Amendment To Resolution Gives Glimmer Of Hope To Vet School

Another chapter in the continuing saga of the proposed school of veterinary medicine at Murray State University was written this past weekend following a meeting between five western Kentucky legislators and Gov. Wendell Ford.

The five legislators—Sen. Pat McCuiston, D-Pembroke, and Reps. Kenneth Imes, D-Murray, Lloyd Clapp, D-Windom, Ralph Graves, D-Bardwell and Fred Morgan, D-Paducah—reportedly requested Gov. Ford to take a stance on the vet school issue.

Late Friday, following the meeting, Sen. McCuiston filed an amendment to House Joint Resolution 30, directing the Legislative Research Commission (LRC) to study the possibility of creating a veterinary school at Murray State.

The original form of the House Joint Resolution directed the Council on Public Higher Education to find ways of getting more Kentucky students into vet schools in other states. McCuiston's amendment calls for the LRC to report its findings to the education council by October 31, 1975 and directs the LRC to name a five-member advisory committee—composed of one senator and one representative plus three persons associated with the state's livestock industry—to assist the LRC in making the study.

McCuiston and Imes have both expressed confidence that the amendment will be approved by the Senate.

"This isn't what I wanted...it's a compromise, but I think we can get this amendment through," McCuiston said Friday. McCuiston said that Gov. Ford, who has been openly uncommitted on the issue thus far, supported the amended resolution.

McCuiston said he believes that if the LRC study is conducted it will justify a vet school for Kentucky located at Murray State.

Imes said that if the study does indicate the need for a vet school, machinery for obtaining federal assistance in school construction could be set in motion prior to the 1976 legislative session.

"Then, if the proper bill were to be passed in '76, we could break ground the day the bill is signed," he said. McCuiston's original vet school proposal, Senate Bill 69, handily won Senate approval early during the session but the bill was bottled up in the House State Government Committee by the higher education council, reportedly with the help of Gov. Ford.

McCuiston's amendment to HJR 30 may set up another confrontation between the senator and the education council sometime in the future. McCuiston has accused the council of lobbying against SB 69 after the bill failed to gain approval of the House State Government Committee and last Thursday, McCuiston moved that the Senate recommit a bill that would have increased the council's authority to approve proposed undergraduate programs on state campuses. The Senate concurred with the motion and the bill presumably will die in the hands of the Senate Education Committee.

Another confrontation surrounding the vet school bill arose early last week between Rep. Imes and Sen. Carroll Hubbard, D-Mayfield. Hubbard released a statement last Tuesday in which he predicted successful action would be forthcoming in the Senate to increase Murray State's chance of winning approval of the vet school.

Imes blasted Hubbard for the maneuver saying that the senator had blown a cover of secretiveness which instigators of the planned maneuver had hoped for. The Murray representative charged that two bills, onto which were to be tacked amendments similar to the one now before the Senate, were sent back to committee after Hubbard's statement, however, the bills were actually recommitment on Monday afternoon.

Sen. Hubbard has defended his statements by reporting that he was encouraged to bring up the issue in the Senate by unnamed officials at Murray State University who expressed concern to him that time was running out on the possibility of any vet school legislation being approved by the General Assembly.

"I'm hopeful that we can do anything at this point we can to create, now or later, a school of veterinary science for Murray State," Hubbard said this weekend. "If this particular route is as far as Gov. Wendell Ford wants to go at this time then I will join other legislators in working for it."

Hubbard reportedly told a group of Disabled American Veterans at a meeting in Benton, Friday night that he intends "to publicly announce and prove that the statements made by Rep. Imes to be completely in error."

The Senate Rules Committee is expected to send the amended House resolution to the floor for a vote today and it will then go to the House for concurrence.

Rep. Imes has indicated that a few more votes may be needed in the House to gain passage of the amended resolution but indications were that it would not be difficult to line them up. Imes has said that House Speaker, Norbert Blume, is committed to the new amendment which will make the job of obtaining the needed support much simpler.

In addition to making a complete study of the possibility of establishing a vet school at MSU, the amendment calls for the LRC to look into the possibility of "establishing other professional or graduate level programs" at Murray State. This opens up the possibility that even if MSU does not win approval for a vet school that some other graduate level program could be instituted here.

Legislature Begins Last Week Of Work

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The legislature begins its last week of work today, the last day a bill can emerge from a House or Senate committee and still stand a chance of passage.

The schedule called for both houses to meet at 10 a.m. and then almost immediately recess for a series of committee meetings.

"I would guess that all 28 committees in the legislature will be meeting to report out their bills," said Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll.

He and House Speaker Norbert Blume predicted Wednesday will be the toughest work day of the 1974 session, pointing out that no bills can be passed in either chamber after that day.

Blume said that regardless of how many bills pile up for votes between now and Wednesday, the House is not going to violate its rules or try to stop the clock on the last day.

Carroll said the same commitment would hold true in the Senate, adding that he and Blume have agreed upon a joint resolution that will attempt to keep both chambers from quarreling about "piggyback amendments."

Carroll said "previous sessions of the legislature have had problems on the final days because either the House or the Senate will take a defeated bill and put it as a piggyback rider to another bill."

He said such amendments never have worked and "they never will. They only take up time and cause hard feelings."

He said the joint resolution will be voted on today.

Among major legislation still awaiting final action are the penal code, one of two proposed state constitutional amendments, the overweight truck bill, the broad form deed bill, no fault insurance, an anti-bus resolution, and special taxes for Jefferson County schools.

Weaving, Quilting, Spinning To Be Featured At Public Library

Weaving, quilting, spinning and needlework will be the main attractions for the third program celebrated at the Calloway County Public Library as part of Kentucky's Bicentennial celebration.

Each Wednesday afternoon in March, from 1:00-4:00, various crafts have been demonstrated by professionals to help acquaint people with Kentucky's early way of living.

The counter-balanced loom was built of oak and poplar woods by Calloway County resident, John H. Cooper. The late Mrs. V.E. Windsor granddaughter of Mr. Cooper and herself an accomplished weaver, estimated that the loom was made sometime around 1830. Mrs. Windsor was the mother of two Calloway County women, Mrs. James Lassiter and Mrs. Elsie Kivett. Kelly Guy replaced the foot beam and back supports and got the loom in a useable condition. Mrs. Emily Wolfson's art students have used the loom in the past at Murray State University. Mrs. Sally Guy, who is widely known for her creative weaving ability, will demonstrate the weaving of a rug woven in a log cabin design.

A quilt made especially for the Bicentennial event by some local Senior Citizens will be put into a quilting frame and quilted at this time. It is of an original design and can only be appreciated by seeing it in its colors of red, white and blue.

Weaving on drop spindles will be demonstrated by students under the direction of Mrs. Karen Boyd.

A small spinning wheel made in Germany in about 1835 and owned by the Bill Halford family will be in use. Mrs. Joe Wimberly will demonstrate spinning on it.

Tatting and drawn work will be shown and demonstrated by Mrs. Melvin Cayce. Mrs. Ruth Trevathan will show the art of crewel embroidery and demonstrate several different popular stitches. She will also have a fluting iron to show how it was used on the many ruffles (See Weaving, Page 8)

Arabs Lift Oil Embargo on U.S.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The Arab oil producers decided Monday to lift the oil embargo against the United States, Saudi Oil Minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani said.

Yamani spoke on emerging from the 90-minute meeting of the nine oil exporting countries. He said a formal announcement would be made shortly. "Syria did not agree with the decision and neither did Libya," Yamani said. He stressed his own country, as the biggest Arab oil producer, would lift the embargo.

He indicated Kuwait, Egypt, Algeria and smaller Arab oil producers endorsed the decision.

Syria and Libya were the only two countries against the decision to relieve the oil supply situation in the United States, Yamani said.

Juvenile Charged In Burglaries Here

Sirica Orders Report To Be Given House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ruled today that a secret grand jury report on President Nixon's role in Watergate should be delivered to the House Judiciary Committee for its impeachment inquiry.

Sirica said in his 22-page opinion that "the person on whom the report focuses, the President of the United States, has not objected to its release to the committee."

"Other persons are involved only indirectly," Sirica said. He also said the report "draws no accusatory conclusions... it renders no moral or social judgments. The report is a simple and straightforward compilation of information gathered by the grand jury, and no more."

Sirica, who steps down as chief judge of the U.S. District Court in Washington on Tuesday, delayed implementation of his order for two days to enable interested parties to file appeals.

The judge wrote that "although it has not been emphasized in this opinion, it should not be forgotten that we deal in a matter of the most critical moment to the nation, an impeachment investigation involving the President of the United States."

"It would be difficult to conceive of a more compelling need than that of this country for an unswervingly fair inquiry based on all the pertinent information," he said.

Sirica said the grand jury "strongly recommends" that its report and a satchel filled with evidence should go to the impeachment committee because (See Sirica, Page 8)

The Spoon And How We Got It

The spoon is considered the oldest of man's eating utensils and evidence of its use has been found all over the world. The very first spoon, of course, was man's own palm. Next came shells, naturally shaped for the purpose. Ever searching for convenience, man (or woman) attached handles to these shells. Carved wood, cattle horns and ivory tusks were the materials for later spoons. Of the metals, bronze spoons appeared first, followed by gold and silver. The first silver spoons were shaped at the bowl. The present-day elliptical shape was developed in the 17th century. The round bowl used before that almost disappeared entirely. Down through the centuries, all manner of ornamentation has been added to and subtracted from the spoon, however, the eating spoon has undergone very minor change.

GILBERTSVILLE — Young Career Woman Speak Off was the highlight of the annual meeting of District I Business and Professional Women at Kenbar Resort, Saturday night.

After interviewing, comparing resumes, and listening to the candidates five minute speeches on "The World of the 70's Challenges Me" judges Benton Mayor, Coy Creason, Calvert Mayor, William Colburn, Chamber President, Bill Booth; chose Martha Presler of Princeton as winner. Mrs. Presler will now represent District I in state competition.

In her speech Mrs. Presler noted, "Our times do not differ radically from other times. The challenge of being aware of media as well as printed literature is overwhelming," she said speaking from her experience as a librarian.

"I find in myself hope for tomorrow in spite of these sobering 70's," she concluded. Runner-up Treva Mathis of Murray commented, "I've become very aware of the problems facing young men and women. At no other time in history have women had the opportunity they have today."

Dee Oswald, Marshall County B and PW representative remarked, "Life has much more to offer a woman today. Part of my challenge is decisions. I have a choice which way I want to go." She contrasted this with the challenge of the woman of the past whose challenge was to accept that which had already been chosen for her. "I just want to be another being with another idea," she said.

Denise Barnes, representing the Emblem Club of Mayfield said, "Being ourselves and enjoying nature are not always the easiest tasks. We have responsibilities to the church, the school and our institutions."

She paraphrased a sage, "To kill time is to Murder opportunity." Continuing she added, "We've been given a rare gift, the gift of time. My challenge is to use time wisely," she stated.

"The 70's are a challenge to any woman whether in her home, her job, or whether she is combining the two. The 70's challenge me in four ways: personally, professionally, in my family, and spiritually," stated Phyllis Goodwin of Fulton-South Fulton.

"I seek new change and new possibilities. Women are finally free to be themselves. I'm very proud to be a woman," Kathie Shearer of Reidland B and PW remarked. Ms. Shearer is a member of the National Organization for Women and is working to establish a unit in Reidland.

Following the Young Career Woman competition Mary Cummings, State Finance Chairman spoke briefly on the year's activities and coming events.

Awards were presented by State Membership Chairman Anna Lou Caldwell to Murray B and PW for the largest increase in membership and to Marshall County for having the most shamrocks. Marshall County was second in membership increase and Murray was second in shamrocks.

Stockings Not Popular In Primitive Times

CHARLOTTE, N.C. — When primitive man first began to clothe himself, he made kilts, tunics, cloaks, caps and sandals. Stockings were the last item he added to his wardrobe.

There are no written or pictorial references to the concept of socks or stockings before the 8th century B.C. A Greek poet of that century makes the first mention of "foot bandagings or inner-foot coverings" as a separate idea from shoes or sandals.

The earliest samples of knit socks have been found in Egyptian tombs dating only from the 3rd to 6th centuries A.D.

Since that time there's been a slow but steady evolution in the art of hosiery manufacture from the cut-and-sewn cloth leg coverings of the Middle Ages to the development of the first framework knitting machine by William Lee in 1589 to the dawn of the Nylon Age in 1939. And while it might surprise the woman who thought this evolutionary chain peaked in the early 1960's with the introduction of pantyhose, new developments continue even today.

This spring pantyhose, with "something extra" are in the spotlight, according to the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers. Today's hosiery counter is full of new ideas to meet every woman's personal fashion and comfort needs.

For example, popular clingy knits require a sleek look. The necessary "tummy control" is provided by pantyhose with a spandex panty to smooth out bulges. And now pantyhose knitted in one continuous piece from top to toe eliminate even the panty seam that can cause a ridge under the "skinnyest" knits.

Today's woman is on the go from dawn to dusk, and often far into the night. To meet her need for maximum comfort, hosiery manufacturers have developed a number of support styles to ease leg fatigue. These provide differing degrees of support and can be as soft and sheer as regular everyday weights.

Pantyhose with absorbent cotton tops or crotches are still another comfort-minded innovation.

Sandals remain a summer fashion favorite. For feet that look their nicest in slender straps, sandalfoot styles eliminate reinforced toes and heels.

Today's woman finds it easier to get exact pantyhose fit since most manufacturers have adopted a simple height-weight sizing chart developed four years ago by the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers.

And now new attention is being paid to the queen-sized woman's needs. No longer limited to basic styles, she can find almost all the specialized features noted above in pantyhose proportioned to fit her.

Mrs. Mary Lou Lyles, president, presided at the meeting. The program suggestions for 1974-75 were discussed. The group will vote in March for the lessons they prefer.

Mrs. Linda Blaustein served the members coffee and cookies.

Members present were Cathy Denton, Judy Vick, Linda Blaustein, Mary Lou Lyles, Pat Eberhardt, Frances Wyatt, and Carolyn Light. Guests present were Marie Forrester, Faye Key, and Rue Jean McCutcheon.

That is one reached in a survey patients at Park outpatient facility, also indicated the growing disenchantment among use any of the methods now available as well as a disparity between a action relating to a contraceptives.

In New York state was legalized in 1967 study says there evidence that reduced apprehensions women seeking pregnancy during weeks. But there is support for the patients who unadvisedly do so with their physical well feelings of guilt.

Mrs. Ardis D. assistant administrator Parkmed, says included in the white, more like than Protestant, likely Protestant.

"It is evident the number of females dislike the birth methods available. Even if a female informed about idea of subjecting a daily pill or foreign object in objectionable," said.

"Based on findings, the vast females, believers, tists, who are should research an acceptable prevent conception the male."

Mrs. Danon shows that 72 percent responsibility for should be joint. She adds percentage of knowledge was reinforced findings of birth control. Of the patients whom were at 64 per cent birth control. cent who became pregnant had used cent the diaphragm.

Birth Control Use Facing A Setback

NEW YORK (AP) — Women today have more knowledge about birth control than any preceding generation, but there is a substantial lag between knowledge and adequate use.

That is one conclusion reached in a survey of 1,000 patients at Parkmed, an outpatient facility. The study also indicated that there is growing disenchantment and reluctance among females to use any of the contraceptive methods now available to them as well as a wide disparity between attitude and action relating to actual use of contraceptives.

In New York state, abortion was legalized in 1970 but the study says there is little evidence that the action reduced apprehension among women seeking to terminate pregnancy during its first 12 weeks. But there is substantial support for the view that patients who undergo abortions do so with more fear for their physical well-being than feelings of guilt.

Mrs. Ardis Danon, R.N., assistant administrator at Parkmed, says patients included in the study were white, more likely Catholic than Protestant, and more likely Protestant than Jewish.

"It is evident that a growing number of females distrust or dislike the birth control methods available to them. Even if a female is well-informed about efficacy, the idea of subjecting her body to a daily pill or introducing a foreign object into her body is objectionable," Mrs. Danon said.

"Based on our study findings, the vast majority of females, believe that scientists, who are mostly male, should research and develop an acceptable method to prevent conception for use by the male."

Mrs. Danon says the study shows that 72.4 per cent of respondents believe responsibility for birth control should be joint, or shared.

She adds that the percentage of inadequate knowledge of birth control methods was so high that it reinforced findings about use of birth control methods.

Of the patients studied, all of whom were abortion patients, 64.6 per cent were not using birth control. For the 35.2 per cent who were and still became pregnant, 10.9 per cent had used the pill, 7.7 per cent the diaphragm, 3.0 per cent the diaphragm, 3.0 per cent the I.U.D. and 5.4 per cent the condom. Mrs. Danon says some of the failures may be attributed to method but that, by and large, the majority were probably caused by human failure.

Prior to the abortion, all patients, even those not included in the study, suffered from fears of physical pain, fear of someone finding out, fear of future sterility and fear of being rejected.

Your Individual Horoscope

FOR TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (March 21 to Apr. 20) You may be called upon to make some weighty decisions. Do not make them in haste. Careful thought, a realistic attitude and logical thinking needed.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) A better day and better possibilities than may seem apparent at first. Planetary influences should stimulate your ambitions and incentive.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) Look for better ways to handle everyday tasks, with the idea of assuring more efficiency and leaving more time for study, as well as expansion.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) You have a fine planetary set-up. Get into the spirit of things and do the most to advance your interests.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) Note why many succeed where others fail. Alert observation along these lines could prove profitable. An excellent performance is possible now.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Follow through on well-devised plans and procedures, and don't be sidetracked by nonessentials. You can make rapid strides forward if you capitalize on all skills.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Investigate all angles of any new proposition offered, but don't fear the unknown; just get better acquainted with its possibilities — or lack of them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Shut no doors abruptly or you'll regret it. Such action is not like you but on a challenging day such as this, you could step out of character.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) Tricky in spots, day will demand close attention to details, efficient planning and good follow-through. Avoid making rash promises.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) Stretch a point where it will pay off later. A vote of confidence is sometimes necessary to secure the cooperation you need.

There's more than one way to lose weight

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have heard that every time a person has sexual relations he burns up 300 calories. I would like to lose 10 pounds; and my husband would like to lose 20 pounds.

Do you recommend this method of losing weight? And how many calories would a person have to burn to lose one pound?

DEAR NO: I'm advised that one must burn 3,500 calories to lose one pound of body fat. The number of calories burned per hour for several types of measured physical activity reads as follows:

Slow walking—115 to 200.
Dancing—275 to 350.
Skating or swimming—300 to 600.
Tennis—350 to 700.
Gardening—250 to 300.
Golfing (18 holes)—150 to 225.

There can be no reliable figure on the number of calories burned during sexual relations because the amount of physical exertion varies with the individual. While losing weight, however, I think you'd be wise to supplement mattress acrobatics with more [or less?] strenuous physical exercise, using the above as a guide.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the seven-year-old Lutheran boy who wanted to turn Jewish because his 10-year-old sister, who was being raised Jewish, got seven presents [one for each day of Hanukkah] and he got only one present for Christmas:

His parents should give him seven presents for Christmas and let him decide later whether he wants to go the Protestant route or the Jewish route.

He might even decide to be a Roman Catholic and go to Notre Dame and beat U.C.L.A. again some day! BILL K.

DEAR BILL: Judging from some of the names of those fellows on Notre Dame's teams, you don't have to be a Roman Catholic to play for Notre Dame.

CONFIDENTIAL TO O.B. IN ROME: I'm no investment counselor, but the advice from Herbert R. Mayes, publisher of The Overseas American, a new and brilliant fortnightly newsletter for United States citizens abroad, is: "The old story about Swiss banks is still valid: If you see a Swiss banker jumping from an office building, follow him out. There's 15 per cent to be made on the way down."

Agree Or Not

I Say What I Think

By S. C. VAN CUREN

The news media of Kentucky, and particularly the newspapers, are very appreciative of the fight Rep. James Bruce, D-Christian County, put up Tuesday on the House floor in defeating a resurrected House Bill that would require publication or broadcast of "corrections" by persons charging that errors had been made in the original news stories.

This is a time-worn effort by some political holders to take their personal grudges out against news media by introducing such a bill.

Bruce, a veteran of the House since 1964, has at times had his reasons to be critical of some items in the newspapers, but he understands the important role the news media plays in reporting on state government, actions of the legislature, and other news of the day. Bruce has been a strong supporter of the press in legislative fights of this nature.

Bruce said the bill if it became law would put the news media subject to the whim of every neurotic who reads the paper every day.

Richard Lewis, D-Benton, also aided Bruce in fighting this bill, for Lewis also has been a strong supporter of the press and was voted outstanding freshman legislator in the House in 1970 by the Capital Press Corps.

Lewis said the General Assembly is well served by having the press present, adding, "They are an integral part of what we do."

Bruce "worked the floor" and rallied support of other legislators in defeat of the bill. It went down to defeat 34-9.

Rep. Terry McBrayer, D-Greene also has been a strong supporter of the press and the people's right to know. He sponsored House Bill 100, called the open meetings bill, that is now pending in the State Government Committee in the Senate. The bill is a committee substitute for two separate bills on the same subject. It has passed the House.

Rep. Steven Beshear, D-Lexington, took strong opposition to the "corrections" bill yesterday on the House floor saying the bill was "one of the most dangerous we have had before the House. He pointed out that newsmen err at times, as all of us do, but they are still one of the main forces that have kept this country what it is."

Rep. Joe Clarke, D-Danville, also is a strong fighter for the people's right to gain information from their government. He is sponsoring an open records bill that is now in the Senate State Government Committee. It should be reported out this week along with the open meetings bill.

Clarke strongly believes every citizen who has an interest in a public record has the right to inspect the record, or records, during reasonable business hours of any branch of government.

There is no statute now that specifically points out this right of every citizen, but the Court of Appeals has ruled many times that the public records are open for public inspection. The news media is supporting Clarke's bill, for the news media men are the messengers, so to speak, for the average citizen.

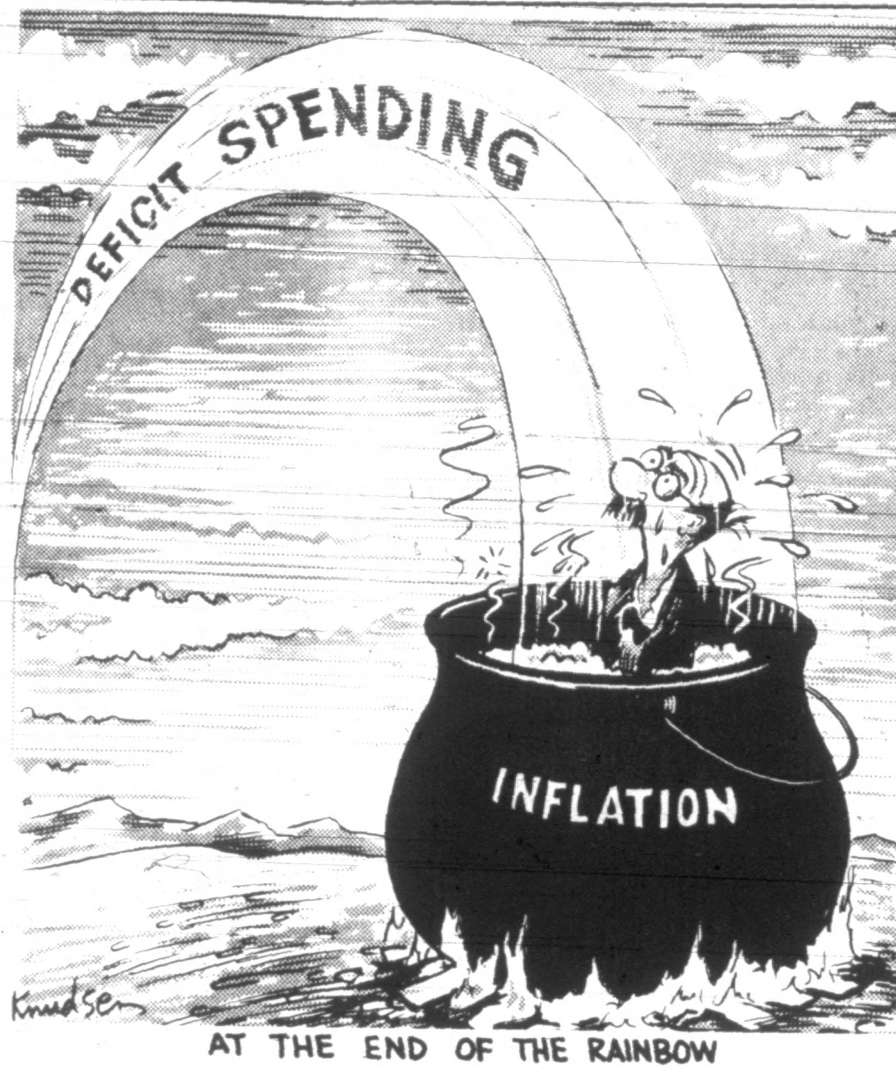

There are several others in the legislature who are strong supporters for open meetings and the public right to know. These are the men the public should appreciate.

AT THE END OF THE RAINBOW

Economy Still On Course

Governors might have hoped they could go home from their national conference in Washington with a better grasp of the country's economic outlook. They invited three of the nation's top economists to give their diagnosis. One said we are entering a recession, one said we are not, and the third is on the fence. The governors can now join the club of Americans who feel lost in a fog when they listen to economists talk about the future.

A sea captain trying to navigate a narrow channel in a fog chooses his course by taking soundings under his craft rather than trying to peer through the murk ahead. In this sense, current reports on the performance of the U.S. economy can tell us more about where we are going than anyone's prediction about where we will be in a foggy future.

The nationwide unemployment rate held steady at 5.2 per cent in February after rising for three months in a row. The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates 500,000 jobs have been lost since Dec. 1 as a direct or indirect result of the energy shortage — a stiff jolt, but still only a fraction of the 85.8 million jobs still held by busy Americans. That the auto industry is feeling the effect of the decline in big-car sales is undeniable, but there is a corresponding infusion of strength in the manufacture of the smaller types. Altogether, there is good reason to question whether unemployment is heading toward the 8 per cent figure that gloomier economists have predicted.

Meanwhile, the wholesale price index rose only 1.2 per cent in February, well under the 3.1 per cent upsurge in January. This promises to take at least some pressure off the inflation in retail prices that still lies ahead. It is by no means certain that world petroleum prices will remain as high as they stand today, and the Agriculture Department remains confident that only a disastrous grain harvest could prevent relief in food prices later this year. Thus the two most worrisome items in the cost of living — fuel and food — may be worrying us less by midsummer.

One month's statistics are not a trend, either in prices or employment, but it is apparent that the bad economic news of December and January did not constitute a trend, either. Indeed, federal officials believe unemployment in January may have been unusually high because employers laid off workers in anticipation of an energy shortage worse than the one that did develop.

The desire to act in anticipation of economic events, rather than wait for them to happen, is ingrained in our system. However, the nation's governors — and all government officials — would do well to weigh fearful predictions about inflation and recession in 1974 against current signs of underlying economic strength. Talk of continued price controls, tax cuts, deficit spending and emergency employment programs may be based on shapes in the fog that are not really there. The best word for the helmsman right now is a cautionary "Steady as she goes."

Nine out of ten crooks who serve in Europe's largest, coziest, warmest prison cell go straight when they're released, say the German warden and doctors of Tegel jail in West Berlin, where a remarkable experiment in rehabilitation is taking place. The cell is 25 feet long, holds four, is carpeted, has paintings, bookshelves, stereo, tape recorder and an electric typewriter. The door is never locked. Every jailed man there comes from an underprivileged family which doctors say is the root of his trouble. He's regarded not as a prisoner, but as a patient. "We get prisoners to do their own thing, give them a few privileges they've never had, even in their own homes," says one of the jail's doctors, "and there's no doubt about it — it pays off." (Milwaukee Journal)

Vigevano, Italy — An hour's sleep is worth $2.45, a court ruled. The court found a textile company guilty of keeping six citizens awake at night for a total of 900 hours each and ordered the firm to pay them about $2,200 apiece. (Rome Daily American)

New York, N.Y. — An appeals court has ruled that it wasn't a prisoner's duty to point out to a warden that he was being let out of jail a year early. The state cannot make him go back and serve that time, it said. It was the first time such a case had come up in New York, although the state appellate court said three similar instances had been discovered outside the state. Anthony Blotoff was sentenced to two consecutive one-year terms for petty larceny in February 1971. He was released, with time off for good behavior, eight months later. (New York Times)

Comments from Others

MARION, WISC., ADVERTISER: "We wonder if the young driver will know what to do with themselves this winter? There are too many youths who have never had a shortage of anything, except maybe trips to the woodshed... and we figure if they can take a cold floor in the morning, and will drink hot water in the milk for breakfast to get warm, will not watch TV to save on electricity, will get fighting mad if the government tries to take away or register their guns, and will get into politics and business to help get rid of our shortages, the country should be fairly secure. They demonstrated in war for us to get out, so we wonder if they will panic and demonstrate because of this energy shortage? Will they blame the government and parents? Or will they learn from all this and use their education and put it to work? It should be an interesting winter!"

Both save you money on long distance visits. But the economy car needs gas and time and your energy to get you there. Reading the other day about a Dictionary of streaking.

A winning streak is one in which the streaker is not caught.

A losing streak is one in which the streakers are caught.

A blue streak is one which takes place in a cold rain.

A meat streak is one in which the streaker is angry.

A silver streak is one in which the coed wears a silver bracelet.

An oil streak is one made by an Arab sheik.

A bad streak is one where the streaker stubs his toe.

A hot streak is one where the streaker gets sunburned. Then there's the odd streak.

Oh well, this could go on forever.

Our file only goes back to January 1964.

Courtesy can be defined as politeness in doing and saying the kindest thing in the kindest way. Politeness and courtesy are absolutely necessary. The scholar without courteousness is a boor; the philosopher, a cynic; the soldier, a brute; and ordinary men, disagreeable.

Courtesy has been defined by one of the poets as "the flag of kindness flown at top mast."

Courtesy is just as much a requisite in today's society as when grandmother and grandfather were growing up. Few people ever achieve to the highest possible degree their desire to be courteous. Courtesy often simply is a matter of slowing today's hectic-paced way of life for just a moment.

Courtesy is based on respect for the rights and feelings of others. It is a kindly, personal consideration for the other fellow. Courtesy is the Golden Rule.—The Beacon.

Cheap Shot

Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas has gained respect on both sides of the aisle in Congress as the moderate and reasonable chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. He has certainly lost stature with his reckless remarks that the Joint Committee studying President Nixon's tax status, of which he is also chairman, is preparing a report that will prompt President Nixon to resign.

Washington, already is nearly drowning in unproven charges and suspicions about the President and present and former members of the Administration. If we are going to keep our ship of state on course it will require meticulous attention both to fairness and the legalities in resolving the issue of impeachment and disposing of criminal charges stemming from the Watergate investigation.

Rep. Mills shows as much sensitivity to this situation as a man who would light a match to inspect the inside of a gas tank. He has implied to the public that he has damning information about the President, and then announces it will be 30 to 40 days before he lets the public know what it is.

Bryce Harlow, one of Mr. Nixon's advisers, has expressed indignation at this flagrant exercise in innuendo, and properly so. Rep. Mills, he says, should "put up or shut up." That's tough talk, but it is exactly what Rep. Mills now must do — either disclose his committee's findings so his appraisal of them can be put to the test, or concede that he made a mistake in pre-judging their importance to the President's future.

Silent Servant

Mayor Wes Wise of Dallas says he is appalled that change-making machines at the new Dallas-Fort Worth airport only cough out 95 cents when a dollar bill is inserted. The machine holds back a nickel as a service charge, an unkind blow when inflation is shrinking our dollars already.

The mayor's demand for a full-value return will run into the fact there is no way for the change-maker to pay for its own upkeep the way a vending machine makes a profit by selling something.

Maybe the answer is for the change-maker to discharge a full dollar's worth of change — and extend a mechanical hand with upturned palm so the grateful traveler can give it a tip.

Cause Of Colds?

University of Michigan medical researchers have discovered that highly educated people with low incomes catch cold more often than others, suggesting that susceptibility to colds might depend on one's frame of mind. Further, more people come down with colds on Monday than any other day.

Well, practically everybody thinks he is not being paid as much as his education calls for, and it's on Monday mornings when this feeling becomes most acute. So obviously it's not a germ or virus that's causing all our colds but those cold-hearted people in the front office who never seem to realize how smart we are. A cure for colds? One way would be to give everybody a raise and tell them to take Mondays off.

Bruins And Wolfpack Warm Up For Rematch

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

UCLA, favored to win its eighth straight National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championship, geared up for Saturday's semifinal meeting with top-ranked North Carolina State at Greensboro, N.C., with some old-fashioned sabre-rattling. Coach John Wooden sounded the challenge when he recalled the Bruins' 84-66 romp over the Wolfpack last December in St. Louis.

"I want them to remember we beat them by 18 points on a neutral court with Bill Walton playing only half the game," declared Wooden. "I want them to dwell on that."

UCLA, 25-3 on the season, made it into the semis with an impressive 83-60 rout of San Francisco Saturday in the finals of the Far West Regionals. All-Americans Keith Wilkes and Bill Walton paced the attack with 27 and 17 points, respectively.

North Carolina State cruised into the finals with a 100-72 thumping of Pittsburgh in the East Regionals. The Wolfpack's only concern was for the well-being of All-American David Thompson, who suffered a concussion when he fell to the floor in the first half. He was hospitalized Saturday night, released Sunday and is expected to be at full speed for UCLA.

Tom Burleson had 26 points and 12 rebounds for the Wolfpack, 28-1 on the year. The other semifinal Saturday will match Midwest champion Marquette against Midwest finalist Kansas. The Warriors, 25-4, edged Michigan 72-70 on the strength of a pair of free throws by Dave Delsman with 45 seconds left. It marks the first time in nine NCAA appearances Marquette has made it to the semis.

Kansas, 23-5, shaded Oral Roberts 93-90 as reserve Tommie Smith sank a pair of baskets in the final 28 seconds. Danny Knight had 19 points to lead the balanced Jayhawks attack.

At New York's Madison Square Garden, Connecticut, Utah, Boston College and Memphis State scored first-round victories Sunday in the National Invitation Tournament.

Jim Foster pumped in 27 points to lead Connecticut past St. John's, N.Y., 82-70. Tickey Burden's 34 points powered Utah to a 102-89 victory over Rutgers. Jere Nolan's foul shot in the final seconds gave Boston College a 63-62 upset of Cincinnati. Memphis State held off Seton Hall 73-72 by virtue of Dexter Reed's free throw with 30 seconds left.

In Saturday's NIT action, Purdue surprised North Carolina 82-71. Maryland-Eastern Shore dumped Manhattan 84-81. Jacksonville beat Massachusetts in overtime 73-69 and Hawaii edged Fairfield 66-65.

Southern California and Indiana advanced to tonight's finals of the Collegiate Commissioners Association tourney with hard-earned overtime victories Sunday.

Trojans, 24-4, got by Bradley 76-73 as Dan Anderson and Bob Trowbridge teamed for nine points in the extra period. The Hoosiers, 22-5, edged Toledo 73-72 on a clutch basket by freshman Kent Beson.

West Georgia claimed the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics championship Saturday with a 97-79 romp over Alcorn State. Tom Turner topped the Braves with 28 points and Clarence Walker, named the Journey's Most Valuable Player, added 24.

The same three teams will also be playing Wednesday.

Reggie Smith Wins His War With Carlton Fisk As Cardinals Win

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

The continuing saga of Reggie Smith and Carlton Fisk — former teammates now gone separate ways to their mutual satisfaction — seems to have a way of sneaking from the locker room to the diamond.

The stage was set for the saga's latest act by a game between the Boston Red Sox, Smith's former team, and his new team, the St. Louis Cardinals.

Smith took a few pot shots at Fisk before the game, calling the Boston catcher a "crybaby" and "backstabber," then took another shot at pitcher Diego Segui's first pitch out of the park and helping the Cards to a 4-3 exhibition victory over the Red Sox.

Meanwhile, Fisk took a shot of his own, in the fifth inning. It was a foul tip off the bat of Joe Torre that caught the All-Star catcher in the groin and probably will sideline him for two or three days.

Smith's homer tied the game at 3-3, and then Ken Reitz singled in the winning score with two out.

In other exhibition games, the other half of the Boston club beat Philadelphia 10-7, Los Angeles squashed the New York Mets 9-2, Minnesota beat Houston 9-5, Cincinnati blanked Atlanta 7-0, Baltimore defeated Pittsburgh 7-3, the Chicago White Sox got by Kansas City 8-5, the Chicago Cubs beat Oakland 6-2, San Francisco defeated California 8-2, Montreal blasted Texas 5-1, Cleveland downed Milwaukee 3-1, and the Yankees punned Detroit 5-1.

"I'm glad to get away from a crybaby like Fisk," Smith said. He said since the 1973 campaign, "I've only seen his picture in the paper and read all that stuff he's been saying behind my back. He didn't have the nerve to say it to my face."

Fisk retaliated by calling Smith "a troublemaker," but would not discuss the situation further, keeping his distance from Smith during the game. Neither exchanged words.

Steve Carlton was tagged for six runs in three innings, and outfielder Bernie Carbo got four singles and drove in three runs to lead the other half of the Boston contingent. Rick Wise got the victory by holding Philadelphia scoreless for five innings.

Ron Cey, who has six RBIs in his past two games, had a homer and a single in Los Angeles' rendering of the New York Mets. Dave Lopes stole three bases for the Dodgers.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers announced that third baseman Ken McMullen had left the club to join his wife, Bobbie, who is seriously ill and being hospitalized in California. Mrs. McMullen underwent surgery last May for cancer.

Bob Darwin homered for two runs, and Steve Braun's circuit blow drove in another three, pacing Minnesota to its first victory of the exhibition season. Houston took a 3-1 lead after Harmon Killebrew had put the Twins on the board with a single in the first inning.

Cincinnati exploded for 17 hits and pitchers Pat Osburn, Steve Kealey and Pat Zachary held the Braves scoreless in the Reds' victory. Ken Griffey led the Reds at the plate with three hits, while Atlanta slugger Hank Aaron went hitless in four at-bats.

Pittsburgh committed four costly errors in the game, and the Orioles jumped to a 5-2 lead in the fourth inning on four runs off Pirate starter Bruce Kison. Inos Cabell had three RBIs for Baltimore.

The White Sox scored seven runs off Marty Pattin in the first three innings to move to an easy victory over Kansas City. Jorge Orta had two singles and a homer with four RBIs for Chicago.

The Cubs got homers from Vic Harris and Jerry Morales, and Bill Madlock added three hits to pace Chicago past the world-champion A's. Madlock, in 29 at-bats, has 18 hits for a .621 average so far in the season play.

Three Giant pitchers — John D'Acquisto, Frank Ricciardi and Mike Caldwell — held Califor-

In Friday's win over Rutgers which opened the home season, Greg Englar picked up the win on the mound and was relieved by Curtis King.

Sophomore catcher Gene Steuber belted three hits while senior Steve Barrett and freshman Don Derrington each had two.

In the 5-1 loss Saturday to Rutgers, Murray managed only five hits, two of those being singles by second-baseman Jack Porconti.

Barrett, Derrington and Johnny Rayburn each had a hit. Mike Thieke took the loss on the mound.

In the nightcap, freshman Mark Wozet twirled a one-hitter in his debut.

The freshman southpaw from Evansville, Ind., allowed only a third inning double. He picked up seven strikeouts along the way.

Murray scored in every inning of the game.

Freshman Terry Brown smacked three hits in four trips to the plate. Perconti had a pair of hits. Weisman had a hit and two RBIs while Mantooth and Walker each hit safely.

In the opening game Sunday, Murray jumped to an 8-0 lead and coasted to an easy 11-0 win over Rutgers.

Three walks and a single in the first inning provided Sims with all the working margin he needed for the mound win.

Sims fanned five batters and issued only two walks.

Murray added three more runs in the second inning, the only hit being a single by Derrington. In the third, Derrington singled and scored on a double by Sims. Perconti singled to drive in Sims and then Barrett

Indiana Coach Thinks Pacers Are For Real

By The Associated Press

The Indiana Pacers, plagued by inconsistency earlier this season, have been playing impressive basketball lately and Coach Bobby Leonard thinks his club is for real.

"I'm convinced now that we're really playing good basketball," said Leonard after the Pacers took a 117-106 American Basketball Association decision from the New York Nets Sunday.

The Pacers pulled out to a 93-72 third-period lead over the Nets and coasted the rest of the way to tie San Antonio for second place in the West Division.

Elsewhere in the ABA, Kentucky downed Utah 112-100, Denver beat Virginia 101-90 and Memphis took San Diego 118-115.

George McGinnis was the big man for the Pacers with 34 points and 25 rebounds. Julius Erving pumped in 41 points for the Nets despite spending most of the third quarter on the bench with foul problems. Roger Brown added 23 points for Indiana and Wendell Ladner had 24 for the Nets.

Colonels 112, Stars 100
Artis Gilmore scored 22 points and grabbed 20 rebounds as Kentucky closed to within one game of first-place New York in the East.

Rockets 101, Squires 90
Steve Jones netted 17 points in the third quarter to help Denver snap a seven-game losing streak. Jones finished with 25 points and Cincy Powell had 21 for Virginia.

Tanis 118, Q's 115
Wil Robinson came off the bench to score 14 points in the final period for Memphis. Larry Finch's two free throws in the closing seconds proved decisive for the winners. Robinson wound up with 30 points while Dwight Lamar netted 34 for San Diego.

cracked a two-run homer over the rightfield fence and Murray had an 8-0 lead.

Perconti picked up three hits in four trips to the plate. Barrett had two hits and three RBIs. Derrington had a pair of hits. Sims hit safely and had two runs batted in and Wurth had a two-run single. Steuber rounded out the 10-hit attack with a single.

In the nightcap Sunday, Murray trailed Chicago 3-2 going into the bottom of the second when the game turned into a parade of walks.

Weisman belted a two-run single and Wurth had an RBI single. All the other runs in the frame came across on walks.

Freshman southpaw Dana Pearson of Cobden, Ill., started on the mound and went two and two-thirds innings before being relieved by freshman Steve Darnell who finished the game and earned the mound decision.

Darnell, who starred at Reidland High School last year in the State Baseball Tournament, allowed only one hit, struck out seven and walked only one.

Weisman carried the big stick with three hits and five runs batted in while Leon Wurth also picked up three hits.

John Howland and Walker each had a hit and two RBIs while Perconti and John Eradi also hit safely.

Good Luck For Green On St. Patrick's Day

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Hubert "Green" Green's going to have to change his act.

For a couple of seasons, the lanky, laconic young man from Birmingham, Ala., has characterized himself as "just another pretty face on the tour."

But his credentials are getting too impressive for that now. He's rapidly becoming one of the game's premier performers.

Green scored his second victory of the year and fourth in the last 12 months with a gritty comeback performance Sunday in the Greater Jacksonville Open Golf tournament.

He won it with a 71 that included a decisive four birdies in a row and a 276 total, 12 under par on the 7,088-yard Deerwood Country Club course and a comfortable three strokes in front of John Mahaffey.

Mahaffey matched par 72 in the mild, sunny, slightly windy weather, and finished at 279. Jerry Heard, first and second in his two previous performances, came on to take third with a 68-280.

Jim Weichers suffered another bitter, frustrating disappointment. The big guy, who has been in position to win a half dozen times in the last year, entered the final round in a tie with Green for the top, actually took the lead at one stage then again fell victim to a poor finish.

He closed with a 40 on the back nine, a 76 and a tie for fourth with DeWitt Weaver and Leonard Thompson at 281. Thompson had a final 70 and Weaver 71.

Tom Weiskopf took a last round 74 for 284, Australian Bruce Crampton closed with 68 for 286, Arnold Palmer had 71 and Lee Trevino 75-289.

Green's victory was worth $30,000 from the total purse of $150,000 and pushed his season's earnings to $82,663, second only to absent Johnny Miller.

More importantly, it firmly established him as one of the game's top young stars.

Jabbar Scores 38 Points And Grabs 22 Rebounds In Victory

By The Associated Press

The Bulls are an aggressive team but today they went beyond aggressiveness, complained Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello after his Bucks buried Chicago 107-82 Sunday in a high-filled National Basketball Association game.

"Today it became dirty," Costello said. "The Bulls created a national television audience to a foul-laden, physical contest that was never really close. The Bucks roared off to 30-22 lead midway through the second quarter and coasted home."

In other NBA action, Los Angeles trimmed New York 126-114; Boston defeated Capital 129-103; Detroit stopped Buffalo 116-109; Cleveland dumped Philadelphia 115-99; Kansas City-Omaha dished Houston 125-114; and Phoenix whipped Seattle 133-108.

Kareem Abdul Jabbar turned in a big game for Milwaukee with 38 points, 22 rebounds and a defensive performance that thoroughly intimidated the Bulls, who hit just 27 per cent of their shots from the floor.

Chicago center Dennis Awtry tried to slow Jabbar down with a punch in the eye in the third period but was thrown out of the game for his efforts.

Bob Dandridge added 20 points for the Bucks while Howard Porter netted 22 for the Bulls.

Lakers 126, Knicks 114

Jim Price led the balanced Los Angeles attack with 25 points as the Lakers pulled to within a half-game of front-running Golden State in the Pacific Division.

Celtics 129, Bullets 103

John Havlicek pounced in 29 points, 15 of them in the third period, as Boston clinched the Atlantic Division title.

Pistons 116, Braves 109

Bob Lanier and Dave Bing netted 23 points each as Detroit pulled to within a half-game of second-place Chicago in the Midwest Division.

Cavaliers 115, 76ers 99

Austin Carr scored 31 points, 21 of them in the second half, for Cleveland. Lenny Wilkens' MVP late in the third period put the Cavs on top for good.

Kings 125, Rockets 114

Don Kojis hit a season-high 30 points, 22 in the first half, as Kansas City-Omaha snapped Houston's winning streak at four games.

Suns 133, Sonics 108

Keith Erickson scored 30 points as Phoenix broke an 18-game road losing streak.

Cale Yarborough Wins Easily At Bristol 500

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP) — Whether or not there really is a gas shortage, veteran stock car driver Cale Yarborough of Tunnicliffeville, S.C., has found some consolation in the fact one supposedly exists.

"I like this race at 450 laps,"

Yarborough said Sunday after piloting his 1974 Chevrolet to a one-lap victory in the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing's 450-lap Southeastern 500 Grand National at Bristol International Speedway.

"I didn't get as tired today and, of course, the cold weather eliminated any heat problems," said Yarborough, who with 29 other drivers started the race, cut by 50 laps because of the energy crisis — in a heavy damp snow that soon disappeared.

It was the second straight victory in the Southeastern 500 for Yarborough, who averaged 94.016 miles per hour for the 29 laps on the high-banked, half-mile Bristol oval in beating out four other Chevrolet drivers.

Meanwhile, Mike Mosley posted his first victory since he won in 1971 at Trenton, N.J., when he finished half a length in front of California 500 winner Bobby Unser in the U.S. Auto Club Phoenix 150 at Phoenix, Ariz., and in Brand's Hatch, England, Jacky Ickx of Belgium won Europe's first Formula 1 race of the year, taking the lead five laps from the finish to beat out Niki Lauda of Austria, who had been in front most of the way in the rain.

Yarborough took the lead for good at Bristol on the 191st lap after he and four other drivers had swapped the front-running spot to that point. He finished a lap in front of Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., and two laps ahead of Benny Parsons of Elberbe, N.C.

Murray State Tennis Team Ties For Ninth

By MIKE BRANDON

Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Murray State University's tennis team finished in a three-way tie for ninth place over the weekend in a 21-team invitational at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Northeast Louisiana University won the team title with 76 points while the University of Alabama was runner-up with 71. Kansas was third with 52 while Ohio Valley Conference favorite Austin Peay finished fourth with 35.

In fifth place was Lamar Tech with 21, followed by Tulane with 21, Samford 19, Texas Southern 12, Murray 10, Hawaii 10 and Louisiana Tech 10.

Other teams and their scores were Ohio State 9, Nicholls State 7, Bellhaven 6, McNeese 6, Memphis State 5, Mississippi State 4, Southern Mississippi 4, Keesler Air Force Base 2, Hardin Simmons 1 and William Carey did not score.

In the number one singles, Mikko Horsa of Murray was upset in the first round by Francis Gonzales of Ohio State, 6-1 and 7-6.

Freshman Charles Waddington won two matches in the second position before falling 6-2 and 6-0 to Gary Gomes of Lamar Tech.

In two previous matches, Waddington won 6-3 and 6-4 over Pat Swafford of Keesler Air Force Base and 6-3 and 6-4 over Davie Shumacher of Tulane.

Arnie Knudsen, in the number three singles, fell in the third round to the champion in tournament at the position.

Knudsen won a first round match 6-4 and 6-1 over Miguel Braschi of Ohio State and in the second round defeated Anders Melquist of Mississippi State 7-5 and 6-3.

Knudsen was finally eliminated in split sets in the third round as he fell 6-2, 4-6 and 6-4 to Bennie Sims of Texas Southern.

In the fourth position, Mike Owen fell to the tallest player in the tournament, 6-10 Sean Terry of Tulane.

Terry originally came to Tulane on a basketball scholarship but later switched to tennis after developing personal problems with his basketball coach.

Owen lost in split sets to the giant, 6-3, 6-7 and 6-4.

"It looked like the guy was serving out of a tree," Murray Coach Bennie Purcell said in referral to the 6-10 Terry.

In the number five singles, Boss Botting lost his opening round match, falling 6-1 and 7-6 to Freddie Deutsch of Lamar Tech.

Only one member of the team advanced to the semifinals and that was freshman Del Purcell in the number six singles.

Purcell won straight set matches over Jim Daniels of Bellhaven and Allen Rannels of Mississippi State before falling 6-2 and 6-4 in the semifinals to Paul Waltz of Kansas.

Only the number three doubles team was able to win a single match.

The number one team of Waddington and Knudsen lost in split sets 6-4, 6-7 and 7-5 to Shumacher and Heley of Tulane.

Horsa and Purcell, in the number two doubles, lost 6-7, 6-4 and 6-2 to Campbell and Sanders of Northeast Louisiana.

Owen and Botting won their opening round match over Sukartus and Byrd of Samford, 6-7, 7-5 and 6-1. In the second round, they lost 6-3 and 6-2 to Terry and Harner of Tulane.

Murray will entertain Fort Campbell at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday before playing host to Tennessee-Martin, Arkansas State and Southwest Missouri Friday and Saturday in a quadrangular match.

Former Rutgers Coach Defeats His Old Team In NIT Action

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Foster, who once built up the Rutgers basketball program over a matter of years, tried to eat it down in one day in the National Invitation Tournament.

The onetime successful Rutgers coach returned East with a vengeance Sunday, steering his Utah team to a relatively easy, 102-89 triumph over the Scarlet Knights Sunday.

"It was a special feeling to come back and play Rutgers," said Foster after the victory sent his team into a quarter-final meeting Thursday against Memphis State, one of three other first-round winners Sunday.

The game was a natural drawing card, pulling a roaring crowd into the Garden that later swelled to 18,157 for the second game of the day, Connecticut's 82-70 victory over hometown favorite St. John's.

The first-round action concluded Sunday night when Boston College beat Cincinnati 63-62 and Memphis State stopped Seton Hall 73-72.

The Utes displayed their high-powered scoring proficiency behind Ticky Burden's 34 points against Rutgers. Burden scored 20 of his game-high total in the first half when the Utes hit 68 per cent of their field come.

Jim Foster scored 27 points to lead Connecticut over St. John's. Bill Collins contributed two key baskets and Jere Nolan scored the winning point with a foul shot at the 26-second mark, leading Boston over Cincinnati, 62-53.

Dexter Reed, earlier credited with a key field goal on a goal-tending call, scored the winning point for Memphis State with a foul shot with 30 seconds remaining.

Sunday's results set up a Thursday night quarter-final doubleheader matching Boston and Connecticut and Utah against Memphis State. In a quarter-final round Tuesday night, Jacksonville will play Maryland-Eastern Shore and Hawaii will meet Purdue.

Murray State University will end its spring football practice Thursday night with the annual Blue-Gold intersquad game.

The game, which will match the No. 1 offensive and defensive units against a combination of second and third units, will begin at 7:30 o'clock in Roy Stewart Stadium.

To avoid injuries, there will be no kickoff or punt returns. The offensive team will be given the ball on its own 35-yard line to begin the game and after scores. Punts will be fair-caught.

Coach Bill Furgerson reports that spring practice has been productive but hampered by injuries. "Our primary objective has been to replace our 11 graduating seniors," Furgerson said, "and since we were working with new people and people in new positions, we've had to scrimmage a lot and that always means injuries. We've also had a few veterans who had to miss spring practice because they were recovering from surgery, brought about by injuries last fall. However, we think only two of our players injured this spring will miss the Blue-Gold game and it looks as if all our veterans will be back in good shape next fall."

Murray has 20 lettermen from last year's team which won 7 games and lost 3 and finished second in the Ohio Valley Conference. Major losses were in the offensive line and at linebacker and these areas have been concentrated on during spring drills.

The Racers will open their 11-game season next fall against Cameron State in Stewart Stadium, Sept. 7.
