Plan Outlined For Reciprocal Tuition

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A state education official has outlined a limited college tuition reciprocity program for Kentucky and Tennessee which could be implemented this fall.

The program would be a compromise version of a broader reciprocity program discussed previously by Kentucky and Tennessee higher education officials, but stifled because of the Tennessee legislature's recent failure to adopt legislation authorizing its schools to participate in such an arrangement.

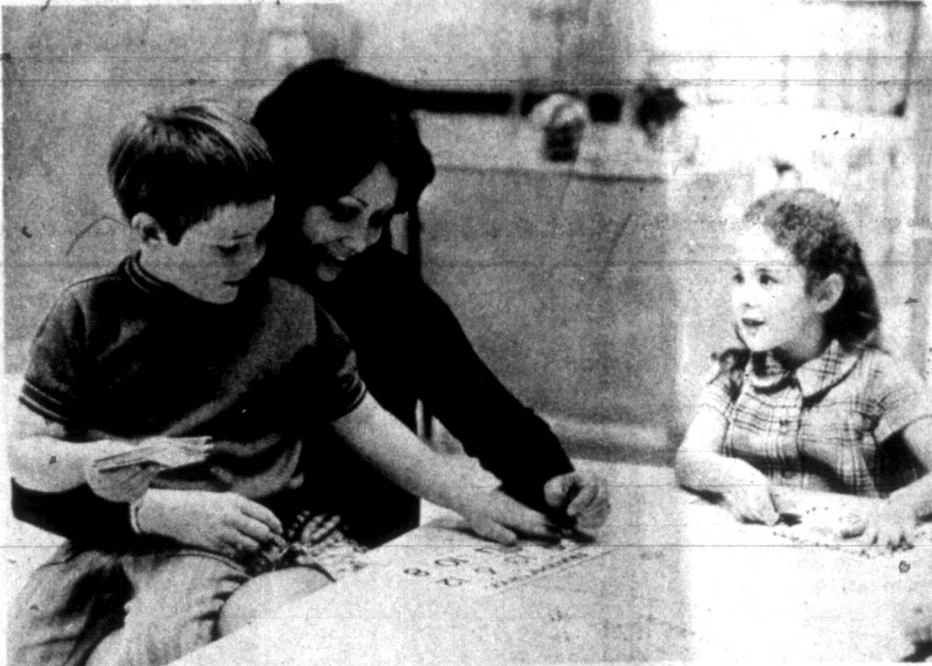

If the plan had been adopted and implemented, Kentucky and Tennessee would have become the third and fourth states in the nation to allow residents of either state to attend at residential tuition rates the state-supported colleges or universities in the other state.

Harry Snyder, the Kentucky higher education council's associate director for finance, says an alternative to the original reciprocity program would extend reduced or in-state tuition rates to approximately the same number of Tennessee residents to attend Murray State and Western Kentucky Universities as Austin Peay extends to the residents of certain Kentucky counties.

Such a limited reciprocity program would have to be approved by the Council on Public Higher Education.

A state attorney general's opinion states that legislative approval is not necessary for Kentucky to participate in a reciprocal tuition arrangement with Tennessee or any other state.

Property Losses From Tornado Expected To Exceed $100 Million

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Insurance officials meeting Tuesday with Gov. Wendell Ford indicated that insured property losses from last Wednesday's tornadoes will probably exceed $100 million in Kentucky.

Officers of the American Insurance Association (AIA) and the Insurance Information Institute said early estimates placed statewide insured tornado losses at $82 million. That figure excludes uninsured losses, on which they had no estimates.

Jefferson County alone, they calculated, suffered $37.5 million in insured property losses. They said 900 houses were destroyed in the county at an estimated loss of $22.5 million; 1,000 homes had major damage estimated at $10 million; 2,750 houses had less severe damage totaling $687,500.

Damage to 1,000 automobiles, they said, came to $1 million. Total damage to the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center, three schools, one church and one industry in Jefferson County was put at $3.5 million.

State Insurance Commissioner Harold McGuffey reminded Kentuckians that they should not have to pay for insurance adjusting services in connection with the tornadoes. He added that insurance companies in various states have been asking his help in getting names of persons killed in the storms, in order to expedite payments to beneficiaries.

Ford said the insurance department stands ready to help any person or business who has problems concerning insurance coverage. The department may be reached at 502-264-3630.

An estimate of statewide uninsured losses is expected to be ready by the end of next week, insurance officials said.

Thomas Preston, Ford's press secretary, said steps were taken Tuesday to speed up transfer of mobile homes from the Blue Grass Ordinance Works near Lexington to homeless tornado victims in various parts of the state.

Preston said there should be a "constant flow" of mobile homes this week to areas affected by the storms. He also said 1,000 National Guardsmen called up for tornado duty were to be released by Wednesday morning, with the possible exception of those in Stamping Ground in Scott County.

Tennis Courts On Agenda

Privilege License Ordinance Scheduled At Council Meeting

An ordinance increasing privilege licenses for businesses in the City of Murray will be read on the second reading at the regular meeting of the Murray City Council at 7 p.m. at City Hall Thursday night. If the council approves the ordinance, it will be enacted.

Also on the agenda for the meeting will be a discussion concerning the relocation of tennis courts which were originally to be located adjacent to Murray High School. Indications today were that the courts would be proposed to be located in the present City Park.

The council will discuss a revised fee schedule for use of the city-owned landfill and will hear a proposal for the rental of an elevated scraper for use at the landfill.

Included on the agenda will be the second reading of an ordinance rezoning a lot at 905 Sycamore from residential use to professional office and the employment of two additional patrolmen for the police force.

Cook Says At Least Two Others Received Written Notification

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., says at least two other congressional candidates in Kentucky were sent timely warnings after they omitted vital information from their filing papers, but that he was given no such warning and was bumped from the May primary ballot in consequence.

Secretary of State Mrs. Thelma Stovall contacted Cook the day after the filing deadline of April 3 and told him his name could not appear on the ballot because he failed to submit the name of his campaign treasurer before the deadline.

Cook said here Tuesday that U.S. Rep. Gene Snyder, R-Jefferson County, also failed to designate his campaign treasurer when Snyder initially filed in January.

Snyder, he said, received a written memo from the secretary of state's office instructing him to mail back forms containing the treasurer's name before April 3.

Cook also cited a letter sent by Mrs. Stovall to U.S. Rep. Tim Lee Carter, R-Tompkinsville, after Carter had failed to name his treasurer in his filing papers.

He said if Mrs. Stovall hadn't accepted his filing papers on March 22 he "would have immediately filled out a form and duly complied with the statute" requiring his treasurer's name. Mrs. Stovall could not be reached for comment Tuesday. She told reporters last week, however, that her office had sent written warnings to some congressional candidates who had mailed in incomplete filing papers.

She gave Cook oral warning March 22 that he had not included the campaign treasurer's name. Cook has acknowledged telling her then that he would take care of the omission later. But he failed to do so before the filing deadline.

Cook is now seeking a court order requiring Mrs. Stovall to restore his name to the ballot. His attorneys Monday obtained a court order prohibiting certification of any candidates until a hearing is held on Cook's claim that he is in "substantial compliance" with the state's filing law.

Sid Easley Presented With Honor By Tau Phi Lambda Sorority Here

Sid Easley was honored as outstanding citizen by the Tau Phi Lambda Sorority of the Woodmen of the World, Murray State University, chapter, on Tuesday, April 9, at the Board of Directors Room at the Woodmen Build.

Mrs. Loretta Jobs, advisor of the sorority and field representative of the Woodmen, made the presentation. "The Woodmen of the World takes great pride in honoring many citizens of our nation each year. We wish to simply say 'thank you' to those who have worked hard to accomplish something special."

"Since before the turn of our century, the Woodmen has been publicly recognizing and thanking those who have 'gone the extra mile' in helping others, in studying harder, in providing services when those services may be desperately needed. We of the Woodmen, nationally, and in our local chapter of Tau Phi Lambda, MSU, here in Murray feel that Mr. Easley's willingness to devote time and talents, effort and energies to worthwhile causes is a contributing factor to our community's greatness."

"Tonight, we publicly recognize and thank Sid Easley who has gone the extra mile in that old-fashioned way that helped make our community a great place in which to live. In the past, our sorority has provided awards to our deserving citizens and neighbors. Last year's honoree was Dr. Harry Sparks. These appreciation awards simply say 'thank you.' We now have the pleasure of adding one more Sid Easley."

Easley is presently serving as treasurer of the American Red Cross, vice-chairman of the Regional Crime Council, vice-chairman of the First United Methodist Church, a member of the Regional Mental Health Board, and a member of the Woodmen.

Mr. Easley, Calloway County Attorney, resides on Loch Lomond with his wife, Melissa and two children, Eric, age 4 and Don, age 2. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Johnson Easley.

SID EASLEY was presented with a plaque as "Outstanding Citizen" by the Tau Phi Lambda Sorority, WOW, MSU Chapter, on Tuesday. The presentation was made by Mrs. Loretta Jobs, advisor of the sorority and field representative of the Woodmen.

Students Win Honors at Kentucky Youth Assembly; Teacher Honored

The Hi-Y and Tri-Alpha Clubs of Murray High School won top honors in the 29th Kentucky Youth Assembly, a YMCA-sponsored mock legislative convention held April 4-6 in Louisville and Frankfort, Kentucky.

Two juniors, Doug Spencer and Becky Sams, won awards for top performance in the Senate; and the Murray Tri-Alpha Club was recipient of the Top Ten Award, designating it to be the club rated number eight in the state out of 200 member clubs.

The legislation proposed and debated by the Murray delegates, Senate Bill 20, which would permit voters to recall newly-enacted legislation by petitioning for its placement on the ballot at the next general election, was passed in both Senate and House and signed into law by the KYA Governor, Steve Nice, of Louisville.

Only seven other bills were passed during the three-day convention. These included a bill to outlaw busing for racial balance, one to establish a state lottery, one establishing a program of emergency medical care, one permitting pregnant students to remain in school, one placing certain restrictions on Kentucky abortion laws, one establishing a community college system independent of the University of Kentucky, and one providing for certain prison corrections.

Governor Nice, in signing Senate Bill 20 into law, described it as one of the most significant acts debated in that it promised the citizens of Kentucky a more active involvement in the government of the state. The bill was prepared by the Murray delegation with the assistance of their Representative to the General Assembly, Kenneth Imes.

Stubblefield Appreciation Tickets On Sale

Tickets to a barbecue dinner honoring First District U.S. Congressman, Frank A. Stubblefield, are now on sale at the congressman's office on Fifth Street or from any of several friends of Stubblefield who are putting on the dinner.

The dinner will be held April 20 at the Murray State University Fieldhouse and tickets are $1 per person. The dinner is being held to pay tribute to Rep. Stubblefield for his service to the district during eight terms in the House.

Break-In Is Reported At Sykes Cafe Tuesday

A $31 jigsaw was taken in a burglary reported at the Sykes Cafe Tuesday, according to Murray City Police.

Investigating officers said entry was gained by breaking out a window on the west side. The intruders also ransacked the cabinets in the restaurant.

Stuart Poston Gives Program At Lions Club

Stuart Poston, administrator of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital, had charge of the program at the regular meeting of the Lions Club held Tuesday evening.

Poston gave a talk on the Hospital Blood Bank program pointing out the needs for this program. He explained how the blood is secured from outside sources when not available here.

David Walker, a staff member of the hospital, presented a sound film concerning this program which showed how the component parts of blood can be extracted for specific use and how it could be frozen and kept pure for an indefinite time.

Poston expressed his appreciation for the recent Lions Club donation to the Blood Bank. The club voted to continue their help in promoting the blood bank in the future. More information will be presented at a later date.

Lion President James Harmon announced the spring light bulb sale will be held April 23 and urged all members to participate.

Preceding the dinner the invocation was given by Max Beale.

Pre-registration For Headstart Tuesday

Pre-registration for the Murray Headstart for the year 1974-75 will be held on Tuesday, April 16, from nine a.m. to twelve noon at the Headstart Center on North Second Street.

For information persons may call 753-7286, a Headstart spokesman said.

FOUR CAR CRASH—Capt. James Witherspoon directs traffic around the scene of a four car accident on South Fourth Street Tuesday afternoon. Police reported no one injured in the wreck. The cars driven by Daniel Adams, Annita Duncan, Rosemary Todd and Charles Dodd.

Four Accidents In City; No Injuries

Four accidents have been investigated by Murray City Police, but no injuries have been reported in any of the incidents.

At 6:38 a.m. Tuesday, vehicles driven by Joe W. Darnell, Route Three, and David C. Steele, Hardin, were involved in a collision at the intersection of First and Maple Streets, according to police.

Officers said the vehicles were going north on First when the accident occurred. Damage to the Darnell truck was to the left front, and damage to the Steele truck was to the right door.

At 3:05 p.m. Sunday, a car driven by Tommie Morris was involved in an accident on Spruce St., according to police.

Officers said the car left the street, and went through the lawn of Fred Johnson, causing about $200 damage.

At 3:35 p.m. Tuesday, a four-car accident occurred at Fourth and Elm Streets, involving cars driven by Daniel Adams, Route One; Annita F. Duncan, Route Six; Rosemary Y. Todd, Kirksey; and Charles R. Dodd, Route Four according to police.

Investigating officers said the Adams car was going west on Elm, the Duncan car was going south on Fourth, and the Todd and Dodd cars were going north on Fourth when the accident occurred.

Damage to the Adams car was to the right front, damage to the Duncan car was to the left side and front, and damage to the Todd and Dodd cars was to the left front and side.

At 4:04 p.m. Tuesday, cars driven by Mary D. Hall, 1210 Dogwood, and J.T. Laws, Martin, Tenn., were involved in a two-car collision at the intersection of Woodlawn and Poplar, according to police.

Officers said the Hall car was going east on Poplar, and the Laws car was pulling onto the street from a driveway, when the accident occurred. Damage to the Hall car was to the left rear quarter panel and damage to the Laws car was to the right front.

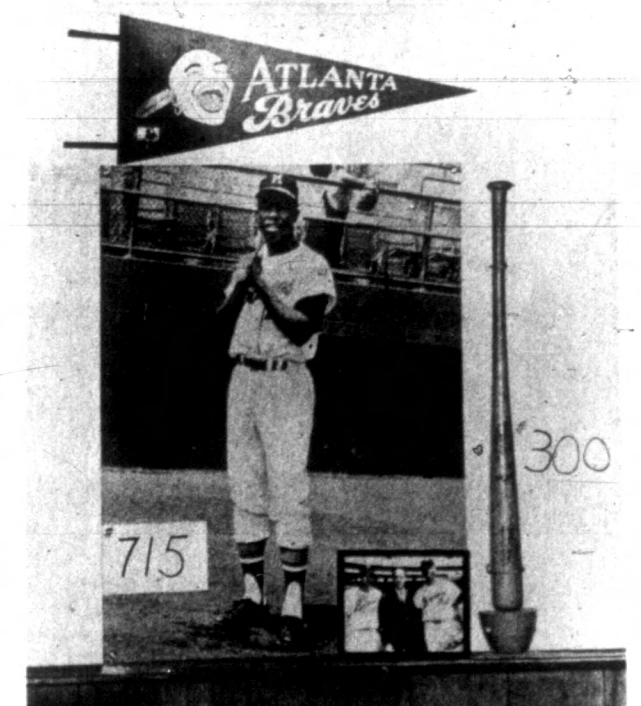

Auction Scheduled On MSU-TV Monday

A live auction will be held Monday, April 15, on MSU-TV, cable channel 11, in an effort to raise funds for additional equipment for the community television station.

Merchandise has been donated to the auction by Murray businessmen and the merchandise will be auctioned to the highest bidder.

The auction will begin at 6 p.m. and will continue until the last item has been sold, a spokesman for the station said.

Methodist Women Of Good Shepherd Hold Regular Meet

The Good Shepherd United Methodist Church Women met at the church for the March meeting at 1:30 p.m. with twelve members present.

Mrs. Mildred Smith, president, opened the meeting. The minutes were read by Mrs. Lee Lassiter and the roll call was by Mrs. Alice Knight.

"Christians Who Differ" was the theme of the program presented with Mrs. Mildred Smith as the leader. The opening song was "Have Thine Own Way" and Mrs. Smith read II Corinthians 4:1-15 followed by prayer.

Mrs. Smith said the program was not intended primarily as a forum for the discussion of theological differences, since such discussion frequently increases enmity, makes love for each other more difficult and the divisions sharper; rather it is hoped that through study of the Bible passages in the program resources, attitudes will be seen which will enable both conservatives and liberals to grow in respect for each other and in their ability to work together in the church. She said only when such attitudes are present and when all persons are "walking in the spirit," can differences be discussed fruitfully.

Scriptures were read by Mrs. Katherine Wilson from Genesis 2:15-17 and 3:1-10, Mrs. Lee Lassiter Luke 6:35-45, Mrs. Olia Lassiter I Thessalonians 1:2-5 and 3:8, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, John 14:1-17, Mrs. Maggie Woods Luke 4:14-21, and Mrs. Mildred Smith, I Thessalonians 5.

The twelve members present were Mildred Smith, Olia Lassiter, Margaret Woods, Esther Sigmon, Emma Knight, Lee Lassiter, Ruth Wilson, Lois Marsh, Audie Green, Alice Knight, Maggie Wood, and Katherine Wilson, with the latter being hostess.

Mrs. Hodges Guest Speaker At Spring Fellowship Meet

The 1974 Christian Women's Fellowship Spring Conference was held on March 28 at the First Christian Church of Paducah.

The theme was: "Consider the Wind and the Flame."

Attending from Murray were: Mrs. A.B. Austin, Mrs. Jean Bordeaux, Mrs. Jean Fleming, Mrs. Helen Hodges, Mrs. Jewell Jones, Mrs. T.N. McDougal, Mrs. Rupert Parks, Mrs. Karen Pricer (Bardwell Church), Mrs. R.H. Robbins, Mrs. Paz Roberts, Mrs. Glenda Roos, and Mrs. Hawkins Valentine.

Mrs. Helen Hodges gave a delightful Book Chat, and Mrs. R.H. Robbins took part in the Love Gift Ceremony. Mrs. Andrew Palmer, District Secretary, presided over the meeting.

All area churches were well represented and the entire program was well planned and carried out in a most interesting manner.

Bacon Comes to Dinner

Candorian-style bacon, popular on the breakfast menu, makes great luncheon or supper main dishes too. For a tasty example, panbroil quarter-inch thick slices of Candorian-style bacon and serve with your favorite hot German potato salad.

MURRAY LEDGER & TIMES For and about Women

For Some Women, Life Begins At 60

"The fellow who said life begins at forty was 20 years off," said Mrs. Lyla Dix when she began a new career last year, at the age of 60, as an English teacher at the University of Miami in Florida.

Mrs. Dix who retired 30 years ago as a writer and public relations counselor to raise a family, was one of the some 15 million women between the ages of 45 and 64 in the nation's labor force last year.

While Mrs. Dix was starting her new career, a 69-year-old widow in New York, Mrs. Persis S. Widemann, a grandmother with no legal training, acted as her own lawyer in suing the Federal government for $900 in retroactive Social Security death benefits. The government had denied her the benefits on the grounds she had waited too long after becoming a widow to submit her claim. She wrote her own lengthy brief and won a very complicated case.

Mrs. Dix and Mrs. Widemann are but two examples of the energy and resourcefulness of a great many women over the age of 60 — a group which has tripled in number within a half-century.

As for the employment record of older women, Department of Labor statistics show that nearly one out of 10 women over 65 is working, compared with nearly one out of every four men.

The life styles of older women tend to differ from those of men. A considerable proportion of the women 65 and over are widowed and live alone, while the men are more frequently married and living with their wives.

One reason for the large number of older widows is the fact that women usually live longer than men do. Moreover, widowers are more likely than widows to remarry and when they do they often have wives from among women under 65.

Older women, whether engaged in outside employment or not, often perform a variety of volunteer tasks. These may range from working with disadvantaged children at Indian reservations to reading to the blind in urban communities, or helping in hospital, church and community projects.

If the financial situation of many women in the older age group still leaves much to be desired, more women today receive income than ever before; some 86 per cent compared with 73 per cent in 1958. In addition to paid jobs, their money comes from Social Security, private pensions and life insurance proceeds. There may also be personal savings, investments, or income from rentals or other property.

While recent years have not as yet witnessed any concerted movement for Older Women's Lib, women in that age category can point to the Meses. Dix, Widemann, anthropologist Margaret Mead, writer Lillian Hellman, artist Georgia O'Keeffe and thousands of women like them — as well as Mrs. Indira Gandhi, the Prime Minister of India, and Mrs. Golda Meir, the Prime Minister of Israel, both well over 65 — as prime examples of women who remain vital and active at advanced ages.

Mr. and Mrs. Key Honored Recently

On Anniversary

The celebration of a half a century of marriage for Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Key of Murray was held Sunday, March 24, from two to four p.m. in the ball room of the Murray Woman's Club House.

For the festive occasion which was hosted by their two sons, Bonell E. Key of Cadiz and Bobby L. Key of Niles, Mich., Mrs. Key wore an orchid floor length gown trimmed in royal purple and golden cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Frances Spillman greeted the guests at the register. Gifts were received and recorded by Mrs. Merl Baker.

The gold and lace covered reception table held the golden tiered anniversary cake and the crystal stem punch bowl. Guests were served by Mrs. Charles Guthrie, Mrs. Hester H. Brown, Mrs. Thomas Lee Armstrong, Mrs. Tillman Windsor, and Mrs. Henry Armstrong.

Out of town relatives and friends in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Bobby L. Key and children, Philip, DeAnna, Paul, and Robert, Niles, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Bonnell Key and sons, David, Jimmie, and Ricky, Cadiz; Mr. and Mrs. Oris Key, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Key and sons, Alan and Daniel, Paducah; Mrs. Harry Key, Farmington; Mr. and Mrs. Halton James, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. Arie Key, Mrs. Merl Baker and Mrs. James Buchanan, all of Hazel; Mr. and Mrs. H.H. Brown, Mrs. C.M. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Windsor, and Glen, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Armstrong, Mrs. Frances Spillman, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Key, Bro. G.T. Moody, Almo, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wayne Batsel, Benton, Mrs. Lottie Key, Mr. and Mrs. Dolphus Key, Paris, Tenn.

HOT CROSS BUNS

The cross on hot cross buns dates back to pre-Christian cultures when breads imprinted with various symbols were offered to different gods as sacrifices. In England the hot cross bun was associated with the traditions of Good Friday, and until recently was only available on that day. In this country hot cross buns have been more a part of the Easter observance and are available throughout the Lenten season. The cross may be cut into the dough before baking or made on the bun with frosting.

MRS. JOE PAT Ward, director of Need-Line at the Social Service Center, accepts a check for $150 from Mrs. J. Matt Sparkman, representing the Murray Woman's Club. The money will be used to pay the rent on the building for a six month period.

STUART POSTON, administrator of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital accepts a check for $250 from Mrs. Matt Sparkman on behalf of the Murray Woman's Club. The money will be used toward the purchase of an infant intensive care unit for the Delivery Room and Nursery at the hospital.

Mrs. Dorothy Nanny Speaker For Meeting of Hazel Woman's Club

Mrs. Dorothy Nanny, social worker with the Kentucky Department of Human Resources in Calloway County, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Hazel Woman's Club held on Thursday, March 21, at the Dees Bank of Hazel.

In her talk, Mrs. Nanny used the theme, "Trust," with the T for together, R is reaching, U for understanding, S for serving, and T for tomorrow. She described the trust program as developed exclusively for members of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs in cooperation with the Department of Human Resources to provide volunteer services for individuals within the community who are in need.

Mrs. Nanny said types of volunteers include transportation aids, child care aids, tutoring aids, friendly visitors, home management aids, and recreational aids. She said concern for one's fellowman is the essential quality of a volunteer because it is a personal feeling and is as broad and deep as the individual.

The club voted to do volunteer work and spent two days.

Mrs. Gerald Gallimore, president, presided. The pledge to the flag was made and the devotion was given by Mrs. Gerald Ray.

Saturday, May 11, is the date set for the Senior Citizens Day luncheon to be held at the Hazel Baptist Church. Committees were appointed.

Refreshments were served to the thirteen members and the guest, Mrs. Nanny.

Murray Star Chapter No. 433 Has Inspection, Worthy Grand Matron

A call meeting of Murray Star Chapter No. 433 Order of the Eastern Star was held Tuesday evening, March 26, at the Masonic Hall at which time the chapter was inspected by Mrs. Willeta King, worthy grand matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of Kentucky.

The chapter was opened in the form of regular meetings. The Bible was presented and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. Fay Lamb, chaplain. The flag of the United States was presented by Mrs. Twila Coleman, marshal, and allegiance given.

An addendum was given honoring the worthy grand matron. She was escorted to the altar by Mrs. Frances Churchill who presented her with a corsage. At this time Mrs. Ruth Moffett, framed by a large star, sang "Release Me From Sin," accompanied by Mrs. Louise Short, organist. Others taking part were Mrs. June Crider and Mrs. Nell Robbins. The worthy matron was then escorted to the worthy matron's station in the east.

The following visiting officers were welcomed and introduced: Christie Mae Staudt, GGCC Member, Clara Henrich Chapter 424 Paducah; Kate Richardson, Deputy Grand Matron District 18; Beurdan Wraether, Deputy Grand Matron District 22; Ollie Portis, Deputy Grand Patron District 22.

Guests also were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Farmer and Mildred Hendrix, Paris, Tenn.; Catherine and Lindsey Hale, Frankfort; Lorain and George Moore, Griffith, Ind.; Norma Byres, Memphis; all are officers in their respective chapters.

Worthy matrons introduced were Olene Portis, Hardin 277; Eunice Martin, Clinton 539; Wilma Holmes, Mayfield 443; Retta Balentine, Alford 445; Deana Wilson, Temple Hill 511. Worthy patrons introduced were Ollie Portis, Hardin 277; Elbert Britt, Mayfield 443; Jack C. Covey, Cuba 519.

An initiation was conducted during the meeting with the degrees of the order being conferred upon Venita and Don Winters. The solemn obligation was given by William E. Moffett, worthy patron, assisted by the worthy matron and Joe Lasater, associate patron.

Other officers assisting, not previously named, were Sybil Lasater, associate matron; Judith Jackson, secretary; Nell Robbins, treasurer; Brenda Newberry, conductress; Martha Hutchens, associate conductress; Star Points, Susan Moody, Adah, Marie Jones, Ruth, Mary Beth Carruthers, Esther, Eva Lamb, Martha, Patricia Evans, Electa, Bea Henry, warder, and Eunice M. Henry, sentinel.

The chapter was closed by the visiting Worthy Grand Matron.

A social hour followed with refreshments being served from a table centered with a beautiful arrangement of red satin roses, made by Martha Hutchens and belonging to June Crider. Sandwiches, relishes, potato chips, coffee mints, punch, and cake were served. Mrs. Eudene Robinson was chairman of the refreshment committee and was assisted in serving by some of the Murray officers.

One hundred and four members and officers attended.

Dr. Joe Cartwright Speaker At Meet

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met recently with twenty-one members and two guests present.

Dr. David Roos opened the meeting with prayer, and Mrs. Helen Hodges presided.

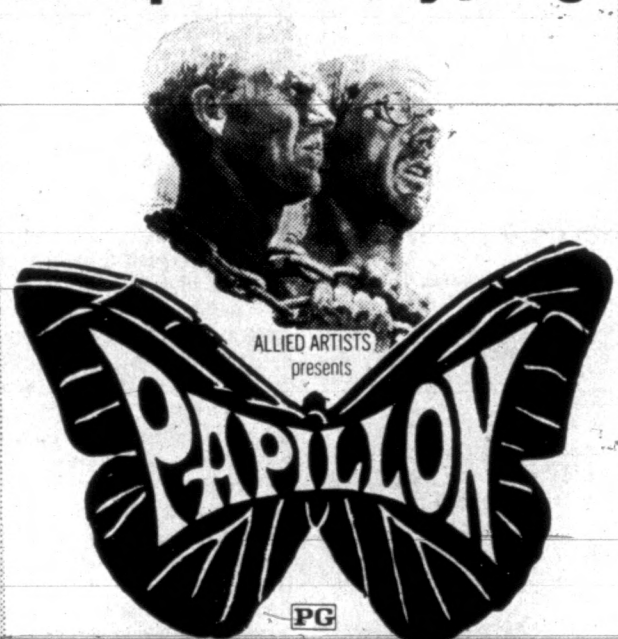

Dr. Joe Cartwright, a member of the History Department, M.S.U., was the guest speaker. He was introduced by Mrs. Glenda Roos. His talk was about Ida Wells Barnett, a Negro woman of great courage whose motto was "lifting as we climb".

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: As my husband and I were preparing to make a trip to Europe by air, one of my so-called dearest friends came to me and asked me if I would please get a $50,000 airplane insurance policy naming her as the beneficiary. She said she would gladly pay for the insurance!

I was shocked to say the least.

What do you think of such a suggestion from a supposed loving friend? I'd really like your opinion. PEACHES

DEAR PEACHES: Let me put it this way: If this "loving friend" invited me to her home for dinner, I'd wonder who she was loving, and I'd also take a food-taster along.

DEAR ABBY: It's a cinch you've never been to Alaska, otherwise you never would have told that 45-year-old woman who was husband hunting to go there.

There are no extra marriageable men here, plus jobs are scarce and prices are double. You should have told her not to go to Alaska unless she had a round-trip ticket and plenty of money. She's too old to be a go-go dancer. ERMA IN ANCHORAGE

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago I was hospitalized for a heart condition, and upon release, my doctor told me I had to take it easy.

My son, his wife and their three very active young children are neighbors to us, and the children are here more than they are at home. They wear me out, but I can't bring myself to send them home.

My husband hired a housekeeper to help me the last few weeks, but my daughter-in-law has begun to "borrow" her, so once again I am alone with those undisciplined children.

My daughter-in-law is a good girl, and I'm sure she doesn't realize the toll the children take on me. She's also very sensitive. My son tried talking to her about letting the children spend so much time at my house unsupervised, but she ended up in tears, all upset, and the next day they were back.

How can I handle this without hurting anyone? I love them all very much. NAMELESS, OF COURSE

DEAR NAMELESS: First, tell your housekeeper that she is not to be "borrowed" by your daughter-in-law. Then tell your daughter-in-law to please quit commandeering your help—that you love her and the kiddies, but you aren't up to having them over unless she is there to discipline them. Don't worry about her ending up in tears. Better that than you ending up in a box—before your time.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED AND WAITING IN N.J.: The answer is YES! See a physician at once. And if you can't get an appointment immediately or can't afford one, contact your public health department and tell them what you have told me. And do not wait another day!

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

Mrs. Robinson Is Hostess For Meet Contemporary Club

Mrs. Phyllis Robinson was hostess for the March meeting of the Contemporary Homemakers Club held at her home with the president, Mrs. Judy Cunningham, presiding and Mrs. Joyce Herndon, secretary, reading the minutes and calling the roll.

The devotion from James 5:13-18 was led by Mrs. Georgia Adams. Mrs. Cunningham attended the state homemakers meeting in Lexington March 20-22 and was also selected by the club as the most outstanding homemakers of the year to be in competition with all of the club's representatives from Calloway County. She is married to Danny Cunningham and they have three children, Deana, Dana, and Denise. They farm and reside on Murray Route Two.

Mrs. Phyllis Robinson gave the lesson on "Safety On The Road."

The craft lesson on "Quilting" was presented by Mrs. Barbara Gillum who had many patterns to show and had cut pieces so each member could start a quilt or pillow top.

Mrs. Gillum was elected as "homemaker for the month of March." She is married to Fred Gillum, 4-H agent for Calloway County, and they have three children, Terri, Traci, and Chris. They reside at Kirksey.

The afternoon was spent in quilting. Mrs. Dorothea Mathis was welcomed as a visitor. Also attending was Mrs. Sherry Hutson.

Pound cake with strawberry topping and Cokes were served by Mrs. Robinson.

Happenings At Calloway County High School

By Cindy Mills

"Hi, Teach!" are the first words to greet the attractive Sylvia Barrett. This is the moment for which she's worked so hard—her first day of teaching. There's a special happiness in walking into the still empty classroom. Then her moment is shattered. What follows might be called "uproarious"—for it's loud and funny. Sylvia finds herself the most involved person in the school—involved person in the school—involved in the start of a new romance, nearly in war with a discipline-over-everything administrator, but most of all involved in the unexpected, sometimes heartbreaking problems of her students.

One can see this and more in "Up the Down Staircase," a widely acclaimed book and movie which is being presented by the Spring Theater group of Calloway County High School, April 11 and 12 at 8 p.m. in Jeffery gymnasium.

"Up the Down Staircase" is based on the book by Bel Kaufman in which she relates her actual teaching experience to obtain the realism of the book.

This play has been viewed by many critics. One critic described it in this way, "the kind of 'funny' that hurts." Another said, "Seldom has a humorous work been at the same time so important."

Mrs. Jo Mathis, faculty sponsor, described it in this way, "This is one of the most humorous and meaningful plays we have ever done. Any teacher, student, or former student will identify with the characters and thoroughly enjoy the play."

Tickets for the play are now on sale; the price is $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

In the Spring Theater production of "Up the Down Staircase" the part of Sylvia is played by Teri Erwin. Other characters are Ken Orr, Brandon, Kathy Harding, Mike Farris, Bobby Scott, Kim Gray, Gena Cleaver, Cindy Bailey, Terry Beane, Sherry Haley, Monty Wilson, Bucky Erwin, Juana Stockdale, Theresa Dover, Kathy Calhoun, David Rudolph, Sandra Stark, Joe Ross, Betty Todd, Kirt Stubblefield, Teesa Erwin, Kathy Jackson, Regina Cook, Lance Hooks, York Stunson, Randy Herndon, Sandy Farris, Leah Vance, Jennifer Lovett, and Pam Robertson.

Students who are assisting in the production are Mike Farris—Student director, Kirt Stubblefield—Publicity chairman, Randy Herndon—Stage manager, and Doug McCann—Properties.

Hoping It Is

(From The Hopkinsville New Era)

If one reads newspapers and listens to the commentators, chances are he has come to the conclusion that the volunteer Army concept is working for local Ft. Campbell but not for some other military installations in the country.

Campbell's 101st Division, depleted by discharges after the famed outfit's return from Vietnam, rebuilt its ranks fairly quickly, mostly with volunteers from Kentucky, Tennessee, and other adjacent states. Recruiting success at the state-line fort has been described as being outstanding proof the all-volunteer principle will work.

But the word passed around in the immediate vicinity of Campbell and elsewhere has been that the overall effort to build a fighting force with volunteers leaves something to be desired.

Now comes Howard H. Calloway, the Secretary of Army, to declare this isn't true. He contends the Army has not only grown but also improved since the draft ended in 1972.

"It (the Army) is more disciplined," the secretary said recently. "It's a better Army."

When the draft ended the Army reportedly had only 10 fully formed combat divisions. This spring it has 13 such divisions, of which 10 are considered by the Army to be combat ready.

As far as the peacetime history of the United States is concerned, the principle of an all-volunteer Army has plenty of precedent. Prior to the start of the draft in 1940, the U.S. has always wiggled along militarily with a regular Army consisting entirely of volunteers.

But the skimpy peacetime Army between the two World Wars was at best only a skeleton outfit. Everybody knew it couldn't begin to fight a major war. But the powers-that-be reasoned correctly that any new outbreak of hostilities would allow time for a quick build-up of a fighting force.

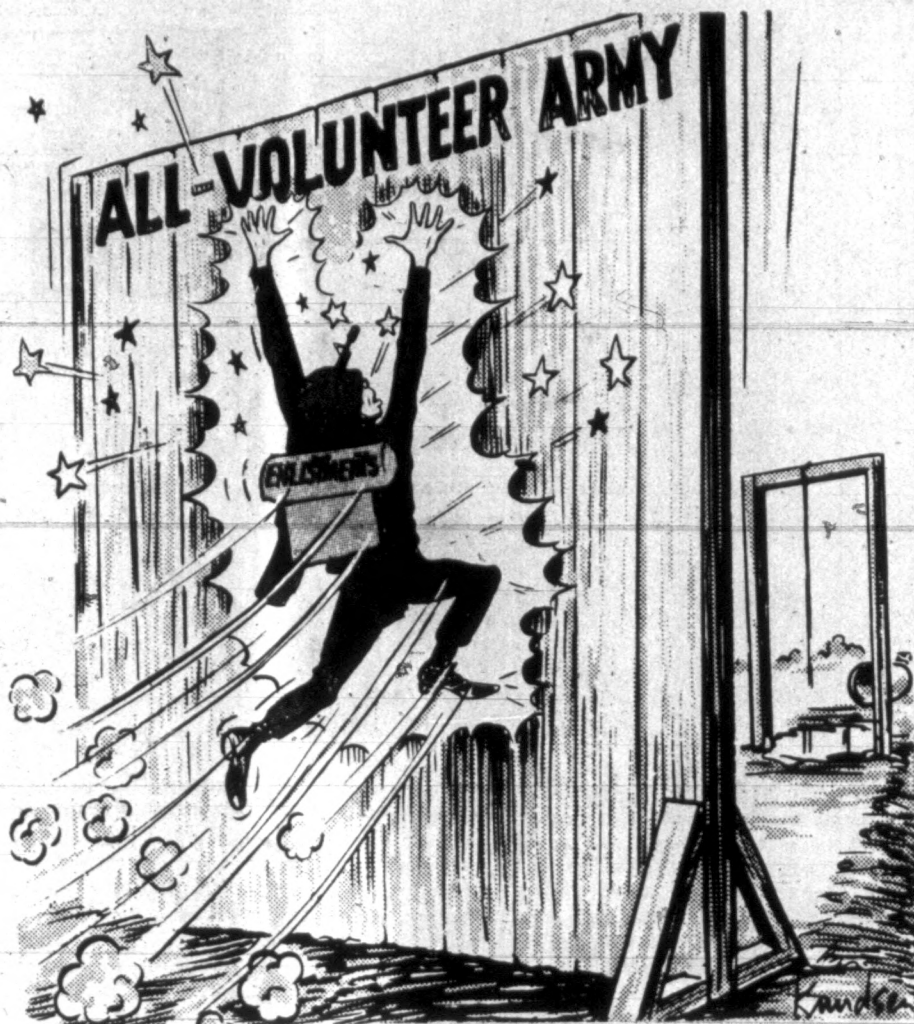

Needless to say, things have changed. If another war comes it will probably be a nuclear affair, quick and deadly. Whatever army a nation has trained when the killing begins will be all the fighting force that country can have to win or lose the war. No build-up time will be allowed.

Not a small factor to be studied in watching the success or failure of the new all-volunteer Army is the cloud which draft has always put over the heads of the nation's young men. It was hard to make any kind of family or career plans with the threat of being drafted hanging right overhead.

One has to take a lot of uncertainty over the period of a lifetime, but there is enough of this that we do not need to create more than absolutely necessary.

The current attempt to get along with an all-volunteer military clearly lifts a chilly cloud from the youth of the generation. The new situation is one everybody would prefer to see continue.

In an era when most of our news seems to be bad, any indication the volunteer Army is working should be welcomed enthusiastically. One has to hope the noble idea does succeed.

Roll Call Report

WASHINGTON—Here's how area Members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes March 28 through April 3.

HOUSE

INTERNAL SECURITY—Passed, 247 for and 86 against, a resolution to give the House Internal Security Committee, formerly the Committee on Un-American Activities, operating money for the remainder of 1974.

Those voting against wanted to abolish the controversial committee.

Supporters of the resolution (H. Res. 937) argued that Congress must keep watch on allegedly subversive and terrorist activities in the United States. Some argued that the continuing effort to abolish HISC is orchestrated by Communists.

Rep. Richard Ichord (D-Mo.) committee chairman, said Congress benefits from "the accurate information" collected on "kookie revolutionary" organizations, such as the Black Panthers and SDS.

Opponents argued that the committee is a cold war relic and performs watchdog duties better handled by the FBI. They said the committee's files on citizens are a dangerous invasion of privacy.

Rep. Robert Drinan (D-Mass.) said that members who vote "are implicitly voting for terrorism."

Reps. William Natcher (D-2), Gene Snyder (R-4), Tim Lee Carter (R-5), John Breckinridge (D-6) and Carl Perkins (D-7) voted "yea."

Rep. Romano Mazzoli (D-3) voted "nay." Rep. Frank Stubblefield (D-1) did not vote.

CONSUMER'S AGENCY—Rejected, 176 for and 223 against, a move to weaken the bill to create a Consumer Protection Agency. The overall bill (H.R. 13163) was later passed and sent to the Senate.

The agency would represent consumers in court by suing businesses alleged to advertise deceptively or sell unsafe products. It would get broad powers to enlist other agencies—such as the Federal Trade Commission—in its litigation.

The rejected amendment would have limited the CPA's access to information (such as trade secrets), restricted its courtroom options and applied the bill's provisions to labor unions as well as businesses.

The bill was lobbied intensively. The Administration hoped to weaken the bill, Nader representatives opposed any weakening, and the National Association of Manufacturers "totally opposed" the concept of the agency.

Supporters said the rejected amendment was a "responsible alternative" to creating an agency to "ride hard" on American business, and argued against creating "another commission" to "tell people how to live."

Opponents argued that limiting the agency's judicial standing would "gut the bill," which is a compromise worked out after five years of seeking consumer protection legislation.

Snyder and Carter voted "yea." Stubblefield, Natcher, Mazzoli, Breckinridge and Perkins voted "nay."

MILITARY BONUSES—Rejected, 194 for and 201 against, an amendment to eliminate proposed bonuses to attract dentists, optometrists and veterinarians into the military. The amendment would have limited bonuses to medical doctors.

The overall bill (S. 2770) was requested by the Defense Department to meet shortages of doctors in the volunteer army. The House Armed Services Committee added bonuses for other types of doctors.

The bill sets discretionary enlistment bonuses of up to $15,000, at a maximum cost of $106 million per fiscal year.

Those voting for said the additional bonuses will waste $31 million per year, and are opposed by the Defense Department. Rep. Les Aspin (D-Wis.) called them "ornaments on a Christmas tree." Some members argued that doctor shortages in civilian society are more critical than in the military.

Opponents argued that shortages of health officers will cause soldiers to seek out private practitioners, at taxpayers expense. Rep. Robert Leggett (D-Calif.) said this would make the taxpayers "pay it back in spades."

Mazzoli, Snyder, and Breckinridge voted "yea."

Stubblefield, Natcher, Carter and Perkins voted "nay."

SENATE

FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE—Refused, 34 for and 55 against, to table an amendment that requires candidates for federal office to disclose how much federal, state and local income and property taxes they pay. After defeating the move to kill the amendment, the Senate added the requirement to the campaign financing reform bill (S. 3044).

The amendment expands the bill's financial disclosure provisions, which also call for disclosure of sources of income. If the language becomes law the only tax information to remain private will be deductions a candidate claims, including donations to charities.

Supporters of tabling, and thus killing, the tax disclosure language argued that candidates for President, Senate and House deserve privacy.

Opponents argued that the public must be convinced that the vast majority of elected officials "abide by the laws they make and administer."

Sen. Marlow Cook (R) voted "nay." Sen. Walter Huddleston (D) did not vote.

ELECTION RESULT ANNOUNCEMENT—Passed 43 for and 38 against, an amendment to prohibit releasing results of presidential elections until midnight Eastern Standard Time.

The amendment was added to the campaign financing reform bill. Its thrust is to halt media projections of victory and defeat based on incomplete returns from eastern precincts.

Supporters argued that such predictions can influence election results in western time zones. They said a western-state voter, when told his candidate has lost, may not vote.

Opponents argued that enforcing the proposed law would be impossible. Other senators argued that the amendment will not stop media projections and, therefore, should be referred to committee for further study.

Cook voted "yea" and Huddleston did not vote.

SENATOR'S INCOME—Tabled, 61 for and 31 against, an amendment to bar senators and representatives from accepting payment for speaking engagements or writing books, except for "out-of-pocket" expenses. The honorarium ban was offered to the campaign financing reform bill.

The amendment was loaded down on an earlier vote with language to bar members of Congress from gaining income from any source that is subsidized by the federal government, including dividend income from a bank that has federal deposit insurance, or stock dividends from a federal contractor.

Supporters of tabling and thus killing the amendment generally argued that members should have the right to gain income from private sources.

Opponents generally argued that being an elected official is a fulltime occupation, and that restricting member's income to federal paychecks would guard against conflicts-of-interest.

Cook voted "nay" and Huddleston did not vote.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING rejected, 29 for and 52 against, an amendment to require newspapers and other print media to keep records of paid political advertisements, and to send the records to the federal government for publication prior to election days.

The amendment was offered to the campaign financing reform bill, which already would require the broadcast media to keep such records, but does not require transmitting the records to the government.

The thrust of the amendment was to double-check candidates' reports of money spent on advertising, as called for by the bill.

Supporters argued that such a check would assure accurate records. They said that sending the records to a central location would expedite the process.

Opponents argued against making the press an enforcing arm of the government. Sen. Lowell Weicker (R-Conn.) said the government can not force "the press to be candid."

Cook voted "nay" and Huddleston did not vote.

GUEST EDITORIALS

Welcome To The Club

ABC television commentator Harry Reasoner has blasted his colleagues at CBS, Time Newsweek, (and we could add some others) for unprofessional journalism in reporting Watergate and related matters. Welcome to the club, Mr. Reasoner. Many Americans who want straight information have been there ahead of you.

There is the right to editorial opinion, Mr. Reasoner points out, but he objects to slanted news stories. We all should. We need facts. We need opinions. But we need them separated and identified.

Fair reporting ought to be good business, but some of the biggest operators are the worst offenders.—Chattanooga (Tenn.) News-Free Press.

Cold Catching

Using the proceeds of a $71,000 federal contract, the University of Virginia comes up with a surprising conclusion about the transmission of the common cold from one person to another.

The researchers found that one is more likely to catch a cold by shaking hands than from kissing. The reason is that the most common method by which cold viruses pass into people's systems is from the hands to the nose and eyes rather than the common assumption that kissing is a prime suspect.

The suggestion here is that the common handshake may be something of a culprit as the cold season comes on. But that doesn't necessarily mean that osculation might be resorted to as a substitute. That, too, may have its dangers.—Memphis, (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal.

Timely Warning

Talk about timeliness. According to its publisher's blurb, a book just out entitled "The Coming Dark Age" gives a step-by-step account of the breakdown of modern technology that is just beginning with powder blackouts, traffic jams and fuel shortages.

The book is printed on modern, high-speed, electrically driven presses, on tons of quality stock manufactured in modern paper mills, with ink processed from a variety of chemical resources. It is distributed by means of modern, fuel-burning transport to a public which will read it for the most part by artificial lighting.

Just in time.—Shreveport (La.) Journal.

Letter To The Editor

Parole Board Questioned

Dear Editor:

On the Opinion page of the March 22, 1974 issue of the Louisville Courier-Journal was an article about Eddyville Penitentiary and the revamped Parole Board of twenty-one months existence.

The article in part quotes the Chairman of the Parole Board and its members of doing a fine job. However, the Legislative Review Commission decried the fact that Circuit Judges have divergent views on standards for parole and advocated that a conference be called to set standards to promote "equal justice for all."

Presently, the qualifications for parole are: (1) who do you know, and; (2) do you fall into the 33 1-3 per cent quota that is paroled each month? The same standards for parole that have been in existence for the past 50 years in Kentucky. The merit of a case is insignificant!

The La Grange Reformatory in March had only 43 paroled out of 136 who were eligible. At Eddyville in April, only 17 out of 46 were paroled. A total of only 60 out of 182 were granted parole. A new Parole Board with old ways. They should be replaced with a new board with new ways!

The Public is uncaring about penal and parole reform. But, the Public should not be uncaring about the 2 million dollars of their State and LEAA funds that are being squandered over a two year period on the pretense of updating the parole system! Seek an answer and you will be told that the State hired 55 probation officers last year and are hiring 66 more this year. Delve into the Parole Board's propriety in their paroles and you will confront a secrecy greater than a Federal grand jury. Inquire why there are more law suits against the Parole Board now than ever before, including one instituted by the Kentucky Civil Liberties Union????

The May Apples have sprung up overnight almost. They are up about ten inches.

Has anyone seen the Martin scouts as yet? We have not seen any.

Butterflies and moths are becoming more plentiful, an indication of spring in spite of the coldness of last night.

By way of protesting its use, Lt. Col. James Thompson, who spent nine years as a prisoner of the North Vietnamese was quoted by AP as saying: "I think people like Jane Fonda are traitors and I see no reason why they shouldn't hang for it."

What a tragedy. We certainly extend our sympathy to O. B. Boone Jr. and the kids, and the rest of the family.

The nicest accolade we heard at the funeral home was that the Lord was certainly receiving a sweet angel. Glenda Boone was just that, a sweet, warm, and intelligent young lady. She was a wonderful mother and wife and she was so active in so many things.

How dark the glass is from this side.

It is just as well that we do not know all there is to know.

O. B. has a strong faith though, and this is what will stand him in good stead.

There is a message in that each day on this earth counts. We argue over petty things, lose sleep over inconsequential, hardly realizing that everything is relative. We must move back from the action so that the perspective will be in proper focus.

FBI's Independence

Congress would be wise to proceed carefully on a bill to set a 10-year term for the FBI's director.

The proposal sounds good and seems to make the bureau less beholden to political influence. But we also must consider whether the FBI properly should be totally independent of checks and balances.

A specified term, with provision for one reappointment, might work well provided the right man gets the job. But there is a possibility that a director not answerable to a superior in government could indulge in empire building with serious consequences to the nation.

By nature, the FBI operation is secretive. Keeping its secretly used authority free of political, self-serving manipulators is imperative. But "independence" should not mean freedom from any restraint at all.

Laker Baseball Team Defeated By Reidland

Reidland High School's baseball team is picking up where it left off last season.

The Greyhounds, champions in the First Region, ran their season record to 8-2 as they pounded Calloway County Tuesday on the Laker diamond 11-0.

It was the opening game of the season for the Lakers.

Reidland hurler Barry Dobson scattered only six hits to Calloway County but twice was in serious trouble but pitched his way out of the jams.

In the first inning, the Lakers loaded the bases when Miller walked with two out, Howard reached on an error and Rick Scarborough singled. But the rally ended when Randy Shelton struck out to end the inning.

In the fifth, the Lakers again loaded the bases, with the only hit being a single by Howard.

Reidland scored four times in the opening inning of Laker starter Mark Miller.

The rally began after two men had been retired and thus all four runs were unearned as an error opened the gates for Reidland. The Greyhounds had four hits following the error.

Reidland scored in every inning except the sixth.

Randy Conner came in for the Lakers in the fourth inning and pitched three frames and gave up a pair of runs while freshman Tommy Chavis took over the duties in the seventh and was touched for a pair of runs.

Howard and Scarborough each had a pair of hits for Coach Denny Potts' Lakers while Keith Wilkerson also hit safely.

The Lakers will play at home Thursday at 4 p.m. against Henry County before hosting

Paducah Tilghman Friday.

Yankees Have Another Meaning Of Streaking

By FRANK BROWN

AP Sports Writer

The people in Tiger Stadium seem to have the impression that streaking is something you do with your clothes off. The New York Yankees have a different idea.

While one nude man was swinging from the scoreboard in center field and another scrambled across the outfield without his pants, the Yankees were extending a streak of their own with a 3-0 victory over the Tigers Tuesday afternoon.

The victory was the fourth in as many contests for New York, marking the first time since 1945 the team has gone unbeaten in the baseball season's opening four games.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Minnesota Twins tripped the Chicago White Sox 3-1, the Oakland A's clipped the Kansas City Royals 6-4, and the Texas Rangers bombed the California Angels 10-2.

The Milwaukee-Cleveland and Baltimore-Boston games were postponed by bad weather.

Yankee pitchers Steve Kline, Fred Beene and Sparky Lyle held the Tigers to eight hits, handed pitching ace Mickey Lolich his second loss in two starts this season, and ruined the home opener in chilly Detroit before a crowd of 44,047.

Lou Piniella's first-inning single drove in two runs, and New York added a run in the seventh on Roy White's double and Elliott Maddox' single.

Twins 3, White Sox 1

Rod Carew backed a strong pitching performance by Bert Blyleven with two singles, two stolen bases and two runs scored in Minnesota's victory over Chicago.

In eight innings, Blyleven scattered seven hits and struck out 10, but tired in the ninth and gave way to reliever Bill Campbell.

Carew built Twins runs in the first and second innings by singling and stealing second.

To Face Surgery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Indians General Manager Phil Seghi will be operated on Thursday in Lutheran Medical Center.

Seghi was admitted to Lutheran Medical Center Monday for treatment and observation of kidney stones. The tests showed that his condition warrants an operation. Dr. John Pasalis will operate on the Tribe's chief.

A spokesman for the Tribe said Seghi will be in the hospital a week to 10 days.

Hawaii May Be Favorite Team For New Players Headed To WFL

By ANDY LIPPMAN

AP Sports Writer

National Football League players, already yielding to the call of the World Football League in the sometimes frozen North, are now signing on for the WFL's franchise in the balmy Pacific—Hawaii.

"How can anyone turn all this down?" asked Mike Giddings coach of the Hawaiians, glancing around Tuesday at the dramatic setting provided by Diamond Head and Honolulu as he announced the signing of Dallas Cowboy running back Calvin Hill to a WFL contract.

The Hawaiians made a whole day out of making announcements, also breaking the news that New York Giants quarterback Randy Johnson and Jim Sniadecki, San Francisco 49er linebacker since 1969, would join Hawaii after playing out their options in 1974.

The signings were part of the NFL exodus which has included Miami Dolphin stars Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick and Paul Warfield to Toronto, Ted Kwal-ick to the Hawaiians and Ken Stabler to the Birmingham franchise.

"We view this as a chance of a lifetime," said Hill, who will play out his option with the Cowboys in 1974. "It was a question of what was better for me and my family."

There were indications that Dallas Coach Tom Landry might be in for more bad news. A Houston radio station, KPRC, reported that Craig Morton, discontent in the past over his status as the No. 2 Dallas quarterback, has signed with the WFL Houston Texans.

The Texans had earlier Tuesday acquired the WFL rights to negotiate with Morton from Birmingham.

Johnson, the No. 2 signal caller for the Giants, became the fourth Giant to announce his intentions to migrate to Hawaii following John Douglas, Richmond Flowers and Vin Clements.

The Giants' tight end Bob Tucker also was being lured to move to the new league. Team sources on the Philadelphia Bell said Tuesday that Tucker had been offered a three-year $500,000 contract.

Even the coaching ranks were not out of reach for the fledgling football league. Kansas City Chiefs Coach Hank Stram said he had been approached about becoming the coach of the Houston Texans.

There were reports that the Texans had offered Stram a $2 million deal, with part ownership included in a 10-year package.

The New York Stars announced the signing of Don Gault, a former quarterback for the Cleveland Browns and two other ex-NFL players, Tom Sherman, formerly with New England, and Dick Hart, a former guard for the Philadelphia Eagles. The Stars also said they had signed Don Abbey, a running back for Penn State in the late 1960s.

Meanwhile, there was some good news in Miami. Tight end Jim Mandich and safety Jake Scott signed three-year contracts for an estimated combined price of $650,000.

Mandich, who earned $25,000 last year.

Aaron Says Chase At Mark Was Nightmare

By ED SHEARER

AP Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Blear-eyed Hank Aaron, his energy and emotion sapped by a tension-packed chase of a legend, says the average person "doesn't realize what a nightmare this has been."

It was a nightmare to fame and fortune for the quiet 40-year-old slugger of the Atlanta Braves.

The chase of the great Babe Ruth had ended on opening day in Cincinnati last Thursday. The crowning of baseball's new home run king came in dramatic fashion here Monday night.

The cheers had long since halted but the telegrams of congratulations were still pouring into the Western Union office when the icy-nerved slugger finally got to sleep about 6 a.m. "I am a little tired," Aaron said when he arrived at Atlanta

Stadium late Tuesday and sat out the Dodgers' 9-2 victory over the Braves. "We had a little get-together at my home. My family was there along with a few close friends. We talked, that's about all. We talked most of the night."

Aaron had said shortly after the historic clout that he now wanted the National League record for hits, currently held by Stan Musial at 3,630. He is 119 shy of that mark.

"I'm sorry I brought that up last night," he said. "All I want to do is swing the bat. I'm not going to get involved in any more record chases."

Aaron said he finally relaxed some.

"When I got home I was the most relaxed I've been in the last year-and-a-half. I was just grateful that it was over with."

He said he managed to sleep only three hours or so when he had to run an errand. He had intended to take a nap in the early afternoon, but his telephone kept ringing.

The bat and historic ball were placed on a plane and sent to the Magnavox Corp. in New York for display. It was reported the famous equipment was insured for a half-million dollars.

"History was set and that's the end of it," Hank said. "Now maybe we can get on with the business of playing baseball again."

Tennis Professional

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — The Hilton Head Racquet Club announced Tuesday the appointment of Evonne Goolagong, 1971 winner at Wimbledon, as its touring tennis professional.

The 22-year-old Australian succeeds Billie Jean King, who had held the post since mid-1972 at the fashionable resort club on this sea island.

McAdoo Gets Scared And Braves Get Beat

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

Would you believe Bob McAdoo, the National Basketball Association scoring champion, a scared player?

It happened Tuesday night—and because of it, his Buffalo Braves were beaten by the Boston Celtics.

"I was as nervous as I've ever been," McAdoo admitted unabashedly after scoring a mere 16 points on a woeful five-for-20 shooting performance from the floor and six of nine from the free throw line during the Braves' 100-97 loss that gave the Celtics a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference semifinal series.

"I guess it's what you'd call pressure," said the 6-foot-10 McAdoo, who had averaged 30.6 points per game during the regular season and 33 points in the first four games against the Celtics. "I tried to concentrate on my defense and not worry about offense."

In the only other pro basketball playoff game Tuesday night, the Chicago Bulls built a 25-point second-quarter lead, then withstood a late Detroit rally and beat the Pistons 98-94 for a 3-2 lead in their best-of-seven NBA Western Conference semifinal series.

Two playoff games are scheduled tonight. The New York Knicks, with a 3-2 lead over Capital in their NBA East semifinal, face the Bullets at Landover, Md.; and the Indiana Pacers, leading San Antonio 3-2 in their American Basketball Association West Division semifinal, meet the Spurs in Texas.

The Utah Stars, in the West, and the New York Nets and Kentucky Colonels, in the East, already have advanced to the divisional finals in the ABA.

The Milwaukee Bucks are the only NBA team to have reached the conference finals so far, eliminating the Los Angeles Lakers in the West.

McAdoo, also the NBA's third leading rebounder during the season with a 15.1 average, managed only 10 rebounds in his sub-par effort against the Celtics.

Nevertheless, the upstart Braves led 89-85 with five minutes remaining before Boston's sunk 13 points, boosting the Celtics to the critical victory.

John Havlicek and Buffalo's Randy Smith shared scoring honors with 25 points apiece.

Bulls 98, Pistons 94

Chicago broke away from Detroit in the first period, reeling off 16 consecutive points for a 28-10 lead, then streaked to a 45-20 advantage in the second quarter before the Pistons began battling back.

Detroit finally closed the gap to 96-94 with 51 seconds left, but Norm Van Lier's basket with 30 seconds to go clinched the victory for the Bulls.

Jerry Sloan added 20 points for the Bulls, Chet Walker 16 and Van Lier 14. Bob Lanier topped Detroit with 23 points, one more than Dave Bing.

Al Downing Says People Will Forget About Him

By TOM SALADINO
AP Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — "The last one he hits is the one people will remember," said Al Downing. "I just happened to be the pitcher who gave up No. 715."

Downing, the Los Angeles left-hander, made his comments Tuesday, one day after Henry Aaron delivered one of Downing's fast balls 400 feet over the left field fence in Atlanta Stadium, surpassing Babe Ruth as baseball's all-time home run king.

"It doesn't bother me one bit," said Downing, in his fourth season with the Dodgers. "And it won't if people will just forget it and let the season take its course."

Downing admits he will be associated with Aaron when the home run is discussed but "I don't think that's fair. I'm not associated through failure. It's association through failure."

The 32-year-old Downing, a 13 year major leaguer, was unbeaten against Atlanta until Monday night's nationally-televised contest.

He was 5-0 against Atlanta and had served up two homers to the 40-year-old Aaron in 1973, the only ones given up by the Los Angeles staff.

"My only thoughts after he hit it were to get the next two guys because it was now a tie game," added Downing.

He walked the next two batters and was lifted from the game as the Braves added two more runs and Downing was pined with the loss.

Offered Big Contract

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tight end Bob Tucker has been offered a three-year, half-million dollar contract to jump from the New York Giants to the Philadelphia Bell of the new World Football League.

Ron Waller, head coach of the Bell, confirmed Tuesday he has been conducting talks with Tucker, a four-year National Football League veteran, but said, "It's a big move for him."

Tucker who played for Waller at the semi-professional Pottstown Firebirds in 1969 after graduating from Bloomsburg State College in Pennsylvania, would still have to play out his option year with the Giants.

"If I were in his shoes I don't know if I would make the move," Waller said.

Hamburger Tycoon And Streaker See Opener

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

The San Diego Padres are leaving a sour taste in the mouth of their new owner that even some of his own garished hamburgers can't erase.

Ray Kroc, the McDonald's burger tycoon, is finding out that he may be the king of baseball's hamburgers rather than the hamburger king and he sounded off publicly while his Padres were being chewed up by the Houston Astros in their home opener Tuesday night.

Kroc grabbed the public address system with the Padres trailing 9-2 in the eighth inning. "Ladies and gentlemen, I suffer with you," he told a crowd of 39,083, second largest in San Diego's history. "I've never seen such stupid baseball playing in my life."

He was interrupted when a naked man jumped out of the stands and dashed across the field.

The winless Padres woke up long enough to score three runs in the eighth, but lost 9-5, their fourth straight defeat.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Atlanta Braves, minus Hank Aaron, were shelled by the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-2; the Cincinnati Reds defeated the previously unbeaten San Francisco Giants 6-3 and the Chicago Cubs finally opened their season by blanking the Philadelphia Phillies 2-0.

Bad weather postponed the Montreal-Pittsburgh and St. Louis-New York games.

Cesar Cedeño drove in four runs and Larry Dierker, battling back from arm and shoulder problems, held San Diego to six hits and two runs in seven innings.

Dodgers 9, Braves 2

Aaron didn't play any baseball Tuesday night...and his 13 Atlanta teammates who got in the line-up didn't play much, either. With the game's all-time home run king and his record-breaking bat sitting it out following Monday night's historic 715th home run, the Braves were no match for Los Angeles.

The 40-year-old Aaron was held out because of cold weather. Rookie Rowland Office took his place in the Atlanta outfield and managed a single in four trips against Don Sutton and Mike Marshall, who held the Braves to seven hits, including Dave Johnson's first home run of the season.

Reds 6, Giants 3

Joe Morgan's tie-breaking, run-scoring single with two out in the sixth inning helped Cincinnati beat San Francisco.

Cesar Geronimo opened the decisive inning with a triple off Tom Bradley, but Cincinnati pitcher Jack Billingham and Pete Rose struck out before Morgan came through with his single.

Geronimo drove in one of two insurance runs in the ninth with a sacrifice fly and a bunt single by relief pitcher Pedro Borbon brought home the other one. Tony Perez hit a two-run homer in the first inning, his third of the young season.

Cubs 2, Phillies 0

After having their first two scheduled games postponed in Montreal, the Cubs came home and defeated the Phillies behind Bill Bonham's four-hit, nine-strikeout pitching, his first major league shutout.

Bonham held the Phils hitless until pitcher Ron Schuler's one-out scratch single in the sixth.

Bonham became a key man in Chicago's pitching rotation when the Cubs traded Ferguson Jenkins last winter.

The American League scores were: New York 3, Detroit 0; Minnesota 3, Chicago 1; Oakland 6, Kansas City 4; Texas 10, California 2. The Milwaukee-Cleveland game was snowed out and the Baltimore-Boston game was rained out.

Murray-Kenlake Flotilla Gets Another Award

The Murray-Kenlake Flotilla 27-5 of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary has been awarded the Director's Trophy for the second consecutive year.

Having won the award for 1972, the 1973 award was announced at the District Conference in Chattanooga, Tenn., on March 30.

The requirements which must be met in order to qualify for the award include public education courses in safe boating, courtesy motorboat examination, regatta patrols, safety patrols, fellowship, participation in National Safe Boating Week as well as the reporting of all of these activities.

Commander Robert E. Johnson said that the Murray-Kenlake Flotilla is one of 36 in four states. At the April 5th meeting, he commended all auxiliaries for their contributions toward the activities which brought the trophy to Murray this second time.

Johansson Bags 300 In ABC Tournament Action

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Gill Johansson, a 27-year-old right-hander from Naperville, Ill., bagged a perfect 300 game Tuesday in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Right behind him was Dennis Campbell, 25, a truck driver from Alsip, Ill., who bowled a 299 game.

They were the third 300 and 299 of the tourney. In 70 previous ABC meets there never had been more than two 300 games or two 299s.

Johansson scored in his first singles game and added a 13th strike to start his second game. Campbell finished his first regular doubles game with four straight strikes and then got 11 more in his second go before the No. 6 pin stopped him on a full nose hit.

Other 300s were by Beryl Henshaw, Connoquenessing, Pa., and Kiyoshi Kato, Honolulu. The 299 club this year also includes James Johnston, Champaign, Ill., and Leo Elliott, Detroit.

The only standings change came in regular singles when Gail Pratl, Downers Grove, Ill., fired a 722 for a tie with Jim Palt, Brookfield, Wis., for fifth place.

Pratl, who had games of 216, 238 and 268, was more than pleased with his performance. "Boy, oh boy," he said. "I only have a 183 average. Sometimes it pays to be lucky rather than good, I guess."

After having their first two scheduled games postponed in Montreal, the Cubs came home and defeated the Phillies behind Bill Bonham's four-hit, nine-strikeout pitching, his first major league shutout.

Bonham held the Phils hitless until pitcher Ron Schuler's one-out scratch single in the sixth.

Bonham became a key man in Chicago's pitching rotation when the Cubs traded Ferguson Jenkins last winter.

The American League scores were: New York 3, Detroit 0; Minnesota 3, Chicago 1; Oakland 6, Kansas City 4; Texas 10, California 2. The Milwaukee-Cleveland game was snowed out and the Baltimore-Boston game was rained out.

Aaron's Bat On Display

The only thing everyone in town has been talking about seems to be Hank Aaron.

We all feel like we've been fans of Henry for all of our lives, especially after the scene created when he hit his 15th career homer to break Babe Ruth's record.

But there is one man in town who has been a friend of Aaron's and still is.

He is Hillman Lyons, owner of Rudy's Restaurant.

Hillman spent eight years in the Braves' organization and became very close friends with Aaron and most of the major league stars.

And hanging on his wall in Rudy's is something that every sports fan should take the opportunity to see, the bat Aaron hit his 300th homerun with.

"It was in New York when he hit it and at the time, I ever even thought anymore about it."

"One day he walked up to me and tossed me the bat and said it was number 300. He told me that after 300 or 400 more, it might be worth something."

"I had forgotten about it until last year when the chase for Ruth's record began."

On the handle of the bat is the big number 44 and there are scars on the meat end of the bat where the baseballs have been met by his powerful swing.

As I stood in the restaurant and held the bat and took a couple of swings, I had cold chills as I realized that Hank Aaron, the greatest homerun hitter of all time, had actually hit his 300th homer with the same bat that was in my hands.

Within the next few weeks, a series of five stories will appear in the Ledger & Times sports section on Hillman Lyons and his life in professional sports.

I would only hope that readers mark this in their memory and watch for the stories in the near future to learn some of the secrets that this remarkable man might share with us.

Heavy Sports Schedule

A heavy weekend of sports is on tap with a giant track meet Saturday at Stewart Stadium featuring hundreds of top high school and college women athletes.

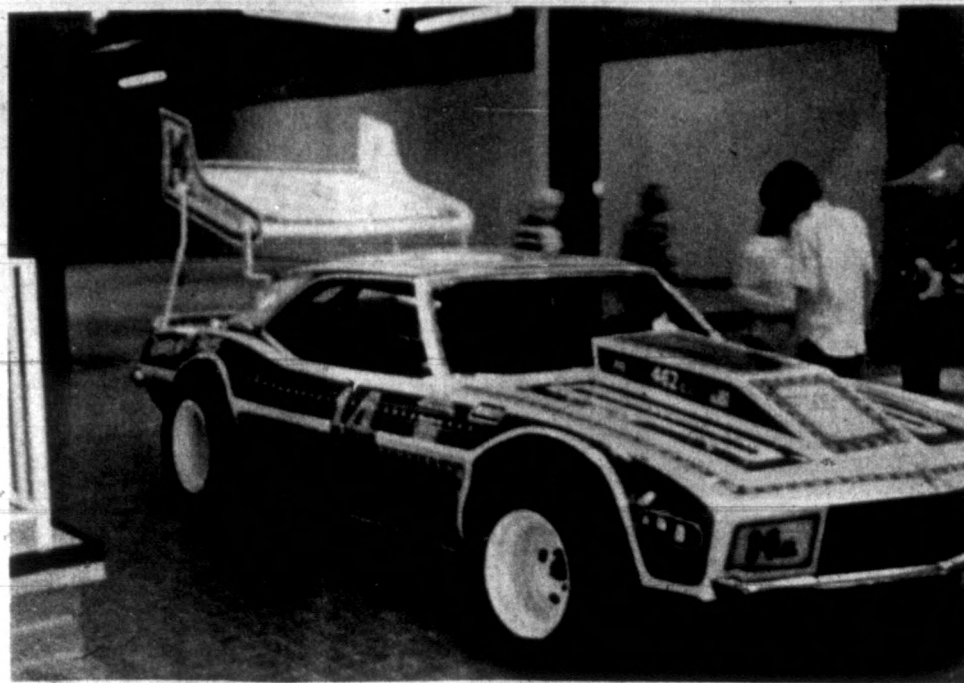

One of the top baseball teams in the Region, Paducah Tilghman, will be at Calloway County Friday afternoon for a single game.

Murray State's baseball team faces a crucial doubleheader Saturday at Middle Tennessee and the track team is at the Dogwood Relays while the tennis team plays a dual match at Western.

Murray High will hold its spring football game at 4 p.m. tomorrow at the practice field at the high school.

Tiger Coach John Hina extends an invitation to fans to attend the game.

Also on the schedule for tomorrow is a dual track meet at Stewart Stadium between Murray and Carthage College. Track events will begin at 2:30 p.m.

WINS AWARD—Melvin Woodford's 14 Jr. won the Best Appearance Trophy for super stock cars at Reidland Raceway last weekend. The car is a 1969 Camaro.

Feature At Reidland Taken By Paul Hogue

By JANE BRANDON

Saturday night was old homewick for race fans and drivers with the opening of the Reidland Raceway for the 1974 racing season.

Cold weather could not keep racing fans from gathering to cheer their favorites on to victory and you can take it from this fan that it's cold at the top of the grandstand.

The best appearance trophy for Super Stock went to Melvin Woodford's 14 Jr., a 1969 blue and white Camaro sporting a 462 cubic inch engine. Carman Hooker's Hawaii Five-O took the best appearance trophy for the hobby car class.

Jerry Inman, D-7 from Bruce, Miss., took top qualifying time at 21.45 seconds; Wayne Wakley, 33, placed second with 21.53 seconds.

The feature was supercharged with excitement as the race started with Wayne Wakley, 33, and Jerry Inman, D-7, fighting for first place. This continued for several laps with Paul Hogue, 88, moving up from behind and then the race was between 88 and Jesse Ladd, 77, with Hogue's 88 victorious.

It was really a super race and this is only the beginning of the season.

First heat—Jesse Ladd, 77; Don Taylor 90; Kenny Reynolds, 8-Ball; Eddie Ross, 00 and Kenny Yates, 33.

Second heat—Paul Hogue, 88; Jerry Inman, D-7; Bill Hay, 97; Wayne Wakley 33 and Melvin Woodford, 14 Jr.

Third heat—Wayne Wakley, 33; Dick Jackson, 72; Larry Watson, 50; Eddie Ross, 00 and Kenny Yates, 33.

Fourth heat—Jerry Inman, D-7; Paul Hogue, 88; Jesse Ladd, 77; Bill Hay, 97 and Kenny Reynolds, 8-Ball.

Feature race—Paul Hogue, 88; Jerry Inman, D-7; Jesse Ladd, 77; Wayne Wakley, 33 and Bill Hay, 97.

Turley Dick won the first heat of the hobby class with Anthony Peck winning the hobby car second heat and feature race.

Flyers Pound Atlanta To Take Lead In Series

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

The Philadelphia Flyers delivered a message to the Atlanta Flames Tuesday night—to win

Hall Of Famer

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Bill Edwards, who retired last summer as Wittenberg University athletic director, will be inducted into the National Association of Collegiate Athletic Directors Hall of Fame June 24 in Montreal.

The honor will be Edward's third national athletic award in the last four years.

In 1970, he was named to a post on the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame Council and was voted Coach of the Year by the Football Writers Association of America for his contributions to the college division game.

in the Stanley Cup Playoffs you have to attack as well as defend.

"They didn't challenge us," said Philadelphia Coach Fred Shero after his team posted a 4-1 victory to take a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven first round National Hockey League playoff series.

Atlanta played the Flyers to a 2-2 tie in the first period, but they were never a threat in the nationally televised game. The Flames at times appeared to be sleepwalking, unable to get the puck out of their own zone.

As the Flyers' Barry Ashbee put it, "the one goal they (Atlanta) scored was a fluke." It came with the score 3-0, on a 50-footer by Bob Murray.

In World Hockey League playoff action, the Toronto Toros edged the Cleveland Crusaders 4-3 and the Chicago Cougars beat the New England Whalers 8-6.

Shero's Flyers had won the West Division title with aggressive offensive play, backed up by superior goaltending from Bernie Parent. The Flames wound up fourth in the West, playing a defensive style that featured sitting on the puck until they got a scoring break.

Veteran Gary Dornhoefer scored the first goal of the game with four seconds remaining in the first period. Tom Bladen made it 2-0 at 13:36 of the second, and the first of Orest Kindrachuk's two third-period goals boosted it to 3-0. After Murray scored for Atlanta, Kindrachuk soloed in for the final score of the game.

The excited Kindrachuk said after the game, "We're in this Stanley Cup playoff to do or die and we're going to do it."

Cougars 8, Whalers 6
Chicago exploded for five goals in the first period against Whaler goalie Al Smith. Bob Liddington finished the night with two goals for Chicago which now leads the WHA playoff series 2-1.

Mike Byers of the Whalers opened the wild second period by scoring and after a Chicago goal, New England ran off a string of three straight goals to close the gap to 6-4.

Toros 4, Crusaders 3

Toronto right winger Tom Martin scored three goals for the Crusaders, who finished the night with a 2-0 advantage in their playoff series.

Center Wayne Carleton scored the other goal for Toronto which was behind 3-1 going into the final period.

Paul Andrea, Ron Ward and Tom Edur all scored in the second period for Cleveland.

In the NHL Wednesday night, Toronto is at Boston, Los Angeles is at Chicago and the New York Rangers are at Montreal.

New England is at Chicago in the only WHA game scheduled tonight.

Nicklaus Domineering Character At Masters

By BOB GREEN

AP Golf Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — There's Johnny Miller and the youth threat.

There's Gary Player and the foreigners.

There's Tom Weiskopf and defending champion Tommy Aaron.

There's Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead.

But over and above them all looms the awesome figure of Jack Nicklaus, the domineering character in the international cast assembled for the 38th Masters Golf Tournament.

The 72-hole tee, generally acknowledged as one of the world's premier sports events, gets underway Thursday on flower-bedecked Augusta National Golf Course.

An elite field of 79 of the world's best shotmakers—including 13 foreign players, 11 American amateurs and 55 U.S. professionals—are primed to test the 7,020-yard par-72 layout.

The powerful Nicklaus, considered by many to be the finest player the game has ever seen, has won this tournament four times, a record he shares with Arnold Palmer. And in his last three starts here he's been second, first and third, in that order.

"My goals are always the same," said the Golden Bear, who had collected a record 14 major championship titles. "They're the big four tournaments (the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and the PGA.)"

Miller, 26, who won the U.S. Open last year, has dominated the regular tour this year. He scored a record sweep of the first three titles of the year and is the year's leading money winner with almost $150,000—a record for this stage of the season.

Among the other young stars are:

—Jerry Heard, golf's whistling man, who won the Citrus Open, then finished second and third in his next two starts; —Hubert Green, a two-time winner this year;

—John Mahaffey, who hasn't won this season but has finished second twice, third and fourth once;

—Lanny Wadkins, who set money-winning records in each of his first two seasons on the tour and is one of the game's most fiercely competitive players, and

—Ben Crenshaw, the young Texan who has finished second twice this year and hit the tour with more impact than any rookie since Nicklaus.

Player of South African is one of only four men to win all of the world's major titles. He heads a strong foreign field including Australian Bruce Crampton, Tony Jacklin and Peter Oosterhuis of England and Bob Charles of New Zealand.

Tommy Aaron has been bothered by an ailing back most of the time since his surprise victory here a year ago.

Rev. R.A. Slinker Is Named To Appear In Who's Who In Kentucky

R. A. Slinker, Retired General Director of Missions in Kentucky, now living in Murray has been selected to appear in the 1974 edition of Who's Who In Kentucky, for outstanding services in his field of work.

Rev. Slinker, a native of Green County, attended school at Campbellsville College and Western State University. He was pastor of a number of churches in central Kentucky from 1922-1933, when he was employed by the Baptist State Board of Missions as Dist. Supt. of Missions, later promoted to General Field Director.

During his 32 years with the State Mission Board he traveled more than a million and a half miles, preaching and lecturing in 15 states from Maryland to California, visiting hundreds of churches. He has spoken in

Rev. R. A. Slinker more than one third of the total number of Baptist churches in Ky.

As a civic leader he led Green County in a campaign which resulted in the sale of liquor, one of the very early counties to vote "dry." He was appointed the same year on the board of trustees of the Temperance League of Kentucky, and is now its oldest living member.

He served on the board of trustees of Campbellsville College for a number of years, also on the Mission Board of Blood River and Russell Creek association of Baptist.

In 1964 he was chosen as one of 40 men from over the U.S. to participate in a Seminar of Mission Techniques at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville.

He was commissioned by the Gov. of Kentucky in 1962 as Kentucky Colonel, for Outstanding Contributions to the state.

He is a member of Murray Lodge F & AM—Royal Arch Chapter—Council R & SM—

Super Excellent Master of Murray Chapter, and Mayfield Commandry of Knight Templars.

He is married to Vallie Strader Slinker, daughter of J. W. Strader whose ancestors date back to the very early settlers of Kentucky. They have two daughters, Mrs. J. V. Mitchell, librarian at Lone Oak school, and Mrs. Gus Robertson, Jr., employed by the A.S.C.S. office in Murray, and also son, Joseph Larry Slinker with the Air Force, Little Rock, Ark.

Retiring in 1965 they live near the Oaks Country Club, Rev. Slinker is still active and open for pulp supply upon call.

EASTER COFFEE
Tophat Muffins with Butter and Currant Jelly
Coffee
TOPHAT MUFFINS
They're sweet and pretty!
13 1/2-ounce package hot roll mix
3 eggs
5 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 egg yolk
In medium bowl of electric mixer sprinkle yeast from mix over 1/4 cup warm (not hot) water; stir to dissolve. Gently beat in eggs one at a time, then 4 tablespoons of the sugar; add half (2 cups) of the flour mixture from mix; beat at low speed for 2 minutes. Add remaining flour mixture; beat on low speed for 2 more minutes. Cover and let rise in warm draft-free place until doubled—30 minutes. Stir down by beating with a wooden spoon for 20 strokes. Sprinkle a floured pastry cloth with the 3 tablespoons flour; pour batter onto it and toss lightly until it loses its stickiness. Shape into a 9-inch long roll; cut into 15 slices. With well-floured hands shape 12 of the slices into balls and place in 2 1/4-inch diameter muffin-pan cups. With a kitchen scissors cut an x in the center of each ball. Cut each of the 3 remaining slices into 4 equal parts; shape each into a ball and place in the center of an x. Let rise as previously until nearly doubled—30 to 45 minutes. Beat remaining 1 tablespoon sugar with the egg yolk and 1 teaspoon water; brush over muffins. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until golden-brown—12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12.

TERMITE-CONTROL. Salesmen may be unsavory pests. Termite swarms are not the only things that emerge with warm days. So do door-to-door salesmen who would like to sell you termite control or protection.

If you feel your house has a termite problem, seek out a professional pest-control firm in your area. Check to make sure it has an established place of business.

Don't hesitate to ask a firm for business references and check them. Reliable firms welcome this approach.

KELLY'S PEST CONTROL, 100 South 13th Street an old reliable established firm—locally owned and operated for over 30 years. Members National Pest Control Association. Kentucky Pest Control Association and Murray Chamber of Commerce. Free inspection call 753-3914 Sam Kelly, owner.

Rev. R.A. Slinker Is Named To Appear In Who's Who In Kentucky

R. A. Slinker, Retired General Director of Missions in Kentucky, now living in Murray, has been selected to appear in the 1974 edition of Who's Who In Kentucky, for outstanding services in his field of work.

Rev. Slinker, a native of Green County, attended school at Campbellsville College and Western State University.

He was pastor of a number of churches in central Kentucky from 1922-1933, when he was employed by the Baptist State Board of Missions as Dist. Supt. of Missions, later promoted to General Field Director.

During his 32 years with the State Mission Board he traveled more than a million and a half miles, preaching and lecturing in 15 states from Maryland to California, visiting hundreds of churches. He has spoken in

Rev. R. A. Slinker more than one third of the total number of Baptist churches in Ky.

Super Excellent Master of Murray Chapter, and Mayfield Commandry of Knight Templars.

He is married to Vallie Strader Slinker, daughter of J. W. Strader whose ancestors date back to the very early settlers of Kentucky. They have two daughters, Mrs. J. V. Mitchell, librarian at Lone Oak school, and Mrs. Gus Robertson, Jr., employed by the A.S.C.S. office in Murray, and also son, Joseph Larry Slinker with the Air Force, Little Rock, Ark.

Retiring in 1965 they live near the Oaks Country Club, Rev. Slinker is still active and open for pulp supply upon call.

As a civic leader he led Green County in a campaign which resulted in a 3-1 victory to prohibit the sale of liquor, one of the very early counties to vote "dry." He was appointed the same year on the board of trustees of the Temperance League of Kentucky, and is now its oldest living member.

He served on the board of trustees of Campbellsville College for a number of years, also on the Mission Board of Blood River and Russell Creek association of Baptist.

In 1964 he was chosen as one of 40 men from over the U.S. to participate in a Seminar of Mission Technics at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville.

He was commissioned by the Gov. of Kentucky in 1962 as Kentucky Colonel, for Outstanding Contributions to the state.

He is a member of Murray Lodge F & AM—Royal Arch Chapter—Council R & SM—

COOKING IS FUN
By Cecily Brownstone AP Food Editor

EASTER COFFEE
Tophat Muffins with Butter and Currant Jelly Coffee
TOPHAT MUFFINS
They're sweet and pretty! 13 1/2-ounce package hot roll mix
3 eggs
5 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1 egg yolk
In medium bowl of electric mixer sprinkle yeast from mix over 1/4 cup warm (not hot) water; stir to dissolve. Gently beat in eggs one at a time, then 4 tablespoons of the sugar; add half (2 cups) of the flour mixture from mix; beat at low speed for 2 minutes. Add remaining flour mixture; beat on low speed for 2 more minutes. Cover and let rise in warm draft-free place until doubled 30 minutes. Stir down by beating with a wooden spoon for 20 strokes. Sprinkle a floured pastry cloth with the 3 tablespoons flour; pour batter onto it and toss lightly until it loses its stickiness. Shape into a 9-inch long roll; cut into 15 slices. With well-floured hands shape 12 of the slices into balls and place in 2 1/2-inch diameter muffin-pan cups. With a kitchen scissors cut an x in the center of each ball. Cut each of the 3 remaining slices into 4 equal parts; shape each into a ball and place in the center of an x. Let rise as previously until nearly doubled—30 to 45 minutes. Beat remaining 1 tablespoon sugar with the egg yolk and 1 teaspoon water; brush over muffins. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until golden-brown—12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12.

DANTE'S 'INFERNO' TO BE FILMED
ROME (AP)—Italian film director Franco Zeffirelli says his next project will be to bring Dante's "Inferno" to the screen, in both English and Italian versions. Zeffirelli directed "Romeo and Juliet," "Taming of the Shrew" and "Brother Sun, Sister Moon." The last named film was on the life of St. Francis.

TERMITE-CONTROL. Salesmen may be unsavory pests.

Termite swarms are not the only things that emerge with warm days. So do door-to-door salesmen who would like to sell you termite control or protection.

If you feel your house has a termite problem, seek out a professional pest-control firm in your area. Check to make sure it has an established place of business.

Don't hesitate to ask a firm for business references and check them. Reliable firms welcome this approach.

KELLY'S PEST CONTROL, 100 South 13th Street an old reliable established firm—locally owned and operated for over 30 years. Members National Pest Control Association, Kentucky Pest Control Association and Murray Chamber of Commerce. Free inspection call 753-3914 Sam Kelly, owner.

Judiciary Committee Meets In Mood Of Anger, Resentment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of the House Judiciary Committee met in a mood of anger and resentment today to consider a White House proposal to wait two more weeks before replying to the committee's request for tapes of presidential conversations.

At separate party caucuses, both Republicans and Democrats called the White House letter postponing any response until April 22 unsatisfactory.

Individual members talked of issuing a subpoena for the material. Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., scheduled a full committee meeting Thursday for whatever action the committee wants to take.

Rodino declined comment on the White House proposal, but other committee members termed it unresponsive, condescending and arrogant.

"If counsel for the committee wants to issue a subpoena, I would support it," said Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill.

"It is obviously unsatisfactory to a majority of the committee," said Rep. Robert McClell, R-Ill.

Rep. Calder Butler, R-Va., commenting Tuesday night, said, "It seems a mistake not to produce the material. It certainly creates a presumption that the President is withholding damaging evidence."

Rep. Lawrence J. Hogan, R-Md., issued a statement before

Heart Clinic To Be Held In Mayfield

A one-day consultative and diagnostic heart clinic for medically indigent children will be held in the Graves County Health Department, Mayfield, on Friday, April 26. This clinic will serve patients from Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, Livingston, Marshall and McCracken Counties.

Dr. Kareem Minhas, Director of the Kentucky Children's Heart Clinic, Norton-Children's Hospital, Louisville, and other physicians from the University of Louisville School of Medicine, will conduct the clinic.

Co-sponsored by the Kentucky Heart Association, the Bureau for Health Services and the County Health Department, the clinic provides a diagnostic service for the patient, along with recommendations for treatment and management of the case. It also provides an opportunity for the referring physician to consult with the clinician regarding his patient.

Necessary expenses of the clinic are being underwritten by the Kentucky Heart Association and the Bureau for Health Services. Clinic personnel and equipment will be provided by the Graves County Health Department, as well as the Bureau for Health Services and the Kentucky Heart Association.

Only those indigent children who have a written referral from a physician will be admitted to the clinic.

Membership Meeting Set By Murray Club

A general meeting of the membership of the Murray-Calloway Country Club has been set tentatively for Tuesday, April 30, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the clubhouse.

Set by the board of directors Monday night at its regular April session, the meeting will give the directors an opportunity to review in depth several proposed, future, long-range improvements and expansions in the club's swimming pool and clubhouse facilities.

The proposals are the results of a study made by the board in compliance with the expressed wishes of those of the membership who attended the October, 1973, general meeting.

Bill Thurman is chairman of the board's building and planning committee. Serving with him are Buddy Buckingham, Richard Knight and Club President Ted Billington, an ex officio member.

Also at the April 30 meeting, Buckingham, chairman of the board's budget committee, will review the 1974 operational budget for the club as approved by the board at Monday's meeting.

In other action Monday night, the board:

Approved membership applications from Dr. Scott and Karen Pricer, 1607 Parklane Drive; David A. and Susan Jeanne Franklin, 1608 College Farm Road; and Richard G. and Barbara Latimer, 1705 M Miller Avenue.

Authorized John Paulk, the board's greens chairman, and Club Pro James Sullivan to purchase a commercial-type mower for use around trees and in close quarters.

the caucuses saying he was "sorely disappointed with the President's decision not to honor the Judiciary Committee's request to release material needed for the impeachment probe."

Hogan said he could "only feel this is an additional dilatory tactic by the President's lawyers."

"To wait until the Easter recess is an unconscionable delay," Hogan said, calling on the White House to reverse its decision.

The committee had demanded a response to its request for the tapes by Tuesday.

The White House said Tuesday that "additional materials" would be given to the committee sometime after Congress returns from its Easter recess April 22, but it didn't say what the material would be.

James D. St. Clair, who is in charge of President Nixon's defense against impeachment, sent a letter to the committee. St. Clair said the White House still is reviewing the request

Testimony Continues In Trial Of William Sloan On Rape-Murder Charges

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Testimony continues today in the trial of William Sloan, a 24-year-old Louisville man being tried on charges of murder, armed-robbery and rape in connection with the slaying last October of a Lexington minister and his two children.

Two Northern Kentucky police officers testified Tuesday how they captured Sloan and a companion, Wilmer Elvis Scott, and heard Scott admit a triple slaying in Lexington.

Scott died Feb. 10 from burns suffered in a fire in his prison cell at Eddyville State Penitentiary. Prison officials have said he apparently set the fire himself.

Sgt. Jack W. Bradford of Fort Thomas quoted Scott as saying, "You should have shot me when you had the chance, because today I shot a man, woman and child in Lexington."

Bradford testified that Scott told him the approximate location of the residence of the Rev. John K. Barnes, who was found dead along with two of his children.

Neither Bradford nor Sgt. Jack Westwood of Highland Heights quoted Sloan as admitting any guilt.

The defense is trying to prove that Sloan was as much a victim of Scott as were those who were killed during the pair's brief spree after an escape from federal custody.

Westwood quoted Scott as indicating he would have killed Sloan if the two had made good their flight into Ohio. However, they were captured in Northern Kentucky.

Sloan is also accused of escaping from the federal building here, with Scott, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and, within a

Youth Revival To Be At Shady Grove

A youth revival will be held at the Shady Grove Baptist Church starting Friday, April 12, and continuing through Sunday, April 14.

Services will be held on Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. with Buck Morton as Friday speaker and Lynn Orr as Saturday speaker.

Rev. Jerry Lee, church pastor, will speak at the eleven a.m. services on Sunday and at the seven p.m. service Sunday the youth will have charge of the services.

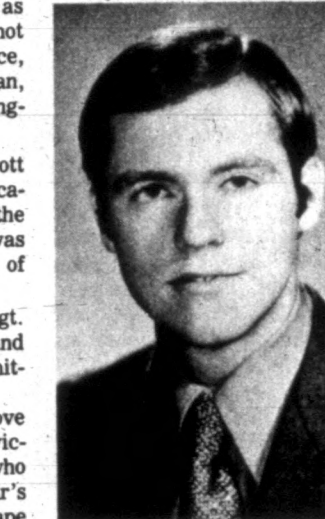

The public is invited to attend, a church spokesman said.

period of about 10 hours, murdering the three Lexington residents and three men in Pendleton County.

The charges on which Sloan is being tried at present involve the Lexington residents. The escape is a federal offense, and the case of the three Pendleton County murders will be tried later.

In testimony Tuesday, Mrs. Geraldine Ewalt told how Scott and Sloan allegedly forced their way into her car while she was waiting for one of her daughters in a school parking lot and made her drive to her home where she and two of her children were left tied.

She said the men took the Ewalt car when they left.

Doug Brown, Jr.

Doug Brown, Jr., Speaker At Meet

Doug Brown, Jr. will be the speaker at the gospel meeting to be held at the New Concord Church of Christ starting Friday April 12, and continuing through Sunday, April 14.

Services will be each evening at 7:00 p.m. with Doug Brown, Jr., regular minister of the Bells City Church of Christ.

Evening after services there will be a special session on "Building Spiritual Power."

Mr. Brown, a 1972 graduate of Freed-Hardeman College, has held meetings in Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, and Mississippi. He expects to graduate from Murray State University in May and has been accepted by the Harding Graduate School of Religion in Memphis, Tenn.

The church elders, Wendell Allbritten and Derwood Edwards, invite the public to attend.

Universities Being Forced To Use Business Techniques

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Caught in a financial crush, universities today are being forced to borrow budget and administrative processes from corporate management, a procedure often thought to be fraught with danger.

The fear, actively expressed by deans and students alike, is that the use of business techniques eventually if not immediately means the ascendancy of money over education. Inefficiency, it is said, must be tolerated for the sake of truth. Academic standards, the argument continues, must not be infringed upon by financial standards. But when financial inefficiency constitutes the threat rather than the alleged safeguard, as is the case with scores of universities today, administrations are forced to act. And so, business techniques come to campus.

At the University of Pennsylvania, which handles more than $200 million in funds a year, Martin Meyerson, president, has borrowed a technique from the world of conglomerates and instituted what he calls responsibility centers.

In a business conglomerate these units would be called profit centers, but profit isn't the goal of a university. Neither is loss, however, so the 22 centers are assigned the main responsibility for supporting themselves.

Each school within the university must make its own decisions on how its earned income, mainly tuition, is to be used. Instead of simply applying to the university for financing, it must learn to live within its income.

Decision making is thus diversified in each school. If a school wants to increase the ratio of faculty to students it must justify the move financially. If it wants to offer more student aid it must check its bank account first.

Each center is also assessed for costs of the university as a central enterprise, depending upon the use it makes of libraries and other common facilities. And each school shares in the university's general income.

If a responsibility center wants to embark on a new project that might result in sharp startup costs it can borrow from what is called the inter-center bank at the prime rate. It can save there too.

Prof. John Hobstetter, a metallurgist and chairman of the university budget committee, speaks directly about the consequences of a center not maintaining good financial relations with the bank.

"Accumulating deficits or failure to repay such loans would raise critical questions about a center's viability," he explained to the faculty. "Unless the campus could agree to an increased subvention at the expense of other centers, intervention would be necessary."

Meyerson and Hobstetter seek to avoid that type of confrontation, the purpose of their program being to decentralize decision making while simultaneously encouraging a sense of cohesion with the central university.

Meyerson maintains the system already is producing results, although it is always being re-evaluated. "Deans are concerned about a number of things they never paid attention to. Deans and faculty are asking more about the general problems of the university."

Still, he agrees, "a good deal of resistance" exists. "The deans by and large recognize the importance of it but feel many corrections are needed. To most of the faculty it is puzzling, but budgets always have been."

Hobstetter, a quiet scholar, refers to the "happy old days" when he could spend more time teaching, but he finds his role "fascinating." He finds it "a whole new dimension; it's fun, although there are days I wouldn't admit it."

Meyerson, who must satisfy a disparate constituency that includes the trustees, faculty, city, state and federal governments, as well as students "who are both customers and products," is optimistic.

He feels university budgeting too often has been haphazard, failing to identify the academically desirable with the financially possible. His budget, he claims, is meant to implement planning, not to set priorities.

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Edson Gould is an elder statesman among securities analysts, a forecaster who has made some notably accurate estimates and whose word sometimes is taken as gospel. He is also considered a bear.

Gould, 72, has been dour in his outlook since the mid-1960s, when he suggested an end had come to a bull market that pushed the Dow Jones industrial average from 92.69 points in 1942 to more than 1,000 in 1966.

Since then the average has never substantially or for any length of time exceeded that figure. It dipped as low as 631 in 1970 and rose to 1,067 early in 1973, before descending to its present range of 840 to 850 points.

Gould maintains it will break out of that range, however, and in both directions. After a decided drop, perhaps to under 700 points late this year or very early in 1975, he foresees the beginning of a major bull market.

The bull's first steps will be a bit shaky, in Gould's view. He believes there might be a turn-down, but not a very bad one, in 1976. Then he expects the ascent to resume in 1977 and 1978 and to erupt to 3,000 to 5,000 points in the 1980s.

Assuring an incredulous listener that such a jump wasn't unprecedented, Gould recalled the post-World War II advance, which was even larger in percentage, and an earlier leap that brought the average from 40.52 in 1932 to 195 in 1937.

But before those jagged graph lines pierce the financial stratosphere, "we're going to go through a hell of a lot of grief," says Gould, referring to his expectations of a decline this coming winter.

Why a decline? Gould explains that every major move in the market has three stages. When it rises it does so in steps, he insists. And when it falls it usually trips three times. It has already happened twice.

"In February 1966 the Dow reached 1,001 points," Gould relates, retrieving figures easily from a data bank mind.

"In October 1966 it fell to 735. In December 1968 it rose to 994. In May 1970 it fell to 627. In January 1973 it reached 1,067. And now it's getting down for the third time."

While believing in the three-step theory, Gould has enough battle scars to be wary of a possible fourth. By that time, though, even the most obstinate will be shaken out of the market. There'll be no more sellers.

"Thus, rather than regarding the near-term outlook for declining prices with worry, fear and trembling, the investor should welcome it . . ." he related in "Findings & Forecasts," a publication he writes for Anametrics, Inc.

Gould's rationale for an advance is compounded of many factors. There are the numbers and the tracings of the graphs, which all technicians examine for signs and signals. There is mass psychology, which Gould feels the market reflects.

He believes no market can

FIREMAN'S PAY

LONDON (AP) — High house prices are blamed for a serious manpower shortage in the emergency services — ambulances, fire department, etc. — in the county of Surrey, rich commuter land on London's southern border.

The problem, according to Surrey County officials, is that they are committed to nationally fixed wage levels, making it difficult for young men to get a mortgage in the county, where homes are expensive.

Mrs. Hodges To Review Book At County Library

The memorable book "The Prison of My Mind," by Barbara Benziger will be presented in a review at the Calloway County Public Library Thursday, April 11.

Mrs. Helen Hodges, a favorite performer to audiences in a wide area will present the review. She, in a dramatic manner, will take the part of the book's main character, Mrs. Benziger, and tell this true account.

The book is written in journal form under extreme duress as the author tries to hang on to some shred of reality while she is suffering a psychotic depression. She takes the reader through the onset of her illness to the time when she conquers the imprisonment of a sick mind.

It is believed that students studying psychology and also sociology majors will find the book a great help in their research. The review will also appeal to those who have had some mental disturbances and to families of people who are mentally ill.

Mrs. Hodges has given her

Danny W. Futrell Wins Scholarship

Danny Wayne Futrell, a graduating senior at Calloway County High School, has been selected as the recipient of the $100 Joe Dyer Pool Memorial Scholarship to attend Murray State University for the 1974-75 school year.

Futrell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce W. Futrell of Murray Route 8, plans to study pre-medicine at Murray State in preparation for a career as a doctor.

Active in debate and dramatics, he is also a member of the Beta Club, Pep Club, and Explorers.

Mancil Vinson, director of alumni affairs at Murray State, announced his selection for the scholarship in memory of Joe Dyer Pool, a 1957 Murray State graduate who died in 1970.

Parents Without Partners Chapter Being Organized

Plans are underway in Murray for the organization of a chapter of Parents Without Partners (PWP) according to Mrs. Jean Hurt.

Parents Without Partners is described as an educational, social organization designed to serve the needs and interests of single parents regardless of the reason for being single.

PWP sponsors such activities for the family as educational tours, bowling, skating, Easter egg hunt, arts and crafts, and parties for all occasions.

For the parent, PWP sponsors discussion groups, tapes plays, house parties, dances and picnics almost every weekend. The discussions were reported to deal with the problems and interests of the single parent such as dating, remarriage and raising children alone.

Persons interested in helping form a chapter of PWP in Murray should call 753-6333 (Needline) and give their name, address and phone number so they can be informed of the time and place of the organizational meeting. For additional information, contact Mrs. Jean Hurt, 753-3992.

Murray Club To Hold Easter Egg Hunt Here

An Easter Egg Hunt will be held at the Murray Country Club on Saturday, April 13, from ten to eleven a.m. for preschool children through third grade of the members.

Each child is asked to bring three eggs for the hunt. Mrs. William Emmer, chairman of children's activities of the club, urges all children of the members in this age group to attend.

At Least 18 Separate Tornadoes Hit State

The National Weather Service reports that at least 18 separate tornadoes released their fury in Kentucky last Wednesday.

A meteorologist in Louisville says the eventual count of Kentucky tornadoes could go higher than those tentatively identified.

Harrison County apparently was the only county with three separate tornadoes, while Scott and Pulaski counties each apparently were subject to two separate tornadoes.

The death toll in was 72 persons, and property damage was in the millions of dollars.

Boone and Simpson counties Monday were added to the list of counties specifically designated as disaster areas, bringing the total number to 18.

Rebuilding efforts continued throughout the state.

In the Scott County community of Stamping Ground three structures in the business district survived the tornado, and 60 per cent of the houses and buildings in the town have been condemned.

"We're just beginning to realize what's coming back, rebuilding, is going to mean," said Mrs. Jimmy Covington, whose home was completely destroyed.

Stamping Ground Mayor Clayton Kidwell has directed that all the bricks be salvaged "to use later. I think people are enthused about coming back and rebuilding."

In the Taylor County community of Mannville where 200 people live, only a barber shop was left in the business area after the storm sliced through the heart of town.

"We're hurt and hurt bad," said the Rev. William Elwood Norris, "but we are not killed. We will make us a little town again."

In Brandenburg, the hardest hit in terms of lives lost, the residents are still shaking off the shock of the devastating tornado.

The tornado that touched down there claimed 30 of the town's 1,600 residents.

By Monday afternoon, more than 180 families had visited the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration headquarters set up there.

"We're still trying to lay down a master plan for rebuilding," said Don Gossett, in charge of handling procurements.

Gov. Wendell Ford spent most of Monday in his office handling telephone calls for help, after several weekend trips surveying the damage in the state.

"I think the people of Kentucky are closer together now than any time I can remember except for World War II," he said. "It's just been real encouraging in that respect."

Ford announced Monday that 11 cities would have Federal Disaster Assistance Administration "one-stop centers" where storm victims could seek aid. In some cities, the location and opening date were to be announced later.

The centers already opened or to be opened this week are located in Elizabethtown; Richmond; in Louisville at Bellarmine College and St. Matthews Episcopal Church; Brandenburg; Bowling Green; Frankfort; still undetermined sites near Albany, Somerset, Campbellsburg, Stamping Ground and Hustonville.

Ford announced that the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration has set up a toll-free line to help tornado victims. That number is 1 800-292-6586.

It should be used by anyone seeking small business or home repair loans, food stamps, emergency medical care, employment or any other needed service.

The state Office of Petroleum Allocation is helping get additional gasoline and diesel fuel into storm-damaged areas.

The office is also preparing to arrange added propane gas supplies for mobile homes being moved in to shelter the homeless.

The director of the state Division of Forestry, Harry Nadler, says his agency will help anyone salvage harvestable trees lost in the tornadoes.

He said some trees might be replanted and that some timber may be valuable.

He suggested that owners, instead of burning the fallen trees or cutting them for firewood, contact their local forestry office for advice on how to market them.

As an example, Nadler said, black walnut is in short supply right now and two good-sized trees could bring in considerable money.

Porter Appointed Director Of New Development Center

William Porter of the United Campus Ministry staff has been appointed to the board of directors of the newly established Mid-South Career Development Center to be located in Nashville.

At the organization meeting the by-laws and charter were approved; a nine-member board of directors representing six denominations and four states was elected; and qualifications approved for a staff director.

To be located either at Scarritt College or Vanderbilt Divinity School, the center will serve as potential of 16 denominations in Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, and possibly eastern Arkansas.

Services of the new center include: assistance in long-range planning for career development guidance for those facing career crises; counseling to enable a person to use capabilities more fully and effectively; guidance for those who wish to consider work outside the parish ministry and or the church; assessment of abilities and assistance in establishing responsible and meaningful career goals; counseling for ministerial candidates and their spouses considering church occupations; professional guidance for wives and-or husbands of clients; and consultation to judiciaries or other church organizations.

The Mid-South Career Development Center is scheduled to begin full operation on April 1, 1975.

Two Rock Groups To Appear At MSU

Two rock groups—Lynyrd Skynyrd and R. E. O. Speedwagon—will appear in concert at Murray State University Sunday, April 21.

To be held in the university fieldhouse at 8 p.m., the program is sponsored by the Student Government Association and the Student Activities Board on the campus.

Among the recordings made by the groups are "I Ain't The One" and "Gimme Three Steps" by Lynyrd Skynyrd and "Riding the Storm," "157 Riverside Avenue," and "Gold in the Country" by R. E. O. Speedwagon.

All seats for the concert are general admission, according to Scott Jones, concert chairman. Tickets are $5 for non-students and $4 for Murray State students with identification cards, with a limit of two tickets per student.

Scott said tickets will go on sale April 15 at Gatlin and Cohrs in Paducah and in the lobby of the Waterfield Student Union Building on the campus.

Main orders are now being accepted. Orders should include a check for the proper amount and a self-addressed, stamped envelope and be addressed to: Student Activities Board, Box 3094, University Station, Murray, Ky., 42071.

Malinda L. Taylor Selected For Grant

Malinda Lorene Taylor, a graduating senior at Calloway County High School, has been selected as the recipient of the $150 Rainey T. Wells Founder's Memorial Scholarship to attend Murray State University for the 1974-75 school year.

Miss Taylor, daughter of Margaret Eslinger Taylor of Murray Route 7 and the late Alfred Ben Taylor, ranks second in her class scholastically. She plans to enroll in a business curriculum at Murray State.

Having membership in the Beta Club for three years, Miss Taylor has also been active in FBLA and track.

Announcing her selection for the scholarship was Mancel Vinson, director of alumni affairs at Murray State. The award is the second to be made in memory of Wells, the founder of Murray State in 1922, who also served as the school's second president.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Highly favorable influences should give you new incentive, spur your ambitions, give you surer appreciation of the many benefits within your reach.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

Do not sell the opposition short, and do not let what co-workers have to offer. You may experience tendencies toward restlessness now. Curb them, and you can attain much.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Certain suggestions must be ignored, others accepted quickly. The Gemini's gift of seeing through a maze of complexities should result in a field day.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

There is a tendency toward vacillation. Stabilize, recognize flaws. No matter how busy, make the time necessary to put things across cleverly—as YOU can.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

You may find that you have cluttered your schedule with a lot of nonessentials. Revise, cut them out, and eliminate waste motion, too. Stay on your course!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

"Where there's a will, there's a way." That should be this day's slogan. You can choose your activities from any one of several areas, but stay within reasonable limits.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

The position of Venus suggests that you stress your innate artistry and create those clever "twists" which make the difference between the so-so and top attainment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

You may have a tendency to be too impressionable now.

Avoid becoming involved in ticklish situations into which you could be trapped, and which could disturb you later.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

In both business and financial matters, use only time-tested procedures. Don't attempt anything risky. And DON'T try for the unreasonable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Be discriminating. No matter what the situation, don't judge on surface appearances only. Don't completely disregard first impressions of strangers, however.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

This should be a highly profitable day for those of you who capitalize on your innate imagination and originality. In the personal field, emotions may rise and fall, so maintain equilibrium and poise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Benefits indicated if you are alert, but opportunities could be lost through indifference or tendencies toward extremism.

YOU BORN TODAY are courageous, energetic and ambitious. Being a born leader, others follow you, and your opinions carry weight, so it's important that you never express yourself impulsively, without careful forethought.

You are extremely versatile and could make a name for yourself in many fields—but especially in the law, politics and statesmanship, where your leadership and dynamic personality would be tremendous assets.

You could also excel in the world of education—making a forceful and brilliant teacher—if you can curb tendencies to be overexacting with those under your supervision. Other careers suited to your talents: music, literature and science. Birthdate of: Charles Evans Hughes and Edward Everett, U.S. statesmen.

SMOKING PROBLEM

Enough drugs entered the United States in 1973 to make nearly 20 marijuana cigarettes for every man, woman and child in the country, according to the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

President Faces Estimated 1973 Income Tax Of More Than $100,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, already beset by back taxes of $467,000, faces an estimated income tax for 1973 of more than $100,000. To avoid interest charges, he should pay nearly $30,000 by Monday night, according to the estimate.

An estimate of the President's 1973 tax return was prepared by The Associated Press and a professional tax adviser. It was based on re-evaluations of his past four returns completed last week by the Internal Revenue Service and a congressional committee staff, plus personal financial data previously released by Nixon.

The estimate shows: —Income of $303,723, most of it from his $250,000 presidential salary and expense allowance, the rest principally from interest and profits on a real estate deal.

—Deductions of $77,938, nearly half of it for interest payments and almost one-third from property taxes for his houses in Key Biscayne, Fla., and San Clemente, Calif.

—Tax due of $109,310. The White House said in December that $5,662 was taken from his salary and expense checks each month, meaning he already has paid $67,940 toward his taxes through withholding. He also left $1,000 from last year's refund.

The resultant balance due would be $40,370.

Nixon's Los Angeles tax preparer, Arthur Blech, said last weekend the President has requested an extension of time to file his 1973 return because of the complexity of last week's IRS decision that Nixon owes $432,787 in back taxes plus interest. The President has agreed to pay it.

But even with an extension the taxpayer must pay 90 per cent of his eventual tax bill by April 15 if he is to avoid an interest charge. For Nixon, that would mean $29,439 by April 15.

The IRS and a report from the staff of the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation disallowed a number of deductions Nixon had taken during his first four years as president.

Most costly of these were his charitable contribution deductions for pre-presidential papers he said he donated to the government before a law ending the tax break for such donations took effect.

The current tax bill is one more in a growing pile of bills that is cutting deeply into Nixon's net worth.

Biggest, of course, is the $467,000 in back taxes and interest. But in July, he also is scheduled to make the final mortgage and interest payment of $243,660 in his San Clemente property.

He has just recently, according to a White House source, paid the $25,000 accounting bill that arose as a result of his having auditors prepare detailed financial material made public last December.

The White House said Nixon will have to borrow funds to pay off part of the back-tax bill. His bank balances as of last May 31 were $432,874. It is believed the President could remortgage the San Clemente property to meet the July payment.

While legal fees for the type of representation Nixon has had from two lawyers in his tax case would normally run to at least five figures, the White House said the two lawyers, H. Chapman Rose and Kenneth Gemmill, are not billing the President.

Although some aspects of his 1969-72 tax settlement such as interest charges will in themselves be tax deductible, those would be reflected in his 1974 return due by April 15, 1975, not in the forthcoming return.

VA Report Shows Continued Growth In Benefits In 1973

Fiscal year 1973 saw continued growth in benefits and services, including a record 1.1 million veterans treated at hospitals, according to the Veterans Administration's Annual Report.

The largest single expenditure, for compensation and pension benefits, totaled $6.4 billion, also a record.

Information on the agency's fiscal year 1973 operations is summarized in 4,500 copies of a 203-page report which includes statistics, charts, tables and illustrations.

The report shows VA appropriations exceeded $12 billion, with $2.7 billion—12 percent more than in fiscal year 1972—going to the Department of Medicine and Surgery. (The 1975 budget request is $13.6 billion).

Among other highlights of the Annual Report:

—The agency was the largest single provider of surgical care, with 19,600 surgical beds in operation at end of fiscal year;

—more than 2.2 million persons—13 percent more than fiscal year 1972—trained under GI Bill at a cost of more than $2.6 billion;

—$65,000 home loans guaranteed; 6,000 more than fiscal year 1972; most in 16 years;

—310,000 veterans provided funeral and burial benefits at a cost of more than $77 million;

—benefits and services were available, potentially, to 46.9 percent of the population;

—more than $73.9 billion in life insurance coverage under seven programs provided 7.4 million insureds;

—construction obligations rose to nearly $137-million, largest amount since 1950;

—veterans had a median income of $9,880 during calendar year 1972, compared to $6,550 for nonveterans;

—women comprised 1.9 percent of veteran population.

Copies of the VA Annual Report are available for $2.10 from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Easter Egg Hunt At

Oaks Club Saturday

The Oaks County Club will have an Easter Egg Hunt for children of members on Saturday, April 13, at one p.m. at the club.

Mrs. Jerry Caldwell, chairman of children's activities of the club, said each child should bring five plastic or hard boiled eggs for the hunt. Prizes will be given.

Crisis May Give Cities Time To Save Themselves

By JOSH FITZHUGH
Associated Press Writer

The energy crisis will not save the cities, but it may give them time to save themselves.

Pre-existing trends toward inner city living and mass transit may be accelerated, while some movement out of the cities may be slowed.

After all, says the head of Philadelphia's planning commission, "the cities are really the best energy savers that man has ever devised."

Long-range trends are difficult, if not impossible, to gauge. Officials universally say "it's too early to tell" whether lifestyle changes in the cities caused by the winter energy shortage will last.

"Energy will be a new factor in the complicated equation of where people live and work," says Doug Parker, newly appointed energy adviser for the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The Associated Press surveyed leaders and citizens in several of the country's largest cities to see what changes the energy crisis has brought.

Their answers indicate that: —For the moment the flight from the cities may have stopped. Families and businesses appear more cautious about leaving. Young couples see an added advantage in buying in town.

Governments are more willing to subsidize mass transit and people appear more willing to ride it. "We know we've never had so much love and affection," says Wichita's transit director Paul McGinnis.

Development along the cities' fringes, and within downtown, may increase. Brokers point to the fuel-saving benefits of attached row houses.

Most important, those who love the cities, or are committed to them, feel the energy crisis provides a new psychological weapon to combat the fear of racial distrust and urban crime.

"I think there's been something in the nature of an awakening that things can't go on the way they were," says Donald Moore, president of the Downtown Brooklyn Development Association. "Everything at least psychologically is flowing in our direction."

To Susan Keller, urban sociologist at Princeton University, it's a question whether "the fantasy of open space and the open road or the fantasy of the rich city predominates."

"I have heard people saying they'll take another look at the cities, that maybe cities are in again," she says. Still there appears a need "to combine various modes of life with new kinds of transport," she says.

As gasoline dwindled this winter, mass transit ridership increased between 5 and 10 per cent in some cities. Transit authorities added bus lines and special lanes for nar pools and urged businesses "to stagger working hours to alleviate bunching. Ridership in Honolulu was so heavy officials feared the congestion would drive passengers away once the gasoline crunch eased.

In Los Angeles traffic on the fabled freeways dropped as much as 33 per cent, with accidents off sharply. Downtown parking fell 20 to 45 per cent. The city's traffic engineer, S.S. Taylor, bought his first bicycle to see what problems confronted the two-wheelers.

"I was thinking of getting a foreign car, a small one," said Boston cab driver Ken McCarthy. "But now I'll get a bicycle if anything. I'm serious."

Perhaps to aid the shift, Boston increased its parking meter fees fivefold.

"People may travel to and from work in a different way to have enough money and fuel to move about more freely during nonworking hours," says David Grayson of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Confined to the city, persons looked to restaurants, theaters and museums for entertainment. Some rediscovered neighborhood parks—or neighbors.

Says Richard Barr of the League of New York Theaters: "God knows we're not encouraging the energy crisis, but it's given a lot of people a chance to find out that New York is not quite the jungle it is supposed to be."

So far planners detect some increased interest in the downtown areas. Builders are looking more closely at housing in downtown Detroit. Demand is up in central Los Angeles.

"I hear a lot of talk about people moving back downtown because of the energy crisis," says Tom Puett, president of an Atlanta development company. "The real estate appraisers that used to look at our neighborhood with a good bit of skepticism are now very optimistic about it.

"I can't tell you that everybody in the suburbs is going to move downtown, but the appraisers' attitude is a good sign."

Calvin Hamilton, director of Los Angeles city planning, feels fuel prices are bound to spur the re-use of the city's tremendous investment in sewers, schools, parks and streets. "People may want to stay in and rebuild the house they have," he says.

"Anytime the decision to leave is put off, it's got to be a help," says Richard Seeler, a corporate real estate broker in New York. "The energy crisis has made businesses 'stop and think' about leaving for suburban locations, he says.

But the crisis has hurt cities, too. Utilities' conversion to coal in some Eastern cities threatens environmental gains and pollution cutbacks resulting from fewer cars. Higher electric bills are giving nightmares to owners of some all-electric homes. Apartment owners squawk about not being able to pass along fuel surcharges to rent-controlled tenants. And residents with air conditioners prefer not to think about this summer's bills.

"The crisis wasn't as bad as we anticipated, but there's a definite tightening up feeling," says Michael Ehrmann, who lives with his wife and child on Manhattan's upper West Side. "The boom is off; the illusions of the last 10 years are gone."

"Still more than gas, and somewhat more than rent, food is the biggest factor. We're making more but we have the overwhelming feeling that we're going substantially backward."

Lawrence S. Philpot, agriculturist at Land Between The Lakes, TVA's 170,000-acre public outdoor recreation and environmental education center in western Kentucky and Tennessee, has been elected to the board of directors of the National Buffalo Association.

Philpot assists in maintaining the 49 head of buffalo that graze a 200-acre pasture near the former site of Model, Tennessee, in the southern sector of Land Between The Lakes. The American bison were introduced at Land Between The Lakes in 1969 when 19 head were brought from Theodore Roosevelt National Memorial Park, Medora, North Dakota.

A graduate of the University of Kentucky, Philpot was employed by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service before accepting his position with TVA in 1967. He lives with his wife and son in Murray.

Keith Barber Is Air Force Recruit

Keith D. Barber, son of Mr. & Mrs. Ken Barber, Murray, has enlisted in the United States Air Force Delayed Entry Program. Keith will report to Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, to begin his basic training, the 26th of July. Keith enlisted into the air force guaranteed job program. He enlisted for the security police field with the buddy system option. Keith will graduate from Murray High School in May.

Keith enlisted through Sgt. Bob Kleeman of the Air Force Office located in the Century Building in Paducah, Kentucky.

The Navy has a job that will pay you more than $75.00 a week to start, plus...

Probably a lot more than you could earn in a run-of-the-mill job when you think that $75 a week is just spending money... when you don't have to pay for food, housing, medical or dental bills... when you get some of the best job training in the world free... when you can travel to places like Hawaii and the Caribbean.

Navy money's pretty good. So are the jobs and the travel and even the food. The Navy's got a lot of new programs that can help you go places inside the Navy, and when you get out. Like the join-now, report-up-to-six-months-later program. Like the Naval Reserve two-year active duty plan. If the Navy sounds like a place you'd like to be, call or see

First Christian Plans Services

The traditional Maundy Thursday Candelight Communion Service, and Office of Tenebrae will be celebrated at the First Christian Church Thursday evening, April 11, at 7:30 p.m. with the Chancel Choir and thirteen men of the congregation representing the twelve disciples and Christ participating.

Walter Apperson will be the officiant and Mrs. William M. Porter the soloist. The twelve readers will cover the passion narratives from the Gospel according to St. Matthew. The readers include: James Boone, Ron Mitchell, Fred Wells, Scott Marvin, Dr. Ron Cella, Jimmy Pasco, Bailey Gore, Chris Clifton, Terry Hart, Don McCord, John Mark Hale, and Rev. William M. Porter.

Bill Marvin is in charge of the program planning and supervision.

In conjunction with the Candelight Holy Communion service is held the ancient Office of Tenebrae. "Tenebrae" is a Latin word meaning "Shadows" and the word "Office" is the equivalent to "Service," Dr. David C. Roos, minister, said.

The distinctive feature of Tenebrae is the gradual extinction of lights in the Church, except one candle, which is removed at the end of the scripture readings, but brought back to its place prior to the benediction. Dr. Roos said "the ceremony has at least two meanings—symbolic of the apparent victory of the power of darkness over our Lord in His Passion, but actually of their failure to overwhelm Him who is in truth the Light of the world; can also be symbolic of the darkness which came over Jesus when deserted by His closest followers, the disciples, but again, sustained by His faith in God, He was not overcome even by this darkness."

HEART RESEARCH

Last week I expressed my belief that people do not have to switch the fats in their diet to lower their blood cholesterol. I recommended, instead, a sensible, nutritionally-balanced diet that will maintain you at your ideal weight.

I am speaking to the public generally, not to the patient whose personal physician has told him he should alter his diet along with other measures because of health problems that are apparent or suspected. But I do wish to emphasize again that I think there has been too much loose talk by both professional and commercial interests with regard to diet and heart disease.

Don't Know Cause

I am joined in this attitude by eminent authorities. Famed heart surgeon Dr. Michael DeBakey, for example, has found that only about 30 per cent of heart patients have any cholesterol abnormality. He said recently, "We don't know the cause and we need to take a much saner attitude toward diet in relation to heart disease, since it is obvious that diet, as far as 65 to 70 per cent of the patients are concerned, has not been related to or associated with the disease in our experience."

And there are others. When the Food and Nutrition Board—American Medical Association Council of Foods and Nutrition Joint statement on diet and heart disease was published in late 1972, the chairmen of these groups said the statement was not a recommendation for the general public.

Said Dr. Lloyd J. Filer, FNB chairman: "The purpose of the FNB-AMA joint statement on diet and coronary heart disease is to encourage physicians to screen, identify, and treat individuals and families who may be at risk of heart disease. It should not be interpreted as urging the general population to change its diet without medical supervision. Unless a person discovers in consultation with his physician that he has a possible heart disease problem, there is no reason to depart from traditional American eating patterns. But eating too much, weighing too much is, of course, to be avoided."

Dr. Goldsmith Concur

And Dr. Grace Goldsmith, AMA Council chairman, said: "The Joint Statement of the Food and Nutrition Board and the American Medical Association Council on Foods and Nutrition titled 'Diet and Coronary Heart Disease' is not a recommendation directed toward the general public. It is intended for physicians as a guideline for therapy in treating patients who suffer elevated levels of fats in their blood and may be at risk of heart disease."

"Certainly, no individual, on his own, ought to drastically change his diet in hopes of preventing heart disease. The best approach for the average citizen is still to eat a balanced diet from a variety of all foods at a calorie level that will maintain his ideal weight. The most important foods for this are the four food groups—the milk and dairy foods group, the meat-poultry-fish-egg group, fruits and vegetables, and enriched or whole grain breads and cereals."

Dr. Vernon Gantt To Give Sessions

Dr. Vernon Gantt, assistant professor of speech at Murray State University, will conduct three workshop sessions during the 74th annual meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers in Atlanta April 15-18.

Entitled "Interpersonal Relations: Seeing Yourself As Others See You," the workshops, according to Gantt, "will deal with factors in interpersonal relations of particular concern to registrars and admissions officers."

One workshop session will be focused essentially on a self-audit instrument in interpersonal relations developed by Gantt, who joined the faculty in the fall of 1973. He said the self-audit is designed to assist a registrar or admissions officer to make an assessment of his interpersonal relations.

Among 117 programs during the four-day meeting, which is expected to draw about 2,000 members, the workshops are sponsored by the Organization and Management Responsibilities of Registrar Activities committee of the national organization.

A cross-section of 26 registrars and admissions people from 22 states will be working with Gantt as active participants in the workshops. Between 50 and 100 observers are expected to attend each of the sessions.

Serving as chairman of the workshop sessions will be Wilson Gantt, dean of admissions and registrar at Murray State and a member of the sponsoring committee.

Sen. Kennedy Expresses Fear Of Assassination

BONN (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, considered a front-runner in the 1976 presidential campaign, said in an interview today he is bothered by fears of assassination.

Asked by the West German newspaper Bild Zeitung if members of his family want him to be president, the Massachusetts Democrat replied: "My God, no. After what happened to my two brothers, they are very much afraid."

Asked if he was afraid, Kennedy said: "To be honest, yes. But if I thought about it too much, I wouldn't be able to function." Then he added, "I would be crazy if I completely ignored the danger."

Kennedy flew back to Washington today after two days of talks with West German leaders.

He said he had not made a final decision on whether to seek the Democratic party's presidential nomination.

"I'm still mulling it over day and night. I will make a final decision in the summer of 1975."

Kennedy sidestepped a question asking whether he favored impeaching President Nixon, but did say he believed "impeachment proceedings will be introduced."

MEMORIAL RESOLUTION
JUDGE WAYLON RAYBURN, FORMER EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT, TRUSTEE AND MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE WOODMEN OF THE WORLD LIFE INSURANCE SOCIETY.

WHEREAS, Sovereign Waylon Rayburn of Murray, Kentucky died November 6, 1973, ending his long and distinguished career as a dedicated Woodman; and

WHEREAS, Sovereign Rayburn was born June 15, 1904 in Murray, Kentucky and received his elementary and high school education in his home town; and

WHEREAS, Judge Rayburn was a state legislator from Kentucky 1933 to 1937; he was an employee of the State Department of Education; he received an A.B. degree from Murray State University, an M.A. degree from the University of Kentucky and an L.L.B. degree from the Jefferson School of Law at Louisville, Kentucky and was admitted to the Kentucky Bar in 1943, opening a law office in Murray, Kentucky in 1944. He served two terms as Calloway County Judge completing his services on January 1, 1962 and returning to private law practice in Murray. He was a member of the Murray Rotary Club and served as president, and as past district governor of District 671, Rotary International. His other civic and community services included being past president of the Murray State Alumni Association, former member of the Board of Constituency of the Murray Hospital Association, past chairman of the Calloway County Chapter of the American Red Cross, past president of the Young Business Men's Club, member of Murray Lodge No. 105 Free and Accepted Masons, member of the First Baptist Church and former chairman of the Murray-Calloway County Social Service Committee; and

WHEREAS, Judge Rayburn was a longtime member of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society, serving as a member of its board of directors and as a trustee thereof. He reached his pinnacle of service in Woodcraft when he became executive vice-president of the Society on January 1, 1968. He was loyal to its principles and took every opportunity to bring to the attention of people throughout the nation the fraternal and protection benefits the Woodmen program afforded. He was cooperative with his colleagues in Woodcraft, with the administrative officers and the members of the board of directors as well as with the personnel in the home office, lay sovereigns and field personnel, always lending a helping hand in every endeavor to enhance the Woodmen programs. We recognize that Judge Rayburn was particularly helpful to President Newberry and was devotedly loyal to the great programs that have marked the progress of the current administration of the Society. We in the Society are greatly indebted for his contributions when he served as an executive officer. He helped inaugurate a program to bring the jurisdictional presidents together for meetings to discuss and find corrections and solutions to the problems encountered in the various jurisdictions; and

WHEREAS, Judge Rayburn spent much of his life serving and rendering helpful service through his church, civic organizations, service clubs and public office. He worked diligently at his tasks and derived much satisfaction from doing so. He was a soul of courtesy and all who came within the range of his interests are indebted to him for his kindnesses, counsel, encouragement, loyalty and helpfulness. We shall always remember the sunshine of his smile, the inspiration of his words and the helpfulness of his hands.

Judge Rayburn is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Ely Rayburn, 712 Olive Street, Murray; one son, Michael Rayburn, two grandchildren, Douglas Michael and Beverly Gayle Rayburn, Memphis, Tennessee, one sister, Mrs. Edgar (Mary Nell) Shirley, and one brother, Raymon Rayburn, both of Murray. With each of the members of his bereaved family, we, the members of the board of directors of the Woodmen of the World, sympathize most sincerely and our hearts go out to them in Christian love in the loss they have sustained. He will be greatly missed by all Woodmen and particularly the members of the administrative committee and the board;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the board of directors of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society, in meeting assembled in Miami, Florida, March 19, 1974, do hereby express the foregoing memorial sentiments in reference to our departed colleague, Judge Waylon Rayburn, and hereby attest our love and esteem for his fine character, his great service to our Society, and for all the good things he made possible by his great Woodmen life. We shall miss him and revere his memory.

It is directed that a copy of this memorial resolution be reflected in the minutes of the board and a copy forwarded by the secretary under the seal of the Society to his widow, Mrs. Mary Ely Rayburn at her home in Murray, Kentucky.

Adopted this 19th day of March, 1974.

I, T. E. Newton, Secretary of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society and—Omaha Woodmen Life Insurance Society, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the official records of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society, of which I am the official custodian, and that the original thereof is on file in the Home Office of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society at Omaha, Nebraska, and is a part and parcel of the official records of said Society.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the corporate seal of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society and—Omaha Woodmen Life Insurance Society at Omaha, Nebraska, this 29th day of March, A.D. 1974.

T. E. Newton, Secretary.

THERE GOES THE POLE SLIDE

NEW YORK (AP) — The slide down the brass pole in the firehouse isn't easy on firemen, so one city official has won approval of a site for the city's first permanent single-level firehouse.

Donald Manes, president of the borough of Queens, admits, "I know this is counter to the children's storybook image depicting firemen hurriedly sliding down the fire poles to their waiting fire trucks."

But Manes said, "This new concept will provide greater safety for firemen."

He said Fire Department statistics for 1972 indicate 1,733 days of work were lost due to 69 injuries to firemen hurrying from upstairs.

New License Renewal Plan

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Kentuckians renewing their drivers licenses in April will be the first to receive permanent licenses under the state Division of Drivers Licenses' computerized renewal program.

Drivers License Director R. E. Hodges said that the first preprinted licenses are now being issued at circuit courts throughout the state.

Under the computerized renewal program, a notice is mailed to each Kentucky drivers license holder in the month prior to the person's birth month.

License holders present the notice to the circuit court clerk during their birth month and receive their permanent preprinted drivers license at that time.

Hodges added that the new license will no longer have the holder's address. This was eliminated because the addresses listed were often incorrect because the holders often moved during the two years that the licenses were valid.

Check cashing using the drivers license will not be affected, Hodges said, because cashiers are more interested in the license number than the address.

"Since every licensed driver in Kentucky will be affected by the new program, there may be some initial problems—but in the long run, this new system will be virtually foolproof and will be more convenient for the license holder," Hodges said.
