THE LISTENING POST

People who keep up with sports events by reading newspapers and magazines know that Grantland Rice is one of the best known sports writers. Football lovers, in particular know that Rice succeeded to the throne of All-American Picker when Walter Camp died, and these people wait until the Grantland Rice selection is made before they accept any football players as All-American. For many years the late Walter Camp did this work, and Grantland Rice took up the work where its originator dropped it.

However, not so many people know that Grantland Rice is a man who is also an accomplished verse writer, and a man who attended school, at Vanderbilt and who played baseball over this territory as a young man, and who made his start on a Nashville newspaper. Rice is distinctly a big shot now, known wherever sports fans gather, well known in moving picture shorts and for his picking of the All-American football teams every fall. I never knew him, but do know something of his beginning, and I have always known that he was a deft artist when it came to putting verses together. Years ago, when he was starting out on his sports writing career on the old Nashville Tennessean, or perhaps The Daily News he published many verses and a friend of his here told me a few days ago that he had published two or three slim volumes of verse. I did not know this until this Fulton man told me, but I did know that he had written a lot of verses, and much of it distinctly high-grade. Frank Carr and his brother, the late Herbert Carr, knew Rice well, and were in school with him at Vanderbilt. I believe also, that they played baseball with him on semi-pro teams in West Tennessee more than once.

Rice has always had a certain style of verse writing that I learned a long time ago to recognize. At some spot in any verse he writes he will have some reference to "old twilights," or "far-off trails or roads." Frank L. Stanton, another newspaper poet, had the same style, and I have wondered a lot of times if Rice did not perhaps model his style on Stanton's. Or perhaps Stanton modeled his on Rice, for I really do not know which came along first. I rather believe, however, that Stanton antedated Rice.

I thought of this mannerism last week when I happened to run across a bit of verse in Collier's. It was spread out over a half-page, with a huge bomber showing in flight as the art work. I idly glanced over it, and the second line told me it was Grantland Rice without having to look at the signature below. The second read, "Along the bitter faroff roads, their pinions catch the breeze," and that spoke the name of Grantland Rice to me as clearly as the name itself would have been. I wish that I might quote the entire verse, for it is really one of the best bits of verse that has yet come out of this war. Every war develops poets. For instance, the World War brought "Flanders Fields," and "Rendezvous With Death," as well as many others, and this war will certainly develop some new poet as our young men fight and die in everyland. Perhaps this verse of Rice's is not of the caliber of Rupert Brooke or Dr. McRae, but it is a bit which does do a clever job and has some

NURSES TO SPONSOR GROUP PROGRAM IN PADUCAH, JUNE 16

The Fifth District Nurses Association will sponsor a two-day study group program, "All Out For Victory," on Tuesday, June 16th at the Irvin Cobb Hotel in Paducah, the purpose of the program being to more effectively coordinate the Defense and War efforts of the nursing group and laymen in Western Kentucky.

Such excellent speakers as Dr. Alice Chenoweth Pate, member of the American Board of Pediatrics and the Academy of Pediatrics; Dr. John Pate, State Board of Health, Louisville, and Mrs. Fred Stokes, President First District P. T. A., Hickman; will be on the program. The Rev. Loyal O. Hartman, pastor of the First Methodist church Fulton, will act as toastmaster at the banquet Tuesday night.

Subjects to be discussed will include problems in Nutrition, Venereal Diseases, Maternity and Child Welfare, and how Nurses and Laymen can act together to fortify our Home Front.

Registration will be held at 9 a. m. to 10 a. m. Tuesday, June 16. A luncheon, in connection with a Nutrition program, has been planned for Tuesday noon and the Institute Banquet will be Tuesday night. The program for Wednesday will include both speakers and round-table discussions.

All laymen are cordially invited and leaders of civic and defense groups are urged to attend.

MEN TO MEET AT LOWE'S TONIGHT

Those who are planning to attend the Chamber of Commerce good-will meeting at Rush Creek tonight are requested to meet at Lowe's Cafe at 7:30 o'clock. There will be transportation for all who wish to attend the meeting.

KENTUCKY 4-H'ERS MAY WIN WAR BONDS

Six Kentucky 4-H club members doing exceptional work this year will receive $25 war bonds from a fund established by the International Harvester Company. Awards will be made on general records in club work, leadership and community activities, and special contributions to the 4-H victory program.

Several Whitley county farmers are growing 2 1-2 acres of castor beans.

O. P. A. To Help Collect Auto Tax Through Gas Ration Cards

Washington. —The $4 federal automobile tax stamps will go on sale June 10 at postoffices and internal revenue collector offices.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Guy T. Helvering, announcing the date today, indicated that possession of the stamp would be necessary for getting new gasoline rationing cards in areas where motor fuel is rationed.

He said he had been advised by the Office of Price Administration "that, in the issuance and use of gasoline rationing books, an important identification will be the serial number printed on the used tax stamp. In those areas where gasoline is being rationed and in those areas where gasoline will be rationed, possession of the stamp evidencing payment of the use tax on motor vehicles will provide one of the necessary means of identifying the coupon book with the vehicle in the servicing of gasoline."

Pearl Harbor. —Stung desperately by the hornet's nest it unwittingly uncovered at Midway Island, what was left of a powerful Japanese fleet sought hiding near home waters today to lick its wounds and probably prepare for another "face saving" smash at American defense in the Pacific Ocean.

How many of the enemy warships may have been able to withdraw to safer waters was not definitely known. Official reports of the battle that began last Thursday, however, said at least three warships were sunk, 11 more badly damaged and the accompanying air arm virtually wiped out.

American Losses

Against this liquidation of Japanese seapower known American losses were the sinking of a destroyer, damage to an airplane carrier and destruction of some planes.

(Informed quarters in Washington predicted the enemy would make new and desperate efforts to break the growing strength air and naval might of the United States. They either must launch new operations on the water front running from Alaska to Australia, these sources said, or by their inactivity admit eventual defeat even before the United Nations start their expected grand offensive.)

Contact with the enemy was lost Saturday night, said Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the Pacific fleet. At that time the force that launched the all-out attack on Midway appeared to be withdrawing.

Zero Hour Nearer

The victory off Midway, ranking with the greatest in American naval history, undoubtedly, brought greatly nearer the zero hour for the all-out attack against Japan by the Allied Nations. This was made certain by the crippling blows to the enemy fleet and its air arm.

As in the battle of the Coral Sea, which opened a second phase of the war in the Pacific, air power played a principal part in repelling the attempted invasion of Midway. A majority of the damage to enemy ships, official communiques have indicated, came from attacks by dive bombers and torpedo planes, supported by land-based planes.

First stage of the war with Japan —fought on land—ended with the fall of Java and encirclement of the Philippines. Air power made those victories possible, and the United Nations set forth to strengthen at once the areas remaining in their control. The Coral Sea bat-

18 Pct. Of Those Discharged From Narcotic Hospitals Cured

Washington. —Eighteen per cent of those discharged from the federal government's hospital for narcotic addicts at Lexington, Ky., up to Jan. 1, 1941, was adjudged by government doctors to be completely cured.

Dr. Lawrence Kolb, chief of the public health service's mental hygiene division, told a House appropriations subcommittee the figure was determined by a study of the patients for six months after their discharges.

He said another 97 per cent of those discharged from the institution since it was completed in 1935 were listed as "questionable cures on the assumption that if the environment and opportunity were tempting enough they might revert to narcotics."

Dr. Kolb said no information could be obtained on 34.3 per cent of those discharged, and that it was possible that more absolute or questionable cures might be in this group, which was not considered in determining the percentage of cures.

Reporting the number of narcotic patients at Lexington and at the corresponding federal institution at Fort Worth, Texas, had decreased substantially in the last two years, Dr. Kolb remarked: "This is one problem which has grown smaller as a result of the war and the shutting off of the supply of narcotics illicitly brought into the country, chiefly by the Japanese."

A. W. FOWLER DIES IN UNION CITY YESTERDAY

Is Brother-in-Law Of Ward
McClellan

Funeral services for A. W. Fowler, 61, brother-in-law of Ward McClellan of this city, who died yesterday morning in the Missouri-Pacific hospital in St. Louis, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist church in Union City. He was employed as agent of the G. M. & O. railroad at Union City, having served in this capacity since 1923.

He is survived by his wife, Nina McClellan Fowler, two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Morton and Mrs. Harold Midyett of Union City, three brothers and two sisters.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ADVISES SALES TAX IS NECESSARY

Says Goal Cannot Be Reached
Without Tax

Washington. —The House ways and means committee was reported today to have put the administration on notice formally that its tax goal of $8,700,000,000 could not be achieved without a sales tax.

Informed sources said that Chairman Doughton (D-N. C.), and other high-ranking committee members had told Secretary Morgenthau that they could not write that big a bill without overriding Morgenthau's opposition to some form of consumption tax.

Faced with that attitude by the committee, Morgenthau promised to make a written statement on the situation soon.

The committee thus far has proposed to raise only about $5,500,000,000, but has not started consideration of Treasury recommendations that another $1,340,000,000 be raised by increased excise taxes—the last big item in Morgenthau's March 3 suggestions.

Although the committee has been working more than three months, many members predicted that it would be still another month before a bill is presented to the House. When passed there, it will face perhaps six weeks of study in the Senate.

WOMAN DUMPS TRASH IN TILL AND BURNS $1,600

St. Charles, Va. —Mrs. Jake Smith's sleight-of-hand was unintentional, but $1,600 went up in smoke because of it.

At the close of business in her cafe recently Mrs. Smith stuffed the money, all bills, in a paper bag and carried it home. The next morning while cleaning house she stuffed another paper bag with wastepaper and refuse, and took both bags to the store.

As she greeted customers she dropped one of the sacks into the trash can and it wasn't until the trash had been carted away and burned that the wrong bag, the one filled with waste, was emptied into the cash register.

Trievied and sent to the U. S. Treasury department in the hope that experts might be able to identify the bills' serials from the ashes.

MEREDITH EXPECTED TO CHALLENGE THREE LEGISLATIVE ACTS

May Test Amendment To Abolish
Salary Limits

Frankfort, Ky. —Validity of the proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the state's salary limit and of two other legislative acts is expected to be challenged soon by Attorney General Hubert Meredith.

The other two acts due to be added to the litigation between Meredith and Gov. Keen Johnson's administration are that relieving Jefferson, Harlan and Kenton counties from paying part of their tax revenue into the state treasury, and another granting to the state finance commissioner much of the power formerly held by the state auditor.

Suits to determine legality of these laws will be filed soon in Franklin Circuit Court, Meredith indicated today, to follow his recent petitions attacking 1942 acts empowering state agencies to hire their own legal counsel and granting the Governor and other officials power to spend a total of $11,270,000 during the two years beginning next July 1.

"There is no personal issue in suits," Meredith declared. "It's just a difference in principles. I still believe in local government and they believe in concentrating power."

Meredith declared, however, that the constitutional amendment to abolish the state's much discussed annual $5,500 salary limit which the 1942 General Assembly voted to submit at the 1943 general election was "deceptively worded." He asserted the average voter would not realize that its approval meant abolishing the maximum limit.

The 1942 General Assembly repealed an old law requiring the counties having more than 75,000 population to pay 25 per cent of the revenue to the state. Only four counties have that large a population and Fayette which came into the 75,000 class in the 1940 census avoided the payments by a court ruling that inmates of its numerous hospitals and institutions should not be counted in totaling its population for the tax purpose.

2,557 AT DISTRICT HOMEMAKERS MEETINGS

The annual district meetings of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers attracted a total attendance of 2,557 women, according to a report of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics. An attendance of 679 in the Bluegrass district was the largest in any of the six districts. The Bell county delegation of 38 women traveled the longest distance, 265 miles. One hundred and fifty Shelby county women attended, the largest number for one county.

400,000 U. S. AIRMEN MAY AID ENGLAND

Paper Sees Need Of 150 More
Airdromes

Washington. —An estimate that American participation in the air offensive against Germany will mean a United States Army Air Force of at least 400,000 men in the British Isles was made today by the Army and Navy Journal.

The service weekly said that probably 150 additional airdromes would be required to enable American fliers to match the blocks struck by the Royal Air Force.

Bigger Raids Foreseen

"Close students of air maneuvers believe Germany, which repeatedly has been under fire from 1,000 R. A. F. planes, has not yet begun to see the sort of bombing she is to receive," the journal said.

"When planes to the extent of from 3,000 to 5,000 wing their murderous way over enemy countries almost nightly, then Germany will know the power of her opponents on the west."

The estimates were said to be based on statements by Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, army air force chief, who returned this week from conferences in London to arrange for American air power to join the aerial offensive on a major scale. "At least 3,000 planes must be in these flights to assure an average of 1,000 a night, since there will be some nights when weather will prevent flying, and the British are planning on 30,000 planes a month," the periodical said.

FATHER OF MRS. H. G. HALL DIES

Harve Freeman of Mayfield, father of Mrs. H. G. Hall formerly of Fulton, passed away last Friday, June 5, in Fuller-Gilliam hospital at Mayfield and funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Calvary Presbyterian church near Mayfield.

Mrs. Hall, who formerly lived in Fulton was also a patient in Fuller-Gilliam hospital at the time of her father's death and remains a patient there.

Deferring U. S. Workers Is Questioned By Sen. Tydings

Washington. —Chairman Tydings (D. Md.), of a special Senate committee recommended today that the selective service system check up on draft deferments given 1,000 young male employees of the government.

At the same time, Tydings said his group, which is looking into general conditions in the executive branch, was considering holding open hearings on the question of draft deferment because of federal employment. Commenting on the results of preliminary investigations, he said:

"On the whole the deferment privilege has been judiciously used by most agencies of the national government but the amuses we have found stick out like a sore thumb."

Personnel Expert Cited

To illustrate his contention he cited the case of "Mr. X," 21 years old when he was appointed a year ago to a $1,620 a year job in an unidentified department. "Nine months later," Tydings said, "he had become such an expert in the field of 'personnel procedure surveys' that he was promoted and his salary raised $1,000 a year. Further, four months after his appointment he had become such an indispensable cog in the administration of this department that it was necessary to have him deferred, and six months later, not being able to replace this highly indispensable 21-year-old expert, it was necessary to obtain a further deferment. This was the claim of the department for which he worked."

"This seems to us clearly an abuse of the deferment privilege. He is not even a college graduate, which is unusual; he has never been employed other than as a student before entering the Government service."

LaFollette's motion was adopted after Senator Austin (R-Vt.), had filed a conference report outlining a compromise proposal agreed upon by a joint Senate-House committee. This compromise would have fixed the minimum pay at $46, with first class privates and others of equal rank receiving $52.

By adoption of LaFollette's motion, the Senate instructed its conferees to carry out the necessary parliamentary procedure to approve the $50-50 pay scale previously voted by the House.

LaFollette said these formalities ought to be carried out immediately and the revised conference agreement approved and sent to the House for final legislative action.

SENATOR HILL (D-ALA.) SAYS THE

Congress would meet tomorrow to carry out the Senate's instructions and would report the revised bill to the Senate when it meets again Thursday. Senate action then was expected to be followed by House approval of the measure, sending it to President Roosevelt for his consideration.

Democratic Leader Barkley of Kentucky said he thought the $46 figure represented a "fair compromise" but Senator Lee (D-Okla.), asserted that the increased amount would serve as "a concrete manifestation of our appreciation of the sacrifices of the armed forces."

THE ROADS CONVERGE

Someday we may realize that in these years when civilization faced its darkest hour, it discovered its most hopeful dawn. It is a long way from the blitz on London to the mighty raid on Cologne. But no farther than from the milestone of world thinking represented in Summer Welle's Memorial Day speech back to those unchartered ruins in which the western nations were bogged when this war broke out.

This distance is measurable in the increasing likeness of objectives described by national leaders as far apart geographically and in background as Mr. Welles and Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru. In between these two are numerous others, in official and unofficial positions, who speak as if they had sat at the same council table and shared and approved each other's statements at least in principle.

Such statements are, of course, generalities. This is not to say they lack substance. But it is doubtful that the great objectives which are unfolding as free peoples find new unity in mutual protection of their freedom can be obtained immediately with the cessation of hostilities. For this reason, Mr. Welle's emphasis upon the need to prepare for a period of world-policing by the United Nations is one of the most important contributions to American thinking on post-war problems that could be made today.

One thing at least Americans must learn in order not to waste victory is that the United States must continue as part of the world community in peace as in war. No super-national organization, or,
on the other hand, no attempt to "pick up our marbles and come home" will suffice to make good the investment of fortune and life that Americans are now making.

Mr. Welle is not the first speaker to urge public consideration of a policed transition period after the war. But never before has the proposal been stated from an American platform with so much authority.

In many ways the preparations for such a period are already well under way. The formation of United States relief corps to follow ringing, marching lines. More than anything I have yet seen it pictures the bomber force to me, for it uses an old nursery rhyme to portray the new picture. It is called "A Switch in Lullabies," and instead of saying "some flew east —some flew west—"Rice tells the story of the way the bombers fly.

Today the bombers are flying east and west and south and no doubt they are also flying over the cuckoo's nest if duty calls them in that direction. It must have been like flying over the cuckoo's nest
when Doolittle and his men blasted Tokyo from the air a few weeks ago.

Doubtless the verse is copyrighted, else I would quote the entire five stanzas. The final four lines are so poignant so compelling, so truthful, that I am quoting those. The verses tells how the bombers fly in all directions, around the world and back, on their mission of hammering the Axis enemies in all lands, and then concludes:

"Their golden youth blots out the

They let the comets plod.
As each one flies to live or die
For country and for God."

FARM PURCHASING POWER STABILIZED BY PRICE CEILING

The purchasing power of farm products will be stabilized at an opportune time, if the price ceiling regulation recently announced by Price Administrator Henderson has the anticipated effect of generally holding retail and wholesale prices
at present levels, according to Dr.
H. B. Price, head of the department of markets and rural finance of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

The prices received by farmers since July, 1941, have been the most favorable in relation to the cost of farming and farm family living of any comparable period since 1919, he declares. In these past 10 months the relation of price paid by farmers has averaged about 100, or parity.

In other words, continues Dr.
Price, the prices of farm products have been going up faster than the cost of farming and farm family living. This situation was especially true during 1941, which was a prosperous year generally for Kentucky farmers. More recently the prices of things that farmers buy have been advancing rapidly, thus tending to offset some of the earlier advantage of rising prices of farm products. The price ceiling regulation was issued in the expectation that it would stop this unfavorable development.

MILLION DOLLARS COST OF BAD EGGS

Just plain bad eggs are costing Kentucky farmers a million dollars a year, it is estimated. This is a loss which could be largely prevented, according to Stanley Caton of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics, who offers the following suggestions:

Sell or can the roosters; they are not needed after the hatching season. Fertile eggs don't keep well.

Produce clean eggs by keeping a lot of litter on the hen house floor and in the nests. There should be a nest for every four or five hens.
Cool eggs before putting them into cases. This can be done by putting them in wire or split hickory baskets in the cellar or other cool place for a few hours.

Place eggs in the case small ends
down, and keep the cases in a cool

Modern Oil Range Fits the Times!

• Yes it's the modern Perfection Oil Range. No other range fits today's needs so well. In addition to its well-known economy, its saving of time is another big advantage in these days—time for other important work.

We have a few of the latest Perfections that will give a lifetime of fast, convenient cooking service to those fortunate enough to get them. No other range can beat them, either in good looks or in performance. And no other range gives such flexible service—you can move it anywhere, any time; its burners can be instantly set for any heat desired, and there's never any "line trouble" with a Perfection, because it uses kerosene, the modern, plentiful, economical fuel.

Paper Stock Is Undergoing Many Changes

Paper for letterheads and envelopes is slowly undergoing many changes.
Bond papers will be dingier, will lack the white crackling finish they have known for many years. Probably the price will be higher also.

We still have some stock on hand of the better finish. Better order some letterheads today.

We have never used this space to announce

ERNEST HANCOCK
HONORED SUNDAY

Ernest Hancock, Jr., was honored Sunday, June 7, by a group of relatives and friends who gathered at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hancock, north of town. Ernest has been visiting with home folks and friends for the past few days. He is attending school at Ames, Iowa, and will return there Monday.

At noon a very bountiful and tasty dinner was spread on the beautiful lawn of the Hancock home. Those attending were the following:

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hancock, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hancock and son, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Hancock and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Wales Austin and family, Mr. and Mrs. Avery Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hancock and family, Mrs. Otha Slayden and son, Mrs. Tom Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Dick McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hindman, Frank Hodges, Jane Baber and Mr. and Mrs. Kirby.

POUNDING FOR REV.
AND MRS. TURNBOW

Last evening Rev. L. P. Turnbow, who is the new pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in Fulton, and Mrs. Turnbow were delightfully surprised when members of the church gathered at their home on Park Avenue and gave them a pounding. A group of about forty members met at the church and went to the manse in a group.

Attending were Mrs. Calla Latta, Mrs. E. M. Vaden, Mrs. Claude Linton, Miss Pauline Thompson, Mrs. Fred Sawyer, I. B. Cooke, Mrs. Paul Turbeville, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Eph Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Stille, Mrs. Bob Sulley, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Ross, Mrs. Virgil King, Mrs. Bob White, Mrs. Lynn Askew, Mrs. Elizabeth Snow, Miss Florence Wade, Mrs. Steve Wiley and daughter, Molly McGee, Mrs. A. B. Roberts and daughter, Carolyn, Mrs. Clifton Linton and daughter, Ann, Mrs. Raymond Norman, Mrs. Elvys Myrick, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Bard, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lawrence, and others who were unable to attend.

W. S. C. S. OF METHODIST CHURCH IN GROUPS

All of the groups of the Woman's Society of Christian Service First Methodist church, held regular monthly meetings yesterday with the following report from each meeting:

Group A

Group A met at the home of Mrs. Joe Bennett, Jr., with Mrs. Arch Huddleston, Jr. co-hostess. Mrs. R. C. Long, chairman, presided over the business portion of the meeting and then, on account of the illness of the Bible study leader, Mrs. J. C. Hancock, the regular Bible study was omitted. A delicious ice course was served to ten members.

Group B

Group B met at the home of Mrs. E. M. Jenkins with Mrs. Frank Brady co-hostess. Seventeen regular members were in attendance. A business session was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. George Hester, followed by an interesting Bible lesson led by Mrs. T. J. Kramer. An article from the Methodist Woman was given by Mrs. Hester.

During the social hour the hostesses served cold drinks and cookies.

Group C

Mrs. Eldridge Grymes, Mrs. Warren Graham and Mrs. Claude Snelby were hostesses to the meeting of Group C, held in the home of Mrs. Grymes. Sixteen regular members and one visitor, Mrs. Martin Nall, were there.

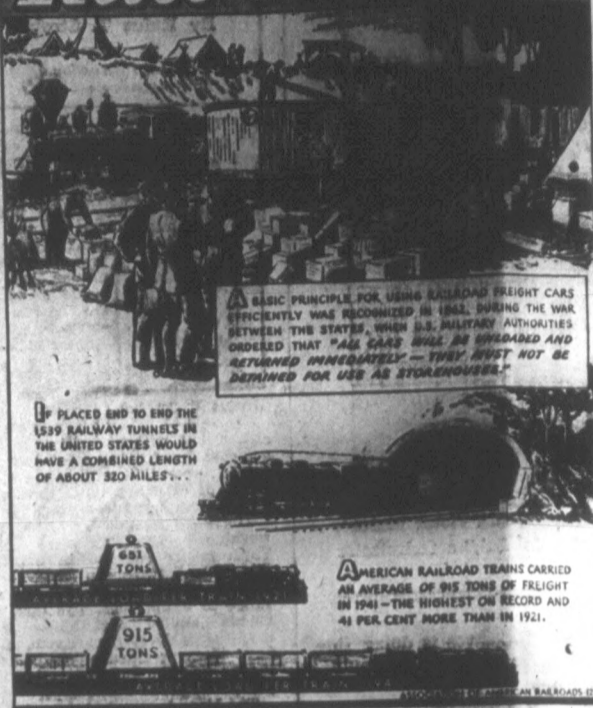

The Bible study was given by Mrs. Nall with the devotional conducted by Mrs. J. V. Freeman. Articles from the Methodist Woman and the World Outlook were presented by Mrs. Warren Graham.

The business portion of the meeting was then conducted by the chairman, Mrs. Clint Reeds.

East Fulton

The East Fulton circle met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Matheny. The regular business routine was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Dick Bard and the devotional was given by Mrs. Charles Burrow, followed with the Bible study by Mrs. Eunice Robinson. An article from the World Outlook was given by Mrs. Brown Moss. There were 14 members present at this meeting.

Rail oddities

Unecus Group 1

Unecus Group 1 met at the home of Mrs. Gene Speight with Mrs. Monroe Luther co-hostess. In the absence of the chairman, Mrs. John Daniel, the business session was presided over by Mrs. Speight. A very good Bible study was given by Mrs. Harold Thomas, her subject being "Christianity, Religion for Changing the World." Mrs. Homer Wilson gave an interesting article from the Methodist Woman. During the social hour an ice course was served to 14 regular members.

Unecus Group 2

Unecus Group 2 met at the home of Mrs. Herman Drewery with Mrs. Horace Cathey assistant hostess. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer, followed by the business session presided over by the chairman, Mrs. E. L. Cooke. The Bible study was given by Mrs. Drewery, the subject of which was "Church and Its Gospel." The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Robert Graham and Mrs. Ernest Cardwell gave an article from the Methodist Woman. At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served to eleven members and two visitors, Mrs. Elsie Provow and Miss Bebe Pearlgen.

Wesleyan Service Guild

The meeting of the Wesley Service Guild, scheduled for last evening, was postponed because of the rainstorm at that time.

BAPTIST W. M. U. IN GROUP MEETINGS

The various circles of the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union held meetings yesterday afternoon and last night as follows:

Circle 4

Circle number 4 met yesterday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ed Bondurant in Highlands when six members and two visitors were present. The visitors were Mrs. Carl Hastings, president of the W. M. U., and Mrs. L. M. Bratcher who is Superintendent of the Associational W. M. U.

The meeting opened with prayer led by Mrs. Carl Hastings and the chairman of the circle, Mrs. Earl Taylor, presided over a business session. She was assisted by Mrs. Tan Hart, acting as secretary in the absence of Mrs. E. H. Knighton. Each of the visitors made a short talk.

Mrs. Ed Bondurant, Stewardship chairman for the circle, was the program leader and presented Mrs. Hastings who reviewed the book "Income and Outgo of The Kingdom of God."

The meeting then closed with prayer by Mrs. Bratcher.

Circle 5

Mrs. Clay McCollum was hostess to circle 5 when it met yesterday afternoon at her home on Walnut street. Nine members and one visitor, Mrs. E. A. Autrey, were in attendance. Mrs. Kelly Lowe opened the meeting with prayer and Mrs. W. O. Locke presided in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. T. T. Boaz. At the conclusion of the business routine Mrs. W. E. Filippo had charge of the program which opened with a song, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus." Mrs. Shelton Hart presented the devotional, taken from Luke 24:1-48, followed with prayer by Mrs. L. E. Mooneyham. Mrs. Kelly Lowe gave a good article entitled "A Good Citizen of God's Kingdom," which was followed with sentence prayers.

Mrs. Autrey, the visitor, then was presented in a special solo number, accompanied by Mrs. S. M. DeMyer. Mrs. Filippo dismissed the meeting.

Circle 6

Yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ella Maxey on Valley street the meeting of circle 6 was held. The meeting opened with prayer by Mrs. Guy Duley. Miss Lillian Tucker, chairman, conducted the regular routine of the meeting, with Mrs. L. E. Allen giving the devotion-al from the sixth chapter of Deuteronomy.

The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. N. T. Morse, who presented an article entitled "Bibles For Russians" by Mrs. Walter E. Craighead. The meeting closed in sentence prayer.

Attending were twelve regular members. The next monthly meeting will be held on June 22 in the home of Mrs. A. C. Allen.

Opening Game At Union City Is Postponed, As Barons Drop Game And Jackson Creeps Up

The opening game in Union City last night was postponed because of weather conditions and this game may be played as part of a double bill tomorrow night. Union City observes a blackout tonight, and for this reason the game will start at seven o'clock and be over by nine. It is also announced from Union City that all future games will start at 7:30 at night in order to save electricity and give the fans a better break. If a double bill is to be played tomorrow it will probably start at about six o'clock. Union City is now trying desperately to interest fans in the team, and Cardinal officials have promised Union City a team that can get into the pennant race. Branch Rickey, Cardinal head man, is expected to attend the game there tomorrow night, and Cardinal coaches and scouts have been with the team for some time in an effort to develop a winning combination. The Union City management has announced that unless better attendance can be secured the team must quit. "We have lost a lot of money already," Joe White said yesterday, "and we can't keep up this drain much longer."

Jackson drove to within striking distance of the top by whipping Owensboro last night, as Bowling Green dropped a game to Hopkinsville. This restored a lead of two and a half games for the Tigers, but at the same time brought Jackson within four and one half games of top position. The Generals will make a desperate effort to haul the Tigers down the last three days of this week when the Fulton team invades the Jackson park. Hopkinsville is also playing better ball and Owensboro is doing a lot better than at the beginning. All told, it seems that the Tigers have their work cut out for them to hold the top rung. Right now the eyes of the fans are turned toward the All-Star game, which is played in July on the home grounds of the team which is leading the league on July 4. This game has never been played in Fulton, and the Tigers would like to be hosts for it this year.

Manager Mullen's pitching staff has slumped a bit in recent days, but he is optimistic over the future. He knows and the fans know that the Tigers cannot keep on winning three out of four games as they have been doing, but the local skipper believes firmly that his team has enough power to remain in the lead.

How the New Order Limiting Telephone Installations May Affect YOU

To turn out more and more weapons for our fighting men, our Government has called upon the telephone industry and the telephone-using public to limit new telephone installations to an extent that will divert annually thousands of tons of vital metals and rubber to war production.

If you are a new applicant for service or a business or residential subscriber, the limitations of the War Production Board order may affect you, depending upon how much equipment is now available to serve the future requirements of essential individuals or agencies in your community.

Specifically, this is how the order may affect you: NON-SUBSCRIBERS, business or residential, may not be able to obtain telephones in some instances.

BUSINESS CUSTOMERS, particularly those with private branch exchanges and other large service installations who move to new locations or who wish other changes, may not be able to obtain the desired arrangements.

RESIDENTIAL SUBSCRIBERS who move may not be able to obtain telephones or may be asked to accept a different class of service.

We shall observe the order to the letter, confident of the public's full cooperation. We look forward to the day when we shall again be able to give you the kind of service you want, when and where you want it—but now, and for the duration, the one big task of winning the war comes first... with us, as with you.

NEW CAMP NEEDS 1,000 CARPENTERS NOW

Housing Is "Taxed" In Morganfield Area

Morganfield, Ky., —Maj. Sultan G. Cohen, U. S. army engineer in charge of the construction of a nearby army cantonment, said today that "we are far below our quota of workmen here."

"We have a standing order right now for 1,000 carpenters, and we have called every section of the country in an attempt to secure more workmen," Major Cohen said. Housing facilities here are taxed to care for the influx of workers already busy on the project, and the army engineer said workers are finding places to live in Evansville, Henderson, Uniontown, Waverly, Sturgis and other cities in this area.

Says Army Co-Operates However, Major Cohen said a recent Associated Press report about housing conditions, retail charges and food prices here "throws the wrong light" on the camp and "leaves a wrong impression about Morganfield."

C. D. Richards, member of the Morganfield Municipal Housing Commission, had complained that the Federal Government had failed to heed suggestions for adequate care of construction workers. Major Cohen said that "we have always co-operated 100 per cent with the local officials."

"Every garden in Owsley county is larger or has more variety than previously," reports the county farm agent.

CONGRESSMEN SAY $46 TOO LOW FOR SERVICE PAY

Washington — Demands that Congress approve a higher base pay for service men than the $46 compromise agreed upon by a Senate-House conference committee were voiced by members of both branches today.

A showdown on the issue is in prospect tomorrow when Senator La Follette (Prog. Wis.) will demand that the Senate vote on the question of a minimum of $50 a month for men in the armed forces. Several influential Republican Senators were reported to have tied up with La Follette in this demand. From the House side, Representative Rankin (D-Miss.) forecast the House would reject the $46 compromise.

BAPTIST BIBLE SCHOOL ENDS FRIDAY

Our enrollment has reached 135 thru Monday and we feel sure that there will be others these last few days. The youngsters are having a great time and are being taught the Bible.

This is a final and urgent invitation to all youngsters from the Beginners through the Intermediate to enroll tomorrow morning at 8:30 for this last week of Daily Vacation Bible School.

We are to have our picnic in Carr's Park on Friday of this week. A great outdoor time is expected. Graduation exercises will be held in the auditorium of the First Baptist Church Sunday night at 7:30. Let us make these closing days the greatest of the entire school.

Training For Defense By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WITHOUT an intercommunicating system consisting of cables and wires, the modern battleship would be all but worthless. The wiring is just as important as the gun turrets or the steam power. The ship might have all the appearance of a first class performer, but she would be of little value in action.

Some men are like an unfinished ship. They have the potentialities, but without skill they are not capable of doing a job that requires responsibility. They are mere shells of efficiency until the "wiring" or training is acquired.

Today thousands of men are working in the New York Navy Yard, busily engaged in building this nation's two-ocean navy. These men are given opportunities to advance to better jobs. The task demands skilled technicians and mechanics. Every department must have highly trained men to direct those who build and fit together the parts of gigantic battleships. The Navy is proud of the spirit of the men who build ships, but that is not enough. Each workman must be a perfectionist. There is not much time to train men, but every effort is being made in that direction. The big jobs in the shipyard, like those in any other great American industry, are handled by those men who are properly "wired" to produce with speed and efficiency. You have the "know how!"

The average price for all 4-H lambs was $13.15 a hundred.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

Several Keaton county 4-H club members established model gardens with the aid of the local Kiwanis club, which contributed seed.

Cumberland county farmers, as a patriotic gesture and a good farming method, are growing 175 acres of hemp.

A planting demonstration for hemp seed was held in Jackson county, to illustrate the best methods.

On the C. R. Stinnett farm in Ballard county, an acre of fine crimson clover was turned under for tobacco. "It pays," says Mr. Stinnett.
