Magistrates Split On Dozer Purchase

By DAVID HILL
Ledger & Times Staff Writer

The first showing of discussion showed up Thursday at the Calloway County Fiscal Court, and Judge Robert O. Miller had to break a tie vote on the purchase of a bulldozer for the county.

Magistrates Ralph Bogard and Dan Bazzell favored one machine, while Gil Hopson and Tommy Bogard liked another, and the Judge sided with Hopson and Tommy Bogard to purchase for the county an International TD-15 bulldozer, at a price of $46,535.

Of some importance in the issue was the delivery date, with some of the bidders unable to deliver before fall. The machines in question were:

A used Caterpillar dozer, now being rented by the county, which has been used about 800 hours, and selling for $48,500. The dozer, a 1972 model, was offered with a warranty identical to a new machine.

A new Caterpillar dozer, which could be delivered in September, identical to the used one now in use, but selling for only $750 more at $49,250.

The International TD-15, which sold for $46,535, but could be delivered immediately. The TD-15 is a new machine; no bid was submitted by the firm, Brandies Machinery, for a used dozer.

An Allis-Chalmers dozer, priced at $43,740, but which lacked one gear meeting the county's specifications.

A used Allis Chalmers with a 30-day warranty, selling for $38,000.

Bazzell and Ralph Bogard favored buying the used Caterpillar, now in use by the county. A rental of some $4,500 already paid by the Court would have been taken off the purchase price.

The main problem with the used machine seemed to be the small difference in the price for the two-year old used dozer and the price for a brand new one, only $750.

Judge Miller expressed the sentiments of Tommy Bogard and Hopson by saying that he didn't know how he could justify to a man on the street how he (the judge) bought a two-year old dozer when he could have bought a new one for $750 more.

The new Caterpillar dozer was not really in contention because of the late delivery date, after valuable months of road-building time.

A bid from James Futrell was accepted to buy the county's present bulldozer, also an International. The high bid was (See Fiscal Court, Page 14)

Council To Meet With Board On Tennis Issue

By GENE McCUTCHEON
Ledger & Times New Editor

A joint meeting between the Murray City Council and the Murray Independent School Board, most likely next week, in an effort to iron out differences on the location of five new tennis courts within the city.

The council and the school board have been negotiating over the location of the courts for many months and it was suggested at the regular meeting of the council last night that the only way the issue might be resolved would be in a joint meeting of the two bodies.

The courts, costing a total of $40,000, half of which will come through a federal grant, were originally scheduled to be located adjacent to Murray High School but the project hit a snag when the council and the board could not reach full agreement over control and use of the recreation facilities.

Prior to requesting Mayor John Scott to schedule the joint meeting with the board, the council had tabled a motion by Mrs. Jo Crass, chairman of the council's park and recreation committee, that the council locate the courts in one of two areas. The motion stipulated the first choice for the courts would be in the southwestern portion of the city and the second choice would be in the present City Park property. The motion was tabled on a 7-5 vote.

"We can't achieve the kind of recreation program that I think we need without the cooperation of the city (school board) and for that matter the county school board," councilman Rex Alexander said.

Alexander and councilman Howard Koenen both expressed concern over the breakdown in negotiations with the school board on the tennis courts and at one point Alexander said "I think the city school system has an obligation to provide recreation facilities for the townspeople." Alexander added that he did not feel that children who are educated in tennis, golf, basketball and other sports should be denied the use of the school facilities after they graduate from the school.

School Board Gets Report On Tennis Court Progress

By DAVID HILL
Ledger & Times Staff Writer

An alternate site for tennis courts was proposed by the Murray Board of Education to the Murray City Council, according to a report submitted at the Board meeting Thursday.

Chairman Maurice Ryan said committees from both the board and the council met April 4, and explained that objections were raised by both the board and the council as to previous restrictions on the proposed courts, to be located on the Murray High School campus.

Ryan explained that objections raised by the school board center around the inconvenience and confusion that might arise at the Murray Vocational School if these courts are located in front of that school and used by the public during the day. Also, Ryan noted, a problem might arise in security if the courts were used late at night.

Objections raised by the city, according to Ryan's report, had been the utilization during the school day. The City, Ryan said, had had the opinion that the courts should be available to the public during the school day.

A new site for the courts was proposed by the board committee on the south of the campus, along Johnson Blvd. By using this site, the report by Ryan said, the public would have the use of the courts during the school day at such times not needed by the school for classes.

No official action was taken on the issue by the Board of Education.

Injunction Preventing Certification Of GOP Candidates In Primary Granted

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs granted a temporary injunction today to keep Secretary of State Thelma Stovall from certifying GOP candidates for the U. S. Senate race in the May primary.

The injunction was requested by attorneys for Sen. Marlow Cook, R Ky., who was ruled ineligible for the race because his filing papers were incomplete.

Cook originally obtained a restraining order from certifying any candidate in the primary, including those for Congress of both parties.

Ben Fowler, Cook's attorney here, initially asked for a temporary injunction along the same lines as the restraining order, applying to all candidates, but in the hearing today, Fowler said he would have no objections to having the injunction apply only to Republican candidates for the Senate.

Meigs scheduled a pre-trial conference later in the day to determine how to proceed with the case.

Mrs. Stovall told a news conference Thursday she had not given other candidates any more warning about incomplete filing papers than she had for Cook.

The only difference, she said, was that all the others had mailed their papers in and asked for a letter acknowledging she got them. In that letter, she said, she told them the forms were incomplete, just as she told Cook verbally when he filed in person March 22 that he had to name his treasurer.

Mrs. Stovall said she did not tell any of the candidates their filings would be invalid if they did not complete the forms promptly.

Gov. Wendell Ford is the major Democratic candidate for Cook's seat and was expected to give the Louisville Republican a strong race in November.

Other little known candidates have filed in both the Republican and Democratic races.

Fee Schedule For Landfill Approved By City Fathers

Dumping privileges at the city-owned landfill near Coldwater will be on a pay-as-you-go basis in the near future due to action taken by the Murray City Council last night establishing a fee schedule for the landfill.

Councilman Dave Willis, chairman of the council's health and sanitation committee, and Melvin Henley, a member of that committee, told the council that the fee schedule was necessary because the landfill was presently operating at a deficit. The councilmen said that many people who were commercial haulers plus many non-residents of the city presently use the landfill free of charge.

The fees adopted by the council last night are: automobiles displaying a city sticker, no charge; autos without a city sticker, $50; pickup trucks without sideboards, $150; pickup trucks with sideboards, $3; 1 to 1 1/2 ton trucks, $.50 per cubic yard loose and $1 per cubic yard compacted. Two alternatives were approved for commercial haulers with large trucks. They could pay at the rate of $15 per load or by their choice of $500 per quarter, $800 every six months, or $1,500 per year on non-compact loads.

Councilman Henley estimated that the fees would bring in from $20,000 to $40,000 per year, depending on how many persons from outside the county continue to use the landfill.

In a related matter, the council approved the rental of an elevated scraper for use at the landfill at a cost of $1,750 per month. The scraper is used to dig large trenches for the adequate handling of refuse at the landfill.

Sex is no way to keep a boyfriend

DEAR ABBY: I'm 21, considered attractive with a good personality. My problem is—rather embarrassing—but I think there is something wrong with me.

When I meet a guy I like, right away I get sexually involved with him. In fact, going to bed with him is the only thing on my mind.

Naturally, no guy is going to turn anything down, but my sexual involvement never seems to accomplish what I hope it will. The longest a guy has ever gone with me is two months. They all give me a big rush at first and then they quit calling. Is it possible they get tired of sex?

I know I'm too forward, but I just can't help it. I don't think I'm a nymphomaniac because I don't get all that much out of sex. Could I be oversexed?

How can I keep from falling head over heels in love with guys I barely know? I can't seem to help myself. I'm always getting hurt.

Do I have a problem? And how do I solve it? PUSHOVER

DEAR PUSHOVER: You have a problem, and you can solve it by getting to know yourself and understanding why you behave as you do. You're insecure and searching for a lasting relationship, and you believe that the way to keep a guy coming back is by giving him sex. Wrong! [Obviously.] A good therapist is the answer. Ask your family doctor to recommend one. Or call your Family Service Association.

DEAR ABBY: My mother and I stopped at a gasoline station. She told the attendant she wanted $2 worth of gas and she held up two fingers.

The attendant left, and for some reason another man came out and put the gas in my mother's tank. He said: "That will be $3."

My mother said she asked for only $2 worth so the second man said: "Look, lady, what's another dollar? Besides with this gas shortage, you're lucky."

My mother said all she had was $2, but she lived only a few blocks away [which was true] so she would go home and get another dollar.

My mother didn't have any more money at home so she never went back because what could she have given him? What should she have done? WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: She should have told the man she would bring him the dollar as soon as she had it. And then she should have kept her word.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both dieting. We were invited to spend the weekend with some close relatives of mine. When I accepted, I expressly asked my aunt to please keep the food simple, and not to bake because we were dieting. She agreed.

When we got there she had pumpkin bread, fudge brownies, cheesecake and all the things we love and couldn't resist.

Because we are good friends, I spoke up and said I wished she hadn't done all that, especially since I had asked her not to. It caused hurt feelings.

Now the family says that it's up to the dieters to resist temptation because others should not have to go without. We say when houseguests ask the hostess not to serve high calorie foods she should comply. What do you think?

CALORIE COUNTER

DEAR COUNTER: Your aunt agreed to comply with your wishes, and she broke her promise. Shame on auntie. If she felt you were being unfair to the other guests by requesting she limit her menu to low-calorie food, she should have said so.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Shade Of Difference

Do-over thought for today—small, low or poorly placed windows can be turned into architectural assets by brightly colored window shades, ceiling-hung to hide the window's actual shape. With the addition of strategically placed curtains or shutters at the sides, you can "reconstruct" your windows in the proportion best for your room.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine intellect, a dynamic personality and unusual versatility. You are a naturally curious individual (would make an outstanding reporter or detective), but your curiosity is not of the petty, prying type. With family, friends and associates, you are inclined to be exceptionally tolerant, to take a "live and let live" attitude. Your desire to "know" is a scholarly, investigative one—a great asset in many professions. There are many fields in which you can succeed, but notably as a business executive (if you restrain a tendency toward "bossiness"), a lawyer, statesman, scientist (medicine especially) or, in the art world, as a writer, painter, musician, theatrical performer. The Celebration Of Easter

This year Easter Sunday will fall on April 14, this coming Sunday. Since the very early days of the Christian church, this has been the great event of the year, commemorating the resurrection of Jesus Christ and the fulfillment of the promise of salvation for all people.

Since ancient times, churches and altars have been decorated for the occasion; candles have been burned; and, in the medieval cathedrals of England, the Easter or paschal candles were often of huge dimensions. They were held in gigantic brass or silver candlesticks and reached a combined height of as much as 60 or 70 feet.

This Easter in our community, sunrise services, children hunting

Easter eggs, families attending church together and the sometimes frivolous profusion of new "Easter bonnets" will be outward evidence of the 2,000-year continuity of the Christian celebration of Christ's resurrection and spiritual reality.

It is a time for Christians of the world to reaffirm our faith in Him, who rose to lead mankind in the ways of peace and brotherhood and fulfill the promise of eternal life.

EASTER EVE

John 20:10-17

From The Living Bible

Mary had returned to the tomb and was standing outside crying. And as she wept, she stooped and looked in and saw two white-robed angels sitting at the head and foot of the place where the body of Jesus had been lying. "Why are you crying?" the angels asked her. "Because they have taken away my Lord," she replied, "and I don't know where they have put him." She glanced over her shoulder and saw someone standing behind her. It was Jesus but she didn't recognize him! "Why are you crying?" he asked her. "Whom are you looking for?" She thought he was the gardener. "Sir," she said, "if you have taken him away, tell me where you have put him, and I will go and get him." "Mary!" Jesus said. She turned toward him. "Master!" she exclaimed. "Don't touch me," he cautioned, "for I haven't yet ascended to the Father. But go find my brothers and tell them that I ascend to my Father and your Father, my God and your God."

THE COVENANT AND THE RESURRECTION

Having been selected and called by the Holy Spirit, and then set apart and commissioned by the church at Antioch, Barnabas and Paul went forth, taking John Mark as their attendant, to proclaim the gospel of Christ. At Perga Mark departed from them and returned to Jerusalem. Evangelizing as they went, Barnabas and Paul continued their journey until they arrived in Antioch in Pisidia, which was an important military and commercial center.

Acts 13:16-23

On the first Sabbath after their arrival in the city Paul and Barnabas were seated in the synagogue, in keeping with their usual practice of attending the worship services. Being men of dignity and reverence, Paul and Barnabas attracted the attention of those in the assembly. They listened attentively and reverently to the reading from the law and the prophets. Observing them, the rulers of the synagogue thought such men must have a message worth hearing, the rulers invited them to speak if they had anything encouraging to say to the people. We may assume that, in the event they did not have anything to say that would be encouraging to those present, it would be better for them to remain silent. People always hear enough that is discouraging, and should not be subjected to that sort of thing from the lips of those who have the opportunity and responsibility to speak in the name of the Lord.

In response to the invitation, Paul arose, waved his hand, which was both a Jewish characteristic and an oratorical gesture, and addressed those present in terms of exquisite courtesy and profound respect. There were two classes in the congregation to which Paul delivered his first recorded sermon, namely, Jews or "men of Israel," and some God-fearers or Gentile proselytes. Paul boldly affirmed that God's purpose to redeem men from sin was not an afterthought in any sense. Very clearly he set forth the sovereignty of God. Paul gave an account of the history of the people of Israel from the beginning to the time of David. On the basis of His sovereign love God chose the Israelites to become His people, provided for them, protected them, delivered them from the tyranny of Egypt, established them as a nation, supplied their needs, through them provided the Redeemer and Saviour, assigned to them the important task of witnessing to the Gentiles, and guaranteed to the obedient ones the assurance of His presence, protection, provision, and power. Inasmuch as there was not any possibility of their escape from slavery in Egypt, and they lacked the weapons to fight their way to freedom, their deliverance therefrom was certainly a marvelous demonstration of God's love and mercy. In spite of their rebellious and complaining attitude during the forty years that they were in the wilderness, God cared for them, loved them, fed them, subdued seven nations that were hostile to them, and presented the entire land of Canaan to them. If God had not given the land to them, they never would have possessed it. God's miraculous rescue and protection of them not only proved His love for them, but called for them to love and obey Him. Moreover, God gave them judges to rule over them for 450 years. The people insisted on having a king in order that they might be like the inhabitants of the other nations. Because of their rejection of the sovereignty of God, and their persistent demand for a king to rule over them, God permitted them to have a king in the person of Saul. Bear in mind that Saul was the choice of the people and not of God. Due to Saul's disobedience to God, he was removed from office and David was enthroned in his place. From David's posterity, and in fulfillment of the divine promise, God "raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus."

God's love for us, as expressed in the death of Christ for us, calls for the presentation of all that we are and have to Him in response to and in appreciation of His love.

Acts 13:26-31

Paul reminded his listeners that John the Baptist recognized Christ Jesus as the Messiah. Inasmuch as the wall which separated the Jews from the Gentiles had been removed through the sacrifice of Jesus Christ on the cross, Paul urged both groups to accept Him as the Messiah. He reminded the Jews in his audience that the Jewish rulers in Jerusalem had refused to believe that Christ was the Son of God and their Messiah, and that even though He had not committed any crime that would have called for His being put to death, their unbelief and hatred of Him had brought about His crucifixion on the cross, as the Scriptures had predicted would be the case.

Joseph of Arimathea secured permission from Pilate to take the body of the Lord Jesus from the cross, and, after he and Nicodemus had prepared it for burial, it was placed in the private tomb of Joseph. In spite of everything that was done, God raised His Son from the dead and presented Him again to the world. After His resurrection Christ made several personal appearances to His followers during the forty days between His resurrection and His ascension. He did this to prove the reality of His resurrection, to strengthen their faith, and to challenge and inspire them to proclaim the glorious gospel of Christ to all who might be willing to hear it. While enjoying the numerous and wonderful blessings which our Lord Jesus Christ purchased and provided for us, let us be faithful in informing those with whom we associate, and as many as possible of those in the regions beyond, of the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ, who readily saves all who will repent toward God and believe on His Son as their personal Saviour.

Flying Low

With forecasted annual losses in the hundreds of millions of dollars, two of the nation's major international air carriers — Pan American Airways and Trans World Airlines — are in or nearing deep financial trouble.

Consequently, they are asking for massive federal mail subsidies to help bail them out. Pan Am, which apparently is in the most serious trouble, says it needs $194 million from the federal treasury in the next 12 months. TWA has not offered a figure.

The carriers are confronted with crippling high prices for jet fuel, particularly at many of the foreign airports they serve.

Before the mail subsidy crutch is seriously considered, however, other alternatives should be explored. The Civil Aeronautics Board, for example, should act without delay to approve requests by the two carriers to consolidate some presently competitive transoceanic routes that now are losing money.

Further, the Federal Energy Office should react with some compassion to the strenuous protests against its jet fuel regulations that have limited the carriers' access to price-controlled fuel.

These and other alternative solutions must be exhaustively pursued before the federal government gets back into the trunk airline business.

"Low Down" FROM THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

WOULD FREE U.S. OF FOREIGN OIL TRAP

Rep. Jerome R. Waldie (Calif.) "... Earlier this year I proposed legislation calling for the creation of a TVA-type public corporation to explore, produce, refine, and market petroleum products on federally controlled lands..." (An article by Lee C. White, former Chairman of the Federal Power Commission, was ordered printed in the Record. A few excerpts follow):

A Federal Oil and Gas Corp., as proposed in pending legislation would:

Explore for and develop petroleum resources to meet national needs, not to maximize profits.

Provide, for the first time in our history, complete and accurate information for public and government on the costs of producing oil, and gas, as well as other data on the petroleum business.

Manage discovered reserves to reduce U.S. reliance on foreign petroleum sources.

It's not a first step toward nationalizing the oil industry any more than TVA meant the end of the private electric utility industry as predicted by some in the 1930s.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Americans could not care less that Gulf is in competition with Shell or Exxon or British Petroleum. They only know for a fact that their fuel oil supply is chancy and gasoline is in short supply. Promises that the present high prices will promote future sources of oil leave them cold or at least chilled. They feel that the oil companies claim that their stockholders are entitled to a fair return on their investment is valid, but few consumers anxiously watching their fuel oil or gas gauge are stockholders in an oil company. The foreign oil producers have discovered that oil is a political weapon, and they intend to use it. The oil companies have lost their power to control foreign crude oil and gas production. It's no secret that the Arabs are scouring the U.S. for places to invest the top dollar extracted from the American consumer.

Americans will have to find a way to escape the foreign oil trap and a Federal Oil and Gas Corp. proposal is being given serious consideration. As Senator Frank Church (Idaho) stated, "It's a whole new ball game."

REPORTS TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY

AVAILABLE DISASTER ASSISTANCE

The tornados which struck our state last week were truly disastrous. The greatest tragedy, of course, was the death of so many Kentuckians. That is a loss we can never replace. But we can and should move as quickly as possible to help those thousands of persons who lost their homes or possessions.

I thought I would devote this week's column to a listing of the various types of federal aid that can be obtained under provisions of the Disaster Relief Act of 1970, as amended. A federal disaster assistance center will be established at the federal building in Louisville, and application for the various types of assistance can be made there. The following is a list of available types of aid:

*Debris and wreckage can be cleared or removed from publicly and privately-owned lands and waters by the Corps of Engineers or through grants to states and local governments.

*The Federal Disaster Assistance Administrator is authorized to provide temporary housing, including mobile homes, for 12 months on a rent-free basis. In addition, the President is authorized to provide up to one year mortgage or rental payments to individuals who would otherwise be evicted because of financial hardship.

*The Small Business Administration and the Farmers Home Administration are authorized to make loans covering disaster damage not covered by insurance. These loans are made at a rate of 5 percent per annum and there is no forgiveness provision.

*The President is authorized to provide the maximum amount of money for unemployment compensation to be funneled through the state unemployment compensation program.

*Farmers and farm workers who are not ordinarily covered by unemployment compensation can apply if their unemployment results from the disaster.

*Low income families that are unable to purchase food can apply for food stamps and surplus commodities.

*The Federal Disaster Assistance Administration is authorized to establish emergency communication systems and even provide public transportation on a temporary basis. I would urge all county judges in affected areas to get an assessment of the damage in their areas as quickly as possible, because that is the first and most important step in making application for the disaster assistance that is available. Information should be sent to: Office of Civil Defense, Room 65 Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601.

Isn't It The Truth

by Carl Riblet Jr.

When women in the big cities of Europe—Rome, Paris, Brussels and Athens—are ogled, approached, sometimes pinched and propositioned, they are flattered. In similar circumstances, American women scream and yell for the cops; which is to say, flattery will get you nowhere in the United States but jail.

"Man is the hunter; women his game... We hunt them for the beauty of their skins."—Alfred Tennyson.

Bible Thought

Why do you seek the living among the dead? He is not here, but has risen.—Luke 24:6.

The Easter event comes as the very center of the Gospel. God is more powerful than sin. Just as God raised Christ from the dead, so will we be raised to be with God.

Weeds Described As The Curse Of Genesis

By Nevyle Shackelford
UK College of Agriculture

A weed, as the great George Washington Carver once observed, is nothing more than a vegetable growing in the wrong place. The "curse of Genesis," it springs up unwanted in the garden and cropfield, grows without encouragement, resists all efforts to exterminate it, and each autumn, casts billions of seeds to the winds. Of these seeds, only the strongest specimens germinate and grow, thus passing on to the plant an unsurpassed vitality and ability to survive.

Although the statement by the late Dr. Carver may sound a bit euphemistic and of cold comfort to farmers and gardeners who must spend tremendous amounts of labor and money each year to keep the weed in its place, these "misplaced vegetables" actually aren't all bad. According to nutritionists, some weeds are edible and contain more health-giving, body-building vitamins and minerals than garden vegetables—a fact that has occasioned the remark that we might be better off nutritionally if we quit gardening and ate weeds instead of vegetables.

To further delineate the virtues of the weed, without the food and cover it provides, much of our attractive and more desirable forms of wildlife would become extinct. Without the weed that springs up wild and unattended on unused land, much more of our soil would erode away. Without the flowering weed—the cardinal flower, the daisy, and the wild aster—the earth would lose a lot of its beauty, and were it not for the foxglove, the lobelia, and the Jimson weed, many of the ailing would have less chance of recovery.

Something else to consider: horticulturists say all the fine vegetables we now grow in our gardens were once wild weeds. Over the centuries these one-time weeds have been tamed, improved, and, insofar as palatability is concerned, brought up to a much higher quality.

Actually, except for that of relation, there is no dividing line between the useful plant and the weed. Crabgrass growing in a cornfield, for example, is regarded as a weed, but in a pasturefield it is good forage for livestock. The same thing can be said of Johnson grass. Growing in a cottonfield, Johnson grass is decidedly a noxious pest, but in a hayfield, it is a very useful plant. Despite its many virtues, though, the unwanted weed must be controlled for the benefit of the wanted and, to do this best, the farmer or gardener must know his weed. According to J.W. Herron, Extension weed control specialist at the UK College of Agriculture, the weed is divided in three classes: the annual that lives but a year; the biennial that persists through two growing seasons; and the perennial that lives more than two years.

The annual propagates itself entirely by seeds and can be controlled by destruction of the plant before the seeds ripen. The strength of the biennial is in both seed and root. In this case, control means destruction of both seed and root. This can be done by lopping off the top before it seeds and then digging up the root.

Because it has spreading roots that constantly produce plants that produce seeds, the perennial is the most troublesome. If the stalks are kept from growing for two or three seasons, the roots, will die from lack of nourishment. This may be accomplished by turning the land into pasture.

Early and constant tillage, burning over infested land before plowing, mowing untilled fields, and using herbicides will control the weed, Herron says. The weed is, indeed, often a pest and control is costly but, it is not all bad. In cursing the ground in Genesis and ordering it to bring forth "thorns and thistles," God added a mitigating qualification when he told Adam and Eve "thou shalt eat the herb (weed) of the field."

INDUSTRY WASTES FUEL
WAKE FOREST, N.C. (AP)—The amount of fuel used to produce compressed air that is wasted by industry would heat a community of some 200,000 persons for a year, according to a survey made here.

"About 10 per cent of the compressed air used by 1.2 million industrial and service establishments in the United States is being lost, according to our plant surveys," says Donald Sicklesteel, vice president of Scovill's Fluid Power Division, a maker of air control equipment. "This translates into annual preventable fuel wastage of about 100 million gallons of oil, or 600,000 tons of coal, or 15 billion cubic feet of natural gas. The dollar value is about $30 million."

Racer Track Team Demolishes Carthage 103-40 In Dual Meet

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
Walter Reginald Heigher III is on his way to becoming a success.

Laker Golf Team Wins First Match

The Calloway County High School golf team, playing for the second time in the history of the school, defeated Benton in a dual match Thursday at the Oaks Country Club 177-202.

With the win, the Laker golf team is now 1-1 for the season after opening Tuesday with a loss to Murray High.

Kevin D'Angelo took medalist honors with a 42 on the front nine while Anthony Fike carded a 44 for the Lakers.

Bobby Fike and Joey Janacek, playing in the third and fourth positions, each had a 46.

George Taylor, who played in the fifth spot, carded an impressive 45.

The two teams will meet in a return match April 22 at Benton.

wrong track. Because Walter Reginald Heigher III is the latest athletic star at Murray State University.

Heigher, who goes by the name "Huck", is a 6-0, 195-pound freshman from Radcliff, Ky., who is listed on the football roster as a tailback.

Thursday afternoon at Stewart Stadium, Heigher decided to try a new sport as the Murray State track team was playing host to Carthage College.

So Heigher, a walk-on to the track team, participating in his first college meet, grabbed two second-place finishes and a third place as the Racer team demolished Carthage 103-40 and ran their record to 5-1 for the spring. Murray claimed 13 of the 17 events in the meet with junior sprinter Cuthbert Jacobs being a double winner for the fourth time this season.

Jacobs led a 1-2-3 sweep in the 100 as he turned in a wind-aided 9.5 while Stanford Patrick was second in 9.9 and Trevor Athill third in 10.0.

It was the same order of finish in the 220 with Jacobs getting a 22.5; Patrick a 23.6 and Athill a 23.6.

Gary Craft was also a double winner as he took both of the hurdling events.

Craft won the 440 intermediates in 57.2 while George Glasscock took third place.

In the 120 high hurdles, Craft turned in a 14.8 while Huck Heigher was in second place with a 15.6 in his first try at the event.

Murray State swept the first three places in both the 440 and the 880.

Lester Flax took the quarter in 48.5 with Mike Campbell second in 49.4 and Dennis Nauman third with a 51.5.

Gordie Benfield led a sweep in the 880 as he had a 1:58.5 to grab first while Pat Francis was second with a 1:58.9 and Stan Thompson third in 2:01.8 in his first attempt in the 880.

In other track events, Sam Torres won the mile in 4:27.3 and Clint Strohmeier took third in the three-mile run with a 15:22. Torres and Benfield did not run in the event.

Both the 440 and the mile relay teams won handily as the 440 team was clocked in 42.8 and the mile relay team in 3:31.1. Patrick, Athill, Flax and Jacobs ran legs in the 440 while in the mile relay, Craft, Campbell, Nauman and Flax ran legs.

Four members of the Murray

State team won field events.

Craig Segerlin took the pole vault competition by clearing 14-6 while Patmore Chatum won the triple jump in 47-11 and Heigher was second with 44-0 1/2.

In the javelin, Herman deMunnik and Don Wright again placed 1-2 with deMunnik winning the event with 209-1 and Wright turning in his best effort of the season with an effort of 198-2.

Chatum's 23-7/4 led a sweep in the long jump and tied his best effort of the season. Flip Martin, who finished second with a 6-6 in the high jump, was second in the long jump with 22-10 for a personal best while Heigher was third with 21-7/4.

Don Bibbe had by far his personal best of the season in the shot put with a 48-0 to take second while Steve Ford was third with a heave of 47-9/4.

In the discus, Chuck Jerz was third with a throw of 129-5/4.

The Racers will be participating in the prestigious Dogwood Relays this weekend in Knoxville.

Lakers Win 2-1 Behind Conner

Randy Conner twirled a four-hit gem Thursday afternoon as Calloway County High School took its first win of the season, a 2-1 victory over a tough Henry County team.

The Lakers had opened their homestand and season Tuesday as they were drubbed 11-0 by Reidland.

In that game, Calloway had six hits but failed to score. But Thursday, it was a different story as the hits came at the right time and a near-perfect defense combined with the fine mound work of Conner helped the Lakers even their record at 1-1.

It was nothing but gooseeggs for the first four innings until the Lakers came to the plate for the home half of the fifth.

Joe Futrell reached base with a leadoff single and he was removed for a pinch runner, David Thorn.

Using all of the strategy that he could, Laker Coach Denny Potts sent in Joel Smith to hit for Danny Chadwick.

The gamble paid off as Smith laid down a perfect bunt, so perfect that nobody was able to field the ball and the Lakers had runners on at first and second with nobody out.

Following a sacrifice by Craig Dowdy, Lloyd McClure came in to bat as a pinch hitter and again the gamble paid as he smacked a single to send home Thorn and Calloway County led 1-0.

The second run of the frame came across when Conner, aiding his own cause, lifted a fly into deep left which the fielder caught but Smith trotted in from third base and the Lakers had a 2-0 lead.

In the sixth inning, Henry County had runners on at first and second with two men out. Conner cut loose with a pitch that went to the screen, which is quite a distance from the plate, and Henry County sent in a run.

But that wasn't enough to keep the visitors from Paris satisfied as the second man tried to score.

And the reason he decided to come in was because Conner, who had been covering the plate, was knocked down by the first man to cross the plate and the Laker pitcher decided to give pursuit to the Henry County base runner.

So with nobody covering the plate, the man who was originally on first base broke down the line from third and barreled into home, only to find Laker catcher Greg Howard awaiting at the plate with the ball and the inning ended with the tag.

Henry County tried once more to tie the game when in the seventh, the Patriots put two men on base but Conner got the last batter to bounce back to the box and the game ended.

In the first five innings, Henry County was never able to get more than one man on base.

The Lakers had men on second and third in the second frame with only one man out but couldn't get the key hit to bring in the runs and the rally had to wait the bottom half of the fifth.

Conner went the distance on the hill for the Lakers and fanned four batters while walking three.

The losing pitcher, Evans, struck out 11 men, including three strikeouts in each of the third, fourth and sixth innings.

Futrell, McClure, Smith and Mark Miller all had a hit apiece while Conner and McClure picked up the RBI's.

The Lakers will play host to powerful Paducah Tilghman at 4 p.m. today before taking next week off for spring break.

Action will resume on April 23 when the Lakers visit Ballard Memorial.

Jim Colbert Takes Lead With 67 At The Masters

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "The Old Lady was asleep," said stubby Jim Colbert, refusing to gloat over his 67 that led a sub-par charge into today's second round of the Masters Golf Tournament, "but you better not get cocky and overconfident. She'll wake up and snap back at you."

The Old Lady is the Augusta National course, spoken of in personal terms since the day the broad and demanding layout came out of the head of the late Bob Jones.

It was Jones who labelled his green-garlanded brainchild "a fickle lady."

"She has to be petted and coaxed," said the immortal Grand Slam king. "If you try to attack her, if you treat her rough, she will devour you."

She merely purred in the opening round Thursday when a crazy quilt collection of favorites turned Augusta's par 72 into a sham. Twenty-one broke it, six others tied it.

"The golf course was not its most difficult," said the 3-1 favorite and four-time winner, Jack Nicklaus, registering a 69 despite a bogey on the final hole.

Young Johnny Miller, the 4-1 second choice as the result of his three tournament winning streak early in the year, had an erratic round that left him at par 72.

Augusta's 7,020 yards wore a lush green carpet. The massive, undulating greens were relatively slow, hermitting bold shots at the pin. Until the arrival of tricky gusts late in the afternoon, the wind was little more than a gentle whisper.

"They say rain is coming," said Nicklaus. "That could change things. If, on the other hand, the greens get fast, it will help the better players and more sharply divide the field."

STEPPIN' HIGH—Cuthbert Jacobs crosses the finish line in nice form in his leg of the 440-yard relay. Jacobs was a double winner in the Racers' 103-40 win over Carthage College Thursday as he captured individual honors in both the 100 and the 220.

Murray High Football Practice Ends With Annual Spring Game

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
It's still five months before the opening of football season but the Murray High Tigers wouldn't mind if it all began tonight.

Displaying a mixture of veterans and newcomers, the Tigers ended their spring football practice in an impressive fashion Thursday afternoon at Murray High as the Black squad took a 12-6 win over the Gold team.

There were no punts or kickoffs in the game as Tiger Coach John Hina did not want to take any risks of getting any of his players injured in the workout.

Of course it wouldn't have been the ideal type of day to work on the kicking phase of the game as the wind gusts were so strong that it was almost necessary to tie down the painted yard-line markers.

The two teams got in about an hour and a half of scrimmage as the session was divided into two 45-minute periods.

The teams were about evenly divided as Hina tried matching talent on both teams.

Near the middle of the first period, the Gold team put it first and only scoring drive together as quarterback Wes Furgerson hit wideout Doug Shelton with a 26-yard pass which moved the ball deep into Black territory.

Fullback Cliff Dibble scored the first touchdown of the game as he crashed through the middle and went six yards to give the Gold team a 6-0 lead.

No extra points or conversions were allowed in the contest.

Near the end of the first half, halfback Dale McCuiston broke loose and scampered up the right sideline for a 44-yard gain for the Black team.

The first touchdown for the Black Team came two plays later when McCuiston took the ball and broke 15 yards down the right sideline for the six pointer which tied the game.

In the second half, the deepest penetration came when the Black team moved down to the Gold 22 but gave the ball up on downs when the drive was stopped.

The final scoring drive of the game came later in the second period when the Black team began marching downfield behind the powerful running of fullback Eugene Bayless.

Bayless, only an eighth grader at Murray Middle School, bulled his way for two long gains.

Finally, on a third and goal play from the one, Bayless carried the ball over for the score and the Black team had the 12-6 win.

Three members of the team who would have seen action were not in the game because of injuries. They included runningbacks Ken Grogan and Lindsey Hudspeth and center Gary Buchanan.

"Considering the inexperience we have and the problems we've had with the weather, I was real pleased with the practice we had today," Hina said.

"With the repetition of plays and patterns, we should have everything down real well this fall."

"I'd say the success of our team will depend on the leadership we get from the seniors. We have some young kids who are coming along real well and we've discovered some who really want to play the game.

"I might be putting myself on a spot but we could have one of the greatest teams we've ever had at Murray High," Hina forecasted.

Hina also expressed his gratitude for the large crowd which witnessed the spring game.

The season for the Tigers will begin September 6 with a home game with Reidland.

Detroit Rallies To Edge Bulls And Tie Series At Three Games

By LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—"When the playoffs began," Detroit Pistons Coach Ray Scott said with a touch of irritation in his voice, "Chicago was talking like they would sweep right through to the championship."

"They completely ignored us like we were a piece of cake," he continued. "Now they're choking."

Detroit refused to die Thursday night, getting a magnificent second-half from Bob Lanier. The Pistons clawed and scratched to a 92-88 victory before a Cobo Arena crowd of 11,134.

The triumph tied the best-of-seven Western Conference semifinal playoff series at 3-3 heading into Saturday's nationally televised game in Chicago. The winner will meet the Milwaukee Bucks for the West title.

Scott, named NBA Coach of the Year earlier Thursday, said the honor "felt good" but Thursday night's triumph "felt great."

It was a typically bruising battle between the Midwest Division rivals, but Chicago suffered the most with injuries to center Cliff Ray and guards Jerry Sloan and Norm Van Lier.

Ray, who helped hold Lanier to just four points in the first half, injured a knee, Sloan injured a foot and Van Lier sprained an ankle.

The Bulls surged to an 18-5 lead in the first eight minutes before Detroit began rallying.

The Pistons outscored Chicago 25-19 in the second quarter and pulled within 41-40 by half-time.

Then Lanier, the 6-foot-11 center, came alive after intermission. He hit 10 points in the third period and 14 in the fourth, finishing with 28 before fouling out with 1:06 left.

Chet Walker led Chicago with 33 points.

Dave Bing tallied 22 points for the Pistons.

Chicago, which never has gotten past the first round of the playoffs in six previous tries, rebounded Detroit over-all 50-42.

There will be two playoff games tonight in the NBA—both Eastern Conference semifinal clashes.

The New York Knicks and Capital Bullets, deadlocked at 3-3, will play the seventh and deciding game of their series at New York's Madison Square Garden, and the Boston Celtics, leading Buffalo 3-2, will face the Braves in Buffalo. If the Celtics and Braves need a seventh game, it will be Sunday at Boston.

Softball Leagues Schedule Meetings

An organizational meeting for both Men and Women's Softball League will be held April 15 and 16.

The men will meet at 7 p.m. Monday at the City Hall while the women will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the City Hall.

Any group or firm who desires to enter a team in either league should have a representative present at these meetings.

For additional information, contact Park Director Gary Hohmann at 753-7640 or at 753-7430 after 5 p.m.

'House On Prairie' To Be Regular Show

NEW YORK (AP) — The certainty NBC will make a series based on nine books about frontier life on the prairie is causing a gentleman farmer in Charlottesville, Va., more joy than a record crop this week.

"I'm beaming all over," says Roger L. MacBride, who said he's learned that "The Little House on the Prairie," a made-for-TV movie NBC aired March 30, will be a regular series next fall.

The movie, which drew extremely high ratings, starred Michael Landon. It was adapted from one of the classic "Little House" books written by the late Laura Ingalls Wilder, who died at age 90 in 1957.

Where does MacBride fit in? He's her great-grandson by adoption. And he owns the rights to the books, which chronicle the struggle of Mrs. Wilder's youth and her family in the Midwest of the 1870s.

"I've just heard that the NBC lawyers are writing our lawyers out in Hollywood that they've picked up the option and that it will be a series," he said in a telephone interview.

"Isn't that terrific? I've been up all night, as you can imagine, talking to people," MacBride, 44, had just stepped out of the shower to answer the phone. Although a Yankee by birth, raised in Mt. Kisco, N.Y., he was as courtly as a native Virginian about his

PROFESSIONAL VIEWER
 Misses Aaron's Homer
 NEW YORK (AP) — Young and old baseball fans probably still are boasting they saw Hank Aaron make baseball history on TV. NBC estimates 25 million of them watched one of the greatest moments in sports live.
 But at least one viewer, a professional viewer by trade, can't honestly tell his grandchildren someday he saw Babe Ruth's record broken the moment it happened right there on national television.
 The viewer's set was on, but he was off. Lulled by a hearty dinner and the pre-game hoopla, he was deep in slumber by the third inning on the fateful night of April 8, 1974.
 While he snoored, a nation united in excitement and suspense was glued to TV screens from Flushing to Beverly Hills. Commercials costing $40,000 a minute flashed on and off and history at bat.

TV Executive Suggests Changes In Ratings For Children's Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — The head of ABC-TV says the way children's weekend morning TV shows now are rated should be replaced with an industrywide system to measure not only audience size and makeup, but also the effect of such programs and their commercials on young viewers.

James E. Duffy made the proposal in an interview. He took a much stronger stand than in a recent speech in which he urged the industry only to "take a long, hard look at the possibility of eliminating children's audience ratings on the weekend, on a national basis."

He was asked in the interview if he personally would like to see that type of rating abolished.

"Sure," he replied. "I would. But you can't do it alone. That's the whole point. This is such a competitive business and the stakes are so high that one network ... can't do it alone."

The ratings employ two basic methods, according to a spokesman for the A.C. Nielsen ratings service. One is a device attached to TV sets in 1,200 homes. It records the channel to which the set is tuned. The other method is a diary, kept by 2,400 households. The residents, for a fee, note in them who watched what and when. One-third of these diaries are collected weekly for evaluation, the spokesman said.

Despite advances in the quality of children's programming, Duffy said, this ratings system isn't enough now. What's needed, he said, is a "broader-based study, a much larger sample, that would not only indicate popularity, but also would give (viewer) attitudes toward program and commercial content."

He said the samplings should be "in-depth," made every four months to allow for a more thorough audience assessment, and include what he called "psychographics," or the kinds of reactions programs and commercials cause in viewers.

He said he'd like to hear if the Nielsen ratings service is interested in the idea "along the criteria we've laid out here."

But for the time being, Duffy said, there could be a test study of the proposal, possibly lasting two years and financed either by the three networks and independent stations, or by the National Association of Broadcasters, which claims 531 television stations as members.

He said he hasn't proposed it yet to officials at CBS, NBC or the NAB because he's been travelling on business and also is "waiting to see what kind of action the other two networks ABC executive.

Race Pits Men vs. Women

Men are generally considered to be superior to women in track and field competition, that is. But can two male half-milers beat four female quarter-milers in a mile relay race?

The International Track Association Classic, to be broadcast on the NBC Television Network Saturday, April 13, from 11:30 p.m. to 1 a.m. NYT, will provide an answer to that question, in addition to presenting other top-level professional track competition.

(Note: In some cities the ITA Classic will be telecast Sunday, April 14 in the same time period.)

ITA athletes are among the world's best in their specialties, with the ITA Classic mile offering a field of male-female mile relay are and Olympic 800-meter champion Dave Wottle, and women runners Mabel and Barbara Ferrell and Lacey O'Neal.

Participants in the unique male-female mile relay are half-milers Kerry Ellison and Olympic 800-meter champion Dave Wottle, and women runners Mabel and Barbara Ferrell and Lacey O'Neal.

The difference between a winner and a loser is mirrored in the face of Napoleon (David Swift). In 1805 (left) he was a conqueror, in 1812 (right) he was retreating from Moscow. Michael Learned, as Olivia Walton, is comforted by her husband (Ralph White) when she is stricken with polio, in a special two-hour presentation of "The Waltons" titled "The Easter Story," to be rebroadcast Easter Sunday, April 14 (6:30-8:30 p.m. CDT), on the CBS Television Network.

Boyle Attorney Seeks New Trial Following Conviction

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — W. A. "Tony" Boyle's attorney says he will seek a new trial for the former president of the United Mine Workers, convicted of murdering union rival Joseph "Jock" Yablonski.

The jury which returned its verdict Thursday evening also found the ailing 72-year-old Boyle, now serving a three-year federal sentence for misuse of UMW funds, guilty of killing Yablonski's wife and daughter on Dec. 31, 1969.

The convictions carry a mandatory life term. No date was set for sentencing.

Defense lawyer Charles F. Moses, claiming the evidence was insufficient, said he would file a motion next week for a new trial.

Special Prosecutor Richard A. Sprague, who charged Boyle had ordered Yablonski killed and then authorized $20,000 in union funds to finance it, said: "This man used the blood and sweat of miners for killing."

Sprague previously had convicted or obtained guilty pleas from eight others in the Yablonski case.

"Boyle was the originator," Sprague said. "We got back to the beginning and that's where we stop."

The jury of nine men and three women deliberated 4½ hours before returning a verdict.

Members of the Boyle and Yablonski families were on opposite sides of the hushed courtroom's center aisle when the verdict was read. All had their eyes riveted on the white-faced defendant sitting erect and unmoving in the carved armchair.

Boyle's wife was heard to whisper, "He didn't have anything to do with it." His daughter, Antoinette, held back tears and bit her lips as she rubbed her eyes.

Kenneth and Joseph Yablonski Jr., the two lawyer sons of the slain union leader, clenched and unclenched their fists and scowled.

Kenneth Yablonski, who had found the bodies five days after his parents and sister were slain as they slept in their rural Clarksville home in southwestern Pennsylvania, embraced Sprague.

"You know how happy I am," he said, tears swelling in his eyes.

Boyle left the courtroom escorted by marshals, turning first to wave to his wife and murmur, "Goodbye."

The slayings occurred three weeks after Yablonski lost a bitter battle to unseat Boyle from the job he had held for nearly a decade.

$10,000 Donation To Mid-Continent College Announced

The Mayfield based Mid-Continent Baptist Bible College recently announced possible plans for relocation of its campus. The First Baptist Church of Arlington, has announced that they will give $10,000 toward the campus move. The gift is to come over a four year period at the rate of $2,500 per-year.

This is the largest single gift the college has received on the move so far. The college must raise $75,000 to match a gift by a retired businessman of $75,000. In the businessman's gift is an eighteen acre tract of land on highway 45 one mile north of the General Tire Plant. The college trustees have already voted to relocate the college if the funds can be matched.

The college has launched a very low keyed fund raising program. "It is hoped, by the college," a spokesman said, "that businessmen, and individuals from all over the Western Kentucky area, will see the merit of the move and help the college achieve this goal."

"Mid-Continent Baptist Bible College has depended upon churches, as well as individual contributions for its support. Tuition remains very low at the college, and plans are being made to keep it that way. No part of the move will be financed by an increase in tuition."

"The Mayfield based Bible College has found tremendous support for the proposal move. A number of individuals have agreed to contribute $1,000 each over a four year period."

For further information regarding the move and how to aid in the fund raising, O.C. Markham, president of the college, should be contacted. The college can be reached at 247-8521.

"I've never deliberately put anyone off the ballot," she added. "I think everyone has a right to run if he wants to and keep my office open until midnight on the last night . . . which I'm not required to do."

Mrs. Stovall is in her third four-year term as secretary of state. She served two four-year terms as state treasurer between those.

She said she had not given Cook the forms to name his treasurer when she reminded him he had to do that but "he was sitting on the edge of the desk in the other room and they were lying there, right under his nose."

Mrs. Stovall said Cook was a lawyer "and has an army of lawyers around him" on his staff and campaign.

She previously said she did not realize until the day after the filing deadline that a 1970 change in statelaw in effect invalidated a candidate's filing if he failed to name his treasurer. She said she thought they could do that later, as had been done in the past.

She said one of Cook's top aides, former State Rep. Dexter Wright, of Louisville, filed the treasurer report for himself last year when he was a candidate for re-election and so knew of the requirement.

White House Agrees To Turn Over Some Subpoenaed Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, facing a House Judiciary Committee subpoena for tapes and documents, says it will turn over at least some of the materials.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler on Thursday said President Nixon would give the committee materials "consistent with his constitutional responsibilities."

Ziegler said the materials, to be turned over within two weeks, would bear out the President's past explanations of his Watergate role and "receive the support of the House."

However, Ziegler declined to say that the response would comply fully with the demand by the House committee.

Ziegler spoke several hours after the subpoena was handed-delivered to the White House.

"The playing of games is over. The committee means business," said Rep. John P. Seiberling, D-Ohio, summing up the committee's mood as it voted to demand delivery by April 25 of the evidence.

The committee has been waiting for the material since Feb. 25. Tuesday the White House said it would deliver some of it after April 22. In a vain effort to head off a subpoena, it promised just before the committee met Thursday to make a partial delivery in a few days.

But after urging support for the offer, which was made by White House lawyer Jams D. St. Clair in a telephone call, Republican members backed away from it when they were unable to get it in writing.

The subpoena spelled out in detail the conversations the committee wants. They involve President Nixon, his former aides H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and John W. Dean III; former Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst and Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen.

The committee staff's brief said, "Realistically, the President probably cannot be compelled to comply with a subpoena by use of the processes of either the House or the courts."

That realization prompted Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., the senior committee Republican, to cast one of the three votes against a subpoena. The others voting no were Reps. Charles Wiggins, R-Calif., and Trent Lott, R-Miss.

In litigation generally, a refusal to produce evidence permits an inference that the material is unfavorable to the cause of the person holding it, the brief said.

In addition, unjustified disobedience of a subpoena can be considered an impeachable offense, it said.

AN INVESTMENT IN YOUR FUTURE

...ATTEND CHURCH

"it is finished"

...so everyone thought. The Jewish pretender was dead. He could cause no more trouble for the Romans rulers. But the Romans were wrong. It was not finished. Indeed, the miracle was about to begin. Just before sundown, Christ's body was taken from the cross, prepared for burial, and placed in a stone covered tomb, which was locked and guarded. But three days later the tomb was empty. He who had been declared "finished" was alive again. It is now Easter. He who had raised up others from the dead was now raised up himself. And in this resurrection there was hope of life beyond the grave. There was a new beginning. This gave mankind a second chance for life by believing in Him. The Roman rulers meant for the cross to finish Jesus. But God turned it into a new beginning. Christmas is now sanctified in Easter. Love turned Dark Friday into Good Friday. He lives and we, too, may live, in the measure that we learn to kiss the Cross. We too can have this new beginning. It is Easter.

Sloan Defense Expected To Begin Case

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The defense was expected to begin its case today, in the trial of William Sloan, 24, of Louisville, charged with three murders, rape and armed robbery in connection with a series of incidents in which he and a companion were allegedly involved after an escape from federal custody.

In testimony Thursday, two policemen said that Sloan's companion, Wilmer Elvis Scott, told them he killed a Lexington minister and his two children. Sloan's attorney has maintained that his client was in as much fear of Scott as were those who were killed.

Scott died of injuries received in a fire in his cell earlier this year.

Sloan presently is being tried for the death of the Rev. John K. Barnes and his children here last Oct. 1. He is under indictment in Pendleton County in the slayings of three men at a Falmouth motel hours after the murders here.

The prosecution had not yet announced its case was completed, but had indicated its testimony was complete. The defense was expected to make motions for acquittal before its presentation began.

Sgt. James Sparks of the Lexington-Fayette County Police Department quoted Scott as saying in a statement the day after the murders, "I just went crazy.

"I just shot them all. I was so mad. I know I was insane at the time. If you want to know the truth, I went all to pieces," Sparks quoted Scott as saying.

A microbiologist for the Kentucky State Police, Larry Ayers, said seminal fluid was found on both the underwear and the trousers worn by Sloan when the two men were captured the morning after the six murders.

However, Sgt. Robert Duffy of the State Police said Scott told him the next day that Sloan had nothing to do with any rape of Francine Barnes.

Scott was quoted as saying he couldn't remember whether he had raped the Barnes girl or whether he had killed either Francine Barnes or John Barnes.

Scott was quoted as saying the Rev. Mr. Barnes "got on my case and started preaching at me and drove me mad."

Dave Williams, a firearms expert, said there were lead traces on Sloan's hands after he was arrested, but conceded they might not mean that he had fired a gun in the recent past.

Furniture Survives Tornado, Burns While Being Delivered

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — His house was badly damaged by last week's tornado but at least Danny Briscoe's furniture was savable, he thought.

Briscoe, executive assistant to Louisville Mayor Harvey Sloane, said his house suffered structural damage of about $22,000.

"Our carpets were all ruined," Briscoe said, "but most of our furniture was all right. I'd say about 80 per cent of our stuff was savable."

Contractors told him it would be at least three months before the house would be livable, so Briscoe and his wife, Sherry, moved into a condominium and hired movers to put the furniture in temporary storage.

The mover called Briscoe Monday at his office. "He told me the truck had

Funeral services for Hillard O. (Chief) Blalock, formerly of Calloway County, will be held Saturday at ten a.m. at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Hillard O. Blalock

Interment will be in the Arlington Memorial Gardens, Mt. Healthy, Ohio, with the Dalbert & Woodruff Funeral Home there in charge of arrangements. Masonic rites will be held at the funeral home tonight.

Mr. Blalock, age 72, died Wednesday at St. George Hospital, Cincinnati. He had been a resident of Prince Hill, Ohio, since 1933. Before his retirement he specialized in home portraits of children, for many years employing thirty to forty assistants, hence the nickname of "Chief."

The deceased was an active member of the Westminster Church, was a 32nd degree member of the Prince Hill Masonic Lodge No. 524 F. & A.M., 25 year member of Prince Hill Kiwanis Club, and a member of the Chevot Eagles, Elks Club, and Western Hills Country Club.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Daisy M. Blalock, and one son, Harold Clide (Sparky) Blalock, Prince Hill, Ohio, two sisters, Mrs. Clete (Gladys) Young and Mrs. Herbert (Augusta) Conner, both of Almo Route One.

Rites Are Today At Local Chapel For Mrs. Brandon

Funeral services for Mrs. E.B. (Ruby) Brandon of 1101 Circarama Drive, Murray, will be held today at three p.m. at the chapel of the Blalock-Coleman Funeral Home with Rev. C.C. Brasher and Elder Paul Poyner officiating.

Pallbearers will be Randy Brandon, Roger Brandon, Billy Earl Brandon, Tommy Brandon, Gene Brandon, and Ben Kendrick. Burial will be in the Elm Grove Cemetery.

Mrs. Brandon, age 80, died Thursday at 4:15 a.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. She was a member of the Zion Primitive Baptist Church, Mayfield. She and her husband, who survive, were married January 26, 1917. One son, Earl Brandon, died September 1951.

Survivors are her husband, E.B. Senate Passes Sweeping Campaign Reform Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a sweeping campaign reform bill and sent it to the House, where its chances of survival are in doubt.

Senate passage by 53-32 vote Thursday capped nearly three weeks of debate, with the bill's provisions for government financing of campaigns for federal office the chief issue.

Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., who led the opposition, predicted the fight against the bill in the Senate would strengthen the resolve of opponents in the House.

Except for its public financing of the measure resembles a campaign reform bill the Senate passed overwhelmingly last July.

But the bill the Senate passed then has been stuck ever since in the House Administration Committee.

The House committee is working on a bill of its own, which is expected to turn out to be far different from the Senate measure.

Another hurdle for the Senate bill is the threat of a presidential veto.

President Nixon has said using tax funds to finance federal election campaigns would be a raid on the Treasury.

"The single most important action to reform campaign financing should be broader public disclosure," he said.

Voting for the Senate bill were 37 Democrats and 16 Republicans. Voting against it were 23 Republicans and nine Democrats, all southerners except for Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois.

The margin by which the bill was passed was far short of the two-thirds majority that would be required to override a veto.

Under the bill, major party candidates for president and for the Senate and the House would be entitled to full public financing of their general election campaigns up to certain spending limits.

The use of tax funds to finance campaigns would be optional with the candidates. The bill's spending ceilings would limit presidential candidates to expenditures of about $17 million on general election campaigns.

This compares with about $55 million spent on President Nixon's re-election in 1972 and upwards of $25 million spent by his Democratic opponent, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota.

Campaign contributions, unlimited under present law, could not exceed $3,000 by an individual, or $6,000 by an organization, to any candidate's campaign for federal office.

Lawson projected that next year will find trade and industrial classes at capacity and an increase in distributive education and business and office students. He informed the board that a self-study by the school is now under way and the school will seek full accreditation next year.

In other action, the Board accepted with regrets the resignation of W. P. Russell, history teacher and baseball and football coach for the schools. Russell's letter of resignation, to be effective after the end of this school year, said he will leave the school system to enter business.

The Board also accepted the bid of Michael Hardware for paint for summer maintenance.

Aluminum Cent Idea Is Canned

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans won't have aluminum pennies in their pockets in the near future after all, and they soon may not have enough copper pennies, either, the U.S. Mint says.

The vending machine industry has killed the aluminum penny idea, and hoarders apparently are buying up the copper coins faster than they can be produced.

The country is seeing the beginning of a shortage of pennies that has already forced some banks in California, particularly in Los Angeles, to begin rationing them to their customers.

The big problem is that the price of copper is approaching the point where the penny will not be worth as much its copper content.

The price of copper increased to $1.20 per pound this week, the price at which it costs the government more to make a penny than the penny is worth.

However, the Mint now is producing coins from stockpiled copper bought at a cheaper price.

Mint spokesman Roy C. Cahoon said the Mint now is producing 35 million pennies every day, but there is demand for 40 million a day.

The Mint plans to produce between 8 billion and 8.5 billion pennies this year, compared with 7 billion last year.

The Mint had hoped to switch from copper to the much less expensive aluminum, if Congress approved. Production was to start this year, and sample aluminum sets were stamped.

But the vending machine industry lobbied hard against the proposal, asserting that pennies would not reject properly from some machines and would cause the industry — and machine users — major problems.

Senate Passes Sweeping School Board . . .

(Continued from Page 1) The results of a survey of Calloway County High School students were presented in a report to the Murray Board of Education Thursday night by James Lawson, principal of the Murray Vocational School.

The survey, taken to show preferences of the students to courses offered at the Vocational School, ranked the students' likes in this order: business and office, auto mechanics, health careers, distributive education, auto body, cosmetology, carpentry, electronics, appliance repair, welding, masonry, food service.

A total of 1,381 students were questioned in the survey, Lawson told the board. Also in the report to the board, Lawson noted that the total number of students served this year by the Murray Vocational School was 478.

Lawson projected that next year will find trade and industrial classes at capacity and an increase in distributive education and business and office students. He informed the board that a self-study by the school is now under way and the school will seek full accreditation next year.
