Chandler Sweeps to Victory in Primary

DEFEATS RHEA BY 35,000 MAJORITY IN RUN-OFF VOTE

Dark Horse Last Spring Deals Telling Defeat to Administration Forces

KEEN JOHNSON WINS FOR LT.-GOVERNOR

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 10.—Happy Chandler rode to victory tonight in his race for the Democratic nomination as Governor of Kentucky on a crest of votes apparently swelled by his denunciation of "dictatorship" bayonet rule and the state's three per cent sales tax.

Scorned by his political foes as a "crooner" and "roadhouse song boy," the smiling, hard hitting 37-year-old Lieutenant Governor overcame one of the most formidable political organizations in the state's history to defeat Thomas S. Rhea, 64-year-old veteran politician. Chandler will be opposed at the Nov. 5 election by King Swope, 42-year-old Lexington jurist, the Republican nominee.

Rhea Remains Silent
In answer to a telephone query, Rhea at his home in Russellville tonight replied, "I have no statement to make." In response to further questioning, he declined to discuss the primary reiteration, "I have no statement to make."

Chandler, who demanded repeal of the sales tax and charged that his opponent threatened Kentucky with a "military dictatorship," defeated Rhea, regarded one of Kentucky's most astute political organizers, by a majority of 35,049. Returns from 421 of the state's 519 precincts unofficially counted gave Chandler 260,494 and Rhea 225,445. The returns were complete except for one precinct in Breathitt and seven in Mercer delayed by court actions.

In the wake of the defeat of Rhea, whom he had backed, Governor Ruby Laffoon intimated he might call a special session of the legislature to repeal the sales tax. The tax, yielding revenue of $10,000,000 a year, was enacted by the 1934 special session by Laffoon forces after Chandler, as presiding officer of the Senate, blocked it at two previous sessions.

Happy A Long Shot
A long shot in the gubernatorial race at the start, Chandler got the spotlight last February when he called a special session of the legislature to enact a compulsory primary law while Laffoon was in Washington. Previously, the Democratic State Central Executive Committee had called a state nominating convention. Rhea was considered a certain winner in a convention. At the special session Laffoon-Rhea forces defeated Chandler's single-primary proposal and passed the run-off primary law. Rhea had 13,435 plurality in the first primary.

Besides sales tax repeal, Chandler made troop occupation of Harlan county an issue. Chandler supervised the voting Aug. 3 in Harlan. Chandler charged Laffoon and Rhea sought to set up a dictatorship and rule elections with bayonets.

Chandler has been one of Kentucky's most colorful political figures ever since he first gained prominence five years ago in the State Senate where he was wont to regale colleagues by justly singing "Sonny-Boy" during recess periods.

Both Factions Win Points
Both Rhea and Chandler campaigned for votes as 100 per cent Roosevelt supporters.

In the other Democratic races, nearly complete returns showed Chandler will have running mates in November from both factions. Keen Johnson, Richmond publisher, held an insurmountable lead over State Senator J. E. W. Carr for Lieutenant Governor. In Central Kentucky Johnson, slated with Rhea, had support from the Blair organization which backed Chandler.

Also nominated on the Rhea slate was Charles D. Arnett, who defeated Miss Maja Rudalev for Secretary of State. Arnett was slated in the state by the Rhea organization but in Louisville by Chandler. Miss Rudalev had Chandler support in the state and in Louisville was supported by the Brennan organization which backed Rhea.

Chandler slate mates who won nominations were B. M. Vincent for Attorney General and W. B. O'Connell for State Auditor.

CHARLES E. CLARK OF KIRKSEY, DIES

Prominent Farmer Found Dead in Bed Monday Morning; Father of V. H. Clark, Murray.

Charles Edward Clark, 76 years old, substantial farmer of the Kirksey community and one of the county's most prominent citizens, was found dead in his bed Monday morning at his home. Mr. Clark's unexpected death was a great shock to his family and friends. He was born and reared in Calloway county and was a gentleman of the highest type, respected and admired by all who knew him.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Jessie Ross and Mrs. Willie May Washer; two sons, V. H. Clark, assistant cashier of the Peoples Savings Bank, Murray, and H. L. Clark, Detroit, Michigan. Mr. Clark also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Dora Farmer and Mrs. Jennie Ruthledge, both of Greenfield, Tenn., and two brothers, J. W. Clark, Kirksey, and T. H. Clark, Miami, Florida. Many nieces and nephews and a large number of other relatives also survive.

Mr. Clark was a faithful member of the Kirksey Church of Christ. Funeral services were conducted from the church Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock by Elder Perry Colham and Elder Coy Chester. Burial was in Asbury graveyard.

The pallbearers were, active, Harper Tucker, Claude Lawrence, Jesse Marine, Lowell Edmonds, Roy Jones, Hugh Gingles; honorary, L. E. Bradford, S. P. Bourland, R. B. Marine, J. E. Tucker, T. M. McCuiston, C. B. Fulton. Many Murray friends of Mr. Clark and the family attended the services.

We Thank You

The Ledger & Times desires to express its deepest appreciation to all advertisers who have co-operated to make this "Annual College Opening Edition" the most successful in several years.

We believe it includes the largest number of Murray State College boosters and friends of any edition we have ever published. We have spared no effort or expense to make this number an outstanding one and we trust that it will be of some slight service to the college, its staff and student body and those who are welcoming them to Murray.

A copy of this edition is being given to each student, old or new, upon registration.

Again we thank you for your liberal co-operation and patronage.

nell for Appellate Court clerk. Vincent defeated Francis M. Burke. O'Connell won over Ray Kirchner.

Buckingham Leads Mahan
John E. Buckingham, slated by Chandler, held a slight lead over Miss Sara W. Mahan for the nomination as Treasurer.

Garth K. Ferguson, a Rhea supporter, won the nomination as Commissioner of Agriculture in the first primary. Withdrawals gave Harry W. Peters the nomination for Superintendent of Public Instruction and E. E. Shannon the nomination for Auditor. Peters was not slated in the first primary. Shannon was classed as a Rhea supporter.

CHANDLER BEATS RHEA BY 556 IN CALLOWAY COUNTY

Keen Johnson Carries Calloway by 864, Largest Majority

VOTE IS 249 LESS THAN ON AUGUST 3

Calloway county joined the remainder of the state in a reversal of form in the run-off primary, first in the history of the state, by giving a substantial majority to Lieut.-Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler over his opponent Thos. S. Rhea in the race for the Democratic nomination for Governor. Chandler carried by a majority of 556 over Rhea last Saturday.

An analysis of the vote shows that Chandler picked up practically all the opposition to Rhea in the initial polling. Rhea's vote was within seven of his August total as 249 less ballots were cast. On the contrary, Chandler zoomed from 1862 in August to 2902 last Saturday. In August, Wallis was a close second in Calloway with 1326 while Huddleston only got 112 and Wootton 26. Wallis and Wootton pledged their support to Chandler in the run-off.

Mr. Chandler's strength was practically uniform throughout the county as he carried all but six precincts and those which Rhea carried were by narrow margins. Rhea got only North and South Swann, North Concord, Dexter, Almo and North Brinkley. There was only two votes difference in favor of Rhea in Hazel and North Liberty. Chandler's best precinct was Northwest Murray where he got 215 to Rhea's 82. Rhea's best margin was in comparison with the carried territory, a small vote cast, 73 to 57.

Johnson, Burke Break State
Keen Johnson for Lieut.-Governor and Francis M. Burke for attorney-general were the only two candidates on the Rhea slate to break the landslide in this county. Johnson got the largest majority of any candidate as he led Sen. J. E. Wise, Elizabethtown, who had the blessings of the Chandler organization, by 864 ballots. Johnson lost only South Concord of the 22 precincts but beat his opponent but 4 votes in Providence.

Burke and Vincent ran neck and neck, the mountain man finally getting a majority of 60. Jno. E. Buckingham, who was on both slates in many cases and was strongly supported by his old school-mate W. E. Marberry, won over Miss Sara Mahan by a majority of 670. Senator Arnett, Chandler candidate for Secretary of State, led Miss Maja Rudalev, the Rhea entrant, by 462 while the Chandler forces won another victory in the Clerk's race by putting O'Connell 540 votes ahead of Kirchner in Calloway.

A tabulation of the Calloway county vote will be found in another column of this paper.

CRASS OPENS NEW FURNITURE STORE

Has Had Several Years Successful Experience in Business; on North Fourth Street.

Maurice Crass, well known young man of Murray, has opened a large and attractive new furniture store, which will be the only exclusive furniture in Calloway county, on North Fourth street in the Morris building.

Mr. Crass has had several years successful experience in the furniture business and is regarded as one of the city's most able and progressive young business men. He was formerly connected with his father in the F. D. Crass & Son store and for the past few years has operated a used furniture business in Murray.

He has completely stocked his big floor with a beautiful line of new furniture which has attracted considerable attention and favorable comment from a large number.

Woman Is Elected Legion Commander

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Sept. 10.—Believed by local Legionnaires to be the first woman in the United States to be elected head of an American Legion Post, Mrs. Harriett Vallencourt Smith, a nurse in the World War, has been chosen commander of Post No. 152 here.

Mrs. Smith is one of the two women members of the local unit.

College Expects 1,000 to Enroll

By L. J. HORTIN

Over 1000 students are expected to enroll for the fall semester at Murray State College, beginning with freshman registration Saturday, September 14.

Under the leadership of its new president, Dr. James H. Richmond, and with the continued guidance of Dean John W. Carr, Murray State will commence its thirteenth year of growth and advancement. The one and one-half million dollar state institution began operation September 24, 1923 in the Murray High School building with a Bible and dictionary as its library, and with 207 enrolled that semester.

Today the physical plant consists of eight modern buildings, a stadium, and a beautiful and ample campus. Last year the enrollment was 1,672, in all departments.

Is Fully Accredited

Fully accredited by the Kentucky Association of Colleges and Universities, by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, by the American Association of Teachers Colleges and by the National Association of Schools of Music, Murray State College is today equipped to prepare students for almost any profession or vocation they may choose.

Degrees offered are: A. B. and B. S. in the liberal arts field; B. Mus. without certification and B. Mus. Ed. with certification; A. B. and B. S. degree with certification; and B. S. in home economics.

One of the new departments recently opened is the commerce department which has rapidly grown into one of the most popular and efficient departments on the campus. Music, art, science, journalism, mathematics, English, social sciences, public speaking, geography, education, agriculture, physical education, home economics, Latin and French, history—these are but a few of the many departments in which students may concentrate their efforts at Murray.

New Stadium Completed
As members of the S. I. A. A. the Murray Thoroughbreds are booked for an interesting schedule for the football season. The stadium, equipped with magnificent lights and ample seating facilities, is one of the best in the state. Coach Stewart promises the prospective students one of the best seasons in history, having seven conference opponents from five states.

In debating, the college orators will engage a team from Oxford, England, for their sixth consecutive foreign debate on the college stage. An 80-piece marching band, natively outfitted in colorful uniforms, will be one of the many attractive features of the year.

Additional members are being added to care for the growing needs of the student body. The Training School is already in session and the faculty is practicing teaching for the prospective teachers. Important dates to remember are: September 14, 1935, Freshman Registration. September 16, Registration of Old Students. September 17, Classwork Begins. September 23, Last Day to Register for Maximum Credit. October 1, Last Day to Register for Credit. November, 28-30, Thanksgiving Recess. December 18, Christmas Holidays begin at the close of the day's work. January 2, 1936, Classwork resumed. January 24, 1936, Fall Semester Closes.

Time Extended On City Sewers

The time for the completion of the Murray sewerage system has been extended until September 30. The contract of the Markus Thomas Co. originally called for completion by September 1. All streets will be repaired to their original condition for travelling before the work is completed.

Tigers Open Grid Season Here Friday Night, 8 p.m.

Coach Ty Holland's Tigers will taste the gridiron "dust" (or dew) for the first time this year Friday night when they meet the McKenzie, Tenn., eleven. The game will be called at the high school field at 8 o'clock.

Little is known of the visiting eleven, however. Coach Holland states that they are much stronger than last year when the then powerful Tiger eleven trounced them 35-0. Coach Holland expects no such game this year but feels that the Tigers should win the event.

The Tigers have had a short two weeks drill to round them in shape for the tilt but are showing up well with the eight experienced lettermen to start the lineup.

The Tiger backfield should be outstanding this year if a line can be developed to hold for them and open up at the right time and place. In the backfield is "Dynamite" Dunn for broken field plays with Captain Irvan to handle the drives and passes and J. R. Allbritton for speedy, elusive slashes at the off tackles. Clark, Ward and B. C. Allbritton are counted on for service.

WELCOME TO MURRAY DR. RICHMOND

The selection of Dr. James H. Richmond and his acceptance of the Presidency of Murray State College is indeed a fortunate choice for this institution which holds such a warm place in our hearts. It is a genuine pleasure to welcome Mr. Richmond to Murray and to assure him that he has the complete co-operation of every citizen not only of Murray and Calloway county but also of Western Kentucky.

It is a source of keen satisfaction that Dr. John W. Carr, "the grand old man" of Murray is to remain as dean under Dr. Richmond's administration. The relationship between Dr. Richmond and Dr. Carr has always been exceptionally close and cordial and the co-ordination in the task of raising Murray College to still greater heights and extending its beneficence will be nothing short of perfect.

Mr. Richmond brings to Murray not only an exceptional ability as an educator, based on a genuine and unselfish desire to serve the young women and young men desiring an education but also a wealth of successful experience that has marked him as one of the most alert, progressive and gifted educators in the nation.

DR. MORGAN SAYS DAM FOR LOWER VALLEY REQUIRED

TVA Chief Favors Plan of Building High Dam Near Here

CHAIRMAN SAYS PLANS ARE NOW BEING PUSHED

Dr. A. E. Morgan, TVA chairman, today told the Lower Tennessee Valley Association that an additional dam or dams would be required in this section, following the passage of the TVA expansion bill authorizing a 9-foot channel from Paducah to Knoxville on the Tennessee River.

He further explained that the Tennessee Valley Authority favored the construction of a high dam, rather than several low navigation dams. (A high dam is adapted to power installation.)

"In order to provide nine-foot navigation to the mouth of the Tennessee, an additional dam or dams will be required in the lower reach," Dr. Morgan wrote in reply to a questionnaire sent him by L. J. Horton, secretary of the Lower Tennessee Valley Association.

Appearing before a House committee prior to the passage of the T. V. A. bill, Dr. Morgan had testified that the Aurora Dam was absolutely essential for a 9-foot channel. "The Aurora dam," Dr. Morgan said, "will be across the Tennessee River a little above its mouth. It would create a 9-foot channel for about 100 miles from that dam to Pickwick Dam."

Dr. Morgan explained to the House Sub-Committee that the Army Engineers have frequently testified that high dams "are very costly, uneconomical." The low dams, leave a navigation channel which is very narrow where it is canalized. The high dam leaves a full width of the river in which to travel. There is no comparison whatever as to the relative values of the two dams."

He also pointed out that before the TVA was created, Congress had specifically committed the U. S. Government to the policy of building high dams which would construct a high dam in their place.

In the letter received here today by the Lower Tennessee Valley Association, the TVA chairman said: "Our investigations to date indicate that the benefits derived from a high dam plan would exceed those from a low dam plan. We favor the plan which produces the greatest benefits on an economical basis."

Dr. Morgan added that "Borings, preliminary surveys and investigations are being pushed ahead as rapidly as feasible. It is not possible to predict when this work can be completed. Its progress and the developments of plans depend to a large extent on the results of this work as it progresses."

Explaining that "it is not yet known just what land will be needed for a project on the lower river," Dr. Morgan declared: "It is not desirable to clear land too far in advance because it would acquire new growth before being flooded."

Members of the present board of regents are: Dr. Richmond, W. S. Swann, Bunk Gardner, B. L. Trevathan, and T. H. Stokes.

Dr. Richmond was elected president for a 4-year term, Monday, September 9, succeeding to the office of presidency, Dr. J. W. Carr, who has been dean and acting president since Dr. Wells resigned on December 12, 1932. Dr. Richmond resigned, without ever having served as president, on August 11, 1934, to become a candidate for governor of Kentucky. He later withdrew from the gubernatorial race.

The program Monday will take the place of the initial chapel session, regularly held on the first day of regular registration at Murray State. In view of the large number of students who will be entering at that time and the widespread interest of West Kentucky in the new president, two thousand are expected to be present Monday at the induction exercises.

Mattie Stagner Rites Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. Mattie Stagner, 83 years of age, were held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home West of Alimo. The Rev. Mr. Underhill was in charge of the services and burial was in the Stewart cemetery. Mrs. Stagner died at the home following a six weeks illness. She was a member of the Dexter Methodist church. Surviving are three nieces in Mississippi and a nephew in Louisville.

Dr. Richmond to Be Installed Monday

U. S. Senator Alben W. Barkley is scheduled to be the principal speaker at the induction exercises to be held in honor of Dr. J. H. Richmond in the Murray College auditorium Monday morning, September 16, at 9:30 o'clock.

Prof. G. B. Pennabaker, appointed by Dean Carr to arrange the program, has announced that invitations are being issued to Congressmen, state senators and representatives of the district city and county school superintendents, past and present regents, and other friends of the institution to attend the exercises which will be open to the public.

The three presidents of Murray State College will be on the stage to participate in the program. They are: Dr. J. W. Carr, Dr. Rainey T. Wells, and Dr. J. H. Richmond.

Members of the present board of regents are: Dr. Richmond, W. S. Swann, Bunk Gardner, B. L. Trevathan, and T. H. Stokes.

GEORGE STONE IS CALLED SUDDENLY

Prominent Citizen Was 58 Years Old; Formerly in Business at Penny.

George V. Stone, 58 years old, one of the best known and highest respected citizens of the Penny community, died suddenly at his home there Sunday evening about nine o'clock. Death was due to a sudden attack of the heart.

Mr. Stone was formerly engaged in the general merchandise business at Penny and was widely known and admired by a host of friends. He had engaged in his farming since retiring from the mercantile business. He was a devoted member of the Coldwater Methodist church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lora Stone, a daughter, Mrs. Autumn Pool, a son, Fred Stone; three sisters, Mrs. Elbert Lassiter, Murray; and Mrs. Cary Wilcox and Mrs. Gerlie Williams, of the county. Two brothers, John Stone and Dee Stone, both of the Harris Grove section, also survive him.

Funeral services were conducted from the Goshen Methodist Church Monday afternoon at three o'clock by the Rev. L. Z. Hurley, assisted by the Rev. Davis.

A large crowd of friends joined the family in mourning his death.

SCHOOL HEAD OF STATE SELECTED BY BOARD MONDAY

Dr. John W. Carr Will Continue to Serve in Capacity of Dean of School

NEW PRESIDENT IS EDUCATIONAL LEADER

Prof. James H. Richmond, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will resign shortly to take over the presidency of Murray State Teachers College, he announced Monday following his acceptance of the college post at a meeting of the board of regents here.

Professor Richmond said he would resign at Frankfort within the next few days, as soon as he can arrange the affairs of the office to turn over to his successor, who will be appointed by Gov. Ruby Laffoon. Professor Richmond said he had "no idea" who would be named to succeed him, but he hoped the appointee would be someone from the State Department of Education. The successor will serve until January.

Acceptance of the Murray post by Mr. Richmond was announced after he consented to reconsider a previous decision not to leave Frankfort. The regents first asked him to take the post in January, 1933, and Professor Richmond informed them he would accept when he had finished his program for the schools. Later, however, he reconsidered, and withdrew his acceptance. He had been sought for the post shortly after the resignation of Rainey T. Wells.

Again, a year ago, Mr. Richmond was offered the position, but declined after announcing his resignation for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

"I was offered the place without soliciting it, and with no expectation of the offer," Mr. Richmond said, adding that he was glad to accept, since the board had held the place open for three years. "Due to conflicting developments elsewhere, I was unable to accept earlier, but those matters have been straightened out now."

Mr. Richmond said he planned to "carry on the policies that have been so well carried on" at Murray, and cited the growth of the institution. He is to be presented formally as president when the college opens Monday.

Dr. John W. Carr has been serving as acting president since Mr. Wells resigned. Since June, Dr. Carr has been dean, and is expected to continue in the post under Professor Richmond.

Miss Mabel Gude of Englewood, N. J., was elected dean of women by the regents. She holds a doctor's degree from John Hopkins University. She will succeed Miss Susan Peffer, who has been granted a leave of absence.

Kirksey Hi News

The first softball game of the season was played Friday with Faxon, Kirksey winning by a two-point margin, 6-4. It was a thrilling game from start to finish.

Judging from the actions of the freshman class, they are planning big things for this year. A class meeting was held Friday and officers elected as follows:

Robert Carlton, president; Geraldine Hurt, vice-president; Sue Marine, secretary-treasurer.

The class meeting was carried on in strict parliamentary manner. In fact Mr. Jones said it was the best class meeting he had ever attended.

Thirty-four have enrolled in the freshman class and it is one of the largest if not the largest on record.

Two new students arrived Monday, T. R. Jones and Adell Beach.

The girls' softball team was organized this week. They are planning to play the other girl teams in the county and have a class tentatively arranged with Brewster in Marshall county.

A pie supper will be given here Saturday night, September 14. Everyone invited.

The fiddlers contest will be held at Kirksey October 5.

Visitors for the past week were:

Stella Ray, Grace Alexander, Lillian Pierce, Boyce Dixon, Edward Billington, Howard Bazzell and Mildred Elliott.

The unsightly weeds have been mowed off our play ground, making a more spacious place in which to play.

A news committee was appointed by Mr. Jones and two from each class were selected.

The judging team will leave Thursday for Louisville to take part in the judging of livestock there Friday morning. The members of the judging team are, Ned Washer, James H. Smith and Eldon Tucker. They will be accompanied by Mr. Alcock.

New Concord Hi

The opening of New Concord High September 2, showed an increased interest on both the parents and students' part. The opening exercises included the following:

Song, American, by all; Devotional, led by Mr. Lovins; Opening Address by A. B. Austin.

Remarks by the faculty. Enrollment to date follows: Grades 1 to 3, 29; grades 4 to 6, 30; grades 7 and 8, 17; grades 9 to 12, 26. Total enrollment, 132.

The following students have enrolled from other schools. Freshmen: Connie Steel, Geneva Evans.

Mary Ruth Houston, Laurene Stubbfield and Alice Tubbsfield. Sophomores: Mildred Lassiter, Juniors: Lurline Eldridge, Lewis Bury, Maxine Parker, O. J. Sparks, Ophelia Eldridge, Estelle Kelly, Lucile Kelly, Edward Jones, Mason Thomas, Rose Henry, Seniors: Pauline Massey.

The students are well pleased with the new members of the faculty, Mrs. Ralph Churchill and Mrs. J. R. Williams.

Plans are being made for a school picnic to be held September 20, in the auditorium of the high school.

The lower grades have received their books and started out for a good year of work.

The New Concord softball team defeated the Hazel team Friday afternoon, September 6, with a score of 12-8. New Concord team will play Almo at Almo-Friday, September 13. A good game is expected.

Kirksey Kinklets

We had a nice little rain Monday that helped our crops greatly. Tobacco is about all cut and some of the farmers are through curing and almost ready to strip.

The Rev. Palmer filled the pastor's pulpit at Kirksey last first Sunday. Bro. Davis was in a meeting in Tennessee at that time. Miss Arlie Guier of Backsburg is visiting her sister in Washington, D. C. She will be there some three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hook of Mayfield attended Mobley's Camp meeting last first Sunday. They reported a real nice time. The Rev. Dotson did the preaching.

Mrs. Bert Watson is very low at present, also Mrs. Tabors, both of whom are well stricken years. Charlie Clark was found dead in bed last Monday morning with heart trouble probably being the cause of his death. George Stone died Sunday night.

CAMP MURRAY CHATTERS

By Earl Chambers

After taking three "put-outs" in rapid succession to open the first inning at Clinton the Cubs started pounding Company 1934's pitchers, Culp and Carter, and kept up their relentless onslaught until they had piled up 16 hits and 18 runs. It was the last sector game of the season and the decisive victory over their closest contestants for sector honors gave Company 1934 the sector championship for the second time. Last year's cup was presented to Murray after she dropped two games and with only two down this year she faces the series to determine District winners.

Murray's famous battery, Cunningham and Williams was on the job again and held their opponents to five runs. The day's title was decided in the second inning when the Cubs piled up six runs, tightened up and held 1534 to one run for six innings. Brown led the scoring for the Cubs with four tallies. Cunningham followed with three. Farley, Davis, Williams, Hamlett and Meyers made two each while Miller and Downey contributed one each to Murray's race track performances. Cunningham led hitting with four. He also received two base walks. Klapp led for 1534 with four hits and four runs.

Unconfirmed reports have it that Company 1517 is second in the softball standing while Columbus, with no defeats, is the winner.

School days are here again for Camp Murray as the camp educational program gets under way. Classes in reading, penmanship and vocational agriculture are off to a good start. An extensive commercial curriculum will be available beginning Monday and good enrollments are expected in typing, bookkeeping and shorthand.

Greetings

To the incoming students, one and all, I greet you and welcome you to Murray State Teachers College!

I welcome you to these halls of learning where it will be your high privilege to be associated with the great and good of all the past.

I welcome you to this campus which you will learn to love and which, to me, is as fair as the gardens of the gods.

I welcome you to our laboratories where the secrets and wonders of nature will be revealed.

I welcome you to the library where you will find the treasures of the past.

I welcome you to the departments of art, music and literature where beauty is enthroned and where the mind is lifted up until it soars on the wings of the imagination.

I welcome you to the study of history and geography, economics and the science of government and the science of society, itself, where you will have an opportunity to learn about human relations, and where, I trust, you will learn how to cooperate with others in the creation of a better society than this world has ever known.

I welcome you to the study of psychology and education, where you will study the human soul, where you will not only learn its laws, but where you will learn how it is nurtured—where you will be trained in heart and hand in the art of arts; the teaching of little children, and where perchance you may even catch a glimpse of the Master.

I not only greet you and welcome you to this college, but I commission its worthy faculty as your companions and guides through the Elysian fields of learning, which a great and generous people have provided for you to the end that you may become worthy teachers of the children of the commonwealth.

JOHN WESLEY CARR,
Dean

That the camp has dramatic talent of no mean ability was demonstrated Monday evening when short sketches were given by Fred Goodman, A. J. Catliffe and Mitchell Cunningham in connection with a talk on social and business customs. The boys put on a very interesting demonstration which served to drive home the subjects of the evening.

Practices that brought large yields of produce were pointed out of a tour of 12 gardens in Kenton county.

Lynn Grove Hi

One of the most enjoyable opening exercises ever to be given in the Lynn Grove High School auditorium was heard by a large crowd last Monday when Prin. Ed Filbeck addressed the patrons and students of the school. The Rev. L. Z. Hurley conducted the devotional services. Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Butterworth made short talks. Dr. Butterworth was one of the first principals of Lynn Grove school.

We have a splendid enrollment this year. We have 93 in high school, 133 in the first six grades and 47 in the seventh and eighth grade making a total of 273.

Plans are being made to order a number of new books for the library and to improve the campus which has recently been enlarged.

We had our first ball game of the season with Almo Friday. Both the boys and girls played. Scores for the boys' was 13-4 in our favor. Our girls also won, by the score of 4-2.

Intramural softball games have been organized among the girls. The three teams have as their captains Ruth Frances Turnbow, Margaret Howard and Ruth Pogue. Miss Howard, Miss Clark and Mrs. Doherty are to sponsor the teams.

REMAINING SOFTBALL CARD FOR COUNTY HIGH SCHOOLS

The remaining softball schedule for county high school play is as follows:

Sept. 13, Faxon at Hazel; Concord at Almo; Lynn Grove at Pleasant Valley.

Sept. 20, Kirksey at Pleasant Valley; Hazel at Almo; Concord at Lynn Grove.

Sept. 27, Kirksey at Concord; Almo at Faxon; Pleasant Valley at Hazel.

Oct. 4, Almo at Kirksey; Faxon at Pleasant Valley; Lynn Grove at Hazel.

Oct. 11, Kirksey at Lynn Grove; Concord at Faxon; Pleasant Valley at Almo.

Oct. 18, Hazel at Kirksey; Lynn Grove at Faxon; Pleasant Valley at Concord.

Welding

... the best way to make a perfect union of two pieces of metal is by welding them together.

... and the best way to get a more pleasing flavor and a better taste in a cigarette is by welding together the different types of tobacco...

That is just what we do in making CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes—the three types of mild ripe home-grown tobaccos, that is tobaccos grown in this country, are welded together. Then they are welded with aromatic Turkish.

When these tobaccos are welded together you get a combined flavor which is entirely different from any one type of tobacco.

It is this welding of the right amounts of the right kind of tobaccos that makes CHESTERFIELD a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

FRESH FOODS Mean HEALTH

ICE REFRIGERATION ALONE

Properly Conditions Air
to Keep Fresh Foods
Truly FRESH!

Food protection, within the refrigerator, is largely a matter of providing properly "conditioned" air to contact ALL the foods we would protect. Mere coldness is not enough—far from it.

The principal enemies of perishable foods are (1) Heat, (2) Air Impurities, such as gases, odors, bacteria, etc., and (3) Unbalanced Humidity (too little or too much air moisture).

Air tends to create a balance of temperature or moisture with every object it contacts. It takes up heat from warmer objects and gives up heat to colder objects. It gives or takes up moisture in the same way.

Foods in refrigerators generate heat, odors and gases. To properly protect our perishable foods, it is necessary, therefore to pass an adequate volume of conditioned air around the foods in a refrigerator and to ELIMINATE heat, odors and gases FROM the refrigerator instead of merely CHILLING them. Only ice refrigeration eliminates them; electric-gadget refrigeration merely CHILLS them.

It costs no more to keep plenty of ice in your refrigerator during the warm days of early fall even though the nights are cool. Our delivery is prompt and regular as ever.

Cakes were enjoyed and refreshments served by the grandmother, Mrs. Dudley Johnson.

Delias Open Year

The Delta Department opened their club year with a splendid program on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ronald Churchill with Miss Oneida Wear and Mrs. Myrtle Wall assisting hosts.

Mrs. A. B. Austin presided over a short business session and the program which was as follows:

Subject: Contemporary Poetry. Modern Trends in Poetry, Mrs. Jack Kennedy. (Read by Mrs. Zelma Carter)

A Popular Poet—Edgar A. Guest, Miss Estelle Houston.

Poems Set to Music, Mrs. F. E. Crawford.

My Favorite Poets, Mrs. John Farmer.

A plate-lunch was served during the social hour.

Mrs. R. T. Wells and Miss Emily Wear were visitors.

Mrs. W. A. Long Nee Miss Anna Mae Jones Is Honor Guest

Miss Gracie Nelle Jones and Miss Reba Mae Hale were joint hosts at a bridge party and shower for Mrs. W. A. Long of Blythville, Ark., at the Business and Professional Women's Club Rooms on Thursday evening.

Four tables were placed for bridge and Miss Jane Melugin won high score prize. The honoree received beautiful gifts.

Delightful refreshments were served.

Present were: Miss Kathleen Robertson, Miss Mary Martha Overby, Miss Marell Hartsfield, Miss Margaret Overby, Mrs. Tony Currier, Miss Margaret Lassiter.

Miss Jane Melugin, Miss Isabelle Gilbert, Miss Isabelle Waldrop, Miss Jane Veal, Miss Evelyn Hurley, Miss Dorothy Mae Robertson, Miss Helen Decker, and the hosts.

Bourland-Brooks

A recent marriage of interest here is that of Miss Marjorie Elaine Bourland and William Davis Brooks.

Mrs. Brooks is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bourland now of Memphis and formerly of Murray. She is a capable young woman and has excelled in her school work at Nicholas-Blackwell High School and at West Tennessee Teachers College.

Mr. Brooks is a U. S. Engineer and was transferred from New Port R. F. to Memphis last year. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clauson of Memphis.

They will make their home at 837 Holmes, Memphis.

F. T. A. To Meet Friday

The Murray Parents-Teachers' Association will have the first meeting of the school year Friday, September 13, at 3:00 o'clock. All mothers of children attending the city school are urged to be present.

Grayson county farmers marketed a carload of beef cattle at good prices.

CAVEAT EMPTOR

In perhaps no other important field are purchases made in so slipshod a manner as in that of insurance. In buying commodities, real estate or securities the purchaser wants to see what he is buying, or at least know something about the reliability of the maker, seller or broker.

Unconsciously, perhaps, he observes the old doctrine, "Caveat emptor"—let the purchaser beware. In the purchase of insurance, however, the average man often fails to exercise this care.

This is just one of the reasons we say, "It Does make a difference who writes your insurance."

PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT FOR THOROUGHBREDS

Stewartmen Face 7 S. I. A. A. Foes; Lambuth Opens Card Sept. 28, Night

By RALPH WEAR

With only three weeks to practice before their opening game with Lambuth here September 28, the Murray College football warriors are looking forward to an interesting schedule of seven S. I. A. A. foes in five states.

Last year Murray finished tenth in the conference which includes 32 colleges of the South. Colleges having better standings than Murray were Furman, Union, Millsaps, Centenary, Rollins, Centre, Western Ky., Loyola and Citadel, all ranking in the order named.

The seven S. I. A. A. foes for the Stewartmen this year are: Springhill of Mobile, Ala., Tennessee Poly of Cookeville, Tenn., Middle Tennessee of Murfreesboro, Tenn., Western of Bowling Green, Ky., Millsaps of Jackson, Miss., and Stetson of Deland, Fla.

The Lambuth Eagles of Jackson, Tenn., are booked for the opener—a night skirmish on September 28 in Murray's beautiful new stadium. The game is a non-conference affair and the Tennesseans are not expected to offer especially strong opposition, although they are known to have plenty of fight and a good coach.

Stressing the lateral pass and an air-tight defense, Coach Stewart of Murray is certain to have a team fully as good as that of last year so far as winning games is concerned. Of the foes most highly respected by Stewart's aggregation, Western, Millsaps, Stetson, and Howard probably rank uppermost. "Beat Murray" is the year-around slogan of the Bowling Green Hill-toppers and for the past two years it has been howled in vain from College Heights at Bowling Green.

'Breds' Mentor

ROY STEWART
Head Coach

This year, it seems that Western has the advantage in dope, but in courage and nerve Murray has few superiors.

Millsaps managed last year to nose out the Thoroughbreds, but Stewart is determined this time to prevent such a catastrophe—especially since the Majors are booked for the Homecoming feature here. One of the hardest hitting teams encountered by Murray last year was the Mad Hatter, outfit from Stetson and the return game at Deland, Fla., this year is likely to be gridiron classic.

Howard is a newcomer on the Racehorses' schedule, along with Springhill. Tennessee Poly and Middle Tennessee are never easy, but they should cause no undue worry this time.

Led by Captain Organ, the 'Breds are taking their early practice

Directs Athletics

seriously and are in high spirits toward any foe on the program. They have decided that they are going to do their utmost to put every game in the bag for Murray State College.

There is no doubt but that Stewart will be able to offer a highly effective and entertaining cast to the football enthusiasts of Western Kentucky. He has an assortment of speed, power and variety of attack and a strong defense is being developed. The woe-filled cry last year of "next year will be doubtful as so many of the squad are seniors" has faded like a so-called "fast color" shirt. And to climax the occasion, a large band of husky, speedy freshmen will more than likely be seen on the college field that will go to make up a great team for the 1936 season.

While there are no outstanding stars on the M. S. C. personnel,

Night Games

The Cutchinmen will play two night games at home this year. The Lambuth tilt—September 28, and Springhill on October 5. The field is one of the most brilliantly lighted in the country. Huge crowds are expected for these flood-light tilts and the large and beautiful stadium will comfortably and conveniently seat a large number of persons of west Kentucky and surrounding territory.

The stadium has been completed during the past summer months and everything is in tip top shape. The sodded field has improved greatly since last season and with the recent rains a fine, green turf will greet the Gold and Blue and Coach Eagle's gridders September 28.

Plenty of beef and drive will be some candidates are naturally showing up a little more than others due to their ability to round into shape more quickly than do others. Gunter, 217 pound center from Paducah; Cook, a fullback from Paducah and one who carries 265 pounds on a "Grecian" frame; Mullins, all S. I. A. A. guard, and Yarbrough, a Murray product who runs at a halfback position, have been leading the field so far. The squad is made up of seven ends, seven tackles, six guards, two centers, three quarterbacks, four halves, and two fullbacks.

Coach Stewart's supply of halfbacks consists of Elder, Taylor, West, Yarbrough, and Thompson. Elder and Taylor are setting a pace for the remaining half candidates to match and just which two will appear in the starting lineup is a problem for you to figure out. "Big Ben" Cook heads the fullback trio in pre-season dope, with Fowler and Bogie showing up well. Two seasoned quarterbacks, Greenwell and McCracken, assure the Thoroughbreds of ample signal calling material. Both are good punters and can be counted on for plenty of yardage.

Although "Pedro" Simmons will be missed at the end position, Henderson, Alderson, Allison, Jones, Curran, Herndon, and Kiefer are rapidly developing into smart and fast wing-men. Henderson, especially, looks good.

Plenty of beef and drive will be found in the following tackles: Land, Miller, Alternate-captain

Freshman Mentor

JOHN MILLER

Torrence, Dunkerson, Snyder, and Wright.

Captain Organ and All-S. I. A. A. Mullins, aided by Neece, Cochran, Fields, and Tolson, comprise the top-notch guard material.

Gunter and Hardin are working hard to fill the center gap caused by the graduation of the best center Murray probably ever had—"Baldy" McKenzie.

With but eight games on the schedule for the coming season, the Stewartmen will undertake the hardest program ever attempted by a Murray State eleven. From the time the season opens on the night of September 28, until the Mur-

MRS. BETTIE LINN IS BURIED HERE

Final Rites For Former Resident
Held Thursday Afternoon,
September 5.

Funeral rites for Mrs. Bettie Linn, a former resident of Murray, were observed at the home of her son, Dr. H. P. Linn, a prominent physician of Paducah, Thursday afternoon, September 5.

A large cortege accompanied the body to Murray, where interment took place at the city cemetery.

Mrs. Linn was the wife of B. B. Linn, deceased, a leading citizen of Murray before changing his residence to Paducah. She was a member of the Utterback family, outstanding pioneers of Calloway county, distinguished for their contribution to the early life and later development of this section.

Aside from the son, one daughter, Mrs. Mary Linn Carpenter, of Mobile, Ala., a sister, Mrs. Otis Butterworth, Brookport, Ill., a brother, Mr. James Utterback, Portageville, Mo., and a number of Murray relatives survive.

Mrs. G. B. Scott Buys The Regal Shoppe Here

Mrs. G. B. Scott has announced the purchase of The Regal Shoppe, ladies ready to wear establishment in the National Hotel building from Mrs. Harry Jenkins.

The shoppe will be in charge of Mrs. Ethel Bowden. Mrs. Bowden formerly engaged in the ladies ready-to-wear business in Murray for several years.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Bowden left today for St. Louis to purchase new merchandise for their formal fall opening on September 20 and 21.

Call Meeting of G. O. P. Committee

The Republican committee of Calloway county has been asked to meet in Murray Saturday at two o'clock by Dr. P. A. Hart, county chairman.

PIE SUPPER AT KIRKSEY

There will be a pie supper at Kirksey Saturday night for the benefit of the school. Everyone invited.

WEED GROWERS TO HAVE COUNTY TOUR

Barns in County To Be Visited
Saturday in Study of Better
Methods of Curing.

Calloway county farmers have been invited to make a tour of seven barns in the county in an effort being sponsored by the county agriculture teachers to encourage the use of the better methods of handling and curing of tobacco. The tour will begin at 8 o'clock and the teachers Milton Walton, J. H. Walston, Jack Kelly, T. C. Arnett, John Wells and Curtis Alcock are arranging for the tour and any farmer interested, is asked to see them.

Previously tours have been arranged to Cheatham county but with the adoption of the better methods in this county by several farmers, the tours have been selected on the basis of the advanced methods used.

Barns to be visited: Hazel Otho White, Jesse St. Jack Mayer, Leslie Ellis; near Lynn Grove, Gus Robertson, Charlie Williams, William Caldwell, near Kirksey, A. G. McCallion, O. L. Cain, and Paul Paschall.

Albert Chapman for Member of County Board of Education

Albert Chapman, prominent farmer of the Almo community, wishes to announce as a formal candidate for the Calloway County Board of Education in the coming November election.

Mr. Chapman was born and reared in Calloway county. He has always been interested in educational affairs. He served as a member of the board of local trustees for Almo High School for four years. He has also served as a rural trustee for eighteen years and has always been a cheerful giver and donated for the building of Murray College.

Mr. Chapman pledges, if elected, to safeguard the interest of all schools.

HUEY LONG CAREER ENDED BY BULLET

Louisiana Dictator, Unique Political
Careerist, Dies of Wound
Tuesday Morning.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 10.—The state that Huey P. Long ruled with a dictatorial hand prepared tonight to give him a state funeral and burial in the shadow of the monument Capitol he built, while a struggle began to determine whether the power he wielded is to be passed on.

The 42-year-old United States Senator, former Governor, "share the wealth" advocate and potential Presidential candidate, died early today, the victim of an assassin's bullet.

His Lieutenant's Groping

Stunned by the suddenness of his passing, his lieutenant sought to keep together the amazing political machine he created and directed single-handed.

But a cry arose from those who had opposed him for repeal of the state dictatorship.

Governor O. K. Allen, white-haired, trusted lieutenant of the assassinated leader, and a former Sunday School teacher, was the man who sought to take over control. He declared "We will carry on," but whether he would be able to do it with anything like the success of Senator Long was the question in the minds of friends and foes alike.

His Assassin Slain

His assassin, a 30-year-old man who was known to oppose bitterly but passively Senator Long's policies, was slain on the spot by bodyguards of the Senator.

Control of Long's empire was in confusion as his lieutenants sought to solidify their ranks and preserve the power they inherited. Long's death came at 4:06 a. m. Central Standard Time. His immediate family and political associates surrounded his bedside.

WE THANK YOU!

We thank each and every voter and especially the great army of volunteer workers who gave their time and support to the campaign of Lieutenant Governor A. E. "Happy" Chandler, in the two elections just passed.

We also want to thank the Rhea supporters, especially the leaders and workers for Mr. Rhea, for their kindness and nice treatment to us during the campaign.

We believe that Mr. Chandler will make as good, if not the best, Governor Kentucky ever had. We appeal to all voters and especially the Democrats to get together and win a great victory in November.

E. C. K. Robertson, Chairman.
W. E. Wyatt, Secretary.

Poor Attendance Is Death to Softball

Poor attendance at the double-header play-off Tuesday night between the Millers and the Sunburst Milkmen led officials of the league to call off the series and declare softball over for the year in Murray. Only $4.10 was taken in at the gate as the two clubs split even.

Softball has been a disappointment here all season. The league struck bad weather at the beginning of the year and never has attendance approached the peak that it did last season.

Though cancellation of the play-off determines no champion officially, the palm is generally conceded to the Millers who led the league both halves and proved themselves the strongest squad in the circuit both offensively and defensively. Large crowds were attracted at several special games during the season.

UNIVERSITY FIRST IN PRODUCTION OF MURRAY TEACHERS

24 Universities, 7 Colleges, 2 Conservatories Are Represented

11 DOCTORS, 48 MASTERS, 12 BACHELORS INCLUDED

By James Bogle

Twenty-four universities, seven colleges, and two conservatories, representing 17 states, are donors to the faculty of Murray State College. Included in this group of 71 professors are 10 Ph. D.'s, 11 M. D., 48 masters, and 12 bachelor degree winners. The University of Kentucky has the largest representation with 13 graduates teaching in Murray State.

It is followed in order by Peabody with 11; Columbia University and the University of Indiana with 6 each; University of Illinois, Uni-

Commerce Department of College Growing

"I am expecting a large enrollment for the coming fall semester," said Prof. Fred Gingles, head of the commerce department of Murray State College in an interview with a College News reporter. Mr. Gingles teaches accounting and typing.

The new commerce department at Murray trains young teachers to teach commercial work in the high schools and also gives the fundamentals of business. Mr. Gingles received his B. S. degree from Murray College, his M. A. degree from the University of Texas, and has done graduate work at the University of Texas. He has taught for three years in Texas, two years in Mississippi, and five years in Kentucky.

University of Chicago, and Vanderbilt University with three each; University of Cincinnati and the University of Texas are donors of two each; while New York University, University of Tennessee, Syracuse University, University of Florida, University of Kansas, University of Wisconsin, University of California, Ohio State University, Tulane University, Southern Normal University, University of North Carolina, University of Colorado, Harvard University, University of Iowa, Cornell University, Iowa State College, Oakland City College, McKendree College, Murray State College, Kansas State Agriculture College, National Teacher's Normal and Business College, Bush Conservatory of Music (now a part of the American School of Music), and the Eastman School of Music are represented at Murray by one professor each.

The 17 states from which M. S. C. profits secured their final degree are: Tennessee 17, Kentucky 15, New York 8, Illinois 8, Indiana 5, Ohio 3, Iowa 2, Texas 2, California 2, Kansas 2, and Florida, Louisiana, North Carolina, Colorado, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Massachusetts one each. Eight of the present faculty members secured their initial or bachelor's degree from Murray State College. They are: Miss Mayrell Johnson and Prof. Forrest C. Pogue, Jr., of the social science department; Prof. John

MINERAL CONCERN BEGINS OPERATION

First Sale of Product Developed by Company's Chemist Made Last Week

The first shipment of "Wekym", a Fuller's Earth product developed here by the West Kentucky Mineral Company on its property adjacent to the Murray College campus, will be made to a Louisville drycleaning firm tomorrow, Joe Davis, Nashville, Tenn., sales manager for the minerals company announced today.

"The product, which we call 'Wekym' for want of a better name, is used in the drycleaning industry," Mr. Davis explained. The product is designed, he said, to remove the impurities that collect in drycleaning fluids. Composed of a number of elements, including the Fuller's Earth which is being mined here, "Wekym" was developed by the company's chemist, E. C. Hoeman, graduate of the Missouri School of Mines, Rolla, Mo. Mr. Koeman carried out his experiments in the Murray College chemical laboratories.

The West Kentucky Mineral Company is capitalized at $60,000 and has as its president, Will Harris, Nashville, Tenn., formerly of Calloway County, Charles Bradley, Murray, is vice-president.

Machinery for the Fuller's Earth plant has been installed and work is now under way. Mr. Davis said. Machinery used in the process includes equipment for mining, drying, grinding, perizing, conveying, and bagging the product. Fuller's Earth is primarily used by oil refiners in bleaching oil, gasoline, etc. It is believed that this is the only Fuller's Earth mine and factory in Kentucky.

Tests made of the product, according to Davis, reveal that it ranks with the best grades of Fuller's Earth now being used throughout the United States. He said he expected production to be up to full capacity by December.

Murray Chamber of Commerce Finds Outlook in This County Excellent

By L. J. HORTIN

"Better times are ahead for Murray and Calloway County."

This was the opinion expressed by the majority of business men and county leaders of this community in a survey made by the Murray Chamber of Commerce today.

Reasons given for the optimistic outlook included: Improved crop prospects following good rains last week; indications for continued activities by the TVA in locating a huge hydro-electric dam on the Tennessee River near here; increased activity in the city; better prices and increased retail sales; activities of the PWA workers; remarkable growth and expansion of Murray State College; operations of oil prospectors in this and adjoining counties; opening of a clay mine; road and street improvements; increased bank deposits.

Although Calloway's crop acreage is greatly reduced this year, the general condition of tobacco, corn, cotton, hay, and pasture is good. Heavy showers last week have brought a marked improvement in these crops which had begun to suffer from drought and intense heat.

Drillers, surveyors, and engineers are in the area to determine the most feasible site for the $400,000, 6000 Aurora dam, proposed by the Tennessee Valley Authority. Widespread economic benefit is expected to result from this development. New homes and buildings are being constructed in this city. Practically every home and office building is occupied. The new college stadium is practically completed.

The city is installing a new sewerage and disposal system, secured through a PWA grant and loan of $100,000. A new project involving an expenditure of about $60,000 has been set up and will probably be approved soon.

Murray State College, a $1,500,000 state institution, is enjoying a period of extraordinary growth and expansion. The summer enrollment was over 30 per cent higher than that of a year ago. The graduating class for 1935, approximately 150 in number—is the largest in the 12-year history of the college. The field workers are predicting that the fall enrollment will be well over 4000. A new commerce department, a new stadium, increased faculty and facilities, and an enlarged campus have contributed to the growth of the institution.

Co-existent with the drilling of a test oil well in Trig County near here by Tulsa prospectors, leases are being secured in Calloway for the drilling of a similar hole in this section soon.

Incorporated at $60,000, the West Kentucky Mineral Company has installed machinery preparatory to the opening of a clay mine at the edge of the city limits next week. Fuller's earth, a bleaching clay having ready market with oil refiners, has been found on the company's property. Ochre, used as a base for linoleum, has also been discovered here.

High-type roads are being constructed in the county, and Murray, for the first time in history, has four hard-surfaced roads leading through the four respective sections of the county. Plans are under way to secure a national memorial park, to be located near the college campus, in honor of Nathan Stubbelfield, Calloway radio pioneer.

PINE BLUFF NINE HAS WON 14, LOST 3

Coach Eldridge's Club Has Seven Consistent Wins, Recorded Team's Batting Average .321.

Otis Eldridge's Pine Bluff nine continued its victorious march on Labor Day by defeating Liberty 9-7 and shutting out Edge Hill 5-0 and making it 7 consecutive wins with a season's total of 14 victories and 3 losses.

Coldwater was scheduled for the third tilt on the holiday but failed to appear by playing time. Scores by innings follow:

Liberty	1 0 1 1 0 0 3 1 0 10
Pine Bluff	0 0 0 0 3 1 3 2 0 16
Batteries:	Liberty, E. Thompson and H. Thompson; Pine Bluff, C. Salyer and Elkins.

Edge Hill	1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 0
Batteries:	Edge Hill, Brown and Clark; Pine Bluff, Willoughby and Melton.

In an exhibition game at Coldwater September 8, Pine Bluff topped Coldwater 7-6. Willoughby and Boatwright tossed for the Bluff. Boatwright has recently returned to the Eldridge outfit and was gladly received by his team-mates. Boatwright has been an ace hurler for the East Siders for the past few years and possesses a mean curve ball that has proved to be very baffling to his opponents. The Coldwater nine is just getting under way and will meet Pine Bluff on the bluff diamond September 22.

Pine Bluff has met and defeated the strong Murray CCC outfit and a return engagement will be played at an early date. Manager Eldridge announces his club will go to Edge Hill September 14 and will journey to Liberty September 21.

As One Strong Institution to Another---

We Extend Greetings to Murray State College

It is not in a mere obligation of custom or sense of mere tradition that the Bank of Murray extends a cordial greeting and hearty welcome to the Murray State Teachers College, its new president; its administrative force, its faculty, and last, but not least, its student body as this grand institution of ours begins its 13th year of service to the people of Western Kentucky.

But it is because we have a genuine appreciation of the vital service rendered to the young women and young men of this section that we have always been glad to co-operate with Murray State College in every way to insure its progress.

We invite the acquaintance of every one connected with the College. We are glad to serve any student, any faculty member, any member of the staff whenever they require the services of a bank with as complete and modern service as banks in cities many times the size of Murray.

Federal Deposit Insurance is now made permanent. The Bank of Murray has been a member since the very beginning, being one of the first to receive its certificate. Yet this bank is operated on just as sound and conservative grounds as if there were no federal deposit insurance.

ATTENTION, LEGIONNAIRES, PLANNING TO ATTEND THE NATIONAL CONVENTION

Legionnaires of Calloway County are planning to attend the St. Louis national convention, September 22-28, are urged to register with Charles B. Grogan at the city clerk's office on the South side of the court square, at once.

The aim of the registration is not only to get a list of all those attending but also to assist everyone to make up cars to attend the convention. In many instances, men planning to go do not know just who is and when and such information will enable them to plan their trip.

Kentucky headquarters at the convention will be at the Claridge Hotel, 18th and Locust streets. The route to this hotel is turn right off the free bridge into St. Louis, which is on Seventh street, turn left onto Locust which leads to the Claridge, 11 blocks west. All members of the Murray Post are urged to proceed first to the Claridge and register for the convention. Legionnaires wearing registration badges will find many entertainments free and lower prices where charges are made.

It is expected that approximately 50 members of Murray Post will attend the convention.

Battle Summer

The campaign conducted last spring for the Adjusted Compensation Bill, and the even more bitter struggle of two years ago centering about the Economy Bill, allowed several large metropolitan newspapers to make an interesting discovery. America, these newspapers announced, had done practically nothing during the war—nothing that is so far as actual fighting was concerned.

Now this belittling of America's combat effort was not wholly correct, though it was in large part, a deliberate effort to discredit America's accomplishment as a belligerent—and to discredit The American Legion in its efforts for belated justice to the World War veteran. A lot of it was an unconscious reaction to a lot of editorial comment that ran as hog-wild in the other direction in the years immediately following the war. It was the time when nothing—no little thing at all—was too good for the boys. (It was not the "boys" themselves who invented that boy idea.) America had won the war—the newspapers all said so. The soldier and the sailor never said so. The armed forces were never willing to view their share in all soldier humility.

There were various factors that went into the winning of the war, and to determine which of those factors was the true factor of victory is like attempting to determine which one of twelve eggs makes the dozen—the answer being that each egg does, and that the dozen is no dozen without any one of the twelve.

Well, just what did America do? Here are a few figures that are worth sticking in your hatband, just for the sake of the record. Of 2,004,000 American soldiers who reached France, 1,390,000 are entitled to wear at least one battle clasp above their Victory Medals.

During the final two months of hostilities the American Army held the longer extent of the Western Front than the British forces in France. At the most critical part of the fight that put an end to the fighting America held almost a quarter of the Western battle-line.

More than three times as many Americans fought at Saint Mihiel as had ever before been comprised in a single American army. The Army of the Potomac, before Petersburg (1864-65) under Grant totaled 185,000—the largest previous concentration of American manpower in battle.

If the Battle of the Meuse-Argonne had been fought before August 1914, it would have been, in point of number of effectives engaged, the greatest battle up to that time in the world's history. It remains, of course, the biggest battle ever fought by Americans, 1,200,000 of whom participated. Some 137,000 men, North and South, were engaged at Gettysburg.

Battle deaths among American troops (killed in action and died of wounds) totaled 50,280. Deaths from all causes in the armed forces—at home and abroad, Army, Navy and Marine Corps—approximated 125,500. Battle wounded (exclusive of died of wounds) exceeded 255,000.

Particularly malicious has been the hostile editorial comment which has sought to play down the importance of American effort in the war by concentrating its fire on the veteran who, through no fault of his own, was denied the privilege of serving overseas. There is no question that a deliberate effort has been made to drive a wedge into the ranks of organized veterans in attempting to create a distinction between the men who went and the men who were only too eager to go. National Commanders of The American Legion are chosen by men who served at home and by men who comment this summer on the fact that every day now is the anniversary of some nameless French village—desperately won, some tangle of woodland regained, some shell-swept meadow wrested from a brave and stubborn enemy—by Americans. The fact will be noted at outfit reunions, at Legion department conventions, at the Seventeenth National Convention of The American Legion at St. Louis, which will adjourn, by the way, on the seventeenth anniversary of the opening of the Battle of the Meuse-Argonne. And it will be noted, as day succeeds day, by individual veterans up and down the land who recall a flaming moment that took a buddy at their side and added a white cross to the serried rows that will stand forever as a sign unto men that this must never be again.

All of which is worth remembering—and worth telling the world once in a while.

Particularly malicious has been the hostile editorial comment which has sought to play down the importance of American effort in the war by concentrating its fire on the veteran who, through no fault of his own, was denied the privilege of serving overseas. There is no question that a deliberate effort has been made to drive a wedge into the ranks of organized veterans in attempting to create a distinction between the men who went and the men who were only too eager to go. For the benefit of writers of future editorial comment on the American Legion the following data is offered: To date The American Legion has had 30 National Commanders. Eighteen of these served in the Army and two in the Navy. Sixteen were in the A.E.F. and four were not. Thirteen saw battle service and seven did not. The record doesn't sound particularly damaging.

Plans were discussed for attending the American national convention in St. Louis September 22-28. Approximately 50 members of the Murray Post are expected to attend the convention.

The post passed a resolution expressing its wishes to be voted on the convention floor by the district delegate, A. W. Jones, Princeton. George S. Hart, district commander of the Legion, is alternate delegate to the national convention.

The post will have a program with "outs" the first Thursday night in October. At that time the membership drive will be started. The post anticipates beating its mark of 215 members this year.

Tribute To The Late Ed Morrow

Since the death of Edwin P. Morrow, former Governor of Kentucky and "Howdy Ed" to all his friends, the praises of people from all walks of life have been poured on his head. Democrats and Republicans alike have honored him and his memory.

There have been many tributes to him. Of these the most touching is contained in a letter from A. O. Stanley, former Kentucky Governor and United States Senator, to Judge Charles Kerr at Washington.

"My Dear Judge:

"In your 'Lament of an Absentee'—so kindly enclosed—you have written more than a 'jingle,' and I am touched by every true and beautiful line of it, as I am sure was our dear departed friend, Ed Morrow.

"I have often thought that no two men—except more thoroughly agreed or more radically differed than did we.

"As to Old Kentucky, we were of one mind; both suffered the same acute homesickness for the land we loved; both were quite sure there was no other such place this side of the Elysian fields, and neither of us having been there we were not too sure about that. We were equally certain that the best people in the world inhabited the fairest land on earth. Being agreed upon this, it mattered not so much how we might differ about other things.

"I doubt if in the history of Kentucky any two men were ever pitted, literally pitted, one against the other and for so long a time. For two decades a joint debate between us attracted a crowd eager as the spectators about a prize ring. You know I loved to fight Ed Morrow, loved to fight him almost as much as I loved to love him. Deep, sincere and abiding as was our friendship, standing as it did the severest tests, it never caused either of us to pull a punch. We never fought a sham battle. He was as ambitious as Julius Caesar and the most doughty warrior his party has produced in three generations, but he was a gentleman, without fear and without reproach, and as knightly as Sidney. He did not know how to hit under the belt. He simply could not do a little or a mean thing. Magnanimity was as instinctive as candor or courage or a wealth of devotion to his friends.

"During the last ten years of my political life I often felt that I never needed defensive armor except, below the belt. At a time when personalities were the fashion, when means intended and personal allusions took the place of argument, it was a relief, a positive delight to enter the lists with a knightly adversary who, skillful and dangerous as he was in political combat, still preserved at all times.

"High erected thoughts Seated in the heart of courtesy."

"It is impossible that Ed could have been anything else than a Republican. His father, as able and upright a judge as ever adorned the bench was, as you know, one of the founders of the party. The dearest of his family traditions are an integral part of the proudest history of his party in Kentucky. He was what he was, as inevitably as I am what I am—the son of a rebel officer and a Jeffersonian Democrat. What to me was a political heresy was to him the law and Gospel. We both fought, from profound conviction for what we eternally and everlastingly believed. This may and often did make the fight only the fiercer but it inspired in each a respect for his adversary.

"This beloved and lovable, this rare and radiant spirit will long be missed, not alone as the able and accomplished party leader but as a winsome and typical Kentuckian, able and eloquent and beloved because of his fine capacity to love."

Last forty-five minutes will be devoted to a very important business meeting. Every member of the church, young and old, is urged to be present. The future welfare of our church depends upon this meeting. The service will close promptly at 12:00 o'clock.

Young people will meet at 6:30 p. m. Sunday to re-organize the Christian Endeavor groups. It is suggested that we have three groups—one of the ages 10 to 15, one of those 14 to 17, and one of those 18 years old and up. Prayer meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock.

"ALL ALWAYS WELCOME"

E. B. Motley, Pastor

A Young Man Said:

SOME TIME AGO several young men were talking about high prices. One of them said:

"A dollar is worth only 39 cents now-a-days. I can't see why the bankers are telling us to save it—it's not worth saving. Just as well blow it in at once and be done with it."

An older man listened to this talk for a few minutes and said:

"Boys, I want to remind you that money is worth as much now as it ever was if you SAVE it. It is CHEAP only as you spend it while prices are high."

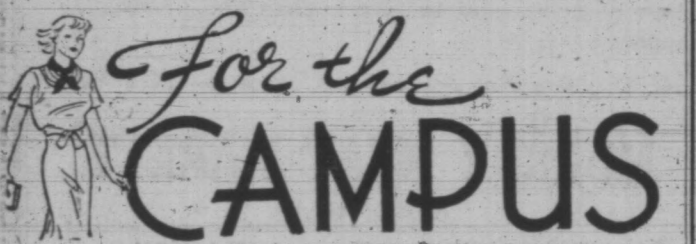

Your banker urges you to save all you can now because he knows prices will not always be so high. He knows that your money in the bank will GROW LARGER all the time and that some day you will be ready to handle important business matters for yourself.

You will never regret saving.

There's lots of room in the FORD V-8

EVERY ONE who steps into the Ford V-8 for the first time is surprised at its roominess. There's exceptional seat room, leg room and head room in all body types—the whole car gives you a feeling of substantial size.

The Ford gives you extra body room because of the compact design of the V-8 engine—an exclusive Ford feature at a low price. This V-8 engine takes up less space in the hood and permits more of the car's length to be used for passenger comfort. Many a car selling at a higher price does not give you as much interior room as the Ford V-8.

Rear seats are wide and restful... three people can ride comfortably in the front seat of the Fordor Sedan, Fordor Touring Sedan, Convertible Sedan and Phaeton, and in the Coupes and Roadster. The seat of the Ford V-8 Roadster is 52 inches wide. A ride in the Ford V-8 will show that it combines unusual body room with fine-car performance, safety and comfort.

2 Main Bouts On Wrestling Card

Two main bouts with no time limit will be featured in the wrestling card at the Fifth street Arena Friday night. Both bouts with 2 out of three falls will feature well known grapplers to Murray fans.

In the first bout Roy Welch will meet Karl Von Rittenberg. Many have hoped for this bout as both are somewhat of the same style wrestler and many want to see Rittenberg take the count. Welch has been one of the most capable grapplers on the Murray mat and Rittenberg has come through to win his matches here.

The Black Dragon, winner of the wrestling carnival last week, will meet George McDonald. The pair is well matched Manager Stinson states and a second feature bout is expected.

Faxon Hi News

Faxon was greatly delighted with the opening exercises of which the Rev. J. H. Thurman was in charge. He made a very interesting talk from Proverbs to the large audience of patrons and students. We were much pleased to see such a large number of people who seemed to be interested in our school. The school is looking forward to a successful school year with an enrollment of 86 in the junior-senior high school.

First and Second Grades

The first and second grades have enrolled 42 students. We have our new books and are ready to begin work in earnest. The first-grade is working on a toy store and the second grade is working out a Japanese project.

Miss Jones' and Miss Swann's rooms did not prepare any news for the first week but intend to furnish an abundance of news the remainder of the school year.

Miss Folwell's junior-senior English class are taking on them, as they did last year, the responsibility of preparing the news each week.

We had as our visitors this week Miss Ruth Farham and two of our former students Keys Wells and Hafton Tut.

The arrangements with the American Scenic Company for a new stage outfit has been completed, and we hope to have the work finished by October 1. Watch for the dedication of the stage which will be immediately after its completion.

Mrs. Smallwood, who with her husband represents the Scenic Company, passed quite a complimentary on our campus. She has traveled in seven states, and she said Faxon had the most beautiful and well kept campus of most any county high school.

In the near future we plan to have a pie supper, so be preparing to eat lots of pie.

The boys have organized a softball team. They played Kirksey at Kirksey September 6. The game was a well fought and good game. Kirksey won with a score of 6-4. They are planning to go to Hazel September 13.

Miss Edith Winchester has organized several large groups of women in her home arts and crafts courses. The group that meets near the school building is composed of 20 enthusiastic members. When the groups are further organized they will report regularly to the school publicity committee.

Flint School News

The county health nurse visited our school last Thursday to give the last typhoid shots. She also gave the diphtheria test and small-pox vaccination.

We gave an ice cream supper August 30. Although it was cool, we had a large crowd and every one enjoyed themselves. We are going to purchase some basketball backboards with the money we made on the supper.

Clarence Creason has been absent from school with a badly infected foot caused by a horse stepping on his foot. We are hoping he will soon be able to return to school.

Many of the larger boys and girls started to school at Almo Monday, September 2.

Every one is working hard trying to bring their attendance and grade records up in an effort to attain the honor roll. Those making A's or B's who are neither absent nor tardy are eligible.

Those of the honor roll are as follows:

First Grade—Joe Rogers, Joe Camp, Lenard Manning, Jimmie McDermott, Joan Camp, and Mary Wilma Jones.

Second Grade—Lois Catherine Sulter and Billie Prince.

Third Grade—Ray Sulter, Edell Hale, Lue Nell Hale, Charline Linn, Mary Sue Rose, Bobbie Nell Rogers and Acree McDermott.

Fourth Grade—Willie Dunn Prince, Katie Rose Linn and Helen Camp.

Sixth Grade—Kathlene Creason, Pauline Hale, Annie Sulter, Clara Sulter and Lucille McDermott.

Eighth Grade—Neil Sulter.

Wasted Life

Sad this life if only wasted. Toils and time and talent. Sweeter joys gone by untaken. Its paltry pleasures counted most.

To its truer treasures blind. The too late they may apply. Sad at last to be reminded. Life is left forlorn and bare.

The greater goals were once before us. Tho hid away from faith and love. Did sweet incentives of impure us.

To keep our eyes on things above.

Pure waters flowing in their courses. Held not to tell where they have been. But needless failures bring remorse. And now back to it might have been.

As desert daisies bloom but smother. Rarely pass the days of Spring. A blighted life has helped no other. And at its closes no truth bring.

But our sweeter joys once taken. Lead the mind into its best. No true heart beat ever wasted. That helps the soul into its rest.

Pays to catch the golden moment. Every phase of life improve. Keeping all our gifts or talents. Centered on the things above.

Grogan for Speaker

Even before the general election, which cannot prevent Democrats having control of the 1936 Kentucky General Assembly, there is considerable talk around the state for Ben Grogan, representative from Calloway county, as the speaker of the house. The fact that the oncoming will be Mr. Grogan's Kentucky Democracy could better than to select him for the position of utmost importance successful conduct of the state's business. For though as a seat as a member of the for the first time, Mr. Grogan is no stranger in legislative or any novice at the intricacies of successfully guiding a citizen interested in the of Kentucky, in which he is generally well informed. Mr. Grogan has attended more sessions of the general assembly than most of Kentucky since he attended more for Mr. Grogan has been present some time

The Students Return

One thing that never grows old or tiresome with repetition is Murray's sincere and cordial welcome to the students who come in our community to attend Murray State College. Rather than welcome become warmer the longer the College is here to serve all Western Kentucky.

That a great majority of the students who come here become deeply and sincerely attached to the school and the community is indicated by the reluctance with which they close their school careers here, either in graduation or other circumstances that do not permit them to finish. Many of them shed sincere tears of sadness when their days at Murray State College come to a close.

There is a particular advantage in having a public institution of higher learning located in not too large a city. Not only are students saved contact with some of the more serious temptations that assail them in a large city, but they are able to establish closer personal contact with the community. After all, there is much more in attending school than merely learning what is printed within the backs of the various text books.

Murray is a friendly, hospitable community and students coming here for the first time quickly grasp the sincere and cordial welcoming spirit of Murray and immediately feel at home.

"So with all heart and all sincerity, we say,

"WELCOME, STUDENTS!"

JUST JOTS

By Joe

If we may venture to suggest, the winners should take a "malice toward none, charity toward all" attitude toward the losers in Saturday's primary. There's no reason why Mr. Chandler shouldn't win in November unless his exuberant followers drive too many supporters away from the polls by razzing and abuse.

Considerable strength was added to the ticket when the Democrats nominated Ketch Johnson, Richmond, for Lieutenant-Governor. Mr. Johnson pledged during the primary that he would co-operate with whoever was elected Governor and the people can depend on that he will do just that.

Another good man who came through was Ernest Shannon, Louisville, Ky., from the other end of the state. The party has a well-balanced ticket that should attract all true Democrats to the standard two months hence.

History shows that it is a difficult thing to repudiate the administration in the primary and win in November. It requires tolerance, tact and a willingness to let bygones be bygones. Beckham's administration was succeeded by the Republicans; Stanley went in after McCreary by only 415 votes; and Beckham was defeated after beating the administration candidate in 1927.

Stanley's accession to the Governor's chair vacated by McCreary is the only instance since the turn of the century that the administration has been endorsed. And that speaks for both parties. Beckham came after Bradley; Wilson, Republican, succeeded Beckham; McCreary, Democrat, followed Wilson; then the sole exception of Stanley's narrow margin in 1915 and the deluge by which the late lamented Edd Morrow swamped the administration's man Black in 1919. The past sixteen years are too recent to require comment but the Republicans and Democrats have alternated like jumping in a checker game.

What the future holds depends on Mr. Chandler and his principal backers. If "Happy" can perform what he has led us to believe he will and can, more power and glory to him. A wonderful opportunity has knocked at his door. We hope he will accept it. But the path is filled with traps and pitfalls and thorns hang overhead.

His success will depend on his ability, courage and integrity. It's a big job to be Governor of a state. That's why so many men, some of them gifted, have failed miserably at it.

Personally, I carry no election sores. I have been beaten worse than this. I don't feel in the slightest disgraced. I conducted as good a fight as I could with the weapons that I believe to be honest and fair in politics and I have no apology to make anyone for having supported Mr. Rhea.

I believe his nomination and election meant more to Calloway county than the other outcome. If I am proved to be wrong about it, I will be first to admit it.

So far as I am concerned, the primary is over. There's no need for me to make any explanations. My friends don't need it and my enemies won't believe it and what the latter think or say concerns me not in the slightest for my own conscience is clear and that's all I care about.

The beans B. L. Knight has grown in his garden near Providence this summer must be the same variety that Jack-in-the-Beanstalk used.

George Bingham, Mayfield humorist, was a good friend of "Uncle Charlie" Dale's, who retired from business here about two years ago after more than 50 years of fitting prescriptions and otherwise serving the people of Calloway county. One day, George dropped in to see Mr. Dale on one of his rare visits to Murray and asked the venerable druggist how long he had been in business here. "Fifty-two years," replied Mr. Dale. "Think you'll like it?" George blandly inquired.

Halle Selassie needed oil on the troubled waters instead of from half his kingdom.

A socialist is a fellow who thinks he has less than the average wealth of the country.

The Russian Bear is angry because Uncle Sam won't give him unlimited credits and eternity to pay them and the spat over the back yard fence is now on.

The fellow who can kick, run and pass is always welcomed to the college campus. On the contrary the fellow who kicks about everything, runs from his obligations and passes the buck is a complete bust in life.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," the Kingfish found out last Sunday afternoon. It isn't even necessary now for a prisoner to say to the Governor, "I beg your pardon."

The ways of politics are strange, dark and devious. Who would ever have thought that the day would come in Kentucky that Beckham and Johnson and Blair and John Young Brown would lay down in the same bed?

A part of the Northwest quarter of section six (6), township two (2), range four (4) east. Beginning at the Southeast corner of the Stone, commencing with the line north one hundred (100) poles to J. N. Cavitt land; thence west eighty (80) poles three (3) links; thence south one hundred (100) poles; thence east with the south line of said quarter section eighty (80) poles and three (3) links to the beginning point, containing fifty (50) acres, and being the same land conveyed to Clemmie West by Oswell West by deed recorded in deed book 44, page 288 in Clerk's office of Calloway County Court.

For the purchase price the purchaser must execute bond with approved securities, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and

MASTER'S DEGREES AT COLLEGE URGED

College Newspaper Reports 95 Per Cent of Students Favor Move.

That Murray State College should offer a master's degree is the opinion expressed by 95 per cent of the students who were interviewed in a composite survey made by the College News reporters Wednesday, July 17.

Several faculty members also expressed their opinions in regard to such a movement. Dr. G. Turner Hicks, head of the education department, stated that with the addition of some books to the library, Murray State College would be adequately equipped to give a master's degree in education.

There are three Ph. D. degrees in this department: Dr. G. Turner Hicks, Dr. Frances Ross Hicks, and Dr. George DeForest. According to Dr. G. Turner Hicks the library building is so constructed that the unused upper rooms could be used very nicely for graduate work.

Dr. Alfred Wolfson, head of the biology department, declared that this degree is truly to be desired and would be a great thing for Murray State College in many respects, but he thought it would necessitate an increase in the faculty and more equipment in order to offer a master's degree in this department.

Ninety-five per cent of the students interviewed declared that they would like to have a master's degree, and that their chance of obtaining one would be much greater provided they could secure it from Murray State College.

Many students said they were preparing for a teaching career, and in order to do that five years college work are required for them to secure their life certificate. These students pointed out that work at Murray.

Would Increase Attendance
Some other reasons why Murray State College should issue a master's degree were pointed out as follows: The attendance would increase; a master's degree will probably be required of all high school teachers in the near future; Murray State College would be keeping in step with the advancement of education for the preparation of teachers.

The following statements were made by students advocating graduate work at Murray State College: "The enrollment at Murray State would certainly jump up, and the town, college, and students would all be benefited. I for one would take advantage of the opportunity," said A. N. Duke Jr. of Benton, Ky. "If Western Teachers College of Bowling Green can confer a master's degree, Murray State College should do the same, as Murray's standards are as high as Western's," stated Miss Pauline Carman of Mayfield, Ky.

"I hope Murray State College offers a master's degree by the time I am ready to begin graduate work," said Edward Freeman of Calvert City, Ky.

Lee Clark, manager of the college book store and former State representative from Calloway County stated that Murray State College should offer a master's degree because many graduates of this institution could secure graduate work at Murray who are unable to go elsewhere. It is Mr. Clark's opinion that alumni, students, and friends of the institution should boost Murray State and work to that great end.

B. L. Knight Grows Crop-Yard Long Beans

B. L. Knight, near Providence, has produced a fine yield of "yard-long" beans in his garden this year and was in Murray last Friday with some specimens which ran to 27 inches. At full maturity the strings are 27 to 32 inches long and Mr. Knight has several near 32 inches in his garden. The variety was brought to Mr. Knight last spring by his uncle, Tom Knight, from Utah where they are a favorite crop. They also make a good snap bean and are unexcelled for human food. The vines run 10 to 12 feet, Mr. Knight said, and on one stalk he counted 62 beans at least 18 inches long. At maturity, five of the strings often weigh a pound.

MURRAY CIRCUIT CONFERENCE TO MEET AT SULPHUR SPRING

The fourth Quarterly conference for the Murray Circuit will be held at Sulphur Spring Friday, September 10. The Rev. H. R. Taylor, P. E., will preach at 11 a. m. Business after lunch, which will be served at the close of the preaching service.

All officials are expected to be present, as all officials that have not already been elected will be elected for next conference year. Presidents of Women Missionary Societies, Church School Superintendents, Church Trustees, Parsonage Trustees, Chairman of Stewards, and all others who are to have written reports will kindly have them ready when called for. The charge has had a good year so far because of the cooperation of all. Let's bring it to a successful close by all working together as we have in the past.

The music department of Murray State College has seven instructors with each holding an A. M. degree. They are: Prof. Price Doyle, head of music department; Miss Marjorie Barton, piano; Prof. William H. Fox, violin and band director; Prof. Franklin P. Inglis, wind instruments; Prof. Arthur T. Meyer, critic teacher; Prof. Leslie R. Putnam, voice; Prof. Warren M. Angell, piano, voice, and theory.

Murray State College has within the past two years so increased the importance of its music department that now it is one of the best throughout the South.
