No-Fault Insurance Measure Narrowly Approved In Senate

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Senate Monday approved a no-fault auto insurance bill that would require every Kentucky motorist to buy liability insurance.

The Senate adopted an amendment to House Bill 314 which had the effect of knocking out that no-fault plan and substituting what is known as the so-called Oregon No-Fault Plan.

The amendment's sponsor, Sen. Mike Moloney, D-Lexington, said it would "put into effect a workable, proven no-fault plan and not a social theory adopted by some professors."

As approved by the Senate, the legislation would require that every insurance policy sold will have to carry no-fault coverage of $3,000 per person for medical expenses. A person would have the right to sue to recover damages above that amount.

The measure also provides at least $1,500 funeral expenses; 70 per cent reimbursement for lost wages if disabled for 14 or more days; and $18 a day to replace services of persons not actually wage earners.

Several senators protested being asked to consider Moloney's amendment.

We're being asked to make a judgment about this law with far reaching implications without ever seeing it and without advance warning," said Sen. John Berry, D-New Castle.

"What's the use of having committees or studying bills if this is crammed down our throat?"

Sen. Joe Graves, R-Lexington, the sponsor of the original Senate no-fault bill, said the amendment was a "deliberate attempt to kill House Bill 314." He said the Oregon plan doesn't apply to Kentucky because only 68 per cent of Kentucky motorists have insurance, while to make the Oregon plan work requires about 90 per cent to have coverage.

After the Senate adopted Moloney's no-fault plan, it approved an amendment by Sen. Lacey Smith, D-Louisville, requiring mandatory auto insurance.

Clayton's formal statement, which was delivered early this afternoon, is as follows:

"After careful consideration and numerous conversations with my supporters throughout the area, I have called this news conference to end speculation and to formally announce that I will definitely be a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals from the First District in the Democratic Primary this coming May.

"As you know, this district includes our western-most 23 counties and the Court of Appeals is the highest Court in our Commonwealth located in Frankfort.

"I will file my papers with the Secretary of State this week."

HJR 30 Gets Approval Of Senate

The amended House Joint Resolution 30, directing the Legislative Research Commission to study the possibility of creating a school of veterinary science at Murray State University passed the Kentucky Senate this morning on a 29-1 vote. Sen. Joe Graves of Lexington cast the lone nay vote on the measure.

The amended resolution was sponsored in the Senate by senators Pat McCuiston, Carroll Hubbard and Tom Garrett. Senators Hubbard and McCuiston both spoke in favor of the resolution this morning.

The resolution will now go back to the House for consideration and Rep. Kenneth Imes, D-Murray, said that action could be taken on the measure this afternoon.

Imes said that he did not expect action on the resolution until tomorrow, however, and added that he didn't see any problem with the resolution gaining House approval.

Max Hurt Speaks To Adult Farmer Classes At Annual Banquet Monday

Max Hurt, Kirksey, retired Woodmen of the World executive, was the speaker at the annual banquet for the members of the Four Adult Farmer Classes of Calloway County, their wives, and guests held at Seven Seas Restaurant on Monday at seven p.m.

The Hutson Chemical Company and the Ellis Popcorn Company were the hosts for the dinner for the Young Adult, Kirksey, Lynn Grove, and New Concord Class with W. H. Brooks as the teacher.

Mr. Hurt discussed agriculture from its beginnings in the book of Genesis in the Bible up to the present day. He said agriculture was the oldest occupation known to man and gave highlights of the history of farming in the United States as the 200th birthday for the country is being celebrated this year.

The speaker said the United States is divided mainly into eight different farming regions and that "the nation grew on the feet of the farmer." He said persons should never belittle the farmer as a farmer in this age has to be an agronomist, botanist, chemist, financier, etc., in order to be able to be successful in his farming career.

Mr. Hurt urged the farmers to make known their wishes and desires and to start telling the public why food prices are high. He said out of the average cost of $750 the average person spends for food that the farmer only gets $300. Hurt said each one was entitled to their share in the cost of food, but that the farmers should let the public know that the farmer is not getting all the profit and to not blame the farmer for higher prices.

Ollie Hall, county class chairman, introduced Mr. Hurt and presided at the dinner. Mr. Hurt was the speaker at the first annual dinner held by the four classes fourteen years ago.

W. H. Brooks, teacher, praised Mr. and Mrs. Max Hurt who were given a standing ovation when called "Calloway's most outstanding country people." Mr. and Mrs. Hurt reside at their farm home west of Kirksey and are active in church and civic endeavors.

Representing the Hutson Chemical Company were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hutson, Miss Ada Sue Hutson, Dan Hutson II, Miss Beverly Brittain, and Billy Smith.

Representing the Ellis Popcorn Company were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kelly Ellis. (See Farmers, Page 10)

The proclamation was made to honor the Laker speech team, which won first place in the regional speech tournament held Saturday at Murray State University.

The speech team will hold a slave day this Saturday in order to raise money to go to the State Speech Tournament. The slave day will be from eight a.m. to five p.m.

The team will mow yards, collect and empty garbage, wash floors, windows, cars, or anything that needs washing. Any other job will also be accepted.

Saturday, persons wishing "slaves" should call 753-5479, 753-8141, or 753-9183, or call this week 753-5479.

Thief Takes $278 From Fina Till

A daring thief made off with $278 in cash while the gas station attendant was filling his car at the Fina Station on South Fourth Monday night.

Harry Bell, the gas station attendant said the man went into the office while he (Bell) was filling the car with gas. Bell said the thief left the station at a high rate of speed.

Other investigations by the Murray City Police Monday included the thefts of two bicycles one owned by Mrs. Joe Rose of 808 Sha.Wa, and one owned by Mrs. Joyce Mahan, 1503 Kirkwood. Police also investigated damage to a camper at Murray Datsun when a hit-and-run driver backed into it. Damage to the camper was placed at $75.00.

Judge Miller Hospitalized, Back Ailment

Calloway County Judge Robert O. Miller was hospitalized Monday for a back ailment, and is now being treated at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

Judge Miller said the trouble is a recurring pain which he has experienced before, but said that he doesn't think surgery will be necessary.

Miller did say, however, that he will be at the meeting today of the Calloway County Fiscal Court, set for one p.m.

Countians to Pay Over $14 Million In Federal Taxes

To what extent will Calloway County residents be enriching the Federal coffers, come April 15th, through their income tax payments?

The government counts on their contributions being larger than they were last year, when local returns of personal income and employment taxes were close to $12,538,000.

That is the approximate amount that was turned in locally, based on an unofficial breakdown of the statewide collection figures released by the Internal Revenue Service.

From the State of Kentucky as a whole, Uncle Sam received over $1,458,000,000 last year, the IRS figures show. Of this total, taxpayers in Calloway County paid an estimated 0.86 percent.

The returns, generally, are expected to be bigger this year because of the wage gains chalked up by most families in 1973 and because more people were employed nationally than in 1972.

As a result, the budget submitted by the Administration looks for personal income and employment taxes to yield a record $202 billion this year. That is $24.8 billion more than in 1973, when the tax haul was $177.2 billion.

Local taxpayers will be shouldering their full share of this increase, it is expected, reflecting the higher level of income in the area in the past year.

On that basis, the Calloway County collections next month will come to approximately $14,293,000, it is calculated.

The Administration's new budget, for the fiscal year that begins in July, 1974, calls for bigger income tax receipts next April than ever before, although the rates will remain the same.

It is based upon the expectation that personal income, nationally, will continue on its upward course and will reach new heights.

The budget anticipates $220 billion next year in personal income and employment taxes, an increase of $18 billion over the current level.

For the local population to produce its proportionate share of this addition, total earnings in the area will have to rise by about 9.0 percent.

HARVEY ELLIS, right, was presented with the 1974 4-H Meritorious Service Award at the annual 4-H Achievement and Leader and Recognition banquet held by the Calloway County 4-H Council on Friday. Making the presentation was Arlie Scott, Area 4-H Council president.

Ninety leaders, 4-Hers, parents, and special guests were present for the Annual 4-H achievement and Leader Recognition Banquet held by the Calloway County 4-H Council on Friday, March 15, in the social hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Harvey Ellis was selected by the Council as the winner of the 1974, 4-H Meritorious Service Award. He has been a very active 4-H leader since being employed by the Peoples Bank having served as 4-H Council treasurer and chairman of the District 4-H and FFA Beef Steer Show. Ellis is an active supporter of all youth groups and the first individual to be honored with this distinction by the 4-H Council.

Leaders from each community were recognized as a group and given a large round of applause by those in attendance, according to Mrs. Larue Sledd, 4-H Council president.

Mrs. Gerald Coles, Mrs. Harold Bicy, Mrs. Alvin Usrey, and Mrs. Rita Overby were on the planning committee for the banquet.

Dear Abby

She has bellyful of modern teaching

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Has the whole world gone crazy or is my viewer out of focus? I just read in a Minneapolis newspaper that as a part of the Community Educational Program, the public schools are sponsoring a program on—of all things—belly dancing!

As a taxpayer, I protest this shameful waste of money. Don't you think there are better places for our tax dollars than spending it to teach school girls how to do a vulgar, disgusting dance with their midsections exposed?

MRS. J. F. O.

DEAR MRS. O.: Your viewer is out of focus, lady. Belly dancing is a respected art form in the Middle East. However, it's your right to protest. So write to the mayor and tell him you've had a bellyful.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who received a beautiful stereo for Christmas. I keep it in my bedroom, which seems to create a problem.

My father says when my boyfriend comes over we should take the stereo [which has four speakers and is on a cart] from any room way out to the den and drag it back when we are through.

I can't understand why we can't listen to the stereo in my bedroom if we keep the door open and all the lights on, a parent is home, and they can wander in and out whenever they feel like it.

Also, it seems ridiculous for them to be so uptight about our being in the bedroom because if we planned on doing anything it would be just as easy in the den.

How do you feel about this?

BUGGED

DEAR BUGGED: I think your parents are wrong. Furthermore, their accusatory attitude could give you ideas you never had.

DEAR ABBY: A "Concerned Parent from Augusta, Ga." recently wrote to complain about her school system's order that pupils have a tote bag of supplies before they could use the lavatories. Our elementary school felt forced to make its bathrooms vandal-proof because of the acts of a few disturbed children. Stall doors were removed because some children swung on them; all paper was removed because it was either being wasted or used to plug toilets; mirrors were taken out and hot water was shut off. Our students did not even have a tote bag of supplies; they had to make do or wait until they got home.

This action was taken at the insistence of the janitors who tired of cleaning clogged pipes and fixing hinges on stall doors. After three years, the elementary student council pressed for and won restoration of all facilities. They argued that schools are built for children, not janitors; that children are human beings and as such have the right to basic dignities.

The council won its case. Since then there has been no abuse of the facilities. Bathroom monitors were never even considered because experience has shown that children should not be put in a position to police other children.

Down the Garden Path

By MRS. W. P. WILLIAMS

Sunshine and rain, rain and sunshine, that's what makes the flowers bloom. And did you ever see so many narcissus! They are blooming all over town, everywhere. They are so lovely and I hate to see them go. If we didn't have so many of them or if they were hard to grow, we would treasure them as much as an orchid.

Most of the shrubs are sprouting and the buds on trees are swelling, so spring is at hand.

We will have some unpleasant weather and perhaps a freeze or two that will break our hearts when we see a much-loved plant full of blossoms stricken by the frost. But those are risks we have to take in the early spring, and the plants that escape damage by the cold are all the more treasured.

One of the better garden magazines is announcing a window box contest that might be interesting, especially to those who do not have a yard to beautify. There are some simple rules and the winner will have an article in the magazine accompanied by pictures, telling how it was all done. If any of you would be interested in making a window box and entering the contest, I will be glad to give you the information needed.

I remember being in a city several years ago where window boxes were used so profusely in homes and apartment houses and even in front of stores. The whole city seemed to bloom and every visitor exclaimed over the beautiful result. Folks just don't realize what a difference flowers make in the appearance of their place, whether it be a home or a business.

In this city racks were placed in front of the stores with pots of blooming plants on each tier. One could look down several blocks and see banks of flowers. It was beautiful and gave a freshness to the atmosphere.

I have received a gift of a "Revelation Fig" and have planted it in a pot for the time being. I will wait until fall to decide whether to bring it in when cold weather comes, or plant it outdoors and cover it completely each year.

This particular fig bears two crops a year and is one of my favorite fruits. I love to experiment with new things, and this little fig tree has already put out some of its soft gray-green leaves. I am looking forward to seeing it develop.

Easter is coming late this year, and that possibly means that our last cold spell will be late also. The old saying was to wait 'til Easter, then plant anything you wanted. However, March is already half gone and I feel we would be safe to plant any annual seed by the first of April. In fact I would like to plant some now.

Seed is cheap and if some of them have to be re-planted, it wouldn't be much lost. Annuals that come up early get into their blooming season before it gets too hot. So go ahead risk A FEW SEED. You will be glad you did.

Crib Design Safer With Regulations

With new federal regulations that went into effect Feb. 1, fewer infants should suffer injury and death due to crib construction and design. Effective Feb. 1, all cribs manufactured must conform to new safety regulations adopted by the Consumer Product Safety Commission.

Madge Guffey, home furnishings specialist with the University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service, lists some of the requirements: (1) the standardization of crib and mattress sizes to prevent gaps between mattress and crib; (2) setting of a maximum spacing of 2 1/4 inches between slats; and (3) a minimum of 26 inches from the top of the railing to the mattress support at its lowest level.

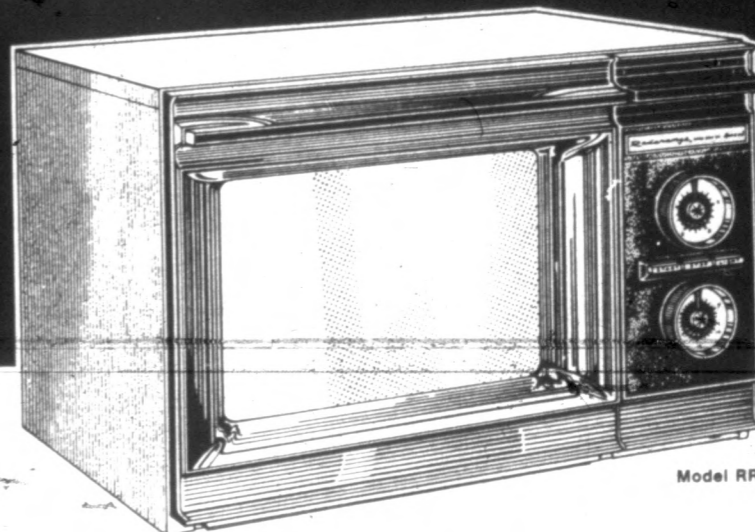

Even if they don't meet safety regulations, cribs made before January 31 can continue to be sold.

"If you are looking for a crib, carry something for measuring and check construction and design for safety," recommends Miss Guffey.

"If the distance between slats is more than two and three-eighths inches, use a bumper pad at least four inches high around the crib," she says.

"These should be tied securely to the bed with at least six ties. If you can insert two fingers between mattress and crib side, fill the space with rolled towels."

State Government Report

By Sen. Carroll Hubbard,

Legislature In Last Hours

FRANKFORT, Ky. —The eleventh week and the "eleventh hour" of the 1974 Kentucky General Assembly bring the legislators near the close of a hectic session which will adjourn next Friday (March 22) before midnight.

It's now too late to introduce bills for consideration. That's good, because 870 bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives, while senators have introduced 356 bills, for a total of 1,226 measures for attention by the legislators.

As of last Friday only 55 House bills and 11 Senate bills had passed both chambers and been either signed by Gov. Wendell H. Ford or allowed to become law without his signature. The governor has vetoed one bill.

The last week of the session brings on a flurry of action in both chambers with the lawmakers meeting late each day voting on scores of bills and resolutions.

The mail being received by the legislators has been coming in such volumes that those who try to answer the letters have found it impossible until after the session. The few secretaries assigned to each chamber are swamped with committee reports, amendment proposals and taking long-distance telephone calls (to mention a few of their duties).

The four senators assigned to draft a compromise proposal concerning regulating abortions in Kentucky (Sen. John Lakey, Sen. John Berry, Sen. Tom Ward and this legislator) have each received a mountain of mail from all parts of Kentucky—especially from the Covington-Newport area—concerning the abortion question. Almost all the mail being received is opposed to legalized abortions, though most realize the 1973 U. S. Supreme Court decision legalizing abortions gives the state legislators only the chance to regulate abortions, set guidelines for those performing the surgery and exempt from punishment by fines those hospitals or physicians who refuse to perform abortions.

Because the legislators have not been meeting on Saturdays—which are legislative days, according to the Kentucky Constitution—Kentucky's laws for the next 21 months are actually reviewed, altered, and in a few situations, repealed in a 50-day session.

The pace is vexatious for those who try to read the bills and resolutions, return phone calls, answer letters and telegrams, attend the sessions and committee meetings, draft amendments to bills and keep up with their own area's legislative interests.

Four legislators are hospitalized—Reps. George Harris, D-Salem, Ed Brown, D-Bowling Green, and Brooks Hinkle, D-Paris, and Sen. John Chris Cornett, D-Hindman. Another lawmaker, Rep. Charlotte S. McGill, is back in the House after being hospitalized earlier this session.

Kentuckians have said time and again they don't want annual sessions, but, though annual sessions may not be the answer, trying to consider 1,226 bills and about 170 resolutions in an actual 50 days of deliberation is not best for the legislators or their constituents.

Gov. Ford says he supports legislation that would call for a federal constitutional convention to outlaw busing of school children to achieve racial balance. Ford said he doesn't think such a constitutional convention would actually take place because Congress would be spurred to act before the necessary number of states triggered such a convention.

"We've never had a constitutional convention," Ford said. "I don't think Congress wants one. I think if they get the message that we're moving closer and closer to it, they will go ahead with this (anti-busing) amendment and propose it to the states. It takes a little while for Congress to receive a message, but I think the people will eventually get their message over," Ford added.

Ford commented on the emotion-charged busing issue during a press conference he held to explain his plan for possible severance-tax sharing with coal counties.

One reporter told Ford there is talk in the legislature that he now supports House Resolution 29 in its amended form. HR 29, as amended by the Senate, would call for a federal constitutional convention. The House earlier this week refused to accept the Senate amendment, and the matter is scheduled to be worked out by a House-Senate conference committee. Ford's comments indicate he supports the amended HR 29.

Members of the Save Our Community Schools (SOCS) in Jefferson County strongly support the constitutional-convention language in the Senate amendment. SOCS members have urged, as Ford did yesterday, that the constitutional convention language is the best way to get the attention of Congress.

Amid cheers from eastern Kentucky legislators, Gov. Ford announced that he has drafted his own "mountain amendment," a plan for returning to coal-producing counties one-half of any unbudgeted surplus from the severance tax over the next two years.

The administration-backed amendment has been added to an obscure Senate-passed bill and passage of the measure seems a certainty. The amendment, though referred to as a "mountain amendment," also benefits several coal-producing western Kentucky counties. More than 70 House members co-signed his proposed amendment.

Two Senate committees have approved different no-fault insurance plans, leaving the Senate Rules Committee in the position of referee, perhaps to decide between the bills. Sen. William Sullivan, D-Henderson, president pro tem of the Senate and a member of the Rules Committee, said it would be unusual but not necessarily unlikely that Rules might send both bills to the floor.

However, Sen. Donald Johnson, R-Newport, in a separate interview, predicted that the Senate would approve a no-fault version like that endorsed by the Senate Judiciary Committee rather than the plan approved by the Senate Banking and Insurance Committee. Johnson was a leader in a fight to recommit Senate Bill 102 to the Judiciary Committee last week after it had been approved by the Banking and Insurance Committee.

Abortion Bill Gets Senate Approval; House Fight Seen

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Senate approved Monday 27-6 a bill that would allow a woman to have an abortion in the first three months of pregnancy after consulting with a physician.

The Senate rejected several amendments that would have restricted abortion in the first trimester but did approve one that would require her to have the written consent of her husband in the first three months.

Within 45 minutes after the Senate action, the House Judiciary Committee deleted the Senate amendment and reported the bill out favorably in its previous form.

That set up an almost certain battle on the House floor Wednesday when the full chamber will have to vote on whether to accept the committee amendment deleting the Senate amendment.

Kentucky has been without a law governing the performance of abortions since the Supreme Court decision a year ago invalidated Kentucky's statute.

The guidelines set by the Supreme Court say the state has no authority to control abortion in the first trimester. Those opposing the restrictive amendments indicated they wanted Kentucky to have a bill and didn't want the federal courts to find it unconstitutional.

"Some of us voting against the amendments are not proponents of abortion—but with the amendments you're going to destroy the bill," Sen. John Berry, D-New Castle told the Senate.

Other than requiring the husband's consent, the Senate left the decision on abortion to the woman and her physician in the first three months.

After the first trimester, abortion is permitted only to protect the life or health of the pregnant woman or in some other specific cases.

No abortions would be permitted after the fetus has reached the stage of viability, except to save the life or health of the mother. Viability is defined in the bill as the stage of development when the life of the fetus may be continued outside the womb.

The Senate rejected an amendment setting viability at 20 weeks of pregnancy.

If unmarried and under 18, a pregnant woman in the second or third trimester would have to obtain the written consent of either of her parents or her legal guardian. The Senate rejected an amendment requiring parental consent in the first trimester.

The bill would require a physician who agrees to perform an abortion after the first trimester to inform the woman of possible physical and mental consequences of performing or not performing the abortion. An amendment requiring such counseling in the first trimester was rejected.

The bill would establish a procedure for reporting abortions in the last two trimesters to obtain statistics to aid the state in providing maternal health care.

The measure also contains a so-called conscience clause that protects hospitals and medical personnel who refuse to participate in an abortion because of moral, religious, or professional objections.

Audit Required

House Approves Salary Hike For Kentucky County Officials

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The House passed a Senate bill raising the salary of county officials Monday after amending it to also require annual audits and uniform accounting of county funds.

The House passed the bill or a 78-8 vote after attaching the amendment on a vote of 49-31.

Rep. Joe Clarke, D-Danville, said it would be a serious mistake to raise the pay of county officials while not requiring them to be accountable for the funds they handle.

Senate Bill 236 now goes back to the Senate for concurrence.

The salaries of most county officials would be raised under SB 236 from the present range of $7,500 to $12,600 to a new range of $9,000 to $13,600.

The requirement for audits and uniform accounting in the House amendment also had been in House Bill 21, which was defeated in the House. That bill also would have pooled county fees so each officer could be paid the maximum salary allowed by law, but that provision was not included in the amendment adopted Monday.

The House also passed Senate Bill 206 which allows the Jefferson County School Board to adopt up to three additional taxes: occupational tax of up to .5 per cent, a 20 per cent surtax on income and a three per cent utility tax.

The bill, strongly supported by House Speaker Norbert Blume, D Louisville, was passed 63-24.

Another measure which the House amended before passing and sending it back to the Senate was SB 247. It eliminates the present double counting of vocational and special education pupils in calculating the state money distributed to local school districts.

The House passed and sent to the governor SB 264, which would exempt one mobile home from zoning requirements when placed on agricultural land as a dwelling.

The House concurred in Senate amendments to several House bills and then approved and sent them to the governor. Among those were:

—HB 384, allowing a referendum on zoning ordinances by voters in the precincts involved—Jefferson and Fayette counties were excluded in the measure in the Senate and a move to do likewise for other second-class cities failed in the House.

—HB 503, providing for colored pictures to appear on drivers' licenses.

—HB 217, Making Actors Theater of Louisville, instead of the Pioneer Playhouse in Danville, the state theater.

—HB 372, licensing social workers except those who are state employees.

—HB 571, providing for the state Insurance Department to regulate the rates charged by bail bondsmen.

—HB 229, setting up a small-claims court to handle minor disputes without requiring attorneys, although attorneys could be hired for such purposes if desired.

Also passed by the House and sent to the governor was SB 188, allowing counties to require payment of property tax on a motor vehicle before a license plate can be bought for it.

Meanwhile, a House-Senate conference committee recommended that the House concur in a Senate amendment to its anti-busing resolution.

That amendment requested a constitutional convention to be called to amend the U.S. Constitution to prohibit the busing of school children to achieve racial equality.

That provision was in the original House resolution, but was altered on the House floor to merely ask Congress to initiate such a proposed amendment.

Three House members on the conference committee voted to ask the House to concur on the amendment, while the other two members filed a minority report asking the House not to concur.

The matter now goes back to the full House for action on the committee report.

Watergate

Committee May Not Get OK On Grand Jury Report For Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — It could take weeks for the House Judiciary Committee to learn if it will receive the secret grand jury report on President Nixon's role in Watergate.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica ruled Monday that the report should go to the committee for its impeachment inquiry, but at least one Watergate defense lawyer said he expects to appeal the ruling.

Sirica delayed implementation of his ruling for two days to permit filing of appeals.

That gives attorneys until late Wednesday to file their appeals and also to ask either Sirica or the U.S. Court of Appeals to extend the delay in transmission of the report to the Judiciary Committee.

John J. Wilson, attorney for former presidential aides H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, said Monday "it is our present intention to pursue appellate review."

William G. Hundley, attorney for former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, said he hadn't decided yet whether to appeal the order.

"If we go up, it'll be on the very narrow ground that if there is something in the presentment that reflects on Mitchell we would want that expunged," Hundley said.

At a hearing before Sirica March 6, Wilson had argued that the grand jury lacked the authority to issue such a report and that if it were sent to Congress its contents probably would leak out and possibly prejudice his clients' rights to a fair trial.

However, Sirica noted that "the person on whom the report focuses, the President of the United States, has not objected to its release to the committee."

And, he concluded "delivery to the committee is eminently proper, and indeed, obligatory."

Sirica said the report "draws no accusatory conclusions... The report is a simple and straightforward compilation of information gathered by the grand jury, and no more."

Vice President Gerald R. Ford told reporters Monday night that he agreed with Sirica's decision. Ford, at a Republican fundraising dinner in College Park, Md., said "What he has done is what I personally felt should have been done."

The grand jury gave the report and a satchel filled with evidence to Sirica March 1, along with an indictment that charged seven former administration and campaign aides with conspiring to block the investigation of the Watergate break-in.

Indicted were Haldeman, Ehrlichman, Mitchell, Charles W. Colson, former White House special counsel; Gordon C. Strachan, former aide to Haldeman; former assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson, a former attorney for President Nixon's re-election finance committee.

All have pleaded innocent.

CLARIFICATION

WASHINGTON (AP)—On Nov. 16, 1973, an Associated Press dispatch described Louis E. Wolfson as a "convicted stock swindler" and said he had been convicted of "stock fraud." Mr. Wolfson has never been convicted of stock fraud or manipulation. He was convicted of selling his own shares of a corporation's stock, in which he was one of the controlling group, without having first filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Murray State Sweeps Twinbill, Outscores Illinois Team 38-7

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
There's something about Reagan Field that's pleasing to the Murray State University baseball team.

And there's something about the Murray State baseball team that is not pleasing to the University of Illinois at Chicago.

Continuing their scoring rampage they've been on since opening the home season Friday, Murray swept a twinbill from the hapless Illinois team Monday winning 19-2 and 19-5. The two wins lift Murray to a 7-1 record, with six of the seven wins coming at Reagan Field since an opening 13-9 road win against national powerhouse South Alabama.

In the past seven games, Murray has scored an unbelievable 90 runs, while the opponents have scored just 19, which means Murray has been scoring at a clip of nearly 13 runs per game while the opponents have scored just under three.

Bill Emerson picked up the mound win in the opening game Monday as he scattered six hits in the abbreviated five inning game called because of the 10 run rule.

The New Jersey native chalked up four strikeouts along the way and gave up only one walk.

It was a 14-run second inning that sewed the first game up for Murray.

The Thoroughbreds sent 20 men to the plate in the frame that lasted 75 minutes. Of the game's total of 13 hits, for Murray, nine came in the third inning explosion.

Country Singer Charlie Pride Singles In Loss For Rangers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

The Texas Rangers and Minnesota Twins suffered exhibition baseball defeats Monday, but the Rangers had a distinct musical touch while the Twins again were left singing the blues.

The Rangers used country and western singing star Charlie Pride, a one-time minor leaguer, as their designated hitter in a 14-2 loss to the Baltimore Orioles.

The setback wasn't Pride's fault. He grounded out and singled off Jim Palmer, the American League's 1973 Cy Young Award winner.

Boog Powell and Don Baylor each delivered three hits and Mark Belanger's bases-loaded double highlighted a four-run Baltimore uprising in the second inning. Teen-ager David Clyde was tagged with the loss, surrendering four runs and seven hits in four innings.

The Twins suffered two losses. They bowed for the 11th time in 12 exhibition outings when the Los Angeles Dodgers smashed 18 hits in a 13-5 rout. And they also lost slugger Harmon Killebrew for a while. The first baseman left the game with a partial shoulder dislocation after diving for a ball and landing on his right shoulder. Killebrew will have his arm in a sling for 10 days to two weeks.

Elsewhere on the casualty list, Manager Darrell Johnson of the Boston Red Sox reported that catcher Carlton Fisk will be hospitalized another few days because of a groin injury. Fisk was hit by a foul tip off the bat of Joe Torre in Sunday's game against the St. Louis Cardinals.

However, the Red Sox didn't seem to miss their All-Star catcher. They beat the Chicago White Sox 8-4 for their 10th victory in 12 games as rookie Jim Rice belted a three-run homer and Rico Petrocelli contributed three hits.

Run-scoring singles by rookies Chris Ward and Jim drilled a base-clearing triple for three RBIs.

Al Luigs, former player at Paducah St. Mary, picked up three hits in the contest.

Tyrone helped the Chicago Cubs to a 4-2 victory over San Diego.

Al Oliver hit a game-tying three-run homer in the sixth inning and the Pittsburgh Pirates scored single runs in the seventh and eighth to defeat the Montreal Expos 5-3 at San Juan, P.R.

Pat Bourque drove in three runs with two doubles and a single off Gaylord Perry and Reggie Jackson hammered a two-run homer off Ken Sanders, leading the Oakland A's to a 6-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

A pair of 1-0 games saw the New York Mets edge the New York Yankees and the Kansas City Royals nip the St. Louis Cardinals. Jon Matlack, Bob Apodaca and Steve Simpson of the Mets limited the Yankees to three hits while the Royals' Steve Busby, Steve Mingori and Gene Garber combined for a nine-hitter against St. Louis.

John Howland had an RBI triple, Weisman and David Hughes each run-scoring singles and Weisman followed again with a two-run single.

Randy Oliver, former hurler at Calloway County High School, went the distance on the mound and picked up the win. Oliver allowed only three earned runs while fanning 10 and walking one.

Murray will again host Illinois to a doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m. today.

Wolfpack Holds Lead In Poll, UCLA Second, Marquette Third

By The Associated Press

Marquette's Warriors, ranked eighth last week, moved up to third with a 72-70 victory over Michigan in the NCAA Midwest Regionals while North Carolina State and UCLA continued to hold the top two spots in The Associated Press' weekly college basketball poll released today.

The victory helped bring the Warriors 439 points in voting by a national panel of sports writers and broadcasters while lifting Marquette's record to 25-4.

The Wolfpack, 28-1, received 20 first-place votes and 616 points to maintain a 16-point lead over the Bruins, who raised their record to 25-3 by stopping Dayton's Flyers in triple overtime, then crushing San Francisco.

The Bruins — aiming at an unprecedented eighth consecutive NCAA title — crept closer to the top-ranked Wolfpack by gaining 12 first-place votes and 600 points in the voting.

Maryland, its season ended at 23-5, held fourth place with 412 points, while Notre Dame slipped from third to fifth place with a 26-3 record.

The Kansas Jayhawks, 23-5, who join the top two teams and Marquette in the NCAA semifinals Saturday, jumped from 14th place to sixth with triumphs over Creighton and Oral Roberts. Michigan, which beat Indiana and Notre Dame, rose from 12th to seventh behind a 22-5 record.

Providence, 28-4, victims of the Wolfpack in the Eastern Regional semifinal, slumped from No. 5 to No. 8; Long Beach State held ninth with 232, and North Carolina, 22-6 — seventh last week, dropped to 10th after a first-round loss to Purdue in the National Invitation Tournament.

Indiana, 21-5, and Vanderbilt, 23-5, are tied for 11th, followed by Alabama, Southern Cal., Pittsburgh, Dayton and South Carolina. Oral Roberts and Purdue share No. 18, while New Mexico rounds out the Top Twenty.

In other college basketball developments, two basketball coaches had their contracts extended while two others didn't.

Veteran Maryland Coach Lefty Driesell will be with the Terps next year, Athletic Director Jim Kehoe said Monday. Ray Mears — whose record at Tennessee is 217-92 in 12 years — had his contract extended through the 1978-79 season.

Coach Jack McKinney was fired from his position at St. Joseph's, Pa., and Lute Olson, after "the worst season of my life," quit as coach of Long Beach State to take a four-year contract with Iowa.

Quarterfinal Round Of NIT To Begin Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — With all the local teams having been eliminated, the National Invitation Tournament finally goes national tonight with the start of the quarter-final round.

In the opener of tonight's doubleheader, Maryland-Eastern Shore faces Jacksonville while Hawaii faces Purdue in the nightcap.

The other quarter-finals on Thursday night send Memphis State against Utah and Connecticut against Boston College.

The semifinals will be held Saturday afternoon with the championship and consolation games on Sunday.

Maryland-Eastern Shore, a predominantly black branch of the University of Maryland, is the Cinderella team in the field. The Hawks put a 27-1 record on the line against Jacksonville.

"We're as good as any of these teams," Coach John Bates said after his unknown team beat Manhattan last Saturday. "We can knock any one of them off."

"No one gets very excited."

Sometimes this team scares me, it stays so calm. Last year, we panicked sometimes at the end of close games. This season we don't."

The Purdue-Hawaii game will be a rematch of the finals of the Rainbow Classic, which Hawaii won 76-67. Hawaii's Tom Henderson scored 21 points and handed out nine assists in that game and hit for 20 points in Hawaii's 66-65 first-round NIT triumph over Fairfield.

However, Purdue won its NIT opener from North Carolina, the pretourney favorite, 82-71.

The most impressive first-round performance was Utah's 102-89 rout of Rutgers. The Utes shot a blistering 68 per cent halftime bulge behind the sharpshooting backcourt duo of Ticky Burden and Tyrone Medley. They also have a top-flight rebounder and shot blocker in 6-foot-8 Mike Sojourner, whose brother Willie plays for the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association.

Timeout With Brandon

By MIKE BRANDON
Sports Editor

Glenn Jackson should have made the All-Tournament Team at Louisville.

But unfortunately, as it is so often, you have to have the name to make the team, regardless of your play in the tournament.

It's not the easiest thing to make a name for yourself when the only statewide newspaper rarely runs a line score of a Murray game, much less any other type of coverage.

In one game at Freedom Hall, Jackson scored 30 points in the Tigers' loss to Warren East. He hit 15 of his 24 shots from the floor.

In one game for Owensboro, first team All-Stater Kenny Higgs scored 24 points and was named to the All-Tournament Team.

A lot of ballplayers from other teams in the First Region were at the State Tournament and regardless of the school they represented, they too thought Jackson would be a cinch for the All-Tournament Team.

The most disgusting part about the whole thing is the All-Purchase Team picked by coaches in a poll conducted by the Paducah Sun-Democrat.

The highest man on the list for Murray was Ray Lane who was the ninth-leading vote receiver. Jackson tied for 10th.

Danny Hudspeth finished 13th in voting and Tyrone McCuiston 20th, far behind some players who could not compare with him in talent.

And then take a look at the people in the Top 10, and you find Eddie Williams of Mayfield heading the list.

Mayfield Coach Bob Sparks called Williams the best player in the Region and many other coaches must have felt the same way.

Of all the selections on the team, this would be the one I most agree with.

And then in second place is sophomore Gene Roof of Paducah St. Mary, a tremendous player from inside the basket.

Cut him off from inside and he's an average ballplayer. And several times if the season he was cut off.

Roof, a 6-2 sophomore. But where was 6-8 James Wells of Calloway County when he was a sophomore?

Considered as one of the top sophomore basketball players in the country by several basketball publications, Wells was left completely off the list last year.

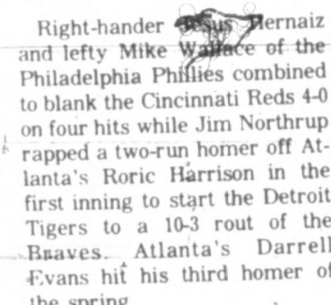

On down the line in the All-Purchase Top 10, it seems the scorers dominate the team.

But as for Murray High, why only two men on the team. And one of those in ninth and the other in a tie for 10th?

Could it be that coaches in the First Region hold prejudices against the Murray High team for the arrogance they played with this past year?

Could it be the reason why Wells, who will be a star in college before anyone else on the list, didn't finish higher because of a few bad impressions made on coaches this year after a temper flareup?

Could it be that high school basketball season is over for this year and we have an eight month rest before it all begins again?

Indiana Roms USC To Win New Cage Tourney

By PAUL LEBAR
AP Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Indiana's fiery Coach Bobby Knight, a veteran of post-season basketball tournaments, has finally manufactured a way to win.

The 34-year-old Knight, a sharp critic of the Collegiate Commissioners' Association, sat in the stands 31½ minutes Monday night and watched his Hoosiers maul Southern Cal 85-60 for the title.

"That really wasn't my intention," said Knight, whose early exit on technical fouls appeared to inspire his lethargic team.

"I wasn't trying to arouse anybody," he added. "But we had here a consolation tournament so we got stuck also with consolation officials."

The target of Knight's blasts in the aftermath of a test for major conference runners-up was referee John Overby, with whom he quarreled unsuccessfully.

Knight bounded to his feet when no whistle accompanied an apparent palming of the ball by USC's towering Mike Westra.

Overby waited until Gus Williams banked in a shot to establish a 25-20 Trojan lead. Then assessed Knight a technical foul.

A second technical followed when Knight's protest persisted and a third technical automatically signaled the Hoosier coach's disqualification.

Mary Safford sank the three free shots to establish a 26-20 USC bulge, but from there on it was all Indiana.

With 6-foot-10 freshman Kent Benson and 6-7 junior Steve Green in the lead, the Hoosiers quickly surged on top 29-28 and eased in front 40-37 at halftime.

Reserve Bob Wilkerson joined in the act as Indiana scored the first eight points of the final period and USC was never again closer than nine points.

After the smoke from the off-court fire cleared, Indiana used Green's 24 points, Benson's 17 and John Laskowski's 15 to lambast its opponent.

Spurs Take Over Second

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — For Coach Tom Nissalke of San Antonio Monday night's 100-93 victory over the Carolina Cougars was a big one for the Spurs.

The triumph moved the Spurs into sole possession of second place in the American Basketball Association West Division, six games behind first-place Utah.

Nissalke said the second place spot would give the Spurs an extra home game in the league playoffs and the chance to perform before "our super wild fans."

The game was the only one Monday night in the ABA. In the National Basketball Association, Kansas City-Omaha defeated Portland 114-105.

After leading for most of the game, the Spurs saw their lead dwindle to two points with 1:50 remaining. Rich Jones and James Silas teamed up for eight quick points as the Spurs outgunned the homecourt Cougars 10-5 and saved their victory.

The loss doomed Carolina to an almost certain third place finish in the East Division, behind New York and Kentucky.

The Cougars, after finishing the first period eight points down, rallied in the second period and held a 48-46 lead at the half. The Spurs came back outscored Carolina 29-17 in the third period and retain the lead for good.

4. In Memory

IN LOVING memory of our darling mother Gracie Walker who passed away 9 years ago March 19, 1965. There is a long and winding road along which each of us must go. Sadly missed by her children.

ate does not contain a mandatory rate reduction, a controversial provision.

Sen. Joe Stacy, D-West Liberty, a sponsor of the original Senate bill which did contain a rate reduction, said he doubted the House would concur with the measure passed by the Senate.

"They just killed no-fault," Stacy said. "This is too uncertain."

Graves said the mandatory liability coverage makes the bill better, but said he didn't think the House would go along with the Senate version.

Both said $3,000 first-party coverage is not enough.

In other action the Senate unanimously approved a financial disclosure bill for elected officials and candidates.

"The purpose of this bill is to call public attention to potential conflicts of interest that members of this body or other elected officials may have," said Sen. Smith, the bill's sponsor.

SB 23 does not require specific disclosure if no conflict exists, but allows elected officials to use general categories in reporting compensation or affiliations.

They enacted a similar law in 1972 which Smith called "a sham" because "by artful filling out of the (Registry of Election Finance) form you can avoid disclosing of anything and still fulfill the terms of the act."

Smith told the Senate "the people of Kentucky are desperate for some form of openness in government." The vote was 32-0.

Madisonville loses Distinction, Council Adopts Property Tax

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A three-phase tax package and a new city budget were approved here Monday night at a marathon session of the Madisonville city council.

The property-payroll-net profit tax package was the first for Madisonville in more than 30 years. On April 1 when the taxes go into effect, Madisonville loses the distinction of being the only city in the United States with no property tax.

Operating revenue in Madisonville had been obtained from utility bills.

The commission also adopted a $1,875,000 budget as a standing-room only crowd of 200 citizens looked on in a Hopkins Circuit Court room.

Conservation Still Needed

Gas Rationing Ruled Out Following Embargo Lifting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline rationing was virtually ruled out for this summer by Monday's announced ending of the Arab oil embargo against the United States.

But petroleum supplies may stay tight enough to require continued fuel-conservation measures.

Both conclusions have been cited by energy officials as the likely results of an end to the embargo, although the Federal Energy Office declined immediate comment after the actual announcement.

Whether the nuisance of long gasoline-station lines is gone for good, however, depends on just how tight the summer supplies remain.

And that depends on a variety of things: gasoline demand, at the high prices now in effect; actual crude oil import levels; the availability of imported gasoline as the embargo lifts still further in Europe, and policy decisions on the use of existing gasoline inventories and the late-summer shift of refinery production toward other fuels.

John C. Sawhill, deputy administrator of the Federal Energy Office, said last week that an end to the embargo would lift the threat of gasoline rationing, for it would provide some assurance that fuel shortages over the next several months would at least get no worse and probably would improve.

But Sawhill also warned that the nation would have to continue its efforts to conserve energy.

The reason is that U.S. demand for gasoline and other petroleum products has been rising steadily. And the Arab nations appeared unwilling to increase their production levels higher than existed before the embargo, while U.S. domestic production has stagnated.

So there seems to be little prospect that total U.S. petroleum supply can expand much beyond last year's levels.

Any chance for economic growth—at least if it depends on petroleum—will therefore require fuel conservation to provide some growth margin.

The Federal Energy Office has measured fuel shortages against estimates of what demand would be if there were no shortage. Saudi Arabia's oil minister Ahmed Zaki Yamani said Monday the Arabs would provide the United States with as much oil as it got last September.

That provides one measure of future shortages.

Making such assumptions, it is possible to venture a rough guess at the future. With gasoline production at its maximum, supplies should rise as Arab oil returns to the U.S. market. Shortages may shrink from about 17 per cent to the neighborhood of 5 per cent by July.

Some drugs will have the exact opposite reaction when taken by one class of people than it will when taken by others. For example, one well known drug that acts as a stimulant to the adult system will have a calming effect when it is taken by children. This one drug is therefore used for two completely different responses.

Many factors can influence the use of the same drug. Age, weight, sex, race, etc. So you can readily understand from this why it can be very dangerous to take a medicine a physician has prescribed for someone else.
