Local Red Cross Fund Drive Launched At Breakfast Today

By M. C. Garrett

Seventy-three volunteer workers were on hand at the Holiday Inn this morning for breakfast as the 1974 Murray and Calloway County Red Cross fund campaign was launched with a goal of $10,000.

Holmes Ellis, the campaign chairman and president of the local Red Cross chapter, announced to the workers that $2,600 already had been contributed toward the 1974 goal.

Of this, he said, $1,000 had been received or pledged by the local banks and "a few businesses," while $2,600 had been received or pledged by several of the local industries being contacted by Robert Moyer, the advanced gifts co-chairman.

"We must get some kind of contribution from every person contacted," Moyer told the volunteers, who received their solicitor packets during the meeting. "If we can get everyone contacted to contribute something, we will see our campaign succeed."

Every effort will be made to complete the fund drive within the next two weeks, Ellis told the workers, and urged that contacts be made and reports made to team captains by March 8. The following week of March 10-16 will be "used for cleanup," he said.

County Attorney Sid Easley, the campaign's city coordinator, told the volunteers that in making their contacts they will be "asking for the best in people" and "to be proud of what you are doing," citing many of the services provided by the Red Cross in the local area as well as across the nation.

Mrs. Jean Blankenship, the local Red Cross director, expressed gratitude on behalf of the local organization for the workers' willingness to participate. (See Red Cross, Page 14)

Jeffrey Reviews Middle School For School Board

Robert Glen Jeffrey, principal of the Murray Middle School, reviewed the program and staff of the school at the meeting of the Murray Board of Education held Thursday at 5:15 p.m. at the office of Supt. Fred Schultz.

Jeffrey said the recommendation of the visiting committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools were being studied and recommendations would be carried out as funds are available.

The principal discussed the Middle School Intramural and Athletic program, and reviewed the cooperative program for the fifth grade of 55 students and two teachers proposed to individual instruction in a somewhat different way. Jeffrey said the evaluation to date of this year program was very encouraging and he recommended it be continued next year.

Jeffrey discussed other programs at his school, and in closing said his staff had been very cooperative and probably the Murray Middle School had experienced its most successful year in its three year history. Supt. Schultz reported the evaluation of the pilot kindergarten program inaugurated this year as given by Don Bale, assistant superintendent for instruction. Bale told Schultz the governor's budget is approved.

The board approved the employment of Architect Paul M. Gingles for the purpose of designing and planning the renovation of two rest rooms on the second floor of the Murray Middle School.

Board Member Maurice Ryan reported on a meeting held with Mayor John Ed Scott, gas committee and officials, and board members concerning the billing for natural gas services which were in effect from October 1968 to July 1973. Under the terms of this agreement the board would convert its heating equipment to natural gas as rapidly as feasible and in turn the board would receive the large industrial rate based upon a single billing. This agreement was terminated on July 1, 1973, and the committee is meeting to explore ways to reduce the billing from eleven separate meters to five or six meters.

School attendance figures for the month of February were received. A high of 93 per cent and a low of 81 per cent attendance for the month was reported. The average attendance for the month was 88 per cent.

The board authorized Supt. Schultz to join others in this region to request the State Board of Education to give some relief to those districts severely affected by high absenteeism due to the flu epidemic and hazardous driving conditions.

Present for the meeting were board members C. C. Lowry, chairman, Perry Johnson, Will Ed Stokes, and Maurice Ryan. Don Henry, board member, was absent.

Science Curriculum For Middle School Approved For Calloway

The Board of Directors of ESEA Title III has notified William B. Miller, Superintendent of Calloway County Schools, that its program, "A Unit Approach to the Middle School Science Curriculum With Emphasis on Environmental Education," has been approved.

The Calloway County Board of Education is anxious to have developed a middle school science program which will respond to the present needs of our students," Superintendent Miller said. The program will involve all middle school students in each of the three new school facilities which are now under construction.

Three science teachers from each of the three schools will participate in this workshop. In this program they will develop unit objectives, select materials appropriate to the objectives, and develop a means of evaluation.

Edward Curd, General Supervisor, indicates that this should be a most worthwhile project for our Junior High Science Teachers, Miller said.

Senate Committee Approves No-Fault Insurance Measure

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A no fault auto insurance bill that would require all Kentucky motorists to purchase liability insurance was approved by a Senate committee Thursday and sent to the floor.

The bill is substantially the same as House Bill 314, approved last week by the House Banking and Insurance Committee.

A Senate committee substitute was approved for SB 102, deleting the mandatory rate reduction of 15 per cent contained in the original bill.

Instead the insurance commissioner would be authorized to establish a rate reduction. After hearing testimony from actuaries on the costs of no fault, the bill's sponsors, Sen. Joe Stacy, D-West Liberty and Sen. Joe Graves, R-Lexington, said they expect premiums to decrease, but that legislating a specific reduction would be irresponsible.

The bill as approved by the House and Senate committees would require all motorists to obtain liability insurance, but would give them the option of choosing a no fault policy or standard coverage. A driver could purchase additional coverage under either plan.

If he chooses no fault he would be guaranteed up to $10,000 in personal injury payments from his own company, regardless of who was at fault. He could ask for additional coverage up to $40,000, but would waive his right to sue if medical expenses and lost wages to

Manning Named Chief Of Police By City Council

Joint Park Move Tabled, City To Meet With County

A proposal to accept an invitation from the Calloway County Fiscal Court asking the City of Murray to join with the court on the purchase and development of the Ryan property, north of town, as a joint recreation facility was tabled by the city council last night, pending a joint meeting between the two local governmental bodies.

Mrs. Jo Crass, chairman of the council's park and recreation committee, told the council that the committee and Mayor John Scott had met with members of the fiscal court recently and that the county had offered to allow the city to join with the county in the purchase and subsequent development of the Ryan property.

The county's offer was that the city and county split the purchase and development of the Ryan property on a 50-50 basis. The county court purchased the Ryan property late last year at a cost of $150,000. Mrs. Crass made the motion that the city join the county in the purchase and development of the property by purchasing one-half interest in the property for $75,000, using the $50,000 budgeted for land purchases in 1973 plus $24,000 from revenue sharing funds.

"I wish to emphasize," Mrs. Crass said, that the city of Murray has an opportunity to join in the development of a $639,745 recreational project for a nominal investment of funds.

Several councilmen and visitors at the meeting raised questions about the move, and criticized the Ryan property as not being suitable for park development for several reasons.

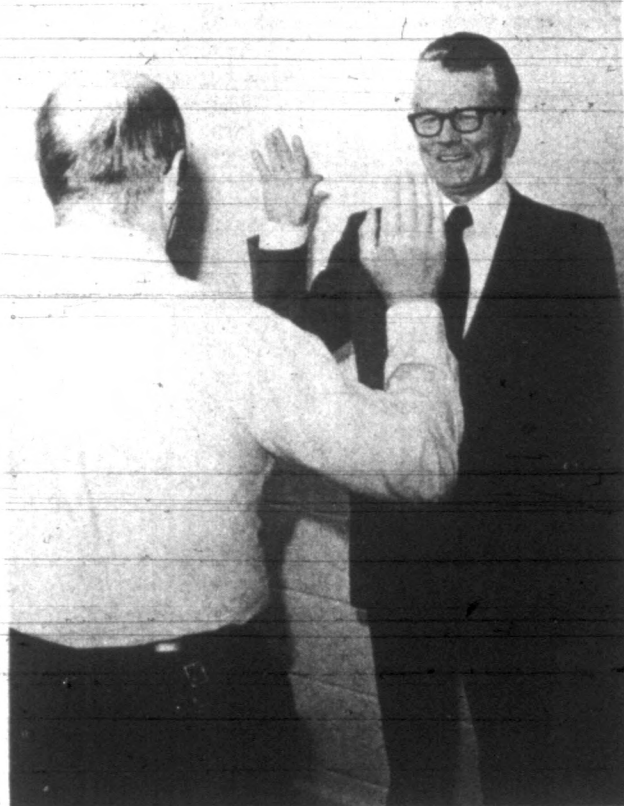

Bailey Gore, a visitor at the meeting and a member of the 12-member city-county committee that was appointed to study the park situation last year said he felt that "we are in need of more area in other areas of the city," referring to the present city park which is also on the north side of town.

The development of the Ryan property would be funded through a federal grant from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, Mrs. Crass said. The Fiscal Court has already made application for these funds and Mrs. Crass's motion stipulated that the application be revised to include the city.

The question was raised as to whether or not the grant money would have to be used only for the Ryan property or if it could be used for the purchase of any park site.

Court Opens Equipment Bids

The Calloway County Fiscal Court opened bids this morning on a new bulldozer and two new trucks for the county road department.

The court also set March 5 as the date for a joint city-county conference on the park issue. The meeting between the court and the City Council will be at 6:30 p.m. in the Circuit Courtroom.

Representatives of four companies were present today to speak on bids for the bulldozer, which ranged from $41,000 to $51,000 new.

Allied Machinery, bidding on a Komatsu dozer, was the apparent low bidder for outright purchase, but asked $32,642 difference between a new machine and the county's dozer, to be traded in.

Brandies Equipment bid $46,535 new, and $35,535 with trade. Wayne Supply, with Caterpillar equipment, bid $51,303 new, but did not submit a bid with trade.

Kentucky Machine Co., with Allis-Chalmers, bid $43,740 new and was the low bidder with trade at $31,740.

The magistrates highly favored the Caterpillar equipment, and was especially interested in a used dozer which is now being leased by the county from Wayne Supply. The squires decided to wait until Wayne could supply a bid considering the trade-in value of the county's old machine before awarding a bid.

Three bids were received on dump trucks, from Taylor Motors, Parker Ford, and Dwain Taylor. No action was taken on a purchase by the court.

Brent Manning, a former police chief for the City of Murray, was named to again assume that post in a unanimous action of the Murray City Council last night.

The vote to hire Manning came about following a motion that allowed each council member to nominate their choice for the position. Manning was the recommendation of the police committee according to committee chairman Ed Chrisman.

Seven councilmen voted in favor of Manning. They were Howard Koenen, Rex Alexander, Jo Crass, Ed Chrisman, Art Lee, Paul Mansfield and Melvin Henley. Five notes were cast in favor of Police Capt. Paul Jerry Lee. Voting for Lee were Tom Rushing, Phillip Tibbs, Dave Willis, Fred Workman, and W. R. Furches.

A motion was then made to hire Manning as the successor to James M. Brown, who retired February 1, and the council unanimously approved the measure.

Manning was a member of the police force from 1962 until December of 1968, serving the last three years on the force as police chief. He is a resident of 907 Pogue St. and has been engaged in the masonry contracting business with his only son, Mike, since leaving the force.

"I will do the best job that I possibly can," Manning said.

The council accepted the audits for the general fund and for the water system and authorized the purchase of two new police cruisers for the police department and mowers for the cemetery in other action.

Also approved by the city fathers was a resolution commending Robert Moyer for his service to the city on the Planning Commission for the past several years.

Ordinance number 592, permitting members of the police force to carry concealed deadly weapons anywhere in the state of Kentucky was narrowly approved on the first reading on a 7-5 vote. In favor of the ordinance were councilmen Lee, Mansfield, Rushing, Willis, Workman, Koenen and Chrisman. Opposed were councilmen Tibbs, Henley, Furches, Crass and Alexander.

March Membership Month For Mentally Retarded Association

By Fred T. Phillips
March of each year the Calloway County Association for Retarded Children solicits membership in the association and offers the general public the opportunity to participate in its financial support.

This opportunity is also used to keep the community informed on the major objectives and programs of the association which are:

To promote the general welfare of all mentally retarded, regardless of age, race or condition; to foster the development of programs and activities in their behalf.

To encourage research related to causes, treatment, and prevention of mental retardation.

To develop a better understanding of the mental problems by the general public. To cooperate with all public, private, religious agencies, and professional groups in the furtherance to these ends.

To associate with and support state and national associations in promoting the common cause.

To serve as a clearing house for gathering and giving out information regarding the mentally retarded.

To solicit, receive, and expend funds for the accomplishment of these objectives.

Need For Interest

There is a vital need to create a greater interest on the part of the general public to increase the membership in the association in order to provide (See Association, Page 14)

TEACHERS OF THE YEAR: A kiss on the cheek from Murray State University President Constantine W. Curris was among the congratulatory gestures received this week by Mrs. Julia Lovins after she and Miss Sue Brown, right, had been named the "women teachers of the year" at the university by the Women's Student Government Association. Mrs. Lovins is an assistant professor in the department of sociology and anthropology, while Miss Brown is an assistant professor of English.

Dear Abby

Reader upset over advice from Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Altho you are well paid for giving advice to others, I feel many times your advice is immature and meaningless. A woman writes that she lost her cherished letters and photo albums in a flood, and she asked your advice on how to get over it.

Your reply was asinine! You compared her loss to the death of your own parents. Has it ever occurred to you that she, too, might have lost her mother and father, or others dear to her, but their memories had been kept alive by those precious photographs?

Sometimes I think you are absolutely without heart or feeling.

DISGUSTED IN ARCADIA

DEAR DISGUSTED: I know that I am not "absolutely without heart" because mine ached a little when I read your letter. But another reader expressed quite a different reaction to the same letter. Here it is:

DEAR ABBY: How wise and timely (to me) was your reply to the lady who had lost her precious collection of pictures and letters she had saved over the years.

Several years ago, in moving, I lost many irreplaceable possessions just as that lady did, and I, too, was heartsick for a long while.

In January of 1973, my beloved daughter and adored grandsons (aged 4 and 9) were murdered in a senseless tragedy of mass murders here in Santa Cruz, Cal.

Now I know what heartbreak truly is. There is not a day or night that I do not sense my gentle ones' arms around me. I know that life will never be the same for me without them, but I keep trying to have faith.

I am blessed that my little mother, tho fragile and not well, is still alive.

Please, Dear Abby, continue to remind your readers that nothing material can be compared with our loved ones. Absolutely nothing! You may sign my name if you wish.

LILA R. FERRIS (Mrs. T.H.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 54-year-old widow. I lost my husband three years ago and live alone in a large, lovely home. My only child is married and she lives out of state.

I have been dating a widower [age 58] for about a year. He wants to marry me, but I am in no big hurry. Meanwhile, my daughter suggested that it is not "safe" for me to live alone, so I should contact the local college for a male student to share my home. He would have a bedroom to sleep and study in. No boarding or wandering around the home type of arrangement. No money involved. I'd give him the room in return for his giving me a feeling of security.

I told my gentleman friend about it, and he said, "No, No, No! A college student is a man... and I don't want another 'man' living there!" Then he suggested I run an ad for an older woman to live with me.

Abby, I don't think an older woman would offer any protection at all. Furthermore, I am insulted at the suggestion that anything could go on between me and a college youth.

If my friend doesn't have any more confidence in me than that I will never marry him. Or do you think I am wrong?

IOWA CITY READER

DEAR READER: I think your friend is very narrow-minded. You are wise not to rush into marriage with him. I agree. A college man would offer more protection than an older woman.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Test For Left-Handedness

A simple test for left-handedness has been devised by the 7-year-old son of a Springfield, Mass., physician. The test consists of stretching the parallel fingers of each hand to form one large V, with two fingers on each side of the V, according to a recent report in "Modern Medicine." The V will be larger on the left hand of a naturally right-handed person, and larger on the right hand of a left-handed person. If there is no difference between the two V's, the person is probably right-handed, said I.B. Syed, MD, who found his son's theory correct in 22 of 25 persons tested.

Tips To Save Energy. If each household cuts back on energy consumption five per cent that would be a savings equivalent to a supply of energy to 2½ million households. What can we as consumers do then? Keep the thermostat turned a little lower and close off unused areas. Install tight fitting storm windows or doors. Caulk around the old windows and door frames to insure a tighter fit—heat loss may be reduced by one-half. If garage is attached to the house, keep the garage door closed. Open draperies or roll up the shades in daytime where there is a sunny exposure to take advantage of solar heat. Use utensils that fit the range unit and don't forget to use tight-fitting lids when possible. Place the utensil on the range until before turning on the heat. Food will continue to cook three to five minutes after the electrical unit is turned off. Replace worn or damaged gaskets around refrigerator doors. Don't hand wash dishes before putting them in dishwasher. Wash full loads in the dishwasher to conserve hot water and operational costs. Use lower wattage bulbs where higher light levels are unnecessary. Fluorescent lighting is more efficient than incandescent lighting. The list is endless. We can begin to conserve energy when we became aware of the ways we have been wasting energy.—Mrs. Barletta Wrather, 209 Maple St., Murray.

Count Kilowatts To Save Energy Welfare Region One Meet Held At Paducah

Cooking is one of the biggest energy-users in the home, and with the energy shortage and increased electric rates homemakers may want to do a bit of conserving.

"Organize the use of your cooking appliances to save electricity," suggests LaVerne Farmer, associate professor, University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service. "If you have a small or very specialized cooking job, use a small appliance. Popcorn poppers are more efficient than heating up a heavy pan and popping corn on the range. A toaster — for two slices of toast — costs only one third as much as using the oven."

If you're cooking in larger quantities, your oven is probably more economical, points out the specialist.

"Instead of using the toaster six times to toast twelve pieces of bread, use the oven broiler and do them all at once," explains Miss Farmer. "Rather than making grilled cheese sandwiches two at a time in your frying pan, make open-faced cheese sandwiches under the broiler."

When you use your oven, prepare several dishes at once. The unit is hot anyway, and as long as the recipes require about the same temperature, you might just as well make use of the energy.

There are many ways to make more efficient use of resources, but it takes some thinking and planning on the part of the homemaker and other family members.

The executive committee of Region I, Kentucky Welfare Association, met at Greif's Restaurant in Paducah for a planning meeting.

The following members were present: Jack Johnson, president; Aritha LaVerne Carter, vice president; Delores Beardsley, secretary; Bert Fellows, treasurer; Corine Harker, representative of regional-state conference committee; Judy LeFevre, membership chairman; Vicki Quettermous, research-social action chairman; Tom Massie, legislative chairman, and Edna C. Glenn, publicity chairman.

Plans were made to appoint a membership officer in each county and make specific efforts to involve more lay people. A tentative schedule was projected for the following meetings: early in April invite candidates for Congress to speak to the group on the Health-Education-Welfare budget; in June have a workshop for the district.

Early in September schedule a meeting focused to the interest of the membership and encourage participation in and representation at the state meeting; in November meet for reports on the state convention and make plans for the following year.

Johnson, who has been active at the state level, distributed minutes of the last board meeting and brought the group up to date on activities at the state level, particularly concerning the active participation of state officers in following the present legislature and using KWA's influence to the best interest of its constituency and the people of Kentucky.

Jury Reform Imminent

As more and longer court trials become commonplace, many jurors are calling for reforms, and with just cause. The U. S. judicial system has served the people admirably for nearly 200 years and it would be hard to find anything better.

But like anything else, it has its flaws. So present methods of choosing jurors, their salaries, the number of members required on a jury and the mechanics of assigning them to trials are being examined. From all of this should come a more equitable and less expensive form of jury usage.

Rectification of existing jury inadequacies would help renew faith in the judicial process and make jury service, not a dreaded task, but the duty and privilege our forefathers had in mind when they conceived of such a system.

Pay Raises For Congress Doubtful In Election Year

By WALTER R. MEARS

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — On paper it looked fine: a system of regular congressional pay raises, with no need for politically troublesome Senate and House votes to boost the salaries of members.

But that plan has come apart. As a result, congressional pay may stay at $42,500 a year, even though most members would like more. While the outcome is not yet clear, a similar raise for judges and top administration officials may be blocked, too.

If there is one thing a politician can do without, it is an election-year vote to increase his own salary. It can be a made-to-order issue for a November election year, particularly with the economy troubled and with signs that this may be a difficult year for incumbents.

President Nixon proposed the pay raise, 7.5 per cent a year, to boost congressional pay to $52,800 in 1976. The package includes similar 22.5 per cent, three-year raises for the judiciary and for executive branch appointees, some 10,000 people in all.

It is all part of a system created in 1967. Under that law, a nine-member advisory commission examines the congressional, executive and judicial pay structure every four years, and recommends any changes it deems warranted.

In turn, the President makes his recommendation, effective in 30 days unless either branch of Congress votes to reject it. In this case, the deadline is March 6 of a congressional election year, and a rejection vote appears likely.

When the commission plan was enacted, everybody seemed insulated, Congress by the presidential judgment as to what its salary level should be, and the President by the guidance of the salary commission recommendations.

Actually, the current commission voted 7 to 2 for an immediate 25 per cent pay raise, emphasizing the need for higher pay to attract and keep federal judges and top civil servants. Nixon recommended somewhat less and spread it over three years, noting that the government has been asking private industry employees to forego big increases.

All Congress had to do was nothing, and the raise would have taken effect. But there was pressure for a vote, particularly among senators who are going to be candidates in November. The result could be rejection of the whole package, although a formula awaiting Senate action would drop only the congressional raise.

Statistically, if not politically, there are strong arguments for the increase. The officials involved have not had a raise since 1969. In that period, as one House member noted, civil service employees have had raises totaling 36.5 per cent, average wages in comparable private employment have gone up 28 per cent, and the cost of living has increased 28.4 per cent. Having offered those figures, the congressman announced his opposition to any pay raise.

The package pay plan has created another problem since, by law, the top civil service salary cannot exceed the bottom pay rung for appointed officials. That has stalled salaries for career government executives at $36,000 a year, and has some bosses and subordinates at the same pay level.

Seen & Heard Around Murray

By JAMES C. WILLIAMS

What did we tell you? Here it is the first day of March already. December, January and February have passed. The days are getting longer and the sun is swinging back to the north. Soon it will be coming up over our favorite stump instead of the Willow tree.

The Pussy Willow has hundreds of little fuzzy buds and some of them have even opened up to disclose their yellow blooms. The Jonquils are blooming and the Forsythia is getting more yellow. The Mock Orange has already budded out and the Deutzia has tiny leaves. The Japonica is opening up and we have already found some wild daisies leafing out. The Buckeye has large buds and some good weather will soon bring out the Dogwood and the Redbuds. The many flowering trees will soon get with it including, we hope, our white fringe tree.

The Redwood buds are swelling and the Bald Cypress is ready to center into another period of growth. Huge red buds cover the Maple and the Lilac is getting all geared up to do its thing.

As we write this, it is cold and blustery, but with March here Spring cannot be far behind.

Our congratulations to Bill Barker on the manner in which he is managing the electric system.

This semester at the university is about half over. Time passes so quickly that if anyone plans to do anything in school, he has to get with it from the word go, otherwise he gets far behind. Of course this is true in most any endeavor. In school however things are divided into segments with each being a plateau and you have to make sure you arrive at each plateau in good shape, otherwise you are hurting.

Little Ronald Christmas shopping in the department store with his mother, was attracted to an exercycle machine. Before his mother could detach him, he jumped onto the seat and pedaled until the wheel hummed. His mother tried to lift him from the exercycle, but he clung to the handlebars and continued pedaling, swaying back and forth as he made the wheel hum.

"We still have so much shopping to do, Ronald," she pleaded. "Please get off that thing."

"Never!" he screamed.

"Please, Ronald, be a good boy."

"No!" Ronald's screeching tone brought the store's Santa to the scene. Santa whispered in Ronald's ear and Ronald hopped to the floor and left with his mother.

"What did Santa tell you, Ronald?" "That fat guy said he'd slug me if I didn't get off."

THE CHURCH EMPOWERED

This lesson centers around the coming of the Holy Spirit to empower the followers of Christ to fulfill God's purpose of proclaiming the good news of the gospel to the world, and of being faithful and effective witnesses for Christ.

Acts 2:1-4

On the fiftieth day after the Feast of the Passover, the one hundred and twenty disciples were in the Upper Room in Jerusalem, and with a wonderful spirit of unanimity. They were not only together in the same place, but also united in their spiritual purpose.

When God's appointed time for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit arrived, in fulfillment of His promise, the Holy Spirit descended upon those assembled believers. He took possession of them and controlled them to such an extent that they throbbed with His sympathies, spoke His thoughts, and conformed to His will.

There were various evidences of the presence of the Holy Spirit. There was an audible evidence—"suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing, mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting." This verse does not say that there came a wind from heaven, but only a sound which resembled a violent wind being borne along, somewhat like a tornado. There was also a visible sign or proof—there appeared upon the disciples divided tongues which resembled fire and one sat upon the head of each one present. Reception of the Holy Spirit was not just a group experience; rather, it was a personal one. Each of them received the Holy Spirit. No difference was made between them. The Holy Spirit also "filled" them. This simply means that He possessed them and controlled them.

Another supernatural manifestation which took place on that day was the speaking in foreign languages. Immediately after the Holy Spirit filled the believers, took complete possession of them and all their faculties, and gave them the right thoughts and emotions, they "began to speak with other tongues"; and those present understood what they said. This miraculous gift indicated the fact that our Lord wanted His gospel preached in every language. The preaching of His gospel is always much more effective when people hear it in their native language.

Acts 2:16-17

Whereas Peter was formerly timid and cowardly, after he was filled with and empowered by the Holy Spirit he was bold and brave. When the Spirit holds sway and controls any life there is not any room for cowardice and fear. When a believer is filled with and energized by the Holy Spirit he is bold and courageous to speak for Christ.

When Peter heard some of the critics falsely accuse the disciples of drunkenness, he arose in the power of the Spirit to disprove their charge and to vindicate the things which the believers were doing. He declared that, instead of being the result of drunkenness, the phenomena which the critics were beholding were the result of the work of the Holy Spirit, and a fulfillment of the prophecy in Joel 2:28-32. It is truly wonderful to be indwelt by the Holy Spirit, and this is the joyous privilege of every believer in Christ.

Acts 2:36-42

The Holy Spirit used Peter's memorable, scriptural, logical, pointed, personal, and persuasive sermon to pierce, as with an arrow, the evil hearts of his hearers and made them deeply conscious of their terrible guilt. His hearers were convinced of the truth of his message, convicted of their guilt, and filled with fear of the wrath of God. Conviction for sin is ever a divine work, and always beyond man's power. Conviction for sin precedes concern about salvation, and both are essential to the salvation of a sinner.

Upon hearing Peter's sermon, the Jews cried out: "Men and brethren, what shall we do?" Peter commanded them to repent and to be baptized in the name of Christ. To these Jews repentance meant to change their minds about Christ, to admit their guilt in rejecting Him, and to believe on Him as their personal Saviour.

Having been cleansed from their sins because of their repentance toward God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, they were to express that cleansing symbolically by being baptized. After Christ had saved them, they gladly submitted to baptism as an evidence of their faith in Him and as an act of loving obedience to Him.

"For the remission of sins" simply means on account of, or on the basis of, the remission of sins. To illustrate, it was the custom of some of my earliest school teachers to whip their pupils for fighting on the playground. In each case the boys were whipped for fighting, not in order to enable them to fight or to make them fight, but because they had fought already. So, we are baptized, not in order to have our sins forgiven, but because they have been forgiven already on the ground of our repentance toward God and our faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

In the act of scriptural baptism the believer announces to all witnesses thereof that he has truly repented of his sins; that he has died to sin, that his previous life of sin has been buried, that he has received from Christ a new and victorious life, and that henceforth, in the ample strength which is to be imparted to him by the Holy Spirit, he fully intends and expects to live a life of Christian fruitfulness to the glory of God.

Poor Advisers

Among the many amazing things that have helped get President Richard M. Nixon, and thus the nation, into terrible turmoil is the poor choice of presidential aides. Some have been brilliant. Some hard workers. Some dedicated. But so many unrealistic.

We can think of half a dozen local grass roots politicians whose advice would have been better than that Mr. Nixon got, who could have kept him and the nation out of the hot water they are in.

We'd be glad to "lend them" to Mr. Nixon, if it's not too late. But it's better to avoid problems than to try to solve them after they occur. Mr. Nixon should have had better advice — and should have taken it. — Chattanooga (Tenn.) News-Free Press

After showing off his razzle-dazzle running skills, the animal climbed through a window into the ladies room where he was cornered. He was put to sleep with a shot from a tranquilizing gun and returned to his cage. A spokesman for the airport police described the beast as "docile but very, very quick." (Baltimore Sun)

House Given New Headache

The conclusion by a staff group serving the House Judiciary Committee that a president of the United States can be impeached for noncriminal acts echoes back through history to the thoughts of the Founding Fathers, and beyond them to the roots of English law.

Interpretations of the Founding Fathers are best preserved in the 85 Federalist essays written by Alexander Hamilton, James Madison and John Jay and published in 1787 and 1788 to persuade New York and other colonies to join the federation of states.

Hamilton, an ardent advocate of a strong presidency, wrote in the 65th essay that the chief executive could be impeached for "those offenses which proceed from the misconduct of public men, or in other words from the abuse or violation of some public trust." That opinion is not far removed from the current House staff thought that impeachment must be "... only upon conditions seriously incompatible with either the constitutional form and principles of our government or the proper performance of the constitutional duties of the presidential office."

The problem that the House Judiciary Committee will have as it wrestles with its staff report will be to define such words as "incompatibility with the constitutional form" and "proper performance of constitutional duties" — which after all are in the eyes of the beholder unless the offense is so clear cut that there is no question at all about impeaching.

HIS MEMOIR

It is day of birth—the first day of the rest of his life. The first day of his biography, his memoir. And what kind of story will he be able to write when he is old and the flame of life has become a dying ember? Will he tell of happiness or grief, of success or failure? Will he bear witness to love or hatred, to war or peace? Will he mention faith or futility?

His memoir depends on his life and his life depends on you. What will you teach him? How will you influence him? He's your child. He's your responsibility. Start him out right by starting him out with the Book of Life. Proverbs 22:6 says, "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it."

A good start insures a good finish, and what better memoir could he have than one that says, "It was good."

Semifinals Tonight

Tigers Open Tourney By Swamping Benton 84-59

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
"One down and five to go." That's what the fans are telling Murray High Coach Bob Toon but he's not listening. "We're taking them one at a time," Toon said Thursday night following the top-ranked Tigers' 84-59 win over Benton in the District Tournament opener at the Murray State Fieldhouse. The victory boosts Murray High to a 21-2 season slate and marks the 12th consecutive victory for the Tigers who need five more wins to wrap up the District and Regional titles and become a member of the Sweet 16.

In semifinal action tonight at the Fieldhouse, Calloway County and North Marshall will tangle at 7 p.m. while Murray High plays South Marshall in the nightcap of the doubleheader.

The Lakers and the Tigers each own a pair of wins over tonight's opponents and will be shooting for their third.

Winners of semifinal round competition tangle Saturday at 7:30 p.m. for the championship of the First District. Last year, Calloway County claimed the crown over North Marshall.

Final Loss
For Benton, Thursday night was the final time the Indians would ever lose to Murray High. For that matter, it was the final time the Indians would ever lose to anyone.

Next year, Benton will combine with North Marshall and South Marshall to form the Central High School.

Benton led once in the entire game, that came in the first frame, when guard Darel Caruso scored on a layup to boost the Indians to a 4-2 edge. And from that point on, it was all Murray High.

Taking advantage of superior rebounding power, superior speed and a tough 2-2-1 zone press, the Tigers completely shut off the Benton offense.

And in the meantime, Murray High was rattling off 11 consecutive points to move to a 13-4 bulge with 3:55 remaining in the first period.

Wilder and Hudspeth each scored two points in the flurry on offensive rebounds and Tyrone McCuiston, who had another tremendous game, tossed in seven.

The largest cushion in the period came with 1:19 left when McCuiston slapped in a 15-footer. That lifted the Tigers to a 20-8 bulge.

Benton outscored Murray High 5-2 in the closing minute and trailed by nine at the end of the frame, 22-13.

If Benton had any hope of getting back into the ballgame, it ended at the outset of the second period.

Tigers Roar
Hudspeth hit on a layup, Lane scored twice on fastbreaks and added a pair of free throws, and McCuiston leaped high into the air to slap in a missed shot. And suddenly, with 4:35 remaining in the half, Murray was coasting along with a 32-13 bulge.

The largest lead of the game came with only 56 seconds left in the half when Lane scored on a break to boost Murray High to an overwhelming 45-21 bulge.

Benton scored the final two buckets of the half and trailed 45-25 at intermission.

"I thought our press in the first quarter worked well and allowed us to stop them and we were able to use our fastbreaks and get out in front," Toon said.

"After they started getting through it, we took the press off and went to work on our regular 2-3 zone and tried stopping them from getting the easy baskets.

In the first half, McCuiston had 17 points while Lane had 14, the two combining to outscore Benton by 10 points.

Benton played much better ball in the third period and outscored Murray High 19-16 but the Tigers still held a commanding 61-43 lead going into the final period.

Within 15
On two occasions in the last frame, Benton whittled the Tiger lead to 15 but could come no closer.

"We just sort of stood around in the third quarter and lost our momentum," Toon said.

"It's something we've done a lot in games before. This is something we're going to have to overcome tonight against South Marshall."

Ray Lane paced the Tigers in scoring with 26 points while McCuiston added 23 and hauled in 15 rebounds in a stellar effort.

Glenn Jackson added 12 points as did Danny Hudspeth who pulled down 13 rebounds.

Steve Puteet paced the Indians with 16 while Caruso tossed in 15 and Kenny Morris 14.

Benton closes the season with a 9-16 mark.

Winners in tonight's semifinal games will automatically gain berths in the Regional which will be played next week in the Fieldhouse.

Benton 13, 11, 19, 16-59
Murray 22, 23, 16, 23-84

Benton (59)—Hoover 4, Clapp 9, Puteet 16, Morris 14, Caruso 15 and Schaper-1.

Murray (84)—Hudspeth 10, Wilder 5, T. McCuiston 23, Lane 26, Jackson 12, Shelley 2, D. McCuiston 2, M. Williams 2, Alexander 2, Tabers, Frank and Miller.

Middle Coach Earle Is Eating Sack Statement

By JOE EDWARDS
AP Sports Writer

Austin Peay goes shopping for the Ohio Valley Conference basketball championship Saturday afternoon, four weeks after Middle Tennessee State's Blue Raiders thought they could "sack up the groceries."

It was Jan. 26, after Middle Tennessee had beaten Austin Peay 90-87 in Murfreesboro, that Blue Raider Coach Jimmy Earle commented, "If we win at Murray Monday, then you can sack up the groceries in this race."

Middle Tennessee beat Murray 74-71, but later was upset 90-86 at East Tennessee. Then Monday night in Clarksville, the Blue Raiders lost to Austin Peay 91-66 and fell one game behind the Gobs in the OVC race with just one game left.

Consequently, Austin Peay can win its second straight conference crown by beating Murray Saturday afternoon in the OVC's weekly televised game at Murray.

The other conference games are Middle Tennessee at Western Kentucky, Morehead at Eastern Kentucky and East Tennessee at Tennessee Tech.

"Murray can be real tough," said Austin Peay Coach Lake Kelly. "(Mike) Coleman presents problems for any defense because he has such a variety of shots."

Coleman is averaging 24.6 points a game—second best in the conference. The leader is James "Fly" Williams of Austin Peay, who's averaging 27.5.

Middle Tennessee and Morehead are knotted for second place in the conference at 9-4.

If Austin Peay, at 10-3, doesn't win, here are the possibilities:
—If Middle Tennessee and Morehead both win, a three-team playoff would be required.

—If Middle Tennessee wins but Morehead loses, the Blue Raiders and Gobs would be involved in a playoff.

—If Middle Tennessee loses but Morehead wins, Morehead and Austin Peay would share the OVC title, but the Gobs would represent the conference in the NCAA tourney because they beat Morehead in both games this season.

Earle, in looking to his team's game at Western Kentucky, cited the Hilltoppers' quickness.

"If there is any team in the league that can match Austin Peay's quickness, it is Western," he said. "That quickness, and the emergence of Johnny Britt as a potential superstar, are the two things that make them most dangerous."

Western Kentucky, at 7-6, will be seeking to stay above the 500 mark.

Eastern Kentucky, at 6-7, will have against Morehead the incentive of trying to finish at 500.

East Tennessee and Tennessee Tech, both 3-10, will battle to escape the conference

Esposito Joins Elite Group To Score Over 450 Career Goals

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

In hockey jargon, forward Phil Esposito is known as a scorer; forward Claude Larose isn't.

But only Esposito lived up to his reputation Thursday night.

Esposito did the expected by scoring the 450th and 451st goals of his career, becoming the ninth player in National Hockey League history to crack the 450-goal barrier while leading the Boston Bruins to a 8-1 romp over the Detroit Red Wings.

Larose did the unexpected by scoring his fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh goals of the week, becoming the first Claude Larose to score four goals in a NHL game while leading the Montreal Canadiens to a 7-1 rout of the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Larose, a 13-year veteran in the NHL who broke his leg in the final game of the Canadiens' victory over the Chicago Black Hawks last year, has been sidelined most of this season with assorted ailments. He has appeared in 26 of the Canadiens' 61 games to date.

Maple Leafs 6, Islanders 4
Paul Henderson had a productive offensive night and he had it in one period. His three goals in the final period led Toronto past New York.

Kings 3, Flames 1
Butch Goring scored two goals to lead Los Angeles over Atlanta.

The victory brought the Kings to within one point of the fourth-place Flames in the NHL West.

Black Hawks 2, Sabres 2
Craig Ramsay's goal with 3:56 left in the game produced the tie and ended Chicago's four-game road winning streak. The Black Hawks are tied with Philadelphia for first place in the NHL West.

North Stars 2, Flyers 2
J.P. Parise's goal at 5:17 of the third period enabled Minnesota to tie Philadelphia.

Florida Has Chance To Be Spoiler In The SEC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Florida, which last week upended Kentucky on the road, gets its chance to be the spoiler in the Southeastern Conference basketball race.

The Gators have only two games remaining—and they're against the only teams in the running for the SEC title, seventh-ranked Alabama and No. 6 Vanderbilt.

Florida gets its first crack at Alabama when the teams tangle in Alligator alley Saturday night. Next week Vandy calls for the final SEC regional televised games of the season.

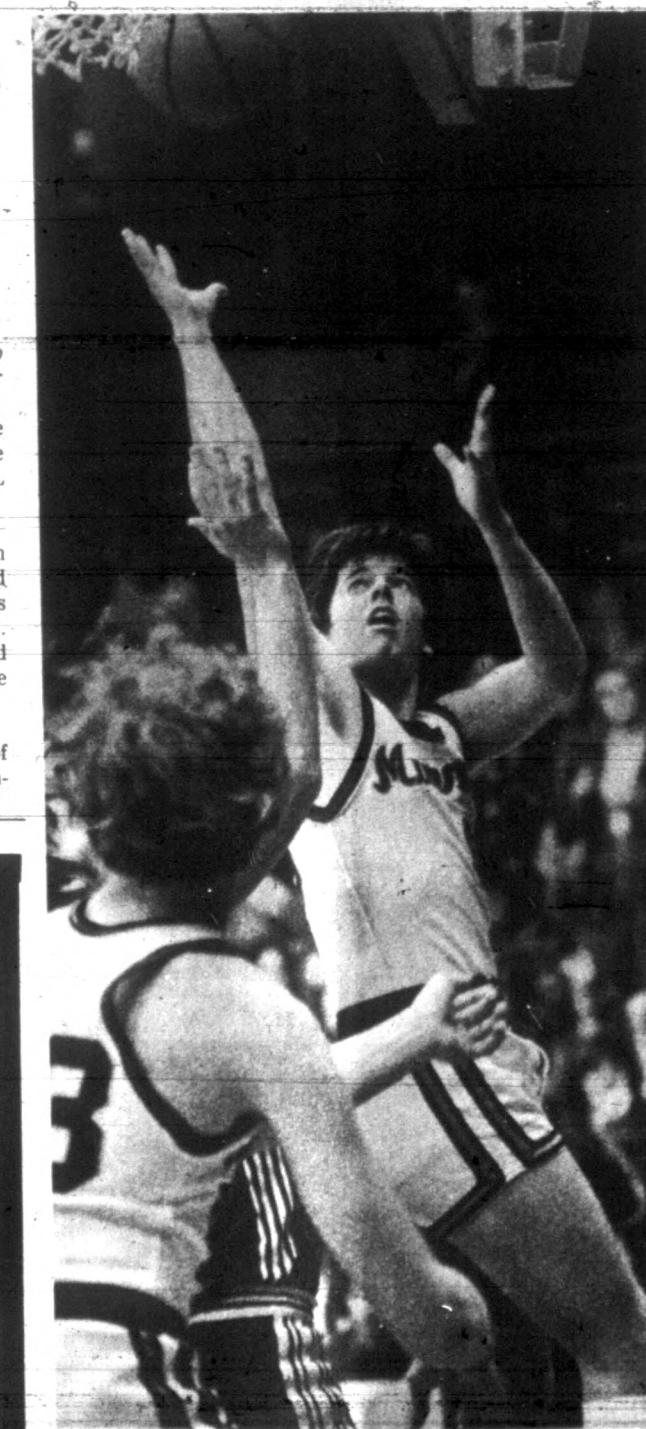

The Tide and Vandy currently share the conference lead with 14-2 records but the Commodores have the inside track on an NCAA playoff berth by virtue of two victories over the Tide this season.

Vanderbilt closes out its home slate Saturday night, entertaining Kentucky.

In other games Saturday, Louisiana State visits Tennessee in a regionally televised game, Georgia is at Auburn and Mississippi at Mississippi State.

Four more conference games are slated for Monday—Auburn at Alabama, Tennessee at Georgia, Mississippi State at Kentucky and Ole Miss at LSU. Florida and Vandy are idle Monday, awaiting their TV clash. Georgia has the only other regular season game, an engagement next Wednesday against arch-rival Georgia Tech in Athens.

The independent slate Saturday night has Memphis State at Hawaii and Clemson at Georgia Tech.

Some Baseball Players Holding Out For Money

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Baseball players don't have to punch clocks, but as of today any unsigned player will be considered late for his job.

The usual excuses for tardiness like oversleeping, missed train connections or no gas are irrelevant here. For the most part, what's keeping some 35 players from their March 1 date with calisthenics in sunny Florida, Arizona and California is money.

"They told me there was not going to be any more money and I told them I wouldn't be there for training," said Sparky Lyle, a premier relief pitcher who plays for and argues money with the New York Yankees.

Lyle said on a radio station in Beverly, Mass., that the Yankees first asked him to take a $5,000 pay cut, then offered the hard-throwing left-hander the same pay as last year.

Lyle got off to a hot start in 1973, then cooled down to finish the year with a 5-9 record, a 2.51 ERA and 27 saves.

The Yankees are second in the league in unsigned players with four. Slugging center fielder Bobby Murcer, third baseman Celerino Sanchez and second baseman Horace Clarke are also unsigned.

The Baltimore Orioles have 11 unsigned bodies floating around, including 1973 rookie sensation Rich Coggins and Al Bumbry, catcher Andy Etchebarren, power-hitting Earl Williams and pitchers Doyle Alexander and Bob Rynolds.

Unsigned is also the status of Billy Conigliaro, the only player from the World Champion Oakland A's yet to agree to contract terms.

It's understandable that Conigliaro, who is also seeking some assurance that he won't be traded, is having trouble reaching the same money figure as owner Charles O. Finley.

Finley is about $85,000 poorer after five A's won their arbitration dispute.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who announced the signing of pitcher Al Downing Thursday, have two big holdouts, 18-game winner Don Sutton and slugging catcher Joe Ferguson.

Other major holdouts were: Pat Kelly and Luis Alvarado of the Chicago White Sox, Garry Maddox and Gary Matthews of the San Francisco Giants, Gonzalo Marquez and Horacio Pina of the Chicago Cubs and Dave Roberts, Gene Locklear, Enzo Hernandez and Vincente Romo of the San Diego Padres.

In contract signings Thursday, outfielder George Hendrick of the Cleveland Indians signed his 1974 contract, General Manager Phil Seghi said, and the Kansas City Royals announced the signing of infielder Fernando Gonzalez.

Meanwhile on the arbitration front, Clarence Gaston's dispute with San Diego was decided against the Padres' outfielder.

The five-year veteran, who batted .250, hit 16 home runs and drove in 57 runs in 1973, must accept the salary the Padres offered him, an estimated $42,000.

Louisville Sitting In Driver's Seat Of MVC

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

After running over the St. Louis Billikens, the Louisville Cardinals are sitting in the driver's seat in the Missouri Valley Conference basketball race.

"I'm glad I'm in our shoes instead of theirs," says Louisville Coach Denny Crum, talking about Saturday's meeting with Bradley for the MVC title. The Cardinals took a one-game lead over Bradley after beating St. Louis 95-85 Thursday night behind a powerhouse performance by Wesley Cox.

That set up a dramatic meeting between the front-runners at Peoria, Ill.

St. Louis Coach Bob Polk is picking Louisville.

"I think the Cardinals will win on Saturday and they will be a fine representative of the MVC in the NCAA playoffs," he said.

Polk is especially impressed with Cox, the Louisville freshman who killed his team with 25 points and 11 rebounds.

In another game involving basketball royalty, 12th-ranked Providence whipped Canisius 97-68. In the first round of the Southern Conference playoffs, Davidson beat The Citadel 82-69 and William & Mary tripped East Carolina 75-67 in double overtime.

Marvin Barnes, the nation's leading rebounder, hauled down 21 rebounds and scored 26 points to pace Providence over Canisius. Larry Fogle, the nation's leading scorer, couldn't start for Canisius because of an ankle injury.

Led by Greg Dunn and Larry Horowitz, Davidson broke away from The Citadel in the last seven minutes. Ron Satterthwaite and Mike Arizm combined for 14 points in the second overtime to help William & Mary knock East Carolina out of the Southern Conference playoffs.

Notre Dame Will Face Winner Of The Ohio Valley Conference

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Second-ranked Notre Dame and eighth-ranked Marquette will lead nine at-large teams into first-round action of the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championships March 9.

The Irish, the team which shattered the national champion UCLA's 88-game winning streak in January, will face the Ohio Valley Conference champion in the Midwest Regional at Indiana State, and Marquette will battle the Mid-American Conference titlist in the second game.

Three sites will be utilized for the East Regional first round playoffs. Pittsburgh, 11th-ranked, meets the Middle Atlantic Conference champion at West Virginia, No. 12. Providence tangles with the Ivy League winner at St. John's in New York, and No. 14 South Carolina squares off against the Southern Conference champion at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

Unranked Oral Roberts and Syracuse collide in the Midwest Regional at North Texas State in a doubleheader that also sends 16th-ranked Creighton against the Southwest Conference champion.

Dayton goes against the Pacific Coast Athletic Association champion and the winners of the Big Sky and Western Athletic Conferences meet at Idaho State in the West Regional.

Of the at-large entries, Dayton, appearing in the NCAA tournament for the seventh time, made the best showing previously, having lost to UCLA 79-64 in the championship game in 1967.

UCLA has won the national championship each of the last seven years and nine of the last 10. However, the third-ranked Bruins must win the Pacific-8 Conference championship to gain a berth in the NCAA showdown. They are tied with Southern California for first place.

Top-ranked North Carolina State, winner of the regular season title in the Atlantic Coast Conference, must win that league's tournament to get a shot at the national title.

Neither Notre Dame nor Marquette has carved much of a record in NCAA play. The Irish reached the regional finals in 1953, 1954 and 1958.

Marquette gained the regional finals in 1955 and 1969. The second round is March 16 and the quarterfinals March 16 with the East at North Carolina State, the West at Arizona, the Midwest at Alabama and the Midwest at Oral Roberts. The semifinals on March 23 and the finals March 25 will be played at Greensboro, N.C.

Big O Leads Bucks To Triumph Over Detroit

By MIKE O'BRIEN
AP Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The lights haven't gone out on Oscar Robertson's brilliant career, after all, but they're fading fast on the Detroit Pistons.

Playing at least in flashes like the Big O of yesteryears, the 35-year-old Robertson poured in nine of his 15 points in the first quarter Thursday night as the Milwaukee Bucks flattened the Pistons 113-90 in a National Basketball Association game.

The Bucks outscored Detroit 24-3 during a nine minute, 21 second span in streaking to a 26-9 lead. The Pistons never recovered after sinking just five of 19 shots and committing 11 turnovers in the first period as they dropped their third consecutive game and sixth in their last 10.

In the only other NBA game Thursday night, the Golden State Warriors' trounced the Portland Trail Blazers, 129-109. In the American Basketball Association's only game, the Utah Stars defeated the Denver Rockets 127-105.

The Pistons, while still a solid third in the Midwest Division and virtually assured of a playoff spot, dropped six games behind first-place Milwaukee. They had been challenging the Bucks for the lead a few weeks ago.

Robertson sank six of nine shots, registered four assists and generally played what Bucks' Coach Larry Costello called his finest game since a back injury incurred just before Christmas sidelined him for 11 games.

Robertson had not shown his former quickness after returning to action and even lost his starting job for a few games, prompting several critics to contend his fantastic 14-year pro career was all but finished.

Warriors 129, Portland 109. Rick Barry scored 42 points — the seventh time this season he has topped the 40-point mark — in leading the Warriors to their fourth consecutive victory.

Golden State, leading 48-43 late in the second period, ran off 20 consecutive points and cruised home.

Stars 127, Rockets 105.

Eight Utah players were in double figures — led by Willie Wise and James Jones with 18 each — as the Stars coasted past the Rockets.

Named Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — O'Neal Tutein, a high school assistant coach for the past five years, has been named to the varsity football staff at Columbia University, Coach Bill Campbell has announced.

Tutein, the sixth assistant selected by the new coach, played his college football at Central State University in Ohio.

'Cats Must Beat Vandy For A Winning Season

By JOE EDWARDS
AP Sports Writer

NASHVILLE (AP) — Kentucky, which has finished above the .500 mark in the Southeastern Conference every year but twice since the SEC was formed in 1932, needs to beat sixth-ranked Vanderbilt Saturday night to maintain its chances of a winning season this year.

The Wildcats, who have won 28 SEC titles, are 8-8 in the conference this year. They finish the season Monday night at home against Mississippi State. The only seasons when the Wildcats finished .500 or under in the SEC were 1966-67, when they ended 8-10, and 1939-40, when they closed at 4-4.

In the past 41 years, they won 413 conference games and lost only 77 for an .843 percentage.

Vanderbilt, of course, has its incentive, too. The Commodores, 14-2 in the SEC, are gunning for the conference title.

They are tied with Alabama for the SEC lead, but will represent the conference in the NCAA Midwest Regional tournament if they can beat both Kentucky and then Florida next Saturday in Gainesville.

Overall, Vandy is 22-2 and Kentucky 12-12.

In an earlier meeting in Lexington, Vandy hit 22 of 27 floor shots the second half to win 82-65 after trailing 36-34 at halftime.

MSU-TV An Impressive Operation

Story and photos by David Hill

The Murray State University television studios and equipment offer students an opportunity unique among Kentucky schools. Students are able to gain experience in broadcasting under live and professional circumstances, over Channel 11 cablevision in Murray and Channel 4 in Mayfield.

The program, hardly a year and a half old, is quite successful, according to its director, Dr. Robert Howard. With about 100 students involved in the television segment, the crew puts out 90 minutes of news and features each afternoon.

"It's experience they can't get anywhere else," Dr. Howard said. "It's practical experience, under actual working conditions."

With over $450,000 invested in the television equipment, and an equal amount in radio equipment and transmitter, the university has captured the interest of the students, and provided the community with another outlet for expression.

"I would like to make the programming as community-oriented as possible, and not just about campus life," Dr. Howard explains. "But, of course, our first purpose is to teach."

Dr. Ray Mofield is chairman of the communications department, and Dr. Glenn Wilcox is the associate director of the television division. Together with Dr. Howard, the three are the only faculty members connected with the television program.

Dr. Howard praised the support from both the university administration and the community. "Focus," the MSU-TV feature interview program, brings both campus and community leaders and guests before its audience.

"We have a good working relationship with students here," Dr. Howard said. "Usually, if they have something to say, we let them say it."

Money presents some problems and limitations to the television division, but no more so than in any other department, Dr. Howard says. There are four student assistants, and one graduate assistant, as well as one full-time professional engineer, in addition to the students who do their lab work at the station.

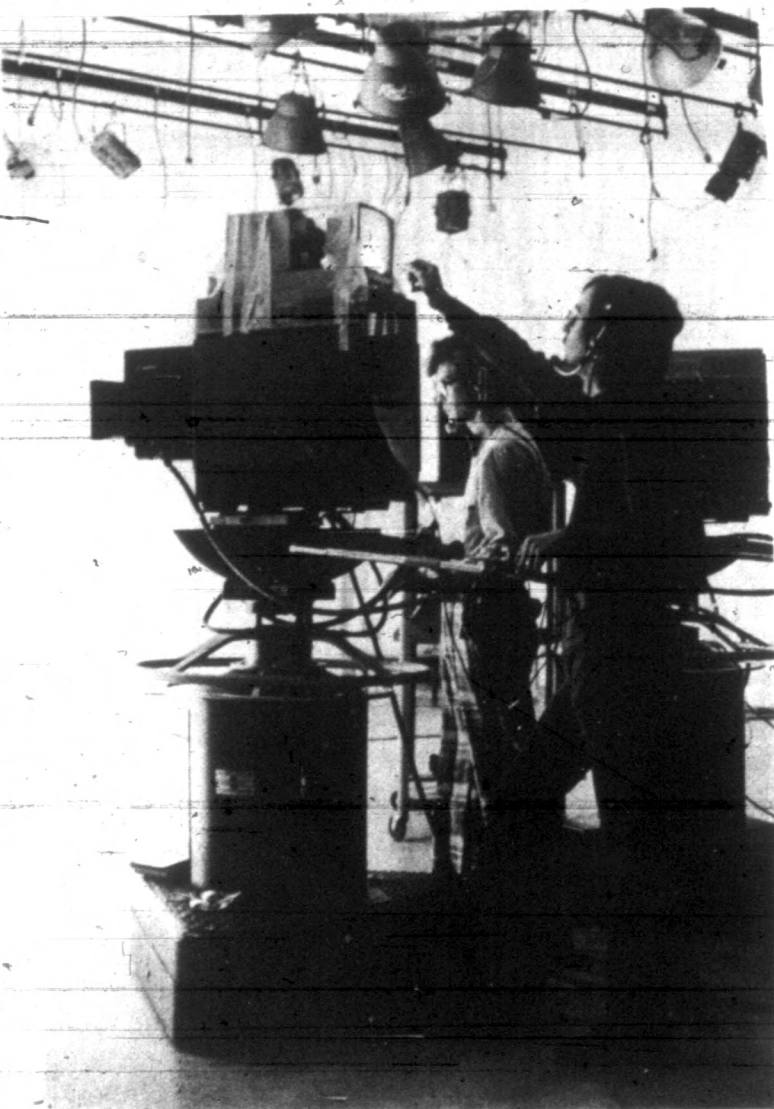

The station is forbidden by the F.C.C. to accept paid advertising, so all commercials are public service announcements. Dr. Howard says he wouldn't want to solicit advertising even if they were allowed to, because it would put the station in competition with local businesses.

MSU-TV is definitely here to stay, and it is obviously receiving good support from the student body. It should, because it is quite an impressive operation.

Emmy Boycott
Is Threatened

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Television's newly streamlined Emmy telecast has been threatened with a possible boycott by performers, writers, directors and producers who feel it discriminates against regular series.

Nearly 100 persons involved in series television voted Wednesday night at a meeting to send a committee to the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences press for a return to the previous system of awarding Emmys to winners in all categories.

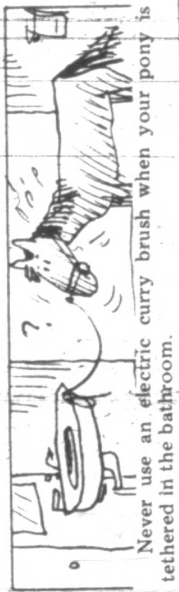

The committee was empowered to suggest a possible boycott of the Emmy telecast on NBC Television May 28 if the old system is not restored.

Mary Tyler Moore, who was named to the committee, said "I would just as soon not attend. The new system is unfair."

The television academy announced a new award structure Feb. 12 which eliminates individual Emmys in every category.

Last year in the actor categories, for instance, Emmys were given for best actor in a limited series, drama series, comedy series, and in a drama special. Under the new system these winners would receive only a certificate and from among them would be selected the actor of the year.

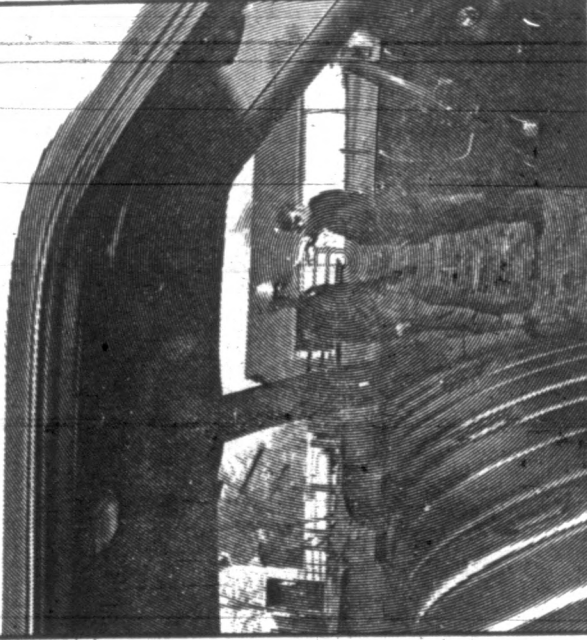

A similar system would be used for actresses, supporting players, writers and directors.

Middle School and County Fifth Graders To See "Mulligan Stew"

Calloway County's fifth graders will get "Mulligan Stew" at school next week—not in the lunchroom but as a part of their health studies—for "Mulligan Stew" is a new 4-H television series designed to turn kids on to good nutrition.

Starting Mar. 4 at 1:35 p.m. and continuing through the five following Mondays at the same time, fifth graders throughout the state will watch the "Mulligan Stew" programs on Kentucky Educational Television. The six 30-minute TV shows combine cartoon animation, fast action, puppets that come alive, and a kid rock band called "Mulligan Stew."

According to Fred Gillum, county Extension agent for 4-H, the band members—Mulligan, Mike, Mammy, Maggie, and Micky—sing, dance and entertain their way through "Mission Impossible" type adventures concerning the four food groups, breakfast, snacks, calories, and food fads. Adding to the fun are a "Sesame Street" atmosphere and one-line humor in the "Laugh-In" style.

The five boys and girls who star in the series, along with their bumbling friend, Wilbur Doornight, make learning about food and nutrition an exciting experience, Gillum says. And, for Murray-Calloway County's fifth graders, colorful learning materials—including a manual with games, puzzles and other "fun activities"—and do-it-yourself projects related to people and the food they eat—supplement the TV series.

Gillum points out that the overall purpose of the TV series is to influence boys and girls to eat better, understand the function of food in the body, and learn about the four basic food—milk products, meats, breads and cereals, and fruits and vegetables. The series has received high praise in the states where it has already been shown and is said to be the most successful educational series 4-H has ever sponsored for TV.

The state-wide showing of the series is a cooperative effort involving KET, local and state Departments of Education, and the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Kentucky. Locally, the Calloway County Extension agents, grade school principals, administrators, and teachers of the school system are working together to make the programs a success. The Extension agents also plan to offer the fifth graders a chance to take part in other fun-and-learning 4-H activities in addition to this classroom experience.

This unique way of teaching good nutrition represents a new educational approach in 4-H, Gillum noted. He adds that parents may want to tune in on Channel 9 Cablevision and watch some of the programs at home.

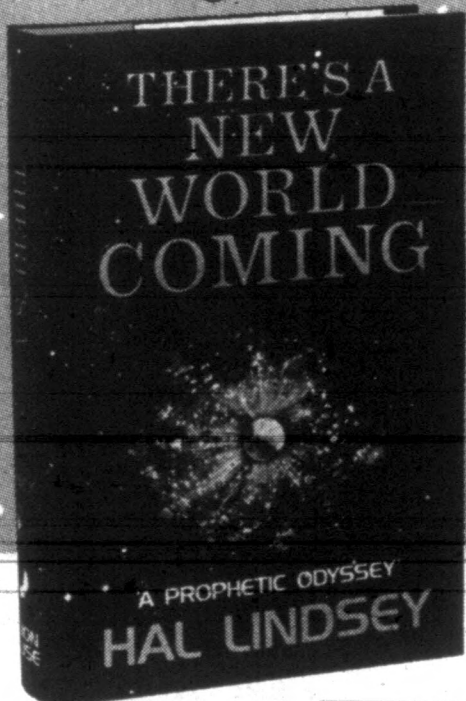

Andy Williams, for the fourth consecutive year, will serve as host when the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences honors outstanding creative achievement in the field of music, on the 16th Annual Grammy Awards ceremonies, to be broadcast live from the Hollywood Palladium Saturday, March 2 (9:00-10:30 p.m., CDT) on the CBS Television Network.

LIFE-SAVING STUNT—Stuntman Dar Robinson leaps from top of uncompleted seven-story building in New York to test an air-inflated cushion. Officials hope to use the cushion in fire rescues from high-rise buildings. The device is supposed to be able to cushion a fall from a 25-story building, but no one is willing to test it from that height. Robinson landed safely.

WHAT'S AHEAD?

THERE'S A NEW WORLD COMING

A PROPHETIC ODYSSEY
HAL LINDSEY

There have been many, throughout the centuries of man's long history, who have sought to predict the course of human events. None have had the incredible accuracy of the ancient Hebrew prophets. The story of their predictions is what THERE'S A NEW WORLD COMING is all about. The author, Hal Lindsey, has sought to make the Book of Revelation a prophetic adventure... not a deep, exhaustive study, but rather an effort to tell a mysteriously complicated saga in a simple and exciting story. Cloth, $4.95. Paper, $2.95.

Haldeman, Erlichman Mitchell and Colson Indicted By Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury today indicted H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, once President Nixon's top aides, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and four other men on charges of conspiring to block Watergate investigations.

The massive Watergate indictment also brought charges against:

—Charles W. Colson, once a White House special counsel.

—Robert C. Mardian, who served as assistant attorney general and later as a 1972 campaign aide.

—Gordon C. Strachan, a former presidential assistant, and —Kenneth W. Parkinson, an attorney for Nixon's campaign finance committee.

All told, the grand jury returned more than a score of charges against the seven men. In addition, it delivered a sealed Watergate report to U.S. Dist. Court Judge John J. Sirica. There have been reports that such a secret document might cover grand jury findings involving the President.

There was no immediate comment from the White House.

The indictment climaxed a 20-month investigation, but Sirica said the grand jury's work may not be done.

As he received the indictment, the sealed report, and two black suitcases containing Watergate evidence, the judge told the grand jury that it might be called to return to its secret proceedings in two weeks.

The charges were: —Ehrlichman—one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice, one count of lying to FBI agents and two counts of lying to the grand jury or the court; —Haldeman, one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice and three counts of perjury; —Mitchell, one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice, two counts of lying to a grand jury or court, one count of perjury and one count of lying to FBI agents;

Colson, Mardian and Parkinson, one count each of conspiracy to obstruct justice; —Strachan, one count of conspiracy to obstruct justice and one count of lying to a grand jury or court.

Each charge carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and fines ranging from $2,000 for perjury to $10,000 for lying to a grand jury or court.

Sirica scheduled arraignments for March 9, a Saturday, when Mitchell's trial in New York on separate charges stemming from a contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign would not be in session.

The indictment charged that the seven defendants made cash payments to the original Watergate defendants "for the purpose of concealing and causing to be concealed the identities of the persons who were responsible for, participated in, and had knowledge of the activities which were the subject of the investigation and trial."

The grand jury alleged that Haldeman lied to the Senate Watergate committee on July 30, 1973, when he said that President Nixon had said it would be wrong to meet demands from the Watergate defendants for $1 million.

The indictment quoted Haldeman's testimony to the committee when he was asked about a meeting in the President's office on the morning of March 21, 1973.

The indictment quoted Haldeman as telling the committee that the President asked former White House counsel John W. Dean III how much money the defendants were demanding and that Dean replied, probably a million dollars.

Haldeman quoted Nixon as replying, "There is no problem in raising a million dollars. We can do that, but it would be wrong."

The next day Haldeman was asked again if he was positive that the President said it would be wrong to raise the money and he replied, "I am absolutely positive."

The grand jury said Haldeman's statements "were false." The prosecutors have the White House tape of that meeting.

Haldeman refused to go to the door of his Los Angeles home this morning to see newsmen, and his wife told them, "Mr. Haldeman is not seeing anybody today." However, he did answer the telephone and told a newsmen, "I haven't even seen the indictment. I have no comment and will have none for the time being. When the time does come that I have something, I will let you know."

Dean had told the Senate Watergate committee that he believed that the President was aware of the cover-up before March 21, the date Nixon said he first learned of it.

In addition, Dean testified that on March 21 he told the President everything he knew about Watergate and that after two meetings with Nixon that day he was convinced "that the cover-up as far as the White House was concerned was going to continue."

The 23-member grand jury was empaneled June 5, 1972, 12 days before the break-in at the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee.

Meanwhile, in a related Watergate development, a study by President Nixon's lawyers that was released Thursday defined impeachable offenses as only "great crimes against the state."

This definition rejected the theory that the constitutional grounds for impeachment include abuses of power that might not be criminal violations of law.

The study was the work of his staff, with the help of Charles Alan Wright, constitutional law professor at the University of Texas.

On Sept. 14, 1972, the grand jury indicted former Nixon campaign committee employees James W. McCord and G. Gordon Liddy; E. Howard Hunt, a former White House consultant; and Bernard L. Barker, Frank A. Sturgis, Eugenio R. Martinez and Virgilio R. Gonzalez on charges of burglary, conspiracy and wiretapping.

All but Liddy and McCord pleaded guilty in January 1973. After a trial presided over by Sirica, Liddy and McCord were convicted on all counts on Jan. 30, 1973.

Sirica issued an order directing all persons connected with the case to talk to no one about it.

Dean had told the Senate Watergate committee that he believed that the President was aware of the cover-up before March 21, the date Nixon said he first learned of it.

In addition, Dean testified that on March 21 he told the President everything he knew about Watergate and that after two meetings with Nixon that day he was convinced "that the cover-up as far as the White House was concerned was going to continue."

The 23-member grand jury was empaneled June 5, 1972, 12 days before the break-in at the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee.

Meanwhile, in a related Watergate development, a study by President Nixon's lawyers that was released Thursday defined impeachable offenses as only "great crimes against the state."

This definition rejected the theory that the constitutional grounds for impeachment include abuses of power that might not be criminal violations of law.

The study was the work of his staff, with the help of Charles Alan Wright, constitutional law professor at the University of Texas.

On Sept. 14, 1972, the grand jury indicted former Nixon campaign committee employees James W. McCord and G. Gordon Liddy; E. Howard Hunt, a former White House consultant; and Bernard L. Barker, Frank A. Sturgis, Eugenio R. Martinez and Virgilio R. Gonzalez on charges of burglary, conspiracy and wiretapping.

All but Liddy and McCord pleaded guilty in January 1973. After a trial presided over by Sirica, Liddy and McCord were convicted on all counts on Jan. 30, 1973.

Sirica issued an order directing all persons connected with the case to talk to no one about it.

Administration Moving Toward Passage Of Budget Despite GOP

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The Democratic administration, with a lopsided margin in the legislature, is moving towards passage of the proposed $4.4 billion budget despite bitter criticism from Republican leaders.

There was some confusion Thursday after it was learned the document had vanished since being reported out of a House committee Tuesday.

The budget bill was discovered in the House clerk's office. A Legislative Research Commission aide said it had been rerouted to the LRC computer terminal for corrections.

The measure is in line for a House vote Tuesday, giving it plenty of time to coast through the Senate and reach the governor well before session's end March 22.

The Democrats held a caucus late Thursday and one House member said it was decided not to cut off debate when the budget reaches the House floor.

The Democrats have the muscle to do so through various parliamentary maneuvers.

There is plenty of debate already. Republican leaders of the House and Senate held a news conference denouncing the budget bill as a disaster for Kentucky, a bureaucrat's dream, a taxpayer's nightmare and a robbery of schoolchildren's rights to quality education.

The Democratic leadership responded with a statement contending their political foes are spouting gross falsehoods.

The Democrats said the GOP obviously drew up its bill of indictment before certain late changes were made in the budget.

Minority Leader Harold DeMarcus, R-Stanford, who called the budget a "roadmap to mediocrity" in his milder remarks, said the main trouble is that Gov. Wendell Ford is spending federal revenue sharing money on buildings instead of pumping it into secondary education.

DeMarcus said the governor has gone wrong on priorities—that he could have helped schools more and provided tax relief at the same time.

But the Democrats said if the GOP proposals were enacted it would require a 2-cent sales tax increase to finance them.

DeMarcus complained that during a month of legislative budget hearings no outside authorities were consulted, only state officials and employees.

The Democrats replied there was no attempt to "go soft" on the administration and that pointed questions were asked of the officials.

"It is obvious that if the Republican leadership had spent as much time in budget hearings as they have on partisan statements, their constituents and the people of Kentucky would be better served," the Democratic statement said.

MSU Art Department Awarded $3,000 Grant

Murray State University's art department has been awarded a $3,000 grant by the Kentucky Arts Commission to support a series of art workshops, lectures and special programs in West Kentucky during March and April.

Matching funds will be provided by Murray State as a joint sponsor of the project. Richard Jackson, associate professor of art and director of the Clara M. Eagle Gallery, and Karen Boyd, assistant professor of art, are serving as co-directors of the series.

Explaining that the sessions—three in March and four in April—are designed to serve participants ranging from beginners to professionals, Jackson said "nobody who is interested should be hesitant about becoming involved."

He added that no fee will be charged for any of the sessions, which will be taught by professional artists and teachers of national recognition. Jackson listed these dates and details:

March 13-14—Film maker workshop at Murray State conducted by Jerry De Schepper, a former faculty member at Murray State and now a doctoral student at Ohio University, Athens, Ohio, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. He will demonstrate cinematography.

March 14-15 (tentative)—Art education lectures at Mayfield High School by Dr. Gene Mittler of the Indiana University faculty, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. His presentation will cover aesthetics and education and should be of interest to art teachers at all levels and to elementary teachers.

March 15-16—Printmaking workshop at Murray State with Dan Kiaz of the University of Oklahoma faculty as the instructor, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. He will demonstrate print-making techniques.

April 5-6—Weaving and textiles workshop at Murray State conducted by Bud Stalnaker and Joan Stennberg, both of the Indiana University faculty, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. They will demonstrate basket techniques and natural dyeing of wool.

April 10—An evening furniture design and woodworking lecture at Trigg County High School in Cadiz with Wendell Castle, a wood craftsman and furniture designer who was formerly a teacher at the Rochester Institute of Technology as the instructor. His presentation will include a slide lecture, film presentation and discussion.

April 17-18—Ceramics workshop in the raku technique at Murray State conducted by Walter Hyleck of the Berea College faculty, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

April 18-19—"The Mobile Change" unit—a multimedia presentation of electronic, lighting, special effects, sound and projection techniques—will appear at Murray State in Lovett Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. April 18 and in the Matheson Building at Paducah Community College at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. April 19. The April 18 program and the morning program at PCC will be "Toward the Year 2,000" and the evening program at PCC will be "Concert."

Participants in sessions at Murray State will report to the lobby of Price Doyle Fine Arts Center.

Mrs. Boyd described the purpose of the series as two-fold—to provide cultural opportunities for people in the area and to enrich those in the campus community by exposing them to professional artists and teachers from other locations.

"Anyone who is interested in ideas and processes in art will certainly benefit from the series, whether students, faculty or someone from out in the region," she said.

All workshops except the weaving workshop will be limited to 25 participants. Up to 50 can be handled for the weaving session.

Reservations must be made in advance for each workshop. They will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis by calling the art department at Murray State 762-3784. No advance reservation is necessary for the lecture sessions or for "The Mobile Change" programs.

Gasoline Expected To Be Short

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Gasoline is going to be harder to purchase in Kentucky this weekend than last according to the Louisville and Blue Grass Auto Clubs survey.

Shortages are playing a bigger role in determining how many stations will be open for business as the check reveals 20 per cent of the stations along major highways in the state are out of gas.

The figure compares with 18 per cent which were dry at this time last week.

The survey also found that the number of stations closing before 7 p.m. weekdays has doubled from last week, and is now 60 per cent.

Owensboro motorists were the hardest hit for the second week in a row. Some 98 per cent of the stations are expected to be closed on Sunday in that area, with 90 per cent closing before 7 p.m. and a third of the stations limiting purchases.

Louisville-area motorists will find some improvements, with 30 per cent of the stations open this Sunday. That's a significant improvement over the 73 per cent which were closed Sunday of last week.

About 43 per cent of area stations are closing before 7 p.m., and 44 per cent are limiting purchases. Last week 62 per cent of area stations were rationing gas.

Station operators expect conditions to improve by the middle of next week, assuming that first-of-the-month deliveries arrive on schedule.

Republican legislative leaders have sharply criticized the Democratic administration's new budget.

Family Food Basket 16 Per Cent Higher Last Month Than Year Ago

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Shoppers with a sweet tooth were out of luck during February as spiraling sugar prices helped push the family grocery bill to a level 16 per cent higher than a year earlier, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

Sugar went up in every one of the 13 cities checked in the survey, rising an average of 14 per cent. Eggs went down in every city, but the decreases were more than offset by the boost in sugar prices.

The Associated Press checked the price of 15 food and non-food items in 13 cities on March 1, 1973 and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed the total marketbasket up in every city checked over the 12-month period, with increases ranging from 8 per cent in Los Angeles to 22 per cent in Philadelphia.

Rising wholesale costs were blamed for the increases in sugar prices. The boosts also were expected to push up the price of everything that contains sugar—and that includes everything from bread to soft drinks to processed meats.

An Albuquerque, N.M., food broker said one reason for the higher prices was that beet sugar farmers cut back production in recent years because other crops were more profitable. Now prices are going up again to encourage farmers to grow sugar beets as a cash crop, he said.

Bill Hunter of the Sugar Cane League in Florida—which produces 7 per cent of the nation's raw sugar—said there's a growing demand for sugar. He said that in 1970-71, U.S. sugar consumption was about 100 pounds per person. Now, he said, it's 120 pounds.

The retail sugar price increases during February ranged from 2 per cent in Detroit where a five-pound bag of granulated sugar went from 87 to 89 cents during February to 33 per cent in Salt Lake City, Utah, where the price went from 63 cents to $1.10. Over the entire year, sugar prices rose an average of 36 per cent. The same sugar that cost about 70 cents in most cities on March 1, 1973, was selling for $1 or more on March 1, 1974.

The AP marketbasket rose in nine cities during February, increasing an average of 3 per cent. The total bill was down in four cities—Los Angeles, Miami, Albuquerque and Detroit—decreasing an average of just under 2 per cent.

A look at the total number of items rising and falling in price is equally depressing. From February to March 33.8 per cent of the total number of items checked went up in price, 19 per cent went down and 39.5 per cent were unchanged.

changed. The remaining 7.7 per cent were unavailable on one of the check dates.

Over the entire year, a whopping 76 per cent of the items checked went up in price; 8 per cent went down; 8 per cent were unchanged; and 8 per cent were in the not available category.

Most of the increases came in the food items. Meat prices wound up way above last year's already high levels. Chopped chuck was higher this March 1 than last March 1 in 11 cities; pork chops were more expensive in all 13; all-beef frankfurters cost more in 10 cities.

Meat industry spokesmen say prices will remain high—and supplies tight—during the first half of the year. They say ranchers won't produce more until they're assured of higher profits.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has predicted that food prices over-all may rise as much as 16 per cent this year. Last year, the government said, food prices generally rose about 20 per cent.

The cities in the AP survey are: Albuquerque, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., Salt Lake City and Seattle.

The items covered in the survey are: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice, coffee, paper towels, eggs, butter, detergent, fabric softener, peanut butter, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef franks and granulated sugar.

Red tape causes federal aid turndown

When the federal Treasury sent a check for $282 as its share of federal funds, River-grove, a suburb of Portland, Ore., turned it down.

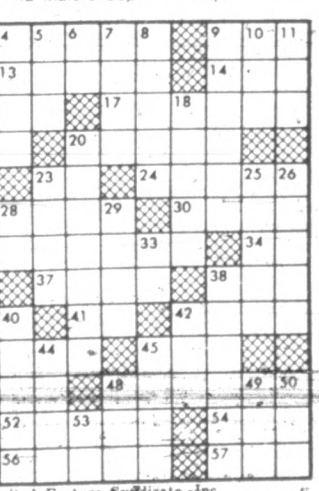

A City Council spokesman said, "We felt all the government red tape involved doesn't justify the small amount of money we would get."

Deaths and Funerals

Rites For Benjamin Moore Are Today Final Rites Sunday For Cloys Farris

The funeral for James Benjamin Moore of Murray is being held today at two p.m. at the chapel of the Milligan Funeral Home, Dover, Tenn., with Rev. Bernard Stafford officiating.

Interment will be in the Jones Cemetery at Standing Rock, Tenn.

Mr. Moore, age 86, retired farmer and life long resident of Standing Rock, Tenn., died Wednesday at seven p.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. He had been residing in Murray for about the past two years, and had never been married.

Survivors are three nieces, Mrs. Gladys Burgess, Mrs. Lona Love, and Mrs. Julie Moody, all of Murray, and three nephews, Clarence Coy of Dexter, Dean Moore of Clarksville, Tenn., and Neil Moore of Maryland.

Mrs. Anderson's Funeral Saturday At Local Chapel

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Anderson will be conducted by Rev. Max Anderson at the chapel of the Bialock-Coleman Funeral Home on Saturday, at one p.m.

Bobby Evans, Loyd Evans, Harold Anderson, Otis Anderson, Owen Anderson, and Stanley Anderson, all nephews, will serve as pallbearers. Burial will be in the Temple Hill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Anderson, age 96, died Thursday at 8:20 a.m. at the Westview Nursing Home. A member of the Temple Hill United Methodist Church, she was the wife of James Balus Anderson who died in November 1924. One son, Willie Anderson, died in May 1964.

The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Paul Evans of Murray Route Eight; three sons, Rufus H. (Rip) Anderson of Murray Route Three, Fred U. Anderson of Murray Route Seven, and James Anderson of Murray Route Four; thirteen grandchildren; twelve great grandchildren.

Funeral Is Today For Mrs. Crass

Funeral services for Mrs. Sandra Crass, age 20, are being held today at one p.m. at the chapel of the Filbeck and Cann Funeral Home, Benton, with Rev. Ralph Gunter officiating.

Burial will be in the Brewster Cemetery.

Mrs. Crass, wife of a former Benton, Cpt. Donald Crass, died Monday morning at her home in the housing area of Camp Lejeune, N. C., the victim of staffing and strangulation.

Military authorities said Pfc. Michael K. Frederick, 21, of Fairfax, Va., has been charged with murder in connection with her death.

won unanimous approval on the first reading. The council directed the city attorney to draw an ordinance rezoning a piece of property on Sycamore St., just west of the Emmert Chiropractic Clinic, from Residential (R2) to Professional Office. The property is owned by Charles Hale.

Councilman Paul Mansfield called attention to a "Letter to the Editor" that appeared in Wednesday's Murray Ledger & Times concerning the lack of sidewalks in certain areas of the city. Mansfield suggested that the city publish its policy concerning sidewalks.

Mayor Scott said that the present policy is that the city charges property owners $1.50 per foot for the installation of sidewalks.

The councilmen talked at length before approving the purchase of police cars from Sanders-Purdum at a cost of $4,136 on an 11-1 vote. Mansfield cast the lone nay vote.

Other bids submitted were $4,020 from Dwan Taylor Chevrolet and $3,951.60 from Parker Ford.

Members of the police committee said that the reason they recommended the purchase of the higher priced car was because they felt the heavier duty, Pontiac Catalina, would hold up better under police department use. They said they expected less maintenance costs and a higher resale value for the Pontiacs.

The council authorized the street department to purchase a new mower for the cemetery from Murray Supply on a bid of $694.96, with trade. Other bids, which also were with trade, were $1,073.75 from Purchase Equipment and $1,013.25 from McKee Equipment. Art Lee, chairman of the street department committee, was also authorized to purchase two push mowers for the cemetery.

Mayor Scott announced that the National League of Cities meeting would be held in Washington and asked the council to authorize the payment of expenses for any council member or the mayor, should they attend the meeting.

Councilman Koenen raised an objection to this action saying he did not feel that the council should authorize expenses for a possible 13 persons going to Washington. He expressed a desire to limit the number that could attend the meetings.

After some discussion, and comments by several of the council members that they would be unable to attend the meeting, the action was approved.

Councilman W. R. Furches, chairman of the natural gas committee, advised the council that Texas Gas had informed the gas system of a two cent per thousand cubic feet (mcf) increase in the cost of gas effective February 1, 1974 and of a tentative five cent per mc increase April 1, 1974. It was pointed out that these increases would have to be passed on to consumers.

Furches also asked that the gas system be allowed to investigate some other form of billing than that presently being used and the council concurred in this action.

City Judge Stephen Sanders appeared before the council and asked their assistance in determining if a method could be worked out so that persons cited into city court could pay their fine prior to the appointed court date at their own convenience. Sanders said that he felt it was unfair to some citizens of the community to require them to appear in court when it would force them to miss work and be additionally penalized on their paycheck.

Judiciary Committee Reports Favorably On Bottle Measure

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — In a surprise move Thursday, the Senate Judiciary Committee reported favorably a bill that would require all beverage containers sold in Kentucky to be returnable for deposit.

The bill had been considered dead and its sponsor, Sen. John Berry, D-New Castle, did not seem overjoyed at its resurrection.

Berry had substituted a resolution directing the Legislative Research Commission to study the problem of litter in Kentucky and the effect of anti-litter statutes. He said there was not adequate support for his so-called "bottle bill" in either house.

The Senate approved the resolution and it is now before the House Committee on Labor and Industry.

When he learned the bottle bill had been reported favorably, Berry told the Senate he didn't want the public to be deceived by the committee action.

He said he knew there was not enough support in either house for the bill to pass, and questioned the committee's motives in reporting it.

There was speculation that the judiciary committee approved the bottle bill to prod the house committee to act on the study resolution. It has been stalled in committee for three weeks.

Area 'Spotters' Needed as More Tornado Preparation Is Sought

Federal weather officials termed "not successful" a meeting at Bowling Green Monday with regional broadcast representatives to combat apathy surrounding the area's preparation for the annual tornado season.

In addition to more efficient dissemination of tornado watches and warnings issued by the National Weather Service, the officials asked for media cooperation in establishing local "self-help" programs to train tornado spotters in every Western Kentucky community.

John R. Bourke, of the National Weather Service Forecast office, pointed out that the evidence is great that adequate warning can significantly reduce deaths and injuries, and stressed the need for speedy identification of funnel clouds to a central headquarters.

Kentucky residents are noted by their lack of concern for preparation for twisters, Herbert Lieb, public affairs officer with the service, noted. The problem is the relatively few tornadoes that strike during the year.

"What can you do about a state that had only 19 tornadoes last year and no deaths?" he asked. "It's hard to get people interested."

"Recruiting volunteer spotters in states such as Texas, Oklahoma, and Missouri, (where in 1973 more than 300 tornadoes struck, killing 32 people) is easy," Lieb explained. Spotters are private citizens who scout the countryside for funnel clouds during times of the greatest possibility of high winds.

Although the death-rate is not as high in Kentucky as in other states along "Tornado Alley," Pearson predicted that it is just a matter of time before disaster strikes. Tornado Alley is the area north from Texas to Oklahoma and Kansas, then east to Illinois.

and W.R. Furches expressed their feeling that they did not think the city should participate with the county on a one-to-one basis since a substantial portion of the county's tax money come from within the city. Their reasoning was that the city taxpayer would be paying over two-thirds of the support if this method were used.

Councilman Tibbs expressed concern over the apparent urgency of the council's action saying that he would like more time to study the proposal before it came to a vote.

Mrs. Crass said that the important thing was that the Purchase Area Development District had advised the committee that the distribution of federal grant money would begin around April 1, 1974, and "if this grant is going to be revised and we're going to become a part of this project we have to have consulting engineers here to work out a plan. They in turn will revise the grant."

"I don't think if we vote against joining the county with this that this money will automatically be withdrawn," councilman, Rex Alexander said.

Mayor Scott replied that he didn't think the money would be withdrawn but that "I feel like the county wouldn't pursue it any further."

"If they didn't think they could (development the park by themselves) why did they ask for this grant money," Alexander said.

"Because it was available," Mrs. Crass replied.

The mayor said that this particular piece of money had become available because an Eastern Kentucky community had been unable to come up with matching funds and had to give up their grant.

Mayor Scott is scheduled to contact the Fiscal Court and set up the joint meeting so the two groups can discuss further the joint park project.
