THE LISTENING POST

● For the past two or three weeks the Old Listening Post has been turning back the pages of time to a period almost ten years or more gone. I confess that some of the experiences have not been enjoyable, but there have been a few times when I was pleased at discovering that fingers had not lost their former cunning. On the whole, I guess I would prefer not to relapse these old things, but there is a sort of pride that I can still do certain things.

● For the past sixteen years I have been depending on Factotum for certain things. Now Factotum is and was a slender reed on which to lean many times and a lot of times the reed broke. Yet, by and large, he mastered certain simple things, which required no straining of thinking processes and kept those things in mind. He also was able to do a lot of lifting, and here I confess I am not making any great progress in relearning. Time was when I thought little of lifting heavy weights; in fact, in far younger days I used to take pride in seeing how much I could lift. The past fifteen years have been spent in lifting as little as possible, and if the burden weighed more than a few ounces I called on Factotum to give of his large back muscles.

● Those things must be done, however, when the need arises, and so for the past three weeks I have been traveling the road I once knew quite well. I have even taken up something which I never did before. That is casting. Presumably that the reader will know little or nothing about this matter I append a brief explanation. Casting in brief is the matter of taking a piece of cardboard, called a "mat" and making a metal cast from that cardboard which can be reproduced in this newspaper. This involves a small stove, a large metal pot, a ladle and a box of metal called a casting box. The trick is to firmly lock the mat into the casting box with an opening at the top and then pour white-hot metal into that opening until the thing is filled. Then, if all has gone well, after a few minutes the box can be opened and therein will be found a cast which can be placed in the forms of a newspaper and printed. I never did any casting in my life, but had watched the job in daily operation for years and naturally knew the process from observation. I thought, too, that I had at least as much intelligence as those who do casting. So I bought a pair of cotton gloves and started to work. The gloves are worn in order that handling hot metal and hot bearers may not do more than sear the hands. Touching any part of a casting pot, after it has been warmed with large doses of molten metal will produce large and enthusiastic blisters on the bare hands.

● Well, I whipped that job from the start. The first cast I tried was as good as any ever made, and while I fall now and then, I know that every other caster also makes failures every once in so often. I really believe that I will be able to make a pretty good stereotyper out of myself, and at long last I am learning a new trade.

● Then there is the matter of mailing and wrapping. We do not have any great number of papers which are mailed, but it is a chore which takes a little time, and not for twenty or thirty years had I done what is called "wrapping singles." This means wrapping copies of the Leader into wrappers which carry the address of a subscriber. We have quite a lot of these, for many copies of the paper now go to men in the armed services, and many former Fulton citizens still subscribe for the home town paper. Years ago I was a crack wrapper of these, and it pleased me to see how the touch came back. Factotum's method was to grab a paper loosely in his hands

THOMAS PITTMAN, 23,
KILLED IN VIRGINIA
Is Son Of Former Fulton Residents

Thomas Pittman, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Pittman of Waterloo, Iowa, was killed yesterday afternoon in Hampton, Va., according to a message received by relatives here yesterday. Young Pittman was an electrical engineer in a defense plant there, but no particulars of his death have been learned as yet.

He is a nephew of Mrs. Joe Bennett, Mrs. H. T. Smith and Mrs. T. N. Fields of this city.

The Pittmans, who formerly lived in Fulton, were transferred from Waterloo, Iowa, several months ago to Waterloo, Iowa. Mr. Pittman is a division engineer on the Illinois Central.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved parents in the tragic death of their son. Mrs. Pittman was en route to Memphis, when the message was received.

GIRLS SEND SOLDIER LETTER 1,942 FEET LONG

Camp Robinson, Ark. — When Pvt. Edward R. Temple says he received a long letter from girl friends in his home town of Longview, Texas, he means just that.

He has a fifty-pound letter, 1,942 feet long, to which about 150 girl high school graduates contributed, on two rollers.

Private Temple promises to make "part" of it public when he reads it.

Congress Shows Opposition To Draft Youths Of Lower Ages

Washington. — Strong bi-partisan opposition developed today against any move in Congress to draft men in the 13-19 year age classes for military service.

Senator Hill of Alabama, the Democratic whip, declared he would oppose any change of this nature in the Selective Service Act—a change which the Army was reported preparing to request.

At the same time, Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, predicted that any such proposal would be certain to arouse lengthy controversy in the Senate, which once voted to draft 19 year olds but subsequently compromised with the House on 20 years, the present minimum.

Hill said that unless the War Department presented some "strong

Washington. — The war manpower commission decided today to "freeze" workers in critical war industries to their present jobs, to prevent "labor pirating."

A commission spokesman said that in the future an employee in such a critical industry would be unable to change jobs without approval of the United States Employment Service.

The policy will become effective according to an announcement, as soon as the proper directive can be drafted.

Asked how it could be enforced, the spokesman said the control could be operated through contractors with the war production industries.

The "pirating of labor," especially through offer of larger wages, was reported to have become acute. This is especially true, the spokesman said, in the aircraft industry.

There was no immediate estimate of the number of workers who would be affected, but it was expected to run into hundreds of thousands if not millions.

The policy will become effective, he told newsmen, as soon as the proper directives can be drafted, "which means immediately."

The policy could be enforced, the spokesman emphasized, through war contracts, but he expressed an opinion that "employers will go along and we do not think compulsion will be necessary."

The commission also took further steps to make certain that men irreplaceable in war production may be deferred from the draft and remain at their work benches.

Preliminary plans were drawn for a classification of war plants according to their urgency, and for a system of manpower priorities to assure the critical plants ample supplies of skilled labor.

London Says Germans Use 3,000-Ton Subs Against U. S.

London. — The Germans have developed huge 3,000-ton submarines carrying two eight-inch guns and fourteen torpedoes for long-range raiding and are believed sending them in relays to harry the eastern coast of North America, reports from the continent declared today.

Naval circles here said the reports of the new submarines are "perfectly feasible."

The U-boats were said to have a surface speed of twenty knots and a submerged speed of eleven knots.

It was said here that through the tactics of sending relays of submarines the Nazis hope to pin the balance of the United States naval forces in home waters and prepare the way for blows at British seapower in the Northern and Mediterranean Seas.

Jane's authoritative shipping guide lists British submarines with tonnages up to 2,723 tons of the Seven class. The United States, according to Jane's, has submarines up to 2,506 tons.

However, the average tonnage of the world's submarines runs from 1,000 to 1,800.

The world's largest submarine was the French Surcouf, 4,304 tons, which has been reported lost.

WITHHOLDING TAX STALLED IN COMMITTEE

No Agreement Has Yet Been Reached On Proposal

Washington. — The administration's drive to collect income taxes at the source was stalled temporarily at least today with the House ways and means committee members divided on the question and not certain when it might reach a vote.

After three days of debate, the committee averted a showdown yesterday by adopting a motion to lay the question aside "for further consideration."

Many members expressed belief the action meant only that the committee could not immediately foresee a solution to the numerous ramifications of a pay-as-you-go collection program, but one said privately that the whole idea might be dropped.

The treasury had suggested that 10 per cent of taxable income be deducted periodically from payrolls and from bond interest and dividends, the deductions to be applied to the regular March 15 income tax bills.

Some members said that the so-called "withholding tax" did not come to a vote yesterday because, primarily, the whole tax program has not been formulated and it would be difficult to tell how heavily a 10 per cent deduction might fall on low incomes.

They reported, too, that although the treasury originally advocated it as an inflation deterrent, other government officials had said that the program could not be placed in operation until about Jan. 1.

SPECIAL TIME IS SET ASIDE FOR WAR BOND SALES

Stores Will Sell Nothing But Bonds For Quarter Hour

Washington. — You won't be able to buy anything but War Bonds and Stamps in the stores from noon to 12:15 p. m. on July 1.

This suspension of normal business was arranged today by the treasury advisory committee of the treasury to signalize the opening of the treasury's campaign to sell $1,000,000,000 worth of War Bonds in the month of July alone.

Starting in that month, the treasury hopes to sell that many bonds every month.

Benjamin H. Namm of Brooklyn and G. Ray Scheffer of Chicago, heads of retailers' group, explained the plan at a press conference. They displayed thousands of telegrams from stores pledging cooperation.

The plan is to ring all the bells, sound all the factory whistles, make all the other noise possible at noon July 1 and then stop all commercial selling for 15 minutes while War Bonds and Stamps are bought and the Governors of all the states deliver radio sales talks which will be broadcast in most stores.

During the rest of July the retailers plan a vast program of newspaper, radio and magazine advertising, elaborate window displays, special sales booths, public rallies and other promotion activities.

Namm said that each retail store would try to sell enough War Bonds and Stamps to equal 4 per cent of its July business.

POST-WAR CHRISTIAN WORLD NECESSARY SAYRE ASSERTS

Tells Convention Underlying Faiths Are Broken Down

Milwaukee. — A new world built on fundamentals of Christian brotherhood taught by Christ is the "only kind of a world that will prevent a repetition of the present universal agony," Francis B. Sayre, United States high commissioner to the Philippine Islands asserted today.

Recounting scenes of suffering he had seen at Bataan and Corregidor, Sayre, in an address prepared for the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, asked "is all that to be in vain?"

"I watched our troops when all the earth around them was rocking from exploding bombs and shells, bravely standing by their guns and taking it," he said. "Going through the hospital I have seen their wan faces lighting up with a smile as I approached, putting up a brave front still."

"I have seen them so badly burned that you could not tell whether their skins were white or black . . . their spirit was magnificent."

War and savagery have engulfed the world before, Sayre declared, "but never before—at least for 15 centuries—has there been such a world-wide breakdown of our underlying faiths, of our standards of moral values, of directing purposes in our lives."

DEPENDENCY PAY APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

U. S. Men In Service Each Would Contribute

Washington. — Legislation setting up a system of allowances for dependents of men in the armed forces and authorizing the establishment of categories of dependency for draft deferment purposes was approved unanimously today by the Senate Military Affairs Committee.

The allowance plan calls for contributions from the government and service men. A wife would receive $28 monthly from the government; a wife and a child, $40; a child, no wife, $20; two children, no wife, $30 and a former wife, divorced, $20.

The government would contribute $10 monthly for each additional child above the $40 allowance for a wife and child.

"Class B" Gets $6.

These payments would be augmented by $22 monthly from the pay of the service men for the above class of dependents and additional $5 monthly for "Class B" dependents—grandparents, parents, mothers and sisters.

The government would contribute $15 monthly toward an allowance for a dependent parent, $25 for the support of two dependent parents and $5 for the support of other "Class B" dependents. A monthly ceiling of $50 would be placed over the allowance for all dependents in this class.

The measure gives the selective service system broad authority to set up categories for men with dependents eligible for induction into the nation's fighting forces. Under the bill, draft authorities would be empowered to defer men who are financially able to support their dependents without regard to army pay.

U. S. Resourcefulness Eases

Sting Of Losing Raw Materials

New York. — American ingenuity is gradually freeing the country from dependence on certain raw materials usually obtained from areas now controlled by the Japanese, George S. Brady of the Office of Imports Board of Economic Warfare, told the National Association of Purchasing agents today.

"The chemical industry during the last year has been outstanding with new and substitute materials," Brady, chief of the Board's Materials Statistics Division, said. "Out of the common resin in turpentine we now have a series of synthetic resins that do a good job of replacement of the various varnish gums and resins that the Japs took from us in the Far East."

"We are now independent of the camphor and menthol from Japan. Far Eastern tung oil no

London. — Two of the chiefs of the U. S. Army's three commands conferred with their British counterparts tonight, and informed observers believed that plans for an invasion of the continent as well as a vast air assault on Germany were being advanced.

The arrival today of Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell commanding general of the U. S. Army service of supply, virtually completed a war council which these observers declared is the "prelude to a vast increase of American ground forces to give the Allies immediate, overwhelming local superiority in men and equipment for an invasion of the continent."

It was understood that the conferences may also be concerned with such wide-wide coordinating efforts as a joint smash at the Japanese from India and blocking of an Axis offensive in Africa.

Somervell's arrival followed the appearance yesterday of Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the U. S. Army air forces. This left only Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, commander of the ground forces, out of the circle, but the presence of Maj. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, head of the operations divisions, seemed to assure that land as well as air plans were afoot.

Also present was Maj. Gen. Mark W. Clark, chief of staff of the Army ground forces, Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of naval operations, and Brigadier General Leroy Lutes, Charles J. Gross and William C. Lee who accompanied Somervell.

The congregation of detail men followed closely upon the recent visit of chief of staff General George C. Marshall.

Transport Problems
One source, emphasizing indications that American and British efforts were not being concentrated on air operations alone, said: "Because the technical transport problems are more simple, the American air effort will start first, but when the time comes we are going to be ready to hit on land just as hard or harder than we do in the air."

Tigers Regain Lead As Oilers Are Beaten Here Last Nite 11-6

The Tigers climbed back into the top ring of the Kitty League last night by whipping Owensboro 11 to 6, while Union City was trimming Bowling Green. This put the Tigers back into the lead by a bare half game.

Tommy Thomasson was on the hill here last night and only time-hitting and bad playing by the Oilers enabled Tommy to notch a victory. The Tigers right hander was lacking in control and a guy named Pesco, Oiler second baseman, banged him for five hits out of five efforts. Thomasson gave a total of eleven hits and at times these were bunched rather closely. However, when the Tigers hit lustily in the first and second frames, and also took advantage of some loose Oiler play, they gave the local hurler a nine-run lead which proved ample. Most of the runs were scored off Lefty Vanderwalker, and after Shimkus came in the Tigers found it hard to bunch hits with any great success.

Both teams played loosely afield, with Feret having three errors at first and Lis two at the plate. The Oilers bobbled four times and their misplays were all costly. Manager Mullen experimented with a shifted lineup last night. Feret and Pavoris changing places at first and third. While Feret was charged with three errors, he made one dazzling play which cut down a certain double and made some other nice plays around the first sack. Pavoris had few chances at third, but handled himself nicely there. He has been wanting to play there for a long time.

Dave Derrick also played a brilliant game at short, fielding two blasts that were labelled certain hits. He handled six chances flawlessly and all were hard. Peterson in right made one spectacular catch against the fence, and Joe Pollock shot down one Oiler with a great throw to the plate. That saved a certain run and retired the side. Peterson led the Tigers in hitting with three blows. The two clubs are tangling again tonight at eight o'clock.

TRANSPORTATION SITUATION TO BE OUTLINED AT MEET

Regional Meeting To Start Today In Cincinnati

Louisville, Ky. —F. S. Crawford, field manager of the Louisville Office of Defense Transportation, announced today that a regional meeting would be held Monday night, May 18, in Cincinnati, at which the defense transportation would be outlined.

Crawford said the Office of Defense Transportation, in connection with the Office of Price Administration, has arranged the meeting at the roof garden of the Gibson Hotel in Cincinnati. He said Director John L. Rogers of the Division of Motor Transport, Office of Defense Transportation, and Dr. Charles F. Phillips, acting chief, tire rationing division, Office of Price Administration, "will bring a program of information with respect to our transportation situation as it exists today, particularly from the standpoint of motor transportation."

Crawford added: "This meeting is designed to disseminate to operators of motor trucks and buses, tire dealers, public officials, and others who have more than an ordinary interest in such matters, information which will tend to correct much misunderstanding now existing with respect to the supply of rubber and motor vehicles and the conditions which confront the country in its effort to secure maximum utilization of its domestic transportation facilities for the successful prosecution of the war."

SEARCH FOR CURRENCY CONTINUED IN HOME

Partial Wrecking Of Treasure House Is Ordered

Hornesville, Mo. —Wrecking at least part of the 18-room home of the eccentric Dr. F. Kinsolving who died May 5 was ordered Friday by trustees after currency, silver and valuable papers totaling nearly $250,000 had been found.

Some of the money was in tin boxes and other containers secreted in the walls of the basement which comprised the museum of the home of the wealthy doctor. More than $250 was found in small bills here and there in books in the doctor's executive technical library.

In the belief that additional money and papers will be found, those in charge have ordered the walls dug into and possible entire wrecking of the large home.

Most of the bills were the old style large ones and many of the checks and county warrants for $600 was issued in 1929.

The searchers also announced Friday they found 40 used truck tires, all in good condition, in the building. Bones of an animal claimed by the doctor to have been a dinosaur found on one of his farms years ago and other of his many relics were piled in the massive front yard of the home Friday as the treasure hunt continued.

So great was interest in this section a heavy guard was placed around the property Friday and permitted no one to enter except by special pass.

NAZI NAVAL CHIEF ARRIVES IN BUDAPEST

Rome —Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, commander-in-chief of the German Navy, has arrived in Budapest, Hungary, heading an "important" German naval delegation, a Stefani news agency dispatch said last night.

The dispatch did not suggest the possible nature of the delegation's mission, but Axis naval action against the Russians in the Black Sea, logically could be involved.)

SHORTER SHIRTS, SANS POCKETS, ARE INDICATED

Washington. —The war threatened today to cut a few inches off the male population's shirt tails.

It won't change the looks of the average shirt, but the War Production Board hopes it will save millions of yards of cloth annually.

Among other proposals discussed today to save cloth were plans to eliminate all pockets on formal shirts and leave only one on sports shirts. Buttons also would be limited.

H. Stanley Marcus, chief of the

W. P. B. clothing section, made the suggestions at a meeting with the shirt manufacturers industry advisory committee. They are expected to be incorporated in a formal order soon.

THE LISTENING POST

For the past two or three weeks the Old Listening Post has been turning back the pages of time to a period almost ten years or more gone. I confess that some of the experiences have not been enjoyable, but there have been a few times when I was pleased at discovering that fingers had not lost their former cunning. On the whole, I guess I would prefer not to relearn these old things, but there is a sort of pride that I can still do certain things.

For the past sixteen years I have been depending on Factotum for certain things. Now Factotum is and was a slender reed on which to lean many times and a lot of times the reed broke. Yet, by and large, he mastered certain simple things, which required no straining of thinking processes and kept those things in mind. He also was able to do a lot of lifting, and here I confess I am not making any great progress in relearning. Time was when I thought little of lifting heavy weights; in fact, in far younger days I used to take pride in seeing how much I could lift. The past fifteen years have been spent in lifting as little as possible, and if the burden weighed more than a few ounces I called on Factotum to give of his large back muscles.

Those things must be done, however, when the need arises; and so for the past three weeks I have been traveling the road I once knew quite well. I have even taken up something which I never did before. That is casting. Presuming that the reader will know little or nothing about this matter I append a brief explanation. Casting in brief is the matter of taking a piece of cardboard, called a "mat," and making a metal cast from that cardboard which can be reproduced in this newspaper. This involves a small stove, a large metal pot, a ladle and a box of metal called a casting box. The trick is to firmly lock the mat into the casting box, with an opening at the top and then pour white-hot metal into that opening until the thing is filled. Then, if all has gone well, after a few minutes the box can be opened and therein will be found a cast which can be placed in the forms of a newspaper and printed. I never did any casting in my life, but had watched the job in daily operation for years and naturally knew the process from observation. I thought, too, that I had at least as much intelligence as those who do casting. So I bought a pair of cotton gloves and started to work. The gloves are worn in order that handling hot metal and hot bearers may not do more than sear the hands. Touching any part of a casting pot, after it has been warmed with large doses of molten metal will produce large and enthusiastic blisters on the bare hands.

Well, I whipped that job from the start. The first cast I tried was as good as any ever made, and while I fall now and then, I know that every other caster also makes failures every once in so often. I really believe that I will be able to make a pretty good stereotyper out of myself, and at long last I am learning a new trade.

Then there is the matter of mailing and wrapping. We do not have any great number of papers which are mailed, but it is a chore which takes a little time, and not for twenty or thirty years had I done what is called "wrapping singles." This means wrapping copies of the Leader into wrappers which carry the address of a subscriber. We have quite a lot of these, for many copies of the paper now go to men in the armed services, and many former Fulton citizens still subscribe for the home town paper. Years ago I was a crack wrapper of these, and it pleased me too see how the touch came back. Factotum's method was to grab a paper loosely in his hands

Camp Robinson, Ark. — When Pvt. Edward R. Temple says he received a long letter from girl friends in his home town of Longview, Texas, he means just that.

He has a fifty-pound letter, 1,942 feet long, to which about 150 girl high school graduates contributed, on two rollers.

Private Temple promises to make "part" of it public when he reads it.

Congress Shows Opposition To Draft Youths Of Lower Ages

Washington. — Strong bi-partisan opposition developed today against any move in Congress to draft men in the 18-19 year age classes for military service.

Senator Hill of Alabama, the Democratic whip, declared he would oppose any change of this nature in the Selective Service Act — a change which the Army was reported preparing to request.

At the same time, Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, predicted that any such proposal would be certain to arouse lengthy controversy in the Senate, which once voted to draft 19 year olds but subsequently compromised with the House on 20 years, the present minimum.

Washington. — The war manpower commission decided today to "freeze" workers in critical war industries to their present jobs, to prevent "labor pirating."

A commission spokesman said that in the future an employee in such a critical industry would be unable to change jobs without approval of the United States Employment Service.

The policy will become effective, according to an announcement, as soon as the proper directive can be drafted.

Asked how it could be enforced, the spokesman said the control could be operated through contractors with the war production industries.

The "pirating of labor," especially through offer of larger wages, was reported to have become acute. This is especially true, the spokesman said, in the aircraft industry.

There was no immediate estimate of the number of workers who would be affected, but it was expected to run into hundreds of thousands if not millions.

The policy will become effective, he told newsmen, as soon as the proper directives can be drafted, "which means immediately."

The policy could be enforced, the spokesman emphasized, through war contracts, but he expressed an opinion that "employers will go along and we do not think compulsion will be necessary."

The commission also took further steps to make certain that men irreplaceable in war production may be deferred from the draft and remain at their work benches.

Preliminary plans were drawn for a classification of war plants according to their urgency, and for a system of manpower priorities to assure the critical plants ample supplies of skilled labor.

London Says Germans Use 3,000-Ton Subs Against U. S.

London. — The Germans have developed huge 3,000-ton submarines carrying two eight-inch guns and fourteen torpedoes for long-range raiding and are believed sending them in relays to harry the eastern coast of North America, reports from the continent declared today.

Naval circles here said the reports of the new submarines are "perfectly feasible."

The U-boats were said to have a surface speed of twenty knots and a submerged speed of eleven knots.

It was said here that through the tactics of sending relays of

WITHOLDING TAX STALLED IN COMMITTEE

No Agreement Has Yet Been Reached On Proposal

Washington. — The administration's drive to collect income taxes at the source was stalled temporarily at least today with the House ways and means committee members divided on the question and not certain when it might reach a vote.

After three days of debate, the committee averted a showdown yesterday by adopting a motion to lay the question aside "for further consideration."

Many members expressed belief the action meant only that the committee could not immediately foresee a solution to the numerous ramifications of a pay-as-you-go collection program, but one said privately that the whole idea might be dropped.

The treasury had suggested that 10 per cent of taxable income be deducted periodically from payrolls and from bond interest and dividends, the deductions to be applied to the regular March 15 income tax bills.

Some members said that the so-called "withholding tax" did not come to a vote yesterday because, primarily, the whole tax program has not been formulated and it would be difficult to tell how heavily a 10 per cent deduction might fall on low incomes.

They reported, too, that although the treasury originally advocated it as an inflation deterrent, other government officials had said that the program could not be placed in operation until about Jan. 1.

SPECIAL TIME IS SET ASIDE FOR WAR BOND SALES

Stores Will Sell Nothing But Bonds For Quarter Hour

Washington. — You won't be able to buy anything but War Bonds and Stamps in the stores from noon to 12:15 p. m. on July 1.

This suspension of normal business was arranged today by the retailers advisory committee of the treasury's campaign to sell $1,000,000,000 worth of War Bonds in the month of July alone.

Starting in that month, the treasury hopes to sell that many bonds every month.

Benjamin H. Namm of Brooklyn and G. Ray Scheaffer of Chicago, heads of retailers' group, explained the plan at a press conference. They displayed thousands of telegrams from stores pledging cooperation.

The plan is to ring all the bells, sound all the factory whistles, make all the other noise possible at noon July 1 and then stop all commercial selling for 15 minutes while War Bonds and Stamps are bought and the Governors of all the states deliver radio sales talks which will be broadcast in most stores.

During the rest of July the retailers plan a vast program of newspaper, radio and magazine advertising, elaborate window displays, special sales booths, public rallies and other promotion activities.

Namm said that each retail store would try to sell enough War Bonds and Stamps to equal 4 per cent of its July business.

POST-WAR CHRISTIAN WORLD NECESSARY SAYRE ASSERTS

Tells Convention Underlying Faiths Are Broken Down

Milwaukee. — A new world built on fundamentals of Christian brotherhood taught by Christ is the "only kind of a world that will prevent a repetition of the present universal agony," Francis B. Sayre, United States high commissioner to the Philippine Islands asserted today.

Recounting scenes of suffering he had seen at Bataan and Corregidor, Sayre, in an address prepared for the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, asked "is all that to be in vain?"

"I watched our troops when all the earth around them was rocking from exploding bombs and shells, bravely standing by their guns and taking it," he said. "Going through the hospital I have seen their wan faces lighting up with a smile as I approached, putting up a brave front still."

"I have seen them so badly burned that you could not tell whether their skins were white or black — their spirit was magnificent."

War and savagery have engulfed the world before, at least for 15 centuries — has there been such a world-wide breakdown of our underlying faiths, of our standards of moral values, of directing purpose in our lives?

DEPENDENCY PAY APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

U. S. Men In Service Each Would Contribute

Washington. — Legislation setting up a system of allowances for dependents of men in the armed forces and authorizing the establishment of categories of dependency for draft deferment purposes was approved unanimously today by the Senate Military Affairs Committee.

The allowance plan calls for contributions from the government and service men. A wife would receive $28 monthly from the government; a wife and a child, $40; a child, no wife, $20; two children, no wife, $30 and a former wife, divorced, $20.

The government would contribute $10 monthly for each additional child above the $40 allowance for a wife and child.

"Class B" Gets $5.

These payments would be augmented by $22 monthly from the pay of the service men for the above class of dependents and additional $5 monthly for "Class B" dependents — grandparents, parents, mothers and sisters.

The government would contribute $15 monthly toward an allowance for a dependent parent, $25 for the support of two dependent parents and $5 for the support of other "Class B" dependents. A monthly ceiling of $50 would be placed over the allowance for all dependents in this class.

The measure gives the selective service system broad authority to set up categories for men with dependents eligible for induction into the nation's fighting forces. Under the bill, draft authorities would be empowered to defer men who are financially able to support their dependents without regard to army pay.

U. S. Resourcefulness Eases Sting Of Losing Raw Materials

New York. — American ingenuity is gradually freeing the country from dependence on certain raw materials usually obtained from areas now controlled by the Japanese, George S. Brady of the Office of Imports Board of Economic Warfare told the National Association of Purchasing agents today.

"The chemical industry during the last year has been outstanding with new and substitute materials," Brady, chief of the Board's Materials Statistics Division, said. "Out of the common resin in turpentine we now have a series of synthetic resins that do a good job of replacement of the various varnish gums and resins that the Japanese took from us in the Far East."

"We are now independent of the camphor and menthol from Japan. Far Eastern tung oil no

London. — Two of the chiefs of the U. S. Army's three commands conferred with their British counterparts tonight, and informed observers believed that plans for an invasion of the continent as well as a vast air assault on Germany were being advanced.

The arrival today of Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell commanding general of the U. S. Army service of supply, virtually completed a war council which these observers declared is the "prelude to a vast increase of American ground forces to give the Allies immediate, overwhelming local superiority in men and equipment for an invasion of the continent."

It was understood that the conference may also be concerned with such world-wide coordinating efforts as a joint smash at the Japanese from India and blocking of an Axis offensive in Africa.

Somervell's arrival followed the appearance yesterday of Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the U. S. Army air forces. This left only Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, commander of the ground forces, out of the circle, but the presence of Maj. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, head of the operations divisions, seemed to assure that land as well as air plans were afoot.

Also present was Maj. Gen. Mark W. Clark, chief of staff of the Army ground forces. Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of naval operations, and Brigadier General Leroy Lutes, Charles J. Gross and William C. Lee who accompanied Somervell.

This congregation of detail men followed closely upon the recent visit of chief of staff General George C. Marshall.

Transport Problems

One source, emphasizing indications that American and British efforts were not being concentrated on air operations alone, said: "Because the technical transport problems are more simple, the American air effort will start first, but when the time comes we are going to be ready to hit on land just as hard or harder than we do in the air."

MR. ROOSEVELT'S APPEAL TO THE ARGENTINES

President Roosevelt's message of felicitation to the Argentine Republic on the anniversary of that nation's independence is a masterpiece of diplomatic finesse. It goes over the head of the isolationist and pro-Axis Government under Acting President Castillo to address the people, but according to strictly regular procedure. It intrudes into the heated domestic controversy as to the course the country shall pursue in the war without any sign of intrusion.

The telegram was addressed to President Roberto Ortiz who retired from office some months ago because of ill health and threatened blindness and not to Castillo. That was perfectly regular since Ortiz has never relinquished his title. It expressed the confidence that Argentina would tread "those paths which alone can insure the preservation of those political and economic freedoms upon which our American civilization is based." That was entirely logical. The titular head of the Argentine Government has made known his democratic views and his views on closer co-operation between the Americas. Thus Mr. Roosevelt urged the Argentines to line up with the other Americans in presenting a solid front against Axis aggression, the policy favored by a growing element in the South American republic.

handling of the situation—and it is a serious situation since Argentina is the back door for Nazi penetration into the Western Hemisphere—is in marked contrast with Senator Connally's clumsy method a few months ago. When the lone opposition of President Castillo prevented the meeting of Foreign Ministers at Rio de Janeiro from unanimously approving a resolution calling for the breaking off of diplomatic relations with the Axis, the Texas Senator wise-cracked, "We are trusting that Castillo will change his mind or that the Argentine people will change their President." But Castillo didn't change his mind and since then has held his country aloof from the other American nations, Chile alone excepted.

There is a chance that President Ortiz will resume his duties. A New York specialist is now working on his eyes. There is a chance that the Chamber of Deputies will demand a change in the anomalous neutrality policy. It will soon be called into session. In the meantime the Axis cells in the republic are busy building up their organization and preparing for a possible coup. President Roosevelt's message was a timely warning.—Courier-Journal.

and roll it into what postal clerks class slangily "pencils." That always irritated me, and I know it also irritated the subscriber, for such wrapping means that the paper has a lot of paste and is usually badly torn in unwrapping. I can wrap these singles flat, so that they are easily torn open and as a rule little paste is found on the paper itself.

Yes, I have found any number of things which I still can do—not so well as I once did, but still with some degree of competence—but that little matter of lifting is one which baffles me. Something has happened to my back and shoulder muscles; something which slipped up on me at some time during the past decade or so, and I fear that strength is not going to be refound.

COOKING SCHOOL
AT S. F. TUESDAY

The nutrition cooking school held Tuesday afternoon at South Fulton High school was a big success with about fifty women in attendance. Miss Jane Roberts, who is TVA Home Economics director, gave the demonstrations very interestingly on the dehydration of different foods and the milling of whole wheat.

Also attending the meeting were Miss Violet Crook, Obion County nurse, and Miss Margaret Browder, State Supervisor.

At the close of Miss Roberts' demonstrations, light refreshments were served.

MISS EVANS IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Miss Sarah Mae Evans delightfully entertained the members of the N. S. C. club last evening at her home on Eddings street with a pot luck supper. After the supper, the club attended the baseball game.

Those present were: Misses Sue Clements, Martha Bell Strayhorn, Betty Jean Bowles, Anna Jean Norris and Miss Evans; all members and a visitor, Mrs. Guy Davis.

DRAMA DEPARTMENT
IN LAST MEETING—
OUTSTANDING SPEAKER

One of the most enjoyable programs of the year was presented yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Drama Department, this being the last regular meeting of the club year. Attending were nineteen members and ten visitors.

Acting hostesses were Mrs. Russell Rudd, Mrs. James Mullenix, Mrs. Sterling Bennett, Mrs. R. C. Joyner and Mrs. C. C. Maxfield.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by the new chairman, Mrs. Moxelle Terry Smith. Mrs. Gene Speight, secretary, called the roll and read minutes of the previous meeting.

Mrs. Clifford Shields, leader of the program for the afternoon, then took charge of the meeting and first presented Mrs. Leslie Puryear, contralto, in two vocal selections, "Because" and "Night and Day." She was accompanied by Miss Mary Ethel Langdon, pianist.

Mrs. Shields then presented a most charming guest speaker, Mrs. Samuel Houston McNutt of Paducah, in a review of Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," a popular Broadway hit dealing with ghosts. Mrs. McNutt, who has been a student of dramatic art in New York City, gave her review of this light, airy comedy in an unusually charming and casual manner and her talent will always be admitted by members of the Drama Department and their guests who were very fortunate in having heard her.

Following her review and a few brief remarks by Mrs. Shields, the hostesses served ice cream and cake.

Visitors attending were Mrs. Puryear, Miss Lashaden, Mrs. James Cullum, Miss Carolyn Beadles, Mrs. J. Frank Neal, all of Fulton, Mrs. L. P. Hite, Mrs. W. D. Warren, Mrs. L. O. Butcher, and Mrs. McNutt, all of Paducah, and Mrs. Ira Gardner of Centralia, Ill.

SAYS FARMERS HAVE
BIG STAKE IN MOVE
TO STOP INFLATION

Farmers have a tremendous stake in the success of the government's policies to control prices and prevent inflation, points out Dr. H. B. Price, head of the department of markets and rural finance in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. They have much to gain from the success of measures to check inflation, and they are in a position to exert great influence in bringing about the success of those measures. Many will recall the boom in farm prices and incomes in 1917-1919 but will also remember the disastrous collapse of farm prices and land values in the succeeding years.

Farmers are not only producers and sellers of commodities, but also purchasers of large quantities of fertilizers, feeds, machinery, and other supplies for production and large quantities of goods and services for farm family living. They stand to benefit directly from stabilization of prices of these commodities. They are owners of bonds, life insurance policies, and farm mortgages. At the same time, prices of many of the basic commodities which farmers have for sale are guaranteed against decline below 85 percent of parity, and for the most part are not yet subject to price ceilings.

By loyal cooperation with every phase of the government's program to increase production and prevent runaway prices, farmers should be able to conduct their business in a profitable manner and make a maximum contribution program, the smaller will be the necessary sacrifices in blood and living standards, the more quickly will victory be won, and the sooner will agriculture and the country as a whole be able to return to the ways of peace.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

In keeping with the war program to produce sweets at home, many Harlan county farmers are growing a half-acre of sorghum each. Anderson county homemakers have had a series of lessons on the subject, "For children and adults alike, milk means good health." "Why didn't the 'food for victory' campaign start years ago?" queried an Oldham county homemaker cooperating in the new program.

Jackson Rallies In Final Frame To Take Second Of Series 9-8

Rallying in the last inning, the Jackson Generals drove four runs across the plate to wipe out an 8 to 5 deficit and won the second game of the series here last night 9 to 8. Carl Gaiser pitched the last inning, after Jess Webb had gone out for a pinch hitter in the first of the ninth, but the ancient pitcher, already under the showers, got credit for the game. Burgess was the losing hurler, after having pitched great ball except in the first and last innings. In the first inning a home run by Ernie Ankrom, with two mates aboard, gave the Tigers a hard way to go, but they had fought back to take an 8 to 4 lead by the seventh inning. In the final frame disastrous errors were made, and Jackson coupled these with timely hits to win the game. Burgess gave eleven hits, while the Tigers touched Webb for fourteen, but six errors in the local infield helped the Generals several times. Burgess aided his own cause by belting a triple and a single, and Peterson blasted three hits, including a double. Faudem had a sparkling catch against left field fence, and the Tigers had two flashy double plays to help Burgess out of holes. Joe Pollock batted in three runs with his two hits.

The Tigers had eleven men left on bases during the encounter, as Webb showed a bit of his oldtime stuff in spots. In one frame, with men on second and third and no outs the old craftsman set the Tigers down without a run, but in the seventh the veteran took a severe mauling. The final game of the series is being played tonight, and the Tigers then go to Hopkinsville for a single game Friday night and a doubleheader on Memorial Day.
