Red Cross Campaign Expected To Hit Goal

A summation of the 1974 Red Cross Fund Drive held March 20 at the courthouse reveals that the goal is imminent, according to Holmes Ellis, Fund Campaign Chairman. Captains and other officials of the drive have reported a total of $9,255.17 already collected or pledged.

"This indicates that with the few 'loose ends' which will be tied-up in the next few days, the goal of $10,500 seems well within reach," said the former mayor, "and we will be able to declare this drive a success. A roadblock will be conducted on April 13 by Alpha Omicron Pi social sorority and Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity. In the past these roadblocks have been very successful, giving an opportunity to contribute to those who have not otherwise been reached. We believe we can safely say that we will be able to continue Red Cross services to the county for another year."

The chairman attributed the success of the campaign to the diligence of the workers and the generosity of our citizens. Robert Moyer served as co-chairman in charge of industry and advanced gifts; Harvey Ellis was county chairman; Sid Easley served as coordinator; David Dixon contacted civic clubs and organizations. M.C. Gaffrot was the publicity chairman, and George Stockton was Murray State University Chairman.

Captains were: Max Hurt, Marshall Jones, Henry Holton, William Boyd, Fred Shultz, Ed Shinnars, W. R. Furches, Walter Apperson, Leonard Vaughn, Dr. Alice Koenecke, Stewart Poston.

"Each worker gave of himself wholeheartedly," concluded Chairman Ellis, "and stayed with the task until completed. We were most fortunate in having over 100 dedicated community workers, both in the county and city. We are deeply indebted to each of them."

Donations and pledges which need to be mailed should be sent to Box 488, Murray.

Gov. Ford Announces Candidacy For U.S. Senate Seat In 1976 Campaign

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Wendell Ford announced today he will become a Democratic candidate for the U. S. Senate.

"The Senate is now the best place where I can work for Kentucky and carry forward the progress we have under way in this great state," he said.

The governor made his announcement in a packed conference room near his office, with some of the legislative leadership and many state officials on hand.

It came only an hour after Republican incumbent Marlow Cook filed his candidacy papers with the secretary of state, whose office is only yards from Ford's office.

Giving a hint as to his campaign theme, Ford said: "It's time we represent the people of our state as U.S. senators, rather than have someone represent a national administration where both are out of touch with the needs of the housewife, the laborer, the elderly, the young, the businessman, the disadvantaged and the neglected."

Ford said that if he wins in November, Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll "will continue the progress, the programs and the direction that state government has achieved. He has assured me of this."

This was the first official indication that Ford and Carroll, who are not closely allied, may have made an arrangement should Ford become senator.

The governor said that he hesitated to deal publicly with this year's Senate race because his priorities were state government. He said he now can speak out because the 1974 Legislature, which adjourns later today, has enacted his major bill.

Ford said he has assessed the Senate race the last few days, discussing it with his family and many supporters.

He said he also has evaluated his 27 months so far as governor.

Ford said he has found that states can go only so far in helping people.

"I can cite you example after example of non-responsiveness at the federal level," he said. "But much more important, is doing something positive about it."

"I want to try. My decision, therefore, is to run for the U. S. Senate."

During questioning after the news conference, Ford stressed that he has made no deal with Carroll.

The governor said specifically he has not made a commitment to support Carroll for

Cook Files Today; Again Implies He'll Campaign Apart From Nixon

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., filed for re-election today, again implying that he would run apart from President Nixon.

Cook said the race between him and Gov. Wendell Ford, who was expected to announce his candidacy for Democratic nomination later in the day, would be a good one.

Cook said both he and Ford had records of their own and said the campaign would be on those records.

Pressed for any effect Nixon's unpopularity would have on his campaign, Cook said merely "where the President was right, I agreed with him—everyone knows my record."

Cook said he seriously doubted that Nixon would come to Kentucky during this year's campaign for senator.

"He understands the problem here," Cook said. The Jefferson County Republican said the voters would have to evaluate how much to separate him from Nixon in the campaign.

Asked if he had taken polls weighing his chances against Ford, Cook said he had done so but declined to disclose the results.

"Polls are taken for the benefit of the campaign not for the benefit of the general public," he asserted.

Cook said he thought a national GOP statement that Nixon would not be impeached was a fair one.

"If he's innocent, he won't be impeached," Cook said.

Responding to charges that an impeachment trial would pose a serious problem for the nation, Cook said that would mean the people who wrote the U. S. Constitution had done a poor job.

Cook's comments to newsmen, as he filed his papers in Secretary of State Thelma Stovall's office, came an hour before Ford scheduled a news conference to announce his plans.

Cook is now completing his first term as a senator. He also was elected Jefferson County judge twice and was defeated for the GOP gubernatorial nomination by former Gov. Louie B. Nunn in 1967.

understand why Mr. Garrison began a concentrated program to develop new business.

Aware of the growing interest in aseptic packaging, he made a rather complete study of its process and possibilities. He knew that several dairies had tried aseptic packaging in glass containers. However, this method was too expensive. Mr. Garrison was convinced that aseptic products could be a vital addition to his business and eliminate or greatly reduce his high dump rate of whipping cream; if he could install an efficient operation. He spent three weeks in Europe visiting and studying the aseptic packaging methods of 19 dairies. On his return, one of his

House Agrees To Civil Rights Amendments; Measure Approved

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The House Thursday agreed to drop two controversial amendments to a civil rights bill, reapproved the measure and sent it to the governor.

The House action followed the Senate's refusal to accept the amendments to the bill, which would implement the policies of the federal civil rights act. The House spent the day dealing with amendments to legislation already approved, since House rules barred consideration of any fresh legislation in the final two days.

The House accepted the recommendation of a conference committee to rescind the amendments attached to the bill during House debate March 22.

One amendment would have prohibited persons from collecting damages for humiliation and embarrassment resulting from discrimination in housing. The other states no school child could be discriminated against because of geographic location or residence.

Opponents of the amendments said they weakened the bill, and, at one point, Rep. David Karem, D-Louisville, accused Rep. Harold DeMarcus, R-Stanford, of attempting to kill the legislation.

Karem said DeMarcus's amendment to bar discrimination because of geographic location would make it impossible for the Senate to agree to the bill or for the governor to sign it.

DeMarcus contended his amendment, which opponents

Hearing Held Thursday On School Water Issue

The Public Service Commission has taken under advisement a dispute between the Calloway County Board of Education and the Dexter-Almo Water District.

The Public Service Commission did not indicate how soon it would hand down a decision, however unofficial sources set the date at a week to ten days.

Thursday's hearing in Frankfort arose over a dispute between the water district and the board over who should supply water to the new North Elementary School, one of three now under construction in Calloway County.

In its original complaint before the PSC, the Dexter-Almo Water District charged that the school is within the franchised territorial area of the district. The suit continued that both the City of Murray and the Board of Education have chosen to "ignore the territorial rights of said Water District and proceed to arrange for a supply of water to the North school without consulting said Water District or recognizing its existence as such."

In five hours of testimony Thursday, the city and the Water District submitted a mass of data on their plans for pipelines routings and boundaries.

The district said it needed the project to help its financial situation, and offered options with different cost estimates.

School Superintendent William Miller has emphasized repeatedly that the only issue with the Board of Education is that of economics. Miller has explained that the Board feels that it will cost the school, and the taxpayer, more to buy water from Dexter-Almo than it would if the water was purchased from the City of Murray.

A delay of four to five months in the construction of all three schools has been predicted due to the complaint filed by the water district.

Local attorney Don Overbey, counsel for the Board of Education, informed Supt. Miller last month "It is possible that the complaint filed with the Public Service Commission by the Dexter-Almo Water District may delay the Board of Education's ability to award a contract for the installation of water mains to the north elementary school for a period of four to five months."

A second opinion, from general contractor for the construction of the new schools, Darrell Cope, Quality Construction Co., has informed Supt. Miller that "Unless water can be obtained in a relatively short period of time, as all of the schools were under one bid, school construction will be slowed down and a delay in the opening of the new schools will be inevitable."

Van Valentine Presents Collection Of Sheet Music, Programs, To MSU

An extensive collection of sheet music, printed programs of musical events and pictures relating to the early years of Murray State University has been presented to the University Library by Van D. Valentine, 916 North 16th Street, Murray.

Valentine, a retired postal employee, played in bands and orchestras on the Murray campus from 1925 until 1939. He also helped organize and played saxophone and clarinet with The Kentucky Stompers, the forerunner of a parade of popular dance bands on the campus.

In presenting his neatly-catalogued collection to Richard Farrell, chairman of the Department of Music at Murray State, and Dr. Edwin Strohecker, director of libraries, Valentine carefully handled a number of the pieces as he recalled their use or application to a particular event.

Among them, for example, was a copy of the printed program used Nov. 6, 1925, at the dedication of Wells Hall, the school's first residence hall for women.

Kentucky Gov. William J. Fields was the principal speaker, and others on the program included Judge Edward C. O'Rear, chairman of the Normal School Commission which selected the city of Murray as the location for the school in 1922, and McHenry Rhodes, superintendent of public instruction in Kentucky and chairman of the Murray board of regents at the time.

Another part of the collection, which Strohecker says will be invaluable to researchers and historians in the years to come, is a complete scrapbook of printed programs of concerts played by the West Kentucky Symphony during the four years of its existence, 1944-48.

The orchestra was made up primarily of Murray students from Mayfield, Murray and Paducah, and Valentine prizes the letter he received from the late Price Doyle in 1945 inviting him to play in the orchestra's violin section, which he did.

Other interesting items include: A copy of the Mackie-Beyer music book used by the university's first band; the original music to "The Three Twins," a light opera presented May 31, 1938, as well as the violin parts by Valentine; and a printed program from the May 28, 1929, "May Day Celebration."

MSU MUSIC COLLECTION: Van Valentine, 916 North 16th Street, Murray, center, discusses a copy of the music book used by Murray State's first band in 1925 with Richard Farrell, left, chairman of the music department at the university, and Dr. Edwin Strohecker, director of libraries. Valentine, who played in Murray State bands and orchestras from 1925 to 1939, presented his collection of sheet music, printed programs, pictures and other materials relating to Murray State's early years to the University for its Special Collections Division of the Library.

Ryan Milk Featured In National Dairy Publication

(Editor's Note: Ryan Milk Company of Murray is featured in an article in the current issue of the "Pure Pak News," a bimonthly publication circulated to members of the dairy and packaging industries. The article is being reprinted for the interest of our readers.)

"Hello Rainey...Hello Rainey." These are reported to be the first words ever broadcast. They were spoken in Murray, Kentucky, by Mr. N. B. Stubblefield talking to his friend, Mr. Rainey T. Wells, General Attorney for the Woodsmen of the World. It was 1892, and the Kentuckian, Mr. Stubblefield, has successfully demonstrated the first wireless telephone or, as some call it, the "first" radio.

Some 77 years later another "first" came to Murray, Kentucky (as a matter of fact, it was one of the first in the United States). An aseptic packaging machine was installed at Ryan Milk Company under the supervision of Mr. James E. Garrison, general manager of the dairy. Today Mr. Garrison is president of Ryan Milk Company, and the Pure-Pak aseptic packaging machine which was packaging 6,000 units per day in 1966 is producing 32,500 units per day. "Without our aseptic machine," reports Mr. Garrison, "our business would be losing 640,000 units of dairy product sales each month."

During the years between the two "firsts," the dairy industry in Kentucky flourished—for a while anyway. Twenty years ago, according to Mr. Garrison, there were almost 100,000 producers of grade C milk in Kentucky. Today there are only about six thousand. "All you have to do," said Mr. Garrison, "is look at the pasture land around here. You don't see half the number of cows that were here a few years ago. Farmers, especially the younger ones coming up, aren't interested in maintaining dairy herds and producing raw milk." There has been an increase in the number of cows per herd, however, this has not offset the loss in the number of farms producing milk.

As a result of this continued reduction of available manufacturing milk, Ryan Milk Co. was forced to alter its operations. It ceased to produce and market milk powder and condensed-milk products. Even the location of Murray, Kentucky, although very picturesque, has worked against Ryan Milk's progress. The logistics and geographic limitations make it almost impossible to increase fluid milk sales. Add to this the "price wars" imposed by larger producers with broad coverage and distribution channels and you can understand the bind Mr. Garrison and Ryan Milk Co. were in 1968. You can also understand why Mr. Garrison began a concentrated program to develop new business.

Aware of the growing interest in aseptic packaging, he made a rather complete study of its process and possibilities. He knew that several dairies had tried aseptic packaging in glass containers. However, this method was too expensive. Mr. Garrison was convinced that aseptic products could be a vital addition to his business and eliminate or greatly reduce his high dump rate of whipping cream; if he could install an efficient operation. He spent three weeks in Europe visiting and studying the aseptic packaging methods of 19 dairies. On his return, one of his first efforts was to negotiate with Ex-Cell-O for the installation of the "first" aseptic packaging system in Kentucky.

"At first," said Mr. Garrison, "Ex-Cell-O was a little apprehensive with a dairy of our size moving into aseptic packaging. But I was determined to go ahead with my program. After the machine was installed, I wasn't too sure they weren't still working against me; we did have our share of the problems in those first few weeks. But, the Ex-Cell-O people never let up until the system was running perfectly. As you know, any new system will have some problems—it's the help you get in overcoming those problems that's important."

Today Ryan Milk Company's monthly production is 640,000 units on its Pure-Pak machine. This production includes whipping cream, half-n-half, coffee cream, and a non-dairy coffee whitener. They are considering the addition of chocolate milk, skim milk, "homo" milk and goat's milk to their product line. Generally, Ryan Milk operates on a one-product-per-day basis in its aseptic packaging facility. It is extremely important that Ryan Milk keep close tabs on its production to insure that, when possible, it coincides with holidays and fruit crop harvests. Fresh strawberries and whipped cream come but once a year in many sections of the country!

Batch samples, one per 100 cartons, are checked at 24-hour intervals after the first 24 hours until the 96th hour. The samples are incubated at 95 degrees and if no product failure is detected at the end of 48 hours, the batch is released from the cold room where it has been stored at 40 degrees for customer delivery. However, samples are retained for another 48 hours when the final check is made. Samples are also sent to Standard Laboratory at the State College of Mississippi. Most states in which Ryan Milk delivers its products make similar checks.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Be alert to all opportunities, but keep matters in proper perspective as you make short- or long-term plans. Good judgment needed.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21) Avoid worry over "what might have been" or "what things SHOULD be." Consider the over-all picture and you'll find that you have no reason for anxiety.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) Give others the benefit of the doubt, and yourself a fair chance to display your flexible thinking and ability to cope with day's mixture of temperaments and doings.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) You could overstep limits now if too strong a desire for a certain attainment causes you to strive and press beyond what is wise under present conditions.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) You can accomplish a great deal now — unless you are restricted by rigid habit or your innate overmeticulousness. Emphasize flexibility.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Keep on your toes now. Sudden intrusions or interruptions will call for unusual diplomacy in handling.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) Face possible changes with equanimity. With YOUR know-how and ingenuity, you can cope. Romance in high favor.

It's mostly up to you whether you will gain ground, make ends meet, or just drift. Some usual suggestions or directions will be absent. Be ready to "muddle through."

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) Certain events can act as guideposts for the future. Keep attuned to new trends and don't miss a trick.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Here's a time for some retrenching, digging in to reappraise situations. Be ready, nevertheless, to move ahead when conditions so demand.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Stellar influences auspicious.

Put your mind and keen powers of observation to work, but DON'T make impulsive decisions. A good day for accomplishment.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do not be upset by criticism. If constructive, it could actually show you new ways to capitalize on your skills and talents.

YOU BORN TODAY are governed by Mars, a Sign of power, ambition and intensity. You are a person of extreme capability, though many of you have no realization of your potentials. Realizing them fully, however, you can be an effective leader, an enthusiastic organizer. You can excel in the fields of art, science, the theater or the law. Whatever you do, you will do well, but a profession, backed by a sound education, will get you further than a business career. Birthdate of: J.C. She has 'telephonitis'; husband's calling for help

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a woman who talked on the phone from 3 p. m. until 9 p. m. without stopping? That's Molly.

When I got up this morning at 7:30, Molly was talking on the phone again. She didn't have time to speak to me or even get my breakfast. When I left for work at 8:30, she was still on the phone.

When I came home for supper the beds weren't made. She was on the phone again, and I had to beg her to get off and fix supper. She didn't say one word to me until after supper and then only five words: "Do you have any money?"

We've been married for 18 years and have two kids who, believe it or not, are good kids, good students and never gave us any trouble.

Do you think my wife is going through her change? Or do I need one? NEGLECTED

DEAR NEGLECTED: Your wife sounds like a compulsive talker—but only on the telephone. [This is known as "telephonitis."] She must have done something right, or your kids wouldn't have turned out so well. Maybe she is going through a change. Have her call up her doctor and make an appointment. [On second thought, tell her to write him a letter.]

DEAR ABBY: You always stress that a husband and wife are "on the same team." I agree. But how do you feel about their right to privacy when it comes to mail? Please print your views. I would appreciate seeing this in your column. MALE READER

DEAR READER: The laws of this country governing the privacy of the mails exist for a good reason, and every citizen is obliged to obey those laws, even—and especially—when the legal recipient is a member of one's own family. Reading a spouse's mail is in the same class with reading a child's diary or listening in on the extension telephone. It's verboten.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that girl who paid Motorhead's bills to write him a letter asking him for the $1,000 he owes her. If Motorhead is dumb enough to write her back and tell her that he didn't owe her any $1,000—it was only $500—she'll have all the evidence she needs. She can then take the letter to a lawyer, and he will take it from there. CLYDE P.

DEAR CLYDE: It's an old trick, but it could work.

It Really Is Tougher

Our friends in government do more for us every year. They collect more in taxes to cover part of the bill and pay for the rest with huge federal budget deficits and inflation.

According to the Tax Foundation, Inc., a family of four with one wage earner making $10,000 of income in 1966 could be making $13,500 today and be less well off after taxes and inflation had taken their cut. Federal income taxes on the larger salary today are up from $945 to $1,401. The social security tax has been boosted from $277 to $632. The average state tax of $73 on $10,000 income in 1966 has gone to $212 on $13,500 in 1973. Inflation has reduced the dollar's value 37 per cent in terms of purchasing power since 1966. On the average, if you made $13,500 in 1973 your take-home pay was $11,255. This was worth around $8,239 in terms of 1966 dollars - $466 less than the $8,705 that a man making $10,000 took home in 1966.

Things really are getting tougher every year; and, to a large extent, it is because government is doing so much more for us or to us - however you want to look at it. -Williamson (W. Va.) Daily News

Seen & Heard Around Murray

By James C. Williams

Won't be long before we can hook up our little fountain once more. It's not a big deal, but we like to hear the water bubbling. We've had it covered with plastic all winter.

Watching a Towhee scratching under the feeder. He jumps forward, then backward very quickly. As he goes backward he digs his toes in the grass and uncovers various and sundry things that Towhees like. He does not scratch like a rooster or hen, but uses his whole body in the operation.

The Robins are back in flocks. About thirty in the yard last Sunday.

Another hole in Doran Road. Just north of Sycamore on the west side of the road.

Good to see Craig Carman. He is working out at Kroger.

So many folks we have known for years have passed away in the past two weeks.

We know that death is a natural development in one's life, but it still is difficult to fathom this mysterious event.

Women are supposed to be smarter than men, but did you ever see a man trying to button his shirt up the back.

Did you ever stop to think that people are either learning or teaching. No matter what your job is, you are either showing someone else how to do something or learning yourself.

The high wind Wednesday night blew down the middle feeder. The nails on each side of the feeder which holds the feeder hanger, apparently came out. Anyway we went out yesterday morning and fixed it up again.

No Finches for the past three or four days, and the Slate Colored Juncoes seem to be thinning out. They are moving northward again.

The encounters between the male Cardinals on our back yard seem to be gaining in frequency. Maybe this cold spell will mark the end of winter. Thursday was the first day of spring however Easter does not arrive until April 14.

The partisan reaction to President Nixon's TV address this week before the broadcasters in Houston supports our thinking that the entire impeachment proceeding is blatant politics.

We say, Hang in there Mr. President.

Things will thin out in Murray next week with the spring break at MSU. The importance of this institution to our city will be made noticeable.

GIVING ONE'S BEST

A person cannot live for the glory of God without encountering the opposition of the world, and frequently he will be subjected to persecution. Living in compliance with God's will and for His glory assures him of God's presence and sufficient strength to be triumphant.

Acts 6:8-11

Among the seven reputable men who were chosen and set apart as "helpers" of the Apostles, whose time was being consumed unduly by secondary matters, Stephen had the first place. Stephen was one of the most beautiful characters and charming personalities whose name was recorded in the Bible. He embodied the highest qualities of Christian manhood.

The fullness of Stephen's life was quite impressive. Of what did that fullness consist?

1. Stephen was full of wisdom. Acts 6:3.

Although he was young, Stephen was a man of great wisdom. If he had not been a man of wisdom, he would not have been selected with six others to handle the delicate and difficult situation which had arisen in the church. Another proof of his wisdom was that those who had perplexities and personal problems, with which they did not know how to cope, freely talked with Stephen about them. When the members consulted him about the administration of the church affairs, his suggestions revealed a keen insight and remarkable wisdom.

2. Stephen was full of faith. Acts 6:5,8.

Because of Stephen's great faith in God there was a fine intimacy between him and the other church members. They delighted in each other. Stephen had faith in men, and they had absolute confidence in him.

3. Stephen was full of power. Acts 6:8.

Things happened where he went. He had a tremendous and wholesome influence. He had the kind of power which could not be resisted. He received that power from the Holy Spirit.

4. Stephen was full of courage. Acts 7:51.

Filled with holy boldness, he spoke, the Word of God fearlessly.

5. Stephen was full of the Holy Spirit. Act. 7:55.

The Holy Spirit had the absolute mastery of Stephen, and enabled him to do the will of God.

6. Stephen was full of trust. Acts 7:59.

It was his complete trust in God that made Stephen so Christlike and brought the angelic look into his face.

7. Stephen was full of love. Acts 7:60.

His prayer while being stoned was convincing proof of the transforming power of the love of Christ in the human heart.

In addition to performing miracles, Stephen developed into an eloquent and effective preacher of the gospel. His bold and fearless proclamation of the gospel caused certain enemies of Christ engage Stephen in an argument. He defended his Christian position with such wisdom and zeal that his opponents could not defeat him in debate. They had no alternative but to acknowledge their errors or to silence him by force. Enraged by his unanswerable logic, and in utter desperation, these infuriated opponents seized him, took him before the Sanhedrin, and bribed witnesses to swear that he was guilty of blasphemy, in order that they might put him to death.

Acts 7:54-60

It was the custom of that court to allow an accused person to plead guilty or not guilty, and then to speak in his own defense. This privilege was granted to Stephen, and he delivered the address recorded in the previous verses of this chapter.

When one cannot meet an argument or explain his conduct, he frequently resorts to anger and violence. Such was the reaction of Stephen's enemies when he delivered his masterful address and exposed their sins.

When they rushed on Stephen and tried to tear him to pieces, Stephen remarked in substance: "You may put me to death if you desire, but you cannot prevent the dogs of heaven from opening wide for me, nor can you interfere with Christ standing at the right hand of God to welcome me home, for already I have seen Him in that very position." The furious mob surged like angry beats upon the helpless prisoner and rushed him out of the city to administer capital punishment by stoning him. As they pelted him with stones, he prayed and committed his soul into the keeping of Christ. Evidently the first stones struck him while he was standing. As they continued to strike him he struggled with his knees and prayed for those who were taking his life saying, "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge." His attitude, like that of Christ on the cross, was one of pity, love, and forgiveness. With unshaken courage, sweet composure, genuine faith, real concern, and fervent love Stephen died in the very prime of his usefulness. After living beautifully, he died bravely.

One of the spectators who seemed to be pleased very much with the pitiless fury of the mob was Saul of Tarsus. He guarded the cloaks of those who assaulted Stephen. By his presence, silence, and willingness to guard the garments of the murderers, Saul gave his hearty approval to Stephen's martyrdom. This scene, so like unto the crucifixion of Christ, was implanted indelibly upon Saul's mind. Stephen's demonstration of how a Christian can die for Christ made a lasting impression on Saul. His voice in prayer never ceased to echo in Saul's ears. Of this incident Augustine said, "If Stephen had not prayed, the church would not have had Paul." Stephen was a radiant Christian and the first of Christ's followers to suffer martyrdom. Truly, he gave his very best for Christ.

America's Obligation

The words addressed to a Veterans of Foreign Wars banquet recently by President Nixon are typical of those heard at meetings of present and former military men.

And Mr. Nixon himself has restated frequently the need to keep the United States militarily strong.

Reaffirmation of the American determination not to "become the second strongest nation in the world" is essential to offset understandable sentiment to give priority to our acknowledged domestic problems, a disenchantment among a significant slice of the population with armed might and the perennial assault on the defense budget as the root of all fiscal woes.

As the President emphasized, this nation is obligated to serve as peacemaker in a world where it is the only democracy strong enough and respected enough to fill the role. Unfolding developments in the Middle East are dramatic confirmation of the U.S. leadership position.

It is inevitable that pleas for military preparedness and patriotism and acceptance of global responsibility should be vulnerable to charges of banality.

But the exhortations of Mr. Nixon and other concerned leaders must be repeated and supported if the United States is to fulfill its obligation to mankind.

America cannot duck its moral duty.

AP News Analysis

Key Nixon Answers Are Not Changing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any political campaign has its set piece. The speech a candidate delivers day after day to stress his major themes. President Nixon's campaign to rebuild public confidence and block impeachment is no exception.

Nixon's forum has been the nationally broadcast and televised question-and-answer session. He has held four of them in less than a month. Two were White House news conferences, two on the road. He says there are likely to be more.

Whatever the questions put to the President, his two key answers have been the same:

—He will not resign, contending that to do so would destroy the presidency itself.

—He will not agree to turn over additional White House tape recordings and documents sought by House impeachment investigators, on grounds this would break the confidentiality essential to any president.

He has, at the same time, repeated his demands for a swift end to Watergate investigations, declaring anew that one year is enough, that dragging it out drags down America.

The words have changed somewhat; the tone became tougher at his session with the National Association of Broadcasters in Houston Tuesday night.

Nixon suggested, for example, that the House Judiciary Committee may be going beyond the limits of the Constitution in seeking additional White House documents.

"I am suggesting that the House follow the Constitution," he said. "If they do, I will."

Nixon did not answer directly the question of whether he would comply should the House committee issue a subpoena for specific items. But he implied that he would not, contending that the principle of presidential confidentiality applies to impeachment as to any other investigation.

That is an argument he used earlier in his unsuccessful effort to withhold White House tape recordings from the Watergate grand jury on grounds of executive privilege.

The tone and substance of the questions varied, from those of business executives in Chicago to those put by newsmen in Houston and Washington. But they produced the same information.

On resignation, and on the question of yielding up additional documents, Nixon said repeatedly that he was defending his office, guarding the prerogatives of the White House for those who will succeed him.

Nixon said in Houston that he had paid too little personal attention to the re-election campaign that spawned Watergate, and added "I don't intend to be in another campaign, needless to say."

But he is in one now. This time it is not for votes in an election; it is for public support in the struggle over the scandals.

IN CHICAGO, THEY'RE LAUGHING ABOUT...

A lawyer who was suffering from bulging eyes and an incessant ringing in his ears went to a doctor who recommended removal of his tonsils. The operation didn't help, so he consulted another medical man who suggested that he have his teeth pulled. The teeth were yanked, but his eyes still popped and his ears still rang. Finally, he visited a third specialist who told him bluntly, "I'm sorry...but you're suffering from a rare disease. At best, you've got six months to live." Since he had no relatives to leave his money to, he decided to use up every cent. He booked passage for a trip around the world, went to the best tailor and had 20 suits made and decided to even have his shirts made to order. "Okay," said the shirtmaker, "let's get your measurements. 34 sleeve, 16 collar—" "No, that's 15," said the lawyer. "Collar 16," repeated the shirtmaker as he double-checked the tape measure. "No, it can't be," the lawyer insisted. "I've always worn a 15 collar." "Look," the shirtmaker said, "if you keep on wearing a 15 collar your eyes will bulge and you'll have a terrible ringing in your ears."

Isn't It The Truth

by Carl Riblet Jr.

Our country now has not only to bear up under political corruption, impeachment, 55-cent gasoline and 10-cent chewing gum, but last week a waitress in Washington, the City of Lost Content on the banks of the polluted Potomac, drafted a petition to the federal government for permission to sue for recovery of her share of the taxes spent for the on-the-job education of Ron Ziegler.

ATTEND CHURCH

Somebody's Track

— was it yours? Did you know that your footprint identifies you almost as well as your fingerprint. The law uses it to trap the lawless. God uses it to show you where you were when you became conscience stricken. Your tracks tell on you... they give you away. You were where you should not have been and your tracks prove it. Your son was following your tracks when he got into serious trouble. Mr., you write either a good story or a bad one by the tracks you make. Why not resolve to walk toward the church next Sunday and the privilege to make tracks for God. Then why not turn your tracks into a testimonial for the Lord, to be read of men, by printing them on the way that leads to church every Sunday.

The Village Singers will perform for the grand opening of the Brass Lantern from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, March 24, at the restaurant in Aurora. Members of the singing group are Howard and Judy Copeland, Herb Chapman, Scottie Henson and Keith Watson (not pictured).

They have performed throughout the south on several military bases, college campuses and were under contract with the Kentucky Parks for three years.

The Village Singers have several credits to their performances: In 1969 they were first place winners in the Musical Festival USA; that same year they recorded an album "Just Us" which sold out; and are presently featured on an album available through the Kentucky Department of Parks entitled "Circle of Friends."

Howard and Judy Copeland, the husband-wife team of the group, began their career singing for church groups and civic functions. Their unique style comes from several years of singing together.

Howard Copeland is presently under contract in Nashville for his song writing talents. Jethro of Homer and Jethro fame, recently recorded one of his songs on the RCA Victor label.

Judy sways audiences with her renditions of such songs as "Snowbird" and "Help Me Make It Through the Night."

Herb Chapman has a unique voice quality, tremendous range and extraordinary feeling for a song. Chapman is also under contract in Nashville for song writing.

Scottie Henson began his music career in radio in the early '60's, and graduated to television in 1962 with the bluegrass band, "The Kentucky Travelers."

Henson recorded a national country hit, "Politicians Dog," in 1964, performed on nationally syndicated TV did studio work in Nashville with his banjo, and toured with the Grand Ole Opry, package show, in 1964-65. In 1966 he toured Greenland with a group as their banjo player.

Henson's comedy routine, where he portrays a toothless, slightly balmy, old gent by the name of "Uncle Jud Crowfield," is a featured highlight of the Village Singers personal appearances.

The Village Singers repertoire ranges from "down home" bluegrass through all the areas of folk and contemporary country. They are as much at home with "Foggy Mountain Breakdown" as they are "We've Only Just Begun."

Jerry Crutchfield, of the Nashville Music Corporation of America, said of the group's comedy skits, "...the funniest thing that I've ever seen in my life."

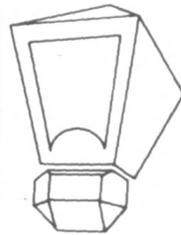

Harvey Conaway, the new business manager of the group said of the Village Singers, "This is a fine group, widely traveled, has good records, and is currently in demand as a show group."

Booking can be obtained by calling Conaway at 502-474-2792 or 502-753-9807.

Brass Lantern's 3rd Grand Opening

Sunday, March 24th

Noon Until 9

The grand opening of the Brass Lantern, billed as "Western Kentucky's most unique restaurant," will be held this Sunday, March 24, from noon until 9 p.m. at the restaurant located in Aurora. The Village Singers, an area folk group, will provide entertainment from 1 to 6 p.m.

The old four room frame homestead had seen much in its many years but never quite what it experienced in 1972 when Carol and Dick Thomas with the extraordinary assistance of Harvey Conaway began converting it into a modern restaurant.

Workmen swarmed over the venerable structure installing the latest equipment, facilities and conveniences, a modern efficient kitchen, air conditioning and even indoor plumbing.

Almost overnight, it seemed, the three new dining rooms and salad bar began to bustle with happy guests who had come to discover the delights of the Brass Lantern Restaurant.

They must have liked what they found because the original 76 seat capacity was soon found to be inadequate. Stage 2 was begun in 1973.

The seating capacity was now doubled by the addition of a spacious two-level dining area, a unique entry area and a balcony dining room overlooking the large fireplace. Once again, Harvey Conaway coordinated the expansion, supervising skilled craftsmen as they installed rustic rough cedar paneling, accented by red shag carpeting and unusual wagon wheel chandeliers. But by the end of 1973 it was time for further expansion again.

In 1974, the Thomases once again credited Conaway with coordinating the rustic, elegant engineering employing rough cedar and unusual techniques when the Garden Room was added for 1974.

The new dining room with its rough cedar beams, ancient cobblestone brick, antiques and personal mementos and many varieties of plants, created a whole new tri-level dining environment.

But the true appeal of the Brass Lantern is in the kitchen where Carol and Dick personally preside over the preparation and presentation of every Brass Lantern specialty. From the unique salad bar to the U.S. Choice beef loin, carefully trimmed, cut and charbroiled to your liking, to the satisfying grasshopper pie and desserts.

The Brass Lantern was created to be an unforgettable dining experience.

Grid Practice Comes To End With Blue-Gold Game

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

It might have been called a spring football game but to the small congregation in Stewart Stadium Thursday night, the annual event at Murray State seemed more like an ice hockey contest.

The 31-degree weather began to show its effect on the artificial turf early in the game as white streaks began to appear on the wet surface.

By the end of the game, it seemed as if a light snow were covering the field.

With the playing of the Blue-Gold classic and a 27-0 win for the first-string Blue unit, spring football practice comes to an end at Murray State and preparations for Sept. 7, the day the Racers open the season at home against Cameron State of Oklahoma, will not begin again until August.

If there was anything at all springy about the game Thursday, it had to be the legs of a pair of runningbacks, one of course being Don Clayton, the All-American tailback who rushed for 1,403 yards last season as a junior for a new school record.

And the other was Robbin Stanfa, a 5-6½ backup tailback who while sopping wet (and maybe with clothes) tips the scales at 170 pounds.

Stanfa, a freshman from Carlyle, Ill., filled in for Clayton for much of the game and helped the Blue team amass over 300 yards on the ground, compared to just 31 for the White team.

Clayton carried the ball only eight times and gained 900 yards, the longest run being 27 yards. In the third period, Clayton scored on an 11-yard run.

Stanfa carried the ball 10 times and gained 101 yards, including a 25-yard touchdown run late in the second period.

It seemed, by the lack of momentum in the first period, the Blue-Gold game could end in a scoreless tie, although the odds on it actually happening would have been highly unlikely.

The deepest penetration in the 15-minute quarter was made by the Blue team, and that was only five yards across the midfield stripe.

On the first series of the second period, the Blue team finally started some momentum and it ended with 8:50 left in the half when veteran quarterback Tom Pandolfi tossed a 13-yard scoring pass to 6-4 sophomore tight end Martin Strouse.

Flip Martin, the former cheerleader at Murray State and now the best high jumper on the track team, boosted the extra point and the Blue team led 7-0.

With just 10 seconds remaining in the half, the second six-pointer scored when Stanfa went over from 25 yards on a cut to his right and down the sidelines.

The PAT by Martin gave the Blue squad a 14-0 halftime lead. The White team, which had failed to cross midfield in the first half, drove down to the Blue 23 at the outset of the third period but the series ended when quarterback Mike Hobbie fumbled and the ball was recovered by junior tackle Jay Waddle.

Three plays after the fumble recovery, Pandolfi swept right and only a speedy Dwayne Jenkins kept the starting quarterback from scoring as Pandolfi was finally brought down on the White 32 for a gain of 49 yards.

Three plays after Pandolfi's run, Clayton went off to his right and scampered untouched into the end zone and the Blue team added the PTA with the help of Martin's toe to take a 21-0 lead.

The final touchdown scored early in the last quarter when Mark Hickman pounced on a loose ball and tossed it to 6-0, 148-pound freshman Bruce Walker who carried the ball for 55 yards and the touchdown.

The two-point conversion pass failed and the Blue team's 27-0 win was posted.

Pandolfi, who started as quarterback last year, hit just four of 16 passes for 38 yards. Second-string quarterback Mike Hobbie threw 21 times and connected eight times for 81 yards for the White team.

The defensive statistics found Jenkins of the White team the leading tackler with six unassisted tackles while freshman linebacker Harold Webb had four.

For the Blue team, Waddle had four unassisted and five assists while junior Lester Stinnett had four unassisted tackles.

"The cold weather and the wet field undoubtedly limited our performance some," Racer

Coach Bill Furgerson said.

"Another thing is last week in practice we moved 10 people around and switched them into new positions.

Furgerson said his team is confident and is expecting to be in the running for the Ohio Valley Conference title.

Last season, Murray State was 7-3 overall and second in the league.

Timeout With Brandon

Will spring break spring a break in the weather?
Coach Johnny Reagan of the Murray State Thoroughbreds hopes so.

Not only will Murray State have a full schedule of games next week, but so will several other college teams.

On the original schedule, Northwestern was supposed to be in Murray this week.

But the Northwestern coach called Reagan a few months ago and said he couldn't make the trip South when it was scheduled because of a change in the school calendar.

So Reagan, wanting the chance to play every game, told the Northwestern coach to go ahead and come the following week.

The University of Illinois (Chicago), who was been in town all week, will play here until Tuesday of next week.

On Monday, North Dakota and Northwestern will move in. Later in the week, Providence will be in town.

With all the teams in town, it simply means all the games can't be played at Reagan Field.

So, in order for the northern teams to get to play next week, the Pony League at the Murray City Park will be utilized.

Also on the schedule for next week during break will be a triangular track meet at home Monday with Lincoln and Western Illinois.

The meet will begin at 2 p.m. in Stewart Stadium.

Warrior Hopes Damaged As Braves Win

By The Associated Press
The Golden State Warriors have an excuse; they're tired.

"Everyone's tired when they're losing," Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay said with a marked lack of sympathy Thursday night after his Braves' 115-102 victory — which seriously damaged the Warriors' chances of reaching the National Basketball Association playoffs.

"The schedule has gotten to us. You could see that. They just 'outquicked' us," losing Coach Al Attles said after the only NBA game of the night.

In the American Basketball Association, Kentucky defeated Memphis 121-103 and San Antonio beat Virginia 95-81.

Attles' team, seemingly in command of the Pacific Division race four days ago, has dropped three straight decisions to fall 1½ games behind Los Angeles. The schedule has assigned the Warriors 14 games so far this month, including six in the last eight nights.

The Lakers can clinch the Exhibition Game

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — The Denver Broncos and New England Patriots of the National Football League will clash in an exhibition game here this summer, Spokane Professional Sports said Thursday.

A spokesman said the Aug. 31 game would be an Expo '74 World's Fair attraction. The promoters also organized a 1971 game between the Broncos and the San Francisco 49ers which drew a near-capacity crowd of 35,000 at Albi Stadium, where this year's game will be played.

Spokane 95, Squires 81
James Silas scored 24 points and Swen Nater added 18 for San Antonio while George Irvine netted 18 for Virginia. The win lifted the Spurs into a tie with Indiana for second place in the West.

Number One And Two To Clash Once Again

By KEN ALYTA
AP Sports Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — When UCLA, now two victories away from its eighth straight national basketball championship, takes the Greensboro Coliseum court Saturday afternoon against North Carolina State, the Bruins will find they are playing the entire Atlantic Coast Conference.

There's a fierce pride among ACC followers in the basketball achievements of its members. When UCLA dropped two games in a weekend Oregon tour last month, N.C. State usurped the No. 1 national ranking the Bruins had regained in trimming Notre Dame.

State has held the No. 1 spot ever since and two other ACC teams remain in the top 10 nationally. Maryland, overtime loser to N.C. State in the ACC championship game at Greensboro two weeks ago, is No. 4 and North Carolina is No. 10.

This status symbol has caused ACC chests to swell in pride over what followers consider the toughest basketball conference in the land.

When UCLA and N.C. State meet at 3 p.m., EDT, two hours after Marquette and Kansas open Saturday's semifinals, ACC fans in the sellout crowd of 15,761 will forget their season-long differences and join in vocal support of Coach Norman Sloan's team against what they regard as the common enemy.

When N.C. State concluded its season with a 27-0 record last March, the Wolfpack was unable to compete for the NCAA crown due to a one-year probation for recruiting violations.

Again the 'Pack has stormed through to an unprecedented second straight unbeaten conference campaign. The national title is two victories away, but the immediate obstacle is UCLA, the only team to beat State in 56 games over two seasons. That was in December in S. Louis, when UCLA, trailing by one point at the half, buried the Wolfpack in the second half and won easily 84-66.

Three-time All-American Bill Walton, who sat out 21 minutes of that game because of foul trouble, came back with 10 minutes left to spark the Bruins to victory. Since then the Wolfpack has won 26 in a row and is 28-1 over-all. UCLA, ranked No. 2, has won its last seven and is 25-3.

UCLA carries a string of 38 straight NCAA tournament victories into the game. Marquette, ranked third, is 25-4, while sixth-ranked Kansas is 23-5.

Both games will be televised nationally by NBC, as will Monday night's championship game at 9 p.m.

Vida Blue Picking Up Where He Quit In '71

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer
Vida Blue, an American League Cy Young Award winner who has been trying since 1971 to prove it wasn't a fluke, is picking up where he left off last year in search of his rookie form.

Blue went to the mound in the sixth inning and retired 12 straight batters to lead the world champion Oakland A's to a 7-4 exhibition baseball victory over Milwaukee Thursday.

Blue, who had an off season in 1972 after a long hold out over his contract, fanned three batters in his last four innings on the hill. Tim Hosley and Bill North gave the A's the runs they needed with a two-run homer each.

In other exhibition games, Pittsburgh split its squad to take a 7-4 victory over the New York Yankees and drop a 10-9 decision to Kansas City, Houston edged Atlanta 6-5 in 12 innings, Boston got by Montreal 7-6 in 10 innings, St. Louis shut out Detroit 2-0, Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati 5-3, Minnesota eked out a 7-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox, San Francisco blanked Cleveland 5-0, the Chicago Cubs beat San Diego 9-8, and Los Angeles defeated Baltimore 3-2.

Dave Parker, an outfielder who's playing first base for the injured Bob Robertson, hit two solo home runs and a triple to pace the Pirates by the Yankees. Ken Brett, who gave up one run in the second and three in the third, was credited with the victory for seven innings on the mound.

er cliff hanger. Craig Caskey's wild pitch in the 10th inning allowed Dick McAuliffe to score from third, lifting the Red Sox over Montreal.

Mike Garman threw five innings, allowing only one hit, and three Cardinal pitchers combined to shut out Detroit on just four hits.

Mike Anderson accounted for three of Philadelphia's runs with a homer in the fourth inning.

Minnesota got a clutch homer from Tony Oliva in the seventh inning, breaking open a tie game, and then held on to beat the White Sox.

Tom Bradley and Jim Willoughby allowed seven hits between them for the shutout and Cleveland gave up the two winning runs — both unearned — in the second inning on an error by Dwan Anderson.

John Grubb and Willie McCovey both committed eighth-inning errors that led to four Chicago runs, and Jose Cardenal hit a three-run homer to give the Cubs their close decision.

Jerry Royster smacked a two-run double in the ninth inning that lifted the Dodgers from a 2-1 deficit for the victory.

Norton Is Not Awed By Strength Of Foreman

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Ken Norton is well aware of the strength of heavyweight champion George Foreman, but he's not awed.

"I respect his strength," Norton said Thursday after finishing serious training for his title bid against Foreman Tuesday night. "But I'm no 98-pound weakling myself.

"Strength is his game," added Norton. "He doesn't try to outthink an opponent. He tries to run over him."

The challenger said he felt that he and trainer Bill Slayton have mapped a strategy to combat the savage punching power of Foreman. Norton also said he has the answer to Foreman's tactic of pushing an opponent with both hands.

"If I get pushed down," said Norton, "I'll tell him. 'You do that again and I'll hit you in the cup (a foul blow).' One good turn deserves another." "I'm very high for this one," said Norton. "This is for all the marbles."

"He's no friend of mine—he's trying to take the title away," said Foreman, who has virtually ignored Norton any time the two have been together in public.

"He's trying to get that Sonny Liston look," said Norton of Foreman's dead-pan stare. "I think it's very childish. I guess he's trying to psych me in his way. But he isn't. Remember, I fought the champion psycher, Muhammad Ali."

Norton had worked out the previous two days in private at the gym of a military school. Foreman had not trained on three of the four previous days.

It was not certain how the champion planned to spend the remaining days before his second title defense.

Boston And Utah Win In Quarterfinal Round

By ANDY LIPPMAN
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Freshman Paul Berwanger was the last person that Boston College's Jere Nolan wanted to pass to with the final seconds ticking off on the Madison Square Garden clock and the Eagles one point behind.

But there was no time to be choosy and Berwanger came through, scoring with two seconds remaining to give Boston College a 76-75 victory over Connecticut Thursday night and a semifinal berth in the National Invitation Tournament.

Boston College will play Utah, which downed Memphis State 92-78. "I have nothing against Paul," said Nolan after the game, "but he's just not the guy you want to take a shot like that. Even in practice, I don't pass to him unless he's right under the basket.

"But I saw that he had a small guy guarding him and I knew he'd be able to get off the shot."

The Eagles had to come back from a 17-point deficit, the result of a 25 per cent shooting performance from the field in the first half.

The Boston College offense in the first half was mostly at the free throw line. Only Bob Carrington, who scored four of the Eagles eight field goals, provided much offensive punch.

But in the second half, Carrington was joined by Mark Raterink and the Eagles, helped by Connecticut's sudden chill at the foul line, came roaring back to tie the game with three minutes remaining on a basket by Will Morrison.

A basket by Jim Foster with 12 seconds remaining put Connecticut ahead 75-74 and set the stage for the game-winner by Berwanger, a nephew of the first winner of the Heisman College Football Trophy, Jay Berwanger.

Utah Coach Bill Foster almost ran into the same problem against Memphis State. Up 17 points in the first half and 10 at halftime, the Utes saw their lead dwindle and then disappear when they ran up against a zone defense which shut off Mike Sojournier, who had scored 16 points in the and grabbed 10 rebounds in the first half.

"The zone slowed us down," said Utah Coach Bill Foster. "We're a club that likes to run the whole game."

"Actually we didn't see that much of the zone this season." Utah star Ticky Burden finished with 29 points while Tyrone Medley had 26 and Sojournier finished with 19.

Memphis State, which caught the Utes at 65-65 before falling back, was led by Bill Cook who finished with 23 points and Dexter Reed who had 22.

Major League Preview

Pitching Will Be Key For White Sox season

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — If the pitching comes even close to the power, the Chicago White Sox may make a run — all the way — at the world champion Oakland A's this season.

But with spring training on the wane, Manager Chuck Tanner's mound staff is not exactly knocking anybody dead and the club reportedly was eyeing Sparky Lyle, discontented New York Yankee relief ace.

Beyond starters Wilbur Wood, Stan Bahnsen and Jim Kaat and the good bullpen duo of Terry Forster and Cy Acosta, Tanner is scratching to round out his planned nine-man pitching staff.

The regular White Sox line-up should be as formidable as Tanner enthusiastically claims with ex-Chicago Cub star Ron Santo joining such power men as Dick Allen, Bill Melton, Carlos May and Ken Henderson.

The Sox led the American League's West Division last season for 51 straight days until calamity struck in June with Allen suffering a leg fracture and Henderson a wrenched knee requiring surgery.

About the same time, Wood nose-dived after a 13-3 start to finish 24-20 and the Sox finally wobbled home fifth, 17 games behind the West champion A's.

Santo, tabbed primarily as a designated hitter, has worked out at first base as well as third base and obviously will be a high-priced backup man at both positions.

Tanner announced his starting line-up in January and there has been no change — yet.

It includes: Pat Kelly rf; Henderson cf; Allen lf; Melton 3b; Santo dh; May rf; Jorge Orta 2b; Ed Herrmann c, and Bucky Dent ss.

However, the extremely promising Dent, 22, this week was mentioned as trade bait for the Yankees' Lyle.

Dent got in 40 games last season as Tanner experimented with youth late in the campaign and was impressive as he batted .248 and, in one stretch, handled 101 consecutive chances at short without an error.

This spring, he got the call ahead of veteran Eddie Leon but Tanner conceded the Sox still would have a pennant chance with Leon or Luis Alvarado handling short.

The big man in the Sox lineup, obviously, is Allen, who has been setting his own spring pace with Tanner's blessing.

Allen, the AL's Most Valuable Player in 1972, was batting .310 with 16 home runs and 41 runs batted in when he was hurt last June 29 in a first-base collision.

Tanner's No. 2 starter, Bahnsen, finished 18-21 last season. Kaat, the winningest active, left-handed AL pitcher, was purchased from the Minnesota Twins last August and wound up with a composite 15-13 mark.

Battling for the remaining four pitching berths, beyond Forster and Acosta, are Bill Morano draftee from the Red Sox organization; Jim Geddes, Rich Gossage; Bart Johnson and Bill McGlothlin.

A relief pitcher of Lyle's caliber, however, would enable Tanner to tab Forster his No. 4 starter, a spot of growing Sox concern. Lyle, who won five games and saved 27 for the Yankees last season, has reported to the New York camp without a contract.

Ryan . . .

Mr. Garrison, who has a B.S. in Dairy Science from Mississippi State University, is extremely interested in all facets of dairy production. He once tested an aseptically packaged product that was a year old just to see what its condition was. The product was still good, but it had developed an oxidized flavor.

After using the standard steam-injection method for sterilization, Ryan Milk packages its products in a pressurized fill-room with a constant temperature of 80 degrees and electrostatically filtered air.

Ryan Milk sells to more than 162 dairies in 18 states, guaranteeing each dairy a 45-day shelf life from date of delivery. One customer reports that it was experiencing a 55 percent return rate on whipping cream prior to Ryan Milk supplying the product in aseptic containers. Now the return rate is less than one per cent.

Using 12 refrigerated trailer trucks on a two-a-week driver schedule, one long and one short run, Ryan Milk is able to deliver the product to such customers as Barber Pure Milk Co. in Birmingham, Alabama; Brown's Velvet in New Orleans, Louisiana; Irvindale Dairies in Atlanta, Georgia and Pevely Dairy in St. Louis, Missouri. They deliver to cities as far away as Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Every dairy served receives at least one delivery per week. According to Mr. Jack Andersen, Manager, General Dairy Division, "Except for whipping cream, we could ship all our aseptic items at ambient temperatures. But, most of our customers purchase products that require refrigeration, such as sour cream and cottage cheese. It would be impossible, or at least impractical, for us to ship split loads—so everything goes refrigerated. We ship palletized, corrugated boxes of product to eliminate the need to handle and re-haul the cases."

Ryan Milk Company, which employs 100 people, packages the bulk of its aseptic products in foil-lined Pur-Pak cartons, pint-size 60 per cent, half-pints 35 per cent, and quarts 5 per cent. Of this production, Mr. Garrison reports that 95 per cent is sold through retail outlets and the remaining 5 per cent sold through institutions and military facilities such as Fort Knox and Wright Patterson Air Force Base.

When asked about the possibility of aseptic fluid milk being delivered to homes and supermarkets, Mr. Garrison remarked, "Right now there seems to be little demand for aseptically packaged fluid milk. At present we are working very hard to service our customers as a specialty supplier to other dairies. But, I'll guarantee you one thing, if the demand develops, or if we determine it is an efficient way to package fluid milk, Ryan Milk Company will market it first."

Senate Removes Amendment On Abortion Bill Before Approval

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The Senate concurred with the House Thursday and removed an amendment from the abortion bill approved by both chambers.

The measure is now before the governor.

It would allow a woman to have an abortion in the first three months of pregnancy after consultation with a physician.

After the first trimester a woman would have to have the consent of her husband or, if unmarried and under 18, the consent of either parent or legal guardian.

The Senate amendment would have required a woman to obtain the written consent of her husband in the first three months as well.

Kentucky has been without a law governing the performance of abortions since a Supreme Court decision of a year ago invalidated it.

Sen. John Lackey, D-Richmond, a member of the four-man subcommittee that drafted the bill, said it is "the most restrictive bill that we thought we could get away with under the Constitution."

He said the amendment approved by the Senate would have been "a nail in the coffin" of the bill.

Also on its way to the governor after concurrence of the Senate with a minor amendment is a bill exempting ambulance service from Kentucky Need and Licensure Board regulations. Supporters of the bill say it would allow local governments to maintain ambulance service, while the regulations would have made it too expensive.

The Senate also unanimously concurred with a House amendment to a Senate bill that will allow a portion of the severance tax to be returned to coal counties in proportion to the amount of severance tax collected there.

"This will make a great wrong right," said Sen. Walter Strong D Beattyville. "It is long overdue."

Sen. John Berry, D-New Castle, said the amendment is "fiscally responsible and well planned, and maybe one of the best moves of the session."

The Senate also concurred with minor amendments to a mechanics lien bill, which protects homeowners from paying twice for services contracted.

The Senate concurred in an amendment striking part of the Green River from the Wild Rivers system. The bill as sent to the governor includes only a part of the Cumberland River and Rock Creek.

The Senate refused to recede from an amendment it adopted earlier this week that would require consumer education in public schools. A conference committee was named to work out the problems.

Amid lively speculation on the political future of Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll, the Senate concurred in an amendment to a bill that would remove the lieutenant governor from the Legislative Research Commission.

The amendment merely strikes a provision of the bill requiring the Speaker of the House and the assistant Senate

12-Year-Old Parks Commissioner Not Bored at Her First Meeting

SAN ANSELMO, Calif. (AP)—In her first meeting as a parks and recreation commissioner, Atha Mathieu voted against poison oak removal, won a fight for a bigger community building and didn't get a bit bored.

The last item wouldn't be news, except that opponents of her appointment had predicted Miss Mathieu would lose interest, become distracted and fidget during the commission's lengthy budget sessions.

Atha is 12.

"I'm not bored," she declared Wednesday night during a recess in the meeting. Under review was a proposed $252,688 budget for the coming fiscal year.

And she managed to stay wide awake until the meeting adjourned at 11:15 p.m., well after her normal 8:30 p.m. bedtime.

Atha, a seventh grader, was appointed to the unpaid seat by the city council on a 3-2 vote March 12. She had written the council saying that "parks are for children and we need representation."

A middle-aged housewife with four children and two grandchildren was her only rival for the seat. It became vacant when one of the seven commissioners resigned.

The commission is an advisory body to the council in this moderate-income city of 12,000 persons about 20 miles north of San Francisco. Atha lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mathieu, and her brother David, 10.

In her letter, Atha said she opposed women's lib "because they put up such a fuss" but said she supported "children's liberation." She proposed putting suggestion boxes in all schools to solicit ideas about parks and recreation from her peers.

At Wednesday's meeting, Atha wound up on the losing side of a 5 to 2 vote in favor of spending $380 to hire a man to tear poison oak out of a picnic area.

"We should just put signs on it so people will know," she argued.

But she had more success in convincing fellow commissioners to urge the enlarging of a planned community building from 2,000 to 2,500 square feet. After extensive debate, the final vote was 7 to 0 in favor of expansion.

House . . .

claimed was vague and subject to numerous interpretations, was designed merely to assure that no child would be discriminated against because he lived "up the hollow or across the tracks."

Rep. Bobby Richardson, D-Glasgow, urged that the House stick by its amendment to delete damages for embarrassment and humiliation stemming from housing discrimination. He said such damages would be hard to assess because embarrassment is a "very subjective thing."

Rep. Nicholas Kafoglis, D-Bowling Green, opposed the amendment, contending damages are "one of the few effective keys" to enforce antidiscrimination laws.

The House voted 47-28 to drop the amendments, then passed the bill 69-2.

The House refused to concur in a Senate amendment to a House bill providing for a six-month probationary period for civil service employees or employees of cities of the second through fifth class. The Senate amended the bill to make the probationary period one year. The bill was sent back to the Senate with a request that the amendment be dropped.

The House voted to concur with a Senate amendment to a state minimum wage law. The amendment exempted hotels and motels from the requirement that employees be paid time and a half for work over 40 hours a week.

The House also went along with a Senate amendment to an election finance bill requiring that proceeds from a testimonial dinner be reported if they exceed $1500. The original version put the cut-off for public reporting of proceeds at $500.

Homestead Amendment Is Passed

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The General Assembly's second proposed constitutional amendment, expanding the homestead exemption for property tax purposes, won final approval Thursday.

The proposal, which will appear on the ballot in November, 1975, would allow persons over 65 to get a $6,500 exemption for their condominiums. The exemption now applies only to homes.

The governor cannot veto a constitutional amendment proposal so final action was taken on the matter Thursday when the House concurred in a Senate amendment to its proposal.

The amendment deleted a provision extending the exemption to an apartment occupied by a 65-year-old who owned the building.

The House and Senate traditionally each have one amendment to propose to the voters. Only two are allowed every two years.

The Senate's proposed amendment, already approved, would set up a four-level, unified court system in Kentucky headed by a supreme court. An intermediate court of appeals would be established between that body and circuit courts.

Valentine . . .

Wells Lovett and Buist Scott were trainbearers for the May Day queen, Anna Diltz Holton, and Esther Elam was the maid of honor. "Little Miss Ann" McClain and Barbara Duiguid were flower girls.

A complete scrapbook of the activities of The Kentucky Stompers also is included. Valentine, who booked all the band's appearances and handled all of its financial transactions, kept minutely detailed records.

The scrapbook not only catalogs each engagement played, but also lists the names of the band members participating, how much money was made, and details of interesting incidents which took place during the engagement.

Valentine, who has seen all 37 productions of "Campus Lights" and appeared in the second one, also had in his collection a scrapbook containing a printed program of every music or drama event taking place on the Murray campus during the period 1925-39.

One of the first two pledges initiated into the Phi Mu Alpha music fraternity, Valentine began his music career in 1924 by playing violin at the old Woodruff Theatre in Murray in the days of silent films.

"Mary Farmer played the piano, and Erby Wyatt played the saxophone," he recalls, adding:

"In a few weeks, Margaret Schroeder, Connie Magness and Fulton Farmer, playing clarinet, banjo and drums, respectively, joined us, and we called ourselves 'The Happy Six.'"

"We presented programs at the Mason Memorial Hospital, the Methodist Church, in the courthouse yard for the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Church, at the Bon Ton Cafe for Rotary Clubs meetings, as well as at the picture show."

Later in the year, Valentine continued, saxophonist Yewell Harrison and trumpet player Robert Williams joined the group, and their band name was changed to the "Murray Melody Makers."

It was this group which was playing together when the first Murray High School orchestra was organized in the fall of 1924, and later formed the nucleus for Murray State's first band, which made its debut at the Wells Hall dedication a year later.

Eddyville Aide Fired For Refusing Medication

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A medical aide at the Kentucky State Prison who refused to dispense medications to inmates because he said he knew nothing about drugs was fired Monday because of that refusal.

Milton Stanley, employed since last June at the prison near here, was sent home after he told his superiors he wouldn't run the "pill line" any longer.

Stanley was hired to supervise the prison hospital's laboratory and X-ray department. He said Thursday he refused the order to dispense medicines "because I'm not a pharmacist and I know absolutely nothing about that kind of work."

He said his action came partly as a result of a long story in last Sunday's Louisville Courier-Journal and Times, which said penitentiary records fail to account for thousands of dosages of addicting drugs.

The story, based on a six-month investigation, also cited evidence that security precautions aimed at controlling purchase and dispensation of such drugs have been grossly inefficient.

Prison Supt. Henry Cowan said Thursday, "The man fired himself. I didn't know anything at all about it until his supervisor came and told me. I asked the supervisor to bring (Stanley) to my office and he (Stanley) kept right on going out of the prison."

Stanley said he was advised Tuesday that he was suspended without pay for the period of March 19-April 1, and that after the suspension his "dismissal" would be effective, pending notice from Frankfort.

He said a note, signed by Cowan, advised him of his right to appeal the firing. Stanley said he asked to see the superintendent but was refused.

The aide claimed he has been required to dispense drugs at the penitentiary on occasion "because of our problems in getting sufficient outside employees to run the place."

Corrections Department officials say a pharmacist near the prison, Scott Wicker, was recently hired to work "two or three hours a day." Wicker said he is paid $600 a month for his prison work.

Stanley said Wicker had visited the prison only "a couple or three times, for a half-hour to an hour," since his hiring, "as far as I know." Wicker said he has spent far more time at the prison than called for by his contract, and noted he was on vacation between March 10 and 15.

Stanley said he believes he deserved to be fired, because he did refuse an order. He said he would appeal the case, however, "to see if we can't get something done" about the shortage of medical personnel at the prison hospital and pharmacy.

Bicentennial Group To Sponsor Oratorical And Literary Contests

Three statewide contests are being staged in Paducah in conjunction with the Bicentennial Celebration with the Paducah-McCracken County Bicentennial Commission in charge. Winners will be named at the Jackson Purchase festival in July.

The Cobb Award Competition, the Alben Barkley Oratorical Contest, and the Jackson Purchase Bicentennial Poetry Contest are being planned and entries will be accepted beginning next month.

The Cobb Award will be given in memorial of the late Paducah humorist and author, Irvin S. Cobb. It will be patterned after the O. Henry Award, which Cobb won, and will perpetuate the short story form of literature.

A $500 prize and a bicentennial medalion will be awarded to the winner. Finals will be staged July 5 in the garden of the Paducah Public Library with judges to be announced at a later date.

Buff Cobb, granddaughter of the late Mr. Cobb, has been invited to present the prizes. A 1,500-word limit has been set, according to Dan Kreutzer, local program coordinator of the Bicentennial Commission.

Entries should be mailed to Sutherland, director, Cobb Award Competition, in care of Paducah Area Public Library, Paducah, Ky.

The Kentucky Department of Libraries is co-sponsoring the competition.

The Barkley Oratorical Contest is a memorial to the late "Veep" from Paducah, who was known for his "fiery oratory." It is open to young Kentuckians (high school age and over).

The entrant must compose an original seven-minute speech, memorize it and deliver it before a panel of judges on the day of the competition, tentatively set for July 4. A $500 cash award will go to the winner along with a medalion.

Mrs. Margaret Truman Daniel, daughter of the late President Truman, has been invited to serve as one of the contest judges. David Barkley, son of the late vice president, will present the awards.

poet and representative of the Jackson Purchase Poets Club; Mrs. Linda Reeder, Lone Oak, president of the Kentucky State Poetry Society; Mrs. W. H. Beaman, local coordinator, and Miss Vicki Russell, chairman of the contest, both of Paducah.

The Purchase Poets Club, which meets in Murray, will co-sponsor the event with the Paducah-McCracken County Bicentennial Commission. Tom Perkins, club president, will present the awards.

Entries should be mailed to Vicki Russell, 141 Glenn St., Paducah, Ky., typed and double spaced on standard sized typing paper. Title of poem, name, address, phone number of entrant and school attending (if student) should be sent with the entry fee, with checks payable to the local commission.

The tentative deadline will be in May.

Judges for the competition will be Dr. L. J. Horton of Murray State University and the Jackson Purchase Historical Society. Mrs. Eve Alderduck, Mayfield, published

WAC pose launched Jane Greer's film career

By NANCY ANDERSON
Copley News Service

HOLLYWOOD — World War II was raging and our country needed not just its sons but its daughters.

So the Women's Army Corps was established and a search was launched for an all-American girl to pose for recruiting purposes, wearing the new WAC uniform.

"My mother was working for the War Department," Jane Greer remembers, "directly across the hall from the public relations office. She heard that they needed a girl and, since I was 17 years old and just beginning my career as a model, she suggested me."

From a field of candidates, three finalists were chosen, Jane Greer among them.

"The three of us were on the steps of a building," she recalls, "and it began to rain. The other two girls had beautiful permanent waves, so their hair held up very well. But my hair was straight and, as it turned totally limp, I pinned it up in a little bun in the back."

"I think that was why I was chosen the official WAC model. They had a rule, you know, that hair should be two inches above the collar, and, because mine was pinned up, it conformed to regulations."

Jane made her screen debut in a Paramount newscast, introducing the new uniform to the world. Life magazine featured her in a layout, and Hollywood began to react.

As part of that reaction, she received a letter from Rudy Vallee who wrote that he'd thought she should come to the West Coast.

"My mother answered the letter," Jane says, "telling me that I was too young for anything like that."

Nevertheless, in time, Jane did go to the coast under contract to Howard Hughes who proposed to make her a star.

"I didn't meet Howard until I'd been in Hollywood for six months and then it was only because I was dating Rudy Vallee."

"One night at 11 o'clock I got a call saying Mr. Hughes wanted to see me. I was already in bed, but I got up and went to see him. He was all means nothing to Howard, so far as he was concerned, there was nothing strange about a summons at 11 p.m."

Hughes asked the nervous girl to join him in reading a scene from "The Awful Truth."

PBS Runs Unique Television Experiment

NEW YORK (AP) — The Public Broadcasting Service is running a unique television experiment that it could radically change the way PBS stations get national programs.

The agency is using a Canadian satellite to relay TV shows from Canada to selected PBS ground terminals. The stations, 18 in all, are in the Northeast and Midwest.

Patti Page still loves to sing

HOLLYWOOD — "The biggest mistake I ever made was not losing weight earlier," Miss Patti Page said, a svelte picture of fashion in a beige pantsuit. Miss Page fought off the avoirdupois several years ago but not fast enough, according to her recollections. "I gave up smoking," she continued, "and eleven weeks later my husband patted me on the back and asked, 'How are you going to get into your gowns?'" "I wish, in answer to your question, that I could tell you some magic way to lose weight, but I don't know one. I went on a diet, but I lost most of my weight going to a masseur."

Observing Patti today, slim, chic and lovely, it's hard to believe that she was ever overweight or that, during a much earlier period, she was a barefooted, Oklahoma cottonfield kid. Born Clara Ann Fowler of Claremore, she was next to the youngest of 11 children making up a family of a railroad foreman father and his wife who picked cotton to augment this insufficient income.

"I guess we were poor in money but not in love," Miss Page recalls. "But I do know that if you ever saw me in shoes you knew it was Sunday, because that was the only day I could wear mine." She began her show business career in Tulsa in a manner reminiscent of a Ruby Keeler movie. Young Clara Ann was working in the art department of a Tulsa radio station when the vocalist on a 15-minute show sponsored by the Page Milk Co. failed to report for work and in the best "the show must go on" tradition she stepped into the void. Immediately she was a singing star, on the local level at least. At about this same time, Jack Rikel, a musician and band manager, was in Tulsa
