously it would be within the scope of the Justice Department to represent the President," he said in response to questions at his first news conference since taking office a week ago.

"If on the other hand, it's based upon indictments or based upon solid charges of criminality, I think then you have reached the point where you're getting beyond the scope of his duties as President," he continued. But he said if the case reaches the Senate, "for whatever reason, ... the Justice Department is out of it."

Saxbe said "it would be a mistake" for the House to vote impeachment on grounds that Nixon has lost the nation's confidence. The Constitution provides that a President may be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors, and Saxbe said he believes that probably would require evidence of an indictable offense under criminal law.

But he said it will be up to the courts to judge.

The attorney general reiterated his pledge of independence for Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

He said if prosecutors develop evidence against Nixon, it will be up to Jaworski and U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to decide whether to present it to a federal grand jury or to the House committee considering impeachment.

But he said "there's a serious question" whether a sitting President can be indicted prior to impeachment.

On other subjects, Saxbe endorsed legislation to protect individuals from an invasion of privacy by the government and private business.

Annual Report Of City Police Given Council

By GENE McCUTCHEON
Ledge & Times News Editor
Members of the Murray City Council were very complimentary of the annual report of the Murray Police Department submitted by Police Chief James Brown at the regular meeting of the council Thursday night. The report was presented to the council by police committee chairman, Ed Chrisman. In the report, which covered all of the activities of the Police Department for 1973, Brown said "We feel that we have made tremendous progress during the past year 1973 and during the coming year 1974 our intentions are to progress and improve even more."

James M. Brown
Murray Police Chief

All members of the department were reported to have completed 40 hours of training on police procedures at the state's mobile training center and six members of the force completed the 10-week basic training course for policemen at Eastern Kentucky University.

The department ended the year with a net gain of one policeman as seven new policemen were hired during the year while six resigned from the force.

A total of 1,815 citations were written by the department during the year. Topping the list of offenses was "speeding" with 336 citations written. The second most common offense cited was "no state inspection sticker" for which 197 citations were written followed by 172 citations for public drunkenness.

Also high on the list of offenses were: D.W.I., 128; disregarding stop sign, 114; reckless driving, 111 and no city auto sticker, 101.

The police force investigated 198 criminal offenses during the year. Vandalism, petty larceny and public nuisance cases were the major category of offenses investigated with 73 reports filed. Of 44 breaking and entering investigations opened, 15 were solved and 29 are still pending. Two armed robbery investigations were opened during the year and both are still pending. The department also opened investigations on 21 grand larceny cases of which two have been solved.

The police force investigated 9 stolen auto reports of which 6 were recovered; 80 stolen bicycle reports of which 23 were recovered; and six stolen motorcycle reports of which two were recovered.

Members of the police force investigated 504 traffic accidents within the city during 1973, an average of 1.38 accidents per day reported to the department.

The majority of the accidents occurred on the most heavily travelled streets in the city with Main Street leading the count with 25 wrecks. Twenty-four accidents were reported on S. 12th Street; 17 on S. 4th Street; 16 on Chestnut Street; 12 on Sycamore; and 11 on 16th Street.

Total expenses for the department, excluding salaries, were listed as $32,097.32 with (See Report, Page 8)

IRS Uses Psychology

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When taxpaying time comes around, it doesn't hurt collection efforts to "scare people a little," an Internal Revenue Service official says.

Paul Niederecker, IRS district director at Louisville, says the IRS often plans to have tax indiotments or trials involving particularly newsworthy persons or firms fall during the tax season.

Niederecker said, though, that he would rather people would think of his agency in terms of the assistance it offers in preparing returns.

IRS statistics show that for the past several years about 45 per cent of the income-tax prosecutions arose during the first three months of the calendar year. The remainder were spread out fairly evenly throughout the other three quarters.

Niederecker estimates that 97 per cent of eligible taxpayers file proper returns each year. He said there are currently a number of possible tax-evasion cases pending against lawyers and accountants in Kentucky.

Larger Rivers May Be Overflowing Very Soon

Winter rains which sent small rivers and streams over their banks to flood homes and roads this week have ended across Kentucky, but the National Weather Service warns that larger rivers may ease out of their banks in the next two or three days as a result of run-offs in West Virginia and Kentucky.

Flooding was predicted for Friday night and today in several Eastern Kentucky areas.

The Ohio River, slower to respond to the runoff from smaller streams, is expected to run slightly over flood stage by Monday evening, according to the weather bureau.

The Big Sandy River was expected to be nearly bankfull at Louisia by 4 a.m. today, cresting four feet above flood level by 7 p.m. The river was expected to rise seven feet above the flood level at Charleston, W.Va. by 7 a.m. Sunday.

The service predicted the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy would crest about 2 1/2 feet above flood stage at Paintsville by noon today, but would subside Saturday before reaching the flood levels at Prestonsburg and Pikeville.

The Kentucky River was expected to crest at 8 a.m. today at about 4 1/2 feet above flood stage at Lock 14 at Heidelberg; it will crest at 8 p.m. Sunday at the community of Ford 8 1/2 feet above flood stage, and at Frankfort at 7 a.m. Monday at 5 feet above flood level.

The Salt River was expected to crest early this morning at Shepherdsville at 4 feet below flood level, and at Boston, Ky., today at 2 p.m. about 3 feet above flood stage.

State Police at Frankfort said the biggest flooding problems appear to remain in Breathitt County. A dispatcher said there

Earl of Sweaters

Cardigans and the layered look are once again an important part of a man's wardrobe for this fall just like they were when the 7th Earl of Cardigan (the leader of the Charge of the Light Brigade in the Crimean War) got tired of pulling a sweater over his head. History was made when he designed the sweater jacket with buttons that still carries his name. A double-breasted cardigan is a modern development.

Secretary wants work —and nothing more

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: After working only two weeks at a secretarial job that paid very well, I quit because my boss made a pass at me.

The second day on that job, my boss cornered me, but I tried to laugh it off and told him in a nice way that I wasn't interested.

I am a 29-year-old divorcee with two children to support. I'm a competent secretary who's not afraid of work, but I just couldn't take all that dodging and ducking required to keep this man away from me.

What do I tell prospective employers when I am asked about my last job? I don't want to lie, but in the last two job interviews when I said I quit "for personal reasons," they looked at me like I was a mental case. Please advise me.

DEAR ALL: Be honest. It's no reflection on you, and it will discourage other bosses who want to mix pleasure with business.

DEAR ABBY: Lisa [21] and I [23] fell in love and decided to live together. We agreed there would be no mention of marriage. After a year she got pregnant. Then she broke her promise and started to hassle me about marriage.

I told her I loved her [I did, and still do] but marriage was out. She seemed to accept it, and promised not to bring it up again. After the baby came she seemed happy and we were more in love than ever.

Last Monday, I came home after work and discovered that Lisa had packed her things, taken the baby and left. She didn't even leave a note. I have searched everywhere for her and haven't a clue as to where she could be.

I would marry her tomorrow if she would come back, but I don't know where to look for her. Her family and friends insist they don't know where she is. Can you help me?

DEAR M.: Since Lisa didn't leave a note to let you know where she could be contacted, it's obvious she doesn't want to see you. All you can do is wait. She knows where you are if she changes her mind. If she does, then it's up to you to convince her that you want her back—on her terms.

DEAR ABBY: In your opinion, whose place is it to bake a birthday cake for a man? His wife's or his mother's?

I feel that when a boy becomes a man and takes a wife, that is where his mother's obligation should end and his wife should take over.

I have been trying to bake Steve's birthday cake for the last 10 years, but every year when I tell my mother I'd like to bake Steve's cake, she says: "After I'm gone you'll have the rest of your life to bake Steve's birthday cake, so while I'm here, please don't deprive me of that pleasure."

Now, what am I supposed to do?

DEAR BUGGED: Where is it written that a man shall have only one birthday cake? You don't need his mother's permission to bake him a cake. [Some men have a cake at the office and one at dinner. And those who burn the candle at both ends can always work in an extra piece.]

CONFIDENTIAL TO E. R. N. OF SAN DIEGO, CALIF.: You are right. The quote I attributed to Socrates was not written by Socrates because Socrates actually wrote nothing. But his teachings were perpetuated thru the works of his disciples, Plato and Xenophon.

Al's Tips

A time not to apply cold is when your skin is frostbitten. Rubbing snow on frostbite is a terrible mistake. Don't massage the whitened area, either, but do encourage circulation by exercising and apply warmth (not excessive heat). Even cupping your hand over it will help. Better yet, wet a handkerchief with moderately hot water and apply it gently to warm the frostbitten area.

When the felt soles on hip boots or waders wear out, replace them with scrap outdoor carpeting. Glued on with waterproof cement, it will provide as much traction as felt, will outlast it and will absorb far less water.

When lacing your boots, tie a square knot at the instep and then finish lacing up the ankle and calf. In this way you can make the foot section tight enough for good support and still keep the upper portion comfortably loose. To remove odors from boots, dust the insides with powdered borax.

When hunting in deep snow or muddy areas, cornfields or heavy brush, you should check your gun bore frequently for any obstructions or mud, snow, etc.

Sportsman's Notebook

Sportsmen around the area are taking their share of the ducks and geese this year at the seasons' end. The goose and duck season will come to a close Jan. 20 with rabbit and quail running through the 31st of the month. Local hunters and fishermen are to be reminded their old license has expired; the new license may be purchased at sporting goods suppliers or at the court house.

Several local men are bringing home the game are: L. J. Hendon, Mark Bucy, Rick Norsworthy, Terry Yarbough, Joe Geurin, and many others. Ronnie Babb and Bill Wells are taking several ducks on the Mississippi as is Hugh Massey and Dubb Polley. Robin Hornsby and his brother, Ray, are still bringing home the ducks and geese both from Barkley Lake and from the Mississippi River bottoms.

Many quail hunters are still getting their share of the birds, if they are willing to walk their legs off. Jerry Lassiter of Murray is still taking a few quail behind his dogs.

The high water is now dropping in the lakes. The lakes are presently at 358.4 Robert Lowe and Pat Scott have really been bringing home the geese from Renfro's hunting range in Ballard County.

Fishing is slow at this time of the year, but crappie are being taken in Barkley Lake by the score, if the fisherman want to venture out in the cold weather. Bass are to be scratched off the list, unless you've got some sort of secret on how to catch them on these cold days.

Conservation At Work

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources is charged with the responsibility of protection, propagation and perpetuation of fish and wildlife resources in the Commonwealth.

Wildlife management areas abound throughout the state, with some one million acres of public land now available for hunting the various species of native and migratory birds and animals.

Conservation officers work to protect fish and wildlife resources for the sportsmen. Unfortunately, there are people who poach game, take over their limits of both fish and wildlife and pollute streams. In effect, they are stealing from each and every sportsman and conservationist in the state.

Come to the aid of the conservation officers and let them know where poaching is taking place.

Hickman, Ky., Crow Hunt

"Crow hunting, sure I'd love to go," was my reply to Greg Mills through the window of his small car. "I'll call you tomorrow about noon," Greg yelled as he drove away.

I knew Greg had been wanting to go crow hunting since he'd gotten his new battery powered record crow caller for Christmas. So I was just about as psyched up as he was.

Next day I entered the house about noon and there sat Greg and Mike Smith ready to go. In only a few minutes, I'd changed clothes and we were headed toward Hickman, Kentucky, the crow capital of the world.

Just the other side of Pilot Oak, we'd topped a hill and entered a long valley. Crows everywhere. We quickly parked the car and eased in a fence row and turned on the call. Crows swarmed the fence and we shot.

Honker Hunting

Freezing rain and scattered snow had been a problem all morning, now it was hitting us in the face at full force from the north.

Geese were beginning to move now that the snow had stopped and the sleet had slackened to a point that we could see about 200 yards.

The goose shadows were set, all facing the wind and were partially being covered by the blinding sleet. "Better get some more cover for the blind," Robin Hornsby says as he is walking toward a thick patch of weeds.

This fine day I had accompanied Robin and his brother Ray for a morning of goose hunting. We were almost certain that we'd get some shots at geese, but as the geese came in the field, they seemed to work the other side. Geese were being killed, but by other hunters.

At 10:00, we still hadn't fired a shot, but our luck was to soon change. One of the blinds across the field had limited out so we were on our way to another blind. No sooner had we gotten in the blind than a flock of honkers came sailing by at 40 yards. Robin pulled out a honker from the rear of the flock while I dropped one from the front. Ray's safety had frozen, and he didn't get a shot. While Ray was working with his safety another flock came lumbering by, again Robin and I pulled out two big geese to complete our limit.

Meanwhile Ray had gotten his safety fixed. Now it was his turn for some fun. Ray waited for just the right shot and pulled out a big honker from the flock.

The next flock that came over was all that Ray needed to complete his limit, so pulling out on a big gander, Ray blew him from the sky.

The big honker fell, hitting on the ice and slid as though he had ice skates on his big webbed feet.

Knowing we were through for the day, we sacked our gear together and began the long walk to the truck, with our hands full of big Canada honkers.

A head is thrown on some high flying honkers.

Ray Hornsby is caught by the camera while retrieving two honkers that fell together.

Robin and Ray Hornsby proudly show off the honkers they took at Ballard County recently.

Adding Realism

When it comes to generosity, it is difficult to match the free spirit of public officials who are spending other people's money.

Idea seems to be, "I'm not giving away any of my money but your money is another matter."

Thus it happened that Dr. A.D. Albright, former University of Kentucky vice president and now executive director of the state Council on Public Higher Education, decided recently the council's professional staff should get more pay. Considerably more, it might be added.

The proposal suggested pay raises for four council members that range from $1,812 to $7,500 a year. Idea, it seemed was to bring the council's pay in line with salaries on the university campuses over which they exercised control.

Dr. Albright was unselfish about the matter. He didn't propose a raise for himself. He is already drawing down $43,500 a year.

The size of the recommended pay increases must have shocked Cattie Lou Miller, State Personnel Commissioner, although Miss Miller has been around Frankfort in various capacities long enough to know nobody working for the state around the capital is on the bread line.

Miss Miller declared the suggested pay boosts for the education council were more than a little out of line. She refused to okay the Albright proposals and countered with smaller figures of her own. Hers are not exactly of pinch-penny proportions.

Instead of Dr. Albright's $1,812 to $7,500 range for increases she favors pay hikes of from $888 to $1,812 annually for the posts. She says the resulting salaries would be comparable to ones of similar responsibilities in other state agencies.

Dr. Albright's proposals would have upped the salary of the council's No. 2 man, the deputy director, to $29,000 a year with the aid of the 34.5 per cent pay boost. Kentucky's governor gets only $30,000 a year.

Miss Miller is willing to approve $22,584 for the council's deputy director. This seems to most Kentuckians to be a reasonable enough figure, particularly since they are not certain exactly what duties he performs but know his efforts contribute to the well-being of only a small percentage of the state's inhabitants.

But the council and its friends apparently are far from satisfied with Miss Miller's invoking of realism into the pay of the educational council. They reportedly hope to get the governor or somebody to go over the personnel commissioner's head and approve Dr. Albright's proposals.

Defense of this plan is based on the contention the council's staff must be paid a lot more or some other state will steal them away from us. So far no evidence has been offered that such a theft would be fatal to the commonwealth.

We are grateful to Miss Miller for thinking of the Kentucky taxpayer. He needs all the friends around Frankfort he can muster.

FOR MONDAY, JANUARY 14, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Reflexes, intuition and business acumen should be keen now. Especially favored under day's aspects: research, merchandising, financial transactions.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) A day for action! Don't slow up progress by being overly meticulous, fussy, looking for nonexistent defects in your program.

Ford Says Some Tapes May Get OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford says the White House may be willing to release some of the 500 tapes and documents demanded by the Senate Watergate Committee.

In an interview, he said he received support for his proposal for compromise efforts in a telephone conversation with White House Chief of Staff Alexander M. Haig Jr.

"They're willing to sit down and negotiate, as I understand it," Ford said. He said the White House has given its support to the compromise proposal he made last weekend.

Committee Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., has said he is willing to compromise on the subpoenaed tapes and documents.

Ford said he thinks the White House is willing to "release tapes and other material on a selected basis where the information falls within the jurisdiction of that committee."

On other subjects in the 40-minute interview, Ford said:

—He called for early action on measures to curb windfall profits by energy-related industries, set up an energy research program and establish a permanent energy agency.

—He believes "there are some pluses that the President will achieve, including a Middle East breakthrough, that will make him by September a very helpful campaigner" for Republicans.

—He has made no change in his announced intention not to be a 1976 presidential candidate but, when asked about the impact of continued high ratings in polls, said "We'll analyze the situation as we go along."

—He plans to follow President Nixon's example and take a commercial flight on a speaking trip to Columbus, Ohio, and Florida later this month.

—His role in supervising Nixon administration domestic activities may be defined more clearly after a meeting next week with outgoing White House aide Melvin R. Laird and top officials on the President's Domestic Council.

Ford's statement of White House willingness to negotiate with the Senate Watergate Committee on release of some of the tapes and documents it subpoenaed last month went beyond statements from presidential aides with Nixon in California.

After Ford suggested Sunday that a compromise was possible if there was "some refinement" of the committee's demand, White House aides first indicated the vice president was speaking for himself.

Later, however, deputy press Secretary Gerald L. Warren indicated that compromise was possible if the committee scaled down its demands, though some presidential aides have continued to take a hard line against any possibility of compromise.

Thursday night Warren was questioned about Ford's statement in the interview. He said, "We're in a position where we're not going to discuss hypothetical situations."

Warren explained that all the White House has before it now is the committee's subpoena.

In discussing the energy situation, Ford said he thinks it may be better for Congress to start over rather than try to rescue the energy bill that was stalemated when Congress adjourned last month.

He said he thinks "the availability of supply (of gasoline) is the only thing that's going to satisfy people" and expressed the hope an end to the Middle East oil embargo will result in a cutback of some of the recent price increases.

Taking things in your own hands can sometimes make you feel better. Like the man in Fort Worth, Texas, who was held up 15 minutes on his way to work by a passing train.

The motorist got his revenge by parking his pickup truck on the track and walking off to work with the doors left locked. Before the police could locate him and ask him to move his truck a freight train was delayed 20 minutes.

Probably a lot of people secretly feel the same way about such things. The police, at least, showed understanding. They declined to hand the driver a ticket.

Futrell's Free Throws Lift Lakers Over Jets

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

One of the first rock operas to ever be performed was introduced a few years ago by a group who called themselves "The Who."

The opera, entitled "Tommy," centered around a young man who gained his fame as a pinball wizard.

There is another young man at Calloway County High School who is a wizard of a different sort. He is Tommy Futrell and his wizzards ballhandling may someday inspire someone to write a song about him.

It was the unbelievable ballhandling of the freshman guard and his six free throws in the final 72 seconds that lifted Calloway County to a dramatic 76-72 win at North Marshall Friday night.

Trailing by as much as 13 points in the third period and playing much of the game without junior center James Wells, the Lakers were seemingly headed toward their seventh loss of the season.

But instead of giving up, the Lakers mounted a furious rally and pulled to within just six points at the end of the third canto.

North Marshall was clinging to a 62-52 lead early in the fourth period when the Laker push for victory began.

Two charity tosses by Wells and a 10-foot jumper by Greg Howard led the Lakers trailing 62-60 with almost six minutes left in the game.

With 5:23 remaining, Wells scored from five feet to tie the game, but on the play he was whistled for his fifth personal foul.

Whether or not Wells' fifth foul might have made the Jets a bit overconfident remains to be seen.

But one thing it didn't do was shake the confidence of the Lakers.

Greg Howard, who played a fabulous game, connected on a 12 footer with 4:54 left in the game to give the Lakers a 64-62 edge, their first since the second quarter.

But the momentum didn't stop there.

A long jumper by a fired-up Randy Shelton followed by a basket by Howard underneath moved the Lakers to a 68-62 lead.

With 3:03 left in the game, North Marshall's Barry Travis notched one of two free throws and the Lakers' 12-point scoring surge had been broken.

With the 70-65 lead in hand, Futrell then went to work and put on his exhibition.

Darting in between two and sometimes three defenders, the amazing 5-9 speedster brought the Laker crowd to its feet as the seconds ticked off the clock with each cut and dribble Futrell made.

One of two things will happen when Futrell goes into his performance; either the opposing team will foul, or somebody will be left open under the basket.

And with 2:16 left on the clock, the latter happened as Futrell went low between defensive men and hit Howard for a crumple to give the Lakers a 70-63 lead.

But still, the most exciting part of the game was yet to come.

An eight footer by Siegfried cut the gap to five and then with 1:32 left, just about every heart in the packed gym stopped when Shelton grabbed a missed shot and put the ball in.

But the basket didn't count because Shelton was called for his fifth personal foul and a technical foul.

Dunn hit the front end of a bonus and the second shot fell off. The technical free throw by Travis trimmed the Laker lead to three at 77-67.

With 1:17 left, the turning point of the game came when North was called for three seconds in the lane.

Five seconds later, Futrell was fouled and he calmly hit both free throws to give Calloway County a 72-67 lead.

A three point play with 59 seconds left by Dunn cut the Laker lead down to two points.

On the inbound pass from reserve Rick Scarborough, Futrell was fouled and again he hit both free throws to give the Lakers a 74-70 lead.

A costly double-dribbling call on guard Mike Rosa again gave the ball back to the Lakers.

And again, Futrell was fouled and hit two free throws and with 27 seconds left on the clock, the Lakers had the win wrapped up.

The first quarter might have been about the wildest eight minutes of basketball played this season in the Region.

Officiating was extremely tight and a total of 18 personal fouls were called in the opening period alone.

The Lakers led by as much as five points early in the period but North Marshall inched to within two points and then Wells picked up his third personal foul of the game with 3:09 left on the clock.

On the play, Brad Siegfried, a 6-6 center, scored and hit free throw and the Jets moved to an 11-10 edge.

The lead exchanged hands three times before Howard hit on a tip at the buzzer as the period ended in a 20-20 deadlock.

In the second period, the Lakers went cold and missed at least a half-dozen shots from the inside and without Wells in the lineup, Calloway County wasn't able to control the boards on the other end of the floor.

The Jets led by as much as six points before the half ended with North Marshall on top 36-30.

In the first half, the Lakers went to the charity stripe 20 times and hit 15, while the Jets connected on 14 of 16 attempts.

Wells came back in the game to start the third period but his presence didn't shake the Jets as North Marshall took a hot hand from outside and zipped out to a 50-37 lead with just over five minutes left in the period.

With the Jets enjoying a 52-41 bulge, Greg Howard hit for five consecutive points and suddenly, the Lakers trailed by only six.

Wells scored the final six points of the period as the quarter ended with North Marshall leading 58-52 to set the stage for the hectic fourth frame.

Howard, playing perhaps his best game of the season, scored 26 points while Wells added 18. Shelton, in a splendid effort, scored 16 while Futrell added 12.

For the Jets, Pilant scored 19 while Siegfried added 15 and Travis and Dunn each had 14.

From the floor, the Lakers shot 25 of 56 for a .446 mark while the Jets canned 26 of 50 for a .520.

North Marshall hit 20 of 26 from the free throw line for a .769 while the Lakers cashed in on 26 of 34 for a .764 pace.

"I think we are going to start getting it together now after this one," Coach Jerry Conley said following the Lakers' win.

"Futrell's ballhandling was just sensational and Shelton and Howard turned in splendid games for us."

"We got some good help off the bench in the late stages of the game from Darnall and Scarborough and that's always good to know you can count on your bench strength in the close games," Conley added.

North Marshall drops to 4-5 on the season with the loss while the Lakers are now 5-6.

In the preliminary game, North romped to a 56-28 win. Terry Beane led the Lakers with 11.

The Lakers will host Cuba Tuesday night before playing at home Friday against Paducah St. Mary.

New York Nets Clip Pacers In ABA Play

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

"Super John" Williamson got his nickname from lifting weights, doing exercises and building a powerful physique. He's trying to keep it by playing basketball.

"My body is ready to go anytime the man says to go," said Williamson Friday night after leading the New York Nets past Indiana 109-106. "I like to step out on the basketball court and give it my all."

Williamson, a rookie free agent who dropped out of New Mexico State in his junior year, pumped in a career-high 35 points, 11 of them in the fourth quarter, as New York won its fourth game in as many nights to remain on top in the American Basketball Association East.

"I knew I had my jump shot from the beginning of the game," said Williamson, after sinking 15 of 19 shots from the floor. "We're on top now and we want to stay there."

Williamson is listed at 6-2, 185 pounds and says he got that way by working at it.

"I always took care of my body," he said. "I'd be out there at one or two in the morning running, doing exercises, people used to think I was crazy."

Williamson, inserted into the starting lineup after the Nets got off to a disastrous start this season, was tough down the stretch against the Pacers.

After New York dropped behind midway through the final period, Williamson hit three straight jump shots and then put the Nets on top for good by hitting a free throw with just 48 seconds left.

Colonels 99, Spurs 95
Louie Dampier scored on a driving layup and added a foul shot in the closing minute to give Kentucky the victory.

Dampier wound up with 27 points and Dan Issel added 32 for the Colonels.

Cougars 122, Rockets 95
Carolina raced to a 23-7 lead in the early going and coasted home. Seven Cougars scored in double figures, including Tom Owens who had 22 points.

Squires 109, Stars 103
George Gervin netted 35 points as Virginia snapped Utah's winning streak at eight games. Larry Miller added 28 points for the Squires and Jimmy Jones was the top man for the Stars with 28.

Norman, who scored 26 points overall, tied the score at 74 with a free throw at the 8:06 mark, and Arizona scored five more points in a row to take the lead for good.

Biff Burrell scored seven key second-half points—all he scored in the game—to lead Southern Cal to a comeback triumph over Stanford.

Burrell's two free throws at 9:28 tied the game at 47. Stanford then took the lead, but Burrell later contributed five

Warfield To Play For Dolphins In Super Bowl

By WICK TEMPLE
AP Sports Editor

HOUSTON (AP) — Miami's mechanical Dolphins, hoping for strong legs for receiver Paul Warfield, are six-point favorites to defeat the Minnesota Vikings in the eighth Super Bowl game Sunday.

Kickoff time is 3:30 p.m. EDT at Rice Stadium, where the AstroTurf surface may be damp from week-long rain. The U.S. Weather Service, which hasn't been right one day this week, predicted a cloudy afternoon with temperatures in the 50s but no rain.

The Dolphins, who depend on Warfield's long-range catching ability to open the opposing defense for runners Larry Csonka and Mercury Morris, expected to see their flashy receiver in action despite what was called a hamstring pull suffered in practice Wednesday.

The injury was kept secret for a day before Coach Don Shula revealed it. The Dolphins' stock dipped until team trainer Larry Gardner noted there was no swelling and said Warfield would be ready for action Sunday.

The Vikings, more of a passing team, sailed into the Super Bowl on the throwing of Fran Tarkenton. They must stop the violent running game of the Dolphins and shake receivers free to get Tarkenton a target.

Their chore borders on the impossible—Miami has won 21 of 23 games in the last two seasons with a professional, cool, calculating approach to Shula's demands.

"We expected to win," Csonka said after the Dolphins' 27-10 playoff victory over Oakland in which quarterback Bob Griese threw only six passes.

It could be a dull game as most Super Bowls have been because no one likes to take a chance in the big one.

The defenses could make it a virtual draw were it not for the unstoppable Csonka who has run for more than 1,000 yards for three straight seasons. He ground out 117 steps against Oakland in the American Football Conference championship game and scored three touchdowns on 29 carries.

Miami defensive tackle Manny Fernandez, one of the stars of the Dolphins' 14-7 Super Bowl victory over Washington last year, had what was termed a high fever Friday and did not practice.

But flu bugs have flitted with several players this week, including Csonka, and there was little doubt in the Dolphin camp that Fernandez would perform.

The game will be telecast over CBS-TV to an audience of possibly 75 million in the United States, Mexico, Venezuela, Costa Rica, Puerto Rico, Germany, Austria, England and American servicemen around the world via the Armed Forces TV Network.

For the broadcast rights, CBS paid $2.75 million. The network is charging up to $10,000 a minute for commercials. Some 1,500 writers and radio and television reporters are covering the game. NFL statisticians figure that the newspaper writers alone would send more than 3.5 million words about it this week.

Super Bowl week in Houston has turned out to be Mardi Gras and New Year's Eve rolled into one. The total dollar flow was expected to exceed the $16 million Los Angeles realized in Super Bowl VII.

The game is being held in somewhat antiquated Rice Stadium instead of the Astrodome because it seats 20,000 more people.

The stadium was a sellout at 72,000 seats. There were reports of scalpers asking $150 for a $15 ticket.

South Marshall Edges Past Symsonia 53-49

South Marshall claimed its 10th victory of the season against four losses Friday night as the Rebels held off a Symsonia bid to claim a home-court 53-49 decision.

The Rebels, ranked third in the First Region in the Litratings and sporting the third best defensive average in the Region, did not put the game in the win column until guard Gary Mitchell came up with two consecutive steals in the final minutes.

Coach Charlie Lampley's Rebels were holding a 47-40 lead at the end of the third period but a 5:21 scoring drought enabled the Rough Riders to pull to within a mere point with just 2:50 left in the game when McManus scored from under to trim the Rebel lead to 47-46.

Larry McGregor, a 6-2 junior forward, finally broke the scoring ice for the Rebels as he hit from under at the 2:39 mark to lift South to a 49-46 edge.

Then successive steals by Mitchell, with one ending in a fast break bucket by Mike Ivy and the other resulting in a bucket from under by center Henry Beasley, moved the Rebels to a 53-46 lead and the game was out of reach for Symsonia.

Four times in the first period the game was tied before the Rebels rattled off five consecutive points to take a 13-8 lead with 4:49 left.

But three long shots by the Symsonia guards erased the Rebel lead and the Rough Riders edged to a 14-13 lead. The two teams traded baskets and the first quarter ended with Symsonia holding a 16-15 edge.

In the second period, Symsonia rattled off five straight points to grab a 21-15 lead and then McGregor went to work.

Using his fine strength, McGregor was able to work inside and the Rebels' scoring ace hit for seven points as South Marshall ran off 10 consecutive points and grabbed a 25-21 lead.

At the end of the first half, the Rebels were on top 33-30.

McGregor paced the scoring in the half with 18 points.

South moved to a seven point lead at 39-32 Mike Reed scored on a tip at the 5:25 mark.

The teams traded points until two consecutive tips by Beasley moved the Rebels to a 47-36 spread with just 70 seconds remaining in the period.

Symsonia scored the final four points of the frame to set the stage for the final eight minutes.

South, who outrebounded Symsonia 41-31, hit 37 per cent from the floor and Symsonia managed 35 per cent.

McGregor led the Rebels with 18 points while Beasley added 12 and Ivy 10.

Whittemore paced the Rough Riders with 16 while Hobbs and Mason scored 14 and 11 respectively.

In the preliminary game, South Marshall ran its season record to 8-0 with a 43-33 win. The Rebels will be at Mayfield tonight to meet a rugged Cardinal team before returning home Tuesday to host Lone Oak.

Symsonia 16 14 10 9-49
South 15 18 14 6-53

Symsonia (49)—Hobbs 14, Whittemore 16, Mason 11, Allred 4 and McManus 4.

South (53)—McGregor 21, Beasley 12, Ivy 10, Reed 8 and Mitchell 2.

Panel Agnev From

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — A special three-judge panel recommended today Vice President Spiro T. Agnew be disbarred from the practice of law in Maryland.

The three Circuit Court judges said that Agnew's conduct in a no-contest plea in a federal court "deceitful and dishonest" and "strikes at the heart of the legal system."

"We shall therefore recommend his disbarment, no extending citation allowing a lesser punishment."

The recommendation of the Maryland Court of Appeals, which makes the final decision on whether to bar the practice of law, is not final.

Disciplinary action filed with the association last November. Agnew pleaded no federal tax charge from the vice president.

The bar association asked the three judges to disbar Agnew.
