Legislature To Examine Ford's $4.4 Million Budget for State

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky legislature begins taking a close look this week at the proposed new $4.4 billion budget which Gov. Wendell Ford praised for having benefits for almost everyone, yet costing no new or added tax dollars.

He told a joint session of the legislature Tuesday it provides "the best accountability ever of state government meeting its responsibilities" and "extends a helping hand" to every corner of the state.

Not only is the budget drawn up without the need for more taxes in the next two fiscal years, Ford said, but the next governor could continue the same programs in fiscal 1978-79 without raising taxes.

The new budget is $900 million above the current one and contains an unprecedented $262 million for capital construction, mostly in the next year.

"An exciting area of development, desperately needed," the governor commented in the 35-page prepared address, which he did not read in its entirety.

It is a detailed analysis of where the money will go starting next July 1 if lawmakers approve."

A joint appropriations and revenue committee with 22 legislators begins budget hearings Thursday in the Senate chamber.

Rumors already have been heard about the $15 million set aside to build a new prison, and there have been a few private complaints about Ford's request to revise the budget later lucky Education Association reacted immediately with praise for Ford.

It said the new scales "will go a long way towards narrowing the gap between the salary average for Kentucky teachers" and those in the seven bordering states.

A rather unusual portion of the budget speech deals with no-fault automobile insurance, a controversial topic which is not part of the budget.

Ford, an insurance man from Owensboro said he favors a no-fault system that reduces premiums.

"I urge you to pass such a bill that will also comply with Kentucky's strict constitution," he said.

Murray State University's current funding of $11.5 million would be increased to $12.3 million in 1974-75 and $13.1 million in 1975-76. The school would get revenue-sharing funds to renovate its heating and cooling plant and a $1.5 million state grant to expand its library. Another $1.8 million would be appropriated for construction of a West Kentucky Horse Center on the MSU campus.

as income unexpectedly rises or declines.

The budget is drawn up by program groupings this time instead of listings of agencies and amounts.

The people for whom services are meant are referred to as beneficiaries in the text and Kentucky's 32,000 public school teachers are among the more fortunate.

The governor said he proposes to increase teacher salary allotments by 7 per cent next fiscal year and another 9 per cent the following year.

This is considerably more than the current raises of 6 per cent or under, and the Ken-

Illegal Contract Case Reopened, Marshall Co.

BENTON, Ky. (AP) — Litigation charging two companies with receiving boatdock contracts illegally from the state has been reopened by the Marshall County Circuit Court, after the judge said jurisdiction had been made available to his court.

Circuit Judge James M. Lassiter, in a Nov. 16 ruling that was to have become effective Dec. 1, held that his court had no jurisdiction against Holt and Holt, Inc., a Milan, Tenn., marine supply company and Sarcorn, Inc., an Ohio consulting firm.

He said then that none of the defendants lived in Kentucky and agents of the firms had been served summonses in Franklin County.

But an order by Lassiter dated Jan. 18 reversed that ruling because summonses were served in Marshall County Nov. 28.

In November, Judge Lassiter left pending a part of the suit charging that Finance Commission Charles Pryor and two other state officials used subterfuge to circumvent state statutes in awarding contracts totaling $783,000 to the two companies without competitive bidding.

Lassiter said Tuesday that Pryor and the other two officials, William McConnell, state purchasing director, and B.B. Strange, assistant director for state purchasing, had not formally moved for dismissal of the action against them. The two companies had made such a motion.

The three state officials are charged with "cavalier disregard" of statutes that "constitutes fraud and illegal conduct" in the suit filed by Mrs. Nita Ewing of Eddyville and Mrs. Anne Farmer of Kuttawa.

Arnold Ronna Named Manager Of Sager Glove

Arnold Ronna of Murray has been named as new plant manager of the Sager Glove Corporation of Murray, according to an announcement by Richard Sager of Chicago, Ill., president of the Sager Glove Corporation.

Arnold Ronna Plant Manager

Ronna has been employed with Sager Glove since 1963, and has been in Murray since April of 1966 at which time the plant moved here from Gilman, Ill. He worked as an assistant to Frank Peer until his death last December.

The new plant manager was married in 1942 to the former Norene Fuoss of Thawville, Ill., and they now reside on Keenland Drive in Murray. They are members of the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Murray of which Mr. Ronna is presently serving as financial secretary on the church board.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronna have five children—Mrs. George (Eldora Mae) Friebe, Mrs. Gary (Arna Jean) Osman, Mrs. Larry (Merry Lynn) Lyons, and Edward Ronna, all of Onarga, Ill., and Mrs. John (Katherine Flo) Larson of Paducah. They have nine grandchildren.

Leaf Average Continues To Climb Locally

What has been termed as a "short crop" of dark-fired tobacco is bringing record prices on the three Murray floors, with a $76.84 average reported Tuesday.

Gus Robertson, Jr., of Planters' Loose Leaf Floor, explained the reason for the fantastic price of the crop by saying that the buyers are eager and there is not enough to go around, with a strong demand and a short crop.

Robertson called the crop no higher quality than usual, but the buyers are trying to encourage farmers to produce more next year, because the old stocks are being depleted and the demand for the leaf is high.

Over 1½ million pounds of the local leaf have been sold so far this season, with 485,631 pounds sold Tuesday. The Tuesday sale brought $373,139.09, bringing the season total to $1,137,158.19, and a season average of $74.24.

Robertson expects the average to continue strong, but would not predict whether it would rise again or not.

The sale moves to Mayfield today and will return to Growers' Karris and Planters' floors here Thursday.

Four Charged In Telephone Call Frauds

Four Murray State University students have been charged with "obtaining communications services by fraud" according to Calloway County Attorney Sid Easley.

The four, Michael Lowery, Beverly Kinslow, Yvette Hendley and Dwayne Jenkins, were charged on warrants signed by Dewey Yates, manager of the South Central Bell office here.

Easley explained that the charges stemmed from the use of fictitious telephone numbers in placing long distance calls.

A hearing for the four is scheduled for February 11. Persons convicted on the charge are subject to a fine ranging from a minimum of $50 to a maximum of $500 and a maximum jail sentence of one year.

Escaped Prisoners Still at Large Today

Three escaped prisoners from the Calloway County Jail remain at large today despite efforts by area law enforcement officials to locate them.

Calloway County Sheriff Maurice Wilson reported no progress made in the investigation being made by local officials.

Missing since Tuesday morning are Jerry Mitchell

Gibbs, 27, being held awaiting Florida extradition; Ronald Wayne Conner, 30, being held on charges of cold checking and non-support of a minor child; and Jerry Lynn Wofford, being held in connection with a burglary in Hazel. All three are Calloway County men.

The prisoners escaped by removing a wire screen welded to an air vent.

Open House To Be Held For High School Seniors

Dr. Constantine Curris, president of Murray State University, will be among those greeting high school seniors and faculty to the campus for an open house and informal social hour on Monday, Jan. 28.

To begin at 4:30 p.m. with a light buffet and a get-acquainted period in the lobby of Ordway Hall, the schedule of activities planned by the sponsoring school relations office also includes live music and attendance at a varsity basketball game.

Charles L. Eldridge, director of school relations, said students and teachers from high schools in West Kentucky and adjacent areas of three nearby states—Missouri, Tennessee and Illinois—will be visiting on the campus.

"This kind of activity provides a dual opportunity—a further introduction of Dr. Curris to the educational community throughout the region and a firsthand look at the campus and at campus life by our visitors," he said.

Besides Curris, others to be on hand as university representatives include Dr. Thomas B. Hogancamp, vice-president for administrative affairs, Dr. William G. Read, Vice-president for academic affairs, academic and administrative deans, and student personalities.

Following the initial meeting with university people the visitors will be entertained by a jazz-rock band in the ballroom of the Waterfield Student Union Building.

Later the entire group will attend the Ohio Valley Conference basketball game between Murray State and Middle Tennessee State University beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Sports Arena.

Abortion Bill Introduced In State House; 19 Co-Sponsors

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A bill that would restrict abortions performed in Kentucky, or even prohibit them in certain instances, has been introduced in the House with 19 cosponsors.

Rep. John Isler, D-Covington, who was the primary sponsor of House Bill 299, said it was the strictest measure permissible under a Supreme Court ruling that says states cannot prohibit abortions.

But one provision of the bill would prohibit abortions in Kentucky in hospitals owned, maintained or operated by the federal, state or local governments, except to save the life of the mother.

Another provision would keep any hospital or other facility in Kentucky from being required to admit patients for abortions and prevent individuals from being forced to take part in performing an abortion.

No one would be able to perform an abortion under HB 299 except a licensed physician. Abortions during the first 90 days of pregnancy could be performed only in a hospital or clinic having sufficient facilities "to insure the maximum safeguard of a patient."

No saline (salt water)-type abortion could be performed under the bill and a hysterotomy-type could be done only if reasonable steps were taken to preserve the life of the child. A hysterotomy would be a surgical incision to remove the fetus.

No abortion could be performed in Kentucky under the bill "after the unborn child has reached viability" except to save the life of the mother. Viability is defined in the bill as the stage when "the life of the unborn child may be continued by natural or life-supportive systems outside the womb of the mother."

The Supreme Court held one year ago Tuesday that states cannot prohibit abortions during the first three months of pregnancy and gave them little authority even to regulate them except during the second three months.

Jackson Reports Administration Considering Oil Price Rollback

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Nixon sending Congress a new message on energy legislation, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., reported today the administration is considering rolling back prices on domestic oil production.

Jackson, one of the most influential Congress members in the energy field, emerged from a meeting of Nixon and bipartisan Senate-House leaders to report a price rollback as a possibility.

The Nixon message was expected to include a proposal to tax excess profits by the oil companies, a matter of growing congressional interest.

William E. Simon, the administration's energy policy chief, was reported by Jackson to have authority to order the price rollback on new domestic oil production which the senator termed essential.

Jackson conceded legislation would be needed to cut the prices on output from stripper wells producing no more than 10 barrels a day.

Meanwhile, the controversial issues of gasoline rationing and energy conservation were taking a temporary back seat to growing congressional demands for a change in tax breaks given big oil.

"Our tax policy, instead of encouraging energy development in the U.S., has made the Arab nations self-sufficient," Jackson said Tuesday as his investigations subcommittee wound up its second day of quizzing oil companies executives on the extent of the energy crisis.

Candlepower won't keep food hot

WASHINGTON
Energy shortage or not, don't depend on candlepower to keep food hot on the buffet tables, cautions Consumer News, newsletter from Uncle Sam's Office of Consumer Affairs.

Small candles used in warming units may not produce enough heat to keep food at "safe" temperatures. Ways to avoid buffet bacteria also include:

Keep hot foods above 140 degrees Fahrenheit, especially casseroles containing seafood, poultry and meat, beans, eggs, cheese and other dairy products. Use electric frypans, hot trays or chafing dishes.

Keep cold foods chilled below 40 degrees Fahrenheit, especially cream pies and other desserts containing eggs, milk and cream, and salads made with seafood, poultry or red meat. Chill both the food and the serving dishes first in the refrigerator and, if possible, place them on the buffet over bowls of crushed ice.

Don't keep any food, cold or hot, at room temperature more than two or three hours. A groaning board may look hospitable but it can leave your guests groaning from the effects of food poisoning.

Instead, keep only limited quantities of food on the table and refill serving dishes often.

Mr. and Mrs. Byerly Celebrate 50th Anniversary; Guests In Area

By Estelle Spiceland
January 16, 1974

Someone said, "We must live through the dreary winter if we would treasure the spring."

So we should certainly treasure spring this time.

The winter's happenings left many scars for many deaths have occurred and many tragedies.

But there have been roses in life's December too. Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Byerly, former Concorders, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home on the Pottertown Road on December 25 and at the same time their only son, Jackie Byerly, and his wife celebrated their 22nd wedding anniversary.

They had wanted no publicity but about eighty friends, including their pastor, Bro. Lynn Walker, and relatives dropped in to congratulate them.

And 1974 has brought a great event into the beautiful hilltop home at Concord for Darrell and Peggy Mitchell. They announce the birth of their first child, a baby daughter.

Mrs. Phyllis Nance of Chicago, Ill., has been a guest of Miss Maud Nance for several weeks, but intends to return home by airplane this coming week.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lovins and Otis Lovins were guests at a steak dinner recently at the lovely lake side home of the Gene Tarrys on Lakeway Shores.

Mrs. Tarry's hobby is painting, and she has her own private studio and many works of art.

Their home is built near the former location of the Dave Allton's homestead.

The public is appreciative of having the needed shops in the Concord area, the former Green Body Shop, Kimbro's Garage, and now again, Floyd McClure's Garage in Concord.

The bad weather and icy road conditions have caused many mishaps to cars.

We are sorry to hear of so many acquaintances being hospitalized: Mrs. Maye Wilson, Mr. Porter Elkins, a former Concord storekeeper, Mrs. Annie Hendon, Mrs. Clotele Wisheart, and countless others. And we remember the many other friends and relatives confined to nursing homes: Sam McClure, Mrs. George Dunn, her daughter, Mrs. Vera Hutchens, and too many to try to mention.

We are even sorry for people who have to move. The Guy Lovins' cottage in front of Max Bonner's Grocery is empty at present, but it holds many memories.

For 1974 "I wish there were some wonderful place called the Land of Beginning again. Where all our mistakes and all our heartaches could be dropped like a shabby old coat at the door and never be put on again. But here's a chance to be kinder, more thoughtful, sincere, to think less of self, be less vain, a chance to help others through out a new year in a Land of Beginning Again."

'Treva Mathis Day' Held Sunday First Baptist Church, Murray

They love Treva. Everley Mathis at the First Baptist Church.

Anyone could see this Sunday night as several hundreds of young people and adults turned out to express their appreciation to the pretty, young youth director who is relinquishing her responsibilities at the church to enter Graduate School at Murray State University.

Sunday was "Treva Mathis Day" at the church in honor of Mrs. Mathis, who since July, 1971, has directed the youth program at First Baptist, and at the close of the evening service, tributes as well as tears flowed freely as the pastor, Rev. Richard Walker, and a number of young people praised her work.

Speaking for the young people were Martha McKinney, Mike Outland and Kathy Rogers, after which a tearful Mrs. Mathis was presented with a beautiful, engraved coffee and tea silver service.

Afterwards, Mrs. Mathis and members of her family stood for more than an hour in the receiving line at a reception in the fellowship hall as members of the church and their families filed by to personally express their appreciation and to wish her well in her classes.

In addition to her husband, Dr. Gilbert Mathis, a professor of economics at Murray State, the others in the receiving line included her Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Everley of Rockport, Ky., and Dr. Mathis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lander Mathis, Oak Grove in Christian County. Also in the receiving line were Miss McKinney, Mike Outland and Miss Rogers.

Mrs. Mathis' sister, Tammy, and Dennis Coleman, both of Rockport, also were present for the program, as well as Dr.

Mathis' sister, Mrs. Walean Ezell, Hopkinsville, and her son, David.

While at Murray State, Mrs. Mathis was one of the most outstanding students on the campus, appearing three times in the annual student production, "Campus Lights," and in 1969 was one of the 15 finalists in the first Miss Murray State Pageant.

Before graduating in December, 1970, with a degree in home economics, the area in which she is doing her graduate, she also served as president of her sorority, Alpha Omicron Pi.

Dr. and Mrs. Mathis live in Canterbury Estates.

Happenings At Calloway County High School

On Friday, February 1, Calloway County High School will hold its annual Homecoming basketball game in addition to the first Homecoming dance at Jeffrey Gymnasium. The Jr. Varsity game begins at 6:45 p.m., immediately followed by the crowing of the queen. The Varsity game begins at eight p.m. The Homecoming dance is scheduled for ten p.m. following the game.

Homecoming tickets went on sale Jan. 19 for the first Annual Homecoming Dance. C.C.H.S. students and all alumni may purchase tickets at the office of the school for $4. a couple and $2.50 per person. Tickets may also be purchased by the alumni on the night of the event for $5. a couple or $3. a person.

The Beta Club is selling Homecoming Mums at $2.75 each. To place an order, contact any member of the Beta Club of C.C.H.S.

The time change at C.C.H.S. went into effect January 16. All students attended school 1/2 hour later than usual. This was so that school children wouldn't have to wait on the bus while it was still dark. This schedule will last until March 1.

C.C.H.S. has something new this year: the Lakerette drill team. The team is composed of fourteen girls who march with the Laker band and perform at half-time during home ballgames. The Lakerettes and their sponsor, band director Terry Goodwin, have worked very hard preparing to perform. The captain of the drill team is Kathy Rose. Cindy Compton serves as co-captain. The other Lakerettes are Phyllis Adams, Candy Arbaugh, Karen Causey, Sandy Farris, Cindy Garrison, Renita Latimer, Regina Lockhart, Jennifer Lovett, Cindy Mills, Christine McCuiston, Malinda Taylor and Tina Todd.

A shipment of 50 books arrived at the library the week of January 7, bringing the number of books available to approximately 8070. The new selections range from The Graduate and Summer of '42 to Astrolgy and Sculpture Inside and Out. A special bookcase in the front entrance of the library contains all new books.

Over Christmas vacation, a new trophy case was added to the school. The trophy case, a project of the Student Council, was purchased due to the increasing number of high achievements in all of the organizations at C.C.H.S. The trophy case was built by Mr. B. R. Nix, a faculty member, and has an estimated cost of $600. It will be financed through club donations and general funds from the school.

As reported earlier in Brandon's Bits, the All American Redheads female basketball team will be at Jeffrey Gymnasium on Thursday, January 24 at 7:30 p.m. to oppose the faculty team of the high school.

The Redheads are internationally known for their basketball ability, having played throughout the United States and in several foreign countries. The girls play by male basketball rules and their games are highlighted by tricks similar to that of the Harlem Globetrotters.

The C.C.H.S. faculty roster is led by former basketball All-Americans and Murray State University Hall of Fame members Howard Crittenden, principal of the high school, and Bennie Purcell. In addition, the team is composed of Jerry Conley, head basketball coach for the Lakers and former all-OVC player at Morehead State University, and Stan Key, alumnus of C.C.H.S. and cage star at the University of Kentucky. Remaining members of the faculty roster will be announced at a later date. The Calloway team is coached by school superintendent Bill Miller.

The game will be filmed by CBS Television to be broadcast nationwide at a later time. Sports Illustrated will also send reporters to cover the game.

The price of admission is $1.75 advance and $2.00 at the door for adults. High school and grade school students will pay $1.25 advance and $1.50 at the door. All proceeds will go to the Calloway County High Band.

Humans can't take all credit for group sex

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: A Mr. A. W. Lyons of Prospect, Ky., wrote to say that man is the only animal that practices group sex. He is mistaken. Probably the best known example is the California sea hare.

Sea hares have a complete set of both male and female sex organs, and can assume either role. In laboratory studies, sea hares have been observed copulating in groups: as many as eight have copulated in a complete circle for as long as three days.

So, please pass this on to Mr. Lyons and your readers. We know of at least one other animal besides man that practices group sex. And wouldn't you know it would have to happen in California?

RICHARD JOSSLIN, Ph.D.
San Pedro, Cal.

DEAR Dr. J.: The orgy you cite is no secret. It's recorded in the Natural History of Marine Animals. And by the way, Jane Goodall, who lived for ten years among wild chimpanzees while she studied them, reported that a female chim named "Flo" had a battalion of suitors standing in line for her favors, and she accommodated them all one after the other.

DEAR ABBY: I'm glad you told that 17-year-old girl to save herself for marriage. She said she'd heard that most fellows don't care if the girl they marry is a virgin or not.

I am 16, and I have made up my mind that on my wedding night I am going to be able to say to my husband, "Yes, Darling, YOU are the first!"

WAITING IN SEATTLE

DEAR WAITING: Lovely. And someday you may want to say, "And the first shall be the last."

DEAR ABBY: "Alone and Crying's" story was my story. I too loved my first husband with all my heart until one day he told me he no longer wanted the responsibility of marriage. As it turned out, he wanted the responsibility of another woman.

I also cried and begged and kissed him while he stood there "cold and unfeeling like a statue with his hands in his pockets."

Your advice, "quit begging and prepare to make a new life for yourself because good luck often comes disguised as disaster," was the most precious statement you ever wrote.

A year after my divorce I met the most wonderful man in the world. He is 100 times the man my first husband was. My salvation was getting involved with a good church—Nazarene—and thru its activities came my good luck.

Please print this to let "Alone and Crying" know that it's not the end of the world for her. If I could make it, so can she.

LUCKY IN VANCOUVER

DEAR LUCKY: Here's your letter. I hope it's an inspiration to others who've been dealt a low blow.

'Kissing' Disease More Frequent In College

Infectious mononucleosis is three times as frequent among college students, 1,112 cases per 100,000 population, as among non-college students of the same age group, according to a recent report in the publication, "Infectious Diseases."

However, the incidence of mononucleosis is increasing across-the-board among the high-risk teenage-young adult age groups, the report, based on studies by the Center for Disease Control, U. S. Public Health Service, and findings by private physicians, said.

Mononucleosis is characterized by sore throat, fever, and enlargement of the lymph nodes in the side of the neck. Because it occurs so often among young people who do a lot of dating, it is often called the "kissing" disease. It becomes rare after the age of 40.

Flutter For Spring

Eleanor Lambert, of the American Designer Showings, says: "all after-five clothes for spring seem to flutter and swirl."

Waist Accents

For spring the belt, generally, is replaced by the sash or drawstring. Many dresses and coats are beltless, however. To mark the waist, side seams are indented.

Diagnostic Clinic For Children With Learning Disabilities To Be Held At Mayfield This Week

A four days' diagnostic clinic for children with learning disabilities will be held in Mayfield on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, January 24 to 27.

The clinic is sponsored by the Mayfield Graves County Association for SPMD, Mayfield. For appointment call 247-1554 or 247-5846, Mayfield, or 442-0087 or 442-1681, Paducah.

Signs of learning disability are: Child a slow learner; forms letters backwards; can't write or print on lines of paper; skips small words when reading; miscalls small words; short tension span; forgets easily; can't organize work; no conception of time; too wound up; can't put knowledge on paper; does not comprehend what he reads.

Clinic officials said other learning disability signs are: Drinks a lot of milk, cold drinks, eats excessive amounts of sweets or starches; loner; withdraws from groups; always someone else's fault; poor in math; very friendly for cover-up; immature or timid; knows material at end of homework but not next day; just making passing grades; never sees note teacher sends; forgets his books. Officials said these are just a few of the examples of a learning disability and these are the children who become emotionally disturbed and are crying for help from within.

SPMD officials said parents should have their child diagnosed if he or she has a problem. Diagnosis would enable the child to better understand himself and why he cannot do some of the things he so deeply desires to do; and the teacher would know what handicap she is working with and have a better understanding, the clinic officials said.

Becky Imes gave the devotion. Pam Robertson, recording secretary, read the minutes and Kathy Rose, first treasurer, gave the treasurer's report.

The club voted to give $25.00 to the Student Council to help pay for the new trophy case for the school.

Reciprocal Tuition Agreement Needed

The Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education announced Tuesday that a plan is being considered that would allow residents of Kentucky or Tennessee to attend public colleges and universities in other states at in-state tuition rates.

We have long supported any move that would allow non-resident students to attend Murray State University, as well as other regional institutions. Murray State in particular is faced with an unusual problem as far as enrollment of the state students is concerned because of the proximity of the school to state boundaries.

The plan now under consideration would only affect Kentucky and Tennessee students at this time. It is our hope that consideration will also be given to a "radius concept" under which students living within a certain distance of the institution, say 150 miles, would be allowed to attend the school at in-state rates.

Naturally any plan such as this must be reciprocal between the states involved in order to be equitable. We don't expect Kentucky taxpayers to cough up additional money to educate students from other states without receiving any benefits from the other states.

Harry Snyder, the Kentucky council's associate director for finance said that the big advantage of the reciprocal program is that it would broaden the educational opportunities, mainly for students living along the Kentucky-Tennessee border.

Snyder is quoted as saying that "any loss of revenue from a waiver of nonresident tuition for the Tennessee students would be more than offset by an increased number of Tennessee students attending Kentucky institutions."

Murray State, which in recent years has had some problems with dormitory vacancies, would benefit directly from a reciprocal agreement such as this because of the nearness of the university to the Kentucky-Tennessee border.

This plan would enable MSU to enroll an added number of students from Henry, Stewart, Weakley, Obion, Carroll and Benton counties in Tennessee. These students are within an hour's drive of Murray and if they do not elect to attend UT-Martin, they must go at least as far as Memphis or Nashville for a college education within their state.

We urge the Kentucky General Assembly to approve the legislation necessary to implement this plan and hope the Tennessee legislature, also meeting at this time, will take similar action.

Mideast Arms Race Should Merit Notice

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

Scarcely noticed in a blizzard of developments, a second-string arms race around the Arab East periphery makes for melancholy commentary on long-range hopes for tranquility in that sensitive region.

The Middle East ordinarily is complex enough. The world oil crisis made matters vastly more complicated, and what goes on in the Persian Gulf area might look to a detached observer at times as if dictated by some sort of demented logic.

The whole Middle East long has been vulnerable to the perils of a superpower showdown. After each explosion, Moscow proceeds to rearm Syria and Egypt and Washington to rearm Israel.

Yet there is a suspicion Moscow used its leverage as a source of arms to squeeze Syria into at least listening to settlement proposals. There's a similar suspicion that the United States used access to American arms as an arm-twisting device in Israel. There is even a Tel Aviv report that Israel is producing electronic weaponry to reduce her dependency on U.S. arms.

For all of this apparent fear of arms buildup, however, an odd picture is unfolding of spiraling Western competition to peddle arms in the Arab East. Lately British, French and Americans have been prowling the Persian Gulf area seeking arms deals with sheiks and princes. This began before there was any thought of a settlement on the war fronts, even before the October war began.

The French and British both landed arms contracts in the Arabian peninsula before the outbreak of the October war. Now French diplomacy is highly and competitively visible in Saudi Arabia in the wake of a new deal to deliver weaponry plus industrial equipment and knowhow in return for a guaranteed flow of oil.

The United States professes anxiety about "maintaining the arms balance" in the Middle East, but Americans also are heavily involved in the competition to sell arms in the Gulf area.

The Arab East's northern tier is made up of two potentially powerful elements, one with large amounts of Russian arms, the other possessing large amounts of U.S. military hardware.

South of that tier there is the spectacle, for example, of Abu Dhabi, a tiny desert emirate of 80,000, spending oil riches for a swarm of French Mirage jets, perhaps 32 in all. Abu Dhabi has an army of 8,000 with Pakistani, Jordanian and British officers, an unlikely match for any strong enemy.

Pakistanis, experienced with sophisticated weaponry, play an important role that probably irks India, Pakistan's perennial enemy. The Moslem sheiks regard the Moslem Pakistanis as possible protectors. At the same time, Pakistan is believed to have a deal for use of the Abu Dhabi jets in case of an emergency of its own.

Pakistanis also are in evidence in Saudi Arabia, again in collaboration with the French.

Long before the October war, King Faisal had embarked on a billion-dollar arms modernization program. Western salesmen rushed to get in on it. The Saudis had ordered 170 jet fighters, among other things, from the United States to beef up an existing force of 70 planes. Just after the October war began, U.S. officials said talks with Persian Gulf Arabs on arms would be held in abeyance, but the process still seems to be alive.

In non-Arab Iran, the Shah, candidly intent on using vast oil revenues to build the most powerful force on the Gulf, is talking in terms of amassing an additional $2 billion worth of U.S. military hardware.

Iraq, a long-time enemy of Iran, has designs on Kuwait and invaded it several years ago. The British expelled the Iraqis, but the British military presence is gone from the Gulf now. Just before the October war Kuwait notified the United States it wanted to buy a half billion dollars worth of jet planes and other military items, but its armed force of 8,000 would be no match for a strong foe like Iraq.

The picture now is of a northern tier of the Arab East, dominated by Arabs heavily armed by the Russians and Iranians heavily armed by the Americans, while Arab oil rulers to the south arm against a possible threat from regimes in the north. All this ferment bubbles inside an already explosive over-all Middle East situation.

Reader Clarifies Misinterpretations

Dear Editor,

Please let me take this opportunity to clarify a few misinterpretations Mr. Williams made in his Seen and Heard column (Jan. 21, 1974) concerning our phone conversation of Jan. 17.

Pertaining to the heredity environment debate, I believe environment plays the more important part in one's personality make-up. I called Mr. Williams to ask if he was familiar with the environmental belief studies, some being: Margaret Mead, 1949; Galton 1874, and Asbell, 1968.

I agree with Mr. Williams that there is data to support both sides, as there is in almost any argument.

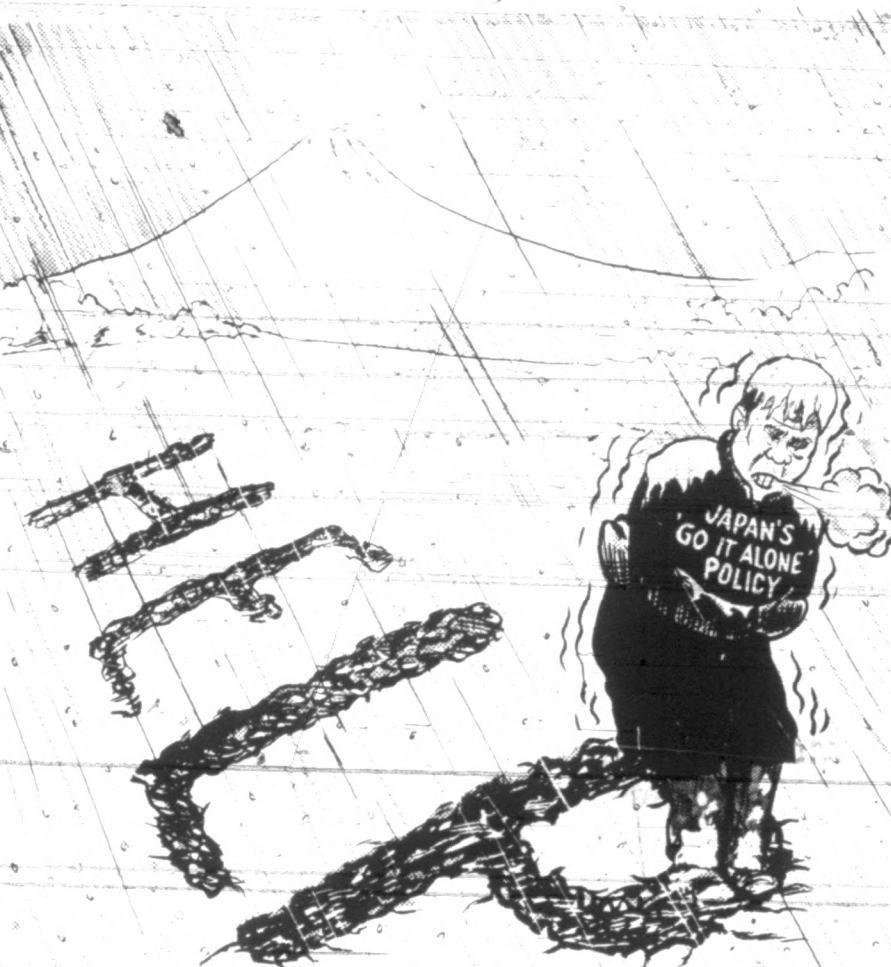

The misinterpretations start with the implication that I suggested to Mr. Williams different readings to support my belief. This is in part, a fallacy. The truth is that during the course of the conversation I got off on the subject of Transactional Analysis and mentioned the books as good basic readings concerning this subject. The books are correctly entitled: "Born to Win," "I'm O.K., You're O.K.," "Why Am I Afraid to Tell You Who I Am?" and "Why Am I Afraid to Love?"

I respect Mr. Williams' view and do not wish to argue the point. Therefore, the only purpose of this letter is to clarify the misinterpretations.

Sincerely,

Millie Broach

Oil Mars Japan's Dream

It was only last August that Premier Kakuei Tanaka of Japan went before the National Press Club in Washington to deliver what sounded like a declaration of independence. Japan was ready, he said, to assume a place in the sun earned by two decades of spectacular economic growth. Her ties with the United States in the future would be less important. Japan, he declared, could even be considered worthy of a permanent seat on the United Nations Security Council as one of the world's major powers.

Those were halcyon days for Japan, and they ended suddenly. The energy crisis has sent the Japanese economy lurching downhill. Seldom has a nation taken a more violent ride on the economic roller coaster.

In 1972 Japan paid about $4.3 billion for oil — all of it imported. This year that price will jump to $10 billion, and it is doubtful she can get as much oil as she needs at any price. Her fabulous balance of payments and billions in foreign currency reserves are melting away as the government shores up the devalued yen.

Self-confidence and independence are hardly the tone of Japanese foreign policy today. Trade Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone is touring Europe and the Middle East searching for oil and trade. Japan is buttering up the Egyptians with an offer of $140 million to help reopen the Suez Canal. President Nixon's invitation to explore an international approach to solving energy problems found a ready acceptance in Tokyo. Premier Tanaka has been on a fence-mending trip among undeveloped Asian nations which supply Japan with raw materials and have suddenly become less eager to do so on the terms established in the past.

A year ago the Japanese might have hoped to bargain with the Russians on their own terms for developing petroleum reserves in Siberia. Now the Russians hold the trump card. When Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohiri visited Peking recently to conclude a trade agreement he found the Chinese Communists less willing to wink at the fact that Japan still gives tacit recognition to the Nationalist Chinese government on Taiwan. On top of their new economic problems, the Japanese face the fact they live in a hostile environment and cannot forever avoid the cost of rearming and assuming responsibility for their own defense.

Japan's rise to industrial eminence since World War II often has been laid largely to the energy of her people and the value they replace on productivity and efficiency. However, as a crowded island nation with practically no natural resources, Japan is learning painfully that its successful "system" cannot exist on the will and energy of people alone. It requires resources, fuel, markets and cooperation with other nations. This may not be the decade of Japanese independence at all, but the awakening of the Japanese to the fact of their own dependence on the good will of friends and partners throughout the world.

The President's 'Private Papers'

(Editor's Note: The following editorial is being reprinted from "Editor & Publisher," a national trade magazine for newspapers.)

The controversy over President Nixon's tax deduction for the donation of his Vice Presidential papers to the National Archives, and the news that a search has been conducted for the location of a library to house his Presidential papers after he leaves office, once again raises the issue of the ownership of papers of Presidents and other public servants which are currently being called their "private papers."

On July 26, 1947, Editor & Publisher said: "The record of whatever Roosevelt, or any other President or Cabinet member, did in an official capacity while in office belongs to the government and the people of the United States." And, we have been saying it ever since.

It is time for Congress to act and establish the government's proprietary right to speeches, letters and other documents amassed by public officials at all levels on government time and at public expense. It should have been done a long time ago.

At the same time Congress should put a stop to the dispersal of these documents into private Presidential libraries. Hoover started it and every President since then has arranged for the records of his administration to go into a privately-financed library somewhere other than Washington, D. C. Nixon's library, if it is built, will make seven widely-dispersed collections of U. S. history that should be all in one place—the capital of the nation.

Editor & Publisher said four years ago: "We never heard of any other nation permitting its head of state to clean out the file room when he leaves office."

Isn't It The Truth!

by Carl Riblet Jr.

The ways to describe woman are many. For one example, she is any person who will look into a mirror at every opportunity, except when she is pulling away from a curb. There is only one way to describe man. He is any person who believes that woman was made from Adam's rib and not his funnybone.

President Of New WFL Says Many Draft Picks Will Play

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Davidson, president of the spanking new World Football League, thinks as many as half of the 72 players his league drafted will wind up playing with the WFL's multi-colored football.

The WFL's 12 teams got a one-week jump on the National Football League Tuesday, running through six draft rounds that parceled out some of the country's top collegiate talent. The NFL holds its two-day draft next week.

"The NFL signs 120 of the 400 players it drafts," said Davidson. "I think we'll sign over half of our choices and at least half of the players picked in the first two rounds."

Those first two rounds included All-American quarterback David Jaynes of Kansas, drafted by Memphis as the WFL's No. 1 choice; Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti, chosen by Philadelphia; John Hicks, Ohio State tackle, taken by Florida; and brothers Rod McNeill, a University of Southern California running back, and Fred McNeill, UCLA linebacker, both selected by Hawaii.

Davidson said the WFL will hold an additional 40 college draft rounds on Feb. 4-5 and then draft all professional players, including those under contract to the NFL. "We don't want our clubs competing with each other for the same players," said Davidson, who denied that the WFL would raid NFL players. "Let's just say we are offering new employment opportunities to players who might want a change in climate or a chance to make more money."

Sports attorney Robert Woolf said he didn't anticipate a money war on a grand scale. But then he hedged.

"It's only going to take one WFL owner who says, 'I'm going to pay whatever it costs,' to blow the roof off," said Woolf.

Lakers Edge Past South In Thriller

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
Calloway County High School has not lost a basketball game since last year. And following Tuesday night's 52-51 win at home over South Marshall, the Lakers are riding a four game winning streak and have increased their record to 8-6 for the season.

But for a split second in Tuesday night's game, the winning streak hung in the air as a large crowd in Jeffrey Gymnasium witnessed what may well be the most talked about game this season in the First Region.

The final 25 seconds of the contest were typical of the entire game.

Jump Ball

James Wells, the Lakers' 6-8 junior center and South Marshall junior forward Larry McGregor were called for a jump ball in the Laker free throw circle, following a battle for a rebound, after a missed charity toss by Tommy Futrell.

The Lakers took the tip and Wells was fouled in the act of shooting with 19 seconds left. Both of his free throws fell off the rim and McGregor rebounded the ball for the Rebels.

In the scramble down court, the ball was knocked loose and the Lakers recovered the ball and a shot with just four seconds left fell off and the Rebels rebounded.

Donnie Dickerson stopped near the center line and attempted to fire a long shot over freshman guard Tommy Futrell who was defending. But the ball was knocked down and the Lakers went into the dressing room thinking they had won the game.

Rebels Protest

But Dickerson and several other Rebel players as well as Coach Charlie Lampley ran after the officials and pleaded for a foul on the play.

And, on a delayed decision, a foul was called and the Laker team came back out of the dressing room and stood by Coach Jerry Conley and their bench to watch as Dickerson had the bonus opportunity.

Evidently, the foul must have been committed after the shot, otherwise Dickerson would have had two free throws coming.

Dickerson stood at the line while the Laker fans stood on their feet screaming. The ball went up and just bounced off the rim and the Lakers' win was official.

Neither coach was willing to discuss the play in the respective dressing rooms following the game. The two officials were not available for comment or explanation of the final call as the door to their shower room was locked.

But the large crowd of fans representing both schools talked about the play for minutes after the game and will continue to talk about it for some time to come.

It was the kind of game where the largest lead in the final quarter was only three points and that came for the Lakers at the 3:08 mark when Wells canned a 13 foot jumper.

But successive baskets by Dickerson and Mike Reed from the outside range erased the Laker lead and with 2:31 left in the contest, the Rebels were clinging to a 49-48 edge.

Shelton Superb

Randy Shelton, who played a superb game, went high off the floor to tip in a missed shot and with 1:37 left, the Lakers had a 50-49 lead.

But the Rebels again regained the lead when with 1:13 remaining, Dickerson drove the baseline for a layup and lifted South Marshall to a 51-50 lead.

The final points of the night came on a miraculous tip by senior Greg Howard.

After the Lakers had missed a shot from the outside, the ball caromed off to the left side of the keyhole and Howard went up and with two hands, slapped the ball in from about eight feet away from the basket, giving the Lakers a 52-51 lead.

South Marshall missed a scoring opportunity after they had regained the ball and the Lakers took control.

Futrell was fouled with just 23 seconds left and he had the chance to ice the game with the bonus but his shot fell off the rim and then Wells and McGregor tangled for the ball and were called for the jump, setting the stage for the thrills-packed final seconds.

In the first period of the game, the two clubs fought on even terms as neither team could forge ahead by any more than four points. By the end of the quarter, the Rebels were holding a slim 14-12 edge.

With 5:40 left in the second period, the Lakers pulled the "Bill Walton Play" as Wells took a lob pass from Shelton and went up and slapped the ball in to give Calloway County an 18-16 lead.

Scoring Spree

But then the Rebels went on a 10 point scoring outbreak and with 2:16 left to play in the half, South Marshall led 26-18. Reed had six points during the spree while Ivey tossed in four.

Calloway County outscored the Rebels 4-2 in the final two minutes as the half ended with South Marshall holding a 28-22 lead.

In the first period, the Lakers hit only 11 of 39 floor attempts for a frigid 28.2 pace while South canned 12 of 26 for a .462 mark.

Wells scored 10 points in the half to pace the Lakers while Reed and Ivey each had 10 for the Rebels.

In the third period, the Rebels led for the first three minutes until Wells hit on a five foot bank shot at the 5:00 mark to knot the count at 32 apiece.

Howard hit a 15 footer and then Reed notched a free throw for the Rebels. Then Shelton scored on a tip and Wells hit from under and the Lakers were steaming to a 38-33 lead with 2:12 remaining.

But South Marshall came back with the final six points of the period to carry a 39-38 lead into the exciting last period. Calloway County hit only 25 of 73 shots from the floor for a .342 pace while the Rebels were hitting 21 of 48 for a .438 clip.

The Lakers outrebounded the Rebels 38-29 as Wells grabbed 17 while Futrell, from a guard spot, pulled off eight and Howard seven. Reed had 10 rebounds to lead the Rebels.

Wells paced the Lakers with 22 while Shelton and Howard all hit in double figures with 12 and 14 respectively. From there, the scoring dropped to Futrell who had four. Nobody else broke the scoring column for Calloway.

Reed put in 19 for the Rebels while McGregor and Ivey each had 10 and Dickerson eight.

Preliminary Game

In the preliminary game, South ran its mark to 13-1 with a 42-37 win. Dale Lovett scored 10 for the winners as did Lynn Richards.

Terry Beane tossed in 14 for Calloway while Byars added nine, Miller eight and Calhoun six.

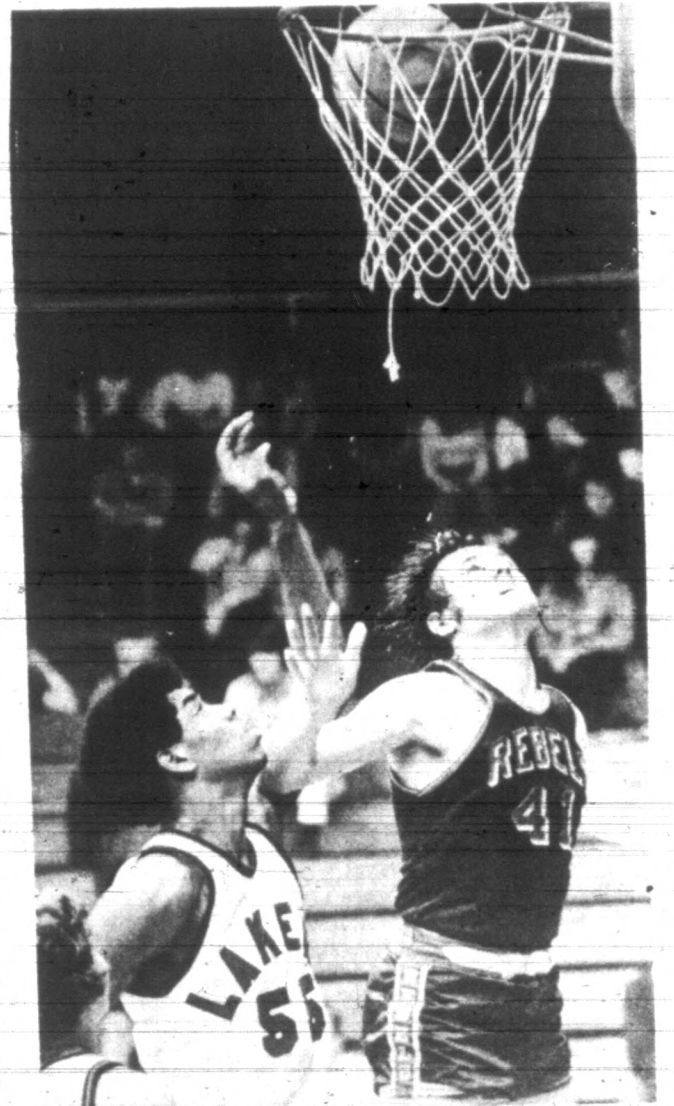

South Marshall is now 12-7 for the season and will be at home Friday against Reidland before playing at Benton Saturday.

Calloway County is idle this weekend and will not play until they entertain North Marshall Tuesday.

So, Marshall 14 14 11 12—51
Calloway 12 10 16 14—52

South (51)—Reed 19, Dickerson 8, McGregor 10, Ivey 10, Mitchell 4 and Beasley.

Calloway (52)—Shelton 12, Wells 22, Howard 14, Futrell 4, Williams, Scarborough and Darnall.

NOT TOO WORRIED—Larry McGregor (41), a South Marshall junior forward who gives up six inches to 6-8 James Wells, doesn't seem to be worried about driving to the inside against the Lakers' center. McGregor picked up 10 points in the contest.

Cedeno Says He's Grown Up In Past Few Weeks

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astro outfielder Cesar Cedeno says he feels he has grown up a lot in the last few weeks.

"I think this will help me to be a better person," he said.

However, Cedeno said Tuesday he expects some fans and players to try to test the effects of his recent conviction on a charge of involuntary homicide in the death of a young woman, in Santo Domingo.

Cedeno, 23, drew a $100 fine Jan. 15 after being held in jail 20 days following the Dec. 10 fatal shooting of Altigracia de la Cruz in a motel.

A transcript of the court ruling states that Cedeno was found responsible for having "acted imprudently in allowing the victim to obtain the firearm he was carrying and in handling it clumsily if discharged, causing her death."

He said he was carrying a gun since arriving in his native Dominican Republic in October because he was wearing $4,000 in gold and diamond jewelry.

He said someone had stolen a watch and some diamonds from him a week before the shooting. He said seven men tried to rob him in 1972.

He said he was never concerned about being assessed a long prison term.

"I knew I told the truth," he said. "I was innocent."

He said he feels some people are going to accept what has happened and some are not.

"Some players on other teams will try to take my concentration away but it is not going to work," he said. "I won't think about it. I'll just play my game. I might even be better because I will be trying harder."

Buffalo Blasts Philadelphia To Move Over The .500 Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
When General Manager Eddie Donovan and Coach Jack Ramsay revamped the Buffalo Braves during the off-season, they didn't expect instant success — but that's just about what has happened.

The Braves, who won 22, 22 and 21 games in their first three years in the National Basketball Association, won their 25th game of the 1973-74 season Tuesday night, beating the Philadelphia 76ers 119-109.

That boosted Buffalo's record to 25-24 and made this the latest point in any season that the expansion club has been above the .500 mark.

Jim McMillian hit 10 consecutive shots and scored 32 points for the Braves against Philadelphia. Bob McAdoo added 21 points and 14 rebounds and Gar Heard had 20 points and 15 rebounds.

In other NBA games, the Houston Rockets beat the New York Knicks 108-93, the Chicago Bulls topped the Atlanta Hawks 102-89, the Kansas City-Omaha Kings defeated the Portland Trail Blazers 103-96, the Golden State Warriors edged the Capital Bullets 99-97 and the Cleveland Cavaliers nipped the Los Angeles Lakers 111-110 in overtime.

There were no games in the American Basketball Association Tuesday night.

Steve Mix scored 27 points and hauled in 17 rebounds for Philadelphia. Toby Kimball added 22 points.

Rockets 108, Knicks 93

Chicago's team physician, Dr. Robert Biel, handling the Bulls while Coach Dick Motta served the final game of a three-game suspension, was able to go out a winner—and a happy one.

"I am very thankful that my brief coaching career ended tonight," he said. "It was very hectic for me."

Kings 103, Blazers 96
Nate "Tiny" Archibald scored 31 points, handed out 10 assists and made five steals to spark the Kings past the Trail Blazers. Center Sam Lacey grabbed 20 rebounds for KC-Omaha.

Sidney Wicks was high man for Portland with 26 points.

NC State And Irish Take Close Triumphs

By ANDY LIPPMAN
AP Sports Writer
There seemed to be little argument over who was the best player in North Carolina Tuesday night.

After North Carolina State had defeated their neighbors at Chapel Hill 83-80, even Tarheel Coach Dean Smith had to rave about was the man who was most responsible for his team's defeat — David Thompson.

"Thompson was fantastic," said Smith. "He proved again that he is the most dominating player in college basketball with the exception of Bill Walton, I guess."

"We played against Julius Erving (now with the New York Nets) and he didn't dominate play the way Thompson does. There is no comparison between the two at this stage."

Thompson scored 18 of his 26 points in the second half to help the third-ranked Tarheels turn back a rally by fourth-ranked North Carolina.

Thompson provided the winning margin in the closing seconds when he sank a free throw for the Tarheels who moved into first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

In other Top 10 action, top-ranked Notre Dame got a scare before defeating Kansas 76-74, fifth-ranked Maryland beat Canisius 86-73, and sixth-ranked Marquette turned back No. 10 Long Beach State 54-52.

Digger Phelps said his top-ranked Irish were not looking ahead to their Saturday rematch with UCLA, but Kansas still almost caught them from behind.

Trailing 49-35 at the half, the Jayhawks, now 11-4, four times pulled within two points led by Rick Suttle who scored 27 points.

Last year, Notre Dame beat Kansas 66-64 in overtime at Notre Dame.

Marquette looked to be in trouble in the first half, hitting only 18. Then one of Al McGuire's assistants came to the rescue, figuring out a way to beat the Long Beach zone.

Marquette came back after being down by 11 points late in the first half and after going ahead by five with six minutes remaining, the sixth-ranked Warriors had to rally again when Roscoe Pondexter scored with 1:09 to put Long Beach back in the lead.

Tom McMillen and John Lucas combined for 45 points to lead the Terrapins past Canisius. McMillen scored 16 of his 25 points in the second half to put Maryland ahead 49-37 with 12:30 to play.

In other games, UT-Chattanooga, top-ranked small college team, beat Georgia State 78-69, Fairfield beat Georgetown 75-71, Creighton defeated Bradley 79-53, William and Mary down VMI 85-68, Larry Williams scored 25 points to pace Kansas State to a 73-65 victory over Nebraska, Wichita State beat North Texas State 83-76, and the University of the Pacific beat Santa Clara 76-63.

Hugh Wright came off the bench and scored 10 points in the final 11 minutes for the Knights. He had 12 altogether.

The score was tied 36-36 at intermission, and Bellarmine didn't take the lead for good until 67-66, with 3:33 remaining.

Forward Jim Hall led the Bellarmine scoring attack with 18 points.

Andy Williams had a game-high 25 points and pulled down eight rebounds for Georgetown, while Dan Phillips contributed 18 and Bill Reinle added 12.

Georgetown's record fell 11-4 record, while Bellarmine improved its ledger 6-8.

In action at Lexington, Transylvania's Dale Cosby pumped in a game high 27 points and pulled down eight rebounds, to spark his team to its 81-74 college basketball upset of Thomas More.

Thomas More had romped Transylvania 95-76 in December.

Transylvania improved its record 8-6, while Thomas More's record fell 5-9.

The host Union Bulldogs, down 11 points, rallied with 2 1/2 minutes remaining and out-scored Centre 11-3, but Centre withstood the comeback and took a 73-70 victory.

Centre improved its record 8-6, while Union's ledger sagged 2-15.

Forwards Al Williams and Steve Richardson shared scoring honors with 19 apiece for Centre. Grady Wilson led Union with 18 points, while Mike Diliboa pulled down 23 rebounds.

In action at West Baden, Ind., Northwood Institute, behind the shooting power of Larry Weber with 27 points, downed Pikeville College 90-83.

Pikeville, led by guard Sam Baker with 24 points, is now 6-12 for the season. Northwood is 7-7.

Bill To Move Capitol Press Corps Approved

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A bill that could move the offices of the capital press corps from the third floor of the capitol to provide more space for legislative offices has been approved by the House.

The measure passed 70-16 Tuesday after House Speaker Norbert Blume, D-Louisville, sponsor of the bill, said the additional space for the legislative clerks' offices was "the most pressing need" of the General Assembly.

"The press has selfishly hidden behind the argument of the public's right to know," he said, adding that the press "receives the full cooperation of the General Assembly" in terms of access to legislators and legislative sessions.

The measure would transfer control of the space on the third and fourth floors of the capitol to the Legislative Research Commission. The space now is allocated by the Finance Department, which last summer turned down a request by the LRC to force the press to vacate the third floor offices.

House and Senate chambers also are located on the third floor.

While there was little debate on the bill, the strongest opposition came from Rep. David Van Horn, D-Lexington, who said he believed the press should remain because of its watchdog function— "not because we're dishonest but just to keep us honest. I think the press belongs in the capitol building."

Earlier, the LRC offered to arrange space in the basement of the building for press offices, but that space has since been allocated to other offices.

Blume said the push to consolidate the clerks offices on the third floor was triggered by the need to avoid a recurrence of an incident during the 1972 session when a bill was lost in the shuffle between offices.

"We asked the press to vacate their space . . . they did not understand and they did not cooperate," he said, although he noted that the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times moved their offices from the capitol building shortly before the start of the current session.

If approved the measure would take effect in June.

In other action Tuesday, the house approved 62-20 a bill that would allow a county or counties to call a referendum on establishment of an ambulance district which would have authority to levy a tax of 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation to pay for ambulance service.

The bill, HB 48, is sponsored by Rep. Glenn White, D-Winchester.

Other bills approved: HB 6, which would allow county judges to receive periodic pay fee payments for settling estates when the settlement is arrived at over a period of time. Judges now have to wait for final settlement before receiving any fee. The bill, which was approved 81-5, is sponsored by Rep. Dwight Wells, D-Richmond.

HB 18, sponsored by Rep. Donald Blandford, D-Philpot, would place the burden of proof on the Milk Marketing and Anti-Monopoly Commission rather than the milk dealer or handler, in cases involving milk marketing. The bill was approved 86-0.

Senate Approves Right-To-Life Measure Under Pressure Tuesday

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A controversial right to life resolution could undergo some changes in the House Judiciary Committee before it reaches the Senate floor for a vote.

The Senate—after an emotion-charged debate—approved the resolution Tuesday by a vote of 34-4. The Senate galleries were packed with supporters of the resolution, mostly women and children who had buttonholed senators throughout the day and pressured them to support the resolution.

The measure asks congress to enact a constitutional amendment that would guarantee all unborn children the same constitutional rights as all other citizens of the United States, including due process of law.

There were only a handful of abortion supporters in the capitol for the vote but one indicated that pro-abortion groups would rally support and make efforts to change the house version of the resolution.

Sen. Clyde W. Middleton, R-Covington, chief sponsor of the resolution, told the Senate that the resolution is not a constitutional amendment nor a statute, but simply an expression of sentiment on the anniversary of the Supreme court decision taking away the authority of the state to regulate abortions.

The Senate adopted an amendment offered by Sen. Joe

Graves, R-Lexington, saying that nothing contained in the resolution "shall prevent an abortion to save the physical life of a pregnant woman."

Middleton said the real force of the resolution is to change the Supreme Court decision.

"We must go on record and tell congress we would like to have a constitutional amendment," he said.

Sen. Tom Easterly, D-Franklin, who voted against the resolution, said the "cardinal defect of the resolution is not that it represents a blow to the Supreme Court, but that it deals a sledge hammer blow to common sense."

National Roundup

NEW YORK (AP) — Millions of Americans are finding beef prices on the rise after a brief spell of stability. An Associated Press survey shows beef prices at the retail level rose 10 and 20 cents a pound on most items in the past two weeks. The boosts reflect higher wholesale costs — up about 25 or 30 percent since the beginning of December. People in the industry say the higher wholesale costs are the result of production cutbacks stemming from last year's freeze. Government officials said Tuesday retail food costs during 1973 rose 20.1 percent. The December boost was three-tenths of one per cent.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dean A. Corli, alleged mastermind in the slayings of 27 teenagers, shouted "kill me . . . kill me" before he was shot to death last August, a witness has testified. Timothy Kerley, 20, took the stand in a pretrial hearing on Tuesday and testified he was marked for death at a party in Corli's Pasadena home last Aug. 8. He said he was saved when Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, pulled a gun and shot Corli five or six times. Henley is to testify today at the hearing, being held in advance of his murder trial in the death of Charles R. Cobble, 17.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Frequent faltering of a control gyroscope has prompted the early dispatch of the Skylab 3's prime recovery ship. But space officials say astronauts Gerald P. Carr, William R. Pogue and Edward G. Gibson can probably complete their 12-week mission even if the ailing stabilizer breaks down. Space officials said backup systems probably could hold the station steady without the gyro for the remaining 16 days of the mission. Some scientific experiments would have to be curtailed, however.

NEW YORK (AP) — Gustave Tassell's spring collection for the House of Noelle looks snappy and dressy but very hot. Tassell has kept the late Noelle's huge neck bows, which are crisp, fat and sassy. But they'd be devils on warm spring days. So would the satin and taffeta blouses which appear even hotter in black and brown. Hopefully, the woman who buys them will step from cool limousine to cool restaurant with no fear of tell-tale signs of discomfiture from the heat. Prices aren't set yet, but will probably be high.

Area Governor Larry Smith of Mayfield made his annual visit to the Kentucky Lake Toastmasters Club of Murray Wednesday morning at the regular meeting held at the Triangle Inn.

President Ted Howard presided and Richard Schorey served as Toastmaster of the Day.

Toastmaster Corky Harrison and Toastmaster Raymond Carter gave the regular seven minute speeches of the week with Byron Forbus and David Roos serving as the evaluators. Special guests were Alton Philen of Woodville, Texas, and Mayfield Toastmaster Club president, David Koone.

Area Governor Smith brought greetings to the local club from the other clubs in the area and announced the Regular Area Speech Contest for the first part of March to be held at Mayfield.

The local club is one of 3,400 Toastmasters Clubs around the world which will be conducting local speech contests during the month of February to enter the March area contests. The culmination of the competition Governor Smith pointed out, is an international speech contest which will be conducted during the annual Toastmasters International convention in August.

Governor Smith said further that Toastmasters International is a non-profit, non-partisan, non-sectarian, educational organization that provides its members with a program of communication and leadership development.

The local club meets each Wednesday morning at 6:45 a.m. at the Triangle Inn.

MARCO ISLAND, Fla. (AP) — Doctors in several medical centers around the nation are working to save damaged heart muscles after heart attacks. If they can reach the muscles within a few hours after an attack they think they can reduce the amount of damage. The new work indicates the heart attack process is not necessarily over when the patient is wheeled into a hospital emergency room. Research is under way at Cedars Sinai Medical Center in Los Angeles and Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo.

Problems Plague Skylab

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Frequent faltering of a control gyroscope has prompted the early dispatch of the Skylab 3's prime recovery ship. But space officials say astronauts Gerald P. Carr, William R. Pogue and Edward G. Gibson can probably complete their 12-week mission even if the ailing stabilizer breaks down.

"I have a good feeling we're going to go the 84 days — if the gods smile on us," said Skylab Program Director William C. Schneider.

Schneider said backup systems probably could hold the station steady without the gyro for the remaining 16 days of the mission.

Many scientific experiments would have to be curtailed, however. A photo survey of earth was canceled Tuesday after almost continuous fluctuations of the gyroscope.

"We should be prepared for it to go out at any time," Schneider said. "But hopefully it won't go out at all."

If it did fail, "we wouldn't come home in a rush" because control of the 85-ton station would shift automatically to computer-managed thruster systems, he said.

DECA Survey Indicates Need For Travel Agency

The Distributive Education II students of the Murray area Vocational Education Center recently conducted a survey to determine if there was a need for a new type of business in Murray—a travel agency. This research was done as a class project with the statistics being written by the students.

"In the survey of approximately 150 people in Murray, Kentucky to determine whether or not our town needs a travel agency we have found that 97 per cent of the people interviewed travel outside the state," a spokesman for the group said. "Over half of the respondents traveled only for vacation. 74 per cent had never used a travel agency."

Forty-four per cent of the people that had used a travel agency selected Paducah for an agency and 44 per cent chose Mayfield as an agency for vacation purposes. For business purposes, 56.6 per cent chose Paducah and 43.13 per cent selected Mayfield for an agency. The two most important services that a travel agency should offer, according to the survey were airline, bus, and train ticket arrangements and hotel reservations. The location for the travel agency selected by most of the respondents was downtown Murray.

When asked if vacationers would use a travel agency in Murray, 51.11 per cent replied yes, 40 per cent answered no, and 8.89 per cent said maybe. 62.3 per cent of the people that traveled for business purposes replied yes that they would use a Murray travel agency, and only 37.5 per cent answered no.

Since only one-fourth of the people questioned had ever used a travel agency, there is an indication that a large market exists for services that could be provided by a travel agency in Murray. Especially since Murray is the home of Murray State University which has enrolled many out-of-state students. Over half of all the respondents taking vacations

Senate Approves Bill To Prohibit Bank Directors On School Boards

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Despite some objections, a Senate committee has approved a bill to prohibit bank directors or officers from serving on school boards if school funds are deposited in their banks.

And on another matter, of some controversy, the Senate Education Committee agreed Tuesday to hold a hearing next Tuesday on a bill requiring high schools to have girls basketball teams if they have boy teams. Committee Chairman Lacey Smith, D-Louisville, said the hearings should be held to answer several questions raised by the proposal.

Smith said he would try to contact Billie Jean King, the woman professional tennis star, to appear before the panel on the measure, Senate Bill 73.

The banker-school board measure, HB 75, was sponsored by Sen. Pat McCuiston, D-Trenton. He said it always had been considered a conflict of interest for school board members to be officers of a bank where school funds were deposited until the Attorney General's office said it was not this year.

Sen. Tom Ward, D-Versailles, took exception to the bill, saying "we can go too far with conflict of interest" and that "we're more likely to exclude good people than those with a conflict of interest."

He said anyone who abused public office on behalf of his personal interest could be handled by local political pressure rather than have a law applying to the entire state.

Bills reported favorably out of other committees included:

—HB 61, raising from $50 to $100 the tax deduction allowed for political contributions when paying state income taxes. The committee chose that approach over having a $25 tax credit for such contributions; a tax credit is subtracted from the actual tax owed and thus would have a much greater effect than a tax deduction, which is subtracted from gross salary before the tax is computed.

—HB 80, raising contributions of state legislators to their retirement system from $37 to $600 a year and raising the base for their annual benefits from $110 to $240, which would be multiplied times their years of legislative service. The bill would apply to legislators serving in the 1974 or subsequent General Assemblies and who had a total of eight years service.

—HB 164, requiring optometrists to have up to eight hours training each year in order to have their licenses renewed.

—HB 39, allowing third and fourth class cities that have the city manager form of government to raise the salaries of their mayors from $750 to $4,000 and commissioners from $500 to $2,400.

Prisoners Walk Away At LaGrange

LA GRANGE, Ky. (AP)—Police are seeking two men who walked away from a farm detail at La Grange Reformatory.

Supt. Harold Black identified them as Danny Alan Brame, 21, serving eight years for voluntary manslaughter from Graves County, and Ronnie Jewell Williams, 30, serving three sentences totaling eight years for storehouse breaking, aiding and abetting storehouse breaking and dwellinghouse breaking.

Black said the pair walked away about 3:45 p.m. Monday.

He said they were accounted for as they boarded a truck returning from the orchard area on the back of the reformatory property but apparently managed to slip off the truck on the return trip.

Kentucky Congressmen Uncertain Of Voter Support For Impeachment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kentucky's congressional delegation sampled voter opinions in drug stores, courthouses and Chamber of Commerce meetings from Inez to St. Matthews during their month-long recess, and when they returned here Monday they seemed uncertain of support for President Nixon's impeachment in Kentucky.

Kentucky voters, they feel, are as divided, confused and upset on the issue as the congressmen themselves.

"You hear a lot of talk about impeachment in my district," said Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Hindman. "I'd say sentiments are about equally divided."

He said the main concern of voters isn't impeachment but the general welfare of the country.

"Traveling around, you discover people are really worried about the country's future. People really aren't ready for an impeachment vote," he added.

Neither, it appears, are Kentucky congressmen. Not one of the five Democrats and two Republicans in the House delegation believes a strong enough case has been made to warrant impeachment.

But several congressmen said privately they wish the President would resign, and most concede that solid new evidence against him could change their minds.

Rep. Tim Lee Carter, who represents a bedrock Republican district in southeastern Kentucky, was the only congressman to offer even mild support for Nixon.

And he does so only after deploring "the Watergate mess and the whole CREEP (the Nixon re-election committee) business."

Kentucky's other House Republican, Rep. Gene Snyder of Jefferson County, expressed strong dissatisfaction with the present administration, saying there is a mood of uneasiness about the economy and "uncertainty with the administration" in his district.

He represents an area from suburban Jefferson County to the northern Kentucky suburbs of Cincinnati.

Most Kentucky congressmen concede Mr. Nixon still has strong support in the state, partly out of respect for his office and an uncertainty over what impeachment would do to government stability.

They say voters are more concerned about the economy and the energy crisis than impeachment, but most also say that sentiment is hard to judge.

"I think I am as active working my district as anyone," said Rep. Romano Massoli, D-Louisville. "But I just don't see how guys can come back and say they've gauged feelings in their district within a percentage point or two. Opinions and issues are too complex for that."

"All I can say is there's a deep and abiding interest in impeachment in my district. It's one of the top concerns," he added.

Rep. William Natcher, D-Bowling Green, said he feels opinions about the President had changed little between August when he traveled 3,100 miles across his district, and December.

Perkins said one in five voters he talked with had mentioned impeachment as he traveled to places like Lovely, Bel-fry and Hardy in Eastern Kentucky.

"You hear talk of impeachment among poor people, living on fixed incomes," he said.

Frank Stubblefield, D-Murray, was not in Washington Monday and could not be reached for comment.

Priests Report Events In 'Exorcist' Happened

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the things in the book and film "The Exorcist" really happened, according to a Lutheran minister who was there and a Jesuit report on the incident.

They say the real victim was a 14-year-old boy in Mt. Ranier, Md., in 1949, and between them they said his bed shook, a rug he was on moved and during the exorcism he shouted obscenities in unnatural voices.

And meanwhile, a Jesuit priest was scheduled to make a statement here today on a California incident last fall in which a family underwent the Roman Catholic rite of exorcism.

The Rev. Karl Patzelt said the family — husband, wife and 2-year-old son — struggled with Satan for 29 days before the last of 14 of the ancient Christian rites "set them free."

The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco has confirmed that Father Patzelt performed the exorcism but has refused to divulge details including the name of the family which it said suffered "attacks of the devil."

In the incident described in the book and film "The Exorcist," a Lutheran minister said he took the young boy to his home one night and the boy's bed began vibrating violently, a chair the boy sat in began to tilt on its side and a rug on which the boy was placed slid some six feet across the floor.

An official Jesuit report at Georgetown University on the incident reports strange scratching noises in the boy's room, fruit that flew around rooms and a table that shattered.

The report said the exorcism was conducted in St. Louis and ended Easter Monday, April 18, 1949.

The report says after priests demanded the spirit's name the words "Well, Spite," appeared on the boy's chest.

It says the boy shouted obscenities in bass and falsetto voices and was so violent at times it took 10 priests to hold him down.

Finally, on Easter Monday, it says "Suddenly at 11 a.m. a new voice was heard from the boy. A beautiful rich deep bass voice exclaimed 'Satan, Satan, go. Now. Now. Now. To the pit where you belong. In the name of Dominus (God).'"

The boy felt a tearing sensation in his stomach and returned to normal, the report says. It says he told the priests he had seen a vision of St. Michael, holding a flaming sword and ordering Satan to leave.

State Jaycees Against 'No-Fault' Insurance

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Jaycees have taken a stand against no fault automobile insurance and collective bargaining for public employees, two of the main issues facing the 1974 legislature.

Michael Judy of Frankfort, chairman of the Governmental Affairs Committee of the Jaycees, said the group also opposes state subsidies for gubernatorial candidates.

He said Monday after distributing the collective views to lawmakers that 147 chapters comprising about 5,000 members expressed their opinions in contributing to the compilation.

The legislative package proposal is a prelude to a legislative seminar by the Jaycees scheduled Jan. 29-30 here. Many Jaycees also will be meeting individually next week with their legislators.

Among proposals which drew a response from local chapters and were incorporated in the package:

- Reimposing the death penalty for "anyone convicted of intentionally taking the life of another person."
- Requiring meetings of public agencies to be open and properly publicized in advance.
- Establishing a state authority to channel state revenue sharing funds back to local governments.
- Lowering attorneys' fees in black lung cases.

- Banning the sale of non-returnable soft drink bottles in Kentucky. Nothing was said about beer.
- Limiting gubernatorial campaign expenditures to less than $300,000 for a primary and less than $500,000 for a general election.
- Opening up new sources of state revenue, "including the adoption of off-track betting or state lottery." Prospects for those methods appear dim during this session.
- Revising the state court system through a constitutional amendment to include district, circuit, intermediate appellate and supreme court tiers.
- Holding used car sellers responsible for defects in automobiles they sell where they "knew or should have known" about the defect in sales involving more than $400.
- Passing legislation which bans the broad form deed under which operators can extract coal from the land by any method they wish. The state is the legal underpinning for strip mining.
- Changing the current program of basic state aid to school districts with the possible inclusion of a method basing aid on the real cost of educating various categories of pupils.
- On abortion, one of the potentially explosive issues, the Jaycees merely favored new legislation "which would regulate abortion on practices." There was no elaboration.

Administration Outlines National Health Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has outlined to key congressmen a proposed national health care plan based principally on private insurance purchased by employers and employees.

It would be designed so that no individual or family after paying a share of the premium would be liable for more than $1,500 a year for the broad range of health services covered by the policy, even in the case of catastrophic illnesses.

Employers would be required to offer the coverage to employees. After a transition period employers would have to pay 75 per cent of the premium, which was estimated to average $625 for a family and $250 for an individual per year.

There would be a separate government program for low-income families, regardless of their work status, non-working families and those with unusually high medical risks.

Medicare, the Social Security health plan for the aged, would continue with generally the existing cost to the beneficiaries, but with expanded benefits. Medicaid, the federal-state program for low-income persons, would largely be absorbed into the new government plan.

The draft proposal was outlined to the House Ways and Means Committee at a closed session Monday with Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger. Some details became available afterward. The plan still is subject to modification before its formal presentation to Congress, scheduled for next month.

One major unsettled area is the financing of the public segment of the plan. It was estimated to require $5.9 billion of added federal spending and about $1 billion of added state spending. However, much of the additional state spending would be offset by reduction in existing programs to which the states contribute.

Prospects for enactment of the plan this year are doubtful. Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, where such legislation must originate, said that group might be able to begin work on national health programs if it finishes consideration of tax reform legislation by June.

Harrison Says Push For New Industry In Kentucky Has Not Been Shelved By Energy Crisis

By KATHY PELLEGRINO
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The head of Kentucky's Energy Council says the push for new industry in the state hasn't been shelved as a result of the energy crisis.

Damon Harrison, who also serves as state commissioner of commerce, says he believes industry will continue to seek sites for expansion, despite uncertainty surrounding fuel to keep plants operating.

Right now in the cold months the number of prospects has dropped off, which is expected," he said. "Last year we had a tremendous number of prospects of interested firms. We think this will continue because American industry is short of capacity now in terms of demand.

"In my judgement firms will continue to look around," he said. "They may withhold the final announcement until there's a little more clarification in the energy picture."

Harrison acknowledged that the two hats he wears as commerce commissioner-in charge of promoting industry and as Energy Council chairman-in charge of allocating emergency fuel and telling some parties they can't get fuel-aren't entirely compatible.

"Any textbook on public administration would tell you that these two positions are entirely incompatible," he said. "Theoretically these are true."

He said, however, that the job as head of the Energy Council fell to him partly because the Commerce Department began to realize two years ago that energy might be a problem for industry and began developing some expertise in the area.

He says no real conflicts have arisen because of the two jobs he holds.

"I have not been in a position of having to penalize industry," he said. "We have on several occasions, due to the priorities that we had to set for our state reserve of 10 per cent to meet human needs, we have had to tell industry, 'We can't meet your needs.' But I think Kentucky industry is sensible enough to appreciate this."

He says Kentucky must continue its long-range push for industrial development.

"If we lose our momentum we're dead," he said. "The worst thing we could do is say we have a problem, we can't supply people, let's quit for a few years."

Meanwhile, Harrison said in an interview that he believes there could be some "game-playing" on the part of oil firms in connection with the energy crisis, but he says the fact that people can't get all the oil they need is sufficient evidence that a shortage exists.

"In Kentucky or New York or any particular place, if you can't get the supplies there's a shortage," he said.

Harrison noted discussion at the federal level of audits of major oil firms and possible penalties for falsification of figures. President Nixon said Saturday that he has ordered the Federal Energy Office to audit records of all major oil firms to assure that there is no profiteering from the oil shortage.

"I'm not naive, either," Harrison said. "But I would think they're (oil companies) not entirely stupid enough to be faking figures knowing that if they do they might get caught."

The commissioner said

there's no way to immediately evaluate the adequacy of the federal government's measures to cope with the shortages at this time.

"The problem has been that the federal government delayed entirely too long in getting into the program," he said. "As a result, the regulations were hastily drawn and have been very difficult to administer. If they had reacted early in the fall, for example, we'd have had a more orderly way to do it."

He said new regulations that took effect last Tuesday, regulating heating oil and allowing state allocation agencies such as his council to set aside portions of certain petroleum products for distribution in hardship cases, "greatly improved" the situation.

He said Kentucky, meanwhile, is in a better position than many states, since the state's electrical power is mostly coal-produced, and he praised Gov. Wendell Ford's proposals for development of coal, gasification and liquefaction plants in Kentucky.

Angels Launch Anti-Drug Use Ad Campaign

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The Hells Angels have launched an advertising campaign against the use of hard drugs saying they have renounced dope and want to set others straight, too.

The motorcycle gang has leased three billboards in the San Jose area. The ads are emblazoned with a skull and crossbones, over a hypodermic needle.

Each carries the admonition: "No Hope with Dope."

Biker Phil Cross said the club is also printing up antidrug brochures and making its members available for speeches to high school and college groups.

Police, however, remain skeptical.

"They have to do more than put up billboards to prove anything to me," said one officer. "All I go by is their past experiences, and I doubt they're about to change."

Cross said the Angels don't consider marijuana, barbiturates or amphetamines as "hard stuff."

But, "if an Angel sticks a needle in his arm one time, he's out," Cross said in an interview Sunday. "If he snorts (cocaine), he's out. There's no rehabilitation program, nothing, just out. Period."

Why has the gang given up dope?

"The guys couldn't function properly, couldn't be dependable members, didn't show up for meetings, forgot to pay dues," Cross said. "You couldn't rely on them for nothing. They weren't outlaws any more. They were dope addicts."

An advertising firm has given the Angels discount public service rates of $20 a board, plus $180 for printing. But Cross rejects the nice-guy image.

"We're not trying to be a bunch of nice guys, because we're not."

Morton Wants More Leasing Off-Shore Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton wants to multiply off-shore oil leasing to ten times its 1973 rate within the next few years.

Morton also said in an interview that his department would get more than $50 million for coal-production research in fiscal 1975 to start a rapid expansion of coal research.

Although his department has been overshadowed by the new Federal Energy Office, Morton said it was still Interior's "massive responsibility" to increase the nation's coal, oil and gas resources.

In 1973, Interior leased around one million acres of federal offshore areas for oil and gas development, and Morton had planned to increase the leasing rate to three million acres a year by 1978, a department spokesman said.

Now, Morton said in the interview, he expects the rate to reach that three-million-acre mark this year, then perhaps jump to five million in 1975 and soar to ten million acres per year "for a couple of years thereafter."

Morton also said that he wants to begin consideration of a joint U.S.-Canadian pipeline for natural gas from the Arctic, and he suggested he might invite himself along on a visit planned by energy chief William E. Simon to Canadian energy minister Donald McDonald.

Chocolate's Just Great, Even With Sauerkraut!

Have you ever thought of life without chocolate? It almost seems unbearable. Picnics are bleak without a luscious chocolate layer cake. Blustery winter nights without hot chocolate are just cold winter nights. And Valentine's Day without chocolate candy is unthinkable.

Brazil, Ghana and Nigeria are doing the world a favor by supplying this delectable bean. Cortez in 1528 is credited with bringing the cocoa bean to Spain where its popularity spread all over Europe. It soon became the court drink of royalty.

Cocoa beans and their uses were unknown in this country until the 1700s. In 1765 the first chocolate factory was established in New England, since then we have become the largest users of chocolate in the world.

I hope all you chocolate enthusiasts enjoy this week's tempting recipes.

CHOCOLATE CREAM CHEESE PIE

1 Graham cracker pie crust
1 - 6 oz. pkg. chocolate chips
1 - 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
1/4 C. light brown sugar
1/8 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla

2 eggs separated
1 C. heavy cream, whipped
Melt chocolate chips over hot water; cool. Blend softened cream cheese, brown sugar, salt and vanilla. Beat egg yolks one at a time into the cheese mixture. Beat in cooled chocolate, blending well. Beat egg whites until stiff and glossy. Fold chocolate mixture into egg whites. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into chilled crust and chill overnight.

For a different flavor add 1/4 tsp. peppermint flavor.

CHOCOLATE CHEESE LAYERS

This delectable layered bar cookie recipe comes from "The Big Chocolate Cookbook" by Gertrude Parke.

8 oz. cream cheese
1 1/2 C. firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 C. butter
3 eggs
4 oz. unsweetened chocolate (squares, melted and cooled or envelopes)
1 1/2 C. sifted flour
1/8 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking powder
1 Tb. vanilla
1 C. broken pecans
Butter a 9 inch square cake pan. Dust it with cocoa. Beat half of the cream cheese with 1/2 cup of the brown sugar. Set aside.

Cream the rest of the sugar (1 C.) with the butter. Add the remaining cream cheese. Beat in the eggs, one at a time. Add the cooled chocolate. Sift the flour, salt and baking powder together. Add this and the vanilla to the egg-chocolate mixture. Fold in half of the pecan meats. Spread half the batter in the prepared pan. Cover this with the cream cheese and brown sugar mixture. Then spread the rest of the batter on top. Sprinkle the remaining pecans on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Cool before cutting. Makes 24 cookies.

Here are two cakes with wacky ingredients. You never even know they are there!

MAYONNAISE CAKE

2 C. sifted flour *
1 C. sugar
2 tsp. soda
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 C. cocoa
1 C. cold water
1 C. Mayonnaise (for best results do not use salad dressing)

SAUERKRAUT CAKE

2 1/4 C. sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1 tsp. soda
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 C. cocoa
2-3 C. sauerkraut, rinsed, drained, and chopped
2-3 C. butter or margarine
1 1/2 C. sugar
3 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
1 C. water
Sift flour, baking powder, salt and soda together. Set aside. Cream the butter until light. Beat in eggs and sugar. Add the vanilla. Stir in dry ingredients alternately with the water. Fold in the sauerkraut. Pour the batter into 2 greased 8 inch layer cake pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Frost with chocolate frosting.
* If self-rising flour is used omit the baking powder, soda and salt.

This chocolate instant mix was sent to me by Mrs. JoAnn Lance of Elgin, Ill. It is a quick nourishing treat for after school snacking.

INSTANT HOT CHOCOLATE

11 C. dry milk
2 C. Nestle Quick
2 C. confectioners sugar
1 C. Non-dairy creamer
Mix all ingredients together well. When ready to serve measure 1-3 cup of the mix to 2-3 cup boiling water.

MEXICAN COCOA DRINK

1 tsp. cocoa
2 tsp. sugar
1/4 C. water
1/4 C. milk
2 drops almond extract
Combine in a sauce pan the cocoa, sugar, water and milk. Simmer for 4 to 5 minutes. Add the almond extract and serve. Makes one serving.

SAUCE PAN BROWNIES

1/2 C. (one stick) butter or margarine
2 oz. unsweetened chocolate
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 C. sugar
2 eggs
3/4 C. sifted flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1 C. chopped nuts
Melt shortening and chocolate in a sauce pan over low heat, stirring constantly; cool. Beat in vanilla and sugar. Add eggs one at a time. Sift flour and salt; add nuts. Combine with chocolate mixture, and blend. Turn into greased, 8 x 8 x 2 inch pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 minutes. Cool and cut into squares.

Witness To Give Accounts Of Torture Party

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two witnesses are expected to give their first public account of a sex-torture party that ended in the death of Dean A. Corll, alleged mastermind in the mass slaying of 27 youths.

Timothy Kerley, 20, and Rhonda Williams, 15, are scheduled to testify at pretrial hearing today, defense lawyer Will Gray said Monday.

Gray represents Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, one of two teen-agers scheduled to stand trial on murder charges. Henley is charged in six of the 27 deaths.

Kerley and Miss Williams were with Henley last Aug. 8 when Henley shot and killed Corll, 33. The shooting, which came after a sex-and paint-sniffing party at Corll's home, has been ruled self defense.

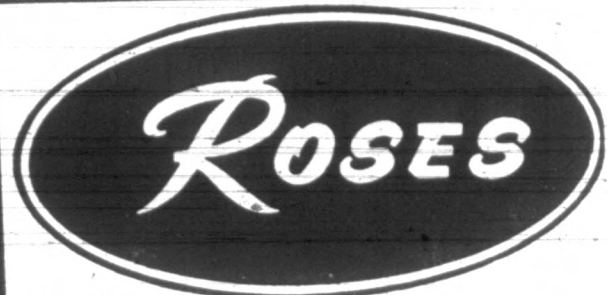

Pretrial testimony has revealed Henley and David Owen Brooks, 18, led officers to 17 bodies in a Houston boat shed, four in a wooded area in East Texas and six on a Gulf of Mexico beach at High Island.

Most of Monday's session was devoted to testimony from Houston police who repeated earlier accounts about unearthing the bodies.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR THURSDAY,
JANUARY 24, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Keep all things "in line," but avoid anxiety or worrisome anticipation of trouble. Conflict of interests in certain areas? You should enjoy the challenge.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21) Don't enter activities in which you are not particularly interested just because someone else wants to. There are some suggestions you should reject.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21) You may not progress as rapidly as you wish, may receive fewer gains than you expected. But keep at it — with patience — and you will achieve much.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23) You may overreach your mark now because of anxiety or miscalculation. Try to avoid this by taking things in stride and, in all things, follow well-tested procedures.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23) Good solar influences. Plan a well-balanced program and be thoughtful in making decisions. Weigh all offerings astutely.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) You may encounter some baffling, even irritating situations. Regard them as part of the overall pattern and reflect carefully before jumping to conclusions.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Don't overlook definite obligations because of a desire to "try something new." Emphasize the Libran's innate stability.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) Don't wait too long before attacking a problem or handling an assignment, or day's end will find you in a state of "nerves," trying to offset your procrastination.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) Put fervor and ardent ambition into this fine day, and stress optimism. That is often all that is needed to insure success. Better than average opportunities.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Wait for cues before launching any project. If not on guard, you could get into difficult situations or needless complications.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Stress your foresightedness now in order to prevent witless errors. Don't leap at ideas or suggestions made by those who can misguide through a pleasing manner.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A day in which to spread your wings a bit — if time and obligations permit. Staying in a rut never helped anyone.

YOU BORN TODAY

are endowed with a fine intellect, a gregarious personality and extremely lofty ambitions. You have a vivid imagination and have a high regard for artistry and education in all their forms. Dignity and grace are strong in your Sign, but there are also tendencies toward excessive volubility. These should be curbed. You would make an excellent lecturer, journalist, linguist, teacher, interior decorator or writer.

State Energy Officials Forced To Scramble To Measure Crisis

By BILL O'SHEA
Associated Press Writer
Surprised by the fuel crisis, states have scrambled to appoint energy officials who suddenly have to find out how real the crisis is and exactly how much gasoline and fuel oil they've got to cover spot shortages.

They are attempting this unprecedented task amid the confusion of changing federal regulations which some say are too little too late.

An Associated Press survey of 34 state energy officials showed that all feel their states are in an energy pinch, but most are unsure of the root causes. Many raised questions about oil industry culpability in the energy crisis, and many admitted they didn't really know how much fuel their states have.

"No provision for gathering oil information existed prior to Jan. 15 and we won't have figures until Feb. 1," said Harold Willis, Kansas fuel allocations officer.

How genuine are state gas and oil shortages?

"As far as Vermont is concerned, I know damn well there's a shortage," said Forrest Orr, head of the special state energy office. Like several other states, Vermont has little oil storage capacity.

"We have to rely on supplies from outside," he said.

While he said he did not know the extent of national fuel shortages and had no inside information to show that the oil industry may have contrived the situation, he added, "There is a certain degree of doubt in my mind that it is real."

The survey showed Orr's quandary is widespread. Some officials blamed the crisis on a real shortage of crude oil, but many had nagging doubts about oil industry involvement.

"If it was caused by increased consumption, lack of supply and refining capacity, then the oil companies are taking a bum rap. If it is part of a planned strategy, then they ought to be brought to the bar of public opinion," said Robert Davis, Oregon's top energy official.

How much fuel does each state have?

Fourteen surveyed states had no reliable figures on their fuel supply. Another 14, relying on oil industry figures or educated guesswork, said gasoline and fuel oil stocks were down over last year's figures. A few said they were holding their own.

All welcomed President Nixon's promise Saturday to seek legislation requiring constant accounting by oil companies of their supplies and reserves.

How about federal efforts so far in the crisis?

They were called confused, misplaced, unresponsive or "too little, too late" by 17 state officials. Thirteen gave Washington "adequate" ratings. Four didn't respond to the question.

"We are just beginning to implement the new regulations; and I believe it is too early to tell if additional action will be required," said Wallace Henderson, Florida's budget director.

But some states, particularly rural ones, were noticeably unhappy with federal measures.

"They just don't recognize the basic problem of identifying priority uses in retail outlets," Orr said. "In Vermont, town snowplows and ambulances are getting gas from retail pumps. Sure, you can identify a big red fire engine when it pulls up, but when you get to agriculture, which vehicle has a priority standing?"

Oregon's Davis said, "For whatever reason, the federal government became concerned about the problem entirely too late."

The Arab oil embargo only accentuated the situation, and the federal government's failure to act quickly may be responsible for the deep-rooted conviction that the energy crisis is not real, Davis said.

The new mandatory allocation program that went into effect last week was called more effective than earlier efforts by some energy officials. Louisiana's energy coordinator,

Fritz Spencer, said there should not be any service stations closing down once the program gets going, although most will have to cut back operations.

Controversy Over Abortion Ruling Raging A Year Later

NEW YORK (AP) — One year and an estimated 800,000 abortions later, the controversy still rages over the U.S. Supreme Court decision that struck down most laws prohibiting abortions.

Antiabortion groups are pressing for a constitutional amendment that would nullify the decision. In 10 states, they have succeeded in obtaining laws that limit the circumstances under which abortions may be performed.

Their success has begun to worry those who regarded the court decision as a long-needed reform.

"It's a very serious situation and we are considerably worried about these antiabortion moves," Lawrence Lader, chairman of the National Abortion Rights Action League, said in an interview.

"We were caught short by the success of the opposition's efforts," he said. "It's hard for people to realize that it is possible for a Supreme Court decision to be overturned."

The court decision, issued a year ago Tuesday, said that state laws prohibiting abortion in the first three months of pregnancy were unconstitutional. Abortions after the first three months were declared legal but subject to state regulation.

At the time, an estimated one million women a year had been undergoing illegal abortions in secret, often under conditions that endangered their health. In the year since, the Population

Council estimates that 800,000 women have had abortions under supervised medical care in hospitals and clinics.

Opposition to the abortion decision is spearheaded by the National Right to Life Committee and its several hundred affiliates throughout the nation.

Lader says his group, the largest proabortion organization, will be lucky to raise $60,000 in the next six months.

Right to Life groups are supporting a constitutional amendment sponsored by Sen. James L. Buckley, R-Con.N.Y., and now pending before a Senate subcommittee. The proposal would extend the Constitution's protection for "persons" to "all

Body Of Paducah Man Recovered

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The body of a 29-year-old Kentucky man killed Dec. 21 when his plane crashed in the Monongahela River near here was recovered Monday by the river patrol, police said.

Robert L. Johnston and his wife, Mary, of Paducah, Ky., were killed when the four-passenger, single-engine they had rented to fly here to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives hit the river near Glassport and sank.

Johnston's body was recovered from the Monongahela on the city's South Side. Mrs. Johnston's body has not yet been recovered, authorities said.

human beings, including their unborn offspring, at every stage of their biological development, irrespective of age, health, function or condition of dependency."

The amendment would effectively ban most abortions, but it contains a clause that would allow one if medically necessary to save a woman's life.

Ten states have passed laws specifying who is qualified to perform abortions, at what stage of pregnancy and on what grounds. They are Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, and Utah.

Moscow fir trees fell to poachers

The Soviet Union celebrates New Year rather than Christmas, but the people decorate fir trees, much as people do in the West, but this year there was a shortage — the government providing 600,000 trees with a demand in Moscow for 800,000.

As a result, fir tree poachers raided parks in Moscow and tree farms around the city to provide trees for the celebration. — CNS
