TV Press Conferences Set With Nader, Udall

Stewart Udall and Ralph Nader, two of the speakers scheduled for the Murray State University Insight program tonight through Thursday, will be guests at press conferences to be broadcast live over MSU-TV, cable channel 11, and WKMS-FM radio.

Udall will appear with members of the press tonight at 7 p.m. prior to his participation on the Insight '74 program tonight and Nader will appear at the same time Wednesday evening.

The Insight lectures are scheduled for 8 p.m. each evening in Lovett Auditorium at MSU with the theme "An Insight into Domestic Affairs: Crisis in America."

Udall, a conservationist and former U.S. Secretary of the Interior, will lecture on "Crisis in Our Environment."

Nader, a well-known consumer advocate, will discuss "Crisis in Consumerism and the Economy" Wednesday evening. Thursday evening's speakers will be Washington newsmen Barry Sussman and Brit Hume. Their topic will be "Crisis in Confidence."

MSU students will be admitted to the lectures free of charge while tickets for non-students will be $2.50 in advance for the three programs or $1 at the door each evening.

Sorority To Solicit For Easter Seal Drive

Members of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority at Murray State University will begin soliciting contributions this week from Murray merchants for the Easter Seal campaign in Calloway County.

Max Brandon, special gifts chairman for the drive, said about 50 sorority members will be involved in the canvass to be completed before Easter Sunday, April 14. It marks the second year the sorority has worked in the special gifts drive.

Volunteers who contact merchants will be wearing some form of identification showing their connection with the drive, he added. The women will also distribute pamphlets explaining how Easter Seal dollars are spent.

"willingness and eagerness to become actively involved in an effort to help others is worthy of recognition."

Among the officers of the Alpha Sigma Alpha chapter at Murray State are Connie Lampkin, Hickory sophomore, president, and Linda Reeder, Henderson freshman, philanthropic chairman. Mrs. Polly Zanetta is the faculty adviser. Other officers are: Emily Greene, Mt. Sterling junior, vice-president; Kim Jessup, Greenville sophomore, secretary; and Suzanne Jones, Murray junior, treasurer.

The sorority is among several campus groups which have undertaken special projects in the Easter Seal drive this spring.

Dr. Lloyd P. Jacks is the Calloway County chairman for the Easter Seal campaign.

Council Holds Off On Lifting All Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council is leaving until last the lifting of wage and price controls from industries it considers to be the most inflation-prone in the economy, including food, steel and health.

However, the council lifted controls Monday from 165 other industries in its biggest action yet to decontrol the economy in advance of the April 30 deadline for ending most if not all controls.

Industries included in the latest decontrol action were banks and other financial institutions, the apparel industry, hotels, motion pictures and furniture and home furnishings.

Council director John T. Dunlop said these industries did not have serious inflation problems, but it nevertheless was likely there would be some price increases.

Dunlop said the industries remaining subject to controls were those where inflationary pressures were considered the worst. Besides food, steel and health, industries still subject to controls include copper, retail auto sales, machinery, construction and wages of state and local government employees, including school teachers.

However, unless Congress grants a last-minute reprieve to the administration's controls, all controls will end April 30. The administration has asked authority to continue controls in some specific areas, such as health and construction, but Congress so far has indicated it prefers to let the entire program die April 30.

There is some disagreement within the administration on how serious the price bulge might be in some areas when controls are lifted.

Top administration officials, including Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, and Chairman Herbert Stein of the Council of Economic Advisers have indicated they feel the ending of all controls would have little effect on most prices, although they give at least lukewarm support to the proposal for continuing selective controls.

Dunlop has publicly warned that health costs could rise sharply without some continuing controls, and council officials are known to be concerned that prices in steel, food and construction also could get out of hand.

Ford Vetoes Small Claims Court Measure; Property Tax Measure

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Wendell Ford has vetoed a bill that would have set up small claims courts in Kentucky and has been asked by a newspaper group to veto the open records bill.

The Kentucky Press Association said in a statement Monday it was asking Ford to veto the open records bill because it went further than intended and would even open up personal records.

The vetoes Ford issued Monday were the first since the General Assembly adjourned March 22; he vetoed one minor bill while the legislature still was in session. He has until midnight Wednesday to veto any bill passed during the final 10 days of the session.

Hubbard Slates News Conference Friday In Paducah

MAYFIELD, Ky. — State Sen. Carroll Hubbard of Mayfield will host a news conference at Paducah's Ramada Inn at 9 a.m. next Friday (April 5).

Hubbard will discuss the 1974 Kentucky General Assembly and his candidacy for First District U. S. Representative. Hubbard's remarks at the news conference will be presented later next Friday on WPSD-TV in Paducah from 7:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

His veto message on the small claims court said it would complicate the already complicated jurisdiction of Kentucky's inferior courts. He also questioned the need for the bill since Kentuckians will vote in November, 1975, on a constitutional amendment that would unify all courts into a four-level state system headed by a supreme court.

The bill was intended to allow disputes involving small claims to be settled more quickly, without the need for lawyers or a regular trial.

"House Bill 229 would grant to new small claims divisions in the quarterly courts jurisdiction up to $200," Ford said. "Magistrates have jurisdiction up to $500."

(The) county judge under existing legislation has ample authority to appoint trial commissioners for specific purposes and could establish a small claims division in quarterly court," he asserted.

Ford also vetoed a bill that would have allowed a county fiscal court to require citizens to prove they have paid their property tax on their cars before they could buy license plates for them. He said the bill was unconstitutional.

"The court of appeals, on several occasions, has struck down similar legislation," Ford said, "because the payment of property taxes prior to the registration of motor vehicles did not extend to all motor vehicles."

"Senate Bill 188 does not cure this defect," he said. "It covers the registration of vehicles required to be registered with the county clerk but does not cover the registration and the payment of property taxes by owners of motor vehicles required to be registered at the state level."

Also vetoed was a bill deleting the requirement for county and commonwealth's attorneys to represent the Workmen's Compensation Board when it so requested. Ford said the attorney general, whose service is needed in such cases, had to use those attorneys to help him. Still another bill vetoed would have eliminated the term "police judge" and made all such officers city judges instead. Ford said that was contrary to the constitution which provides for police judges in cities and towns.

The Kentucky Press Association (KPA) said its representatives who appeared before a legislative committee understood amendments would be offered to the open records bill to exclude those of a personal nature.

But those amendments were not on the bill as passed, KPA said in a statement signed by its president, W. E. Crutcher, Morehead; Immediate Past President James Crawford. (See Vetoes, Page 12)

One Killed, Many Injured As Tornadoes Sweep State

By The Associated Press — One person was killed and at least 18 or 19 others were injured Monday night, when a tornado cut a swath through Campbellsburg in North Central Kentucky, virtually leveling the one-block business district.

No major property damage was recorded in Calloway County however tornadoes were reported sighted near Midway and Brewers.

The dead man was tentatively identified as Decker Teague, in his 90s, who was killed when the storm destroyed his mobile home about one mile east of the town.

State Police at La Grange said most of the injured were treated and released.

The Henry County community is about 40 miles north of Louisville. It was the hardest hit of any area in Kentucky as a severe spring storm raked many portions of the state.

Malcolm James, chairman of the town's board of trustees, reported there were several persons unaccounted for.

"There's about 500 people in this town, and it's hard to say exactly how many will be homeless," James said. "We don't know how badly some of the homes are damaged, so some folks may be able to spend the night at home."

James said there were at least 12 or 15 homes badly damaged or destroyed.

Red Cross workers were setting up accommodations for about 200 people at the Campbellsburg Elementary School.

The buildings destroyed in the business district included two groceries, a fraternal meeting hall, a gasoline station, two hardware stores, a garage and a restaurant.

A bank in the center of the business district was heavily damaged but not leveled, as were most of the surrounding business structures.

National Guard units and 12 State Police units remained in the town, attempting to clear the rubble from the early evening tornado.

State Police said units would probably be on the scene for two days.

A dispatcher at LaGrange said the damage definitely resulted from a tornado.

"Just high winds don't tear the whole town down," he said. "It went right down the middle of town. It's almost flattened the town out."

The Carroll County Memorial Hospital at Carrollton, north of Campbellsburg, treated 12 persons and admitted three of them. One also was transferred to a Louisville hospital.

State Police said an undetermined number of persons also had been taken to hospitals at LaGrange and Shelbyville.

The person transferred to Louisville General Hospital was identified as Mary Ann Coombs, who suffered a head injury and a possible rib fracture.

Admitted to the Carrollton hospital were James Dills, 3, who suffered lacerations, Mrs. Violet Blackaby, possible rib fractures, and Daniel Robinson, 3, lacerations.

Elsewhere in Kentucky, State Police at Elizabethtown said two persons were injured when two trailers were destroyed by high winds in Meade County. Their identities and conditions were not available.

Tornado watches and warnings were issued for much of the state Monday night, but most were canceled during the night.

A watch remained in effect until early today for the portion of Kentucky east of a line from Scottsville to Covington.

Most of the heavy thunderstorm activity had abated by early today.

There were numerous reports of damage to mobile homes and other structures throughout the state. (See Tornadoes, Page 12)

Attempted Car Theft A Failure

An attempted theft of a truck was aborted by an alert Murray Monday night, and the vehicle was recovered unharmed.

Murray City Police said Dwain Taylor, Doran Road, gave chase to a would-be car thief who was trying to steal his 1974 Blazer truck. Taylor said the thief, a young woman clad in a housecoat and with rollers in her hair, abandoned the truck on Doran Road and fled through an adjacent field.

Mike Griffith, 901 Sunny Lane, reported the theft of a $150 car radio-tape player from his automobile while it was parked in front of his house.

Investigations are continuing into the incidents.

Huddleston Says Impoundment Is Delaying Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. Walter D. Huddleston has charged that highway construction in Kentucky is being delayed because of federal impoundments of as much as $50 million earmarked for road projects in the state.

Huddleston, in a letter to U.S. Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar, criticized the cabinet member for recently telling a House subcommittee that states had been forced to cut back on highway construction because their gasoline tax revenues had dropped during the energy crisis.

"That may be the case in some states, but it certainly is not true with regard to Kentucky," Huddleston said. "The holdup on needed highway construction in Kentucky is federal impoundments, not a lack of matching funds."

Huddleston, a Democrat, said the U.S. Department of Transportation has impounded or plans to impound $32 million in federal highway matching funds for 1974 and $21 million in 1975.

The projects affected by the impoundments included "rural secondary roads, urban roads, priority primary roads, forest highways, rail crossings, and several highway and safety projects," Huddleston said.

Harris Lashes Out At Two Louisville Papers

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The state's chief environmental official has charged that two Louisville newspapers want him removed from office because of his agency's action in stopping them from illegally dumping chemicals into a landfill.

Thomas Harris, secretary of the state Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, charged Monday that The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times "have disgraced the press profession by setting themselves above the law and by being less than candid with the people of Kentucky."

Harris, speaking at a news conference he called for the purpose of criticizing the papers, accused them of employing a double standard on environmental issues.

The newspapers have said in recent editorials that Harris should step down, charging he has not acted aggressively to stop pollution.

Barry Bingham Jr., editor and publisher of the newspapers, responding to Harris' charges, said the newspapers' criticism of Harris was unrelated to the dumping issue.

"We had editorials criticizing Harris long before the issue came up," Bingham said. Harris also accused the papers of failing to "fully inform the public of the situation" involving the illegal dumping.

Both newspapers had carried stories in February stating that the newspapers and Standard Gravure were among 30 customers of a liquid waste hauling firm that allegedly dumped waste into a landfill in Southwest Jefferson County.

The articles stated that the newspapers and Standard Gravure stopped doing business with the firm after Harris' agency notified them that discharging liquid chemicals into a landfill is illegal.

Bingham said Monday that the papers decided to immediately discontinue the dumping, even though the Department for Natural Resources gave the papers until April 15 to stop the practice.

Bingham said the newspapers and Standard Gravure have cooperated with Harris' department.

Meredith To Headline Black Awareness Week

James Meredith, who broke the segregation barrier at the University of Mississippi in 1962, will be the headline attraction during Black Awareness Week on the campus of Murray State University April 8-14.

Meredith, the first black man to enroll at and graduate from that university, will lecture at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 10, in the auditorium of Mason Hall (Nursing Building) on the campus. His topic will be "Black People: The Ultimate Freedom."

Sponsored by the Black Advisory Council, the week will include a variety of activities described by Michael Lowery of Madisonville, senior chairman of the event, as designed "to bring awareness to the campus of the black experience, what blacks have done in the past and what they are doing now."

Other activities during the

week include:

—Monday, April 8, an Open Forum at 7:30 p.m. at the United Campus Ministry. Black and white students will discuss different viewpoints of the black movement and its political, economic and social impact in the United States.

—Tuesday, April 9, a talent show and wrap contest at 8 p.m. in the Hart Hall recreation room. It will feature student talent.

—Thursday, April 11, two films beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the United Campus Ministry. Both "Prejudice" and "Black, White Up Tight" deal with racial situations typical of today. Discussion will follow the films.

—Friday, April 12, a show by black Greek organizations at 8 p.m. in the ballroom of the Waterfield Student Union Building. The show is designed to familiarize the campus with black fraternity and sorority life.

—Saturday, April 13, an open dance in the ballroom of the SUB beginning at 9 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 per person.

—Sunday, April 14, a Gospel Jubilee featuring church choirs from the area beginning at 2 p.m. in the University School auditorium.

In addition to the daily events during the week, exhibits reflecting black culture will be on display in different campus locations. No admission will be charged to any of the events except the dance.

Lowery expressed the hope that Black Awareness Week will lead to a better understanding about black culture and black history and dispel "the myths that are in some people's minds about blacks."

Walter Bumphus, adviser to minority students at Murray State, called Meredith "a dynamic man with plenty to say." He emphasized that everyone is invited to hear him and to attend all other activities during the week.

Mr. Fisher received both his B.S. and M.S. degrees in Communications from Murray State University. He is a member of Sigma Nu social fraternity. Mr. Fisher manages a Dreifus Jewelry store in Memphis, Tenn.

The couple met on campus where the wedding vows will be solemnized in the garden of Oakhurst, home of Murray State president on Saturday, June 29, at two p.m.

All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend both the wedding and the reception which will be held following the ceremony in the grand ballroom of the Student Union Building.

Secretaries Make Plans At Meet At Branch Bank

The Murray Chapter, National Secretaries Association (Int'l), met Monday, March 25, at the University Branch of the Bank of Murray.

Mrs. Anna Ruth Harris, president, called the meeting to order, and after a short business session, refreshments were served.

Committee chairmen for the 1974 Kentucky Division Meeting met with their members, and plans were discussed for this three-day meeting, which the Murray Chapter will host in May.

Plans for Secretaries' Week were also discussed. Mrs. Anita Thomas is chairman of this committee. Secretaries' Day is April 24.

Members present for the meeting were: Anita Thomas, Carol Sims, Helen Spann, Faye Wells, Joann Simmons, Betty Meadows, Doris Rowland, Virginia Strohecker, Annie Nance, Ann Thompson, Melva Hatcher, Joyce Haley, Shirley Scarbrough, Sandra Adams, Delma Trotter, Essie Bailey, Frances Shea, LaJennea Chapman, Becky Armstrong, and Anna Ruth Harris. Carolyn Leslie and Linda Carter were visitors.

James L. Pigg-Doing Supervised Teaching

SEARCY, Ark. —James L. Pigg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Pigg Jr., of Oak Harbor, Wash., formerly of Murray, is one of 142 Harding College seniors doing nine weeks of supervised teaching in Arkansas schools this semester.

As a part of teacher certification requirements, students planning to be teachers spend the time observing and assisting in the grades and subjects they aspire to teach. In addition to the practical experience, they are enrolled for nine hours of course work during the semester.

Ensemble From Music Department Gives Theta Program; Garage Sale Is Planned

A special musical program was presented by an ensemble from the Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club at the regular meeting of the Theta Department of the club held on Monday, March 18, at 7:30 p.m. at the club house.

Mrs. Robert E. Johnson, director, with Mrs. John Winter as pianist, along with Miss Rebecca Dublin, Mesdames Charles Moffett, Josiah Darnall, Richard Hutson, Harold Eversmeyer, Joe Sills, Dan Miller, and Carl Mowery presented program of songs on the theme of "Love."

The Theta chairman, Mrs. James Martin, presided and appointed Mrs. J. D. Outland, Mrs. Charles Hale, and Mrs. Cliff Campbell to serve on the nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the new club year.

The department voted to give $15 to the Murray-Calloway County Senior Citizens program.

Bonus points and S & H Green stamps will be collected through May toward the purchase of a kidney machine.

Mrs. Neil Brown discussed the birthday parties for the children in the Special Education class at Carter School.

Plans were made for a Garage sale to be held Saturday, April 6 from eight a.m. to two p.m. at the home of Beth Broach, North 16th Street.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Roy Starks, Mrs. Ben Trevathan, Mrs. Neil Brown, and Mrs. Ray Brownfield.

Ham and Swiss cheese sandwiches taste particularly good when they are French-toasted. To do so, dip the sandwiches in a combination of milk and egg and fry in butter or margarine until golden-brown on both sides.

Examine your feelings before helping couple

DEAR ABBY: Our son (he is 24) and his fiancée have been going steady since they were 16, and plan on being married when she finishes college [out of town] in June. They have been spending every weekend together for some time. [They each have an apartment.] I knew about this and have told them I disapproved, but since they are both over 21, I had no say in the matter.

Last weekend the girl's mother checked on them and discovered what had been going on. She said she would not give them the big church wedding that was planned as it would be hypocritical.

The girl is well off in her own right and plans to pay for a big church wedding herself. She has asked me to help her with the plans, and now I am in the middle.

They are a wonderful couple, and I love them both, but I don't want to irritate her mother by doing for this girl what her own mother has refused. Yet, I don't want to alienate my future daughter-in-law. Can you help me?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: How do you feel about being a party to a big church wedding for a couple who have been spending weekends together for some time? If you feel it would be hypocritical, then have no part in planning it. But if you feel differently about it, then go ahead and help. How the girl's mother feels about it shouldn't dictate your actions.

DEAR ABBY: As my eight-year-old son's birthday approached, I found myself in the dilemma of wanting to give him a birthday party, but being turned off by the idea that each child invited would feel compelled to buy a gift.

Now that we are beginning to realize that the resources on our planet are not inexhaustible, we must be more conservative, so I suddenly hit upon the idea of "recycling" gifts. I sent a note with each invitation saying: "Doesn't your child have something that he has enjoyed but has grown tired of and would like to pass along to a friend?"

It resulted in a beautiful sharing experience. My son appreciated the gifts all the more knowing they had been enjoyed by his friends. And his friends had the pleasure of giving something they had enjoyed. And nobody had to spend a dime!

If you think this is a good idea, please pass it on. D. B.

DEAR D. B.: It's a lovely idea! But it's hardly new. Adults have been quietly "recycling" gifts for years.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 65-year-old man and have been married to the same woman for 35 years. About ten years ago my good wife went through menopause, and during this period she gave me a very bad time. Since then I have been completely "turned off" sexually, especially since she now has grown a mustache.

She complains that I don't "love" her anymore. I love her in the real sense of the word because I care about her, but I do not "love" her enough to make love to her. In fact, I don't think I can! What do you suggest? OVER THE HILL

DEAR OVER: First, tell her to get rid of the mustache, and then make an honest effort to make love to her. Most men can, if they want to enough. Force yourself. You may like it.

Only out-of-town invitations are being sent and all friends are invited to attend the wedding and the reception which will be held at the home of the bride's parents at 303 Oakdale Drive, Murray.

Down the Garden Path

By MRS. W. P. WILLIAMS

I am just about ready to take back all the nice things I said about the month of March. — About it not staying cold very long, and more and more sunny days, and the promise of spring. Well all that is partially true, but March really blighted every promise of spring that showed itself.

Even the narcissus that will take most anything are drooping their heads. It almost made one want to cry, to see the flowering crabapples that were getting to be so beautiful, turning black after the freeze.

Azaleas were badly damaged and there is no way to estimate just how much until after a few days of warm sunshine. Surely this is winter's last fling but I am keeping my fingers crossed until after Easter. You know, the folks who had no fancy weather apparatus and had to rely on their experience, had a pretty accurate way of doing things. Never plant beans before Good Friday was one of their rules that we can follow safely.

When we see what damage has been done to our shrubs. It would be wise to cut off any part that has been killed. Whether it be roses, shrubs or trees. Remove any dead ends of branches. We have probably lost most of the blossoms but by careful attention to the plant, each one should put out new growth and be ready for another season.

Some things that had only tight buds may have come through alright. The icy rain and sleet that fell, was the worst thing that could happen to plants, especially young ones. After such a delightful warm spell, each plant seemed to be getting ready to put on its show for spring. But this is just one of the risks we take when we plant God's green earth. He sends the rain and the snow and if we plant unwisely, we suffer for it. It does little good to cover up plants when the temperature goes so low. Any covering, especially plastic, that touches the plant will kill every leaf it touches.

So let's just wait a few more weeks and we can plant and dig to our hearts content. Meanwhile we can repair what damage has been done to our plants and tend them carefully.

Janis Chilcutt is Honored at Bridal Breakfast Recently

A breakfast honoring Miss Janis Chilcutt, Paris, Tenn., bride-elect of Tony Middleton, whose wedding will be April 12, was held on Saturday morning March 23, at the Paris Landing Inn.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Ray Buckingham and Mrs. R. D. McDaniel, of Murray, great aunts of the bride-to-be.

The table was beautifully decorated with a basket arrangement of tulips, iris and daisies featuring the bride's chosen colors of blue and yellow. Each place was marked for the guests with miniature spring hats of blue and yellow.

The honoree, dressed in a yellow and white jumpsuit was presented with a corsage, complementing the table arrangement, of daisies and iris. The mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Loren Chilcutt and the mother of the groom-to-be, Mrs. Elmer Middleton were also presented with corsages of yellow daisies.

Miss Chilcutt was given a monogrammed silver serving tray by the hostesses.

Those attending, not previously mentioned, were Mesdames Ruby Forrester, grandmother of the bride-elect, W. L. Polly, Buddy Buckingham, Otis Thompson, Rudolph Thurman of Murray; and Mesdames Kenneth Russe, sister of the bride-elect, Prince Blackwood, Noble Williams, Thomas Yates, Henry McDaniel, Tom Lonardo, A. E. Craig, Dyer Ridgeway, Gerald Edgman and Miss Joyce Clendenin.

Let's End The Waste

Kentucky welfare officials have known since 1971 that millions of dollars of tax money has been wasted on the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) welfare program.

But there is no evidence that the bureaucrats running the error ridden system did anything to straighten out Kentucky's welfare mess.

They can't claim a statistical study in 1971 showing errors in better than a third of the AFDC cases was a fluke.

Studies a year later confirmed the welfare mess was real — and getting worse as the state continued to make erroneous payments to thousands of totally ineligible families and overpayments to thousands more.

By last October, the welfare system had gotten completely out of hand: 20,000 cases — nearly half of all the AFDC cases in the state — contained discrepancies costing an estimated $11 million a year.

To its credit, the new Dept. for Human Resources, which took over the welfare program last fall, ordered case-workers to review every case, an effort that resulted in cleaning out the most obvious errors.

Welfare officials hope other reforms will weed out still more cases. They're encouraged so far by a turnaround in the number of families receiving AFDC. For years, the caseload had been rising. Now it's going down.

State welfare officials are keeping their fingers crossed until the next study of AFDC errors is completed in about three months.

The outcome will determine again how many tax dollars are being wasted. But more importantly, it will fix the amount of federal welfare aid Kentucky will lose.

So far, the U.S. Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare has docked Kentucky more than $500,000 because of its administrative laxity and as an incentive to fix the welfare errors.

The amount withheld will go up unless Kentucky brings its error down.

If the state doesn't, it will be taxpayers and legitimate welfare recipients who will pay.

The tragedy is the cheaters, chislers, and incompetent welfare administrators and caseworkers are robbing the public and the truly needy.

Real efforts to cure Kentucky's sick welfare system are long overdue.

State Government Report

By Sen. Carroll Hubbard

Wednesday Is Final Day For Ford's Veto

MAYFIELD, Ky.—Wednesday of this week is the final day for Gov. Wendell H. Ford to consider legislation passed by the 1974 Kentucky General Assembly. The legislators sent 400 bills to the governor for his signature or veto and he can let bills become law without his signature.

The governor's office has been flooded with mail and telegrams urging him to sign or veto several of the controversial measures.

All legislation which is enacted by reason of the recent legislative session becomes effective in Kentucky 90 days following adjournment or June 21 unless the legislation had an emergency clause as a part of it. (Such as the 55 mile per hour speed limit already the law in Kentucky as of March 1).

It is anticipated that most of the bills will be acted upon this Wednesday, thus giving the governor and his legal staff the maximum time for consideration of the subject matter and the contents of the measures.

Kentuckians renewing their drivers licenses in April will be the first to receive permanent licenses under the state Division of Drivers Licenses' computerized renewal program. Drivers License Director R. E. Hodges has said that the first preprinted licenses are now being issued at circuit courts throughout the state. Under the computerized renewal program, a notice is mailed to each Kentucky drivers license holder in the month prior to the person's birth month. License holders present the notice to the circuit court clerk during their birth month and receive their permanent preprinted drivers license at that time.

The new system eliminates the temporary license which circuit courts have issued in the past. Hodges added that the new license will no longer have the holder's address. This was eliminated because the addresses listed were often incorrect because the holders often moved during the two years that the licenses were valid. Check cashing using the drivers license will not be affected, Hodges said, because cashiers are more interested in the license number than the address.

"Since every licensed driver in Kentucky will be affected by the new program, there may be some initial problems — but in the long run, this new system will be virtually foolproof and will be more convenient for the license holder," Hodges said.

Officials from the Kentucky Department for Human Resources have announced that a corrective action program is underway to insure against distribution errors in the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program. New requirements include personal interviews of all recipients, verification of circumstances affecting eligibility, more frequent review of error prone cases and informing recipients of what they must report to caseworkers.

A trend toward safer driving has reached Kentucky, according to statistics recently compiled by the state Bureau of Highways. Figures released by the bureau's Division of Planning show that the number of statewide traffic fatalities for December 1973 and the first two months of 1974 have decreased by 28 per cent compared to the same period a year ago — from 215 deaths last year to 155 deaths this year.

James W. Fehr, director of the Division of Planning, says "the months of December and January had the more pronounced decline with fatalities being off 36 per cent and 34 per cent of last year's totals. February showed a decline of seven per cent." Indications are that the slow-down in highway deaths can be attributed directly to the fuel crunch. State police officials report that motorists on Kentucky's highways are abiding by the lower speed limits and that traffic counters show a decrease in highway travelers.

"If the lower speed limit is responsible for this decline, then I think it is commendable for Kentucky motorists because speed reduction during those three months was voluntary," Fehr noted.

Bureau of Highways' traffic figures for the months of December 1973 and January 1974 show that statewide travel in Kentucky was down two per cent and nine per cent, respectively, from the same period last year.

The governor's office, the State Racing Commission and the Department of Public Information are at least three state agencies now preparing for the 100th running of the Kentucky Derby to be held at Louisville's Churchill Downs on May 4.

The residents of Fancy Farm are already preparing for the big annual Fancy Farm picnic to be held August 3. It is expected that the picnic will draw a host of candidates seeking votes for the Nov. 5 elections.

Those who read this column each week in the Ashland Daily Independent should know that State Sen. Nelson Allen, D-Russell, maintained not only a perfect attendance record during the recent legislative session but also cast a vote on each bill and resolution which the Senate considered.

The 100 members of the state House of Representatives usually discuss a bill or resolution longer than the 38 senators, and yet that's easy to understand. But, when it comes to voting, the House members press electronic buttons at their desks which light up at the front of the chamber and a tally is soon ready. In the Senate an assistant clerk reads the names of each senator on each roll call and the vote taking is much slower.

This legislator chooses Sen. William L. Sullivan, D-Henderson, and Rep. W. Terry McBrayer, D-Greenup, as the "most outstanding" legislators in the two chambers during the 1974 General Assembly. They are two hard-working, intelligent, personable and honest public officials.

Appreciation Expressed

Dear Editor:

We wish to thank you for the excellent news coverage you gave to the Library's Bicentennial Celebration.

The program's success depended on getting the story to the public and that most surely was done by your newspaper publicity.

The fact that you were interested enough to cooperate with us in this great manner makes us realize again how fortunate we are in having a newspaperman and staff of your caliber in our community.

Again, our appreciation to you all for helping make these bicentennial programs a tremendous success.

Sincerely,

Recommendation Puzzling

Dear Editor:

I do not understand the city planning commission recommending that the city consider installing pavement, curbs and gutters on the east end of Glendale Road just to get the right-of-way dedicated to the city. I wonder who thought up that little Watergate idea.

For many years I have been under the impression that it was the city's policy to take over the streets and maintain them after the property owners had paid most of the initial cost of installing pavement, curbs and gutters on the streets.

I am sure the developers of new subdivisions would welcome this new policy, if it is adopted by the city. And maybe, the city will install curbs and gutters on old streets, which don't have them. They might even put in sidewalks.

Very truly yours,
Grant Stiles

Roll Call Report

By ROLL CALL REPORT

WASHINGTON—Here's how area Members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes March 21 through March 27.

HOUSE

ANTI-BUSING AMENDMENT—Passed, 293 for and 117 against, an amendment to halt court-ordered busing across school district lines to achieve racial desegregation.

The amendment, was offered to the elementary and secondary education bill (H.R. 69).

The amendment mirrors language passed by the House in 1972, but which died in the Senate. It would bar the busing of students farther than the "school closest or next closest," to their home, or across district lines.

The ban on cross-district busing would not apply where lines were intentionally drawn to preserve segregated schools.

Supporters argued that busing diminishes the quality of education by destroying neighborhood, family-involved schools. Rep. William Broomfield (R-Mich.) said that "forced busing denies Americans the right to control," their children's education.

Opponents argued that the amendment was non-germane, would delay Senate passage of the overall bill and is unconstitutional. Rep. Bella Abzug (D-N.Y.) said the amendment will inflame prejudices and pit "group against group."

Reps. Frank Stubblefield (D-1) William Natcher (D-2), Romano Mazzoli (D-3), Gene Snyder (R-4) and Tim Lee Carter (R-5) voted "yea."

Reps. Breckinridge (D-6) and Carl Perkins (D-7) voted "nay."

PEACE CORPS—Passed, 294 for and 103 against, a bill to authorize $82.2 million in fiscal 1975 for the Peace Corps. The bill (H.R. 12920) now goes to the Senate.

The bill provides $5.25 million more than the FY 1974 total, and increases from 6,500 to 6,800 the number of volunteers.

Supporters argued that the Peace Corps is a two-way street of aiding needy nations while enhancing America's perception of world problems. Rep. Thomas Morgan (D-Pa.) said the Peace Corps is "one of America's best investments abroad."

Opponents argued that the program is too costly and does work that can be better performed by private groups, such as the Mormons. Rep. H.R. Gross (R-Iowa) said that money spent on the Peace Corps "perpetuates the rape" of the American taxpayer.

Stubblefield, Natcher, Mazzoli, Breckinridge and Perkins voted "yea."

Snyder and Carter voted "nay."

IMPACT AID—Passed, 276 for and 129 against, an amendment to extend impact aid to schools for three years instead of the one year called for in the education bill (H.R. 69).

School districts with federal installations, such as military bases, receive impact aid as compensation for revenue lost because the government does not pay property taxes. District are subsidized according to their number of pupils from federally-employed families.

The program will cost $1.3 billion for each fiscal year. It is being reviewed by Congress, with an eye to cutting back on the aid.

Supporters argued that the federal government is obligated to share the school-tax burden, like any private industry. They said the three-year extension will enable impacted districts to better prepare for a possible cutback or termination of the program.

Opponents said the program costs too much and often subsidizes schools that don't deserve the aid. They argued that a one-year extension would speed up the review process and force Congress to redesign the controversial program.

Stubblefield, Natcher, Snyder, Carter,

Breckinridge and Perkins voted "yea." Mazzoli voted "nay."

SENATE

PUBLIC CAMPAIGN FINANCING—Rejected, 33 for and 61 against, a move to strip the federal election reform bill (S. 3044) of its public financing language.

In rejecting the amendment, the Senate voted for 100 per cent public financing in general elections and combined private-public financing in primary campaigns.

The cost is estimated at $340 million every four years, with funding based on the number of voting-age persons in a constituency. House candidates could get as much as $90,000 per campaign, senate candidates from the most populous state (California) as much as $2.1 million and presidential aspirants as much as $21 million.

Supporters of the move to kill public financing argued that the proposal is a raid on the Treasury, and would force taxpayers to subsidize candidates with whom they disagree. A few others argued that public financing favors incumbents.

Those voting to keep the bill intact argued that public financing will free politicians from obligation to special interests, thus cleaning up the electoral process.

Sens. Marlow Cook (R) and Walter Huddleston (D) voted "nay."

BUDGET COMMITTEE SENIORITY—Rejected, 24 for and 56 against, an amendment limiting to six years a senator's tenure on the proposed Senate Committee on the Budget. The amendment was offered to the budget reform bill (S. 1541).

In rejecting the amendment, the Senate voted to give budget committee members the same seniority privileges that apply to other major committees.

The rejected amendment would have permitted a senator to return to the budget committee after a two-year absence.

Supporters argued that rotating committee membership would assure equal representation for all parts of the country. They warned against letting senators entrench themselves in such an important committee assignment. Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kan.) said that the committee must not "become stale as the years go on."

Opponents argued that a transient membership would view the committee as less important than other assignments, thus weakening its stature. Sen. Sam Ervin (D-N.C.) said "experience is the most efficient teacher of all things."

Huddleston voted "nay" and Cook did not vote.

ANTI-IMPOUNDMENT—Rejected, 28 for and 60 against, a budget reform bill amendment to let either house of Congress force the Administration to spend impounded funds.

The rejected amendment would have required the President to notify Congress of an impoundment. Passage in either house of a disapproving resolution—immune from veto—would have overruled the impoundment.

In rejecting the amendment, the Senate voted to keep weaker language saying that impoundments are illegal unless approved by Congress.

Supporters argued that Congress should face the impoundment issue and stop leaving it to the courts. Sen. William Roth (R-Del.) said that "selective impoundments should be tolerated unless Congress specifically disapproves."

Opponents argued that impoundment is an illegal technique and should not be afforded statutory authority. Sen. Charles Percy (R-Ill.) said Congress must "bite the bullet" and pass reasonable budgets that are impoundment-proof.

Cook voted "yea" and Huddleston voted "nay."

Comments From Others

CHASKA, MINN., VALLEY HERALD: "I'm like so many Americans, I hate to see the millions and millions of dollars being spent by congress for guns and tanks and ships and other war-making equipment but it's pretty evident if we don't have a giant capacity along those lines we'll be a part of a Chinese or Russian five-year plan sometime in the future."

SUMMIT, MISS., SUN: "You let government control prices because they are too high, and then you'll let them control supplies because you have shortages, and then whether you want to let them or not, they'll control you."

ANTIGO, WISC., JOURNAL: "There are sharp differences between the approaches of congressmen and legislators generally to economic issues. One type is much more disposed to place the blame than it is to develop solutions, and since spotting someone to blame has broad appeal among the voters it can be good politics until the time comes that workable solutions are needed. That calls for constructive efforts, the shifting of facts and judgement based upon them. Those who can see nothing but conspiracy behind every economic evil eventually are recognized as politicians first and statesmen—not at all."

Re-discover Kentucky Fall Festivals Should Be Considered For State

By Helen Price Stacy
Although blooming daffodils and flowering fruit trees have turned everyone's thoughts to spring, now is also the time to consider reservations for fall tours in Eastern Kentucky. Paintsville's Apple Festival, held the first weekend in October, and the Sorghum Festival in West Liberty, scheduled the following weekend, have already established themselves as major state events and are especially adaptable for group tours. Early planning is necessary to ensure adequate accommodations.

Outings to these events could be made in two-day trips by private car or chartered bus. A group departing from Lexington early Friday or Saturday could travel I-64 to the Mountain Parkway to reach Natural Bridge State Resort Park near Campton. Lunch might be at the park's Hemlock Lodge, the outdoor barbecue or by prepared box lunches. Leaving the Parkway at Salyersville, the tour would continue on U.S. 460 to Paintsville's Apple Festival. The group could feast on apple pie, cider and other good foods, buy some apple butter, then enjoy the crowd and many displays before leaving for May Lodge at Jenny Wiley State Resort Park near Prestonsburg for dinner and the night.

The Sorghum Festival in West Liberty the following weekend could call for another lunch at Natural Bridge with a short side trip to Red River Gorge. By traveling KY 191 from Campton to Hazel Green, a five-minute drive through the campus of Hazel Green Academy could be made. The schedule should include arrangements with the James Stewarts for a 15-minute tour of their Hazel Green residence. The 90-year-old house remains furnished as it was when the original owners hung Gibson Girl prints on the wall, set a quaint tea table and placed an "Abe Lincoln" stovepipe hat on the hall tree. KY 203 winds toward Mize, where U.S. 460 should be taken to West Liberty. Dozens of arts and crafts will be displayed as well as woodcarving, handmade quilts and sorghum molasses. After this stop, the tour could visit Elliott and Carter Counties for sight-seeing at Grayson Lake State Park and on to Greenbo State Resort Park for dinner and the night in Jesse Stuart Lodge.

Ralph McCuiston
Now Owner M & H Construction Co.

Ralph McCuiston is now the sole owner of M & H Construction Company since his purchase of Charles Hanrahan's interest in the company. Under the ownership of McCuiston and Hanrahan the company combined paving and bulldozer work. The present newly structured M & H Const. Co. will have three different departments with separate crews whose functions will include: dozer work; the hauling of dirt, white rock and gravel; and asphalt paving. McCuiston was an Engineer with the TVA before serving three years in World War II as an Army Engineer in the European Theater. He received numerous Commendation Medals and the Purple Heart in the Battle of the Bulge. From 1955 to 1959 he was an Advisory Highway Commissioner for the State of Kentucky and he served as Road Supervisor for Calloway County from 1970 until 1973. A Shriner and an active member of the First United Methodist Church McCuiston and his wife, the former Nelle Waggoner, live at 809 Olive Street. The McCuistons have one daughter, Nancy, who is married to Dr. Richard Hutson, a local physician.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) ♈
You can gain considerable help from past experience now. Recall how various procedures returned various types of results. Neither drive too hard a bargain, nor be too easy.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21) ♉
You should do well if you are on the beam, tending to business, observing, filling your place capably. Some may dispute unpleasantly. Don't join them.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21) ♊
A generous day — if you cooperate. It will give measure for measure, and prove a boon to the really top giver. Stress patience and tolerance.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23) ♋
Don't hesitate to take up apprenticeship in something new if it is worthwhile, no matter what your age. No one has a monopoly on improvement.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23) ♌
Your innate sympathetic nature could lead you astray now, so take all factors into account if asked for favors — material or otherwise. Curb emotions.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) ♍
Some changes may be proposed. Study everything from an objective viewpoint. Change for its own sake could cost you ground. Concentrate on purposeful aims.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) ♎
There's a tendency now to brush by the real and progressive issues for lesser but seemingly more pleasurable ones. Don't yield!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) ♏
Where is the success you worked hard for? The striving itself should have brought the biggest rewards, and you still have more to attain — beginning now.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) ♐
Turbulent waters in some areas, but you are made of the stuff that doesn't collapse at the first sign of opposition or difficulty. Be your philosophical self.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) ♑
A bright outlook! Get an early, efficient start and maintain a tempo suited to your requirements and abilities. Rejoice in calm discussions.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) ♒
Don't let sympathy enter into business deals, nor cold calculation enter what should be a sensitive, warm relationship. Be discriminating in all things.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) ♓
Even though some outside interests may seem more stimulating, stick to obligations, the fundamentals on which to build a better future. Be realistic.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with unusual stamina, terrific enthusiasm, a keen mentality, vivid imagination and a gift for leadership. A keen lover of literature and journalism, you could excel at either; could also succeed in music, more as an entertainer than a composer. Objective in your thinking, you could also become an outstanding jurist, statesman or diplomat. Traits to curb: excessive materialism, overaggressiveness. Birthdate of: Washington Irving, Amer. author; John Burroughs, naturalist; Marlon Brando and Doris Day, film stars.

Carroll and Joyce Hubbard and daughters Kelly (age 4) and Krista (age 1)

It's time for a change and new leadership in Washington.

Western Kentucky needs an active, strong voice and a working U.S. Representative at our nation's capitol.

Let's vote on May 28 for Senator Carroll Hubbard as our next Congressman. He will speak up for you in Congress. He will seek your opinions and try to express your views at the nation's capitol.

Our incumbent Congressman, like so many other national leaders in Washington, has not yet said one word about the increasing cost of living or the many shortages which cause items such as food and gasoline to be much too high at the present time.

There are some who have special interests from the federal government at stake in this election. The majority of us, however, agree: IT'S TIME FOR A CHANGE IN WASHINGTON!!

ELECT
CARROLL HUBBARD

LOW PRICE USED CARS

If you are in the market for a 1st, 2nd, or 3rd car we believe it will pay you to look these over. Compare with what you will find anywhere. It seems every winter we collect a number of lower priced-used cars. We usually gather up 15 to 25 units and take to an auction. This year we decided to cut the prices way, way down (hundreds of dollars in some cases) and offer them to you, our customers first on a low, low price — many of these are good, sound older model cars with lots of good economical service left. If you need one, don't wait — we think they'll move at these prices!

David Thompson Player Of Year

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — David Thompson, the Associated Press College Basketball Player of the Year, honed his skills by playing against the "big boys" at Gardner-Webb College in Boiling Springs, N.C., not far from his Shelby home.

While in Crest High School, he would amble over to the college for some fun games against the likes of Artis Gilmore, now the premier 7-foot-2 center of the American Basketball Association Kentucky Colonels. He also went up against George Adams, now with San Diego of the ABA.

"I had to learn to jump high to shoot over them," said the two-time All-American, a mere 6-foot-4.

The 19-year-old North Carolina State junior's awesome leaping ability is just one fact of his superlative all-around play.

Thompson, who repeatedly has said he will shun pro offers until he graduates, because "the money will still be there," led State to a 30-1 record and the NCAA championship last week.

Just as his team dethroned perennial champion UCLA in the NCAA semifinals, Thompson replaced the Bruins' Bill Walton as AP player of the year. Thompson received the vote of 128 of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters to 85 for the 6-foot-11 Walton. Nine other players each got one vote.

Statistics tell only part of the story of his worth to Coach Norman Sloan's team. In 31 games Thompson averaged 26 points, 7.9 rebounds, shot 55 percent from the floor and 75 at the foul line.

In four NCAA tournament games he scored 115 points, all against nationally ranked teams.

Counting his final year in high school and play on the State freshman team, Thompson-led teams are 117-8 for four years.

Swen Nater Selected As ABA Rookie Of The Year

By STEVE HERMAN
AP Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) —

Swen Nater finally has popped out of the shadow of former UCLA teammate Bill Walton and it is, he says, "like taking a chain off."

The 6-foot-11 center for the San Antonio Spurs Monday was named the American Basketball Association's Rookie of the Year, nipping San Diego's Caldwell Jones for the honor.

Nater said, "It feels good. I really don't know how well I've done. I just wanted to get into the playoffs."

The rugged 245-pounder did just that, helping the Spurs into a first-round Western Division best-of-seven series against defending ABA champion Indiana.

The big guy was drafted and signed by the Virginia Squires after serving as Walton's "cadillac" for two seasons. He won a part-time starting job with the Squires and the hearts of the Virginia fans before suddenly being traded to San Antonio early in the season.

His acquisition cost the Spurs a reported $300,000 and a high draft choice, but Nater may have proven he was worth the price by averaging 14.5 points and 13.6 rebounds in 62 games with the Spurs.

Over-all, Nater averaged 14.1 points and 12.6 rebounds — fourth in the ABA — and led the league in two-point field goal shooting with 55.3 percent accuracy.

Spurs coach Tom Nissalke said, "It's hard to say how good he (Nater) is in relation to (Kentucky's Artis) Gilmore or (New York's Bill) Paultz, for example. But he's made this a much better ballclub."

BASKETBALL
NEW YORK — Swen Nater, San Antonio's 6-foot-11 center, was named the American Basketball Association's Rookie of the Year.

SALT LAKE CITY — The Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association were sold to a Salt Lake City corporation which will offer 80 percent of Stars stock for public ownership.

Derrington Leading Murray Hitter

Don Derrington, a native of Evansville and a junior college transfer, is the leading hitter this spring for the Murray State Thoroughbreds.

The big first baseman is hitting at a .393 clip and has driven in 11 runs. Jack Perconte from Joliet, Ill., is the second-leading hitter on the 'Breds as he is sporting a .369 average.

Other impressive averages are freshman Terry Brown with .364, Rick Weisman .338, Leon Wurth .322, Robert Mantooth .313 and Steve Barrett .303.

Weisman leads in the RBI department with 33 while Wurth has 29 and Barrett 23.

The most surprising department is the homeruns. Murray as a team has hit only 10 homers.

Last year, Rick Weisman and Steve Barrett each smacked 11 roundtrippers.

Weisman and Barrett are holding the lead this spring with three apiece. Sophomore catcher Gene Steuber has two, one of which came in the twinbill loss to Brown Sunday.

In the pitching department this spring, Greg Englar is 4-0 while Bill Emerson and freshman Mark Wezet are both 3-0.

Freshman Steve Darnell, senior Mike Thieke and reliever Ernie Mikesell each have two wins.

Because of the heavy schedule, it is extremely difficult to keep up with the statistics but through the cooperation of Mike Cathey, who keeps the stats for the 'Breds, this column will attempt to carry a short summary once or twice a week for the remainder of the season.

County and Ballard Memorial was washed out.

Next Monday, the Lakers will entertain North and South Marshall in a triangular meet.

The season will end May 18 with the Regional Meet.

Baseball at Calloway County gets underway Friday with a home game against Farmington.

Coach Denny Potts reports that 17 young men are out for the team this season.

Next week, the Lakers will have three games as Reidland visits Calloway County Tuesday, Henry County Thursday and Paducah Tilghman Friday.

Spring Sports At MHS

The baseball season at Murray High will not begin until April 22, after the conclusion of spring football practice, when the Tigers visit South Marshall.

Golf will be beginning at both schools soon and tennis should be starting in a short time at Murray High.

Track at Murray High will be beginning sometime within the next two weeks and the Tigers will hopefully have their new track ready and have their equipment in.

Spring football practice at Murray High was interrupted last week because of the spring break.

Coach John Hina reports that 62 men are out for football.

No definite date has been set for the spring game but Hina said practice can't run any farther than the end of the next week.

The Tiger coach also said the progress of his team within the next few days will determine where the game will be played.

If the team shows signs of improvement, the game might be played in Holland Stadium in front of an audience.

Spring Sports At CCHS

Spring sports are beginning to pick up and the first track meet at the high school level was to have been held yesterday but the rain came and the dual meet between Calloway

New Line Coach

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — James B. Carmody, North Carolina assistant coach, will be the new defensive line coach at Ole Miss.

Athletic Director John Gaught said the North Carolina defensive line coach will replace Warner Alford on the staff of new head Coach Ken Cooper.

Carmody, a New Orleans native and a 1965 graduate of Tulane, was a member of the Tarheel staff when the team won Athletic Coast Conference championships in 1971-1972.

Alford, a former Ole Miss football star, has been named assistant director of athletics and director of recruiting.

Aaron Smacks Another Homer As Braves Win

By The Associated Press
Hank Aaron is ready to play ball ... even if he isn't ready.

The reticent superstar, who'd prefer not participating this week in Cincinnati, sharpened up for the 1974 baseball season with a home run in Atlanta's 7th spring training victory over Baltimore Monday.

Aaron, with 713, had hoped to break Babe Ruth's home run record of 714 in Atlanta and originally indicated he would sit out the Braves' three-game series with the Reds.

But he has been overruled by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, who in effect recently ordered Aaron to play at least two of the three games against the Reds.

Aaron's blast, his third of the exhibition season, was struck as a designated hitter. The homer was one of five the Braves hit Monday.

Dave Johnson hit two homers, and Dusty Baker and Ivan Murrell one each.

Elsewhere, the Milwaukee Brewers defeated the Oakland A's 6-2; the Boston Red Sox nudged the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4; the Cleveland Indians tripped the Chicago Cubs 9-2; the Cincinnati Reds crushed the Pittsburgh Pirates 15-9; the Chicago White Sox edged the Minnesota Twins 4-3; the Montreal Expos blasted the Philadelphia Phillies 7-1; the New York Yankees nipped the New York Mets 2-1; the California Angels lashed the University of California-Irvine 10-2; the Houston Astros trimmed the Detroit Tigers 4-1 and the San Francisco Giants shaded the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-6.

3 Helped by two Oakland errors, Milwaukee broke a 2-2 tie with four eighth-inning runs to defeat Oakland. Sal Bando's three-base error put the Brewers' Bobby Mitchell on third base to start the eighth, and two walks, a ground-rule double by Bob Coluccio, a wild pitch and Pedro Garcia's two-run triple did the rest.

Rico Petrocelli hit a two-out, ninth-inning home run with a teammate aboard to lift Boston over St. Louis.

Cleveland raked Steve Stone for three triples and two doubles in the opening innings and went on to rout Chicago. Gaylord Perry, pitching seven innings for the second time this spring, limited the Cubs to four hits.

Roger Freed, already reassigned to a Cincinnati minor league club, hit two home runs and added a double and a single to help the Reds crush Pittsburgh.

The Chicago White Sox came from behind with three runs in the sixth inning and got three scoreless innings from reliever Wayne Granger to edge Minnesota.

Bulls Slip By Pistons, Colonels Whip Cougars

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

The Chicago Bulls finally have won their first-ever playoff game on the road, but it isn't exactly with optimism that Coach Dick Motta views the milestone.

"We didn't break" the ice tonight; there was no ice. It's a new game tomorrow," Motta said Monday night after the Bulls evened their best-of-7 National Basketball Association Eastern Conference playoff against Detroit at 1-1 with a 108-103 victory.

"I expect each team will lose another home game before the series is over," Motta added. Each team now has won on the other's court, with the series returning to Chicago Friday.

The Detroit-Chicago game was the only NBA playoff action Monday, but there were four American Basketball Association quarter-finals.

In those ABA playoffs, New York took a 2-0 East Division advantage over Virginia by beating the Squires 129-110; Kentucky beat Carolina 118-102 in their first East Division game; Indiana bludgeoned San Antonio 128-101, evening that West Division series at 1-1, and Utah jumped to a 2-0 lead over San Diego in the West with a 119-105 victory over the Conquistadors.

Bob Love got 38 points and Chet Walker added 20 to a revived Chicago offense. "Our offense did a better job tonight," Motta said. "Our defense did as good a job as they did Saturday when they held Detroit to 97 points and lost."

There are no ABA playoff games tonight, but in the NBA, Boston takes a 1-0 advantage into Buffalo in the Eastern Conference, Capital and the Knicks will break a 1-1 tie at New York in their East series, and the Milwaukee Bucks, holding a 2-0 edge in the West Conference, play in Los Angeles. Laker officials have indicated that superstar guard Jerry West may be back in the line-up for that one.

Nets 129, Squires 110
Julius Erving scored 16 of his game-high 35 points in the second quarter, staking the Nets to a 24-point halftime lead en route to a convincing victory over Virginia.

The series now moves to Virginia for two games, and Squires Coach Al Bianchi says, "We've always played them well at home. A sweep is always possible, but anything can happen in Virginia."

Colonels 118, Cougars 102
"I guess we'll just have to circle the wagons because the Indians came tonight," said Carolina Coach Larry Brown, after Kentucky's Artis Gilmore massacred the Cougars with 33 points, 19 rebounds and six blocked shots.

Pacers 128, Spurs 101
Billy Keller scored 27 points on nine buckets, all three-pointers, and wound up with 39 to lead Indiana. The nine triples set a new ABA playoff record.

Forward George McGinnis also had 30 points for Indiana, and Rich Jones led San Antonio with 26.

Stars 19, Conquistadors 105
Gerald Govan grabbed 19 rebounds and Willie Wise scored 23 points to give the Stars "such a commanding lead-right from the beginning that our people had a lot of freedom throughout the game," said Utah Coach Joe Mullaney.

GREAT GOLF ON THE GULF

Mark Wezet Hurls 'Breds Past Brown 3-1 Monday

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
Somehow you knew it was going to be a good day.

The first pitch in the bottom of the first inning to Murray State's John Howland went sailing over the fence.

And when the thunder came and lightning started splitting the darkened clouds, the Thoroughbreds had a lead and it was in the seventh inning and already an official game.

But had it not been for the outstanding pitching of freshman righthander Mark Wezet, the game could have easily been in the third or fourth inning and all the records washed away in the downpour that left a lake of water standing on Reagan Field.

Wezet scattered only five hits and struck out 10 batters while walking only two as Murray won the 3-1 abbreviated game over Brown.

The previous day had found Brown winning a doubleheader from Murray and becoming the first team this season to win a pair of games from the Thoroughbreds, who are the 17th-ranked college baseball team in the nation.

Wezet, who is from Evansville, Ind., is just one of several outstanding freshman hurlers for Murray this season. And when he was under pressure, he performed as a seasoned veteran.

Three times in the game Brown had men on third base with less than two out and on each occasion, Wezet pitched out of the jam.

The only run of the game for Brown came in the top of the sixth on a leadoff homer by Cirullo, who also teed-off on Murray pitching Sunday for a four-bagger.

All three Murray runs scored in the first inning and after that it was an uninterrupted procession of to the plate and back to the dugout.

Howland, a senior who swings from left side and is a native of Erie, Pa., drilled the first pitch from the Brown starting hurler into deep right-center and the ball cleared the fence for a solo homer.

Steve Barrett, who is carrying a 303 average this spring, reached base after being hit by a pitched ball.

With two men out, David Hughes smashed a pitch into right and the ball caromed off the fence.

Hughes came all the way around to third, Barrett crossed the plate and Murray held a 2-0 lead.

The final run of the inning came home when Leon Wurth, a junior shortstop from Paducah St. Mary, smacked a single to left to send in Hughes.

Murray's only other hit in the game came when Wurth singled in the fourth.

The win leaves the 'Breds with a 21-6 record for the spring entering this afternoon's doubleheader with Brown which will begin at 1 p.m.

A pair of southpaws, junior Randy Oliver and freshman Dana Pearson will draw the mound chores for Murray.

Purdue will be at Reagan Field Wednesday and Friday for a doubleheader and Thursday, the 'Breds will meet the Big 10 team in a 3 p.m. single game.

Then on Saturday, Murray will go to Bowling Green for an important conference twinbill with Western Kentucky.

The 'Breds will have an off day Sunday before hosting Vanderbilt next Monday and Southern Illinois University next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, trainer Frank A. Bonsal changed his mind Monday about keeping Flamingo victor Bushongo out of the Kentucky Derby.

"With his ability, I think he deserves a shot in the Derby," Bonsal said.

He had said after Saturday's race that he favored resting the horse until the May 18 Pre-akness at Pimlico.

But he said Monday that he planned to discuss the matter again with the 3-year-old colt's breeder and owner, Marion duPont Scott.

"She didn't want to run in the Flamingo but she relented and we both agreed that we would give the horse a rest after the Flamingo," he said.

"But Bushongo cooled out great and is fresh and looks like he hadn't done a thing."

He said Bushongo has a good shot at winning the Derby because, "In a large field, a speed horse who can get good position can have a better trip than a come-from-behind horse like Judger, who might encounter trouble."

Cannonade And Judger To Be In Derby Despite Recent Showings

MIAMI (AP) — Trainer Woody Stephens says that Cannonade and Judger will be entered in the Kentucky Derby despite the poor showing of his heavily favored entry in last Saturday's Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah.

Judger and Cannonade were pre-race favorites in the Flamingo, but Judger finished third and Cannonade came in seventh.

"Our objective for both colts is the Kentucky Derby," Stephens said Monday. "I couldn't trade my chances with anyone in the Derby. And that's the one we want."

He said he wasn't concerned with the recent failure of the entry because "neither colt is the type to handle the track as it was Saturday—dry and cuppy. A pony could run faster than the horses were running."

"The race took a little pressure off and cooled things down. Our horses have run too many good races to let one race tell me they are that bad."

Stephens said both colts will be shipped to Keeneland next week with Judger scheduled for the April 25 Blue Grass at Keeneland and Cannonade for either the Gotham, Wood Memorial or Churchill Downs Stepping Stone Purse.

Vandy Trips 'Cats 8-7 In SEC Action

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Rick Duncan's single capped a three-run rally in the bottom of the ninth inning Monday as Vanderbilt trimmed Kentucky 8-7 in Southeastern Conference baseball action.

The Commodores, now 20-10 overall and 3-1 in the SEC, scored their three runs on a double by Ernie Leonard, a single by Bob Latimer, a double by Bill Hardin, a walk to Ted Shipley and Duncan's single.

Kentucky, 6-7 overall and 0-1 in the SEC, had scored two runs in the top of the ninth to take a 7-5 lead. The Wildcats had also led 4-1 after five innings.

Vic Travis had two doubles for the Wildcats.

The two teams play again today.

Elmore Paces East Win In Pizza Hut Cage Game

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Len Elmore of Maryland scored 12 points, pacing a first half surge that helped the East to a 94-87 victory over the West in an All-Star basketball game Monday night.

Coach Digger Phelps of the East used all 11 of his players in winning the nationally televised game.

After the game was tied 8-8 early in the first half, the East, using its height, steadily pulled away to twice lead by 10 points before a last-minute rally by the West narrowed the gap to 45-43 at the half.

Vanderbilt forward Terry Compton led the East in scoring with 16 points followed by Notre Dame's John Shumate with 15, Elmore's 12, 11 from Bill Knight of Pittsburgh and 11 second-half points by Wisconsin's Kim Hughes.

The West, coached by Ned Wulk of Arizona State, was led by Kevin Restani of the University of San Francisco with 16 points.

Hawaii's Tom Henderson sparked a second-half West rally and ended the game with 15 points.

Bobby Florence of Nevada-Las Vegas had 12 points for the West and Tulsa's Sam High added 10.

The biggest East lead was 82-63 with 7:40 left in the game.

The West, behind Houston's Sid Edwards, Restani and Florence, rallied to within five points at 92-87 but time ran out.

It was the first East victory after two losses in the game.

PITTSBURGH — THE Pittsburgh Pirates traded righthanded pitcher Tom Detmore to the Chicago Cubs for switch-hitting infielder Paul Popovich and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Affect Of Miami Stars' Decision May Be Great

MIAMI (AP) — The Miami Dolphins won't lose Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick and Paul Warfield until the 1975 season, but the affect of their defection to the World Football League could be immediate.

Coach Don Shula's molding of his team into a close, family-type relationship has been credited with helping them win National Football League titles the past two years.

After the signing of Csonka, Kiick and Warfield by Toronto of the WFL, Shula himself admits he doesn't know what attitude will prevail when training camp begins this July.

"I certainly hope not," said Shula when asked Monday whether animosity might develop between players, coaches and club officials. "Our whole goal is to go back to camp, put the best players together and try to win the Super Bowl again."

Shula said he was misquoted Sunday as saying he might not want to play Csonka, Kiick and Warfield this season.

"I've never been confronted with this situation before," he said. "I heard Csonka said they intended to honor their commitment and it was the responsibility of the club to live up to its commitment."

Csonka said, "We intend to give the Miami fans 100 percent effort this season, so I assume they'll hold no grudges against us."

Shula's problem is if he plays the trio this year in hopes of recapturing the Super Bowl, he'll face a major rebuilding job in 1975. The alternative is to begin rebuilding now with new players.

But that would require major changes in offensive strategy, which has been built around the bull-like rushes of fullback

Csonka with Mercury Morris and Warfield keeping defenses honest with outside runs and pass patterns.

Don Nottingham was acquired last year from Baltimore where he started, but at 5-foot-10 and 210 pounds, he could hardly be expected to provide the durability or the power which made Csonka's line charges so threatening.

Csonka is a 6-2, 237 pound bomb aimed at the line about 16 times a game. He has gained over 1,000 yards the last three seasons, a lot of it strictly on brute strength.

Warfield's experienced successors are Howard Twilley, 29, and Ron Sellers, 27. Twilley saw little action last year because of back problems and Sellers was inactivated by two leg injuries.

Movie Industry To Present Oscars For 46th Time Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The film industry puts on the 46th Academy Awards tonight with stars from Ann-Margret to Elizabeth Taylor on the program and Marlon Brando and Robert Redford as no-shows.

Of the 10 male nominees for acting awards, only Brando and Redford failed to respond to the invitation to appear.

Glenda Jackson, making a film in Rome, and Barbra Streisand have also declined, although friends were still trying to convince Miss Streisand to appear.

Otherwise, tonight's telecast proceedings at the Music Center appears likely to be one of the most stellar turnouts in the colorful history of the Oscar awards.

The atmosphere befits the optimistic attitude in Hollywood, which has been heartened by a series of blockbuster movies.

Producer Jack Haley Jr. has booked double presenters for most of the awards. The list includes Liza Minelli, Gregory Peck, Linda Blair, Cher, Burt Bacharach, Susan Hayward, James Caan, Yul Brynner, Candy Bergen, Marcel Marceau, Charlton Heston, Charles Bronson and Paula Prentiss.

The program will feature three former wives of Eddie Fisher — Debbie Reynolds, Miss Taylor and Connie Stevens. Fisher is not attending.

Miss Stevens will sing one of the nominated songs, "Live and Let Die." Also singing will be Dyan Cannon, "All That Love Went to Waste," Jody Foster and Johnny Whitaker, "Live"; and Peggy Lee, "The Way We Were."

Telly Savalas — the tough television detective Kojak — will also be singing "You're So Nice to Be Around."

The sentimental highlight of the evening will be a special award to Groucho Marx for his contributions to film comedy. The presentation will be made by Jack Lemmon following a film tribute and a number from "Minnie's Boys," the Broadway biography of the Marx Brothers.

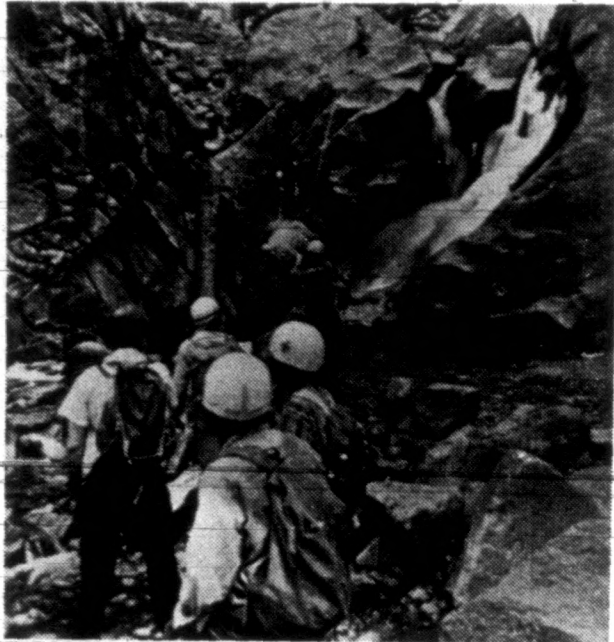

As in previous years, the Oscar cast was threatened by a labor dispute, but early Monday NBC reached agreement with a union representing air conditioning workers in its Burbank studio.

The show is scheduled to begin at 10 p.m. EDT.

Major nominees for the awards include:

Best picture — "American Graffiti," "Cries and Whispers," "The Exorcist," "The Sting" and "A Touch of Class." Best actor — Brando, "Last Tango in Paris;" Lemmon, "Save the Tiger;" Jack Nicholson, "The Last Detail;" Al Pacino, "Serpico;" and Redford, "The Sting."

Best actress — Ellen Burstyn, "The Exorcist;" Miss Jackson, "A Touch of Class;" Marsha Mason, "Cinderella Liberty;" Miss Streisand, "The Way We Were;" and Joanne Woodward, "Summer Wishes, Winter Dreams."

Witness Testifies That Boyle Ordered Assassination

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — "Ohhh, no!" W.A. "Tony" Boyle's wife gasped.

Her gasp came after a witness at the trial of the former president of the United Mine Workers testified Monday that Boyle ordered the assassination of union rival Joseph "Jock" Yablonski.

The accusation during Boyle's murder trial came from Paul Gilly, 40, a Cleveland house painter who has been convicted of murder and sentenced to death for the 1969 slaying of Yablonski.

Ethel Boyle also shook her head vigorously after Gilly's testimony for the prosecution in Delaware County Common Pleas Court.

Gilly, who faces cross-examination today, said that "in the summer of 1969" he met with his father-in-law, Silas Huddleston, who then was president of a small UMW local in LaFollette, Tenn., "and he said he wanted Yablonski killed."

"Did he mention who had given the order?" asked Special Prosecutor Richard A. Sprague, Gilly replied: "Yes, he mentioned Mr. Prater's name. He mentioned Mr. Pass's name. He mentioned Mr. Boyle's name."

William Prater, 54, LaFollette, UMW field representative in Tennessee, and Albert Pass, 53, Middlesboro, Ky., secretary-treasurer of UMW District 19, were convicted last year of murdering Yablonski, his wife, Margaret, and daughter, Charlotte.

The Yablonskis were slain as they slept Dec. 31, 1969, in their rural Clarksville home in southwestern Pennsylvania. Boyle is now on trial for the murders.

Huddleston, 67; Gilly's wife, Annette; Claude Vealey, 28,

Cleveland; and William J. Turnblazer, 52, Middlesboro, president of UMW District 19, all have pleaded guilty to participating in the Yablonski murder plot.

Aubran "Buddy" Martin, 25, of Cleveland, was also convicted of murder and sentenced to death.

Gilly testified that after he accepted the murder contract he met with Huddleston and Prater "and they both said Mr. Boyle wanted Mr. Yablonski killed in Washington, D.C."

"Why?" asked Sprague. "So it wouldn't be blamed on the union," Gilly replied.

He identified Martin, handcuffed to two state troopers, and Vealey as the men he had paid $1,750 each to do the shootings.

Boyle, now serving a three-year federal sentence for illegal use of union funds during the 1968 presidential election, has pleaded innocent.

Charles F. Moses, chief of Boyle's defense, told the jury of nine men and three women that Yablonski was murdered to prevent an investigation into nearly $1 million in union funds allegedly missing in District 19, which covers the Tennessee-Kentucky soft coal fields.

Boyle defeated Yablonski for the UMW presidency weeks before Yablonski was killed. In 1972, a federal judge set aside the election on grounds of fraud and in a new election Boyle was ousted by a Yablonski supporter, Arnold Miller.

Funeral arrangements tentatively include a memorial service in New York, where he worked more than half his life as a daily columnist. Burial will be in Kansas City, Mo., the place of his birth.

Boyle's death came four months after he had learned that he was the victim of a rare, crippling, incurable disease — amyotrophic lateral sclerosis. The disease is more commonly known as "Lou Gehrig's disease" because it felled the famed baseball player.

Three American Party candidates filed Monday for three congressional posts in Kentucky.

Dr. Robert W. Yoak of Central City filed in the 1st District. He is a chiropractor, native of Fairmont, W. Va., and Army Air Corps veteran.

Eland Neville of Park City filed in the 2nd District. He is a farmer, native of Barren County and Air Force Reserve Major.

Neville said he would campaign against Democratic incumbent William Natcher's "ultra-liberal voting record."

Dr. Albert G. J. Cullum of Middlesboro filed in the 5th District. He is a surgeon and was an Air Corps Major in World War II.

He said the most important issue in every election "ought to be the restitution of the (U.S.) constitution."

Cullum said traditional liberties are being usurped "by volumes of laws and regulations that are manifestly unconstitutional and are lethal to our way of life."

100th Kentucky Derby Will Be Run Under New Standards

FRANKFORT, Ky.—The thoroughbreds will be running to a new set of rules in the 100th Kentucky Derby, but the average bettor probably won't notice.

The State Racing Commission, in adopting a new rule book, is attempting to make racing safer for horses and bettors.

"With these regulations," Clarkson Beard of the racing commission staff said, "we're making sure every horse on the track can run a credible race and suffer no harmful side effects."

The most important changes will hardly be noticed by the average fan. In fact, most will probably only notice the demise of the asterisk or "bug" that marked a jockey as an apprentice when listed in the racing program.

The most significant changes in thoroughbred racing to the state's equine drug research program. That program recently got a boost when the state legislature approved budget increases proposed by Gov. Wendell Ford.

Veterinarians will now be required to make daily reports on medication prescribed for any thoroughbred in training. Data from those reports will be sent to the University of Kentucky for equine research on the effects of drugs. The results of that research will then be used by the racing commission to tailor regulations for the protection of horses' health and bettors' money.

The commission will keep close tabs on one of those research projects; the Butazolidin study. That drug kicked off a roaring controversy when it was detected in the 1968 Derby winner after the race. The drug was illegal then and the horse was disqualified.

Butazolidin, which the horse industry has alternately considered safe and harmful for years, is now considered safe. Therefore, the commission removed it from the list of banned drugs as long as it is not given on the day of the race when no medication is permitted.

While Butazolidin was removed from the banned list, certain other drugs classified as stimulants, tranquilizers, depressants and narcotics are outlawed.

Another change was prompted by the record 290 nominations received for this year's running of the Kentucky Derby. "To insure the safety of horses and riders," said Keene Daingerfield, senior state steward, "the commission is limiting the number of horses that can run at one time and requiring that all horses break from a starting gate."

In effect, that new regulation limits the number of starters at the Kentucky Derby to 26. However, the Derby can be run in separate divisions.

The rule change most fans will probably notice puts the apprentice jockeys on a sliding weight-allowance scale similar to scales used in all other racing states. Instead of giving all apprentices the same weight allowance, the new rule allows apprentices to carry 10 pounds less than other jockeys until they've won 10 races; seven pounds less until they've won 30 races, and five pounds less for the first year.

In the racing programs, apprentices were designated by an asterisk. Now, new symbols will be used to designate what stage of apprenticeship the jockey has reached.

SEBASTOPOL, Calif. (AP)—California's newest rental service is "Rent-A-Tree."

For as little as $25 a year, Michael Martin and Jerry Abbott will rent an apple tree in their 13-acre orchard in this lush Russian River country 60 miles north of San Francisco.

With the fee go full picking, sitting and climbing rights. Only chopping is frowned upon. The owners take care of all the less romantic chores such as pruning, spraying and propping.

"Our motto is 'We Care for Your Tree,'" Martin said, a 35-year-old former social worker, said in an interview Monday. "It will give people from the city a chance for some unusual recreation in the country."

"We also hope it will give us a profitable way of harvesting apples by eliminating the middlemen," Martin said. He said he and Abbott, a 36-year-old attorney, both have "been in apples all our lives," and bought the orchard bit by bit over the past few years.

Customers will be able to choose from among more than 100 trees, priced according to the number of apples they yield at harvest time.

Martin said the $25 variety is good for about three boxes of apples, while a few giant trees that rent for $150 apiece can fill up to 60 boxes.

Each rented tree will carry a redwood plaque on a chain giving the name of its tenant. Renters will have free use of a grove of fir trees for picnicking.

"We're selling more than apples," Martin said. "Although they'll have only one tree, they'll be able to enjoy the whole orchard."

Martin said he and Abbott got the idea for "Rent-A-Tree" from similar experiments that have succeeded in the eastern United States and Europe.

The first trees will be available for rental this weekend during a local apple blossom festival, Martin said.

Columnist Hal Boyle Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Hal Boyle, a gentle spirit in an ungentle world, has died at 63.

Harold Vincent Boyle was for 30 years as much a fixture in hundreds of American newspapers as the weather report. His promise was always, in 7,680 columns for The Associated Press, a brighter tomorrow.

Boyle died of a heart attack at his home here Monday.

Funeral arrangements tentatively include a memorial service in New York, where he worked more than half his life as a daily columnist. Burial will be in Kansas City, Mo., the place of his birth.

Boyle's death came four months after he had learned that he was the victim of a rare, crippling, incurable disease — amyotrophic lateral sclerosis. The disease is more commonly known as "Lou Gehrig's disease" because it felled the famed baseball player.

Three American Party candidates filed Monday for three congressional posts in Kentucky.

Dr. Robert W. Yoak of Central City filed in the 1st District. He is a chiropractor, native of Fairmont, W. Va., and Army Air Corps veteran.

Eland Neville of Park City filed in the 2nd District. He is a farmer, native of Barren County and Air Force Reserve Major.

Neville said he would campaign against Democratic incumbent William Natcher's "ultra-liberal voting record."

Dr. Albert G. J. Cullum of Middlesboro filed in the 5th District. He is a surgeon and was an Air Corps Major in World War II.

He said the most important issue in every election "ought to be the restitution of the (U.S.) constitution."

Cullum said traditional liberties are being usurped "by volumes of laws and regulations that are manifestly unconstitutional and are lethal to our way of life."

Hospital Strike In Second Day

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The strike of 950 service and maintenance employees at Appalachian Regional Hospitals in three states entered its second day today — with one hospital administrator planning to seek a court injunction to "regain order" at his hospital.

Pickets were reported at nine hospitals in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia.

In Man, W. Va., several student nurses were "roughed up" Monday, and one was injured seriously enough to require medical treatment, according to hospital administrator Dalton Smart. He said he planned to seek the court injunction today.

Smart said warrants were sworn out Monday for three men allegedly engaged in beating up an administrative assistant attempting to move a truck.

Jay Coberly, executive vice president of the health-care system, said there were reports of scattered incidents, but none could be confirmed.

Coberly said patients would continue to be sent home "to lower the occupancy rate and permit the remaining employees to care adequately for patients."

Negotiations between representatives of the United Steelworkers of America and ARH were scheduled to resume here Thursday, with a federal mediator present.

The strike began at 12:01 a.m. Monday after union members voted over the weekend to reject the ARH's final contract offer and agreed to call the walkout.

Women Of Oaks Club To Play Golf Thursday

The women of the Oaks Country Club will play golf at the club on Thursday, April 11, at ten a.m.

A potluck luncheon will be served at noon and a business meeting will follow the lunch.

Minimax dues will be collected at this time and all women of the club are urged to attend the meeting. If unable to attend, members are asked to send their dues to Mrs. Max Walker.

Don Dillion To Display Works At Art Guild

Don Dillion of Anna, Ill., graduate student of Southern Illinois University, will exhibit his work at the Murray Art Guild from Thursday, April 4, through Sunday, April 7.

The Guild will be open from eleven a.m. to three p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and from one p.m. to four p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Dillion's paintings will follow two artistic paths, non-objective and realistic. He was born in Southern Illinois and relies heavily on his environment for his inspiration in his realistic studies.

While serving in the U. S. Army, Dillion was trained and worked as a cartographic draftsman and this influenced his training in non-objective art.

At present Dillion is a senior at SIU majoring in art with a concentration in studio painting.

Nixon's Brother Scheduled To Testify In Mitchell Case

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's younger brother, Donald Nixon Sr., was scheduled today among windup government witnesses today in the Mitchell-Stans criminal conspiracy trial.

The way for the 59-year-old Nixon's appearance was cleared late Monday when Federal Judge Lee P. Gagliardi refused to dismiss a government subpoena for his witness stand appearance. Nixon was understood to have pleaded ill health.

The government said it expects to rest its case today and Wednesday. Since the trial began Feb. 19 with jury selection, 31 prosecution witnesses have been called.

Donald Nixon is the father of Donald Nixon Jr., 26, an aide and traveling companion of financier Robert L. Vesco, currently a fugitive defendant in the indictment of former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and one-time Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans.

Mitchell and Stans are accused of impeding a massive Securities and Exchange Commission fraud investigation into Vesco's multi-billion dollar corporate empire in return for his secret $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's re-election campaign.

The indictment charges that Vesco attempted to submit a written memo to Donald Nixon in November 1972, "the purport and tenor of which was to threaten disclosure of the secret cash contribution and other adverse consequences unless the SEC was directed to drop all legal proceedings against Vesco."

Earlier testimony at the trial was that Vesco hoped through his memo to Donald Nixon "to get a message to the top" — the President.

The memo was delivered instead to Mitchell, according to prior testimony, and he turned it over to Harry L. Sears, a New Jersey Republican politician who had become Vesco's $60,000 a year legal aide. It ended up on the shelf of a closet in Sears' Boonton, N.J., home.

The indictment claims Mitchell thereby concealed the existence and contents of the memo from the SEC "and other law enforcement agencies which properly should have been made aware of it."

This was a part of the conspiracy charge against Mitchell and Stans.

Kentucky Memorial Erected At Shiloh

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A memorial marker to Kentuckians will be dedicated Saturday in Shiloh National Military Park in Tennessee.

The marker of cast aluminum, supported by two pillars of Kentucky limestone, will honor Kentucky soldiers who fought in the battle of Shiloh during the Civil War.

The ceremony will coincide with the first day of the battle 112 years ago and with the fatal wounding of Confederate Gen. Albert Sidney Johnston of Kentucky.

Girl Scout Troop 52 from Clinton and former State Rep. T. C. Simmons will be on hand for the ceremony.

The girls visited Shiloh in 1971 and expressed disappointment that Kentucky had no marker there. They told Simmons who sponsored legislation to erect a Kentucky memorial.

Prisoner's Mail Subject Of Motion

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A motion has been filed on behalf of a Kentucky State Penitentiary inmate asking that state corrections officials appear in court and show why they should not be held in contempt of court for alleged violations of a federal court order issued last September.

U.S. District Court Judge Charles M. Allen ruled Sept. 21 that prisoners' mail from attorneys, government officials and representatives of the news media is "privileged correspondence" and may be opened only in the presence of the inmate to whom it is addressed.

That decision was made on a suit filed by John Brenton Preston, an inmate at the state penitentiary, challenging prison mail censorship practices. Preston, on whose behalf the most recent motion was filed, was sentenced to a life term in 1965 on an armed robbery charge.

The motion charges that prison authorities have violated Allen's order by opening and inspecting, without the inmates' presence or permission, incoming mail from such places as several newspapers, circuit court clerks and departments of corrections in other states.

Corrections Commissioner Charles J. Holmes and penitentiary Supt. Henry Cowan have 13 days to respond to the motion filed last week.

Musical Show Will Be Held At Hazel

A musical show will be held at the Hazel Elementary School on Saturday, April 6, at 7:30 p.m. Fire Mountain, Inc., will be the band to present a program of two hours. All types of music will be featured.

This special event is sponsored by the school and the public is invited to attend, according to Roy Cothran, school principal.

Only One Of Eight Obscenity Measures Survived Legislature

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Of eight bills aimed at controlling pornography and obscenity in Kentucky only one survived the 1974 legislative session.

The rash of obscenity legislation was introduced in the wake of the supreme court ruling last June that allowed communities to set local standards for pornography.

The only bill to clear both houses of the legislature and be signed into law by the governor deals with just one aspect of pornography — movies.

It prohibits theaters from showing previews of X-rated or R-rated movies if a G-rated or GP-rated film is being shown in the same theater.

A far more comprehensive bill that attempted to set statewide standards for the sale and distribution of obscene material died without ever being considered in committee.

Its sponsor, Rep. William Kenton, D-Lexington, said it would have given relief to merchants such as the small shop owner who has to decide what to sell and what to display.

"Part of the horror I have as a private attorney is that the supreme court gave local communities the right to set their own standards," Kenton said. "It's rough on the little guy with the grocery stand on the corner — he's not in a position to make that kind of decision."

Kenton's bill would have established procedures for the seizure of allegedly obscene materials, for declaratory judgments and for injunctions. The measure would have allowed criminal prosecution only if the defendant distributed obscene materials after a final injunction was issued.

Any other governmental unit would have been barred from regulating obscene materials in any way.

Kenton said the bill died because it was not his first priority and he did not have time to work on it. He said opposition from the attorney general's office — on the basis of cost — also helped kill the bill.

Corbin, and KPA secretary-manager George Wilson.

"We now find that the bill would open certain records that should remain confidential, such as student records and some forms of tax records," the statement said.

"The Kentucky Press Association has no desire to invade certain areas of privacy," it continued. "Although we endorse the intent of House Bill 22 and expect future session of the General Assembly will enact a fair open records bill, we feel that in all fairness to the citizens of Kentucky, we must respectfully call on the governor of Kentucky to exercise his veto on the bill as it now appears."

The KPA asked the Legislative Research Commission to prepare a bill for the next General Assembly that removed the objectionable features of HB 22.

state, along with several temporary power outages.

At Grayson, the roof of a two-story dormitory at Kentucky Christian College was damaged, but no students were injured. Sixteen women were transferred to other quarters.

Wind damage and downed power lines also were reported in much of Southern Jefferson County.

Several barns were damaged at Princeton.

Early Monday night, large hail was reported at the airport at London in Southeastern Kentucky, in Grant County in Northern Kentucky and at Madisonville in the western portion of the state.

The National Weather Service said the band of intense thunderstorms resulted from the combination of a mass of warm moist air from the South and an advancing cold front.

A total of 28 twisters swept through a wide area including Tennessee, Ohio and Mississippi in addition to Alabama and Kentucky.

A tornado swooped down the sprawling 100 Oaks Shopping Center in Nashville, Tenn., where hundreds of persons were shopping. Windows were blown out, stores were inundated and debris was strewn about.

High winds smashed into Central State Hospital, a few miles eastward, collapsing part of one building, blowing away a guard shack and knocking out power to the 1,800-patient hospital.

Another tornado churned through Cincinnati, Ohio, narrowly missing the downtown area. No injuries were reported, but there was extensive damage to houses, trees and cars.

Several tornadoes were reported in Mississippi. The Bolivar County Civil Defense office said high winds caused between $125,000 and $150,000 damage at Margold.
